

'Ex-Red Spy' Tells Of His Work For Castro

MIAMI (UPI) — A self-styled "ex-Communist spy" said today that Castroite spies and terrorists outside of Cuba take their orders from Premier Fidel Castro's ambassadors to the United Nations and Brazil.

Fernando Fernandez Barrena's tape-recorded "confession" identified the Red Cuban spymasters as U. N. Ambassador Carlos Lechuga and Ambassador to Brazil Saul Ros Jr., a son of Fidel Castro's foreign minister.

Fernandez, who said he had been recruited as a propagandist-spy by a Cuban in Kansas City, said some of his reports were sent directly to Lechuga. In most cases, though, he said he reported to a Cuban "refugee" working for the Bowl Company of Nassau in the Bahamas.

Leaders of the refugee Christian Democratic Movement said they persuaded Fernandez to talk. They passed his confession on to the Miami office of the FBI, where the ex-spy was being questioned today.

An FBI spokesman declined comment on Fernandez' revelations.

Fernandez said the Castroites instructed him to try to persuade Cuban refugees in Miami to return home on the assumption that communism is in Cuba to stay.

He said he also was ordered to spy on refugees led by Manuel Artimo Bueso, who are believed to be preparing some kind of attack on Cuba from bases in Central America.

He also helped to organize a spy network in the Middle West, Fernandez said.

He said the Castroites are smuggling weapons to terrorists in Venezuela in fishing boats, in keeping with the Castro slogan "a submachine gun under every jacket."

He said Communist agents trained in Cuba are often landed along with the smuggled weapons.

Fernandez, who said he used the cover name Harry Fristo in his spywork, told refugees here he came to the United States in January, 1961, and was recruited as a spy about a year later.

He said the Cuban embassies in Mexico and Brazil provide agents in Latin America with money and false identity papers.

Cow Palace To Be Registered

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — California Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk has announced that the name of the Cow Palace, site of the 1961 Republican National Convention, will be registered by the state with the U. S. Patent Office because several eastern livestock pavilions have been using the name to describe their barns.

'Biggest Bargain' Offered Fans

The Seminole Boosters Club in conjunction with the athletic department of Seminole High School is sponsoring "the biggest bargain in Central Florida football," according to President O. L. Barks and Athletic Director Fred Ganas.

Ganas recently sent a letter to many Seminole supporters of last year offering a season pass for the family at a nominal cost. This would include admission for all the family to the five football games played at Memorial Stadium and other sports during the regular year played on the home grounds and for which admission is charged.

Out of the recent Boosters' meeting came the plan to meet a demand for reserved seats. This, according to the announcement would combine with the season pass a reserved section family pass for an added sum.

While new letters are going out to the mailing list at the high school office, Ganas pointed out that this bargain rate is not restricted to these families. He hopes that interest in the Seminoles of literally hundreds of football fans will prompt them to take advantage of this method of "avoiding a scramble at the gate."

Barks pointed out that holders of the season pass will not have to stand in line at the gate but will enter through a special "no wait" gate. With the reserve section pass also, regardless of arrival time of the fan, he will have a seat in the special section that will be at or close to midfield.

Added to the attractive proposition, Ganas said that the new seats on the home side—this year it will be the east side of the field—will be 13 rows high and will give a wide selection of vantage points from which to witness the Warrior gridiron gladiators as "they whip their opponents into submission."

Since the opening game is with Titusville on Sept. 20, Ganas hopes that an early response will permit him to establish the number and location of the reserved seats soon.

Two Arrested In Race Stunt

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPD) — Authorities today held two white men who were arrested trying to hang an effigy of a Negro at a school scheduled to be integrated Wednesday.

The suspects were identified as Lloyd Colvin, 22, and Paul Breasseale, 21, of Birmingham. They were arrested at West End High School Saturday night. Charges of trespassing and disorderly conduct were filed against them.

Johnson Visits Stockholm On Official Tour

STOCKHOLM (UPI) — Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson arrived today for the first stop on a 10,000-mile tour he hopes will tighten bonds between the United States and five north European nations.

Johnson, on an unprecedented visit by a high U. S. official to this nation, flew in from Washington after a brief stopover in Hyannis Port, Mass., to confer with President Kennedy at the summer White House.

Waiting for the vice president was a top Swedish delegation, led by Premier Tage Erlander and Foreign Minister Torsten Nilsson, parliamentary representatives lined up to greet Johnson and a military band played on the platform.

After three days in Sweden, the vice president will visit Norway, Denmark, Iceland, Finland and Danish-owned Greenland, the world's largest island.

He is the highest American official ever to visit these areas.

Johnson, accompanied by his wife, Lady Bird, and 10-year-old daughter, Lynda, will be entertained by King Gustaf Adolf VI at a luncheon at the royal summer palace of Soller during his visit.

The vice president also planned a round of discussions with Erlander and other members of the Swedish government.

Court Of Honor Held For Troop

First Court of Honor for the newly chartered Scout Troop 507 of Grace Methodist Church was held at the church with Patrol Leader Jeff Cox receiving his first class badge and Patrol Leader Blair Kitcher receiving second class.

Tenderfoot badges were presented to James Averett, Karl Rossman, Billy Shepard, Lamar Williams Jr., Tommy Hite, Robert Repp Jr., Francis Stewart, Frank Williams, Lane Ely, Jim Kennedy and Bill Kennedy.

The honor court ceremonies were under the direction of W. W. Tyre, Scoutmaster of Troop 31 of First Methodist Church and Scouts Jim Barks and Jim Lee presented the badges.

After receiving their badges, the Scouts then pinned miniature badges on their mothers.

Following opening ceremonies, the two patrols entertained the audience of parents and friends with skits.

Introduced to the group were the following committeemen: Buddy Williams, institutional representative; Bob Roffey, chairman; Russ Kitcher, secretary-treasurer, and Donald Jackson, publicity and advancement.

The troop received its charter during the morning services last July 28.

Assistant Scoutmasters are John Fry Jr. and Lamar Williams.

Since their charter, the troop has taken a tour of Southern Bell Telephone building and held a bake sale.

On Aug. 28 the scouts camped out at the church and did their good deeds by weeding and working in the church yard.

Test Ban Treaty Hit By Teller

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Dr. Edward Teller, chief opponent of the nuclear test ban treaty, believes the United States based its decision to sign the pact on a "false hope" of peace.

Teller said in a television interview Sunday the only way to preserve true world peace is for this country to remain militarily strong "as we have done."

He appeared on Meet The Press... NBC.

The nuclear physicist said the treaty would keep the United States from developing an effective anti-missile missile. He said "we desperately need to know the effect of a nuclear blast in the atmosphere" on U. S. radar defenses.

The treaty, which bars all nuclear tests except underground blasts, comes up on the Senate floor for ratification on Sept. 9. It was approved by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, 16 to 1.

Pediatrics Ward Step Nearer As Big Show Ends

The new pediatrics ward at Seminole Memorial Hospital came a little closer to realization Tuesday night with the closing of the well-received Rotary Vaudeville Show and premier movie showing at the Ritz Theater.

Mayor Tom McDonald, past president of the Rotary Club and general chairman of the Pediatrics Ward Project, said today:

"This wonderful show has boosted our funds more than $1,200 now toward our goal of $5,000 to provide the furnishings for the pediatrics ward."

"From the comments heard, we feel that everyone enjoyed the talent show and the first rate movie and had the satisfaction of knowing they were helping toward a good cause, at the same time," he added.

Show chairman was Bob Crumley, ticket chairman was Mason Wharton and Bill Lovelace arranged for the use of the theater and the movie.

Adding to the "first-night" aura were the patting attendants and the Jolly, sunny clowns out in front of the theater who "recreated" showgoers into the building.

Spurred by witty master of ceremonies George Touhy, the succession of talented amateur performers, took the spotlight to sing, dance and clown to the hearty applause of a choice audience of over 400 "first-nighters."

Adding to a well-deserved roar of applause was the hilarious "Wayfarers" group, starring Jack Ivey, Louise Higginbotham and Jim Touhy.

Miss Patty Glenn Johnson was in her usual fine form, especially in the number "One Fine Day." She was accompanied by Miss Pam Jones.

A group of balladeers from the Sanford Junior High, led by Pete Stewart, and the syndicated musical Kathy Hinkle, Jim Dougherty and Jean Green.

Delightful Hawaiian ceremonial dances were presented by Gloria and Karen Green, with Karen coming back to bring down the house with her show-stopping Tahitian hula.

A fitting climax for the show was the hilarious Marching Men of the Moose, with their unique act which never fails to stop the show, as they march in with their huge hats and their funny looking "faces."

State Warns Of Non-Compliance On New Taxes

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The Revenue Commission said Tuesday sales tax collections for July increased over 1962, but warned that some state businessmen are not complying with the expanded tax laws passed by the 1963 Legislature.

"It might appear that collections were not as complete as they might have been," Commission Director J. Ed Straughn said, "but it is quite natural that full compliance with the law will take several months."

Collections totaled $16,383,421 for July, the first month of business under the expanded sales and use tax. This was up $1.8 million from 1962.

"Compliance must be put into effect without delay," Straughn warned.

Collection for the fiscal year totaled $32,476,152, up $2 million from last year.

Gasoline tax collections for August totaled $11,382,641, Straughn said.

NAS Buying Two Tracts

Negotiations are under way for the purchase of two tracts of land for the proposed expansion of Sanford Naval Air Station. It was reported to the U. S. Navy by the Navy Dept. on Tuesday.

The tract is south of the station and will be used for the new north-south runway. Six houses on the property will be razed and, the Commission said, Marquette Street will be closed and a county road will be relocated.

The second tract is to the west of the air station and contains eight houses. Six houses will be razed and two will be used for officers' quarters.

The entire project, including the land purchase and the runway construction, will cost $1,641,000. But Congressman Herlong explained that "this is a 1963 project—Congress must authorize the program and then appropriate the money for it."

Mathews Calls For Action To Regain States' Rightful Power

Federal government's assumption of state powers, and the willingness of the states to permit that action, was attacked by State Sen. John Mathews, Jacksonville, before Sanford Kiwanis Club members at noon today at the Civic Center.

"It is time we restore respect for the state house and the court house," Mathews asserted, "instead of firing a shot to our Congress every time we want something."

Senator Mathews was introduced by his fellow lawmaker, Sen. Mack N. Cleveland Jr.

Mathews, unannounced candidate for governor, said that "action of the 1963 Legislature was a starter in the state's reversing the trend of ignoring responsibilities it should hold in several fields, especially the field of higher education, the fiscal program and the field of outdoor recreation."

He emphasized the fiscal responsibility, especially pertaining to bond issues, and stated that "it hope the bond investigating committee will make a thorough study of the situation, such as bond sales which will total well over $1 billion."

Mathews traced what has happened in the past 60 years in the federal government's taking over state powers, and he hit at the state of Florida for refusing to solve this problem.

"The day of reckoning is here," he stated, explaining that "the federal government may take over financing higher education and recreation."

It was in the fields of welfare and roads, or else the state must assume its responsibilities in this respect. The move could transcend every state function."

The lawmaker drew a contrast between the 1963 Legislature and "the 1961 'dominating' Legislature." He contended that "if the 1963 Legislature had started to do something about our known problems, especially education, the 1963 Legislature could have done lots more at less cost."

Senator Mathews will go to Tallahassee Friday for a State Supreme Court hearing on his petition seeking a court ruling on his proposed campaign for governor. His question pertains to a 1963 Legislature enactment pertaining

Ex-Alderman Of Casselberry Blasts Charter

A former member of the Casselberry Board of Aldermen today spoke out in opposition to the proposed new charter for the town which comes up Thursday for a referendum of the people.

Mrs. Hope Bennett said that "quite a few of the people are alarmed at this charter with its 'hidden tax' possibilities which apparently had been removed at the time of the meeting with the Seminole County legislative delegation."

"If the charter had been left as it was then I believe it would have received a unanimous vote of approval. However, two weeks after the delegation met in Casselberry, the Board of Aldermen and charter committee reinstated all of the tax items."

"I have been told that costs of preparing the charter for the referendum ran well over $1,000 yet a number of our registered voters have never received a copy of it."

"I am very much aware that Casselberry needs a new charter and that the present one leaves much to be desired. I do think, though, that the people would be far happier with some form of document other than the one we're voting on Thursday," she concluded.

Alachua Wet In Light Vote

GAINESVILLE (UPI) — Alachua County residents will be able to buy bottled liquor at package stores and mixed drinks at bars, but probably not in time to celebrate the New Year.

A turnout of about 50 percent of the county's registered voters approved legalized liquor sales Tuesday, 7,926 to 5,235.

On second question, the vote was 6,185 in favor of the sale of both bottled liquor and mixed drinks, against 1,620 votes for package store sales only.

Gainesville, home of the University of Florida and about two-thirds of the county population, voted "wet" at all 15 rural precincts. Of the 15 rural precincts, only three voted wet.

$80,000 In Back Bonuses Ordered

TAMPA (UPI) — The National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) today ordered General Telephone Co. of Florida to pay employees more than $80,000 in back Christmas bonuses.

The NLRB said the company issued $10 Christmas checks to each employe but decided to stop the practice in 1961, more than 30 years after it was started.

"We are persuaded that the checks were not mere gifts or gratuities, but were wages and could not be unilaterally discontinued without first being made subject to bargaining," the NLRB said.

Mrs. Dodge pointed out that girls will be received from all over the nation through religious channels, local and state welfare organizations and family courts. The residence-administration building will house 120 girls, plus key personnel, with complete facilities for medical, social, educational and religious guidance, Mrs. Dodge said.

"Girls' Town will soon start a nationwide fund-raising campaign to enlist the support of the American public for this worthwhile activity," Mrs. Dodge continued. "It is well to keep in mind that much has been done to help take care of boys in need of care, but very little has been done to help little girls and they need tender love and care just as much as boys."

Girls' Town Launched At Groundbreaking

A long-cherished dream of Mrs. Horace E. Dodge II, founder and president of Girls' Town, Inc., began to take shape Tuesday afternoon with the breaking of ground on the 100-acre Girls' Town site, marking the start of a $5.5 million campus at North Orlando.

After a brief ceremony, attended by county and city officials, the builder, Bernard G. King, of Buffalo, N. Y., gave the signal to start the earth-moving equipment that will be used to build the first Girls' Town unit, a residence-administration building designed by John T. Watson, winter Park architect. Girls' Town was incorporated in April of 1950 as a nonprofit organization for the purpose of providing a "home" community for homeless girls of all faiths in need of help between the ages of 10 and 17," Mrs. Dodge said. Her dream, she added, "has now started to come true with the establishment of a haven for youngsters without families or those whose parents are not mentally, physically or morally able to care for them."

Adult Classes Open Sept. 9 At Seminole High

The Adult High School, which meets on the Seminole High campus, will open on September 9 at 7 p. m. The organizational meeting will be held on that date and all persons wishing to complete their high school education or take a refresher course are urged to report at that time.

The instructors will be Harold Heckenbach, principal of Pinecrest Elementary School; Richard Barnett, assistant principal of the South Seminole Junior High School; and Archie Cannon of the Seminole High Faculty.

The classes to be offered will include English I, II & III, General Mathematics, Algebra I & II, U. S. History and Civics. Additional classes will be organized if there is sufficient demand.

Sixteen credits are needed to earn the Adult High School diploma. Credits from accredited high schools will be accepted with the exception of physical education and music.

Many persons take the G. E. D. test each year with the objective of earning the Florida State Equivalency Diploma. This is a series of five tests, each of which takes around two hours to complete. The five tests cover English Grammar, Social Studies, Science, Literature and Mathematics. The State of Florida requires that credits in U. S. History and Civics must be earned before this test can be taken. The fee for the series of five tests is $7.50.

The registration fee for the evening adult classes is $2. Books are sold to students at cost. Information on these and other courses is available from E. S. Douglas, director of Vocational and Adult Education, School Administration Bldg., Sanford. The telephone number is FA 2-4165.

Senator Warns On Test Treaty

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Harrison A. Williams, (D-N. J.), cautioned today that adoption of "crippling" reservations to the nuclear test ban treaty could be a "kiss of death."

Williams made the statement as the Senate Foreign Relations Committee prepared to make public a formal report backing its 16-1 vote recommending ratification of the pact. The treaty would bar all but underground nuclear tests.

Senate consideration of the treaty begins next Monday. But some senators already have made floor statements, and Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield was to deliver a major speech today calling for ratification.

Williams said that after talking with State Department legal officers he felt inclusion of reservations in the treaty would "so confuse the legal status of the treaty as to make it virtually certain that it would not come into effect at this time."

He said he looked for treaty opponents to "press for reservations which could have devastating consequences."

Cuban Exile Leader Pledges Reprisals For Castro Executions

MIAMI (UPI)—The civilian leader of the 1961 Cuban invasion announced steps Tuesday in another exile buildup against Fidel Castro and threatened the Cuban premier with three-to-one retaliation for further executions in Cuba.

"We have reached the point where we cannot permit these bloody executions to continue unavenged," said Manuel Artime, 32, head of the Revolutionary Recovery Movement (MRR) based in Central America.

"From now on we are going to kill three of Castro's men for every Cuban who is shot. We are going to kill these men where we find them," said the handsome exile leader.

Artime came here from an undisclosed Central American country Monday night and left Miami to return at midday Tuesday after ordering three high-level subordinates to leave U. S. territory in "less than one week" to centralize operations in Central America.

Artime, one of the 1,113 Bay of Pigs invasion prisoners released by Castro for U. S. ransom last December, said he already had men in Cuba and that by the end of September the political structure of his group will have been shifted from this country to Central America.

He promised accelerated military activity against Castro, but said, "we are not engaged in a publicity war against Castro and we shall not be publicizing our activities."

Artime did not name any Central American countries, but indicated the political representatives of the MRR will be scattered in three principal countries.

Check On Living Area Carefully

No doubt about it, going to school is hard work. The day-in-day out schedule of classes, extra-curricular activities and night-time homework is fatiguing.

That's why it's a good idea for the parents to check the youngster's bedroom to make sure he will benefit from the best combined study and rest environment.

Here are a few check points:

1. Work space should be adequate for reading and writing assignments. Set aside a study corner in the student's room, including perhaps a classroom desk, so that he can get his work done in privacy, rather than combat distracting family noises in other parts of the home. Rugs, draperies help to cut down the noise.

2. Pay careful attention to lighting. Try reading in the room yourself, and if the light seems inadequate to you protect the youngster's eyes — and increase his study efficiency — by adding to or arranging the available light for best results.

3. Check the mattress to determine whether it's past its useful life.

Thant Asks Full Israeli-Syria Border Report

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI) — Secretary General Thant moved for a full report on the Israeli-Syrian border situation today following Russia's veto of Security Council action in the latest flareup between the two Middle East neighbors.

Soviet Ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko used Russia's 101st veto late Tuesday — the first Soviet veto since June 22, 1962 — to kill a U. S.-British resolution implicitly condemning Syria for the "wanton murder" of two Israeli farmers Aug. 19 near the Sea of Galilee.

The slayings were followed by some ground clashes and an aerial dog fight between Israeli and Syrian forces.

Both Israel and Syria complained to the United Nations, each charging the other with aggression.

The steeplechase originated in England as a diversion from fox hunting.

DeBary Legion Sets Meeting

By Mrs. Adam Muller
The Herbert D. Gibb American Legion Post 259 of DeBary will hold its first meeting of the new season at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the Community Center at which time plans will be made for the regular meetings and various committees will be named by Commander Peter J. Koppelman.
Also on the agenda for this first meeting is a report from Wellesley T. Corbett Jr. who was sent by the post as a representative to Boys State. Vice Commander William J. Williams advises that the annual membership drive already is well under way under the direction of four canvassing teams, each headed by a past commander of the post. Prizes to be awarded for individual effort in the campaign will be a regulation Legion cap, 25 members; a Legion shirt, 10 members; a Legion larriat tie, 10 members and a gold Legion button, five members.

Men's Club Postpones Dinner

The reorganizational meeting of the Ebenezer Methodist Men's Club, originally scheduled for Thursday of this week at 7 p.m., has been postponed until Thursday of next week at the same hour.
Speaker for the evening will be Douglas Stenstrom. The supper will be served by members of the church's Women's Society of Christian Service.

Bear Lake Girls Set Meeting

By Shirley Wentworth
Bear Lake Girl Scout Troop 497, under the leadership of Mrs. John Hall, will hold the first organizational meeting of the new season at 7 p.m. this Thursday at Mrs. Hall's home, 1608 Bear Lake Terrace.
The leader advises that there are two vacancies in the troop open to eighth grade girls and that all interested girls in the area are invited to attend the opening meeting.

30 Days To Better Grades How To Up Reading

By The Reading Laboratory
Written for Newspaper
Enterprise Association

For the last several articles we've been talking about the "survey and reread" method of handling a textbook. First of all, you read the large bold type and study the maps and graphs to find the main idea; then the rest of the bold print; third, the first sentence of each paragraph for the secondary ideas; then a fast reading of the entire chapter, focusing the details, and, finally, another skimming to pick out the major details that may require memorization.

We've talked about the first surveys and the memorization at some length. We'll spend this article on the fourth step in the "survey and reread" method—the "fast reading of the entire chapter."

Students often have trouble with this step, simply because they read so slowly that a "fast reading" is impossible. They bog down in the print. And the longer you have to spend on the text, the more chance there is of losing track of the main idea, of becoming uninvolved and passive and of going right back to memorizing a lot of facts you don't understand.

You won't become a "speed-reader" just by reading this, but if you feel your reading is entirely too slow, a little attention to a few common faults will go a long way toward clearing up your trouble.

Most slow readers are slow because they "come down too hard" on every word. An illustration should make this clear. There is one day in every October when millions of baseball fans are waiting to hear the outcome of the World Series. When the first headlines come out, they usually read: "YANKEES WIN THE WORLD SERIES." A short message that says a lot. But it might also read: "YANKS TAKE SERIES"—which is even shorter, but says the same thing. But wouldn't it be just as meaningful to say simply: "YANKS"?

The third headline is only one-fifth as long as the first but it says just as much. The point is that the reader who reads each word with equal emphasis is wasting a great deal of time. In the average textbook, less than 50 per cent of the words will really mean anything. The trick is to concentrate on the key words—in most cases, the verbs and nouns—and let your eyes move lightly over the unimportant print. Or, to put it another way, read for thoughts rather than for words.

Reading for thoughts will be easier if you use your eyes in the right way, too. Rather than focussing directly into the print, lift your eyes ever so lightly above the line of print, let your eyes relax—and you'll be able to see more words in a single eyestop and speed up accordingly.

Finally, you might catch yourself moving your lips as you read. Stick a pencil in your mouth and chew on it as you read to stop this.

Remember, it's always thoughts that you're going after, never just words. Reading for thoughts will keep you from bogging down in print.

Trail For 30 Set At Ocala

OCALA (UPI)—Trial was scheduled here next Monday for 30 persons arrested in racial demonstrations last month.

County Judge Lewis Myer refused Tuesday to quash the charges against the 30, who included white CORE leader Zeb Aulony.

In other action connected with demonstrations here, Hillary Leslie, a Dunsellon Negro, was given his choice between a $1,000 fine and a year in jail on charges of contributing to the delinquency of a minor by asking him to picket.

Actual site of the historic Battle of Bunker Hill was Breed's Hill, nearby.

Labor Holiday Traffic Deaths Top All Marks

By United Press International
More Americans than ever before met death on the nation's highways during the Labor Day weekend, final statistics showed today.

The traffic death toll of 559 exceeded all previous records for both three-day and four-day summer holidays.

The casualty breakdown for the 78-hour holiday starting at 6 p.m. Friday and ending at midnight Monday showed:

Traffic	559
Drowning	67
Boating	9
Planes	6
Miscellaneous	72
TOTAL	713

For the third straight holiday, Americans flocked onto crowded highways to set records.

During the 102-hour Memorial Day weekend, 825 persons died in traffic accidents to set a short-lived mark for a summer holiday. A new record was set during the Independence Day weekend, when 556 Americans died in highway smashups.

The Labor Day toll also exceeded the National Safety Council's pre-holiday estimate that from 430 to 520 persons would die in traffic mishaps.

Cousin Of Two Presidents Dies

OYSTER BAY, N. Y. (UPI)—George Emlen Roosevelt, 75, financier and cousin of two presidents, died at his home here Tuesday.

Roosevelt served as secretary to his cousin, Theodore Roosevelt, during the former president's Bull Moose campaign in 1916. He also was a cousin of President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

A 1909 graduate of Harvard, Roosevelt was a railroad financier, mutual fund pioneer, philanthropist and yachtman. He was partner in the banking firm of Roosevelt and Son, founded in 1797.

Jobless Urged To Demonstrate

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The nation's jobless—black and white—were urged today to stage street demonstrations and marches on state capitols to demand work.

Bayard Rustin, controversial coordinator of the march on Washington, said the unemployed should adopt the tactics of civil rights groups which have proved successful in erasing racial barriers.

"If they did this," Rustin said at the National Socialist party workshop on civil rights, "the federal government and the state and local governments would respond as they have responded to the civil rights demonstrations."

Three other Negro leaders called for more and more demonstrations in the streets and predicted a new wave of militancy would sweep the nation.

Disguised Police Ambush Bandit Trio

NEW YORK (UPI) — The ice cream vendor carried a revolver under his white jacket. The street cleaner pushed a container on wheels with a shotgun inside. The taxi driver wore a bulletproof vest, and the animal keepers conferred by walkie-talkie radio.

To the casual eye, there was nothing out of the ordinary in the scene at the Bronx Zoo up until 11:05 a.m. Tuesday.

But at 11:05 the peaceful atmosphere was shattered and the zoo became a jungle setting for human violence.

In a gun battle lasting five minutes and 75 shots, three would-be bandits lost out in their attempt on a $50,000 bundle of holiday receipts. They were ambushed by the ice cream vendors, street cleaners, animal keepers — and other disguised members of a 50-man platoon of policemen.

U. S. Cruiser At Stockholm

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (UPI) — The U. S. cruiser Newport News was due here today for a five-day visit.

The 21,000-ton vessel, with a crew of 1,500 men and officers, was to be welcomed in Stockholm Harbor by the Swedish coastal fleet. It was the first visit here for the battleship.

Cup Committee Names Scott

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (UPI) — The United States Davis Cup tennis committee, apparently convinced that Eugene Scott "belongs," named him today on the squad that will compete in the American Zone final against Venezuela at Denver Sept. 13-15.

Scott was named to the four-man squad along with Dennis Halston of Bakersfield, Calif., who was a standout in the U. S. victory over Mexico at Los Angeles two weeks ago; Martin Riessen of Evanston, Ill., and Arthur Ashe Jr. of Richmond, Va.

Charter Members

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Cleveland Barons and Providence Reds are the only charter members left in the American Hockey League, which was formed in 1936.

Swimming Tigers

Tigers can swim easily. It has been reported that tigers will swim from one island to another in search of a better hunting ground and they often go into the water on hot days just to cool off.

Strikes . . . Spares

By John A. Spohhl
There was an organizational meeting of the Tuesday Evening Men's Handicap League this past week with Pete Duggan being the Secretary for this league.
Things are starting to shape up nicely for this group, too. Pete tells me that he already has five complete teams scheduled for participation and indications are that it'll be an eight or maybe a ten team league.
One of the reasons so many men are showing additional interest in this league is that it'll be bowling with only four men to a team. Makes for speedy rolls!
Hey you team captains: Come on in and pick-up your opponent's widow deal identifying him as a bowling sponsor. They're FREE and will help him to do more business as a result of all the local bowlers knowing of his participation in their sport. It makes for better relations, so don't let him down.
Verna Bolton, Secretary of the Wednesday Evening Ball & Chain League is still looking for another couple or two for their league. They bowl on Wednesday's at 7 p. m. They have loads of fun each week.

Gloria Accardi, President of the Monday Evening Women's Scratch League has things under control. Gloria is inviting those of you who may not have received a personal invitation to join all of the other leagues in this, the only night-time women's scratch league.
If you have an average of 135 or higher, be at the lanes this coming Monday at 6:30 p. m. for an organizational meeting. There'll be four to a team.
And before it slips my mind, the Sunday Evening Mr. & Mrs. League will start their league this coming Sunday. This one will also have a meeting prior to the start of actual bowling at 6 p. m. So, be there at six and you can plan on starting to bowl around 6:30 that night.
Beverly Kreeck has done an exceptional job of lining-up couples for this league. She's received a big assist from the Kammers, Jack and Corn and the Ethells, Don & Polly.
I suppose it would be fair to give credit to all former members of this league as having a big hand in getting newcomers to join them this season. They all had so much fun, especially at their year end banquet had themselves a ball, they did!
Still a couple more openings in the Thursday Evening Mixed Combo League according to secretary Clara Thlin. Others elected to various offices for this league include Bob Thlin as Pres (H'mmm, all within the family, huh?); Meg Diamond as "Veep"; and get this, Big Bill Kreeck as the Sgt.-at-Arms (sic 'em Sarge).
The Mixed Combo's bowl at 6:45 p. m.
Gee, but it was a pleasure sitting-in on the formation meetings of the City League and the All Stars, too.
A good slate of officers for both leagues: John Uhr — President; Edlie Monroe — V. P. and George Swann — Sec./Treas. for both the City and All Star Leagues.
In the All Stars, Harry Pentecost was elected President and Phil Roche — V. P.
This is gonna be a honey of a league, let me tell you! It's strictly scratch!
They'll be bowling at 9:20 p. m. on Wednesday and have three to a team. Just take a gander at some of these "loaded" teams: Garry Fox, Marvin (please call me Curley) Meltzer & Edlie Kirchhoff; George Swann, Gordon Honeycutt & Clyde Percy; Johnny Wright, Ed Callan & Paul Marcotte.
Another good team is Phil Roche, Bill Jamison and Bob Steele and Bill Hill, Bill Howson and their in need of another Bill or Bowler. The sixth team that just might win a game or two is that of Harry Pentecost, Rich Murphy and Split-ski (who's he?).
Wanna have fun? I mean it. Just bowl for the fun of it. I'm talking 'bout the Friday Eve Mr. & Mrs. League. Most of the prize money will be earmarked for two parties for all members . . . one during the Christmas Holidays and the other at the end of the season.
There'll only be tiny trophies about an inch or two tall for comic awards. So far we have four couples and will close our roster with eight teams. Join us, won't you?
That'll do it for this week. Moonlight bowling this Saturday at 8.

Dodgers About Ready To Wrap Up NL Pennant

By United Press International
Operation lockup is proceeding for the Los Angeles Dodgers in orderly fashion.
Only a year ago the Dodgers were about to make a present of the National League pennant to the San Francisco Giants but this season there is no sign of a repeat performance. In fact, the Dodgers may right now be in the midst of a push that'll put them out of reach of both the pursuing St. Louis Cardinals and the Giants.
The Dodgers won their fourth straight game and their sixth in their last seven Tuesday night when they rallied to shade the Houston Colts, 4-3, in 10 innings.
The victory enabled them to maintain their six-game lead over the Cardinals and a nine-game bulge over the Giants.
The old pros of the club engineered the comeback—Bill Skowron starting the winning rally with a pinch single, Jim Gilliam keeping it going with a single and Wally Moon delivering the tying run with a sacrifice fly before Tommy Davis' game-winning single.

Dick Stuart First To Get 100 RBIs

By United Press International
Dick Stuart received a rousing ovation. Actually it was more like a Bronx cheer when he picked up a hot dog wrapper recently without fumbling it at Fenway Park.
Stuart, of whom it has been said his fielding really isn't so bad, it's worse, paid no attention to the "cheers."
The oft-climby but always carefree Boston first baseman nonchalantly folded the wrapper and put it in his back pocket.
Maybe he should have left a little room because he also may wind up putting two American League crowns in the same place.
Big Stu became the first American League to drive in 100 runs Tuesday when he poked his 30th homer with one man aboard against Baltimore.
Some purists are bound to point out that the Orioles won the game, 4-3. Others will claim that even though Stuart leads the league in homers and RBIs his .263 batting average leaves him no chance of winning the triple crown.
What's wrong with a double crown? That wouldn't be exactly tin. The only American League other than Stuart with any chance at all is Al Kaline of Detroit. So

Harris Defense Of Golf Crown Set Sept. 10

DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI) — Labron Harris Jr. of Enid, Okla., will defend his National Amateur golf championship at the Wakonda Club course starting Sept. 10 in a 200-man field that includes three other former titleholders.
Charles (Chick) Evans, who won the Amateur crown in 1916 and 1920, Charley Coe, the 1949 and 1958 winner, and Deane Brown, the 1960 champion, are the other former champions entered in this year's tournament.
Harris will begin his defense against William C. Cowardin of Newport News, Va., in the first round. Evans drew a first-round bye.
Coe, from Oklahoma City, drew William P. Castleman of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., as his first-round opponent. Reman, from Bethesda, Md., will meet Richard L. Lattimer of Chevy Chase, Md.

Pro Grid's Hall Of Fame Reality

CANTON, Ohio (UPI) — The National Professional Football Hall of Fame, conceived by a sportswriter and nurse along by a massive community effort, will open its doors Saturday in the birthplace of professional football amidst the glitter of a Hollywood premiere.
A host of dignitaries and football greats will gather to dedicate the hall, a symbolic shrine to a sport that grew from a little-noticed meeting here 43 years ago into one of the country's great spectator sports.
The opening will climax nearly four years of work by the citizens of this industrial city of 125,000, who gave of their time, effort and money to insure for their city the title, "Cradle of Pro Football."
The idea for a pro football shrine in Canton was originated in 1956 by Germaine Swannson, then a sports writer and now city editor of the Canton Repository. For three years, the idea was considered "too grandiose" for the Canton area. But with encouragement from the management of the Cleveland Browns, the paper started the ball rolling in 1959.
Official sanction by the National Football League (NFL) did not come easily. Numerous other cities were vying for the honor. But a concerted effort by community leaders convinced NFL officials that Canton was the logical site for the hall.
It was 43 years ago this month that representatives of 11 football teams met here to form the American Professional Football Association, forerunner of the NFL. And it

Ralston Wins Tough Set

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (UPI) — From frying pan to fire seemed the case today with colorful Dennis Ralston.
Ralston, seeded third in the men's division of the national singles tennis championship, had to fight for his life in a five-set duel with unseeded Owen Davidson of Australia at dusk Tuesday. Southpaw Davidson is ranked only ninth in Australia.
But Ralston's opponent today is unseeded John Newcombe, rated sixth by the Aussies.
Twenty-year-old Dennis of Bakersfield, Calif., ace of our recent Davis Cup triumph over Mexico, finally wound up with a 6-4, 6-2, 6-8, 6-8, 6-4 win over Davidson in the semi-darkness before 2,000 thrilled spectators at the West Side Tennis Club.

Cousy's Loss Could Dethrone Celtics

BOSTON (UPI) — You can almost hear the cry—"Break up the Boston Celtics"—starting already.
With the loss of backcourt magician Bob Cousy to the Boston College coaching ranks, it looked as though the Celtics would be dethroned as world champs this season.
But owner Walt Brown is not about to sit around idly watching his pride and joy go downhill.
He jubilantly announced Tuesday the purchase of high scoring forward Willie Naulls from the San Francisco Warriors for an undisclosed sum estimated at $10,000 and a future draft choice. The six-foot-six former UCLA All-American will report to the Celtics Sept. 17.
Brown made no attempt to conceal his glee.
"It was a chance to get a real ball player without giving up any of your regulars," he said. Despite the fact that he had a poor year last season and was injured for a time, he still is capable of getting us 20 points a game.
"I think he'll team up well with center Bill Russell and that's very important. I feel confident he will be physically all right."
Coach Arnold (Red) Auerbach was equally delighted. "We've been dickering for him for almost two years,"

Doctor, TV Singer Highlight Faculty

Sanford Junior High School has some distinguished persons among the new members of the faculty this year. Emily Burnett, a bride of two weeks of another faculty member, Jim Burnett, has sung on the Dick Clark television show and was a member of a trio which won first place on an Arthur Godfrey talent show.

She was graduated from Rollins College, then entered Tulane Medical School, where she got her doctorate, practiced for a while and then retired. Dr. Wallace will commute daily from New Smyrna Beach, where her husband teaches math and her two daughters attend school. She will teach math here. A cosmopolitan sort of person, Mrs. Wallace was born in Canada and also lived for a while in Mexico.

Joint Struggle Against Reds In Jeopardy

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (UPI)—South Vietnamese officials studied President Kennedy's critical remarks about the crisis here today for hints on what course future U. S.-Vietnamese relations will take. Leaders of President Ngo Dinh Diem's regime were angered by Kennedy's criticism of their policies, but they were relieved that he said the United States would not withdraw from South Viet Nam.

Retraining Program Hits Snag

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Failure of many state legislatures to provide matching funds became a rallying point today for Senate Republicans opposing a bill to increase the federal outlay for President Kennedy's manpower retraining program.

Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen (Ill.) said he or other Republicans would try either to send the measure back to the Senate labor committee or amend it to provide federal loans instead of direct grants to help the unemployed qualify for other jobs.

Senate leaders hoped for a final vote by nightfall on the bill, part of President Kennedy's overall civil rights program. The measure was brought up Tuesday but action was postponed because relatively few senators were in town.

The bill, as approved by the Senate labor committee, calls for the Treasury to supply an additional $161 million for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1964, because only four state legislatures have voted matching funds for the program.

The original law was intended to provide retraining for 400,000 unemployed during the three years ending June 30, 1965. The Treasury was authorized to pay out $97 million the first year and $161 million the second for the entire cost. But the states were supposed to put up $161 million in matching funds for the third year.

The labor committee, in approving the bill, reported that only Connecticut, Kansas, Montana and Tennessee had voted to provide matching funds for the third year.

states but not as grants. Otherwise, he said, the bill should go back to the labor committee.

Two committee members, Sen. Barry M. Goldwater (R-Ariz.) and John G. Tower (R-Tex.), voiced similar views in a minority report accompanying the bill. They said there had been "an overwhelming lack of response" from state legislatures.

A House labor subcommittee has completed public hearings on a similar bill and will begin closed-door consideration next week.

Joint Struggle Against Reds In Jeopardy

U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge scheduled a visit to the French Embassy today, presumably to discuss the tense situation.

Last week French President Charles de Gaulle extended an offer of "cordial cooperation" to the Vietnamese to help them solve their problems independently of "foreign influence."

There was no official comment on Kennedy's statements Monday night that the war against the Viet Cong cannot be won unless Diem's government achieves more popular support. But the strongly pro-government Times of Viet Nam again printed reports that the United States was involved in an attempt to overthrow Diem.

Communist China reacted strongly to the Kennedy remarks Tuesday with new charges of U. S. interference in South Viet Nam while the Vietnamese "are struggling with increasing vigor against Ngo Dinh Diem's reactionary rule."

The U. S. Embassy continued to reject demands from the Diem regime for the surrender of three fugitive Buddhist monks who took refuge in the embassy Sunday. One of them is Thich Tri Quang, one of the leaders of the Buddhist protest movement, an arch enemy of Diem and his powerful brother and chief adviser, Ngo Dinh Nhu.

dhist leader to escape arrest in the Aug. 21 raids by troops and police on Buddhist pagodas throughout South Viet Nam.

The government contends the crackdown was necessary to block an attempted coup against the government. It claims Communist "saboteurs" had been using Buddhist facilities for cover.

The raids followed widespread Buddhist demonstrations to protest alleged religious discrimination by the government. Buddhists make up about 70 per cent of the population, but Diem and his top aides are Roman Catholic.

Miss Spivey, George Paul Leopolos Married At Monroe Baptist Church

Miss Shirley Ann Spivey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Spivey Jr., of Lake Monroe, became the bride of George Paul Leopolos, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Leopolo, of Paris, Texas, on Aug. 28.

Rev. Joe Douthett officiated at the double ring, candle-light ceremony at the Lake Monroe Baptist Church.

The church was decorated with palms, ferns, basket arrangements of gladioli and mums and candles with white tapers. Flowers were marked with white satin ribbons and bows.

Mrs. Joe Morgan, pianist, presented a program of musical music and accompanied soloist, John Carter, who sang "Blessed" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal length gown of white tulle de soie. The bodice featured a scalloped neckline with lace medallions embroidered with sequins and pearls and long pointed sleeves.

Her fingertip veil of silk tulle fell from a tiara of rhinestones and she carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations, pale pink roses centered with an orchid.

Miss Diane Boston, maid of honor, wore a street length dress of beige chiffon over satin, with lace border. Bridesmaids were the Misses Darlene Roberts and Beverly Spivey. Their dresses were similar to that of the maid of honor and all wore matching hats with short veils and carried bouquets of carnations with flowing satin ribbon streamers.

Dan Alexander was best man and serving as ushers were Lavern Edge and Merlon Rodger.

The bride's mother wore a street length dress of pink tulle with white accessories. The groom's mother wore aqua lace dress over tulle and white accessories. Both wore coronas of white carnations.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Educational Building of the church. Decorations included basket arrangements and bouquets of gladioli and mums. The refreshment table was overlaid with a lace cloth over pastel pink and held a four tiered wedding cake and crystal punch bowl.

Presiding at the punch bowl were the Misses Janice Boston and Sandra Burke, and Mrs. L. S. Wilkins and Miss Pat Muse served the cake. The Misses Lynda and Wanda Bedenbaugh kept the bride's book.

For traveling, the bride wore a blue batiste dress with lace jacket and the orchid from her bridal bouquet. Following a short wedding trip the couple will reside at 305 East First Street, Apt. 22 in Sanford.

Out of town guests included Mrs. H. A. Penny and daughter, of Jacksonville; the Misses Brenda, Sara and Joyce Wentz, of DeLand, and John Carter, of Cocoa.

Mrs. Haddon Receives Degree From FSU

Mrs. James F. Haddon, the former Marylee Barron, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Elmore, graduated Aug. 10 with a degree in Elementary Education from Florida State University.

She is a graduate of Seminole High School. While a high school student she was a member of the Sally staff and served as president of the Future Teachers' Club her senior year.

Mrs. Haddon plans to teach in the Suwannee County Schools. Her husband works for the State Road Dept. The couple has a two year old daughter and they reside at Live Oak.

Larry Observes Third Birthday At Swim Party

The swimming pool at the J. M. Blythe home in Mayfair was the site of a splash party, recently, honoring their grandson, Larry Blythe, who was celebrating his third birthday.

A group of playmates, invited to join in the celebration, placed gifts in a boat by the pool, then enjoyed a swim and a series of games. Theresa Johnson won the prize for pinning the tail on the donkey and Mike Puopolo popped the prize balloon.

The birthday cake was in the form of a large swimming pool, complete with diving board and all the accessories. Ice cream and punch were served with the cake.

Others helping Larry celebrate the big day were Timmy, Larry's younger brother, Jeff and Lisa Powell, David and Marty Roberts, Mike Puopolo, Mrs. Robert Johnson, Mrs. Herschell Powell, Mrs. W. V. Roberts, the honoree's grandmother, Mrs. G. C. Warmack, an uncle, Paul Warmack, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Blythe, and Mrs. J. M. Blythe, hostess for the party.

Pilots Meet At Westgate Home

The August meeting of the Pilot Club of Sanford was held at the home of Mrs. Phillip Westgate on Cordova Drive with Shirley Secord and Sue Stephenson serving as co-hostesses.

This was the final combined picnic and business meeting for the year. After sharing a most delicious dinner club the club heard committee reports and discussed plans for a fashion show to be held in February.

Janet Smith, president, was selected as the official representative to Pilot Fall Council, with alternate to be Mrs. John E. Lamberton, and two other members plan to attend.

Fall Council will be Sept. 14 in Tallahassee, and will be the dedication of Pilot House.

Two new members were welcomed by the group, Mrs. Clay Williams, teacher at Seminole High School and Mrs. Roy Howard, secretary to the president at a Sanford

Gamma Lambda Chapter Holds First Meeting

Members of the Gamma Lambda chapter of Beta Sigma Phi opened the new year Wednesday night with a "get-together" at the home of Mrs. Jay Carter. Cookies made by the hostess and cold drinks were enjoyed by those attending.

Plans for the coming year were made and the date and place of the first meeting was revealed.

Those attending were Mmes. Don Hamner, Jimmy Jones, James Blythe, Billy Wynne, Larry Mann, Jo Kampf, Jerry McCabe, Jim Daugherty and LaMar Meredith.

The club had a one hundred per cent attendance at the meeting. For the final report of the evening, the president gave the highlights of the convention held in Miami Beach, in June.

Surprise Party For Susie

Miss Susie Brewington, who formerly lived in Sanford but for the past three years has resided in St. Louis, Mo. was guest of honor at a surprise party, recently.

The Brewington family has moved back to Sanford and the party, given by Freddie Berryhill, 2109 Magnolia Ave., was a joint birthday and welcome home party.

A group of friends were invited for an afternoon of chatting about old times, what has happened the past three years, and dancing to recordings.

Refreshments of potato chips, dips, pickles, cookies, candy, nuts and cold drinks were served by the hostess.

Others enjoying the afternoon were Linda Jarnigan, Janice Moore, Becky Ricker, Sharon Drum, Marcia Lippincott, Sharon Bell, Sylvia Williams, Ginger Norris and Cathy Cammack.

NAS officers wives will meet for their luncheon Thursday at the Lake Monroe Inn. Social hour will begin at 11:30 a.m. and lunch will follow at 12:30.

Hostess for the monthly board meeting of the CPO wives club was Mrs. Alvera Kelly, hospitality chairman for the club.

The board discussed and made the recommendations which were presented to the CPO wives club at its meeting Monday night.

Assorted sandwiches, nuts, mints, cupcakes and coke were served to the officers and committee chairmen.

Present were Mrs. C. B. Reeves, president; Mrs. P. J. Weber, vice president; Mrs. Ralph Simas, secretary; Mrs. S. L. Wiggins, treasurer; Mrs. E. H. Nance, Mrs. V. W. Gardner, Mrs. I. J. Jarrell, Mrs. Roger Pope, Mrs. John Stankiewicz, Mrs. Henry Quinn, Mrs. C. T. Weaver, Mrs. Maxine Marsh and Mrs. Kelly.

Members of the Acy Deacy Club changed the date of their September dance to Sept. 13. The dance was formerly scheduled for Sept. 27.

Mrs. Alberta Beatty is visiting with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Cross, of Suffolk, Va. Mr. and Mrs. Jerome W. Dixon and sons, Joseph, Kevin, Kenneth and Jerome Jr., of Philadelphia, Pa., are visiting relatives and friends. Dixon is an alumnus of Crooms, where he starred as quarterback for the Panthers. Mrs. Dixon is the former Christine Watkins, former student of Crooms.

Ronald Thomas Mathis has returned home from spending his vacation with his father in Chicago, Ill. Ronald is a student at CHS.

Audrey Hamilton, of New Orleans, was a recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Smith. Miss Hamilton will matriculate at Southern University this fall.

Little Ronald Straws is home from the hospital. Ronald, who was accidentally injured while riding a bicycle, is recovering satisfactorily. Mrs. Christine Lee, his foster mother, wishes to thank all of those persons at Seminole Memorial Hospital who were so kind to him, and those who visited.

Master Joseph Henfrow has returned from his vacation in Rochester. He visited his father and other relatives while there. Joseph viewed many sights, including Lincoln Memorial and Jefferson Memorial in Washington, D.C.

Union leaders and government officials Monday observed Labor Day with new demands for equal job opportunity for Negroes and action to combat chronic unemployment.

Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz appealed to organized labor to help finish by next Labor Day "This matching of what we are doing with what we have been saying" about equal job opportunities.

AFL-CIO President George Meany urged the administration and Congress to take more action to create jobs for the unemployed. He said "joblessness aggravates race discrimination and race discrimination weakens the economy."

Wirtz made his remarks in a special Labor Day message and in a television interview. Meany issued a statement over the weekend.

In another Labor Day statement, James H. Carey, an AFL-CIO vice president and head of the International Union of Electrical Workers, said white southern workers, competing for too few jobs, are hating Negroes from union activities. He called this "just as immoral as the Berlin wall."

The AFL clubs made their final cuts Tuesday, reducing their rosters to the 33-man limit for the start of the 1963 season next weekend.

In the NFL, all teams were forced to get down to the 46-player limit. The next cut, to 37 men, must be made before next Wednesday.

The New York Jets of the AFL underwent the biggest shakeup Tuesday when head coach Web Ewbank released 12 players, including quarterback Leo Grosscup. Ewbank also signed three of his former Baltimore Colts' players and placed two Jets on the injured deferred list.

By United Press International American Football League players who survived the latest roster cuts were able to breathe easier today, but "borderline" members of National League teams faced another week of waiting for the ax to fall.

U. S. Prepared To Use Troops In Alabama

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Kennedy administration was prepared today to use federal troops if necessary to enforce school desegregation in a new showdown with Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace.

Justice Department officials said they hoped the Alabama crisis could be resolved by local authorities, but they made it clear that troops would be brought in if required to back up federal court orders.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and his aides were watching developments in Birmingham, where three public schools were scheduled to be integrated today, before deciding on federal action.

Wallace massed state troopers in Birmingham, just as he did Tuesday at Tuskegee where he ordered the high school closed to block integration, angering some city officials.

Officials in Washington conceded that Wallace apparently was trying to force the federal government into armed intervention, but they said there are not many alternatives. They did not say, however, what the other alternatives were.

A Justice Department spokesman said after a three-hour strategy meeting between Kennedy and his aides Tuesday night that it was obvious Wallace "thinks getting troops in there will help him."

Justice Department officials were in Alabama to confer with local officials in an effort to work out some solution which would avoid the necessity of using troops.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Burke Marshall and Joseph Dolan, assistant deputy attorney general, were in Birmingham. John Doar, Marshall's assistant, was in Tuskegee.

The "Fugio" cent of 1787, made from dies by Abel Buel, of New Haven, was the first authorized coin in the U. S.

That derisive whinny you hear comes from the hay-burning unit of transportation largely retired to pasture in carrying people to and fro.

One hapless, homebound working wretch (traveling via shuttle bus and interurban) had this pointedly brought to mind not long ago as his diesel-powered inconvenience toiled 12 long blocks through rush-hour traffic.

Every foot—oops, hoof—of the way, the bus was paced by a policeman's horse. Now ahead, now behind—sometimes alongside. No — and you should excuse the expression—sweat. While the policeman rode in air-conditioned comfort, his uniform a thing of beauty, some 40 or 50 of his sweating fellow citizens willed along the same route in their tin prison.

When the bus decanted the observer for a brief respite before he boarded the second steam cabinet—clippety-clop, clippety-clop—the good, old horse ambled right on up the street, well ahead of the bus.

This horse travel should be investigated by the transportation mathtmas. It has possibilities.

My Pen Pal

Is it possible we are approaching "non-mail?"

Can it be that the future will achieve communications between humans so prefabricated and automated that it appears never to have touched the human hand or brain (or heart)?

A great number of business organizations are approaching it in their trashmail sales letters and, particularly, in their bills.

There are those phony-looking pasted-on address labels that make you seem more of an object than an individual. Take the facsimile signature. You can have it, along with the obviously printed typewriter texts that sneer, "We're fooling you, dummy."

Most infuriating, perhaps, in their sizing you up as a mere digit and not a person at all, are the addresses spelled out in those cubistic letters and figures being used today.

What ever happened to the days when the kids yelled in the back door, "Mama, the mail man stopped!" and mother, drying her hands, couldn't help hurrying to the front door because a LETTER had come?

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

When David interned at Cook County Hospital, he used a bit of psychological strategy which a pediatrics professor had taught him. It is also useful to salesmen and others who deal with youngsters, so scribble this vital case.

CASE Q-439: David is our youngest son. He received his M. D. degree a year ago.

Then he interned at Chicago's Cook County Hospital. "Dad," he told me on one of his nights off duty, "I have had an interesting time on Pediatrics Service."

"One of the attending men gave me a bit of superb psychological advice."

"He said that it is always smart to be seated when a mother brings her child into your office."

"For this keeps the doctor's eyes almost on the same level as those of the child patient."

"Thus, the youngster doesn't feel as fearful or tormented as he would when facing a doctor who towers almost twice his height."

"So I adopted that policy with every child patient. I'd also greet the youngster with a smile; then turn and converse with the mother."

"Soon the child would slide over to me and lean his elbow on my knee. Then he'd rest his chin in his cupped hand and stand there, looking up at me."

"Probably 75 per cent of our child patients in pediatrics are colored youngsters."

"And though I personally examined over 1,000 children in my first few weeks, I noticed that every colored child were well washed clothing."

"Sometimes the trousers or coat were patched. But they were clean!"

"And these colored youngsters were also washed thoroughly. In fact, the only children I examined who were dirty and who smelled as if they needed a bath, were white youngsters."

"One day I had a colored boy about five years of age who protested a bit when I examined his throat and his ear drums.

"But he quieted down afterwards. And as I was writing a prescription to give to his daddy, this little fellow sidled over to me."

"Without warning, he suddenly threw his arms around my neck and kissed me on my cheek."

"Then, apparently embarrassed by what he had done, he rushed out of the room."

"Well, I mention this device of sitting down while greeting child patients (or child customers, too)."

"For most of us adults have forgotten the toddler's outlook on life."

"To all pre-school children, we adults are literally giants or gigantes!

"In order the better to appreciate this attitude of toddlers, just try to amaze yourself surrounded by other human beings who are 12 feet tall and weighing 600 to 800 pounds."

"For that is the relative outlook of a toddler when he is with his parents or other adults."

"But when we sit down, then the child's eyes are almost on a level with our own, so he feels less fearful."

"He can look at us on a man to man basis, so he will be more likely to act the role we expect of him."

"But children also regard adults as both omnipotent and omniscient. See tomorrow's follow-up."

Helen Fuller Says

'A Happy Day'

WASHINGTON — The sun shone on the March on Washington. The elements, the marchers, the police and the onlooking public were all on their best behavior. The pictures of the President with the Negro and white leaders of the March showed smiling faces. As one old man in the crowd said at the end, "It was a happy day."

Happy for the Kennedy Administration and those Republicans who had condoned the March because it went off without incident. Happy for the Negroes who organized the pilgrimage because it proved their power to recruit and direct 300,000 people for a peaceable demonstration—a feat to impress any politician. Happy for those who do not favor further civil rights legislation now because the singing and the speaking and the drama were over—for the present at least.

On Capitol Hill the day after the March no one acknowledged that he had changed his mind on the coming civil rights vote because of the day before. There was no sign that sentiment had shifted among the strong supporters or opponents of the bill. But there was talk that the conduct of the March had won friends for the bill among the "doubtfuls." Only the vote will tell.

Meanwhile some of the far-sighted were already sniffling interest from the pending bill to extend civil rights to the future question of placing the Negro minority in productive jobs.

Twice as many Negroes as whites are now out of work, in proportion to their number in the population, with the consequent tax drain via the relief rolls. This is in the beginning stage of the new age of automation U. S. industry is entering. Ten years from now jobs for the untrained will be scarce as hen's teeth, the experts agree. In those ten years will Negroes move in vast numbers from the ranks of the untrained—and therefore unemployable—into the ranks of the trained workers?

This was the question worrying the more thoughtful Negroes in the March, and particularly the ministers from large city congregations who see what is happening to the Negro young people who are out of school and out of work.

Negro leaders in the March assume that, with or without more civil rights laws, an economy that banks on millions of new Negro buyers of automobiles to bolster national prosperity will not long deny them the motels and restaurants to go along with their use of the highways.

How to move millions of Negroes from the ranks of relief-case menials to taxpaying productive workers is a larger problem to which last week's March on Washington provided no answer.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — A completely different approach to the disarmament question is emerging in Washington.

"General and complete disarmament" is still the ultimate goal. But the idea of trying to get a comprehensive treaty spelling out in detail every step of three-phase "G and CD" as it's called, has been abandoned.

The reason is that such a treaty is impossible to attain in the present state of world tensions and U.S.-U.S.S.R. relations.

The last draft of the general disarmament treaty so carefully prepared by the United States and submitted to the 17-nation Disarmament Conference at Geneva will therefore remain tabled before that body for a long time to come.

In its place it is hoped to accumulate a series of relatively simple, tight, one-point agreements. If enough of these one-step-at-a-time agreements can be made, they might add up to a comprehensive G and CD treaty.

But that may be way in the future — nobody even guesses when.

This new approach to disarmament has been evolving gradually over the past year. When the U.S. draft treaty on disarmament was tabled at Geneva last August, a draft test-ban treaty — including underground testing — was tabled with it.

Then last winter Russians picked up the idea of a test-ban treaty and submitted it as their plan.

The end result was the American-British-Russian agreement on a limited test-ban negotiated at Moscow by Undersecretary of State Averell Harriman, now up for Senate ratification.

This achievement put the clincher on the idea of trying to get disarmament step by step instead of all in a bunch.

The Russians indicate they like this approach too. So wait and see what course comes of it.

The subjects on which the Russians have expressed interest for limited agreements include establishment of fixed-basis inspection posts to check on "preparations for surprise attack, exchange of military missions, a ban against underground nuclear testing, cutoff of nuclear materials production for atomic weapons, and finally a phase-out on the arsenal of nuclear weapons.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk warns any speculation about these last several prospects could be proved wrong tomorrow.

The diplomatic steps by which these questions might be taken up can be outlined roughly for only a few months ahead.

U. S. Ambassador Charles Stelle is trying to find out what the Russians have in mind on the proposed establishment of static inspection posts at the 17-nation disarmament talks in Geneva. A recess probably will not end before November.

It is considered doubtful if the subject of an East-West non-aggression pact will be far enough along for the meeting of NATO foreign and defense ministers coming in December.

Chairman Khrushchev talked on this only in the most general terms. The present feeling is that the more complicated a subject for negotiation, the less likelihood there is for an agreement.

It would be a better world if all people would make safety first last.

Thanks a hundred billion!

This month the savings and loan business passes the 100 billion dollar mark in assets. We are proud to be a part of it. The savings and loan business is built on the right and incentive of human beings to better themselves. Its assets have grown from the thrift of its 35 million savers who are building sound financial futures for themselves. We join all savings and loan associations in saying to you, our customers, "Thanks a hundred billion" for your confidence in us.

FIRST FEDERAL Savings & Loan ASSOCIATION

Today savings and loan associations make more than a million home loans a year . . . more than all other financial institutions combined.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: We had a little damage to our roof (rain and high winds) and the insurance company said to get an "estimate" on the cost of repairing it. I asked around, and a neighbor gave me the number of a roofing company. A man came right out, looked at the roof, and said it would cost $200 to fix it. I told him it sounded fair to me, but I'd talk to my husband. Then I signed something, but was in too big a hurry to read all of it. I only wanted an estimate, Abby. The next morning at eight o'clock I heard pounding and hammering on my roof. Three men were up there working. I told the head man I had only signed for an "estimate," but he showed me where I had signed a CONTRACT. They were finished in three hours and demanded their $200. I was dumbfounded. I had to go to the bank and draw out the money because the contract said CASH. My husband said I was a moron. Abby, I'm sick. Can people do business this way and get away with it? SICK

DEAR SICK: Yes. And they specialize in people who are in too big a hurry to read something, but sign it anyway. My advice to you (to a little late) and to others, is to sign nothing without having first talked it over with your husband and/or a lawyer. P. S. I hope you reported the "roofing company" to the Better Business Bureau.

DEAR ABBY: Somewhere along the line I've lost control of my seven-year-old son. I've had complaints from Tommy's school teachers, the neighbors and now out dentist refuses to see him again. I had Tommy to the dentist and it took him from 1:30 until 3:30 to fill one tooth. The boy screamed so loudly the dentist clamped his hand over his mouth, and Tommy bit him. The dental assistant came out and told me to please find another dentist next time. She suggested that I give him tranquilizers (for a seven-year-old) or take him to a psychiatrist. I admit he is hard to handle, but do you think he is a case for a psychiatrist? HIS MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: I don't know, but the only way to find out is to take him to one.

DEAR ABBY: My wife tells me that in some states there is a law stating if a couple has been married 25 years or more, they cannot get a divorce unless they both submit to mental examinations. Is this a fact? If so, in which states? RUTH'S HUSBAND

DEAR HUSBAND: There is no such law, but I think there ought to be.

Tell your troubles to Abby. For a personal, unpublished reply, please send a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send one dollar to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif. for Abby's new booklet, "HOW TO WRITE LETTERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS."

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

Joe Miller of Dallas was a trifle puzzled by the bidding. He held an ace and three kings and his opponents had an opening two bid and a positive response. Furthermore, he had to lead something.

He made the happy selection of the deuce of diamonds. His partner's nine lost to South's ace. South played the ace and queen of trumps. Joe was back in the lead with the king of trumps.

By this time it was obvious that South had a distributional two bid, but distributional or not it was a cinch that he would hold the king of spades.

ed that his partner might hold the queens of both black suits, in addition to the queens of diamonds with which he was already marked. In that case a waiting game was necessary.

Joe led the seven of diamonds. South ruffed and played a club and it was up to Joe to make the key play.

He rose with the king and South was a gone goner. He actually played the ace of clubs, led a spade and went up with the king, but Joe's ace of spades and East's two black queens left South one trick short of his contract.

We The Women: By Ruth Millet

"With all the advice offered on how to find fulfillment outside our homes, it would be easy to conclude that home-making as a career is some-thing you can do if you can't do anything else."

That is what Mrs. Stewart L. Udall, wife of the Secretary of the Interior and, herself, the mother of six, recently told 1,500 young Future Homemakers of America.

There's a lot of truth in her statement. Homemakers are constantly told that the only way they can find any personal satisfaction in life is to break out of their ranch-style prisons.

The housewife who is "stuck in the suburbs" is forever being pitted by the so-called experts on modern living.

To hear them talk, you would think that home, itself, offers no challenges to a woman.

Judging by our high divorce rate, our shocking increase in juvenile delinquency, and the frightening frequency of headlines home tragedies, today's real challenge to women is to put their hearts and brains to work inside their own four walls.

Women should search for ways of turning homemaking into a truly creative job that brings a sense of accomplishment instead of a sense of frustration.

The American housewife needs to set her own home and family life in order before she starts trying to solve the problems of her community.

And if a housewife uses her best talent to be a good wife and mother and homemaker, she will find fulfillment as a woman and as a human being.

For home harmony: Read Ruth Millet's "How to Have a Happy Husband." Send 25 cents to Ruth Millet Reader Service, c/o The Sanford Herald, P. O. Box 489, Dept. A, Radio City Station, New York 19, N. Y.

Hair Salesman Must Be Bald

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Archie Edmondson, a representative for a men's hair piece firm in Chicago, ran a salesman wanted ad in a Kansas City newspaper Monday for men bald or balding.

He reported he got "15 or 20 applicants" for the job. Edmondson said his company seeks bald salesmen so they can model the product.

Graham Tells Of Labor's Origins

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Evangelist Billy Graham Monday night drew a parallel between America of two centuries ago and today with its lawlessness, crime, divorce, immorality and debauchery.

He also reminded the audience of $2,441 in his 16th meeting at Coliseum that the labor movement "owes a great deal to Jesus Christ."

The worldwide trade union movement started "as a result of a great spiritual revival," Graham said. He said the heritage of labor unions comes "from the church and from the great Wesleyan revivals of the 18th century."

The world-crisscrossing evangelist described conditions in the 18th century as "a parallel in American society today. The lawlessness, the crime, the divorce, the immorality, the debauchery of that day are similar to the conditions of our own day."

When laboring conditions were at their worst in Great Britain, Graham said, "God raised up John Wesley, who preached a gospel which started social forms in Britain."

Contradiction Of Red China Hit

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union, seizing on an apparent ideological contradiction, has charged Communist China with maintaining a foreign policy that dooms many overseas Chinese to suffering under "imperialism."

The official government newspaper Izvestia said Monday night the Peking regime was quick to advocate violence to unseat imperialism but showed "startling indifference" toward its own nationals in Hong Kong, Macao, and the Nationalist Chinese strongholds of Matsu and Formosa.

Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's doctrine of peaceful coexistence between differing social systems is one of the key points of dispute in the ideological quarrel between the two communist giants.

Peking maintains that no compromise should be made in the "bitter life and death struggle" with imperialism and that any nuclear war inevitably would end with a victory for communism.

Schools In Five Counties Mix

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Public schools in five Florida counties were scheduled today to open their doors to white and Negro students for the first time.

Indications were there would be no incidents when the school bell rang at Leon, Okaloosa, Volusia, St. Johns and Duval counties. Eleven other Florida counties already have begun desegregation.

Only a handful of Negro pupils was expected to enter white schools in each of the counties, and officials anticipated no trouble. Most of the students were registered quietly last week.

Pay Raises Go To 2.6 Million

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The federal minimum wage went from $1.15 to $1.25 an hour today, providing an estimated 2.6 million workers with pay increases ranging up to 10 cents an hour.

The Labor Department said that, in addition, a 44-hour standard week also went into effect today for employees in big retail and service establishments brought under the law in 1961.

The department estimated the raises would add $365 million to employers' payrolls in the coming year.

Collections Up

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — Collections of customs in the Port of Jacksonville amounted to $623,291 during August, an increase of almost $100,000 over the same month last year.

All City Employees To Get Pay Increases

Three Birmingham Schools Closed

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI)—City police today surrounded three desegregated public schools, closed at the request of Gov. George Wallace following rioting that claimed one life, to prevent students from entering the buildings.

Bryant Praises Procedure In Florida Schools

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Gov. Farris Bryant said today the quiet desegregation of public schools in six Florida counties this week was due largely to the state's pupil placement law administered by local school boards.

closing and gathered at the schools. Some of the more than 200 state troopers sent here by Wallace Tuesday were seen at the schools, but it was not determined whether they were on duty or merely observers.

Birmingham school board attorneys were expected to go into federal court today to seek a stay of the federal court order desegregating West End and Ramsay high schools.

Bryant said the state government was giving the local governmental agencies all the help they wanted. He said the state had not tried to "drive" the counties to any action, but when the counties had made up their mind on a course of action, the state had offered all the help possible.

On another subject, Bryant said he thought candidates for state office should abide by the letter of the Florida election law that requires them to start submitting to the secretary of state financial reports as soon as they have announced they were candidates.

North Orlando Fire Chief Bill Hahn urges all men of the community, regardless of their age, to attend a meeting Sept. 11 of the Volunteer Firemen in the Civic Building. A great deal has been done to get the department back on its feet but interest of the people is very slow in coming, Hahn says.

After giving a "non-political" speech before the Kiwanis Club Wednesday, Governor-elect John Mathews met with a large group of local fans to discuss politics and his chances of being elected Chief Executive of Florida. He said response was good.

Ed Bonn of the State Insurance Commission will be in Geneva next Monday for a 7:30 p.m. meeting at the Community Hall to discuss with senior citizens, and other interested adults, the senior health and hospitalization insurance program.

Mayor Tom McDonald, chairman of the Rotary Club's pediatric ward project, reported that he received one $100 donation for the fund. Any one else?

Clifford McKibbin's sailboat gives a "yacht basin" air to the little sheltered area of the lake near the breakwater. Wouldn't it be nice to see a whole flotilla of yachts and pleasure boats tied up there and a big, busy marina doing a land-locked business?

Lake Mary CC Group To Meet

Reports from a Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce committee appointed earlier in the year to study feasibility of incorporating the area will be heard at 8 p.m. today when the organization holds its first business meeting of the 1963-64 year.

Boy Pleads As Sister Hangs

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UPI)—The little boy ran up and tugged at the workman's shirt "Hey, mister, have you got a knife?" he gasped.

David Strickler, 6, was busy talking to a truck driver Wednesday when the boy appeared. He told the lad he was too young to play with a knife.

But the boy kept tugging at his shirt and staring up at the two men and asking for a knife.

FIERCE-LOOKING EVEN IN DEATH is this 5 1/2 foot rattlesnake killed Wednesday afternoon on the cutoff between Sandalio Springs and Markham Road by Deputy Charles Curtis.

The deputy spotted the deadly reptile as he was driving and promptly dispatched it with one shot. As the body lay in the courtyard in back of the county jail, a deputy and his prisoner coming in were given quite a start a few minutes later as they were walking through the yard.

Altamonte Sets $80,174 Budget

A budget of $80,174, which does not include an anticipated $28,800 in revenue from the new water system, was tentatively adopted Wednesday night by the Altamonte Springs Town Council.

Major items of expenditure are $21,000 for streets and sanitation, including paving, drainage and salaries; and $11,954 for the general fund. Greatest sources of income listed are $28,174 from real estate; $10,000 from utility tax and $21,500 from cigarette tax.

A new item of expenditure, $1,800 for mayor and council salaries, is included in this year's budget and the recreation figure has been increased to $3,500 in the anticipation that an early start can be made on building a recreation center.

In other business the council, sitting as a board of equalization, signed the 1963-64 tax roll after no complaints in the town this year through increased construction alone since there has been no increase in other valuations.

A request from Dr. L. R. Reams for a zoning classification change to allow the construction of a dentist's office on the lot adjoining his home property was preferred to the town's zoning commission.

Action for revamping the Volunteer Fire Department and providing a check on all fire equipment was tabled for a future meeting.

Attorney S. J. Davis, Jr. was instructed to prepare a draft on a new election ordinance in time for the next meeting and.

Engineer Harold Radcliffe and the attorney were instructed to go ahead with plans for requesting a sum of $3,900 to be used for a planning and survey report on the proposed street and drainage improvement project.

"The rally will continue at least until Sept. 15," a Klansman said. "We are collecting new members—you'd be surprised at the number we have signed up during the last few days."

Florida Klan Seeks Members

JACKSONVILLE (UPI)—The Florida Ku Klux Klan set up camp on a field at the outskirts of the city today to begin a 10-day membership drive and desegregation protest.

"The rally will continue at least until Sept. 15," a Klansman said. "We are collecting new members—you'd be surprised at the number we have signed up during the last few days."

Bobby's half-sister was reported in fair condition today at Memorial Hospital.

Blackburn Faces Charges Monday

Harlan Blackburn, of Sandalio Springs, reputed to be the head of bolita operations in East Central Florida, will be arraigned on 11 charges of conspiracy and operating bolita Monday before Judge Warren H. Edwards in Orange County Criminal Court.

Blackburn was arrested Wednesday afternoon by Orange and Seminole County sheriff's deputies at the home of Beverly Roberts, Longwood. The Orange County warrant was served by Seminole Deputy Charles Fagan and Orange deputies.

Deputies took Blackburn into custody at 4:30 p.m. and brought him to the Seminole County jail. He was released under $5,000 bond at 5:20 p.m.

Blackburn's arrest follows arrests of other alleged bolita operators in the last month on Cameron Avenue, east of Sanford, and at Maitland. All defendants will be arraigned at Orlando.

Commissioners also are discussing a full "Kelly day" for city firemen. Presently, they are given a half "Kelly day." (Firemen work a 24-hour shift and are off duty for 24 hours. A "Kelly day" would allow them a full free day every 20 days.)

Knuckles also informed the Commission that the new budget, if approved, would include added benefits to all under the city group health insurance.

The proposed budget includes $105,000 for a street resurfacing program and $95,000 for a new street construction program.

Commissioners postponed a second scheduled special budget session for tonight until after the regular business session Monday evening. The budget must be approved by ordinance by Sept. 23.

As reported previously in The Herald, the tentative budget is for approximately $125 million with the same millage, 18, as in past recent years. Twelve mills are for operating expenses and six mills for debt service.

Knuckles pointed out that while the city revenue will be up about $175,000 over this present fiscal year, the millage remains the same because of an anticipated added $80,000 in cigarette tax receipts and $9,000 in ad valorem utility tax receipts.

"Naturally," the AAA said, "the more stacking or leg exposure the easier it is for motorists to spot and thus prevent an accident."

Stoddard urged Mayor Carl Stoddard today came out strongly in favor of the proposed new charter and urged those citizens of Casselberry who have not already voted in today's referendum to make every effort to get down to the polls before 7 p.m.

Regarding the charter vote, Stoddard warned that "we are all holding a loose piece of string in our fingers and after it slips through, it will be too late to tie the knot."

The team then called the negotiators into a session which began a few moments after 11 a.m.

The only acts of sabotage reported by the company this morning involved the cutting of cords in two day telephone stations.

Phone Service At Forest City Out

Winter Park Telephone Company reported early this afternoon that a 1,200-pair telephone cable has been extensively damaged by construction crews working on Interstate 4 at State Road 436 west of Altamonte Springs.

Approximately 1,000 subscribers at Forest City and vicinity have lost telephone service temporarily.

Telephone construction crews now are working on repairs to the cable. However, the company said due to the extensive damage the repairs may require 12 to 24 hours before service will be resumed.

Cub Scouting

DULUTH, Minn. (UPI)—A 60-pound bear cub that wandered into Duluth knew exactly where to go. The cub was captured near the Black Bear Lounge and released outside the city.

$200,000 Road Construction Plan Set Up

A two per cent pay increase for all city employees was approved and a three-year $200,000 road construction program was tentatively adopted by City Commission in special session Wednesday evening.

City laborers will receive slightly more than two per cent in the 1963-64 budget, City Manager W. E. Knowles informed Commission members.

He added that the new budget will include a reclassification of all police officers under the grade of chief to reflect a more comparable police salary. This provides for major increases in the lower police grades and gradually decreases in the upper grades.

Commissioners also are discussing a full "Kelly day" for city firemen. Presently, they are given a half "Kelly day." (Firemen work a 24-hour shift and are off duty for 24 hours. A "Kelly day" would allow them a full free day every 20 days.)

Knuckles also informed the Commission that the new budget, if approved, would include added benefits to all under the city group health insurance.

Adams Also Eyes Governor's Seat

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Secretary of State Tom Adams officially announced his candidacy for re-election Wednesday, but left the door wide open for a crack at the governor's chair.

The action put Adams on the books as an official candidate for re-election in 1964. But it did not dampen reports that he is eyeing the governorship.

"If genuine support should manifest itself in the weeks ahead, I would not hesitate to accept the challenge," he said in a prepared statement.
