Federal Grand Jury Indicts Auto Workers

DETROIT (AP) — A federal grand jury today indicted the CIO United Auto Workers Union on charges of violation of the federal corrupt practices act in politics.

The grand jury accused the big union of using general union funds to finance political activities in the 1954 congressional campaign.

This was the campaign in which Patrick V. McNamara, Democrat supported by the UAW and other labor groups, defeated U. S. Sen. Homer Ferguson, Republican.

A weekly union-sponsored radio program was involved in a grand jury investigation of charges brought about by the Republican Central Committee.

John Feikens, committee chairman, filed the charges with the justice department last March.

The indictment named only the union itself. None of its officers, who include CIO President Walter Reuther, was named. Reuther is also president of the UAW-CIO.

Organized labor took a large role in the 1954 campaign.

Investigators Ask For Script Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigators today asked the Justice Department and the Internal Revenue Service to study a bearing transcript containing new bribery accusations against Harry Lev, wealthy Chicago maker of caps for the armed forces.

Forgoing Lev told the Senate investigations subcommittee yesterday he still cannot remember what he did with $20,000 in cash he acknowledged withdrawing from his Chicago bank in June and July 1953.

But he insisted that "not one cent" of it went to pay bribes to help him get government contracts.

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark.) questioned Lev that such an answer "certainly casts a very strong suspicion on you" when considered in light of other testimony.

Legendary Tycoon Dies In Portugal Of Kidney Ailment

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — Calouste Sarkis Gulbenkian, legendary oil magnate and one of the world's richest men, died today of a kidney ailment. He was 86.

Gulbenkian was one of the most mysterious men in the world. He shunned publicity of any kind and lived quietly in the Hotel Aviz where he died. He had been ill since January.

In the oil industry, source of most of his fortune, he was called "Mr. Q" or "Mr. Five Per Cent." A reference to his reported share of the profits of the fabulously wealthy Iraq Petroleum Co.

He was regarded probably a billionaire, yet his name was little known.

He devoted his talents to acquiring wealth, building one of the world's most valuable art collections and keeping himself obscure.

Limp 'Gator Bites Zoo Keeper On Arm

Mrs. Arnold Hood, Sanford zoo keeper, is none the worse but so much the wiser as she is feeling fine after being bitten by a two and one-half foot alligator.

The animal was presented to the zoo by a Volusia County resident. When it arrived here a rope was tied around its back to keep it from making a fast get away.

The rope was apparently too tight and when the alligator was put into the water, he seemed as though he had very little life left and went to the bottom.

Before Mrs. Hood had a chance to feel too sorry for the creature, the seemingly limp body suddenly came out of its stunted state to make a fast flip, biting the surprised lady on the arm.

Fortunately, the alligator did not bite her.

"I can feel the earth trembling," was the way O. P. Herndon, Clerk of the Circuit Court, described the growth of Sanford and the state. Why, I think that in ten years Florida will be the biggest state in the union. The county is on the verge of the most substantial growth of any one in the state of Florida," the amiable Clerk continued.

"Roads are being constructed in remote and undeveloped sections by the Board of County Commissioners and that is the main factor leading to the development of homes and businesses all over the city. It is most encouraging to find people who are coming here to live on the property or make a living off of it."

"They blend in well with our own people and take part in religious, civic and political life of this county. It is also encouraging to find young people taking an active interest in the community. There is nothing wrong with young people today and I defy anyone to challenge me. I think they're a fine lot and are doing a wonderful job toward being the leaders of tomorrow. I am happy to have contributed a small part to the whole."

In preparing the budget presented to the County Commission yesterday and which was tentatively adopted, Herndon called attention to the fine and forfeiture fund, pointing out that every effort was made to reduce the millage, but that it was necessary to set it up one to one and a half which is the same as last year.

"For a good many years the fine and forfeiture fund was self-sustaining and operated without the necessity of laying any tax on the people to pay for law enforcement. Under the present practice of issuing warrants and filing informations too, it runs up cost unnecessarily, therefore causing the millage," the clerk brought out.

In settling up the general fund and attempting to maintain the same millage levied last year, to wit, 7 mills, he was unable to include several requested items such as a $2,400 per year increase for the juvenile judge, making a total of $6,400, as well as an increase of $1,100 yearly for the home demonstration agent. These grants could not be made without levying extra millage to care for these items, therefore they were not included in the tentative budget adopted yesterday, Herndon declared.

In the road and bridge fund the clerk provided sufficient funds to increase salaries and wages of County road employees by 10 per cent. Funds were also provided for construction by the board of County Commissioners of approximately 15 miles of new roads during the next fiscal year and because of careful financing and the receipt of additional money for the fund, the millage was reduced from four mills levied last year to two mills in the 1955-56 budget.

This amounts to a savings on taxes on non-exempt property of $2 on each $1,000 valuation.

The Clerk commended and congratulated the Board of County Commissioners on the healthy financial condition of this County and the progress it is making.

"Yes, sir," he repeated, "I can feel the earth trembling already and in a few years there will not be enough available unoccupied land in Seminole County to build a good-sized rabbit hutch."

Burmese Minister Says Red Admission Would Ease Tension

TOKYO (AP) — Prime Minister U Nu of Burma suggested today that simultaneous admission of Red China to the United Nations and release of Chinese-held American prisoners would "relieve a great deal of tension."

U Nu, who flew here after a tour of the United States, also told a press conference that he backed the proposal of Prime Minister Nehru of India for a world conference on Asia problems.

"A world conference of all countries interested in Asia would be a very good thing," U Nu said. Answering a question, he said, "It would be very difficult" if Red China did not attend such a conference.

U Nu said Burma wanted American prisoners in Red China "released as soon as possible, just as we want the U. N. to admit China, perhaps simultaneously."

New York Police Capture Escapée From Ohio Prison

NEW YORK (AP) — The slayer of crusading publisher Don R. Mclellan 29 years ago, who escaped from an Ohio penitentiary last November, was recaptured by New York City police last night.

Patrick Eugene McDermott, 56, of the Bronx, today admitted his identity as one of the FBI's "10 Most Wanted Men," police said.

McDermott was seized after Patrolman Harold Pogewelt thought his face looked familiar, and later confirmed it when he searched the files and found his picture on a "wanted" circular.

McDermott told police he had been in and out of jail for minor offenses since his escape but was never recognized.

He was seized at Jewish Memorial Hospital, where he had been working as an ambulance attendant for five months.

Parked Truck Hit Early This Morning

Roy Howard Sheffield, 26, was arrested this morning on a charge of careless and negligent driving and leaving the scene of an accident when his 1955 Pontiac sedan was reported to have hit a parked Florida Power and Light Co. truck approximately 100 feet south of the Park Ave. - 13th St. intersection.

Damage to the truck, which was hit on the left rear fender, was estimated at $35 while Sheffield's car was said to suffer $200 damages. The accident occurred at 1:35 a. m.

In Patrolman Joe Hickson's report, he stated that Sheffield, whose address was given as 2204 Park Ave., was going south on Park and hit the truck.

No injuries were reported.

No Violations Seen HINTON, Okla. (AP) — D. O. Peeler, 34, was driving along U. S. 82 during a thundershower when his car went into a skid.

Tromper Art Corday quoted a witness as saying the car skidded 125 feet and dropped into a 50 foot canyon where it rolled 45 feet and landed on its front end.

Peeler climbed out of the mangled car, complaining of a sore neck.

Corday said no traffic regulations were violated.

House Republicans Try For Minimum

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republicans, aided by some Southern Democrats, sought to hold the line today on a minimum wage increase to 90 cents an hour, as asked by President Eisenhower.

As the House neared a showdown vote, Democratic leaders conceded they faced tough opposition in their efforts to boost the federal wage floor from 75 cents to $1 an hour immediately.

Leaders of both parties agreed there would be a hike. Disagreement centered on how much of an increase and when it would take effect.

Rep. Kelley (D-Pa.), floor manager of the Democratic-sponsored wage bill, predicted the House would vote for $1. But he said there was strong support for a proposed gradual increase spread over three years.

Air Force Stations Reduction Is Told

TOKYO (AP) — Plans are underway to reduce the number of U. S. Air Force bases in Japan from 40 to about 10, it was reported today by Shintaro Fukushima, director of the Japan Procurement Board.

The board is the Japanese government's clearing house for U. S. military needs in Japan.

A spokesman for the Far East Command said FEC headquarters "has no comment on the report."

There was no immediate comment from air force officials in Tokyo.

Love, Aching Feet Could Be Reason For Ending Plan

LONDON (AP) — Whether love or aching feet conquered wasn't clear but the jilted suitor stopped his pacing.

Ronnie Hill, 31-year-old clerk, began walking back and forth in front of his ex-fiancee's home Monday. He said he had been engaged to marry Sally Willingale, 21, on July 30, but last week she told him it was all off.

"I'll keep walking until she changes her mind," said Ronnie. "I've loved her since she was 14 and I'll go on walking until I drop."

But yesterday Ronnie disappeared from in front of Sally's walk without disclosing the outcome of his overnight march. Sally wasn't talking either.

Traffic Accident 'Keeps On Coming'

HOUSTON (AP) — "I thought it was the end," says Fred Raemer of a traffic accident which happened yesterday.

Raemer was sitting in his car waiting for a red light to change when another car plunged off the roof of a three-story parking garage and fell on Raemer's car.

The second car belonged to Edwin Steen, 34, who had it up on jacks while making some repairs. Steen forgot the engine was running and in gear and let the car down off the jacks. "It just took off," says Raemer.

Raemer was not hurt, but his car was mangled up.

Sultan's Ouster Sought

CASABLANCA, Morocco (AP) — Top French officials today were reported working to oust Sultan Moulay Ben Araf as a step toward satisfying rebellious nationalists in strife-ridden French Morocco.

Sources close to Gilbert Grandval, new resident general, said he intends to push a political program of moderation toward Nationalist-minded Moroccans despite the recent bloody rioting and threats of new violence. Grandval has met bitter opposition from many of Morocco's French colonists.

Comparative quiet continued in Casablanca yesterday but violence continued in Fedala, 17 miles to the northeast, where fires set by nationalist terrorists left hundreds of Moroccans homeless. Some French farm houses also were burned. Unconfirmed reports said eight natives had been killed in Fedala. A Frenchman was killed last night in the native quarter of Rabat, 55 miles northeast of Casablanca.

Four persons were killed and 19 wounded yesterday in Casablanca.

Anti-Red Students Rioting In Saigon At Leading Hotel

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Thousands of anti-Communist students sacked Saigon's No. 1 hotel today but Mrs. Marie Mesta talked them when they took axes to her door.

The students were demonstrating against the Indian-Polish-Canadian armistice commission. As some of the rioters started breaking into their second-floor, air-conditioned suite in the Hotel Majestic the former U. S. minister to Luxembourg threw open the door and shouted:

"Not We are your friends: We are Americans."

One of the student leaders who understood English formed a corridor in front of Mrs. Mesta's apartment and kept back the mob, who laid waste to the five-story, government-owned building.

With Mrs. Mesta at the time were her two American secretaries, an unidentified American woman visitor and the latter's baby.

Calhern Divorced

CULVER CITY, Calif. (AP) — Movie actor Louis Calhern's studio has announced that his fourth wife, Marianne Stewart Calhern, obtained a divorce from him yesterday in Juarez, Mexico. An MGM spokesman said Mrs. Calhern will resume her acting career.

High School Senior Dies While Reading

BIRDSDORF, Pa. (AP) — A high school senior looped a belt around the branch of a tree, then under the chin to support his head while he sat on top of a washing machine reading comic books.

State policeman James Woods said the lid of the washer revolved under the boy, 17-year-old John Mattson, causing the belt to tighten around his throat and strangle him yesterday.

His stepfather Charles Morris found his body.

Woods said there were scuff marks on the ground by the washer where Mattson apparently tried to free the belt from around his throat.

Specific Program Sidelined Officials Convene For 4th Session

GENEVA (AP) — The Big Four leaders took up the broad question of European security today, putting aside the specific issue of Germany alone.

The heads of government met for their fourth session at 4 p. m. (10 a. m. EST). For two hours earlier today their foreign ministers tried to arrive at some sort of agreed recommendations on the German problem. One Western source said they just argued in circles. They got into the European security problem to such an extent that Western leaders became convinced it would be difficult to keep the issues separate.

The West finally agreed to recommend that the summit talks move on to the security problem—second on the agenda after Germany. It was expected the two questions would be discussed together.

Western leaders had recognized the close link between the German and security issues, but they had won top priority yesterday for German unification, which they considered the most vital problem in Europe today.

Although the outlook for any sort of agreement on Germany appeared dim, one American source said the shift to security certainly did not mean that the German discussion was finished.

Future Looks Dim For Sam Sheppard

CLEVELAND (AP) — Nearly a year after he was arrested, it appeared today Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard soon will start serving a life-penitentiary term for the bludgeoning slaying of his pregnant wife.

An Appellate Court yesterday turned down his second and final motion for a new trial, and one of the attorneys says the young osteopath feels he would get more exercise and privileges in prison than he does in county jail.

The motion denied yesterday was based largely on a criminology professor's affidavit that he found evidence a left-handed sex fiend killed Marilyn Sheppard July 4, 1954. Sheppard is right-handed.

But the 41-page opinion of the three-judge court discounted the affidavit with such descriptions as "highly speculative and fallacious," "guess work" and "sheer supposition."

Nevada Prisoners Finally Give Up; No Point Gained

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP) — Tired, but hungry, Nevada State Prison convicts who Monday afternoon started a bloodless rebellion against the prison routine, gave up the ghost last night without gaining a single point.

More than 200 of the rebels who had spent a night and a day in the prison yard lined up and started filing back into their cell block a few minutes after they had been warned by Warden Art Bernard the time had come for a showdown.

Nevada state patrolmen called to replenish the guards around the 60-year-old brownstone prison were "tired and won't wait much longer," the warden told a three-man committee representing the convicts.

Minutes later the committee returned with the word that the men were "tired and sick; they don't want anything."

First Commercial Atomic-Electric Power Utilized

WEST MILTON, N. Y. (AP)—The free world's first commercial atomic-electric power is in use today in upstate New York.

Chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission pulled a switch yesterday that loosed several thousand kilowatts of it into the Niagara Mohawk Power Corp. grid.

A counterpart of an atomic-submarine reactor produces steam to operate a turbine and generate the power. An official of the General Electric Co., which built the generator, said it had a capacity of 12,000 kilowatts and was "expected to produce electricity at the rate of about 10,000 kilowatts."

The GE spokesman said the generator could provide additional power for as many as 35,000 homes in the system served.

"One of the first persons" to use the atomic power, the spokesman declared, was Mrs. John Thomas, of nearby Ballston Spa, who "cooked a hamburger" with it.

Mambo In Japan

If you've grown tired of the mambo, don't try to escape it by going to Japan. There may be other places of the world where the rhythm of the mambo doesn't fill the air waves, but not Japan. The fact is that Japan has been conquered by the mambo.

Songs like "Papa Loves Mambo," and "Mambo Italiano" have been imported to Japan from America. But the Japanese have also made their own contributions to this form of rhythm. They've added "Kushimoto Mambo" and "Jongara Mambo" to the repertoire. They have, in other words, "mamboized" versions of old Japanese folk songs.

Actually the mambo was introduced to Japan about four years ago, but not until recently did it catch on there. Now it can't be stopped. Bands play it. Loudspeakers on streets blast it out. Popular singers broadcast it on radio and television. Music-minded students have formed their own mambo bands. There are those who say that the mambo has replaced jazz in popularity as far as Japan is concerned. The craze is now spreading from the cities to the rural areas. It's everywhere.

Apparently, then, there's no escape from must be endured. Conceivably the worst is the mambo. One may not enjoy it, but it yet to come.

TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE

There is a spirit in man; and the inspiration of the Almighty giveth them understanding.—Job 32:8.—The Greeks might have called this the Divine Aftus. A pious scientist who prayed daily for direction and wisdom found hundreds of uses for peanuts and sweet potatoes, to help the farmers of his country.

Wives Possess Secret Qualities

NEW YORK (AP)—Wives always have a secret quality. They're odd people.

You can't count on what they'll do—but you always can depend on them to do it.

A wife isn't exactly animal, vegetable or mineral. Sometimes she's all three—and human besides.

The average husband finds his wife hard to figure. But then the average husband finds it hard to figure. Bachelors don't have to worry about figuring. They know that in this woman-crowded civilization a single man always rates.

Any bachelor has got wives figured to a "T"—but usually it's a T-some slack.

You have to live with a woman to really understand her—bring her home bacon when she actually desired pork chops, father a daughter when she wanted you to image a son, take her out to the night restaurant but then sit her down at the wrong table, dance a fox trot when she yearned to mambo.

A wife never fits a pattern. She will haul you out for coming home late for a party, then in front of another wife defend your right to live your own life.

She won't buy a dress in a year. Suddenly she'll buy three in a row and make you go out and buy a suit yourself and a pair of shoes.

Wives have a strange idea that a new dress makes a woman feel better, and that a new pair of shoes gives a man the same sensation. Somewhere they have read that all men have a fear of ending up in this world barefooted.

Wives are often full of sudden and strange complaints, too unexpected for a man to keep up with.

They will rebel against the color scheme in their home they picked only yesterday, and demand fresh or fabrics, brighter tints. Yet if their husband comes home with

Rich With Empty Pocket

Almost every day someone comes forth with the information that 1955 is going to be and actually is the greatest economic year of American history. Just recently the man who ought to know has said it, too. Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks, after reviewing the mid-year survey of the nation's major industries, states that we are breaking all previous production records and are setting new ones.

Everybody seems to be buying things and no one seems to have any money. It looks as though the point has been reached where money is expendable. For an honest week's work manufacturers might just as well hand a man a handsome sheaf of time plans and be done with it.

Time plans are all right. So is hard work. But the frightening thing about the combination of the two is that this seems to be turning into the era of the stretched man. A man is pulled twenty or thirty years into the future when he buys a house. He's yanked three years ahead with the new refrigerator, two years with the second car and another television set will probably propel him ahead one more year.

Record breaking production and sales are fine as long as they don't sweep a man off his feet and into an economic sprawl. Good times may last forever at this level and at this pace, but how long has that man who's sprawling?

Jobs Are Not Plums

It is reported that Ohio's Senators, John Bricker and George Bender, are angry at the recent Presidential appointment of John F. Feld to the position of executive director of the President's committee on government employment policies. Their objection is based on the fact that Feld is a Democrat and was an outspoken supporter of Adlai Stevenson for the presidency.

The issue does not appear to be Feld's fitness for the job, but his political faith. Yet is there any reason why the administration should not appoint Democrats to some important posts if they are qualified? Should able, efficient men be denied positions in government because they are on the losing side in an election?

There is nothing wrong with the filling of certain offices, by a political party which wins an election, with persons who subscribe to its policies. But it is not good to accept the theory that the only way a competent man can hope for an appointment is as a reward for working for the winning side.

Shorter Payment Span Is Better

NEW YORK (AP)—The easier the mortgage payments are on your current budget the more money you'll have to put out before you finally get full title to your home.

Lending agencies are starting to stress that paying for a home "just like rent" costs more in interest payments over the years.

On a $10,000 loan a veteran can save himself more than $3,000 by taking out a 20-year mortgage instead of a 30-year one, the Northwestern National Life Insurance Co. of Minneapolis notes today.

Or, put another way, on each $1,000 of down payment you can manage to put up, you can save over $300 in interest payments on a 30-year program, or more than $500 in interest payments on a 20-year schedule.

Many families who'd like a home of their own, or a larger house for a growing brood, are discussing today how best to finance it. The problem: they can save interest payments in the long run by taking the 20-year payment plan instead of the 30-year one—but their monthly payments in the meantime will be about $12.50 higher. And they may want to use that $12.50 toward payments on the refrigerator or stove.

Committing themselves to buying a house "just like rent" may be the only way they can afford one on their present income. So they decide to run the risk of their income dropping in the future and thus making payments a burden.

Of their moving to another city and leaving behind a house in which their equity may be tiny. The insurance company notes that under a 20-year payment plan on a $10,000 deal, all borrowed, they would in 10 years have paid off about $3,900 in principal. It says that under a 30-year schedule, their payments on principal in the first 10 years would be about $2,000.

The easy payment plans grow in popularity, however. The Veterans Administration reports that 45 percent of the GI plan loans now being made are the no-down-payment type. And the percentage of the longer maturities has doubled in the last two years.

The total of mortgage debt outstanding amounts as the housing boom continues meet places unchecked. Since the end of the war the amount has increased four

STATION SPLITS UP

OKARCHIE, Okla. (AP)—The Rock Island Railroad decided to cut its services here. The old frame railroad station, once a business and social center in the early German settlement, was closed mostly into three portions. The center and smallest part will stay here for the station agent and telegrapher. The two ends will be hauled away.

The American Music Conference estimates that four million Americans play the guitar.

JAMES MARLOW

U. S. Surprised At Suggestions

WASHINGTON (AP)—It is almost incredible that the three big Western Allies—the United States, Britain, France—would not have worked out in agreed detail exactly what they should propose to the Russians at Geneva.

But it seems, they didn't. They had since May 10 to get ready for their opening session with the Russians yesterday. It was on May 10 they invited the Russians to a meeting. Now, after the first day, the Americans are openly surprised and unhappy over what French Prime Minister Faure suggested.

The Americans made it plain they had not agreed ahead of time on what Faure said and that they were afraid the Russians might seize on his proposals, or some of them, to the disadvantage of the West.

They guessed right. Russian Prime Minister Bulganin, the last speaker of the day, altered his prepared statement comment on what Faure had said.

President Eisenhower, Britain's Prime Minister Eden and Faure arrived in Geneva Saturday and although why even a crack should appear after three months to prepare is hard to see.

Even so the three Western foreign ministers and staffs had since early May to work out and agree on precisely what Eisenhower, Eden and Faure would say to express Allied policy.

Apparently precise spagework wasn't done or else Faure came up with his own ideas at the last minute. One French source at Geneva attributed what Faure said to a dash of daring in his makeup.

If it was not just daring but spur-of-the-moment thinking by the Frenchman, then in one of the most important conferences in recent world history Faure seems to be depending on inspiration or intuition instead of careful preparation.

Among other things Faure suggested a disarmament program in which the United States, Britain, France and Russia would be able to keep a clamp on arms through controls on how much they spend on arms.

Since the American, British and French budgets are submitted openly to democratic parliaments for public debate, and the Russians can do as they please about making public or keeping secret the money they spend on arms, this hardly appears to be a fool-proof system.

That the Russians seized on it was clear from Bulganin's insertion of this sentence in his statement:

"We are of the opinion that these considerations (Faure's proposals) are of interest and worthy of careful examination."

Eisenhower mentioned the desirability of disarmament but suggested controlling it through an inspection system to see that no one cheated.

On another point Faure went beyond Eisenhower too. He suggested creating a European security organization to which all European states could belong. Eisenhower suggested Russia could be given stronger guarantees of protection against a rearmored Germany than she has now.

The Russians, who have spent years trying to divide the Allies, could not be blamed if Faure's statements seemed to indicate division. Bulganin didn't open his mouth till the Western Allies had finished talking.

It may not be division but just a little crack that can be mended. Faure crossed the 75 billion dollar mark as 1955 started.

YOU'RE TELLING ME!

By WILLIAM BRY
Control Press Writer

AMERICA, according to a new-grounded scientific report, has enough coal to fill our needs for the next 75 million years. In view of the present weather conditions our reaction naturally is—So what?

Decided, by the year 1941,1955 consumers should have gotten around to finding out how to heat a home economically.

In Greece a man was sentenced to seven life terms. Now if he were just a cat he'd still have some legs left.

Among other things, a new method, Spain, city ordinance has loud talking after 10 p. m.

is a break for crying husbands smoking home after midnight from a "lady's rooming"?

Average 1/2 of a dollar bill is in use months. An estimate that's brief but well spent?

A farmworker, England, who has stayed night dozens for pencils, something new, consumption however.

People are getting taller—convey above. Blonde and redheads are decreasing in number—and other survey reveals. Most of the future will be tall, dark but not necessarily handsome!

A wife is a creature that does unexpected things as a lifelong hobby. If you spend all your cash entertaining her, she'll denounce you as a wastrel and a spendthrift. If you don't take her out and become a wastrel and a spendthrift in her behalf, she'll accuse you of being a miser. But if you really need a few extra bucks and tell her you need them, she dips them up and hands them over to you without a word.

A husband has a steady sense of belonging to his helpmate and hearth, but rarely has the gift of putting his feelings into words.

Wives often do. An example:
When I went tromping off to war in 1942, I kissed my girl good-by and that was it. The same stale farewell millions of men in that time made.

My wife patted a lot of gear for me. The gear didn't catch up to me until I had been some danger and considerable death abroad, and had got around to feeling a bit sorry for myself.

When I opened the battered trunk Frances had packed I found in the pajamas a note saying,
"With I were here," and in the roll-up socks another note, "I miss you."

Now, who but a wife would have thought of putting her love in the laundry? What a place to scribble affections.

A wife always has a secret quality.

You know all about shade, of course: the kind that fit about in backdrops on dark nights. That is, but do you understand a little about the "shade" which may appear on TV screens? If one picture on a TV screen is a bit to one side of a normal image, we have what is known as a "shade".

Television signals, like light, tend to bounce off rather than pass through objects such as buildings, trees, or hills, with the result that shadows are created in the path of the signal. It sometimes follows that with signals reflected from objects, a picture may be picked up from more than one direction. When more than one picture signal is picked up, their arrival just a split second and hence, not quite perfectly synchronized on the screen. This, then, is the TV "shade".

By the way, if you're haunted by a small-screen set that is in poor shape, you haven't a ghost of a chance of enjoying TV in the future. From 2000 UNIVERSITY ST. 2ND FLOOR 2ND
FL. you can get a whole lot of the magnificent new BUREAU which is the most complete set on the market. And the set—at 2000 UNIVERSITY ST. 2ND FLOOR—won't even the most fancy and have a look later. Please do.

Mrs. C. Noyes Given Surprise, Is Honor Guest

The members of the Ethel Root circle and Friendship League were hostesses Tuesday at noon in the Fellowship Hall at the Congregational Church with a surprise luncheon honoring Mrs. Carlton Noyes, who is leaving to make her home in Houston, Texas.

The table was overlaid with a white linen cloth and centered with large bouquets of spring flowers and fern. Each member received a rose corsage.

Mrs. Herbert Thurston pinned a white orchid corsage on the honor as the group sang "Deep in the Heart of Texas". Mrs. Noyes was given a snapshot of each member and a book, "A Man Called Peter."

Guests included Mrs. Jim Eastman, Mrs. Bonner L. Carter, Mrs. Marvin Kreutziger, Mrs. Wilbur Keeling, Mrs. Harold Herbst, Mrs. John Herbst, Mrs. Edward Simpson, Mrs. Clyde Stinson, Mrs. Herbert Thurston, Mrs. Carlton Noyes, Mrs. R. K. Evans, Mrs. W. W. Lutz, Mrs. John Jones, Mrs. Oscar Z. Howard, Mrs. Earl Moxley, Mrs. Ralph Lossing, Mrs. Maude Anderson, Mrs. Ralph Hammond, Mrs. Thomas Blazell, Mrs. Joe Meisch, Mrs. G. A. Muffley, Mrs. Alice McMillan, Mrs. Fred Scott, Mrs. Owen Meredith, Miss Helen Witte and Miss Gertrude Vinling.

Also children invited were John, Jim, Carol, and Sharon Eastman, Debbie Keeling, Cheryl Evans, and Cynthia and Cheryl Kreutziger.

STRAWBERRY COCONUT CREAM

Ingredients: 1 pint strawberries, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 package (3% ounces) instant coconut cream pudding, 2 cups milk.

Method: Wash strawberries with cold water, drain. Set 6 choice unhulled berries aside for garnish. Hull remaining berries, cut small or medium-size berries in half; quarter large berries. Mix berries with sugar. Make up coconut cream pudding according to package directions using 2 cups milk. Spoon sugared berries into 6 sherbet glasses, top with pudding. Allow to set—about 5 minutes. Garnish with whole unhulled berries. Chill. Makes 6 servings. Dessert may be made several hours ahead of serving, but berries become soft and unattractive if refrigerated overnight.

Contract Escapees Back In Hollywood But Not For Long

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Two escapees from film contracts are back in Hollywood for a movie, fresh from Broadway triumphs. But they won't stay long.

The duo: David Wayne and Celeste Holm, both of the 20th Century-Fox contract list three years back. They are here to appear with Frank Sinatra and Debbie Reynolds in "The Tender Trap."

First comes Mr. Wayne. He scored on Broadway as the leprechaun in "Finian's Rainbow" and Enns Pulver in "Mister Roberts." He did a dozen or so movies, including "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying."

His kiss-off from the studio was not exactly a happy one. He was assigned a minor role in an early CinemaScope stinker called "Hell and High Water."

"They thought I wouldn't take it," he recalled. "But I fooled them. I decided that since the studio thought only about money, that's the way I'd think too."

It was the final film under his contract, but he wasn't upset. He had the script of a new play, "Teahouse of the August Moon." He returned to Broadway and scored his greatest success as the Okinawan interpreter.

His new film doesn't mean that he is returning to these shores. He now considers Westport, Conn., his home and plans to build a new house there for his wife and children. He'll commute here for picture assignments.

He has two or three other film deals on the fire and hopes to do "Teahouse" when MGM makes it. Celeste Holm, the original Ado Annie of "Oklahoma!", made a sensational movie start by winning a supporting Oscar for "Gentleman's Agreement." She hasn't made a movie in four years and has sometimes been lumped with those who suffered the "Oscar jinx."

"I don't believe there is any jinx," she said. "After I won the Oscar, I also got nominations for roles in 'Come to the Stable' and 'All About Eve.' So I wouldn't exactly call that a jinx."

'CLOSE' COUSINS — These two gleeful looking youngsters have every right to beam. On July 15 they celebrated their third birthday when they were honored by Mrs. J. G. David, mother of the little lad, at her home, 319 W. 16th St. Many lots celebrate birthdays, but Elizabeth Taylor daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Taylor Jr., and Brent David were born only one hour apart. Their mothers are sisters. (Photo by Wieboldt)

Harold Kastner's Honor Couple At Country Home

Mr. and Mrs. Harold H. Kastner Sr. gave a party in honor of Harold Kastner Jr. and his bride-elect, Miss Cecelia Franklin of Donaldsonville, Ga., whose marriage will be an event of late July in Donaldsonville. The affair was held Saturday at their country home, Eoghan-Viola Kennels, on Twin Lakes.

Invited guests were the honorees, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Fielding, Orlando; Mr. and Mrs. John Drummey, Mr. and Mrs. George Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Whelchel, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Billheimer, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Katz, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Samuel and Mayor J. D. Cordell and Mrs. Cordell along with the hosts.

Refreshments were served during the entire course of the evening from a beautiful "Lazy Susa" table. Dancing was enjoyed on the patio and soft music was played during the evening.

Decorations included a lovely imported Chinese carving illuminated by soft lights suspended over the fireplace. On each side of the carving were imported Chinese lights.

At the close of the evening a late supper of pizza pie and coffee was enjoyed at the Mar-Lou Restaurant.

Fancy of solid-pack tuna fish comes in 3 1/2, 7 and 13-ounce cans. Tuna of this sort is meaty and attractive and ideal to serve on a platter of Sara Lee's.

Like canned pimientos? Fill them with seafood or chicken salad and serve on greens. They're particularly nice this way for a company buffet.

USO

Last weekend at the USO "Fun and dancing was enjoyed". The Episcopal Women were senior hostesses represented by Mrs. Joseph Saunders and Mrs. F. L. Miller. Miss Mary Ann Michels was junior hostess in charge. The theme of the dance was "Disk Jockey" with "quite a large crowd attending."

Sunday night Miss Margaret Morrison was junior hostess for a T. V. and Game Night. Mrs. B. T. Cowan and Mrs. Clyde Ramsey represented the Sanford Garden Club. Also helping was Mrs. W. H. LaFetra. An unusually big crowd attended that night. Refreshments were served.

Tonight there will be a "Spinner Dance" with the Tourist Club acting as senior hostesses. Dancing will be enjoyed from 8 till 11 with music by the juke. Everyone is invited.

Any leftover cooked ham in the house? Dice it and add it to a fruit salad for a luncheon salad. Serve the salad in lettuce cups with mayonnaise or some other favorite dressing as a topping.

Christian Women Have Mission Talk

The July meeting of the Christian Women's Fellowship was held at the First Christian Church on Sanford Ave. Monday evening with Mrs. V. H. Grantham presiding. Mrs. O. T. Pearson had charge of the worship program using "Growing in Grace and Knowledge" as the theme.

"Live Thy Creed" was the subject of the mission talk given by Mrs. Walter Morgan, which included views on segregation. The secretary and treasurer's reports were read. After a short business meeting light refreshments were served to the following members present: Mrs. G. W. Roland, Mrs. Bill Young, Mrs. O. T. Pearson, Mrs. Earl Evans, Mrs. W. P. Yuley, Mrs. Chan Vall, Mrs. J. W. Knight, Mrs. Lester Tharp, Mrs. Bandy, Mrs. O. D. Landress, Mrs. B. H. Williams, Mrs. Bill Casube, Mrs. Walter Morgan and Mrs. J. L. Anderson.

Chinese Watch Younger Generation Old Town Is Saved By Aged

SINGAPORE (U. P.)—Thousands of gray-haired and wrinkled Chinese are watching their younger generation today with distrust.

Many are descendants of the first pigtailed coolies who voyaged here in search of fortune in the British colony of Singapore and protectorate of Malaya.

Then the coolie toiled for the white man in the hope he one day would own a tin mine or rubber estate and become a millionaire. Sometimes he succeeded. Singapore and Malaya have about 300 Chinese millionaires (a million dollars is about $330,000 U. S.).

But today such organizations as the Communist People's Anti-British League have given young Chinese a bigger goal—to drive the white man out, by violence if need be.

Discipline generally is lax among the 80,000 boys and girls in the 240 private Chinese schools in this colony of a million people. Communist influence—outside the curriculum—is common. The same influence is noted in trade unions.

In two months, the city has been ridden with a series of strikes, 84 at once, and teen-age Chinese have joined in bloody riots.

The trouble marked the beginning of the administration of a new chief minister, David Marshall. His new Socialist Labor Front party won by a landslide in the April elections ousting the right-wing Progressive party's government.

Marshall, a genial, pipe-smoking criminal lawyer of 47, swayed the masses with slogans like "Down with colonialism" and "Down with capitalism."

The present constitution provides that for the time being, three of nine ministers are to be British colonial officials but that Singapore people are to take over the full government gradually.

Campaigning on March 29, Marshall called for self-government now.

In his first address to the Legislative Assembly April 26, he said he would abolish the emergency regulations—"police laws," he calls them—brought into force in June 1948 to deal with the Communists. But a month later he had to use them himself to jail eight strike agitators.

On the other hand, he had wooed the Chinese by calling them the colony's body politic. He settled a riotous bus dispute by having the company employ 300 Chinese workers it had fired for in-

Three Holdup Men Find Tough Going With Older Man

GREENVILLE, Tenn. (U. P.)—Three holdup men ran afoul of a 74-year-old rugged individualist Monday night and had a tough fight relieving him of the $68,000 he was carrying on his person.

When they told John Bohannon in his own kitchen to put his hands up, he snapped:

"I never put my hands up for any man. If you want to kill me, shoot!"

He grabbed for one of the guns and almost got it, but a second man hit him with the butt of another pistol.

The men succeeded in knocking him out with numerous blows on the head as he answered every threat to kill him by saying: "You haven't got the guts."

They tied him up, removed two billfolds containing $60,000 plus $8,000 in loose bills in a vest pocket, and then forced his wife to show them his upstairs safe.

Before they could get into it, however, Bohannon regained consciousness, broke his bonds and ran to his garage to get a rifle. Hearing the back door alarm, the robbers fled out the front way and escaped in an automobile.

About three hours after the hold-up, two men were arrested here and one in Morristown for questioning but police would not give any details.

Bohannon is a real estate dealer, farmer and house builder.

Young Women's Improvement Club Holds Election

The Young Women's Improvement Club met recently at the home of Mrs. Morgan. The meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. L. B. Merillas.

A song was led by Miss Claire and the prayer by Mrs. Campbell. Election of officers was held and new rules were approved after which delicious refreshments were served.

On July 30 the club met at the home of Miss Mikell. Business was discussed and a gift was presented to Mrs. Holton who has been in the hospital. Refreshments were served and enjoyed by all.

Police Commissioner Nigel Morris has argued that the emergency regulations are necessary so that wily Communists can be held on suspicion. He says there are 2,000 Communists and fellow travelers in Singapore.

There are only 400 hard-core Reds among the Chinese students, say officers of the special political branch. But the number grows yearly.

Meanwhile, Communists have crept into the extreme left-wing People's Action party, which has three men in the Legislative Assembly.

If the Labor Front government fails to cope with this threat, British and colonial troops are deemed certain to take over to protect this key spot in Southeast Asia from going Red. There are 11,000 already here, and others could be brought in quickly.

Is Saved By Aged

RYDERWOOD, Wash. (U. P.)—This former logging town once apparently destined to die in its youth, has been saved by the aged.

Citizens of advancing years but youthful hearts have transformed it into a haven for retired persons with low incomes. With few exceptions, everyone in town is over 60.

"But don't call us oldsters," a 61-year-old resident pleaded. "We are as active as any teen-agers."

Mrs. Ben Forsythe's remark was typical of some residents who say they are busier in retirement than before and love every minute of it. Her husband, a 66-year-old retired high school teacher, said, "I work harder than before but I do it now because I want to."

The last of the loggers left town two years ago. Then the new citizens moved in, coming from as far away as New York and Florida.

Ryderwood, nestling among the tall firs of Southwestern Washington, was founded in 1923 by a lumber co. For nearly 30 years it was a bustling logging community.

By 1932 most of the marketable trees in the area had been cut and the company hung a "for sale" sign on the town.

For several months there were no takers. The population dropped to approximately 100 families. Then a Los Angeles real estate broker, Harry H. Kem, conceived the idea of converting it into a community for the elderly.

In less than two years 119 houses were sold. There are 63 others left, all four room dwellings priced at $2,500 each—$200 down and $20 a month.

A fixed income of $125 to $250 a month before he can buy a house. Public assistance payments are not acceptable as income.

The 25-man volunteer fire department has had little business. Deer often wander into town and stream fishing is within easy walking distance. For those who enjoy lake fishing and boating, a new lake has been built by the active leaders with the help of friends who donated time, heavy machinery and labor.

Virtually everyone has a hobby. Albert C. Fitch, 72-year-old former Beverly Hills, Calif., a mortician who retired after 25 years, makes violins and plays with the orchestra for Saturday night dances in the community hall.

The women make hats, produce flowers from wood shavings, weave fancy linens, paint, make rugs and even create lamps out of cactus.

About 12,300,000 people have been added to the U. S. population since the 1950 census.

Committee Chosen To Discuss Problem

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (U. P.)—This resort city is setting up an interracial advisory committee to see what can be done about opening the ocean beach to Negroes.

The City Commission named a three-man group Monday to select members of the committee which will be made up of an equal number of white and Negro citizens.

The commission acted after 125 Negroes petitioned for a public statement on city policy regarding use of the beach by persons not of the white race.

Although Australia is 200 times as large as Formosa, each has about 8 1/2 million people.

THE BOSS OF BROKEN SPUR

By Nick Summer

CHAPTER TWENTY-THREE
"WELL, RUSTY, you're on Broken Spur now."

"Mighty big country. Man could almost settle down here without feeling boxed in."

Kerry looked around him, seeing on every side something that brought back happy memories.

His thoughts ate up the miles till he found himself in sight of the main house. His heart plunged down as he wondered what sort of reception he could expect. After all, he had no grounds for being sure Rob would want him back after the way he'd left.

The living-room was empty when he entered it, but he caught a crack of light under the door of the office beyond. He hesitated a moment, then, in a burst of impatience at his own chicken-heartedness, banged his knuckles on the door.

"No need to wake the dead! Come in!"

Rob was working over the ranch books and didn't bother looking up at first. Kerry stood in the doorway, watching the handsome, hawk-like profile, with his throat tight and his heart beating hard, till Rob raised his head and their eyes met and locked.

Kerry forced a smile to stiff lips, and stammered into his voice. "Well, Rob, the bad penny's turned up again."

"Hello, kid." Quietly, almost casually, Rob shut the big account book and got to his feet. Kerry remembered Rusty's presence in the introductions that gave him something to bridge over this moment. After one of his swift, sniping looks, to which Rusty returned his slow smile, Rob said abruptly, "Come on in the living-room. I expect you'd like something to wash the dust out of your throat."

His hand touched Kerry's shoulder in a contact so brief it might have been an accident.

"You know what's going on here?" he demanded over the drinks.

"I met Sandy in Dodge. And a cowboy we ran into in Twin Forks told me about the trouble getting shot and the fool way Tim was taking it. Anything happened since?"

"Not to my, happened. I've heard talk. I don't know how much of it to believe. They say Larrabee's trying to get the western for some kind of movie or Broken Spur—him and that Bible-spouting old fire-eater, Nate Outen. I doubt if any of the rest of them have nerve enough to do more than talk, but you never can tell. You staying?"

"If you'll have me."

"Don't talk like a fool, son. This is your home, isn't it?" Kerry swallowed a sudden, uncalled-for lump in his throat.

Rob's black eyes traveled on to Rusty, and rested on him inquiringly.

"Rusty wants a job," Kerry volunteered. "He's a top hand. Good with horses. He—"

"He can probably speak up for himself."

"I need a job all right," Rusty confirmed. "And I can earn my keep. Only thing is, Mr. Malory—"

"Never mind the Mr. Just call me Rob. Everybody else does."

"All right, Rob. Thing is, I oughta tell you before you hire me. I'm wanted for a killer back in Dodge—only I didn't do it."

"That's all right," Rob moved his shoulders impatiently. "I may be wanted for a couple of killings myself before this business is over. You understand you might be buying into trouble?"

"You ask Kerry, Mr. Rob, he'll tell you trouble's sorta what you might call my natural element. Reckon it's no use a man tryin' to dodge what he's born to."

Rob nodded briefly. "Wages are forty a month—sixty if you run into shooting. You can show him where to bunk, Kerry. You'll start in the morning, patrolling the south range. That," he added with a wry smile, "is where your natural element is likely to start breaking."

"It's do that," Kerry grinned. "I'd kind of like to know myself." Life was suddenly looking better than it had in a long time.

Kerry listened to the quick, clean tap-tap of Christie's heels coming down the stairs, his heart beating in the same tempo. His eyes caught the swirl of her blue skirt, the lithe curves of her body under the sheath of cloth. Then she was in full view, her face beneath the shining coils of hair, her little nose and grave mouth remembered it, but just lovely. One minute they stood like that; then she spoke his name, and her voice told him all he needed to know. Next minute she was clasped tight in his arms, and her lips were sending a wild sweetness through him that made him want to run to the top of the highest hill and shout his happiness to the four winds. All he could do was murmur, "Christie, Honey!" with his words smothered against her cheek, and pull her closer till she gasped, "Kerry, don't break my bones." Then he let her go to arm's length, and they looked at each other again and laughed out of the fullness of feeling crowding up in them.

"Oh, Kerry, Kerry, you crazy fool! Why do I love you like I do?"

"Just so you do, I'll let you figure out why. I've missed you."

"I'll bet you have—not one letter all this time."

"You know I'm no good at letters—and I wasn't even sure you'd want to hear from me. You were pretty mad at me when I went away, weren't you?"

"I reckon I was. I've been pretty mad the whole time you were away—mainly because you weren't around where I could have the satisfaction of telling you how mad I was!"

"Christie!" he urged. "Marry me—right now!"

"This minute?"

"Well, tomorrow—or the day after. I'll even wait till next week if you want to make a big fuss over it," he laughed, exulting, as he saw no denial in her eyes. "But I don't ever want to let you get away from me again."

A sound from the room overhead brought a shadow over the brightness of her face. "Kerry, I want to—believe me, I do—but I can't. I've got to stay with Dad—as long as I can." Her voice shook.

"Is it that bad, honey? I didn't know."

"Dad, father says a few weeks—maybe not that long."

Kerry put his arm around her, and she leaned against him. They stood for a little while in a silence that had no need of words; then she said, "Come on up and say hello to Dad. And don't let on you notice how much he's changed."

Kerry needed the caution, for it gave him a profound shock to see the old man's face so unken and waxy, and to hear the steady feebleness of that once booming voice. All through his long illness, Jared had seemed to retain something of his unquenchable vitality, along with his good looks. Now both were gone, and all that was left was a little waxy smile.

"Glad you're back, son. You been needed." He looked from one to the other of their faces, to Christie's right hand that was folded in Kerry's left, and repeated, "Glad you're back," and Kerry felt as if he'd given them his blessing.

A horse drew up in front of the house, and he recognized Wayne Cameron's lean shape, getting down. Christie noticed, too, and said, "Let's go down. Dad's had enough company for one day." On the way down, she explained, "Dad's never liked Wayne. I don't know why."

First Elevated Was Like Infant

NEW YORK, N.Y.—The first of Manhattan's elevated trains was a noisy baby. The last is likely to be a noisy corpse.

The Third Avenue El, now shut down, was the last of four drab, over-age sisters whose glories ended early in life. The sentimentalists wept. And now it looks like the Third Avenue's interment rites will be anything but quiet.

Demolition begins next month along the 7 1/2 mile route from the lower tip of Manhattan up to the Harlem River. Sometime after the last tracks and pillars are cleared away, property owners along the line will be socked with a bill for some strange commodities called light and air.

In this town, even light and air have a price tag. If you own a four-story building and Jones puts up a 30-story job next door, his shadows will reduce your property value. Jones has to pay you for light and air rights.

That's what the original owners of the line had to do back in 1878. When the city took over the line in 1940 it inherited and paid property owners for the light and air rights. Now that the owners are about to see and breathe again the city wants to be paid back.

Just how much will bring an argument. When the Second, Sixth and Ninth Avenue elevated lines were razed, the city charged property owners the amounts paid back before the turn of the century—figures that varied from plot to plot depending on the amount of inconvenience caused.

Now there is talk about upping the ante. The city's Bureau of Real Estate has indicated it may work out an assessment of about $50 a front foot. That will bring a loud howl from the property owners.

The whole thing is not expected to be settled without court action.

Time and the subway, which began in 1900, caught up with the El. Business dropped off. The wooden coaches and other equipment began to deteriorate. Sentimentalists, who had the time, clung to the El's for a winding, backyard glimpse of Manhattan, of factory lofts and fish markets and drab living rooms where the old man was having a hard time listening to the ball game.

But rising costs and falling revenues overcame sentiment—now the old man can enjoy his ball game in peace.

Big Newspaper Ad Tells Of Boyhood Of Jacob Jensen

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah — Jacob Jensen, 85, took a quarter page ad in two newspapers to tell of his life as a boy in Denmark and his work as a man in the United States.

The 2,000-word ad in the Salt Lake Tribune and the Deseret News and Telegram begins: "I, Jacob Jensen was born near Soroe, Denmark, July 19, 1870, in a locality almost surrounded by lakes and beech forests."

Jensen told a reporter he had compiled a history of his childhood and early life and distributed a number of copies of it to members of his family. But that didn't seem enough. He wanted everyone to know how it was in the old days, in the old country.

"I always wanted to show young people what hard work can do," he said. "I wanted to help them along. There was no selfish purpose."

The ad outlines his education, immigration to the United States in 1888, his work as a carpenter and a contractor, his romance with his childhood sweetheart and wife Anna Marie.

Much of the ad praises people who helped him. It says: "Of the good people I have mentioned, two — my mother and my wife — come ahead of anybody else."

But it also has its frank passages: "I have had a number of rather prominent enemies during my long active life, but with one exception, they have all gone to a place or places where they can do no more harm."

Jensen said there probably would be a family party with the ad in the family. He said his wife had six sons and two daughters. What of the future?

The ad answers that: "I expect to live for years and do acts of kindness."

SEVERE HARBOR DOCTOR
SAN MARINO, Calif. — Over 20 years ago Dr. John Douglas French, a surgeon at Long Beach Veterans' Hospital, was honorably discharged at an independent examination.

When French, 51, and Dr. French, 50, were married at the San Marino City Hall, French was his first marriage, and French was his second. French was born in 1904, and his second marriage to Dr. French was in 1934.

Donald Nelson Keeping Hand In Work At 66

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., — Donald Nelson, who rose from news boy and soda jerk to direct production during World War II, is still keeping his hand in business at 66.

From his office in Beverly Hills, Nelson helps direct the fortunes of two companies. He is board chairman of the American Mollusking Corp., a San Francisco firm that coats steel with aluminum. He is president of Pressure Dispensers, Inc., which makes whipped cream cans.

He also keeps busy as members of the boards of other firms but all this activity seems easy to him after his government service.

"Working for the government was something I'd never want to go through again," he says. "I wouldn't give five cents for it."

"Of course, I wouldn't take a fortune for the experience I had. I made a lot of friends and I guess a lot of enemies."

Nelson undertook one of the greatest organizational jobs in history. In 1940, the Hannibal, Mo., boy who had worked his way through college had risen to become the No. 1 buyer for Sears, Roebuck & Co. He quit his $75,000-a-year post as vice president to become coordinator of defense purchasing.

Let him become the boss of all war production. "Everything was a big problem," he recalls of those days when he had to march the American industry against the Axis.

He came out of the government with hypertension. Doctors told him he had to reduce. Today his wartime associates would scarcely recognize the once well-padded Nelson. He dropped 70 pounds to his present 130.

"I used to be a doctor and he put me on a diet of rice and fruit. I mean nothing but rice and fruit," he says.

Now his energy is high enough to let him help direct several corporations and supervise his holdings of gardening and photography.

After the war, Nelson took the position of president of the Society of Independent Motion Picture Producers. He was elected to that post in 1946, and he has been in the post ever since. He was elected to the post of the S.I.P.P. by the vote of the members of the society.

The first and only office of the S.I.P.P. is in the United States. It is the only office of the S.I.P.P. in the United States.

Russia, West Hit Agreement On Discussions

No One Is Injured In Auto Collision On State Road 415

An accident was reported last night at 10:25 o'clock on State Road 415 (Celery Ave.) about one mile east of Sanford with two persons involved.

The first car was a 1949 Buick sedan driven by Albert Saunders, 27, whose address was given as Rt. 1 Sanford.

The other car was a 1949 Dodge pickup truck driven by Thomas I. Fraser, 27, who lives on Celery Ave.

It was reported that the truck was in the process of turning in a driveway. There was another truck behind it that stopped so that the Dodge could make its turn. The Buick reportedly went around the stopped truck and hit the left front side of the Dodge pickup. There were no casualties although the driver of the truck was "shaken up a bit".

The Buick then traveled about six or eight feet and hit a telephone pole. Charges of improper passing were made against the driver of the Buick.

Damages were estimated at about $300 for the Dodge pickup and a total loss to the Buick. Investigating officers were P. M. C. Williams and Deputy E. L. Eubanks of the sheriff's office.

Minimum Wage Gets Roadblocked As Lawmakers Feud

WASHINGTON (AP)—Only Senate House agreement on an effective date stood in the way today of a $1-an-hour federal minimum wage. The House yesterday overrode, 180-165, President Eisenhower's request for a limit of 30 cents an hour and by a top-heavy 262-54 vote approved the higher wage floor for most workers in interstate commerce. The present minimum is 75 cents.

The Senate, which previously had approved the same 30 figure, had voted to make it effective next Jan. 1. The House voted for March 1.

The House sent its bill immediately to conference with the Senate for a compromise on the date.

Yesterday's House action climaxed two days of debate in which supporters of the administration's $1-an-hour limit predicted a new inflationary spiral would be touched off if a higher pay figure was enacted.

Secretary Of Navy Foresees More Subs

GROTON, Conn. (AP)—Secretary Charles Thomas said today the Navy will have eight nuclear submarines already authorized, hopes to build many others "in rapid succession thereafter."

His remarks were prepared for launching ceremonies for the second nuclear-powered sub, the Seawolf, a short distance away, as if to emphasize the growing speed of the program, workers prepared to lay the keel for a third during the day. The first was the Nautilus.

The scheduled congressional action this year in approving four additional atomic-driven submarines and added:

"This means that this fiscal year the Navy will have eight nuclear-powered submarines in being or under construction and, in rapid succession thereafter, many others."

GENEVA (AP)—Russia and the Western powers reached substantial agreement today on plans for continuing discussions of German unification and European security after the summit conference.

The foreign ministers met this morning for almost two hours and reportedly put the program in shape. Then they arranged a special meeting of their heads of government to submit it for approval.

There was no immediate information as to details of the plan, but Western sources disclosed they hoped for a meeting of the four foreign ministers in Geneva in October to take up the two key problems.

This would allow three months for the experts of the four countries to study all the proposals made at the summit meeting. The Western powers also would have a chance to observe the outcome of the visit of West German Chancellor Adenauer to Moscow.

The heads of governments — President Eisenhower, Soviet Premier Bulganin, British Prime Minister Eden and French Premier Faure — planned to take up the disarmament question after disposing of the arrangements on Germany and security.

The only official announcement on the foreign minister's discussions was a brief communiqué.

Loyalty Of Taylor Found By Papers

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Washington Post and Times Herald said today a U.S. security board has found "reasonable doubt" of the loyalty of this country of William Henry Taylor, an official of the International Monetary Fund.

The paper said the finding was made after a hearing by the International Organizations Employees Loyalty Board. Because the IMF is an international body not under U.S. government control, the board's finding was an "advisory recommendation." The agency itself must determine what action, if any, to take.

"The board is convinced," the paper quoted its opinion, "that the employee (Taylor) has engaged in espionage and subversive activity against the United States . . . and that he was and possibly still is an adherent to the Communist ideology."

Ronald S. Garner Accepted By UofM School Of Medicine

Ronald S. Garner of East Seminoles Blvd., Sanford, has been accepted as a pre-resident in the 1955-56 freshman class at the University of Miami School of Medicine, according to announcement by Dr. Homer Marsh, Dean. He previously attended the University of Alabama.

He will be among the 76 Florida residents accepted from 180 applicants. This freshman class, representing 25 counties, is the largest accepted in the three-year history of the University of Miami School of Medicine, which opened September 22, 1952. The total four-year student body now numbers 203.

The first permanent unit of the school, a three-story air conditioned outpatient building at Jackson Memorial Hospital, Miami, was dedicated in ceremonies last Sunday (July 17). Junior and senior medical students will receive a large portion of their clinical experience at this facility.

Bible School Sets Closing Exercises

Closing exercises for the Church of God Daily Vacation Bible School will be held tomorrow night at 7:45 p. m.

Awards will be presented to outstanding students, and to all who have perfect attendance records. The program will feature the theme, "Shining With Christ," and will be directed by Mrs. Donald Whitton and Mrs. Bruce Green.

A display of handicraft work by the children will be shown. The Rev. Harry Henderson, pastor, said.

LEHIGH JET TOLD
HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP)—Fairchild Aircraft Division has announced plans to build a light jet plane suitable as an executive transport for industrial companies. The company said the four-seater plane would carry a crew of two plus seven passengers, and would cruise at 500 miles per hour.

All-AroundSlate Presented SHS Band Members

Five members of the Seminole High School band are combining sunshine and expert band instruction at the Summer Band Camp of the University of Miami in Coral Gables. This camp is an annual affair and SHS band director, Ernest Cowley, is now serving his third year as an instructor there for the five weeks period.

High school band students from seven states are receiving five weeks of intense musical instruction along with a full schedule of beach parties, free movies and tickets to the Pop Concerts of the University of Miami Symphony Orchestra every Sunday night.

Director of the Band Camp is Fred McCall, University of Miami bandmaster, and honorary director and advisor is Henry Fillmore, known all over the country for his marches.

The students have played under the batons of Morton Gould and Leroy Anderson, as well as Fillmore. The camp will end July 22.

Students attending from Seminole County are Miss Joyce Milam, Miss Patsy Haught, a 1955 graduate, Miss Grace Dugan, Joe Fisher, and Bob Reely Jr.

12 Soviets Begin Two-Day Course On U. S. Farming

AMES, Iowa (AP)—Twelve important Russian Communists start today a two-day course at one of the leading U.S. agricultural schools. Their subject — techniques and technology of capitalist farming. The school—Iowa State College.

The dozen visiting Soviet agricultural dignitaries cut quite a swath across the state of Iowa in their initial three-day journeyings through rich corn country and also stopped to inspect individual farms.

They got a glimpse of Iowa's Iowa farming, and Iowa farmers got a peek at the Russian visitors.

But for today and tomorrow the program is rather different.

The Russians are to be given a general picture of the activities of an American agricultural school and more important the chance to indulge their specific curiosity in particular subjects.

Summer Recreation Program Big Success

BY MARGARET MALLOY
Sponsored jointly by the city and the County Board of Public Instruction, the summer recreation program began with registration on June 18 under the direction of E. W. Christensen.

The activities are planned for these two large groups: the younger children ages six through 11 and the older children ages 12 through 18. Varied activities have been planned to include these and other groups. Some are the City Wide Tennis Tournament, the City Softball League, managed by Howard Gordie and a Fishing Contest open to anglers six through 18.

The teenagers follow this schedule in the afternoons: Monday and Wednesday they play tennis; Tuesday bowling with Gordie; Thursday and Friday, water skiing on Lake Mary. In addition the High School Gym is open on Tuesday and Thursday mornings.

The younger group follows this schedule every Monday they are at the High School; Tuesday through Friday they are on the lakefront playground from 9 until 11:45 a. m. Here they are divided into three groups according to age which are the 6 and 7's, the 8 and 9's, and the 10 and 11's. The groups are given an hour each of directed play, swimming, and arts and crafts. One hour weekly each group goes bowling.

On the playground such sports as volleyball, softball, and basketball are popular with the older ones while games are favored by the youngest. Miss Caroline McInnis and Miss Peggy Wilson direct their play activities.

In the swimming pool all children are given instructions and careful supervision by Miss Bebe Bisbee. At least 31 have passed the Red Cross beginners swimming test to date in the two older groups. The youngsters spent the first few weeks getting adjusted to the water and now they are also receiving instructions. They are expected to be able to swim the width of the pool by the end of the program.

Railroad Workers Present New Watch To D. C. Spivey

Effective April 30, 1955, D. C. Spivey was granted an annuity by the Railroad Retirement board. He entered the service of Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Co. on July 19, 1922, as a laborer and was later transferred to car repairer helper, then to car repairer.

At the close of the day's work Monday co-workers in the car department presented Spivey with a Waltham watch. The presentation was made by general foreman L. M. Cornell who stated that Spivey's record was clear and that he regretted losing such an employee from the service of the company as well as from personal association.

The retiring railroad man makes his home in Sanford with his family at 1615 W. Third St.

Mrs. B. Grantham Tells Of 'Hot Seat' On Greyhound Bus

Have you ever gotten a "hot seat" without wanting one? Well Mrs. Belle Grantham, who works for County Agent C. R. Dawson and AEC County Committee as secretary, almost did.

Mrs. Grantham rides to De Land every night on a Greyhound to her home. A few days ago she had just taken a seat behind the driver and had settled back to enjoy the ride. Just passing the lakefront where the buses turn there was a cry from two Orlando college girls and a gasp from her friend. Under the seat, where she was sitting, was pouring out black smoke. "I didn't feel a thing," she commented.

A shortage in the lines somewhere had caused sparks and there was no damage to the passengers or the bus. "My first thought was, the gasoline tank," she said. "But of course I learned later that it was in the back."

The passengers got off and took the bus directly behind them.

Peggy Is Settled In New Quarters

Peggy the bear was transferred this morning from her old cage to the new one that has just been completed.

Peggy is blind and must learn to feel her way around the cage and know it inch by inch. When first entering the cage this morning she fell into the pool and bumped into the bars but found her way into the den without a misstep.

The new cage, for which plans were drawn up by Mrs. Arnold Hood, zoo keeper, has a swimming pool, all concrete floor, a den and a shower which may be turned on at any time. It is roomier and cleaner than the old one.

WORK GOING FAST
Robert Kelly announced today that eight to 10 sewer taps are being made per day. At this rate it is estimated that in 10 more days the men will be caught up.

Attendance is good in all groups. A total of 329 have registered in the younger age group (6-11). A conservative daily average attendance of youngsters and teenagers is 225. Participations per week of all youngsters in all activities average from 2,000 to 2,500.

Christensen has planned for Aug. 5, the last day of recreation, to be a big day. A picnic will be held at the Scout Camp site on Silver Lake to which all age groups and their parents are invited. Games will be the order of the morning and after lunch a huge dance is being planned at the Crute, and the hope is to hire a band for this gala event.

Shot Fired At Pasha In French Morocco During Excitement

Schumacher Chosen For Farmers Group

Henry J. Schumacher, Rt. 2, Sanford is the new member of the Seminole County Committee for the Farmers Home Administration. His appointment became effective July 1, 1955. Curtis J. Green, the agency's county supervisor announced.

Schumacher operates a large truck farm and has a long background of successful farming experience in Seminole County. He formerly served one term as a F.H.A. committeeman.

The other two members of the committee are Carter G. Hart of Geneva and William H. Wright of Sanford, both successful farmers and long time residents of Seminole County.

There is a Farmers Home Administration county committee in every agricultural county in the country. The committee determines the eligibility of applicants and helps the county supervisor adapt the agency's loan policies and services to local conditions.

Each member is named for a three-year term, and one appointment expires each year. A member completing his three-year term cannot succeed himself. At least two of the members must be farmers.

The Farmers Home Administration makes loans to farmers to buy, improve, enlarge, or operate efficient family-type farms. It also lends money to farmers or their nonprofit associations to establish and carry on approved soil and water conservation practices. Purposes include establishing and improving permanent pastures, terracing, soil erosion practices, and many other conservation measures, as well as irrigation and farmstead water improvements. Most of the soil and water conservation loans and loans to buy, improve, or enlarge farms are made from funds advanced by private lenders and insured by the agency.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The dark gray walls of Ohio Penitentiary held a new prisoner today.

He wasn't anybody special as far as prison authorities were concerned, just another number—98,600—with gray prison pants, blue and white striped shirt and a cap.

But there was something about this prisoner—Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard—something that attracted a horde of newsmen and a score of other persons when he arrived at the penitentiary yesterday afternoon.

Now comes the waiting—at least 10 years—before Sheppard will be eligible for parole on his second-degree murder conviction. He will spend the first 10 days at the penitentiary in a quarantine ward where he will be given tests to determine what work he is best suited for.

"I Led Three Lives" by Herbert A. Philbrick, Citizen, Communist, Counterespionage, has just been obtained by the Sanford Public Library.

This is an exciting inside story of Communism in the USA told by an American patriot who was for nine years a counterespionage for the F. B. I. and reported everything as it happened.

The government's case against the eleven top communists was largely based on evidence supplied by Philbrick, who was chief witness against them at the trial before Judge Medina.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Passman (D-La.) accused foreign aid officials yesterday of giving misinformation to senators and said, "We will demand they either retract what they told the Senate or . . . be discharged."

If no retraction is forthcoming, he said, he will seek to have all foreign aid funds held up for an inquiry into "the whole mess."

Passman made a House Appropriations subcommittee which cut 627 million dollars from new foreign aid funds.

Passman said in an interview foreign aid officials had misrepresented to the Senate committee that Rep. Taber (R-N.Y.) had given his sanction to their action in raising money voted in previous years.

"I never approved such a thing," said Taber, senior Republican on the House Appropriations Committee. "It is a stinking mess."

Bullet Misses Chief

Leader Is Held
From Firing Back

PARIS (AP)—A shot was fired in French Morocco today at the powerful old pro-French Pasha of Marrakech, Thami el Glawi. The French Press Agency said the bullet missed and only the intervention of French police prevented the Berber chieftain—in his 60s—from shooting back.

The assassination attempt occurred during general excitement occasioned by the first visit to Marrakech of France's new resident general in French Morocco, Gilbert Grandval.

Elsewhere in the city of 200,000, Moroccan police killed two nationalist demonstrators in a crowd which set fire to a tobacco shop.

The French Press Agency gave this account of the shooting attempt on the pasha:

El Glawi had just left Grandval at one of the Pasha's palaces and was being driven away alone in a big black sedan. Suddenly demonstrators blocked the street and one shot rang out.

The fiery old man grabbed a repeating carbine he had with him, climbed out of the car and raised the gun to shoot. French police stopped him from firing and Moroccan police then fired on the demonstrators, injuring several.

Second Nuclear Sub Launched By Navy

GROTON, Conn. (AP)—The Navy, racing to keep supremacy over Russia in the means of undersea warfare, launches its second nuclear submarine, the Seawolf, today and lays the keel for a third.

Eight atomic-powered subs have been authorized.

The first Asubmarine, the Nautilus, was built here at the yards of the Electric Boat Division of General Dynamics Corp., where the Seawolf and the third boat are building. The Nautilus was commissioned six months ago and now has thousands of miles of operation, hundreds of dives and a long cruise to the Caribbean on her log.

Externally, the Seawolf will look much like the Nautilus, but with a somewhat sleeker hull. Official statistics on the Seawolf show her to be about 3,000 tons displacement 339 feet long, with a 27-foot beam.
