P&Z Board Split On Five Story Office Building

County To Hear Heathrow's 'Sky-Scraper' Request

Herald Staff Writer

A developer's controversial request to allow an office building to be constructed up to two stories higher than has already been approved will be considered by Seminole County commissioners Tucsday.

Heathrow Land and Development Company won a recommendation of approval on the revised height from the county planning and zoning board Nov. 5, on a 5-1 split vote, but several homeowner groups representing nearby residences opposed the action.

Commissioners will likely hear arguments for and against the proposed five story office building located near Interstate 4, north of Lake Mary Blvd. in the Heathrow planned unit development.

The commission will discuss the request during the 7 p.m. public hearing segment of their Tuesday meeting in the County Services Building, 1101 E. First St., Sanford.

Heathrow's request is to increase the height maximum of a proposed office building from 35 feet or about three stories to 67.5 feet which could allow about five stories.

Only P&Z board member Jim Weinberg cast a negative vote on the height issue. Weinberg said he agreed with the opposition from the audience that the office building should not tower above the average tree height of three

He said the tailer building would create an urban type look that would affect residents in the Markham Woods Road area. Weinberg said that the area is flooded with office space now, and that the glut could cause slow space rental in the proposed building.

Frank Shelton, President of the Markham Woods Homeowners Association, argued before the P&Z board that the tailer building would be esthetically displeasing to neighboring low density residential areas, which are already suffering from the glare of Heathrow street lights and tennis court lights. He said that lights from a tail office building would by "tacky" and detract from the area's rural setting.

Bill Dailey, vice president of the Mandarin Homeowner's Association, said Heathrow always seems to get what it wants "a slice at a time."

Heathrow representative Bruce Anderson said, however, that the development had spent a great deal of money for the best tennis court lights available to contain light bleedover, and that office use along the interstate is the best use for the property, as they will act as a buffer between 1-4 and the internal Heathrow environment.

P&Z member Harry Hagle said he is proud to have a quality development such as Heathrow in Seminole County, and fellow board member Alda Rowe said other Heathrow buildings are "beautiful."

If approved, Heathrow would have to show justification for a reduction in the number of parking spaces at the office building from five spaces per 1,000 square feet of offices to four per 1,000 square feet. Anderson said the request is made to allow more greenspace around the

Citrus Sailing Regatta Attracts Record Number

Merald News Editor

About 600 sailing enthusiasts packed Sanford's Marina Isle Friday through Sunday to take part in the 14th annual Florida Citrus Bowl Sailing Regatta, Sailors from age seven through their sixties took part in the competition which drew a record 325 entrants, said the regatta's 5-year veteran executive director John Gardiner of Orlando. While most of the participants were from Central Florida and cities such as Tampa-St. Petersburg. Jacksonville and Miami, others came from Wisconsin. Massachusetts, Rhode Island and California.

In addition, 10 specially invited Olympic-champion and world-ranked sailors were on hand, Gardiner said. Lake Monroe's size and the facilities at Marina Isle make it a perfect setting for such a regatta. Gardiner said.

The P&Z's recommendation against allowing the elder care operations, or adult congregate living facilities, in single family zones came Thursday, on a 5 vote. The decision marked completion of a study commissioners requested last fall, after four property owners were cited for violating city zoning law by operating elder care facilities from homes in single family zones.

The board had previously supported commissioners' request to stay enforcement action against the cited property owners while the P&Z study was under way. The board's next meeting is Dec. 16.

Woman Assaulted in Interstate Rest Area

By Susan Loden Horald Staff Writer

A 30-year-old Sanford man allegedly forced his way into an restroom stall at an Interstate 4 rest area near Longwood at about 6:15 a.m. Sunday and threatened a 68-year-old New York woman with a knife. He was arrested after a Longwood man came to the woman's rescue.

Lillian Emery Horton of Dundee, N.Y., told Seminole County sheriff's deputies she was in a locked stall of the women's restroom when a man entered and walked up to that stall. He tried to open the door, but couldn't, then went to a stall next door.

He came back to the first stall and forced the door open. He took a knife from his pants pocket, opened it, and put it to Ms. Horton's abdomen. She asked him not to hurt her and he put the knife to her throat. She kicked him below the belt and he told her to be still.

Ms. Horton screamed for help, but the suspect wouldn't let her out of the booth. He never said what he might do to her, deputies reported.

Ronald Glen Wilson, 44, of 320 Iris Road, Casselberry, who was at the reststop, heard Ms. Horton scream. He went inside the restroom. When Wilson entered the room the suspect let Ms. Horton go and she ran outside to call for help!

Wilson held the suspect inside the restroom, but no force was used, the report Deputies arrived and at about 6:30 a.m. Sunday Tony Wesley Ellis, of 2613 Mohawk Ave., Sanford, was charged with aggravated assault, carrying a concealed weapon, false imprisonment and having possession of a suspended driver's license.

Ellis, who according to an arrest report works for Cardinal Industries in Sanford, was being held in lieu of $1,000 bond.

No one was injured in the incident. Deputies reported recovering a knife, which Ms. Horton reportedly identifed as the weapon used in the threats against her.

Spy Book Request Withdrawn

SYDNEY, Australia (UPI) - The defense in an appeal trial being brought by the British Government to prevent a former MI5 agent from publishing his memoirs today withdrew its request to see secret British documents.

Malcolm Turnbull, counsel for Peter Wright and Heinemann Publishing Co., said British tactics in appealing a court decision to have the documents produced, had thrown a serious strain on the resources of the defense.

"It is likely this latest appeal by the British Government against disclosure of the documents would delay the trial to such an extent it wouldn't finish before March of next year," Turnbull said.

"The defense finds this intolerable and to speed up the hearing it is withdrawing, in part, its call for the documents to be produced," he said.

However, he said, the defense would like to see material that is in the public domain — particularly relating to any acquiescence by the British government on publication of other books about MI5.

Forces Seek To Calm West Bank

JERUSALEM (UPI) - Security forces patrolled towns and refugee camps in the Israeli-occupied West Bank and Gaza Strip today in a bid to end four days of Palestinian demonstrations that have left three people dead.

Military sources said they hoped the end of a mourning period for two students killed by soldiers Thursday at Bir Zeit University in the West Bank would dissipate much of the Arab anger. A 14-year-old boy was killed by soldiers

But analysts noted that the scale and intensity of the protests so far — despite their being restricted to stone throwing and building roadblocks of burning tires indicated they would not end quickly.

Authorities said at least four people, including three Jewish schoolgirls, were struck by stones and injured in the West Bank and Jerusalem on Sunday. A 17-year-old Palestinian protester was shot in the knee in the Gaza

Study: Judges Can Deter Spouse Abuse From Bench

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Judges can determine a community's response to domestic violence, but they can be more effective in deterring spouse abuse — sometimes just by talking, said a Justice Department study released Sunday.

The National Institute of Justice study quotes a former battered woman:

"The judge told him in no uncertain terms that the law doesn't allow him to assault me just because I'm his wife. He said that he'll send him to jail if he's brought back for another offense. Right there in the courtroom You should have seen the look on his face. I think he knew the judge wasn't kidding, and that's when he decided to do something about it."

The study cites crime statistics that show the FBI reported in 1985 that 30 percent of all female murder victims were killed by their husbands or boyfriends. Also, once a woman is victimized by domestic violence. she faces a high risk of being victimized

Part of the problem, the study said, is that until recently the criminal justice system routed the cases to family courts.

They can also encourage improvements in police and court data collection and record-keeping."

The study said judges can be more effective in deterring domestic violence by: -Restricting the defendant's access to the victim before the trial.

Turning The Insiders Out

"Risk arbitrage is not gambling in any

 Ivan F. Bocsky, from "Merger Mania."

Ivan F. Boesky was the king of Wall Street. a man with an uncanny knack for turning millions in profits from seemingly risky investments in merging companies.

Though traditional investors might have steered clear of this kind of speculation, Boesky proclaimed it the money-making wave of the future.

He wrote a book, "Merger Mania," a guide on how to profit regularly by anticipating corporate mergers or takeovers and investing accordingly.

How did Boesky fly in the face of traditional wisdom and take the risk out of one of Wall Street's most volatile investment activities?

As it turned out, he did it the easy way; he Ivan Boesky has admitted paying bribes to get secret tips. For his troubles, the Securities and Exchange Commission is making him pay a $100-million fine - $50 million to repay illegal profits plus a $50 million civil penalty.

Boesky has been banned from the American securities market.

Boesky's story involves much more than the downfall of one man and the temporary tumble of the Dow Jones industrial average.

He is merely the biggest fish caught in the SEC's net.

Others will surely follow, because Boesky cooperated with the SEC investigators.

Even the speculators content with a modest million in profits from insider trading aren't safe now, and Wall Street is trembling.

The SEC's crackdown is long overdue. In the past few years. Wall Street has become a playground for fast-buck artists and schemers.

The current wave of company takeovers and mergers, fueled with junk bonds and other shaky financial arrangements, sent the speculators into a feeding frenzy.

They are sapping the strength of corporate-

If Boesky's fall serves any useful purpose, it is to point to the need for reform. The SEC, for instance, needs more money and personnel. The agency is trying to keep a lid on Wall Street chicanery on a $117-million annual budget, only slightly more than the fine assessed against Boosky.

And the SEC has lost 20 positions since

Congress also needs to intervene, tightening regulations to protect companies from frivolous, though costly, takeover attempts and tipping the scales back toward investors who play by the established rules.

While insider trading is as difficult to control as office gossip, surely Boesky pushed it to the outer limits.

It is time for securities regulators and Congress to restore sanity — and discretion to the stock market.

Duplicity, Deviousness Exposed At Top

WASHINGTON (NEA) — "America will never make concessions to terrorists." President Reagan proudly proclaimed in mid-1985. "To do so would only invite more terrorism."

Indeed, the president's repeatedly stated position that this country will never negotiate with terrorists has been incorporated into an official State Department position paper that

"The policy of the U.S. government is ... to reject categorically demands for ransom, prisoner exchanges and deals with terrorists in exchange for hostage release,"

But now Texas billionaire H. Ross Perot says a member of Reagan's White House staff (Marine Corps Lt. Col. Oliver L. North, until recently assigned to the National Security Council) enlisted him on several occasions during the past five years to supply ransom money as part of secret government negotiations to obtain the release of hostages.

Perot says that as recently as last spring he was asked by the president's aide to provide $2 million in ransom to free four men captured in

That's only one example of the duplicity and deviousness at the highest levels of the Reagan administration to be exposed in recent weeks but even in that blatant case, presidential aides persist in their shameless deception.

In a desperate attempt at semantic sleight of hand, they claim that the transactions in which Perot was involved were not covered by Reagan's commitment or by official government policy because the ransom money came from an individual rather than from the federal treasury.

The worst scandal of the Reagan administration is now in its second month and shows no sign of abating, in great measure because the arrogance that pervades the White House is an insurmountable impediment to the openness and honesty necessary to resolve the matter.

Thus, Attorney General Edwin Meese III only grudgingly agreed to seek a court-appointed special prosecutor to conduct an independent investigation into the scandal. Meese initially insisted that he was thoroughly suitable to take charge of the probe. notwithstanding his longtime personal relationship with the president and his direct involvement in dispensing questionable legal advice that enabled Reagan to justify evasion of legal reporting requirements.

After a cursory examination that lasted less than a week. Meese publicly exculpated himself and everybody else holding cabinet-level positions in the Reagan administration. "The only persons in the United States government that knew precisely about this, the only person was Lt. Col. North." Meese announced in a premature exchneration of the president and his most senior advisers.

Navy Vice Adm. John M. Poindex ter. the NSC staff director, "did know that something of this nature was occurring but he did not look into it further," Meese added.

"CIA Director (William J.) Casey, Secretary of State (George P.) Shultz. Secretary of Desense (Caspar W.) Weinberger, myself, the other members of the NSC - none of us knew." the attorney general insisted.

Finally, there is an embittered president, lashing out at real and imagined malefactors at home and abroad.

Middle Aged Boomers

WASHINGON (UPI) - According to published reports, at least one of the 11 hunters accidentally shot to death in Virginia this year was mistaken for a turkey.

It is easy to see how that could

Remember the song about bagging two game wardens, seven hunters and a pure-bred Jersey cow? Anyone venturing into the woods during hunting season automatically qualifies as a prime target if not as a game bird.

My main concern is that the situation will get even worse next

In a few more weeks it will be next year, at which time there will be only about 22 months left of the 1988 political campaign.

If a few of the presidential candidates are mistaken for turkeys during the interval, that will be understandable.

If, as it has been said, the troubles of American colonists really began when they invited some Indians to chieftains responded with an 'ugh," imagine what would have happened had the guests been able to really express themselves in English:

In that event, they might have responded by saying "yuck," which truly could have led to outbreaks of bitter fighting.

If you think the 1986 campaign was "negative," fancy the fund-raisers crying "yuck," ever about some of the candidates they are supporting.

That slang term, however, is a product of the same times that produced the "baby boom," which, was reminded the other day, is now nearing middle age, with all the sociological and economic problems that this implies.

I don't think we need fear the word will become a permanent part of our political lexicon, ala "fat cats," until such time as the "boomers" start forming their own political action committees.

But the moment you hear of a "40-PAC" being organized, you'll know the country at large, as well as an entire generation, is in big trouble.

Talk about inflation! Today's "six pack" is bad enough.

Knowing them as I do, having stred a few myself. I predict membership in the 40-PAC not only will be restricted to middle age boomers but also to those financially able to attend $40,000-a-plate political fund-raising dinners

Thatcher's New Fight

Britain's worst-kept secret. Prime deterioration of social services and a Minister Margaret Thatcher will probably call for new national elections sometime before next summer. Without doubt the number-one issue will be Ronald Reagan, or more precisely, Thatcher's all-out support for Reagan and his policies.

cnosen from the party that has majority of scals in the House of Commons, A "national election" much like our own congressional elections — is one in which the 635 members of Commons must "stand" in their own districts.

Elections must be held at least once every five years, but there is no set date. A prime minister can dissolve the government at any time and call an election with only three weeks advance notice.

There is no constitutional limit on how many terms a prime minister can serve. Thatcher, 61, came to power in May 1979 and won a second term in June 1983, riding a crest of popularity after the Falklands conflict with Argentina. Another national election does not have to be called until June 1988.

Thatcher and her Conservative Party - the "Tories" - have been in deep trouble for some time. For the past year the Tories have trailed the rival Labor Party in publicopinion polls, at times by a very wide margin.

Most political experts here agree that the Tories' situation is not going to improve dramatically. Given the wide margin they hold in Commons — 392 scats to Labor's 210 — they may hold their majority If they can go into an election about even with Labor.

If the public-opinion polls are to be believed, a solid majority of British voters believes that the Labor Party is better equipped to handle Britain's domestic problems

LONDON (NEAT - In what is - chronic high unemployment, stagnant economy.

The coming campaign, though, will be waged over defense and foreign-policy questions. The major issue will be Thatcher's relationship with the United States and Ronald Reagan.

A secondary issue will be the Under the British system of gov- sharp differences in defense matters ernment, the prime minister is between Thatcher and Labor's lead-Neil Kinnock, a Welshman who would become prime minister following a Labor victory.

Kinnock and other Labor Party leaders argue that Thatcher's "slavish devotion" to Ronald Reagan is akin to a "schoolgirl's crush" and has "made her look like a dummy" in the wake of revelations about the Iranian arms deal.

Kinnock says her unqualified support for everything the U.S. president does "is bad for Britain, had for the United States and bad for the Western alliance. It gives a false impression of omnipotence to one side, and an equally false impression of deference on the other side. Eventually, it turns into being taken for granted, and the resentment that brings. That is unstable, and it's not good for common security.'

But while Kinnock tries to make Ronald Reagan the focus of the coming election. Thatcher will make Kinnock's nuclear policy the main theme of her campaign.

Kinnock wants to make Britain non-nuclear. He wants to decommission Britain's Polaris nuclear submarines and remove the 96 U.S. cruise missiles and nuclear armaments carried by the 150 U.S. Air Force F111s based here.

He strongly supports a NATO based not on nuclear weapons but on conventional weapons. This vision has support throughout Europe, but is strongly opposed by Mrs. Thatcher and by Washington.

BEN WATTENBERG

Debate Centers On Power

And so we hear once again the old chant about the "arrogance of power" in the White House.

The phrase gained currency during the Vietnam War when critics claimed that President Johnson was waging war over the heads of Congress. How dare he? said the critics - conveniently forgetting that the Congress was voting funds to continue the war.

Now we are told about "arrogance of power" in the Reagan White House. Just imagine, there was this reckless lieutenant colonel (Oliver North) running the foreign policy of the United States — and from the White House basement! What arro-

About a hundred years ago I worked on the White House staff of President Johnson. With that credential, allow me to offer a generic perspective on what I sense a large part of this arrogance-power battle is all about. What it's not about is an allegedly reckless light colonel in a "basebasement. It's at street level, one flight of stairs away from the president's office. It's where top National Security Council staffers are housed. What it's also not about is whether a 43-year-old Marine was given too much authority. North was not working as a Marine. He had been detailed from the Marines and held a heavy title: director for political and military affairs of the NSC. As such, he was a member of the president's personal staff.

What the argument is about is that the "arrogance of power" is a phrase that concerns power more than arrogance.

Not only the president, but the president's "personal staff," has great power. Under the Constitution, and by law and precedent, the president has broad authority in foreign affairs, including the ability to go to war for 90 days.

For logistical purposes, the president delegates some of his powers. The president will then be judged by the quality of his choices, and by whether or not he and they obey the law. If they don't, they're in trouble and deserve to be.

But many of our laws have ambiguities in them, put there by Congress to give the president some running room. (Even Congress knows that 535 politicians in Congress can't make foreign policy at once.) And so presidents end up pushing, testing, skirting rules.

JACK ANDERSON

Iraqi Minister Betrayed By U.S.

By Jack Anderson and Dale Van Atta

WASHINGTON - The one place where the Reagan administration's arms deal with Iran has created as much anguish and uproar as it has in Washington is Baghdad, the beleaguered capital of Iraq, whose soldiers are on the receiving end of the American-made anti-tank and anti-aircraft missiles sold to their Iranian enemy.

We originally broke the story of the administration's covert arms dealing with Iran, and Dale Van Atta traveled to Baghdad for an exclusive interview the other day with Iraq's foreign minister and deputy prime minister, Tareq Aziz. It was the first time Aziz had talked with an American reporter since the scandal crupted last month.

Though he was too diplomatic to use the word "lie," the affable. English-speaking Aziz made it clear that he felt he had been betrayed personally by Secretary of State George Shultz and other Americans who had at least a good idea of what was going on over the past 18

"It is clear," he said. "that the American administration deliberately delivered arms supplies to Iran during the time when it was assuring us - and telling us in official meetings - that it was taking all possible measures to stop the flow of military equipment to Iran."

Aziz met with Shultz on six separate occasions dating back to 1983, and said they both agreed that "the best means to press the Iranians to stop this war is to stop the flow of arms to Iran."

The two met most recently on Oct. 1, and Shultz still gave no indication that the administration's policy on arms to Iran had changed. Aziz said.

In 1984, Aziz visited Washington. where he met not only Shultz, but then-National Security Adviser Robert McFarlane and "all the group who were involved later" in the secret arms deal. Aziz said. There was "full agreement" on U.S. efforts to stop the sale of arms to Iran, he said. Asked if he considered the American officials to be liars. Aziz replied: fensive, but which actually would "Well. I don't want to use any names in this respect, because I have to keep - well, the minimum of a diplomatic attitude or diplomatic dealing in this respect. But I think the definition is quite clear."

Despite the injury the Iraqis feel they have suffered, "we haven't received any apology from any American official. Aziz said. The Iraqi leader took pains to explain why Iraq refuses to accept the justification for the arms deal given by President Reagan in his Nov. 13 speech. He particularly challenged Reagan's statement that the weapons sold to Iran were 'defensive equipment.'

The materiel included at least 2,000 TOW anti-tank missiles and 235 Hawk anti-aircraft missiles. "The American administration knows very well that Iran has a superiority in numbers (of soldiers); Iraq has a superiority in tanks and aircraft," Aziz said. "So the American administration provided the Iranians with equipment called delead to the neutralization of the Iraqi superiority in the two fields, and that means that The Iranian superiority (in troops) is going to prevail." Aziz also rejected Reagan's contention that his emissaries were dealing with Iranian "moderates." saying: "This is absurd. If they were moderates they wouldn't ask for arms to end the war. If they asked for medical equipment, for instance. if they asked for wheat, meat, some kind of human assistance - yes, I could understand there is some logic in that."

Summing up his country's grievance, the Iraqi foreign minister said: "Providing arms to improve the military situation of Iran against us. this is a hostile attitude against Iraq which we do not deserve by any means. ... We did not hurt the United States of America. We did not threaten the interests of the United States of America. We sympathized with the American people and other people about the agony of the hostages."

Fletcher: NASA's Budget Picture 'A Mess'

*WASHINGTON (UPI) - The replacement shuttle for Challenger and NASA's planned space station are in danger of being delayed because of fiscal 1988 spending curbs proposed by President Reagan's budget managers. NASA's director says:

And James Fletcher, administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, said any ideas the agency had of beginning new space projects in the next fiscal year are "out the window" unless there is a sharp turnabout in the White House.

Asked if he felt confident NASA would be able to build on what it is receiving for fiscal 1987, Fletcher replied: "No. 1 don't feel confident at all." He said that NASA's budget situation was "a mess."

The new shuttle was scheduled to be ready for flight in 1991. Fletcher, who rejoined NASA last spring to help the agency rebuild from the shuttle explosion, said the replacement shuttle's debut could be set back a yetundetermined of time.

Arrest In Church Bomb Case

LONG BEACH, Calif. (UPI) — A truck driver suspected of planting a dynamite bomb at the headquarters of a controversial religious cult was arrested as he returned to the building armed with another "destructive device," police said.

Thomas T. McCoy, 26, of Bellflower, was arrested Sunday after a church member saw him near the building and called police, Lt. Michael Kunst said.

Police had supplied a description of a suspect vehicle seen near the building early Saturday, when part of a 10-stick dynamite bomb went off at the church, Kunst

"He had another destructive device with him when he was arrested and he was going back to the church,' Detective Sgt. Soren Poulsen said. Police also found a .45-caliber pistol in McCoy's car, he said.

Detectives refused to say what kind of destructive device was found Sunday. McCoy was booked on suspicion of ignition of a destructive device, possession of a destructive device and carrying a concealed weapon.

Shultz Testifies On Iran

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Secretary of State George Shultz, who says he opposed and was left in the dark about the covert plan to sell arms to Iran, has been called on to defend the administration's tattered credibility before

The House Foreign Affairs Committee scheduled the first public hearing today into the clandestine operation thhat funneled up to $30 million in Iranian arms sale profits to the Nicaraguan rebels fighting the Sandinista government.

The unfolding Iran-Contra affair has rocked the administration, severely croded President Reagan's popularity and raised questions about the administration's foreign policy.

The situation dramatically worsened with the revelation that Reagan was unaware that Marine Lt. Col. Oliver North, aide to national security adviser Vice Adm. John Poindexter, had run the operation out of the NSC. diverting up to $30 million in arms sales profits to the Nicaraguan Contras at a time when Congress had banned any military aid to the rebels. Shultz had the unenviable task today of explaining a policy of selling arms to the Tehran government - a policy he said he opposed and was only "sporadically" informed about after Reagan approved it in January. The New York Times reported today that Poindexter last January persuaded President Reagan to resume arms sales to Iran after Reagan in December 1985 had decided to halt them. as the only way of gaining HOLLYWOOD (UPI) - Like a 95-mph fastball aimed squarely at the head, a message comes to major league players from baseball's owners.

It reads: "We are no longer going to pay you large sums of money for what you have done for us in the past; only for what you can do for us in the immediate future."

As a direct result of this message, several prominent players are out of work today and at least two of them may be forced into retirement.

World Series hero Ray Knight of the New York Mets; future Hall of Famer Tom Seaver of the Boston Red Sox: former World Series hero Rick Dempsey of the Baltimore Orioles; Dave Kingman of the Oakland A's who owns 442 career home runs; Gary Ward of the Texas Rangers, a lisetime .286 hitter, and Lonnie Smith of the Kansas City Royals, a lifetime .290 hitter who has played on three different World Series champions in the last seven years. were among those not offered arbitration by their clubs Sunday.

That means all six probably will play for different teams next season - if they play at all. In the cases of Seaver, 42, and Kingman, nearly 38, it could mean the end of their long

Under baseball rules, major league clubs had until midnight Sunday to offer the arbitration process to their free agents. In the case of those six players, the clubs refused to do so, meaning they cannot re-sign them until May 1. By then, the season will be three weeks old, and rosters will likely be filled.

The players are free to sign with other clubs.

In each case, the player's agent failed to reach agreement on a new contract by the midnight deadline. The club, not wanting to risk losing in arbitration to a player it didn't really need, chose to let the player walk away.

Tim Raines is looking for a big contract after a productive 1986.

Stoneman Denies $6.3 Million Deal To Raines

By Sam Cook Herald Sports Editor

Tim Raines, who will be recognized by the Sanford City Commission tonight at 7, has a much more pressing matter today. Raines, armed with the National League batting championship, will be making the rounds at baseball's winter meetings in Hollywood to test his free-agent

Although rumors of continued owners' collusion against free agents are prevalent at Hollywood, a source close to the family said Raines has been approached by the New York Yankees and Atlanta Braves. The source also said the Expos have upped their original offer to keep Raines' services.

The rumor of overtures by the Yankees or Braves could not be verified, but Montreal Expo Vice-President Bill Stoneman said a reported a three-year. $6.3 million contract was "totally incorrect."

"The Expos are standing by their original offer of $4.8 million for three year." Stoneman added.

The Expos had until midnight Sunday to bring Raines to arbitration but apparently could not. The Montreal Gazette reported vecently that the Expos have offered to fake Raines and (Andre) Dawson to arbitration, but both refused.

Raines' wife, Virginia, said she expects a major announcement Wednesday or Thursday. "Things are really supposed to heat up by then." she said Sunday night. "Tom Reich (Raines' agent) called Sunday and he is trying to get a hold of Tim, so I think something is up."

APPRECIATION - Tickets for the Tim Raines Appreciation Day Luncheon Saturday at 12:30 p.m. at the Sanford Civic Center are available for $6 at the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce and from members of the Chamber's sports committee.

Testaverde: A Heisman Wish Fulfilled

NEW YORK (UPI) - Miami quarterback Vinny Testaverde, whose father placed a football in his bassinet and prayed his son would one day win the Heisman Trophy, fulfilled that dream Saturday by winning college foot-ball's highest individual honor.

Testaverde drew 678 firstplace votes and 2.213 points to outdistance Temple tailback Paul Palmer by 1,541 votes, the second largest margin of victory in the 52-year history of the Heisman. The largest victory came in 1968 when O.J. Simpson of Southern Cal defeated Leroy Keyes of Purdue by 1,750 points.

Testaverde finished first in all six voting regions.

The red-shirt senior became the 14th quarterback to win the Heisman and just the third since 1971. He is the first winner to have played for Miami. The best previous finish by a Hurricane came in 1984 when quarterback - Bernie Kosar was second.

Testaverde, the top-rated passer in Division I-A, will lead the No. 1 Hurricanes in a showdown for the national title against No. 2 Penn State at the Jan. 2 Flesta Bowl.

Palmer, the nation's leading rusher, earned 672 points and 28 first-place votes in balloting by 790 sports broadcasters and writers across the country. Michigan quarterback Jim Harbaugh finished third, Oklahoma linebacker Brian Bosworth fourth and Gordon Lockbaum of Holy Cross, the first full-time two-way player in major college football since Keyes, finished fifth.

Auburn tailback Brent Fullwood was sixth, followed by Cornelius Bennett, a linebacker from Alabama. Running D.J. Dozier of Penn State was eighth. 1) Fresno State quarterback Kevin Sweeney was ninth and Ohio State linebacker Chris Spielman placed 10th.

Palmer, whose only Div. I in scholarship offer came from Temple, concluded his collegiate career by breaking Marcus m purpose yards. The 5-foot-8 in 1986 to help him to 2,633 all-purpose yards.

"Yeah, if I had gone to a different school, maybe the point difference would have been different, Palmer said. "But let's not kid ourselves, if I went to a school like that, I might not have played until my junior year, and " then maybe just part time. Temple was the best place."

More than 20 members of the Testaverde family from nearby Elmont, N.Y., attended the ceremony at the Downtown Athletic Club, including the 23-year-old quarterback's father. Al Testaverde, upon his only son's arrival home from the hospital. placed an "old beaten up pigakin in his bassinet."

"I just want to say Dad, we enemy. We fumbled the ball away a few together and tonight we won it together." Testaverde said in his acceptance speech.

As Testaverde made his acceptance speech, his father broke down crying, embraced his wife, Josie, and then shook hands with Miami Coach Jimmy

"It's a blessing, I thank God,". Al Testaverde suid. "It's a great

Stars Sever Raiders Victory Streak At 12

Herald Sports Editor

Bill Payne, whose knowledge runs statewide when it comes to junior college basketball, has voted Florida Community College of Jacksonville ahead of his Seminole Community College Raiders every week in the state poll.

Other coaches don't agree: SCC ranks second and FCCJ ranks seventh.

Despite the five-rung difference. Payne's worst fears were realized Saturday night as the Stars severed SCC's 12-game winning streak with a spirited 99-94 Mid-Florida Conference victory before 401 aroused but disappointed fans at the SCC Health Center.

FCCJ, which won the MFC last year as Florida Junior College, used a more physical front line to dominant the offensive boards and then held off a gallant SCC comeback which cut a 16-point deficit to two before fizzling in the final 50 seconds. "We always have humdingers, don't we?" FCCJ coach Buster Harvey said. "That was a must win for us. When you open with Daytona and Seminole on the road, you better win one of FCCJ improved to 8-3 on the season. Two of the losses came in Georgia and the other last Wednesday at Daytona when Sanford's Darryl Merthie preserved the 88-85 victory by blocking a shot in the final seconds. Merthic also threw in 28

The Raiders return to action with a nonconference game Tuesday night at home against Polk Community College. Tipoff is 7:30 p.m.

"Somebody will win the conference with two losses," Payne said. "It would be pretty farfetched to think that you could win with three losses. It's going to be hard for us. We're got to go to Jacksonville. Daytona and Lake City.

Saturday night, FCCJ made it pretty hard for the Raiders to go to the boards. The paint difference was 46-38 FCCJ, but 6-8 Alvin Heggs. 6-6 Larry Ross and 6-4 Derrick Mitchell had their own way on the offensive end.

"We didn't block out and we just aren't physcial enough," Payne said. "We knew Heggs was leading the state in rebounding (16 per

Bucs Are Perfect Tonic For Bears' Offensive Woes

CHICAGO (UPI) - Tampa Bay's porous defense proved the right tonic for a sluggish Chicago Bears offense attempting to tune up for a return trip to the Super Bowl.

The Bucs, whose defense is rated last in the NFL, surrendered six touchdowns Sunday to a club that had scored just three in the previous three games in a 48-14 rout. It could have been worse. The Bucs committed five turnovers on the rain-alickened Soldier Field turf, but the Bears failed to score twice in the first half from inside the Bucs' 10. Early in the game we were our worst dreamed it together, we lived it times," said Bucs' coach Leeman Bennett, whose team lost its fifth straight to fall to 2-12. "I don't know if it was because we were nervous or what. It was an old-fashioned butt-kicking.

Chicago, raising its record to 12-2 with its fifth straight victory, got a typical performance from its defense. The Bears had three sacks, three fumble recoveries and two interceptions.

"It was just a day when everyone played good on this club," said safety Gary Fencik, who snared his 38th career interception, breaking Richie Pettibone's team record. While Chicago may have awoken from an offensive slumber, it didn't solve its quarterback controversy. Mike Tomczak, who inherited the No.

Baseball

1 role when Jim McMahon went down with a shoulder injury, started and scored the Bears' first TD on an 8-yard quarterback draw. He also hit Willie Gault on a 8-yard TD early in the third

Most of the attention, however, focused on former Heisman Trophy winner Doug Flutle, who relieved Tomczak in the second quarter and rushed for a 4-yard TD with 7:28 left to make it 21-0. He then hit his first NFL TD pass on a 27-yarder to Walter Payton with 20 seconds left in the first half.

"What difference does it make who is the No. 1 quarterback?" Bears Coach Mike Ditka asked. "I thought Mike did a heck of a job after bouncing back from a rough start. When you have two quarterbacks who play and each runs for a touchdown and passes for one, that's pretty good.

Both Tomczak and Flutic were pleased with their performances.

Look, this team is now 6-0 with me starting, you guys seem to forget that," said Tomczak, who was 7 of 11 for 108 yards but with a fumble on the Bucs' 1 and an interception in the end zone. "The important thing is that we got on the board and scored some points. "I was excited about the opportunity to finally prove my worth to the team.' said Flutic, whose first NFL completion was a 52-yarder to Gault on the play preceding his TD pass. "I needed to say, 'Hey, I'm a part of the team.' Today, I made strides toward that. Things were a little shaky at first."

Walter Payton, going over the 16.000-yard career rushing mark, scored two TDs including his 105th career rushing touchdown on a 4-yard run late in the fourth quarter. He gained 78 yards in 20 carries for the Bears, who outgained the Buca 245-50 on the ground. We were up against a team that was 28th in the league against the rush and 27th against the pass." Payton said, "So we should have done what we did."

The Bucs made four turnovers on their first eight offensive plays. Quarterback Steve Young, who was 16 of 32 for 234 yards, was forced to pass on nearly every down once Tampa fell behind by 28 points at halftime.

"A few times the ball came up wet. For the most part, I threw the ball well." Young said.

Tight end Calvin Magee caught eight passes for 143 yards, including a 14-yard strike from Young with 7:12 left in the game for the Bucs, losers of eight straight to Chicago.

Chicago lost its shutout on a fluke play. Todd Bell intercepted Young at midfield midway through the fourth quarter and lateraled to Mike Richardson, whose subsequent lateral was intercepted by Vince Hellin who raced 48 yards for the score.

Typical of the Bucs day, the Bears' Lew Barnes returned the ensuing kickoff 85 yards for a TD to cap Chicago's best offensive output of the season.

Lady Seminoles Recover, Tie Powerful Buchholz

Herald Sports Writer

Usually, it takes some time for a team to recover from a defensive breakdown. And such was the case when Seminole High fell behind Gainesville Buchholz, 2-1, with 10 minutes left in Saturday's game. It took all of 13 seconds for the Lady Seminoles to recover.

Just 13 seconds after Buchholz' Lady Bobcats took the lead, Rachelle Denmark scored on an assist from Shannon "Slick" Sundvall and Seminole went on to tie the traditionally-strong Buchholz squad, 2-2, in nonconference action at Seminole

The Lady Tribe, 0-1-1, returns to Seminole Athletic Conference play Wednesday at Lake Mary. Both teams are 0.1 in the SAC.

"Our offense is still a little inexperience, but I feel we can play with Lake Mary," Seminole coach Suzy Reno said. "If we work hard on offense and play good defense, we have a chance."

In Saturday's match, Seminole took a 1-0 lead at the 29-minute mark when Vicky "Spuffy" Pakovic drilled a shot on a corner kick that deflected off the Buchholz keeper and into the goal. Buchholz had a chance to tie with 3:52 left in the half on a penalty kick but it sailed over the crossbar and Seminole had a 1-0 halftime lead.

The Lady Bobcats got the tying goal nine minutes into the second half and came back to take the lead with 10 minutes remaining.

Seminole got the goal back in the hurry as Sundvall passed off to Denmark who chipped the ball over a Buchholz defender and the goalkeeper to tie the score at 2-2.

"She (Denmark) made a beautiful shot to put it where the defender and the goalkeeper couldn't reach it." Reno said. "And we kept up the pressure in the last seven minutes but we couldn't put the ball into the net.'

Senior goalkeeper Sherri Rumler had 15 saves for the Lady Tribe. Reno said sweeperback Cindy Henge had seven saves on her own while Jennifer Roberts and Melissa Shuckman also played strong defense and Sundvall. Pakovic and Carol Lykens kept up the offensive pressure.

The Lady Rams, 2-1-0, have a big week in store for them this week as they host three matches including Seminole on Wednesday, Vero Beach on Thursday and Lyman on Saturday.

Lake Mary's first goal on Saturday came six minutes into the match and it was scored by Donna Rohr on an assist from Kelley Broen. Broen then scored on Kristin Jones' assist and, with 14 minutes gone in the match, Rohr headed in a corner kick for Michelle Mattingly for a 3-0 Lake Mary

Mattingly scored an unassisted goal in the second half to make the final

"I was really happy that we played well after playing so hard in a losing effort (1-0 to Lake Brantley) the night before." Lake Mary coach Bill Elssele said. "It was nice when we went out and scored so quickly. That allowed me to get everybody into the game." The Lady Wildcats could not get anything going offensively mainly because of the defensive play of Vicky Warner and Michelle Padilla. Padilla marked out Julie Peters. Winter Park's best offensive player.

Tampa leto upendo lyman, 4-1

Tampa Leto erupted for four goals in the first half and played tough defense in the second half en route to a 4-1 victory over Lyman's Lady Greyhounds Saturday at Tampa. It was the first regular season loss for Lyman in two years.

The Lady Greyhounds. 1-1-1 overall, will try to rebound Wednesday when it has a big Seminole Athletic Conference match at home against Lake Brantley. Lyman is 0-0-1 in the SAC while Brantley is 1-0-0. "We have to get used to playing with each other and play to our potential."

Morales Provides 'Shadow' For Lake Mary Championship

By Chris Fister

Herald Sports Writer His name doesn't appear in the boxscore and he was passed over for the all-tournament team, but his teammates, his coach and at least one of Central Florida's best offensive players can acknowledge his existence.

Rick Morales, a Lake Mary High senior, completely shut down West Orange scoring machine Glenn Forsythe in leading the 10th-ranked (4A) Rams to a 4-1 victory over the seventh-ranked Warriors in Saturday's Orlando Kickoff Cup championship game at Evans High.

Forsythe had 28 goals a year ago for the Warriors and scored two in their Soccer tournament-opening victory over fourth-ranked Cooper City. But, while he ran roughshod over Cooper City. Forsythe was rendered harmless by the defensive shackles applied by Morales.

"He (Forsythe) was the guys West Orange was looking for all game but Rick (Morales) didn't even let him get off a shot," Lake Mary coach Larry McCorkle said. "That was one of the main reasons we dominated the game."

Lake Mary, 3-0, opens play in the Seminole Athletic Conference Thursday at Lyman. In two tournament games this past weekend. Lake Mary outscored their opponents, 7-1, and have a 10-1 edge in goals for their three games.

Miami Defense Saves Win — Colts Block Losing Streak

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) - The Miami Dolphins defense, ranked 27th in the NFL, became tough when it most counted Sunday.

Dan Marino threw three first-half touchdown passes to help Miami score on five of its first six possessions, and the Dolphins survived a late New Orleans surge to defeat the Saints 31-27. The Saints, who scored 17 straight points to pull within 31-27. marched to the Dolphins 6-yard line with 1:15 to play. Rueben Mayes picked up 5 yards on a first-down carry and dove into the end zone on the next play, but it was called back because he and tight end John Tice were illegally in motion at the same time. The penalty pushed the Saints back to the 5. Linebacker Andy Hendel stopped Mayes for a 1-yard loss on the next play, then cornerback William Judson dropped Mayes for a 4-yard loss to the 8. On fourth down, Dave Wilson's fourth-down end-zone pass was low to Herbert Harris.

"About the only thing that (our defense) did well in the last half was the series at the end of the ballgame where we stopped them on four downs when we had to stop them," Miami Coach Don Shula said. "It would have been a tough (game) to blow." Mayes, a rookie from Washington State, rushed for 203 yards and two touchdowns on 28 carries. Miami improved to 7-7 and kept slim playoff hopes alive. The Saints fell to 6-8 and were mathematically eliminated from the postseason chase. New Orleans, which has never made the playoffs nor finished above .500 in its 20-year history, guaranteed itself a non-winning season.

Just seconds before. Randle had attempted to block another punt and was called for roughing the kicker. Rick Donnelly. But the Falcons were called for holding on the same play and Randle was given a second chance.

"I thought I had blown the game when they called me for roughing the kicker," said Randle. On the blocked kick, I took the inside rush, broke free and was able to block it with my arms."

WEEK 14 Simms Passes Giants Closer To East Crown

United Press International The NFC East has become the Land of the Giants. After two seasons of near on the brink of winning their first division title since Y.A. Title directed the team's offense wearing black high-tops in 1963. Phil Simms passed for three touchdowns and the Giants intercepted Jay Schroeder six times Sunday to inflict Washington with its first home its third straight after a nineloss this season, a 24-14 victory over the Redskins. For the Redskins, 4-3, to capture the NFC East title, they must win their next two games while the Giants, who are 2-0 against Washington this season. lose their final two regularseason games. New York is 6-0 at home this season and closes at Giants Stadium against St. Louis, 3-10-1, then Green Bay, 3-11. Regardless of the outcome, the Giants and Redskins are guaranteed playoff spots.

"I have a funny feeling we're going to meet them (Redskins) down the road again before the '86 season is over," Giants Coach Bill Parcells said.

New York has been a wild-card entrant three of the past five seasons, including the last two. In 1984, the Giants lost their last two games to fall short of winning division, and last year they lost to Dallas in Week 15 to be knocked out of the race. Two NFC teams. New Orleans and Detroit, were eliminated from the playoff chase Sunday. Five teams are battling for two playoff spots in the NFC, with Chicago already having wrapped up the NFC Central and the Giants and Redskins having gained the NFC East title and a wild-card between them. That leaves the NFC West and a second wild card berth available. The Rams beat Dallas 29-10 Sunday night to improve to 10-4 and inch closer to the NFC West title. San Francisco, which defeated the Jets 24-10 to go to 8-5-1, needs to win its last two games while the Rams lose their final two, including a regularseason finale against Los Angeles, to capture the division.

The 49ers and Minnesota, 8-6, which routed Green Bay 32-6, are the top two competitors for the wild-card spot. Atlanta, 6-7-1 after a 28-23 loss to Indianapolis. and Dallas. 7-7, are just hanging on in the race.

In the AFC, no playoff spots have been assured yet and nine teams are battling for the five postseason berths.

Scott's 26 Ignite LA's Victory, But Stays In Riley's Dog House

United Press International

Byron Scott, in Coach Pat Riley's doghouse the past two seasons, went unmentioned Sunday night after scoring 26 points to lead the Los Angeles Lakers to Riley's 300th

"You should win 300 games with players like Kareem (Abdul-Jabbar), (James) Worthy and Magic (Johnson)," Riley said after a 132-100 victory over the Golden State Warriors. "This team would win a lot of games with or without me.

In his six years as head coach of the Lakers, Riley has compiled a .721 winning percentage, highest among active coaches, and has reached the 300 plateau quicker than any other coach, 416 games. Billy Cunningham won 300 games in his first 429 with Philadelphia.

Scott, who declared himself better than Magic Johnson when drafted by the San Diego Clippers in 1983, was mentioned in potential trades during the offseason. He has yet to live up his potential, which he demonstrated Sunday night by scoring 20 points in the second half. The Lakers pulled away with 27-6 run in the third quarter. Michael Cooper scored 20 points in the first half.

In the only other NBA game, Portland defeated New York 107-104 in overtime as Clyde Drexler scored 26 points. including 2 free throws with 12 seconds left in overtime to lead the Trail Blazers. Trent Tucker missed 2 3-point attempts before time expired, and the Blazers won their seventh straight home game.

Lyman Girls Rebuild After Losing Nucleus

By Scott Sander Herald Sports Writer

Lyman's Lady Greyhounds have dominated the Florida soccer during the past two seasons. Two years ago, the making our team very young. Lady Greyhounds walked away with a state title and didn't lose a game in the process.

Last year, the Lady 'Hounds went into the state championship undefeated, but were upset by Coconut Creek, 3-1, for their first loss in two seasons. The 55-1 two-year record pretty much spoke for itself statewide.

This year, Lyman coach Laura Dryden, who served as a valuable assistant to coach Tom Barnes last year, doesn't know quite what to expect.

"We lost the nucleus of our team," Dryden said about Dawn Boyesen, Sheila Mandy, Lisa Chatman and Alyson Barnes. "I think that we will be a competitive team, but I don't know if we will be as dominating as we have been for the last couple of years. Lyman is off to a 1-1-1 start. The Lady Greyhounds topped Bishop Moore, tied Oviedo and lost to Tampa Leto (4-1, Satur-Dryden said that she thinks the conference will be extremely tough this year. "It's not going to be any kind of a cakewalk." Dryden said. "All of the teams have improved quite a bit. Each that she expects the same type game that we play is going to be tough." Dryden said with only five seniors returning, making her club will be inexperienced. "We don't have a whole lot of experience." Dryden said. "We have a lot of juniors and five freshman Wednesday at Lyman.

Soccer

"This is a rebuilding year in a sense," Dryden continued. "But we still expect to have a good soccer team.' A few of the players that Dryden will be counting on most are three-time all-stater Karen Abernethy, Diana Boyesen, and Bonni Steeves. "We need to get consistent performances."

Dryden said. "Everyone on our team is very important. though."

'Right now we are kind of in a feeling out process." Dryden continued. "It takes awile for the players to get used to each other. We have to get a the type of cohesiveness that is necessary to be a winning team.'

Dryden said that she thinks her unit has the potential to be in the state finals again, but it all depends on their progress. "We have got a very long way to go," Dryden said. "We need to improve slowly and peak near playoff time.

For the past few seasons, the county's most intense rivalry has been the Lyman-Lake Brantlet rivalry. The Greyhounds have had the best of the Patriots, but all of the games have been close. Dryden said of rivalry this season.

When we play Brantley it is always a good game." Dryden said. "They look pretty strong this season. We will be looking forward to when we meet."

NEW YORK (UPI) - Regardless of the outcome of tonight's final in the $500,000 Nabisco Masters, Ivan Lendl is assured of the world No. 1 ranking for 1986. Boris Becker, however, aims to prove the future belongs to him.

Lendi locked up his top ranking this year by winning two of the four Grand Slam events the U.S. and French Opens. When the new season begins next month with the Australian Open, Lendi will be pressed harder than ever to retain his ranking. "I think the future has started already," Becker said Sunday night following his 6-4, 6-4 victory over Stefan Edberg in the Masters semifinals. "He was the best player for the last two years. Players like Edberg or myself. we've improved quite a bit.

We're at his neck, I think." Becker has beaten Lendl in three of their last four meetings, and he will carry a 21-match winning streak into tonight's final. Since winning Wimbledon for the second time, Becker has compiled a 43.3 record.

Lendl gained his seventh successive Masters final with a 6-4. 6.2 victory over Mats Wilander, and has gone three matches in a row without dropping his

"There will always be that talk. If I win there will be less talk, if I lose there will be more talk. But as far as I'm concerned, 1986 is over. Probably there will be more confidence to the winner for the beginning of next year, so it would be very nice to

In the opinion of Lendi, the key to the final is how well he is able to return serve.

"If I return his serve well, I'm in very good shape because then there is a lot of pressure to hold and rally," he said. "If I don't return his serve well, then there's a lot of pressure on me because I will have to hold my serve and he is going to take Lendi's serve was unbeatable single point in the second set and a total of eight for the match. Lendl, meantlme, took the opening set with a service break in the ninth game, then broke Wilander in the third and fifth games of the second set.

In that second set, Lendi put together a string of 15 consecutive points that provided him a 5-1 lead.

Becker was almost as formidable, although Edberg broke him once, in the fourth game of the opening set. The 19-year-old West German responded by sweeping the final three games of the set at love.

After he was broken, Becker conceded only five points on his next six service games, and achieved the only break of the second set in the fifth game.

All that remains is the final singles match of the 1986 campaign.

"I said before the tournament that it is very, very important for me," Becker sald.

Stocks Open Mixed

NEW YORK (UPI) - Prices opened mixed today in active trading of New York Stock Exchange

The Dow Jones industrial average, which climbed 10.83 last week, was up 1.69 to 1926.74 shortly after the market opened.

Declines led advances 523-412 among the 1.420 issues crossing the New York Stock Exchange tape.

Early turnover amounted to about 8,691,900 shares.

The stock market advanced last week in heavy trading but all gains came in a single, speciacular day when the Dow Jones industrial average soared to a record high. The market sustained losses Wednesday and Thursday, mostly on profit-taking, and was hurt Friday by a weak bond market and futures-related selling.

Alfred Goldman, stock market strategist at A.G. Edwards & Sons in St. Louis, called the Iran arms affair "a sword of Damocles that will hang over the market for at least several months.

"We all love a father figure in Washington, and Reagan's been a Wall Street favorite." Goldman said. "There's no question that the Iranian mess is a negative."

Goldman said after its initial two-day plunge on the Boesky news, the market repressed that scandal. But Goldman warned that the affair has not gone away, and he said the market is vulnerable to new shocks.

Tree Plantation Rates National Certification

By Carel Gentry Herald Correspondent

Menday, Dec. 8, 1166-18

Celebrate the holidays this winter with a real live, freshlycut Florida Christmas tree. Seminole County has its own farm that specializes in growing acres of trees to make the Christmas season a greener occasion, Bissen's Christmas Tree Farm is located on Pine Way Avenue, east of Sanford, Just outside of the city limits. Owned by Joyce and Gordon Bissen, it is a "choose and cut" operation. This means the whole family can come to the farm, walk among the acres of trees and select that special one to fit a particular spot in your home. They will loan you a saw or it will be cut for you. The family may purchase a pine or Eastern Red Cedar. They come in all shapes and sizes.

The enthusiastic Bissens will give you a tour of the plantation and tips on how to make your tree stay green for the entire holiday season. They will also assist families in choosing the perfect tree.

"Christmas trees are like people," said Joyce Bissen. "We have pretty ones, skinny ones, fat ones, tall ones, short ones and crooked ones. Sometimes we even have sick ones that

The Bissens recently had the honor of having their plantation approved for certification in the American Tree Farm System. Reader Credits Abby With Discovery Of Brain Tumor

DEAR ABBY: Thanks to your column regarding audio hallucinations (hearing music in one's head), I consulted a neurologist, per your suggestion, as I have had this problem. After giving me all the tests (EEG and MRI), she discovered a brain tumor!

Thank God it's operable. Had I not been a devout daily Dear Abby reader, I probably never would have looked into this matter, and it could have been a disaster. God bless you. Abby. You have my permission to publish this letter to encourage other people who hear music in their heads to consult a neurologist. I'm signing my name, but years ago, I began hearing organ music — always hymns I knew. This could happen any time of the day and even in the middle of the night when I went to the bathroom.

At first I thought it was coming from the neighbors' radio or TV. I even turned on my TV and radio trying to find the station. I would say to my husband, "Can't you hear that music?" And he'd answer, "No." I finally figured it was a gift from God, and I would feel robbed if it were taken away. I am in perfect health and I have been happily married for 54 years. I certainly would never call this music a nuisance. Last week I heard a hymn I learned maybe 70 years ago, and I enjoyed singing the first thing in remembered every word! I think the morning. About six or seven the singing of hymns is the

Varied Types Of Emotional I

DEAR DR. GOTT - How can blems or can refer them to you tell if you've had a nervous breakdown?

DEAR READER - The term 'nervous breakdown' is often used to describe a mental or emotional crisis that makes normal life impossible or requires hospitalization. However, 'nervous breakdown'' isn't a medical term or a diagnosis; this type of crisis can be caused by a variety of disorders.

A "breakdown" may be triggered by an overload of stress. anxiety or depression: it can also occur with such disorders as schizophrenia, manic depression or endogenous depression, and thus be unrelated to outside events.

A person who is heading for this type of emotional crisis may detect some warning signs: ill temper, a feeling of loss of control, exhaustion or hyperactivity, a distortion of reality, the development of certain irrational or eccentric opinions and convictions, and antisocial behavior (such as becoming isolated, developing 2 obsessive or self-destructive habits, or becoming verbally abusive or violent). He or she also might begin to use mindaltering substances to escape overwhelming anxiety or depression.

Drugs themselves can cause a 'nervous breakdown." The mental alterations caused by alcohol, crack, heroin, cocaine, marijuana and hallucinogens are indistinguishable from those seen in deeply disturbed patients - and these changes can occur with so-called "recreational usc."

Treatment depends on the problem's severity. Counseling. or counseling and medication, are helpful in many cases. However, hospitalization is necessary if the patient can't manage daily life or poses a danger to himself or others.

As a general rule, anyone who begins to question or fear for his or her san'ty should get professional help. Psychiatrists (M.D.s), psychologists, therapists and other mental-health' professionals either can help patients with their emotional pro-specialists if necessary. In addition to private help, most communities offer mental-health services for little or no fee.

People with drug or alcohol problems usually need medical intervention because of physical dependence. Help is available for a concerned friend or a distraught spouse, as well as for the patient.

To give you more information,

I'm sending you a free copy of my Health Report on MENTAL AND EMOTIONAL ILLNESS. which describes the different types of illnesses and the treatments available. Others who would like a copy should send $1 and their name and address to P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428. Be sure to mention the title.

By James Jacoby

Another North American Fall Championship has just ended. with the winners not yet determined at the time of this writing. Because today also happens to be the birthday of my father, the late Oswald Jacoby, my thoughts turn to this man who three years ago led his team to victory in this championship. even while coping with his terminal illness. The current deal is from many years ago. My father was South and got to six hearts. Since he needed to bring in the heart suit. he finessed the queen and lost to dld not fall, he was down two was that if he had stopped in five peace.

hearts, he would have made six. since he would have first played the heart ace as a safety play. My comment now is that if Father had reached slam three years ago in that last winning team event for him, the good Lord would have arranged for East to hold king and a heart, and the slam would have made.

I loved my father for giving most of the credit for that final victory to his teammates, although the best results for the team came during that final afternoon session when he was at the table. The man who won West's singleton king. When he his first national bridge champilater played the ace and the jack onship in 1929 won his last championship in 1983, with a tricks. His comment at the time little nod from above. Rest in
