As Part Of Senior Activities Day

AARP To Salute Senior Activist Leo Ware

The man who worked for six years to convince government agencies of the need for a senior center in Seminole County will be honored posthumously Tuesday.

Tribute will be paid to the late Leo Ware at the Casselberry Senior Center.

Ware, an Altamonte Springs resident who died Oct. 22, 1985, will be honored during a 1 p.m. program to be presented by the South Seminole Chapter 3533 of the American Association of Retired Persons at 200

N. Triplett Drive, Casselberry. Ware, a senior activist, was instrumental in obtaining the Casselberry Senior Center. The center was built with federal and county funds and is subsidized and operated by the city of Casselberry.

Ware was the center's first chairman of the board and was vice chairman at the time of his death.

He also served three terms on the Silver-Haired Legislature in Tallahassee and was on the advisory board for the East Central Florida Regional Planning Council Area Agency on Aging.

The salute will be only one of the activities of Senior Activities Day at the center in celebration of Older Americans Month.

Guest speakers on the program will be Judy Hilchuck, director of the Area Agency on Aging; Sally Dykes, project director of the Federation of Senior Citizen Clubs of Seminole County; Joan Madison, director of the Retired Senior Volunteers Program; Don Boehmen, chairman of the board of directors of the Casselberry Senior Center; and Casselberry Mayor Owen Sheppard.

More room is said to be needed at the center and a committee is discussing plans and funding possibilities for a proposed addition to be named the Leo Ware Annex in his honor.

The committee is meeting with architects and builders collecting ideas to incorporate.

Center Manager Valerie Barber-Simpson said plans are to be scaled down somewhat to cut costs. The annex will contain rooms for billiards, crafts, conferences, and storage space for the clothing exchange, she said.

The AARP will conduct a short business meeting and have a social in addition to the program.

The activities day is to include exhibits of sewing and arts and crafts done by seniors.

Man Hollers, Saves Woman From Flames

An unidentified passer-by saved a woman from burning to death in an intense house fire early today.

The fire destroyed a home north of Oviedo.

Laurian Spankie, 1800 N. State Road 426, was awakened by the yelling of a man who saw her home afire today at 2:30 a.m., said Lt. William Bibb of the Seminole County Fire Department.

The fire, started by an electrical short in the home's external circuit breaker panel box, was already burning through the roof when the passer-by started hollering to wake Ms. Spankie. She was alone in the house at the time, Bibb said.

When firefighters arrived, the roof and attic were ablaze and only the home's back bedrooms were saved.

Bibb estimated the damage to the 1,300 square-foot concrete-block house and furnishings at about $80,000.

Ten county firefighters, manning two engines and a tanker, and two firefighters from Oviedo had the fire under control within 20 minutes, he said. It took 7,000 gallons of water to put the fire out. No injuries were reported.

Battalion Chief Mike Roush said that if it were not for the actions of the passer-by Ms. Spankie would have died in the blaze.

"If that person hadn't done that, it would have been unsurvivable. It was that hot," he said.

He said Ms. Spankie was planning to have a garage sale and the home was full of combustibles including furniture, books and newspapers.

Bibb said they do not know who the person was that woke Ms. Spankie. He reportedly left the scene before officials arrived. Roush said he thought the person may have been a neighbor.

School Board 'Most Open'

Sunshine Law Briefing Held

The School Board of Seminole County is "probably the most open agency in Seminole County," according to board attorney Ned Julian, Jr.

Julian made the comments to school board members during a Wednesday afternoon work session on the state's Government In The Sunshine Law.

He also said the board was the "least intimidating to the public."

The meeting was called to discuss the law so board members could have a better understanding of its requirements in their conduct of official business.

Julian explained that two or more board members cannot discuss future agenda items by themselves and all board and board-appointed committee meetings must be conducted in open session.

The Sunshine Law "causes public bodies alot of problems and we don't like it. It's very hard sometimes," Julian said. "Like it or not, we're stuck with it."

Julian said the law was developed so decisions made by officials were not made out of the public eye.

"All board meetings or any committee meeting has to be conducted in the sunshine," Julian said. "Minutes must be kept, and votes must be recorded," he added, indicating that no vote shall be taken by secret ballot.

He also said that meetings must be held at times and places that "do not unduly restrict public access."

There is "a point in time where it probably paralyzes," Julian said. But "The public has a right to know what the school board does."

He also said that letters coming into and out of the county school offices are also public record. Not public are student records, personnel information which forms the basis for a recommendation by Superintendent of School Robert Hughes, and records of employees who are under investigation.

Julian recommended the board members "use common sense."

Referring to potential problems for public officials who do not give requested information that is to be available to the public, he opined, "The people who have problems are the people who say no."

County Rejects Temporary Sewage Plant

By Sarah Fischer
Herald Staff Writer

Strengthening its position toward a regional approach to utility service, the Seminole County Commission Tuesday turned down a request for a temporary sewage treatment plant at the Brentwood planned unit development.

Members of several homeowners groups packed the meeting room and were adamant in their opposition to the facility, which would require a master plan amendment for the development, located at the northwest corner of the Red Bug Lake Road and Dodd Road intersection.

The residents asked the county to continue the trend away from package plant sewage treatment and said such a facility in their residential neighborhood would decrease property values and open up the door for more multi-family housing construction.

Commissioners voted 4-1 to deny the request by General Homes of Winter Park. Commissioner Barbara Christensen, who voted for the plan, recommended approval for the plant to operate a maximum of two years.

She said the county approved a sewage treatment plant for the Deer Run Subdivision in 1981, although the facility was never constructed.

"And, I think this is a far better plant than that. It is temporary, and I feel they should have the same treatment we gave Deer Run," she said.

Project engineers said the two-phase plant would have a 67,200 gallon-per-day capacity and serve up to 240 homes in the Brentwood development.

They said the plant would be constructed in the southwest portion of the project. The development is on the waiting list for the Iron Bridge wastewater plant, however it could take up to two years to receive the capacity, developers said.

Plans for advanced wastewater treatment, an effluent re-use system, odor control facilities and landscaping at the proposed plant, however, could not quiet the concerns of neighboring homeowners.

Some 250 citizens signed a petition opposing the construction of the sewage plant.

"We bought our homes not knowing that this plant would be there," said Brian Kolka. "If we had known about the plant, we would have bought our homes somewhere else."

Joe Cavallo, representing the

"If we had known about the plant, we would have bought our homes somewhere else."

South Central League of Homeowners Associations, said the residents did not dispute the plant on technical grounds, but feel it would set a "dangerous precedent" for other developers awaiting central sewer capacity.

"We feel the development community should wait for infrastructure improvements," he said.

Jim Fox called putting a sewage plant in an existing residential neighborhood a "bad idea."

"This is the wrong thing in the wrong place," he said. "There is the potential for adverse influence. Traditionally package plants have had problems with not working properly and being poorly maintained."

Dan Bushrui, president of the Seminole County League of Homeowners Associations, asked county commissioners to deal with sewage treatment on a regional basis.

"We are not opposing them using their land, but the haste by which they are trying to get the fast buck," he said. "We want the county to look at the options before sticking a king-sized septic tank in a neighborhood."

"The question is not can they develop that land, but can they wait," Bushrui told commissioners. "It is your responsibility to take the courage and say let's wait."

County Commissioner Fred Streetman said while the proposed plant would fit into a residential area, it would have a "domino effect" for developers seeking wastewater treatment in the future.

"We are trying to take a position that the infrastructure must exist for rezoning," he said. "Where do we draw the line with new applications?"

An agreement reached between county staff and General Homes would have required the developers to connect the development to central sewer 60 days after capacity became available and to dismantle the plant within six months.

That agreement, however, was subject to county commission action.

Paving The Way

Workers from Macasphalt of Winter Haven lay new layers of asphalt along one side of West First Street Wednesday as they continue resurfacing work from U.S. Highway 17-92 to Peralman Avenue. Both sides of the roadway will be resurfaced thanks to a $219,448 state Department of Transportation effort. By mid-July work should be completed, said DOT district construction engineer Ed Griffin.

Offices To Close For Memorial Day

Seminole County offices and city halls of all the seven municipalities will be closed Monday for Memorial Day. Lake Mary City Hall will also be closed Friday because of work being done in the building.

The Seminole County School Board, the county public schools, banks and post offices will also be closed.

The county's Casselberry and Sanford Branch Libraries will be closed and the Bookmobile will not be running Monday.

In Sanford the Monday garbage pick-ups will be made on Tuesday and Tuesday's collection will be done on Wednesday.

NATION IN BRIEF

Presser Wins Teamster Re-Election Despite Indictment

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — The atmosphere in the convention hall resembled a coronation, but "the boss, himself" — indicted Teamsters president Jackie Presser — called his election to the union's top post "democracy in action."

Delegates to the union's 23rd convention Wednesday crushed an attempt to defeat Presser by C. Sam Theodis, the dissident president of a Teamsters local from Presser's hometown of Cleveland.

In an apparent reference to his indictment last week on federal racketeering and embezzlement charges, Presser said that although he was under attack, "I have forgiven them (his accusers)."

Presser says he is innocent of allegations that he and his associates siphoned off more than $700,000 in union dues in a payroll-padding scheme to pay "ghost workers" who did no work.

Military Shuttle Options Debated

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) — Military planners debating options for the future of a $2.8 billion shuttle complex in California could decide to mothball the facility until the mid 1990s, officials say.

But an Air Force official who asked not to be identified said there are no plans to write off the Vandenberg Air Force Base shuttle launch complex in the wake of the Challenger disaster, despite unavoidable launch delays and technical problems.

The first post-Challenger launching from the Kennedy Space Center is tentatively set for July 1987. The first launch from Vandenberg could not be mounted until 1988.

To carry out the first two Vandenberg launchings, one of the three remaining shuttles would have to be stationed in California for at least a year, effectively grounding it for a period in which it could fly possibly four times from the Kennedy Space Center.

Vaccine Production To Continue

NEW YORK (UPI) — Lederle Laboratories says it will sharply hike the price of DPT vaccine so it can keep making the controversial childhood vaccine without insurance, although the company already faces $3 billion in liability suits.

Lederle, one of two drug companies to manufacture the vaccine for the childhood diseases diphtheria, pertussis and tetanus, will raise the price of a dose of the vaccine from $4.29 to $11.40.

The money will go to a "self-insurance" fund to compensate for the lost insurance, which runs out June 30, company spokeswoman Martha Homma said Wednesday.

"It was our only alternative. It became apparent we will not get coverage for the vaccine," Homma said. "We want to make sure this important vaccine remains available to the children who need it."

U.S. Official Met With Lobbyists

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Before leaving the government for a consulting job earlier this year, the top U.S. official on textile policy met with lobbyists for Hong Kong who are closely tied to the company he joined, public records show.

Walter Lenahan, the Commerce Department's deputy assistant secretary for textiles and apparel, now works for the consulting firm, International Business and Economic Research Corp., which advises Hong Kong on textile exports to the United States.

Congress and administration officials have begun investigations to trace the leak of secret U.S. trade negotiation positions to Hong Kong, discovered since the departure of Lenahan and other U.S. trade officials to the private sector during the last 90 days, informed sources said.

Frustrated Survivors 1-Year-Old

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The three surviving Frustrated septuplets are one year old, but the celebration of their birth was tempered by the family's continuing grief for the four infants who died and the grave medical problems facing the survivors.

"It was a happy and sad day," said Los Angeles lawyer Browne Greene, who has filed a multimillion-dollar malpractice suit against the doctor who gave Patti Frustrated the fertility drug that resulted in the multiple premature births.

Four boys and three girls were delivered one year ago Wednesday at St. Joseph Hospital in Orange by Caesarean section in the first birth of septuplets in the United States. One was stillborn, and the other three died within three weeks of a lung disease common in premature babies.

$2 Billion AT&T Rate Cut

WASHINGTON (UPI) — American Telephone & Telegraph Co. says it plans to cut its rates by $2 billion, saving customers 11.8 percent overall on long-distance service.

The company last month proposed $1.5 billion in rate cuts, 9.5 percent of it for long-distance service, but the Federal Communications Commission last week ordered even deeper cuts to reflect bigger than expected reductions in AT&T's cost of hooking into local telephone networks.

Today was the deadline for filing the changes, which are still subject to FCC approval.

Under the new plan, the average AT&T customer would save $1.02 a month on a $10 monthly phone bill, an AT&T spokesman said.

Flight Attendants Reject Offer

NEW YORK (UPI) — Striking Trans World Airlines flight attendants — many already replaced by the carrier — overwhelmingly rejected a contract offer that is "essentially the same" as the proposal that prompted their 10-week-old walkout, union officials said.

Thank-You Arrives From McAuliffe's School

A Concord, New Hampshire High School representative has sent a message to Seminole County School students, thanking them for the 5,000 cards and letters sent to Concord following the death of teacher Christa McAuliffe in the space shuttle explosion January 28.

The hand written portion of the note addressed to Seminole County students, from Christa Brewer of Concord High School said:

"Thank you for your letters and pictures and words of sorrow, understanding and courage. I wish we could thank every one of you, but we have so much mail. We are keeping everything, and hope to have a museum one day."

The printed portion of the note reads:

The students and staff at Concord High School McAuliffe's lessons from space, broadcast from the orbiting space shuttle Challenger, and watched the ill fated launch from outside school buildings or on television monitors.

Cyclone Rips Guadalcanal; Toll at 67

PORT MORESBY, Papua New Guinea (UPI) — A mudslide triggered by torrential floodwaters rolled over a village in the center of Guadalcanal, burying 38 villagers under tons of mud and debris, officials said today, raising the death toll from Cyclone Namu to 67.

Receding floodwaters also uncovered another 14 bodies on the island near where five bodies were found earlier in the day.

A village in the center of the island, where Japanese and U.S. forces fought a pivotal battle during the early days of World War II, was completely buried by a mudslide killing at least 38 villagers.

Four days after the Cyclone's 140-mph winds swept through the 600 islands in the Solomon Island chain, relief workers were bringing food and other supplies to thousands of people left homeless by the storm.

A New Zealand air force Hercules plane arrived with nearly 30,000 pounds of rice, canned meat and tea.

Blake Hearing Delayed

By Paul Schaefer
Herald Staff Writer

An arraignment hearing scheduled for earlier this week for a high school custodian arrested for possession of marijuana was delayed at the request of the State Attorney Norm Wolfinger.

"We're waiting for some reports from Lake Mary police," Wolfinger said.

According to Lake Mary Police Detective Tom Taggart, who is conducting the investigation, the state attorney may have to wait a little longer.

"Crime Lab (which does analysis work on suspected drugs, and identifies fingerprints), is in the middle of moving from Sanford to Orlando," Taggart said. "We won't have the information for quite awhile."

He added that he may try to get the evidence returned from the Crime Lab and send it to the Seminole County Sheriff's Department for analysis.

Junior Blake, 58, 2420 Granby Ave., Sanford, a Lake Mary High School custodian, was arrested by Lake Mary police May 2, after receiving a telephone tip that drugs were hidden near the gasoline filler cap of his pick-up truck. A bag of alleged marijuana was found when the vehicle was searched. Blake was released on $1,000 bond after being booked at the Seminole County Jail.

Blake's attorney, Jim Perry, Orlando, contends Blake's bust "was a set up". He said last week that Blake's fingerprints were not found on the bag containing the alleged pot. Taggart and acting Lake Mary Police Chief Samuel Belfiore say the fingerprint analysis has yet to be done.

Perry also said Blake had passed a sheriff's department polygraph test "with flying colors."

Belfiore said information is being gathered and researched, but Blake's arrest "appears to be a set-up". That opinion would quickly change if Blake's fingerprints are found on the bag. "We're not 100 percent sure yet," Belfiore added. He said Blake has successfully passed the polygraph test.

"Nobody in law enforcement wants an innocent man in jail. We're working to clear all leads," Belfiore said.

If charges against Blake are dropped, county school officials say Blake will be reinstated, with full back pay. He was suspended from work without pay May 5 while the allegations are investigated.

"We are cognizant of the investigation so far," Wolfinger said. "We just have to look at the facts to see if there was criminal (intent). That's been called into question, and we'll look at it quite carefully."

House Passes Weapons Bill

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The sponsor of a bill eliminating local controls on concealed weapons permits says his bill is nothing more than a defense of Floridians' constitutional rights, despite opponents' claims it would make handguns and handgun accidents more common.

The bill (HB 1) would take away county commissions' authority to issue concealed weapons permits and give that power solely to the Secretary of State's office. Anyone who could pay the $100 fee, is not a drug or alcohol addict or a felon, and had knowledge of gun use and reason to feel he needed protection, would receive a permit.

The bill passed 88-27, a margin of greater than three-to-one.

"I don't believe any of us would interfere with the right of free speech, with freedom of the press," said sponsor Ron Johnson, D-Panama City. "But there are some people who would take away the right given in that same Constitution to bear arms."

Opponents charged the bill would make Florida a more dangerous place to live because it would eliminate tough concealed weapons ordinances in some cities and counties. They noted handguns account for 22,000 deaths in the United States each year.

"You're making (gun restrictions) weaker, you're making it easier to get a gun," charged Rep. Mike Friedman, D-Miami Beach. "There will inevitably be more guns and more accidental killings."

Friedman said the bill would do away with Dade County requirements that an applicant for a permit have insurance and have a legitimate need for protection, such as a doctor who transports narcotics or a jeweler who works nights. The bill would also do away with a Dade County ordinance suspending the permit of a person under investigation in a shooting.

The bill passed both the House and Senate last year, but was vetoed by Gov. Bob Graham.

WEATHER

FLORIDA REPORT: Heavy thundershowers doused the southern end of Florida Wednesday night, flooding homes and streets and collapsing roofs throughout Dade and Broward Counties. An unofficial reading of 5.35 was recorded in a suburban area southwest of Miami, and most other readings were over four inches. The storms were accompanied by 40-mph winds that ripped the roof off a warehouse in Miami's northwest section. Six other roofs collapsed, police said, but no one was hurt. Streets and homes were flooded and motorists were stranded all over the area. About 350 people were evacuated from Plaza Venetia, an expensive high-rise condominium building on Biscayne Bay because of fires in three electrical closets. Firemen put out the fires within minutes and damage was minor. At a housing project known as Scattered Site 5, five first-story apartments were flooded. "It now looks like the Atlantic Ocean here," said Joyce Houston, a resident. "One woman has been here just a week. Now she has water all over the place. She's hysterical." In one more affluent neighborhood, three teenagers water skied behind a car. "Our neighbors are lining the sidewalks, cheering these kids on. They're talented, these kids," said Louis Geiss. Broward County reported downed power lines. Disabled traffic signals resulted in a number of minor accidents but no injuries were reported. The National Weather Service said the cause of the heavy weather is a cold front moving southeast through central Florida. It was expected to reach south Florida by evening, and more rain was expected in the interim.

Bacteria Erratic In Crystal Lake

Erratic bacteria counts in water samples taken from Crystal Lake in the City of Lake Mary may force a second series of tests of lake water, according to City Manager Kathy Rice.

The initial testing period ended Wednesday. This week's test results will be known early next week when processing is complete.

Results from the first two weeks of the three week testing period show water from the east beach has consistently produced higher coliform bacteria counts than the west beach, Mrs. Rice said.

Coliform bacteria is an "indicator bacteria" which shows other harmful bacteria may be present.

The east beach's average bacteria count rose from May 5-7 to May 12-14, while the west beach's count dropped.

Additionally, only one day's counts were listed as "unsatisfactory" during the first week, while the east beach was listed as unsatisfactory two out of three days last week.

"We thought we had the problem solved," Mrs. Rice said. "We're just trying to figure out what the problem is now." She said a second series of tests may be run to determine if fecal coliform, which indicates possible human waste contamination, is present in the water.

Swimming has not been allowed in the lake since November, when high coliform bacteria counts were found in the water. A leaking septic tank pipe was blamed as the source of pollution, and repairs were made almost immediately.

Donna McCarter, assistant laboratory director for Teer Laboratories, Lake Mary, which is conducting the tests, said "day to day environmental influences" may be a reason for the higher and changing bacteria counts from beach to beach.

"Water flow, depth, and temperature can influence bacteria growth," Ms. McCarter said. "Water off the east beach is deeper, and the drop off is much quicker. The west beach seems to be fine," she added.

Warmer water provides better conditions for bacteria growth, as does lower water levels in the lakes due to the drought, Mrs. Rice said.

But Ms. McCarter said rain water can also wash additional bacteria into the lake, as it runs into the lake from surrounding land.

The monthly allowable average for coliform in the water is 1,000 per 100 milliliters of water, and a single sample cannot exceed 2,400, Ms. McCarter said.

The first week's averages were 1,282 in the east beach water, and 565 in the west beach water. The highest individual counts were 1,600 seven times in east beach water. That number was reached once in the west beach samples.

Last week's averages were 1,000 in east beach samples and 104 in west beach samples. The highest single samples from the east beach was 5,942 twice, while the highest in a single sample at the west beach was only 300.

Trade Bill Passage Predicted

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Democratic-controlled House, rolling toward passage of its top legislative priority, crushed several Republican attempts to weaken a major trade reform bill. It also ignored warnings from Pentagon officials that the bill will aid Libya.

The House planned to complete action today on the bill, which Democrats — pointing to the nation's record trade deficit — say is needed to crack down on abuses of U.S. trading partners and to make American firms more competitive abroad.

The administration opposes the bill as unacceptably protectionist and politically partisan, but concedes the Democrats, with their 252-182 majority, will surely win.

During its second day of debate Tuesday, the House rejected every GOP effort to protect the president's flexibility to respond to unfair trade practices. It also refused to strip the bill of language the administration claims would jeopardize national security by lifting export controls on high-technology equipment.

The Pentagon's top trade official warns that critical provisions of a House trade bill would gut controls on high-tech exports to the Soviet bloc and Libya, creating a "Gorbachev-Khadafy relief bill."

A little-publicized amendment to the bill would relax the administration's tight rein on export control laws to make it easier for U.S. companies to sell high-technology goods to the Soviet bloc and the Third World.

Pregnant Armed Robber Sought

A woman, who appeared to be eight or nine months pregnant, was one of two robbers who took about $175 in a holdup at Crafts Nest, Inc., 4270 W. State Road 426, #17238, Winter Park.

Clerk Loretta M. Carlson of Winter Park, told Seminole County sheriff's deputies that when the woman entered the shop with a man at about 2:30 p.m. Tuesday the pair went to the rear of the store and Ms. Carlson turned down the woman's request to use the store's restroom.

The man was carrying a paper bag that contained a handgun and Ms. Carlson was called to the rear of the store where the man kept her while the woman went to the front of the store and raided both Ms. Carlson's purse and the cash register, a sheriff's report said.

A customer entered as the robbers were leaving the store and that woman followed the pair and reported to sheriff's deputies that she saw them head east on State Road 426 in a white car.

LOADED CAR
Longwood police watched a car drive behind the closed Furniture Gallery, 730 N. U.S. Highway 17-92 and then back out at about 2 a.m. Wednesday. They stopped the vehicle and reported seeing several radios, lights and other equipment in the back of the vehicle.

Police said they had looked in the car earlier and those items were not there.

Seminole County sheriff's deputies called to the scene charged the driver of that car with burglary and grand theft.

Lawmen alleged that the suspect had entered a fenced compound at Killarney Boats, 750 N. U.S. Highway 17-92, and had stolen $3,000 worth of goods from privately owned boats.

Robert John Fick, 21, of 401 W. Seminole Blvd., Sanford, was arrested at 2:27 a.m. and was being held in lieu of $1,000 bond.

PUNCH TO JAIL

A 31-year-old Casselberry man showed up at another man's home and allegedly punched him in the eye in a reputed confrontation over the victim's girlfriend, who is the daughter of the suspect's girlfriend. He has been charged by Seminole County sheriff's deputies with assault and battery as well as burglary.

Craig Cathcart told sheriff's deputies he was assaulted at his home May 12.

Charles Rafael Cuevas of 1413 Madrid Way, Casselberry, was arrested at his home at 4 p.m. Tuesday. He was being held without bond.

POCKET PISTOL
A 33-year-old Sanford man who was stopped by Sanford police because his car had a malfunctioning brake light has been jailed on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon.

Police reported finding a loaded .22-caliber pistol in the man's pants pocket. There was a live round in the chamber of the gun.

Joseph Jean of 1703 W. 13th St. was arrested at 7:28 p.m. Tuesday in the 1500 block on W. 14th St., Sanford. He was being held in lieu of $1,000 bond.

SLEEPER CHARGE

A Texas man found sleeping in a car at the eastbound reststop of Interstate 4 near Longwood has been charged with grand theft auto.

A Seminole County sheriff's deputy reported that a computer check showed the vehicle the man was in had been reported stolen in Texas.

Jack Allison Walker, 50, of Mesquite, Texas, was arrested at 1:56 a.m. Wednesday. He was being held in lieu of $4,500 bond.

RAILROAD THEFT ARREST
A 26-year-old Lake Mary man has been charged with burglary to a conveyance and grand theft in connection with the theft of items valued at over $100 from three semi-trailers on a flatbed Seaboard Coastline car.

The train was parked near the suspect's Humphrey Road, Lake Mary, home at about 3 p.m. May 11 when the theft occurred, a Seminole County sheriff's report said.

Robert Eugene Pierce of 166D Humphrey Road was arrested at 2:15 p.m. Tuesday at the Lake Mary police station. He was being held in lieu of $1,000 bond. Two other men were arrested earlier in connection with the same case.

BURGLARIES & THEFTS

Ronnie Langlin, 26, of 2871 Red Lion Square, Winter Park, told sheriff's deputies that the 1980 Ford Bronco he recently bought from Marril Givins, 37, of 532 Sabal Club Drive #202, Longwood, was stolen from his home on Monday or Tuesday. The registration of the $6,000 vehicle had not been transferred, so sheriff's deputies listed both men as victims of the theft. The keys were in the vehicle when it was stolen.

About $1,500 worth of jewelry and coins was stolen along with a $500 video recorder from the home of Richard E. Smithson, 47, of 195 Lake Drive, Oviedo, on Tuesday, a sheriff's report said.

A thief took $128 cash and two gold ankle bracelets with a combined value of $100 from the home of Michelle McMurray, 22, of 1999 Lake Emma Road, Longwood, Tuesday, according to a sheriff's report.

FIRE CALLS

The Sanford Fire Department has responded to the following calls:

MONDAY

—9:13 a.m., Eight Street and Myrtle Avenue, rescue. A 29-year-old woman suffered abrasions on her nose, hand and elbow in a fall from her bicycle. She declined hospital transport.

—9:36 a.m., 1700 French Avenue, rescue. A 14-year-old girl reportedly suffered a possible seizure. She was transported to the hospital.

—2:20 p.m., 701 Sarita Ave., A 65-year-old man suffered a possible broken ankle from a fall. He was transported to the hospital.

—4:22 p.m., Third and French avenues, fire. The catalytic converter on a 1980 AMC Spirit reportedly ignited. The fire was out when firemen arrived and they reported the car was not damaged.

—4:34 p.m., 1303 Persimmon Ave. fire. A pot left on a hot stove burner reportedly ignited and produced fire and smoke damage to the floor, stove and cabinets in the home's kitchen.

—5:36 p.m., 15th Street and Elm Avenue, fire. Firemen extinguished an outdoor fire reportedly started by children playing with matches.

TUESDAY

—8:14 a.m., 2560 S. Elm Ave., School of Dance Arts. A Sanford refuse truck hit a light pole, pulling down its lines, and then continued into the side of the building, firemen said. The two occupants of the truck were not injured. Damage was estimated at $5,000 to the building, and $1,200 to the light pole.

—8:18 p.m., 338 Higgins Terrace, vehicle vs. child. A 4-year-old boy was reportedly hit by a car and suffered abrasions on his forehead, arms and legs. He was transported to the hospital.

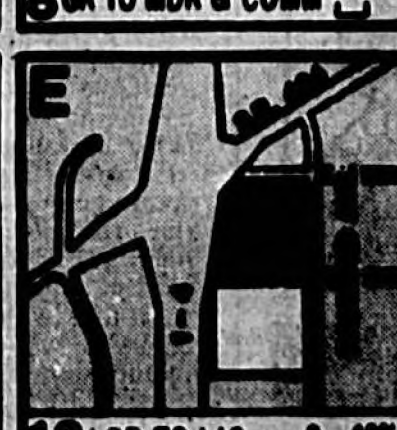

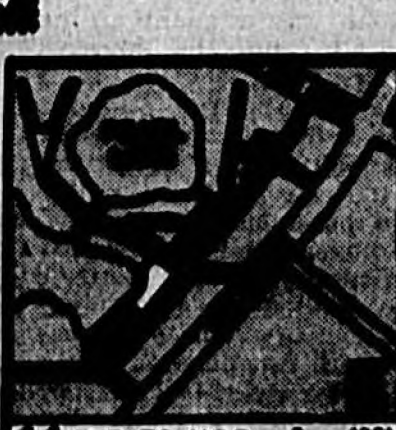

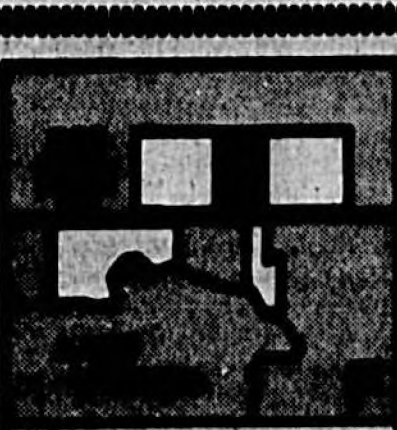

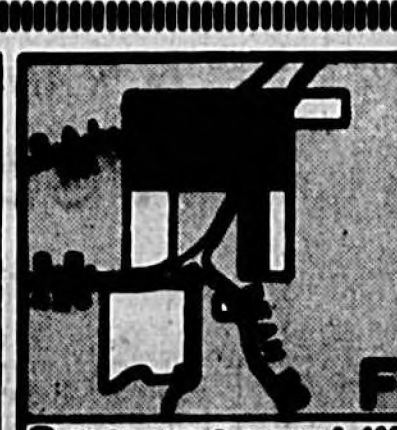

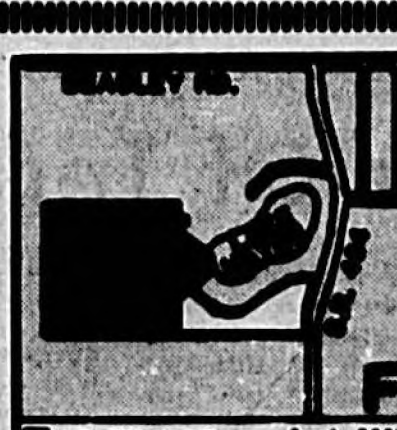

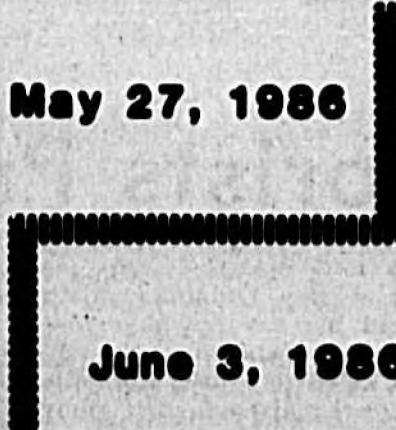

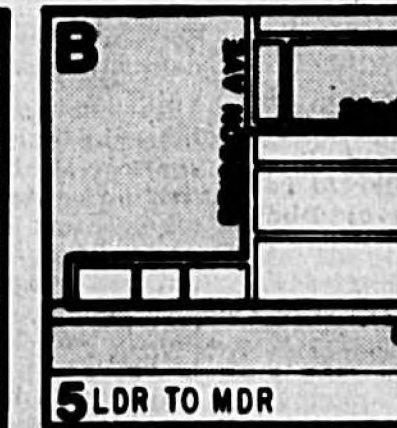

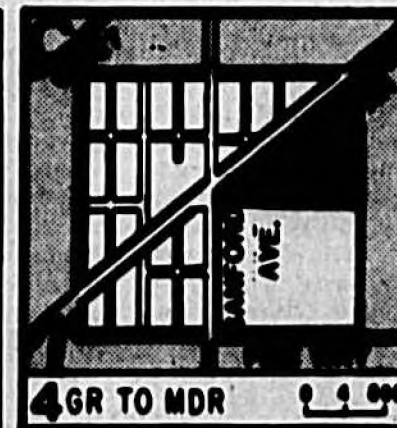

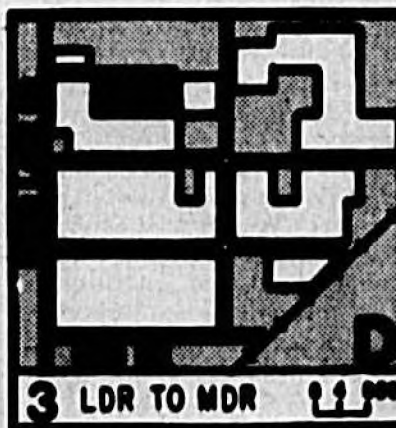

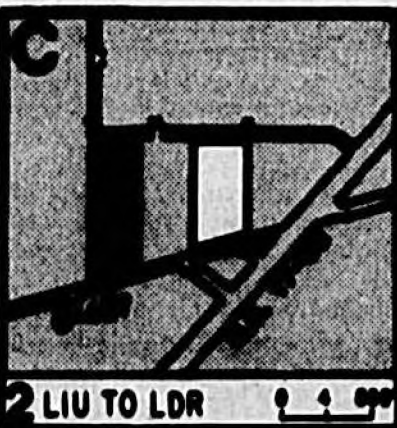

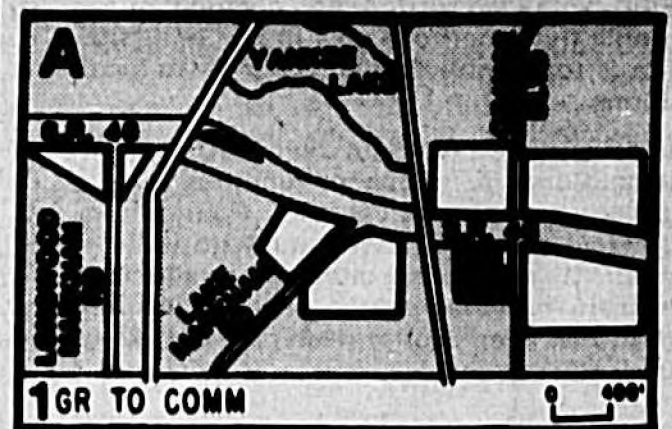

—4:06 p.m., West 25th Street and Airport Boulevard, auto accident. A 25-year-old Sanford woman suffered possible fractures to her arm and leg. She was transported to the hospital.

—4:34 p.m., Lake Mary Boulevard and Bayhead Raquet Club, auto fire. The engine and front end of a 1978 Thunderbird reportedly sustained extensive damage from a fire that apparently started from a leaking fuel line.

—9:23 p.m., Apt. 211, Ridgwood Arms Apartments, fire. The state fire marshal is investigation a blaze that reportedly broke out in the apartment's bedroom. Fire damage was reportedly confined to the bedroom; smoke damage was reported throughout the apartment. The apartment below suffered water damage due to a plumbing line that burst during the fire, Brown said.

Helping Others Help Themselves

One major impediment to the conquest of poverty and disease in the world's poorer regions has been the uneven distribution of the benefits of science and technology. One reason for that is that most research is geared to commercial or military applications. As a consequence, the needs of those living in absolute poverty often are served, if at all, mainly by chance — trickle-down progress at its worst.

The Rockefeller Foundation, long active in dealing with the problems of poverty, ignorance and disease, has announced a 15-year plan, starting with a $300 million first phase over five years, to attack this maldistribution directly. The idea is to adapt scientific developments, like improvements in plant genetics and immunology, to the needs of those who have been bypassed so that, as one foundation official put it, "we can make sure that the successes will be applied where they're most needed."

That seems such an obvious approach, yet it's not the one that has been followed in many situations. Vaccines have been developed to guard against most of the diseases known in the West and in urban areas of the Third World, but far too little has been done to develop drugs to counteract deadly parasites carried by insects or found in drinking water, that kill, blind or otherwise disable millions of rural children in their first year of life. Much of the research the Rockefeller Foundation will conduct in conjunction with the World Health Organization and the United Nations Children's Fund will be targeted on these widespread and lethal afflictions.

Despite the enormous progress in the field of plant genetics, which has helped make the world essentially able to feed itself, virtually nothing has been done to improve the quality of such African staples as sorghum and millet or of rice grown by subsistence farmers in widespread areas of the world. Rockefeller will spend $80 million over three years to develop higher-yielding and more pest-resistant subsistence crops, first in laboratories in a half-dozen countries and then in the areas where they're grown and consumed.

There will also be a family planning program to develop new contraceptives that, in a number of countries, are deemed more acceptable than methods now in use — again, the aim is to adapt scientific progress to local conditions.

The amount of money involved is not large as international development schemes go, but the prestige of the Rockefeller Foundation, and the fact that its grants come with none of the political strings that often are attached to funds from national governments and some international agencies, provide an example of immeasurable value.

The Best Words For A Friend In A Crisis

It's natural to want to help troubled friends, but sometimes in our desire to comfort, we unintentionally say things that cut deep. It may be that the only real consolation for them can come from someone who has survived a similar crisis.

I was reminded of this while talking to Carolyn Meyer, who remembers well the extra pain she suffered two years ago as well-meaning friends consoled her when she learned she had breast cancer.

She gave examples of the remarks that dismayed her before a double mastectomy.

In one case, a friend, noting that Meyer is divorced, said: "It's better that you don't have a husband to lean on. It will help you be stronger." In Meyer's view, the last thing she needed at that time was a lesson in being strong.

Another friend, having read the theories that cancer is self-induced, suggested, "Maybe you have a lot of pent-up rage and frustration." "Well," said Meyer, "I didn't want to buy into that. Why should I accept responsibility for what had happened?"

Her cancer was caught in its earliest stages, thanks to a mammogram. While she had no choice but to deal with removal of both breasts, there was no lymph node involvement, so no chemotherapy or radiation treatments were required afterward.

"I hope you realize how lucky you are," said one solicitous friend. But, exhausted from major surgery, Meyer didn't feel so lucky. The remark, however, did make her feel guilty for not being more grateful.

Then there were the contradictory statements about the importance or lack of importance of breasts. A priest told her that breasts are "strictly ornamental." Pollyannas kept repeating that it's inner beauty that counts. "But I know that outer beauty counts too," said Meyer. "Our culture puts a lot of emphasis on breasts and I am part of my culture."

Others shrugged — "Who's going to know?" "Well, I am," thought Meyer, "everytime I undress and look in the mirror. And how I perceive myself is important."

Within three months, she had reconstructive surgery and the implantation of silicon gel sacs. She is pleased with the results and considers her life back to normal. She has resumed writing fiction and non-fiction for teens and is working on her 27th book.

She has not forgotten, however, the difficulty of dealing with the thoughtless words. What helped her most was finding a woman to talk to who had been through a similar trauma, someone who had already been there.

Now, Meyer is that person to others. With funding from the American Cancer Society, she organized a dozen volunteers, like herself, who operate a Breast Helpline in Albuquerque, N.M., where she lives. They field calls from women worried about what the volunteers have already faced. "We try to make the road a little less rough for them," she said.

(The helpline can be reached through the cancer society, 505 262-2333.)

Meyer has learned that reaching out to help someone else is always the best healer. Strength is found in sharing, and in two key words. "I know."

Democrats' Shootouts Draw Nigh

At a dinner party recently the talk turned to the possibilities for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1988. I ventured the opinion that former Gov. Charles Robb of Virginia would probably be the strongest candidate the Democrats could put into the field. Whereupon one of the ladies present exclaimed, "Shhh! Don't tell them!"

She was joking, of course; the case for Robb can hardly be kept a secret from the entire Democratic Party. But the fact that, despite his strengths, he is a distinct long shot for the nomination tells us much about what has happened to that party in the past 20 years.

Twenty years ago the Democratic Party had a muscular conservative wing, especially in matters of defense and foreign policy. But the Vietnam War drove the party far to the left, and the nomination of George McGovern in 1972 served notice that the leftists had assumed full control.

What happened after 1972, however, was even more fateful for the Democratic Party's future. With McGovernites dominant in the Democratic National Committee, a series of "reforms" were adopted involving both presidential primaries and the procedures of the party's presidential nominating conventions. The net effect of these reforms was to increase enormously the power of the various special-interest groups that had attached themselves to the party like barnacles on a whale.

In those circumstances, it may at first seem remarkable that in 1976 the Democrats nominated Jimmy Carter, who was undoubtedly — not counting George Wallace — the rightmost of the candidates, in relative terms. But McGovern's defeat just four years earlier, 49 states to one, was too recent to be disregarded, and Democratic strategists were well aware of the heavy price the party had paid, in defections among conservative blue-collar voters, for its shift to the left. So Carter was nominated, and narrowly defeated Gerald Ford.

But the really important point, from the standpoint of long-range control of the Democratic Party, was that during the Carter years nothing effective was done to pry its leftists away from the levers of party control. Carter was able, by exercising the clout every president has, to force his own renomination in 1980; but, even at that convention, a full third of the delegates voted for Ted Kennedy, and he was plainly the emotional favorite.

Fear Of Terrorists Prompt Pistol Practice

By Jack Anderson

UNDER THE DOME: Fear of terrorism threatens to turn the United States Capitol into the Malemute Saloon, with half the population carrying a shootin' iron on his hip or in her purse. A state-of-the-art firing range is now available for target practice in the basement of the Rayburn House Office Building, and "SWAT" teams in camouflage garb have been spotted using it. The word we get is that the pistol range is open to members of Congress and staffers as well as police. Constituents may want to bear this in mind when they come to Washington with a complaint to lodge.

After The Fallout

WARSAW, Poland (NEA) — What glows in the dark and cackles? Chicken Kiev.

Or how about this one: What's the five-day forecast for Chernobyl? With luck, maybe two days.

There are more, many more, but these give you the idea of the black humor that quickly surfaced here after the initial stunned reaction to the nuclear catastrophe in the next-door Soviet Ukraine. The accident sent a radioactive cloud billowing across Poland.

Flying in here a few days ago with an airlift of emergency supplies, my first reaction was surprise. On the surface, the city appears normal enough. There are no signs of panic in the streets. The weather, except for an occasional afternoon or evening shower, has been warm and sunny.

This is clearly not a city gripped by crisis. But it is a deeply concerned one, as a few minutes of conversation with almost anyone will reveal.

A young cabdriver on the drive in from the airport asks, in better than serviceable English, what the latest word in the West is on the Chernobyl situation. Not much information is being given out here and people don't fully trust what they do get. He wonders if the rain is good or bad news for radioactivity levels. Asked if he is worried, he nods emphatically: "Yes!"

People aren't hesitant about expressing opinions — only, sometimes, about identifying themselves. They talk openly and usually critically. The targets are their own government for not leveling with them, the Soviets for again being the source of Polish misfortune and, in some cases, Western reaction. Danuta K., a science professional with a government job, mentions exaggerated foreign media reports of thousands of deaths.

More knowledgeable about the situation than most Poles because of her position, she says the initial crisis is over. That occurred during the first week of heavy fallout. But another crisis may be faced at some point in the future. Nothing is lost in nature, she points out, and the long-lived radioactive elements will be in the food chain for years.

Nothing can be done about that now, other than avoiding foods most likely to be contaminated. Especially, for the moment, milk products. And that brings us back to the airlift.

Cargo planes loaded with powdered and sterilized enriched milk, potassium iodide and other medical supplies have been flown in by the Americanes Foundation of New Canaan, Conn., a relief organization specializing in medical assistance. Additional supplies are arriving by truck from Western Europe.

The American material is being distributed through the Roman Catholic Church. Initially eligible are those most in need — infants and children up to 4 years old. Lines of parents formed at designated parish churches after pick-up instructions were read out at mass.

This may take care of the immediate problem. But a much more difficult crisis with could lie ahead as a consequence of the delayed effects of the initial fallout and the contaminated food chain. In 25 or 30 years, Poland could experience a cancer surge.

"We hope not," says Dr. Tomasz Z., at a children's hospital near Warsaw. "But at this point we just don't know."

For now, Poles can only accept what has happened and hope for the best.

And pray. The churches on a Sunday are packed to overflowing, worshippers in some cases spilling onto steps and into the street. They follow the service intently, especially when the priests speak on the bearing of the latest in Poland's long, long history of trials.

No one who sees Poles at mass these days can ever again think of anything Polish as a joke.

Plummet In Oil Prices Hurts All

When oil prices were high, a liberal-dominated Congress decided to slap a so-called windfall profit tax on the domestic oil industry. It was a discriminatory tax law born of spurious charges that the oil industry — one industry selected from among a hundred — as guilty of making "obscene" profits.

The windfall profits tax was wrong then; it is wrong today, but it remains on the books. Proposals are afoot to repeal the tax, but they are empty because there are not any substantial profits in the domestic oil industry these days, certainly not any "windfall" profits. Drilling is at a near record low. Oil companies are cutting back on exploration for new oil and laying off key personnel.

What exists today might be described as "windfall" losses: Independent oil companies suffer severe losses, or are forced into liquidation. The energy states — Texas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and Alaska — are facing colossal deficits, possibly as much as $1 billion this year in Louisiana.

Most Americans aren't worrying about the plight of their fellow countrymen in these states. They love the cheap prices at the gas pump. It seems that everyone is taking to the road this summer for the first time in more than a decade. Cheap oil also benefits many American industries, though not as much as it benefits Japan and the European oil industry. If anyone imagines that cheap oil will spur U.S. exports, he should think again. Japan will get the best bargain from the Middle East oil producers. The U.S. trade deficit already has started to rise.

Dr. Franco Modigliani, a professor at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology who won the 1985 Nobel Prize in economics, is among the small group of Americans who are concerned about the situation. He also has reflected on the windfall profits tax, reminding us that Congress, in imposing the tax, "nationalized and shared part of the oil industry's 'excess' profits." He is of the opinion that the country should have shared some of the oil industry's windfall losses. He believes it would be wise to afford the oil-producing sectors some measure of relief.

This isn't a popular position outside the energy states. Indeed, representatives of the domestic oil industry are fearful of asking for relief as they are concerned that public opinion would swing against them and that government would make a bigger mess of the situation — a not-unreasonable worry.

of saying no to Rep. Jack Brooks, D-Texas — not once, but twice. Brooks wanted a copy of a sensitive military study that had been done by Congress' own Office of Technology Assessment but that had been seized by the Defense Department. He cornered a high-ranking official who had a copy, ordered him to wait while he conducted some House business and instructed an aide — jokingly, we hope — to shoot the official if he tried to leave. Brooks got the report. In another case, the Army refused to let Brooks see a controversial pistol being considered for mass purchase. Only when he threatened to subpoena the gun did the Army relent.

DIPLOMATIC DIGEST: Remember Samantha Smith, the teenager who wrote then-Soviet leader Yuri Andropov in 1983 and later visited the Soviet Union? Russian officials are ensuring that the plucky little girl, who died in an air crash last fall, will not be forgotten. A large Siberian diamond and a new variety of violets have already been named after her. They may also construct a memorial at the Artek youth camp in the Crimea.

MINI-EDITORIAL: A State Department speech writer has been fired because he had the temerity to share with newsmen the classified contents of a cable from Frank V. Ortiz, the U.S. ambassador to Argentina. Ortiz had charged that visiting Congressmen, including House Speaker Tip O'Neill, D-Mass., had urged Argentine leaders to oppose some of the Reagan administration's Latin American policies. The incident illustrates one of the absurdities of the system: Information that is classified is supposed to have something to do with the national security. But the ambassador's comments were hardly crucial to the security of the nation. The truth is that those who wield secrecy stamps are often censors who deny the public legitimate news.

Jeff Barany, right, beats the tag by Arthur "Jap" Polk to score for Seminole Petroleum. Despite Barany's run, Petroleum came out on the short end of 19-5 decision as 11 first-inning runs proved the difference.

Parker Propels Astros

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

ORLANDO — Bob Parker collected two singles and a double, walked four times, scored five runs and drove in three more as the Columbus Astros sweep a double-header from the Orlando Twins, 9-4 and 9-6, in Southern League (AA) baseball before 1,485 fans Wednesday night at Tinker Field.

Parker, a product of Lyman High School and Seminole Community College, made Houston's AA club as a utility infielder, but manager Dave Cripe said he doesn't anticipate any backup roles for Parker if he keeps hitting.

"The past few weeks Bob has had a chance to play more often," Cripe, who managed Parker at Osceola (Kissimmee) last year, said. "He's certainly making the most of his opportunity."

Parker walked three times and singled twice in the first game. It was his clutch single in the fifth which gave the Astros a 9-1 lead and put the game out of reach.

In the second game, after grounding out and striking out his first two trips, Parker ripped a liner to right field and legged it into a double, just beating the tag at second base. He later scored.

In the seventh, with Columbus down, 6-4, Parker drew a walk to keep a five-run rally alive and scored the go-ahead run on a double by Juan Delgado. Ken Caminiti's two-run single tied the score.

"I was hitting the ball real well early in the season," Parker, who was hitting .320 going into the game, said. "Then I had a slump at Charlotte (1 for 12). I'm hitting the ball hard again now."

Adcock Hurlers Continue No-Hit Mastery

By Chris Pieter
Herald Sports Writer

Among the things that are said to be impossible are keeping your eyes open when you sneeze and aking through a revolving door. This week, add trying to hit Adcock Roofing's pitchers to that list.

On Monday night, Adcock's Mike Maples threw a no-hitter at Sun Bank, his second of the season. Wednesday night, in Sanford Little American League play at Fort Mellon Park, three Adcock Roofing pitchers combined to no-hit Seminole Petroleum in a 19-5 victory for Adcock that was stopped after four innings by the slaughter rule.

Adcock Roofing remained one-game out of first place as it improved to 10-2. Seminole Petroleum now stands at 2-10.

Seminole Petroleum scored five runs without a hit in the top of the first off Adcock starter Arthur "Jap" Polk. Adcock Roofing came back with 11 runs in the bottom of the frame to take command. Corey Williams drove in three runs in the inning with an RBI double and two-run triple while Maples added a two-run double.

Tony Holley came on in relief for Adcock in the top of the second and walked the first man he faced, Dante Bell, but he was caught stealing for the first out. Holley then went on to strike out five consecutive batters before giving way to Daniel White who kept the no-hitter intact in the top of the fourth.

Adcock Roofing had nine hits in the game with Maples, Al Holt, Williams and Deon Daniels rapping out two apiece.

CARDINAL STAYS IN FIRST

Cardinal Industries preyed on Seminole Ford pitching for 12 hits, including four home runs, en route to a 20-9 victory Wednesday in Sanford Little American League action at Westside Field.

The win improved Cardinal to 11-1 for the season and it remains one game ahead of Adcock Roofing. Seminole

Baseball

Ford now stands at 2-10.

Matt Wilkes got the home run derby started Wednesday with a solo homer in the first and Anthony "Redman" Roberts followed with a solo shot. Willie Williams then blasted a two-run homer in the second and Britt Henderson unloaded a solo shot in the third.

Henderson had three hits for the game to lead Cardinal while Roberts and Craig Merkeron had two each.

Seminole Ford had five hits off a pair of Cardinal pitchers with Bill Kerns and Corey Redding getting two hits each and Andrea "House" Keys adding an RBI single. Jock Singleton was the winning pitcher for Cardinal.

ATLANTIC TRADES SUN BANK

Tyrone Williams and Antonio Trammel had RBI singles in the fourth inning Wednesday to give Atlantic Bank an 8-7 victory over Sun Bank in the second Little American League game at Fort Mellon Park.

Atlantic Bank upped its record to 7-5 while Sun Bank fell to 4-8.

Neville Fuller had three hits and was also the winning pitcher for Atlantic Bank. Williams drove in two runs with a triple and single and Trammel's pinch hit RBI single in the fourth provided the margin of victory.

Fuller held Sun Bank to three hits including doubles by Dion Lawson and Damon McIntyre.

KNIGHTS NIP KIWANIS, 7-6

With the score tied 6-6 in the bottom of the seventh, Derrick Fritton led off with a single, took second on a wild pitch and scored on a two-base error to give Knights of Columbus a 7-6 victory over Kiwanis in Sanford Junior League action Wednesday at Chase Park.

The Knights improved to 7-6 with the win while Kiwanis dropped to 5-8.

The late-inning heroics capped off a good night for Fritton as he went 3 for 4 at the plate with two RBIs and scattered eight hits for the pitching victory.

Outside of Albert Anderson, Fritton pretty much had Kiwanis handcuffed. Anderson was 4 for 4 with four singles, two runs scored and four stolen bases. Julius Bennett added a pair of singles for Kiwanis.

For Knights of Columbus, Ron Coffield and Fritton had three hits each while Henry June and Mike Taylor each had two.

ROTARY STOPS BALL MOTOR

Henry Williams had three hits, including a three-run, inside-the-park homer as Rotary downed Ball Motor Line, 10-7.

Rotary remained in second place as it improved to 7-4 but trails Moose, 12-0, by four and a half games. Ball Motor Line dropped to 1-10.

Henry Blanton had an RBI double and Alonso Brundidge, Anthony Neal and Vernon Miller added RBI singles in the fifth frame for Rotary.

Ball Motor Line had six hits off a pair of Rotary pitchers including two each by David Roberts and Paul Rivera.

Twiggs Brothers Boast Double No-Hit Games

By Chris Pieter
Herald Sports Writer

When Ken Forsch threw a no-hitter on April 7, 1979, Major League Baseball history was made as he joined brother Bob Forsch as the only brother combination to ever throw no-hitters. Bob Forsch tossed his masterpiece on April 16, 1978.

Kevin and Greg Twiggs may not be playing big time baseball just yet, but they share a distinction with the Forschs that not too many brother combinations can boast about.

Kevin Twiggs, a 12-year-old righthander, fired the second no-hitter of his baseball career for Salvagio's Boys of the Seminole Pony Baseball Bronco Division.

Greg Twiggs, a 14-year-old southpaw, fired his first no-hitter for Hughes Construction of the Pony Division.

What makes the Twiggs' accomplishment even more impressive, is they pitched their gems within three days of each other. Greg's no-hitter came on Saturday, May 3 while Kevin's came on Tuesday, May 6. It took the Forschs almost a year to become the first Major League no-hit brother combination.

"It's a really something for brothers to pitch no hitters and doing it within a couple of days of each other made it even better," father Greg Twiggs Sr. said. "And both of them had a high number of strikeouts and a low number of walks."

Greg's no-hit masterpiece included 13 strikeouts for the seven innings and he walked only two. It was a 3-1 victory for Hughes Construction with the only run the opponents scored coming on two errors.

"I had a one-hitter before this year and I've been close before in Mustang and Bronco," Greg said. "It feels great to finally get a no-hitter."

Greg, who has been playing in the Seminole Pony Baseball leagues for six years, is an eighth grader at Jackson Heights Middle School and will attend Oviedo High School in 1988-89. He also carries a .390 batting average this season.

Hughes Construction, managed by Greg Sr., won the first round of the Pony Division but trails Lake Mary Rotary in round two with four games remaining. If there is a playoff between the two teams, it will be in early June.

Kevin's no-hitter came in a 12-0 victory for Salvagio's Boys that was stopped after five innings due to the slaughter rule. In the five innings, Twiggs struck out 12 and walked just two.

"I threw some good curve balls but it was mostly fastballs," the younger Twiggs said. "Outside of the guys I struck out, there was only one hard hit ball and the shortstop made a good play of it."

Kevin is also having an outstanding season at the plate as he is currently hitting .594 with three home runs. Manager Dave Hudick's Salvagio's Boys remains the only unbeaten team in the Bronco Divisions with an 18-0 record.

When the Forsch brothers

Greg Twiggs Jr., inset, and his younger brother Kevin each have hurled no-hitters at Seminole Pony Baseball this year.

became the first no-hit combo, they could not pat each other on the back as, at the time, Ken was with the Houston Astros and Bob the St. Louis Cardinals.

After Ken Forsch threw his no-hitter, he received a telegram that said, "Congratulations on your no-hitter. I now how it feels...Your little brother."

Kevin and Greg Twiggs may not be the first brothers in the history of baseball to throw no-hitters but at least they could celebrate each other's accomplishment together. After all, this brother combination lives under the same roof.

Sampson's Unlikely Bucket Tops Lakers

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (UPI) — The moment the ball fell through the net, Houston Rockets coach Bill Fitch knew he had a dinner date.

"I suppose I'll have to eat Chinese food with Red (Auerbach) one night and get smoke blown in my face," Fitch said Wednesday night after Ralph Sampson's 10-foot alley-oop turnaround bounced in at the buzzer and lifted the Rockets to a 114-112 victory over Los Angeles and into the NBA championship series.

The Rockets, who won the Western Conference final four games to one, will meet the Celtics in the league final beginning Monday at Boston. For Fitch, a former Celtics head coach, that will most likely mean dinner with Boston general manager Auerbach.

Sampson's unlikely basket from just outside the lane bounced twice on the rim and fell through, ending the Lakers' bid to repeat as champions. Los Angeles became the 17th straight titleholder to fail to win back-to-back titles.

"I was real happy he threw the shot up," Lakers center Kareem Abdul-Jabbar said of Sampson's shot. "He threw it over his shoulder, and the darn thing went in."

The Rockets played the final 5:14 without Akem Olujuwon, who was ejected when he exchanged punches with Lakers reserve Mitch Kupchak, who also was ejected. Los Angeles had a 103-99 lead when Olujuwon left with 30 points, 7 rebounds and 4 blocked shots.

The Rockets trailed 108-102 with four minutes to go, but tied it when Sampson hit 3 free throws and a hook. Abdul-Jabbar put the Lakers ahead with a skyhook before Sampson got the Rockets within 108-107 with 2:15 to go with a free throw.

After Magic Johnson hit a layup, Sampson nailed a jumper to make it 110-108. Houston's Allen Leavell missed a potential go-ahead jumper with 56 seconds to go before Johnson was perfect on a shot from the right corner with 27 seconds left to push the Los Angeles advantage to 112-108.

Robert Reid tied the score with 15 seconds to go with a 6-pointer from deep in the left corner.

NBA Playoffs

Byron Scott missed a jumpshot from the left of the foul line with one second remaining, and the Rockets called time out.

"I knew where the basket was, but my back was to the hoop," Sampson said. "I saw it go up, and then go down."

Sampson scored 29 points. For Los Angeles, Johnson finished with 24 points, and James Worthy had 19.

"Now it's only time to take solace, go back and be with our families, shake the webs out and move on with our lives," Los Angeles coach Pat Riley said.

CELTICS: NO SURPRISE

BOSTON (UPI) — The Houston Rockets' upset of the Los Angeles Lakers and advancement into the NBA championship series surprised many people. The Boston Celtics were not among them.

"Before the season began, we knew the Rockets had the talent," Celtics assistant coach Jimmy Rodgers said. "They had the size. It was a matter of them reaching their potential."

Houston eliminated the defending champion Lakers in five games, clinching the Western Conference final 114-112 Wednesday night on Ralph Sampson's alley-oop turnaround as time expired.

Celtics center Robert Parish, who averaged 16.5 points in Boston's two regular season games with Houston, said, "Now they realize what they are capable of doing. They're on a roll and playing with a lot of confidence. Winning does that to you."

Boston defeated Houston 4-3 in the 1981 championship series when current Rockets coach Bill Fitch was coaching the Celtics.

"One of our goals was to get to the Finals," Parish said. "The other is to win another championship. We're well-rested because we've been taking care of business. And that gives our old bodies time to heal up."

The Lakers defeated Boston in the Finals last year.

Game 1 between Boston and Houston will be played at 8 p.m. EDT Monday in Boston Garden. Game 2 will be Thursday night at Boston before the series shifts to Houston.

Bo Plans 10-Day Decision-Making Hiatus

TAMPA (UPI) — Bo Jackson is 10 days away from one of the most expensive vacations in American history.

The Heisman Trophy winner, chosen No. 1 by the Buccaneers in last month's NFL draft and still pondering a baseball career, came to the Tampa Bay area Wednesday in his continuing search for meaningful employment. Jackson arrived a half-hour late for a hastily called news conference, then answered questions for 15 minutes before exiting out a back door.

Jackson, who visited the Toronto Blue Jays Monday, and met with the California Angels earlier this month, is waiting until after the June 3 amateur baseball draft to decide which professional sports career to pursue. Tampa Bay owner Hugh Culverhouse said on the NFL's April 29 draft day the Buccaneers are ready to offer Jackson the most lucrative rookie contract in NFL history.

"I'm just waiting for the baseball draft and then I'm going to go on vacation and not even tell my friends or lawyers where I am," Jackson said. "I'll take a week or so, come back and then say this is what I'm gonna do. If I know now what my choice would be, I'd probably be on a friend's porch fishing today."

Jackson will make big money regardless of his decision, but the right choice will be worth millions of dollars in salary and endorsements.

The All-America running back from Auburn will spend three days in Tampa sightseeing and meeting with several Tampa Bay players. Serious negotiations with the Buccaneers are suspended pending the June 3 draft.

"I'm reliving my high school senior year all over again, except now I'm looking for a job where I can get paid instead of visiting various campuses," said Jackson.

Expert Anglers Always Cast Eye For Fertile Waters

Alert anglers should always be on the lookout for new fishing spots. The more alternatives a fisherman has at his disposal, the more options he has for a successful trip.

The spirit of inquiry and experimentation is what often separates the expert angler from the less skillful angler. Good fishermen are always alert while they are on the water. They not only want to catch fish, but they also have a strong desire to learn more while they are fishing.

Many fishermen fish the same spots day after day, without even thinking a new thought. They only look for new fishing spots when they have become disgusted with their old spots.

Expert anglers are not afraid to experiment and try new areas. They make it a practice to look for new spots every fishing trip. The good angler not only measures success in fish caught, but also in knowledge acquired during a fishing trip. One new fishing spot is the equivalent of a fine catch of fish.

One of the best times to look for new fishing spots is after you have had a good morning. You have already caught enough fish for the day, and the pressure is off. Why not spend some time checking out those areas you have always wanted to fish?

An obvious way to find a good fishing spot is to observe good fishermen on the water. Always make a mental note of places that expert anglers fish. Investigate these places at a later date to see what makes them so attractive to the other angler. You may learn a great deal through the eyes of another angler.

Another way to locate new fishing holes is to vary your route to the fishing grounds. Why go the same route every day? You will never learn anything new by being in a rut.

A sure-fire method to find good fishing spots is to talk to game wardens or members of the marine patrol. These men are on the water a lot, and most of them are fishermen, too. Many of them make it a practice to not only enforce the law, but to know what species is biting where. These men represent a wealth of knowledge, and it is amazing that fishermen do not spend more time talking to them.

Jim Shupe

Offshore anglers sometimes leave their graph recorders running while they are trolling or moving from one spot to another. Many good leads have been found "by accident" this way. A roll of graph paper is certainly worth one rock pile stacked with snapper or grouper.

Offshore bottom fishermen make it a point to mark areas that other boats are anchored in — especially commercial snapper boats. When a commercial bottom boat drops the anchor, you can bet your paycheck that it is over a super honey hole.

Another great time to look for new spots is when you are having a lousy day. You have nothing to lose by searching for new areas and there is always the possibility you may find a secret hole swarming with lunkers.

We all know of fishermen who are consistently successful. This is because they have the courage and the initiative to constantly experiment and broaden their base of knowledge. Looking for new fishing spots is built into their daily fishing pattern.

The average fisherman can greatly increase his odds for success by building up his list of fishing spots. Success will breed more success, and the more spots an angler finds, the more successful he will become.

BAIT'S SCOOP — Trying to catch schooling bass can be a frustrating experience. Sometimes they will ignore every lure in your tackle box. A sure-fire way to catch some schoolers is to free-line a small shiner or a bullhead minnow into the surface action with a spinning outfit.

A small live bait will rarely be ignored.

WEEKEND FORECAST — Ron Rawlins from Highland Park Fish Camp reports that the bass are schooling on menhaden in Lake Woodruff. Speckled perch have all but stopped for the rest of the year, but brown are taking up the slack in Mud Lake and Lake Woodruff.

Dell Abernathy of Oaken Bridge Fish Camp said that bass are active in the river. Look for schooling bass in run-off areas and cuts. Use small Rapala-type lures for the schoolers. Stream and catfish are biting well in most areas. Speckled perch have slowed down, probably until next winter.

Snook fishermen at Sebastian Inlet are fishing furiously before the season closes in June. The Red Tail Hawk and the yellow or chartreuse Maverick are still the top lures. A large live shrimp is hard to beat for snook, redfish, and seatrout. The north tip of the north jetty is providing most of the action, and the majority of the fish are being caught at night.

Captain Jack from Port Canaveral reports that offshore fishing has picked up the last week or so. Wahoo, dolphin, blackfin tuna, and king mackerel are being caught in the 100-120 foot of water. Ballyhoo and sea witch are producing the most action. The Buggy Lane is slow due to dirty water. Flounder and bluefish are active inside the Port. Redfish and trout are picking up in the Banana and Indian rivers. Look for trout around spill mounds and the edges of channels. Trout can be found on the deeper flats. Upwater plugs or Sassy Shads are good lures for trout.

The New Smyrna Jetty is producing lots of sheepshead, redfish, and bluefish. Flounder are also being caught near the rocks with finger mullet.

Braves Pull Out Another 'Tough' Win

ATLANTA (UPI) — Atlanta outfielder Dale Murphy said the Braves need to win in "tough situations" if they are to realize their full potential. Chicago gave Murphy the opportunity Wednesday night.

Atlanta had to erase two Chicago leads and battle through 13 innings before emerging with a 9-8 victory over the Cubs and the Braves' sixth consecutive win. Chicago's George Frazier ended the game by walking Andres Thomas on four pitches and forcing home pitcher Jeff Dedmon with the winning run with one out.

"With the lead we had and then having to fight back, it's nice to be able to come back, especially in tough situations like this and playing a ballclub like the Cubs who just keep coming at you," said Murphy. "Our pitchers held them and we came up with some hitting at the end."

Atlanta catcher Ozzie Virgil praised the Braves for "battling back" after twice trailing and for holding on for victory after allowing the Cubs to send the game into extra innings.

"It seemed like we were battling back the whole game," said Virgil. "We got the lead that one inning (sixth) and they came back on us. At the beginning we were down 3-0, so you know it was a good battle. I thought the guys put a real good effort in to win the ball game."

Chicago first baseman Leon Durham, who hit a two-run homer and a double while going 2-for-6, was frustrated with the Cubs latest loss. He said the Cubs must "play good aggressive baseball everyday until we can really find out what's going on."

"You just don't know what to say right now," Durham said. "You just got to continue to go out each and every day, do what you can and just try to get something changed so we can go ahead and do the type of job that we're capable of doing."

Bob Horner led off the final inning by reaching on an error by third baseman Manny Trillo. The Cubs then brought Keith Moreland in from right field to form a five-man infield and the strategy worked when Dedmon grounded to shortstop Shawon Dunston, who threw to Moreland covering second for the forfeit.

Cardinals 6, Reds 3

Andy Van Slyke's rare display of power ended six weeks of waiting for St. Louis manager Whitey Herzog, and continued a season of frustration for the Cincinnati Reds.

Van Slyke slugged his first homer of the year, a two-run shot in the sixth inning, helping the Cardinals to an 8-3 victory. The loss ended a two-game winning streak for the Reds, who have failed to string together three victories this season.

"Andy hit a home run," Herzog said. "I had been waiting for that."

St. Louis starter Bob Forsch, 3-2, worked the six innings, giving up 10 hits and walking four, three intentionally. Ken Dayley finished for his second save.

"I can't look at them and say they are in a slump," Cincinnati player-manager Pete Rose said. "They hit the ball last night well too."

"These games kill you when you only get three runs and you should have seven or eight. It was a tough loss."

Pirates 2, Astros 1

At Houston, Sid Bream homered and doubled and Rick Rhoden hurled a five-hitter to pace the Pirates. Rhoden, 3-2, walked three and struck out six as he furnished his first complete game of the season. Mike Scott, 4-3, was tagged with the loss.

Mets 7, Giants 4

At San Francisco, Wally Backman had a pair of doubles among three hits and Ron Darling yielded three hits over seven innings to boost the Mets. Darling, 5-0, walked four and struck out four. Roger McDowell finished up. Roger Mason, 2-4, took the loss for the Giants.

Padres 7, Phillies 3

At San Diego, Tony Gwynn went 4-for-4 to take over the National League batting lead, and Dave Dravecky, 4-3, struck out a career-high 11 as the Padres rolled to victory. Gwynn's four hits raised his average to .362, nine points ahead of Pittsburgh's Johnny Ray. Charles Hudson, 2-3, took the loss.

Dodgers 6, Expos 1

At Los Angeles, Mike Marshall homered twice and drove in three runs to lift the Dodgers. Marshall has 10 homers and 32 RBI, tying him for the National League lead in both categories with Montreal's Hubie Brooks. Orel Herschler, 4-3, threw a four-hitter for the victory. The loss went to Jay Tibbs, 5-1. Tim Raines singled in three at-bats.

IN BRIEF

Announcement Of Drug Tests Overshadows Stanley Cup Final

MONTREAL (UPI) — In the aftermath of the NHL's announcement to institute mandatory drug testing, the main event — the Stanley Cup final — was somewhat overshadowed.

The Montreal Canadiens lead the Calgary Flames 2-1 in the best-of-seven series that resumes tonight in the Forum.

At the league's annual Cup luncheon, the NHL Wednesday saluted the Cup finalists, celebrated its award-winners, then revealed plans to introduce drug testing.

The announcement by league president John Ziegler came in the wake of published reports the toppled Edmonton Oilers have a cocaine problem. Ziegler and NHL Players Association Executive Director Alan Eagleson stressed, however, testing will prove the absence of a problem, rather than present a solution, and denounced the stories.

While their press conference was held on a gloomy, rainy day, the Canadiens and Flames practiced almost unnoticed. The mood in the Forum was low-key, as several players rested, and the usual hum of lockerroom interviews was absent.

Samocki Is Lake Howell's MVP

Lake Howell High's girls track team held its awards banquet Tuesday night with junior distance standout Lisa Samocki named Most Valuable runner. Samocki was the Seminole Athletic Conference and district champion in the mile and also won the SAC two mile. She qualified to run in the state meet but suffered a stress fracture in the regional. Samocki also won the High Point award for the Lady Hawks.

The Most Dependable award went to junior sprinter-high jumper Kim Hammonree and Most Improved went to junior distance runner Mary Fonseca. Outstanding Sprinter was freshman Nicole Compton. Outstanding Middle Distance Runner was senior Kim Smith and Outstanding Distance Runner was junior Martha Fonseca.

Outstanding Field Event awards went to senior high jumper Cheryl Brinkley and senior discus thrower Mary Kay Scott.

Pit Work Marks Indy Session

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — Work along pit row highlighted today's final practice session for Sunday's Indianapolis 500, ending a month of warmups for the legendary race.

"I've run about 1,900 miles in practice. That's a lot. I'm tired," former world driving champion Emerson Fittipaldi said. "We worked very hard to get the car set up for qualifying, and we're working hard to get it ready for the race. I've been running so much to see if I can stay consistent. It's very important to know what the car will do under race conditions."

Sockers Stay Alive, Win, 7-4

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — Coach Alan Merrick said his Minnesota Strikers were missing the spark they needed to put away the San Diego Sockers and win the Major Indoor Soccer League championship Wednesday night.

The Strikers fell into a 3-0 hole at halftime and went on to lose the fifth game of the series 7-4 in front of 10,631 delighted Sockers fans. The Strikers hold a 3-2 lead in the best-of-seven series, which resumes Friday at Minnesota.

Shiver Home Run Tips Scale In Sanford Favor

By Mark Blythe
Special for the Herald

It may have taken Jason Shiver a while to break out of his slump, but he did it in impressive fashion. Shiver drilled a three-run homer for his first hit of the season and later added a double to lead Sanford Scale Company to a 22-4 rout of Atlantic Bank in Seminole Pony Baseball Bronco Division action.

Sanford Scale Company took advantage of a 13-run explosion in the top of the second with Shiver's homer paving the way. Todd Carpenter contributed three singles and two doubles to bring five runs across the plate and Jeremy Chunal singled twice and doubled for six RBIs. Ronny Allman took the pitching honors as he allowed two hits and struck out four while walking one.

In Pinto action this past week at Five Points, Advanced Brake picked a couple of wins as well as Mario's Marauder's and Frank's Frozen Yogurt and Discount Door and Glass each picked up one.

Winning pitcher in both games Shadow McClung seemed to have everything going for him in the first game as Advance Brake took a 17-8 victory over Moran's Raiders. McClung faced only 10 batters and struck out nine while one reached base by error Moran's also ended up hitless for the game. McClung helped his own cause by slapping two doubles. Jimmy Parsons also hit a double while David Nilles, Brad Hartman, Joey Byrd, Marc Hammond, and Kevin Johnson each hit singles to provide enough offensive power for the win.

McClung pulled the same act against Moran's in the following game as Brake took an 11-4 win as he struck out nine while pitching just three innings. Moran's was able to manage two hits and score four runs but after McClung and Carlos Martinez did their damage at the plate, McClung continued his hard hitting by stroking two more doubles and a single. Martinez was able to single, double, and hit a home run off the Raiders for the margin of victory.

Frank's Frozen Yogurt took a 9-3 win over Orange Paving with the offensive help of Shawn St. Dennis who homered in the first inning, while both Eddie Tooke and Tony Morgan each nailed a double. Morgan pitched for Frank's allowing only five hits and striking out six while walking five.

Discount Door and Glass took home a 13-7 victory over Salvaggio's Boys. Winning pitcher Billy Appling scattered three hits striking out six and walking four. Appling also hit a double and a single to drive in three runs help his cause. Ryan Dupont and Chad Sheffield each, singled and brought in two more runs apiece to pace Discount.

In the Marauders' game against Frank's a controversy concerning time limit has yet to be decided. After four innings it was Mario's coming out on top, 11-8. Winning pitcher Mario Delfiaco allowed just two hits and struck out six while four reached on balls. Mario's offensive attack came off Tommy Powers and Rocky Nasso as Powers hit two singles and Nasso a double to bring in three runs apiece. Eddie Tooke led Frank's with a home run.

Mario's then played Lake Mary 1 and came away with a 16-10 win. Delfiaco again was the winning pitcher and again allowing two hits while striking out six and walking four. Powers and Nasso again hit the ball well as Powers tripled and singled bringing in four runs while Nasso singled to plate a pair of more runs. Tommy Goche and Patrick Daigle each scored two runs to pace the scoring of Mario's.

In the Mustang Division, unbeaten Crown Sunglasses topped Energy Savings, 15-6. Randy Meadows scattered six hits and struck out eight while walking none. Offensively he stroked a single, double, and a triple to bring in three runs and lead the hitting attack. Dana Coates also ripped a single, double, and a triple for Coates.

Radiation Ills Prediction Revised

BALTIMORE (UPI) — A radiation expert says data from international sources indicates last month's Chernobyl nuclear accident will cause only five excess cancer deaths among the 100,000 Soviet citizens who lived near the plant.
 Dr. Henry Wagner of the Center for Advancement of Radiation Education and Research told an international conference Wednesday he made his projection using "the worst possible assumption" from existing data.
 Wagner said he was relying on figures from the International Atomic Energy Agency, which reported the maximum exposure to people within a 19-mile radius of the Chernobyl plant was 10 to 15 millirems per hour for the 36 hours prior to their evacuation.
 "At a (cumulative) exposure of 540 millirems one would expect five excess deaths from radiation per 100,000 people," he said.
 But Wagner emphasized his projections hinge on the accuracy of the IAEA data, which he said "may be totally wrong." He also said his projections do not include non-fatal cancers or other forms of radiation illness.
 Other experts attending the conference in Baltimore were skeptical of Wagner's projections.
 "It's hard to believe that we should expect only five excess cancer deaths," said Ken Mossman of Georgetown University.
 Mossman said scientists expect the Three Mile Island nuclear mishap to add "half a death" to fatality statistics near Harrisburg, Pa., and added TMI was 10 to 20 times less severe than the Soviet accident.

WORLD IN BRIEF

30,000 South Africans Homeless; ANC Warns Of More Attacks

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (UPI) — Welfare workers struggled to help 30,000 blacks left homeless by a four-day battle between conservative and radical factions vying for control of the Crossroads shantytown near Cape Town, officials said. At least 21 people were killed in the violence.
 Black smoke billowed above the squalid settlement of wood, tin and plastic shacks Wednesday and reporters saw three people who had been stabbed and burned to death in the bloody rivalry that erupted Sunday.
 With about 60 people killed nationwide in the past week, the toll in two years of political violence has risen to more than 1,800. Blacks are fighting the nation's rigid system of racial separation known as apartheid.
 In Zambia, the African National Congress has warned of more armed attacks on South African police and soldiers, nationwide strikes, demonstrations, protest marches and pass burnings in a new campaign to bring down apartheid.

Chernobyl Compensation Outlined

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union announced measures to compensate Chernobyl nuclear disaster victims — including cash payments of $284 to all evacuees and construction of more than 10,000 new single-family homes.
 The Communist Party newspaper Pravda outlined the compensation plan Wednesday while another newspaper, Literaturnaya Gazeta, sought to dispel tales that vodka and red wine could prevent radiation sickness.
 Soviet TV showed diplomats being escorted around Kiev and nearby towns by the chairman of the Ukrainian Council of Ministers Alexander Lyashko.
 Pravda said the state would give all the evacuees $284 (200 rubles) — a one-time compensation equal to the average monthly salary in the Soviet Union.
 "Tens of thousands of people already have received it," the newspaper said.

Art Thieves May Come Up Empty

DUBLIN, Ireland (UPI) — Thieves who made off with 10 Old Master paintings in one of history's biggest art heists may never collect one cent for the artworks — one of them worth as much as $30 million, experts say.
 The works were among 17 stolen before dawn Wednesday from Rusborough House, a mansion near Dublin given to Ireland by millionaire Sir Alfred Bell.
 The paintings included masterpieces by Vermeer, Goya, Rubens, Velasquez and Gainsborough. British art historian Brian Sewell said the Vermeer, entitled "Lady Writing a Letter," was worth "20 million pounds ($30 million) or more."
 The theft was one of the biggest art heists in history.

Giant Pandas Starve To Death

PEKING (UPI) — At least 62 giant pandas have starved to death in China in the last three years because a certain type of bamboo, the only food the finicky animal eats, is disappearing, the official Xinhua News Agency said today.
 Three pandas died from "hunger and illness" in the first three months of this year, bringing the death toll to 62 since the animals' staple food — arrow bamboo — began to die out three years ago, Xinhua quoted a senior Forestry Ministry official as saying.

Daughters Install Officers

The Sallie Harrison Chapter of National Society Daughters of the American Revolution held its installation of officers for the forthcoming season. Mrs. George Kalv, former state chaplain, from left, installed the following: Mrs. Mills (Elizabeth) Boyd, regent; Mrs. W. T. (Grace) Parks, Jr., vice regent; Mrs. W. W. (Valerie) Kelly, chaplain; Mrs. Clark (Jean) Davis, recording secretary; Mrs. W. E. (Marjorie) Baker, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Paul (Virginia) Mikler, treasurer; Mrs. A. L. (Frances) Lyon, registrar; Mrs. James (Virginia) Powell, historian; Mrs. Talmadge (Catherine) Wiley, librarian.

Son's Opening Closet Will Close Grandparents' Minds

DEAR ABBY: A year ago our son came out of the closet to his father and me. It has been a traumatic year for all of us, filled with anger, tears, guilt, confusion and therapy. While we still don't pretend to understand everything about the homosexual lifestyle, we love our son and accept that he believes this is right for him. He has a friend (I can't bring myself to say "lover") and has assured us that he wants a long-term, loving, monogamous relationship, just as his brothers and sisters have. We believe he is sincere.

The problem is that we both have aging parents whom we want to spare. We see no advantage in their knowing, and since my father-in-law, in particular, has very strong anti-gay feelings, we are concerned that a rift will occur that may never be healed. Our son, however, is an activist, especially in respect to AIDS education, and he is quoted often in newspapers and magazines. He lives in another city, but we are fearful that our parents will see him on television or read about him. How can we act lovingly to everyone concerned?

CONCERNED PARENTS

DEAR CONCERNED: I can understand your wanting to "spare" your parents from a truth they may not want to accept, but since your son has chosen to go public, it may not be possible.

The grandparents need enlightenment — not protection — so help them by providing them with some education literature from PARENTS FLAG (Federation of Parents & Friends of Lesbians and Gays Inc.), P.O. Box 24565, Los Angeles, Calif. 90024. It should ease their anxiety and make them less judgmental.

Please enclose a long, stamped (39 cents), self-addressed envelope. The information is free.

'Night Of Dance' Set

School of Dance Arts dancers are busy polishing tap and ballet shoes, and sewing ribbons on shiny new pointe shoes in preparation for the 21st Annual "Night of Dance" performances. This year's theme "Trivial Pursuits", will include ballet, tap, jazz and pointe numbers with guest performances by the Ballet Guild Sanford-Seminole.

Guild members this year will be presenting an excerpt from the Bicentennial Ballet "River Gold" written by Mildred M. Caskey and danced by the Ballet-Guild during the 1976 season. In memory of the 10th Anniversary of "River Gold", Miriam Wright and Valerie Weld, artistic directors of the company, have restaged one of the audience pleasing scenes, "The Early Settlers."

The performances of "A Night of Dance" will be held at 8 p.m. Saturday, May 24, 8:30 and 9 p.m. Sunday, May 25, at the Lake Mary High School Auditorium. All seats are $4 and tickets are available at the School of Dance Arts, 2560 Elm Avenue. Knight's Shoe Store downtown and the Dance Shop at 2500 W. U.S. Highway 17 will be sold at the door before the performance.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: I am a secretary in the office of a junior high school in a small California town. It never ceases to amaze me that parents think I am a repository of vast amounts of money that I have handy to lend out to students who have forgotten to bring either money or lunch to school.

Yesterday, a parent called to ask that I lend little "Rupert" $10 so that he could stop at the store on the way home! There are 600 students at this school, and if I could recoup all the money I have lent out in the last five years, I could take a trip to Hawaii!

What prompted me to write is that today, a parent became very irate with me on the phone when I explained that I could not lend "Florence" $2 for lunch.

Please print this letter: perhaps it would speak for the thousands of school secretaries who are "hit on" every day for cash! Thank you.

BROKE IN CALIFORNIA

DEAR BROKE: I imagine the statute of limitations has run out on most of those unpaid debts, but it might be worth your time to ring up the parents (during the breakfast hour) and remind her (or him) to give little "Rupert" the loot you lent him.

DEAR ABBY: When one entertains guests at a fine restaurant and the male guest insists on handling the tip but actually places an amount considered below the expected average, is it considered impolite for the hostess to add to the tip while the guest is still at the table?

How would you handle such a situation?

CONCERNED IN SACRAMENTO

DEAR CONCERNED: I would discreetly slip the additional money to the captain or waiter as inconspicuously as possible — but not at the table.

Search Is On For Outstanding Dad

June 15 is Father's Day. We, at The Herald, are searching for the annual "Outstanding Dad" in the community, but we need the help of readers to find this special man.

A panel of judges using the point system will select the Outstanding Dad from the letters of nomination we receive.

To make sure your favorite dad is not disqualified, please follow the simple instructions: first, write the dad's full name, address, including city and state, and telephone number at the top of the page. Next, tell us in your own words why this dad is so outstanding. Please type or clearly print your letter. Third, write your name, complete address and telephone number at the end of the letter.

Submit the letters to The Evening Herald PEOPLE editor, P.O. Box 1657 (300 N. French Ave.), Sanford 32771, no later than noon, Monday, June 2, the deadline for judging.

Winners will be announced in The Herald on Father's Day.

Double Ring Ceremony Unites Lisa Vincent And W.R. Mahany

Lisa Michelle Vincent and Walter Robert Mahany, both of Sanford, are announcing their marriage today. The couple were married on Jan. 25 at Pinecrest Baptist Church, Sanford. The Rev. Tommy Jacobs performed the traditional double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Vincent Jr., 835 E. 20th St., Sanford. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Juby, 305 Tangerine Drive, Sanford.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose for her vows a lace and chiffon gown, over bridal peau de sole, fashioned along the Queen Anne silhouette with a matching chapel train. Her tiered bouffant veil of imported illusion was secured to a beaded tiara. The bride carried a Colonial-style bouquet of baby white carnations and miniature pink roses interspersed with baby's breath and showered with satin streamers.

Kimberly A. Pate attended the bride as matron of honor. She wore a suede rose t-length gown, carried a nosegay of pink and white flowers and wore a spray of baby's breath in her hair.

Bonnie R. Prescott was the bridesmaid. Her attire was identical to the honor attendant's.

Tom Fetterhoff served the bridegroom as best man. Usher-groomsmen were Mike Mahany and Shannon Smith.

The reception followed in the church social hall. Assistants were: Nancy

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Robert Mahany

McMillan, Kristy Pate and Debbie Mahany.

The couple are making their home in Sanford where the bride is employed as a medical assistant by Centri Florida Community Clinic and the bridegroom is employed by Central Florida Electric.

Central Florida Regional Gets Fathers Involved

The role of the father during pregnancy is one of the topics explored in the six free sessions of pre-natal classes being offered from 7 to 9 p.m. on Tuesdays by Central Florida Regional Hospital starting June 3 and continuing through July 8.

For most men, being present and helping at the birth of their child is a peak experience. The opportunity to do so is recent, as it has only been in the past few years that a man's primary function was to deliver his wife safely to the hospital and then walk the floor in the waiting room or at a nearby "watering hole."

Obstetricians now feel that instead of bringing chaos and infection to the delivery room, expectant fathers create an essential supportive factor and help form the family bonding that starts with the birth of a child.

In addition to the pre-natal classes, expectant fathers should attend Lamaze classes and get approval from the obstetrician to attend his wife before delivery takes place.

Other sessions during the pre-natal course include nutrition, smoking and drugs; signs of labor; pre-natal exercises; caring for the baby, and parenting which includes the grandparents. There is even a class for siblings.

Other topics covered are physical and emotional changes, fetal development and a tour of the labor and delivery suites and the nursery, as well as care of the newborn.

To register call Central Florida Regional, 321-4500 or 688-4441, extension 607.

Triglycerides And Cholesterol

Dr. Gott

DEAR DR. GOTT — What are triglycerides? What does one stop eating to get the triglycerides count down?

DEAR READER — Triglycerides and cholesterol are the predominant fats in the bloodstream. Triglycerides seem to be a much less important cause of arteriosclerosis and arterial damage. These "lesser" fats are lighter than cholesterol and are not as likely to stick to arterial linings and cause obstruction and blood clots. Nonetheless, an elevated level should be brought down. The normal value is about 200 mg. Triglycerides are commonly elevated in diabetics, in patients with hypertension and in people who drink too much alcohol. A high fresh-fruit diet can also cause elevated triglycerides.

Ordinarily, triglycerides can be lowered by dietary changes: less fat, fewer dairy products, a more balanced diet and reduction in alcohol. Because triglyceride and cholesterol elevation may go hand in hand, a reduction in blood fats is probably best undertaken under the supervision of qualified medical personnel who can accurately assess the patient's general health and nutritional needs.

To give you more information, I'm sending you a copy of my new Health Report, EATING RIGHT FOR A HEALTHY HEART. Others who are interested should send 75 cents plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope in care of this newspaper to P.O. Box 2597, Cincinnati, OH 45201. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT — My husband is a borderline diabetic (not medicated). He had an operation in his leg due to poor circulation and has ulcers on his feet. He takes Persantine three times a day. The problem is that he is a heavy smoker and drinks an average of a six-pack of beer a day. Since his sugar count is below 150 — even low on some days — he sees no harm in this. I have been told that alcohol could be dangerous for him. My words fall on deaf ears, and I am "the nagging wife." Do I have a reason to worry?

DEAR READER — Yes, you do. To begin with, people who smoke cigarettes are harming their circulation. Nicotine causes spasm of arteries and increased stickiness of blood; both effects can produce major circulatory impairment. Your husband has already required surgery for foot ulcers and circulatory insufficiency; he is asking for more trouble by continuing to smoke. Second, alcohol — in the form of liquor, wine or beer — is dangerous for diabetics. A six-pack of beer a day is clearly too much for any adult, much less for a patient with diabetes. Alcohol will increase blood fats and poison many of the body's organs, not the least of which is the pancreas, where insulin is manufactured. I unequivocally urge your husband to give up cigarettes and alcohol beverages.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby
South opened one no-trump, even though he had a five-card major suit. This practice is common enough, the theory being that it is better to describe your balanced strength of 15-17 high-card points than to worry about the fact that you hold extra length in a major.

will get in with the club king and lead another diamond. West will now make two diamond tricks to set the contract.

The key to the proper defense lies in East's choice of lead in the diamond suit. It is normal to lead the fourth best, but the normal play is wrong in this situation. East should lead the eight of diamonds. The number of diamonds held by East is not important. What is crucial is that West will not play his partner for holding a diamond honor. Once that eight is led, it's a simple matter for West to make the right choice of playing low. If East improperly leads back the three, West will probably go wrong.

The right way to defend the hand is for East to win his king of hearts and return a diamond. When declarer plays either the king or the queen, the onus is upon West to allow South to hold that trick. Eventually East

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY MAY 23, 1986

In the year ahead, you will come out better if you rely upon yourself instead of partners. You alone can accomplish your desires if you put your mind to it.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Areas of disagreement between you and your mate may be pronounced today. It's best if neither tries to force the other to comply with his or her demands. Major changes are ahead for Gemini in the coming year. Send for your Astro-Graph predictions today. May 81 to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, Box 1846, Cincinnati, OH 45201. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Improper behavior on your behalf today could disrupt a situation now running smoothly. Don't be the one who causes it to fall apart.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) It's best not to come on too strong in social situations today. Your friends will respond better to consultation than they will to regimentation.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Wield your power wisely today in matters where you have authority over others. Tyrannical actions will make enemies who won't be prone to forgive or forget.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) It's your prerogative to champion an unpopular cause today, provided you don't get angry with those who didn't agree with you in the first place.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Unless you are extremely careful in a critical financial situation today, you could come out on the short end. Do not leave anything to chance.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) If you are inflexible when dealing with others today, you may cause others to become even more rigid than you are.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You've procrastinated to the outer limits. If you delay a responsibility even longer today, you'll be asking for big trouble.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) You may have two invitations to choose from today. The gala event might not be as grand as it sounds, while the lesser event will be much better than expected.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) If a family member does something that displeases you today, count to 10. Regrettable remarks will be made when responding in haste.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Today you may have to deal with a temperamental acquaintance. If you know from experience that certain topics agitate this person, keep them out of the conversation.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Business conditions might be tricky for you today, and it could be hard to get a handle on the true picture. Postpone decisions until the facts are in.

Berle, Burns, Hope Look At Comedy

Evening Herald, Sanford, Fl. Thursday, May 22, 1986-38

By Vernon Scott
HOLLYWOOD Reporter
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Milton Berle, George Burns and Bob Hope, three of America's most revered funny men, aren't laughing about the demise of the prime time variety show, once a TV staple.

All are veterans of vaudeville, motion pictures, radio and television. All three have written books as well.

Their humor has stood the test of time, and they're still getting laughs wherever and whenever they work.

Berle, 76, will star in a new syndicated TV situation comedy, "Moscow and Vinc," next season. Burns, 90, will star in another hour-long TV special and continue to play Las Vegas.

Hope, 83 this month, stars in his final show of the season in "Bob Hope's High-Flying Birthday" May 28 aboard the aircraft carrier USS Lexington in the Gulf of Mexico.

The energetic Hope, whose guests include Elizabeth Taylor, Brooke Shields, Jonathan Winters, Mac Davis and Sammy Davis Jr., has already signed for five specials with NBC for the 1986-87 season.

Hope, Berle and Burns are in demand for concerts, clubs and guest appearances on TV. They cut their comic teeth in vaudeville and refined their timing, material and delivery over the years.

Will such comedians as Eddie Murphy, Bill Murray, Chevy Chase, Joe Piscopo, Jay Leno, John Candy and Richard Pryor be around as long?

The dearth of comedy-variety shows on TV, the dying arts of monologue and sketches, provide a bleak landscape for stand-up comedians except those who make the transition to situation comedy. Bill Cosby is the quintessential example of one who has adapted perfectly to the prevailing conditions.

"Saturday Night Live" offers young comedians a chance at what might pass for vaudeville-like shows or revues. Small comedy clubs around the nation provide opportunities to showcase new talent. But where do the newcomers go from there? Guest shots on "The Tonight Show." If they're lucky, maybe an appearance with David Letterman. But what then?

Thirty years ago prime time variety shows provided the ideal springboard for young talent in the days of Ed Sullivan's "Toast of the Town" show.

Berle pioneered the comedy-variety hour with his "Texaco Star Theater" in 1948. He was followed by Hope, Red Skelton, Jack Benny, Sid Caesar, Danny Kaye, Burns and Allen, Ken Murray, Jackie Gleason, Red Buttons and later George Gobel and others.

Berle is somewhat pessimistic about the future of television comedy. Burns is optimistic and Hope falls somewhere in between.

Said Berle during lunch at the Beverly Hills Friar's Club, "Comedy-variety has given way to sitcoms and they've changed comedy with laugh tracks.

"There are different concepts in humor today in the writing and construction of gags and comic scenes. TV was better and funnier when it was live. Viewers got what they saw and saw what they got. We didn't get a second chance.

"When a joke bombed you drove a railroad train through the silence of no laughs. Then you would have to do a recovery line like 'There must be people out there ... I hear breathing.' Or 'Did you come in here for entertainment or revenge?' I've written a book on the subject.

"We had to use our wits because we didn't have the laugh machine, or the giggler or sweetener as it is called. Strangely enough, the laugh track they continue to use today was recorded many years ago from the live audiences of my old shows.

"The problem is that writers have succumbed to the giggler. Goodman Ace, the great comedy writer, was watching a sitcom with me in the late 1950s and I told him a certain line wasn't sharp enough to be funny. He told me, 'Milton, the machine loved it.' Writers are taking the easy way out. "When I began in TV no one knew what the future held. NBC approached me in 1947 and suggested I put together a variety show. I was in radio at the time and I agreed to try TV, telling them I would combine my knowledge of vaudeville and stand-up club routines.

"My first full season I did 39 one-hour shows at a total cost of $15,000 each. Today you can't get Melissa Manchester to sing one bar for that kind of money.

"I couldn't afford writers so I just remembered what I'd done 30 years earlier on stage. My show was a success because it was the first of its kind. It had the spontaneity of being live.

"Where would today's comics get that expertise and background? The Comedy Store joints help them learn what not to do. Only some of today's comedians should be in show business. The others should be in shoe business.

"Too often a young comic appearing in a comedy club gets all his friends to attend his showcase. Naturally, they're rooting for him. Where's his barometer for what's funny with the clique laughing at everything?

"The young guys have never flopped in Steubenville or had to change their acts. I don't see any young comedians around that could handle a weekly hour variety show. They can be trained, but you can't train a guy to be funny. He's got to be born with a funnybone."

Berle said he doesn't see variety shows returning to prime time TV because they are too expensive to produce. "Today it would cost $1 million for the same show we did for $15,000.

"But I don't think variety is dead forever. The younger generation is seeing old material for the first time. For that young audience it's all new, but with different personalities. There are no old jokes, just old audiences. The wheel keeps turning.

"However, I don't think this generation, or audiences in the future, will ever see a slam-bang revue, briskly paced show like we did in TV in the 1950s."

Comedian Hope's five or six specials a year are the only comedy-variety shows still regularly found in prime time.

"What we are in the mystery show," Hope said, munching an apple at his San Fernando valley estate. "People wonder, 'What the hell is he going to do this time?'"

"If I showed you a list of my specials for the past 36 years you'd be amazed at the diversity of subject matter we've done, including satires on soaps, politics and crazy things like 'Hope buys NBC.' And we get all the celebrities as guest stars.

"We try to do something different every time. Our pattern is to keep viewers guessing. We don't fall into a rut. And it's as much fun for me as it is for the audience.

"Today Tom Hanks, Eddie Murphy and some of those other comedians are doing very well. They're the kids' favorites and that's great. A lot of them started on 'Saturday Night Live.'

"They don't have to go on TV with variety shows. They've got movie careers, which is easier for them. They make two or three pictures a year and they're on their way. I understand Chevy Chase is getting $3 million a picture and he's a cute, funny guy. He doesn't have to work as hard as he might with a weekly hour show.

"What I liked was Gleason and his variety sketches. I wish someone would tell me why Gleason and Skelton aren't on the air right now. Maybe it was the ratings.

"There's still good comedy on the air, but it's sitcom. Cosby grabbed some good writers and is doing fine. And 'The Golden Girls' is a smash. They're funny. They get laughs. But there are very few such shows.

"There's no lack of young talent, but they have to learn to get it together. There are certain steps that have to be taken."

Hope works with his writers and overseas every line and bit of business that goes into his shows. Most of the themes for his specials come from Hope himself.

Hope agrees with Berle that performers can't be taught to be funny. But, he adds, "you can make people funny. Jack Benny could give lines to anyone and they would think they were getting the laughs, but it was his reactions that made it funny."

"I don't know if we'll ever see big weekly prime time variety shows again, but I'd like to think they'll come back some day."

George Burns took time out

New Math Interest
 Call it a lesson in adult education. Cliff (Bill Cosby) is surprised when he meets his son's math teacher in the episode of "The Bill Cosby" show airing tonight on NBC, WESH-TV, Channel 2. Sonia Braga co-stars as class Mrs. Westlake.

from work with his writers in his Hollywood office, which he visits every weekday morning, to speculate on the future of TV comedy.

"What's in style now, narrow lapels or wide lapels?" he asked, expelling a cloud of blue cigar smoke. "Narrow? Okay, it will come back to wide."

"Variety will be back. It always has come back from burlesque to vaudeville to movies to TV. People aren't going to stop singing and dancing. And audiences are going to keep watching 'em do both."

"Variety shows gave viewers a little something of everything, humor, dances, songs and even drama. The drama came when audiences cried at the bad jokes.

"Sure, situation comedies stole some of our stuff. And we'll steal some of theirs. That's the way it goes in show business. Maybe viewers saw too much variety for a while and now that they're not getting any, they'll want to see it again."

What about up-and-coming comedians? Is there young talent out there ready to handle a weekly prime time variety show?

"Sure," replied the nonagenarian. "There's plenty of young talent around like Milton Berle."

"I don't know about the kids on 'Saturday Night Live.' That goes on too late for me. I'm in bed and asleep by the time they do their stuff. Right now it seems
