National Grange Lines Up With Organiza- tions Urging Slash In Cost Of Pensions

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—Representative Wood, Democrat of Virginia, chairman of the House subcommittee handling veterans' appropriations, today proposed a temporary flat 10 percent reduction in veterans' allowances, pensions, and retirement officers pay for the fiscal year of 1934.

The National Grange lined up a joint congressional committee with the organizations urging reductions in veterans' retirement pay for disability and illness. FEE SYSTEM IS PROFITABLE TO COUNTY OFFICES

In Spite Of Depres- sion, Marion Heads Show More Income

OCALA, Jan. 4.—Reports of county fee officers for the latter six months of 1932 were filed with the retiring board of county commissioners yesterday. While the figures are given until Jan. 15 to file their reports, four of the five were turned in yesterday.

Despite the depression, the reports show that the fee receipts in each office increased over a similar period in 1931. This was accounted for mainly by an evident cutting of expenses by all the offices. Reduction of expenses in each office was largely responsible for the increased net receipts, although total receipts in two offices show increases.

Sherriff R. C. M. Thomas, who had a lean half year the latter part of 1931 according to reports, made a large increase in net receipts for the past six months, his report shows. Whereas he netted $15,322.83 the last six months in 1931, the past six months brought him $4,791.33. This was mainly accounted for by an increase in total receipts, going from $8,800 in 1931 to $11,800 during the past year. Meanwhile, expenses were reduced about $100.

Tax Assessor W. L. Colbert also reported an increase in total receipts, jumping from $2,400 in 1931 to $4,200 in the last six months of 1932. A reduction of expense of over $400 helped bring his total net receipts from $1,750 in the last half of 1931 to $3,800 during the past six months.

River Steamer, Osceola, Is Expected In Sanford Thursday On Trial Run

With flags flying, brass bands playing, and Captain Thos. Land, veteran of more than 40 years service on the St. Johns River at her helm as of old, the steamship "Osceola," for near Clyde Line boat that has been out of service for nearly five years is expected to make a landing in Sanford between 10:00 and 12:00 o'clock Thursday morning on her first trip down the river under the ownership of Sanford and Jacksonville capital that includes W. A. Leffler and C. H. Whitner of this city.

Chamber of Commerce officials are planning a suitable welcome when the craft arrives with an escort of small boats containing many bands of whistles. Exact time of arrival is indefinite but those interested in seeing the vessel and desiring of participating in giving it a greeting may call the Chamber of Commerce tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock to ascertain the time of arrival.

HOOVER RAPS CONGRESS FOR BALKING PLANS

Sternly Assails Lead- ers For Opposing His Method Of Reorgan- izing Government

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—President Hoover sternly assailed Congressional leaders yesterday for opposing his method of reorganizing government bureaus, but the Democrats on Capitol Hill were ready to fight with their plans for killing the President's proposals, undeterred by his protest.

The President called his first press conference since September to tell newspapers that if any reorganization of the government departments is to be more than "make believe," Congress either must "keep its hands off" or Roosevelt virtually a free rein.

The reaction in Congress was immediate. Chairman Cochran of the House expenditures committee announced he would call his group together Thursday and would then seek to block the entire Hoover program for realigning and regrouping 58 separate bureaus into nine divisions under existing departments.

Further, Cochran said it would be "unjust and most unfair" for the President to reshuffle so large a portion of the executive establishment just two weeks before he took office. He resented the intention of the Democratic leaders to vote much wider reorganization power in Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The President said the opposition to his plan in Congress constitutes a "backward step." He added: "The same opposition has now arisen which has defeated every effort at reorganization for 28 years."

President defended in detail various of his proposals, particularly the creation of a public works division, and then expressed his opposition to the present law giving Congress the power to veto proposed consolidations within 60 days after the time he issued the regrouping orders.

"Either Congress must keep its hands off now," he said, "or it must give to my successor much larger powers of independent action than given to any president if there is ever to be reorganization. And that authority to be effective should be free of the limitations in the law passed last year which gives Congress the veto power, which prevents the abolition of functions which prevents the rearrangement of major departments."

Crack French Steamship In South American Service Burns In English Channel

CHERBOURG, Jan. 4.—The crack French liner Lattak, serving in the South American run, was wrecked by fire of an undetermined origin in the English Channel today.

The crew of 170 is believed to have been rescued by the German steamer Ruhr after abandoning the Lattak which carried 600 passengers and was enroute to Liverpool at Havre for its annual overhaul.

A military airplane with two officers aboard left Havre to fly over the burning craft to determine the cause of the disaster.

BIG STRAWBERRY SHIPMENTS MADE BY PLANT CITY

PLANT CITY, Jan. 4.—Strawberry growers, who bring their berries to Plant City, marketed more than a quarter million pints of berries during the last half of last week and sent the seasonal shipment in excess of seven hundred thousand pints at the end year gave way to the new.

Last Saturday proved to be the big day of the current season with 147,294 pints of strawberries being forwarded out of here in eight express refrigerator cars and 13 pony refrigerators.

During the last three days of last week there was a gradual improvement in the price at the local yard. Reports of buyers indicated an 8-14 cent average for Friday and a 9-14 average for Saturday. Monday berries were bringing in general 8 and 8 1-2 cents although very few lots brought the quarter of a cent less than nine cents. The range on the yard Saturday was from 8 cents to 10 1-2 cents.

A low rain throughout the greater part of Monday morning which appeared to be pretty general over the strawberry area is believed to have proven most beneficial although of not as great volume as growers generally would have liked.

Indications Monday were that there would be a fairly heavy movement of fruit out of here Tuesday night. It was indicated that there would be four or five and perhaps six or seven cars out, dependent largely upon the amount of fruit coming in late Monday afternoon.

The movement out of here last Saturday totalled 147,294 pints of berries which figured on the basis of an average return to growers of 9 1-2 cents the pint, returned growers approximately $13,969.46 for the day's picking. The movement Saturday brought the season's total movement through last week to 705,170 pints for which growers have received an estimated return of approximately $91,192.63.

MEISCH AGAIN MADE HEAD OF COUNTY BOARD

Commissioners Hold Reorganization Ses- sion At First Meet- ing Held This Year

John Meisch, Sr., prominent grower and veteran member of the board of County Commissioners yesterday morning was chosen chairman of the reorganization session for the group for another two year term at a reorganization meeting that was featured by the election of Dr. S. P. Lester as county physician and W. C. Williamson as superintendent of the County Home and the passing of a resolution calling upon Governor Dave White to select men of "drive, executive ability" as members of his new State Road Department governing body.

When the Commissioners met in the first session of the new year, they first read and approved the minutes of their December meeting, ordered the payment of all outstanding accounts, concluded every matter of 1932 business and adjourned sine die to immediately re-assemble.

First act of the re-organized Commission was the re-election of Mr. Meisch as its chairman, and the first act to follow that unanimous decision was the matter of appointing new or re-appointing old County employees.

Sholtz Assumes Duties As State's Chief Executive

TALLAHASSEE, Jan. 4.—Date Sholtz today began the duties as Florida's 29th governor by meeting with the state's presidential electors assembled here to cast their votes in the electoral college for Franklin Roosevelt for president and John Garner for vice-president.

He signed a commission for his new secretary, J. P. Newell, Fort Pierce, and announced that J. C. Huskinson, secretary to former Governor Doyle Carlton, will continue to act as director of relief in charge of administration of Reconstruction Finance Corporation in Florida. According to Mr. Leffler, Mr. Huskinson told that Hall of Birmingham, Ala., regional director of the R. F. C. that (Continued On Page Two)

Speer Elected To Succeed Dumas As Mayor Of Sanford

Leffler Declines Nom- ination And In Turn Recommends Speer;

Wivian A. Speer, 37-year old Sanford department store owner and a city commissioner since 1926, was elected mayor of Sanford last night succeeding T. L. Dumas, veteran railroad official who has held that office for the past two years.

Mr. Speer's election as mayor came shortly after he had signed the oath and acceptance of office as a City Commissioner for three years and A. O. Shinkholser, Sanford craft manufacturer, had signed the oath and acceptance of office for the unexpired term of C. A. Byrd, resigned.

When Mayor Dumas announced that the only order of business scheduled for the evening was the election of a mayor, Commissioner Speer nominated Commissioner W. A. Leffler who in turn declined the nomination and entered the name of Mr. Speer.

Commissioner Shinkholser asked whether or not the Charter required a unanimous vote of the Commission to bring about the re-election of Mayor Dumas. He was told that a unanimous vote was necessary, inasmuch as Mayor Dumas said "I think someone else should have the job" and because Commissioner H. J. Lehmann was not present, Commissioner Shinkholser said "I therefore second the nomination made by Mr. Leffler," thereby bringing about the election of Mr. Speer.

In turning over the gavel to the new mayor, the retiring head of the City said "I take great pleasure in turning over this great job to you. It has been a pleasure to share your usefulness work in behalf of our city and I am sure you will do great justice to yourself and our city in your new role."

After considerable applause from the several spectators and the official City group around the table had subsided, Mayor Speer said "I am deeply appreciative of this honor, and while I realize my shortcomings, I shall do my best to fill the office to the best of my ability."

His first act was to sign the oath of office as mayor and the necessary paper of acceptance as mayor. His second was to announce that a motion for adjournment was in order. Commissioner Dumas made this motion and the meeting was adjourned until next Monday night.

The new mayor has been on the City Commission since January 1929. He served as mayor of the City for several weeks following the resignation of Nelson Gray, late in 1929, and he was re-elected for a three-year term that began in January 1930 and ended last week, to be re-elected for another three-year term that began last night.

Pope Has Close Call From Serious Injury

It B. Pope, local manager of Cities Service gasoline products, today is being pointed out as a man with unusually good fortune in that he came through what might have been an accident of serious consequences with only a noticeable limp and several hours of genuine pain.

Mr. Pope had the misfortune to have his right knee caught between the bumper of a parked automobile and one that was just being parked, and according to Dr. R. E. Stevens, who was nearby, his escape with only minor injuries makes him as having been given that "One chance in a thousand."

He was preparing to enter the Mayfair Hotel Saturday night to attend the American Legion Auxiliary dance and had stopped for a moment to chat with a friend when another automobile approached and before it was stopped it had crashed into his knee. Mr. Pope was given treatment and returned to his home shortly after.

ROSE BOWL, PASADENA, Calif., Jan. 8.—(AP)—It is still true that a good, big man will beat a good, little one in the ring or on the football field...

A near capacity crowd of 85,000 looked on, first with enthusiasm and then in amazement, as the Trojans moved briskly to their 50th consecutive victory.

The Easterners held the starwarts from the West to a single touchdown advantage for the first half, but to concede another in the third period and then crumbled in the final quarter before three counters. A fumble paved the way for one of the last minute scores and a blocked kick made another possible.

The boys from the Alleghenies put up a brave defense early in the game, but the Trojans carried too many guns for them. At that, although routed, the Pittsburgers fought back bravely to the last, forcing the winners to shoot three plays at Pitt from her two-yard line before they could get the ball over for the last touchdown.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Amos Alonzo Stagg, who retired this fall as head football coach at the University of Chicago, was confined to the Medical Arts hospital yesterday with a severe case of influenza complicated by bronchial pneumonia. Despite his age, 71 years, doctors in charge said his case was not dangerous.

The veteran coach, a famous athlete at Yale and coach at Chicago from the time the university was founded until age forced his retirement after the 1923 season, came here to attend the annual coaches' meetings last week suffering from a heavy cold.

He spoke at the sportsmanship brotherhood luncheon, where he was presented a medal, addressed the coaches' meeting, and was made a life member of the football rules committee. Speaking at the coaches' annual banquet, he blamed the heavy cigars of Fielding Yost, Michigan coach, for the looseness of his voice.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Jan. 8.—(AP)—The professional football players took a hefty wallop on the chin from the amateurs when the Dixie All-Stars, a gridiron pot pourri trimmed the hitherto undefeated Charlotte Bantams, 7-0, in a benefit contest here yesterday.

A crowd of 2000 witnessing 1934's first football offering in North Carolina saw the simple, most of them college seniors, decisively outplay the highly favored professionals. The Bantams did not penetrate their opponents' 45-yard line.

John (Hurry) Cain, Alabama's star fullback, had been billed as the big attraction but was only the fireworks of the day were provided by the oldest and smallest player on the field, "Wings" Shipp, a star at Trinity—now Duke—a decade or so ago.

KEAR STADIUM, SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 8.—(AP)—In a fiercely fought football battle climaxed by a pugilistic skirmish on the part of two players, West defeated East, 21-15, here yesterday in the eighth annual gridiron classic played in the name of charity.

The brief flitic set-to between Joe Kerth, Notre Dame tackle, playing for the East, and Ralph Stone, San Francisco Olympic club and, for the West, furnished an

"BOWLING NOTES" The first place tie in the Sanford Merchants Bowling League was broken last night when the Seminoles Creamery team won two of three games from the Smith's Barber team in one of the most exciting matches of the season.

George Habe was high scorer of the evening with 500 points in three games while J. L. Stephens rolled a 210 score in a single game.

The scores: Seminoles Creamery T. Dally 170 183 183 435 H. Witta Jr. 188 188 170 408 H. Witta Sr. 188 188 149 450 E. S. Bender 187 188 148 408 George Habe 188 205 175 569 unexpected finale to the spectacle engaged in yearly by Americans and near great of the football world.

Keyed up under the tense struggle, the principals lost their heads for the moment and traded punches while some of the 45,000 fans tried to crowd onto the field for ringside seats. Order was quickly restored, however, and the erring principals left the field.

MIAMI, Jan. 8.—(AP)—With only five minutes left to play Cecil Cook, halfback, swept wide around right end and raced into the goal some yesterday, giving the University of Miami a 7 to 0 victory over Manhattan college of New York in the first annual festival of palms football classic.

Captain Bates kicked goal from placement. Battling on scoreless terms for three quarters, while heat hampered Coach Merchants Manhattanites, the Miami eleven started clicking just before the game ended.

Starting from the visitors' 37-yard line, Miami pushed the ball down the field with line plunges and passes to the two-yard line, where a fumble by the visitors' linebacker on a short punt, after two line plays failed to gain an inch, Cook skirted end for the score.

Approximately 7500 persons saw the game played for charity. As a prelude Miss Margaret Sweat, of Miami, was crowned Queen of the Palms.

Business Men See Outlook Better In '33

(Continued From Page One) tively as well as in security and commodity prices during the past six months encourages the belief that a fairly firm resistance level against further decline has finally been found.

William Fallowes Morgan, board chairman Merchants Refrigeration Company: "There are two matters which have the greatest bearing on the return of better times in 1933." Governmental economy and foreign debt readjustment were named.

A. C. Pearson, board chairman United Business Publishers: "As the feeling grows that national state and local budgets are to be pared down, confidence in essential stability is increasing."

Louis Wiley, business manager New York Times: "I believe there are many factors in the business prospect which lend encouragement for the future."

W. H. La Boyteux, president Johnson & Higgins: "Before there can be any sound recovery the present excessive expenditures of federal, state and municipal governments must be drastically reduced and brought more in balance with the reduction in the country's income."

Lucius B. Eastman, president the Hills Brothers Company: "We in the food trade like to think that adverse conditions affect us less than many other industries. This has been partially true in 1932. It will be increasingly true in 1933 only if we proceed confidently and cautiously."

David W. Knott, president Knott Hotels Corporation: "I am still an optimist regarding New York City real estate."

H. C. Turner, president Turner Construction Company: "Interchange of trade must be restored on an equitable basis before new buildings to serve industry can be profitably built. For these reasons I do not look forward to 1933 with much promise."

L. K. Comstock, board chairman L. K. Comstock and Company: "The impulse toward general improvement lies in foreign relations."

Charles R. Lamb, board chairman J. and R. Lamb Studios: "We believe that 1933 will see a slow but sure improvement in general business."

Harvey Wiley Corbett, architect: "There are some slight indications of activity in the near future."

Bachman Resignation Accepted By Board

TALLAHASSEE, Jan. 8.—(AP)—The resignation of Charles Bachman, head football coach at the University of Florida, recently announced at Gainesville, was accepted today by the state board of control at an executive meeting here.

The resignation will be effective June 30. In accepting the resignation the board of control adopted a resolution declaring "it is the opinion of the board of control that the best interests of the University of Florida and the state would be served by the employment of an entirely new football coach."

1932 SEES BEST HEALTH RECORD IN U.S. HISTORY

Mark Is Established Despite Hardships During Depression

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—The year 1932 is closing with the best health record in the history of the American people. This is indicated by reports from health departments all over the country and by the experience of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, which shows that the many millions of industrial policy holders have recorded during the year the lowest mortality in the history of the company. This health experience is a surprising one because these industrial policy holders represent a group which has borne the brunt of unemployment and the straitened circumstances which are associated with periods of business depression.

"The year 1933 is beginning with no untoward circumstances in the health picture of the country," states Dr. Louis L. Dublin, chief vice president and statistician of the Metropolitan Life. "But it would be futile to forecast the health prospects of 1933 at the present time. This is particularly true because a severe epidemic of influenza in 1932 but luckily it did not materialize."

"We based our expectation of this epidemic on the fact that since 1929 influenza has reached points of maximum proportions every third year—in 1929, 1926, and 1923—and so we looked for an outbreak in 1932. This has not occurred. However, in recent weeks a rather widespread epidemic of influenza in mild form has been recorded. It began on the Pacific coast and has traveled rapidly to other parts of the country and there are now many cases of it on the Eastern seaboard. This may be the forerunner of a serious outbreak in 1933. If it does occur, it will be made more serious by the fact that there are a great many whose lowered resistance, under present conditions, would make an attack of influenza more dangerous than in ordinary times."

"In line with this, many communities may be laying up trouble for themselves by the curtailment of health facilities due to the economic pressure. If public health officials, sanitary engineers, public nurses, clinics and other health services are curtailed on a large scale, we may suffer from a marked increase in the death rates from the infectious diseases."

"In considering the curtailment of such services, it must be remembered that the sanitary officers protect us from typhoid fever and the outbreaks of other preventable diseases. A few years ago one New York community of only 20,000 people economized on the services of its sanitary personnel. There was a serious outbreak of typhoid fever traced to the water supply and the town was forced to pay a half million dollars in damages to the families of those who succumbed to the disease. That saving in economy and points to the fact that, especially at this time, public funds should be used to protect the vital resources of the community.

"The wonderful health record of the year 1932 has been approached only by that of 1900 and some remarkable gains have been registered. The outstanding gain in its value to community has been the continued decline in the tuberculosis death rate. This runs counter to every expectation under present economic conditions. Pneumonia, declining in an even larger percentage, indicates that the country has suffered but slightly from influenza and from other communicable diseases which often take their toll in pneumonia.

"The year 1932 also registered a marked decline in the deaths from accidents and especially from automobile accidents. This is the first in a long series of years in which there has been a marked change in the number of automobile fatalities. This is due in part to the diminished use of the automobile but it may also reflect the greater precautions taken in controlling traffic."

"Offsetting these gains, the year 1932 shows a continued rise in the mortality from cancer. This is probably the worst feature in the year's exhibit of mortality. Metropolitan policyholders will record an increase of more than nine per cent in deaths from cancer. Smaller increases are also recorded among this class from heart disease, Bright's disease, and cerebral hemorrhage. These are conditions which prevail at the later ages of life and for general tendency has been toward an increase in mortality in recent years."

Basketball Team Will Make Journey To Play Daytonans

Coach Leonard McLucas and members of his 1933 Seminoles High School basketball team left for Daytona Beach late this afternoon where tonight at 7:30 o'clock they will open the season in a tilt with the Buccaneers of the high school of that city.

The young coach is of the opinion that he has a fairly working combination that should make a good name for itself during the season. He anticipates that his boys will again be named as one of the most sportmanlike in the conference, and said that he is hopeful that a large crowd will be on hand at the school next Saturday night when at 8:00 o'clock the local season opens with a game with Leesburg.

The first team to see action tonight includes Knight, and Smith at forwards; Kanner at center; and Courier and Erston at guards. A second team includes Hughes, Kelly at forwards; Govork at center, and Miller and Higgins at guards.

Philosophy Takes New Role

When it comes to getting his daily vitamins the average man is apt to scoff, demand a square meal and let the vitamins take care of themselves. But the knowing housewife today finds she can deliver the necessary vitamins in such attractive form that mere man, all unsuspecting, eats it merely because it is good to eat, never suspecting the dark secret that he's being tricked into something that's actually good for him.

There's canned pineapple, for example. Who among golfers would suspect that the golden fruit of harboring anything but a glorious taste. Certainly not the average commuter sitting down to his morning breakfast, in a mood to snatch a bite and rush for the office. Yet recent research has revealed that canned pineapple is a source of five necessary minerals and three essential vitamins. It was also found to aid digestion of proteins such as meat and eggs and to be a valuable aid in preventing and relieving acidosis. (The newest dietary advice is: "Eat two slices each day" and it might as well be early in the day since pineapple allows or the new "pineapple cure" made from the canned crushed fruit or juice can be served nowhere more effectively than in the breakfast table as a stimulating introduction to the customary toast, eggs, and coffee.

Technically speaking, the only person who could be said to have been a "victim" of the depression was the man who was born in 1933.

The New Governor

With the inauguration of Dave Sholtz yesterday as governor of the state of Florida, we begin a new era in our history, and, we hope, in our development.

We do not expect any patent medicine cure-all to come from our official minds at Tallahassee, and we trust that none will be attempted.

That Gov. Sholtz does not propose any attempt to saddle the state with a debt is indicated in his inaugural address.

But the extent to which the Governor himself can go in this direction is extremely limited. Most of our state economies must be effected through the Legislature.

That he proposes to keep the people properly informed of all that goes on in their state government so that they can act quickly and effectively in bringing this pressure to bear at the proper points, is indicated by his statement.

Such a plan as this consistently carried out can hardly fail of success. There can be little doubt that the people of Florida are of one mind that tax reduction is essential to business recovery.

The Case Of Stagg

Alonzo Stagg, who gained the title of "grand old man of the midway" during his long tenure as football coach at the University of Chicago and who has recently withdrawn from his connection with that university, is now, at the age of 71, fighting a game battle against a serious illness.

Stagg's chief fame and reputation came about because of his advocacy and adherence to the highest type of sportsmanship and to his belief that football and other sports are more beneficial as character builders than as advertising mediums by which some schools seek to ride to glory.

There were other traits, too, which made the name of this great gridiron coach one to conjure with. He was a supreme advocate of clean living and clean talking, being himself a perfect example of a temperate life.

The story is told by one of his former players about an occasion during a skull practice when the venerable mentor asked if anyone knew how a certain play worked.

"I agree with the President," he said, "that every reorganization scheme will have its opponents as soon as it is advocated and, much as I dislike to delegate to the Chief Executive the power to completely reorganize, consolidate and eliminate government agencies, I am willing to vest that authority in the incoming president requiring action by both the House and Senate to nullify."

PLANS STARTED FOR ANNUAL FAIR STAGED IN TAMPA

LABORERS BEGIN FIXING BOOTHS WHICH WILL HOUSE MANY EXHIBITS

TAMPA, Jan. 4.—With the opening of the new year and the South Florida fair just four weeks away, P. T. Strider, manager, started yesterday to get his big establishment ready for the show, which opens Jan. 31.

A squad of men and a small fleet of trucks were put to work yesterday hauling clay to resurface the half-mile track for the fair's automobile race program, which will run three days instead of two as formerly.

While this is being done and other groups of workers are repairing the grounds, individual and group exhibitors will be busy getting the setting ready for their exhibits.

Cigar manufacturers have had workers on the ground for some time preparing Bize hall for the cigar industry exposition, which is a feature of the fair, and which will be much more elaborate than their show last year.

This year the exposition will occupy the entire building, which is being finished in stucco on the outside and will be made to represent a street in Spain on the inside, the exhibits to occupy shops on each side of the street.

Representatives of the various counties are working on their booths, some of which are virtually completed. Highlands and Marion counties have completed their booths; Pinellas and DeSoto are well along, and so in Hillsborough, and Alachua's representatives came to Tampa yesterday to get started.

More than 300 men have been working for some time over the equipment of the Model Shows of America, which will have the midway attractions this year, succeeding the Johnny J. Jones show.

The show will go on the road this week-end and will open its Florida winter season at the Pinellas county fair, Largo, a week from today. It will appear as a number of other fairs and return for the South Florida air. It will finish the winter season at Miami Beach, West Palm Beach.

W. G. Brorein, air president, yesterday named a committee to work with a committee of the Tampa Rotary club in preparing for the part Cuba is to play at the fair. Members are F. J. Gannon, T. F. Alexander, A. S. Thornton, C. A. McKay, and F. D. Jackson.

Cuba is getting ready to show in a big way at the Tampa fair, including a government display and exhibits by private concerns.

A feature of the 1933 fair will be a display of completed sections of Florida's exhibit now being prepared for the Century of Progress exhibition at Chicago next summer.

In addition there will be all the departments of former years, and other new ones.

Lehmann Gives Talk On Charity Work In County

"Seminole is the best and most of the organized county in Florida in its welfare work and its organization has been recommended to every other county in Florida. It is the only county in the state that was completely organized and in line for appropriations from the federal authorities when these funds were made available in Florida."

Due respects were paid to the physicians and dentists of Sanford. Referring to their charitable activities during the past year, the secretary said "No individuals have made a larger contribution to the welfare work of this county than the physicians and dentists."

Through loans secured through the state of Florida from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation the county distributed $9,152.92 for work relief, for food, medicines and other necessities, it was pointed out. Mr. Lehmann also mentioned another fund amounting to $10,833.27 expended for charitable work by the County. He said that of this amount $7,500 was secured from the state as Seminole County's share of the revenue collected from the race tracks.

According to the report the City of Sanford expended $2,814.32 for welfare work during 1932. This expenditure included $1,000 to the Fernald-Laughton Hospital; $250 to the Seminole County Welfare Board; $563.96 for drugs; $400 for a city physician and assistants in maintenance of a clinic. In addition, the City has furnished towels, pillow cases, napkins, sheets, dish towels, table cloths, mattress protectors, wool blankets, mop rags and bed spreads to the hospital and sheets and pillow cases to the Salvation Army.

Mr. Lehmann lauded the work which has been carried on by the County Welfare Board under the supervision of Mrs. Helen Morse. The activities of this organization include the administration of all relief work; the administration of all direct relief; investigation of all medical cases; investigation of all applications for the county home; the supervision of the mothers' pension fund. It also acts as a social exchange for 11 relief agencies. Besides these duties the welfare board handles probation work; investigates cases for the juvenile court; school attendance and other school activities.

In his talk Mr. Lehmann referred to in detail work carried on by each group mentioned. He told of how the W. C. T. U. aided the Salvation Army; of the co-operation of the Milnes Theater in giving free shows and assisting in giving Christmas foods; of the American Red Cross which assisted in giving away seven carloads of flour and which established sewing rooms; of the various churches which contributed $2,814.50 for relief work; besides individual aids; the service clubs for general assistance in school welfare work and co-operation with the welfare board and the Salvation Army; the Masons who expended over $300 in caring for an elderly woman; the Elks Club which contributed over $500 besides giving assistance to school children and destitute families.

Others were the American Legion Auxiliary, which expended $2,814.50 for relief work; besides individual aids; the service clubs for general assistance in school welfare work and co-operation with the welfare board and the Salvation Army; the Masons who expended over $300 in caring for an elderly woman; the Elks Club which contributed over $500 besides giving assistance to school children and destitute families.

Mayer T. L. Dumas' appearance before the Board is the matter of the City sharing the expense of operating the County Jail inasmuch as City prisoners use that building, was taken under advisement.

O. P. Herndon, retiring Justice of the Peace, appeared to thank the Commissioners for the cooperation they had given him during his term.

J. C. Roberts, new Justice of the Peace, appeared to ask that he be allowed to have an office on the ground floor of the Court House instead of the third floor, but the Commissioners decided that since none is available, he should remain in the new quarters set aside for him.

The Commissioners voted to pay $75.00 to the Century of Progress Commission, and to deduct this amount from the Chamber of Commerce contribution, when it is collected.

Building Activity In Port Myers '32 Beats '31 Mark

FORT MYERS, Jan. 4.—Fort Myers building activity for 1932 soared to almost five times the value of 1931 construction, due to the new federal postoffice work.

This single item of $200,000 is more than the total of building permits taken out at the city hall for the past three years.

Permits, exclusive of the new office, filed at the city hall were $29,368 for the past 12 months, a decline of 40 percent from the 1931 figure of $50,330. This in turn was a slight drop from the $54,312 total in 1930.

Except for the postoffice, the past year was marked by the absence of any large construction projects, a $5,000 filling station permit being the largest figure. February had the highest total of any month with $9,997, with a total of $4,204 in April, November, during which only two permits were filed, reached a low of $400. Permits declined slightly in number from 1931, with 88 as against 112.

Demolition was a feature of the 1932 year as a number of old structures were razed in a safety cleanup campaign started by the city. A score of buildings, including the East End swimming pool, were torn down.

$171.87 and gave assistance to 25 families and school children; the Sanford Woman's Club which expended $93.36 in contributions to the hospital and helped the Children's Home society; the Parent-Teachers' Association which have been active in connection of every school activity as well as aiding over 300 families; the salvation Army which has expended $1,375.00 in giving assistance to needy families and caring for transients.
