

Settlement Puts Auto-Train Stock Back On Board

The American Stock Exchange has resumed trading in Auto-Train Corp. stock at the company's request following tentative settlement of a lawsuit against the corporation.

Auto-Train also announced that it plans to sell 1,400,000 shares of stock in its wholly owned subsidiary, Railway Services Corp., said Jim Grube, financial public relations spokesman for the firm. If completed, the sale will net Auto-Train $2,250,000.

Trading in Auto-Train stock had been halted June 11 at Auto Train's request due to a lawsuit against the corporation brought by the Continental Illinois Leasing Corp. and its affiliate, the Continental Illinois Bank and Trust Co. of Chicago, Grube said.

The suit charged that Auto-Train was behind in lease payments on locomotives and failed to adequately maintain leased equipment. Grube said the charge of inadequate maintenance concerned equipment not in use.

In an attempt to settle the dispute, Auto-Train has secured an irrevocable letter of credit in the amount of $400,000 which can be drawn on by Continental to pay the existing Auto-Train debts and future lease payments in the event of further defaults between now and Dec. 5, 1980.

The suit will be voluntarily dismissed by Continental, Grube said, if the company accepts the letter of credit upon final review.

Although 1,400,000 shares of Railway Services stock will be issued, 600,000 by Railway Services Corp. and 800,000 by Auto-Train, Auto-Train will retain approximately 59 percent of Railway Services' stock.

Out of its proceeds, Railway Services will repay Auto-Train $300,000. The funds were advanced by Auto-Train to get the company started, Grube said. — DIANE PETRYK

Court Backs Abortion Fund Ban

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court today upheld a 5-4 congressional ban on federal financing of most welfare abortions, and said states are required to finance the operation only when federal funds are available.

The majority said Congress' funding restrictions, known as the Hyde Amendment after its sponsor, Rep. Henry Hyde, R-Ill., do not violate the First or Fifth Amendments to the Constitution.

"Although Congress has opted to subsidize medically necessary services generally, but not certain medically necessary abortion the fact remains that the Hyde amendment leaves an indigent woman with at least the same range of choice in deciding whether to obtain a medically necessary abortion as she would have had if Congress had chosen to subsidize no health care costs at all," Justice Potter Stewart wrote for the majority.

"We are thus not persuaded that the Hyde Amendment impinges on the constitutionally protected freedom of choice recognized in (a prior court ruling)."

In a second 5-4 vote, the court said states are not obligated to pay for medically necessary abortions for which federal reimbursement is not available.

In the case of federal funding for abortions, Stewart said the Hyde Amendment "places no governmental obstacle in the path of a woman who chooses to terminate her pregnancy, but rather, by means of unequal subsidization of abortion and other medical services, encourages alternative activity deemed in the public interest."

As it now stands, the Hyde Amendment allows federal financing of abortions only to save the woman's life or in cases of pregnancy from rape or incest that are properly reported to authorities.

Although the Constitution protects citizens against unwarranted government interference, Stewart said, "it does not confer an entitlement to such funds as may be necessary to realize all the advantages of that freedom."

"To hold otherwise would mark a drastic change in our understanding of the Constitution," Stewart said.

Stewart agreed with the government argument that the Hyde Amendment bears a rational relationship to its "legitimate interest in protecting the potential life of the fetus."

But Justice William Brennan wrote for the dissenters that "the state's interest in protecting the potential life of the fetus cannot justify the exclusion of financially and medically needy women from the benefits to which they would otherwise be entitled solely because the treatment that a doctor has concluded is medically necessary involves an abortion."

Begin Rushed To Hospital

JERUSALEM (UPI) — Prime Minister Menachem Begin was rushed by ambulance today to the intensive care unit at Hadassah Hospital, a hospital spokesman said.

The spokesman said he did not immediately know the nature of Begin's ailment but the 67-year-old prime minister has a history of heart trouble and suffered a mild stroke in August.

Begin had been in the parliament building when the ambulance was called.

Members of the Knesset (parliament) said Begin felt ill apparently from the excessive heat, which was in the 90s because of a heat wave.

The ambulance left the Knesset area without using its siren, a Knesset guard said.

County To Consider Taking Over 39 Roads

By DIANE PETRYK
Herald Staff Writer

Thirty-nine dirt roads will be considered by the Seminole County Commission Tuesday for inclusion in the county road system.

Only roads in the system are eligible for county maintenance.

The roads, identified by the Public Works Department, were not previously included in the county road system due to oversight or have recently become eligible because of growth in their area, said County Engineer Bill Bush.

Roads classified as "Class B" will be regularly maintained by the county. Roads classified as "Class C" will receive "touch-up" maintenance only when they need it, Bush said. "Class A" is reserved for paved roads.

The new policy was adopted, Bush said, because many dirt roads were receiving frequent emergency maintenance to keep them passable, which required action by the commission each time.

Eleven roads are recommended for first-time inclusion in the "Class B" category. They are: 21st Street from Dixie Avenue to Henri Avenue; Williams Avenue from 21st Street, 300 feet north; Henri Avenue from 21st Street to 20th Street; South Boulevard from Longwood Lake Mary Road to Lake Lane; Lake Lane from Ruth Boulevard to Howard Boulevard; Hibiscus Lane from Floral Way to Balm Beach Drive; Pine Avenue from North Floral Way to Balm Beach Drive; North Floral Way from Pine Avenue to Nicholas Lane; Nicholas Drive from North Floral Way to Balm Beach Drive; Oak Drive from Westwood Drive to West Lake Brantley Drive and Lakeland Avenue from Palm Springs Road to Sanford Avenue.

Twenty-eight roads are recommended for first-time inclusion in the "Class C" category. They are: Edouard Street from Carolina Street to the south end of Edouard; Lake Street from Spring Avenue to the east end of Lake; Sheryl Anita Street from Carolina Street to the south end of Sheryl; Stone Street from Howard Avenue to the fish hatchery; Twin Lakes Drive from Orange County Line to the north end of Twin; Carrigan Ave. from Central Avenue to Division Street; Colonial Lane from Lake Oaks Boulevard to Tarrytown Trail; Water Street from Hughey Street to the north end of Water; Bill Dot Drive from Gleeves Court to Seminole Drive; Dot Drive from Jewel Drive to the west end of the right of way; Jewel Drive from the end of the pavement to Dot Drive; Junior Avenue from Palm Drive to Center Street; Poinsettia Drive from Hibiscus Lane to Floral Way; Seminole Drive from Jerome Way to Bill Dot Drive; Shore Drive from Lake Rena Drive to the north end of shore; Alberta Street from Seminole Avenue to the east end of Alberta; Alpine Street from Lake Marion Drive to Seminole Avenue; Arnold Avenue from Noble Street to Marvin Street; Bode Avenue from Barton Street to Boyer Street; Canada Avenue from North Street to Lake Marion Drive; Elizabeth Avenue from North Street to the south end of Elizabeth; Jackson Street from Bodie Avenue to the Jackson west end; Marvin Street from Leonard Street to North Street; Noble Street from Brentwood Avenue to east end of Noble Street from Palm Springs Road to Allison Avenue; Salem Street from Brentwood Avenue to the east end of Salem; Station Street from Leonard Street to North Street; Campello Street from Brentwood Avenue to east end of Campello; Via Hermona from Longwood Markham Road to Venetian Court.

Shah Has Surgery On Lung

By United Press International

More than 1,000 government workers have been fired in a new purge of accused collaborators with the regime of the ousted shah, Tehran radio reported today.

In Cairo, Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi underwent emergency surgery for the removal of pus from his left lung, medical sources said. A Tehran Radio broadcast said even the death of the shah would not change the hostage issue, now in its 24th day.

"(President) Carter is doubly mistaken if he thinks that the shah's death will hasten the possibility of the release of his spy hostages held in Islamic revolutionary Iran," the radio said.

"The deposed shah was but a U.S. agent with the rank of king, his status in the court will merely be that of a representative of his masters. The court will be called to try America, for in our view the hostages and the shah are one and the same," the broadcast said.

The mass dismissals of 622 people from the oil ministry, 325 from the road and transportation ministry, 35 from Iran's radio and television organization and 69 from Tehran University follows Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini's sharp criticism of the government's operation under President Abolhasan Bani-Sadr.

"If they (government officials) are unable to act, let them quit so that we can find individuals who are not ineffective," Khomeini said in a speech Friday.

The army chief of staff also ordered all army units to purge their ranks of all traces of the deposed shah and to throw out all emblems of the ex-monarch, the Kuwaiti news agency, KUNA, said in a dispatch from Tehran.

The chief of staff said he was acting on instructions from Khomeini who also announced last week that bureaucrats would be executed if they are caught using old office stationery bearing the deposed monarch's emblem of an imperial lion and sun crests. The dismissal of 69 lecturers, students and employees from Tehran University accused of collaborating with the shah's regime brings to 358 the number of people purged from the university, the radio said.

Bani-Sadr said fears the hostage crisis "will never be solved" have forced his government to make plans for Iran to function cut off from the rest of the world, the Bamdad newspaper reported today.

Bani-Sadr, who has said the continued holding of the 53 Americans was driving Iran to the verge of economic collapse, received support from a close associate of Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini, the Tehran Times reported.

Hojatol-eslam Hassan Rouhani, a member of parliament, told his constituents "Iran cannot keep the American hostages indefinitely. It is not possible."

"The problem has become complicated now," said Rouhani, who is Khomeini's personal representative to the political and ideological bureau of the Iranian Armed Forces. "That is to say that the United States does not attach any value on the life of the hostages."

Bani-Sadr's comments in the Bamdad newspaper on the crisis came one day after he demanded more power.

How Secure Is Social Security?

Program Head Urges Consumer Price Link... ..Senate May Back Tax Cut To Ease Burden

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Many retired people will begin receiving more money this year because of inflation and the head of Social Security Administration thinks that increases on consumer prices is a good idea.

William Driener also said he is confident legislation now moving through Congress will head off any chance that benefit payments will be disrupted in the next few years.

Driener acknowledged there will be a "good deal of speculation" on whether automatic cost-of-living increases for Social Security benefits should be revised. Such automatic cost adjustments will result in a 14.3 percent raise for 39 million Americans in checks going out this week.

Driener said he personally feels using the Consumer Price Index to help retirees and those receiving Supplemental Security Income benefits keep up with inflation is a good idea. The cost-of-living adjustment taking effect this week means a retired worker without dependents will get an average $330 a month beginning with checks arriving Thursday, compared to the old payment of $299.

Beginning with checks to be received Tuesday, a person getting the maximum federal Supplemental Security Income benefit will receive $238, compared to the old payment of $208. The legislation being considered would reallocate money to help the Social Security System meet a crunch caused by unemployment, which cuts down on payroll tax revenue, and inflation, which boosts benefits.

A report from the system's trustees earlier this month warned the trust fund that makes up the difference between payments and receipts for old age and survivors benefits would run dry and there could be a short fall in 1981 or 1982.

But Driener said, "I think everything is on track" in Congress, and he's confident there would be no delayed or reduced Social Security checks for eligible recipients in the next two years.

Driener said the adjustment for the next two years should give Congress enough time to work out a more permanent solution.

Asked if the retirement age should be raised — to 68, for example, instead of the current 65 to receive full benefits — Driener acknowledged that would solve some money problems.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A tax cut by Senate Democrats may not put $50 to $100 in everyone's pocket, a senator says, but it will be aimed at easing increased Social Security payments.

Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Texas, who heads a Senate economic task force that will meet with President Carter Tuesday, said the Senate is pushing ahead with its own tax cut proposal study with or without White House help.

"We will be welcoming any input from the administration side and we in turn will be communicating with them. ... They have not made up their minds," Bentsen told United Press International.

But the Texas Democrat has said the Senate isn't going to wait for the administration.

Last week Senate Democrats, after blocking a GOP proposal as too hasty, said they will develop their own program to reduce taxes by about $25 billion by September.

Asked how much a Democratic tax cut would put into an individual's pocketbook, Bentsen said: "It's not going to be any $50 or $100 for everybody. ... I can't tell you what it's going to be until we have some hearings. I can tell you it will be aimed at lessening the burden on the increase of the Social Security tax that takes effect next year. ... and that in no way can be considered inflationary."

"They are singing our song, and I'm willing for them to sing that song, but I ain't going to let them lead the choir."

Meanwhile, two high level government economists say President Carter is willing to work with Congress in developing a tax cut program, but the administration doesn't want "some quickie program."

"A tax cut ... a carefully designed, carefully constructed tax cut, done at the right time is something the president is prepared to consider," said Treasury Secretary G. William Miller. "Our preference would be that it be studied and discussed next year outside the heat of an election year."

Miller, appearing on the ABC interview program "Issues and Answers," said he thinks it is unlikely Congress can enact a well-constructed plan this year to take effect in 1981. But he said "if a miracle happens" and Congress develops a "good sound program ... we can accept miracles."

President To Sign Synthetic Fuel Bill Today

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government's long-awaited synthetic fuels program, now ready to swing into action, is designed to produce 2 million barrels of oil a day within 12 years by such methods as squeezing oil from shale and turning coal into gas.

President Carter was to host a signing ceremony at 4 p.m. EDT on the south grounds for creation of the Synthetic Fuels Corp., the instrument that will encourage the development and production of new fuel sources.

The president, resting at Camp David since the end of his European trip Thursday night, scheduled an early morning return to Washington to catch up on some office work.

The corporation will have a broad range of authority — from issuing loans and loan guarantees, to having the government directly produce fuels, if necessary.

A target was set of having the equivalent of 500,000 barrels of oil a day produced by 1987, and 2 million barrels a day by 1992. It is expected to take $20 billion in funds to reach the first goal and an additional $68 billion for the second target.

The measure also provides $5 billion for development of other programs.

3 Mile Island Krypton Release Slated

MIDDLETOWN, Pa. (UPI) — Engineers at Three Mile Island eliminated a bug in the radiation monitoring system and went ahead today with the planned release of radioactive krypton gas from the disabled nuclear plant.

Hundreds of people fled their homes during the weekend, but Gov. Dick Thornburgh urged the plant's control room nerve center Sunday and said area residents had no cause for worry.

"I have advised all residents of the area to do what I intend to do — and that's go about your daily business," Thornburgh said.

Engineers for Metropolitan Edison Co., the plant operators, had planned to begin releasing 2,000 to 4,000 curies of radioactive krypton gas daily, starting Saturday. But four minutes into the venting, an alarm was mistakenly triggered, and the process was halted abruptly.

Harold Denton, chief of reactor operations for the Nuclear Regulatory Commission, called Three Mile Island "site of the worst nuclear accident in U.S. history on March 28, 1979" — "star crossed plant."

The plant's radiation monitors designed to detect abnormal releases of radioactive dust particles, like cesium and cobalt, falsely set off the alarm, officials said.

In tests extending from Saturday to midnight Sunday, 1,240 curies of the 2,000 curies of the gas that became trapped inside the nuclear reactor containment building during the 1979 accident were vented, MetEd spokesman David J. Delzinger said.

The Census' Costly Confusion

Despite a $1 billion budget and 10 years of preparation, the Census Bureau's 1980 count appears headed for serious trouble. Unfortunately, this isn't the first time. The bureau had hoped to improve on its embarrassing 1970 record when it failed to count an estimated 5.3 million people, mostly members of minority groups. The 1950 and 1960 census efforts were no better. But 1980 may be the worst yet.

Thousands of residents in the nation's major cities remain uncounted due to incorrect address lists, incorrect maps and faulty computers. Census workers are quitting because their paychecks are long delayed. In many offices, census form checkers, overworked because of an employee shortage, are letting errors in completed forms get by into the final count. In a Milwaukee office, for example, almost 40 percent of the forms approved by checkers have so many errors that they have to be turned over to census-takers for correction.

The quality controllers check only 10 out of every 150 forms, thereby increasing the possibility that numerous errors are slipping into the final count. In an East Los Angeles office, a shortage of Spanish-language forms left 8,000 households without them. Consequently, bilingual census-takers, already in short supply, must visit those 8,000 homes, a task that officials fear may never be completed.

An accurate count is important because it bears directly on the allocation of $50 billion in federal funds to cities and counties, and in determining which states gain or lose congressional seats. Thus, in view of the reported foul-ups across the nation, some city and county officials understandably want more time than the brief 10 days they now have in which to review and verify the raw data, time the bureau should grant.

Decaying Democratic Coalition?

WASHINGTON (NEA) — At the heart of the Carter-Mondale reelection strategy is the theory that the president, by moving to the left in a campaign against an arch-conservative like former Gov. Ronald Reagan, will be able to count on the traditional Democratic coalition.

But a new national poll using an innovative technique has called into serious question whether the traditional Democratic coalition still exists and whether its components will back Carter in November. WASHINGTON (UPI) — Remember the "thin book" that were all the rage back in the 1960s? Of course you do. Who could forget such emaciated volumes as "My Life in the Senate" by Pierre Salinger and "The Decision-Making Role of the Vice President in the Johnson Administration" by Hubert Humphrey?

The other two are not so easily dealt with. Corruption is primarily the problem of the LDP itself — one of its powerbrokers, former Prime Minister Kakuei Tanaka, still faces court action in a payoff scandal — and calls for a housecleaning which is questionable the party is up to.

One Down, And Three More To Go

Sometimes in politics things can go so wrong that they turn out right. Such as Japan's Liberal Democratic Party, which has just emerged triumphantly victorious from the first of a string of potentially pivotal elections in the great democracies.

It did not appear to be shaping up that way. Distracted internally by factional infighting and its public image tainted by a tangle of political corruption cases, the LDP had been having a run of distinctly bad luck.

It was not Grayson's most impressive performance on the mound, but the muscular right-hander allowed only two batters to hit the ball in fair territory. Grayson finished both and threw out both batters.

Don't Overwork Injured Joints

Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB — My doctor says I have osteoarthritis. I have some stiffness in my knees and quite a bit of pain. I can usually control the pain with aspirin. My question is, should I be doing more exercise? I've heard that if you keep moving your joints they're not likely to get stiff. I don't want to lose the function of my legs. I don't mind exercising even if it hurts it will enable me to remain active.

DEAR READER — Your idea is good and a lot of people believe that they need to exercise to keep their joints working properly but that's only a half truth. That means it's also half wrong and can cause you a lot of trouble. Osteoarthritis or degenerative arthritis is the type of change that most of us experience with age. Current thinking is that injury, possibly from weight bearing, causes an inflammatory response.

It's perfectly true that you need to move your joints through their full range of motion several times a day to maintain their mobility. It's not true that you should overwork an injured joint. Exercise to maintain your flexibility and movement of your joints should be directed toward moving them passively through the full range of motion.

The rest of your exercise program should be limited to the point that it doesn't cause a lot of pain. Pain is nature's signal that something is wrong and it usually means that the part involved should be rested and not overworked. Complete inactivity and failure to move the joints through their full range of motion can lead to loss of function.

I am sending you The Health Letter number 4-10, Osteoarthritis: Degenerative or Wear and Tear Arthritis.

HOROSCOPE

By BERNICE BEDE OSOL

For Tuesday, July 1, 1980

YOUR BIRTHDAY
July 1, 1980

This coming year, keep your eyes peeled for situations that could offer you a second source of income. Some interesting things may develop to open up entirely new channels.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) — Responsibilities and serious matters should be given top priority today. Injecting frivolous activities into your agenda could prove very unwise. Romance, travel, luck, resources, possible pitfalls and career for the coming months are all discussed in your Astro-Graph, which begins with your birthday. Mail $1 for each to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10018. Be sure to specify birth date.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) — Once you make a commitment today, stand by your word regardless of the cost. Looking for ways to back out of an agreement will tarnish your image.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) — Put a fair price on your goods or services today, but don't seek unreasonable profits. Being too greedy could lead to your undoing.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) — You're lucky in many areas today, but taking financial risks isn't one of them. Don't gamble on things that could cost you money.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) — Be very patient today if you're involved in something that could add to your resources or enhance your security. Time is your ally, but impulsiveness isn't.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) — Normally you're very frank and forthright, but today you may not put all your cards on the table when dealing with friends. They'll suspect as much.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) — Go to old, reliable friends today if you need assistance, not to your newer acquaintances. Falls of long standing can be counted on.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) — You're quite clever today at figuring out how things should be done, but for some strange reason you may attempt to do them differently. Follow your original blueprint.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) — Rising to challenges today is something you're easily able to do once you subdue self-doubts. Don't underestimate your worth or fortitude.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) — Beware of tendencies today to suddenly alter situations that are running smoothly. Impulsive changes could create negative effects.

TAURUS (April 20-May 19) — You work very well today with persons whose goals are in harmony with yours, so select co-workers on this basis. Stay away from individuals on other wavelengths.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) — Things in general will go very nicely today if you don't take what you do too seriously. Get upright and little will be accomplished.

WIN AT BRIDGE

Alan: "As I remember the article we showed that South ruffed the third heart, entered dummy with a trump in order to take and lose the diamond finesse. This gave the defense their third trick and since South had to lose a club later on he lost his contract."

Oswald: "South should have known from the bidding that West held the king of diamonds and therefore, should have simply led to low diamond from his own hand. East would take his king and do anything he wished but South would cash the diamond ace, draw trumps and discard his two low clubs on the queen and jack of diamonds."

Alan: "I assume that readers have asked how South would have proceeded if West ducked that diamond?"

Oswald: "They sure have. We failed to discuss this due to space limitation and because we assumed that 99 percent of Wests would take their king."

Alan: "In any event, if West ducked South would simply cash his ace of diamonds and ace and king of clubs and lead a third club. This would leave a high trump in dummy with which to ruff that last club."
