KIDNAPER IS BEING SOUGHT IN LOUISVILLE

Federal, State Police Weave Ring Around City Seeking Man and Socialite Victim

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 11.—(A.P.)—Every law agency today hunted a lone kidnaper who slugged a slender society beauty and dragged her off in her negligee, demanding $50,000 ransom. The ransom awaited him if he succeeded in making a contact.

Federal officers all night studied the little evidence they had of the kidnaper of Mrs. Alice Stoll, 38-year-old Junior League member and wife of Berry V. Stoll, leading Louisville oil company executive.

Tulsa Department of Justice men directing their work, city and county officers joined two state police forces in wearing a band about this area hoping to trap the man and his victim.

Roads leading north were barricaded in Indiana.

Kentucky sheriffs, notified by radio, telephone, and telephone, watched their roads.

Louisville squad cars roared out to check furtive view after view.

At Washington it was announced that federal agents had been concentrated in the city.

But, splashes of blood, the cultured wording of a threatening ransom note, and the feeble memory of an almost hysterical maid were all the sleuths had to go on for hours after the kidnapping.

The victim was seized in her home near here. The kidnaper came in the afternoon, saying he had come to repair a telephone which had been giving trouble.

At the point of a gun he forced the maid, Ann Woolley, to blind Mrs. Stoll's hands.

He then beat the victim over the head with a pipe and forced her to accompany him in a small automobile.

Stoll found the maid bound upon reaching his home late in the afternoon. He found a note, the contents of which authorities declined to release.

SHOLTZ SUGGESTS LABOR DELEGATE THAT TEACHERS ATTACKS NRA ON SWEAR LOYALTY 3-SIDED FRONT

Reports Of Communist Activity Prompt Governor's Proposal

TALLAHASSEE, Oct. 11.—(A.P.)—Reports of communist activity yesterday caused the Florida cabinet to give consideration to a proposal to have all state employees and public school teachers sign a pledge of allegiance to the American flag and to the state and federal constitution.

The proposal, made by Governor Sholtz, was endorsed by a majority of the cabinet members, but two others opposed it because, they contended, the board had no authority in such a matter.

A committee composed of Secretary of State Gray and Superintendent of Education Cawthon was appointed to investigate the proposal and recommend a possible course of action at the next cabinet meeting.

Governor Sholtz said he had received information that communist organizations have laid out their movement in Florida, according to districts in the state. He did not name any particular section. In several of his speeches recently he has referred to "communist propaganda" being spread.

Suggesting to the cabinet that public employees and teachers should sign a pledge of allegiance to the American form of government.

Hamilton Holt Holds Roosevelt In Respect

WINTER PARK, Oct. 11.—(A.P.)—People of America "should be ashamed of themselves for the way they have treated" the nation's Chief Executive, President Hamilton Holt of Rollins College, said in an address here yesterday in which he called President Roosevelt "the highest type of American statesman."

"There has not been a president from Washington down, with the possible exception of Coolidge, who has not been damned by the large proportion of American people and press, before his term of office expired," President Holt said. His address was made at a college convocation.

INVESTMENT TRUSTS COME UNDER ATTACK

Senate Banking Group Proposes Further Extension Of Control Over "Street"

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—(A.P.)—The Senate Banking Committee, in a sixth report on its long Wall Street investigation, yesterday hit at investment trusts and holding companies as instruments for concentrating control of wealth in the hands of a few.

As a remedy, it proposed strict federal regulation extending the control of the government still further over the money centers.

Citing some activities of J. P. Morgan & Co.; Dillon, Read & Co.; the Inlands; the Van Swearingens and others in substantiation of its criticism, the committee said the proper corrective might be an act requiring all such corporations to have a federal charter.

"The cure for our corporate ailments, circumvention of the law, investment trust and holding company abuses, an interlocking directorate, may lie in a national incorporation act," said the report, written under the direction of Ferdinand Pecora.

The committee reported the trusts and holding concerns in operation had lent themselves to operations which, badly stated, included something close to milking the public.

Some specific charges were that Dillon, Read & Co. and its associates through the formation of the United States & Foreign Securities Corporation and other investment trusts invested only $5,100,000 to secure control of $100,000,000. Of this latter sum $75,000,000 had been furnished by the public; Dillon, Read and other concerns made excessive profit through investment trust and holding company operations.

The Goldman Sachs Trading Corporation in financing the Frost Foods Company in 1929 showed a striking instance of "investment trust" activity. The public, the report said, furnished approximately 30 percent of $25,000,000 used in this financing and the trading corporation lost over 50 percent of it in two years.

The committee contended that were instances "where the directors and persons controlling investment trusts succeeded in liquidating their own securities" upon the liquidation of the trusts.

Sholtz Receives Plea For Probe Of Gibson

TALLAHASSEE, Oct. 11.—(A.P.)—Governor Sholtz yesterday said he received "for consideration" a report by the Lake County grand jury requesting him to make an investigation of the sheriff's office in that county.

He also received, he said, a letter from Sheriff W. B. Gibson, in which the grand jury report was termed "political trouble." The sheriff said he welcomed any investigation you care to make at any time.

The Governor said he would take no action on the report until he had given it full consideration.

Strong Lake City Eleven Favored To Win Conference, Plays Here Friday

Coach Leonard McLucas' Seminole High School football team late today complete its preparations for meeting the strong Lake City squad which comes here tomorrow afternoon for a game at Municipal Park, starting at 3 o'clock.

The Lake City eleven, despite the loss of 18 letter men by graduation this spring, is among the few favorites to win the North eastern Conference crown this year.

Lake City has won so far over Starks, 41 to 0, and over Gainesville, 7 to 0, and it comes here tomorrow as the favorite.

City went through the 1933 season without losing a game, but it was deprived of a conference title because of the method by which the winner is selected through the Dickinson rating system.

Ill-Will Between Two Nations Intensified Despite Re-Assuring Note From Duce

By The Associated Press
International complications broke out today following the assassination of King Alexander.

In Yugoslavia, public sentiment against Italy was running high while at Sarajevo, city in which Archduke Franz Ferdinand was assassinated, starting the World War, the Italian consulate was stoned.

At Ljubljana, authorities disclosed that the secretary of the Italian consulate had been severely pummeled Tuesday evening by a crowd.

War scares raised by the assassinations at Marseille were believed subsided today in all European capitals.

A reassuring note was offered by Premier Mussolini of Italy for a conciliation of differences with Yugoslavia. There has been bad blood between the two countries.

Fears of internal disorders in Yugoslavia, expressed in several capitals Tuesday night apparently were unjustified for the present.

Everything was quiet there although 27 military planes were made ready for instant departure from near Belgrade.

A world mourned with Yugoslavia Wednesday as her martyred king, Alexander, started home and his widowed queen, Marie, left Marseille, some of his subjects, for Paris to join the new Yugoslav king, 11-year old Peter II.

Fear and trembling mixed with the mourning as Europe waited to learn the nationality of Petrus Kamenar, the man who killed Alexander, and French Foreign Minister Barthou.

The original belief that he was of Croat birth had eased fear that the power keg of the Balkans might be ignited by Alexander's death, but investigations Wednesday showed his passport was forged, making his nationality dubious.

MARSEILLES.—The Yugoslav destroyer Dubrovnik bore Alexander's body home as the Yugoslav Queen Marie of France accompanied King Peter II to Paris and cabinet ministers rode with Barthou who will be given a state funeral Saturday.

PARIS.—Authorities in Paris and elsewhere sought the trail of an international band of terrorists believed to have chosen Kamenar by lot and sent him to Marseille on his savage mission. Yugoslav were rounded up for questioning. Heavy guards protected the boy king on his arrival from London.

PRAHA.—Czechoslovakian authorities announced their investigations proved definitely the Czech passport found on Kamenar's brutal, bloody body was forged.

HELGRADE.—No positive identification of Kamenar had been made nor could he be linked with (Continued On Page 6)

PUBLIC CONTROL OF ALL CARRIERS AGAIN IS URGED

Eastman Sees Increase In Business Of Agencies As Result

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—(A.P.)—Joseph B. Eastman again advocated public regulation of all forms of transportation yesterday and envisaged a great increase in the business agencies in that field.

The Federal Coordinator of Transportation set forth his views in addresses before the Chicago Association of Commerce and the American Life Insurance convention.

"Public regulation is needed for the welfare of industry itself, to promote order and stability, to prevent exploitation and curb destructive competition and waste," he declared.

This supervision should be coordinated under a single head, he pointed out.

"Public regulation of all forms of transportation cannot be limited to the present," he said. (Continued On Page Five)

FRENCH POLICE ARREST AIDES OF KING KILLER

Passports Taken From 2 Men; Name Them As Austro-Italians

PARIS, Oct. 11.—(A.P.)—Two suspected terrorists, arrested today as accomplices of Petrus Kamenar assassin of King Alexander of Yugoslavia and Louis Barthou, French Foreign Minister, were found to be carrying passports indicating that they are of Austro-Italian origin. France's police, under national-wide fire because of the assassinations, questioned their suspects throughout the day in an effort to solve the mystery of the double killing that is shaking the diplomatic foundations of Europe.

Rumors spread that the government of Premier Gaston Doumergue might resign in order to reorganize. Feeling of the French people is running high, not only because of the assassinations, but because of previous alleged shortcomings of police work. The two arrested suspects said they were Wladislaw Benes and Laruslav Novack. Passports they carried were Czechoslovakian, and showed Benes to have been born at Zara, Italy, in 1903 and Novack at Gorizia, Italy, in 1900. Both of these places were then in Austrian territory.

They were arrested at Thonon on the border of Switzerland shortly after a third suspect, Sylvester (Continued On Page Six)

Clark Howell, Jr., chairman of the board, announced yesterday that Rogers had been asked to testify. He said the humorous had more miles of flying to his credit than any other American citizen.

Episcopals Face Loss Of Cash For Missions

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 11.—(A.P.)—Faced with new curtailments in the missionary work which, for more than a century, has been its chief aim, the general convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States yesterday rallied to increase the support of its domestic and foreign missions.

Presiding Bishop James Dewell Perry of Rhode Island, addressing 20,000 laymen, clergymen and bishops at the first of the fifty-first triennial sessions called for united action of the entire church body to take the burden which "can no longer be left to the efforts of the faithful few."

WINTER PARK, Fla., Oct. 11.—Rollins College plays the first of its five home games next Friday night, Oct. 12, at Tinker Field in Orlando where Newberry College of Newberry, S. C., will be met in an S. I. A. A. match.

Although the Newberry lads are known as the Indians, it happens that the Rollins Tars have had the "Indian sign" on Newberry each of the two times these teams have met on the gridiron. In 1932, the Tars eked out a 7 to 0 victory largely because Will Rogers broke loose for a 75-yard touchdown sprint off tackle. Last season, the Tars, underdogs to win over Newberry on the latter's home field, played one of the best games of the year, and decisively trounced the Indians 12 to 0. Last year's game was won on forward passes. This season, the Tars have no Will Rogers and no forward passing attack. At least the forward passing part of the offense is nothing to write home about. And the question in the minds of the fans is: Can the Tars make it three straight over Newberry? The chances are that Rollins can down the South Carolinians if— The "if" in the prediction has to do entirely with the ability of Coach Jack McDowall's starting line-up to stay in the game for 60 minutes. If either of the guards or either of the tackles is forced out of the game, the Tar line will be in bad shape because Rollins has practically no line reserves. George Hines, a regular tackle last season, is out of action for at least a month with an injured knee. Linton Malone, veteran guard, has an injured shoulder and was not available for the game with Florida University. It is doubtful if he will be ready for action against Newberry. Leonard Roth, another veteran, has a shoulder trouble that has kept him out of scrimmage ever since the Gator game. And the only reserves left are Tuerson and Solomons, two inexperienced light-weight sophomores whom McDowall does not consider as ready for varsity competition. The Tars will have two reserve ends, in Saunook and Brown, for Powell and Rogers, and one reserve center in Winant to replace Kettles. Joe Jardine, another end, has been of no use all season because of knee trouble and will be on the sidelines Friday night. The backfield has plenty of power and ample reserve strength, with Scott, Allen, Chakales, and Miller available as a starting combination, and with Schrage, Johnson, Mobley, Carmody and Prentice on deck as reserves. The game will be opened with the usual fanfare incidental with the opening of the home season. The Orlando Municipal Band, Inc., will furnish music and before the game the Rollins student body will stage a parade from Winter Park through Orlando. The kickoff comes at 8 o'clock.

close co-operation to piece together the story of the suspected organization.

A gang of political terrorists as yet unidentified, undoubtedly armed Kalem and sent him to Marseille, secret police said. Meeting in some remote Balkan hideaway, the conspirators are believed to have plotted the assassination carefully. Then they chose by lot one of their members, whose own death was a foregone conclusion.

Here is how the police reconstruct the events leading to the tragedy: Kalem drew the fatal assignment. The band then provided him with a false passport, giving his nationality as Czechoslovakian to avert close scrutiny by French authorities who have been checking Yugoslavians for weeks preliminary to the king's visit.

The police of Paris were busy throughout the day checking up on all members of the Yugoslavian separatist movement. Leaders and refugees were rounded up in a widespread search of the city and suburbs.

Homes of many natives of Alexander's country yielded photographs and documents. Many men were held for questioning. The homes of Svetozar Pribitchevitch, former Yugoslav minister of the interior, and Vladimir Raditch, son of a Yugoslav parliament member slain in 1928 in the house of parliament, were among those visited by the police.

Minister of the Interior Sarraut defended his department against criticism for not adequately protecting the royal visitor. He said more expulsions had been ordered already this year than during the entire previous year.

The police learned much of Kalem's last movements from the proprietor of a hotel at Aix en Provence where he stayed until shortly before the crime, with two companions, and drank strong liquor to prepare himself for the mission of death.

Federal Agents Taken Off Lindbergh Case

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—(AP)—The Department of Justice yesterday withdrew from the Lindbergh kidnaping case.

Announcement of the action was coupled with disclosure that $45,081 of the $50,000 ransom money paid by Charles A. Lindbergh had been accounted for in the possession of Bruno Richard Hauptmann or in banks and brokerage accounts to his credit.

vestment companies. This was true, the committee said, in the United States and foreign securities corporation's operations and in the case of Continental Shares, Inc., dominated by Cyrus S. Eaton, of Cleveland.

It asserted also that the Van Sweringen through holding money—control of a vast network of railroads by a "shoe string" investment. The original Van Sweringen investment was said to be only $1,000,000.

"The American investment trust," the report said, "merely superficially resembled the British trust, for the very factors which account for the success of the British trusts (diversification of investment, disinterested management, conservative investments, and a number of fixed management charges) were disregarded by the organizers of the American investment trusts."

From the beginning, the committee concluded, American investment trusts "degenerated into a convenient medium of the dominant persons to consummate transactions permeated with ulterior motives."

"The organizers of investment trusts," it continued, "always succeeded in devising a financial setup which allocated to them a most substantial equity in the company with a minimum of cash investment."

Here's Good News For The Ever Curious (AP)—Official in the office of the collector of internal revenue said yesterday lists of persons who paid federal liquor taxes are available for public inspection.

Their statement was made when asked if names of liquor tax payers would be furnished Sheriff Cunningham of Pinellas county and Police Chief Noel of St. Petersburg, who were reported at St. Petersburg, who were planning to use the lists in arresting persons for violating the state dry laws.

THE BIG SERIES POW-WOW

A riot was threatened during the final game of the World Series, which Detroit lost to St. Louis, when Left Fielder Medwick of the Cardinals tangled with Third Baseman Rogell of the Tigers. In the midst of a shower of hotdog buns, pop bottles and fruit thrown by the fans, Baseball Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis was called on to settle the rumpus. At the left he is shown with Medwick (arrow) and other players in conference. Finally Landis ruled Medwick off the field. At the right the offending player (arrow) is shown leaving the grounds under the protection of a police escort. (Associated Press Photos)

KILLED BY SHOTS FIRED AT KING

PONZI USHERED OUT BY UNCLE SAM

Charles Ponzi, whose get-rich-quick scheme earned him 12 years in prison, waves farewell as his ship sails from Boston. LINDY IDENTIFIES BRUNO'S VOICE

The voice that shouted "Hey, Doc!" over a Bronx cemetery wall the night Col. Charles A. Lindbergh paid $50,000 in a futile attempt to ransom his infant son, has been identified by the father as that of Bruno Richard Hauptmann, indicted for the murder of the child. Colonel Lindbergh gave his testimony before the Hunterdon county grand jury in Flemington, N. J., and he is shown as he left with a New Jersey official. (Associated Press Photo)

'I SAW HIM AT HOPEWELL'

One of the most important witnesses for the state of New Jersey in the forthcoming murder trial of Bruno Hauptmann, Lindbergh case suspect, may be Millard Whitte, Lambertville, N. J., house painter, shown here with his wife and children in front of their home. Jersey authorities said Whitte "positively" identified Hauptmann as a man he had seen near the Lindbergh estate twice within a fortnight just before the kidnaping. (Associated Press Photo)

French Police Arrest Ardes Of King Killer

Chalmy, had escaped from police hands at Fontainebleau. Chalmy was identified by a passport he dropped, a passport which like that of Kalemens, was supposed to have been issued by the Czechoslovakian consulate at Zagreb.

From Chalmy before he escaped in a fusillade of police bullets, was taken an automatic pistol clip of the same type Kalemens used in his sub-machine gun.

The two prisoners' passports showed that they had been issued at Trieste.

Police said they believed Kalemens and the suspects were part of a huge terrorist gang determined to slay not only King Alexander but high military officials of France as well.

They said the two men they held were to have remained in Paris to make a second attempt at the king's life if Kalemens failed at Marville.

STOLL FAMILY PUTS UP CASH FOR KIDNAPER

Wealthy Louisville Awaiting Return Of Wife Who Was Abducted Oct. 10

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 12.—(A.P.)—The ransom for Mrs. Alice Speed Stoll has been paid, and the family is awaiting instructions, was the announcement today from Berry V. Stoll, husband of the young society matron who was snatched from their fashionable country home near here late Wednesday.

The statement given by an attorney representing the Stoll family at a conference with newspapermen said, "We have carefully followed instructions, met all ransom requirements, and are awaiting the fulfillment of promises. The parties may act freely without fear of hindrance. Signed, Berry V. Stoll."

An announcement was made that Stoll had left his home on a furious drive southward through Kentucky in what was thought to be an effort to make contact with, or catch the kidnaper.

Accompanied by a detective, he passed through Hodgenville, 40 miles south of here.

There, reports said, they were chasing an automobile that had been seen going rapidly southward shortly before Stoll arrived.

Meanwhile, at Louisville, W. Va., Walter Childers, 29, was taken into custody for questioning about the kidnaping after officers said they found tufts of brunette hair and strips of white cloth in an automobile Childers had sold to a wrecking company. No charges had been placed against Childers.

Polluted Vets To Be Sobered Up In 'Hangover Hall'

MIAMI, Oct. 12.—Miami completed arrangements yesterday to keep visiting legionnaires out of "the well-known gutter" during the American Legion national convention here.

Finishing touches were added to "sobering-up headquarters," or "hangover hall."

"Hangover hall" is equipped with 40 cots and other equipment needed by veterans who underestimate the authority of John Harjo.

When an ex-soldier reaches the saturation point and falls into the gutter, he will be taken to the sobering-up station.

Police Capt. W. J. McArthur says polluted veterans will be "curried in the back door" of the station where they will remain until they are able to walk out the front door.

The "sobering-up station" is in no way a jail. It may be called a bit of southern hospitality Miami is offering the wayward war veterans.

No one will attempt to lecture on the evils of drink to the casualties of the battle with Bacardi and the tomato juice will be on the house.

6 Killed In 2 Train Wrecks In Iowa

IOWA CITY, Oct. 12.—(A.P.)—Two persons were killed, two critically injured, and six others were legs seriously hurt today when a fast Chicago, Rock Island, and Pacific passenger train left the rails six miles east of here and three cars tumbled into the path of an oncoming passenger train from an opposite direction.

The fatal crash was the second in Iowa within 24 hours, piling up a death total of six, with more than 25 injured.

The first wreck occurred near Guttenberg yesterday when four were killed and 18 were injured in the derailment of a Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific passenger train.

The dead were: Mrs. Esther Roberts, Des Moines, and Sam Mason, negro waiter.

Jaycees Ask You To Register, Pay Tax

The Sanford Junior Chamber of Commerce issued the following appeal to voters today: "Tomorrow is the last day during which you have an opportunity to pay your poll tax and register if you expect to cast a ballot in the general election of Nov. 6. The Sanford Junior Chamber of Commerce urges you to attend to this important privilege under our democratic form of government, and, no matter whether you are for or against the Homestead Exemption Amendment, the wets or the dries, or any of the other important issues which will come before the voters on Nov. 6, it hopes that you will not only 'Get Out And Vote' but 'Get Out The Vote.' If you have not paid your poll tax, see Tax Collector Jan. D. Jinks at the Court House before 6:00 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. If you haven't registered, see Supervisor of Registration W. J. Thigpen at his office over Roundtail and Anderson's Drug Store before 6:00 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Remember the Jaycees' warning—'Vote for Whom or What you please but Vote.'"

GOVERNMENT WONT FIGHT HOUE CASE

Refusal To Prosecute Alleged Violation Of Code Puts Off Long Legal Battle

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—The federal government last night sidestepped a court battle with industry over majority representation in collective bargaining.

The decision came when the Department of Justice announced it would not prosecute the Houde Engineering Corporation, Buffalo, N. Y., for its refusal to bargain exclusively with representatives of the majority of its workers.

"No immediate action is contemplated in the Houde case," Attorney General Cummings said.

Although it has declined to take specific action in this case, it was explained this decision should not be construed as an indication the Justice Department doubts the legality of the famous ruling of the national labor relations board involved in the dispute.

The progress of the Houde case has been watched closely by leaders of organized labor and industry. The issue was precipitated by the demand of members of the United Auto Workers' union, affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, of the right to bargain exclusively with the corporation.

The national labor relations board conducted hearings here and later ruled that the majority had the sole right to deal with the employer and that any agreement reached must be binding upon the minority.

Industry condemned the decision vigorously. Organized labor hailed it as a victory and saw in it a new opportunity to solidify their growing forces. The Houde corporation served notice on the labor board it would refuse to obey the order and would fight it out in the courts.

Chairman Garrison of the labor agency accepted the challenge. The case was referred to the Department of Justice which yesterday declined to prosecute.

The labor board thoroughly understands our position," Cummings said yesterday.

The department's decision recalled its refusal to prosecute charges of alleged violation of labor relations of the NIRA placed against the Harriman, Tenn. heavy mill by Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, retiring administrator of NIRA.

Cummings sought to refute this criticism yesterday by pointing out that the department had instituted 35 criminal suits and 16 civil actions for alleged violations of NIRA labor provisions.

'Daddy' Browning Dies At Home In New York

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—(A.P.)—Edward West "Daddy" Browning, wealthy real estate operator and husband of the former Frances "Peaches" Heenan, died today at Scaratale, N. Y., his secretary announced.

After a cerebral hemorrhage last June, Browning was confined to a New York hospital, and for several weeks his condition was critical. He was discharged the middle of September and taken to the home of a friend at Scaratale.

Another Orlando Boy Near Death After Being Shot In Stomach While At Play

ORLANDO, Oct. 12.—Billy O'Neal, nine-year-old Orlando boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. O'Neal was staging a grim fight with death in the Orange General Hospital on Thursday night, the second youthful victim of a gun wound here within a week.

Billy was shot through the abdomen under conditions almost identical with those that brought death last week to Austin Lloyd, eight-year-old.

The bullet wound was inflicted while he was playing with three other boys, all older than himself, according to Sheriff Harry Hand, who was holding James Nicholson, handler of the gun, under technical arrest.

HODGES SPEAKS LAKE MARY WILL IN BEHALF OF STAGE AFFAIR FOR TAX EXEMPTION THOSE 'WHO LOST'

Tax-Dodging Business Interests Oppose Amendment, He Says

With the assertion that the proposed Homestead Exemption Amendment "is a bill to take off taxes, not to put any on," State Senator Wm. C. Hodges of Tallahassee last night told an audience of over 500 local persons that "tax-dodging big business" are the only opponents of the Amendment which would lift a "tremendous burden from your wives, your children, and yourselves."

Introduced to the audience by George G. Herring, local attorney, Senator Hodges, who is President of the Home Owners' League of Florida, confined almost all of his remarks to the claims of the opposition as voiced through its several vice-presidents of the "All Florida Protective League."

He took issue with Perry G. Wall, Tampa harbor master and one of the vice-presidents of the League, for his present alignment as opposed to views he held in 1931 when, as a servant of the public, he was head of a Citizens' Tax Fact Finding Committee.

At that time, Senator Hodges said, Mr. Wall, whom he termed a "paid employe of the interests," sent him a letter in which he stated that "all real estate in Florida is being inequitably assessed from eight to more than 100 percent of its actual value."

Mr. Wall also stated in his letter as chairman of the Tax Fact Finding Committee that "23 mercantile establishments in six large Florida cities paid taxes on a total assessed valuation of $1,000,000, 280 when sworn statements of their balance sheets listed the same property as having a valuation of $12,000,000."

The letter also stated that five electric companies, privately owned, paid taxes on a total valuation of only $8,973,466 when sworn statements of their tangible properties showed that they were valued at $193,518,108.

"It is no wonder that these big tax dodgers are so opposed to the Amendment," he said.

TREASURY BUYING UP MUCH SILVER

Disclosure Follows Inflationary Talk Widely Circulated In Financial Areas

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—(A.P.)—A sharp increase in the purchase of foreign silver has been made by the Treasury Department, it was disclosed in official sources today.

The disclosure comes at a time when the government's monetary policy commands increasing attention because of inflationary talk in Wall Street.

There is no official explanation for the move but Congress meets in January and if a faster pace of buying is maintained until then it might help forestall criticism from silverites in Congress.

Silverites favor a vigorous purchasing program to attain the goal set by silver legislation passed at the last session.

This provides that eventually silver shall attain a ratio of one to three with gold as the backing for the nation's currency.

Growing belief that further devaluation of the United States dollar is in the offing was reflected yesterday in a 2 1/2 cent spurt in the price of bar silver to 53 5/8 cents per fine ounce, the highest level since May 27, 1929, and the largest day-to-day advance since this nation went off the gold standard in April, 1933.

The local price carried the white metal 3 5/8 cents above the level at which it was nationalized here on Aug. 9, and was directly in line with a gain of 1 1/8 percent to 24 1/8 pence, a new five-year peak, in the world price of bar silver at London. The only silver traded in New York is for commercial purposes.

Recent strength generally, has been attributed to three factors. The most recent was the views of President Roosevelt in which he stressed the necessity for high price levels. Many quarters feel that within that statement was an intimation of further devaluation of the dollar.

Stocks and commodities have enhanced their value considerably since publication of the President's statement and speculative buying of the white metal abroad Wednesday and Thursday was given strong impetus by the developments, aided further by the statement of Senator Buckley of Ohio that devaluation was a possibility.

Secondly, the United States treasury, through recent silver legislation, has been charged with the

DISORDERS IN YUGOSLAVIA QUIET DOWN

Suspects Admit Being Sent To France On Secret Mission About

By The Associated Press
Yugoslavia was calm today as its new King, eleven-year-old Peter, hurried toward his enthronement.

At Paris, the Surete Nationale announced that the two terrorist suspects confessed that they had been sent to France on a secret mission by a Yugoslav secret society, but they said they did not know what the mission was.

Police said the men, Yaroslav Novak and Ivan Rajlich, admitted that they had shared a hotel room in Paris with Petrus Kalemek, assassin of King Alexander and Louis Barthou.

At Messina, Italy paid formal homage to the dead king as a destroyer bearing his body passed the Italian shores.

Little King Peter started home last night to claim his Yugoslav throne as French and Yugoslav authorities strove to trace international terrorists they charged plotted King Alexander's assassination at Marseille.

Fuel was fed to the flames of the 15-year-old Italo-Yugoslav hostility by the king's death. But Europe hoped and believed conflict would prevail.

Hotel Managers Unburden Selves In Attack On NRA

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 12.—Hotel managers yesterday delivered a scathing attack on NRA, climaxed with the charge that federalism is in the saddle in Washington.

Speaking before the American Hotel Association convention here, Gen. J. Leslie Kincaid, chairman of the association's special committee, charged the hotel code is another case of the grand rans around, at which Washington is so expert.

"The present Administration believes labor has the vote. The government's attitude toward industry is all so unfair. Washington knows that only a few hotels are complying with the code, yet they have the affrontery, I might also say the dishonesty, to refuse to allow a test case to go into the courts. It is a strange thing and a dangerous thing, to see the government department afraid of the law of the land.

"How can you complain about the Dillinger when government itself sets such an example?"

The government's idea of a fair division of increased prosperity would be one for the labor side and something less than none for the hotels," Kincaid said. "A code which pleased the hotel trade, when presented to General Johnson, drew from that great scholar an eloquent comment consisting of a single word, 'lousy.'"
