

Sellout Reported At Yankee Stadium For World Series

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Setting what may be a new record for advance sales, the Yankees announced Tuesday that all reserved and box seats for the three world series games at Yankee Stadium are sold out.

The first and second games of the series are slated for the stadium Oct. 1 and 2. The sixth game, if necessary, also will be played in the Yank's ball park.

Announcing that the 41,000 reserved and box seats were gone, Yankee officials said they do not recall a year in which the sellout sign had been hung out so early—two weeks before the series opened.

The club pointed out that 14,000 reserved grandstand seats and 14,000 bleacher seats would be placed on sale at the stadium the morning of each game.

National League Pennant Race

The already confusing National League pennant race came upon new complications yesterday as the Brooklyn Dodgers dropped a 4-3 decision in 11 innings to the Cincinnati Reds and the St. Louis Cardinals battled to a 1-1 tie with the New York Giants in 10 innings.

This reduced Brooklyn's lead to a game and a half for the present, but the Cardinals suffered equally by having darkness wipe their tussle with the Giants off the schedule.

It was the last game this season between the two clubs and there is no opportunity for replaying it. As the result is:

Tom Leib Fears Ragged Florida Team Saturday

GAINESVILLE, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Coach Tom Leib held the fear last night that his University of Florida football team would be a little rough around the edges when they take on Randolph Macon here Saturday night in their opening game.

Rainy weather continued to plague the boys in Gatorland yesterday causing a slow up in practice for the second straight afternoon.

The Gators have had only three weeks in which to get ready for their earliest opener in years and haven't been able to make the most of the time due to interfering conditions. There was little doubt as to the Gators' physical and mental fitness, however.

Bill Cornelison, end who will be out for six weeks due to a broken bone in his foot, appeared yesterday to be the only Gator who will miss the Yellow Jacket tilt.

Defensive work aimed at stopping the single wingback formations of Randolph Macon and their speedy back Red Lovett shared the spotlight with new plays in yesterday's practice. While lacking the power of the Gators Randolph Macon will have the fastest man on the field Saturday night. Lovett turns the 100 yard dash in 9.6.

Louis will finish with only 153 games to Brooklyn's 154 and this amounts to a half game edge for the Dodgers.

Each team has lost the same number of games, 51. If between now and the end of the season they continue to drop the same amount, Brooklyn would win the pennant instead of ending in a tie.

The standings:

W.	L.	Pct.
Brooklyn.....	52 51	.543
St. Louis.....	49 51	.493

Remaining schedule:
Brooklyn—Sept. 17 at Pittsburgh; 19 open date; 20 at Philadelphia (2); 21 at Philadelphia (2); 22 at Philadelphia; 23 open date; 24 at Boston; 25 at Boston; 26 open date; 27 Philadelphia; 28, Philadelphia. Total, 11 games.

St. Louis—Sept. 17 at Boston (2); 18, Boston; 19, Chicago; 20, Chicago; 21, Chicago (2); 22 open date; 23 at Pittsburgh (2); 24 at Pittsburgh; 25 at Pittsburgh; 26 open date; 27 at Chicago; 28 at Chicago. Total, 13 games.

Before a crowd of 20,000 in St. Louis, the league-leading Brooklyn Dodgers eke out a 6-4 win over the St. Louis Cards in an 11-inning duel, thus increasing their lead to two full games with two more games of the "crucial" series to be played on the Redbird diamond. Dixie Walker singled in the 11th with the bag, headed to account for the margin of victory. In this photo, Peeewe, Reade of the Dodgers takes a throw from second to force Johnny Hopp, Cardinal fielder.

Nova Has Respect For Louis But Thinks He Will Topple Champion

By LOU NOVA
Opportunity, the wise men say, seldom knocks but once. It is going to knock on the door of my dressing room at the Polo Grounds in New York the night of Sept. 29. And I am going to be ready to take advantage of it. That is the night I am going to win the heavyweight boxing championship of the world from Joe Louis. I have been dreaming of this chance for years. I have been preparing myself for it. And Lou Nova is not the kind of a man to miss an opportunity like this. Few men get more than one crack at a boxing crown. I don't think I will need more than one chance.

I realize that a majority of boxing fans think Louis will defeat me. That is all right, perhaps not natural. Joe has been a great champion and a fine sportsman. He still packs a terrific wallop. When a man has proved himself a superb fighter the fans and experts like to string along with him until the end—until some new challenger takes his measure.

But champions don't last forever. Every man's time has got to come—and Joe's number, I firmly believe, will be up Sept. 29. I have the greatest respect for him as a fighter and true admiration of him as a fair and gallant sportsman—but I think I possess everything I need to beat him.

If Lou Nova had been in the ring against Louis last June instead of Billy Conn I would be the champion today. Conn is game, a marvelous boxer and fast, but after all, we shouldn't kid ourselves that he is anything more than a crack light heavyweight. Yet Conn outpointed Louis for 12 rounds. Furthermore, this comparatively light hitter had Louis crouching in that 12th round. Conn had him in trouble. Nova would have kayed him.

Throughout that fight I sat beside my manager, Ray Caslen. I nudged his ribs until they were black and blue as I noted chances for shots that even the speedy, Conn was missing.

I can't tell you how I am going to fight Louis—because I don't know myself. A fighter can never seriously plan a fight in advance and carry it through. Unexpected things happen and you have to alter your schedule to meet them. However, I don't expect to win the championship backing away at circling to the right.

I'll be standing at arm's length from Joe and I'll be shooting jabs or hooks or straight rights at every opening I see. Joe is easy to hit with a right and I believe I am going to hit him plenty. It is quite possible that Joe, who seldom cuts, is going to be pretty badly cut-up. I am not only a pulverizing hitter but also a damaging one. For proof you can ask Max Baer or Pat Combs or Max Schmelzing, revealed, in their first fight. But Max was a sucker for a right. But Max was a curious fighter. He was content to keep hitting Joe with scattered rights and wails until he almost crumpled from exhaustion before finishing him off. My temperament is different. When I have a man in trouble I wade right into him and give him all I've got in a hurry. If I should get Louis proper in the first or sixth or tenth rounds I'll show him—and you—that I am just about as fast a polisher-off as Louis is rightly given credit for being.

I think I am faster than Joe. I think I am a better ring general. I think I can think faster and more clearly. I figured I can size up a situation and act more quickly to take advantage of it than he can. I am confident I can take a punch better than he can. I don't believe that his wallop can be more deadly than mine. He is an orthodox style of fighter and I am familiar with his methods. I believe I know just what he will do under any given circumstances—and I'll be ready.

Some of the sports writers have been kidding me about a black and blue as I noted chances

Frick Bawls Out Card And Dodger Pilots For Game

By SID FEDER
NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—(AP)—From now on the head man is going to crack right down on any more burlesque like that with which the Cincinnati Reds and Brooklyn Dodgers wound up their 17-inning marathon Monday.

After waiting for the final full reports National League President Ford Frick gave the managers of both clubs a good going over by wire Tuesday and then warned the entire league, as well as his staff of umpires, that from here on in any such farce is going to mean the guilty party forfeits the game immediately.

"And in case you've forgotten," Frick told Reds' boss Bill McKechnie and Brooklyn's Leo the Lip Durocher, "that means $1000 fine for the guilty club and $100 for the manager."

Ford's chief beef was over what he called attempts at shortening the game by the umpires, and the stalling tactics employed by the Reds, who are trying for third place.

He did not point a finger at the more guilty of the two except to say Brooklyn's Lou Lip might have had some excuse "in view of the tightness of the race and what is at stake," while "there can be no excuse whatsoever for the Cincinnati manager."

You remember the set-up—all the boys had for their troubles after 16 full innings were a couple of strings of goose-eggs. The umpire held a huddle at that point and decided another inning could be played before it got too dark.

Then Pete Reiser led off the Dodgers' 17th with a homer. With that one-run edge, The Lip wailed all for his boys hurrying to end their half of the frame right quick so that the Reds could have the bat and the game could beat out the darkness. But the Dodgers kept right on going and piled up five runs before Billy Herman "struck himself out," as one baseball writer put it.

The Reds tried to slow things down in their half. McKechnie even suggested to Umpire Larry Goetz the moon wouldn't be up for hours. They scored a run, but finally went out, shortly after 7:00 P. M.

"The final inning," Frick wired the two managers, "was a farce that reflected not only on the two clubs, but the National League as well. According to the umpires, both teams were guilty of unsportsmanlike tactics. The play demonstrated an utter lack of sportsmanship and fairness."

National League umpires today are instructed that in accordance with Rule 24, they will in all cases hereafter warn the guilty manager, and if such tactics are persisted in, they will forfeit the game.

Frick Frick then wired every umpire in the league instructions to call a forfeit for such actions in the future.

Just to show that he wasn't trying to ring in anything new, Frick opened the baseball law book to Rule 24, Section 4, which points out that "a forfeited game shall be ordered by the umpire in favor of the club not at fault... if a team employ tactics palpably designed to delay or shorten the game."

Georgia-Florida League Playoff Stopped By Rain

LEESBURG, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Soaking rains so wet the ground Tuesday that last night's first game of a four-out-of-seven series to determine the mythical class "D" baseball title in Georgia and Florida had to be called off.

Thomasville, Ga., of the Georgia-Florida League was to have played Leesburg of the Florida State Circuit.

It was the second postponement of the start of the series. The first game was scheduled to be played Monday night but was postponed at the request of Thomasville, which wished to avoid a long, hurried trip within 24 hours of its final game with Albany in the Georgia-Florida loop.

Bulgaria Is Reported As Mobilizing

Situation Is Tense As Diplomatic Relations With Reds Become Strained

ANKARA, Sept. 18.—(AP)—Balkan diplomatic sources said today they had information that Bulgaria, whose diplomatic relations with Soviet Russia are tense, was mobilizing her armed forces rapidly and already has summoned 250,000 men to arms.

These sources added that three Nazi divisions or more are already in Bulgaria, in addition to the Bulgarian forces.

German police searched from house to house in the Jewish quarter of Paris for guns Wednesday as German military authorities warned that for any more attacks on German soldiers, hostages taken from all classes of the Paris population would be executed in "ever increasing numbers."

The gun search was in the section where Jews predominate. It was not revealed whether any guns were found.

Newspapers and placards announcing the new reprisal threat appeared on the streets soon after a German non-commissioned officer died of two bullet wounds in the back inflicted by an assassin in the subway Monday night. It was believed more hostages would be shot because of this attack.

The execution of 10 hostages in Paris Tuesday was reported for three attacks on German soldiers Sept. 6, 10 and 11, none of which was fatal.

It has been estimated that 10,000 persons, arrested in connection with Communist and Jewish terrorist activities, were held in Paris up to now have been classified either as Communists or Jews. The new edict made the entire French population of Paris responsible for further attacks.

It was announced in Vichy that the Germans had agreed to free immediately some sick and wounded French war prisoners, who arrive in Compiegne from German military hospitals.

Officers for the company, composed of five tanks, have been named with W. R. Elmer, heading the list as chairman of the race committee. W. D. ## Nazis Claim Victories On Outskirts Of Leningrad

Siege Guns Bombard Old-Czarist Capital And Prepare To Shell Kronstadt

Crimea Peninsular Reported Cut Off

Big Russian Naval Base Is Cut Off From The Mainland

Other dark news for the Soviet cause was contained in advices reaching London which said Adolf Hitler's invasion armies at the extreme end of the front had apparently cut off the entire Crimea peninsula.

Sevastopol, the big Russian naval base on the Black Sea was thus presumably isolated from the rest of the Soviet Union. The Nazi high command, announcing "great success" in their onslaught against Leningrad, said German troops, sweeping eastward across the Dnieper River in the Ukraine, were "progressing irresistibly."

Countering Berlin's claims of success in the 89-day-old struggle, the Russians reported a sharp blow to Nazi blitz prestige, asserting the Red army troops of Gen. Nikolai Guderian, the so-called "phantom general" of the French campaign, had captured the city of Bryansk on the central front but all but annihilated the German armor of Col. Gen. Heinz Guderian, the phantom general of the French campaign.

Germany's iron general—the man who matched mechanization against the Maginot Line and won—was said to have been killed in a roaring battle of tanks, his own favorite weapon, near Bryansk, 230 miles from Moscow.

The Soviet communiqué told of great operations on a curving central front extending from Yartsevo, 30 miles northeast of Smolensk, down past Yelnya to the Bryansk sector.

Guderian was said to have lost two-thirds of his effectiveness in an explosive collision with massed Soviet tanks.

The Russian communiqué said these were Guderian's losses: 20,000 men dead, wounded and captured; 500 tanks, 70 armored cars, 1525 trucks, 195 planes, 85 heavy machine-guns, 51 trench mortars and several thousand rifles and large quantities of ammunition.

The German claim of having destroyed three Soviet armies in the Lake Ilmen district south of Leningrad brought a quick answer from Moscow. The Russian communiqué said the Red army lost 20,000 killed and wounded there in a month of fighting but added that the Germans lost 35,000 to 50,000.

The Germans were said to have lost 10,000 killed and wounded, numerous field guns and 100 mine-throwers to Russian fighters under Marshal Timoshenko at Yartsevo on the northern end of the central front.

This thrust of Timoshenko's was believed to have been planned to relieve German pressure on Leningrad.

Even before the new gain was reported Russians told of a continuing counter-offensive along the center in which the Germans were thrown back in two sectors after having suffered an earlier and major defeat before Smolensk.

Judge Again Warns Drivers To Get Licenses

Office Is Unable To Handle Remaining 8,000 To Be Issued

With only 1,500 driver's licenses issued up to last night and about 8,000 more to be issued before Oct. 1 Judge R. W. Ware warned that a large number of drivers will have to stand the examination for driver's licenses since the office cannot issue the remainder of the licenses before the deadline.

"It is impossible to handle the number of licenses still to be issued before Oct. 1 as we wouldn't have room in the Court House and yet our present staff could have handled almost twice the number that have come in to date. Hence since they were not put on sale," the judge explained.

"With over 8,000 still to be issued we would have to handle about 700 persons a day for the remainder of the month and we have not the facilities to accomplish that."

"If the people will not come in until the last minute to get their licenses and our staff is so small that they cannot handle the crowd there will be a whole lot of people who will have to stand the examination as I have orders to issue no 1941-42 licenses after Sept. 30 unless applicants take the examination administered by the State Highway Patrol," Judge Ware declared.

To date about 23 persons have taken the driving test given by Fitzhugh J. M. Richman every Monday but only five have passed the test, Judge Ware said. The driver's Handbook containing traffic regulations that must be learned by the applicant before the driver's examination, are now available at the judge's office for those who expect to take the examination.

Florida's Health

It may come as something of a shock to many complacent Florida citizens to learn that our state, instead of being at the head of the nation from the standpoint of health, it is at, or close to, the bottom in many essential respects...

"Draft examinations showed Florida stood at the very bottom of the list of percentage of venereal disease in the entire country—white and negro," writes Philip Wylie in the Miami Herald...

And so it goes with diphtheria, yellow fever, malaria, hookworm, several intestinal parasitical diseases, impetigo, contagious diarrhea, and many similar ailments...

And the worst of it is that this condition is so unnecessary. It is due not to conditions beyond our control but to the shocking indifference and inertia of our people...

"Forty thousand negroes live among us (in Miami) in the way people lived in medieval cities," writes Mr. Wylie. "Their drinking water is often polluted. They have almost no sewers. Their outdoor toilets are undrained and unscreened in thousands of cases..."

In Miami last Spring there was a near panic caused by the polio epidemic. It started in colored town, but it soon spread among the whites. Fortunately the tourist season was practically over. But sound common sense and good business judgment dictate that responsible leaders take all possible measures to eliminate unsanitary conditions in the state and to improve the general health of our people.

Getting Off Easy

A certain breeder of dairy cattle in one of the southeastern states is distinguished for two things—the excellent quality of his cattle and his relentless insistence on his hired hands keeping busy. A negro came to him one day and applied for a job as milker.

"You don't look to me like a man that wants a steady job," replied the dairyman, eyeing him critically. "Yassuh, boss, Ah wants a stiddy job."

"Well, go to work, then, but I'm telling you I don't like your looks." The negro went, and found that he not only had to milk 20 cows, but care for the milk, wash the utensils, curdy the cows and feed them, clean the stalls, and drive the cows to and from the pasture. In fact, he put in about 18 hours a day. He was game, and stayed with it for two months. Then he gave notice.

"I knew it! I knew it," called the dairyman. "I knew you didn't want a steady job, you no account rascal!" "Yassuh, boss, Ah does," protested the darky, "but you's been layin' me off six hours ever' night." — Fort Myers News Tribune.

FLORIDA FARMERS are expected this winter not only to continue supplying fresh fruit and vegetables for most of the nation's tables but for the tables of the fighting men and those who are arming them. An idea of the tremendous volume needed is indicated by a partial list of supplies bought direct from Florida farmers by the army in May and June. This included 340,000 pines, 16,625 pounds of tomatoes, 482 dozen bunches of turnips, 569,140 grapefruit, 2,484,416 oranges, 143,935 pounds of cabbage, 16,228 pints of strawberries, 158,924 ears of corn, 52,100 pounds of carrots, and 662,000 pounds of potatoes. To supply such a demand, which doubtless will increase, Florida farmers must be well "armed" with modern farm machinery in the pink of condition. Now is the time to check your needs and improve maintenance. — Florida Grower.

TOD LATE TO CLASSIFY

By RUSSELL KAY

After spending the better part of his life in the newspaper business, Charlie Freeman found himself out of a job a couple of years ago and at that time jobs were plenty hard to get.

For a chap who has kept busy all his life, this business of having nothing to do is mighty hard to take. Charlie just had to do something, so he began to think about his work shop, at home, repairing this or that and searching some employment that would bring in a shekel or two.

He'd been fixing up a rubber mallet for some time and he thought he'd better get it ready for the day when he'd be called on to use it. He'd been working on it for some time and he thought he'd better get it ready for the day when he'd be called on to use it.

Government Will Furnish Poison For Crickets

GAINESVILLE, Sept. 18 (Special)—The United States Department of Agriculture last week began supplying poison bait for mole-cricket control to growers of Hillsborough and Manatee counties from a mixing station established in Plant City. Arrangements for this renewal of assistance were made by Dr. William Newell, plant commissioner with the State Plant Board, and Dr. P. N. Annand, chief of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, following a thorough survey of the situation. Mixed and soaked baits are being turned over to the State Mole-Cricket Control Committee for distribution through representatives of the State Plant Board. This committee is composed of J. J. Taylor, representing Commissioner of Agriculture Mayo, and Plant Commissioner Newell, the chairman, who also represents the State Agricultural Extension Service, W. A. McClanahan, crops inspector with the State Plant Board, is state leader of the project.

Graduating "cum laude" from Harvard in 1915, Dr. Starr entered the U. S. Army and served as a first lieutenant in the infantry, with a year's service overseas, until the close of the World War when he entered Oxford and received his B. A. and M. A. degrees in the Honors School of Jurisprudence. Later, he entered the Graduate School at Harvard where he took the A. M. and Ph. D. degrees in English language and literature. Before joining the faculty at Williams College, where he served as assistant dean and later acting dean for six years, he taught at Colgate University and at St. John's College in Annapolis, Md. At the latter institution he was also assistant to the president and dean of juniors and seniors. He also continued creative work in poetry at the university.

Constitution Day Observed By D. A. B.

In observance of Constitution Day, Mrs. W. L. Henley, regent of the Ladies' Friendly League of the Congregational Church, entertained the executive board members of the chapter at her home on West Fifteenth Street yesterday afternoon.
A patriotic color theme was chosen by Mrs. Henley who used red, white and blue flowers with which to decorate the living room. In the dining room the table was overlaid with a lace cloth and centered with a low bowl of the red, white and blue flowers.
During the afternoon plans were made for the state board conference which will be held at the Hotel Mayfair on Nov. 13 and 14, with the state regent, Mrs. H. S. Abernathy, of Winter Haven, presiding. On the afternoon of the 13 a tea will be given honoring Mrs. Abernathy and the next day will be taken up with the business session.
Mrs. J. B. Root gave an interesting article on the Constitution, after which the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Mabel Hudson, served an ice course furthering the chosen color motif, to those present.

Florida's Health

It may come as something of a shock to many Florida citizens to learn that the state, instead of being at the head of the parade in the matter of health, is at the bottom in many essential respects.

And so it goes with dysentery, fever, yellow fever, malaria, hookworm, several infectious parasitical diseases, impetigo, contagious diarrhea, and many similar ailments.

Forty thousand negroes live among us (in Miami) in the way people live in medieval times, writes Mr. Wylie. Their drinking water is often polluted. They have almost no sewers. Their outdoor toilets are undrained and unscreened, in thousands of cases.

Getting Off Easy A certain breed of lazy cattle in one of the southeastern states is distinguished for two things—the excellent quality of its cattle and the relentless insistence on his hired hands keeping busy.

FLORIDA FARMERS have expected this winter not only to continue supplying fresh fruit and vegetables for most of the nation's tables but for the tables of the big men and those who are serving them.

... ventilation is important... do not apply oil within 30 days after sulphur has been used since these two substances are not compatible. If the sun is very hot, wash the oil off of plants the day after it is applied.

With a little luck, it is possible to have sweet peas for Christmas by planting an early variety now. Choose a protected location on the South side of the house and dig a trench six inches deep. Pulverize the soil in the bottom of the trench and mix bone meal with it, allowing a pound of the fertilizer to one ten-foot trench.

Now the seeds rather thickly and thin the plants when necessary later on. Cover the seed with about an inch of soil, water well and cover the trench with a long board. After germination, the board should be removed. As the seedlings grow, gradually fill up the trench until it reaches ground level. This method of planting sweet peas will produce strong, sturdy plants and will insure well-protected roots. Be sure to supply a firm support for the vines as soon as they are six inches high. A good plan is to place the support in readiness at the time the seed are planted.

Given the right start in a sunny, protected location, sweet peas are very little trouble. The only other obligation is to cut the blooms every day to keep the vines from going to seed. Red spider is just about the only pest to worry about, but it can be controlled by dusting with sulphur at the first sign of rusty looking foliage.

Most of the refugees slept in the holds and in lifeboats.

High Pork Prices Up Production Of Levy Hogs

BRONSON, Fla., Sept. 18.—(Special)—Levy County farmers are getting ready to take their hogs to market—lots of them.

Hog prices, according to County Agent T. D. Rickenbaker, will rise the number of hogs fattened and sold during the coming winter far above those of the past several winters. Several hundred head already have been placed on feed and, despite the hot weather, are making satisfactory gains.

DELAND, Sept. 18.—(Special)—An unusual increase in the proportion of new students planning to train for secretarial futures was reported today by Stetson University officials after a survey of applications from 1941 freshmen. Crediting the potential demand for trained workers to fill gaps created by national defense inroads, Stetson leaders revealed that one-third of the new students at Stetson this Fall will be in the School of Business, a percentage much greater than that of previous years.

With advance registration figures yet incomplete, Miss Olga Bowen, registrar, stated that more than 50 percent of the School of

Lunch Program Board Has Larger Objective For Next Year

JACKSONVILLE, Sept. 18.—(Special)—Florida's school lunch program has entered the new academic year with a larger goal and an expanded objective. The goal is every school in the State and the objective is to provide breakfasts, as well as lunches to as many needy and undernourished children as possible.

Aims were outlined at a meeting here of the state-wide school Lunch Advisory Committee, of which C. C. Codrington, state welfare commissioner, is chairman. Membership in the committee includes representatives of the State PTA, the American Legion, the State Federation of Women's Clubs, the State Defense Council, the State Department of Public Instruction, the State Board of Health, the WPA and the State Welfare Department.

Last year, it was brought out, free lunches were served to more than 100,000 public school children with more than 1,200 schools participating. Surpluses furnished free and distributed by the State Welfare Board had a fair retail value of more than half a million dollars.

The procedure this year will be the same as last, representatives of the EMA and the State Welfare Board told the meeting. Schools desiring to participate will make application at the nearest district welfare board office. Those that are certified as eligible will then receive free surpluses from the nearest supply depot of the Surplus Commodity Division of the State Welfare Board.

The WPA, which in the past has furnished workers to help in the preparation of meals, will again render this service although limited somewhat by quota restrictions. In addition, it will prepare 20 home economists who will supervise the cooking of meals, and will encourage the planting of gardens and the op-

4-Hour Kansas City Strike Is Now Ended

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 18.—(AP)—Electric current gave light and motion to this city again Wednesday night under the watchful eyes of civil and military officials determined to block any recurrence of a surprise strike that paralyzed the metropolitan area for four early morning hours.

Prompt official action smothered the strike, termed outlaw by Mayor Clegg and A. F. L. brother unions of the strikers, but not before it had impeded the work of defense plants, blacked out hospitals, stopped electric covered transportation and threatened the water supply.

Stewart Runs For State Railroad Commissioner

MANATEE, Sept. 18.—(Special)—Charles M. Stewart, popular peace officer of Manatee county, announces his candidacy for the office of State Railroad Commissioner subject to the Democratic primaries next spring.

A native Floridian, born in Columbia county, Stewart has had wide and varied experiences and feels he is qualified for the post he seeks. During the Com administration he served the State vehicle inspector covering eleven Florida counties.

The early years of his life were spent on his father's farm in Columbia county. During the world war he enlisted in the United States Navy and crossed the Atlantic 13 times as a member of the crew of the Navy transport U. S. S. Mercury. At the close of the war he was honorably discharged.

He has been employed by the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad and New York Rapid Transit Company and was in charge of construction of 38 miles of railroad for the Burton & Spaworth Lumber Company.

Stewart is 33 years of age, is married and the father of six children. He is a member of the Baptist Church and belongs to the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Odd Fellows.

Florida Professor Divides Affections With Two Schools

GAINESVILLE, Sept. 18.—(Special)—Dr. J. Miller Leake, the University of Florida's venerable head of the department of history and political science, may be in quite a quandary when the Fighting Gators play Randolph-Macon next Saturday night.

Despite his years at Florida, Dr. Leake still has a great affection for Randolph-Macon—his alma mater, where he played football around the turn of the 20th century, and accounts of his exploits there still make interesting listening.

Still actively interested in football, he attends Gator practices often during the season, and occasionally goes in for a bit of drop-kicking, one of his leading accomplishments during his playing career.

Flying Cadet Is Injured In Crash

MIAMI, Sept. 18.—(AP)—The Ops Locks naval air station reported Wednesday that a flying cadet was injured when a plane crashed while making a forced landing in the Everglades near West Palm Beach.

Aviation Cadet Robert W. Edmondson, 22, of Ventura, Calif., received "extensive injuries not believed to be serious," officials reported. Aviation Cadet James C. Barrett, 23, of Burlington, Kan., the pilot, was not hurt.

Don't Care for "Humming Parties"

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WILSON ROCKEFELLER'S opposition on the solidification of American cultural, economic and political relations likes to have the United States and our southern neighbors exchange visitors back and forth. It encourages and even invites leading New World Latins to come here, and when they do come it usually finds them the type of folk it's a pleasure to entertain. It also favors having individual Yankees—groups of them, the southern republics, invited to advertise us satisfactorily. Individual Yankees generally are not. They go, ordinarily, because they have some personal interest in making a good impression, perhaps a bit of Spanish, Portuguese or both, and, maybe, already more than understand the temperamental characteristics of the people they're traveling among.

Our groups aren't invariably made up of missionaries. They are recruited largely by tourist agencies, for such agencies own considerable benefits rather than because of the recruits' suitability as representatives of us below the Rio Grande. The agencies naturally like to put to it to find customers with European conditions of mind, they are today, and scrabble to send them southward, as the old ways left for 'em to go. What they actually want essentially is a market, but a rip-roaring good one. A lot of us, the Rockefeller group, is tipped off, in effect are "humming parties."

In older days, was supposed to provide the varieties of goods made mostly out of tin and steel to have, "est come. Latin America, however, doesn't seem to be particularly appreciative of being "hummed." It may get used to it, and, like older Europe, it is to its own financial account, it doesn't want the facilities to make available yet.

It considerably perturbs the Rockefeller aggregation at present.

Walter and Walter, a President Henry A. Walter and Undersecretary of State, are two of the opposite Latin-American aspects. They have too many other things on their hands to permit them to concentrate on that part of the world just now. An octopus is all they can spare.

Henry, Dekker, the French and the Dutch East Indies, are also somewhat of a nuisance for attention.

Henry Dekker speaks better than the summer. Henry Dekker and takes it according to his own mind, simply picked his side, Henry, though, by actually speaking to South America and Cuba, he knows the people who never, so far as I ever heard, got beyond a "hello" in Mexico.

Henry Dekker, these birds ought to be, Henry Dekker, Inc. The two are not very different.

Henry Dekker, a Spanish scholar, is able to master Forti- fication, as a side line. Henry Dekker, a Brazilian, says that a foreigner has gone to his way to learn Spanish, and that regarding Portuguese, he and his wife considers the same thing.

Henry Dekker, in Mexico, knows in Mexico, an Englishman, George Gibbs, who previously spent years in Brazil. One of the main reasons called on the connection with a matter of mutual interest.

Canadian Bulletin Pays Tribute To Chain Stores

ORLANDO, Sept. 19.—(Special).—A recent bulletin of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association pays an unusual tribute to chain stores, calling particular attention to the important economic function they perform in times of steadily mounting living costs. Their comment follows:

"In 1919 a Special Committee of Parliament investigated the high cost of living prevailing at that time. According to evidence presented by a prominent Canadian wholesaler, the average cost of wholesaling operations in the food business represented 18 percent of the retail price of the goods."

"Shortly after this began the period of greatest development of Canadian Chain Stores. By instituting economies in the handling and distribution of goods, the chain stores have successfully reduced this percentage for wholesaling operations to three percent of cost. This saving has not only been shared by the consumers of Canada, thereby increasing his purchasing power."

"We believe that any institution whose operations are in the public interest deserves wide publicity."

The Florida Chain Store Association points out that in America the chain stores have done even more for the consumer in keeping retail prices at the lowest possible level.

Florida Gets Good Publicity By Mail

WEST PALM BEACH, Sept. 18.—(Special).—Florida is indebted to Art Kell, publicity director of West Palm Beach, for nation-wide publicity given this state through a feature article in last month's issue of the Sportsman magazine. An aviation magazine read by civilian aviation enthusiasts throughout the country.

Kell points out that Florida today is showing the way to civilian air defense through the establishment of the "First Air Squadron," Florida Defense Force, with headquarters established at Fort Pierce. West Palm Beach, which now numbers 27 members and has 27 planes in service. Credit is due George W. G. Terry, Jr., president of the Palm Beach Aero Club, for his organization and for the first civilian squadron in the United States to receive such recognition.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—

When Jean Jones, who was loaned to the Soviet Union, says that in the United States, Uncle Sam has revealed most of the world's $30,000,000,000 gold supply. The United States has something over $25,000,000,000 of the "total" (total) gold supply, and Russia has at least one-eighth of all the rest.

The Soviet Union has been giving out with the same burst under the nose of the Kremlin, but it should be noted. In 1933, the last year for which figures are available, Russia was second only to South Africa in total gold production. This year the gold production was a tidy $1,000,000,000, valued at $100,000,000. Russia has a total of $1,000,000,000 of her gold production. The United States has a total of $25,000,000,000 and $100,000,000,000 annually. The "strike" was, however, a "strike" in the Kolyvan River in Siberia, and it may occur in the future. It is hoped the miners.

Geologists say formations on the Russian side of the Bering Sea, across from Alaska, are much the same as the fabulous gold-bearing deposits in the Alaskan area. Exploration has only recently been undertaken, but already new places have been found.

Check on foreign exchange figures for the last few years show the Soviet Union has been sending for a rainy day. Despite heavy purchases, Russia hasn't shipped much gold, having held a relatively favorable trade balance. For instance, the Russians in 1934 have sent $49,000,000 in trade credits on deposit in the United States to pay for any military knickknack we can spare.

While Russian embassy attaches decline to put figures on the gold holdings of their country, estimates based on known production of gold and on Russian gold exports put their board at $1,000,000,000 at least.

That billion in gold makes Rus-

Draft Registrants in School Are Asked To See Boards For Status

ST. AUGUSTINE, Sept. 12 (Special)—Registrants who are attending school should first consult their local boards to ascertain approximately how soon they may be called for military training, Brig. Gen. Virgil Collins, state director of selective service, announced today.

While deferments from military training are being granted to students who are preparing to enter certain occupations in which shortage of manpower exist or are indicated, Gen. Collins said there are no groups or blanket deferments. Each case must be considered individually by the local board having jurisdiction, and unless a student can qualify as a necessary man under selective service regulations he is liable to be called for induction when his order number is reached.

He said:

It is the policy of the selective service system to be as lenient as possible within the law in cases of young men who are actively pursuing education in preparation for a profession. Where such men have entered in good faith upon an educational course, we will endeavor not to interrupt their studies during a quarter of a semester, even if they are not seeking to qualify for an occupation that is exceptionally important for national defense.

My advice to these young men, therefore, is to consult with their local boards and find out when they probably will be called to qualify for military training. If the probability is more remote than a month or so, they may begin their studies with the understanding that they can at least complete a quarter. In the same way it may seem probable, according to their order numbers, that they can complete a semester or a full school year.

The general policy, Director Collins said, will be one of cooperation with the object of not causing a sudden interruption of studies or financial loss to the student through inability to continue through a quarter or semester for which tuition has been paid.

Who, he said, can be accomplished by the local board, granting a stay of induction until the end of each period, to a student who is called for military training.

There are a number of specialized professions, the general rule, for which students who are "reasonable promise" of becoming acceptable practitioners are being deferred on recommendation of the Office of Production Management. Procedures for the deferment of such students has been worked out by the American Council of Education in collaboration with national selective service headquarters.

It is set forth in Bulletin No. 10, issued by the council, and provides for getting into the hands of the local board of a student's statement of information concerning his status and plans, and an affidavit by his college or university in which the college officials testify as to standing, course and occupational objectives, together with a general evaluation of the student as a "reasonable man" for occupational deferment.

Meeting Of F. E. A. Will Be In Tampa

TAMPA, Sept. 12 (Special)—Tampa was again selected for the annual convention of the Florida Education Association and dates for the meet were set for Sept. 2-11, 1944.

This will be the fourth meeting held in Tampa in the last five years and the date was set later for the coming meeting in the hope it will enable hotels to provide more rooms. Last year 6,728 teachers and school officials attended the convention and the question of finding accommodations was a problem.

The decision of the board of directors to meet in Tampa again next year was announced by Dr. G. Ballard Simmons, president of the F. E. A., this week.

Project To Save Soil Established In Polk County

GAINESVILLE, Sept. 12 (Special)—A new type of soil conservation demonstration project to develop and demonstrate conservation practices applicable to Florida's citrus-growing sections have been established in a 1500-acre area in Polk County, according to Colin D. Gunn, state coordinator of the Soil Conservation Service.

In cooperation with the Florida Experiment Station, the Florida Experiment Station, Soil Conservation Service Technicians will assist growers in the area in developing conservation plans for establishment of soil-improving crops, spot mulching, stubble mulching, irrigation, and other soil and water conservation practices. Many of these practices will have to be worked out on the project as there is comparatively little information on soil conservation in citrus groves.

The new project is situated in the central portion of Polk county in the "Sand Ridge" citrus producing section of the state and will be known as the Sand Hill Citrus Demonstration Project. Approximately 30 percent of the project is in citrus groves, most of which are 20 to 25 years old.

In new plantings that may be made, terracing and contour planting will be encouraged, in addition to other conservation measures. However, terracing and contour planting will probably have a very limited application, as most of the groves are already established in straight rows and very few new plantings are now being made.

Irrigation is practiced by some of the growers in this area, but is not very common, although the
