

Lindbergh Child Is Still Missing With No Word Yet Heard

Federal Men And Offi- cials Of 10 States Gather To Arrange For Extensive Drive

HOPEWELL, Mar. 5. — (A.P.)—The Lindbergh baby, stolen from his crib Tuesday night, was still missing today and the kidnapers have not yet broken the ominous silence. Officials of 10 states gathered in Trenton with representatives of the government assigned by President Hoover to arrange details of a concerted campaign to restore the baby to its parents.

In Hartford, Conn. Henry "Red" Johnson, editor of the Sanford Herald, is being held for questioning. New Jersey state police who examined Miss Gow at length and exonerated her of any connection with the kidnaping announced they were not interested in Johnson. They said he was detained at the request of Englewood authorities for reasons unknown to them.

A rumor spread that Miss Gow confessed but this was officially denied. Englewood authorities went to Hartford to assist in questioning Johnson. A detective there said he believed the information would "crack" the case.

An offer to deal directly and confidentially with the kidnapers of their blue-eyed youngster was made personally yesterday by Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh. "Just 66 hours after the child was stolen from his crib," the two anxious parents, who had seen a mountain of news and had been one by one into significance, signed their names to a typewritten statement. It pledged them not "to try to injure in any way those connected with the return of the child," and to observe faithfully any promise.

The 16-word message to the kidnapers, emphasizing that the Lindberghs' only interest was in the immediate and safe return of their baby boy, made it clear that their willingness to clear a $50,000 ransom demand had failed to obtain any response.

Almost simultaneously with the issuance of this joint plea, Governor Moore sought to coordinate the nationwide manhunt by requesting officials from the eastern half of the United States, including representatives of President Hoover, to confer with him today. Earlier in the day an anonymous telephone call was received at the famous flier's hilltop home, where the brain of the east's law enforcement men.

Nathan Mayo Pays City Brief Visit On Way To Orlando

Nathan Mayo, of Tallahassee, Florida's secretary of agriculture was a brief visitor to Sanford this morning, stopping off enroute to Orlando on business, to see his sister, Mrs. J. M. Neely, and to renew old acquaintances.

He was particularly impressed with the busy appearance of Sanford's streets, lined with automobiles and crowded with shoppers, and declared that together with the broad acres of green celery fields which met the eye upon entering the city from the west, the traveling public can not help but gather that Sanford is one of the most fertile, busy, and prosperous cities in Florida.

Mr. Mayo has not been in Sanford for over a year. He declared himself surprised at the change in the outward condition which has taken place since his last visit, and predicted progressive days ahead.

CONVICTED OF KIDNAPING
LOS ANGELES, Mar. 5. — (A.P.)—Convicted of kidnaping and holding for ransom E. L. Carson, Agnes Caliente, betting commissioner, three men today faced the possibility of prison terms of 10 years to life. They were Ralph Wilson, former chief of Al Capone's South Coast, and Louis Frank.

KIDNAP CASE HAS STARTED BOOM IN JERSEY VILLAGE

Feeling High In Hopewell Over Deed Involving New Citizen

HOPEWELL, N. J., Mar. 5. — (A.P.)—This quiet village of revolutionary days, nestling in a valley below the Lindbergh manor, has been re-created in its urge to recover Augustus Lindbergh, Jr. Feeling runs high as the town folk and farmers from around about gather on street corners, in stores and in homes to discuss the only major crime in local memory. It is taken as a personal injury to men and women whose children are their dearest possessions.

"I'd like to get my hands on that fellow," is the sentiment most often expressed toward the criminal. Hopewell's anger is not based on a generalized antipathy toward kidnapers. Its citizens have grown to like the Lindberghs in the months since they have come and lack of familiarity has not lessened that admiration. The colonel and his wife have been neighborly, kind, courteous—if somewhat reserved.

Many are the tales told of their thoughtfulness. Chief among them concerns the time Mrs. Lindbergh and a woman friend were driving home one night and they found a man badly injured by the roadside from an automobile accident. They lifted him, bloodied and battered, into their car and took him to a hospital.

"A lot of people in her position wouldn't have done that," one person commented. "They might have gone for help but they wouldn't have moved the man to the hospital in their own car."

As an illustration of the affection in which the world-famous flier is held, A. J. Hausenbauer, a farmer living just across the road was asked by the Lindberghs to evacuate newspapers and their children.

Niles, Ohio Youth Is Recovered From Toils Of Kidnapers

YOUNGSTOWN, Mar. 5. — (A.P.)—James E. Jute, 11-year-old Niles, boy who was kidnapped while enroute to school Tuesday, was recovered today in a gambling house near Niles. Two men, who police said they thought were the kidnapers, were captured by a posse of six officers.

Finding of the boy came when it was feared he might have been slain. He is the son of a wealthy contractor who offered $1,000 reward for the youth's return. The boy was in good condition and did not complain of his treatment while in the hands of his captors.

Acting on a tip officers rushed to the house and seized the men whose names were not revealed. The youth answered when they called to him. They broke down the wall and found him with two men who surrendered peacefully. They were taken to jail at Warren and the youth was returned to his parents.

Lamson's "Dollar" Gets Many Names

MORE JAPANESE REACH SHANGHAI DESPITE LETUP

Countryside Still Re-sounds With Occasional Gun Firing

SHANGHAI, Mar. 5. — (A.P.)—Approximately 10,000 additional Japanese troops landed in the Shanghai area today and the crackle of machine guns and occasional crashes of heavy artillery fire still resounded over the countryside between Kiangwan and the banks of the Yangtze.

Japanese military and naval authorities continued to maintain there has been no serious fighting since the Japanese advance halted two days ago, but a trip through the Kiangwan and Wusung area today supported the Chinese claim that there has been considerable skirmishing along the northwest sector. Gunfire was heard frequently and a squadron of Japanese planes roared over in the direction of the Yangtze.

Official Chinese advisers from Tientsin late in the day said the Japanese Eleventh Division had attacked the Chinese forces there and that a severe battle was under way, adding that the Chinese were putting up stiff resistance.

Low Wen Kan, the Nanjing foreign minister, was the authority for rejection of the new Japanese series of demands, which have been characterized by the Chinese as meaning simply a complete surrender.

Japanese military and naval officials denied fighting was taking place around Tientsin despite reports from travelers that they had heard the rumble of artillery. The same authorities said that they did not care to discuss the rejection of Japanese demands by the Chinese. This was the way the Japanese put it.

"The Japanese forces are maintaining the same positions as yesterday, calling a halt to their hostilities and concentrating their efforts within an area east of a line drawn between Nansung and Kiating." (This in effect would be a consolidation of the Japanese position.)

Anne Lindbergh Bearing Up Well In Present Distress

HOPEWELL, N. J., Mar. 5. — (A.P.)—Anne Lindbergh, her thoughts focused on an empty crib, is settling an example in Spartan fortitude for those who await the return of her son. On the third night since her first-born was snatched from his nursery room she still maintains a tight lip and a dry eye, no criteria of the emotions surging within her.

If anything, she is bolstering up her flying husband, who knows how to deal with the terror of dark oceans but is baffled by a foe with which he cannot grapple. Both are suffering from heavy colds.

"Anne is remarkable,"—such is the consensus of the household. Mrs. Dwight Morrow, her mother, Colonel and Mrs. Henry Breckinridge, lawyer and wife; and the servants will take their cue from her—"If she can stand it so can we."

Mrs. Lindbergh appeared a trifle fresher yesterday after her first protracted sleep since the night before the kidnaping. She was attired in a sport's costume of white flannel skirt and black crocheted sweater with a band of white angora about the neck. It gave her an air of poise that her features belied.

Friends said it was the colonel's lady who requested the radio appeal to the abductors last night and that she has persistently put the baby's safety before material considerations or punishment of the criminals.

RUSSIA ADMITS PREPARING TO DEFEND SELF OF U.S. LOANS

Concentrating Army
On Siberian Border
To Resist Possible
Aggression By Japs

MOSCOW, Mar. 5. — (A.P.)—Soviet Russia admitted yesterday she was concentrating an army near the Far Eastern Siberian border to defend herself "against a Japanese attack."

The admission was made in the government organ Izvestia and was inspired by a statement of the Tokyo Foreign office Feb. 29. The foreign office statement quoted the Japanese cable in Vladivostok, as saying: "Soviet Russia is concentrating large bodies of troops and munitions there and predicting a 'chill' soon between Japan and Russia."

Asserting the Japanese information was obtained from "foreigners" in Vladivostok, the newspaper said the Japanese report clearly showed "specific provocative aims" and that it was unnecessary to deny the prediction of a collision.

"It is much more interesting to note that Japanese politicians are trying to use information from 'poisoned wells' instead of being more attentive to facts as exemplified in our consistent peace policy," Izvestia said.

"We have no reason to conceal the fact that conditions in the (Continued on Page Six)

Haines Withdraws As Candidate For State Legislature

In a brief statement, B. F. Haines, mayor of Altamonte Springs, this morning announced his withdrawal from the race for representative from the first group in Seminole County.

"In view of Frank L. Woodruff's announcement for the Senate, I withdraw my candidacy for the House of Representatives," Mr. Haines said, "so as to be free to act in the national campaign without being encumbered with a campaign of my own. In announcing my candidacy some weeks ago, I did so mainly in order that I might be sure that Seminole County would have someone in line for the Senate in 1936."

Mr. Haines, who is a former Massachusetts political figure, announced in The Herald about two weeks ago, seeking the office now held by Representative George W. McRory, and already contested for by Frank Kay Anderson, Altamonte Springs, and G. W. Spencer, Sanford attorney.

RAILWAYS ARE GETTING SHARE OF U.S. LOANS

Finance Corporation
Has Lent 24 Million
To Carriers Out Of
83 Million Drawn

WASHINGTON, Mar. 5. — (A.P.)—The Reconstruction Finance Corporation to date has loaned to the railroads of the country a total of $24,979,850.77 out of $83,073,081.59 drawn from the treasury.

The largest of these loans, $7,500,000, was extended to the Southern Railway Company on Mar. 2, for the payment of maturing principal installments of equipment trust obligations and toward meeting interest and rental requirements.

The second largest went to a railroad in the hands of receivers—the Wabash. This loan in the amount of $7,173,000 was extended to meet principal obligations maturing on Feb. 15.

The interest rate on all the railroad loans so far made has been 6 per cent, and the terms have been variously arranged to meet the needs of the companies and the restrictions of the act creating the corporation.

The corporation has authority to aid in temporary financing of railroads and railways engaged in interstate commerce; the right to lend to railroads in process of construction and to receivers of railroads. A definite policy on railroad loans includes the following eight definite requirements:

The board of directors must be of the opinion that the roads are (Continued on Page Six)

Agriculture Club Holds Meeting At School Thursday

Interesting figures showing the large increase in the development of truck crops in the United States and particularly the increase in the celery acreage in Seminole County, and some late data on the fight to secure a reduction in rates on celery shipments, were presented to members of the Seminole Agriculture Club, meeting at the high school Thursday night.

Alex R. Johnson, vocational agriculture teacher at the school, and club advisor, revealed figures which indicate that the increase in celery development in Seminole County has been over 50 per cent in the past five years, while in the state the increase has been nearly 100 per cent.

He pictured the increases reported in other sections of the nation as relating to truck crops, and stated that it was time that Florida growers became alive to the need for paying more attention to the mixed vegetable situation.

The freight rate situation was briefly discussed, with the general opinion being that the development to date is encouraging and that some manner of relief may be provided for soon. The co-operation of all the members was seen as having played a large part in the success of the situation to date, and the committee in charge of the matter was commended for its efforts to date.

STATE PLAYS ITS 1ST MAJOR CARD IN CARVER TRIAL

Testimony Presented
That Woman's Cry
Was Heard At Home

ARCADIA, Mar. 5. — (A.P.)—The state played its first major card yesterday in the trial of William Raymond Carver for the hatchet murder of his wife when testimony went into the record that a woman's screams were heard in the Carver home after a series of shots at the time of the slaying.

The testimony was given by Neal Cash, a lumberman. It followed testimony by Dr. L. W. Martin that hatchet blows he examined on Mrs. Carver's head would have caused unconsciousness and prevented her screaming.

Carver, at his first trial shortly after the slaying in 1930, when he was convicted and later gained a new trial, testified that Mrs. Carver's screams when a negro servant attacked her with a hatchet woke him from an afternoon nap. Reaching into her bedroom, he said, he found his wife and small son slain by the negro, Ben Whitehead, and that he then shot the negro to death.

The state charges Carver shot the negro and then killed Mrs. Carver and the boy with a hatchet as part of a plot to collect double indemnity life insurance policy on his wife's life, naming the baby as beneficiary.

Cash testified he was a short distance from the Carver home at Sebring the day of the slayings, repairing an automobile tire, when he heard four pistol shots and (Continued on Page Five)

"Blue Ribbon Month" Is Meeting Success

That Blue Ribbon Month is helping given the consideration of the buying public, quick to take advantage of bargains and discounts is evidenced by the fact that on Friday the Sanford Furniture Co. received 32 of the "Seminole County" dollars in the course of its day's business.

The Sanford Furniture Co. is allowing $1.25 on these dollars contained in special folders which may be procured at the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, provided the dollar is used in the payment of an old account.

At the present there are about 150 Seminole County dollars in circulation in the county, and it is expected that each dollar will get at least 21 names on it, representing a $31 value in trade in this community.

MRS. HOOVER IS DISTINGUISHED VISITOR IN CITY

First Lady Of Land Is Met By Committee
And Then Goes On Tour Of Farm Area

Smiling, and gracefully waving to a large throng of delighted Sanfordites, Mrs. Herbert Hoover, America's First Lady and Sanford's most distinguished visitor, stepped from the government yacht "Sequoia" shortly after noon today, met a delegation of prominent civic leaders, entered an automobile for a brief tour of the celery delta, and returned to the yacht for a short rest, before beginning the return trip to Jacksonville, late this afternoon.

As the yacht was docked at the end of the Municipal Pier, Harbor Service men accompanying the craft by government automobile were the first to board the yacht, emerging a few minutes later to signal to the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce reception committee.

Mrs. Endor Carlett, vice-chairman of the Woman's Civic Committee, Mayor T. L. Dumas, and Harry M. Papworth, president of the trade body location and expression of welcome on behalf of the community for the honor conferred upon it on the occasion of Mrs. Hoover's visit. Mrs. Carlett presented Mrs. Hoover with a bouquet of roses, as the distinguished guest smilingly declared them "extremely lovely."

As Mrs. Hoover and her party came ashore, Mayor Dumas quickly introduced them to the following members of the reception committee: Mrs. W. T. Langley, Mrs. J. H. Hintersmith, and Mrs. (Continued on Page Six)

Steele Announces His Candidacy For Commission Race

Boston Steele, Seminole County Commissioner from District No. 1 for the past seven and one-half years, today announced his candidacy for reelection to that office, subject to the decision of the voters in the June primaries.

Mr. Steele issued no platform, declaring that he will discuss the issues as they arise. Other than the announcement and the statement that experience in an office of this type should be of value to the taxpaying public, Mr. Steele was brief in his request of the support of all voters.

As a resident of Sanford since 1918, Mr. Steele is well-known to one of its successful farmers. He is said to be deeply concerned with the welfare of Seminole County, and has cast an affirmative vote for many of the constructive measures which have been introduced to the Board since his occupancy.

Mr. Steele resides in East Sanford with his family. He is a member of the Board of Deacons of the First Baptist Church, and a member of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

Cold Wave Sweeping Over Entire Country

KANSAS CITY, Mar. 5. — (A.P.)—A cold wave swept over the Mid-West today threatening budding fruit trees and sending grasshoppers back to the frozen rows and calling for another blast of the high-fructose solution in automobile radiators. Several persons were injured slightly in a hail, rain, and windstorm. At San Antonio the collapse of a transient arena tent over a crowd watching a near panic. Spring weather was way from the Canadian line to the Rio Grande. The mercury touched zero in Western Nebraska. Snow whirled by a strong wind, fell over a wide area. Highway, rail, and air travel were curtailed.

NO STEEL ORDERS HAVE BEEN NOTED BECAUSE OF WAR

Japan's Importation Of Lead Last Year Seen As Significant

NEW YORK, Mar. 4.—(A.P.)—war orders for steel have been placed in this country as a result of the Sino-Japanese hostilities, although Japan's importation of 16,348 tons of lead, 82 per cent of this country's exports in 11 months last year, now is regarded as significant, according to the magazine "Steel." "Apparently, the only reverberation from the trouble in the Far East felt so far in the American industry is suspension of a few steel shipments to Shanghai," the review continues. "In 1931 China took 47,700 tons of iron and steel, and Japan 99,455 which, combined, represented 15 per cent of this country's exports."

Discussing the domestic situation, "Steel" says that producers "have practically exhausted the momentum generated by the post-holiday rise and have reacted to a stalemate requiring heavier demands from the automotive industry and seasonal track requirements from the railroads to break."

"Railroad buying appears a certainty, though in lesser degree than a year ago, so soon as adjustments following the wage reduction are made," the review observes. "The continued absence of Ford is a drag not only to the steel market, but also to other low-price automobile manufacturers."

"Sentiment continues moderately strong," the magazine finds, and despite the further decline in pig iron production in January, it is pointed out that there was a gain in the number of furnaces active. "Constructive forces are at work on the price situation. Weakness is manifest in finished steel as well as raw materials, but a pretentious effort to stabilize may be undertaken shortly. Due to a reduction of $1 a ton in sheet bars at Cleveland and Youngstown, $2 a ton in cast iron pipe at Chicago, and 50 cents in malleable iron at Youngstown and Pittsburgh, 'Steel's' iron and steel composite is off eight cents to $29.84.

"By saving $210,000 through wage reductions, and increasing their revenue $100,000,000 from previous rate advances the railroads will acquire a sum about equal to their 1930 iron and steel expenditures, though financial rather than physical rehabilitation evidently will be their first objective. Several Western roads expect to spend their wage savings in track maintenance work. Loans from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation will be asked by the Pennsylvania to carry on a huge construction program. Southern Pacific Railroad is in the market for 20,000 tons of rails, but rail orders in volume are not expected to materialize for several months."

English Are Using Gold Heirlooms To Melt Into Money

LONDON, Mar. 4.—(A.P.)—Thousands of Englishmen Tuesday were melting goldsmiths' masterpieces of centuries past into the melting pot as sacrifices on the altar of patriotism and profit.

There was no estimate as to the amount of gold that has come out of ancestral jewel boxes, but one authority estimated that Englishmen owned a grand total of 1,000,000,000 pounds of gold in all forms including gold sovereigns.

Sellers of the yellow metal have been led to convert it to ordinary currency because of the opportunity to increase their country's gold supply, and thus protect the pound sterling abroad and because of the profit involved.

The price of the gold sovereign, that is an English pound at par of $4.85, is 27 shillings. A pound sterling with England off the gold standard is worth about $3.44. There are 20 shillings in a pound, therefore the seller of gold realizes a profit of seven shillings on enough gold to make a sovereign.

The whole situation was created when England went off the gold standard and the price of gold mounted.

Many sellers of ancient pieces, wrought by goldsmiths years ago and in many lands including India, have turned them over to gold dealers without being aware of their greater artistic value. Although some have been warned to seek the more remunerative collectors' markets, many priceless works of art have gone to the melting pot in spite of all conscientious dealers could do to stop it.

The whole country appears to have been seized with the selling fever.

Prominent Men Stress Need Of Canal To Coast

(Continued from Page One) berg's recommendations, and offering the suggestion that all Florida should at once prepare a co-ordinated plan of action in relation to its water problems, and to co-operate at all times with members of the engineering staff of the War Department.

In his address, Col. Youngberg first set forth the innumerable advantages which the construction of a canal would bring to Florida and the nation, and then pictured the various steps which are necessary to bring about its being. A study of the possibilities strikingly reveals the vital need for the co-operation and support of the entire state, he concluded.

The speaker opened his address by expressing pleasure that in the attendance of the nearly 100 waterways enthusiasts, an earnest revival of the project was apparent. He stated that the canal has had its entire support since 1922, when he first became interested in it, and promised to lend his active co-operation in any measure which would be helpful.

After picturing the early history of the St. John's River and its tremendous importance, since it was the main artery of transportation for many years, Col. Youngberg said that "in these days we hear much of the railway and allegedly unfair competition brought about by the development of the motor road and motor car, and the improvement of waterways and watercraft. Economists agree that railways are and will continue to be indispensable, but they also contend that the towboat and the barge, the automobile and truck, and that co-ordination of, rather than competition between, these various transport media will best serve the interests of the country."

He quoted high railroad officials who credited waterway transportation as among the important mediums of travel in the nation, and who are combining waterways with their own large railway lines.

"Although the waterways and highways were given severe setbacks from railroads for many years, they are both coming back," the speaker said as he pointed out that both are now doing more business than ever before.

As an instance of how water transportation is being revived in Florida along the St. John's River, he said "although the Clyde Line in 1928 discontinued its service on the St. John's as being unprofitable, that stream in 1929 carried between Jacksonville, Palatka, and Sanford over 561,000 tons of freight valued at over $25,000,000. The figures are from official records, and are the highest on record since 1912."

The value of the pleasure craft to Florida next drew the speaker's attention. Quoting from Roger Babson, economist who stated that pleasure boats bring into Florida nearly $200,000,000 annually and that Florida should give its very best care and attention to the tourist industry represented in this enormous figure, Col. Youngberg declared that this one item practically warranted the construction of the canal from the view point of providing a safe, speedy, and beautiful highway from Jacksonville to Miami.

He credited State Senator Duncan U. Fletcher and Ruth Bryan Owen with a masterful stroke when they introduced and had passed a bill which placed pleasure craft tonnage on rivers and harbors on a parity with that of commercial tonnage in the eyes of government engineers authorized to investigate the wisdom of new canals or river improvements.

"This is a tremendous advantage which has fortunately come our way," the speaker said, "and I am gratified to know that the members of the Association are quick to realize that upon this and other points they are seeking a rehearing of the site survey made some time ago and declined by the war department."

He decried those who stated that the canal is physically impracticable and economically unjustifiable by stating that while there is at present a system of canals providing an inland waterway from New Smyrna to Jacksonville, the new canal, to be constructed through a natural shell formation easy of removal, will be more practicable because faster time can be made over the route because of the absence of locks and canals.

"Water rates have been the making of Sanford and its contiguous territory," Col. Youngberg said as he pictured the early days of the river freighters and the large volume of passenger and freight business brought here. He cited from official records which show that in 40 years from 1884 to 1924, this neighborhood had saved $16,000,000 in its freight charges by virtue of water transport.

He referred to the recently passed Act introduced by Senator Fletcher and Mr. Owen, as "going far toward changing the economic aspects of waterway development in Florida, and should have a very direct bearing on the project now under discussion, which, in my opinion, will result in greater benefits at less cost than any other similar connecting waterway in the state, exclusive of the great Gulf-Atlantic Ship Canal."

Flood-control was briefly touched in the statement that "by means of suitable locks and control gates in a canal running directly east and only 14 miles long, the runoff from the upper St. John's Valley could be not only controlled but expedited. This result should enhance the value of the lands in the valley which intrinsically are among the most fertile in the state."

"It is fairly safe to say that while it may not be possible to induce the Federal government to construct the canal wholly at its own expense, it is more than likely that it can be prevailed upon to take over the maintenance and operation and thus relieve the community of all but the burden of the initial investment," he concluded.

Mr. Gladys Williams, accompanied by Miss Carmen Githrie, sang two popular songs, as part of the musical program.

Other speakers were: George W. Holvey, Green Cove Springs, who briefly spoke on Mrs. Hoover's yacht tour along the St. John's River, and Herbert M. Courson, of Green Cove Springs, who suggested that the Association give thought to plans to develop portage methods between the two rivers.

World Is Tense Awaiting Word On Lindy Child

(Continued from Page One) nation, there was both anger and sorrow in the day's editorials—appeals for mercy and demands for vengeance and death to all baby stealers. And the newspapers were merely echoing the cries of the multitude.

"The civilized world has seldom been so challenged," said the British press, and the words were repeated, in varying language, in every world capital.

War lords in Shanghai and civil leaders in Tokyo joined with the heads of the civilized governments of the western world in expressions of sorrow and sympathy.

"Every modern device for the tracking of criminals was called into ceaseless operation. The radio, surrendering its commercial programs, took up the call to service and, throughout the day and night and once more through the day, broadcast its appeal—and its discouraging, disheartening reports of 'no news yet.'"

Television was used to broadcast Baby Lindbergh's picture. Telephone photos transmitted photographs of the child, playing with his toys, stretching out his little arm, peeping wistfully from a barricade of blocks.

The "home movies" taken by his proud parents were cut and turned over to picture services.

Police teletype printers transmitted news of the broadening search and were used to run down the scores of "clues" that poured in during the day.

Of such clues, several stood out.

Congress Will Let Wheat Be Used To Feed Unemployed

WASHINGTON, Mar. 4.—(A.P.)—Congress voted the lid of the swollen government wheat bin yesterday for the 22d time to take 40,000,000 bushels and distribute it among the unemployed.

If President Hoover approves, after differences between the House and Senate are reconciled, nearly one-quarter of the Farm Board's huge wheat stocks will be available for nation-wide relief.

An overhauling of House vote 344 to two made this possible yesterday. Two months ago the Senate voted 40,000,000 bushels to feed the hungry. Two weeks ago it allotted 5,000,000 bushels for the crop failure areas of northwestern states.

The House Agriculture Committee bound these two measures together and under the spur of Democratic leaders, managed itself to approve by a 15 to 6 vote what formerly it had rejected, 14 to 9.

Besides feeding distressed people, the Red Cross may use the grain to feed livestock in the Northwestern states.

Lower Cost Of Living

While it may not be true that every cloud has a silver lining, one does not have to use a telescope to see the silver lining to the cloud of depression which has settled over this country. One may find it readily in the greatly reduced cost of living which any comparison of current advertisements with those of two years ago quickly reveals in the prices of practically every commodity. Advertisers from Washington disclose that the price level today is within nine percent of what it was in 1913 and is still going down.

Recent surveys of some fifty-one cities throughout the United States indicate a particularly steady decline in foodstuffs prices. During the month ending January 15 last, prices dropped approximately five percent. During the past year this decline was practically fifteen percent. Fresh eggs showed the biggest drop of any other food product, falling off twenty-three percent in price. Other foodstuffs showing declines in price levels are listed in the government report as follows:

Butter, 12 per cent; sliced bacon, 10 per cent; chuck roast, plate beef, navy beans and potatoes, 6 per cent; sliced ham, oleomargarine, and oranges, 5 per cent; sirloin steak, round steak, rib roast, pork chops and bananas, 4 per cent; leg of lamb, cheese, rolled oats and canned corn, 3 per cent; hens, corn meal, sugar, coffee and prunes, 2 per cent; canned red salmon, fresh milk, bread, cornflakes, wheat cereal, macaroni, canned peas, canned tomatoes, and tea, 1 per cent; vegetables and hard substitutes less than five-tenths of 1 per cent. During the year onions showed a price increase of 27 per cent; cabbage, 21 per cent; pork and beans, 4 per cent. There was no change in the price average of evaporated milk, flour, rice and raisins.

The price decline in Jacksonville is recorded at twenty-one percent while the greatest drop in the United States was only twenty-two. It is reasonable to assume that the general price level throughout all Florida is approximately that of Jacksonville. A comparison of prices in Sanford at the present time with those of last year indicates that this city is not out of line in this respect with other Florida communities.

A person who has the same salary now as a year ago is better off, in view of the cheaper living conditions, than he was then. A person whose income has been reduced twenty-one percent is just as well off. These are things we do not often stop to consider in complaining about hard times.

Mental And Physical Exercise

An engineer in a great industrial plant was showing some visitors the operation of a big piece of machinery, and was being asked many questions. Most of the machinery was covered with a heavy dull paint which, the engineer explained, was to prevent rusting. There were some parts, however, that were bright and shiny, sleeve valves and pistons moving back and forth. One of the party asked why these parts didn't have paint to keep them from rusting also and the reply, very obviously, was that "moving parts don't rust."

We wonder how many people realize that this same statement is true of the human body and how many people actually make an effort to keep their bodies from "rusting." It is likely that very few do. Most of us treat our bodies with less consideration than we do our automobiles. Few of us would intentionally operate our cars without water or oil, but a majority of us disregard the necessity for proper exercise, thereby doing more harm to ourselves, in the long run, than by failure to put oil or water in our cars.

But this lack of physical exercise, serious as it is, is usually overshadowed by a lack of mental exercise. The brain is particularly susceptible to "rust," and unless kept active soon becomes a dull piece of equipment. The average person has certain duties each day which may require brain work and he may consider this enough mental exercise to keep in trim. But the brain is made up of many different cells and nerves, all needing stimulation in varied lines of thoughts if they are to be kept on razor edge.

Exercise of the body every day and use of the brain in fields outside of the day's ordinary routine will combine to produce a mental and physical well being, which in the end, should be the goal of everyone.

SANFORD, TWENTY YEARS AGO

Attorney General Park Traume's opinion that the expense of registration prior to a primary election must be paid by the county, will undoubtedly be sustained by the courts. It is not a party registration in the language of the statute, and all voters, irrespective of party affiliation, are entitled to register while the books are open.

Judge H. M. Allen, of Birmingham, Ala., and B. C. Abernathy, of Orlando, were in the city last Saturday in the interests of Hon. Oscar Underwood, of Alabama, candidate for Democratic nominee for presidency of the United States. Judge Allen spoke in glowing terms of his visit to Florida and the many expressions of loyalty he had received for his candidate.

The season of 1912 promises more good things for Sanford than we have ever gained in the past. Among them will be a large cannery factory, a new tourist hotel, a new steamship line, a country club, a new building with the Y. M. C. A. as the prime factor, and a number of other improvements in the way of buildings and residences.

Factories are closing all over the United Kingdom for lack of fuel as a result of the strike of more than a million coal miners. It is estimated that 200,000 men besides the miners are idle. The number is increasing hourly. Railroads and steamships in many instances are paralyzed.

The liveliest of the tariff revision fights in the present session of Congress will break this week when the Democratic free sugar bill and the income tax bill, which goes into it to make up the $50,000,000 a year that would be lost in sugar duties, probably will go through the House and to probable defeat in the Senate.

The Sewing Circle was entertained by the Misses Criss and Bach at the residence of Mrs. W. T. Johns Thursday evening. Guests were: Mrs. J. C. Bennett, Mrs. W. T. Johns, Mrs. W. E. Housholder, and the Misses Emma and Estelle Beard, Mary and Carrie Essinger, Lillian Gibson, Margaret Roberts and Hood.

There can be no question whatever that in removing Sheriff Farley, Governor Roosevelt has acted wisely and justly in the public interest. We are glad to compliment him; too, on the resolution it took to follow this course in the circumstances, though perhaps it is only fair to say that, whatever harm may accrue to his political fortunes from Tammany's resentment, he had more to fear from the nation as a whole in not braving the tiger.

For the rest, one could wish that he had made his decision more promptly—had, indeed, taken the initiative in following up Farley's original testimony before the Hotelstadter committee, for it is on the abashed and evasive testimony of Mr. Farley that the present knowledge of and interest in world financial affairs, in that connection, Mr. Farley was one of the men chosen as American representatives on the international committee for the study of international finance, set up by the League of Nations.

"LAWLESSNESS"
TAMPA TRIBUNE

Collector of Customs, Sidney C. Brown, in an address before the Anti-Saloon League, convention, St. Petersburg, declared: "If lawlessness and mob rule ever gain control in America, there will be no more of constitutional government."

Lawlessness and mob rule—these rules are not in complete control in this country, and probably never will be in complete control; but it must be said that they are nearer such control than ever before in the history of the country. They have at least been making an arrogant bid for such control, and, on occasions, have gained it in certain quarters.

Lawlessness is both organized and unorganized. Organized, it is bootlegging rings, the narcotic rings, the gambling rings, the political rings which, through lawlessness, seek and often obtain control; unorganized, it is the individual citizen who, resenting the attempt to control his personal desires by law, and recognizing the slow process of obtaining changes in that law, ignores that law, in so doing, acquires a lack of respect for other laws.

It is all lawlessness, we may grant—but all of it is the offspring of prohibition. There are forms of lawlessness which we did

CALLING THEM DOWN
OCALA BANNER

The pert magazine Time, which sometimes trots out toes with its crisp, pointed remarks, has trod on the toes of the South. For that it has received a call down from Editor E. L. Lambright of the Tampa Tribune.

Commenting on the editorial record of Francis Stuart Harmon, Mississippi, who was recently named general secretary of the Y. M. C. A., Time said: "Like few other Southern editors he has consistently stood forth against lynching, convict-floggings, local misgovernment."

In a letter to Time, Editor Lambright said in part: "I would ask Time to point out one reputable Southern newspaper which does not oppose lynching and flogging. As for 'local misgovernment,' that is a matter of local political opinion."

"On the subject of lynching, however, the Southern press is a unit. Convict-floggings having

CHANGE IN IRELAND
NEW YORK HERALD-TRIBUNE

Yesterday evening it appeared that the next head of the Irish Free State would be Eamon de Valera, once President of the "Irish Republic" and the Free State's irreconcilable and intransigent enemy through the decade of its history. President Cosgrave had not conceded this, and the late return may upset the calculation, but unless the trend is reversed de Valera's Fianna Fail will be the largest single party and as such entitled to form the government.

Eight or nine years ago, when the last republican revolt had been stamped out, not by British "black and tans," but by the Irish themselves, Mr. de Valera's political career seemed over. The great mass of the Irish people believed that the treaty and the Free State gave them everything they needed, and they were tired of fighting. That Mr. de Valera could rise again upon the old issue of freedom from British rule, would have appeared impossible. Nor, perhaps, was the appearance deceptive. Mr. de Valera has, indeed, returned, denouncing as he used to do the "oath of allegiance," but whether

FARLEY'S DISMISSAL
NEW YORK HERALD-TRIBUNE

There can be no question whatever that in removing Sheriff Farley, Governor Roosevelt has acted wisely and justly in the public interest. We are glad to compliment him; too, on the resolution it took to follow this course in the circumstances, though perhaps it is only fair to say that, whatever harm may accrue to his political fortunes from Tammany's resentment, he had more to fear from the nation as a whole in not braving the tiger.

For the rest, one could wish that he had made his decision more promptly—had, indeed, taken the initiative in following up Farley's original testimony before the Hotelstadter committee, for it is on the abashed and evasive testimony of Mr. Farley that the present knowledge of and interest in world financial affairs, in that connection, Mr. Farley was one of the men chosen as American representatives on the international committee for the study of international finance, set up by the League of Nations.

long continued, this has been a highly improper practice in New York county and that legislation should be adopted making this practice impossible in the future.

Inasmuch as the Sheriff is actually under indictment charging him with a felony for this very practice, one is inclined to wonder a bit at the Governor's idea of "sufficiency" in his remarks on the subject.

However, the main thing is that Farley has been removed, as he richly deserved to be, and the Seabury investigation stands justified in a concrete accomplishment.

Malcolm Campbell broke his own record of 241 miles per hour at Daytona each on Feb. 24, 1932, the new record being 253 miles per hour.

Barrymore Brothers Appear In Same Film

"The most desirable characterization for an actor is one that has dynamic in it," John Barrymore says. He appears with his brother, Lionel, for the first time on the screen in "Arsene Lupin," which will be shown at the Milano Theater Sunday and Monday.

It was apropos of the role of the wily Arsene that he made the remark, "An actor can play a repressed, even a casual role," he remarked, "if, behind the casualness, one gets the sense of latent force. Dynamite is harmless in look until we realize the latent force in it. A sleepy tiger doesn't look dangerous—but we know the possibilities in him."

"So it is with certain roles on stage or screen. If the actor has a characterization in which the audience can recognize a latent power for either good or evil, he can play that role with the utmost casualness and still be effective. The audience says to itself—'He's cool now—but if he ever got roused!' That's the audience feeling that enables an actor to do almost anything with a role."

"This character of Lupin is much of that pattern. He's debonaire—romps through tight spots, and displays a whimsical humor—but he's terribly dangerous if roused or put in a corner where he had to fight."

"Aside from the interesting characterization, playing with my brother, Lionel, for the first time on the screen was a lot of fun. We worked so easily together that rehearsals were hardly needed. Incidentally, I have a great respect for that brother of mine and heartily agree with the Academy in awarding him the prize for the best performance by an actor for the year. Yes—or, any other year, I claim."

Mayfair Circle Of Garden Club Meets

With Mrs. E. N. Scott, Mrs. Ralph M. Warren, and Mrs. Paul Stine as hostesses, the regular meeting of the Mayfair Circle of the Garden Club of Sanford was held yesterday morning at 9:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Warren, 602 East Second Street. During the meeting announcement was made of the Flower Show which will be held on Mar. 9 and Mar. 10 at the Mayfair Hotel. Plans were discussed for the part the Mayfair Circle will take in the event.

Arrangements were made for the reciprocal meeting on Apr. 1 when the Mayfair Circle will be hostesses to the other garden circles in the club. The state convention of Garden Clubs in St. Petersburg in March; the State Flower Show at Miami in April; and the Beautification Conference to be held here soon, were all discussed during the meeting.

Mrs. R. B. Monroe received the arrangement award for a miniature in a blue vase which she submitted at the meeting. She then read the following paper on "Plants for Pools."

"The lily pool is fast becoming an accepted feature of every well planned garden. This is easy to understand when one considers that no other plants give quite as much in return for so little effort spent on them as water lilies and aquatics. To grow all nymphs (water lilies and aquatics) successfully they must be supplied with good rich soil in abundance. If the soil is not sufficiently enriched, the plant food will soon become exhausted and the plants will show yellow starved leaves and small flowers. The three essentials to success with aquatics are water, sunshine and rich soil."

"Selecting plants for the water garden is a most interesting task. There are two principal families of water lilies, hardy varieties and tropicals. Hardies come into bloom in late March or April and continue usually until frost. Exotic among the fine varieties we find yellow whites, yellows, oranges, and pink shades, and various reds. Blue only is missing. In size there is a range from one inch white stars to the gorgeous 'Sunshine,' nearly a foot across. Of the tender or tropical lilies, there are two distinct classes, one flowering during the day, the other flowering during the night. Where orange trees live, the lilies flower all the year."

"There are exquisitely perfect day-flowering varieties in shades of purple, blue, pink, and white, which open early in the morning and close at dusk. Then there are the night bloomers, red, pink, and white, opening in the later afternoon and closing the following morning, sometimes remaining open all day, if it is cool and cloudy."

"They are among the most adaptable plants in existence. When the roots are confined in a six inch pot they will just fill a pool the size of a half barrel, with small green pods, and produce miniature flowers all summer. Planted in a larger pool the same plant will attain a leaf spread of twelve feet with an incredible number of huge blossoms—a foot or more above the water, the following list of varieties will give satisfaction. Hardy lilies: Gladstone and Marilee yellow, yellow; Camanche and Paul Harist, orange pink, changing to red; Marilee Rose, pink; James Brydon, a deep rose; Gloriosa, red. Tropical lilies: Day

—flowering: Blue Beauty, Henry Shaw, Mrs. Edward Whitaker, and August Koch, blue; Panama Pacific, Purple Zanibar, purple; General Pershing, Rose Star, Mrs. C. W. Ward, pink; Mrs. Geo. G. Prinz, white; Night Blooming, Frank Trelease, red; O'Meana, pink, and Juno, white."

"Besides lilies, the most striking of other plants is the lotus or nymphaea, with its giant nasturtium like leaves growing several feet above the water. The flower has everything in appearance that pleases besides exuding a wonderful perfume. Even the seed pods are decorative."

"Nymphaea speciosa, the sacred Egyptian lotus, a delightful pink. Shitoman is a massive double white, and nymphaea luteum is our native yellow flowered American type, often called Water."

"We have many more of floating and shallow water plants listed in leaves. Lovely specimens are to be found in Rock Springs. The water hyacinth, the water poppy, a very small plant, producing large yellow flowers. Parrot feather with its long trailing stems produce a beautiful light green foliage. Purple water iris grows in shallow water or moist soil, also the giant arrowhead, the large arrow shaped leaves producing white flowers on a long center spike. Cat tail, a well known native swamp plant, looks lush with arrow shaped leaves, grows about two feet high and produces long spikes of blue flowers."

"Many of these plants are useful in keeping the water supplied with oxygen and also give the fish excellent material on which to spawn."

"Tyrone Parsons is the Executive Paper Plant. It is a fine graceful plant for the water garden. It thrives along the bank of streams or ponds and is best planted near the edge of the pool."

Refreshments were served to the following: Mrs. J. C. Benson, Mrs. Perry Cameron, Mrs. R. R. Deas, Mrs. Edward Higgins, Mrs. C. B. Mason, Mrs. R. B. Monroe, Mrs. E. N. Scott, Mrs. G. S. ## Do You Know?

ONE OF NATION'S LARGEST PRISONS TO BE REVAMPED

Musty, Monotonous Atmosphere Will Give Way To New Spirit

JOLIET, Ill., Mar. 5.—(A.P.)—One of the nation's largest prison plants has set out to fumigate itself.

Gone will be the musty, monotonous atmosphere of ambivalence pervading when the job is finished—although it may take years.

In its place, Illinois convicts will breathe a spirit of educational prison reform.

Instead of early stonewall, Illinois intends to breed new citizenship into nearly 5,000 men confined in penitentiaries at Joliet and at Stateville, near York.

On the shore of a schoolmaster class of what is called "up" bloody Williamson county in southern Illinois, direct responsibility for this task.

He is the new deputy warden at Stateville. Then Coleman, a man who can't be caught by a law, is the new deputy warden at Joliet.

Into Stateville, more modern of the two prisons, come four some of convicts weekly, men who have "gone through the mill" a Joliet and show possibilities for reform.

More than 2,000 men are housed in Stateville now, and its population is growing. Later it is planned to remove the most promising of Stateville's prisoners into Joliet.

Pouring Sound UP-HILL Establishes Purity

Men have known for centuries that if water is poured down hill far enough, it will "purify" itself. A remarkable example of this phenomenon may be seen on the island of Formosa. There, far up in the Tiger Head Range of mountains, high above where the famous tea grows, are hundreds of acres of paddies, but effectively irrigated by rice fields. The water, of course, is filthy; but the water which drains from these fields spills over the side of the mountain for a fall of half a mile. Before the pool at the bottom is reached, the water is broken into a fine mist to fall a little more than heavy dew into a hollow of rock. It is then crystal clear, pure as deep rock spring water and delightfully cool.

But to "purify" sound, phonetic engineers have learned that it must be poured up-hill. The explanation is that the waves which sound the high notes as they come out of a radio loud speaker, travel in straight lines. They are slow to spread out and may soon be smothered in the floor covering, whatever it may be, by tilting the loud speaker as shown in the illustration above.

These high notes are carried in the field of hearing and the reproduced sound takes on the "brilliance" of the original. It is claimed that this change in the pitch of the loud speaker eliminates most of the faults in radio tone.

It was Coleman who was sheriff in Williamson county when that one-time battleground finally was cleaned up after a notorious area of lawlessness that stretched over nearly six years.

Previously he had been a Williamson county school superintendent for 10 years. When he left the schoolroom to run for sheriff in 1926, he got more votes than the total polled by eight opponents.

Illinois law bars a sheriff from succeeding himself, so Coleman became assistant superintendent of the state reformatory at Pontiac a few months after his sheriff's term ended. Six months later he was called to Stateville.

Romey H. Brandon, Illinois' director of public welfare, says that Coleman's record as school superintendent and then as a conjurer of "Bloody Williamson's" worst makes him "educated enough and tough enough for this job."

Britain Slices Off Army, Navy Budget

LONDON, Mar. 5.—(A.P.)—Great Britain yesterday tentatively sliced $18,842,016 off the cost of her army, navy and air force for 1932, but left her naval construction program at last year's level. Total expenditures for the three branches of the service were estimated in a government statement at 104,364,300 pounds ($373,188,061), a reduction of 5,270,700 pounds.

Started Room In Jersey Village

(Continued from Page One) can from his premises in order to relieve congestion in the area. He was on his own property and was being well paid for his trouble, but he agreed willingly. "I'm doing this because Colonel Lindbergh is my neighbor and I know that if I went up to his home and knocked on the door and told him I needed help he would get anything he could for me," he said. The fact is that Hopewell has never been the same rural center that it was before the Lindbergh case and the events of the last few days have revolutionized its appearance. Every house in this village of 1,600 people has its quota of strangers and the three-story wooden Gettys Hotel is crowded to the eaves, its lobby pulsing with curious humanity. There are between 300 and 400 newspapermen, news reel men, radio technicians, law enforcement officers and hangers-on in the town. A sound movie track is on the ground and the National Broadcasting Company has set up a temporary radio station. The atmosphere of thousands constantly circulate through the streets. The merchants have one eye on the monetary possibilities of the situation, too, and Hopewell is having its first boom. Hotel rooms come at 35 the night, the barstool meal at $1 and other establishments in like proportion. Even the local bootleggers are having their fill at high finance. 1,059,000 pounds ($3,685,120). An average personnel of 91,410, a decrease of 2240 men was provided for.
