FAIRY TALE

Ding dong, cry!
Crier, ring your bell!
Cry into the steeple street
How I lost my daughter.

Borrow beckoned, "Smiling child,
Come eat my salted fruit"
Sorrow threw a smoke of sighing round her.

Ding dong, cry!
Ring a bell for laughter!
Is he the slipper for her small foot.

Did sorrow change her to a bad,
Stuffed dumb and grievous?
Cries her fast and silt her tongue,
Instruct the desperate enchantment.

Ding dong, cry!
Ring a mountain bell.
Ring a dirge for laughter and her mother!

Close the smooth pink pain of laughter
Look her scarred black hand.

The 1939 auto tags in Florida will be red and white. In order to make the scheme completely patriotic, the drivers who have to pay for them will be blue.

What some of our dumb laymen can't quite understand is why we keep paying more and more taxes every year and the State's financial problems become more acute all the time.

If the farmers didn't already have enough trouble some chemist has discovered a method of raising vegetable without using various kinds of chemical solutions. In this way it is expected that before long crops will be raised in factories without the necessity of owning vast tracts of land on which to cultivate them.

Secretary of State Hull said a "present ominous drift toward international anarchy and armed conflict on a gigantic scale."
Brooks nations like Italy and Germany don't spend every cent they can get their hands on for armaments and abnormally large "armies" unless they intend to make use of them.

Mayor LaGuardia of New York City, whatever his opportunity may have once been of being a candidate for the presidency in 1940, is washed up. He appointed a communist to an important office in the Borough of Manhattan, and when the American Legion took him to task for it, he told the Legion in substance where to head in.

President Roosevelt is taking a "big order" in trying to purge the Democratic party all at one time of everyone who does not believe in him. If he succeeds, he will have a "honeymoon" which will last indefinitely and there will be a one man government. But if he fails and there are men get into Congress who were nothing to President Roosevelt and who in fact are the reason for his failure, then he may see a couple of significant fireworks in 1940.

Vital Issue To The South

Senator George has raised the states' rights issue in his fight for re-election to the United States Senate—the right of a state to select its own congressmen and senators to represent it in the United States Congress.

But there is a great deal more to the states' rights issue as it exists in this country today than the right of a free people to choose their own public servants. Nor does one have to stir up the prejudices and hatreds which originated in the Civil War to prove that states' rights are as vital to the South today as they were when Northern senators and congressmen were trying to abolish slavery seventy-five years ago.

Every particle of power surrendered by the individual states to the national government in Washington is an admission that we are incapable of governing ourselves and an appeal to senators, congressmen and bureaucrats from other states to come in and do our governing for us.

Furthermore, those who have watched the effects of such governing as northern law-makers have already tried to do for us are convinced that it will not be to the interest of the South, but for the benefit of the large centers of population and industrial areas from which the majority of our law-makers hail.

The Constitution for 150 years has given to Congress the power to regulate tariffs. They could have been lowered as well as raised. They could have been devised for the benefit of the South instead of for the benefit of the North. But they were not. Tariffs were raised higher and higher, always to the detriment of the South, forcing the South to buy in an artificially high priced protected market, while its principal crops were sold in the low unprotected markets of the world, simply because the majority of the Congressmen came from the North and were more interested in looking after their own interests than in doing justice to the South.

The Agricultural Adjustment Act has given to the Secretary of Agriculture the power to determine and to fix sugar quotas in every sugar producing area of the United States. The Secretary of Agriculture could have fixed the sugar quota for Florida so as to put ten thousand unemployed Florida citizens to work and so that Florida alone might have supplied all the sugar consumed in the United States. But did he do it? He fixed the sugar quota so that Florida cannot produce any more sugar than just enough to feed the people of Florida alone.

But that is not surprising. And it is not unusual. It is no worse than we should expect. Florida, the South, is just a small part of the total United States. What does the Secretary of Agriculture care about Florida?
What does Congress as a whole care about the South?
The Secretary of Agriculture comes from the middlewest. The majority of Congressmen come from the North. They are going to look after their own areas and their own constituents first. Just as they always have and always will.

During the last session of Congress the individual states surrendered to Congress the power to regulate wages and hours throughout the entire country. Does anyone suppose that these wages and hours will be regulated so as to help the South, or to help those sections where most of the Congressmen and Senators have their homes? Can we ever expect federal office holders, the great majority of whom come from northern or western states, to understand the problems of the South or to try conscientiously to solve them?

Would a New England office holder vote for a bill which would give Southern farmers a high price for their cotton, a high price which New England consumers would have to pay?

Good Tobacco Market

We do not know just how successfully tobacco can be raised in Seminole County, but if there had been a tobacco crop here of good quality during the past few weeks, it could have been sold at from 20 to 25 cents a pound.

Even the day that Live Oak sales neared the 7,500,000 pound mark, the average sale price for the run of common leaf fell to only 18 cents a pound, while more than eight million pounds have been disposed of since the Live Oak tobacco market opened two weeks ago.

Lake City warehousemen, reporting sales passed the 3,000,000 pound mark as prices continued to average 24 to 25 cents, said about a million pounds of Florida tobacco remained to be sold.

"On these figures, already a few days old," says the Tampa Times, "it is safe to report that Florida tobacco producers have already received well over $2,000,000 and should approach the $3,000,000 mark by the season's end."
That should make the loss of cotton as the South's chief "cash crop" considerably easier to bear, especially in growing areas, and it will undoubtedly stimulate Florida business conditions in general.

It would be well for local farmers to give more thought to the raising of other kinds of crops than celery. It may be that tobacco is not the right crop, but it is certain that celery is no longer king either, any more than cotton is in other sections of the South.

What we need here is a good second and third cash crop, something to help reduce the celery acreage, and something to help absorb the losses when the celery market goes bad. It's bad business to continue putting all your money on celery in the hope that the favorable conditions which prevailed ten or more years ago will return.

Dr. Manget Given Sobriquet Of "Hell-Raising American Doctor"

SHANGHAI, Aug. 18.—(AP)—
The Japanese military police decided the doctor might be a spy for the Chinese.

He earned that sobriquet by banging his fist on a table and shouting down a Japanese officer who had called him a spy.

The Chinese president of the same area call him the "big white boss of the huge brick house of many beds at Huchow."

He is Dr. Frederick Manget, of Newman, Georgia, Fla., the last 25 years he has been attached to the Southern Methodist Episcopal Mission in China,

When the war came Dr. Man-get performed operations upon wounded Chinese soldiers which a real bomb fell just outside the mission compound a few days before the Japanese occupation of the city on November 22, 1937.

The Japanese military authorities at Huchow believed he might be a spy and were taking no chances. Turning him over to the boundaries of the International Settlement, they told him to stay here.

But the doctor didn't stay. By the end of March, he was back again. On this occasion, he found the hospital and mission buildings in a sorry condition.

The compound was being used as a fortress against Chinese guerrilla attacks. Holes had been made in the brick walls and were being used as machine-gun em-placements. The mission church, he relates, had been stripped of pews, altar and other furnishings and was being used as a cromatory for dead Japanese soldiers.

The doctor demanded to see the Japanese colonel in command, but was denied. The commandant of the settlement said he would see the doctor.

Individuality Makes For Chic On Campus

By ADELAIDE KERR
AP Staff Editor
College girls do you want a few credits in chic?

Then be a little "different." Wear a god rope necklace with your sweater instead of that string of pearls that half the country's college girls select. Discard that long-suffering peasant kerchief tied under your chin for a bright cap squashed over your curls. Mix your colors with a sure, but daring hand. And see what a dirdal can do for you.

As to the more serious side, campus clothes this year are, as always, casual. Skirts and sweaters still get the biggest vote at eastern schools. The skirts, of mixture, monotone or plaid wools, may be pleated or plain, while the sweaters are nearly always crewnecked. There's a chance for individuality in contrasting the colors of the two adding a tweed jacket, wool socks a big wool scarf to harmonize.

Reversible coats are practical for campus wear. This year's editions are generally squared models made of tweed or camel's hair on one side and gabardine on the other.

The off-the-campus wardrobe generally includes another coat of black, brown, dark green or wine-colored wool cut on a fitted silhouette and simple, furled with some such pet as beaver, mink or nutria.

Dresses should include one simple wool frock and several dark crepe ones to be worn with sparkling clip or a "clunky" glittering necklace to suit tea and dances.

One simple tailored suit, whose fitted jacket has a rather high throat line, is about a "must" for the college girl, since it can be worn for traveling and weekend work.

Dressing frocks, which complete her wardrobe have wide swishing skirts this year. They come in white, black, green, russet and blue gaiters, turbans, chiffons and velvets and are often topped by jackets to match.

Roosevelt Pledges Support To Canada Against Invaders

The occasion for the President's speech here today was the acceptance of an honorary degree from the Queens University.

In Washington his speech was interrupted by observers of the wireless Division, heretofore applied to Latin America, to include Canada. In Paris it was interrupted by a line toward the active support of Britain and France in world affairs.

Mrs. Goff Honors Son On Birthday

Honoring her son, Randall Goff, on his sixth birthday, Mrs. O. K. Goff entertained with a party Wednesday afternoon at her home on Park Avenue.

In carrying out the color scheme of pink and green, pink vine was used in decorating the rooms of the home. During the afternoon games and contests were played and Barbara Chapman received the prize for finding the most peanuts during the peanut hunt.

Later in the afternoon, refreshments of ice cream and individual cakes were served. The birthday cake was decorated with pink and green icing and animal crackers were placed around the sides giving the appearance of a circus ring. Each guest was presented with a novelty party hat as a favor.

Assisting Mrs. Goff were Mrs. R. M. Mason, Jr., Mrs. G. S. Tolson and Mrs. Jack Smalley. Invited to be with Randall on his birthday were Gene Smith, John Fox, Marine Messer, Sylvia Smalley, Jacqueline McDonald, Jean Wright, Joan Thompson of Washington, D. STOPPING FARM ACCIDENTS
The American farmer works many hours a day and, with little resistance, surrenders a tenth of his earnings to accidental injuries. Last year, accidents killed over 4,000 persons and injured several hundred thousand others on American farms.

Falls from ladders, haystacks, haystacks, windmills, and tools are responsible for thousands of injuries and many deaths on farms.

Inspect a ladder before using it—a rotten rung may result in serious injury.

When working on a windmill, have a safety rope around the body and attached to cross beams.

Children are often injured when they strike pitchfork lines when sliding off a haystack. Never leave a pitchfork lying around or covered up when not in use.

Gears, whirling belts, flywheels, snailage cutters, shellers, and threshing machines are farm machinery hazards which take toll of life and limb. Loose shirt sleeves around machinery may result in the loss of an arm or life. Keep gear enclosures closed.

Drive upright alongside belts to keep them in place. Inspect seats on tractors, mowers, and other potentially dangerous implements before using them.

Have a tool house and keep the tools in it for protection of tools and yourself.

Animals are responsible for many farm accidents. Remember, a bull is always dangerous and don't try to load one except by a stick firmly attached to a ring in his nose. Hold a portable gate in front of you when entering the pen of a sow and her new litter. Speak to a horse before entering his stall.

Frequently inspect saddles and harness for broken straps or bushes. Don't approach a strange dog and keep your dog in the yard at night to prevent him from becoming a sheep-killer and a nuisance to others.

Too much moisture in stored hay will cause spontaneous combustion. Don't store hay when it is too green and be sure the storage place is not leaking.

Keep gasoline, kerosene, and other inflammable or explosive material in plainly marked containers and keep them away from the house and barn. Burn rubbish only on still days and at a safe distance from buildings.

Don't stand under a tree or near a fence and keep away from machinery during a thunderstorm.

Don't strike matches or smoke in the barn. Hang lanterns at a safe distance from the poles and hay.

Don't enter a silo too soon after it has been filled (it is dangerous for at least a week afterward) and always lower a lighted lantern into a well before our "economic blacklist" and give her the generalized benefits of the trade agreements concluded with 18 nations and also negotiate to a trade agreement with her.

German Interest In Trade Treaty Accepted Coldly

Secretary Hull, they said, has repeatedly offered normal trade relations with Germany, on the same basis as with other nations. This basis is most-favored-nation treatment. He will not consent to the German system of barter and a double currency—the internal mark and the "aak" mark used for foreign trade.

These officials also said they could not agree to the idea that Germany should take advantage of her position of a debtor to this country to force concessions from us on the grounds that she could thereby pay her debts to us.

Civilians Drafted By Nazi High Command

BERLIN, Aug. 18. —(AP)—Thousands of German civilians are being drafted daily for work on fortifications all along Germany's western frontier with Switzerland, France, Belgium and the Netherlands.

From factories and shops they have been conscripted to build a German counterpart of France's famous steel and concrete Maginot line. Estimates of their number vary between 85,000 and 200,000.

Only a few days ago, according to reports of reliable eye-witnesses, between 2000 and 4000 labor conscripts left Berlin.

Descending into it, a freshly filled silo contains poisonous gas and a well in other dangerous for the same reason (the lanterns will go out if gas is present in the well).

Queen Mary College, University of London, largely endowed by relatives of the Queen Mother, is being rebuilt and modernized, with a new art building to open October 15.

1,956 Recipients Of Pensions Died During Past Year

JACKSONVILLE, Aug. 18.—Death is thinning the ranks of Florida recipients of Old Age Assistance at the rate of approximately 2,000 persons per year, according to the annual report of the State Welfare Board, made public here today.

Of the 2,881 cases that were closed for all reasons during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1,956 were closed by the Grim Reaper, the statistics show.

Other reasons for removal of names from the rolls and the number affected follows: Admitted to public institution, 64; admitted to voluntary institution, 3; became self supporting, 145; relatives became able to support, 88; moved to another state, 34; not eligible for original grant, 75; refused to comply with property requirements, 33; other, 266.

Seventy-five of those whose cases were closed never received the first payment. The number who had received checks for 12 to 17 months was 629 and the number receiving checks for 18 to 23 months was 191.

Eleven persons 100 years of age or more were removed during the year, while in the lower bracket of 65 and under 66 years, 30 were removed. The heaviest closing age period was 70 and under 71 years, with 213.

More rural than urban residents were granted Old Age Assistance during the 12-month period, with 11,387 in the one classification and 2,935 in the other. Native born were numerically preponderant, at the ratio of 13,649 to 1,413 foreign born.

Males accepted during the year numbered 11,106 and females 9,976.

Statistics covering many phases of public assistance are supplied by the State Welfare Board to the Social Security Board.

Dramatic Story Told By Negro In Hines Trial

happened to McLaughlin.

Weinberg, who was indicted with Hines but who pleaded guilty and agreed to testify for the state, was the second witness called by Prosecutor Dewey in support of charges that the general, reputedly Hines' ally, was the principal liaison man between the Shultz mob and law enforcement agencies.

The first witness, Hines, who set out to give a first-hand explanation of how policy makers work, was asked to step down when Supreme Court Justice Ferdinand Pecora demanded that Dewey produce testimony which would link Hines with the conspiracy charge.

Weinberg, a brother of the long-missing Abraham (Hug) Weinberg—who is popularly believed to be encased in cement at the bottom of the East river, said the conference with Hines took place at Shultz's Manhattan apartment early in 1932.

During the conference, which he said was attended also by his brother and "Julie" Rosenkrantz, the Tammany district leader received $1000 from Schultz, the witness added. Weinberg said he was ordered to pay Hines $500 a week, plus any additional sums up to $1000, required for protection.

Weinberg said he explained to Hines that he and his associates wanted policy cases settled in magistrate court and not sent downtown to special sessions.

O'Connor To Answer FDR In Radio Talk

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18. —(AP)—John J. O'Connor, the pug-nacious New York Irishman who got a political tongue-lashing from President Roosevelt, arranged to answer the President in a nation-wide radio speech tonight. Friends here said they did not expect O'Connor to "pull any punches."

Neither did Roosevelt when he put the congressman and Senator Tydings of Maryland on the Administrations "margins" list alongside Senator Walter George of Georgia.

Each of the three legislators has opposed some of the President's proposals; each has a primary fight on his hands from a "100 percent New Dealers."

O'Connor will speak from New York at 7:45 p. m. Eastern Standard time. He said yesterday he accepted the President's challenge. Tydings had no immediate comment.

BARRETT SAYS FAVORS THIRD TERM

NEW YORK, Aug. 18. —(AP)—Alben W. Barrett of Kentucky, Senate minority leader, and recently a vocal critic of Governor Chandler of the Democratic primary, said the economic program for Europe is being produced "an ample quantity of New Deal Democrats in both Houses."

ASSURED OF WIN

CHICAGO, Aug. 18. —(AP)—Governor Leslie A. Miller was assured of re-election yesterday. Returns from 350 of the State's 683 precincts gave him 9,907 votes to 3,284 for Gus Eno, Democrat in both Houses.

W. P. Haggerty, leader of a movement in Tampa to curb all forms of gambling, announced this week that the drive would become state-wide through the cooperation of James Chamberlain of Commerce in 50 Florida cities.

New Crossroads Met In Sudeten, Czech Conflict Group To Work On Canal Draft At Monday Meet

Prague, Aug. 18. —(AP)—The Sudeten crisis has opened a new chapter in the history of the Czech Republic. The conflict between the Sudeten Germans and the Czech government has led to a meeting of the League of Nations on Monday. The meeting is expected to discuss the draft of a canal through the Sudeten region. The canal is a key project for the Czech government, and its completion is seen as a vital step towards the country's economic recovery. The Sudeten crisis has also led to a re-evaluation of the League of Nations' role in maintaining international peace and stability.

Cooperation Is Urged For Citrus Industry

DAVENPORT, Aug. 18. —(AP)—Citrus growers in the Davenport area are urged to cooperate in a new campaign to improve the quality of their fruit. The campaign is led by the Davenport Citrus Growers Association and aims to establish a reputation for the area's citrus as being of superior quality. The growers are encouraged to use the best practices available and to work together to address any issues that may arise. The campaign is expected to have a significant impact on the local citrus industry and to benefit the entire community.

Fourth Inning Rally Gives Locals 4-2 Win Over Saints

Opponents Are Limited To Four Blows By Jim Finger

Lookouts' Big Guns Pave Way For Victory As Moore, Davis, Pitman And Stith Get Two-Base Hits

The Sanford Lookouts, who bled their doublet Wednesday night, 1938, August 17, won their fourth game in a row by a 4-2 victory over the Saints.

Big Jim Finger held the Saints to four hits while the main, Sam Moore, gave up only three runs in the first inning. Finger pitched excellent ball, scattering the four hits, and never in return trouble and kept the ball in play. He walked three batters, throwing two strikes out five against the man's four.

In the fourth frame, Sanford began its attack when Pitman lined a hard double to left which was followed by Moore's double from the same side of the plate. Davis, Smith and Pitman, Davis and Smith all of whom lined doubles to left. All four hits were made by the Saints when a triple to the fifth. He added a single to his total. Pitman then pulled two singles for the other two Saint hits.

Both clubs played excellent ball.

McPhail Has Sure Plan To Make Fans Forget The Slumps

Larry Comes Up With A New Stunt Every Time Dodgers Skid

BROOKLYN — Larry McPhail has a sure-fire system of making Brooklyn fans forget the Dodger slumps. Every time the Brookes hit the skids Larry comes up with a new stunt.

It's the National League's No. 1 side man, stenographers work in relays, putting down his inspirations.

"Idea come to me just like that," he says, modestly, with a brisk snap of his fingers.

Here are some he conceived: (A) Hurdle races across the infield; (B) the disguising of Ebbets field under a fresh coat of paint; (C) a handicap race between ball players and sepias; (D) the recall of Babe Ruth; (E) a long-hitting championship (for Ruth to win); (F) elimination sprints to determine the league's fastest speedster; (G) dressing up his ushers in bright uniforms, and teaching them English; (H) the Metropolis.

(Incidentally, to celebrate the first night game he persuaded Johnny Vander Meer to pitch his second straight night, a run game. No one had ever done this. Vander Meer, a modest Dutch lad, demurred at the suggestion of breaking precedent, but finally was persuaded after much coaxing.)

As a result of keeping my ears very close to the ground I've got a scoop. From an earthy grapevine source I've obtained a lot of other McPhail ideas that Baseball's Bureau may unveil almost any minute now.

Vander Meer, a patriotic red for July 4, Yellow, a soft, light, hue, for the first day of summer. Blue, for Blue Mondays, Pink, a favorite with the femmes, for Ladies' days.

Home plate microphone. So fans can hear the witty conversational exchanges between players and umpires.

Cheer leaders. These to signal the gas when to yell, so they won't startle the men folks out of the park with their sudden screeches at foul balls.

Animated cartoons in center-field. To entertain the kiddies. Many a papa has stayed home rather than take Johnny to the game. For little Johnny habitually hops on Papa's lap, twinks his ear and whines for soda pop just when Ducky Wucky Medwick slams one into the bleachers.

Invisible steel posts. So fans sitting behind them can see the game without getting a crink in their backs from leaning sideways.

Canaries. These amber-colored songsters would serenade the spectators with soft chirpings.

Here are some prospective late season championship contests:

Singing. A microphone would be installed in the dressing room and players would warble under the showers. A hand vote of the fans in the stands would determine the winner.

Pitching control. With a bulls-eye at the plate, an award to the hurler who can score the most direct center hits out of 10 losses.

Dirty uniform. This interesting spectacle would be saved for a rainy day. Mud sticks better than dirt.

Tobacco chewing. This would be divided into three parts with separate prizes to (a) the player handling the biggest wad; (b) the one who can spit the farthest, and (c) the one showing the best spitting accuracy.

Blocking. A prize to the player

Fighting Game, Fish Across Canada, Great Sport

HOLIDAY opportunities in thousands of lakes, rivers and brooks of Canada afford fishing opportunities unexcelled anywhere in the world. The wide stretches of the Dominion's forest and lakeland abound with game fish and animals—moose, deer, grizzly, black and brown bear—where lovers of the great outdoors may find a sports district to suit every whim.

Fishing conditions are so varied in Canada and the species of game fish so numerous that a small booklet is required to list all the fish and regulations of different sections. Deep-sea fishing is found on both ocean coasts; for half-ton tuna off Nova Scotia and equally large sharks near Vancouver Island, British Columbia. 5-pound small-mouth bass at Devil's Gap Camp, Kenora, Ont. Lake of the Woods district; and in hundreds of lakes in Eastern Canada, vie for popularity with 40-pound muskies (musky) at tonight at the Municipal Hall Park at 8 o'clock, the time on all game having been changed from 8:15 to 8 o'clock, to the earlier time.

After last night's fray in which the Lookouts landed the saints a 4-2 setback, doubtless the men from the Ancient City will be on edge for a battle yet. However, the Lookouts will be able to do a little fighting themselves, having recently recovered their punch at the plate.

In the last week the local club appears to have come out of a batting slump which beset it for a week or so. Several excellent pitching performances have been rendered, too. The most notable of which was lanky Sid Hudson's masterful twirling against Leesburg Monday night.

Although touched for more innings than it is pleasant to mention, lanky Sid put the ball over the rubber when it counted and aided by timely hitting on the part of his mates, managed to take the game from the loop leaders.

Last night's performance by Big Jim Finger was top-notch in control and technique. Four-hit pitching is good enough for any club. If Finger and Hudson had been with the local club from the beginning of the season, there is no telling where Sanford would be in the standings but it is safe to guess that it would blond, arm-wary and nearly exhausted from his efforts to stop the game title-defender, Armstrong emerged from 15 savage rounds of fighting to win the unanimous official decision, despite an erratic finish that cost the little negro three rounds on penalties for hitting low and a spectacular rally by Ambers.

Armstrong Defeats Ambers To Take Third Ring Crown

Armstrong, although unable to finish his sturdy foe and actually hardpressed to save his winning margin through the last five rounds, scored two knock-downs and won decisively, notwithstanding the penalties assessed against him for questionable tactics and the patisan demonstration by a majority of the crowd after the verdict was announced.

Ambers was knocked down in the fifth round, and saved by the bell, which rang just one split second after the champion was smashed in the canvas by a right to the jaw.

Armstrong brought his man down again, for the count at eight in the sixth round but his most desperate efforts there, after were unable to upset the champion.

Armstrong threw every punch in his arsenal in a bid for a knockout in the eleventh. Again, in the fourteenth, after landing three straight thunks to Ambers—two of them on knuckles—the negro connected with a right hand that knocked the champion into the ropes. But for the backstop Lou would have gone down, for the third time, but he recovered his footing and averted further trouble.

The victory for the 25-year-old negro capped the climax of the best amateur championship winning streak in pugilistic annals, giving Armstrong his third world title within less than 10 months.

Rogell Not So Slow

DETROIT, (AP)—There has been some talk of Bill Rogell, Detroit shortstop, sliding up this season, but the records don't substantiate such comment. The first team in either major league to reach the 100 mark in double plays was Detroit, with its combination of Rogell and Charles Gehring.

Alex Wojciechowicz Uses Widest Stance

DETROIT, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Alexander Wojciechowicz, former Fordham star who has been signed by the Detroit Lions of the National Professional Football league, will have at least one distinction among centers in the circuit, according to Coach Mari (Dutch) Clark. That is the use of the widest stance ever seen in the league. By actual measurement, Wojciech spans 5 feet 4 inches of turf when he takes his place over the ball. Simultaneously with his passing of the ball, Wojciechowicz jerks his feet close together, raises his head and lunges forward in a blocking pose.

The 210-pounder was first adopted by Oregon in 1919, and was taken up by all states during the next ten years.

Nippon's Soldiers Halted Expansion of Russia in 1905

Japan Became A Militaristic Nation By Routing The Bear

By ALEXANDER R. GEORGE
WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—The world was flabbergasted one cold February morning in 1904 when news came from far-off Manchuria that Japan had suddenly opened war on gigantic Russia.

It seemed incredible that the little brown men—nobody then thought of Japan as a military nation with Asia dominating ambitions—dared to tangle with the mighty, Muscovite bear. Even more surprising was the news a few days later that the Japanese were walloping the Russians on land and sea.

The big bear, in quest of Asiatic honey, had prowled too deep into Far Eastern territory for little Japan's comfort. Russia's Gibraltar of the East at Port Arthur in Chinese Manchuria, and the czar's warships there had become a "thorn in the side" of the "Great Britain," which then had a "protect China" clause with Japan, also frowned on Russian military penetration. But a refusal to withdraw her troops from Manchuria.

The Russians rallied later with reinforcements from home and put up a stout but usually losing struggle. The Japanese dealt them three staggering blows: Impregnable Port Arthur was captured after a terrific seven-months' siege, the Japanese won a decisive battle at Mukden and a tremendous naval victory in the Sea of Japan.

Admiral Togo's "mosquito" flotilla annihilated the proud Baltic fleet which had steamed half way round the world to avenge earlier Russian naval reverses. U. S. talks, sympathetic toward Japan as "the little fellow" in the war, spoke of the diminutive Togo as a second Admiral Dewey.

Togo, Marshal Oyama and General Nogi were heroes in this country, sharing the headlines with President Teddy Roosevelt taking jiu-jitsu lessons and Auto Speed-King Barney Oldfield doing a mile a minute in his Green Dragon. The Japanese soldiers' smiling disdain of death, their Yankee admiration while tales of Siberian dungeon cruelties to political exiles had made autocratic Russia unpopular with many Americans.

The war dragged on, the Russians steadily losing ground, until President Roosevelt induced the two governments to start peace negotiations in August, 1905. Under the treaty signed in September, Russia abandoned her claims to Manchuria, China

Farmer Should Aid Birds As They Help Eradicate Insects

Looking for birds to help eradicate insects from his farm, a farmer should be sure to have a few of the following species on his place. The following are the most common and most effective insect-eating birds.

The blue jay is a very effective insect-eater. It will eat a wide variety of insects, including beetles, caterpillars, and grasshoppers. It is also a very intelligent bird and will often work in cooperation with other birds to eradicate insects from a farm.

The crow is another effective insect-eater. It will eat a wide variety of insects, including beetles, caterpillars, and grasshoppers. It is also a very intelligent bird and will often work in cooperation with other birds to eradicate insects from a farm.

The robin is a very effective insect-eater. It will eat a wide variety of insects, including beetles, caterpillars, and grasshoppers. It is also a very intelligent bird and will often work in cooperation with other birds to eradicate insects from a farm.

That is of use to the farmer and he should destroy many of the birds that destroy him.

There are other friends of the farmer, too. The ladybug, for example, is a very effective insect-eater. It will eat a wide variety of insects, including beetles, caterpillars, and grasshoppers. It is also a very intelligent insect and will often work in cooperation with other insects to eradicate insects from a farm.

The praying mantis is another effective insect-eater. It will eat a wide variety of insects, including beetles, caterpillars, and grasshoppers. It is also a very intelligent insect and will often work in cooperation with other insects to eradicate insects from a farm.

The ground sloth is a very effective insect-eater. It will eat a wide variety of insects, including beetles, caterpillars, and grasshoppers. It is also a very intelligent insect and will often work in cooperation with other insects to eradicate insects from a farm.

Train Runs Errands For Mountain Folks

BOONE, N. C., Aug. 18. The mountain folk swear by "Tweetie," a little narrow-gauge railway winding along among the trees and crags on a 66-mile route between here and Johnson City, Tenn.

The engineer has been on the job 25 years, the conductor, 32. They think nothing of stepping the train in front of a mill-high creek, picking up children and delivering them safely to the home of a relative down the track, while the conductor often shops in town for an isolated housewife or farmer. Then the train stops in front of a farm home for the specific purpose of delivering a spool of thread or a length of wire.

The little train with its huff, puff locomotive will stop anywhere, any time. Its whistle, ringing shrilly through the mountains, is more for greeting than warning.

The formal name of this folksy railway is the Eastern Tennessee and Western North Carolina railway, but you could not tell the mountain people it is anything but "Tweetie," the title they gave it 52 years ago.

Townsend To Form Own Party If He Can't Get Support

AUGUSTA, Me., Aug. 18.—Dr. Francis E. Townsend, originator of the revolving old-age-pension plan, told an audience of 8,000 persons in Augusta that if neither majority party of the Nation supported his plan, "we will form our own party to push it through."

Declaring he supported neither the Republican nor Democratic party, Townsend urged his audience to elect Maine's three Republican Representatives at the Sept. 12 election for they favored the Townsend movement.

The California doctor blasted the Roosevelt administration for what he termed an attitude "antagonistic to freedom and jeopardizing the entire system of government."

Of the speakers' platform were Representatives James C. Oliver of South Portland, Clyde H. Smith of Koonseogon and Ralph O. Brown of Dexter and Maine's Republican Governor Lewis O. Barrows. All expressed their sympathy for the Townsend Plan.

Dr. Townsend was a luncheon guest of Gov. and Mrs. Barrows at the Blaine House previous to the meeting.

The disgraced doctor called upon Maine as well as the rest of the country to elect more Republicans to the next Congress to make possible "an efficient and well-balanced government."

"If the people of America don't end abruptly this so-called New Deal we're done for all time," he said.

"Don't let the gloved hand of this administration deceive you," he continued, "for the other hand is a mailed fist. A brutal political machine is being built up through the New Deal relief program and is destroying the

New Home of "Fighting Gators"

Miss Georgia Beagle, right, is having constructed a 40-room home which will be occupied by the 1938 University of Florida football team, and other Gator athletes. Here, Captain Jimmy Oxford, left, and fellow members of the Florida grid squad will be comfortably housed. Meals also will be served in "The Gator Home." Miss Beagle, noted benefactress of the university, cordially extends an invitation to all friends of the university to attend the "House Warming" on September 1, and to bring gifts suitable for the new home.

freedom of spirit in which America has always been governed. Townsend did not mention Gov. Barrows nor his Democratic opponent, Louis J. Brann in the September election.

Barrows characterized as "unnecessary and expensive" many of the Federal government's demands for "regulation and domination" of old age relief in the State. "I have put steel on many occasions but the answer is always the same. This is our destiny and our regulation you comply or else we withhold our assistance," Barrows said.

Stephen Foster was born July 1, 1826.

New Post Office To Be Built This Fall

PENSACOLA, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Postmaster M. Oliver Brawner said today work may be started this fall on Pensacola's new $475,000 post office and federal building.

Postmaster Brawner said he had received a copy of a letter sent to Rep. Millard Caldwell, third Florida district, by the assistant director of procurement in Washington saying advertisements for construction bids are to be released during the week of Sept. 26.

The Escambia county commission traded the Federal Government its court house site for the present post office and federal building. The old red brick court house will be torn down to make way for the new federal building and the county offices will be moved into the old federal building.

Although Japan is supposed to be staggering under her war load, horse-players recently set a record in a ten-day racing meet in Tokyo by betting nearly $750,000.

'ELECTRICITY'S TOO DEAR' says Mrs. Lizzie Loy of Moore's Gap road near Clinton, Tenn., also in the TVA region. She continues to use her wood-burning stove.

Liechtenstein Fires Army And Feels Safer

VADUZ, Liechtenstein, Aug. 18.—(AP)—The private army of this principality between Switzerland and Germany, has been disarmed, and a police force has been organized instead.

The 14,000 Liechtenstein citizens will be protected henceforth by 20 policemen.

The government says the residents feel safer without the army which was made up of 520 farm-hands. The new police force is needed because more tourists are coming in.

POWER CUT OFF
MIAMI.—(AP) Circuit Judge H. F. Atkinson granted a temporary injunction yesterday forbidding the City of Miami to use electricity at the Municipal Water Plant from other sources than the Florida Power and Light Co. The city recently contracted for a $180,000 Diesel generator to operate the water works.

In the Boston fire of 1872, 40 acres were devastated, with a property loss of over $60,000,000.

Horses Have Not Been Driven To Military Boneyard

Experts Say Machines Aid Rather Than Replace Cavalry

BY ALEXANDER GEORGE
WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—The machine-age enthusiasts have been predicting that the airplane, the machine gun, the tank and gas will drive the army horse to the military boneyard.

But just suggest to the arm experts that the cavalry is on its last legs and you'll get a polite horse laugh. And 22,000 horses and mules in the streamlined U. S. army of 165,000 men will join in the derisive chorus.

The experts say that as long as there is movement in war and "get it there first" with the "most" is what counts, the simple mobility of cavalry to other ground forces in rough country will remain undiminished.

They back up this contention with lessons of the cavalry in the current Spanish and Japanese conflicts, as well as the World War I.

Marshal Foch, and no number of the Allied troops which defeated the German army on the western front, said: "The next war will begin as the last year ends with movement."

Men and mountains can be brought to battle with very little delay with the use of motor works of good roads are available. But off the paved highways there are woods, hills, streams, ravines and swamps to oppose the progress of motor vehicles. And then the horse comes in mighty handy!

The airplane, of course, has greatly expanded the range and increased the speed of military movement. Yet when visibility is bad the cavalry comes to the rescue. Said General von Seeckt, late commander-in-chief of the German army:

"The motor has come to aid—not to replace the reconnaissance. The reconnaissance is left to the cavalryman whose sense of direction is not clouded by clouds of smoke."

The Spanish General has been highly efficient in only a few scouting parties, but only at night. It has often been found with the lightest flanks and had prevented extensive units from reforming their lines.

Japanese officers now are in moving the lack of motor cavalry for effective flanking movements and quick follow-up of drives against the Chinese. On the other hand, Chinese guerrillas have found their Mongolian ponies extremely useful in making sudden raids in Japanese outposts, followed by quick retreats to the hills or other cover.

The machine gun was expected to doom horse movement on the battle field. It has greatly retarded cavalry and infantry advances, but there have been instances where machine gunners in defensive positions have been overwhelmed by surprise mounted attacks.

Says General Malin Craig, chief of staff, U. S. army: "American cavalry is not only a scouting force, but it is a powerful combat arm. It offers a larger target but moves faster than the infantry. Its purpose is to advance men with rifles and machine guns, advancing them to take advantage of the cover of woods, ravines and grass much more easily than any motor vehicle."

On a good road, the infantry marches at a rate of 2 1/2 miles an hour; off the highway its pace is cut down to 1 1/2 miles an hour. Cavalry can trot at an average of 5 miles an hour; gallop easily at 12 miles an hour.

Military statisticians say that during the World War large units of cavalry could march 75 miles and arrive on the battle front ready for combat faster than large units of infantry who, on short notice, had to march their complete outfits by truck or rail.

That was the cavalry turned the tide on numerous crucial occasions. During the race to the sea, French and three British cavalry divisions fought and repulsed continuously to stop the Germans who used 18 cavalry divisions to extend their flanks.

In the critical British retreat from Meuse, five brigades of cavalry delayed the German advance until the main forces could be reorganized.

The war was supposed to render horse useless. The answer is that the horses have their own part to make now. The Germans, noted for their military efficiency, still have their division artillery (the light kind that is used close to the front) driven by horses.

Coffee Punch Knocks the Heat Cold!

Fragrant iced coffee, topped with whipped cream and chocolate ice cream, in a punch bowl knockout for sultry summer days. Iced coffee should be double strength to allow for dilution.

COOL as a glacier, coffee cream punch makes a debut in a snowy white dress as the star of summer refreshments. Floating islands of whipped cream melt deliciously with chocolate ice cream atop fragrant iced coffee to cool you off and pep you up.

It's simple like all good things but remember to make good coffee—double strength (two tablespoons of coffee to each cup of water) and pour the hot coffee immediately over lots of ice.

It's a knockout, this coffee punch so try this recipe:

Coffee Cream Punch
1 quart freshly brewed coffee
1 quart chocolate ice cream
1 quart whipping cream
Nutmeg

Chill the coffee and pour into a punch bowl. Add 1/2 of the chocolate ice cream and stir until it is partially melted. Add the almond-flavored ice cream and whip until stiff. Place the whipped cream and the remaining ice cream alternately on top of the hot mixture. Sprinkle the cream lightly with the nutmeg. Serves 12 to 15.

Pensacola, Founded In 1698, Was Once Headquarters For Indian Tribe

PENSACOLA, Aug. 15.—(AP)—The city's history generally is traced back to the first permanent settlement by the Spanish in 1698, but long before it was discovered by the white men it was headquarters for the Pensacola Indians.

It was from the Indians that the name, Pensacola, came. The name, derived from the Spanish word "Pensacola" meaning "a place of the Pensacola Indians."

A number of expeditions visited Pensacola Bay in the late seventeenth century, but the Florida Historical Society in its quarterly Vol. IV, Nos. 1, 2 and 3, credits the Spaniards Bartolo and Romero with "rediscovery" of the bay in 1666.

An article in the quarterly by Dr. William Edward Dunn quotes Juan Jordan, director of the expedition, as saying: "It is the best bay I have ever seen in my life."

Jordan told of his visit to "the village of the Pensacolas."

Andres de Tex, leader of three expeditions sent out to find a French colony established on the Gulf coast by LaSalle, reported finding the Pensacolas in the region.

Japs, Rebels Plan Death Blows For World's Two Wars

Japanese To Muster 1,000,000 Soldiers As Insurgents Plan General Offensive

Softened Sudeten Demands Likely Britain Protests Unexplained Arrest Of Passport Officer

The second battle between British troops and an Arab band brought the casualty list for two days of bloody conflict in Palestine to 65 dead and hundreds wounded. Five British soldiers were killed and 13 wounded.

The Spanish insurgents took preliminary action for what was expected to be a general offensive to end the civil war, while Japan, at war with China and facing hostile Russia, prepared to add 1,000,000 men to her armed forces.

Generalissimo Francisco Franco's air raiders bombed Barcelona three times. His aides closed the French frontier, the customary onen of an insurgent offensive.

These developments overshadowed dim promises of appeasement both in Spain and Czechoslovakia.

Promoter Juan Negrin of the Spanish government was in Zurich, Switzerland, ostensibly as a delegate to the International Congress of Physiologists, but the presence of the Duke of Alba, insurgent representative in London, led to speculation as to whether they might confer.

Softening of the demands of Czechoslovakia's Sudeten German minority was believed possible as result of the conference between Viscount Runciman, unofficial British mediator, and Konrad Henlein, leader of Sudeten Germany party.

Meanwhile the British government informed Germany it took a "serious view" of the unexplained arrest of Captain Thomas Kendrick, British passport officer in Vienna.

Captain Kendrick was arrested by German secret police at the German-Swiss border yesterday as he and wife were about to leave the country on a vacation.

A new order by the Japanese war office instructed all males in the recruit division, between the ages of 24 and 34 who have had no active training to "stand by."

It was believed this indicated Japan intended to throw vast reinforcements into a drive aimed at crushing China's resistance.

Livestock valued at nearly $120,000 is exhibited each year at the New York State Fair by 4-H Club members.

Loaf Dogs Found By Aids In This Paper

Houdini could make rabbits and chickens appear out of a sack hat, but The Sanford Herald's classified ads perform feats of magic almost as amazing. The return of a lost dog a few minutes after the finder had read an ad in this newspaper, is the latest example called to our attention by a satisfied customer.

Clyde Pevora, of Fort Orange, brother-in-law of W. T. Woolley, lost four white spaniels, who lived at 2224 Willow Avenue, last his entire dog on Monday. An ad in the Tuesday Sanford Herald carried the information which was read by a member of the F. T. Stanley family at 1811 Sanford Ave. A few minutes later the dog was seen in the back yard of the Stanley home and its owner was notified.

Last week, T. E. Barnett, manager of the A. A. F. store on 2nd St., lost his shepherd dog, which was returned by a man who read the "lost" ad.

Mercury Soars To 98 Degrees As City Swelters

Temperature Is Highest Since May 22, G. P. Paxton Says

Sanford experienced its hottest day Thursday since May 22 with a recorded high temperature of 98 degrees, G. P. Paxton, local weatherman announced. On May 22 a 98 degree temperature was also recorded.

Mr. Paxton revealed that August, to date, has been the hottest month of the summer, averaging over 90 degrees. Only five days out of the preceding 18 have been below 90 degrees.

Other high temperatures recorded for this month have been 96, 95 on two occasions, 93, and 92 several times.

During the last three years, the average mean high temperature has been 91 or above. In 1936 was experienced the hottest season in many years as the average mean high temperature for the entire summer was 92 degrees. In 1937 the average was 90 degrees. And so far this year, the average is between 90 and 91 degrees.

Mr. Paxton said that if the rest of August is as hot as it has been for the past week, the seasonal high will run at least 91 degrees.

The reason for the extremely high temperatures this month, Mr. Paxton declared, is the lack of rain which kept the temperature down during June and July.

Friday appeared headed for another record-breaking high temperature until rain began falling about 11:00 o'clock.

The extremely hot weather that has been experienced this month is unusual records which show that August is always the hottest month of summer.

Sanford wasn't the only hot spot on the map as many other cities throughout the country sweltered in the torrid heat of an August sun. Dallas recorded a high of 98 degrees while San Antonio had 96 degrees. Jacksonville showed 96 as did Kansas City. Mobile and New Orleans both reported 94-degree weather.

One of the coolest spots in the country was San Francisco with a high of 86 degrees. San Francisco's damp and chilly atmosphere results largely from the cold, thick fogs which frequently sweep over the city from the bay.

Russells Return From Visit To Points In North

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Russell returned recently from a trip through the north most of which was through Virginia, Ohio and Pennsylvania. Mr. Russell said the found business conditions in the steel centers such as Pittsburgh in the great manufacturing centers, the Shenandoah valley, including the cities of New Castle and Sharon, to be about 30 percent below normal.

He declared that conditions in Cleveland were the worst he had known it in 50 years, due partly to the overlarge population increase.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell visited their sons, Frank, at Huntington, W. Va., and Joe, in Cleveland, Ohio, also Mrs. Russell's brothers in the latter city, and Mr. Russell's sisters in Sharon and New Castle, Penna.

Mr. Russell accompanied Mr. Maddox of Maddox Restaurant over the Sky Line Drive, a part of the Shenandoah National Park, to Gettysburg for the Vets. Reunion.

Restraints Pickets

Picketing by two CIO-affiliated unions of a New York jewelry firm was permanently restrained by a recent injunction issued by Supreme Court Justice Salvatore (Cotton) Clark, who cited among reasons extended legal bounds in giving his court order.

Thomas Returns From Vacation In North Carolina

Assistant Fire Chief R. T. Thomas, who returned recently from a vacation trip through Georgia and the Carolinas, declared that a visit to many fire departments on the trip disclosed excellent equipment and necessary man power aided in limiting fire damages in those centers.

Comparing the excellent record of the Sanford Fire Department with that of those cities, Mr. Thomas pointed out that Sanford has fire losses was mainly due to the efficiency and vigilance of the five-man department, which includes Chief Mack Cleveland.

This state of affairs can't always exist, he asserted, adding that there may be a time a fire will break out on such a scale that both men and equipment will be insufficient to handle it.

More men and better equipment will serve to prevent a possible loss that may greatly exceed the cost of such preventive measures, he said.

Referring to his trip in North Carolina where he visited in Asheville, Charlotte, Hendersonville, and other cities, Mr. Thomas said the weather was delightful, being cool and pleasant at nights and comfortable during the day due to daily rains.

"Crops in the mountain section of North Carolina," he stated, "are excellent and the corn crop was the largest and best I've ever seen. In fact, it is said that yield of corn and wheat per acre in that section are higher than in the west and mid-west where those two crops are the chief sources of livelihood."

However, he added, the reason those are not large money crops in Carolina as they are in the west and mid-west is because there isn't enough land in the mountain valleys.

In spite of a pleasant vacation trip, he said, it was nice to get back to Sanford.

RECONCILIATION RUMORED

Count Giuseppe Riva-Rossi arrived by airplane in Sanford for a short time after his escape from the Italian prison of San Vittore. A short time after his arrival the count was seen walking down the terrace of the Lido Hotel, hotel school. The picture shows the Count and Countess in their pajamas.

Marentette Boosts Canal In Interview In Orlando

The Seminole Indian River canal was given a boost this morning when Martin Anderson, publisher of the Orlando Morning Sentinel, quoted an interview with J. Marentette, local manager of the Seminole County Waterways Department.

Marentette, who has been in the county for some time, said that the canal project is being pushed forward as rapidly as possible, and that the county is doing its best to get the canal completed as soon as possible.

Marentette also said that the canal project is being pushed forward as rapidly as possible, and that the county is doing its best to get the canal completed as soon as possible.

County Tax Millage Hike Anticipated

Increased Demands, Reduced Revenues Likely To Force 5 Mill Increase

Estimates Of Expenses Made Tentative Millage To Be Same As Before Reduction Last Year

Faced with the problem of decreased revenues and increased demands upon its resources, the Seminole County Board of Commissioners in an advisory report today adopted a tentative millage rate for operation of the county government for the fiscal year beginning Sept. 28 which will be approximately 5 mill.

Although the Seminole County Board of Commissioners estimated that the county government would require approximately $1,000,000 for the fiscal year beginning Sept. 28, the board estimated that the county government would have approximately $800,000 in revenues.

The board also estimated that the county government would require approximately $1,000,000 for the fiscal year beginning Sept. 28, and that the county government would have approximately $800,000 in revenues.

Plan Announced To End Controversy Over Merit Tests

FAIR HAVEN, Aug. 18. —(AP)—The Industrial Commission appointed a new personnel advisory committee today and its members immediately put into operation a plan for ending the two-month controversy over the merit test system.

The committee ruled that each of the 100 applicants for jobs in the Unemployment Compensation Division must make an oral interview that neither gave nor received help in taking examinations. Those who fail to sign the oath will be discarded by a staff of examiners.

E. Hanson, Caster, Jr., of Clearwater and E. D. Patterson, of Jacksonville, were appointed on the committee and Caster conferred with a third member, Arthur E. Boring of Plant City, by telephone, and announced the compromise.

BIG CHRISTMAS COMING CHICAGO. —(AP)—Gift shop retailers from various parts of the country anticipate a thriving Christmas business next December because orders given manufacturers at the recent Merchandise Mart display showed an 18 percent increase over the same period of 1937.

VISITING RELATIVES Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Nordgren and son Leonard are visiting relatives in Sanford. Mr. Nordgren is connected with the Post Office at the Naval Air Station in Pensacola.

LOTTERY RING SMASHED BOSTON. —(AP)—Smashing of a huge, nationwide fake lottery ring was announced yesterday by Jacobson J. Holtz, assistant U. S. Attorney for Massachusetts and Tannous Jefferson, assistant chief postal inspector, upon their return to the city with approximately six tons of lottery tickets.

PI KAPPA PHI MEET JACKSONVILLE. —(AP)—Pi Kappa Phi national collegiate fraternity, voted yesterday to hold its 1938 convention at Jacksonville, Fla.
