

Officials Of A. A. U. Believe Ray Will Take Marathon Race At Olympic Games

NEW YORK, Apr. 21.—(INS)—Will Joie Ray, in committing to posterity the final chapter of his competitive life, follow the spic-headed climax achieved by Hannes Kolehmainen, that great runner of the preceding generation? To answer the question in the affirmative, Ray will have to win the marathon at the Olympic Games and Secretary Dan Ferris (and other A. A. U. officials, returning from the scene of the Boston Marathon, today not only felt that he could but that he very well might.

"Most of them expected Joie to beat De Mar after he had got out of the hills in good condition and was less than 150 yards back with two miles to go," Ferris declared. "It is possible that, with his superior speed and finishing on the flat, Ray would have done that. There is no question in my mind that the poor condition of his feet prevented Ray from turning in a sensational performance. Except in this respect, he was as fresh as any man in the race."

Ferris and the rest of them still were under the spell of Ray's effort. Few spectators have been more dramatic than was Joie's struggle to the finish, his unseeing eyes blurred with pain, his lips blackened, his feet an aching of blisters. Thus, the penalty of playing another man's game, a concession that so many of us have to make to the advancing years.

It was not less than a half dozen years ago, that Joie Ray was one of the great mile runners of the world and those who raced him played his game and none other. He was an autocrat in his own particular domain and he was his own man with a half-smile of contempt for those who would say him ray was the pampered thoroughbred then; now, in order to merit consideration, he must show his head to the sock and pull doggedly with the work horse, the percheron of sport.

A day's plowing would have Man O'War's silken tendons. It is not surprising that the fact that he had once tried velvet rebelling at cabbies after twenty four miles and so sent their owner reeling with pain to the finish, in third place where he might have won. "He looked like a man trying to run on eggs," was Ferris' comment on the spectacle.

It is not on record that Hohenheim suffered the same experience when he made the transition from runner to plunger. It is probable that he did, for the Finn was as finely attuned a bit of running machinery as Ray could ever have hoped to be.

The war served to prevent Hohenheim from creating an Olympic record probably as great as Nurni's. The former, in fact, was greater at Stockholm in 1912 than Nurni was at Antwerp in 1920 and it was necessary for Ray to do all he did at Paris in 1924 to replace Hohenheim altogether in the esteem of his countrymen. What Koley might have accomplished in 1916, if the war hadn't intervened, is a matter for speculation only.

Four years later, his speed was gone and he did what Ray is attempting to do today. He joined the "senior brigade," made up of thirty souls who find the first thirty miles the hardest, and in the Olympic Marathon at Antwerp, he beat them at their own game. Accepting his Boston debut at face value, no one can say that Joie Ray won't be able to repeat Koley's performance when and if he gets to Amsterdam.

Fight Promoters Already Have Begun To Ballyhoo For Large Gate Receipts

By Davis J. Walsh

NEW YORK, April 20.—(INS)—The word of the week, the word that will begin to get on the nerves of the underworld, is "ballyhoo."

The word is being used in a new sense, and it is being used in a new way. It is being used to describe the kind of advertising that is being done for the fight between Jim Shanon and Jim Williams.

The promoters of the fight are already beginning to ballyhoo the fight. They are saying that the fight will be a big one. They are saying that the gate receipts will be large.

They are saying that the fight will be a big one. They are saying that the gate receipts will be large.

American Golfers To Invade British Links

NEW YORK, Apr. 19.—(INS)—Walter Hagen, Gene Sarazen and "Wild Bill" Mehlhorn, leading American golf professionals, sailed for Europe early today on the Aquitania to compete in the British open championships. Tommy Armour, American and Canadian open champion, cancelled his sailing at the last minute.

Hagen, Sarazen and Mehlhorn constitute America's hope of retaining the honor won for the last two years by Bobby Jones, amateur champion. Jones is not competing this year. St. Newton, an amateur, accompanied the pros.

Also on board the Aquitania was Miss Helen Wills, women's national tennis champion. The California girl was accompanied by Miss Penelope Anderson of Richmond, Va., seventh in the national ranking. They will play in several European tournaments before competing in Savannah, Tenn., Apr. 29.

Yesterday's Results Show Batters Of Both Leagues Are Far Ahead Of Pitchers

NEW YORK, Apr. 20.—(INS)—That the batters of both Major Leagues are far ahead of the pitchers is indicated by a perusal of the box scores of yesterday's games, in which thirteen teams pounded out 178 hits, including 61 extra blows, for a combined batting average of .335. This does not include the record of the Cincinnati Reds, who were held to two hits by Sheriff Blake of the Cubs.

"Pie" Traynor of the Pirates led the sluggers with five hits. Those who collected four bingles were Hank Wilson, Joe Kelly and Les Bell of the Braves, Wilson slugged out two homers and Kelly one.

Fifteen home runs in all rattled off the bats of the big league sluggers. Babe Ruth collected his first four-base blow of the season. Ken Williams of the Red Sox, Ruth's chief home run rival in other years, also got one and is now leading the American League with three homers. Grantham hit Pittsburgh's first home run

Magnificent new smartness... a big brute of a Pikes Peak Motor... the great safety of Westinghouse Brakes... and the famous time-saving "One Shot" chassis lubrication system

HERE'S news—big news—good news—to every family now on the verge of buying a new car priced anywhere around a thousand dollars: A new six-cylinder, four-door, five-passenger Special Sedan by Chandler at $995!

The price is remarkable because it's the price of a Chandler—and the car is remarkable in a good many ways...

Remarkably beautiful—a magnificent car outwardly and inwardly—elegantly upholstered and appointed—exceptionally roomy and comfortable.

Remarkably powerful—a big brute of a Pikes Peak Motor that gives you hair-trigger action in traffic—easy mastery of the steepest hills—and worlds of stamina for the open highway.

Remarkable ease and safety of control.

Westinghouse Vacuum Brakes make this car phenomenally easy to stop. At any speed in any weather, a mere touch on the pedal brings you to a quick, smooth "cushioned" stop.

And think of this—when you want to lubricate the chassis you simply press your foot on a plunger. That's the great advantage of Chandler's "One Shot" centralized lubricating system.

Scores of advanced features, all the way through the car. An oil filter. A pre-heating manifold vaporizer. An automatic thermostat in the cooling system. Self-adjusting noiseless spring shackles. Feature after feature you would only expect of a high-priced car.

Come look at this car. Come drive this car. Compare this car with anything else within rifle range of the price!

Sinclair's Acquittal

"Twelve men good and true" who were above average intelligence have acquitted Harry F. Sinclair, millionaire oilman, of having criminally conspired with Albert Fall to defraud the government in the Teapot Dome oil lease. They arrived at this decision in less than two hours of deliberation and in face of the facts that the Supreme Court has charged that Fall was unfaithful to his trust; that the Senate has probed and uncovered sensations; that the leases have been cancelled; that scores have been linked with the case directly and indirectly, have been involved and have suffered, and that corruption has become a political issue.

What the average layman may think of all this it is not within our province to divine but it is interesting to note how some of the leaders of the country, who have been following the trial, feel about what appears to be a flagrant miscarriage of justice. Senator Nye, chairman of the public lands committee which originally exposed the oil scandals, said; "You can't convict one million dollars in the United States under the order that prevails now. In the minds of the American public Sinclair stands convicted, yet direct conviction is impossible. Its disgusting, discouraging." Senator Norris of Nebraska declared: "Everybody in the United States, including the Supreme Court knows he is guilty." And he suggests sarcastically that we ought to pass a law that no man with a hundred million dollars should even be tried. Senator Walsh stated: "I didn't see how he could escape." Senator Brooks of Iowa: "The jury's verdict doesn't change my opinion of Sinclair's guilt."

These opinions expressed by those high in the affairs of government cannot help but start in the minds of the people a chain of thought leading up to the proposition that all is not well with our courts. And it is this, and not the lone fact that perhaps a guilty man has escaped the penalty, which is the vital consequence of that six year legal battle. The respect for law, even now the despair of the nation's well wishers, will not be strengthened by the fiasco that has just been enacted in Washington. Other business potentates seeing with what apparent ease one may conspire to fleece the government and escape punishment will have less hesitancy in putting across their nefarious schemes. The lesser crook wishing to emulate his more successful brethren will take a new lease on life and will branch out into broader and richer fields. And in the meantime the public will be asking the question: "Are there two sets of laws, one for the rich and one for the poor?"

No Federal Aid

According to a notice just received from Washington, Dwight F. Davis, secretary of war, has approved the spending of $400,000 on the St. John's River from Jacksonville to the ocean. But not one cent did he approve for any other section of the river. The St. John's from Jacksonville to Sanford is not mentioned in the total federal appropriation of $55,000,000. That portion of the river will go without aid for a couple of years at least. Secretary Davis can't be blamed for it. He has a good many rivers to look after over the entire United States. But the state of Florida sends senators and congressmen to Washington to look after those things and get what's needed.

Senator Park Trammell and Congressman Joe Sears are both running for re-nomination in the Democratic Primary June 5. Neither has been in Sanford, but from other parts of the state come whisperings of the prowess of these two legislators and what they have brought various sections of the state. For the past two years both of them have been going about talking for this waterway or that waterway depending upon where they were speaking, and discussing federal aid for this and that.

If these two men come to Sanford, the citizens of Seminole County are going to ask an accounting of their services. The people are going to inquire into what Trammell and Sears have done for them. They are going to expect Trammell and Sears to tell them.

But Sears and Trammell, if they are wise, will tread softly. They might claim they obtained $100,000 for Jacksonville, $650,000 for Miami, $180,000 for Tampa, but they can't claim they obtained a thing from the present congress for the St. John's between Jacksonville and Sanford, if the war department report is correct.

Getting federal aid for waterways is a favorite campaign promise. Candidates find it brings in the votes as well as any gag the politicians have yet invented. But Trammell and Sears can't with logic promise anything in the way of federal aid for this end of the river. They may have tried to get it and failed. It would seem a wise move for the voters to give other candidates a chance at bringing home the bacon.

NOT IN POLITICS, BUT TITUSVILLE STAR-ADVOCATE

While the Star-Advocate is not taking part in the election of public officers in Brevard County. While it believes that no interference by taking a definite stand for a ticket would not be for the best interests of the county, it recognizes the valuable of our particular public official to the whole county. That official is the present holder of the office of state senator, J. J. Parrish.

His value, however, is not to the county alone; it has reached out until it has become a voice of great importance to the people of Florida. At this particular time his service in the state senate probably counts for even more than during average years for a new governor will be elected and a new administration will take up the reins of state government will be John W. Martin will leave them. Whoever the new governor will be he will need the guiding influence of strong men in the state senate he will need the kind of aid from the legislature that has been tried from men who have been tried and found wanting in the legislative branch of state government.

Senator Parrish not only commands the respect and confidence of the people of his own country, but of a large percentage of the people of the state. Furthermore he commands the confidence and respect of members of the senate and the house of representatives. And while there is no possible chance for any other man to defeat him in the election, it will encourage him to carry on in the same manner as in other years if he is given the biggest vote since he became a public servant. A unanimous ballot for him would be proper and in proportion to the service he has rendered and will render to Florida and Brevard County.

WELL, WHY THE KICKING? The Columbia Record says a "new code of ethics in the gentlemanly art of drunkenness appears to have been created by the Volstead act," and quotes authorities in the city of Detroit as saying that "more liquor is now being consumed in Detroit every day than ever before, but there is far less public drunkenness!"

If it is a fact that we are having more liquor and less drunkenness under prohibition than before, one wonders what all the row is about in the camp of the wet. They ought to find conditions more to their liking than ever, and one wonders why they aren't all out rooting for prohibition. Or another demonstration of that rule of perverse human nature that some folks are never satisfied?—The Greenville News.

Health HINTS

By DR. J. C. HOWELL

MEDICAL PUBLICITY

At a recent meeting of the Florida State Medical Association, a great deal of time was devoted to medical publicity. A well known local physician was a member of the committee on publicity, and according to the newspaper reports, asked persistently the claims of cutlits and quacks. This is a move in the direction of the importance of publicity in the twentieth century.

In endorsing publicity, they have moved up into the class of bankers, big corporations, and all wide awake, forward looking people. Why should not a doctor more enterprising than his fellows, who goes away to some great medical center and learns of a new discovery whereby the lives of a great number of his fellow-citizens can be prolonged, thereby making them healthier and happier citizens, make use of the daily press to take his message to his neighbors. There are no sin of omission, as well as commission. If a physician knows of some method whereby the life of a sick and suffering child, wife or parent can be saved and does not inform me of it, I consider him decidedly remiss in his duty as a neighbor and fellow citizen. For that reason, I have always taken the position that medical publicity through the local press was of more importance to the public than to the physician furnishing the publicity. Almost daily some grateful person suffering with indigestion, constipation or hemorrhoids comes to my office and tells me that he had seen my articles, and otherwise would be continued in his sufferings, either as a patient in a hospital, or as a patient in his home. I leave it to the public whether or not they will be benefited by a blessing to the public. Again I compliment the Florida Medical Association on its decision to use the press as a means of publicity.

Sisters over the skin

Kipling's famous "Colonel's Lady and Judy O' Grady," who were "sisters under the skin," are sisters over the skin as well in these days when the latest and most authoritative fashion news is available to every woman in the advertising columns of her newspaper.

Today no woman's clothes need proclaim the thickness of her pocketbook. The advertisements which meet the eye of the woman accustomed to social secretaries and liveried chauffeurs, and guide her in her selection of a wardrobe—likewise greet and guide the young lady who earns her own living. And both may be thankful that advertising has forever banished the dowdy, frumpy "female."

Where will the waistline be? Bows at the cuffs, or not? "V" neck or square? How long—or how short? What materials does Paris favor? What colors are "being worn"? Those questions are answered for everyone—in the advertisements. And with the answers are coupled the names of manufacturers and merchants who make and sell materials, trimmings, accessories, on which you can rely. For those advertised names are advertised only because they are reliable. Otherwise you would probably never hear of them.

You can follow the advertised styles with assurance—and buy by advertised names with profit.

T. A. Holds Its Last Meeting Of Season
 The season's last meeting of the Parent Teachers Association of the Grammar School was held Thursday afternoon at the Grammar School auditorium. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Fred Daiger, the meeting was presided over by Mrs. Dwight Babbitt, vice president.
 Routine business was carried out, after which election of officers took place resulting as follows: president, Mrs. F. S. Veray; vice president, Mrs. Dwight Babbitt; secretary, Mrs. M. Minarik; treasurer, Mrs. L. M. Semhart.
 Mrs. Babbitt gave an exceptionally interesting talk on Musical Week, and told of the musical contests held at this time by the pupils in all the Sanford schools. Of how each day Victrola numbers of noted composers, and piano selections were given, and of the children memorizing the names of the number and also of the composer, thus instilling a love for the best in music. Miss Maxine Young played a number of piano solos, and several delightful numbers were also played on the Victrola.
 After all business had been transacted, the class rooms were visited by the mothers, and much interest was shown in the rest or "pick room," where children were given first aid treatment in case of accident, or could rest if taken ill during school hours.
 Late in the afternoon the members repaired to the lunch room where the hostesses, Mrs. Henry Nickles, Mrs. G. A. Brown, Mrs. C. M. Boyd, Mrs. R. E. Deas, Mrs. Frank Tibbott, and Mrs. Squires, served refreshments of iced tea, sandwiches and crystallized grape fruit sticks.

Mrs. Galloway Gives Party At Her Home
 The lovely country home of Mrs. Ernest Galloway "Sally" Ray Farms on Cameron Avenue, was the scene Saturday afternoon of an exceptionally beautiful and enjoyable social affair when Mrs. Galloway entertained a number of the younger matrons at bridge.
 In the living room, pink, blue and green were the colors featured and were carried out with baskets of children's pink, red, blue, yellow and blue satin, while in the dining room the colors of yellow and blue were most artistically carried out with yellow roses corn flowers and gailardia.
 The afternoon hours were quickly spent with the enjoyable games of progressive bridge and when the games had been concluded scores were collected by Mrs. J. D. Woodruff, Mrs. W. C. Hill and Mrs. R. G. Fox. Mrs. Floyd Palmer, who scored the most points, won the first prize, which was a nice chintz under arm pocket book, while the second prize, a glazed

No Hayseeds Anymore Since Dawn of Radio

JOHNNY JOHNSON

IT'S ALL ONE BIG TOWN TO ME, NEIGHBOR

Orchestra Leader Finds Boys From Sticks Up On Everything
 New York City.—The "have seed" is obsolete. Dashing Johnny Johnson, orchestra director of the Pennsylvania Hotel, says so, and Johnny who plays on any given day to an audience made up of the folks from Hicksville, the boys from Broadway and silk lapelled gentlemen from at least ten different European capitals, should know.
 "There is a reason—and radio is it," he declared. "Before radio spread over the land, it took six months for a song popular in New York to reach the wheat fields. Today, the lad out in Fairville is whistling 'What Are You Waiting For, Mary?' the latest hit, less than a week after Broadway has gone mad over it."
 "What does this mean? It means that the country chap can pull off his overalls, and when he comes to the Big Town he knows what it's all about. He can dance as well as his city brother, and not only that but radio programs of all kinds have told him what to wear, what shoes are good, and who won the last big fight.
 "Radio has done as much for the farmer as the lad. It's impossible to tell whether a circus comes from a small town or from Park Avenue these days. The New York girls may wear their skirts a little shorter—but no much."
 It is said that twenty-five hundred people pass through the Pennsylvania daily. During one week forty states of the Union were represented, and ten different countries. Johnson is kept busy between dance numbers shaking hands with radio fans who have heard him in their homes from Maine to California.

chintz pillow went to Mr. Braxton B. Baggett. For having scored the least honors and points Mrs. Dinah Stafford was given a teabell in the form of an old-fashioned girl. Those who held lowest scores at each table were presented bouquets of gladioli.
 At the ten hour the bridge tables were cleared and refreshments in two courses were served by the hostesses. There were five tables of players who enjoyed the cordial hospitality of this charming hostess.

Invention Will Aid Airplanes To Make High Rate Of Speed
 CLEVELAND, April 20.—(INS)—An invention which may revolutionize flying, according to A. C. Rutzen, of Cleveland, its sponsor, is nearing completion here. With his principles applied to airplanes, Rutzen predicts the heavier-than-air machines will be capable of making a speed of 350 miles an hour; will use less gas by one-half than the present machines and be able to take-off or land without danger on roofs of large buildings. His invention, Rutzen claims, may be used for dirigibles or planes. Rutzen said he had made successful secret tests here with model airplanes which had attachments of tubes and other equipment. He said he is now ready to apply his inventions to a regular sized air-ship.

 "The new type of airship does away with outer forces of strong air currents by having the propeller operated inside tubes," Rutzen explained. "Two tubes run through the center of a dirigible and under the wings of an airplane. They operate through air suction."
 "The top of the plane has an arrangement that prevents it from tipping to a dangerous degree. It can be elevated and lower by working the tubes. With such tubes, it will be possible to raise it straight up from the top of a building without danger."
 "With such a machine it is possible to go to—
 "will use one-half less gas than the present airplanes use."
 Rutzen said he has already negotiated with interested parties in developing the new principle of air navigation and an airplane will be built soon with new tubes and other equipment either in Cleveland or Detroit.
