Giraud Getting Stream Of Arms From America

Lend-Lease Goods Valued At 75 Millions Are Sent To French

WASHINGTON, May 31.—American tanks, guns and other fighting equipment are being supplied to General Henry Giraud's French Armies in Africa in enormous and increasing quantities, to equip them for their share in coming United Nations offensive, the Lend Lease Administration revealed last week.

Edward R. Stettinius Jr., Lend Lease administrator, disclosed that $75,000,000 worth of military supplies were transferred to General Giraud up to April 30, of which amount four-fifths, or $60,000,000 were delivered during April.

The timing of these deliveries, coming as the North African campaign neared the home stretch, was viewed as an indication that the French forces will make their major contribution not in Africa but in future Allied ventures, presumably on French soil.

The importance with which the French armies are regarded in Allied strategy was indicated by the fact that these military supplies amount to more than twice the value of the food, clothing, fuel and medical, agricultural and industrial supplies sent to the civilians of French North Africa under the relief and rehabilitation program.

The average of lend-lease shipments to all countries, according to President Roosevelt's report to Congress yesterday, is 46 percent munitions, and 54 percent agricultural and industrial supplies.

British Labor Urges Post-War Political Body

Party Group Calls For Body To Decide On International Issues

LONDON, May 31.—The national executive committee of the Labor party Britain's second largest advocates the post-war "establishment of a world political authority which should not only be the armed guardian of international peace but also the agency of consultation and decision upon all great political issues arising among nations."

The proposal was one of a series drafted by the committee for presentation to the party's annual conference to be held June 11-14. The report is expected to be adopted on the whole as the party's program for 1943-44.

In its domestic program the committee urged preparation "with all speed" for Britain's transition after the war to a "socialist commonwealth."

The committee's specific domestic proposals followed the lines of the four-year post-war plan presented by Prime Minister Churchill, leader of the rival Conservative party, in his radio address on March 21, but in most instances went beyond Churchill's program in the method and degree of reform.

On other questions the labor program recommended all speed for Britain's transition after the war to a "socialist commonwealth."

Pantelleria Attacked By Allied Navy Craft

Assault Is Taken As Possible Prelude To Actual Invasion Of Island Fortress

LONDON, June 2 (AP)—The increasing deadly convoy escort sank more enemy submarines in May than any other month and in the past two months the number operating in the Atlantic appears to have decreased, First Lord of the Admiralty A. V. Alexander declared today.

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—The Navy reported more than 1,500 Japanese killed and four captured during the first 20 days of the Attu fighting.

LONDON, June 2 (AP) A spokesman for the British Overseas Airways said today a British passenger liner had "disappeared" en route to Lisbon. Reports from the Portuguese capital said after Leslie Howard was among the 13 passengers, and the last word from the plane was an "enemy plane is attacking us."

Allied warships have swelled the assault on the Mediterranean island of Pantelleria, it was announced today, bombarding the so-called "Italian Gibraltar" twice within 48 hours in what may be the prelude to a landing attack.

Allied headquarters said island, which would serve as a stepping-stone for either an invasion of Sicily or Italy, was shelled yesterday and Sunday night, the naval command said. The shelling was reported to have been very effective, with some retaliatory fire from the island.

American warplanes continued a virtual non-stop battering of Italian outposts and returned to the assault on Sicily and Sardinia. Berlin and Moscow both reported heavy fighting in the Caucasus. The Russians said they had captured the town of Tbilisi and the Russians said the Germans were counter-attacking. The German command reported sharp Russian thrusts attempting to breach the lines at Velikaya North of Smolensk but claimed they were repulsed.

Tokyo today admitted a setback in fierce battles west of Tunting Lake where the Chinese have been fighting to defend the lake and the route to Chungking, but contended the operations were "successfully completed" with 36,500 Chinese killed or wounded against a loss of 475 men.

The Chinese reported the presence of a "new" type of tank.

Miller Reports Celery Farmers Have Good Year

The celery season in Florida now drawing to a close, has proved to be the most successful year in financial way ever recorded by shippers in the State, according to a summary recently compiled by C. B. Miller, U.S.D.A. reporter of the Food Distribution Administration, working in cooperation with the Florida State Marketing Bureau at the Sanford State Farmers Market.

At the start of the harvesting of the winter crop very high F.O.B. prices were realized, he stated, however, towards the end of December a sharp decline occurred, prices decreased and at the time the Market News Office opened on Jan. 4, 1943, 3-4 dozen sizes were selling $3.50 to $3.75 and 8 to 10 dozen sizes at $2.45 to $3.00. These prices dropped slightly during the month hitting a low of $3.00-$3.25 on 3-4 dozen, and $1.75-$2.05 on 6-10 sizes.

These prices continued about the same until the latter part of February when prices started rising, spiking up to $4.00-$4.75 for all sizes during March, then decreasing during the first two weeks in April to a F.O.B. low of $2.75 on all sizes.

At the start of harvesting of the spring crop, prices took a decided increase, Mr. Miller stated, due to better quality and light.

Allan Dafoe, Quins Doctor, Dies Suddenly

Physician Who Took Care Of Dionne Babies Gained Fame Throughout World

NORTH BAY, Ontario, June 2 (AP) Dr. Allan Roy Dafoe, former physician to the Dionne quadruplets, died today.

Dr. Allan Dafoe was an obscure country doctor in sparsely settled northern Ontario, Canada, until the Dionne babies were born in 1934. He sprang into fame overnight by bringing the Dionne quintuplets into the world.

Two years before he had worked along the frontier, unbothered and unbothered by ordinary babies to life, mending the torn bodies of mangled lumbermen, and fighting north country blizzards to minister the ailing of men, women and children.

At 1 o'clock in the morning of the day that the babies were born, he was awakened at his home in Colborne by a vigorous pounding on his front door. It was Olive Dafoe, the mother of the babies, who had disappeared. The doctor had attended Mrs. Dionne at the birth of three of her five precious children, and knew that the father was expected, but not so soon.

So he hurried to the humble Dionne home, where he found everything in confusion when the doctor had been summoned to attend to the babies. He found the babies already had been born prematurely and no arrangements for their advent had been made. The father disappeared, but the doctor was making up for his delay by hurrying for the new arrivals and building a fire.

He called up his sleeves and soon three other babies, crying freely, were born. The mother's recovery was rapid, but each of them separately. Youngs, Emile, Annette, Gerle and Marie, a Protestant, he frequently did the for Roman Catholic babies, who lives were in danger, using Latin form of the rite.

Constantly, it seemed as if tiny infants were about to be strangled, but the doctor, using whatever available remedies, old cotton sheeting and napkins, had them in a corner of the bed and covered them with a heated blanket.

Meanwhile, the mother appeared to be dying. After some days, they were all well, but the mother died. She was buried in the cemetery, but no one else was available, and made the trip to Corbett, nearly three miles away, in a record time in his automobile. When he returned with the babies, Mrs. Dionne had died.

In 1936 King George V of Great Britain appointed him member of the Order of the British Empire. He was made a life member of the Academy of Medicine, Toronto, the Ontario Medical Association and the Canadian Medical Association.

He spoke frequently on the radio during the early childhood of "my babies" but declined offers to enter the movies.

Two Macaws Given To Municipal Zoo

Two beautiful macaws were presented to the Sanford Municipal Zoo Friday by Mrs. M. J. Yount of the Yount Estate, De Land. Goldie, a handsome stream-lined blue and gold female macaw, according to Mrs. Yount, came from Cuba where it is esteemed a sacred bird and considered a token of good luck. Goldie will match up with Harold's Bill, blue and gold, already at the zoo. Bill came from Paraguay.

The other macaw is named Maud and is known as a Great Green macaw, and whose natural habitat ranges from Panama to Colombia in South America.

Mrs. Viola Ransom, who represented Mrs. Yount, when the macaws were given to the Sanford Zoo, stated that while these birds could not procreate, they could repeat certain words.

Presented with Goldie and Maud were also two large macaw crows. When Mrs. Yount decided to dispose of the macaws, before going north, Walter Lahrman, Secretary of the DeLand Chamber of Commerce, knowing of the Sanford Zoo, immediately telephoned Mayor Edward Higgins who gratefully accepted Goldie and Maud on behalf of the Sanford Zoo.

Miller Reports Celery Have Good Year

back holding in the 16 important markets. Prices started from $3.25-$3.00 P.O.B. for all sizes, and increased to as high as $7.50. These prices continued throughout the remainder of the season with the highest prices being realized on the smaller sizes. Last year at this time, the average, 3-4 doz. were selling at $3.00-$4.00 and other sizes, $2.00-$3.48.

Competition with California celery this year was reported as being very light, especially during the end of the season. This year harvesting began very early. It was reported, and during December 576 cars were shipped from Florida, as compared with 23 cars last year when harvesting began late.

Advance of celery was reported to have decreased, plantings this season being 8,700 acres as compared with 9,700 acres planted in the 1941-42 season. Slight increases were noted in the Palm Beach, Manatee, Alachua, and Orange county plantings, while in Seminole, the oldest and largest celery producing section of the State, showed a decrease of 870 acres the total being 4,020 acres. Sarasota county had a 60 acre decrease and Marion county a drop in acreage of 78 acres of celery.

This drop in acreage was reported to have been offset by very good yields. Golden Heart variety ranged from 400 to 700 crates per acre for the early or winter crop and Pascal yielded as high as 800 crates an acre. Quality was reported as generally good, with the exception of the last two weeks of harvesting, when considerable blackheart and pith affected the remainder of this crop and some fields were abandoned due to poor quality.

Yields for the Spring crop were exceptionally good, according to Mr. Miller, especially during the first month of harvesting, due to large sizes with most fields running heavy 2 1/4 to 3 1/4 bushels per acre. Golden Heart yielded from 400 to 800 crates per acre. Pascal celery yield as high as 1,000 crates per acre. During the latter part of May, prolonged rains curtailed quantities and quality decreased considerably due to ripeness and other defects, causing a great decline in yield.

On May 27 when the market news office closed, it was reported that 8,351 cars had been shipped by rail from the State, as compared with 5,794 cars at the same time last year. Seminole county shipments at that date totalled 4,300 cars. Minimum load this year was, however, 157 crates a car, due to war conditions which this year the usual number of crates per car was 328. Cars were billed to 247 cities in 40 States and District of Columbia, as compared to 1942 billings to 177 cities in 37 States. Many cars were sent to army camps.

Due to closing of the road guard stations in the State of Florida, no truck shipments were reported.

Dr. Belaunde, Pan-American Highway, Inc. speaker at the luncheon, he stated that it would be possible to motor south through Mexico to Panama by the middle of next year. At present the major capitals of South America are linked by highways, he stated, and when a road can be put through the jungles of Colombia to Panama, it will be possible to motor to South America.

He pointed out that it was a relatively short distance from Key West to the Yucatan peninsula, where a road to Panama could be easily built because of the flat land, and by ferrying over the water for short distances, motor cars could go from New York to Panama.

Visitors at the Kiwanis luncheon were J. C. Chase, who visited Peru 18 years ago, A. L. Wilson, John Evans and Hugh Whitehead, president-elect of the Key Club.

House Approves Compromise Bill On Pay-As-You-Go

House approved and Democrats opposed various versions of the Rural plan to ship an entire income tax year. The bill received the votes of 89 Democrats and 167 Republicans, while 99 Democrats, 115 Republicans and three minor party members opposed it.

The action was on a compromise, governing after legislative machinery had into a four-month statement on the Rural plan. Representative Kuntz (R., Minn.) described the compromise as "75 percent of the Rural plan."

What Bill Provides

The bill provides:

1. 100 percent abatement for each taxpayer owing up to $50 in taxes for the one year, 1942 or 1943, in which he had the smaller taxable income.
2. A flat $50 abatement for each person whose abatement year (1942 or 1943) tax bill is between $50 and $66.67.
3. An abatement of 71 percent for all persons with an abatement year bill over $66.67 with the remaining 29 percent to be paid half on March 11, 1944 and half on March 11, 1945, in addition to current taxes. Persons in the $50 to $66.67 classification also would pay off their small remaining debt in two such installments.

A segment of Democrats waged a bitter battle against the bill, but Representative Forand (R., N. C.) said this compromise is nothing but the Rural plan in new dress, and Representative Disney (D., Okla.) saying "this is sorry business."

In the one-hour debate, Chairman Doughton (D., N.C.) of the tax framing ways and means committee was one of the few Democrats to support the compromise, while Republican after Republican

Uncle Sam Invests New Numbers Game Which Is Sweeping Country

AP Features

NEW YORK—Uncle Sam has invented a new numbers game, and it's sweeping the country. If you ever wonder how postal clerks can memorize all the streets of a large city, so you received even that post card from Aunt Minnie addressed to "Montrose Street" when you really live on "Mongoose Avenue" Well, post office clerks in all large American cities will soon find their jobs immeasurably simplified under the "key" system of addressing that is being introduced by the post office department.

Senders of letters to those cities will be expected to include the correct postal district number along with the regular street address.

New York Plays It

Long used in Europe and Canada, the system has recently been started in New York City with successful results. Correctly addressed letters to this metropolitan area now include the name of the borough and the district number, as "Bronx, 63."

Previously, says Postmaster Albert Goldman, New York City mail sorters had to memorize an exact system of addressing. Twenty-five years ago the European plan was tried in Boston but failed. This time the innovation is nationwide and the experience of the largest American city indicates to postal authorities that it will not only succeed but become a permanent, and unopposed, part of letter-writing.

Your post office will tell you your numbers in Uncle Sam's new game.

When Outfielder Sam Rice played for Washington he always signed a blank contract and let Owner Clark Griffith write in the size of his salary.

Legislature Puts Thumbs Down On More New Taxes

accepted the other's bill. The cigarette tax, now awaiting Holland's signature to make it effective July 1, will replace pensions and county aid revenues lost in the appropriation of horse racing last winter. Companion measures appropriate $2,000,000 of the money for pensions and $1,500,000 for distributions among the counties—the same amounts each function received from horse racing taxes.

Position Fund Increases

Position fund increases were carried in appropriation bill passed by both the House and the Senate, but conference committee, seeking adjustment of disagreement over the bills eliminated them.

Flag One More Effort

Senate Sturgis of Ocala planned a final effort to raise more pension money with an attempt to have the Senate override its finance committee and place the insurance premium tax increase on the calendar. Chairman Collins of the committee will oppose it.

The legislature has passed and sent to Holland an increase of $2,400,000 a year in teacher salary funds from the state, but it didn't provide any specific revenue to meet it. It can be paid however, from existing school revenue sources if collections are sufficient.

School payment for the fiscal year now ending were $31,500,000 coming chiefly from the automobile licenses, gasoline taxes, and liquor and beer taxes, which turnover to the State's public school appropriation cleared the Legislature Monday, without specific revenue to pay it. Unanimously, the Senate passed the House-approved bill raising from $800 to $980 annually the State's payment for each teacher unit in the county school system. It now goes to Governor Holland.

Recently, the State completed payment of the $13,300,000 School Fund for the 1942-43 year the first time it has been paid on a current basis since the unit fund was established in 1927.

Most of the School revenue comes from automobile licenses, with other money from gasoline taxes, liquor taxes and minor sources.

If these revenues produce enough, the 1939 appropriation can be paid, but there has not been any surplus in these sources in the past.

The House knocked out a Senate-approved bill a $2,000,000 appropriation to establish the University of South Florida medical school.

A sales tax for old age pensions and operation of public schools in lieu of real estate taxes met sudden death in the House yesterday.

It backed up as a proposed constitutional amendment and it got knocked in the head with 52 to 28 adoption of a motion to strike out the resolving clause.

The Legislature moved to relieve the war-time labor shortage by permitting children as young as 14 years to work at agricultural pursuits.

Reporter Reveals Chinese Major As Genuine Soldier

SECOND ARMY MANEUVERS HEADQUARTERS, SOMEWHERE IN TENNESSEE, June 1 (Special) Finding Major Lin of the Chinese Army, in one of the rear areas of the Second Army Tennessee maneuvers was not easy because the Major had just been transferred from a regimental in a divisional staff...

"All American soldiers my friends" He then crunched under a tree and seemed very anxious to relate his impressions of the training his friends the American soldiers are receiving. "The weather has not always been nice like today," said the Major, "and I have seen plenty of hardships in these maneuvers which I admire because conditions are made just like they would be in a real war. Your soldiers, they take in any kind of conditions like veterans."

What, Major Lin was asked, had impressed him most in the maneuvers as a whole. The answer was quick. "The instance of our commanding officers upon complete coordination I mean in air forces and ground forces, for instance and in artillery and infantry. In modern war these things are not simply important, they are vital."

We must defeat all of our enemies, but of strategy calls for knocking them out one at a time well on it that way. "And it is vital to feel this the war must be finished in the enemy's country where we can make them feel what war is in they will not be tempted to bring it upon themselves again."

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

IF YOU LIVE HARMONIOUSLY WITH ONE ANOTHER, LOVE WILL BE A SONG. (1 PETER 4:9)

COWS LET OUT IN EARLY SPRING (From The Washington Post)

YOU never know where cows will go!

They seem to feel that freedom's won. All in a single dash.

They rock and reel, and center and run. Over the hummocks and down the hill.

Talk out stiff and legs thump far. In blithe, bewildered sort of war. To get away at any cost.

Even if they're forever lost!

They charge at the fence, they crash into the bushes, they rub and scramp.

They ally horns along the shingles. Of a shed; the belted cow jingles. And clanks and tinkles.

In wild disorder, captivity can't hold. They will escape!

And then the absurd, immense disorders fade; they grow afraid. Of freedom, and come back. Their brown eyes mild, their stiff tails slack.

Prepare For The Future

While reports of unprecedented profits among Seminole County farmers are undoubtedly exaggerated and much of their increased profits have gone to pay higher costs of production, greatly increased taxes and to make up for previously incurred losses, it certainly is true that our farmers are just now completing the most successful season in many years.

To say this is to admit that ever since the Wall Street crash, celery has been a drug on the market and that even with the advent of the New Deal and the industrial recovery which it brought our farmers learned that men on relief or working for the WPA do not buy celery and that plowing under every third row is not a profitable way of conducting agricultural operations.

Consequently until last year it was the custom for the average Seminole County farmer to lose money. Farms ran down through the financial inability to purchase adequate fertilizer, to make repairs both on farm buildings and machinery, debts were incurred and mortgages foreclosed, until practically every farmer in the county was heavily involved and many of the at one-time most successful and most substantial saw their farms foreclosed and their life's savings destroyed.

Those who are left to enjoy the better days we are having now and to anticipate those which should be ahead have staggering debts accumulated from ten years' losses, a pay back out of this year's profits. War taxes and income taxes have also been increased until they take up somewhere from six percent to 30 percent of all income not including city, county and state taxes.

But most farmers will still have something left from this year's crops and if they are wise they will get ready or next year and the years to come by improving the soil on their farms, by purchasing new farm equipment where priorities will allow them to do it, and repairing old equipment, and by improving the tenant houses for their farm labor so that when next year's crop is ready for planting they will have help to plant it.

Many of these tenant houses are in a deplorable condition. The farmers have not had the money to take care of them for many years. They are unpainted, without glass or screen windows, their roofs leak, and in some cases they have no floors. Farm labor is becoming increasingly difficult to obtain on account of the high wages paid in factory and shipbuilding areas. Such labor can be encouraged to remain on the farm by providing decent places in which to live.

Take some of the profits from this year's crops and plow it back into the farm. Repair your tenant houses, put screens in the windows, fix the roof, build new houses, paint them. Also improve your barns. Such improvements will help you on your income taxes. And your reward will be greater when next year's crops are ready.

Food Importance

Opinions vary as to the importance of that international food conference in Virginia. Obviously it has been badly handled, and even yet hardly anybody seems to know just what it is about and what it will accomplish. But such a gathering could be very useful.

There are few things today so important as food, and ways and means for providing it. The main question in most of the world is, "When do we eat?" The American people, who have solved this problem for themselves, are now engaged in trying to solve it for other nations and continents. And it isn't merely a matter of filling people's stomachs.

Tommy Atkins and his international brethren may think what they want is merely "bulk in their indies," when the problem of health and strength is largely one of vitamins and mineral salts. Food conferences accordingly take note of the most modern requirements for scientific nutrition, and the practical means of providing it.

Hereafter, if the war is won on all its fronts, international statesmanship may be as much concerned with this food question as it is with racial, geographical and military problems. With modern facilities the whole world could be decently fed, and must be, if civilization is to survive.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

By RUSSELL KAY

Unless an upset occurs in the final days of the 1943 legislative session we can chalk it up as one of the most successful tax-spenders' assemblies ever held. Legislators, with few exceptions, have found the lawmakers in a kind and generous mood.

True, one or two feeble attempts to economize have been made, but advocates have received little encouragement in their efforts. Appropriation committees worked diligently and recommended modest cuts, only to be crushed under an avalanche of bureaucratic and official pressure that not only restored such trimmings but added sums above and beyond original budget figures.

While tax-payers are too burdened and too busy to leave their homes and their work and attend committee hearings, office holders were on the job every minute from early 'till late.

Fee officers, including tax assessors, tax collectors, clerks of circuit court, county commissioners, judges and numerous municipal office holders, have been as busy as bees in the hotel lobbies, at the Capital, in committee rooms and everywhere else in an effort to put over pay bills at the taxpayer's expense. They have had little to worry about or a large majority in both houses have been built down here in the Fort Mellon Park where the local business man (and others) could take a dip during the lunch hour?

Up at Palatka they advertised free ball on opening day of the five stock market. They didn't say whether it was in the form of a sandwich or a flat-top.

INSIDE HITLER'S 'FORTRESS EUROPE'

Twenty Years Ago Today

Saturday Mrs. Hal Wight will entertain at a bridge luncheon at her home for members of the board of the Women's Club. Headline Florida Legislature, off for Another Two Years, closed up last night.

The Court House was filled with growers last night to take up the matter of discharge, ratification or further instruction of the organization committee. F. F. Dutton presided as chairman.

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY

Berlin Government aid for young folks who want to get married is part of Chancellor Hitler's plan of attack on the unemployment problem, details of which were disclosed yesterday.

The national public debt increased during May to $21,835,385,000 compared with $21,441,209,000 at the end of April and $19,036,010,000 on May 31 one year ago.

Members of the Seminole Chapter, Future Farmers of America, sponsored an entertainment at chapel services in Seminole High School yesterday morning.

They never see or hear from him; and until they do they are not apt to be any different than they have been.

On the other hand, they owe plenty to the tax-spenders and office holders. They know that commissioners, sheriffs, constables, clerks and all the other we generally term "the Court House or City Hall crowd" are the boys to tie to if you want to be re-elected or hope to advance in the politician arena. They are the boys that really get out and work for a fellow, they work like beavers.

Lawmakers, after all, are not much different from you or me. Most of them fit naturally in the category of "Regular Fellows". They are simply "John" or "Bill" or "Henry", sent to Tallahassee to play around for 90 days with a governmental backlash that has been created, aided and abetted by other Johns, Bills and Henrys, and under the circumstances it is really remarkable that they do as well as they do.

When the timid tax-payers arise to ask "Why?"—lawmakers and politicians start howling about the old folks, the crippled children, the under-privileged, the school teachers, the widows and orphans. But the record shows the money doesn't go for such noble purposes, or at least not until just about everybody and everything else has been "taken care of". As the Miami Herald puts it, "We gotta take care of us before we take care of you."

Don't get the silly idea that I am viewing the situation with any special degree of concern. I'm not. Nor am I attempting to criticize or find fault with this particular legislature. Again, I'm not.

To tell the truth, as legislators are, this is a very good one. If they have failed, so what? The same went down in 1937. It is not their fault. And a few of the same men are carrying on in 1943.

Prime Beef Brings $18 At Kissimmee

KISSIMMEE, June 2. (FNS)—Prime beef raised by the United States Slaughter Corporation at Clewiston brought near record prices at the livestock auction here last week when buyers sent prices skyrocketing with bids from $16.50 to $18 per hundred weight. All grade AA, the truck load of steers weighed between 850 and 1100 pounds each and were crosses of the white face and Angus stock.

Buyers estimated the fattened cattle would dress out at least 60 percent. Swift and Co., Turner & Coe of Orlando, and the Live! Meat Market paid top prices.

Other beef sales were fairly good, following a slump earlier in the week, while pork held its own. More than 600 head of livestock was put on the market, bringing in excess of $30,000 the growers.

Red Cross Has Many Problems On Army Duty

Over 1,400 Cases Are Handled in Month With Second Army

SECOND ARMY MANEUVER HEADQUARTERS, SOMEWHERE IN TENNESSEE, June 2. (Special) He deals in tragedy more than in humor, so it was a welcome break in the day of George C. Williams, field director of the American Red Cross in the maneuver area, when he picked up a telegram which read: "Stepfather is gone and well. Checking his files, he found the wire was in reply to his attempt to discover whether a soldier's stepfather was acting in place of his parents. Mr. Williams' telegram had read: 'Is stepfather in loco parentis?'"

This was only one of the 1153 cases which the maneuver staff of the Red Cross handled in April. Working on a 24-hour basis, it deals with innumerable emergencies which may occur in the field taking care of a soldier's dependents back home, financing emergency furloughs, finding doctors for soldiers' wives or mothers, and acting as a strong link between the soldier and home.

Of 1,000 telegrams Mr. Williams office received in April, 657 dealt with emergency furloughs. For before an emergency furlough is approved, the Red Cross chapter in the soldier's home town must certify that it is needed. A constant effort is made to impress upon soldiers that many hours, perhaps even a couple of days, will be saved if the local chapter is notified at the same time that Johnny Doughboy is wired "Methinks very ill. Come home at once."

A few lighter touches brighten the general story of misery and illness. One Negro soldier was granted a furlough to go home for the birth of a child. A day or so later the Red Cross received a telegram from him: "Wife has twins. Extension needed."

Another soldier telegraphed: "Wife and mother enjoying my company very much. Would like extension of furlough." He didn't get it.

Another soldier got a swift extension after the Red Cross had tracked him down in the field and then lent him $60 to reach his motherless baby when his wife died in childbirth. Two days later he asked an extension to obtain time to find a home for the child.

The Red Cross chapter in New York verified the need, his commanding officer in the field authorized the leave, and he was given ten additional days.

A typical problem involved the expectant wife of a soldier, who learned that the doctor was going to charge $175 and she didn't have that much. The husband sought the aid of the Red Cross. The local chapter was "on the spot" and the wife had the required medical aid at a saving of $100.

One difficulty which headquarters faces almost daily is finding out the real status of the soldier. For instance, one recent telegram read "Check wire Sgt. Jones quickly is on his way. Many thousands of soldiers and many Sgt. Jones participating in the maneuvers, finding the right one is a larger order. But the wire is from Four Corners, Mont., a former call to the Army's frontier system at Nashville, Tenn. that there is only one Sgt. Jones there. Meantime the Red Cross in the soldier's home has verified the need and Sgt. Jones quickly is on his way home.

Some thirty soldiers a week come to the maneuvers office seeking help. Perhaps a wife has received her allotment, but no money for rent or food. The Red Cross takes her over the temporary emergency and also arranges for the child, if possible, to effect a permanent cure.

In addition to the maneuver headquarters, each division has four Red Cross men attached. Unlike the soldiers, their work doesn't end with the conclusion of a tactical problem. Those who get back to maneuver headquarters are a muddy, tired but uncomplaining lot of men.

Camp Wewa Will Open For Scouts Sunday, June 27th

Illustrated bulletins announcing the 1942 summer program at Camp Wewa are being mailed this week to 1,500 Scouts and leaders of the Central Florida Council. The camp opens Sunday, June 27, and will include four one-week periods ending on July 25. All Scouts of the Central Florida Council are eligible to attend, and special invitation is extended to all troops to enroll as troop units with their Scoutmaster or other adult leader in charge of troop while it is in camp.

Timely emphasis is being made on physical fitness by the installation of an obstacle training course and the resumption of the usual swimming program to include competitive or silent type swimming.

In addition, all of the usual Scoutmaster activities will prevail which will include expert instruction in nature, handicraft, athletics, first aid, punning, camping, and other activities. The National Rifle Association is sponsoring a rifle work camp under the National Rifle Association Scoutmaster Program.

The camp will be directed by Paul H. Herlen, asst. executive, who will leave this weekend to take a special training school in camping offered by the Boy Scouts of America at Augusta, Ga. Harold V. Pace, Scout Executive, will handle matters of administration and supply. A competent staff, including troop leaders, will assist the camp leaders in carrying out their programs.

"Today, our division is heading for the front. We've worked for this a long time, while day and night our slicers have been keeping the long distance lines busy—making plans and arrangements.

"As a result, we're moving forward, according to plan" thanks to your help in keeping long distance telephone lines clear of unimportant calls.

"More and more urgent military messages are traveling over long distance lines, as men and supplies are ordered overseas. Home front planning and production also depend on the same telephone lines, which cannot be expanded due to material shortage. So you are definitely helping when you avoid making unnecessary long distance calls—especially to war centers."

PLEASE BE BRIEF: Materials needed to build new telephone lines are now going to war. So to serve the greatest number of people with the equipment we have, we need to make fewer calls and be brief on all calls.

Baseball Feeling Much Better; Manpower Shortage Not Likely

By DILLON GRAHAM
 AP Features Sports Editor
 NEW YORK, June 2.—With the major league pennant races almost one-fourth run, baseball observers aren't as apprehensive over this season's prospects as they were a few months ago. Then some were doubtful about attendance, transportation and manpower. After a shaky start, attributed to bad weather, the crowds generally have been satisfactory. Where a few thought the season might be shortened, fans now believe the full schedule possibly ending by July 4, most will be played.

Transportation problems have been of a minor nature. Perhaps there was trouble now and then getting busses around on time, the usual Pullman accommodations were not always available and players had to carry their own suitcases. Transportation troubles probably will increase. So far there has been no play-off shortage. Many players, including some of the standouts, stars, joined the military services during the off-season. But only a couple of dozen players counted on around March 1 are now out of the lineup. These are:

1. Now in military service—Infielder Tom Carey, Red Sox; First Baseman Johnny Mize, Catcher Hank Danning and Outfielder Ken Heintzelman, Infielder Jim Cullinane and Outfielder Cully Richard, Pirates; Outfielder Bob Patrick, Tigers; First Baseman Ed Levy, Yankees; Outfielder Mike McCormick, Reds; Outfielder Glenn McQuillen, Browns and Outfielder Frank Kell, White Sox.

2. In Farming or Defense Work—Outfielders Lou Finney, Red Sox; Pitcher Allen Gettel, Yankees; Outfielder Nanny Fernandez, Braves; Pitcher Aldon Wilkie, Pirates; Infielder Les Fleming, Indians; Pitcher Ross Bauser and Outfielder Eddie Stewart, Pirates; Pitcher Hal Manders, Tigers; Pitcher Fiddler McGee and Outfielder Ed Leiber, Giants; Outfielder Fabian Gaffke, Indians and

Outfielder Lloyd Waner, Dodgers; Pitcher Johnny Vander Meer of the Reds and Pitcher Lou Tost of the Braves expect to be inducted shortly. Pitcher Fritz Ostermuller of the Browns, Infielder Babe Dahlgren of the Phillies, Pitcher Orval Grove of the White Sox and Outfielder Pete Fox of the Red Sox have already had their preliminary physicals.

Others classified at last reports in IA include Pitchers Max Butcher, John Lanning, Jack Hallett and Harry Shuman and Outfielder Jim Russell, Pirates; Infielders Jim Waddell and Denny Murtaugh, Phillies; Infielder Vernon Stephens, Browns and Pitchers of the Cards. Some listed now as IA are single or married without children and expect to be reclassified IA shortly.

Since the large majority of the big leaguers are fathers they apparently will be available for some time yet. General Hershey has said that drafting of fathers probably will start in August. The season would have only six weeks to go then and some doubt that the calls will come so rapidly as to deplete the player ranks. Of course, there is the possibility that some contending team might be more heavily hit by calls than others and lose its pennant chance.

—It seems that the Yankees count on its foreigners, average players (38 plus) and its Class 4's for the full route. There are only a comparatively few men reported classified as 4F but a pretty competent line-up could be fielded from this group. Here's one:

First Base—Ray Sanders, Cards
 Second—Eddie Stanky, Cubs
 Third—George Kuroski, Cards
 Short—Whitely Wietelmann, Braves
 Center—Auggie Galan, Dodgers
 Right—Milt Byrnes, Browns
 Catcher—Red Barber, Senators
 Pitcher—Virgil Trucks, Tigers
 Detroit has three 4F pitchers—Trucks, Harold Newhouser and Frank Gomez. Others include Pitcher Les Newber and Infielder Leo Durocher, Dodgers; Outfielder Elmer Neeman, Braves; Pitcher John Niggeling, Browns; Infielder Frankie Gustine, Pirates; Pitcher Mike Naymick, Indians; Infielder Woody Williams, Reds and Pitcher Atley Donald and Shortstop George Stranowas, Yankees.

There's only a small group of players 3B or over, including Outfielder Al Simmons and Pitcher Mike Igoe (in June), Red Sox; Outfielder Earl Crabtree, Reds; Outfielders Johnny Cooney and Paul Waner and Pitchers Curt Davis and Fred Fitzsimmons, Dodgers; Pitcher Joe Heving, Indians; Pitcher John Niggeling, Browns; Catcher Earle Brucker, A's; Outfielder Doc Cramer, Tigers, and Pitcher Carl Hubbell, Giants.

Players from other countries not subject to the draft include Canadians Paul Sherry, Indians pitcher; Oscar Judd, Red Sox pitcher, and Frank Colman, Pirates outfielder; Cubans Nap Reyes, Giants infielder, Salvador Hernandez, Cubs catcher, and Roberto Estrella, A's outfielder; Mexican Jess Flores, A's pitcher, and Puerto Rican Hiram Bithorn, Cubs pitcher.
