LONGWOOD — Friday the 13th proved to be a big day for the Lyman High School football team, as it defeated Lake Mary to finish 6-4 and also was invited to play in the Rotary Bowl. See Page 1B.

BRIEFS

Longwood to choose mayor

Incumbent and newly-elected Longwood city commissioners will choose a mayor at the regular meeting of the city commission Monday night.

Deputy Mayor Rex Anderson has been acting mayor for the city. Due to two resignations earlier this year, the commission had been down to three members, Anderson and commissioners Paul Lovestrand and Fred Pearl.

Lovestrand was re-elected this month. Harvey Smerlison won the other contested commission seat. Steve Miller was unopposed in his commission district. The three were sworn in earlier this month.

During the meeting, commissioners will also appoint a Longwood representative to the East Central Florida Regional Planning Council.

Commissioners will also listen to the city administrator's report regarding the paving of Garden Lane and the proposed sewer rate increase by Seminole County.

Economic development talk

SANFORD — The Sanford Historical Downtown Waterfront Association will meet Tuesday morning with Tony Vanderworp, Seminole County planning and development director, the featured speaker.

Vanderworp is to report on the county's Economic Development Task Force plan for future growth of business and industry throughout the county.

Eighteen months in formation, the Economic Development plan calls for a wide range of actions to be undertaken during the next several years, in order to maintain a strong economy.

Vanderworp is scheduled to discuss present preliminary findings of the task force, and suggest ways SHDWA might be able to become directly involved.

The association will hold its regular business meeting beginning at 8 a.m. Tuesday morning, with Vanderworp's presentation scheduled for 8:30. The public is invited and urged to attend this informative discussion.

The meetings will be held at First Street Gallery, 203 E. First Street in downtown Sanford. For further information, phone 323-9178.

Coach Hughes returns

No. former Supt. Robert Hughes is not returning to Seminole County to coach junior varsity girls basketball at Oviedo High School.

Hughes, who once coached basketball, began his administrative career as an assistant principal at Oviedo, and is presently the superintendent of the Alachua (Gainesville) County school system.

It is son Robert Jr., who prefers to be called Robb, who will be taking over the coaching job in Oviedo.

"No, I'm very happy here in Gainesville," Hughes said yesterday afternoon. "Robb is the one who will be there."

The elder Hughes said that the new coach has plenty of experience coaching girls as he has two sisters who are athletes.

"I think he has the experience and the character to be a good coach," Hughes said.

The younger Hughes is being hired as a coach only, but he hopes to be a substitute teacher from time to time as well.

"I loved being in Seminole County for most of my career," Hughes said. "But, I'm not going to be coming back for a coaching job."

Hughes' contract in Alachua County has another two years on it and he said he is confident it will be renewed at the end of that time.

Sanford paves the way

Almost 17 miles of city streets will be resurfaced

By NICK PFEIFAU
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD — Almost 17 miles of traffic-worn Sanford streets will soon be repaved, the city commission decided this past week.

The work, which is to include mostly milling and overlay work, would cost $950,282, and would include almost 16 1/2 miles of city streets.

According to Public Works Director Jerry Herman, "Many of the streets in the paving schedule have been delayed for several years because of utility department line restrictions."

He continued, "Since most of the utility work has been completed, paving work can now proceed."

Herman expects the work could start within a few weeks. "We are talking with the contractors now," he said, "and I expect we will be able to get underway in the near future."

"These aren't major road rebuilding projects, so they won't take long, and we will try to avoid any traffic problems during the actual work," he said.

Among major arteries to receive the new overlay is Park Avenue from the lakelront to 25th Street, most of the east-west numbered streets with the exception of 13th Street and southern areas of Magnolia, Palmetto, and Elm avenues.

The massive street resurfacing project does not include Seminole Boulevard on the lakelront.

Herman also informed the commissioners that the prices of the materials needed are presently lower than they have been for the past several years.

In almost all cases, the work will involve some milling work to restore the grading, with all streets to have overlay work which will provide a new top surface.

"While we plan to do the greatest part of this work early in the new year," Herman said, "some of it may be held off until later, but we plan to finish all of it in 1993."

During a city commission workshop discussion of the street project, questions were raised regarding the needed repaving work on Seminole

Vintage cars line Sanford streets in ninth annual show of 'emotion'

By GEORGE DUNCAN
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD — Annual car shows, like the one in Sanford on Saturday, are not just about cars. They are about time, emotions and memories of a different, if not better, day.

The Celery City Cruisers' 9th Annual Car Show and Nostalgia Show-Off did boast of 1934 Ford Coupes, 1937 Chevrolet Coupes, 1932 Austins, 1937 Buicks and other old cars that looked sparkingly new.

One sign, though, perhaps revealed the essence of the show. Standing by a decades old Chevy, the sign said, Remember When:

- Elvis was king
- the hula hoop was a rage
- bobble sock, penny loafers, and button-down shoes were in
- you shared the enchanting moments at the

Friday night sock hop.

● there was a special secluded place to be alone with that special someone, after the dance.

A 1957 Chevy owned by Tom McFadden was one of the cars that harked back to that age. Of course, even in the midst of nostalgia, a few improvements can be made. In the back of the car, the owner had added a television, a bar, glasses, a tape deck and a mini-juke box.

Mary Jane and Ed Barbour of Sanford were among the strollers on First Avenue looking at the cars. Several hundred people walked down the line of cars looking and occasionally asking questions of the owners.

"This is loaded with nostalgia here," Mary Jane said. The couple complimented both the show and the cars.

SANFORD — The building is bright with fresh paint and new carpet, but the program concept of the home is tried-and-true.

Seminole Community Mental Health Center, Inc., opened its new Residential Treatment Facility (RTF) in Sanford Friday with a full day of activities for staff members and community officials.

Paul Sneed, district administrator of the Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services for District 7, cut the ribbon with Jim Berko, executive director of Seminole Community Mental Health Center, Inc., Charles S. Haun, vice president of fund distribution, agency relations and planning for United Way, and Seminole County Commissioner Bob Sturm.

"This project truly represents the county, United Way, HRS, and community partnership with each giving to the project," according to Berko. "United Way provided construction funds ($274,000) through the Central Florida Capital Funds Committee (CFCEC). HRS provided opera-

NEWS FROM THE REGION AND ACROSS THE STATE

Health care package to be defined

By ANNE HILLMAN Associated Press Writer

This way no one will ever know whose ox is being gored.

-Mark Neimeier

TALLAHASSEE — It's one thing to say the state needs to define a basic package of health care for Floridians — deciding which services will be universally available to another.

Dozens of ideas for reforming Florida's $31 billion health care system surfaced at last week's summit in Orlando. Many were even supported by providers and purchasers alike.

But phrases such as "basic benefits" and "practice parameters" — standard treatment guidelines for physicians — have a wide range of meanings.

Coming up with a list of possible benefits isn't much of an accomplishment, according to Mark Neimeier, a summit participant representing the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees.

"This way no one will ever know whose ox is being gored," Neimeier said as the meeting wound down.

The president of the Florida Academy of Family Physicians, however, said the varying interpretations might combine to form a uniquely solution. "We might create another vision that nobody thought about, an amalgam of all the things that we come up with, coming out of all our personal prejudices," said Dr. Norman Hendrickson of Ormond Beach.

That's what the state's new health care agency is scrambling to do. Its immediate task is to spell out the significance of the suggestions from the meeting, which attracted some 70 doctors, hospital administrators, insurance executives, business leaders and consumer advocates.

Doug Cook, director of the Agency for Health Care Administration, assured the participants they would continue to have input as the agency prepares reform recommendations for lawmakers to review.

A three-day workshop will be held next month to fill in the blanks, Cook said Friday. "We're still a long, long way from dotting the I's and crossing the T's," he said.

But he said bringing the providers and purchasers together in one meeting yielded more than he had hoped for.

"They may not trust each other, but they're working together," Cook said.

They have at least one good reason to cooperate: a law passed by state legislators last spring sets a 1996 deadline for full access and cost containment.

That means extending services to the 2.5 million Floridians who now have only emergency room care, while slowing price inflation, which is expected to triple costs to nearly $80 billion by the turn of the century.

The idea is to give the private sector a chance to accomplish those objectives. If it can't, the government would possibly step in with a "play or pay" or single-payer system.

In "play or pay," employers either provide health benefits to their workers or contribute to a state fund that does so. In a single-payer system, a government-created agency handles all money issues from setting rates to paying doctors and hospitals to collecting premiums.

Both ideas are anathema to the business and medical communities.

Man charged with gunning down friend

FORT MYERS — A convicted drug dealer who turned informant in a deal with prosecutors for his freedom has been charged with gunning down a friend.

Jose Miguel Perez was charged Wednesday with first-degree murder in the Nov. 4 shooting of Wayne McKinley Young, 32. Both men lived in the Harlem Heights community in south Lee County. Perez, 28, was among six people charged with attempting to sell cocaine near Neelands Elementary School south of Fort Myers on April 4, 1991. In June, federal prosecutors told a judge Perez was too dangerous to walk the streets of Lee County, court records state.

Under an Aug. 1, 1991, plea agreement Perez became an informant in exchange for his freedom. He said he'd cooperate fully with the government in the investigation and prosecution of other persons.

Graham headed for Mexico

PENSACOLA — Sen. Bob Graham said he would accompany Pensacola's trade mission to Mexico, which is designed to get an early jump on the free trade agreement between that country and the United States.

A group of city officials and business people plan to leave Sunday for the three-day visit to Merida in Mexico's Yucatan region, about 700 miles due south of this Florida Panhandle city.

"I think it shows a great deal of initiative for Pensacola to be the first community in Florida to launch such a trade mission since the signing of the North American Free Trade Agreement," Graham, D-Miami Lakes, said Friday in a telephone interview from Washington.

County faces state fine

PENSACOLA — Escambia County officials are facing a $70,000 state fine for discharging 500,000 gallons of wastewater from a landfill into sensitive wetlands in anticipation of Hurricane Andrew.

County officials contend they were trying to prevent an overflow of more harmful leachate if the landfill were to be flooded by heavy rains as a result of the hurricane.

A Florida Department of Environmental Regulation official has pointed out Escambia County was not under a hurricane warning or watch Aug. 25-27 when the leachate was discharged into wetlands and the Perdido River, and Andrew never hit the Florida Panhandle.

Two die after inhaling nitrous oxide

TAMPA — Two young men have died after inhaling nitrous oxide, leaving authorities worried the deaths could signal the start of a dangerous new fad.

"It's too early to say if it's a trend," said Vernard Adams, Hillsborough County's chief medical examiner. "But if it is, it's like to rip it in the bud."

The drug is commonly called laughing gas because people sometimes become excited and silly after inhaling it. Shannon T. Reay, 18, was found in his apartment Tuesday night with a plastic bag over his head and a balloon and rubber band nearby. Hillsborough sheriff's Capt. J. R. Miller said.

On Nov. 3, Keith E. Thomas was found with a white plastic bag over his head, and sheriff's Capt. Roger Dixon, 34, said he had been filled with nitrous oxide, he said.

Hallandale woman returns money

HALLANDALE — A businesswoman who found a check with $150 and a $100 bill in a parking lot returned it to a policeman at a Florida shopping mall.

Sharon L. Smith, 42, of Hallandale Beach, Fla., found the money in a parking lot at the Florida Mall in Hallandale on Nov. 10. She turned it over to a police officer who was patrolling the area.

Smith said she was walking to her car when she found the money. She said she was walking to her car when she found the money. She said she was walking to her car when she found the money.

Election put in the books

TALLAHASSEE — The 1992 Florida general election has finally been put in the books.

The final results were certified Friday by Secretary of State Jim Smith, Comptroller Gerald Lewis and Dot Joyce, state supervisor of elections. Lewis was campaigning for Gov. Lawton Chiles, who's hunting in Nebraska.

One race that had been in doubt, the House District 66 battle between Democrat Dean Sullivan and Republican Lynn Spearhead, was certified in favor of Sullivan. He won the Fort Pierce seat by 650 votes.

For the second, President Bush and Vice President Quayle carried Florida with 2,122,784 votes, or 55.6 percent, to 2,071,851 for the Democratic ticket of Bill Clinton and Al Gore. Independent Ross Perot and his running mate, James Stockdale, got 1,052,481 votes or 25.8 percent.

TRAFFIC VIOLATIONS

Traffic violations bring arrest

Timothy W. Leturgey, 28, 123 Coachlight Ct., Sanford, was charged with driving with a suspended license and with having an expired temporary tag when he was arrested by Seminole County sheriff's deputies on Friday morning.

Deputies said Leturgey was driving recklessly when he was pulled over by deputies at State Road 427 and Sunland Drive.

Deputies noted that he had an expired temporary tag. They said that a computer check of his driver's license showed that it had been suspended.

He was transported to the John E. Polk Correctional Facility and held on $100 bond.

Resisting arrest charged

Jesse Ramery, 35, 302 Cedar Creek Cir., Sanford, was charged with resisting arrest with violence and with driving with a suspended license when he was arrested by Casselberry Police on Friday morning.

Police pulled him over on State Road 436 after he was driving westbound in the eastbound traffic lane, they said.

Police said that he gave them a Florida identification card when asked for his driver's license. A computer check showed that his license had been suspended, police said.

When he was told he was under arrest he refused to cooperate with police, they said.

After a slight struggle, Ramery was searched and placed in the patrol vehicle, police said. They said he had to be removed and his feet tied because he kept kicking the windows of the car.

He was taken to the John E. Polk Correctional Facility and held on $2,000 bond.

Disorderly intoxication

Edward Goss, 32, who gave his address as the Rescue Mission, 13th Street, Sanford, was charged with disorderly intoxication and resisting arrest without violence when he was arrested by Sanford Police on Thursday.

Police said he gave them a false name, but they found identification on his person that gave his correct name.

He was taken to the John E. Polk Correctional Facility and held in lieu of $500 bond.

Charges after accident

Clarence William Angle, 57, 2804 Grandview Ave., Sanford, was charged with driving under the influence and careless driving when he was arrested by Sanford Police on Thursday.

Police said he was involved in an accident on Sanford Avenue and 29th Street.

Police said he had been attempting to leave the scene of the accident when they arrived to investigate.

They said he had the strong odor of alcohol on his breath and that his speech was slurred.

He was taken to the John E. Polk Correctional Facility and held on $500 bond.

Car improperly equipped

Thomas Brannan Saunders, 48, 3407 Palm Way, Sanford, was charged with having improper equipment and with driving with a revoked driver's license when he was arrested on Thursday.

Police said he was stopped because his car had no tail lights and that a check was done on his driver's license. The check revealed that his license had been suspended three times and was currently revoked.

He was transported to the John E. Polk Correctional Facility and held on $100 bond.

Two charged with domestic violence

Michael S. Dawson, 23, and Olivia M. Dawson, 20, both of 634 E. Church Ave., Sanford, were charged with battery and domestic violence when they were arrested by Longwood Police on Thursday.

Police said the couple who have been married two months were fighting when he grabbed her and shoved her. They said she repeatedly slapped and scratched him.

Police said the fight continued outside their home onto the street.

Both were taken to the John E. Polk Correctional Facility where they were held on $2,500 bond each.

Warrant arrests

Vernon Hopkins, 24, 1010 W. 16th St., Sanford, was charged on a writ of bodily attachment. He was taken to the John E. Polk Correctional Facility and held without bond.

Harry Frederick Mead, 49, 5348 Orange Blvd., Sanford, was charged in connection with violating the terms of his probation on charges of driving under the influence. He was taken to the John E. Polk Correctional Facility and held on $100 bond.

Linda Marin Davis, 37, 1002 W. 10th St., Sanford, was charged with violating her probation and with two counts of violating her community control. She was taken to the John E. Polk Correctional Facility and held without bond.

Jerry Keith Parker, 24, 917 Holly Ave., Sanford, was charged with violating his probation on charges of the sale of a controlled substance. He was taken to the John E. Polk Correctional Facility and held without bond.

Supt. Hagerty says no favoritism after initial review of promotion

By GEORGE DUNCAN
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD - Despite charges of favoritism, Seminole County School Superintendent Paul Hagerty said an initial review indicates no bias in the selection of Becky Presley as a landscaping assistant foreman.

"The preliminary investigation shows the person selected was well-qualified. The person was already serving as a lead-crew person. Our investigation seems to indicate she was qualified," Hagerty said.

The promotion of Presley touched off a protest with some employees in the Maintenance Department who charged other people were better qualified for the post. However, union representative David Graham said the promotion was the latest in a series of promotions for employees.

employees signed a petition questioning the promotion by Maintenance Director Don Nicholas.

Hagerty said the review was continuing and would not be completed until next week.

"We take all such accusations seriously. We're in the middle of a review but that is a first reaction," he said.

Hagerty said he was having additional people review the process, including Personnel Director John Reicher.

Graham charged favoritism had played a role in a number of promotions in the department. However, Hagerty said because of the controversy over the promotion, that was the only issue being immediately reviewed.

"We talked about the violation of the law and the violation of the law," he said.

preliminary initial review, there doesn't seem to be any reason to think it wasn't based on good qualifications," he said.

Man charged under July stalking law is convicted

By The Associated Press

KEY WEST - A man charged with hounding another man was convicted under Florida's stalking law.

A four-woman, two-man jury ruled Thursday that John Caris, 32, fit the definition of the yet-unchallenged law by continually following and making unwanted advances to a hairdresser he met when he got his hair cut. The law, which took effect July 1, defines a stalker as someone who "willfully, maliciously, and repeatedly follows or harasses another person."

The law was designed mainly to protect women from obsessed male stalkers, but Monroe authorities said it can apply to men who stalk men.

The offense is a first-degree misdemeanor punishable by up to one year in jail or a $1,000 fine.

County Judge Wayne Miller ordered a one-year probation for Caris, a hotel worker, with a 180-day jail sentence that will remain suspended if he abides by terms of the probation. He also sentenced him to eight hours of community service, along with psychological evaluation and any treatment that is recommended.

Caris can't have any contact with the hairdresser, his family or friends.

The hairdresser and other witnesses testified Caris repeatedly showed up at his home and work.

lional monies and the county provided the two acres of land. "After the procurement of the land, I had to go to the county for one thing or another and at times they referred me to the city," said Berko. "When I went to them they were most helpful in whatever I needed."

No client will be denied admissions to the program due to a lack of financial resources.

"It is expected that the client will receive SSI or BSDL benefits or be eligible for such benefits," according to Elaine Churton, program director of the facility. "Individuals will be expected to contribute a percentage of their benefits or earnings to defray program expenses which include room and board."

Because of the limited income of the clients, a monthly $125 deduction from the patients' benefits is all that it will take for them to stay at the center.

"HRS will contribute the rest from its general revenue funds," according to Berko. "Clients will also be allowed to maintain personal care funds in the amount of $43 a month."

There are currently 38 Seminole county residents at the state hospital under treatment.

In the state hospital it costs taxpayers $50,000 a year per client. Here, in the new Residential Treatment Facility, it will cost $20,000 to $25,000.

The program is designed to provide a therapeutic environment that fosters consumer (client) empowerment," according to Churton. "House members share in the responsibility with staff in all aspects of program and facility operations."

The facility is directed toward individuals with serious and persistent mental illness who exhibit deficiencies in basic living skills and who need the emotional security of a setting which provides structure and support to consumers to progress to a higher level of self-management.

The program provides residential treatment services to 15 adults, age 18-54, who are in need of 24 hour staff support. Consumers must be a resident of Seminole County, be able to function in a program geared to self management on a progressive basis, and have the ability to maintain self preservation.

Clients accepted into the program will generally be transitional from either Northeast Florida State Hospital or will be diverted from a potential state hospital admission through the agency's Crisis Stabilization Unit here in Sanford.

Each resident upon admission is assigned a staff person who will serve as that resident's "primary." The primary will meet with the resident weekly to work on goal planning, to provide emotional support and to address any other issues the individual may have.

Participants are expected to be working, attending school, or attend a day program, at the Seminole Community Mental Health Center in Sanford, for at least four hours per day.

The program is staffed with seven full-time and three part-time licensed employees, consisting of a consulting psychiatrist, RTP facility manager, rehabilitation counselor and residential counselors who are responsible to the coordinator of residential services.

Boulevard, along the Sanford lakefront area.

City Manager Bill Simmons explained, "The boulevard was not included in this schedule because it involves much more work, including the installation of some drainage lines."

He added, "We estimate that with all of the work required to repave Seminole Boulevard, including engineering design, it would probably be well over a million dollars, and we just don't have that kind of money available at this time."

Commissioner A.A. McClanahan commented, "As far as I am concerned, we might do better to close Seminole Boulevard from Sanford Avenue to Melonville, and convert it to a walk area. Then we wouldn't have to repave it, and it would add a great deal of beauty to our

"I couldn't agree more with that idea," said Commissioner Lon Howell.

During the regular commission meeting later that evening, Howell questioned if it wouldn't be better to concentrate on surfacing unpaved streets first.

"Most of them are in the Goldsboro area," Simmons said. "In most cases, the width of the streets would be a problem as they aren't standard and we would have to get involved with right-of-way."

He continued, "Also, some of those unpaved streets are privately owned. There would be various reasons for not paving them at this time."

The money for the resurfacing project is to be totally financed from local option gas taxes, and will not be taken from the general operating budget.

First time viewers of the show who were also impressed.

"These are pretty cars," Katie Collins said.

As of 11 a.m., 110 cars had been signed up for the show, with the organizers expecting a few more before the day was over. Participants came from all over the state including cities such as Ocala, Daytona Beach, Port Orange and Titusville.

Some of the cars were completely restored vintage cars from the 1920's and 1930's. Others, although from the same era, were modified.

An Ocala contingent, the Wizards of Rods car club, rolled up about 11 a.m. with several 1930s models Ford and Chevys.

no doubt surprising other drivers on the trip to Sanford.

One local couple who participated, Peggy and Andy Cavale, showed off their 1961 Corvette with a license plate 'Burgundy Blush.' The burgundy color was only produced by the company for Corvettes during the years 1979-1983, Andy said.

"We're the only ones who show up with that color," Peggy said.

The polished Corvette sparkled in the sun, but Andy noted it did not look that way when he purchased it three years ago. A friend had told me I needed a hobby to spend your excess money on."

The Corvette was purchased for a special reason.

"I bought it for my wife on Valentine's Day. Next year I bought her a vacuum cleaner and I've been in the doghouse ever since," he said.

Judge: Settle teen-aid sex program suit

By The Associated Press

JACKSONVILLE — A judge said the fight over a conservative, abstinence-oriented sex education program in Jacksonville schools should be settled out of court.

Circuit Judge Bernard Nachman's ruling came seven months after a lawsuit was filed by Planned Parenthood of Northeast Florida and seven families challenging the use of the Teen-Aid program in Duval County Schools.

"The nature of this action is such that protracted litigation would not serve the public interest," Nachman wrote in his order released Friday.

He ordered both sides to inform him by Dec. 2 whether they are willing to mediate.

In an earlier hearing, Nachman noted that state law requires school systems to teach pregnancy prevention.

But Teen-Aid attorneys said teaching students about birth control could violate Florida law and contribute to the delinquency of minors. Planned Parenthood attorneys dispute that interpretation of the law.

Drug may prevent relapse of alcoholism

By A.J. HOESTYLER
Associated Press Writer

PHILADELPHIA — A drug used to fight drug addiction also was found to reduce the craving for alcohol in alcoholics, but scientists cautioned more testing is needed before it is prescribed for that purpose.

Naltrexone also apparently helps keep up to four in five recovering alcoholics from suffering a relapse, according to two reports in today's Archives of General Psychiatry.

"This is very exciting, very promising work," said Dr. Richard Fuller, director of clinical prevention of the National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism. "On the other hand, these are just two studies. I'd be careful about immediately applying the medication. The final word isn't in yet."

The studies also emphasized the drug should not be considered the sole treatment for alcoholism.

Naltrexone, used in combination with behavioral treatment, reduced relapse from 54 percent to 23 percent, according to one of the reports.

It blocks release of the brain's pleasure-producing chemicals known as endorphins that produce the "high" alcoholics feel.

Dr. Joseph Volpicelli, a University of Pennsylvania psychiatrist, said his study found the drug also reduces an alcoholic's craving of a drink.

The findings could immediately affect treatment because naltrexone, manufactured by DuPont Pharma as Trexan in the United States and Europe, may be prescribed by doctors for uses other than heroin addiction. Industry sources said the drug's annual sales are less than $15 million.

But Volpicelli agreed with Fuller, saying he would need to study the drug for a few more years before prescribing it to treat alcoholics.

Fuller said long-term studies using more patients were needed. The NIAAA already has funded three additional studies, two of which will extend the work being published today.

Physicians now use the drug Antabuse to treat recovering alcoholics. The drug causes severe nausea and vomiting when alcoholics drink, but does little to stop the craving.

Volpicelli's study followed 70 male patients in a detoxification unit for three months. Patients treated with naltrexone slipped and had a drink about as frequently as patients given a placebo. But those on naltrexone could stop drinking sooner and fewer had a total relapse.

"Ordinarily, in alcoholics, even one or two drinks stimulates the body's craving for more," Volpicelli said. But with the drug, "the cycle of craving was broken."

In the second study, conducted independently at Yale University, 39 percent of the patients taking naltrexone relapsed, compared with 79 percent of those who received just counseling. The study followed 97 patients for three months.

Both research groups stressed that the drug by itself was not a cure and must be supplemented.

"The medicine works in conjunction with psychosocial treatment," Volpicelli said. "Medication alone doesn't work."

Rams juniors ready to sponsor Prom

LAKE MARY — As is the tradition, Lake Mary's junior class will be sponsoring this spring's Prom.

Although Prom is not until May 1, the junior class officers and sponsors have already begun raising funds for one of the biggest school activities.

The class of 1994 has been raising money for Prom '93 since the beginning of freshman year. During the past two years, this year's juniors have tried to develop a strong financial base so that by this year, the burden of fundraising would be somewhat alleviated.

As freshmen no fundraisers were conducted, but as sophomores, they held car washes and a basketball shoot-off.

The first major project of the 1992-93 school year was a gourmet coffee sale, which according to class president Amy Mosseri, went fairly well.

Their second fundraiser, a Christmas wreath sale, was a virtual failure.

On Nov. 10, the junior class held the annual Miss Ewe pageant.

In this popular Homecoming event, junior and senior guys dress up as women and perform a talent.

Because of a mishap, though, Miss Ewe might be cancelled next year. Two of the seven acts were disqualified because the administration deemed the performers' behavior indecent.

If future junior classes don't have the economic boost that Miss Ewe brings, Prom fund raising will be more difficult, since this is one of the two major junior class projects.

The other major fundraiser is the Showcase of the Bands, a gathering of local high school rock bands. The fundraiser will be done in the spring.

Through out the year they will also participate in various fundraisers on various Saturday mornings. Each class will earn the class over $100.

District loss ends Lady Noles' season

LAKE MARY — The Lady Seminole volleyball team ended their season last week when they lost to Orlando's Edgewater High School in the semi-finals of their district tournament.

"Overall, I was pleased with our season and performance, but I really wanted to get to the district championship game," coach Beth Corso said.

In the first match of the districts, Seminole faced Leesburg and coasted to victory.

Then, Seminole's next opponent that would ultimately win the district crown.

"We didn't execute well and the pressure obviously affected the team," admitted Corso.

As the seniors played great, the younger players were plagued with the "Big Game Jitters", which resulted in 11 serving errors. The Seminoles usually don't miss that many in three matches.

Corso admitted that it is almost impossible to win if only three players are executing because volleyball is so dependent on teamwork. Even though the Lady Seminoles did not win districts, they achieved many accomplishments throughout the year.

They had an 8-7 regular season record and were third in the very tough Seminole Athletic Conference with a 5-5 record. The Seminoles also accomplished something that no other Lady Seminole volleyball team had done since 1981. They beat Oviedo High School.

"Oviedo was our biggest win of the season," Corso said, "but our two victories over Lake Howell were also very important."

Corso acknowledged the leadership of Christy Oliver, Dawn Burks, Megan Hay and Yuleyma Otero. She praised them for their desire and their ability.

The Lady Seminole volleyball team's future seems very hopeful, considering that the junior varsity team had their best season in eight years and combined with the returners from this year, the Seminoles hope to mature mentally and athletically.

Lyman gets cool learning tool

By VICKI DeBONNIE
Herald Staff Writer

LONGWOOD — The Lyman High School air conditioning, refrigeration and heating program was presented with a Model LV1 refrigerant recovery unit last week.

A gift from the the Central Florida chapter of the Refrigeration Service Engineers Society (RSES), the recovery unit is valued at more than $3,000.

According to Bob Falatic, coordinator of vocational and technical education for the Seminole County school district, the unit is the latest technology in refrigeration.

The recovery unit helps to reduce the amount of refrigerant that is released into the atmosphere. The reduction in the amount of refrigerant will slow the damage to the ozone layer.

According to Falatic, the recovery units will be required on refrigeration and air conditioning units by 1995.

"The service engineers will have to know how to repair the units," he said.

According to Falatic, Lyman High School is the only facility in the district which teaches refrigeration and air conditioning repair.

He said that few refrigeration schools in the state had access to a recovery unit.

"This is a truly unique program with a wonderful opportunity," Falatic said.

Richard Elmore, chairman of the RSES group, said his group is committed to providing assistance to vocational schools.

"We want to help the students be instructed correctly so they will be prepared for employment in the future," Elmore said.

The gift to the Lyman refrigeration program includes a package of the special tools that are required for repair of the unit.

"They are getting a wonderful opportunity to be at the cutting edge of the new technology," Falatic said.

Principal Carlton Henley said that he was "thrilled" to accept the gift for the school saying that he was happy that his students would be able to receive the best education possible in the field of refrigeration.

School working for changes

LONGWOOD — Though the school has a history of superlative teachers and strong administrative leadership, Longwood Elementary School has set its sights on an even brighter future.

Under the guidance of Caren Gager, the school's new principal, the school hopes to continue in the winning ways they have established for themselves over the years.

Gager said the transition is going very smoothly.

"Of course there was a slow period when I first started," said Gager, "but with the support of a very strong PTA, a strong faculty and staff, the transition has gone very, very well."

He said he is very happy at the school now.

"My first principalship was at Pine Crest Elementary (in Sanford) which like I have come home in a way."

The school has the backing of a strong Parent Teacher Association which works closely with Gager on a number of projects designed to enhance the educational experience for the students at the school.

"We are putting about 12 new computers in the classrooms," said Gager who said the school's PTA paid more than $18,000 for the machines.

In addition 20 new Chapter I students will be served by computers placed there by the district.

Gager acknowledges that David Scott, with whom he switched schools at the end of last year, initiated some very effective student incentive programs that reward students for hard work and diligent efforts at Longwood.

The Longwood Elementary PTA is very active and supportive. Their board of directors include Kerry Palumbo, treasurer; Susan Johnson, vice president; Judith Nykolayow Hahn, president and Linda Smith, secretary.

SANFORD — The Parkinson's Support Group, meets on the third Friday of each month throughout the year at HCA Central Florida Regional Hospital in Sanford. The next meeting is Friday from 10-11 a.m. in the hospital's classroom. The support group is open to parkinson's patients and their families and will be led by Lois Carrig, M.A., L.M.H.C., a licensed mental health counselor. The program includes presentations covering all aspects of the disease for both the patient and family members.

For more information, call 321-4500 ext. 5760.

Research center opens locally

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — Future HealthCare Research Centers, Inc., has recently established its first clinical facility in Florida. The new facility is located at 393 Whooping Loop, Suite 1459.

The research center conducts Phase II-IV medical research studies to test new prescription and over-the-counter (OTC) medications for a variety of therapeutic areas, including allergies, cardiology, dermatology, endocrinology, gastroenterology, infectious diseases, musculo-skeletal, neurology, nutrition, obstetrics/gynecology, ophthalmology, pediatric medicine, pulmonary medicine, rheumatology and urology.

Phase II trials assess drug efficacy and short-term side effects. Phase III trials ascertain large-scale efficacy and long-term side effects. Phase IV trials are conducted following marketing approval of the drug to monitor the long-term risks and benefits, study different dosage levels, or generate the clinical data necessary to support the marketing of the drug.

Volunteers who qualify for a medical research study can benefit in a number of ways, including:

- Receiving medical reviews which include physical examinations and blood testing with most studies.

- Learning more information about their condition and the latest treatments available.

- Spending more time with the doctor and nursing staff, receiving personalized attention.

- Having the potential to receive new medications for their condition.

- Receiving free study medication during the length of the study and compensation of up to $600, depending on the study and the number of visits required.

- Scheduling appointments quickly and conveniently, and receiving the study medication immediately on site.

SOUND ADVICE

NICK SPINA
CERTIFIED HEARING INSTRUMENT SPECIALIST

If you speak loud (speak), pay attention to the speaker's eyes. They will tell you a lot about what he is really saying.

Feedback (whistling) in a hearing aid can be a very annoying problem, but is usually not from an electronic failure. Generally it is caused by sound leaking out around the case or earmold. Often this can be corrected right in the office.

Question - Why do my ears "pop" when I go up in the mountains or ride in an airplane?

Answer - Inside the head is a small cavity filled with air called the middle ear. As one goes up in altitude, air pressure outside decreases, thus the air in the middle ear cavity begins to expand. It finally forces open the Eustachian tube which connects to the back of the nasal cavity. When this happens, you feel a "pop" as the air pressure equalizes.

IN BRIEF

Locals dominate cross country

WEST PALM BEACH — The Lake Mary High School boys' cross country team won its school's first ever regional title and Toby Ayers was the first individual regional winner Saturday to lead a Seminole county sweep.

Kiraiah Bresnick made it a clean sweep of the individual winners as she led the Lyman girls to the title.

Both the boys and girls teams from Lake Mary, Lyman and Lake Brantley earned spots at next week's state meet in Jacksonville.

A full reports of the meet will appear in Monday's sports section.

GAINESVILLE

— Shane Matthews scored on a quarterback sneak and threw a 38-yard touchdown pass to Aubrey Hill to jumpstart Florida's sputtering offense and lead the Gators to a 14-9 victory over South Carolina.

The triumph was the sixth straight for Florida (7-2, 8-2), which extended the nation's second longest home winning streak to 18 games and moved within one win of a berth in the Inaugural Southeastern Conference Championship Game.

South Carolina (4-6, 3-6) lost for the first time since freshman Steve Taneyhill became its starting quarterback after an 0-5 start.

FSU swamps Green Wave

TALLAHASSEE — Charlie Ward threw four touchdown passes before halftime and Clifton Abraham scored twice on defensive plays as fifth-ranked Florida State crushed Tulane 70-7.

Ward only played the first half, in which his team opened a 56-7 lead. Coach Bobby Bowden emptied the bench in the second half for the second straight week.

FSU (9-1, 8-0) opened its halftime bulge as Ward finished his day's work with 266 yards offense, just eight yards off his season average.

Tulane (3-6) scored with 52 seconds left in the half on Billy Duncan's 18-yard TD pass to Terrace Strickland.

Hurricanes blow away Temple

MIAMI — The Miami Hurricanes were supposed to win easily, and Otis Torretta made sure they did.

Continuing his late charge in the Helaman Trophy race, Torretta threw for 231 yards and two touchdowns Saturday to help top-ranked Miami beat lousy Temple, 48-0.

A six-touchdown favorite, the Hurricanes (9-0) extended the nation's longest winning streak to 27 games and won their 51st in a row at the Orange Bowl.

The game was the first for Temple (1-8) since reports last week that the school plans to fire coach Jerry Berndt after the season.

Heat sign Long

MIAMI — After months of negotiations, forward Grant Long signed an estimated $13.8 million, seven-year deal with the Miami Heat.

Thirty-four days and four games late, Long had hoped to be in Charlotte, N.C., Saturday night for the Heat's game against the Hornets.

But he wasn't able to complete his physical in time.

"I'm glad it's over and behind me and I don't have to deal with it for another seven years," Long said Saturday. "You have to respect the negotiating process for what it is, and if it takes that long, it takes that long."

Petty takes final ride

HAMPTON, Ga. — Start with Richard Petty's last race as a driver, and the finish of the wildest six-man Winston Cup championship chase ever and you have the scenario for Sunday's Hooters 500 at Atlanta Motor Speedway.

The end of Petty's illustrious 35-year racing career may be the biggest draw for what is expected to be a record crowd of more than 120,000, but after the emotional pre-race sendoff for the King of stock car racing, it will be business as usual.

That means the focus will return to the sextet of Davey Allison, Alan Kulwicki, Bill Elliott, Harry Gant, Kyle Petty — Richard's son — and Mark Martin, all vying for the $1.5 million prize that awaits the Winston Cup champion.

Those drivers begin the 500-mile race on the 1.523-mile oval separated by 115 points with a maximum 185 points up for grabs.

Allison leads Kulwicki by 30 points, with Elliott 10 more back. Gant trails the leader by 97, Petty 98 and Martin 113.

'Hounds ruin Rams' homecoming

By RYAN ANDERSON
Herald Correspondent

LAKE MARY — It should have been a time of celebration for the Lake Mary Rams during their homecoming game Friday night at Don T. Reynolds stadium. The newly crowned homecoming King and Queen had just completed their lap around the stadium and there was a pleasant chill in the air.

But someone forgot to tell the Lyman Greyhounds that the home team is supposed to win its homecoming game, the Greyhounds rolling to a 40-22 victory in their 5A-District 4 football game.

"We felt like our defense would have to play consistently in order to shut down a good offense like Lake Mary's," Lyman coach Larry Baker said. "We knew it was a big task. Lake Mary has a tough quarterback and a couple of really good receivers."

"It was just a real challenge to our defense to contain their offense and they did a good job."

The Rams jumped ahead on their first drive, scoring on a 2-yard run by Otis Wellon. Chad Kessler's extra point gave the Rams a 7-0 lead with 9:00 left in the first quarter, but the momentum was soon

Kenny Lane (No. 1) returned a fumble 68 yards for a touchdown Friday, capping a 10-play series that resulted in three Lyman touchdowns and started the Greyhounds on their way to a 40-22 win over Lake Mary.

Lyman gets Rotary bid

ALTAMONTE — Lyman's going bowling.

Lyman High School, site of the annual Rotary Bowl high school football game, was formally invited to play in this year's game Friday night by Ed Bookbinder of the Rotary Club Seminole County South.

Freedom High School of Bethlehem, Penn., has already accepted an invitation to provide the out-of-state opposition in this year's contest, which will be played at 10 a.m. on Thanksgiving morning at Lyman.

According to Paul McCormick, who co-chairs the Rotary Club's selection committee with Bookbinder, the decision came down to Lyman and Winter Park.

"We were looking at Winter Park as well," said McCormick. "But with Lyman coming through (beating Lake Mary 40-22 Friday night) and knowing what kind of team Freedom High School has, we feel this is going to be an excellent match-up."

LEESBURG — When you get right down to it, football's not that hard a game. All you have to do is score some points while keeping the other guys from scoring any points.

Seminole High School's varsity football team, which has had problems with the former condition but has excelled at the latter, could do neither Friday night, suffering a 28-0 shutout at the hands of the Leesburg Yellow Jackets.

The victory secures the 4A-District 7 championship for the Yellow Jackets (8-1, 3-0 in the district) while Seminole (8-3, 2-1) is left to chase DELAND — When we reminisce, the substance of the meal is but the mind's precious, long-afterimage. And last images can be etched as vivid.

The Lake Howell Silver Hawks ended a frustrating 4-6 season on a positive note Friday night at Deland's Spec Martin Memorial Stadium, beating the Bulldogs 20-13 to finish 4-3 in the 5A-District 4 standings.

This closes the only losing season for the 25 Lake Howell seniors, a year dedicated to building experience and confidence in the 38

DAYTONA BEACH — If there has ever been a misleading score, this was it.

The Oviedo Lions gave district champion Mainland all it could handle for most of the game before falling 27-7 at the Daytona Beach Municipal Stadium Friday night.

Mainland showed the stuff that made them district champions despite having 11 players out for different disciplinary reasons. Eight Buccaneers were suspended for participating in the fight with Lake Howell, two more were suspended for team rules violations this week and Volusia County's leading rusher, Antwan Wyatt was held out of the first half for an unannounced

By RYAN ANDERSON
Herald Correspondent

LAKE MARY — After years of being perennial runners-up at the district level, the Lake Mary High School girls' volleyball team is starting to fall into a similar rut at the sectional level.

For the second year in a row, Lake Mary's bid to go to the Class 4A state tournament was halted by the Boca Raton-Spanish River Sharks, the Rams suffering a 15-8, 17-15 setback Friday afternoon in the 4A-Section III championship match at Lake Mary High School.

Last year, Spanish River defeated Lake Mary 12-15, 15-10, 15-4 and went on to win the state title.

"I was proud to go 17-15 with the ex-state champs," Lake Mary coach Cindy Henry said. "But I sure wish it would've gone the other way."

"I was hoping with this crowd, we'd pull it out. But they are such a polished team. They don't make many mistakes. They are tough to beat."

The Rams (30-6) came close to pulling it out in the second game. Trailing 15-7, the Rams scored six points, led by Jennifer Greasing's four consecutive service points, to tie the score at 15-15.

But try as they might, the Rams couldn't pull ahead, having to come back to tie the score at 16 and 15 before Spanish River finally closed out the match.

In the first game, the Rams were unable to find the holes in the Shark defense to score points. Lake Mary did come up with its share of big hits and inspired play, just not at the right time.

"Some of our best points came on side outs," Henry said. "We should have had more points in the first game, but they just outplayed us."

Freshman forward Roshanya Wilcox scored a game high 20 points, but it was not enough as the Raiders dropped a 79-70 decision to St. Petersburg Junior College.

From Staff Reports

SANFORD — St. Petersburg Junior College handed the Seminole Community College women's basketball team its first loss of the season, 79-70, Friday night at the Health and Physical Education Center despite a stellar performance by Roshanya Wilcox.

The game started as a battle between Wilcox and SPJC's Kasper, with Wilcox scoring her team's first eight points and Kasper scoring 10 of her team's first 12.

Wilcox, a 5-foot, 9-inch freshman forward from Fort St. Lucie, went on to score 18 of her game high 20 points in the first half, but the Raiders still trailed by one, 34-33, at the intermission. Kasper led the way for St. Pete with 12 points, while Carmichel added nine.

The second half was also closely played, but SCC was unable to overcome the play of Carmichel, Kasper and Clark.

In addition to Wilcox, also scoring in double figures for the home team were Monique Hayes with 13 and Iris Thomas with 11. Hayes also added 10 rebounds, while Ann Figueroa and Kerri Wilson contributed a game high five assists each.

Carmichel tied Wilcox for game high scoring honors with 20, while Kasper added 16 and Clark 12. Conway

SCC men get ambushed on the road

By SEAN SMITH
Herald Sports Writer

POMPANO BEACH — Question: What happens when you just can't put the ball in through the hoop and your defense is having an off night?

Answer: You get crushed.

That's what happened to the Seminole Community College men's basketball team Friday night at the Omni on the North Campus of Broward Community College.

With "birthday boy" Dwight Williams leading the way, the host Seahawks raced to a 50-32 halftime lead and went on to batter the No. 14 ranked Raiders 96-65, the home team's second big win of the week.

On Wednesday, Broward had beat No. five state ranked Manatee Junior College by 28 points. The Seahawks (2-1) had gotten beat badly in their opener, but they also had four starters suspended.

"We just got a good old fashioned rump roasting tonight," said SCC head coach Bernard Merthle. "They (Broward) just kicked our butts. We just never seemed to get into the game. I don't know what the problem was."

"We just need to forget this game and get ready for tomorrow night (SCC was to host Manatee Saturday

Christmas comes early for Marlins

MIAMI - For general manager Dave Dombrowski, each phone call to the Florida Marlins' fax machine sounded like jingle bells. "Whenever I heard it ring, it reminded me of being a kid on Christmas morning - that it was time to open the presents and see what they were," Dombrowski said.

Talks with established teams about deals began even before the draft lists were submitted. "We have discussed a lot of trades," Dombrowski said. "I'll be surprised if there are not some deals made. ... Clubs have approached us about trying to take players from other organizations. Specific names have been proposed - if such and such is out there, we'd be interested in him." It's not unlike the winter meetings, when you start thinking about three-way deals.

The Marlins plan to take the best players available with their 13 first-round picks. Dombrowski said the first four choices conceivably could be catchers, depending on how things work out. Starting with the second of the three rounds, the Marlins will worry about balancing their roster. "At some point you have to be aware of specific positions," Dombrowski said.

Thorne & Son win Over-35 title

From Staff Reports

SANFORD — Scoring nine runs in the first two innings, Thorne and Son Land Clearing cruised to a 15-6 win over Checkers Friday night at Chase Park and claimed the Sanford Recreation Men's Over-35 Slowpitch Softball League championship.

In the late game, McRoberts Auto Center picked up a forfeit win over Sanford officiating.

With one week left to play, Thorne and Son Land Clearing holds down first place with an 8-1 mark, two games better than Checkers' (6-3). Sanford Officiating (3-6) and McRoberts Auto Center (1-8) trail the leaders.

Next Friday, the league will wrap up its season with a pair of Mark Morgan led Checkers' 11-hit effort with three singles, two runs and an RBI. Rocky Ellingsworth added a single, one run and two RBI. Tom Boyd also drove in two runs. Luke Lucarelli singled once and scored twice. Jim Schaefer hit two singles.

Mike Willford singled and scored a run while Jerry Herman singled and drove in a run. Clint Dewhirst and Jim Smith each hit a single.

Johnson in honor roll three times

From Staff Reports

SANFORD — Pat Johnson has been in a groove.

In results reported by Bowl America Sanford, Johnson recorded three of the top six series recorded by men in league action last week. The 725 Johnson rolled in Sun Bank play was the top mark, a pin better than the 724 he put together in the Beachtime league.

For good measure, Johnson tossed a 673 in Bowl America Classic play.

Joetta West put together a 618 will bowling with Mardell's Ladies to record the top women's series of the week.

Trailing West among the Mardell's Ladies were Nancy Johnson, who scored a 555, and Carol Slaughter, who constructed a 642 series.

The top marks among the Reflections were reported by Joe Govaech (561) and Debbie Govaech (505).

Bill Riley led the Barbours Brothers men with his 568 while Joe Jemilia turned in a 554. Dottie Holmes had a 572 series as Derline Macreter came in at 532.

The Rolling Stones men were led by the 540 effort of Mitch Melarick. Backing him up was Tracy Towers with a 510. Mary Bartels led the women with her 500 total.

Trailing Johnson in Bowl America Classic competition were Curtis Barbours with his 600 and the 648 reported by Bruce Elmendorf.

Linda Beatty led the High Nooners with her 556 effort. Edith Yaucoke rolled a 534 while Phyllis Mott knocked down a 533.

Topping the Beer 80 City League was the 697 total of Ken Brown. Trailing him were Bruce Elmendorf with a 690 series and Jim Morone and his 680 effort.

Barbara Landree compiled a 489 to highlight play in the Wednesday Ladies Handicap League. Eadie Henry and Heather Urbanovic each rolled a 477 series.

The Washday Dropouts were led by Eva Rogers and her 466 series and the 557 total of Myron Gates. They were backed up by Carl Meyers, who came in with a 440, and Elmer Stafflet, who tallied a 538, respectively.

Danny Phillips led the Bowl and Chala men with his 524 series. Bob Crosby backed him up with a 510. Among the women, Marianne Lansing notched a 476 while Robin Butler rolled a 440.

In Generations play, Ken Allman knocked down a 696 while Jason Every came in with a 613. Among the youth bowlers, Rebecca Every recorded an impressive 505 while Stephanie Cato rolled a 343.

The top Unprofessionals last week were Bob Lake, who came in with a 650, Ken Brown and his 635 total, and George Lasher's 623 effort.

Backing up Johnson in Beachtime play was "Fast Eddie", who posted a 613 total.

Scott Terrell and Steve Enders were four pins apart on the Forsyth Realty men's honor roll last week. Terrell putting in a 647 while Enders had a 643. Penny Smith led the women with her 545 total. Judy Westcott rolled a 523.

Linda Stafford registered a 612 series while competing in the Sun Bank league, the second-highest women's mark of the week. Nancy Johnson backed her up with a 597. Among the men, Ken Stafford rolled a 681 to trail Pat Johnson's honor roll-topping total.

In Thursday Night Mixed League action, Joetta West and Debbi Leigh led the women with series of 568 and 521, respectively. The 667 effort of Rich Manser topped the men. George Mansfield came in behind him with a 591.

Largemouth bass subject of bulletin

The Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission recently released an educational bulletin which examines the biology of the Florida largemouth bass.

Biology and Management of the Florida Largemouth Bass is a comprehensive report based on many years of research and was written to inform the public about largemouth bass biology and management of this premier freshwater gamefish.

The bulletin, written by Commission fisheries biologist Wesley Porak, Steve Crawford and Rich Caliteur, covers topics such as genetics, spawning and nesting behavior, early life history, behavior and movement patterns, feeding behavior and diet plus many other topics.

The publication is the third of an educational series designed by the Commission's Division of Fisheries to provide fishermen with information ordinarily not found in popular fishing literature. The first and second bulletin of the series are titled Florida Striped Bass and Reeyote Year Bass, respectively.

Also available from the Commission is a booklet titled Guidelines for Designing and Managing Florida Ponds for Recreational Fishing. The booklet is designed to help pond easily forms on surfaces which have been scratched.

FISHING FORECAST The predicted cold front will make fishing difficult for the weekend. Bass typically will become inactive until the weather stabilizes. Fish heavy cover or deeper water for the best results.

Snook fishing has been steady at Sebastian Inlet, but a cool snap could shut things down for several days. Big flounder are hitting finger mullet bounced slowly across the bottom. Redfish, jack crevalle and bluefish are also moving in and out of the inlet. The outgoing tide provides the best action.

Captain Jack at Port Canaveral reports that high seas have once again kept boats in port. Inside the Port, action is good with sheepshead and flounder. The flounder are hitting finger mullet bounced along channel edges.

TROUT and redfish are reported as good on the flats of the Banana and Indian rivers.

Rotary

Lyman might smack of emotional favoritism (the Greyhounds, 6-3, haven't appeared in the Rotary Bowl since 1988 and have suffered through a series of losing seasons before this year). McCormick said the selection was based on ability.

"In our selection, we try to take one step back and not get involved in the emotion," he said. "We consider the teams available and the match-up we want to generate."

"Because we had the team from Pennsylvania in place early on and we knew what kind of team they are, we've had some time to look at what kind of contest we thought we could put together."

That doesn't mean the Rotary Club is oblivious to what the game means to the school selected to play.

"We did have some information that the Lyman players were looking forward to the Rotary Bowl, that they thought they had a shot at being invited," McCormick said.

As it turned out, the invitation was Lyman's to lose Friday night.

"We were at the Lyman-Lake Mary game with cellular telephone and Larry Cowart was at the Winter Park game," explained McCormick. "Because of the time constraints and the fact that it was Winter Park's last game, we knew we had to make the bid Friday night. If Lyman had lost, we were going to go with Winter Park."

Lyman will wrap up its regular season — and try to wrap up the Seminole Athletic Conference championship — next Friday when the Greyhounds travel to Lake Brantley.

The Rotary Bowl will be broadcast live Thanksgiving morning by Cablevision and will be taped for rebroadcast Thanksgiving night in the Bethlehem, Penn., area. McCormick said that a videotape of the game will be put on a plane to Pennsylvania shortly after the game's completion.

for the Seminole Athletic Conference championship. "Our offense never got into the bull game," said Seminole coach Emory Blake. "We knew that our offense had to do some positive things to complement our defense. And we failed to do that."

Meanwhile, Leesburg first-year coach Ed Hoffman employed the "if you have a big gun, shoot it" theory of offense, giving senior running back Oran Singleton the ball 32 times. Singleton, the leading high school rusher in Florida, responded with 199 yards and three touchdowns.

It was the first time in six games that Singleton didn't crack the 200-yard rushing mark, but it was still a far sight more than the 125 yards a game that opponents have been averaging against the Seminole defense.

"He made things happen," said Blake of Singleton. "That's what great running backs do. They make things happen."

While the final score suggests a walkover, Seminole trailed just 7-0 at halftime and 14-0 going into the fourth quarter. But considering the way the Leesburg defense was frustrating the Seminole offense, it might as well have been 100-0.

In the first half, Seminole had just one rushing attempt that went for positive yards, Gerard Shine's 2-yard dive on the Tribe's first offensive play of the game. Senior quarterback Travis Perkins was sacked three times for minus-27 yards as Seminole was limited to a net offensive yield of minus-4 yards.

For the game, Seminole lost 43 yards on rushing attempts and/or sacks of Perkins. Perkins did complete seven of 19 pass attempts for 78 yards, but he was intercepted three times, twice by Ty Lawrence and once by Ryan Esbaugh, who returned it 27 yards for the game's final score.

After the two teams opened the contest by exchanging three-play series, Leesburg took the lead with a 79-yard, 12-play drive capped by Singleton's 9-yard scoring dash six seconds into the second quarter.

On the Yellow Jackets' next possession, they worked their way down to the Seminole 8-yard line, but came away pointless when Brian Rausch's 27-yard field goal attempt went wide left.

Seminole's only legitimate scoring opportunity came in the waning seconds of the first half. When Leesburg failed to capitalize on a fake punt pass attempt on fourth-and-5 from its 46-yard line, the Tribe found itself in Yellow Jacket territory for the first time in the game.

Perkins completed a 14-yard pass to Matt Diemer to get Seminole to the Leesburg 32, but a sack sandwiched between a pair of incomplete passes left placekicker Jason Walraven with a 55-yard field goal attempt into the wind. He hit it well, but was well short.

Singleton added touchdown runs of 24 yards and 5 yards before Seminole would penetrate Leesburg territory again late in the fourth quarter. But that drive was snuffed when Lawrence picked off his second Perkins pass.

Leesburg will wrap up its regular season with a game at Wildwood next Friday while Seminole returns home to take on Lake Mary. A win over Lake Mary coupled with a Lyman loss to Lake Brantley would net the SAC crown for the Seminoles.

underclassmen. "It's good to end on a positive note for two reasons," said Lake Howell head coach Mike Biscaglia. "No. 1 is for the seniors. It's good for them to remember going out with a win. And No. 2 is for the underclassmen. The win carries over into next season. You're only as good as your last ball game."

Helped by DeLand's propensity for blowing opportunities, Lake Howell took leads of 14-0 and 20-7, then staved off the Bulldogs' comeback attempt.

Chet King, who warmed up before the game by kicking 55-yard field goals, gave Lake Howell a 6-0 halftime edge with field goals of 41 and 49 yards. The defense held DeLand to only three first downs in the half, aided by Coogan Mitchell's interception that set up King's second field goal.

Just one minute into the second half, Lake Howell's Brandon Spalding picked off another Brent Marshall pass and sprinted 22 yards for the touchdown. Quarterback Maurice Smith then connected with Rob Stanton for the two-point conversion.

"I thought it was a dream," said Spalding. "I dropped back in my zone, and when they threw the ball I just stepped to the side, picked it off and ran as fast as I could."

Then Lake Howell almost gave the game away. Robert Rogers, who finished with 147 rushing yards, dashed 61 yards to bring DeLand within a touchdown. Lake Howell fumbled on its next offensive play, giving DeLand the ball 27 yards from the end zone.

But Eric Bierneck missed his reason. But reserve running backs Anthony Azama and David Erickson combined for 202 yards on 19 carries and two touchdowns as Mainland racked up 405 yards of total offense, including 394 yards on the ground.

Oviedo squandered chances to build a lead early in the game that could have forced Mainland to abandon its running attack.

The Lions controlled the ball offensively most of the first half, fumbling away a scoring opportunity on their first possession before taking a 7-0 lead on a three-yard run by Ervin Alexander and Joe Schuyler's extra point kick in the second quarter.

But the Buccaneers came back to tie the score on Azama's six-yard run and Jessie

Oviedo took the ball back down the field and looked like they would cut the lead back to a single touchdown, but fumbled on the Mainland five to end the threat. Mainland added a final score as time expired to end the scoring.

Alexander gained over 100 yards on his first 10 carries and finished the night with 140 yards on 18 carries, while Paul Bass added 89 yards on 14 attempts and Oscar Duncan contributed 22 yards on nine tries.

Oviedo finishes its season at 5-5 overall and 4-3 in 5A-District 4, while Mainland improves to 8-1 overall and finishes 7-0 in the district. The Buccaneers will finish its season with inter-city rival Seabreeze next Friday before starting the state playoffs.

snatched away by the Greyhounds.

In the span of 10 plays, the Greyhounds scored three touchdowns. The first Lyman touchdown came on a 67-yard run by Todd Cleveland. When the extra point sailed wide, the Rams still had a one-point lead. It wouldn't last long.

Two plays after the kick off, the Greyhounds knocked the ball out of Ram running back Dexter Graham's hands and into Kenny Lane's, who ran the ball back 68 yards into the end zone. The two-point run attempt was no good but the 'Hounds led 12-7 with 7:06 left in the first quarter.

The Rams' woes continued on the first play following the Lyman kickoff, fumbling on the exchange from center to quarterback.

Cleveland finished the night with 240 yards on 16 carries and

Lisette I. Guillen

Beauty queen finalist

SANFORD — Lisette I. Guillen, daughter of Anthony and Barbara Guillen of Sanford, will compete in the Junior America 1992 Southern National Finals on Nov. 26-29, at the Hyatt Regency Hotel, Orlando.

A junior at Seminole High School, Lisette is now holding the title of County Queen, Miss Seminole County 1992, and will represent the area in the finals.

She is being sponsored by friends and relatives in the Sanford and Heathrow communities.

Stephanie Monique Pancratz

Dazzler of the Week

Stephanie Monique Pancratz, a tenth grader at Seminole High School, has been selected by the school's Dazzler Dance Team as Dazzler of the Week. Stephanie is the daughter of Pam and Pascal Pancratz.

She has been a member of the dance team for two years and her special interests include: Taking dance lessons, shopping, roller blading and singing.

Stephanie is a member of the Destiny choral group, Fellowship of Christian Athletes and is on the SHS leadership committee.

Her ambition is to become a dancer at Disneyland in Tokyo, Japan, her father's homeland, and to eventually become an elementary school teacher.

Stephanie said, "While being a member of the Seminole High School dance team has allowed me to further my dancing experiences, it has also reinforced the importance of team cooperation, self-control, dedication and pride."

International competition

Sun smiles on singers while they shine in Baltimore

By ED KORGAN
Herald Correspondent

"Awesome, Astounding, Broadway," were remarks heard from members of a local chorus returning from international competition.

The Sound of Sunshine Chapter of Sweet Adelines, consisting of members from the Sanford and surrounding areas have triumphantly returned from Baltimore, Md. They spent a week in international competition with 26 choruses and 48 quartets, representing 29 regions in the United States and Canada and six other areas from all over the world. The chorus began its march toward international competition with a first place win in Jacksonville at the Region Nine finals in April, 1990.

Attending the competition from the local area were Mossie Bateman, Chloe Ingria, Florence Korgan, Lila Lambert, Nancy Lewis, Sylvia Marlin, Diane Marshall, Bettye Mayton, Linda Meadow, Claudia Radebach, Merrily Reilly, Judy Sorg, Alice Tossi, Amy Weeks and Marsha Williams.

The week-long competition wasn't forgotten as all the members of the chorus reminisced Thursday at their regular weekly meeting.

It was a time of high energy, excitement and amazement. One woman in the chorus quipped, "I was so high I didn't need my medicine." The energy of the competition was noticed by everyone as they breezed through the practices, meetings and eventually the time on stage.

Approximately six minutes on stage, this was the time allowed for each chorus to sell their repertoire. As explained by Marshall, "This time goes by so fast, when I got off the stage I didn't remember anything. I felt an extreme excitement that is too hard to describe."

Another woman described being on the international stage for the first time as being, "Awesome; I looked out; I had time to look out and see all those people and I saw people that were yelling 'Sunshine, Sunshine' and people cheering us on and I thought, we're singing to this group. I felt so proud to be a member of this wonderful group of ladies."

Everyone talked about the production of the show. Williams remarked, "I have to say the way they put these things on they are absolutely and totally professional." She continued, "In fact they have the lights, the sound, absolutely everything down to a science. They have worked really hard through the years to get it this way."

Even the women who had handicaps were treated special. Tossi remarked, "The winning chorus had two ladies wheeled on the stage and helped to their position on the risers. When the lights came up you could not even tell where they were because special props had been put in place to help the ladies to stand with their chorus."

The costume committee worked equally hard putting together the outfits they would wear for the show. Consideration had to be given to the variety of figures that would wear the outfit. The committee came up with a silky pink fabric trimmed in black sequins. To this they added 12 pieces of fabric around the front and back which looked like fish fins. These fins created a unique look as the women turned while performing.

There was one outfit that was bought. While practicing during the week the chorus was told by the instructor they were still too tight and they had to loosen up some. He

Anniversary

Cruise, surprise dinner honor the Terwilligers

By DORIS DIETRICH
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD — James E. "Jimmy" and Mary Nancy Terwilliger had the surprise of their lives on their recent golden wedding anniversary. The day before, the couple attended a football game in Gainesville with her brothers and sister from Dade city and Ocala. The anniversary was barely mentioned, and certainly not aggrandized in the least, to Nancy's disappointment.

But the next day, the smiling relatives showed up for a big surprise celebration at Timacuan Country Club when Nancy and Jimmy were king and queen for the day.

The couple were married on Sunday, Oct. 11, 1942 in what Nancy describes as the "dark, dark days of World War II." She was a student nurse at University Hospital, Baltimore, and he was just before entering the U.S. Air Force. Early Tuesday morning he departed and it was nearly a year before Nancy saw him and joined him at Pocatello, Idaho. After three months together, Jimmy left for England where he was assigned to the 453rd Bomb Group, Eighth Air Force. He was gunner on a B-24 bomber when he flew 33 missions over Europe including the first daylight run over Berlin.

Jimmy received word of the birth of his first son on D-Day, June 6, 1942. The Red Cross delivered the message during the devastating 24 hours when the group was flying constantly covering ground forces going into Normandy. The couple's son, Jim, was seven months old before his dad saw him and it took three months for Nancy to get word from him after the Red Cross delivered the message. She was nearly frantic with

Photographers zoom in on Sanford for March exhibit

By DEL FREEMAN

SANFORD — Rick Lang took a documentary photography course last year at Crealde School of Art in Winter Park. He took a lot of pictures in that city and learned a lot about documentary photography, he said. This year, he's team-teaching a similar course.

Peter Schreyer, who is a fellow teacher at the Crealde School, has a long-standing contact with some folks at a Sanford art gallery. When the gallery asked him to do a show of Christmas in Sanford, he suggested it might be a better idea for him to take a group of students from the school and do a commentary on Sanford, and that became known as the Sanford Project," Rick said.

"I'm not sure when it was first mentioned, but we've been planning the class a good part of the summer," Lang said.

The class, for advanced students in documentary photography, contains 11 students plus the two team-instructors. The 16-week class known as the Sanford Project is expected to be complete by year's end, when the class will end.

"Sometime in March, there will be an exhibit of the best photographs in the Sanford Art Gallery."

Lang said, "and I assume that will include anywhere from 30 to 50 photos."

He expects the documentary will include all aspects of Sanford living, Rick said, from economic to cultural to governmental. "We're going to talk about the history of Sanford with the class and then divide up the things that are happening in the city and make assignments to different photographers in the class."

For background, Lang said he spent a good bit of time at the Historical Society in Sanford, and even provided them with a booklet made up of the last selection of photographs made of the Winter Park area. There are no plans, to his knowledge, to produce such a booklet from the current class assignment.

While the instructors will control the Sanford Project, Lang said students will be encouraged to go into the downtown and make their own contacts. During implementation of the Sanford Project, students will be guided by policies and rules regarding requests for copies of photographs, etc.

"The photographs we pick for the March show will be only a small representation of the amount of time and work we did, but we hope to pick out the best pictures," Lang said.

A grand night for grands

What a "grand" night when grand officers and past grand officers descended upon Seminole Chapter #2, Order of Eastern Star, on Thursday. Seventeen officers came to the chapter room replacing the Chapter's stations for one night.

"What a lovely sight," Betty Clements said.

Betty and Calvin Clements, worthy matron and patron, were proud to welcome these grands and past grands and said they learned very much from these officers.

Betty Boyer, past grand matron/secretary emerita of the Grand Chapter of Florida, presided as worthy matron and Grace Spivey, past grand matron/grand secretary of the Grand Chapter of Florida, served as secretary.

Others in attendance and serving were Leroy Thrift, Ruth Titus, Georgia Landis, Phyllis Wallace, Virginia McCoy, Valerie Russo, Virginia Timmons, John Beck, Charles Denman, Shad Zimner, Jean Johnston, Joan Denman, Inez Griffin, Beverly Marsh, and Don Muser.

Two of Seminole No. 2's members, Irma Williams and Lucille Eaton, were given certificates of appreciation by Betty Boyer and Grace Spivey. Also honored by Betty and Calvin was Leroy Thrift who recently retired from the railroad and has been a good friend and officer.

An hour of fellowship followed in the fellowship hall which was decorated with downs and other circus memorabilia.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Ashley Anderson

Jennifer Durak, A.A. Anderson exchange vows

LAKE MARY — Jennifer Len Durak and Andrew Ashley Anderson are announcing their marriage today. They were married Sept. 5, at 11:30 a.m., at Markham Woods Presbyterian Church, Lake Mary. The Rev. Don DeBevoise performed the traditional ceremony.

Vocalist and friend of the bride Laurel Elmore sang "The Ring" and "The Lord's Prayer" at the service.

The bride is the daughter of Michael and Carolyn Durak of Savannah, Tenn. Until recently they were 30-year residents of Sanford. Their daughter is a 1988 graduate of Seminole High School, Sanford.

The bridegroom is the son of John and Marianne Anderson of Mobile, Ala.

Given in marriage by her parents and escorted by her father, the bride chose for her vows a formal white satin gown. The cathedral-length train was trimmed with hand-beaded seed pearls, sequins and Charilly lace. The fitted bodice was accented with a wedding band collar. The gown had a Basque waistline and full length Gibson sleeves. Her headpiece, a floral and pearl comb, held her fingertip-length silk illusion veil. The veil was the bride's "something borrowed" given by fellow Seminole High student, Carol Lybans Miller. The bride carried a cascading bouquet of white Dendrobium orchids, pale yellow roses, baby's breath, English ivy and featured white Connecticut King day lilies.

Karin DeVerna served the bride as matron of honor. She attended Colby College, Nevada. She, with the bride, wore a tea-length gown of emerald green silk. The fitted bodice had a deep v-neck with matching silk bow at the waist. The bodice was layered with a film of black lace and featured a sweetheart neckline, puff sleeves and a Basque waist. She carried a cascading bouquet of yellow roses and white Connecticut King day lilies.

Bridesmaids were Rebecca Bott, sister of the bride and graduate of Lake Mary High School, Lake Mary, and Amy Anderson, sister of the groom. Their gowns and flowers were identical to the honor attendant's.

The mother of the bride wore a mauve tea-length dress with pleated chiffon skirt. The floral brocade jacket was edged in complimentary pearl trim.

The mother of the groom wore a royal blue shantung suit with elbow-length sleeves and a jewel neckline. The white yoke was edged in lace.

They each wore corsages of white orchids and white satin ribbons.

Dr. Brian Davis, friend and former teacher of the groom, served as best man.

Ushers were Tony Travers and Joe Mangum. Relatives and guests attended from Mobile, Ala., Newark, N.J., and Jacksonville, Fla.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at Heathrow Country Club, Lake Mary. Guests enjoyed a "deli" buffet following the best man's toast and the bride couple's first dance, "May I Have This Dance for the Rest of My Life." The four-tiered wedding cake was topped with the same figurines used 30 years earlier at the bride's parents' wedding and four years earlier at the bride's sister's wedding. The bride's last dance with her father was to the song, "You Are the Wind Beneath My Wings."

After a wedding trip to the Radisson-Jekyll Island Club Resort on the Georgia coast, the newlyweds are making their home in Auburn, Ala. They are presently completing engineering degrees at Auburn University.

Hagerty addresses club

Jean Metts, president of the Sanford Women's Club, presided over the November meeting in a setting decorated in the fall motif.

Guest speaker was Dr. Paul Hagerty, Superintendent of the Seminole County School District, who was introduced by Gail Hill Smith, chairman of the club's Education Department.

Dr. Hagerty enlightened the women on safe bus stops in response to a student recently getting killed. He also cited statistics on school dropouts and the number of dropouts who are imprisoned.

Following his informative commentary, the clubwomen asked a series of questions.

One of the president's projects for the year is to replace the present dining tables and chairs.

So far, members have contributed seven sets plus four more sets from Woodrow Clark of Hendersonville, N.C. in memory of his late wife, Viola, a past club president. Martha Yancey, chairman of the Public Affairs Department made this presentation.

The club will be featured on the annual Tour of Homes in December. Club members have been sprucing up the clubhouse while the Sanford Junior Woman's Club is landscaping the grounds.

The annual Arts and Crafts Festival will be held at the December meeting along with the club's own chorus under the direction of Mayor Bettye Smith.

Luncheon hostesses were Vivian Buck and Maxine Marsh, chairmen. Rose Payne, Carolyn Cornelius, Nellie Coleman, Janice Springfield, Bonnie Logan and Alice Magro.

Honeymooners home

The ecstatic honeymooners, Mabel (Chapman) and Horace Thomas have returned from a six-week wedding trip in north Georgia, North Carolina, Tennessee and Alabama.

Before their wedding ceremony, the couple entertained 40 friends and relatives at the traditional rehearsal dinner at Holiday Inn, Sanford Marina.

Mabel's brother, W.P. "Bill" Chapman, from Punta Gorda, was the master of ceremonies. Her brother-in-law, Paul Hoyt, from Sarasota, gave a special invocation that he had written while his wife, Helen Hoyt, sang an original song. Mabel's other sisters attending were Olive Bowen, Brookville, Pa., and Virginia Anza, Orlando.

The group participated in a sing-a-long of traditional old favorites and were entertained by Ricky Sharp playing the accordion.

Nellie Coleman and Jean

Norris decorated the tables which "were special" according to Mabel.

During the evening, Mabel and Horace presented gifts to their wedding party.

6 sisters reunite

What happens when six sisters get together for a week? They have a ball.

Evelyn Dixon played hostess to her five sisters this week, the first time in their adulthood the girls have ever been together as a group. Needless to say, the reunion was wonderful.

The sisters went to the beach, visited Mineral Springs, took a cruise on the St. Johns River and enjoyed the Sanford scene. Eiloyween Lunningham of Russellville, Ark. said there was not enough time to do the Disney circuit.

But the good-natured Arkansas resident said she was excited over Gov. Clinton winning the presidential election.

The other sisters visiting Sanford were: Marge Bailey, Flint, Mich.; Wanda Hawkins, Derby, Kan.; Mary Anna Standridge, Dardanelle, Ark; and Deborah St. Recter, La Jolla, Calif.

Williamsburg visited

Kay Bartholomew and Lourine Messinger have returned from a marvelous trip to Williamsburg, Va. "Everybody should see Williamsburg," Lourine said.

They drove up to the historic landmark and enjoyed every minute of the trip.

Justine improves

Lottie and Lamar Echols traveled to Hiawassa, Ga. to drive Justine Lee back to her Sanford home. At one point, Justine was in critical condition, but, at this writing, has improved enough to come home.

Nigerian minister reviews culture

The Education Committee of the historic St. James AME Church recently held its first Afro-American culture program to inform the non-denominational community of adults and youth of their Afro-American culture.

The first speaker was Minister Moses Iloh of Lagos, Nigeria. Minister Iloh spoke of African culture. He indicated the group that the government plays an important part in the lives of the people. One of the most enforced laws are that on the third Saturday of the month, each household has to remain at home and clean their house. If they are caught in the streets before 11 a.m. they can be arrested and jailed.

This curfew, he said, is indeed mandatory. Many other customs of Nigeria are carried out by the natives. Fathers choose their daughters' husbands and the intended spouse goes through a ceremony to show that he can protect and take care of the girl who will become his wife.

Minister Iloh will soon be returning to his native country after a visit with his daughters, Molly and Edith, who live in Seminole County.

The second Afro-American culture program to make the community interested will feature Mandela S. Mandela of Jacksonville on Sunday, Nov. 22, from 9:30-10:45 a.m. The program will be presented at the historic St. James AME Church, 9th St. and Cypress Ave. Mr. Mandela, born Russell Eric Baker by his parents, legally changed his name to Mandela S. Mandela, a name he feels is "more reflective of his African heritage."

Mandela is the youngest brother of Stewart Baker, retired educator who taught for many years in the Seminole educational system. A native of Florida, Mandela and his wife, Judith, and their children, Moseola II and Lisa Mabebe, live in Jacksonville. Because of their strong spiritual base, he is an ardent member of St. Paul AME Church. Mandela is also cognizant of the value of his

Craft fair held

The upstairs room at Rolling Hills Golf Club was transformed into a holiday shopping event by seven very talented friends in Longwood. The group has a craft fair once a year to display and sell their wonderful creations. Fran Lee, Charles Weiler, Mary Blair, Barbara McLaughlin, Ben Keenum, Jody Korstad, and Donnie Jacolick have been sharing their creations for the past 13 years with area residents. Their talents and crafts are in different areas, from porcelain and clay figures, stained glass creations, holiday arrangements, mixed media paintings, wood and shell crafts, floral designs, and calligraphy. Each person's display area was filled with unique items that represented many hours of painstaking work.

Ed Myer Day

Deputy Mayor Rex Anderson has declared that Nov. 14 was Ed Myer Day in Longwood. Ed Myer has lived in Longwood since February 1960, and served on the Longwood Commission from 1984 to 1987. In 1987 he suggested that everyone go to "Victoria's Secret" and buy a piece of apparel that they could wear under their costume that would make them feel good about themselves. The next season when he asked if the members had done what he suggested, someone from the back row threw a "red bra" up and in front of the instructor. The incident provided the impetus that placed them so high in the competition.

"I felt great about coming in 13th because there were 26 choruses from all over the world and to end up in the middle the first time out was really great," remarked Marshall. Other members were equally thrilled, but stated the next trip to International (Reno, Nev. November, 1994), they will be better prepared and a better chorus.

The chorus has been working toward its goal for the past 18 months. Its members have put on shows in the surrounding communities, worked conventions events in the Orlando Area and contracted with Disney World to perform. This not counting the weekly practice time every member has to put in.

"Sound of Sunshine" is a chorus of 97 women. They are looking forward to adding 20 to 30 new members in time for the April regional. Contact any member for information.

By Bernice Bede Oost YOUR BIRTHDAY Nov. 15, 1992

Advancement in your chosen field of endeavor is a strong possibility in the year ahead, especially if the good job you've done hasn't been properly acknowledged in the past. You won't be overlooked now.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Your instincts to succeed could be more acute than usual today. Success is likely -- if you clarify your objectives. All you need is a well-defined agenda. Scorpio, treat yourself to a birthday gift. Send for Scorpio's Astro-Graph predictions for the year ahead by mailing $1.25 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Try not to waste your time on trivial issues today; Lady Luck is apt to be kinder to you if you are patient to pull off something big. Elevate your expectations.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Striving to develop a second source of income should be given top priority today. You could be extremely lucky in this area -- if you just apply yourself properly.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Seek companions today who are positive, productive and enthusiastic. Good things could happen for you through your associations with dynamic individuals.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Your greatest rewards today could come from situations where you draw upon the resources of others. However, it's essential that you share anything you gain.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You could be more fortunate than usual at this time through those with whom you have a good social relationship. If you're in need of a special favor, buzz them first.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Be persistent in financial matters today; what you touch can be turned into your ultimate benefit. Your opportunities have good bottom-line possibilities.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) If something you're presently in-involved with others has been too loose-knit to be effective, take it upon yourself to reorganize the endeavor today. It can be done.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You're in a rather unique cycle where ways can be found to increase your present earnings. It's up to you to utilize your imagination and creativity for this purpose.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Your skills as a salesman will be difficult for others to equal or resist today, especially if you're trying to advance an issue or add the straw that could break the camel's back.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Before accusing your mate of dragging feet, make sure you're doing everything that is required of you. There's a possibility you're not.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Occasionally, we all have to perform chores we find distasteful. This might be your lot in life today, so do what's required with a smile, not a frown.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Try to steer clear of a controversial situation today that involves two friends. Your input could complicate matters rather than resolve them.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Disagreements with family members or relatives should not be aired in public today. Instead of getting sympathy or support, this forum will make everyone look bad in the eyes of others.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Strive today to be encouraging of associates who express their ideas to you, not critical. If you have any comments, make sure they're constructive.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Before taking on any long-term obligations at this time, review the situations from every angle. If you're impulsive, you could create hardships for yourself in the future.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Be both patient and persevering today. If you're stymied by a lack of support from associates, with regard to something that affects your self-interest, don't fret; you can win them over.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Do not expect others to do for you today what you're capable of taking care of yourself. Individuals you'll be involved with will resent being manipulated or used.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) If you put your frivolous interests ahead of your duties today, you might find temporary pleasure -- but it won't equal the guilt you'll collect from being unproductive.

Yesterday I mentioned the forthcoming Apple release of a Personal Digital Assistant under the code-name of Newton. Sir Isaac of that ilk once cried: "O Diamond! Diamond! Thou little knowest the mischief done!"

Diamond was Newton's dog. He had just knocked over a candle, setting fire to some papers and "destroyed the almost finished labours of some years."

In today's deal, the diamond suit is the key to success. How would you try to make six hearts after a club lead?

In the auction, four clubs and four spades were cue-bids, showing first-round controls in those suits.

Declarer saw that he had two options: He could take a diamond finesse or he could play to establish a long diamond for a spade discard. But South couldn't try both options. If he took a losing diamond finesse, the defender would return a spade, knocking out a key entry. Even if the diamonds were 3-3, there wouldn't be a dummy entry left once the suit was established.

A finesse is a 50-50 proposition, whereas 84 percent of the time the diamonds will break either 3-3 or 4-2. So, declarer won the first trick and cashed the heart ace. If the trumps had split 4-0, he would have been forced to rely on the diamond finesse. But, when everyone followed, South continued with the ace and queen of diamonds. West won and switched to a spade, but declarer won in the dummy, ruffed a diamond in hand, returned to dummy with a heart and ruffed another diamond in hand. Finally, he played a trump to the dummy and cashed the diamond seven, discarding his spade loser.

Man who won't tango gives fiancée cold feet

DEAR ABBY: I love to dance. Ever since I was a young girl, dancing has been something I enjoyed enormously. My problem is I'm engaged to a man who never learned to dance.

I really miss dancing, but I don't want to go out and dance with other men. I feel very sensual when I dance, and I don't want to share that feeling with anyone else but my fiancé.

I have tried to explain how important it is to me that we not only have the option of going out dancing once in a while, but also that I have always wanted to dance at my wedding. He doesn't seem to care how much it means to me, because he won't even try.

I offered to pay for dance lessons and asked him to try just 10 lessons and then if he still didn't like it, I would drop the whole subject. He refused to go, saying it makes him uncomfortable and he's just not a dancer!

I'm having second thoughts about marrying a man who refuses to try something that is important to me. I think he's being selfish.

What do you think, Abby? Should I drop the subject — or drop him? P.S. Please reply soon. We're supposed to be married in four months.

FRUSTRATED
DEAR FRUSTRATED: If you would seriously consider dropping your fiancé because he's not a dancer and doesn't want to take lessons, I suggest you postpone your wedding date until your judgment matures.

DEAR ABBY: I am one of those old-fashioned fellows who still believe that if you love someone enough to want to live with her, you should love her enough to want to marry her. But consider this: My daughter (in her teens) found "Joe," her "one true love." She moved in with him. They were planning to get married — eventually — but the baby came first. Unfortunately, Joe was killed in an automobile accident.

Joe's employer had coverage and benefits for a legal spouse only, not for live-in friends.

The U.S. government also had some benefits, but for legal spouses only, not for live-in friends.

How many couples living together today think that far ahead? Social Security is great protection for the wife and kids should something happen to the father. But if the woman is what we used to call "shacking up" in the eyes of the law, she is only a friend who happens to live at the same address.

My daughter is now very sorry she and Joe didn't tie the knot.

SAD GRANDDAD
DEAR SAD: You don't say where your daughter lives, but "common-law" marriages ARE recognized in some states. Your daughter should check with the Marriage License Bureau to discover if common-law marriage is applicable in her case, and if it is, she should reapply for assistance.

DEAR ABBY: I recently had occasion to use some of your advice. I was a houseguest in a very fine home in Miami. While in the bathroom, I saw a large roach crawling up the wall. I tried to kill it, but it was a lot quicker than I was.

My hostess asked me why I was banging on the wall. I told her, quietly, that I tried to kill a roach. She was a bit upset and LOUISE A. DRELLING, FOUNTAIN VALLEY, CALIF. P.S. Abby, "Little" Kathy is now 19, and in her third year of college.

DEAR MRS. DRELLING: In her third year of college at 19? Not surprising, thanks for sharing a delightful memory.

DEAR ABBY: Some time ago, I read a letter in your column expressing sadness over the readiness of drivers to exchange obscene one-fingered salutes and the general lack of courtesy. She wanted to know if there was some way to promote courtesy and goodwill.

We all make errors in driving, either in judgment, lack of attention or knowledge. In the spirit of harmony, I am suggesting we might promote a language of hand gestures to communicate messages other than anger or irritation.

Your column reaches so many people, I am sure your readers could add to or improve on these. We need to make traveling our highways a pleasant and safe experience.

Thank you for anything you can do. DODIE RUEGEMER

THE RICH DON'T HAVE ROACHES

DEAR ABBY: Having just read the letter in your column about small children getting lost in department stores, I just had to write and tell you about my daughter, Kathy.

Many years ago, when Kathy was 3 1/2 years old, I took her with me to a large hardware store. While I was busy looking through a bin of small tools for an item I needed, I suddenly realized that Kathy was gone from my side.

As I walked through the aisles looking for her, I was startled to hear my name called over the public address system:

"Attention, please. Will Louise Drelling please come to the register!"

I hurried to the register, and there I saw little Kathy standing beside the cashier. The cashier whispered in my ear: "Your child came over here and said, 'Will you please call Louise

Business

IN BRIEF

FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS

First Union

First Union is now offering Braille and large-print account statements for checking and savings customers in North and South Carolina. The free service will be expanded into Georgia by next week, and into Florida by early 1993.

"Our goal is to help visually impaired customers achieve greater independence in handling their finances," said Wendy Nenninger, Quality Service Manager.

Nenninger estimated that among the total customer base of 5.7 million, over 700 persons will avail themselves of the Braille, and almost 1,500 will select the large-print.

The new statements in the large print, will be abbreviated, containing a summary of account activities. In addition, customers will also receive current statements with minimum balances, average daily balances and other information.

Customers interested in the new service may inquire at any of First Union's 898 banking offices throughout the Southeast.

Locally, First Union main offices are located at 101 E. First Street in downtown Sanford, with a motor-bank facility at 1601 S. French Ave.

Land for sale

The Atlanta office of Resolution Trust Corporation will be selling a large block of land on Florida's east coast. The property, a three-building site, is the former Castaway Beach Resort Motel, with approximately 630 feet of frontage on the beach.

Sealed bids will be opened on Nov. 30. For information, contact Becky Courson, (407) 333-9797.

BUSINESS ASSISTANCE

Seminole Chamber breakfast meeting

The Greater Seminole Chamber of Commerce will hold its monthly breakfast buffet on Nov. 18. The featured guest will be John Rich of Richeo Associates who will speak on "Surviving the Recession."

The breakfast will begin at 7:20 a.m., at the Holiday Inn on Wymore Road in Altamonte Springs. Advance reservations are required by phoning the chamber at 834-4404.

Sanford Chamber leadership

The next Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce "Leadership Sanford" program will begin in March of next year. An annual activity, the program selects the most dynamic members of the Sanford business community and gives them the insights into the issues that affect the community. The course is designed to motivate and educate potential community leaders in all aspects of business life in the area.

According to Executive Director Dave Farr, "We don't have application forms ready at this point, but we are now accepting names for the list, and as there will be a limited number of participants, an early listing is advisable."

Persons seeking to be included in the next Leadership Sanford program, or wishing to suggest someone in their company or business, should phone the Chamber office at 322-2212 during regular business hours.

Deltona Chamber leadership

The Deltona Area Chamber of Commerce graduated its first class in Leadership Southwest Volusia, during this past week. Graduates and sponsors met for the awarding of plaques at Deltona Hills Golf and Country Club. Awards were handed out by Harry Arnold, president of First State Bank of Florida, who was the chairman and organizer of this first year's program, and Dr. Jeff Timko, Chairman of the Leadership DeLand Advisory Committee and member of the Volusia County School Board.

Plans are already being formulated for the second Leadership Southwest Volusia training program. Persons interested in the 1993 sessions are asked to contact the Chamber at (407) 574-5522.

Small business course

The Small Business Development Center, in the University of Central Florida's college of business administration, is offering a course entitled "Expand your Business Through Financing."

The half-day workshop will be presented Thurs., Nov. 19 from 9 a.m. until noon at UCF, in the College of Business Building, room 371. The cost is $20 per person. Advance registration is required.

The program is aimed at retailers, service providers, persons in the construction business and wholesalers.

For information on the course, contact the Small Business Development Center, (407) 823-5554.

BUSINESS / PROFESSIONS

Moved to bigger facility

Senco of Florida, Longwood sales and service center, has moved to bigger facilities. A grand opening is to be announced at the new location, Longwood Business Center, 765 W. Sanlando Springs Rd., Longwood. Phone 339-8810 or 1-800-432-2950.

Senco handles fastening systems, tools, compressors and accessories.

Jewelry

Sean M. Russell, of A.A. Friedman Company, Inc., 3629 Orlando Drive in Sanford, has recently completed the Diamond Council of Americas course in Diamontology. Russell is now registered as a Certified Diamontologist with the Council.

Russell has been with Friedman's for three and a half years, and presently serves as store manager. Regarding the schooling, Russell commented, "This course has increased my confidence when presenting diamond merchandise, and I highly recommend the DCA course."

Technical assistance

For the eighth consecutive year, the Florida Procurement Technical Assistance program has received funding from the Dept. of Defense to provide procurement and technical assistance to Florida's business community.

The funds amount to $300,000, and will be used in helping obtain a larger portion of defense contracts for businesses throughout the state including those in the Central Florida area.

Storer to expand in Lake Mary

LAKE MARY — Fred Little, manager of the area Storer Cable Company operations, has painted a bright picture for cable customers in Lake Mary. He made a presentation before the Lake Mary City Commission earlier this month.

"We have made many advancements during 1992," he said, "and we plan even more in this coming year."

Early last year, Little was called to appear before the commission on several occasions, to respond to complaints about a number of line outages, and poor reception. "During this year," he told the commission, "I believe we have responded to all of your objections, and I think we have all of problems resolved now."

"We have replaced or rebuilt all of the cables in the older neighborhoods," he said, "and increased our service to new communities and developments, as well as adding Pay-Per-View to our customers for movie viewing."

"During 1993," he continued, "we are going to continue to improve the service we already are giving, as well as adding some new features to Storer customers."

Among them he explained DMX, "Digital Music Express," which will be offered as an option to customers.

"With DMX," Little said, "we will be sending in to your homes, 30 separate channels of quality music. Each channel will have one particular type of music including classical, big band, country, jazz, rock, and even various types of ethnic music."

"These channels will have a small box that will enable users to receive them through the cable," he said, "but patch them into stereo hi-fi systems, so that you will have stereo sound of the highest quality."

The DMX service offered by Storer will be available at an additional charge of $9.95 per month.

Little said he was going to reveal the entire concept during this month's mixer meeting of the Greater Seminole Chamber of Commerce.

"As a Christmas bonus," he said, "for customers who have this DMX system soon, we will have three channels devoted entirely to Christmas music from shortly after Thanksgiving, through the Christmas holidays."

"Other innovations we are planning," he continued, "is the addition of American Movie Classics, and music and programming especially designed for the Hispanic community, which is growing rapidly in the area of Central Florida served by Storer."

In addition to serving the City of Lake Mary, Altamonte Springs and various other areas of South Seminole County, Storer also telecasts all regular meetings of the Lake Mary City Commission to viewers in the Lake Mary subscribing area.

Former Kmart chairman dead at 85

From Staff and Wire Reports

Harry B. Cunningham, the former chairman of Kmart Corp. credited with creating the multibillion-dollar discount store chain, died in his sleep at his North Palm Beach, Fla., home. He was 85.

"Harry Cunningham's vision, creativity and leadership have reshaped the world of retailing. His contribution to Kmart Corp. will long be remembered by all who had the pleasure of working with him," Joseph E. Antolini, chairman, president and chief executive officer of the Troy-based company, said Thursday.

IRS refunds undelivered

SANFORD — There are 3,501 residents somewhere in North and Central Florida, who may be eligible for over $2 million. The money is in yet-unpaid Internal Revenue Service tax refunds.

The Jacksonville IRS office is looking for the whereabouts of the residents who were mailed their tax refunds earlier this year, but had the letters returned because they contained an improper address.

The amount of the individual refunds range from an average of $583 to as high as approximately $1 million.

James J. Ryan, director of the IRS in Jacksonville said, "The taxpayers may have moved or changed their last names during the year and failed to notify the IRS."

He continued, "The best way to avoid misdirected refund checks is to use the peel-off label found in the tax package, or file your return electronically, having your refund deposited directly into your bank account."

Recently, the U.S. Postal Service issued a press release warning customers about a Ft. Lauderdale firm, the Center for Refund Services. The firm charges a fee for a booklet explaining how to apply for an unclaimed refund. Ryan commented, "This same information is available free, from IRS."

Taxpayers who are expecting a refund for 1991 or prior years, and have moved or changed their name during the year are urged to phone the IRS at 1-800-829-1040.

In the entire state, the IRS reported 8,044 taxpayers are due for refunds which total over $5.3 million.

Refund checks still in the mail

The postal service has been unable to deliver more than $5,360,143 in federal tax refund checks to 8,044 Floridians. Taxpayers can call 1-800-829-1040 to check on the status of undeliverable tax refunds.

Dollar amount of undelivered refunds in the IRS Southeast region

1. Florida	$5,360,143	6. South Carolina	$369,339
2. Georgia	$1,253,555	7. Alabama	$351,787
3. North Carolina	$668,138	8. Mississippi	$214,595
4. Tennessee	$493,025	9. Arkansas	$212,831
5. Louisiana	$416,559
