Cut Eliminates Director's Job

County Pollution Control Budget Wiped Out

By ED PRICKETT
Herald Staff Writer

The Seminole County Commission, by cutting $34,584 from the 1975-76 budget, has eliminated the entire pollution control department in Seminole County.

The $34,584 reduction wiped out Pollution Control Officer Langley Adair's job, along with a biologist and a technician who worked under Adair.

Contacted today, a stunned Adair said he was "trying to determine" how much money was actually taken from his pollution control department. Asked if he planned to appeal the commission's decision at next Tuesday's session, Adair answered, "You better believe it. I would hope that the people of Seminole County would be up there with me, too."

Commissioner Mike Hattaway said the commission planned to combine pollution control with the utility department — placing Adair's responsibilities under Bill Dale, the director of environmental services.

"If there is a position, I'd be in favor of not turning him (Adair) out in the cold," Hattaway said. "If he qualifies, he'd be considered for some other position," Hattaway added.

Hattaway went on to say that Adair would have to seek a new job in Dale's department. If Dale's budget can afford Adair's $14,800 yearly salary, Hattaway indicated Adair could be placed.

Specifically, Hattaway said the commission "had in mind to reduce the budget in Seminole County."

Hattaway said private labs will be utilized to do some of the testing Adair had hoped to do in the county's laboratory.

"When they started talking about it, I thought they were just doing away with lab services. They said there would still be personnel to handle complaints and check on pollution. I didn't pay too much attention," Adair said.

A check with county officials today revealed only $2,500 is left in Adair's budget. Initially, he submitted an $80,000 request, but that was reduced to $34,584 — before Tuesday's budget cutting session. Dale said he wasn't sure what the future holds. He's still checking.

"Without a lab, it's hard to run a program," Dale said.

"The commission in its infinite wisdom cut the budget," Adair noted.

"They must think pollution in Seminole County is going to go away," said Adair.

Assistant State Attorney Bill Heffernan sought a court order to keep reporters out of the courtroom during Swartz' testimony on the grounds that Swartz a "barr" and saying of the use of his testimony, "If this is what the citizens of Seminole County want in law enforcement... this is what they're going to get."

He argued that law enforcement couldn't justify breaking laws to do what they'd done in the Troiano case because it goes against what's LAKE MARY — Disagreements between elected officials and the volunteer fire department, brought to a head by the resignation of Fire Chief Charles Smith were calmed at least temporarily by city council Wednesday night.

Adopted unanimously was a motion by Councilman Harry Terry to conduct a study into the possibility of reaching agreement between the city's fire department and the volunteer fire department.

The subject of criticism by colleagues for her leadership of the fire department, council member Virginia Mercer asked to be relieved of fire commissioner responsibilities.

Mayor Walter Swanson immediately granted Mercer's request, saying "I will either appoint a fire commissioner or assume the burden myself."

Council member Lillian Griffin accused Mrs. Mercer of "snooping" into the operation of other city departments and not taking care of her own.

Mrs. Griffin said Mrs. Mercer told the state fire marshal that the city was illegally using above ground tanks for gasoline storage. She said representatives of the fire marshal's office had gone onto her private property and was "snooping around my shop" without asking permission.

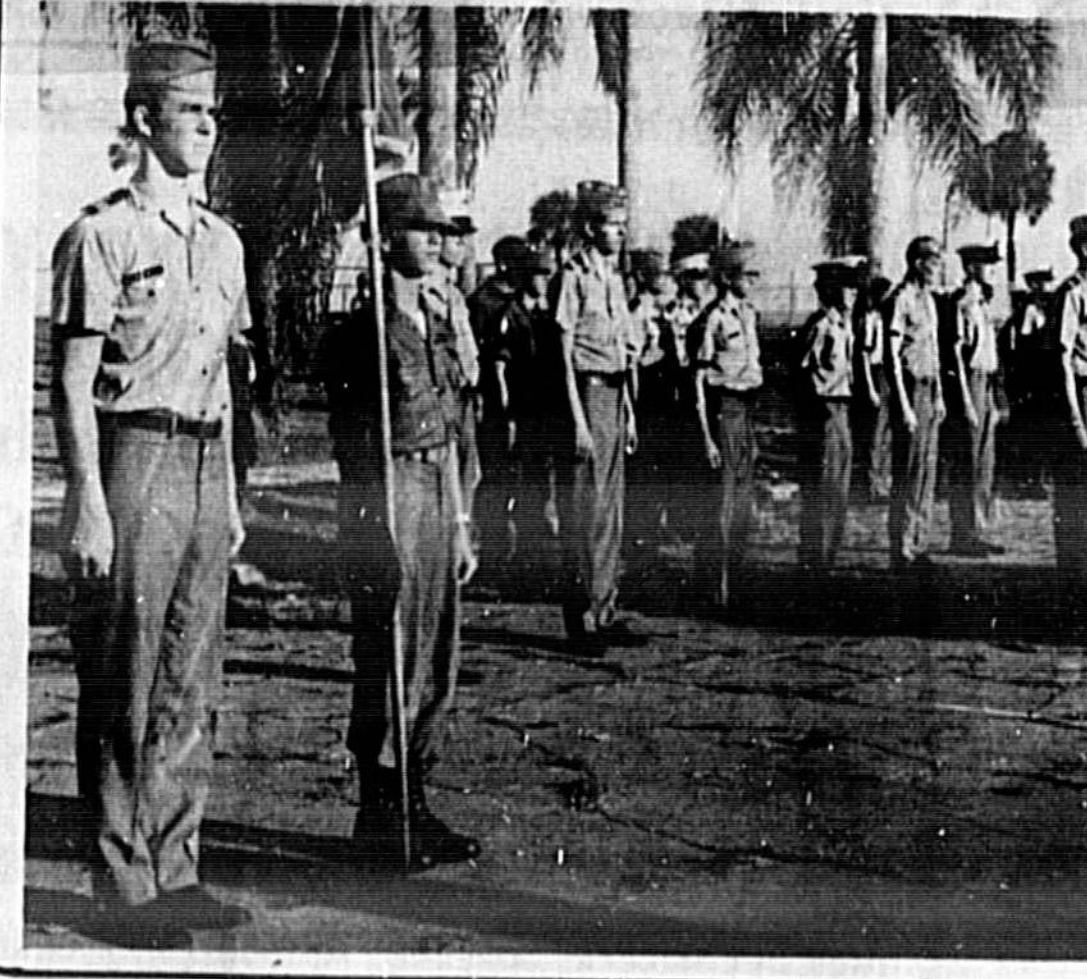

She said above ground gasoline storage tanks are located all over the state of Florida. The city will be given a 90-day emergency permit to give time to place the tanks underground, she said.

Mrs. Griffin said two oil companies have given use of

Kimbrough Backs Move To Create Legal Department, Abolish Post

Seminole County Commissioner John Kimbrough has proposed creation of a county legal department — a move officials say would eliminate County Attorney Tom Freeman's post and save taxpayers an estimated $85,000 yearly.

Kimbrough raised the question at a budget slashing session Tuesday, but his proposal was ignored by the commission. It was the second time the matter has been brought to the attention of commissioners.

Commissioner Dick Williams first suggested hiring two attorneys to staff the new legal department — one for $40,000 a year and a second lawyer for about $15,000.

Freeman, Williams said, earns $20 an hour for the first 100 hours and $25 an hour for any hours above that. Also, Freeman recently had rates for jail-related litigation upped to $45 per hour.

In total, $85,000 is budgeted to pay the county attorney next year.

Kimbrough said commissioners were "fooling" themselves if they thought they could cut costs by reducing the amount of money budgeted for Freeman's fees.

"Logically," Kimbrough said, "you've got to go to a county legal department. You have to create your own department."

Kimbrough's comments came after Commissioner Mike Hattaway suggested cutting $10,000 from the amount budgeted for county attorney fees.

Also suggested by Hattaway was a cut of $25,000 from money budgeted for an attorney to handle labor negotiations.

The labor attorney earns upwards of $100 per hour, and $100,000 has been budgeted for his pay.

Williams says creation of a county legal department would eliminate the need both for Freeman and for the labor attorney — resulting in a net savings to taxpayers of $85,000 yearly.

"It would save a bundle. It would eliminate politics from the county attorney's position," Williams said when he first suggested a legal department on Aug. 25.

Kimbrough said Tuesday professional studies show the cutoff point for paying a county attorney is $70,000 a year. After that, he said professionals say it's cheaper for a county to hire its own legal staff.

Officials say the chief attorney in the new department would function much the same as a department head. Officials

Guilty Of Accepting Bribe Auto Inspector Convicted

By BOB LLOYD
Herald Staff Writer

A suspended county motor vehicle inspector was in jail today pending a presentence investigation following his conviction Wednesday of taking a $5 bribe to issue a state auto safety inspection sticker for an auto with faulty equipment owned by Sheriff John Polk's secretary.

A two-woman, four-man circuit court jury deliberated nearly two hours at the end of the two-day trial before Circuit Judge Robert B. McGregor before returning the verdict that Anthony C. Troiano, of Orlando, was guilty of accepting unauthorized compensation as a county employee.

Maximum sentence on the conviction is five years in prison.

Defense attorney George Sprinkel said immediately that the conviction will be appealed.

McGregor ordered Troiano, the 45-year-old father of two small children, held in jail but indicated bond will be considered once the appeal is filed.

Troiano, who admitted two prior criminal convictions, testified that he had never accepted a bribe to pass a car at the Casselberry MVI station on July 10 when Jerry Swartz, a former Fern Park auto dealer now serving a prison term for uttering a forgery of the Seminole tax collector's name on an alleged lien receipt, and Miss Parker testified they took the defective auto through the inspection line.

Troiano said the inspector's number on the inspection certificate was another man's but state witnesses said the forms had been pre-numbered earlier at the start of the work day.

Miss Parker and Swartz, an admitted law enforcement informant with four felony convictions, including a federal conviction for shipping firearms to Israel, testified that Swartz had a folded up five-dollar-bill in the palm of his hand when he shook hands with Troiano during the inspection procedure.

They said Troiano mentioned that the auto had bad tires, but the defendant said he didn't remember making such a statement on July 10.

Miss Parker testified that her car had failed to pass safety inspection in late February or early March and that she had driven the car until July 9 when, in assisting detective Jim Jones, she had the auto inspected at Sanford and it again failed because of a faulty steering mechanism and tires.

Swartz, who said he had met previously with Jones, FBI, Secret Service and state atorney's agents at a motel to discuss various criminal activities in central Florida, said he placed a magnetic dealer's license tag on Miss Parker's car, and used a false title registration slip showing the car was owned by his Fern Park Motors, getting the auto inspected.

Swartz, under oath, admitted he had bribed a former MVI inspector "maybe three or four months before" to issue inspection stickers for faulty cars. The man named by Swartz is no longer with the county MVI department and hasn't been arrested.

In other testimony, not heard by the jury, Swartz has said that he had paid $5 a car to get "maybe a dozen" cars passed with faulty equipment. He said the bribe "payoffs" were made at locations other than the Casselberry MVI station.

At the start of the trial

Assistant State Attorney Bill Heffernan sought a court order to keep reporters out of the courtroom during Swartz' testimony on the grounds that Swartz a "barr" and saying of the use of his testimony, "If this is what the citizens of Seminole County want in law enforcement... this is what they're going to get."

Ninth Jail Fire Suit Seeks $500,000 In Damages

Seminole County Sheriff John Polk and an insurance company have been named defendants in the ninth lawsuit filed in circuit court in connection with the June 9 county jail fire that killed 11 men.

Casselberry attorney Wilfred Corrad filed a half-million-dollar damage suit Wednesday on behalf of Terry Lee Seyk, one of the 63 inmates in the jail at the time of the fire.

Seyk is seeking the damages for alleged pain, medical expenses, physical handicap and impairment of working ability that he alleges resulted from negligence by the county and Polk.

The civil action, assigned to Circuit Judge Volie Williams for trial, charges the county and Polk breached their duties in failing to take reasonable precautions to protect the health and safety of Seyk in the jail.

The suit cites 23 points of alleged negligence ranging from failure to maintain the jail in a safe condition and having an inadequate number of properly constructed fire escape routes to failure to install a master lock system on cells to failure to have a fire warning system in the second-floor jail, providing a juvenile prisoner with cigarettes and matches contrary to state law, and failure to repair the lock on the juvenile's cell and having him access to flammable mat-terials stacked outside the cell. The suit also alleges failure to equip the jail with proper ventilation systems.

officials said originated outside his cell.

Ford Takes Reins On Campaign Swing

KEENE, N.H. (AP) — President Ford is taking over from Ronald Reagan on a Republican campaign mission that could be an audition for a New Hampshire presidential primary contest between them next year.

Ford's performance today and Reagan's Wednesday are in behalf of Louis C. Wyman, the GOP candidate in next Tuesday's special Senate election.

But in less than seven months, New Hampshire will have another election, the first presidential primary in the 1976 campaign. Reagan, flirting with candidacy, said he considers that lead-off presidential primary a must for any Republican candidate next year.

Ford mapped a 120-mile campaign route across southern New Hampshire in his day-long bid to help turn out voters for Wyman, an old House colleague. The Ford route covered 13 communities, from Keene in the west to Portsmouth on the seacoast.

Clemency Program Turning Sour

The clemency program offered by the U.S. government to draft dodgers and deserters from the Vietnam war period did not sit well with many Americans to begin with. It provided the substitute of a work assignment as an alternative to prosecution and a potential jail term for men who had violated laws that the vast majority had obeyed.

Now the clemency program has gone even more sour. The Defense Department and Selective Service System report that two-thirds of the 4,500 deserters who came forth to take advantage of it have either dropped out, been terminated for lack of cooperation, or never reported at all for the jobs to which they were assigned. Since they were given military discharges as part of the government's end of the deal, they are no longer subject to prosecution for desertion.

The rationale for the clemency program was that deserters could satisfy an obligation to their country by a means other than the military service which they refused to perform. The flaw now evident is that many men who felt no obligation to fulfill their military duty also feel no compunction about turning their backs on this new obligation. It becomes obvious that many of these deserters did not go over the hill because they objected to the Vietnam war but because they do not share with other Americans a sense of responsibility as citizens. To them, the concept of clemency means nothing at all.

Laos In Limbo

The proclamation of a new Communist government in Laos comes as an anticlimax. Since the fall of Cambodia and South Vietnam in April, life expectancy diminished for the coalition government set up in Laos under the 1973 truce between the royal Laotian government and the Communist Pathet Lao. It was only a matter of time — four months, it turned out — before the Pathet Lao had systematically squelched the resistance.

The fall of this third "domino" in Indochina creates more sadness than alarm in the outside world. The three-million people of Laos often seemed oblivious to the contest of ideologies which led to a generation of warfare in their landlocked old kingdom. It is now their fate to become part of a new order in Southeast Asia with reins of authority running back to Hanoi.

The U.S. mission in Laos had been scaled back this summer in anticipation of the inevitable. The only question now is whether there will be any basis for the continued presence of Americans there at all. While the anti-American feeling of the Pathet Lao is clear enough, the conquering Communists have hinted they would be pleased to see a continuation of U.S. economic aid for the country.

It is in neighboring Thailand, its northeast frontier bordering Laos already a battleground of insurgency, where this development takes an ominous tone. Is the game of dominoes over? Or just beginning?

Bay City Copout
Mayor Joseph Alioto is leaning on an obscure passage in the San Francisco city charter to justify his "emergency" action of giving in to the wage demands of striking policemen and firemen. He has found a cloak of legality for a settlement which seems to give the police force and fire department a key to the city treasury.

The fire and police chiefs in San Francisco will now be paid more than the governor of California. While the pay of the average patrolman and fireman will rise to $11,816, it will cost $29,540 to keep each one on the payroll when pension contributions and other fringe benefits are figured in. The impact on the pay structure for other city employees is yet to be felt.

San Francisco's Board of Supervisors is hoping mad, having rejected the settlement when its impact on present and future city budgets became clear. The mayor is being accused of seizing power like a "dictator." This is bad enough, but even worse is the fact that striking policemen and firemen beat the mayor to their moral obligation to the public and a judge's order declaring their strike illegal. It used to be the police who insisted that crime doesn't pay.

And it was Mayor Alioto who warned a mayor's conference in the East recently that the financial crisis which has brought New York City to its knees could be repeated in other American cities.

BERRY'S WORLD
The men-at-arms have whined away all this idle time, sometimes usefully, more often wastefully, conducting paper wars, madcap maneuvers and other insane projects.

With the close of the Vietnam War, the troops once again are at loose ends. The fighting men have no one to fight, the bombers no place to bomb, the missiles no targets to miss. From our Pentagon notebook, here are a few episodes from this millennial military world:

The military auditors have discovered, here and there, some loose cash which must be spent, of course, because congressional critics get the idea that the defense budget is too fat.

On the shores of Wakeiki, they are diverting PX profits into a fabulous $30 million military "resort." It will be called "Hale Koa" which, in the Hawaiian tongue, means "House of Warriors."

Meanwhile, the admirals, eager to do their part, have issued contracts to "study the drinking practices of Navy personnel" and to effect "the roundup and removal of approximately 5,000 federal goats and approximately 800 federal pigs" from San Clemente Island off the California coast. From the last contract, happily, the Navy is recovering $1.50 for each pig and goat that can be corralled.

The Clock

Hey boys, want to go on a free overnight camp? Maybe you'd even like to bring dad along to a big two-day outing at Camp La-No-Che, located in Paisley.

The St. Johns District of the Boy Scouts of America are planning just such a weekend, Sept. 27-28, and the special camping experience is for all boys from 10 to 18 years of age.

The entire outing is designed to acquaint youngsters with scouting, but by no means will anyone be pressured into joining a troop nor do you have to be a current member of any scout organization to enjoy the campout.

District Scout Executive David Davies informs us that boys and their fathers can join in the fun absolutely free.

All hands will check in at 9:30 a.m. on Saturday the 27th and action begins almost immediately after the check-in period is complete.

Some of that action includes canoeing, archery, swimming, fishing, boating, hiking and target practice with .22 rifles as well as scouting skills.

Saturday night's activities include a campfire get-together, following the dinner hour, which is open to the entire family.

Sunday's events include breakfast and worship services followed by a 10 a.m. check-out.

Boys wishing to attend this shining are requested to bring along sleeping gear, toothbrush, towel, soap, jacket, swim suit and a change of clothes. Beds, shelter and food will be furnished and the trading post will be open to all hands.

Meetings informing everyone of the campout will be held in various Seminole County schools in the very near future.

Anyone interested in further details on the campout may contact Davies at (904) 788-2857.

Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama will be the guest speaker at the Orange Juice Club of the Orlando Chamber of Commerce meeting Tuesday, Sept. 16, at Howard Johnson's Downtown, 14 and Colonial Drive.

The Orange Juice Club will hold the meeting at 12:15 p.m. rather than the usual early morning gathering.

Gov. Wallace, a possible presidential candidate, will be in the area for the Southern Governor's Conference Sept. 12-17 at Disney World and graciously accepted the invitation to speak to the area businessmen.

The Sanfordites taking part in the course are Walter Scudder, Bonnie Coombs and Cleo Coombs. The program will include many subjects not covered in regular training sessions offered by the Central Florida Council.

Approximately 250 men and women are expected to attend as students.

Registration begins at 8 a.m. on the 20th. Valencia Community College is located on Kirkman Road, west of Orlando and south of SR50. All adult scout leaders are invited to attend.

Program Chairman Bob Blackford has invited the public to this special gathering.

Metal Crunch Predicted In 25 Years

Several past Congresses and administrations knew the energy crisis was coming but refused to face it. Now congressmen and President Ford's men run in circles, blaming each other.

Meanwhile, another crisis looms — in 31 basic metals, ores and the like, at least half of which are essential for U.S. defense and all critical to our economy.

Included are aluminum, copper, platinum, tin, uranium, chromium, cobalt, graphite, antimony, asbestos, lead, magnesium and mercury, mica, gold, nickel and industrial diamonds.

The critical deficiencies are 25 years or more, which probably means Congress and the next several administrations will bury their heads in the sand for another quarter century.

All these commodities are expected to be so costly and in such short supply by the year 2000 A.D. that the economy of the United States could be caught in a much tighter bind than when hit by the jump in oil prices and the boycott.

As supplies run short, mineral-rich producing lands will be able to raise prices to what the traffic will bear.

It is therefore essential we begin now to develop alternate sources. Self-sufficiency is not realistic, rather sufficient production or potential to insure that a combination of cartels in the year 2001 doesn't force us to the wall.

Alternate sources most certainly exist for all of these critical commodities. A new survey of existing knowledge, conducted under the auspices of the National Academy of Sciences, outlines what's already been discovered and estimated on our continental shelf and in the deep seas.

Example: "Copper resources in manganese nodules on the floors of the deep seas are apparently as large as developed reserves in conventional deposits on land."

In many deposits these nodules contain high grade, ore-quality manganese, copper, cobalt and nickel.

The development of the technology for this type of mining is considered well in hand. The initial capital requirements, however, are very high.

Example: The outer continental shelf of the Bering Sea shows a promising potential for mining hard minerals — including placer deposits of gold, platinum, tin, tungsten ore, rare earths and titanium ore. Likely locale deposits include barite, copper, lead, zinc and molybdenum. Chemical precipitates of uranium-bearing minerals are probable.

Example: The outer continental shelf off northern California and Oregon is known to have the most varied placer deposits of gold and other heavy metals.

Example: Great lakes beds within the U.S. are known to have manganese and copper ore deposits.

JACK ANDERSON
Pentagon Continues Its War On Thrift

In the nation's 200-year history, there have been nine major conflicts, which lasted a grand total of 40 years. Ergo, our military establishment has spent 160 years doing little except preparing for the next war.

The men-at-arms have whined away all this idle time, sometimes usefully, more often wastefully, conducting paper wars, madcap maneuvers and other insane projects.

With the close of the Vietnam War, the troops once again are at loose ends. The fighting men have no one to fight, the bombers no place to bomb, the missiles no targets to miss. From our Pentagon notebook, here are a few episodes from this millennial military world:

The military auditors have discovered, here and there, some loose cash which must be spent, of course, because congressional critics get the idea that the defense budget is too fat.

On the shores of Wakeiki, they are diverting PX profits into a fabulous $30 million military "resort." It will be called "Hale Koa" which, in the Hawaiian tongue, means "House of Warriors."

Meanwhile, the admirals, eager to do their part, have issued contracts to "study the drinking practices of Navy personnel" and to effect "the roundup and removal of approximately 5,000 federal goats and approximately 800 federal pigs" from San Clemente Island off the California coast. From the last contract, happily, the Navy is recovering $1.50 for each pig and goat that can be corralled.

— Within the Pentagon, a house organ called the Pentagon News gave lavish coverage to the appointment of Martin R. Hoffmann as chief new army secretary. But there was one horrible slip: Hoffmann's name was misspelled throughout the story.

This unparadiseable blooper caused the greatest stir since My Lai in the Pentagon's third-floor, outer "E" ring, which the top Army brass inhabit. They called urgent instructions to information officers around the world.

"In the interest of professionalism," sternly stated the Army cable, "we pass to you that review of some post and unit newspapers . . . indicates a need for us all to be aware of the proper spelling of the name of the new Army Secretary . . ."

"Please note that Secretary Hoffmann spells his name with two (f) 's' and two (i) 's'. His complete name is Martin R. Hoffmann, repeat, Hoffmann."

— Aboard the aircraft carrier Saratoga, two crewmen apparently became bored with the peace that had settled over the warship and sought to enliven the routine. The story can best be told by quoting from the formal charges, which were filed against them. Airman Apprentice Terrence Patrick McKee and Aviation Boatswain's Mate Mark Edward Keyler "deliberately destroyed" federal property "by driving an Aircraft Towing Vehicle with a Jet Engine Starter Unit off the stern of the USS Saratoga."

The wayward machine plunged through "the flight stern safety net" and settled on the bottom of Mayport Basin. It took a team of divers to retrieve it.

Oh yes, the sailors were also accused of setting fire to "an air conditioning vent . . . of a minimal value."

— Despite the prevailing peace, the Pentagon people are keenly aware of the enemy around them. Certain computer technicians, for example, handle classified computer cards — those perforated little cardboard pieces, with the tiny rectangular holes.

The office windows, where these computer men are always covered with heavy, ominous drapes. Presumably, this is to prevent some Russian with a telescope from peering at the classified holes.

— At MacDill Air Force Base, Fla., Lt. Gen. Winton Marshall keeps a traffic light in his office. He has used it, according to our sources, to forewarn subordinates of the state of his temperament.

"When green is lit, you are talking his language," explained one underling. "Yellow means you are on soft ground, and when he turns on the red light, watch out!"

The general told us the traffic light was a gag gift, which he occasionally "piddles" with. But he insisted that he doesn't use it to register his moods.

— A military contract, like a snowball rolling downhill, tends to grow and grow. Last year, for example, a few decorative tiles fell from the dome ceiling of the National War College at Ft. McNair here in Washington.

The Army brass took one look at the deteriorating dome and proclaimed it to be a catastrophic safety hazard . . . beyond the in-house capability of the Army to repair. Accordingly, a $65,000 contract was awarded to Universal Restoration, Incorporated, to stop the tiles from tumbling.

By August, it was determined that the tiles also were in need of cleaning, an operation that would require "brushing and simultaneous vacuuming." So the contract was expanded to $250,000.

In December, the figure climbed to $300,000. Twenty days later, it jumped to $640,000. During an active four-day stretch in March, the contract soared dizzily to $1,964,000. Universal's additional duties now included testing the tiles by "tapping lightly with wooden mallets" and "tapping lightly with wood sounding file."

This prodigious flow of money to Universal was not enough, apparently, to prevent its payroll checks from bouncing. The Army had to cough up an emergency payment of $35,000 to our questions and then said he would not give us "any more information about this company."

The FBI and the General Accounting Office, meanwhile, have also started to ask questions.

DON OAKLEY
Spain Eyeing Revolution In Portugal

No one is watching the unfolding events in Portugal more closely than that country's Iberian neighbor, Spain.

The two countries have more in common than their geographical proximity on the same peninsula. Portugal was tightly ruled for 49 years, from 1926 to 1976, by rightist dictator Antonio Salazar. Spain has been similarly ruled since 1936 by Gen. Francisco Franco.

What has been happening to Portugal since the overthrow of the successor regime to Salazar by Gen. Antonio de Spina in April, 1974, and the subsequent ouster of Spina by Marxists and Communists in the Portuguese military, has "had a dramatic impact on the Spanish government, which realizes that its day of reckoning is close at hand," writes James Roberts in the conservative weekly Human Events.

Franco is 84. He suffered a stroke last year. It is given that he cannot cling to power much longer. When he dies, Spain will enter an uneasy transition period in all likelihood will lead either to some form of limited democratic government or to a Communist dominated state in the style of Portugal.

Thoughtful leaders in the Spanish government are well aware of the dangers that confront them. Many prominent Spaniards, says Roberts, believe that it would be better for Franco to resign now and many of his intimates are pressuring him to do so, without much success. In the face of this intransigence, they are proceeding on their own with plans for a post-Franco government.

Prince Juan Carlos is known to be one of those who realize Spain must move to a more democratic government. Prime Minister Carlos Arias Navarro has stated his belief in "controlled democracy."

But given the Spanish people's lack of experience with the democratic process and the certainty that the Communists will attempt to exacerbate the stresses within Spanish society — the Basque independence movement is one example — there may not be enough time after Franco goes for a slow, gradual shift to a constitutional monarchy with self-government beginning at the local level and working up to the national level, as these leaders plan.

It is far from a foregone conclusion that Spain must go the way of Portugal. The economy is thriving, the armed forces are relatively free of leftist influence and the country appears far more resilient and better able to adapt to change than was Portugal. Above all, notes Roberts, the Spanish have Portugal's example to illuminate many of the pitfalls that lie in Spain's way.

Commission Rapped
In a recent newspaper item it was noted that the Seminole County Commission voted to transfer approximately $1-million from a Seminole County bank to an Orange County bank, neither bank allowed to pay interest on these CETA funds.

Pursuant to the commissioners' campaign rhetoric and on the premise that if elected, they would exercise their best efforts and influence for the interest and benefit of Seminole County. How would the transfer of this fund benefit the citizens of Seminole County?

The news item stated that one commissioner was quoted as saying that the transfer would mean more interest on the money but later found out that no interest was allowable on this fund. Does this mean that a commissioner casts his vote not knowing or caring the meaning and ramifications of the motion but asked questions later concerning the intent?

Sadat Killing Attempt Report Called Untrue By Spokesman

By The Associated Press
An Egyptian spokesman says a Palestinian report of an attempt to assassinate President Anwar Sadat is "untrue, a lie and rubbish."

The Voice of Palestine in Baghdad, which the Cairo spokesman described as unreliable, claimed gunmen opened fire on Sadat in the garden of the summer presidential palace in Alexandria a few hours after the signing of the new Egyptian-Israeli agreement.

American officials in Washington also discounted the report and described the Baghdad source as "very unreliable."

Moslem Opposition Grows
BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Moslem opposition today threatened the Lebanese government's plans to use the army as a buffer between warring Christians and Moslems in northern Lebanon.

The government named a new army commander Wednesday in an attempt to appease the Moslems and announced the army would establish buffer zones between Moslem-dominated Tripoli, Lebanon's second largest city, and the Christian hill town of Zahgharta, five miles to the east.

The leftist-Moslem political leadership in Tripoli said it rejected "the formula advanced by the cabinet."

Picks Up Qualifying Papers
By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer
ALTA MONTA SPRINGS — CAPT. DAVID GUNTER, a member of the city's police department for the past 4 1/2 years, picked up election qualifying papers this week and is now "in the hot seat," he said today.
"Someone saw me picking up qualifying papers," Gunter said, adding he has not definitely made up his mind whether to seek the office of mayor in the city's November election.
"I'm researching the law. I think everyone should have the right to run for public office," Gunter said. "But I've been told by Mayor Norman Floyd I'll be a candidate I must either resign from the police department or take a leave of absence. I'm in a very, very hot seat."
"I'm a working man. I can't afford to take off work until after the November election," he said.
Gunter said he contacted state elections division director Dot Gilson about the matter and can not find any law or city regulation backing Floyd's contention.
Gunter said he has discussed the possibility of his candidacy with both ex-mayor Lawrence Swofford and Floyd. The police captain said both told him he would run third in a three-man race for the chief executive's office.
Swofford announced his candidacy for election to the mayor's office early this week and Floyd announced his intent to seek re-election to the chief executive's spot last week.
Swofford held the mayor's office for 20 years, 12 years consecutively, before his defeat by Floyd, a former city police officer and retired Army major, in December, 1973.
"I think I could do one heck of a job for the city, but I'm really interested in running for sheriff next year," Gunter said.
Gunter, who was president of the Spring Oaks Homeowners Association during the 1973 election, said today the association was involved in the Swofford-Floyd race. He would not say whether he had supported Floyd. He said he had not spoken directly to the entire association in asking support for his candidacy.
"I'm kind of on the fence," Gunter said. "I think Floyd is going to work at the mayor's office now and be head of the city and back off on many things that were happening."
"Whether Mayor Floyd or ex-Mayor Swofford is going to take the race, I don't know. I do know Mayor Floyd is going to have to get out there and really do some hustling to take Swofford's place," he said.
Floyd's win was by a margin of less than 200 votes.
"I think I could do one heck of a job for the city, but I'm really interested in running for sheriff next year," Gunter said.
Gunter said he contacted

Police Captain Eyeing Mayor's Post
run for the mayor's office or to seek a fourth consecutive term on the city commission. A political unknown, Glen Bush-office.
Gunter denied that Floyd had reneged on a campaign promise to make him police chief in exchange for his support and that this had led to his disenchantment. "That is absolutely not true," Gunter said.
The Nov. 4 city election ballot will also carry the names of candidates for city commission seats, districts 1 and 3, currently held by Cal DeVoney and Helen Keyser, respectively.
Although DeVoney has not formally announced his intentions, it is expected he will seek election to a second term. No candidates opposing DeVoney have yet surfaced.
Mrs. Keyser has said she will be standing for election, saying she has not decided whether to

Former Watergate Figure Isn't Talking

John Ehrlichman Now Living In New Mexico Solitude

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — John Ehrlichman, sunbanned and bearded after six months of his new life among the artists along Canyon Road here, might be writing about Watergate. But he's not talking.

His landlady says he's writing a book, and he did not deny a report that he is under contract with Simon and Schuster for a novel said to be autobiographical.

"I just wouldn't comment on it," was his response, made through the cracks in the plank gate of the high adobe wall at his fashionable hilltop cottage.

Unlike other main characters in the nation's Watergate drama, Richard M. Nixon's former chief domestic adviser and long-time political lieutenant has shunned the lecture circuit and refused interviews.

In a grocery store conversation — he does his own shopping — he reasoned that if he grants one interview he'll be hounded. "And I would have broken faith with about 20 others who have asked and have been refused," he said.

Ehrlichman lives alone here; his wife is still in Seattle. Disbarred by the Supreme Court and facing two federal prison terms, he awaits the long process of court appeals. At age 50, he has traces of gray in his black beard and moustache.

He rents from Margaret Twyman, 60, who lives next door. "He strikes me as a very decent fellow. He's a good tenant. He's growing vegetables over there and taking care of the lawn," she said.

"He commented one time he was writing a book, and I guess he is," she said. "I don't hear any typing over there, so maybe he's writing it in longhand."

Mrs. Twyman, incidentally, lived in the Watergate Apartments in Washington, D.C., before she moved to Santa Fe last October, leaving a job with the State Department for one with the National Park Service here. But she said she never met Ehrlichman in Washington.

Thomas A. Brown, a remodeler and craftsman, said he sold her the houses for about $65,000. The Ehrlichman cottage has one bedroom, corner fireplaces, Mexican tiles and an impressive view, he said.

This area's history dates to Spanish colonists in 1590, and many of the neighborhoods, including Ehrlichman's, are disorderly collections of old adobe houses and dirt roads. The Spanish-speaking neighbors are slowly selling to newcomers, many of them artists or owners of stores specializing in craft items. A 90-unit condominium is planned across the road.

The beard doesn't hide Ehrlichman in Santa Fe, which despite its 40,000 population and cosmopolitan residents, retains a small-town neighborhood.

Two Committees Named Continental Congress Had Tough Time

EDITOR'S NOTE — Paul Revere's famous ride was history. British and American blood had been spilled at Lexington and Concord. The Second Continental Congress was trying to form and finance an army, and the sentiment among the delegates for a settlement with Britain was fading.

cadence of their drums that persuaded Congress on May 13 to approve 64 Articles of War, snapping in two the olive branch the first committee was nurturing.

The six companies of back-country riflemen that Congress had envisioned as the army's backbone, arrived in Cambridge after Washington. Many were hunters in cross-skinned caps. They were itchy for action and none came. So they drank and gambled. And fought among themselves.

Illness Doesn't Delay Wedding

Couple Takes Vows In Hospital

By JEAN PATTESON
Women's Editor

The wedding date was set for Aug. 30, the minister notified at Elder Springs Baptist Church and the bride's stunning gown all picked out — when the bridegroom fell ill.

"It was just a slight heart attack, but enough to put me in the hospital three days before the wedding," explained James T. (Tommy) McClain. "But time was running out on the license and blood tests, so we decided to go ahead and have the wedding in the hospital.

So on Sunday, a week after the original wedding date, Tommy McClain and Ruth Visconti were married by Rev. M. Parry in Room 214 of Seminole Memorial Hospital. The bridegroom's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lee McClain of Sarasota and friends of the couple Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Czajka witnessed the ceremony.

It was the Szajka couple who played matchmaker to Tommy, 78, and Ruth, 66. The story of the newlyweds' first meeting is the only bone of contention in their new-found marital bliss... but it's a good-natured difference of opinion, fortunately.

Newlyweds James and Ruth McClain visit at hospital following unusual marriage ceremony.

"When I rang the doorbell on our first date," related Tommy with a wicked grin, "she was so eager to meet me she grabbed me by the collar and yanked me inside."

"Oh, be truthful, now," counters his wife. "You stumbled on the step and would have fallen if I hadn't grabbed you."

The McClains plan a brief wedding trip to St. Augustine and on to North Carolina before returning to build their new home in Geneva. Tommy was born and raised in that community and has spent most of his life there. Ruth, a native of Ohio, has lived in Winter Park these past 17 years.

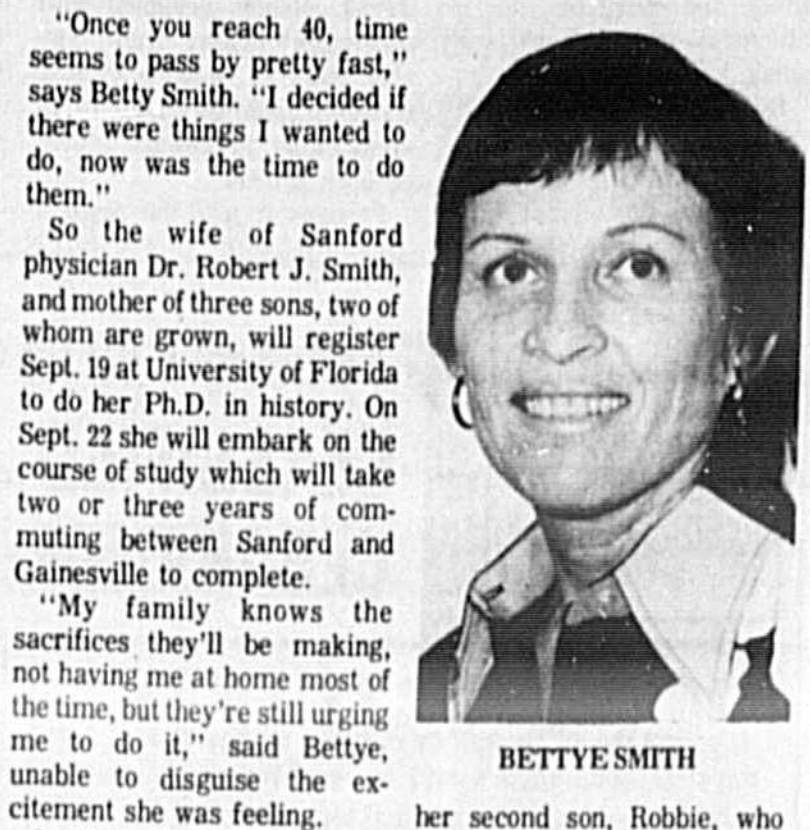

"I wanted to get married right away and not wait until Tommy was back home again, because I want to take care of him when he gets out of the hospital," she explained.

Both Tommy and Ruth have been married previously, but they say they are entering this new union with the happy anticipation of newlyweds half their age.

Wife, Mother Is Bound For Ph.D.

"Once you reach 40, time seems to pass by pretty fast," says Betty Smith. "I decided if there were things I wanted to do, now was the time to do them."

So the wife of Sanford physician Dr. Robert J. Smith, and mother of three sons, two of whom are grown, will register Sept. 19 at University of Florida to do her Ph.D. in history. On Sept. 22 she will embark on the course of study which will take two or three years of commuting between Sanford and Gainesville to complete.

"My family knows the sacrifices they'll be making, not having me at home most of the time, but they're still urging me to do it," said Betty, unable to disguise the excitement she was feeling.

In December, 1973, she obtained her B.A. degree in history from Florida Technological University and has been preparing for a post graduate course since that time. However, Florida Tech. is more than her family that Betty will be leaving behind. She is also president of Seminole Mutual Concert Assn., accompanist for the Central Florida Chorale, a member of the Sanford Memorial Library board and one of the larger committees for the Singing Boys of Orlando choir. But Betty feels confident she will be able to perform her duties with these various civic organizations.

"And if not, I'll just have to give up my studies for a while." Eager as she is to complete her doctorate, Betty's family and community responsibilities still take precedence in her life.

Credale Hosts Open Day

There will be an open house Saturday Sept. 13, to introduce the public to the new Credale Art Center, artists' studios and classrooms, located on Aloma Ave., at St. Andrews Blvd. in Winter Park.

Credale Art Center owned and developed by W.S. Jenkins of Winter Park combines the working studio with the classroom to the mutual benefit of artists and students. It also includes a complete art supply store and a Gallery.

Registration for Fall Art Classes runs through Sept. 20. Classes begin the week of Sept. 22.

During the open house, "artists in residence" will be working in their studios and instructors will be available for questions regarding their classes.

Dancer Entertains Seniors

Exotic Dancer Veda Sereen will entertain members of Sanford Senior Citizens Club at their Sept. 16 meeting in the Sanford Civic Center.

Members are urged to arrive promptly at 11:45 a.m. in order to be seated before the entertainment begins.

A covered dish luncheon will be held after the dancing act.

In And Around Sanford

Parents Join Dancers At Luncheon

Dressed in high-fashion frocks instead of leotards and tutus, the 21 company dancers forming Ballet Guild of Sanford-Seminole (BGS) for the 1975-76 season were honored at the Annual Mother-Daughter luncheon Saturday at The Cavalier Restaurant.

However, it was not exactly mothers and daughters, the lone BGS male dancer brought his father, Harry Kniffin. Other guests were the Board of Directors and BGS artistic directors, Miriam Wright and Valerie Weld.

General chairman of the affair was Mimi Greene. The lovely floral centerpiece was given as door prizes.

Club president Dora Lee Russell presided over the business sessions and announced a series of exciting forthcoming events, including several tours and the surprise Bi-centennial ballet the group will perform in February, 1976.

Debbie and Jeff Garland spent a recent weekend in New Orleans. They also attended a crab festival at Apalachicola, a diving convention at DeFuniak Springs and expect to cruise to the Bahamas soon, where Jeff's parents own a beach house.

Auxiliary Supports Firemen

Gals 'Burn' With Enthusiasm

By JAN MONAHAN
Herald Staff Writer

When Clarke Gaston is at home, she always has one ear unconsciously attuned to an emergency radio monitor.

Her husband Steve is a lieutenant and training officer for Altamonte Springs Fire Department. And even though Clarke doesn't sit and think about the danger her husband faces everytime a fire or rescue call comes over the monitor, there's always a certain amount of tension until she knows he's back safely.

"You know he's putting his life on the line every minute of the day he's there," says Clarke, "but it's his job and that's the way it's got to be so you don't dwell on it."

Clarke and Donna Hanshaw, wife of firefighter Rick Hanshaw, helped organize the Altamonte Fire Department's Ladies Auxiliary earlier this year. Clarke is president, Donna is treasurer. While the group's main function is to support the fire department both socially and charitably, "it has also helped give its members a better understanding and appreciation of their husband's work. It is open to wives, mothers, mothers-in-law or sisters of active or

Diamond Seals Navel Engagement

DEAR ABBY: My girl friend is a rather kooky, unconventional but lovable gal. We plan to marry soon. I told her I wanted to buy her a diamond ring, and she said she didn't want a ring—she wanted a diamond for the navel instead!

I thought she was putting me on, but she wasn't. She says belly dancers wear them. It's not a belly dancer, she's a receptionist at a recording studio.

Can you please tell me where a navel diamond can be purchased? Have you ever seen one? I don't mean a fake one. I mean a real one. Thank you.

she's 19, and they've been married for 10 months. We could be a happy foursome but they overdo the lovey dovey bit. They're always cuddling, kissing and fondling each other. It really gets embarrassing.

I suggested having them over for bridge last night because they really are good company otherwise, but my husband said the way they carry on is too sickening.

How can we let Joyce and Bill know that we would save more of them if they would save that love stuff for their own bedroom? We hate to hurt their feelings.

Museum Brings Back Memories

Exhibits depicting the development of Sanford and surrounding areas were unveiled at a recent meeting of the Board of Trustees of the General Sanford Museum and Library.

In connection with the National Bicentennial, Mrs. Ruth Swinney, president announced the trustees are planning a large exhibit highlighting the development of what was once known as the Mosquito County beginning with an archeological display and continuing through the years to our modern day form of transportation, the Auto Train. Sanford at one point in history was the main distribution site for goods and materials, and this exhibit will be a visible memento for visitors to the Museum to see how it all developed.

Dr. Paul Wehr, Associate Professor of the History Department at FTU, presented a request for morale support in his endeavor to begin a publication dedicated to the perpetuation of the historical background of the area included in Seminole, Oseola, Orange, Lake and Volusia Counties. Special papers by students and memoirs of long time residents would be items of interest to the public and this publication would be a vehicle for such writings.

Ignorance of its existence is another problem plaguing the

New Signs Will Mark Route To Zoo

You know the Central Florida Zoo is somewhere near Sanford, but can't seem to find it?

The Ladies Civic and Community Affairs Committee of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce voted Tuesday to assist Zoological Society Director Al Rozon in erecting signs to the zoo and are planning to help raise money to pay for the signs.

Although in the past 59 days some 63,000 persons have visited the zoo, Rozon told the Ladies Committee that many of them had difficulty finding the facility and perhaps others never found it.

Therefore, the Zoological Society intends placing signs at all entrances to the city directing visitors to the zoo. Rozon said 100 signs had been ordered at a total cost of $800.

It's The Year Of Petty In Winston Cup

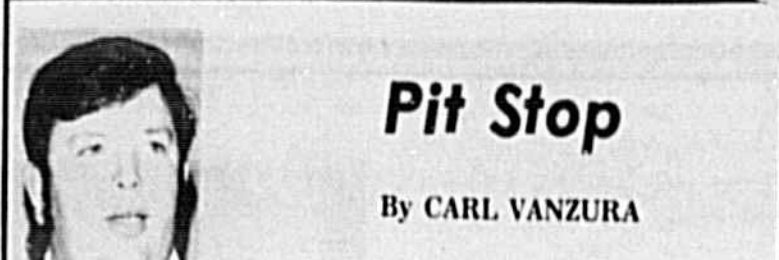

In Winston Cup racing circles, 1975 is fast becoming known as the year of Richard Petty. Richard has had nine races this year, won his second million dollars and will more than likely win another Winston Cup Point title.

It hasn't been a bad season for another Richard on the NASCAR Grand National circuit as Richard Childress is having a season comparable to Petty's, according to Childress.

"Our primary goal is finishing first in anything we do," Childress said recently, "but you've got to put everything into perspective and if you view it like that, finishing fourth in the Winston points this season would be as important to us as finishing first would be for Petty."

There is no doubt that he has been Childress' most successful campaign to date. He stands fifth in the overall standing with only ten races to go. "I figure that fifth place in the overall points would be worth about $20,000 extra to me and we've never had that kind of money at the end of the season before," Childress said.

"Next season if we continue to do well and our new car that Banjo Matthews is building performs like we think it will, we try to run with everybody," he added.

An educational trust fund has been established for five-year-old Christopher Lund, the only child of Wanda and Tiny Lund, the veteran NASCAR driver who died in injuries received in an early accident during the recent Talladega 500.

Persons interested in contributing to the Christopher Lund Educational Trust Fund may do so by writing: P.O. Box 35, Cross, S.C. 29428.

The 43-year-old Lund left his wife to live alone in 1955 and was a veteran of every form of NASCAR competition. His biggest victory came in the 1963 Daytona 500 when he substituted for an injured Marvin Panch to drive a Wood Brothers prepared Ford.

In recent years Lund concentrated on running his fish camp on South Carolina's Santee-Cooper lakes where he set a world fishing record in the mid-1960s by catching a 55-pound lake-trout striped bass. Lund whose car number was 55, was a strong competitor in NASCAR's Late Model Sportsman division and was in second place in the national LMS point standings at the time of his death.

Bennie Corbin, promoter of Volusia County Speedway has taken over management of North Fla. Raceway in Lake City and his first race there will be the Permatex 100 on Friday night Sept. 19. The race will be run in honor of Lee Roy Yarborough winner of the Daytona 500 and 400 in 1969. Lee Roy will be at the race to present the rewards to the winner. Chris Dellarco has entered the Dell's Auction Chevelle in the event.

Johnny Brown will have his Corvette entered in the Points race at Daytona Memorial Speedway in Bradenton this Saturday and Sunday. Don Garlits will also be there to add to his points lead in Top Fuel.

Griffin Launches Bid For Second Heisman

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Archie Griffin launches his bid Saturday to become the first man in history to win two consecutive Heisman Trophies, the annual award that goes to the nation's No. 1 college football player.

But that is not upmost in the mind of the square-jawed Ohio State tailback. Revenge is first, a redeeming victory at Michigan State. Second in importance is a national championship that has eluded the Buckeyes in the final weeks of the last three years.

And his coach, 62-year-old Woody Hayes, is serving as father protector to keep the elder senior's mind on those objectives. Hayes discourages speeches and interviews for Griffin at every turn.

"He can't go to the bathroom without somebody wanting him to make a speech or interview him," snapped Hayes.

declining another telephone request for his first Saturday to become the first man in history to win two consecutive Heisman Trophies, the annual award that goes to the nation's No. 1 college football player.

"We have to shield him. If we don't, it will take the edge off of him. The coach will have to get the message across that he's not a star," scowled Hayes.

Army's Felix "Doc" Blanchard, SMU's Duak Walker, Vic Janowicz of Ohio State and Jay Novis of Roger Staubach of the opportunity to win two straight Heismans before Griffin. All failed.

The 5-foot-9, 180-pound Griffin, for three straight years the Big Ten Conference's Most Valuable Player, realizes his bid this year is his last.

"I know there's extra pressure on me. I try not to let it bother me," said the second-greatest runner in college history. Only Ed Marinaro of Cornell is ahead of him with 4,715 yards. And Griffin is just 895 yards short of Marinaro's total.

Pirates May Show Profit For '75 If...

PITTSBURGH (AP)—This 11,988 customers entered the season has brought three Rivers Stadium highlights, blaring bugle calls, Pirate Pete, a minstrel band, waving baseballs—and one of baseball's biggest attendance jumps.

Whatever the exact impact of school has also cut sales of 60-cent hot tickets. Weekday crowds have fallen off since the Pirates increased their lead in the National League East. The start of the season has been a record of 1,131,481, already surpasses last season's total of 1,110,552.

"Several weeks ago, I thought we'd get 1.35 million," said Rountz, "but then we got the bigger lead and we lost about 25,000 because of weather in the Houston series.

"Right now, we're going to have to struggle to hit 1.3 million," he added.

The Pirates drew 1.1 million in 1971, their first full season at the stadium and the year they won the World Series.

The next year they pulled 1.43 million, the best regular season record in baseball and a division title. "But we still lost money. We had a lot of expenses that year," said Rountz.

In 1973, the team finished third. Bill Virdon was fired as manager and attendance fell to 1.22 million.

Despite the worst start in baseball last season, Pittsburgh still won its fourth division title in five years, yet attendance plummeted to 1.11 million.

"The playoffs helped us just about break even," said Rountz. "We lost just a little, not much."

Moved to action, the Pirates had their busiest off-season ever last winter. They provided free speakers for hundreds of groups and sent players on "caravans" into the hinterlands like Erie and Altoona.

Hoople Says Ohio State Will Lose To Michigan State

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE The Herald Services

Egal, friends, this is going to be a week weekend on the nation's gridirons with the major collegiate powers swinging into action. For the most part, the major engagements will be inter-sectional and nonconference in Columbus, will be disastrous: Charlie Baggett, this correspondent's choice as the No. 1 quarterback in the college ranks, and his Spartan mates will prove their amazing 16-13 conquest of the Bucks last year was no fluke. This is a shame the Spartan Stadium seats only 70,000 as they would draw twice that many for this meeting.

Elsewhere in the Big Ten, the Michigan - Wisconsin contest will also be a cliff-hanger with the Wolves outlasting the Badgers, 28-21. Minnesota will triumph over Indiana by a close 20-17 margin, Illinois and Iowa are very evenly matched with Iowa earning the Hoople nod, 15-13, and Purdue's Boiler-makers figure to edge host Northwestern, 12-7.

The explosive Oklahoma Sooners, opening at home, will rack up their 21st consecutive win drowning the Oregon Ducks, 37-7. Joe, that's some record young Mr. Barry Cravens has rolled up at Oklahoma—21 victories, 11 tie, 0 defeats—in two years. The Sooners are the Hoople System's choice to win the national crown for a straight year—hat—rumph!

Judge's Ruling Makes FSU's Williams Eligible

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — It's out of the courtroom and into the locker room for Waldo Williams, a powerful and promising freshman linebacker at Florida State.

Williams was sidelined before his first college game by a NCAA ruling that he was ineligible because he had hired an agent before signing a professional baseball contract in 1972.

The U.S. District Judge William Stafford rule Wednesday that Williams could play in Florida State's opener Saturday at Texas Tech. Stafford granted a temporary restraining order that temporarily bars the National Collegiate Athletic Association from declaring him ineligible.

FSU Coach Darrell Mudra hailed the ruling as "a big morale-boost to our squad." "Waldo will be a valuable asset," Mudra said. "He is a premium athlete and will be a great mainstay, as well as off, the field."

Williams was sidelined before his first college game by a NCAA ruling that he was ineligible because he had hired an agent before signing a professional baseball contract in 1972.

There's No Job-Hopping Japanese Loyalty A Thing Of Beauty

THE HERALD SERVICES

OSAKA, Japan — Workers at Matsushita Electric, the giant Japanese company that distributes radios and tape recorders worldwide, are singing a different tune.

When they gather for the morning shift, Matsushita's 66,000 workers exercise their bodies and sing the company song — "Love, Light and a Dream."

That blue and white collar workers have something to sing about in this year of inflation and recession may surprise many Americans. But it has been this way for years.

The worker just out of high school or college signs on with the company for his lifetime. To think of job hopping in mid-career, a common practice in America, would show "there's something wrong with him."

So says Akira Nagano, a middle management executive. In a nation deficient in quality housing, Nagano has just borrowed five million yen at five per cent to build a home. That's about $17,000, payable over 30 years.

That five per cent rate is about half the going bank rate, but the lower interest rate is just one of his fringe benefits. His family is cared for in a company-run hospital — "the best in Osaka," Nagano says. When vacation time comes around, it is likely that many Matsushita workers will join a company sponsored tour. At Toyo Kogyo Motors in Hiroshima, workers who add up 35 years on the job may go on a company sponsored trip to Hawaii.

There is a different company song at Matsushita this year. Spurred on by founder Konosuke Matsushita who started it all in 1918, the firm became Japan's largest manufacturer of consumer electric and electronic products. But indications are that the years of spiraling growth are over.

By company accounts, income has dipped 26 per cent from 1973. Slack in consumer demand has brought on a drop in sales growth.

The old lyrics of the company song went:

Grow industry, grow, grow, grow — Harmony and sincerity, Matsushita Electric."

The new lyrics, penned last July:

Each day brings a new Spring. Let us bind together

A world of blooming flowers. In more prosaic terms, the management at Matsushita is saying, "Now we have to have harmonious development."

It may be said by the cynical observer that "Japan, Incorporated" is one big company town.

Not only lifetime employment, group exercises and the company song express the atmosphere at Matsushita — in the words of Akira Nagano: "Some say on the bad side there is no difference in Matsushita employees. On the good side, every employee knows Matsushita Electric." The new lyrics, penned last July:

What has this point of view produced?

Cross the grassy plaza between Matsushita offices and the showroom, pass the statue of Thomas Edison and you'll enter the future.

On display are several of the newest in the company's product line: A television monitor that can take a still picture of a person on camera and process and print it in under a minute; a world clock that tells the hour anywhere in the world at a touch; a mosaic wall of flashing color that creates patterns in light from a computer tape.

There is a paternal concern for the welfare of workers on the assembly line at many Japanese companies. During what might be a lunch break in an American plant, Japanese auto workers play ping-pong or "Eski-Tennis." This is played in the company street at Toy

By BERNICE BEDE OSOL

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You'll discover early today that being too forceful is non-productive. Fortunately, your good judgment and sense of humor will aid you.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) It will appear that you're getting the short end of a deal today. Don't do anything hasty. Everything will eventually even out.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You're lucky with just about everything today except finances, so don't do anything foolish in that area.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Good things happen if you let events run their course today. Trying to force issues will only complicate matters.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Be willing to go a few steps further than the boss expects of you today. Later, he'll do the same for you.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Your first impulse is to look at the darker side of things today. After a hard second look you'll see you have much to be grateful for.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You're under very good financial aspects now, but be careful not to earmark what's coming in for some extravagant whim.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) You could take unfair advantage of a situation today, but you won't. Your unselfish decision will prove to be a lucky one.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Be wary today that a dominant personality doesn't force his ideas upon you. The course of action you've selected is the better one.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Enjoy yourself with friends today but don't try to mix business with pleasure. That could cause some headaches.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) Lady Luck is still in your corner. She'll do all she can to help you realize your desires. Be sure you're doing all you can to help her.

The other West reasoned that while five spades would surely wind up in the soup the five-diamond contract would make and that a sacrifice bid was indicated.

It was an unfortunate decision, since South had to lose three tricks in his diamond contract. However, change the North-South cards a trifle and the decision would have been a mighty good one.

The really good bid with the hand was North's five diamonds. He saved a lot of points, because had he passed East would wrap up the four-spade contract and take it home.

Ask the Jacobys
A reader from California wants to know which major suit do you bid when you have four cards in each and partner responds a Stayman two-clubs to your opening notrump.

The answer to this one is that it is a matter of partnership agreement. Some like to bid two spades; others prefer two hearts.

Our own practice is to bid the stronger suit.

State Attorney Silent On Proceedings

Grand Jury Believed Hearing Testimony In Murders

By BOB LLOYD
Herald Staff Writer
The Seminole County Grand Jury was in session today and believed to be hearing evidence in connection with the August 1973 murder of one of two young women whose decomposing bodies were found in a trash dump at Altamonte Springs. Seminole-Brevard State Atty. Abbott Herring, who is handling the grand jury probe, was silent on what the jurors were considering but courteous observers and sources close to the murder case said there are strong indications that the jurors were hearing testimony in connection with the death of Laura Lynn Harberts, an 18-year-old Orlando hospital clerk who had been missing for 17 days when the bodies were found at the trash dump. Miss Harberts' remains were identified from dental records. So far, police say, efforts to identify the second body haven't been successful. Medical examiners determined that both bodies received severe blows to the head prior to or at the time of death. No arrests have been made in the dump murders, but Sheriff's Lt. George Abbey, working the case with Altamonte Springs police detectives, last May is known to have questioned a member of the Outlaw motorcycle gang, 29-year-old Joseph Robert "Crazy Joe" Spaziano, in connection with the case. Spaziano recently was convicted in Orange County of the Feb. 1974 rape and knife assault on a 16-year-old girl. Spaziano was sentenced to life in prison plus five years. Police said the juvenile girl was stabbed in the eyes by her attacker and dumped in an isolated area of Orange County where she probably would have died if she hadn't been found. Surgeons were able to repair the girl's right eye but her left eye was damaged so badly that she now has only shadow vision with that eye, police said. Abbey attended Spaziano's Orange County trial and was reported to have told defense attorney Edward Kirkland that Spaziano was a prime suspect in the Altamonte dump murders and that he (Abbey) "wanted a confession" from Spaziano. At one point, Abbey was reported to have said that he had taken his investigation of the dump murders to Herring's office and had been told to keep working and to obtain "more evidence" before the case would be taken before the Seminole County Grand Jury. Spaziano was arrested in April by Chicago police on a disorderly conduct charge. A computer check revealed he was wanted in Orange County for the rape and knife attack on the 16-year-old girl. He waived extradition and was returned to Florida for trial in the case. The bodies at the Altamonte Springs dump area, south of SR 436 and west of SR 431, were found by an Eatonville man on Aug. 22, 1973, but he told authorities he waited 24 hours to report the grisly find because he was afraid he would get in trouble for illegal trash dumping. Anthropologists at the Smithsonian Institution, Washington, D.C., examined the remains of the unidentified body and reported they were the remains of a woman between 16 and 21 years of age, 5'3" to 5'7" tall, with reddish blonde hair, police said. The reports stated, according to investigators, that the corpse had been in the dump from three to five weeks.

Shorter Hours To Stay

The maximum five-hour day for kindergarten and first grade pupils in Seminole County was reaffirmed this week by School Board members in spite of an appeal for longer hours from a group of parents concerned with national reading levels. Mrs. M. Adamkiewicz, representing some parents of children at Longwood Elementary school, said extending the four-and-a-half quarter hour day for the lower grades to the regular six-and-a-half hour day would help raise reading level averages of the children.

"We don't have time to waste. First grade is the basis for all reading. California schools are not cutting back on the hours for their lower grades. Teachers should work around the children's short attention span," said Mrs. Adamkiewicz. She said the county has to play "a game of catch up with national average standards."

Board member Pat Telson said educational experts claim "it's not the number of hours, but how the time is used."

"Younger kids are too worn out after six hours," said one principal.

A county high school teacher said it is unfair to compare California standards to Florida's standards without considering funds available for each child and other "ratios."

Wrestling between city officials and volunteer fire company, which has extended over many months this year, on the proper method of expanding city funds and the definition of the word "emergency" came to a head with the resignation of Fire Chief Charles (Chuck) Smith.

Smith said while he would no longer be the city's fire chief, he would retain the office of volunteer fire chief.

Lake Mary, which celebrated its second anniversary as a city in August, owns the fire department equipment, while the volunteers own the building which houses the equipment. The city council, in line with state law concerning financial responsibility, adopted an ordinance several months ago setting purchasing procedures, requiring purchase orders, approval of department heads and bids on purchases of over $1,000. At one time the approval of three county council members was required. The ordinance was amended to require only one council member approval.

Smith said while he would no longer be the city's fire chief, he would retain the office of volunteer fire chief.

Griffin: "I Am Not Going To Jail For You"

By DONNA ESTES

LAKE MARY — "I think a lot of you (the volunteer firemen) but I am not going to jail for you. We all must follow the law," said city council member Lillian Griffin, regarding dispute between the city and the volunteer fire department on purchasing procedures. Wrangling between city officials and volunteer fire company, which has extended over many months this year, on the proper method of expanding city funds and the definition of the word "emergency" came to a head with the resignation of Fire Chief Charles (Chuck) Smith.

Kwiatkowski, Clerk Head For Showdown

By ED PRICKETT
Herald Staff Writer
Seminole County Commissioner Harry Kwiatkowski and Circuit Court Clerk Art Beckwith Jr. are headed for a showdown at Tuesday's county commission meeting. Kwiatkowski said Thursday it "looks like a few banks are being favored" with $2.2 million worth of county business which is distributed by Beckwith's office.

As a result of Kwiatkowski's comments, the commission has asked Beckwith to appear Tuesday to explain his quarter hour day for the lower grades to the regular six-and-a-half hour day would help raise reading level averages of the children.

"We don't have time to waste. First grade is the basis for all reading. California schools are not cutting back on the hours for their lower grades. A county high school teacher said it is unfair to compare California standards to Florida's standards without considering funds available for each child and other "ratios."

Wrestling between city officials and volunteer fire company, which has extended over many months this year, on the proper method of expanding city funds and the definition of the word "emergency" came to a head with the resignation of Fire Chief Charles (Chuck) Smith.

Smith said while he would no longer be the city's fire chief, he would retain the office of volunteer fire chief.

Lake Mary, which celebrated its second anniversary as a city in August, owns the fire department equipment, while the volunteers own the building which houses the equipment. The city council, in line with state law concerning financial responsibility, adopted an ordinance several months ago setting purchasing procedures, requiring purchase orders, approval of department heads and bids on purchases of over $1,000. At one time the approval of three county council members was required. The ordinance was amended to require only one council member approval.

Authority Seen For Utilities

By JOE ASKREN
Herald Staff Writer
The creation of a "North Seminole Utility Authority," as a separate legal entity to direct construction and operation of a proposed $15 million federally sponsored regional sewer plant within the next few years, was predicted Thursday night by Sanford's city manager.

City Manager Warren E. "Pete" Knowles told members of the regional sewer plant committee a regional entity will be necessary because the project "will encompass more than one agency or governmental authority."

Knowles said the idea of "who does the work and how" is a "political determination." He said the purpose of the study is to provide the "basic information, but the implementation is required on a local level."

Regarding local cooperation sought before the county promised to commit its share of the study, Knowles said: "The big bugaboo probably came in not knowing what this is all about. That's the reason the committee has to carry through the study plans to the implementation (stage). It's like a growing-up procedure."

The police captain said he is sure there will be a continual upgrading of the police department and employees and that Floyd has decided this is true. "That is why," Gunter said, "I should research the law."

Smith said while he would no longer be the city's fire chief, he would retain the office of volunteer fire chief.
