

SIX BILLIONS FOR RELIEF GIVEN OKEY

Deficiency Bill Sent To House With Disregard For Request Made By Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, June 2.—(A.P.)—The general deficiency bill authorizing a potential $6,000,000,000 relief expenditure by President Roosevelt was reported today to the House by its Appropriations Committee.

In submitting the measure, however, the Committee disregarded the Chief Executive's request for unlimited discretionary power as to allocations of some funds, and it tied up certain items by mandatory provisions.

In the actual cash outlay from the treasury, the bill calls for $1,173,800,000 but it contains provisions that all the unused borrowing power of the Reconstruction Corporation, unspent PWA funds, savings brought about by the Economy Act of 1932, and unexpended farm administration relief monies may be transferred to feed and clothe the hungry.

The bill also is given power to buy obligations issued by cities and states which have received grants from the PWA.

The President requested $1,225,000,000 for relief purposes, but that $180,000,000 already has been appropriated by Congress under the Jones bill making cattle a basic commodity.

Nazi Would Bar Jew From Public Places

BERLIN, June 2.—(A.P.)—Jews no longer would appear in public places such as theaters and restaurants frequented by Germans if Propaganda Minister Goebbels' "Angriff" had its way.

This newspaper in a three-column editorial declared "the legal position of the Jew in Germany has been clarified, but not so his style of living. He must once and for all renounce his department of former appearances in public in Germany to Germans."

Without naming the conductor, Angrif alluded to the tumultuous applause given last Sunday to Leo Blech, Jewish conductor of the state opera, when he conducted "Aida" in which Dusolina Giannini, American prima donna starred as great artist.

"The Jewish artist acquitted himself laudably," the newspaper said, "but his achievement stood in no relation to the expenditure of administrative energy spent upon him."

Cleaners' Price War Breaks Out In Atlanta

ATLANTA, June 2.—(A.P.)—A price war, reminiscent of pre-NRA days, has broken out among the dry cleaners in Atlanta following the lifting of price-fixing regulations on this industry by the NRA.

Whereas it cost 65 cents to get a suit cleaned a week or so ago, the same service can be had today for 30 cents at many establishments.

A few days ago—following NRA's suspension of the price fixing rule for dry cleaners—a salesman cut his prices to 50 cents. The war was on!

The sheriff said the two who he said committed the holdup, were booked on charges of kidnap and murder. The latter identifying himself as an unemployed colored man of Columbus, Ga. About $10,000 was found on the man, the sheriff said, and they arrested him to $10,000 hidden behind a beam near where the arrests were made.

Strike Negotiations At Crucial Stage

Senate Adopts Report Minus Record Vote; 5 To Rule Exchange Under Act's Set-Up

WASHINGTON, June 2.—(A.P.)—Negotiations seeking to avert a general strike of more than 300,000 workers in the cotton textile industry were at a crucial stage today as a conference was resumed between spokesmen for manufacturers and labor with Hugh Johnson, recovery administrator, working for a settlement.

SHOLTZ APPEALS FOR HONESTY ON ELECTION DAY

Governor Expects All Officials To Perform Duties Fairly

TALLAHASSEE, June 2.—(A.P.)—Governor Dave Sholtz yesterday called for a "fair and honest" election in Florida next Tuesday.

In a prepared statement, he said he would expect all election officials to perform their official duties in seeing that the election is conducted fairly and honestly, in accordance with the primary law.

His statement was made, he said, after he had received reports from some parts of the state that illegal voting might be attempted.

Without naming the counties, the Governor said he had received information that in some counties persons who have not paid their poll taxes probably would seek to vote. He said he had received statements that such practices had been allowed by some precinct officials in previous elections.

"Payment of poll taxes is a requirement to become qualified to vote," the Governor said. "The payment also is a patriotic duty, because the money goes to the county schools."

"Persons who have not paid their poll taxes, if they are not exempt from the requirement, are not qualified voters."

"Election officials are expected to see that only those who are qualified cast their ballots next Tuesday."

New York Welcomes Gobs, Their Money

NEW YORK, June 2.—(A.P.)—Battling guns continued to boom about New York yesterday and band after band played "The Star Spangled Banner" as the official city in top hats welcomed the United States fleet.

Mayor LaGuardia and his cabinet, going out in a gaily decked barge, were received aboard the flagship Pennsylvania by Admiral David R. Sellers, commander-in-chief of the fleet.

"Welcome," said LaGuardia, after the bugles had sounded and flares had been beaten on drums. "New York belongs to you."

MART CONTROL BILL IS SENT TO PRESIDENT

Senate Adopts Report Minus Record Vote; 5 To Rule Exchange Under Act's Set-Up

WASHINGTON, June 2.—The Stock Exchange Control bill reached the end of a long, dispute-ridden pathway through Congress last night with final approval by both Houses.

House and Senate, without record votes and with little debate, accepted the conference report compromising controversies between the two branches, and the measure was dispatched to the White House for President Roosevelt's signature.

The Senate adopted the conference report without a record vote. The unanimity of the action was in sharp contrast to the conflict and controversy which accompanied the bill's previous course through Congress.

As finally approved yesterday, the bill provides for the creation of a new commission of five members, to be appointed by the President, to regulate the nation's stock exchanges.

Margin regulations will be set up by the federal reserve board to control advances of credit by banks or brokers on the purchase of securities. Though the board will not have to comply, the law will carry a congressional suggestion that credit be limited to 55 percent of the current value of a security, or 100 percent of the current value of the lowest price it touched in the preceding two years provided this was not more than 75 percent of the current price.

Prohibitions will be contained in the law against manipulative operations, and the commission will have power to require full financial reports from corporations listing securities.

In a statement to the Senate Byrnes, Democrat, South Carolina, listed the following modifications of the securities law which he said would protect honest businessmen:

An officer or director of a corporation could not be sued for damages resulting from a false statement by an expert if he proved he had no ground to believe, and did not believe, the statement when made was untrue. The measure of "reasonable ground" would be that course which would be followed by a "prudent man in the management of his own property."

Defendants in such damage suits could reduce liability by showing that some of the loss was due to other causes than the untrue statement.

Plaintiffs would have to prove they purchased on reliance upon the false statement after the corporation had been set up.

DRASTIC RULE IS INVOKED TO EASE END OF CONGRESS

Filibusters Eliminated By Unusual Move Adopted By House

WASHINGTON, June 2.—(A.P.)—One of the most drastic rules of procedure ever invoked in the House was voted into effect yesterday by the House Democrats to ease the way to congressional adjournment.

Ending a two-day Republican filibuster that delayed in a near tie fight on the floor, the Democratic leadership adopted with a majority a rule which would permit any bill to be brought through the remainder of the session without either debate or amendment.

In the disposition that surrounded the adoption of the rule, the House sergeant at arms had to make a quick dash to the floor separate Representatives from Democrat, Republican and Ellis, Republican, California, who were about to come to blows over an effort of Dean to hold Democrats in line on the roll call.

The final tally on the vote to invoke the new rule of procedure was 234 to 91.

Eight roll calls forced by the Republicans Thursday in a session which kept the House going until late in the night and a renewal of the same tactics yesterday had caused Democratic leaders to fear they might not be able to meet the early June adjournment date that had been set.

Numerous pieces of Administration legislation are yet to be disposed of. Another provision of the rule adopted also would enable leaders to avoid votes which might otherwise have been forced on the floor.

Local Candidates For State, County Offices Wind Up 1934 Campaign At City Hall Meet

Local candidates for state and county political offices that will be at stake until late Tuesday night, closed the first primary campaign at the City Hall last night by appearing before approximately 50 persons at a political meeting sponsored by the Seminole County Democratic Executive Committee.

Harry M. Papworth, president of the Chamber of Commerce, was the first speaker introduced to the audience.

Declaring that he had never made a "political speech" since he had lived in this county, Mr. Papworth first urged the audience to "Pick the two men that will give the most good for Seminole County when you cast your ballots next Thursday," before he launched into a short talk in the interest of Mark Wilcox.

Concluding his talk, Mr. Papworth stated that Mr. Wilcox merited the support of every voter in the Fourth District. "I believe that he has made us the finest member of Congress that Florida has ever had, and that he is probably the finest young representative ever sent to Washington from any state in the Union," he concluded.

Gordon Barnett of Fern Park was the first of three candidates who spoke as a candidate for the State Legislature in Group One. Mr. Barnett stated that since the campaign began, he had been asked two questions by scores of people, questions which he had answered before his audience.

To the question, "Do you support the paper?" Mr. Barnett said, "I would not be able to say that I am a taxpayer. The tax on my property is more than the amount of our salary pay."

To the question, "What can you do for Tallahassee?" Mr. Barnett said, "Such a question is not for me to answer. I would not be able to say that I don't know anything about the procedure up there, but I can do and will do my level best for the interests of all of the people of the county."

Mr. Barnett stated that "I can do nothing for anything for the state" (Continued from page two)

MUSSOLINI SOUNDS NEW WAR POLICY

Volunteers Cheer As He Says Nation Will Play Lone Hand In Any Future Conflict

ROME, June 2.—(A.P.)—Premier Mussolini told 10,000 war volunteers today that Italy will fight her next war for herself alone and not on behalf of any other nations pretending to be her allies.

"Italy's volunteers if war is necessary, will shed their blood only for Italy. Experience has shown them that it does not pay to help by land and sea people who pretend to be our allies," he said.

Mussolini was interpreted as referring to France and her World War ally, Serbia, now a part of Yugoslavia.

France, he said, did not give Italy the colonial territory promised in the London treaty of 1918, following which Italy entered the war.

Volunteers gave the Premier a tremendous ovation when he asked them whether they were ready to march in 1941 and '45.

They shouted "Yes," again when he asked "Do you feel that?" (Continued on Page Two)

FERRY TO STATEN ISLAND

When we have passed all the dark faces And the hum of the steel is over...

Thank God, then, when the fog comes down! These dark men cannot forever last...

When we have weathered this human inclemency, Waits there the still, black road to wend...

Down the murmurous edge of the sea to a little peace And sleep at the end...

With ten million unemployed, one would think workers would be afraid to strike.

Why is this year's election like a government bond? Because there's very little interest in it.

"I didn't run away," declares Mr. Inall indignantly. Well, you're not exactly running back, either, Sammy—Springfield Union.

Pictures of some of these riots and street fights in the strike centers make one glad to live in a nice, quiet, little, farming community.

The "Pleets" in thirty five thousand bluejackets after six weeks of war maneuvers at sea, land in New York, and thirty five thousand faithful sweeties are made happy.

General Johnson is one of the best name callers we ever saw. You either agree with him, or you're just a little cock-eyed, sawed-off, hammered-down, bow-legged, two-by-four runt.

Mary Pickford, it is rumored, is planning to run for Congress out in California. America's Sweetheart should be able to pick up a lot of votes. The nicest thing which her opponent could do under the circumstances would be to withdraw from the race. You can't accuse a person like Mary Pickford of being a two-faced double-crossing demagogue, or a tool of the corporations.

Another feather in the cap of Mark Wilcox is the Everglades National Park bill which will create 2,500 square miles of national park in Florida's Everglades. The park will be the third largest in the United States and is expected to attract thousands of visitors every year. This bill is another sponsored by Mr. Wilcox of national importance.

Dollar wheat, at last, is the pride of the New Deal. Throughout the West, however, where the farmers live, who are to get a dollar a bushel for their wheat, there is little rejoicing. Drought, and terrific heat waves have accomplished without sympathy what the Administration was vainly trying to do through painless measures. The weather is reducing wheat crops much faster than the Agricultural Adjustment Act could ever hope to reduce them, and is bringing higher prices. But dollar wheat when you have no wheat to sell is a real pain in the neck.

E. L. Cord, who rose to a position of industrial prominence from the ranks of automobile mechanic, has taken his family to London in order to avoid kidnaping. In this country he was under the constant apprehension of attack by kidnapers. On three separate occasions attempts were made to steal his children. This, in spite of the strong personal guard which he had always kept on hand in London, however, no guard is necessary. He and his children stroll around the streets unattended.

Money To Burn

Evidently dissatisfied with the paltry 30 cents an hour which the New Deal is paying to unemployed workmen, and billions of dollars which it is providing to enable farmers to save their farms, home-owners to save their homes, and business men to save their businesses, Huey Long, United States Senator from Louisiana, has organized a new movement in this country known as the "Share Our Wealth Society", something which is promised to supplement the New Deal with a Newer Deal.

The motto of Senator Long's society is "Every Man a King." By that he means that when all the wealth in the United States has been confiscated by the government and distributed more or less evenly among all the people, everyone would have at least two cars in his garage, a radio, a frigidaire, fourteen suits of clothes, or, if a woman, all the nice new dresses she might want, and, we suppose, a case of Scotch in the kitchen and another case when that gives out, and all the women and songs, which kings notoriously are known to have.

That is to say, according to Huey Long, all the people would have all these things. There are 138,000 Japanese citizens of the United States, most of them living in California. Would the Senator exclude them from his "Share the Wealth" movement? There are 75,000 Chinamen; 832,000 Indians. What about them? There are 14,000,000 foreigners living in this country who are now naturalized citizens of the United States. Would the Senator share our wealth with them? There are 12,000,000 negroes. Everyone of them, according to Huey Long, would be a king, or a queen, as the case might be.

Senator Long is able, we gather from his communications, to take away from the handful of people who now own all the wealth in the country and divide it among all of these millions of impoverished people. It sounds almost too good to be true. This would be a wonderful country if as the Senator sees he could abolish all poverty from our midst and furnish every man woman and child to it with a substantial income. That truly would be the Utopia St. Thomas More wrote about.

All George Washington could do was to give the people their freedom from George III. Even he couldn't make everyone a king. All Abraham Lincoln could do was to give the slaves their freedom. He didn't even try to make them all rich. Such an undertaking must have seemed almost hopeless to him. But Huey Long would make not only these former slaves rich, but he would make everyone black and white, rich and poor, young and old, a king. It's a stupendous program.

But after all the wealth of the country has been divided, what wonderful pickings it would be for the wire tappers, the cards sharks, and gold brick artists, getting it away from them! Imagine the boom there would be in the dice and poker chip industry! Imagine the orgy in real estate speculation! What a time the binder boys would have! If every man were a king, how long would it be before he would have to place a mortgage on his crown?

No doubt some people think it would be worth trying anyway. They couldn't be much worse off than they are now. And it might work. You never can tell. But for our part, when Huey divides up the wealth, we hope the doesn't give us a freight engine, or an ocean liner. We wouldn't know what to do with it.

Italy's Future

One thing we like about old Mussolini of Italy. He doesn't try to fill his people full of a lot of applause. Most dictators get in control of the government by spraying the people with banana oil, and they remain in power only until the people find out that they can't make good on their promises. One reason Mussolini has managed to remain at the head of things as long as he has is because he gives his people the real lowdown. He doesn't have any impossible promises to fall down on.

The other day addressing a vast throng of people in one of Rome's public squares, Mussolini gave the Italians the inside dope on what the future held for them. No attempt was made to paint a glowing picture of some easy way of living. There would be no bonanzas for them. No promises were made which pretended to bring about a millennium or which might fill the Italians full of false hopes for the future.

There would be an armament race in Europe, Mussolini said. Italy must build more battleships, construct great armories of the air, equip its army with bigger and better tanks, machine guns, and heavy artillery. Italy must be prepared for war as war is inevitable. These armaments, these preparations for war, cost money, and the money must be raised through taxation. The Italian people must be prepared to work hard, and pay heavier and heavier taxes throughout the years.

Further, when the war comes, Italy proposes to assume control of all business. The war has got to be paid for some way, and Italy will pay for it out of the profits of business. Stockholders and bondholders will have to sacrifice their unearned increment to the costs of war. Business men, as well as workmen, will have to labor for the government and will have to see to it that business makes sufficient profits to finance the war.

It is not a very encouraging picture which Mussolini holds up for his people. But neither is the picture of Europe optimistic. Perhaps it is better for him to tell the people the truth. Certainly he will last longer as their dictator.

Candidates Wind Up Primary Campaigns At City Hall Meet

(Continued from page one) reason that I'm going up there to be your servant and I'll be one of 95 other men in the House. I can only point to my platform and say that I'll do my best for you taxpayers, growers, school teachers, and laborers."

Explaining that he did not sign the platform or program of the Florida League for Better Schools because "I do not believe that it is best for the county or ourselves to sign up something that won't come up for another year," Mr. Barnett pointed out that "My stand on this platform has been vindicated by Governor Sholtz' announcement of a plan to aid the schools, and the satisfaction which H. H. Filer, head of the School League has expressed over this plan."

"If you wish to send a representative to Tallahassee who is a taxpayer and a grower," he said, "a man who understands your problems and sincerely wishes to help you, I would appreciate your vote. I believe it essential to harmony in the county that a man from the country be one of your representatives, and that this harmony will send our county a long way."

E. E. Brady began his remarks by saying, "I believe that I'll make you a good representative for I have no other interests but yours at heart."

Discussing taxes and a relief from the increasing tax burden, Mr. Brady stated that "You know as well as I do that to lower taxes you've got to lower the expenses of government. I believe that our taxes can and should be lowered, and if there is anyone in my group who can readily help you lower taxes, it is I."

Referring to his refusal to endorse the platform of the League for Better Schools, Mr. Brady said that "When I can beat the League out of guessing on the school problems, I believe I should be given the privilege of being sent to Tallahassee and helping to work out your problems."

He had referred to the point that "I had anticipated that some settlement would be made on the schools," and that "I had suggested the idea to Governor Sholtz, the idea which he used only yesterday, and the idea that Mr. Filer of the school league accepted."

"I just saw further ahead than the rest of them," he said in again explaining why he refused to sign the platform, "and if you'll send me to Tallahassee I'll see further than most of the other fellows who go up there."

"I'm one of the men who's got the backbone to fight this platform," he said, "because I don't think it will work, and I'm telling you now that they are not going to knock me off my feet, either here or up there. I'm going to represent everybody."

Before he had concluded, Mr. Brady said that "I hope you'll send me up there with the biggest vote ever given a man from this county so that I can tell those slickers up there that I am somebody back home and that they'd better work with me and my people," and he said, "I'll make you one promise that I'll positively refuse to cast my vote to raise the taxes in this state."

"I believe that you people are going to send me up there," he concluded, "and I'll tell you right now that I'm going to run again in two years. Give me the biggest vote you've ever handed out, is all I ask."

The third candidate in Group One, J. E. Jackson of Sanford, briefly discussed the state's bonded indebtedness and urged the voters to consider carefully before permitting the state to go deeper into debt.

He declared that he had signed the Better School's League pledge because "There isn't a thing in the world the matter with it, and I'm going to stick by that pledge. I'm calling upon you people to stand by the League, the schools, and the pupils, and I'm saying now that you'll see that these people will rally to my support and give me a majority next Tuesday."

Advocating passage of the home-stead exemption act, Mr. Jackson said "It is only just that the tax burden be lifted from the shoulders of the aged who are without a means of supporting themselves. Why, even an old-age pension would be a fine thing for them."

In discussing the possibility of a sales tax in Florida, Mr. Jackson said that "I'm not for a general sales tax unless we've first cleaned up our bonded indebtedness."

Concluding, he stated that he anticipated a majority on Tuesday and that "When I go to Tallahassee, I'll make you one promise that I'll do my best for you at all times."

Charles Dunn, candidate for the county commission as a representative of District Three, said that "While I do not have much to say, I propose to do all that I can for the greatest number of people as I see the needs as they arise. I have lived here for 27 years, and I believe that you know my record. I will appreciate your vote."

Boston Steele, present commissioner who seeks re-election, said "I've had the honor for the past nine and one half years and I'm not ashamed of the record for I believe that I've consistently looked out for the all of the people. If elected again, I promise the same efficient service as I have rendered in the past."

Weather Map Is Crazy Quilt Of Queer Designs

Rain cooled Montana and parts of Minnesota and North Dakota, but elsewhere temperatures reached all time highs almost without exception. Three fatalities attributed to the heat were reported.

A snow storm followed a heavy rain into Butte, Mont., and another small fall prevented a high school picnic near Walla Walla, Wash.

Rain visited St. Louis and Central Illinois. Sun baked fields, yellow and brown, with the withered ruins of crops, thirsted in vain for life giving moisture. Friday as June started to outdo May in setting records for heat and drought.

In only a few scattered sections of the country did rains and cooling winds bring temporary relief. Parts of Minnesota and North and South Dakota quaffed gratefully of showers, but elsewhere in the same states temperatures reached all time highs and dust storms added to the discomfort.

Allotments totaling $5,476,000 for drought relief in 10 states were announced at Washington with an indication that amounts might be increased before the month ended.

Trading in wheat continued briskly at Chicago and Minneapolis, but profit taking and reports of rain in Saskatchewan sent the market tumbling after prices had advanced more than four cents. The close was about a cent under Thursday's final prices.

Wheat and corn fields of the Middle West, already badly burned out, sacrificed additional thousands of bushels to the weather as all time heat records piled up.

An official temperature of 102.2 in Chicago set a new June mark there and was only 7 of a degree under the all time, any month record of 102.9, set July 21, 1901. But downcasters cast envious eyes on Chicago, for their thermometers soared even higher. The official reading at Morris, Ill., was 107 degrees.

To conserve as far as possible all feed in the state for suffering livestock, Governor Olson of Minnesota declared an immediate embargo on shipments of livestock into the state for feeding or grazing purposes. The executive order declared an "unprecedented emergency" existed because of the drought.

In Iowa, where every weather bureau station reported temperatures of 101 degrees or higher for Thursday, heavy dust storms blanketed fields and towns. Lowered temperatures, however, brought a measure of relief.

Temperatures ranged down to the 50's in parts of South Dakota, following a week of erratic weather which brought intensive heat, wind storms, hail, rain and dust to the state. Small buildings, telephone poles and fences were swept down by gales around Sioux Falls and Aberdeen.

Feeding on tinderlike vegetation, forest fires raged in Wisconsin, Maine and New York. Farmers were forced to flee for their lives as a forest fire ravished 1280 acres of land near Menomonee, Wis. National Guardsmen were rushed to Mr. Mahon's Island, near Georgetown, Maine, on reports that a forest and brush fire was threatening 50 large summer cottages. Later they reported the blaze extinguished.

A light sprinkle in the Wisconsin lowered temperatures there to around the 60 degree mark. No immediate rain was expected in other parts of the state, however.

Drastic Rule Is Invoked To Ease End Of Congress

(Continued from page one) McLeod bank payoff measure. "I should be ashamed to admit, if we were in a majority of 300 to 100, that we were unable to manage the House under our own rules," was Republican Leader Snell's observation after the rule had been adopted by the Democrats.

"They had yesterday proved the truth of the assertion that the Democratic majority is incompetent to run the House." The rule adopted was one which would allow the speaker at any time during the remainder of the session to recognize a member to bring up a bill under a motion which would ban both debate and amendments.

It would require a two-thirds majority to pass the bill under such procedure but Administration leaders were confident they would be able to muster such support for all the remaining bills that will face the House at this Congress.

Oil Well Fire Causes Million Dollar Loss

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Cal., June 2.—(AP)—Damage estimated at $1,000,000 by fire officials was caused in the old section of the Huntington Beach oil field early today when a gasoline blast ignited a string of oil derricks, endangering the lives of about 25 persons most of whom had been accounted for.

After burning for nearly three hours the fire was brought under control by firemen who expressed the opinion that it would be miraculous if all in the district had escaped.

At that time the heat from the flames was so intense that a thorough check would have to be decried.

Authorities said the blast occurred when a loading hose carrying high test gasoline and leading to a truck broke, spraying volatile fuel into a fire box.

Six derricks and 12 storage tanks were destroyed. The explosion shook the city like an earth quake.

Slick trader who can handle those West Florida traders, and he said that "If you send me you're going to have just as slick a trader as they are, and just as good a lawyer."

He concluded with the statement that "A representative must have acquaintances in the capital if he expects to get results," and he pointed out that of the 95 representatives in the last session, "47 of them were my personal friends and there is every reason to believe that this percentage will be maintained at the next session."

Final speakers were Albert Jarrell, J. E. Preston, and S. A. E. Wilkinson, candidates for the State Democratic Executive Committee.

team to beat the Indians in league competition. A victory for the Feds would put them in a tie for first place with the Indians, and would give them a good chance to advance further along the road to the first half pennant since they tackle the Vero Beachers here on Thursday and are scheduled to play a double-header in Kissimmee next Sunday.

Manager Rive stated today that he will start the same team which has played capably in the first four games. He is tickled to death over the way the youngsters like Smith, Kelly, Britt, and Rines are coming through in the pinches, and he is satisfied that he has a team that ranks with the best of them.

Manager Rive also announced a pair of exhibition games that are to be played here late this month. On Tuesday, June 19, the Feds will meet Stuffy McRone's Daytona Beach Islanders, while on the next day the Feds will meet the Atlanta All-Stars, a semi-pro organization that expects to tour the state this month.

Hitting averages for the first four games find Bud Abbott as the club's leading hitter. He has secured seven hits in 14 tries for an average of .500. Wilson Smith is right on his heels with six hits in 15 tries, and Smith also holds the lead in runs scored, he having crossed the plate four times. Other averages: Owens, .333; Kelly, .272; Britt, .267; P. Mansfield, .143; Sparkman, .112; Evans, .100; Rines, .000; Bonner, .000; Mattair, .000; L. Mansfield, .000.

Pete Schirard, signed last week, is expected to arrive in Sanford late Monday from the University of Florida where he is scheduled to be graduated earlier Monday. The youngster probably will appear in his first game here against Vero Beach on Thursday.

DEFICIENCY BILL PASSED BY HOUSE

Republicans Protest Action As Gag Rule; Measure Provides For Drought Relief

WASHINGTON, June 4.—(A.P.)—Amid cries of "gag rule" from Republicans, the deficiency bill providing a cash outlay of $1,178,000,000 and a potential relief expenditure of about $6,000,000,000 was passed by the House today and sent to the Senate.

The measure was said by Chairman Lochman of Texas of the Appropriations Committee to provide ample authority for funds to meet the drought relief situation in 23 Midwest states.

He added, however, that Congress had appropriated at this session $573,000,000 in excess of President Roosevelt's propositions. President Roosevelt and Congressional leaders today determined to withhold a decision of the adjournment date until the Administration program is pushed to conclusion.

Capitol Hill chieftains expressed the opinion to the President that adjournment could be reached within ten days. The President told them he wanted the tariff, silver, housing, and Wagner labor board bills passed.

Canadian Quintuplets Are Afflicted With Jaundice; Doctor Forbids Exhibition

CORBELL, Ont., June 4.—(A.P.)—The Duonne quintuplets last night became afflicted with jaundice, Dr. A. R. Dufco stated flatly today. He said they must not be exhibited at Chicago's Century of Progress Exposition this summer.

The five little girls, clinging to life with a tenacity that surprised physicians, yesterday were treated with yellow.

Dr. Dufco, the country practitioner who attended their birth, hastily prescribed treatment to overcome this jaundiced condition. The new state of affairs is alarming, the physician said. Jaundice is not unusual in infancy, he added, and he does not believe the quintuplets' condition is the quintuplets' chance for life.

In other respects the condition of the children, including little V. who weighs some pounds, is satisfactory, he announced. He said after a visit to the farm home.

FARM SITUATION LONG DRY SPELL IN NATION FULL APPEARS BROKEN BY HEAVY RAINS

Food Shortage Held As Remote Despite Bad Weather Conditions

CHICAGO, June 4.—(A.P.)—The American farm situation today contained a number of unusual circumstances. The agricultural status at a glance:

1. Farm commodity production decreased by sustained drought. 2. Feed limited and more expensive, with much of 200,000,000 bushels of corn needed in the under loans of 15 cents a bushel unavailable.

3. Corn now about 41 cents higher than a year ago, and worth that much more than the price at which loans were made, permitting farmers in parts of Illinois and Iowa to sell cash grain profitably.

4. Government permitting partial payments of loans for a release of corn in feeding.

5. Wheat at a price high enough that importation of cheap Argentine wheat despite 12 cents duty is technically possible, although not probable. Wheat is about 25 cents higher than a year ago.

6. Hog prices about 11% lower than a year ago, but a packer is actually greater because of $2.25 processing tax per hundredweight, distributed indirectly back to producers.

7. Cattle about $1.50 higher than a year ago.

8. Thousands of cattle and hogs being sent to market in poorly fed condition, swelling supply and unsteady market.

9. Government buying 15,000 hogs a day for relief and beginning purchases of 1,200,000 head of drought emaciated cattle. Rail rates cut for movement of livestock from distressed areas, but executive embargoes against shipment of cattle into Minnesota and North Dakota for feeding in effect.

10. Cotton price more than $2 higher than a year ago.

11. Production of wheat, cotton, corn and hogs retarded through operation of the Agricultural Adjustment Act.

12. Estimated wheat production of 578,000,000 bushels desired.

MOB MURDERS PUBLIC WORKS CHIEF IN CUBA

Attacking Group Said To Have Been Made Up Of Recently Discharged Employees

CAMAGUAY, June 4.—(A.P.)—Chief of Public Works Scraper Rocio and two other officials were killed and two persons were wounded by a mob which attacked the public works office here today.

The attacking group is said by police to have been made up of recently discharged employees of the office. The mobsters were armed with police and soldier rifles and shotguns. They immediately opened fire. It later was reported that the mobsters were attacking the public works office here today.

Thousands of machine gun and shotguns kept the fusible Cuban police in Havana in a state of nervous tension yesterday as the national government seemed to be on the verge of another crisis.

Communists were firing into the air apparently to cause excitement and to call attention to the growing breach between civil and military authorities. Some were injured and apparently the unidentified mobsters were firing at no one in particular.

The new challenge to the authority of President Carlos Menocal was precipitated by the resignation of his secretary, Emeterio Vento, who is a member of the cabinet.

He withdrew from the government because there are unworkable elements of an approach of a military dictatorship. Santa Vento said yesterday.

"If the country wants to live under the heel of the military foot, it will fight with me but the moment has arrived when the government must defend itself," he said.

It is not to be thought of another military dictatorship.

Santa Vento added that his resignation is irrevocable.

Church Union Plans Are Turned Down

Following the aggressive leadership of Norman Thomas and Max Easton, W. H. Brown of Milwaukee, in the most tumultuous session of the party's biennial convention, the resolution of resistance, left and extremeists which has constantly demonstrated its power in the bitter fights of the last three days—outvoted the "old guard" of the right wing in this declaration of principle by a vote of 29 to 47.
