Emergency March Of Dimes Drive Needs Our Help In Polio Fight

Polio has been on the march in Florida. The dread disease is so prominent in Broward county that an epidemic has been declared.

We have been fortunate in Seminole County, having had but one case of polio this season. This particular victim, a teacher at Lyman School, is showing good recovery.

This is a good time for those in this county to help other areas which have not been so fortunate.

Polio incidence is rising, according to Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. Services today are jeopardized by a crucial lack of funds, brought about by the heavy costs of the patients' care and the new, promising polio prevention program, O'Connor said.

There is an emergency March of Dimes drive underway to secure a needed $20 million. "This is the sum required to pay the high costs of continuing care for 67,000 patients stricken in earlier years and unknown numbers of victims of current record outbreaks. Simultaneously, the foundation must meet the cost of increasing the national supply of gamma globulin and financing the polio vaccine study," the president explained.

Foundation programs are at the point of no return, O'Connor says. "There can be no retreat except at unthinkable human sacrifice or postponement of polio prevention."

"Although the March of Dimes last January was the most successful in polio history," O'Connor continued, "it fell far short of the tightly budgeted needs for 1954. That is why we must now make an emergency appeal to the public."

Let's get behind the emergency drive—let's help fill this need.

Sioux Have Own Child Psychology

PINE RIDGE, S. D. (AP)—Progressive education may be a new idea to the white man, but it is old to the Sioux Indians.

And it is a matter of opinion whether it has worked out very well for either the student or the teacher.

Some modern parents today are afraid to curb their offspring for fear of giving them a lifelong complex.

As for the Sioux Indians, they apparently retained from childhood their children because they were kind-hearted, and because it was part of their creed to respect another person's right to be an individual.

"The Indian parent believed a child should be taught by example, not by coercion," a tribal leader said. "He felt that if he had taught the child the right way of life he had done his duty, and he was not to blame if the child chose to go wrong."

This attitude has delayed the education of the Sioux Indians. If an Indian child decides he doesn't want to go to school, authorities have a difficult time convincing the parents they should compel him to attend.

One doctor told of an Indian girl who was visited by her parents in a hospital where she was undergoing treatment for tuberculosis. Her mother, who had just returned from the hospital, said: "If you take her home she will be dead in three months," warned the doctor.

"But she wants to come home," said the father.

The girl went home in three months she was dead.

Valor played a great role in the creed of the old Sioux warriors of the plains.

"Today many young Indian men feel the only way they can prove their valor is to join the Army or to get a job with a cowboy," said an official on the Ogala Sioux Reservation here.

Some 500 Indians left the reservation to fight in the first World War, 2,000 in the second. They

Devil's Grip Causes Fever and Stomach Pain

By HERMAN H. ROSENBERG, M.D.

THE devil's grip is a weird but descriptive name for a disease due to a virus infection. It is also known less romantically as Bornholm disease, or epidemic myalgia. It usually occurs in late summer or early fall, in young adults or even more rarely in children.

As a rule, the patient has a more or less generalized infection, with an abrupt onset of severe, sudden, spasmodic pain above the navel on one or both sides. The pain is commonly aggravated by movement, especially by coughing or sneezing, and because of its severity, respiration or breathing is very shallow and rapid.

Fever is the rule at the onset of this disease, but it never reaches a high level and ordinarily subsides in two to four days. There is headache and muscular tenderness and swelling around the area of the disease. It may infect part of the lungs. The pain often radiates to the fever, and there is usually unsuccessful recovery in about one week.

There are occasionally complications, such as inflammation of the testicle, that accompany this disease. Many times it is mistaken for appendicitis or other abdominal diseases, or even for a heart attack.

There is no specific treatment for the devil's grip except to treat the symptoms and relieve the pain as much as possible.

QUESTION AND ANSWER
Mr. H. O.: What causes a fissure of the rectum?
Answer: A fissure is a crack in the area of the opening of the rectum to the outside. The most common causes are the passage of hard stools or sometimes infection. Too vigorous wiping of the opening may also be at fault.

PUSSYFOOT WANTS A CORN

Too Late To Classify

By RUSSELL KAY

Last week my good friend E. J. Calloway, ordained minister, lawyer, and one-time candidate for Governor of Florida, officially dedicated, or perhaps I should say rededicated, the "Garden of Eden."

Calloway has established a shrine near Bristol, Florida that he contends was the site of the original Garden of Eden. He addressed over 2,000 invitations in longhand to dignitaries including Acting Governor Charles J. Jones, former Governor Fuller Warren, gubernatorial nominee Collins Road, chairman, Cecil Webb, and many others, urging them to attend the ceremony.

The basis of Calloway's contention is Gopher wood. The Scriptures tell us that the Lord commanded Noah to construct an Ark of Gopher wood and since Calloway contends that there are only two places in the world where Gopher wood is found, Florida and Armenia, North Carolina, Kentucky, and Tennessee must contest this. It follows that Noah had to do his work here, for it is recorded that the Ark drifted for 150 days or so, and if it had been constructed in Armenia it would never have rested on Mt. Ararat. It had to start a lot farther away—so naturally it came from Florida, the only other place in the world where Gopher wood is found.

The exact location, according to Calloway, is a spot north of Bristol on the banks of the Apalachicola River. The original land of Eden, he contends, had the following boundaries: On the north by a line extending from the Atlantic Ocean westward along the fall line near Macon, Georgia to Montgomery, Alabama then down the Alabama River to the Gulf of Mexico; on the east by the Gulf of Mexico; on the south by the Ocklawaha River to its source and then to the head of the St. Mary's River and down the St. Mary's to the Ocean.

The Lord planted a Garden eastward in Eden" (Gen. 2:8). According to Calloway this Garden was actually located in the Apalachicola Valley between Bristol and Chattahoochee, Florida. North Georgia was known as Havilah; all of Florida, east of

McCarthy May Provide Fireworks

WASHINGTON, (AP)—First reaction to the news that Sen. McCarthy will be allowed to cross-examine witnesses in the new Senate investigation of him may have been: "How we go again?"

But it is too soon to say whether the new hearings, so charged of unbecoming official conduct against the Wisconsin Republican, will be a repetition of the recently finished Senate investigation into his fight with Army officials.

Sen. Watkins (R-Utah), chairman of the six-man Senate committee which will conduct these new hearings, they will start this 30. But his committee still has a lot of clarifying to do before the public knows what to expect.

The committee, appointed last week, has already laid down a few rules for its investigation, but not a full set of rules.

In the McCarthy-Army hearings, McCarthy was also given the privilege of cross-examining witnesses and he employed it in memorable fashion. Those hearings lasted for 36 days.

Because the seven Senators who handled that investigation laid down such loose rules, McCarthy could interrupt them and the proceedings repeatedly with "Point of order."

McCarthy, the dominant figure throughout those hearings, was able to create diversions, such as his call to government employees to provide him with secrets from the executive department.

One of the charges of misconduct against him now is that call.

Only this much is clear about the new hearings:

1. They will be open to the public and such as the press.
2. They will not be televised or broadcast on radio.
3. McCarthy may cross-examine witnesses.
4. Watkins said they will be conducted under a federal court trial.

But it isn't known yet who will really handle the hearings; Watkins and the five other senators on his committee or a special counsel to do the examining as Ray H. Jenkins, a Tennessee lawyer hired for the job did in the Army-McCarthy case.

Watkins said last night a chief counsel will be needed, plus a staff. But he was vague on just what role this counsel will play when the new hearings begin.

In the McCarthy-Army hearings McCarthy was allowed to cross-examine the Army witnesses. And they were allowed, through their special counsel Joseph N. Welch, to cross-examine McCarthy and his staff. In addition, Jenkins and the senators on that investigating committee cross-examined both sides.

But while Watkins said McCarthy will be permitted to cross-examine witnesses against him in this case, too, so far there is no indication a special committee intends to let witnesses against McCarthy cross-examine him or his witnesses.

Which brings up a main point:

My New York

By MEL HEIMER

Professor stood at Boston's Back Bay Station waiting for a friend. The train pulled in. Out stepped a white-faced gentleman with a lined face and wise blue eyes. He carried a book.

The professor and his friend exchanged greetings. Then the professor pointed to the book, asking: "Cyrus, what have you got there?"

It was a translation of classic plays by Pierre Corneille, 17th Century French dramatist. The visitor volunteered:

"I've had a wonderful time with this all the way from New York."

The professor guffawed.

"Cyrus if you were a member of the faculty, you'd have been in the club car playing bridge."

This visitor is one of the greatest paradoxes in America—Cyrus S. Eaton of Cleveland, Ohio. Eaton is master of an industrial empire worth well over a billion dollars and he's just starting a brand new career as a railroad boss.

Eaton looks, acts and talks like a college dean. His manner is gentle and courteous, a throwback to another age. But he's one of the lustiest empire-builders in America.

Business rivals find nothing soft or yielding in the tough-minded Eaton. He has made enemies as well as friends.

He has built and lost multi-million-dollar fortunes in utilities, coal, iron, steel, paint and shipping. At 70 he's going stronger than ever.

In January Eaton succeeded his friend Robert R. Young as board chairman of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway.

Until several years ago, Eaton was not widely known.

His feud with industrialist Henry J. Kaiser became a cause celebre and splashed Eaton's name and picture throughout the nation.

Eaton, as a principal in the Big Cleveland investment firm of Otis & Co., was a leading figure in the breach of contract suit brought in 1947 by Kaiser-Fraser against Otis when the latter withdrew from sponsoring a new K-F stock issue. Otis was in the courts. The squabble is still kicking around before the SEC.

One of Eaton's outstanding achievements of recent years is Sleep Rock Iron Mines Ltd. in Ontario, which opened one of the world's richest iron ore sources after spectacular feats of engineering. In his leisure, however, Eaton mines a far different ore—the rich veins of wisdom found in the world's greatest books.

"I find my recreation in reading and quietness, in the beauty of the out-of-doors and the country," he said.

His scholarly reputation has won him membership in the American Philosophical Assn. but he's far from the ordinary type.

At 70 he still rides horseback—and at a gallop. He skis, skates, plays tennis. He doesn't smoke or drink.

On outings, he chooses college presidents, authors and scholars as companions.

"I don't like to talk when I'm away from business," he said.

Just who—if any—will be witness against McCarthy? Watkins said last night he didn't know that either, that that's a problem to be ironed out.

Sen. Flinders (R-Vt.) had asked the Senate to ensure McCarthy that to be sure decided to set up a special committee to investigate charges against McCarthy and report back on whether censure was justified, with the understanding there could be no vote for or against censure until that report was made.

Flinders and Senators Fulbright (D-Ark) and Morse (Ind-Ore) made 48 charges against McCarthy for the special committee to examine.

But Watkins says nearby to censure will be admitted at the hearings and that he didn't expect Flinders, Fulbright or Morse to be called unless they had personal knowledge of the basis of the charges and could testify with supporting evidence, as in court.

Many, perhaps most, of these charges were based not on personal knowledge but on previous information, alleged or real, introduced in other Senate investigations of McCarthy or by him.

It still isn't settled how many of the charges will be investigated, either. The picture should be clearer before the hearings begin.

THE DENIES CLEMENCY
NEW YORK (AP)—President Eisenhower has denied clemency to Gerhard A. Puff, scheduled to be hanged Thursday in the Sing Sing electric chair for killing an FBI agent, U. S. Marshal Thomas J. Linn.

Puff was convicted of slaying Agent Joseph Brock. The killing occurred just before he was captured here in July 1952 in connection with a Kansas bank robbery.

Delicious Chicken Made To Order May Be Prepared Before Quarts Come

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

This chicken was made to order. A friend wrote to say that she was particularly fond of a recipe of hers that called for baking chicken quarters over a simple herb-seasoned dry bread crumb stuffing. She had used the recipe a good deal and so she asked "Do you have anything similar—but flavored differently?"

The recipe below is my answer: chicken quarters layered over a dressing that this time is made with buttery tidbits of fresh bread and flavored piquantly with lemon juice, parsley and pimento.

We like this dish for company because you can put it in the oven half an hour or so before dinner is to be served and forget about it. When everyone is ready to sit down, cut over the chicken tender as can be and a beautiful golden-brown atop its good dressing. So easy to serve, too, if you follow our directions for placing the chicken on aluminum foil. If you are having a party of eight, you will find this recipe is an easy one to double.

Since you will have your oven hot for the chicken, you might as well bake potatoes at the same time to serve with it. But if the potatoes are large ones, put them in the oven a little ahead of the chicken to make sure they get done. Corn on the cob and a salad of raw fresh vegetables will round out the main course, dessert might be a fruit shortcake. Or if you are in a take-it-easy mood, serve the chicken with just a hearty salad of lettuce, pineapple, and berry-topped cottage cheese, for dessert have a coffee gratin mold or a chocolate Bavarian cream to so not to repeat the fruit flavors of the salad. You can make the coffee or chocolate desserts in the morning, or even the night before and save yourself last-minute preparation.

CHICKEN ANITA

Ingredients: 1 quart tiny soft bread crumbs about 8 thin slices bread with crusts only, 1/2 cup chopped canned drained pimiento, 2 tablespoons minced parsley, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 5 tablespoons butter or margarine, 3 tablespoons lemon juice, 2 to 2 1/2 pounds (ready-to-cook weight) frying chicken (quarters), 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1 1/2 teaspoons butter (melted).

Method: Mix bread cubes with pimiento, parsley, 1 teaspoon salt, pepper, butter and 3 tablespoons lemon juice. Line a shallow baking pan with aluminum foil. Place 4 rounds of stuffing apart from each other on the foil, using about 1 cup in each round. Clean chicken; pat dry. Sprinkle inside of each piece of chicken lightly with salt; place one-quarter chicken over each mound of stuffing. Mix 1 tablespoon lemon juice and 1/2 teaspoon melted butter. Brush chicken with mixture. Bake (uncovered) in a hot (400 degrees) oven 30 to 40 minutes or until chicken is tender and golden-brown. Cut full into 4 pieces and serve chicken on foil, if desired. Or remove chicken and dressing from foil with large spatula. Makes 4 servings.

It is so very important to keep up health and cleanliness standards in hot weather, that parents must lay down a few rules. The chances for good health are better if everyone understands that the big difference between a swim and a bath is soap.

Personals Mr. Compson To Teach Dancing Tomorrow Night At Navy Center

Miss Mary Ann Michele and Miss Betty Strommen were the winners of the most decorative socks at the Sock Dance Friday night at the USO. The boys winning prizes for the loveliest socks were Tommy Sanders and Jim Darr.

Later in the evening punch and cake were served to those enjoying the dance by the senior hostesses, members of the Jewish Women's Club.

A successful beach party was held Sunday at New Smyrna Beach with approximately 30 persons attending. After eating supper at the beach, the group returned to the USO where a song fest was conducted with the singing being led by Valie Williams Jr. and Forrest Breckenridge playing the piano accompaniment.

Tomorrow evening from 8 till 11 o'clock William Compson will donate his services to give free dancing lessons to servicemen and junior hostesses at the Navy Center. Mr. Compson instructs dancing at the City Hall auditorium as a part of Sanford's summer recreation program.

An entertaining night is planned for Friday at the USO with a radio dance on the agenda. Senior hostesses will be members of the Post Club and junior hostesses for the event will be Miss Betty Michele and Miss Margaret Von Herbold.

Several Episcopal women will be senior hostesses Sunday evening at an ice cream social to be held at the Navy Center. Miss Mildred Ault will act as junior hostess.

A drive is underway to secure more junior hostesses. Interested girls may get application blanks at the Chamber of Commerce. For further information call Mrs. Gus Miller, 1227 R, general chairman of the USO. Mrs. Hallie Arnold is in charge of the junior hostesses.

Work Done By Baptist Missionaries Told At Meet Of Elsie Knight Circle

A program on Indonesia and the work that is being accomplished by Baptist missionaries there was presented at the meeting of the Elsie Knight Circle of the First Baptist Church at the home of Mrs. F. L. Dampter on Oak Avenue last night. Mrs. C. A. Anderson had charge of the program.

Mrs. Dampter presided over the "Talking Bible" which will be presented by the church to the County Home. Plans were completed for the meeting on Aug. 26 of the Federation of Business Women's Circles which will be held in the Educational Building of the church. The federation includes circles from Deland, New Smyrna, Daytona Beach and Sanford. Mrs. N. C. Stalder is chairman in charge of arrangements for the supper which will be served at 7 p. m. preceding the meeting which will begin at 7:30 o'clock.

Mrs. R. T. Hunt gave the devotion on "Obligations," stressing the importance of acknowledging little kindnesses shown us as well as the big ones. She also stressed the obligation to the church and its work. Mrs. Estelle Gilson, stewardship chairman, gave a talk on stewardship. Mrs. V. C. Hasty thanked the group for sending her daughter, Miss Gladys Hasty, to the Y. W. A. Camp near Tampa and Mrs. Hasty in the absence of her daughter, reported on the activities that took place at the camp.

Mrs. H. T. Hasty invited the circle to meet with her for the Sept. 10 meeting.

It was pointed out during the program, "The Challenge of Indonesia," that it is the sixth largest country in the world and there is only one island on which there is a mission station. This station located at Java, has only six couples and eight single persons there. The first Baptist Church was built in Bandung in 1952 and the country was uninhabited by Islam. It is a very interesting story of how the first missionaries came to the country and how they are working to bring the Christian message to the people.

"American tourists are interested in people. When they come to Iraq they want to know what is going on and want to understand the people. And the greatest dream of the Iraqis is to see at least know about—America."

Nearly Half Million Have Gout

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Nearly a half million Americans today suffer from an affliction which has been a target for jabs down the centuries.

The disease is gout. Or gouty arthritis.

It is a red-hot mixture of all the agonies sketched in Dante's Inferno.

The cause is unknown, almost as baffling to modern physicians as it was to Hippocrates, the "father of medicine" who prescribed burning flax near the afflicted joint 400 years before Christ.

There is no cure, but the end may be in sight. Government scientists, working with multi-million-dollar equipment at the huge National Institutes of Health at nearby Bethesda, Md., believe they may be on the pain toward discovering a preventive to stop gout before it gets started.

The cure not banking on the so-called miracle drugs—corticosteroids, benzamide and butazolidin—which merely control gout without curing it. Rather, they are hoping to short-circuit the chemical mechanism that produces gout.

Some exciting leads are being explored, says Dr. James B. Wyngaarden, a top expert on gout research at the institutes.

He cautions, however, that "overnight miracles" are not to be expected.

Mayo Clinic says "For centuries people have thought that gout is caused by 'rich living' but this is by no means the case. Even those who eat sparingly and never touch alcoholic drinks may develop the disease."

The Clinic describes it as a "systemic disease which causes a patient to suffer at times and again with attacks of pain, swelling and tenderness in a big toe, ankle, elbow or some other joint. This disease is associated with a defect in the chemical mechanism by which our body handles uric acid."

Doctors say gout results when an over-supply of purines—a chemical substance which appears in some foods—causes an excess of uric acid. When the kidneys fail to throw off the excess acid, it enters the blood stream and forms crystals of sodium urate which are deposited in the tissue of certain joints.

Outwardly, nothing happens as the crystals silently build up. There is no pain—until the trigger is pulled. Then comes the explosion—the grotesque swelling—the searing pain.

The trigger may come in the form of a stubbed toe, a scarcely noted jar of the knee or wrist or elbow.

Doctors point out, too, that although the exact cause of gout is unknown, attacks frequently develop after an over-indulgence of any kind—fatigue, excess eating or drinking, or exposure to cold weather.

For some reason, it generally hits hardest in the spring and fall. It usually strikes people in middle age, but there are recorded instances of the first acute attack developing as early as age 10 and as late as 90. Almost entirely a male affliction, it occurs from 45 to 50 times as often in men as women.

Gout is not contagious but it seems to run in families.

Patrice Munsel Compares Singing To Football Game

DALLAS (AP)—Singing opera "is like playing football" all afternoon and having to do all the running with the ball," says Patrice Munsel, slim, glamorous young soprano of the Metropolitan Opera.

And singing the title role in an operetta such as "Naughty Marietta" at the state fair musicals is "fun—like having a party in my living room."

But the vivacious Miss Munsel is not ready to do a Broadway musical show next winter. "Everything in opera depends on making the music perfect and beautiful," she explained to an interviewer. "It makes you do your best. That is why I like singing opera best of all. It gives me the feeling of greatest satisfaction."

"I am in love with Marietta. There is wonderful music to sing. I can be gay, sad and maybe a little wacky. There are beautiful clothes to wear. Two men chase Marietta and she gets her man. What more can a girl ask for?"

The Dallas show is her first appearance in operetta. "Do a Broadway musical?" Miss Munsel echoed the question. Her mood turned serious.

"I would love to do a musical comedy sometime," she said. "I thought about doing one this year. They brought me some beautiful music. But I feel I belong in opera. That is what I want to do."

There is also the curious question of weather. I should endanger my voice for opera by singing eight performances a week in a Broadway show. Most opera and concert people sing only two, three or four times a week."

In the most powerful atom smashers, atomic particles travel almost at the speed of light.
