Specialized training helps officers battle street level drug deals

SANFORD — There's always a high level of risk when law enforcement personnel conduct a search warrant. Reducing the danger when entering unknown environments is just one reason the city's police department created the Emergency Service Unit.

The special operations team was formed more than a year ago as a result of the department's increased commitment to cleaning up street level drugs, Police Chief Brian Tooley said. A larger amount of search warrants were being issued throughout the city, which meant an added level of danger for officers.

"Search warrants can be a very risky business," Tooley said. "You never know what you are getting in to."

Tooley decided his department needed a unit comprised of highly trained officers with expertise in search warrant procedures. He approached Lt. David Del Rosso, a veteran of the force, to put together a proposal for the new team. In late 2001, everything was almost in place for the new squad.

"Then along came Sept. 11," Tooley said. "About that time, we were ready to put the team in place. A higher level of security had to be enforced, even for a city the size of Sanford. We needed a team of highly trained and better equipped officers."

As additional criteria for the team was compiled, a name was needed for the special operations unit, Tooley said. To pay tribute to the New York City Police Department unit with the same name and to the men and women who lost their lives helping others on 9/11, the Sanford department decided to call its team the Emergency Service Unit (ESU).

The call was put out within the force that volunteers were needed for the ESU, and officers were asked to come forward to participate in a rigorous training course. Lt. Del Rosso was asked to command the new team.

"Since it is not a full-time team, we asked the officers to volunteer," Tooley said. "Every member of the team has other

During the past year, Allison Kreiger has watched her grandmother suffer through high doses of chemotherapy to free her body of cancer.

In support of her grandmother and the millions of Americans suffering from cancer, Kreiger's first official duty as Miss Seminole County was in support of the American Cancer Society.

Kreiger, who was crowned Miss Seminole County last month, joined 200 supporters for a fundraiser at Heathrow Country Club Thursday. Proceeds from the event, which included a luncheon, fashion show and silent auction, will benefit the American Cancer Society.

Kreiger

"This cause is very dear to me," said Kreiger, whose grandmother, Lynne Koerner, has colon cancer. "I see how cancer affects people's lives."

"This event was wonderful," she added.

Kreiger traveled from Gainesville, where she is a full-time public relations student at the University of Florida, to attend the fundraiser.

Vacation means Big Apple for Seminole band students

By Michelle Jerla

SANFORD — A trip to the Big Apple has finally become a reality for 77 Seminole High School band students.

The students left Friday for a four-day trip to New York City. Originally planned for last year, the spring break excursion follows hours of fund-raising, planning and hard work.

"There's a time and place for everything," Seminole High Band Director P.L. Malcolm said. "There's a time to work hard, a time to celebrate and a time to explore and do new things."

The New York trip has been in the works for several years. Initially scheduled for last year, the events of Sept. 11, 2001, delayed the journey to the north until this month. "We thought it would be too sensitive to go that soon after 9-11," Malcolm said. "We thought it would be better just to call the trip."

The delay didn't dampen the band students' spirits. It gave them a little more time to plan fund-raisers and their itinerary for the trip.

For several students, the trip to New York isn't only a journey to one of the country's largest cities. It's the first time they will board an airplane to travel to a destination. Senior Michelle Rodriguez didn't have any qualms about boarding an airplane for the first time.

"I'm so excited about the trip," Rodriguez said on Wednesday. "It's my first time on a plane and

Churches, businesses create partnership to restore hope in community

By Marva Hawkins
Herald Correspondent

Local churches and businesses have joined in partnership to restore hope to the citizens of the Sanford community by helping them to rise above poverty.

New Mount Calvary Missionary Baptist Church, Allen African Methodist Episcopal Church and Zion Hope Missionary Baptist Church have united together to answer the cries for help from citizens.

The churches have the potential to give what no government or human service organization can give — spiritual resources and relationships, both horizontal (man to man) and vertical (man to God).

Marc Stanakis, executive director of the Jobs Partnership of Florida, agrees that a strong outer support system and an inner transformation of heart attitudes are both essential for breaking the cycle of poverty and dependency.

The 12-week training program consists of two distinct curriculums designed to equip and empower class participants in their quest for a meaningful career opportunity.

Local ministers of the three churches, the Rev. Ricky Scott, Pastor Valerie Henry and the Rev. Michael Griffen, teach biblical concepts from a human resource perspective. Class participants are expected to complete all 12 weeks, steps and assignments from the workbook. The steps of the classes prepare the students in skill assessment, individual career action plans, resume preparation, interviewing skills, and job finding and keeping skills. There can also be additional preparation, including vocational counseling and training.

These life skills training classes, with help from business and the clearing house mentors, can lead to personal success.

Everyone benefits when a community cooperates to help its members attain their fullest potential. Shepherded by leaders of the faith-based community, they have banded together to equip, empower and employ their own in meaningful labor, with benefits that will last a lifetime.

For information, call the Jobs Partnership of Florida at 407-418-4525 or e-mail marc.stanakis@orlando.org for a program in your area.

The ultimate mission is to bring together local churches and businesses to empower, equip and employ the citizens of Florida motivating them to reach their God given potential as productive neighbors of the community and help point them toward true wellness by addressing their physical, emotional and spiritual needs.

New restaurant opens at corner of Sanford and 3rd

There's a new place at the corner of Sanford Avenue and 3rd Street where people are beginning to know everyone's name.

Rhythm & Brews, a bar and grill, opened two weeks ago in a building that once housed a warehouse. With its unique décor and entertainment offerings, the restaurant is quickly becoming a neighborhood draw.

"Everyone is beginning to know everyone in the neighborhood," said Bob Sullivan. "Our customers seem to be very friendly and diverse people."

Bob, along with his wife, Cindy, and son, Bo, own and operate Rhythm & Brews. Their move to Sanford follows more than a decade of owning and operating similar restaurants in the Central Florida area.

"We've always wanted to open a place in Sanford," Cindy said. "The city is really improving, and the community is wonderful. We were looking for a place when we found this empty building. We thought it was a great spot."

The name of the restaurant was chosen after Cindy and Bob made a long list of possible options. They let their children make the final selection, who thought Rhythm &

Cindy Sullivan creates a sandwich during lunchtime at Rhythm & Brews. Subs, salads and wraps are available at the new restaurant, which welcomes take-out orders.

SEMINOLE SUMMARY

A GLANCE AROUND OUR COUNTY

History of The Clock: The Herald's former publisher, Doug Feltzer, used to say that no one in the newspaper business has come up with an original idea since Gutenberg invented the printing press. That's not exactly true, but newspapers keep a keen eye on what other publications are doing. Whether it's advertising promotions, editorial features or publishing practices, good ideas get passed around.

Such is the case with this column. Several readers have asked how Around The Clock got its start. While I would like to take credit for the idea, I actually revived the column that Larry Vershel created almost four decades ago. Larry was editor for The Herald in the mid- to late-1960s. It was his first stop in an illustrious journalism career that included stints at the Tampa Tribune, The Boston Globe and The Economist magazine published by the Hearst corporation. He later went to work as a public relations executive for Jeno Paulucci. Larry graduated from Columbia University, one of the nation's premier journalism schools. As a native New Yorker with no ties to Sanford, he needed to get up to speed on the intricacies of Sanford. At that time, the best place to "get the scoop" was Roumillat and Anderson's at the northeast corner of Park Avenue and 1st Street (the State Attorney's Office now occupies that spot). The city's movers and shakers often met there for breakfast, and Larry picked up the juicy tidbits to publish on the front page of the afternoon edition of The Herald.

Around the Clock

by Dan Ping

Not all those tidbits made people happy. Doris Dietrich, the first lady of The Herald newsroom, told me you could judge when the paper hit the streets by the number of phone calls to the late Walter Gielow's office. Mr. Gielow was the publisher at the time and took the brunt of the calls when Larry's columns punctured the egos of politicians or city leaders.

"He was very good about the column," Vershel said. "He took a lot of heat from some people, especially his buddies at the Chamber of Commerce, but he stood by me."

Larry usually devoted his column to one topic. Instead he offered a dozen or so "nuggets" of news (some as short as one sentence), typical of "old school" reporting. He wrote with a sharp pen and few were spared from his cynical wit.

He, of course, didn't invent the genre, but he did provide the perfect name for Sanford's version. The Clock, which now sits in Magnolia Square, used to sit perched atop the traffic light at the intersection of Park Avenue and 1st Street, spitting distance from Roumillat and Anderson's. The Clock was moved for safety reasons in the early 1960s, but had been such a fixture that Larry thought it appropriate to name his column after the place where all the gossip generated, around the clock.

After Larry left the newspaper, various Herald editors continued to write a Clock column, most notably John Spolski. My decision to revive Around The Clock was made after hearing numerous stories about from Ms. Doris and others in the community.

"That was the first thing people read when the paper came out," Ms. Doris has told me at least a thousand times.

Whether that's true or not, I don't know, but it is a lot of fun column to write. And I do receive a lot of feedback, so much so that I'm considering a new bumper sticker for those less than satisfied with some of the columns contents. After Bill Clinton was elected president, the righteous right-wingers proclaimed, "Don't blame me, I voted for Bush." My version is, "Don't blame me, Larry started it."

On the menu: Have you seen the new menus at the Colonial Room? Check it out next time you're there for Fried Chicken Thursday. There is an excellent article about the history of the restaurant written by a handsome and talented gentleman, but what caught my eye is the fries. (Fries always catch my eye.)

Billy Painter and crew now offer Freedom Fries instead of french fries. The menus were printed about three or four weeks ago, meaning the Colonial Room was out in front of the move to disassociate the French with a staple that has become as popular as baseball, apple pie and Chevrolet. Next time I'm there, I'm buying two orders just to show my appreciation.

(For those readers in Paris, remember, don't blame me, Larry started it.)

Men are from Venus (Part 2)

If you didn't read last week's column about this, then move on to something else. This is the second of a two part series on what happened in 1965 to me. Again, I reiterate that I will swear this actually happened — and leave it to you to determine whether or not my mind has lost a few marbles.

Nick Pfeiffauf

Last week, I discussed how two men, claiming to be from "what we call Venus" came to us at WESH-TV and made a video tape to be sent to the Mike Douglas show in California. The tape proved to be blank, even though we followed the normal procedures in recording it.

Time passes. Several weeks after receiving the blank tape back from California, I had a week's vacation. My wife, family and I had rented a home on the North beach at New Smyrna Beach.

I got to thinking about the video taped program and the two men who were involved, and I attempted to see if I could find them.

They had, in the video taped program, mentioned that they had been operating the "Venus Book and Bible" store in New Smyrna Beach. I found the address and during my vacation, went to the address in the phone book, only to find it closed.

The owner of the building was Hanna Bonnett, (then mayor of New Smyrna Beach) and I contacted her. "They always paid their rent in cash", she said, "and when they told me they would be leaving, they gave me a month's rent in advance, telling me to get rid of any books on their shelves they had not been able to get rid of."

While I thought this was the end of my search, I was wrong. When I returned to work at Channel-2, after my one-week vacation, there was a small package for me. It was a book entitled "Religions of the Planets". It was "published" by the Venus Book and Bible Store in New Smyrna Beach, Florida.

The book tells of how Christ, realizing the sins of the people in Venus, also appeared to them in "human" form, and suffered for their sins, similarly to what he did here on Earth. The book told of Christ's visit to other planets in an attempt to bring about a harmony in man kind (or whatever "man" is under those situations), in each planet in our solar system — as if there were life forms on almost all of the planets.

It's an interesting booklet to read. It's small, but full of interesting information — some you can agree with, others with which you may have some doubt.

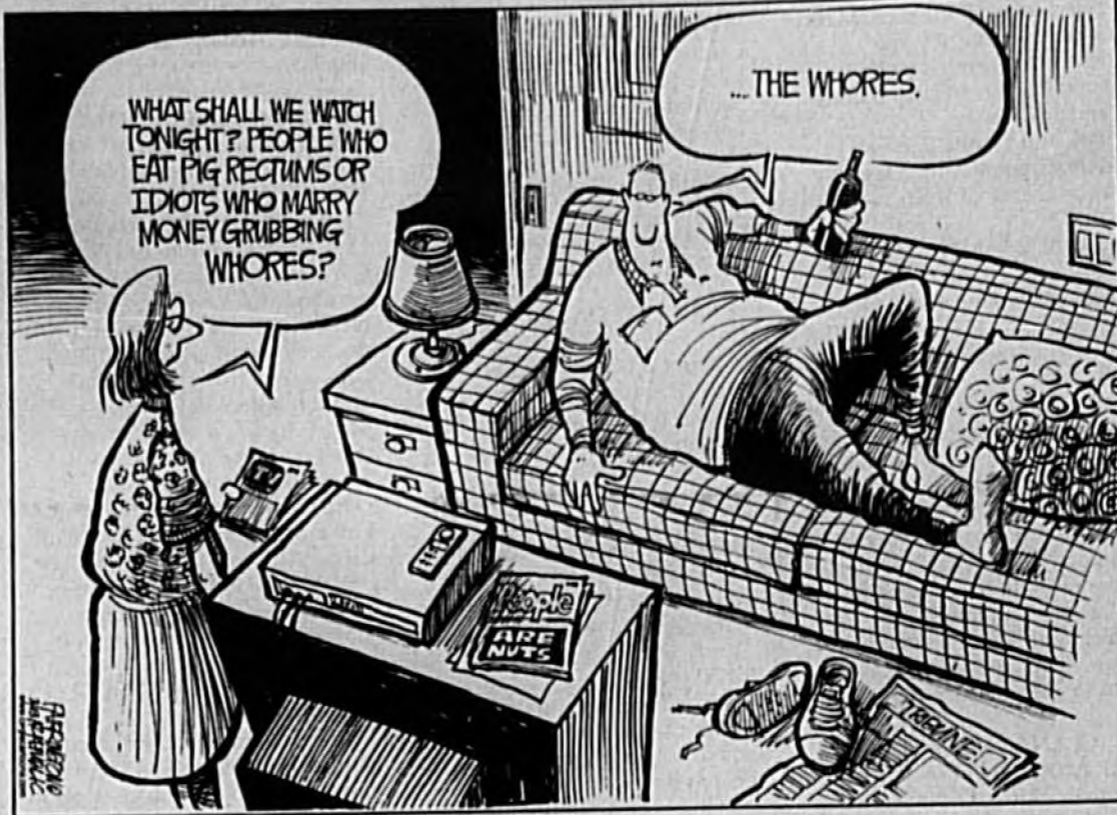

The "Venus Book and Bible" store is long gone from New Smyrna Beach, and apparently so are the men from Venus.

What I have written are, to me, true facts. I DID assist in making that recording, I DID check out the Venus Book and Bible Store, and I DID have the subsequent results.

Case closed, as far as I'm concerned. But I have often wondered, did anyone else have anything in their lives back in 1965 to add to what I have said?

Don't phone me, but write to Box 1012, Osteen, FL, 32764 if there is anything you can add to this. I'd love to hear from you.

And for those who don't believe a word I've said in the past two columns, I hope at least, you've enjoyed reading about them.

Buddy Lake remembered as local role model

To the editor:

I had not thought of Buddy Lake for the past 30 years or so because that is how life takes you away from a great small town childhood. Like most of us we had to venture out to seek our fame and fortune throughout the country.

When I read in the Orlando paper this morning of Buddy's passing, I could not control the tears. They were tears of sadness from his death, yet most of them were tears of joy from all that this great and gentle man meant to me. He was definitely my childhood hero in every way.

Guys like Buddy are what growing up in a small town like Sanford were all about. There are so many other heroes that made the town so dear to myself and so many others.

But Buddy was so special! During the heyday of the old Florida State League, the entire population turned out any night the team played, and especially when they knew that Buddy would be pitching. My mother and father were right there each and every night.

My dad was a big fan so we went to a lot of the out of town games, mostly to see Buddy play. I will never forget the game in 1947 when he pitched the 19 innings and then hit a home run to win it.

Myself, along with all of my childhood buddies, hung around the ballpark all summer. I would ride my bike down Celery Avenue in order to watch Buddy take batting practice, always hoping to snag a foul ball or get one of the players to give me a broken bat, which later always ended up being used in pickup games down at Southside school.

Throughout my childhood, Buddy was always kind and thoughtful to all the kids. He always stopped to talk to each of us, which was always a thrill. It was more of a thrill than having Mickey Mantle say hi to you. Buddy was the "man" as they now say.

What wonderful formative years, and what better people to try to copy later in life. Buddy Lake was a great human being and I wanted to be just like him. I never hit any home runs nor pitched a no-hitter but every boy that grew up in Sanford was better off later in life just by having such wonderful role model as he.

The thing that I remember most about Buddy Lake is that when my father became terminally ill and times were tight financially, he and his partner John Crawford, never failed to keep my parents fuel tank full at their little home on Magnolia Avenue throughout the cold winter. Sometimes it took awhile for them to pay in order to stay warm in the winter. My folks were never cold a day, thanks to the kindness of a good neighbor and friend like Buddy Lake.

I will never forget him. He was a true hero to me.

Reform needed to fix crisis in building industry

To the editor:
As a member of the home building industry, I'm proud to know that my profession contributes $42 billion each year to Florida's economy. After the September 11, 2001 terrorist attacks, the home building industry was the bright spots in Florida's economy. It helped shore up the state's financial picture even when other states were experiencing much tougher economic conditions.

Despite their important economic role, the building industry is in a crisis. Most of Florida's residential contractors and subcontractors cannot find affordable workers' compensation insurance. This situation means that home prices will increase, or, worse yet, home building will come to a halt with dire consequences for our community and our economy.

The only solution to this crisis is a system overhaul. Workers' compensation reform is the only way to ensure builders continue to provide jobs and homes. Please encourage our legislators to fix workers' comp in the 2003 legislative session.

Sincerely,
Josie Ann Holt,

Storm clouds hover over state's Sunshine laws

By Doug Mariette
Tallahassee Democrat

Ignore your health, it's been said, and it will go away. The same is true of our freedoms.

Florida is one of the few states that explicitly assures citizens access to government meetings and public records. It's their constitutional right.

But while Florida is a national model, the always difficult struggle to maintain government in the "Sunshine" has gotten even tougher in the past two years. Amid legitimate concerns about security, terrorism and identity theft, efforts to grant new exemptions to Sunshine laws have risen sharply.

Some exceptions, carefully and narrowly crafted, make sense in these uncertain times — for example, schematics of municipal utility systems that would be sensitive to sabotage.

Others, however, cast too wide a net by not being specific enough. Still others seem designed to help special interests maintain a competitive advantage or protect a particular group from unwelcome outside scrutiny.

The good news is that Floridians in November underscored their support for open government. The constitutional amendment that 76.5 percent of voters approved requires each house of the Legislature to pass by a two-thirds majority any new exemptions.

That effectively smothered the notion that only the press and First Amendment activists cared deeply about open government.

Even so, Florida's Sunshine laws are threatened. More than 800 exemptions are already on the books, and state lawmakers since 2001 have been busily proposing new ones at roughly twice the rate as in each of the previous six years. Because of strong resistance, far fewer actually passed.

Last year, for example, 153 exemptions were offered; 10 became law. Almost 120 are already proposed this year.

Barbara Petersen, president of the First Amendment Foundation, said her organization agrees that many proposed exemptions have merit — in their intentions. But the devil's in the details, and lawmakers often fail to write legislation that stays within the stated purpose of public records and open government laws, she said.

Access is always a balancing act between the public's right to know and public safety. Few would argue that security sometimes trumps Sunshine. But ensuring that state and local governments in Florida remain as open as reasonably possible isn't solely the job of people like Ms. Petersen and media lawyers. It's yours, too.

Pick up the phone or send an e-mail message to your lawmakers. Tell them that this is truly the Sunshine State.

On the Street

The Herald asks people what they think ...

Lately, Americans have had strong feelings about France's resistance to war in Iraq. Some are calling French fries freedom fries, and French bread is now freedom bread. We asked people what they think about the recent opposition to everything French.

I hate to seem ignorant, but I haven't really thought about it compared to all the other things that are on the docket. Jayne Myers, Geneva	I feel like, if they can't support the U.S., then they are getting what they deserve. Kit Thompson, Sanford	I think, if they don't support us, then they deserve it. We've been there for them, why aren't they there for us? Dianne Magner, Sanford	I don't think it's bashing. We always support them, and they aren't backing us. Donna James, Sanford	I definitely feel that we need their support. With everything we've done for them, where is it? Tim Donahoe, Sanford responsibilities on top of their duties with the unit. They go above and beyond the call of duty."

The training and requirements for the new unit aren't easy. Along with meeting a higher standard of physical requirements, members of the elite team must score at least a 90 percent at the shooting range. They must also be a team player.

ESU officers are also on call around the clock. When the team is called into action, they must respond, even if they are off duty. "They can't say, well I'm mowing my lawn and I don't want to come in," Tooley said. "They have to commit their time and effort to be a member of the team."

Today, there are 12 officers in the unit, said Deputy Chief Darrel Presley. Twice a year, members of the ESU must meet the physical requirements for the team, including a long distance run.

"There are two try-outs a year, if there are any vacancies," Presley said. "It is a very competitive procedure."

In the last 12 months, the special unit has been called out 59 times, he said. Its job is to move in to an area quickly, efficiently and safely.

When the team is called out, they approach the area and have a team meeting, Presley said. Every member of the unit has a specific assignment to carry out during the procedure. For example, one officer will knock on the door to let those inside know the department is there to conduct a search warrant, while other officers are covering the perimeter.

"And, it depends on the size of the structure," Presley said. "It dictates how many members of the unit need to be involved. Sometimes we may only need six, but sometimes we may need all 12."

"When the team secures the area, then they get out of there," he said. "The case is then turned over to one of the department's other teams, like Narcotics." Along with conducting search warrant operations, the ESU also works closely with other security related issues. For example, the team works closely with officials at Sanford's airport.

In the year it's been in operation, the ESU has proven to be a success for the department, Chief Tooley said. Word of the new special operations team has spread throughout the community, and people are often glad to see them conduct operations in their neighborhoods.

"We have had neighbors come out and applaud members of the unit," Tooley said. "They see the unit, and they know they are there to do a drug search."

"We've received a good response from the community, and we are trying to do better and better for the people we serve," he added. "The team is another tool to address crime issues in our neighborhoods. And, we want to have every tool that's possible at our disposal."

Members of Sanford's ESU recently prepare to train in downtown Sanford.

"The school is very understanding of my traveling," said 19-year-old Kreiger. "I schedule school around my other obligations. With my new title, I plan to travel a lot back and forth from Jacksonville to Seminole County. It's only a little more than an hour away."

Along with her work with the American Cancer Society, Kreiger is active in other health-related organizations. She established the Helping Other People Eat (HOPE) program to educate the masses on prevention and awareness of eating disorders.

Because Kreiger suffered from an eating disorder while in high school, she brings a personal touch to her discussions at schools and other events.

"I figure out a piece of my puzzle each time I tell my story," she said. "It's a daily struggle, but I realize now that I was too hard on myself and too much of a perfectionist."

During her vie for Miss Seminole County, Kreiger based her platform on the HOPE program.

According to Kreiger, participating in pageants after battling an eating disorder has helped her self-esteem rather than hindered it as most people would assume.

"After my eating disorder I had to start from scratch," she said. "I didn't have a lot going into it and now I do. I have a healthy image and peace of mind that is not blurred by what the general public feels."

"It's nice because the Miss America system looks for the best fitness level for your body style, not how skinny you are," she added. "You can't be healthy if you don't take care of your body."

"It doesn't look good and the judges notice that. If the person doesn't stay in good health they can't fulfill their responsibilities as a pageant winner."

As Miss Seminole County, Kreiger will compete for the Miss Florida title in June. Last year, she ranked in the top 10 at Miss Florida representing Miss University of Florida.

"My goal is to become Miss Florida and go to the Miss America pageant," she said.

Although busy in several school activities, including National Society of Collegiate Scholars, Delta Delta Delta, the Body Acceptance Task Force, student government, and president of Gatorettes, University of Florida award-winning twirling team, Kreiger says she will fulfill her obligations as Miss Seminole County.

"I really don't have any free time, but I think I would go crazy if I did," she said. "I have to be busy. But, I don't take on too much. I don't take on something I can't give 110 percent to. I won't let down a group or organization."

SPOTLIGHT ON BUSINESS

Barbara Ferrell & Associates, L.L.C.

By Adinah Greene
Herald Intern

Tall, green military jasmine grows outside the real estate office of Barbara Farrell. Her office and home fill the space that once was the old fire station; the sign is still at the top of the building.

Her office consists of a long desk with two flat screen monitors on top and papers dispersed everywhere. Upon first inspection it may not seem like enough room is available to work, but Farrell gets along just fine.

"It became very rewarding and that's what makes the business so delightful," Farrell said. "I put a 22-year-old woman, who is in her first year of teaching, into a bungalow and she's paying less owning a home than she was paying in rent. It's incredible."

Since she moved to Sanford 11 years ago, Farrell has mostly dealt with homes in Sanford. She has worked on many boards on the preservation and restoration of downtown. Her specialty in Sanford is dealing with historic homes.

"Historic homes are a treasure and need to be taken care of," Farrell said. "It's finding the right home for the right person and the right person for the right home."

Farrell did not start out in the real estate business. She is an artist and had exhibits in New York and showed her work internationally. She obtained her real estate license to do her own purchasing and remodeling and it just grew from there.

"It just sort of mushroomed," Farrell said. "People asked me to pick colors and I became involved with the preservation and restoration of the buildings because I had a major investment here, so wherever I could help I did." Farrell, herself and not an associate or agent, sells all the listing she receives. According to her, she has received phone calls from people she doesn't even know to recommend a good plumber or contractor because of her knowledge and love of the community.

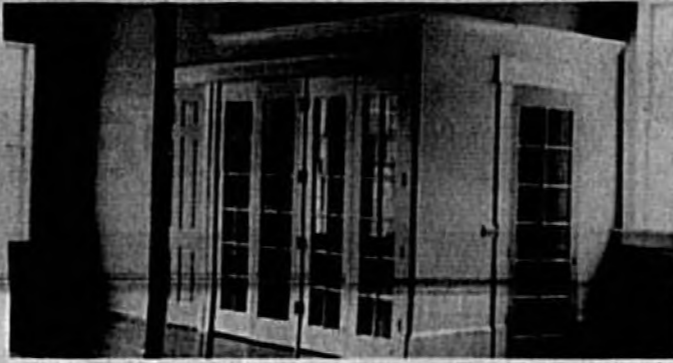

"I love Sanford," Farrell said. "It's a real community."

More than a decade ago the firestation was believed beyond restoration.

Today the firestation is a luxurious home and office.

The Way We Were: Profiles of city leaders from 1933

There are still a few more biographies of prominent Sanford people in the April 29, 1933 edition of the Sanford Herald. Here are five of them.

Sidney G. Gray
Sidney G. Gray, a native of Sedalia, MO., moved as a young boy with his parents to Nashville, TN, and attended schools there.

In 1914 he began his career as a practicing public accountant in Pineville, KY, where he resided until moving to Jacksonville in 1920. He moved to Sanford in 1925. The firm of Bentland, Gray and Moore was formed in 1929 with Mr. Gray named to head the company's Sanford office, located in the First National Bank Building.

Mr. Gray was married to the former Rhoda Dunbar and they had one son, Sidney G. Jr, who resided with his wife and child in Orlando.

Mr. Gray was past president of the local Rotary club and a member of Holy Cross Episcopal Church, the Masonic Lodge and the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

J.H. Maxwell
J.H. Maxwell, president of Maxwell Chevrolet Co. Inc, was an active member of the Masonic Lodge, the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce and First Baptist Church.

He was born in a small Georgia community near the Florida border and attended public schools in Calvary, GA. He later became a student at the Cyrene Institute, a prep school.

In 1916 he began his business career by clerking in a clothing shop in Thomasville, GA. Following this, he worked in a saw mill, for the Pullman Co. in Jacksonville and in a wholesale grocery.

In 1926 he entered the automobile business and had since followed that career.

With his wife, Hattie Lee Collins, and their two children, Jean and Edward, Mr. Maxwell resided at 2461 Palmetto Avenue.

J.T. Ellis
J.T. Ellis was known in Sanford as the owner and operator of the city's largest, most up to date and fastest growing bakery. His Hi-Grade Bakery was located on West First Street.

He was born September 24, 1901 in Henderson, KY, and came to Sanford in 1919. He resided with his wife, Mae Ligor Ellis, and daughter Jean (age 7) at their home 124 Palmetto Avenue. His parents, Joe W. and Louise Mahler Ellis, also lived with them.

Mr. Ellis was a member of the Odd Fellows Lodge and attended the First Christian Church in Sanford.

Bowling was his favorite recreation and he played frequently. He also enjoyed all spectator sports.

Henry Watson
Henry M. Watson, local attorney, had been a resident of Sanford since 1925. He had been active in local civic affairs for several years and was a member at the Elks Lodge, Rotary Club and Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

He was born in South Carolina and attended the grade schools of Fair Play, SC. He later became a student at Spartan Academy and studied law at Wake Forest, NC.

The former Ena Mae Sneede was his wife and they resided at 204 W. 18th Street.

This attorney was an ardent football fan, but for his own recreation he chose golf. He could be seen on the links of the Sanford Country Club.

Mr. Watson's office was located on the lower floor of the First National Bank Building, facing Park Avenue.

H.R. Stevens
H.R. Stevens would soon celebrate 50 years of service as an employee of various transportation lines.

As a boy of 15, he entered his employment as a machinist's apprentice on the Central Railroad of New Jersey. He advanced to gang foreman on the Wilkes Barre and Eastern Railroad and finally master mechanic for the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad where he had been associated since 1920.

Most of his service had been spent in Sanford as he came here in 1903, and remained here ever since.

Mr. Stevens was born in Wilkes Barre, PA and attended grade schools there.

Since coming to Sanford, he had been active in the civic and business life of the city. He had served one term on the city school board and two terms as a city councilman. When the commission form of government was restaurant. Although one of the family's goals is to eventually have a full-service kitchen, they are trying to keep their menu as healthy as possible.

 "Healthy food is what people are looking for these days," Bob said. "So, we are staying away from the fried foods. But, you better have a big appetite to eat our subs and extreme salads. We don't serve small portions."
 The menu consists of numerous types of 10-inch sub sandwiches, which people can have served on a croissant. There are also a variety of wraps and salads, including Cindy's Triple Play — a salad with chicken, tuna and egg salad on a bed of lettuce.

 For the kids, there's the popular peanut butter and jelly or peanut butter and fluff, which is made with marshmallow cream. They also can choose from macaroni and cheese or a corn dog.
 The prices on the menu are hard to beat. Most items are under $5, with nothing on the children's menu over $2.
 "We are keeping the prices low for the community," he said. "I think a $5 lunch is pretty good compared to other franchises, where you can pay almost $10 for a sandwich."

 Along with the food, Rhythm & Brews offers a variety of entertainment. There are three pool tables, a foosball table, darts and arcade games. For children, there's a crane machine filled with toys where every drop of a coin results in a winner.
 Every Friday, there's a live deejay, and it's karaoke night on Saturdays. Pool tournaments are held on Wednesday; and starting Sunday, local talent is invited to perform during open microphone sessions.

"We're getting better and better every day," said Bo, who can usually be found behind the bar serving ice-cold beer and soft drinks. "So far, people seem to really like what we've got here, and more and more people are coming in to see who we are and what we've got to offer."
 Rhythm & Brews is located at 300 Sanford Ave. Take-out orders are welcome, and hours of operation are from 10 a.m. to midnight Sunday through Tuesday and 10 a.m. to 2 a.m. Wednesday through Saturday.

 my first time in New York."
 According to Malcolm, the trip to New York City is a way of telling students "good job for all your hard work." The band has accumulated a long list of accolades in the last year, including numerous Superior and Excellent ratings at a recent band festival. The group has also played at numerous notable venues, including Disney; and next month the Wind Ensemble has been invited to perform at Stetson University.
 "The students work so hard throughout the year," Malcolm said. "I can't tell you how many hours a week they put into the band. They do an extraordinary job."

Friday, they also attended a performance of "Phantom of the Opera," on Broadway.
 Taylor believes the trip's highlight will be the band's Sunday performance at the base of the Statue of Liberty. The hour-long event will include an array of patriotic songs performed at the island's flagpole.
 "Playing at the Statue of Liberty — it's going to be a very exciting experience," he said.
 When the students return Monday evening, many will have photographs and souvenirs of their trip. They will also have their memories.

"I've been to New York City twice before this trip," said senior Sarah Scoles. "But, this time, it will be a lot more exciting to go with my band friends. The band trip to Washington, D.C., is my favorite memory from high school. And, I hope the trip to New York will be the same."
 Although they won't return until Monday, another band trip is already in the making.
 "We try to plan a trip each year," Malcolm said. "The students don't know it yet, but next year's trip is to Key West."
 The Seminole High School Band always appreciates community sponsors to support its yearly expenses. For more information, call Malcolm at 407-320-5161.

"This is an experience most of the kids won't forget," Taylor said. "Since New York is such a cultural center, it won't only be an exciting experience, but an educational one."
 While in the city, the students plan to visit many of its landmarks, including the Empire State Building, Lincoln Center and the United Nations Building. On

FWC SUMMER CAMP

Now is the time to register for the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission's (FWC) summer camp for children held at its Hunter Education Training Center (HETC) in the Ocala National Forest.

This year's program begins on June 22 and offers five 1-week sessions for boys and girls ages 10 to 15. The primary goal of the summer camp program is to provide campers with the necessary skills and knowledge to become better sportsmen and women, while instilling an awareness of firearm safety, conservation, and wildlife stewardship.

For more information or registration materials for the summer program, please contact the camp at (352) 625-2804.

Shooting woes doom Lake Howell

By Dean Smith
Sports Editor

LAKELAND — You live by the jump shot, you die by the jump shot. Every coach knows it and preaches it, but sometimes that's all you have.

Unfortunately for Lake Howell, that proved to be true Thursday in the semifinals of the FHSAA Florida Boys Basketball Class 5A Finals at The Lakeland Center as the Silver Hawks were eliminated by Jacksonville-Raines, 55-38.

Part of the problem for the poor shooting, 13-for-42 from the floor, including just 5-of-18 from three-point range and 7-of-20 from the free throw line, may have been playing in an arena-type building for the first time. All season Lake Howell had played in high school gyms where there is a wall fairly close to the backboard. But there is nothing but wide-open spaces beyond the goals in Lakeland.

Silver Hawks lose to Raines in Class 5A State Semifinals

"We talked about the big gym. We were worried because we were the only team that had to make shots to win," said Lake Howell coach Steve Kohn. "I feared this all year. Everyone kept asking me how good we were and I didn't know how to answer them because we relied so much on our jump shooting and teams that rely on outside shooting normally don't win consistently.

"We don't have post players, we don't get steals, we don't get fast breaks, we don't get a lot of free throws and we are not very athletic. We just made shots and all year we kept making shots. I finally kind of stopped worrying about it because someone would always step up. Not to take anything away from Raines, but we did not pick a good time to have this kind of game."

Perfection achieved

Swarthout throws first SCC perfect game ever

By Dean Smith
Sports Editor

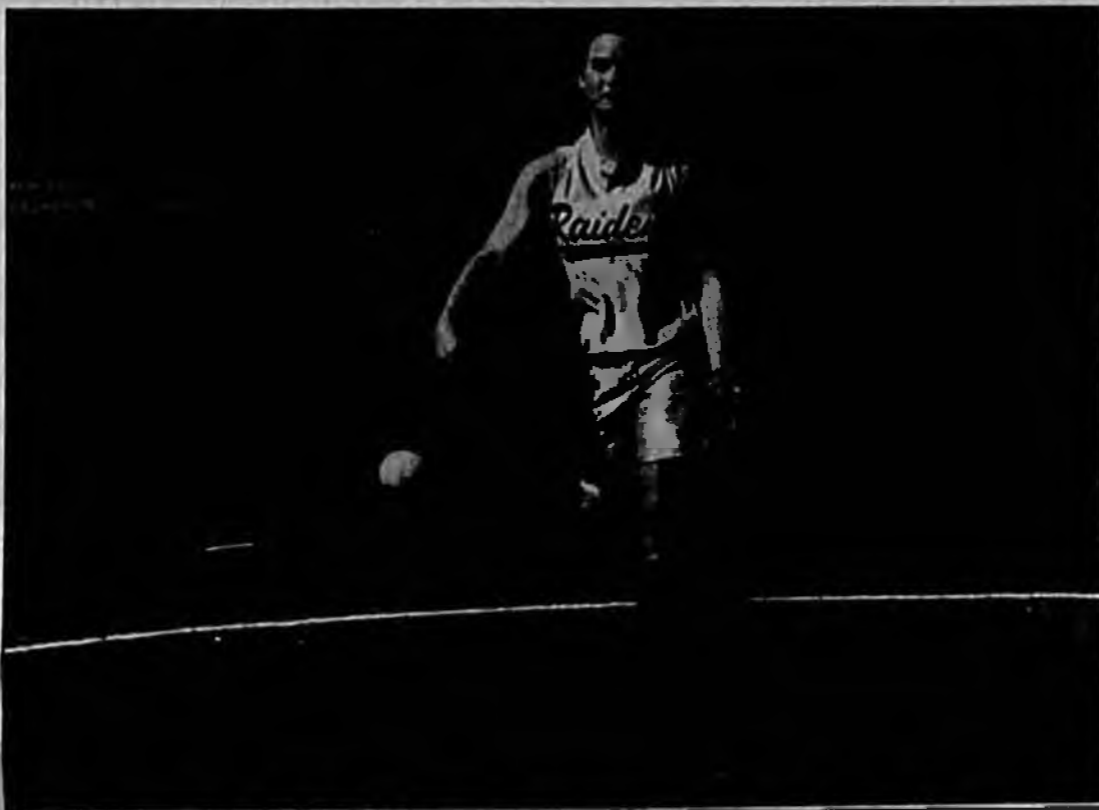

PALATKA — After coming so close so many times, Seminole Community College's Lacey Swarthout finally reached the pinnacle on Wednesday.

The sophomore pitcher, who sets a record seemingly every time she toes the rubber for the Raiders, hurled the first-ever perfect game in schools history in an 11-0 Mid-Florida Conference victory over St. Johns River Community College in the first game of a doubleheader in Palatka.

The nightcap also produced a little news as well as freshman hurler Holly Lacko gave up one unearned run on six hits to win her 10th game of the season, 7-1.

In winning her 13th game of the season against just two losses, Swarthout, a righthander from Orlando's Colonial High School who was an All-American as a freshman, retired the Vikings 18-up and 18-down, allowing two ground balls and three fly balls while striking out 13.

The nearest SJRCC came to hit was in the fifth inning when the leadoff batter grounded the ball toward the middle, but shortstop Katie Field, an Oviedo graduate and former star pitcher here-See SCC, Page 11

Seminole Community College sophomore Lacey Swarthout (above) hurled the first perfect game in school history on Wednesday, retiring all 18 batters she faced and striking out 13 as the Raiders blanked St. Johns River Community College, 11-0, in the first game of a Mid-Florida Conference doubleheader in Palatka. Former Oviedo High School star Katie Field (holding ball after making a putout last season) saved the day when she dove for a ball up the middle and threw a Vikings runner out at first from her knees. Swarthout, who already holds nearly all of the SCC pitching records, is now 13-2 on the season and the Raiders are a hefty 24-3 heading into a stretch of eight games in four days this weekend, including home doubleheaders on Saturday and Sunday against Miami-Dade (1 p.m.) and Hillsborough (noon), respectively.

"Week of Baseball" on tap at Stadium

By Dean Smith
Sports Editor

SANFORD — High school baseball teams will be taking over Historic Sanford Memorial Stadium this coming week as it will be the site of the first annual Alan Buky Week of Baseball.

The tournament is being used to help raise funds for Buky, a Lake Mary resident and longtime umpire and promoter of youth baseball, who was stricken with a severe illness last summer and has many hospital and other medical costs to pay.

Some of the top talent in Central and Northeast Florida will be on display during the five-day, eight-game event.

The week opens with a huge matchup on Monday with recent state champion Eustis battling Oviedo at 7 p.m. The Lions, fresh off a trip to the State Final Four last season, have emerged as the top team so far in the Seminole Athletic Conference.

There will be a full day of action on Tuesday with host Seminole playing a doubleheader against Bertram Trail from Jacksonville at 10 a.m. and Eustis at 1 p.m.

Evening action has Bertram Trail returning to play a strong Lake Mary nine at 4 p.m. and Oviedo challenging another strong program in The Bolles School from Jacksonville at 7 p.m.

There will be single games the rest of the week.

On Wednesday at 6 p.m., Lake Mary takes on The Bolles School.

After a day off, Trinity Prep comes over to tackle Lake Mary. See Preps, Page 11

Vandalized manatee speed zone signs dangerous to area boaters

Special to the Herald

OCALA — The Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC) is warning boaters on the Indian River in Brevard County to beware of several navigational hazards resulting from someone cutting several manatee speed zone signs and leaving the posts submerged just beneath the surface or slightly sticking out of the water.

The first reports of damaged signs started coming in last week with the most recent sign found over the weekend. So far there are eight reported cut signs which are located in the Indian River near Melbourne both north and south of both the Eau Gallie Causeway and the Pineda Causeway.

The affected signs are as follows: two signs north of the Eau Gallie Causeway on the western shoreline, and three south of the causeway, also on the western shoreline; two signs north of the Pineda Causeway on the eastern shoreline, and one south of the causeway on the eastern shoreline.

Four of the signs are actually gone with only the posts remaining, and four signs are still standing on posts which have been cut with both a chain saw and a hand saw. The vandals cut several inches into the posts leaving only enough uncut wood to leave the posts standing. A good wind will blow the signs over.

"This is a deliberate act of vandalism that could have serious consequences," said Joy Hill, public information coordinator for the FWC.

"Unsuspecting boaters could strike the submerged posts, or hit the floating debris of the signs which have been blown over, which could cause serious injuries or even death."

Whoever is responsible for cutting down these signs could face felony charges, Hill added.

Anyone with any information about this crime is encouraged to call the FWC's toll-free, Wildlife Alert Hotline, 24 hours a day at 888-404-3922.

Callers may remain anonymous and may be eligible for a reward of up to $1,000 if their information leads to an arrest.

SURGE IN FLORIDA & GULF COAST TOWING CALLS INDICATES START OF SPRING BOATING SEASON

A surge in calls for assistance to the BoatU.S. 24-hour national dispatch call center during the last week of February and early March are early indications that the spring boating season has arrived, at least in some parts of the country.

"We saw a phenomenal rise in calls in the last two weeks coming from boaters in the Gulf States and Florida," said Jerry Cardarelli, vice president. See Outdoors, Page 12

Son of Sanford woman heads to war zone

By Ryan Scofield
Special to the Herald

ON BOARD USS BATAAN (LHD 5) - President George Bush spoke to Sailors in Mayport recently and reminded them and the nation of the role the U.S. Navy in the global war on terrorism. "The United States Navy carries the might and the mission of America to the farthest parts of the world," he stated.

Leading the way is the amphibious assault ship USS Bataan (LHD5), which has been called on again to carry out that mission in support of Operation Enduring Freedom.

Petty Officer 1st Class Kevin

Aviles, son of Laura Ladner of Sanford, is underway on board the Norfolk, Va.-based USS Bataan, heading east in support of any future contingency. Aviles, husband to Elisha Padieme-Aviles, said though the ship's final destination may be uncertain, the ship's mission is always clear. "We transport Marines to anywhere in the world. We can also perform the duties of an emergency hospital."

In 2002, USS Bataan assisted in the removal of the Taliban regime and the transport of the rebels to Guantanamo Bay, Cuba. This time, the crew received orders to return to the ship while they were on their recent holiday break. Aviles, like most of the crew, took it in stride. "I told my family and made sure they'd be taken care of while I'm away. Then I grabbed a few things, and headed for the ship to get us ready to go."

As the leading petty officer for the assault division, Aviles is responsible for ensuring the personnel and equipment in the division are ready for cargo and ammunition loading. "We move aircraft, cargo and munitions above and below deck with huge hydraulic elevators. I have to make sure that the elevators are always available."

Aviles, a 1986 graduate of Dr.

Pedro Albizu Campos in Toa Baja, P.R., said this deployment reminded him of why he enlisted in the military. "I wanted the adventure and travel opportunities the Navy could provide. The Navy represents everything I want to be a part of."

As Aviles and the rest of USS Bataan's crew head toward uncertainty, President Bush reminds the nation and the Sailors why they are going in the first place. "In this challenging period for our country, great tasks lie ahead for the Navy, and for our entire military. And I know we can depend on you, because this United States military is second to none."

adopted in 1920, Mr. Stevens was the city's first mayor under that form of government.

For many years he was president of the People's Bank of Sanford and had also been president of the Sanford building and Loan Assn.

Mr. Stevens was a member of the Presbyterian Church and was affiliated with the Sanford Rotary Club, the Order of Independent Americans and the Knights of Malta, a Masonic order. He was also considered one of the city's most ardent football and baseball fans.

He resided at 621 Park Avenue with his wife Rebecca and his daughter Miss Rebecca Stevens. His son, Dr. Ralph E. Stevens, had recently moved to St. Petersburg with his family where he was on the staff of the US War Veterans Hospital.

(Many of you remember Miss Rebecca Stevens who was on the faculty of Seminole High School for many years and was advisor of the Salmagundi for at least 20 years. She will also be remembered as the founder of the Seminole County Teachers Federal Credit Union. I recall that when I joined the SHS Faculty in 1961, Miss Stevens would carry the credit union records with her and would do most of its work herself at home. The building on Laurel Avenue was not built in 1977, though there was an office downtown a few years before.

Miss Stevens was Salmagundi advisor when I was its 1954 editor, I taught with her for about 20 years, I still have my first credit union passbook and for years she chauffeured many of us to various meetings such as Delta Kappa Gamma. And today I found out for the first time that the H.R. Stevens who was Sanford's first mayor under the commission form of government was her father.)

Congressional committee will conduct transit hearing in Sanford

The U.S. House Subcommittee on Highways, Transit and Pipelines will conduct a Congressional field hearing in Sanford, Florida on Monday, March 24, to review truck safety and mobility.

The hearing is being held at the request of U.S. Rep. John L. Mica (R-Fla.), a senior member of the House Transportation and Infrastructure Committee, who called for a review of federal truck safety and mobility policy as Congress debates reauthorization of the Transportation Equity Act of the 21st Century (TEA 21), which expires this fall. The hearing is part of a Congressional reauthorization that will establish federal highway and transit policy for the balance of the decade.

"This hearing will help Congress formulate the best plan and new approaches to keep America's commerce moving by our trucking industry in a safe and efficient manner," said U.S. Rep. Tom Petri (R-Wis.), chairman of the highways subcommittee.

"It is critical that we support commercial trucking, a vital economic and transportation link to future growth," Mica said.

Last year Mica asked the Florida Department of Transportation to consider several options to moving trucks through portions of congested central Florida Interstates, including restricted truck lanes, opening toll roads to trucks and automobiles when the Interstate loses down, tougher enforcement of licensure and truck equipment requirements, and reviewing truck speed limits.

The hearing will take place Monday, March 24 at 1:30 p.m. in the City Commission Chambers at Sanford City Hall, 101 N. Park Ave.

For additional information, access the Transportation & Infrastructure Committee website at www.house.gov/transportation.

The SCC offense was nearly as impressive as it ripped Vikings pitching for 14 hits with five different Raiders having multiple-hit games.

SCC did all of its scoring in two innings, a four-run third and a seven-run sixth, before the game was halted by the eight-run mercy rule.

Lake Mary's Carlee Wood got things started in the third inning as she led off the frame by singling to left.

Winter Springs' Melanie Pace followed with a sacrifice bunt and Winter Springs' Kristen Schrupp reached on an infield single that Wood could not advance on. A field grounder moved the runners up and Oviedo's Megan Miller broke the ice with an RBI single to left.

Lake Mary's Ashley Bitzer then doubled in a pair of runs with a drive to left-center and capped the scoring in the inning when she came home on a single by Karen Padgett.

In the sixth inning, Seminole High's Mindy Crouse led off with a pinch-hit single to right and Wood reached safely when her sacrifice bunt was thrown away at first. Pace then bunted for a single to load the bases.

A grounder forced Crouse at the plate, but Field drew a walk to force in a run. Miller then cleared the bases with three-run double down the leftfield line.

Bitzer then singled Miller to third and she moved up a base herself on a ground out. Kiley Sieffert then got the second extra base hit of the inning, a two-run double to left.

The final run of the inning, and the game, scored when Crouse reached on an error.

Bitzer finished the game 3-for-4 with a double, two runs scored and two RBI while Miller was 2-for-4 with a double, two runs scored and four RBI and Sieffert was 2-for-3 with a double, a run scored and two RBI.

Schrupp and Pace also had two hits each, Schrupp going 2-for-4 with two runs scored and Pace going 2-for-2 with a run scored.

Also contributing were Wood (single, two runs scored), Padgett (single, RBI), Crouse (single) and Field (run, RBI).

The second game saw a pitcher's duel over the first three innings, but the Raiders' bats finally came to life in the middle innings.

Miller opened the fourth inning for SCC with a single up the middle and Bitzer walked before the runners moved up on Schrupp sacrifice. Sieffert then broke the tie with a sacrifice fly to center.

The Raiders then broke the game open in the fifth inning.

Lori Schnepf singled to left with one out, but was erased on a Schrupp grounder. The Winter Springs grad then stole second ahead of Field walk and Miller single to left that loaded the bases.

Bitzer then singled to left for a pair of runs and runners ended up on second and third on an error on the play.

Stacey Spell then launched a two-run double to right-center.

SCC scored its final two runs in the sixth inning. Wood walked and Lacko singled up the middle. Wood was caught stealing with Lacko going to second and then advancing to third on a grounder to first.

Padgett then got a pinch-hit RBI single to center and Schrupp, who re-entered the game to run, stole second and later scored on a double down the leftfield line by Miller.

Lacko struck out nine and walked only one in running her record to 10-1.

Miller again had a huge game, going 3-for-4 with a double, two runs scored and an RBI.

Other hitters were Spell (double, two RBI), Bitzer (single, run, two RBI), Padgett (single, RBI), Lacko (single, run), Schnepf (single), Schrupp (two runs scored), Field (run scored) and Sieffert (RBI).

The Raiders are now 24-3 overall and 6-2 in Mid-Florida Conference play. They were to have hosted Manatee Community College from Bradenton in a doubleheader on Thursday and traveled to Winter Haven to play a doubleheader against Polk Community College on Friday and then return home for doubleheader with Miami-Dade Community College today (Saturday) at 1 p.m. and Hillsborough Community College from Tampa tomorrow (Sunday) at noon before taking off for the Spring Break.

Admission to all home games is free.

Preps

Continued from page 10 at 7 p.m. on Friday and the games will also be in town on Saturday for a matchup with Seminole at 1 p.m.

Oviedo has only lost one game so far and already has wins over Lake Mary, Lake Brantley and Seminole. Seniors Brian Brooks, Matt Lopez, Barry Baxter and Bridger Hunt have been the Lion leaders.

Lake Mary has also been strong, being co-champions of the Big Blue Bonanza with Lake Brantley and finishing well in the Raminole.

The Rams also feature a veteran lineup led by seniors Austin Pride, Tim Thomas, D.J.

Ackley, Mike Brady, Christian Rosado and Matt Bowling.

A young and rebuilding Seminole squad has pulled off a couple of nice wins with Robby Rotunno and Kenny Erickson doing most of the damage.

Trinity Prep has also showed signs of a strong lineup, led by slugger Mac Hampden.

NASCAR comes to Sanford

Seminole County residents were treated to a bit of big time stock car racing on Thursday as the husband and wife team of E.J. and Ken Pruitt (shown with car, above) brought one of the Lowe's sponsored Hendrick Motorsports Chevrolet Monte Carlo's driven by Jimmie Johnson to the Grand Opening of the new Sanford Lowe's on South 17-92 where the old drive in used to be. The Pruitt's also brought a coudown car (shown to the right of the full stocker (top photo), half with sheet metal, half with a bare frame so fans could get a look at what is under the body of a NASCAR Winston Cup car.

Lake Howell trailed just 11-9 after the first period, but when Raines' star sophomore, Derwin Kitchen, hit back-to-back three-pointers early in the second quarter, the Silver Hawks were down 17-10. The Vikings widened the gap to nine, 25-16, at halftime, then put the game away by outscoring the locals 12-4 in the third period.

"We didn't get going as a team. We couldn't make the big shot," said a disheartened Jared Laskey. "I take a lot of blame for that. I'm a senior and I should get people going."

The sophomore combo of Kitchen (20 points) and Juvann James (22) actually combined to outscore Lake Howell and were the only two players in the game to score in double figures.

The Silver Hawks were making their first-ever appearance in the State Tournament and end the season with a 29-7 record, breaking the old school mark of 27. The locals were also led in scoring by an underclassman, 6-foot-8 junior Pat Calathes with eight, while seniors Laskey and David Edwards had seven points each and Andrew Pieters six.

Other members of the veteran team were seniors Alexis Figueroa, Joey Forester, Nick Sarasty, Brian Hoffar, Gary Sanders, and Selwyn Birchwood, junior Zachary Thacker and sophomore Andy Hampton. Assisting Kohn were Mike Scutero, Andy Sarasty and Irwin Hudson.

Kohn was not overly impressed however. "They played good defense," said Kohn. "But we had seen that defense all season because everyone knew how we played. And we were able to battle right to the wire against teams like Edgewater and Oviedo. We just couldn't get anything to drop." "We also looked a step slow but that was because we couldn't shoot. We got a lot of energy from making a three-pointer. Even when we got behind I thought someone would catch fire. I don't know if we could have won, but we could have at least competed. I'm not upset at all, just disappointed that we did not compete better."

season in the South was a little quieter than usual, no doubt related to the rain and storm patterns which seem to have taken a breather."

In addition to improving weather, Cardarelli said many calls were related to a lack of proper spring commissioning.

"It's understandable that a lot of boaters get cabin fever and want to rush to get back on the water without completing important tasks, but equipment such as batteries, electrical systems, and fuel systems, tend to sour when they aren't used in a while," he said.

Cardarelli also noted that winter storms may have moved some shoals, "It's during this time of year that you learn the hard way that you won't be making the same shortcut you had all last summer."

BOATU.S.' TOP FIVE TIPS FOR BUYING BOAT INSURANCE

Buying boat insurance can be challenging for any boater. That's because unlike auto or home insurance, boat insurance policies aren't standardized - coverage can vary widely for the same boat depending on who sold the policy and how well informed a buyer you are. But the smart boater can make the right insurance choice with these "Top Five Tips for Buying Boat Insurance" from BoatU.S., the nation's largest recreational boat owners association:

#5 Know thy insurer: Boat insurance can be "added on" to a homeowner's policy, purchased from an independent insurance agent or directly through a reputable agent or directly from a marine insurer specialist. Buying a policy through a reputable agent or directly from a marine insurer specialist is the best way to go. "Adding on" to your homeowner's policy may seem to work just fine, but when there's a claim you will appreciate a company that knows more about boats than homes. Homeowner's policies often limit or don't provide some of the marine related coverages like salvage recovery.

Ask experienced boating friends for their insurance recommendations and check on the insurance "carrier," - the actual company that's providing you coverage - at www.ambest.com/ratings. AM Best ratings are the industry's benchmark for assessing an insurer's financial strength - look for an "A" rating (excellent) or better. State insurance regulatory agencies are also a good bet and can be found online.

#4 Agreed Value vs. Actual Cash Value: These are the two main choices for boat insurance and depreciation is what sets them apart. An "Agreed Value" policy costs more but it pays more - it will cover the stated value of the policy in the event of a total loss. For example, a total loss on a $50,000 agreed value policy would pay you $50,000. More importantly, a partial loss on an Agreed Value policy replaces most items on a "new for old" basis - with little or no depreciation, depending on the carrier. Hence, a claim for a stolen four-year-old GPS would get you a new, comparable replacement GPS.

"Actual Cash Value" policies cost less but only pay up to the actual cash value at the time the boat or property were lost - depreciation is factored in on all losses. Actual Cash Value policies are better suited to less expensive boats or when you aren't so concerned about a total loss.

#3 Know the salvage truth: If you have chosen an "Agreed Value" policy, stay away from those that limit salvage coverage - that's the amount that may be paid to a salvor to reward him for saving your boat from peril and bringing it safely to a repair yard. You want a policy that provides salvage coverage up to the same amount as the boat's Agreed Value, and does not subtract these dollars, or the policy's deductible, from the total amount available to fix the damage. For example, a $50,000 agreed value policy should have $50,000 available to salvage the boat from the bottom of the ocean and then pay up to $50,000 for repairs. Otherwise, you could end up short when replacing or repairing the boat because you may have to use some of your repair funds to pay off salvage costs first. Boats added to a homeowner's policy most often run this risk.

Some policies also have "hurricane deductibles" - a significantly higher deductible for salvage and/or repairs related to named storms or hurricanes. Be sure that this dollar amount is acceptable to you, otherwise you could end up short again.

#2 Speak to me in a language I understand: Don't treat boat insurance like other insurance. Make sure you understand exactly the coverage you are getting as well as what's not covered. Always ask for an explanation in laymen's terms.

#1 One size doesn't fit all: Have an old, rusty, paid-off sailboat? Spanking new (and highly leveraged) 36' express cruiser? Slick and fast bass boat? Personal water craft? Each has its own insurance requirements.

RUTH WOOD APPOINTED PRESIDENT, BOATU.S. FOUNDATION FOR BOATING SAFETY AND CLEAN WATER

Ruth Wood, former vice president of the BoatU.S. Foundation for Boating Safety and Clean Water has been appointed the organization's president.

Wood joined BoatU.S. in 1983 as an administrative assistant and was promoted to Manager of the BoatU.S. Foundation in 1985, Assistant Vice President in 1990 and then Vice President of the Foundation in 1997.

Wood's new role will see her responsibilities increase in providing strategic direction to the Foundation, and she will continue as liaison to both the United States Power Squadrons and the United States Coast Guard Auxiliary. Both of these organizations recently committed to new marketing alliances with BoatU.S. Wood is an avid sailor, power boater and kayaker.

BoatU.S. is a non-profit organization dedicated to promoting boating safety and clean water. The organization works to educate boaters on safe practices and to advocate for clean water and wildlife protection. For more information, visit www.boatUS.com.

Homelessness isn't a prob

It's a person.

Homelessness doesn't take away just the roof over someone's head. It takes away more personal things. Like feelings of comfort and security. Volunteers of America provides services so that people who lose their homes can keep what's most important to them—their hope. To learn more about how you can help, please call us at 1.900.866.0088 or visit www.volunteersofamerica.org.

*We guarantee our everyday competitive prices. If you find a lower everyday or advertised price on an identical stock item at any local retail competitor that has the item in stock, we'll meet their price by 10% when you buy from us. Just bring us the competitor's current ad or we'll call to verify the item's price that you have found. Cash (charge card) and carry purchases only. Competitor's clearance, special order, discontinued, clearance, liquidation and damaged items are excluded from this offer. On percent off sales, we will match the competitor's percent off offer. Limited to reasonable quantities for homeowner and one-time order quantities for each and carry contractors. Current in-store price. If lower, overrides Lowe's advertised price. Price guarantee honored at all Lowe's retail locations. Labor charges for product installation are excluded from our price guarantee offer in our stores with no installed Sales Program. Visit store for complete details. *Prices may vary after March 26, 2003, if there are market variations. See store for details regarding product warranties. We reserve the right to limit quantities.
*Professional installation through licensed subcontractors. Lowe's contractor license numbers: AK#21065; AZ#151744; CA#803295; CT#HC0054952; FL#FC057468; HI#BC-22280.00; IL#Pumber #086-100140; LA#Master Plumber #13AP-6048; MD#PD48152-01; NV#45450; NJ

Water heater installation: If an expansion tank is required by local code it will be an additional charge (not included in the basic replacement labor). Permit fees are additional (not included in the basic replacement labor).
*Zero payments, zero interest for 6 months. Payments not required for 6 months on any approved single receipt purchase of $200 or more charged to your Lowe's Credit Card account from 3/17/03 - 3/16/03. Finance charges and optional insurance charges on your promotional purchase will be billed from the date of purchase, but finance charges will be credited if the promotional purchase and any insurance charges are paid in full within the promotional period. If you do not, you will be responsible for these charges. Regular credit terms apply to non-promotional purchases. APR is 21% (15.9% for purchases of $2,000 or more). Minimum finance charge is $1.00; ($1.50 in IA). Offer subject to credit approval. Excludes business accounts.
