U.S. Senator Meets With Sanford Supporters Chiles Says Secret Agencies Should Be Monitored

Sen. Chiles, (left), State Rep. Bob Hattaway...

Lawton Chiles, Florida's U.S. Senator who is seeking reelection on 110 campaign contributions, stopped over in Sanford Friday to tell citizens America's super-secret police agencies should be monitored by congress.

Dismissal Of Charges Sought Freeman Hearing Slated

Ben Harden Jr., 46, of Sanford, was being held without bond Saturday in the Seminole County Jail following a circuit court jury verdict that he is guilty of second-degree murder in the Nov. 12 shooting slaying of his ex-wife, 47-year-old Laura Mae Harden.

Smoking Clinics Successful

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D. DEAR DR. LAMB — I wonder if you are aware of the free five day plan of non-smoking clinics conducted by the Seventh Day Adventist community service. I think they could be quite useful to your readers.

I had the privilege of assisting with two clinics and was impressed with the results. The majority who succeeded had smoked 20 to 40 years. Their pleasure in being free, their remarks of gratitude and surprise that it could be done were thrilling. Actually 70 to 80 per cent quit within five days.

Many of the people who attended were referred by their physician or by the American Cancer Society. The body system is used for support — films, lectures and a juice diet are used the first day or two. At the end of the five days the "I Choose Not to Smoke" buttons are exchanged by the victorious ones for gold I.Q. (I Quit) lapel pins.

Interested persons need only contact the pastor of the nearest Seventh Day Adventist Church for information about the nearest clinic.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am 37 and have high blood pressure very bad. I have been taking Aldomet for five years for my blood pressure. Is there any chance that I could get breast cancer from these drugs?

DEAR READER — Thank you for a most helpful suggestion. I called the nearest Seventh Day Adventist Church and learned that they have the clinics sporadically. Whenever enough people ask for a clinic and people are available to hold them. The success rate reported to me was also around 80 per cent.

Ben Harden Found Guilty Of Murdering His Ex-Wife

Ben Harden Jr., 46, of Sanford, was being held without bond Saturday in the Seminole County Jail following a circuit court jury verdict that he is guilty of second-degree murder in the Nov. 12 shooting slaying of his ex-wife, 47-year-old Laura Mae Harden.

Immediately after the 12 member jury's verdict, returned after 2 1/2 hours deliberation Friday afternoon at the end of a week-long trial, Circuit Judge A. J. Hosenman Jr. adjudicated Harden guilty and ordered him held during a pre-sentence investigation.

Harden fled the shooting scene and surrendered to a probation officer at the courthouse in Downtown Sanford. Police found the shotgun alongside a street several blocks from the Mulberry Ave. address.

Wheelchair Pilots Meet Here Today Confined? Not These Paraplegics

By AUDIE MURPHY Herald Staff Writer "When we tell people we're learning how to fly, they always ask 'why?' — even our doctors."

Douglas Lyons, 41, of Osteen and Steve Martinson, 38, of Altamonte Springs, said the answers to the question of why they want to learn to fly are complex.

Lyons, residing in the offices of Star Sandalco Inc., where he and Martinson take flying lessons, said he contacted an organization called the Wheelchair Pilots Association and they put him in touch with Steve Martinson.

"I'm learning to fly because I've always wanted to do it," Lyons said. "I'm learning to fly because I've always wanted to do it," Lyons said.

Tourists Are Flocking Aboard Auto-Train

The influx of northern tourists into sunny Florida has been soaring the number of passengers who daily ride Sanford's Auto-Train.

Auto Train officials reported today the number of cars plying back North has jumped from about 50 to 75 cars in November to more than 175 in December.

Florida and take the Auto-Train home," Thomas Blayney, a corporate officer, agrees business is booming at Sanford's Auto-Train and, attributes the boom in part, to the record number of tourists who flocked to Florida this year.

State officials as well have reported a banner year for tourists. Creel pointed out some of the business will remain after the holiday season tourists have come and gone.

Trains Crash In Chicago, 400 Injured, Probe Begun

CHICAGO (AP) — Federal officials took over the investigation today of the crash of two Chicago rapid transit trains which injured more than 400 persons.

No one was killed in the rush-hour collision Friday morning, but 11 hospitals reported at least 61 persons admitted and three were listed in critical condition. Meanwhile, the motorman of the train which plowed into the rear of another said he was blinded by the snow reflecting off snow.

Chicago Transit Authority spokesman Tom Buck said Friday night that motorman McKinley Ross, 35, automatically was suspended pending the outcome of the investigation.

Ford Convenes Meeting

WASHINGTON (AP) — White House officials are expressing dismay over a Senate proposal for tighter control of the CIA as President Ford convenes a high level meeting to discuss his own plans for reorganizing the intelligence community.

Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger, Defense Secretary Donald H. Rumsfeld, CIA Director William E. Casper and other top officials were scheduled to meet with the President today to go over a variety of options for overhauling the nation's intelligence operations.

White House counsel Philip Buchan on Friday voiced dismay at suggestions offered by the Senate Intelligence Committee, but said the President is considering "almost every option that has been seriously advocated" during the past year of investigations into the CIA, FBI and other intelligence agencies.

Security Proposal Expected

WASHINGTON (AP) — A special federal task force formed in the wake of last month's bombing at LaGuardia Airport in New York is expected to propose tightened security that would limit public access to coin lockers and baggage surveillance.

The recommendations are to be proposed to President Ford on Monday by Transportation Secretary William Coleman Jr. Despite published reports of a variety of options of the task force study, spokesmen for the Department of Transportation declined Friday to discuss the recommendations.

The task force was hastily formed after the Dec. 29 bombing that killed 11 persons and injured 70 others at LaGuardia. The bomb was hidden in a coin-operated locker.

Influenza Deaths Down

ATLANTA (AP) — The National Center for Disease Control says influenza-related deaths, which rose to epidemic proportions last winter, have remained below expected levels this winter.

The CDC said Friday no outbreaks of flu, although flu outbreaks have been reported in Hawaii.

In its Morbidity and Mortality Weekly Report, the CDC said a flu-like disease broke out last month in Alberta and Saskatchewan, Canada, causing up to 60 per cent absenteeism at several schools.

Economy Recovery Slow

NEW YORK (AP) — Signs appeared this past week that the economic recovery is "making haste slowly."

The nation's most persistent economic headache, inflation, appeared to be easing more convincingly. The government said its wholesale price index dropped four-tenths of a per cent in December by lower farm prices — the first such monthly decline in six months.

The government also said retail sales shot up 3.4 per cent in December, the largest month-to-month increase since July 1973 and a strong vote of buying confidence by the American consumer.

Seminole County To Get $88,000

By ED PRICKETT, Herald Staff Writer

County government is scheduled to receive $88,000 of a $28,000 federal grant awarded the Seminole Employment Economic Development Corporation (SEEDCO).

In a letter to the county, SEEDCO Director Harlan Orr said the $88,000 may be used for county environmental and public works projects.

Orr also asked for a meeting with county officials to discuss the grant proposal and turning over the grant proceeds to the county.

A meeting was scheduled for Monday, but county officials announced Friday the meeting has been postponed because Orr said he will be out of town.

A letter signed by the commission chairman was included in Orr's proposal for the funds. The letter, basically, said the county found plans and programs under the grant were in conjunction with the county commission's objectives.

Through commissioners expressed an interest in receiving a portion of the grant money. It was officially announced some reservations also were made.

Chiles: Monitor Secret Agencies

Chiles said his 1970 walk across the state "was not to raise $100,000, which would require participation by 40,000 citizens. Already, Chiles says he has collected $70,000 in $10 contributions.

Chiles said it's human nature to "treat somebody who gives you big money different. That's what the $10 does," he said. "It gives me the opportunity to be free."

He said his limiting campaign contributions to $10 is also "something different." He hopes other politicians will copy the concept if it proves successful.

He said a "few people started walking after the financial burden, Chiles promised to have myself a good campaign" when he seeks re-election this year to the senate.

Council Meeting Tape Is Blank

By DONNA ESTES, Herald Staff Writer

LONGWOOD — Rosemary Wood of Watergate fame last night 18 minutes of a tape recording, but this city has done her one better.

The tape recording of the Dec. 22 city council meeting at which Councilman Gerard Connell was accused of harassing the police department is completely blank.

Connell, at the meeting, said the police reports were false, made of a motion which died for lack of a second which required

Attorney Abbott Herring to investigate the complaint and the day after the meeting indicated he was discussing the charges with his personal attorney.

City Clerk Onnie Shomate said, "There is nothing on it (the tape). We tried to play it and there is nothing on the tape."

She said the only persons who have successfully operated a two-reel, two-year old $1,000 recorder at council meetings have been Roy LaBrosse at the time he was fire chief and former Councilman Donald Schreiner. Schreiner was absent from the Dec. 22 meeting, the last of the old council.

Councilman Lawrence Goldberg, a tape recorder buff, operated the machine at the meeting held prior to his receiving his oath of office.

Goldberg said today that his machine before Monday night's first meeting of the new city council.

"I don't want the responsibility, but I'll find out how to operate it," he said.

"Larry Goldberg should not be taking the responsibility for the blank tape recording anyway," Anderson said today, noting neither he nor Goldberg were official officers of the city at the Dec. 22 meeting.

Mrs. Shomate who was on vacation at the time of the meeting, said fortunately her daughter, Mrs. Linda Martin, acted as clerk at the meeting and did take minutes in the minutes book.

But, she said, the written remarks prepared by Mayor James Lorman and read by Council Chairman J.R. Grant were not taken down verbatim.

"No one seems to know what went with the paper," she said. "Therefore there is no record of it unless the person that took the paper brings it back."

The clerk said Mrs. Martin was given copies of statements made against Connell by three city police officers and Public Safety Director Douglas Keller and they are safely in the record.

"And Mrs. Martin's shorthand notes are safe. She has her stenopad," the clerk said.

16-Year-Old Boy Held In Kidnaping

By BOB LLOYD, Herald Staff Writer

A 16-year-old New York boy charged with the kidnaping and robbery of a Sanford woman and her teenage daughter has been indicted for trial as an adult in Volusia County in connection with the kidnaping and robbery of two women at Daytona Beach.

Douglas Pratt, a runaway from Monroe, N.Y., is being held in the Volusia County Jail at Deland, authorities said, on indictments charging two counts of robbery and two counts of kidnaping.

Pratt was apprehended by Sheriff's deputies north of Daytona in a wooded area after two bookstore clerks were robbed and abducted Tuesday night. The women were released unharmed.

Sanford police have charged Pratt with two counts each of kidnaping and robbery in connection with the Monday night abduction of Mrs. Margaret Mergo, 41, and her 15-year-old daughter, Regina, at Sanford Plaza Shopping Center.

The local charges were filed with juvenile court officials, but the youth could be tried as an adult in Seminole County if the juvenile court transfers him to circuit court or if the Seminole County Grand Jury indicts him.

Mrs. Mergo and her daughter were forced into their camper van by a man with a pistol and a knife. They were robbed of $25, police said, and released unharmed before Altamonte Springs and Maitland and the man stole their camper van.

Sgt. Edward Hughes said the Mergo vehicle was found by police in Daytona near the bookstore where the two clerks were abducted the next night.

An auto registered to Pratt's father was found abandoned in Downtown Sanford the day of the Mergo abduction, police said.

Dove is offering to mount, for free, the largest shad caught during the contest as a permanent trophy for the grand prize winner.

Prize presentations will be made at the end of the contest in a Bar-B-Q which will be open to the public. Tickets for the Bar-B-Q will be on sale during the contest.

In order to insure safety of participants, Sheriff John Polk will have his patrol boats available for the river to help slow down speedsters and help the fishermen keep his temper.

Members of the Shad Derby Committee will also patrol the river in well marked private boats to assist fishermen and camp operators.

Weight stations will be located at all fishing camps in the area, and all shad being weighed and registered on the same day caught at one of the official weigh-stations.

One other rule which the committee will firmly enforce is that all boats must be U.S. Coast Guard safety equipped and use common sense and courtesy when on the water.

Posting and advertising the derby rules in the process of being printed are as official entry blanks.

Weekly standings in the contest will be published in The Evening Herald as well as a complete rundown on the fishing in the Outdoor Column.

FLORIDA IN BRIEF

More State, Local Power Called For By Reagan

OCALA (AP) — Presidential candidate Ronald Reagan, barnstorming through Florida on the first of several vote-seeking tours before the March 9 primary, has repeated his call for decentralized government.

"Unfortunately, even in this country, we have too much centralization," the former Republican governor of California told a dinner reception here Friday night.

"Washington has control of some functions which, if they are to be performed by government at all, should be administered at state and local levels," he said. "Among these are welfare, Medicaid, food stamps, education, community and regional development."

"Washington has shown that it does not perform very efficiently or responsibly. These programs can be better and more economically administered at the state level or the local level."

Judge Rejects Trial Delay

MIAMI (AP) — A federal judge has turned down a bid by former state Insurance Commissioner Thomas O'Malley to delay his March 8 trial on a 20-count grand jury indictment.

U.S. District Judge William O. Mehrens refused the motion by O'Malley's lawyers, who claimed the delay was needed because of the complicated nature and length of the indictment.

O'Malley faces two counts of income tax evasion, four counts of extortion and 20 counts of mail fraud. He is accused of using his office to force Miami business and insurance commissioner to direct business to his former Miami law partners, Richard G. Ciravolo and Bennett G. Feldman.

Enrollments To Be Cut

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — About 21,000 students who would normally qualify for admission to state universities will be turned away under proposed enrollment cuts, a Board of Regents official says.

"It would work out about one out of six, who would normally be eligible for admission, will not be able to go," Philip C. Logan, a Board of Regents official, said Friday.

He said the cutback plan would limit enrollments at the nine state universities next year to 57,000 students. Current enrollment is 112,000, but Chandler explained that normal growth would boost that figure to 118,000 next year.

American Party To Meet

ORLANDO (AP) — About 100 members of the American Party of Florida converged on this Central Florida city today for a meeting to plan strategy for the 1976 elections.

Dr. John Grady of Belle Glade, the party's leading figure in Florida, said Friday that the meeting would center on fund raising and the status of a petition campaign to assure American party candidates a spot on the ballot.

Grady, who collected 18 per cent of the vote in a race for the Senate in 1974 against Democrat Richard Stone and Republican Jack Eckerd, said the petition drive already has collected 70,000 signatures, about half the required total.

Drug Agents Arrest Seven

MIAMI (AP) — Federal drug agents have arrested seven men, five in Miami and two in New York, and charged them with conspiring to sell 45 pounds of cocaine valued at $32,000, a spokesman says.

Ted Swift, spokesman for the U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration, said Fred Goodman, 41, of North Miami and Jose Comacho, 28, of Hialeah were arrested Friday night as they delivered the cocaine to undercover agents in the parking lot of a Miami hotel.

Thirty minutes later in nearby Hialeah, agents arrested Daniel Colanasso, 41, of Staten Island, N.Y., Ramon Dorta, 42, of Hialeah and Jose Guzman, 45, of Miami, Swift said.

Boys Charged With Burglary

BARTOW (AP) — A 6-year-old boy and his 4-year-old brother have been charged with burglary in the theft of a neighbor's pistol, the state attorney's office says.

The Mulberry boys are charged with entering a neighbor's house Nov. 27 and taking a loaded .22-caliber pistol, officials said Friday. The boys were arrested later that day and the gun recovered, but the bullets had been removed, officials said.

Medicaid Funds Abortions

JACKSONVILLE (AP) — Florida Medicaid officials, in an attempt to clarify an earlier statement, say the government medical plan will pay for abortions for low-income women.

A statement last Dec. 19 was interpreted as denying Medicaid abortions unless they were necessary to save the woman's life.

But Frank Youngblood, a spokesman for the Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services, said Friday that the program will continue to pay for elective abortions outside a hospital.

By BOB LLOYD, Herald Staff Writer

The trials of a former Oviedo policeman on drug charges and two men on rape charges are on the docket of 17 criminal cases before Circuit Court Judge J. William Arthur this week.

Arthur Barkley, 25-year-old ex-convict, was charged with two counts of rape on Dec. 15, but the trial was postponed until this week.

Other trials on this week's docket — Charles Edward Jones, 22, of 374 E. Warren Ave., Longwood, accused of arson in connection with a Nov. 10 firebombing incident at a Longwood home.

— Maria Davis, 21, of 1117 W. 12th St., Sanford, accused of attempted murder in connection with the Nov. 3 wounding of Mary Francis Johnson on W. 13th St., Sanford.

— Clarence Ray Pritchard, 46, of Altamonte Springs, accused of grand larceny of coins from a Sanford coin dealer.

— Johnny Lee Nickson, 21, of SR-426, Oviedo, charged with possession of a handgun in the woman told police that a man put a coat over her head and dragged her into bushes where the man and a companion both sexually abused her. Burglars 'Hit' Area Residences

By AUDIE MURPHY, Herald Staff Writer

The biting cold weather that has gripped the area in Seminole County recently has not deterred burglars from entering more homes, according to law enforcement reports.

In fact, the reports indicate the plague of burglaries is heavier than ever before in the City of Sanford.

Ruben Stewart, 29, 1018 Willow Avenue, told Patrolman Jack Fulenwider Friday that someone entered his home on Dec. 22, stole a television set, a stereo and removed a stereo tape player, a tape recorder and two microphones and a suitcase full of clothing. The items are valued at $500.

Drugs Charges. On Saturday, John Stephen Myers, 25, Apt. 350 Howell Branch Road, was arrested on charges of possession of a controlled substance (heroin) and booked into the Seminole County Jail in lieu of $5,000 bond.

Color TV Gone. A burglary of a house on Grassfield Lane in Seminole County has resulted in the loss of a color television set, an undetermined amount of liquor, a transistor radio, towels, clothing, footwear and a chain saw. The burglary occurred between Thursday night and Friday morning. An attendant was on duty at the time, but had to leave the station on an emergency call, according to the report.

Door Pried Open

Meanwhile, William C. Casley, 67, 230 Carridge Hill Drive, Casselberry, told deputies Friday that a dishwasher and carpeting valued at $400 were taken from a house on Dyke Road. The owner of the house, according to the report, is Robert C. Postle, 40, 807 Carling Ford Lane, Houston, Texas. Burglars reportedly entered the house by prying open a door.

$100 Bills Missing

Meanwhile, David Lambert, 22, 2423 Lake Avenue, told Officer D.H. Whitman that three $100 bills were missing from a dresser drawer at his residence. He said a screen had been removed and a window opened.

Hanoi Aid Is Not In U.S. Interest

Gradually but perceptibly North Vietnam is creeping back into the mainstream of American dialogue as part of a deliberate initiative by Hanoi to tap the resources of the United States of America.

In just the last half year or so, for example, Premier Pham Van Dong has twice offered to restore diplomatic ties with the United States. The offers were repeated last June by Radio Hanoi. In June Hanoi also was the host to U.S. banker Louis Saulbelle, who reported that the North Vietnamese is "willing to develop mutually beneficial trade with United States corporations."

The additional efforts by North Vietnam to gain American consciousness again have been numerous. They include discussions about medical assistance with the American Friends Service Committee, and a warm reception for four members of the U. S. Congress to give them the remains of three Air Force officers who had been killed during the war. It was the first official visit by a U. S. delegation to Hanoi. Additionally, the North Vietnamese have made numerous speeches to the United States in speeches from Paris to New York and from Washington to Bangkok. And recently Defense Minister Vo Nguyen Giap said elections would "unify" all of Vietnam by next April 30.

North Vietnam is in desperate need of U. S. technology, money and food. Mr. Saulbelle was told that the Communist state is in the market for grain, agricultural equipment, communications and transportation machinery and industrial raw materials.

Hanoi's increased warmth toward the United States indicates also that the Soviet Union may be at the limit of the aid that it will furnish to its Indochinese allies.

Senior officials in the U. S. State Department have long held the view that North Vietnam considers itself a major Communist power, the only one with an unabated revolutionary fervor. These diplomats have been ready for Hanoi to approach the United States and the Communists felt threatened in some way by the Soviet Union or Communist China in order to have another "chip" in the game. The administration has turned a cool shoulder to the overtures for a number of reasons, including the fact that Hanoi has frequently and repeatedly violated the agreement ending the Vietnamese war, which it signed on Jan. 27, 1973. Congress has voted to withhold aid for the same reason.

Both the President and Congress are right. Our future relations with North Vietnam should be based on whether they will advance U. S. interests and world stability.

Subsidizing revolutionary Communists in Indochina would do neither.

OAU Faces Test

The Organization of African Unity was formed in 1963 to end colonialism in Africa and to promote a common defense of members' independence.

The civil war in Angola now presents the OAU with its most significant challenge — can the organization function effectively to bring peace and independence to Angola?

Africans have resisted the European domination of their continent which began 500 years ago and is just now ending in the former Portuguese colony of Angola.

But now the Soviet Union sees an opportunity to extend Soviet imperialism into another corner of the continent. Will the Russians replace the Portuguese as the rulers of Angola?

The situation is complicated by the presence in Angola of South African forces supporting the anti-Communist side in the civil war. The South African intervention is likely to be resisted by the OAU nations even more strongly than the Soviet intervention.

The need for OAU action is clear. If the organization can mediate the civil war and help end outside interference, it will attain new stature.

BERRY'S WORLD

WASHINGTON — One of President Ford's top advisers privately forecasts a Republican debacle at the polls this year. His reasons are strictly economic.

On condition that he not identify him, he told us frankly why he expects 1976 to be a bad year for the Republicans. Here are his main points: —More than eight million Americans are out of work. Millions more, seeing their neighbors employed, are uneasy about their own jobs. They can be expected to vote overwhelmingly for the Democratic ticket.

—The inflation rate is now running slightly above eight per cent. This is slowly impoverishing millions of Americans who live on fixed pensions. They are almost sure to turn to the Democrats in November, too.

—Although wages are expected to keep up with inflation in the year ahead, most Americans are complaining about soaring prices. Not only are prices higher than ever but the quality of both products and services have deteriorated. Americans, therefore, are paying more for less.

—More than likely, the majority will register their displeasure by voting against the party in power.

—Americans are now importing 40 per cent of the petroleum they use. For this, they pay the oil companies a staggering sum which must

RAY CROMLEY Government, Colleges Form Clique

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower warned, on his retirement, of the military-industrial complex.

Add now, the federal bureaucracy-union complex, less publicized, but as powerful.

A dozen universities regularly furnish an abnormally high percentage of the higher ranking bureaucrats in the major agencies of the government.

A handful of schools year after year receive a sizable amount of all research contracts given to academic institutions.

Some major schools reportedly cooperate with agencies of the government to get certain individuals to job appointments to certain individuals so that they will be eligible for high-paying influential government posts under special regulations, replacing men and women who have worked their way up through civil service channels.

Then there's the matter of overpayment. The various departments of the government regularly pay excessively high rates to certain individuals and other favored groups for hurried superficial studies which would not meet the standards imposed by open competition in a free marketplace.

On occasion, I have been asked by friends in the government, as a personal favor, to look over one extensive study or another carried out on matters in which I had some background and experience. I have been shocked, both by the price the government paid for these pieces of research, and by the low quality of much of the material. In some instances it was quite clear that the researcher, usually a Ph.D., had clipped news items from newspapers, books, pamphlets and other such sources, then typed them together with some limited continuity.

The research, in short, was abominable. The quality of the language was frequently sub-marginal. It was frequently difficult to determine what the author was driving at. After a careful study of his paragraphs, it became clear that he was hiding some obvious simplistic statement behind polysyllabic words in order to make the reader believe he had deep insight into the situation.

In modern English, not a few of these studies are ripoffs. Yet the government agencies go back, time and again, to these same favored universities to order up more academic groups.

Recent studies have shed some light on these connections. There seems to be a definite pattern of personnel circulation between certain colleges and universities and certain departments, agencies and bureaus of the government. Graduates and professors regularly move into departments, where friends and associates are located, then back to the university or to special research institutions which have become "holding groups" for scholars out of government, perhaps because of a change of administration, until the time is ripe to move back into the federal system in higher positions. These men, in turn, bring in their protégés who, more frequently than not, receive rapid promotions.

Nobody asked us, but... Had the occasion to hear U.S. Sen. Lawton Chiles talk for a few minutes on Friday and was impressed, once again, by the knowledge this man possesses.

He fielded questions well and was quick with answers — answers that made sense and in the language that any layman could easily understand. Chiles is running for re-election this year and says he refuses to accept any campaign contribution over $10. He said he doesn't want to be indebted to anyone when it comes time to vote on a key issue and by limiting contributions to $10 he feels that even the lowest man on the totem pole has his biggest contributor.

Too, Chiles said he wants everyone to be able to call him direct when they have a problem and not have to go through some "hatchet-man" in the middle who might decide the Senator was too busy to handle calls that seemed insignificant.

The "walking" Senator is on many important committees in the U.S. Senate and appears to have done his homework well. Too, he had nothing but kind words for the citizens of Seminole County.

He might just be a tough man to beat this November.

Former California Gov. Ronald Reagan, an announced candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, will be in the Orange-Seminole County area on Jan. 31, according to Seminole County Reagan For President campaign chairman Andy Holloway.

Reagan will appear in Winter Park for fundraising receptions. There will be a private reception for major contributors at the home of Dr. Tom Taylor in Winter Park from 6 to 7:30 p.m. on the 31st and that will be followed immediately by a "Spirt of '76" poolside reception at the Convention Center, Howard Johnson Motor Lodge at the corner of Interstate 4 and Lee Road.

Contributions will be $76 per person or 100 per couple, according to Holloway. "These receptions will be a great opportunity for supporters to meet Governor Reagan and give his campaign an enthusiastic boost," Holloway said.

It was at first believed that Reagan would bypass this area because his initial itinerary did not include a stop in Central Florida. However, that has been amended and many feel the one-time movie star can gain the GOP Presidential nomination away from President Gerald Ford.

In case you didn't know, or simply forgot, the Florida Presidential Primary election will be held on March 9 and everyone should make sure they are eligible to vote.

Deadline for voter registration is drawing near with the books closing on Jan. 24. Under Florida law, you can only vote in the primary election of the party in which you are registered — and if you are registered as an "Independent" or "No-Party" you can't vote in any primary.

Seminole County citizens may register at the office of the Supervisor of Elections at the county courthouse, Park Avenue, and Seminole Boulevard, between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m., and at the branch office in the Seminole Plaza, U.S. 17-92 & SR-436 between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 1 p.m. and again between 2-5 p.m.

The Seminole county offices will be open on Saturday between now and the close of registration on Jan. 24 for the convenience of the voters.

JOHN CUNIFF Financial Statements Misleading?

NEW YORK (AP) — Sometimes when the patient is very ill he may develop a delirious glow, a fever that to the untrained eye might be mistaken for ruddy good health.

Touché Ross & Co., the big accounting firm suggests that corporate financial statements might be emitting that glow.

"How can U.S. corporations be reporting record sales and profits at a time when they are wracked with record problems of liquidity, debt and capital shortage?" it asks, and quickly supplies its answer:

"Because the profits they are reporting have been inflated with reality."

The dollar figures used are inflated, said Russell Palmer, managing partner, in launching a campaign this week to experiment with more meaningful accounting. Today's dollar cannot be compared with yesterday's, he said.

To illustrate: Nonfinancial corporations reported 1974 after-tax profits of $66 billion, compared with $48 billion in 1965, an apparent increase of 74 per cent.

Now adjust for inflation; that is, use the same dollar to measure both years and thus obtain comparable results. Pick the 1964 dollar as a measure and you learn these earnings didn't rise — they fell, from an adjusted $77 billion in 1965 to around $21 billion in 1974.

One answer to such numerical misrepresentation may be to report a company's value on the basis of its true economic profits — not inflation profits, the kind any number of companies have reported recently, even while heading into bankruptcy," he said.

Touché Ross isn't the first to make such suggestions, but it seems willing to throw more weight than the others into what it calls "Economic Reality in Financial Reporting," subtitled "A Program For Experimentation."

The proposal, aimed initially at directors and senior corporate managers and accountants, securities analysts, educators and accountants, seeks to experiment with current value accounting this year.

"The goals of accounting are to measure, record and communicate reality," the proposal begins, soon illustrating just how these goals are encumbered by persistent inflation.

There are messages there for government also. "Inflation is distorting the economic decisions of almost every enterprise and government official," the report says.

It also says that the current value accounting method need only match his or her paycheck with last year's to get the central idea, which is:

"You cannot use two different measuring sticks — one for paychecks and one for 12, 18, 24, 30, 36, 42, 48, 54, 60, 66, 72, 78, 84, 90, 96, 102, 108, 114, 120, 126, 132, 138, 144, 150, 156, 162, 168, 174, 180, 186, 192, 198, 204, 210, 216, 222, 228, 234, 240, 246, 252, 258, 264, 270, 276, 282, 288, 294, 300, 306, 312, 318, 324, 330, 336, 342, 348, 354, 360, 366, 372, 378, 384, 390, 396, 402, 408, 414, 420, 426, 432, 438, 444, 450, 456, 462, 468, 474, 480, 486, 492, 498, 504, 510, 516, 522, 528, 534, 540, 546, 552, 558, 564, 570, 576, 582, 588, 594, 600, 606, 612, 618, 624, 630, 636, 642, 648, 654, 660, 666, 672, 678, 684, 690, 696, 702, 708, 714, 720, 726, 732, 738, 744, 750, 756, 762, 768, 774, 780, 786, 792, 798, 804, 810, 816, 822, 828, 834, 840, 846, 852, 858, 864, 870, 876, 882, 888, 894, 900, 906, 912, 918, 924, 930, 936, 942, 948, 954, 960, 966, 972, 978, 984, 990, 996, 1000."

Ship's Boiler Explodes, Kills 15, Injures Dozens

HAMBURG, West Germany (AP) — At least 15 workers died and dozens were scalded and burned in a steam boiler explosion deep inside an unfinished cargo ship being tested for its maiden sea trial.

The blast tore open a bulkhead of the boiler room and sprayed victims with 900-degree steam, searing some of them brightly red, witnesses said.

"They looked like boiled crabs," a fireman said. Officials said 12 persons were killed on the spot and dozens were rushed to hospitals, where at least three died and others were reported in critical condition.

African Leaders Meet — ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP) — African leaders met here today in an effort to bring an end to the Angolan civil war.

President Idi Amin of Uganda, chairman of the Organization of African Unity, said on the eve of the conference that Africa's first priority is to stop the bloodshed and not to endorse any of the three Angolan factions.

"We have not come here to discuss Russia, Cuba or any other force in Angola — South Africa, Romania, Russia — they are killing Angolans. We condemn everybody, even black Africans, if they are involved," Amin said on his arrival here Friday night.

More Russians in Angola — ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP) — The National Union for the Total Independence of Angola (UNITA) claimed today that 500 more Soviet military personnel have arrived in Angola to take part in the civil war.

UNITA Foreign Minister George Sangumbe told newsmen before the start of an African summit on the war that the "Soviet experts" landed Friday in Luanda, the capital held by the Soviet-supported Popular Movement, from a Soviet ship. Sangumbe said the new arrivals brought to 900 the number of Soviets aiding the Popular Movement against an alliance of UNITA and the National Front.

U.S. Firms Gird For Trade With Cuba

EDWARDS NOTE — Despite the hot words from President Ford about Cuban troops in Angola, more than 50 American firms are quietly preparing for the day when U.S.-Cuban trade might resume.

By RICHARD BOUDREAUX Associated Press Writer NEW YORK (AP) — In a basement cafeteria at the United Nations, the Cuban mission's third secretary recently hosted a low-keyed business luncheon with officers of the Continental Can Co.

Any Size Room Can Be Accommodated

It's Possible To Add A Fireplace In Most Homes

By VIVIAN BROWN
The Herald Staff

You don't need to tear out a wall to acquire a fireplace. Many free-standing fireplaces can be installed easily by do-it-yourselfers and they are usually less expensive than the built-in kind. In addition, they are available in a full range of decorator colors.

Any size room can be accommodated, whereas a built-in fireplace may run into limitations because of structural problems.

For small rooms, there are fireplaces designed to be used in a corner — one occupies only 39 inches. Cozy lodge-type fireplaces go from floor through ceiling or may be suspended from a combustible wall or a 6-inch clearance with a brick wall. So-called Franklin stoves (few resemble the original) provide the warmth and beauty of a fireplace as well as cooking conveniences. One manufacturer advertises a swingout design with a built-in range. The Franklin stove of solid cast iron has hand-crafted parts, radiates good heat and can be used for cooking.

Hanging fireplaces hug the wall for another kind of look. A glass-enclosed, cub-type needs a 36-inch clearance with a combustible wall or a 6-inch clearance with a brick wall. So-called Franklin stoves (few resemble the original) provide the warmth and beauty of a fireplace as well as cooking conveniences. One manufacturer advertises a swingout design with a built-in range. The Franklin stove of solid cast iron has hand-crafted parts, radiates good heat and can be used for cooking.

Fireplaces are generally appreciated for atmospheric effects — people feel warmer and happier when they are in a room with one. And some people are mesmerized by the sight of fire as god worshippers were in ancient times. As Benjamin Franklin observed in his book, "An Account of the New Invented Pennsylvania Fireplaces," which has been reprinted for the Bicentennial by the Fireplaces Institute, the English "... love the sight of a fire," and would not really accept a heating unit which provides an aura of romance, coziness, relaxation and warmth even to hear the crackle of logs.

New homes usually have fireplaces because the demand is so great, but a house may lack a fireplace though it is suitable in every other respect. Today it is easier to solve that problem either with a standing unit that requires nothing more than a flue through the roof or with a prefabricated unit that can be built in.

The prefabricated unit is a big assist to the do-it-yourselfer. Some are engineered with everything from a factory-built hearth to chimney components. One can verify the installation by suit one's tastes, adding brick work, stone facing or whatever, but expensive masonry work will not be necessary. Some systems may be set on the existing floor requiring no footings or special supports, and may be used adjacent to wood beams, joists or wall materials.

One of the most innovative of the new factory built-in fireplaces uses a triple wall flue and blowers to bring air from the attic or from outside the attic into the room.

A roof opening is cut, flashing is installed and then a prefabricated chimney of simulated brick can be put up.

No Sleep When They Win Or Lose

There aren't very many coaches who are poor winners. It's easy. The most difficult part of coaching, say the young and older coaches, is losing. Practicing having it go out the window on game night. Reactions vary. Probably for as many coaches there are in the game, there are as many philosophies.

I don't know of any coaches who go home and beat their wives after losing. I know some who would like to wring the necks of referees.

Patience is the name of the game. Athletic programs steeped in tradition and with sound feeder systems are the ones that click the best. Top example in this area is Orlando Evans, state champion last season but a powerhouse for the last decade.

Fred Pennington has his system being taught in junior highs within the Evans district, and they say even grammar school kids know about the 1-3-1 and 2-1-2 Trojan defense. Even the Boy's Club follows suit.

Haynes' Hunches By JIM HAYNES

axiom "never up, never in" described the situation perfectly. Seminole coach Joe Mills is a perfect example of composure. What I can't figure out is when he sleeps. His wife, Frances, says he can't sleep when he wins, because he is so keyed up.

"But then too, he can't sleep when he loses, worrying about what went wrong," she says.

After Friday night's upset of highly-ranked Mainland, Joe couldn't sleep. "He finally just got up about two or three a.m.," related his wife.

Rick Steinke also has the problem about sleeping. The Lyman coach hasn't lost but three times this season, but he got his taste of it the last two years when he won only five times.

The game that sticks in his craw is last week's loss to Evans. He had the Trojans down by 21 in the third quarter. But Evans came back to win, despite all stops pulled by Steinke.

"It was like watching a man die of cancer ... there was nothing I could do," Steinke says, admitting he still thinks about something else he could have pulled to stop the floodgates.

"That night, Steinke stayed in the gym viewing video replay of the game. He finally went to bed at 4:30. He doesn't remember what time he went to sleep, but it wasn't right away."

In short, the pressure-cooker of athletics is ever-present and can't be ignored. It's the nature of the animal.

Yep, winning isn't everything. But it sure beats whatever comes in second.

Brrrrrr... Lyman Keeps Warm in 53-45 Victory

By SCOTT ABRAHAM
Herald Correspondent

If Lyman had been as cold shooting as the Bishop Moore gym temperature Friday night, it would have been in big trouble. As it turned out Bishop Moore was the cold team.

Lyman shot 47 per cent from the floor to Bishop Moore's 34 per cent (including a zero per cent first period), to top its season record to 73-and clinch a 53-45 Metro Conference victory.

Inside the heatless, golden dome facility, fans shivered under blankets while both clubs raced around the floor. "I'm surprised their players don't all have pneumonia by now," said one Lyman observer, his teeth chattering from syllables.

To the players coming through the door prior to game-time a Lyman statistician joked, "You'll have to really run to keep warm tonight."

Her words proved prophetic. High school basketball doesn't, can't, get much faster than Lyman and Bishop Moore played. But, to paraphrase a popular rock song, that's the way Lyman coach Rick Steinke likes it.

"By the time the year is out people are going to think I'm crazy for playing so fast," he said. "But we play faster the faster we move it. Evans moved the ball fast, and we played well against them."

Steinke referred to the 63-61 loss last Tuesday.

"It's not a matter of wanting to run up the score, it's just that it's not our style to slow down the game to preserve a lead," the coach said.

While both clubs were mostly equal in rebounds and turnovers, Lyman kept the Hornets down with a strong man-to-man that forced Bishop Moore to bid its time and shoot mostly from the outside.

Lyman meanwhile, worked the inside with 6-9 center John Kaufman and 6-5 forward Bernard Wright, taking the honors. Sophomore Greg Thomas, who started the game, was credited with six assists to the open Kauffman and Wright under the boards.

Two such passes by Wright gave Lyman a 10-point lead at one point in the final frame.

But a big Lyman falling, as has been at other times, were free throws. They hit only 13 of 33.

Brantley Upended, 73-59

FOREST CITY—Lake Brantley's basketball team was left in the dust, the result of Boone's fastbreak and fullcourt press Friday night as the Metro Conference team knocked off the Patriots, 73-59.

Lake Brantley, winner of one of a dozen games, found it could run and shoot with Boone early in the game.

Unfortunately, Boone found it could do this just a tad better, and as the second quarter ticked away, the Braves were whittling themselves a 38-26 lead that would not be threatened in the second half.

Bill Wall, a 6-3 senior who leads Lake Brantley, was on this night, or for that matter in the night. He scored 25 points, mostly on jumpers from around the key, on those balls and off-fensive rebounding situations. The key, on those balls and off-fensive rebounding situations, was the fast break. The Patriots opened with a 4-0 lead on a couple Scott Alexander shots in the first minute and one-half. But the Patriots didn't score again until they were 3:18 on the clock, and by then the score was 18-6. Boone's press, installed midway in the first quarter, took its toll, forcing several turnovers immediately, and led to a couple easy fastbreak layups while Boone's lead was going into the second eight minutes.

Defensive steals, and/or-offensive rebounding, passed led to Boone stretching the lead to 27-10. It wasn't until 4:08 was showing on the clock that Lake Brantley came out of its trance and broke the ice with a free throw by Alexander.

The first field goal, of the second period for the Pats didn't come until 5:36 and was also by Alexander.

There was more of the same in the second half, although the Pats did in spots. Good ball basketball in play. Wall had 18 of his 25 points in the second half.

Boone is now 3-7.

Seminole 'Hunters' Top Bucs

By AARON KAUFMAN
Herald Correspondent

Hunting season is open in Sanford, Seminole High cagers are going after the ranked basketball teams. The tricky animals live way up in the Top 10 tree.

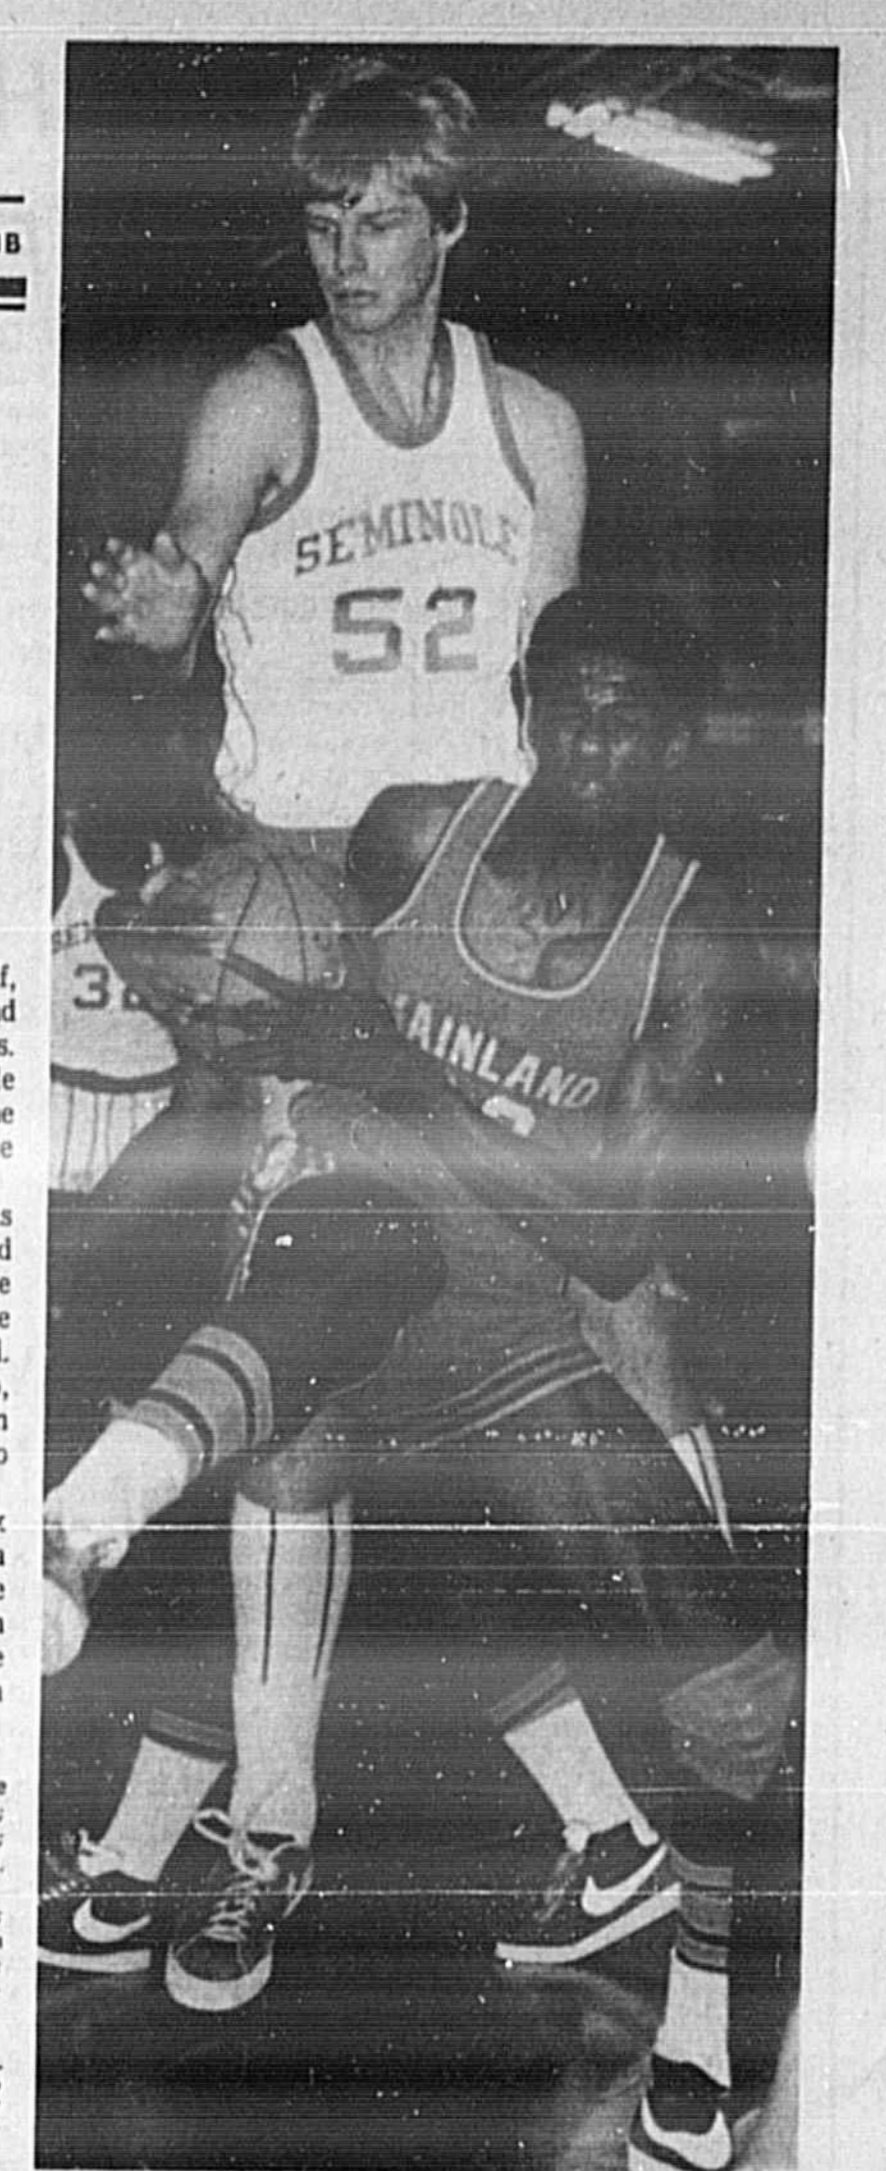

Seminole has already bagged the ranked Seabreeze. Sandcrabs and Friday night it caught up with the Mainland Buccaneers, nipping them, 47-46.

Earlier, Seminole knocked Seabreeze from the Top 10 and it looks like Mainland may end up with the same fate.

"Everybody played a real good defensive game, as the low score indicated. David Wiggins did a job against their tall man who had five inches on him," stated Tribe Coach Joe Mills.

In the first half, Seminole's defense drew a lot of fouls from the Mainland team. The Tribe made good their freethrows, opening up a big lead.

Reuben Cotton was one of the primary reasons the Seminoles led 27-18 at halftime. He converted seven for seven free throws and pulled down 10 rebounds at guard. This was more than Buc's 6-5 center, Herb Giddens, could manage.

Mainland's Herb Giddens grimaces as he grabs ball from Steve Baker (27).

Oviedo Spruced-Up, 54-42

By LOUIS SAPPIS

OVIEDO—"I know this is a lousy game to watch, for the fans, but I have to do this to get Spruce Creek to play our game," were the sentiments of Dale Phillips, the Oviedo Lions' head coach, during the halftime of Friday night's game with Spruce Creek.

Phillips' statement came with the score deadlocked at 22 apiece, as the spectators had watched the Lions "let some air out of the ball" for all of the second period and part of the first.

"We went into our deliberate attack, I don't like to call it a stall, when Spruce Creek went from a man-to-man defense to zone," Phillips explained. "Also, some of our men were in foul trouble, but I can't allow my men to come down court and get the ball up against a front line that is that big."

Phillips' slowdown tactics worked for awhile but late in the third period, the Lions made a few mistakes and Spruce Creek was able to pull away to a 54-42 victory.

The visitors' front line had 6-5 Steve Boka, 6-7 Anthony Gaiter and 6-7 Chris Cantrell. Considering the Lions' biggest man is Gary Hird, who only stands 6-4, the home team had a difficult assignment in the 4-A quarters from Volusia County.

To cope with this problem, Phillips had this men slow the ball down late in the first period in order to get Spruce Creek in a one-on-one situation.

"I am very disappointed. I felt we played so good for almost three periods and then when we had our chance to win the game we were unable to take advantage of it."

"I would have to say that we did not execute our man-to-man defense very well in the fourth period."

"If we can stay close and they come out of the man-to-man, I am sure you guys can beat them. We are a lot faster than they are."

The give and take score continued till late in the third period, when with the score tied, 26-26, Spruce Creek took the lead for good on a basket by Gaiter.

But Spruce Creek was able to put the game away by doing just the thing Coach Phillips wanted them to do. Deep into the third stanza the visitors went into a man-to-man defense and Oviedo was unable to do anything with it.

"I am very disappointed. I felt we played so good for almost three periods and then when we had our chance to win the game we were unable to take advantage of it."

"I would have to say that we did not execute our man-to-man defense very well in the fourth period."

River Of Gold

Ballet Guild Presents Original Dance Drama

In Commemoration of the Bicentennial year, Ballet Guild of Sanford-Seminole (BGS) proudly presents a dance drama, "River Gold" on Feb. 21 and 22 at Sanford Civic Center.

Dedicated to Mrs. Reubin Askew, the only Seminole woman to reign as First Lady of the State of Florida, the ballet was conceived and written especially for BGS by Mildred Caskey, first vice president of BGS and a renowned personality in national dance circles, who now calls Sanford home.

Miss Caskey, founder of the Copper Coin Regional Ballet Company, Springfield, Ill., has written three historical ballets. In her research for material at the General Henry S. Sanford Memorial Library where she spent many hours, she was named library curator, since she was on the premises during most of the open hours.

The dance drama is based on the magic and legends of the St. John's River, depicting in colorful hues the background of Central Florida and its people.

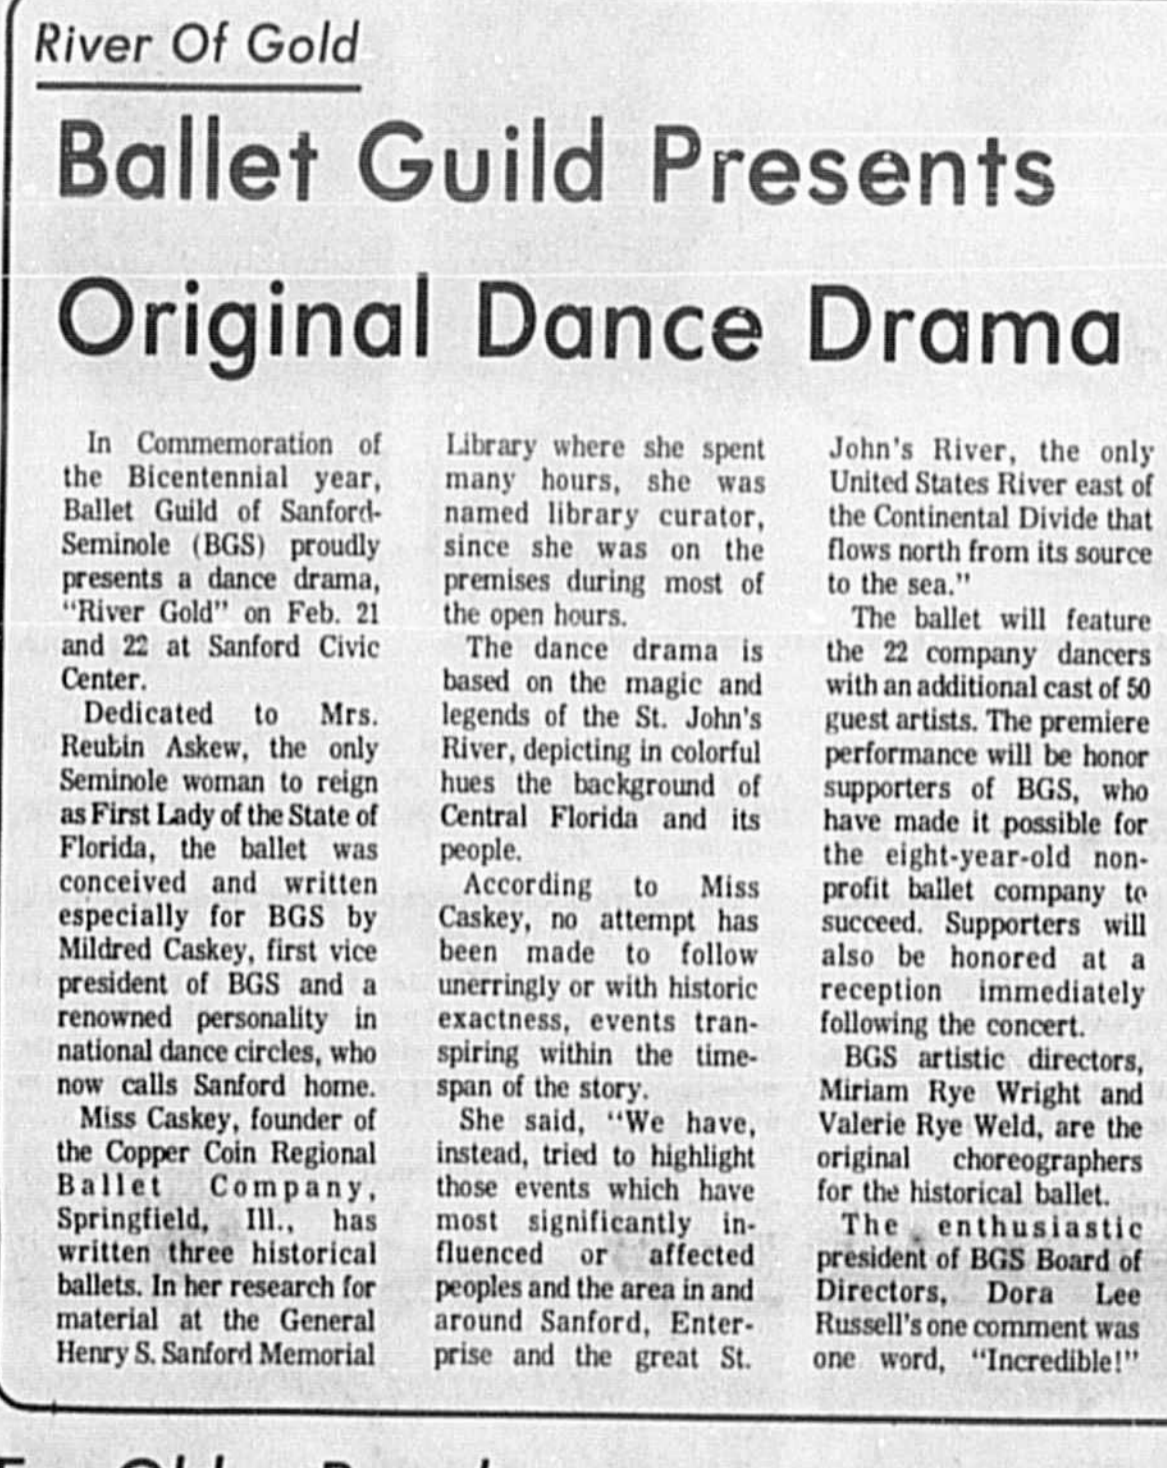

According to Miss Caskey, no attempt has been made to follow exactness, events transpiring within the time-span of the story.

She said, "We have, instead, tried to highlight those events which have most significantly affected people and the area in and around Sanford, Enterprise and the great St. John's River, the only United States River east of the Continental Divide that flows north from its source to the sea."

The ballet will feature the 22 company dancers with an additional cast of 50 guest artists. The premiere performance will be honor supporters of BGS, who have made it possible for the eight-year-old non-profit ballet company to succeed. Supporters will also be honored at a reception immediately following the concert.

BGS artistic directors, Miriam Rye Wright and Valerie Rye Weld, are the original choreographers for the historical ballet.

The enthusiastic president of BGS Board of Directors, Dora Lee Russell's one comment was one word, "Incredible!"

Recreation Director Appointed At Oaks

E. Everette Huskey, president of The Huskey Company, announces the appointment of Mrs. George E. (Liz) Wortley as recreational director of Sweetwater Oaks. She began her new duties Dec. 1, 1975, and produced the Sweetwater Christmas Parade.

"We are glad to have Liz as a part of our team at Sweetwater Oaks. Her background, education, experience and personality are the type of assets we've been looking for in a recreational director," Huskey said.

Liz was born in Germany and holds a B.S.E. and an M.S.E. in Physical Education from Arkansas State University. She was a graduate assistant at Arkansas State for one and one-half years, a health and physical education instructor for three and one-half years at an Atlanta High School before moving to Sweetwater.

In accepting the position as Sweetwater Oaks' recreational director, Liz said "I hope to build a recreational program suited to each resident's needs. I believe in the philosophy of social interaction among various age groups. I hope to create this interaction for residents of all ages through various activities such as bike races, hikes and folk trips."

Mrs. Wortley's husband, George, is Southeast Marketing Manager for Nalco Chemical, Agricultural Division. George is a graduate of Indiana State University where he played football and was voted most valuable player. He is also an ex-Dallas Cowboy, backing up Roger Stauback and Craig Morton as quarterback. He and Liz are residents of Sweetwater Oaks.

Ground Beef Proves A Tricky Buy

Ground beef can be made from a variety of cuts of beef, all containing differing amounts of lean beef and fat. But no matter what cut it's from, ground beef, according to federal law, must contain no more than 20 per cent fat.

At the store, the most common labels for ground beef are "ground beef," "ground chuck" and "ground round." Ground round is supposed to be the leanest cut, followed by ground chuck, and then by ground beef, which is sometimes called "hamburger." A shopper can't tell the exact lean-fat content of ground beef. Depending on the cut it was taken from, ground round may sometimes contain as much fat as ground chuck.

Which ground beef is the best value for the money? The answer is a bit tricky. It's obvious enough that the leaner the ground beef, the more protein in the uncooked meat. But the U.S. Department of Agriculture says that the leaner cuts of ground beef usually cost more than their lower fat content is worth. Consumers Union advises you to buy the least expensive cut of beef and supermarket usually contain three parts beef to one part watered soy product. If you follow the instructions for mixing on the packages of dry textured vegetable protein, you'll get two parts beef to one part watered soy product.

Consumers Union's consultants compared all-beef patties — made from combined ground round and ground chuck — with patties made from store-prepared beef-soy mixes and also patties prepared at home from soy product mixed with meat. As a rule, the all-beef burgers tasted best. As for

Needlepoint Carpet Is Heirloom

There comes a time when the accomplished needle artist feels an irresistible urge to apply her talents to a major project. The design she selects should be of such intrinsic quality that, if carefully worked, it can become an heirloom. Today a favorite choice is a needlepoint carpet done on canvas.

If the carpet is a single large piece it probably will require a frame and a permanent working area. However, it's possible to make a carpet of individual squares such as the fruit carpet in my current Needle Arts Collection.

It's made of 12 individual squares, 27 by 27 inches, and small enough to take with you wherever you want to work on it. Each of the squares is a different hand-painted fruit. Other carpets in the collection range from delicate floral fantasies by the talented Mona Spoor to the clear singing colors of a Persian design.

Each type of carpet has its advantages. While the carpet designed in a single large piece is not portable, it doesn't have to be seamed or joined. Those done in squares can be purchased and worked, one at a time.

A word of caution about working individual squares. Be sure to count the threads of each square very accurately. If one measures 150 threads, so

Marian Anderson To Sing In Orlando

Honor-laden as few have been in the history of music, Marian Anderson has become a legend to millions across the world. She will appear with the Florida Symphony as guest artist for its Jan. 15 Subscription Series concert.

Miss Anderson is greeted throughout the world, by heads of state, as an ambassador — and by the ordinary people as a great artist and human being. She served for a time as U.S. Delegate to the United Nations, and has been invited to sing at the Inaugural of three United States presidents. She received the Freedom Medal for her many contributions to the nation, including her countless concerts for members of American Armed Forces around the globe.

Since her retirement from public singing in 1965, Miss Anderson has made many speaking engagements, and has appeared as narrator in Aaron Copland's "A Lincoln Portrait" with such prestigious orchestras as Philadelphia and the New York Philharmonic. It is "A Lincoln Portrait" which she will narrate with the Florida Symphony.

It is estimated that over eight million people from all parts of the world have attended Marian Anderson's concerts throughout the course of her long career. Millions more are being exposed to her by way of radio, television, and records.

The Florida Symphony's Jan. 15 concert will include Stravinsky's "Pulcinella Suite" and Sibelius' magnificent First Symphony. Maestro Fivle Dessau will conduct.

Single tickets are priced from $4.50 to $9.50, and are on sale at the Florida Symphony Office, and at Colonial Plaza, Altamonte Mall, and Streep's Ticket Agencies. Tickets will also be available at the door after 7 o'clock on the evening of the concert.

Joy Of Stitching

By ELSA WILLIAMS

Working a carpet in one piece also has its hazards. If you want the finished carpet to lie flat you must remember to embroider in an even, relaxed way; otherwise the carpet will have a tendency to distort itself into a diamond. I urge you to use the Basket Weave stitch on any carpet.

There are many handsome color effects that make fine backgrounds if your central motif doesn't use too many colors and is not, in itself, very complicated. Behind a large monogram you might use vertical strips in three or four shades of a single color. Little squares of Scottish shades, slanting diagonally or moving horizontally. And the long and short stitches of Parisian, which are done vertically, lend themselves well to shaded colors.

An illustrated leaflet on needlepoint applique is available FREE. For yours, write to Elsa Williams, Box 278, Grand Central Sta., N.Y. 10017.

Sanford Women Honored FFWC President Visits Area Club

Mrs. E. Ross (Betty) Harris of Jacksonville, president of the Florida Federation of Women's Club (FFWC) was introduced to members of Sanford Woman's Club Wednesday by Mrs. Ralph Austin Smith, a past state president of FFWC.

With a lengthy background in civic and charitable endeavors, Mrs. Harris' prominence will be featured in the next publication of "Who's Who," to be published in England next year.

For women who question the value of club work, Mrs. Harris announced that during the last two FFWC administrations, Florida Women's Clubs had contributed enough funds to build another cottage at Hacienda Girls' Ranch, a project of the federation.

The guest speaker read several informative articles, including a lengthy, flowery account of a woman's club election of officers which appeared in a New York newspaper on April 28, 1896.

After reading a report of our lost country relating to the freedom of yesterday, Mrs. Harris pointed out that in today's society, citizens are demanding freedom, yet innocent citizens are virtually prisoners with crime on the rampage. She added that it is no longer safe to enjoy nature's wonders, even taking a simple walk.

Valentine Ball Will Benefit Youth Ranch

This year, the Valentine Ball falls on exactly the right day — Feb. 14. Sanford City Council of Beta Sigma Phi has announced that it will sponsor its Valentine Ball as usual. In the Sanford Civic Center, and that proceeds from this gala event will benefit the Seminole Youth Ranch.

Deadline for reservations is Feb. 7. Tickets are $7.50 per couple.

Musicians for the Valentine Ball will be provided by the "Check-mates," from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m. Dress is formal.

Eddie Rose, well known for his amateur hour at the Langford Hotel, Winter Park, and for him many other entertainment talents as well, has agreed to be master of ceremonies.

Highlight of the evening will be the crowning of the Valentine Ball King — that contestant in the "king competition" who collects the most votes (in money) to be donated to the Seminole Youth Ranch.

Instead of one queen, there will be 10 Valentine Sweethearts presented during the evening. Each will be a Beta Sigma Phi nominates a Chapter Sweetheart, as does the sorority's City Council.

According to Amoret LaRosa, chairman of the Valentine Ball, plans for the festive event are proceeding smoothly, and the sorority hopes a record number of dancers will attend the Ball and in so doing, demonstrate their support for the Seminole Youth Ranch.

Tickets for the Ball may be purchased from any member of Beta Sigma Phi.

Bridge Partner Puts Foot In It

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I were invited to play bridge at the home of a couple we recently met. During the game, I happened to look in a mirror across the room, and I saw the other man put his foot right next to my wife's foot! The way it looked to me, my wife didn't make any move to take her foot away.

This happened several times during the bridge game. On the way home, I asked my wife about it, and she said she felt this man's foot a few times, but she was sure he didn't mean anything by it.

Should I tell this man the next time I see him that he should be more careful where he puts his feet? Or do you think I am making something out of nothing?

DEAR BRIDGE: Only a dummy would accuse a recent acquaintance of playing tricks with his wife on such flimsy evidence. If the old boy was trying a fitness, it didn't work. Pass.

DEAR ABBY: Your 20-year-old daughter is planning to be married in six months. She's had only five dates with her fiancé. He lives in a distant state — too remote for her to get together again before the wedding.

They write to each other and talk long-distance once a week. Father says (and means it) that he will never accept the young man even if they do marry. (He figures that his daughter won't get married without his approval, but he is wrong.)

I am not in favor of our daughter marrying a man she knows so slightly, but if they marry I will accept him warmly.

DEAR ABBY: I have a key employee who does an excellent job for the company, but he presents a problem — he is not for the life of me solve. He has extremely bad breath and body odor, too, which leads me to believe that he doesn't bathe often enough. I know it is very offensive to those who work with him. In all other regards, he is a wonderful person and a very hard worker.

Any suggestions as to how to handle this problem will be greatly appreciated.

STUMPED

DEAR STUMPED: A key employee who does an excellent job for the company is worth saving.

Bad breath and body odor are not uncommon problems. (Witness the amount of advertising for products to remedy them.)

Take this "wonderful" man aside and tell him frankly but plainly. It would be a kindness.

My husband is angry with me. He thinks that because he disapproves of this marriage, I should do likewise.

How do you size up the situation?

MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Your husband is making a serious mistake in saying "never." He can't prevent a daughter of legal age from marrying, and he's foolish to take such a stubborn, negative attitude. I hope he reconsiders.
