

Lyman Standout Ruled Ineligible

Lyman's hopes for a successful season's basketball opener went glimmering Monday night when Gary Ferrin, top point maker for the squad, was declared academically ineligible for competition this season. Coach Walt Dzurus said today.

The Greyhounds, who take the floor tonight against a hot Florida Air Academy quintet, will also be suffering from injuries with Wiseman still nursing a broken finger and a couple of the boys favoring minor injuries.

Allen Birkenmeyer will make his first appearance as a basketball player tonight when he goes into action in place of the ineligible Ferrin. Dzurus says Allen will shape up toward midseason but it will take time.

"It looks like a long cold winter for the Greyhounds without Ferrin, but Allen can do the job, given time to get the feel of the ball," said Dzurus.

Strikes . . . Spares

Just a quickie reminder, right off the bat! Charles Music Co./Sunday Sweeper this coming Sunday starting at 1 p.m. Remember, two weeks ago we awarded over $500.00 in prize money. It's handicapped . . . everyone stands an equal chance of going home a winner.

Without a doubt, one of the highlights of any woman's bowling since Jet Lanes opened here in Sanford was the bowling turned in by Dot Powell last Thursday night! It's a heck of a lot better than those scores turned in by the professional women bowlers which you may or may not watch on television.

Dot started with a tremendous 232, followed it with another Big Deuce — a 215 and then she got just a little tired with her third game and finished the series with a 209 . . . 556 scratch! Do you realize that's a 218 (Boy would I like to get that tired that I'd start to roll 200 games!)

This is the highest woman's sanctioned league series reported to date! That's terrific and it couldn't happen to a better person.

It was a pleasure watching Helen Altman cut loose with her destructive "Strike Ball" in the Friday evening Mr. & Mrs. League.

Helen rolled the hi game for the girls with a 190 game as Elaine Kostival continues her good bowling by capturing series honors with a 409.

A two-six game was the Big One in the Sand Spurs League.

Credit it to Peggy Stewart of the Jet Inn foursome. And she took series too, with a 510. Atta girl, Peggy! In this league, Pat Robbins of the Stempers Realty girls shot a nice game, a 181. A couple of other 180-plus games belong to Factory Outlet's Evelyn Uhr's 183 & Louise Horsford's 186.

Ge, but those DeBary Spare Ribbers have some mighty fine bowlers in their league. I really mean it! Consider the fact that none of them are under 55 years of age and yet they turn in some hi games.

As an example, Ellsworth Ogden of the FATS team shot a 203, 325/604 series. You think I'm kidding or flattering them just cause of their age. Not on your life. When you can average over the 200 mark, it doesn't make a "hoot" whether you're 8 or eighty. That's bowling and scores which you have right to be proud of!

Ole Orville Jones, in this same Spare Ribbers bunch, also came into the spotlight with his sterling 208 game. Jonesy has been known to un-learn a Big Game on more occasions than not!

Evidently, those few lessons are starting to pay-off for Louise Cadenhead.

A couple of weeks ago she said she was having a bit of a problem. So we watched her roll a couple of frames and told her what I thought she was doing wrong. If my memory serves me correctly, since then her name has been mentioned either for the high game or series in the last three or four league reports I've seen.

Just this past week she was tops in the Holler Motors Navy Wives Lg with a 190/400 duo.

If you're ever in a spot and you don't know what you're doing wrong with your bowling, remember, I give FREE LESSONS EVERY FRIDAY at 10 a.m.

My only point in mentioning these free lessons is that quite often, as in Louise's case, everyone had a different idea of what she was doing wrong. And you know what, not a one picked out the right thing!

In addition to Dot Powell burning up that Thursday Nite Mixed Lg. Erma Anderson has herself a "goodie!" too. Erma just missed that magic plateau as she checked in with a 198 game. Wound-up with a respectable 537 series. Eleanor Anderson (Pryor Insurance) didn't miss out either. She shot a 203 scratch. That's the way to keep our "left-handed" morale up, Eleanor.

I think it was in last week's column when we casually mentioned that B. P. Ward of the Jet Lanes Keglers Lg. was doing some fine bowling. I guess he likes to see his name in print (don't we all) cause he's gone and done it again.

Top man for this Kegler's Lg. is none other than Mr. Ward with a 217/533 series. You keep on bowling 'em high and I'll keep right on reporting it!

Bill Stein of Bill and Louise's Tavern barely missed on that 200 - strike with his 198 game. Incidentally, we certainly appreciate the comments he relayed to us from his sponsors regarding the increase in their business due to becoming a bowling team sponsor!

We talked with Mrs. Louise Holbrook of Bill & Louise's and she's just tickled pink for being asked to sponsor a team. What pleases me most is the fact that our bowling public recognizes her for what she's doing to help our sport and it in turn reciprocates by patronizing their place of business.

It's a two way street like we've been saying all along. It's good business to do business with your bowling league sponsors.

Hornets Defeat Sanford, 71-55

Sanford felt the sting of Bishop Moore's Hornets last night as they swarmed all over the Seminoles to gain a 71-55 victory at Orlando's Davis Armory.

With three Hornet players over six-four on the floor, the Sanford lads had a job of containment to do and with Moore's Jansen hitting 15 and missing three, it wasn't until the third quarter that the Indians were able to throw a zone defense against the big boys that did the job.

Sanford's Mike Woodruff was high man for the local quintet with 21 points.

Score by quarters:
Bishop Moore 17 25 11 18—71
Sanford 16 14 11 14—55

New Scratch Team Mark Is Set In City League By Monroe Inn

A new scratch team series was set in the City League when the Lake Monroe Inn Keglers rolled a 297 total for three games. This score bettered the existing all-time high for the Sanford Bowling Assn., also held by Lake Monroe Inn, with an average of 195 for each man. Top man was Garry Fox with a 622 series, followed closely by De Palma's 621, Pentecost's 602, Pivec's 540 and Callan's 533. A new high single for the league was also established during this series when the "Durzo men" came up with a 1024 scratch total for their second game.

Despite the high games against the unfortunate team No. 1, Lake Monroe Inn failed to gain ground on the league leaders, B&W Marine Service. Spolaki again led his team with a 216/501 score with Borsdorf rolling an even 200 for the only other 200 game in the match. Rodriguez was high for the losers with a 506 series.

Sweeney's came up with three 200 games in their match with Buddy's Auto to take 3 points and move into third place. Dorman with 420, Marcotte 210 and Dunson 214, led the winners while Von Herbulis had a 202 in a losing cause for Buddy's Gene Estridge came blasting through with a 211/602 series, but even with Forgy's 230 second game, Engle's could only take one point from team No. 4 and dropped from third to fourth place in the standings. Haney was high for team No. 4 with a 526 series.

In the last match, Harry's Lajour took the measure of Sanford Mfg. Co., by 5-1 score. Farella's 201/561 and Ben's 208 single for Harry's proved too much for Meltzer's man to overcome, although Bidegas was in there trying with a 210/564 series.

Four Teams Vie For Loop Lead

There are four teams battling for the first three positions this week in the Sanford Herald Mr. and Mrs. League.

Johnsons and Kostivals are tied for first, 33 wins and 19 losses; Bassett's are second with 32 wins and 20 losses, and Spolakis moved up into third with 31 wins and 21 losses.

Helen Altman rolled high game of 190 and John Spolaki rolled a high series of 334. High games were rolled by John, 187, Harold Johnson, 183, and Don Spotts 183. Jack Weible converted the 3-10 split twice.

Button Sparks Mayfair Win

Dot Button was back in the groove again as she rolled both high game and series, 201-311 to help the Mayfair Inn split their points 2-2 with Nationwide Insurance in the Hi-Mooners League.

Showmaker Construction won three points from M&R Bar. The CPO Wives and the Mar Lee Restaurant split their points 2-2, and Grapeville Nursery made a clean sweep against Stenstrom Realty.

Leth Ward converted the 4-3-7; Fernie Schaefer 5-7-9; Carolyn Sallee 2-10; Teena Armaso 3-10; and Mildred Nicholde the 7-4. Turkeys were rolled by Dot Button and Charlotte Sierra.

Bobby Lundquist Nets 53 Points In Biddy Contest

Bobby Lundquist set a scoring mark of 53 points in Sanford Biddy Basketball play as his team, WTRR, defeated Robson's Sporting Goods by a 67-9 score. Phil Lindsey led Robson's with five points.

Sanford Atlantic Bank nipped Day and Night Grill, 34-29, in a real thriller. Bruce McKibbin had 18 points for Sanford Atlantic and Ken Hinsen had 14 for Day and Nite Grill.

Standard Oil continued undefeated by dumping First Federal, 45-23. The oilmen were led by Bill Higginbotham and Dave Richards with 14 points each. Rick Fordham gathered 13 for First Federal.

Sanford Electric defeated Strickland Morrison. Mike Long led Sanford Electric with 80 points.

30 Racing Kennels To Enter Season At Sanford-Orlando

A total of 30 racing kennels, representing the most impressive lineup of greyhounds ever assembled at the track, have been booked for the coming season at Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club.

The kennel list announced by Manager Jack Ledoux, includes virtually all of last year's top performers plus many powerful newcomers. Some 900 fleet greyhounds will be ready for action when schooling starts Dec. 25, and the cream of the crop will be selected to race opening night, Jan. 5.

Carl Tracy and Orville Moses, who finished one-two in a tight battle for leading kennel honors last season, head the list of returnees. Altogether eight of the top 10 money winners from 1962 are coming back to the bustling Longwood racing strip.

J. M. Edwards rates as perhaps the most prominent name among the newcomers for 1963 as many of his greyhounds rank among the all-time favorites at Sanford-Orlando for years gone by.

Other interesting additions to last year's roster include Circus City Ranch, Cecil Austin, T. J. Daniels and Fred Tevillon.

Mac Tray, Derby winner last year, Barnacle Bob and Ed's Exodus rate high among the champion greyhounds slated for action when the season opens Jan. 5.

Reno, Kostival Lead Winners

Sue Reno and Elaine Kostival did the Gaslighter proud. Sue had a real big 180 leading to a 472 series, at the same time picked off the 5-10 and 5-7 spare. Elaine topped that a little with 184 and a whopping 520 series.

Horne's Dist. took four away from Michael's. Helen Altman took high series, 434. June Gassman converted the 5-5-10. Lorraine Spotts picked up the difficult 6-7 spare. Dot Johnson really pushed for Harold's Garage team. Dot had high game 183, high series 490 and to top it off bowled over the 3-10 and 2-7.

Spencer's won three over Mac's Oil. Mabel Duggan rolled three in a row for a 174, while Sub Shirley Martin had a nice 184 and the high series of 478.

Arietio Takes Jai-Alai Honors

Arietio was one of the top stars during the action at the Fronton last night, winning three games. The veteran star won the fifth game for the 14th time this season, teaming up with Lorenzo and then rallied to take the featured eighth game singles.

In his only other appearance of the evening, he was in contention in the eleventh until Gasti and Agustin rallied to take the all star finale. Arietio was partners with Elorri and finished out of the money.

Sanford Is Proposed For New HHFA Center

Officials of the Housing and Home Finance Agency expressed interest today in Sanford as a possible location for a new regional office of the agency and announced that a former Sanford man, Harry Lindsay, would head the office.

An announcement of Lindsay's appointment to supervise an East-Central Florida office of HHFA was made to a group of city and county officials by McCallan Hatchford, chief of the agency's Atlanta office.

Mayor J. H. (Jimmy) Crappa, who offered the full cooperation of the city as a site for the new six-county area office, pointed out the central location of Sanford and the excellent transportation to any location as prime considerations.

The new office is the result of the NASA Nova development for the Cape Canaveral area, and the need arising out of the super-rocket project there.

Hatchford, addressing the group, called together by former senator Douglas Stenstrom, declared that the impact of the moon shot effort has made establishment of an office in the East-Central area of the state a necessity because of the exploding needs of the towns here for funds to meet new demands on their services.

Hatchford explained to the group that the HHFA is the result of consolidating five federal agencies in the business of providing funds for needed construction: Federal Housing Administration, Public Housing Administration, Urban Renewal Administration, Community Finance Agency and the Federal National Mortgage Assn. The combining of the agencies into one organization has made the acquisition of federal funds easier and faster for local communities.

The new local office will make information more easily available and Lindsay's job will be to prove the necessary guidance to those needing the services of the agency.

Improvement Set By Hospital Board

Decision was made Tuesday by the Seminole Memorial Hospital Board of Directors to have Attorney Gordon Frederick draw up an agreement for board approval, with Architect John Burton, IV, for plans to expand the hospital kitchen and services and complete the outfitting of the pediatric wing.

The project, which will cost $100,000, will be financed out of HHFA-Burton money from the Florida Development Commission, and $33,000 which the hospital has on hand.

The board also voted $7,858 to finish paying the construction costs on the new wing.

Originally built to serve 65 to 70 patients, the kitchen is taxed to capacity to serve the present patient load of the facility. The new plans to expand the services will bring them up to standard for the anticipated increase in the number of patients which made the additional wing necessary.

Farm Chemical Program Urged

ATLANTA (UPI) — The American Farm Bureau Federation's annual convention was expected today to call for an aggressive educational campaign to help farmers use chemicals without leaving dangerous residues on foods.

The resolutions committee urged the campaign in a proposal to delegates to the 44th annual convention of the national biggest farm group. Final action on resolutions was scheduled Thursday on the convention's closing day.

Farm Bureau policy drafters hit at "attempts to create the illusion of farm chemicals or that their use is a serious threat to public health and welfare."

But the proposed resolution added to that: "We have a responsibility to see that agricultural chemicals and drugs are properly used."

13 More Stills Go

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — State beverage agents knocked out 13 more stills Tuesday and early today, pushing the total of moonshine operations put out of business since Dec. 1 to 24. Arrests totaled 20.

Save Again

People can save at least 10 percent by purchasing items as advertised in newspapers, a recent university survey showed. Seminole County shoppers can save more than that in many cases and be eligible for free gift certificates of $45, $35 and $25 in addition by shopping Sanford Friday specials.

Thursday's Herald will carry another two-page spread of downtown merchant's special offerings for Friday and Saturday, with the free gift certificates being awarded right after the 9 p. m. closing hour Friday.

Roumillat New C Of C President

Francis Roumillat Jr. was unanimously elected president of the Chamber of Commerce at a meeting of the board of directors Tuesday night.

Other officers elected were Scott Burns, first vice president, and Howard Hodges, secretary.

Robert Besserer and Douglas Stenstrom were named executive committee members.

In other business, directors tabled action on supporting a proposal that the commercial aircraft terminal facilities at McCoy Air Force Base at Orlando be designated as the Central Florida regional airport.

Most directors wanted more time to study the Orlando city council proposal before lending their support.

One director said "it looks like all Orlando is trying to do is hog everything," while another chimed in, "let's give it more study."

The board agreed to turn the matter over to the executive committee for study.

MIAMI (UPI) — Mrs. Josefina Encarnacion, who loved big coronas cigars and strong rum, died Tuesday at the reported age of 114 at a local nursing home. The tiny Puerto Rico native did not know for sure whether she was 112, 114 or 115. "Too many years have gone by for me to remember," she once said. The funeral home listed her as 114.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — As it now shapes up, the 1964 budget President Kennedy is preparing to send Congress in January will project spending of nearly $100 billion. Planned outlays for the fiscal year which starts July 1 may well exceed $99 billion, topping the all-time high of $98.3 billion reached in 1945 under war financing pressures.

TAMPA (UPI) — A sack of registered mail, crammed with Christmas checks, cash and money orders, was stolen from a mail truck Tuesday night when the driver got out to pick up more mail.

All County Crops Near Destruction

County truck crops stand perilously close to ruin today as county agricultural officials plan a wait and see policy until Thursday before counting up the extensive damage to the county's million dollar vegetable industry.

Freezing weather ripped into the county's tomato, bean, egg plant, okra and pepper crops, virtually wiping out the entire production, Asst. County Agent Ernie Lundberg said.

The king of the truck crop industry here, cabbage, is still strong but continued freezing temperatures as forecast for tonight could ruin that, too, Lundberg said.

"Right now, it's just impossible to determine the amount of damage in dollars and cents," Lundberg added.

"The only hopeful sign was the early morning rains which helped the vegetable crops more than any sunshine could," Lundberg said.

Temperatures reached below freezing this morning here and continued cold is forecast for tonight and in the morning, with lows in the 20s predicted.

Sanford temperature was rising during the early morning rain, but began to dip again about 6 a. m. and had dropped 10 degrees by 10 a. m. when it was 34. It still was 34 at noon.

A windy cold wave moved into Florida today on the heels of a freeze Tuesday, and the Miami Weather Bureau predicted temperatures in the northern part of the state would drop to 15 degrees tonight.

Clouds and rain accompanied the new onslaught.

A Weather Bureau forecaster said the cold wave would be "worse than Tuesday's," which hit the state's truck crop region hard, but went easy on the citrus belt.

Dividing the state into north and south with a line stretching from Tampa to Melbourne, the forecaster said temperatures would drop 10 degrees lower than the sub-freezing mercury recorded in northern areas Tuesday.

"Lows will vary from 15 to 20 degrees in the north today and tonight," the forecaster said, "and from 30 to 35 in the southern part." He added, however, that windy, rainy weather in the northern area would drift south tonight, making it "hard for farmers to protect crops."

This cold is entirely different from Tuesday's, he said. "Not only will the temperatures be lower, but the wind will make things worse. A high wind almost kills the effectiveness of smudge pots."

Tuesday's freeze sent temperatures plunging to 25 in Tallahassee, 23 in Gainesville, and in the mid-20's in Jacksonville. It was the coldest spell in South Florida since the disastrous freeze of the 1957-58 winter.

Tourists in South Miami shivered to the tune of 27 degrees early in the day, and suburbanites found their cars covered with frost.

The coldest weather of the year knifed all across Dixie, causing at least one death.

Chattanooga, Tenn., reported its first exposure death of the year—a 73-year-old Negro man found frozen in an unheated room.

Weather bureau forecasts promised no relief.

In the heart of Dixie temperatures were expected to drop to zero in some areas again tonight.

Six to seven inches of snow were reported on the Cumberland plateau in Tennessee where temperatures dropped to nine below.

Snow, Freeze Leave 94 Dead

By United Press International

Bitter, sub-zero cold and a week-long avalanche of snow punished the Midwest and Northeast today with winter officially still nine days off.

It was warmer in Anchorage. The Alaskan city had 42 early today.

Four feet of snow was on the ground at Paw Paw, Mich., and heavy snow continued to fall in the Wolverine state near the Indiana border. South Haven, Mich., got 13 more inches in five hours.

Dozens were dead from weather-caused accidents and heart attacks. A United Press International count showed Michigan with 22 dead, Ohio 21, New England 10, New York 7, Indiana 7, Kentucky 6, Pennsylvania 6, Tennessee 4, West Virginia and Illinois 3 each and Missouri and Kansas 2 each for a total of 84.

Five foot drifts piled up at Grand Junction, Mich.

In the South Bend, Ind., area, hard hit earlier in the week, schools remained closed.

Hundreds of chilled apartment dwellers in Chicago called city offices to complain. Officials said they had never had so many protests.

The Automobile Club of Pittsburgh predicted 12,000 drivers in Pennsylvania's Allegheny County alone would find their cars dead this morning. Schools in Erie, Pa. were closed Tuesday after seven inches of new snow.

Record lows were set across a wide band. Three below zero was recorded at the Greater Pittsburgh Airport early today and broke the old mark of 2 set in 1960.

The mercury reached only 6 at Omaha, Neb., Tuesday, another record. Chicago's 7 below was a new low for Dec. 12.

The temperature plunged to 26 below zero at Sawbill Lodge, Minn., 18 below in Wisconsin's Sawyer County, 17 below at Williston, N. D., Tuesday.

Twelve more inches of snow heaped on to 17 inches already on the ground at Watertown, N. Y. and more was falling.

Snow Blocks Hell

HELL, Mich. (UPI) — The roads to Hell today were clogged with snow. Three-foot drifts were reported in Angole Pass and Sain's Hills near this village northwest of Ann Arbor.

Apportion Action Still Uncertain

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Legislative leaders who met with Gov. Farris Bryant late Tuesday said the meeting did not draw the Legislature any closer to a solution of the state's reapportionment problem.

"Right now, we are no closer to a solution than when the last special session adjourned in November," said House Speaker Mallory Horne of Leon.

Senate President Wilson Carraway of Tallahassee, who left the meeting about 15 minutes before Horne, had no comment.

Horne said chances that the Legislature can agree on a reapportionment plan are "very uncertain." But he said there is still a remote possibility of reaching an agreement in time for a special session before the regularly scheduled 1963 session.

120 Million Box Orange Crop

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department predicted Tuesday in its monthly national citrus estimate that Florida would produce 120.5 million boxes of oranges and 36 million boxes of grapefruit this season.

The orange crop prediction is about seven million boxes over last year—a six per cent increase. The grapefruit forecast is not much higher than last season.

According to the forecast, Florida's orange crop will include 56 million boxes of Valencia and 64.5 million boxes of early and mid-season varieties.

Nehru Reports Chinese Bullying On India Front

NEW DELHI (UPI)—Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru said today reports from the front indicate that Chinese troops are mounting a series of attacks on the heavily populated Assam Plains.

Nehru told India's Senate the Red invaders' concentration may be a preliminary to their proposed withdrawal from some of the Indian territory they have seized. Other high officials were reported worried, however, about the threat of a possible new Communist attack.

But China's official radio reported that the invaders moved north from Bandra Sunday. The same Peking broadcast, however, carried a report on conditions in the border community as of Tuesday.

U. S. Ambassador John G. Calbraith was flying home today to report to Kennedy on the Indian situation. He was traveling by way of New York on a schedule that would get him to the U.S. capital tonight.

Nehru indicated that Indian troops might renew the border war if it appeared to be in India's best interest to fight.

"We have taken no action to impede the cease-fire . . . but we have given no guarantee for the future," he said. "It all depends on the way things develop."

The premier rejected Red China's peace terms in a speech to the lower house of Parliament Tuesday, but there was no indication that India had any immediate plans to renew the fighting.

Balloonist To Try Look At Stars

HOLLOMAN AFB, N. M. (UPI)—The countdown began today for Thursday's scheduled launching of Project Stargazer—a balloon ascent to give man his first clear look at the stars.

If weather permits, the manned balloon will make the highest astronomical-research ascension in history.

A storm blanketing eastern New Mexico and west Texas forced at least a 24-hour delay of the Air Force balloon flight, originally planned for dawn today.

The telescope-topped aluminum gondola with a civilian astronomer and an Air Force captain inside will go 17 miles above the southern New Mexico desert and drift eastward while the two men get the first clear look at the stars in the history of astronomy.

Dr. J. Allen Hynek, project director from Northwestern University, said it would be "the greatest breakthrough in astronomy since Galileo."

Capt. Joseph W. Kittinger Jr., who more than two years ago made history with a high-altitude parachute jump from a balloon 102,000 feet above Holoman, and William C. White, a civilian technician at the naval ordnance Texas station at China Lake, Calif., will make the flight in the gondola carried by a reinforced plastic balloon inflated with helium.

White and Kittinger will ride the balloon up to its peak altitude about two hours after launch, and at the end of 28 hours will bring it down by releasing the helium.

British Give Cold Greeting To U. S. Missiles View

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Anglo-American relations were chilled to the near-freezing point today by U. S. threats to kill the Skybolt missile on which British has staked its nuclear future.

Rescuing the rocket project from oblivion will be at the top of Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's agenda when he goes to Nassau for conferences with President Kennedy starting a week from today.

By London accounts, Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara was subjected to a reception as an American has had in Britain's capital in many a year when he stubbornly expressed his conviction Tuesday that the missile was no longer needed.

A British spokesman said that Defense Minister Peter Thorneycroft left McNamara "under no illusions whatever" as to the consequences of American cancellation of the missile. Britain has counted on the Skybolt as its chief deterrent weapon from the mid-60's into the 1970's.

The British let it be known Tuesday that if the United States dropped the Skybolt project there would be an "agonizing reappraisal" of the Anglo-American alliance. This was viewed as a threat to the future of America's bomber and nuclear submarine bases in the British Isles.

$27,000 in Jewels Stolen In Hotel

NEW YORK (UPI)—The nation's prime target area for jewel thieves—the luxury hotels near Central Park's plaza—recorded another theft today, a $27,000 raid on the jewel box of actress Dolores Del Rio in her Hotel St. Regis suite.

Police said Miss Del Rio believed the jewels were taken sometime Monday evening or early Tuesday morning while she was out to dinner and the theater with her husband, producer-director Lewis Riley. She discovered the theft at noon Tuesday.

In the past few months several hundred thousand dollars of jewels have been stolen from guests by "cat" burglars at hotels near the Plaza, including the Hotel St. Regis, Hotel Pierre, and Essex House. The most recent theft was a $5,000 jewel robbery in the nearby Central Park South apartment of actress Joan Fontaine.

Peace Group Scoffs At Red Infiltration Charge

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The founder of a women's peace group today scoffed at the idea that a House inquiry into possible Communist infiltration might hurt her organization.

Mrs. Dagmar Wilson, a Washington, D. C., housewife and originator of "Women Strike for Peace," said she was not surprised by any disclosures of the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

The inquiry continued today.

The House group questioned three leaders of the women's organization Tuesday. Two invoked the Fifth Amendment and refused to say whether they had ever been Communists. The third said she had not been a party member during the past five years.

The hearings, attended by hundreds of women—some carrying babies—were disrupted Tuesday when a former FBI agent, Jack Levine, jumped up and shouted that the inquiry was "a disgrace."

Levine, hustled from the hearing room by three policemen, told newsmen that the House committee was trying to "smear" the peace movement. He said it was unfair.

Mrs. Wilson said that with a group as large as her—numbering perhaps half a million members across the country—there were bound to be some Communists or former Communist taking part.

But this didn't worry her, she said, because Communists—"just like anyone else"—are frightened over what might happen to the world if there is nuclear war.

Mrs. Wilson said her organization was started as a result of the Soviet Union's violation of the moratorium on nuclear arms tests. She said pickets opposing nuclear tests had walked in front of the Russian Embassy as well as the White House.

No one in her group ever suggested that they confine their protest to American tests and not the Russians, she told United Press International in an interview.

However, Rep. Clyde Doyle, (D-Calif.), who is leading the investigation, said Tuesday there was evidence indicating that Communists had deliberately "infiltrated" such peace groups.

How About A Return To More Colorful Political Phrases?

By Lyle C. Wilson
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The late Charles L. McNary had a socko name for the members of his political party who usually are tagged now as moderates. McNary called 'em soft-bellied. He was a Republican.
McNary was a U. S. senator from Oregon. In his later service he was first assistant leader and then leader of Senate Republicans. He was an able man, perhaps the best of the lot. All this was back there in the Coolidge and Hoover administrations.
As leader and assistant leader, McNary had to deal with the radical lefties of the Republican party, generally known at the time as progressive Republicans. They were a balky breed and tough. The late George H. Moses, also a U. S. senator, New Hampshire, summed up the progressives in a biblical phrase: the sons of the wild jackass.

There should be a return to the colorful political phraseology of 40 years ago. The words liberal and conservative as applied to politicians have just about lost all meaning. Radical, as a definition of political thinking, is dead. Right and left wing don't mean much, either. Books have been written about moderate Republicanism but no one understands what it means.

New Recreation Series To Begin During January

Jim Jernigan, Sanford director of recreation, announces today that registrations are being accepted for recreation activities to begin the first week in January. The activity schedule shows a variety of activities for young and old.
On Jan. 7 and each Monday following that, a Charm School for girls will be conducted. The class will be held Mondays from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m. The class is open to girls in junior and senior high. Timely tips in dressings, makeup and hair styling will be offered.
January 8 will mark the opening of a baton class for girls, age six and up. Baton class will be held Tuesdays and Thursdays at 4 p. m. for a total of 12 meetings.
January 10 will open a ballroom dance class for teenagers. All the latest steps will be taught by Miss Nancy Davis. There will be no charge on any of the teenage or children's activities.
Ballroom dance lessons for adult beginners will begin Tuesday, Jan. 8 at 7:30 p. m. Advance registration will be required.
Advanced ballroom dance lessons for adults will begin Jan. 10 at 7:30 p. m. each Thursday evening. Registration will be limited.
Adult square dance lessons will begin the third week in January and will run for 14 weeks. Interested couples should contact the recreation director.
Adult Basketball League will begin play Jan. 5. Deadline for team entries is Dec. 17.

Many years before that, the immortal Nast cartooned Tammany in New York City as a ruthless tiger. The image lives on but has lost all meaning. The Republican elephant, the Democratic donkey are tired. Teddy Roosevelt's 1912 bull moose long has been at pasture.
Cartoonists should come alive and jolt the public interest with new images of the political parties. The Democratic party that was lampooned many years ago as a donkey no longer exists. It may not be any wider than it used to be, but it is more numerous; actually the majority party in the United States. More properly, it should be known as the Democratic parties, because there are two of them North and South. Some cartoonist should make a picture of that. A two-headed beast, maybe.
The Republican elephant is equally outmoded. That party no longer is the ponderous giant of politics, the master of the political jungle. The Republican Party is a bowl of ice cream and onions or, maybe, a Model T touring car of the middle 1920s, hand cranked and still using its planetary reverse gear as a brake.
Maybe some cartoonist could make something of that. As for the political writers, they should improve upon the colorful phrases of McNary and George Moses. Soft-bellied! There's a phrase for you. It conveys something. Sons of the wild jackass! There's another.
Let's get political writing and political cartooning to moving again. If the citizens could be persuaded to read about politics, maybe more of 'em would vote.

Less Than Perfect

One of the more insidious dangers of the cold war is that our own people, by the Communist system they have set up to be concerned with the political and ideological status in Russia, are not seeing the danger to our own.

Communism is not a religion. It is a system. It is a system of exploitation and oppression. It is a system of exploitation and oppression. It is a system of exploitation and oppression.

This is not merely the occasional headline - making scandal involving a respected Wall Street broker or trusted small-town banker. It is also the everyday petty theft by office and store employees and it is estimated to run into annual amounts for the total of all the non-union stores.

These detected offenders are punished by the courts but often helplessly unable to write it off as the cost of doing business.

In a less personal field, American business with satisfaction at the news that the Communists are on the verge of slipping in a bit of capitalist incentives to spur their lagging industrial output.

It is pleasing to our ears to hear Khrushchev tell the party Central Committee, as he did recently that Russia cannot meet new problems with old clichés but must be able "to learn from the capitalists" and to imitate their methods when they can benefit Russia.

We should not let ourselves think, however, that the war has been won and that our system has been vindicated. For a flexible, adaptable opponent is more dangerous than a rigid, uncompromising one fanatically dedicated to proving that the Marxist way is the only way.

Communism poses a threat to our way of life, but the threat should not blind us to the fact that we, too, have our ideological clichés, that we have not arrived at perfection, that we have serious unsolved problems like unemployment and recessions - that our system must be exploring, evolving, progressive, in order to survive.

Last June, speaking at Yale, President Kennedy warned that we must be ever prepared to re-examine our ideas and abandon them if they are no longer valid for today. He appealed for a dialogue between business and government, a putting aside of the traditional view that each is the enemy of the other and a joint exploration of things that can be done to maintain and increase the economic vigor of the nation.

The reception to his speech, in terms of action, was something less than enthusiastic. That, rightly or wrongly, was our inalienable right as Americans.

We should all bear in mind, however, that there is an implacable rival ready to take advantage of any weakness we display, not just militarily, but economically and morally. It is not his faults but our own that we should be most concerned about.

Dick West Says

Taxation... Love Life?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The late Byron Bolton Harrison once entertained the U. S. Senate with a discussion of the love life of the bulldog.

The late senator was from Mississippi and as a Southern senator should, Pat had pulled up Senate seniority sufficient to entitle him as chairman of a powerful committee. Pat's committee was Finance, dealing with taxation.

The chairman was shocked to discover the Department of Agriculture spending tax money in research on sex among the water lilies. His powers of ridicule were extraordinary. Before Pat finished with the department's bull-frog Kinsey report, he had the nation laughing with him and snarling at the administration.

There was not much excuse for this boondoggle at public expense. The editorial explosion of protest was considerable and grass roots bombardment of Congress with indignant mail. Such foolishment was reduced in volume thereafter.

The taxpayers should summon another Pat Harrison to the barricades to defend their money. This time the boondoggling is being done in the semi-sacred precincts of the National Institutes of Health.

The institutes have a special place in the republic, like the institution of matrimony, motherhood and the FBI. Attack NIH at your peril because who could be against health, especially national health? Nobody, that's what Sen. Paul Douglas, D-Ill., took on the NIH during the last session with more and better basic material than the Department of Agriculture provided Pat Harrison 30-odd years ago. But Paul Douglas is no Pat Harrison. Too serious, for one thing, with his professional background whereas Pat was flip and sarcastic as a one-time news boy should be, especially after a political lifetime of enticing votes in the Mississippi boondocks.

Tax Foundation, Inc., New York, exhorted Douglas

effort from the Congressional Record. It disclosed that NIH spent $18,887 on "investigation of information contained in school." Its "studies of silent thinking" topped the taxpayers for $26,868. "The stereotyped atlas of the beagle brain" was more like a bargain, $9,778. "Tooth development in sheep" was almost a giveaway at $2,500.

Cat fanciers probably will applaud NIH expenditure of $19,958 on a study of "red tuna and yellow fat disease in the cat." Our distant insular neighbors to the northwest will be grateful to U. S. taxpayers for putting up $14,090 for a study of "the oral health of Icelandic people."

The Tax Foundation's report suggests that NIH is one of the spoiled brats of our federal bureaucracy. Congress habitually votes NIH more money than is budgeted, a lot more. The budgeted figure increased from $190.3 billion in 1958 to $400 million in 1961. Appropriations ranged from 1958's $211.2 million to 1961's $450 million.

Perhaps the time has come to reduce the high-off-the-hog standard of living at NIH. The taxpayers could use the money.

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

Rev. Arthur Howell may have been a low paid preacher but he exceeds thousands of high salaried business executives in winning his own soul! And the Bible warns us against winning the whole world and then losing our own souls (Matt. 13:12). "Tooth development in sheep" was almost a giveaway at $2,500.

Cat fanciers probably will applaud NIH expenditure of $19,958 on a study of "red tuna and yellow fat disease in the cat." Our distant insular neighbors to the northwest will be grateful to U. S. taxpayers for putting up $14,090 for a study of "the oral health of Icelandic people."

There was always a splendid spirit of camaraderie in the Howell family. They didn't mind the fact they may have had to eat simple food and sleep in make-shift quarters. For their dad and mother were jolly and humorous. The family joked and played tricks on each other.

And what may have been even more important, Rev. Howell always PRAISED his boys. He was proud of all their attainments. And he practiced his religion! He was a dynamo of energy in making house calls and visits to ailing parishioners in neighboring hospitals.

Always he greeted people with a cheery smile and a positive, helpful bit of advice or praise. So I would rate Rev. Howell 100 per cent in the splendid positive example he set his big family. And in his persuasive influence as regards their choice of his profession.

We need more men in all good vocations who will learn the art of persuading their own children to enter their own noble professions. The pulpits are now crying for men. Many churches are closing their doors because of a dearth of theological students all over America. Yet in the middle teens, most young people want to imitate Sir Galahad and in some manner feel they have changed the world for the better.

Lacking dedicated clergymen to transform this basic yearning into church projects, these youth then become government Social Service workers or even communists.

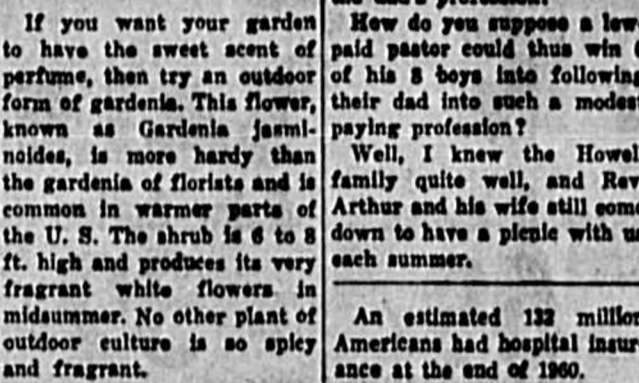

For young people crave to be tied-in closely with projects that seem to elevate civilization and benefit mankind. Mothers, place this slogan from Horace Mann on your bathroom mirror. "Be ashamed to die until you have won some victory for humanity."

That is an inherent yearning of the usual teenager's soul. Harness such a desire constructively and it will furnish the motivation for future Dr. Schweitzer or Florence Nightingales. Ignore or frustrate it, and our young people may become fanatical Communists.

Matter Of Fact

If you want your garden to have the sweet scent of perfume, then try an outdoor form of gardenia. This flower, known as Gardenia jasminoides, is more hardy than the gardenia of florists and is common in warmer parts of the U. S. The shrub is 6 to 8 ft. high and produces its very fragrant white flowers in midsummer. No other plant of outdoor culture is so spicy and fragrant.

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON—(NEA) — Decision time may be drawing near for Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

Friends are telling him that from now on he faces mounting pressure to strike some kind of definitive posture for or against a 1964 Republican presidential bid.

The recent private Chicago meeting attended by a group of his supporters is seen as symptomatic evidence of that pressure.

Even before that session, his office was getting mail and telephone calls in the "when do we start" vein. Public word of the Chicago affair has stepped up the tempo.

It is accepted in political circles that Goldwater can adopt any of several postures. If he wants to be most positive, he can avow candidacy, or he can totally disavow, actively discouraging his supporters and rejecting all offers of aid.

Neither of these courses is expected by those who know him or think they do. More than once—though not recently—the senator has given private indications he would not try to put the complete ball on his supporters.

That leaves a middle path—some part of quiet ascent which would signal these people into action.

This could be expressed negatively, simply by agreeing not to pull the rug out from under a nomination effort.

It was such a commitment as this which early Eisenhower backers obtained from the general at his NATO headquarters in mid-1951, a year before his first nomination.

Some of the guessing around the national political circuit and here in Washington is that Goldwater will take the "quiet ascent" route.

Associates of front-runner Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York are among those predicting this course. One of these latter believes, in fact, that a determined core of Goldwater's followers will go down to the convention wire, hauling a sizable block of delegates with them, no matter what obstacles the senator might raise. He adds:

"I don't think Barry can control all these people." While the secret Chicago meeting was viewed as reflecting the vigor in the Goldwater movement, it had nothing of "launch" quality about it.

There is no reason to doubt the senator's assertion that the gathering was a surprise to him. Some friends see it as a haphazard effort lacking a key element—a strategist experienced in national politics.

So far as can be learned, none yet exists in the Goldwater camp. Until one appears, or is chosen at some possible future meeting of his backers, the enterprise will remain in the talk stage.

Party professionals insist that presidential strategy, and particularly delegate-rustling, have been watching this world for years. We can't see them because they know the trick of invisibility.

So abruptly have we passed from an age of scarcity to an age of plenty that we have been unable to realize the full impacts of this new situation or to adjust our institutions to it.

Not too many Herbert Brownells can be found.

A Goldwater strategist would have to be at once sympathetic to his conservative cause and capable of gaining at least the friendly ear of more liberal party leaders in some of the northern states.

In three thorough canvasses of these and other big state leaders made by this writer over a span of a year and a half, they have consistently resisted the idea of a Goldwater nomination on the simple, familiar ground that, a conservative just can't win in this country today.

Goldwater himself has always been entirely realistic about nomination and election prospects. Right after election he made sounds which some politicians interpreted as acceptance of Rockefeller as the party's likely 1964 choice.

If he does give the nod to his own people, associates say it may be mainly in hope of putting a strong conservative stamp on the 1964 GOP platform. A man with a big bundle of delegates obviously carries weight.

While the secret Chicago meeting was viewed as reflecting the vigor in the Goldwater movement, it had nothing of "launch" quality about it.

There is no reason to doubt the senator's assertion that the gathering was a surprise to him. Some friends see it as a haphazard effort lacking a key element—a strategist experienced in national politics.

Sanford Post Office To Be Dedicated Friday

It Pays To Use The Herald Want Ads

Sanford's new post office will be dedicated at 4 p. m. Friday Postmaster Guy Allen announced today.

The new facility, located on N. Palmotte and Seminole Blvd., is part of the Post Office Department's lease construction program.

Under this program, investment financing is used to obtain needed facilities which remain under private ownership, pay local taxes to the community, and are leased to the federal government.

At the same time, the need for large outlays of money from the federal treasury for construction purposes is eliminated.

The department is now concentrating on constructing new postal units only where they are most urgently needed. In areas where it is practical to do so, existing buildings are undergoing renovation.

"The fact that Sanford has been chosen for a new post office," Allen said, "reflects credit on our growing contribution to the economy and life of the nation."

Meanwhile, for the local postal dedication, the postmaster announced that the following are among the guests expected to attend: C. B. Gladden, director, Atlanta Region, Post Office Department, and Congressman Syd Harlong, Fifth Congressional District.

"Our patrons will derive more enjoyment from doing business here, their mail will be handled more efficiently and this building and its up-to-date equipment will enable our postal employees to work under the best of conditions," the postmaster commented.

The postmaster gave some other facts on the history of the local postal service established, to June 2, 1848; Harold C. Haskins, April 1, 1923, to Jan. 11, 1928; Joel S. Field, June 7, 1944 to Nov. 30, 1960.

Number of employees today 43, compared with the 14 of 39 years ago.

Names of some former local postmasters and the dates they held office: William R. Frank, April 2, 1848, date local post office was first esablished, to June 2, 1848; Harold C. Haskins, April 1, 1923, to Jan. 11, 1928; Joel S. Field, June 7, 1944 to Nov. 30, 1960.

Number of vehicles operated by the postal service in this community today six, compared with one 100 years ago.

Number of postal routes served by the local postal facilities today 12, compared with eight 10 years ago.

Number of mail collection boxes today 87, compared with 40 in 1952.

Number of stamps sold today total $148,277.12 a year, compared with $88,652.28, a year ten years ago.

Receipts for 1962 were $122,100.69, compared with $242,022.95 for 1962.

Die In Gold Mine Tragedy

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (UPI)—A cave-in at the world's richest gold mine 80 miles northwest of here caused heavy loss of life today.

At least 35 persons were reported killed when the collapsing ground wrecked part of a processing plant at the mine, the biggest contributor to South Africa's $700 million annual gold production.

Airman Dies As Tanker Burns

ALPINE, N. Y. (UPI)—One airman was killed Monday when 10 crew members bailed out of a burning Air Force KC97 kerial tanker over this tiny hamlet in northern New York's Finger Lakes region.

The dead crewman was identified as Sgt. Huston Childress, 31, who plunged to his death in a field when his parachute apparently failed. The nine other men parachuted safely.

Capt. Riley Godfrey, of Garfield, Okla., the plane commander, said he set the aircraft on automatic pilot after the fire became unmanageable and it was last seen headed in a northerly direction.

Stocks Lower

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks were lower on fairly heavy trading at the opening today. The sentiment on the street as the market opened this morning was that the long awaited reaction in stock prices might be at hand.

Funds Sought

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—The State Department of Education formally opened its campaign today for extension of the school capital outlay amendment under which close to $150 million in classrooms have been provided in the past 10 years.

Lynn Loses To Falcons, 46-36

Lynn's defense was unable to stop the Falcons' attack on Saturday night at the University of Florida. The Falcons, led by Coach W. W. Ponder, defeated Lynn 46-36. The game was a hard-fought affair, with both teams showing excellent play. Lynn's offense struggled throughout the game, while the Falcons' defense was particularly effective. The final score was 46-36 in favor of the Falcons.

Gastl Closes In On Jai-Alai Top

Gastl again moved into the spotlight last night at the Orlando-Seminole Jai Alai Fronton, closing in on the leaders with two wins. One of the most outstanding winners in the past two weeks, the handsome Costa Springs was the eighth singles, coming through in his favorite fashion, from behind, with three straight points after Pradera and Uria were well ahead and looked like a sure bet for the quickie combination. Pradera had to settle for second money and Uria for third. The combination of Gastl and Pradera, 2-4, paid the $5 perfecta holders $112.62. The win in the ninth with Pradera increased Gastl's total to 21 wins for the season, closing in on Uria, who has 25.

Twelve Shad Caught During the Week-end by Visitors from St. Augustine, Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Corson, who came to test the early season fishing. There were roe.

BY JACK TRIM
There's a sign near the Geneva Bridge that couldn't be seen if it had not been placed fairly high off the ground. Weeds have just about grown over it.

It says: "Cameron Wight Park . . . Seminole County Recreation Area." The boat launching ramp adjacent to the area designated by the sign is a busy place and a lot of people use the road and parking spaces.

But nobody uses the area underneath the palm trees because the place is a mess. There was a suggestion at one time that the trees be removed and more space for parking be made there. Fortunately, that hasn't been done. Who would remove the trees when nobody will even remove the weeds?

I wouldn't belabor this point, but this is the season of the year when visitors from many states (22 last year) come here for the shad fishing season and several thousand of them will see this area between now and spring. And that sign just makes the whole mess look messier.

Surely SR 46, which Seminole Countians keep hoping and praying will become one of the busy highways to the east coast, could stand a way-side table under a palm tree for our visitors.

With no weeds. What brought this to mind again was a trip out to the river Tuesday to check up on the early arrivals among the shad and the accompanying victims of shad fever.

There had been a goodly number of both—and some of the fish and fever sufferers had got together. One couple who visited the Sanford area Saturday and Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Corson of St. Augustine, who caught some nice shad fishing out of Crow's Camp.

Begging Mr. Corson's pardon, I especially note the visit by Mrs. Corson, who is a lady outdoor writer for the St. Augustine Record.

Helen Corson has been a good friend to Sanford in giving space to the shad season and other fishing along our portion of the St. Johns in her column, thereby providing the county with nice notes of our natural bounties. We can be assured that she will give us another mention after she and her husband caught 12 good sized shad this trip.

Two other out of county visitors, Ed O'Hara and Frank Stokes of Palatka, landed 11, with three roe, and Crowe said he had 12 boats out Sunday and they all brought back fish with some roe.

Both my readers will recall that I said last week that the moon of Dec. 9 might bring a good run of shad. Well, I have word that this run was at the north end of Lake George on Dec. 5 and ought to be here any minute. And don't laugh—that's official. Crowe had a report from one of the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission biologists that the run was at that position last Wednesday. It takes the shad about a week to make it from there to our section of the river, I'm told.

That river will be full of the silvery rascals by the full moon of Jan. 9, regardless of this early bunch. A couple of weeks ago, J. E. Cole brought a picture of some fish he caught to the newspaper and it wound up in a slight mess. The picture got in the paper, but the caption was left out. I admit that such a thing can happen, but I won't explain it. Anyway, Cole's caption was located this week in some leftover type and I will offer a small apology to him by reporting now that he had a string of bass and specks that were good sized and one great big gar that he hauled out of the river.

Gladys Ploian rolled a pin splitting 197/511 series to be high for the session and Dot Johnson came through with a 168/467.

Three strikes in a row were rolled by Mary Watson, Gladys Ploian and Joan Adams. In the split department, the successful bowlers were Dot Johnson, the 5-10; Sharon Kee and Dot Green, 5-7; Bev Kreck, the 4-5-7 and Dot Green the 3-10.

Moore Winner
SAN ANTONIO, Tex (UPI)—World featherweight champion Davey Moore of Los Angeles whipped Mexico City's Fill Nava Tuesday night in a tussle fight for his February title defense. Moore, who weighed 150, won a unanimous decision.

Oviedo's Cagers Take 61-56 Win Over Smyrna

Oviedo High School's Lions garnered their first win of the new cage season Tuesday night when they took New Smyrna Beach's Barracudas into camp in a close 61-56 tilt on the NSB court.

The Lions, led by Jim Courier, tallied 22 from the floor and 17 free tosses for their point total for the evening against the Barracuda's 19 field goals and 18 gift points.

The home team enjoyed a 13-8 lead at the end of the first quarter, but the Lions turned on the heat and had a halftime lead of 30-20 after tallying 21 points to the opposition's 15.

The Lions never were headed after the second stanza and increased their lead to 47-44 going into the last period, in which they again outscored the home team to bring their total to 61 to 56.

Powell Leader In Mixed Loop

The pins fell fast and furious for the Thursday Nite Mixed League. Dot Powell again led the field with a 656 series for a new season high. With the assistance of the remaining members of the team, Powell's Office Supply set a new season high with a team scratch series of 2900.

Several 500 plus series were bowled with Erna Anderson, Ellen Betts and Jim Anderson of Powell's making 537, 525 and 507 respectively; C. E. Piery and Harold Appleby of Mrs. Appleby's Restaurant made 578 and 582 each, setting new records for handicap and scratch series in the Men's Division. Duke Dulek of Cook's Corner had a 500 and on Fryer's Insurance team Vergil Anderson and his wife Eleanor each had a 526 and Bill Foster a 515.

New season records were also made in the Women's Division with Eleanor Anderson taking over High Handicap Game with a 238 and Erna Anderson taking the High Handicap Series spot with a 627.

Splits were converted by Ellen Betts, Duke Dulek and Clyde Piery making the 3-10; Eleanor Anderson making the 2-7 and Ann Almond converting the 5-4.

One More Season Declares Musial

MILWAUKEE (UPI)—Stan (The Man) Musial, who has been the mainstay of the St. Louis Cardinals since 1941, said Tuesday the 1963 baseball season would be his last as a player.

"One more season, that's all," said the 42-year-old Cardinal slugger, who broke six major league records and tied one this past season.

"I still think I can help the Cardinals, so I'll stay with them in 1963, but no longer," he said.

Musial, who has won the National League batting title seven times, was here to accept the annual "Fal Jocky" award, presented to the athlete who "best exemplifies high values and standards both on and off the field." The award is given by the St. Joseph Home for Children.

Judge Robert C. Cannon, the counsel for the major league baseball players association, made the presentation. Cannon called Musial "America's greatest athlete."

Among other guests at the dinner were comedian Joe E. Brown, San Francisco Giants outfielder Harvey Kuebel, Pittsburgh Pirate infielder Johnny Logan, former New York Yankee pitching great Vernon (Lefty) Gomes, and two of the new owners of the Milwaukee Braves, William Bartholomew and Thomas Reynolds.

"I'm glad to see the new owners of the Braves are younger than I am. That's what baseball needs — more young blood," Musial said.

Musial, still looking trim as a rookie, praised Cannon by saying that relations between major league players and owners have "never been better than they are now. Both the players and owners are happier now than at any time I can remember."

He said much of the credit can go to the job Cannon is doing for the players.

Musial, who stopped here on his way to St. Louis from Pennsylvania, said major league baseball is in "wonderful condition," and he looked for even more improvement.

Untouchables In First Place

In the Ball and Chain League weekly play, the Untouchables emerged still holding first place with the Drubbers in second and the Cast-offs occupying third.

Verna Bolton rolled high game for the week for the ladies with a solid 150/400 series and Wendell Major's 206/541 was high for the men with Andy Bolton rolling a 200/532 and Dwight Mankwelder a 184/511.

Other high games on the distaff side were Shirley Martin's 162, Wanda Mohr's 150, and for the men Bob Mohr's big 196 and Bill Sharp's 184.

Four turkeys were rolled by Wanda, Mohr, E. Mohr, B. Sharp, O. Kungler and A. Bolton and W. Major struck five strikes on a string for a good show.

Splits were converted by D. and E. McDaniel.

Hartack Thrown, Is Hospitalized

MIAMI (UPI)—Veteran Jockey William Hartack was reported in "satisfactory" condition at a hospital late Tuesday after he was thrown from his horse in a race at Tropical Park.

Hartack, who is one of the most fiery and successful little men in the riding field, suffered a head injury which Baptist Hospital officials said did not show up as a fracture under X-ray.

He was taken to the hospital in an ambulance after being thrown toward the rail by looking ahead in the seventh race. The two-year-old apparently shied away from a suspect.

Umpire Berry Quits Baseball

BOSTON (UPI)—Umpire Charlie Berry has retired after a career in the American League that spanned two decades, six World Series and five All-Star games.

The announcement of Berry's retirement came Tuesday from league president Joe Cronin who also said the league had purchased conditionally the contracts of four minor league umpires.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am an elderly widow. My brother (37) recently lost his first wife, so I am keeping house for him and his two children. My brother is young enough to find another good woman to be his wife and raise his children. The problem: The married women in this town don't leave him alone. Supposedly respectable married women, living with their husbands, have called him up at two in the morning and begged him to meet them somewhere. I couldn't believe it until he had me listen in on the extension. Four of them are on his trail. How can a decent man find a decent single woman when the married ones throw themselves at him?

DEAR ABBY: In the first place, when I call my doctor for an appointment, his office girl has to know it all. I realize she must know how much time to save for the appointment. But I have a two-party line and do you think I want the whole neighborhood knowing my trouble? When I went to his office, the nurse gave me a shot and a bill for $8.00. I never even got to see the doctor. Are nurses doctors now?

DEAR DISGUSTED: Nurses are not doctors, they only follow the doctor's instructions. Some nurses are more expert at giving shots than doctors because they get more practice. Next time, if you want to see the doctor, speak up in his office. Don't needle him behind his back.

DEAR CONCERNED: No woman will call a man at two in the morning and beg him to meet her somewhere unless she has had some encouragement. (One might be not four!) There are plenty of decent wid-

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

A careless bridge player, strangely enough, would have no trouble with today's three no-trump contract. He would lead a low diamond from dummy at trick two. West would have to win with the king and everything would be duck soup.

A more careful player would lose the hand. He would reason that he could not afford the low diamond lead, because both opponents might duck. So he would lead the queen of diamonds from dummy. West would take his king and when the more careful South played diamonds he would find that East had an extra diamond trick.

At trick two he enters his hand with a spade and then leads the jack of diamonds. He intends to cover with dummy's queen if West plays low, but West must play the king. This safety play has guarded against this particular 4-1 break in addition to the possible 3-2 break and double duck.

Although this series is on play, I would like to call attention to South's jump to three no-trump after his partner's diamond rebid. With 14 points in high cards and stoppers in both unbid suits, there is no need to shilly-shally with a bid of two no-trump.

We The Women: By Ruth Millett

What a woman really means when she says—"I could tell you plenty about her." She not only could—she's dying to. "I won't mention any names but..." But she will give you enough hints so that you can come up with the right names. "She is one of my dearest friends but..." What she is about to say isn't going to be friendly. "I couldn't care less..." She cares plenty or she wouldn't be bringing up the subject. "If you want to know what I think..." You're going to know whether you want to know or not. "I'm not one to gossip but..." She's about to begin. "No one can say I haven't done my best." She is afraid that's just what they're saying. "I want your honest opinion." Think twice before you give it. What she probably wants is for you to agree with her. "I promise I won't tell a soul." Except her husband and one or two of her very best friends. "It's none of my business but..." She's going to make it her business, anyhow. "I'm not the least bit impressed with..." Then why deny it?

"If you want my frank opinion..." Watch out, it's not going to be flattering. "I feel it is my duty to tell you..." This is going to be something you would rather not hear. "Now promise you won't go to any trouble." This merely relieves the woman who is putting another to trouble from feeling responsible for doing so.

Swinging Cat
Unravel by Bureau

ATLANTA (UPI)—American Farm Bureau Federation leaders today proposed a series of 1963 policy resolutions calling for a 10 per cent cut in federal spending, including a slash of $1 billion in spending on farm price supports.

The resolutions were drafted at the Farm Bureau's 64th annual convention here by the group's resolution committee. Adoption of the resolutions was scheduled for the closing convention session on Thursday.

The resolutions call for re-orientation of most major administrative farm policies and a turn toward price support levels and lower production controls. They also hit at administration programs or proposals in fields including aid to education, medical care for the aged, welfare, and international trade expansion.

You Can't Even Take The Casket
When You Go

JACKSONVILLE (UPI)—The director of a Jacksonville South funeral home admitted last night his firm sold caskets for low-cost funerals but removed bodies to be cremated and refurbished the caskets for further use.

William E. Griffith, director of the Giddens-Griffith Funeral Home, told the State Board of Embalmers and Funeral Directors the caskets were saved only on economy funerals priced at $270 and $325.

He said the bodies were removed from the caskets and sent to the crematorium in plain coffins. The switches were made to recover losses at the low price.

Griffith, accused by the board of intent to deceive, said he had violated no Florida law in switching the caskets.

Board prosecutor Sam Speer termed the practice, "switching a pauper's box for a casket."

Testimony during a nine-hour hearing by the board showed a body was removed from a $900 funeral casket last May, but Griffith said the switch was a mistake.

He said an employee, Walter Hickox, was severely reprimanded for changing the caskets.

Only One Big Story Today - ICE Coldest Since '40

The Sanford Herald

WEATHER: Cloudy, very cold. Low tonight 23-25.

VOL. 53 United Press Leased Wire Established 1908 THURS., DECEMBER 13, 1962 SANFORD, FLORIDA NO. 664

Sub-freezing temperatures tore across the county's multi-million dollar agricultural industry Wednesday night and early today, with damages estimated well over $500,000, County Agent Cecil Tucker reported at noon.

Tucker made an extensive tour of the county and reported heavy citrus foliage damage as well as complete ruin of the tender vegetable crop.

He estimated that temperatures were below freezing for a period of more than 20 hours.

Tucker also revealed the damage could reach the proportions of the severe freeze of 1957-58 when losses to the county's agriculture soared well over the $1 million mark.

A low of 11 degrees was reported in Paola with temperatures at the experiment station at Sanford ranging from 16 to 20 during the early morning hours.

Buddy Hawkins of Markham Rd. reported light flecks of snow fell on his car as he was on his way to work about 6:30 a. m. and some also was reported on Orange Blvd. west of Lake Monroe. Hawkins said it was down to 16 degrees in the Markham area.

Sanford was plagued by frozen water pipes, stalled autos and severe damage to lawns and gardens and ornamental shrubs.

It was the coldest day in Sanford this morning in 22 years.

That's what officials at the Central Florida experiment station said.

The official low recorded at the station was 22, compared to the previous low in 1940, when 17 was recorded.

The southern section of town and Sunland Estates areas reported temperatures as low as 19.

The Casselberry Volunteer Fire Dept., responding to a 9 a. m. call relayed through the Seminole County Sheriff's Dept. from Maitland Police, rushed to the scene in 20 degree temperature to find a laundrette owner burning old tires to keep his water tanks from freezing.

Sprinklers Were Running Here, Too.

Most Bitter Of Century

United Press International
The most bitter cold wave of this century hit the Southeast today, shattering low temperature records far south into Florida. The death toll from more than a week of cold and snow climbed well past the 100 mark.

The temperature rose in the upper Midwest as southerly winds brought light snow, but another cold air invasion with heavy snow was expected.

Florida citrus growers waged what appeared to be a losing battle in the face of the record cold. Sleet, snow and the frigid arctic air caused millions of dollars of damage to Florida's vegetable crops.

Warren Johnson, head of the federal-state frost warning service at Lakeland, estimated 75 to 100 per cent of the $500 million citrus crop in the state had ice in it. Good quantities of the frozen fruit, however, can be saved.

Robert W. Rutledge, executive vice president of Florida Citrus Mutual, said a preliminary survey showed Florida's citrus industry "has suffered the worst freeze of this century." Only isolated areas of the Indian River district, along Florida's east coast, had escaped major damage.

Adding gloom to the picture was the mid morning weather forecasts which predicted even colder weather tonight.

There will be a "hard freeze and scattered frost in all districts with long durations of temperatures in the 20's," the forecast said.

Low temperatures predicted were from 12 to 20 degrees in the northern districts, the low and mid-20's in the central districts and from the mid-20's to freezing in the Everglades and lower East coast farming areas.

Freezing weather was predicted for the Miami area tonight.

The coldest readings in the history of the Weather Bureau were recorded at Tallahassee where the mercury plummeted to 16 degrees above zero and Tampa where it dropped to 18. Jacksonville at 12 was the coldest in 20 years and 35 at Miami was the coldest Dec. 13 on record.

Kaye In Surgery
ROCHESTER, Minn. (UPI) — Comedian Danny Kaye was reported in "excellent condition" today following an operation for acute appendicitis. Kaye was operated on Wednesday at the Mayo Clinic here and officials said he would remain at St. Mary's Hospital for about a week.

Regulation Upheld
TAMPA (UPI) — A Circuit Court judge has upheld the constitutionality of State Milk Commission regulations concerning the setting of a base for producers supplying dairies. Florida Dairy, Inc., of Tampa had sued to protest the commission's ruling that it observe the base of 13 producers.

Sanford Negro Burns To Death
A 78-year-old Negro burned to death early this morning as fire destroyed a five room home at 1101 Hickory Street, the fire department reported. The victim was identified as James Hall.

Cause of the blaze could not be determined, Cleveland said. The home was engulfed by flames before firemen could reach the scene. Another home next door was also destroyed by the blaze but no one was inside, Chief Cleveland added.

Two School Site Purchases Set

The School Board today approved the use of federal funds for the purchase of two new school sites, one adjacent to the North Orlando city limits and one in the Weathersfield area, and Supt. R. T. Milwee was ordered to proceed with the negotiations immediately.

The new North Orlando location will be for the erection of a new elementary school. A new junior high school to serve the southwest corner of the county will be erected on the Weathersfield site.

The janitorial services at one south end school was severely criticized because of the unsanitary condition of the rest rooms and shower rooms and the superintendent was instructed to write a letter to the principal ordering that the custodial personnel bring the facilities up to the sanitary standard of the system.

Sarepta Request For Loan Refused

Mrs. Taamar Braden, superintendent of Sarepta Home, returned from Atlanta Wednesday empty handed and with no encouragement as to where her institution can obtain funds to expand and increase its services to the indigent aged of the county.

She was told by the HHPA office that the law had been rewritten to include only apartment or residential housing for low income families and does not cover institutions for care or nursing.

The Hill-Burton bill was mentioned as one possible source of money, but the drawback there, said Mrs. Braden, is that the bill requires substantial financial backing for the borrowing institution.

2 Prominent Bankers Killed In Crash

ZEPHYRHILLS (UPI) — Two members of a prominent Florida banking family were killed near here Wednesday night when their car struck a freight train.

The Highway Patrol identified the victims as Fred H. McNulty, chairman of the Board of the McNulty group of banks, and his brother, David McNulty, 28.

Fred McNulty, who would have been 36 today, was president of the State Bank at Haines City and David McNulty was vice chairman of the board of DeSoto Bank at Arcadia. Both men were on the boards of several of the banks within the 10-bank McNulty group.

The men had just left a board of directors meeting at the Zephyrhills Bank and were enroute to Haines City. The highway patrol said car skidded about 170 feet before striking the train. The bodies were identified by Vincent Peel, president of the Zephyrhills Bank.

Game Changed
The freeze out by Oviedo has not only affected citrus and vegetables but basketball too!

The scheduled Seminole High-Oviedo basketball tilt slated for the Oviedo gym Friday night has been changed to the Seminole High gym.

Just Excited

Inaugurated by Wednesday's chill weather and the Christmas spirit, The Herald's news handlers got excited and gave away $105 worth of gift certificates that WON'T be free Friday night.

The advance story on downtown Sanford's shopping specials for the Christmas season said that another drawing for gift certificates would be held Friday night — this promotion by the merchants ended last Friday.

But there will be Christmas specials galore in the stores and merchants will be open until 9 p.m. Friday to serve area residents.

Beginning Monday, downtown Sanford stores will stay open until 9 p.m. every night until Christmas.
