However, here in Seminole County, this is a typical scene being enjoyed by residents and tourists alike. Yesterday's high was 81 with much the same predicted for today. To make you feel even better, this morning it was 20 below zero

AF Retiree Stabbed To Death

Clues Are Sought In Ex-Officer's Murder

By BILL SCOTT

Seminole County authorities are "processing" a retired Air Force officer's murder and white Oldsmobile today in an effort to find clues pointing to the killer of the 52-year-old Casselberry liquor store assistant manager. His stabbed body was found Monday near Trinity Preparatory School by the daughter of the school's headmaster.

Lt. L. J. Kritz, Seminole chief investigator, said today, "The car is about the only thing we have to work on," in trying to solve the puzzle of who fatally stabbed Richard Franklin Day, 5120 Ferncrest Drive, Goldenrod.

Day's fully-clothed body was found a short distance from his car, parked just off SR 420 on a private road, by a daughter of Canon A. Ross Day at approximately 7:45 a.m.

County authorities were called by her father and an autopsy was performed on Day's body Monday afternoon, at which time seven stab wounds in the chest were discovered. Pathologist G. V. Garay reported the man died as a result of "massive internal hemorrhage," according to Kritz, who reported the body was found approximately one and a half miles from Day's Woodcrest area home.

The detective said robbery was not the apparent motive, since the man's wallet containing approximately $18 was intact. Preliminary examination disclosed several stab wounds, both of Day's wrists, Kritz added.

Investigators established that the man left the ABC liquor store, where he was employed, shortly after the Sunday night closing time.

Kritz said today a car was seen driving onto the private road between 12:30 and 1 a.m., which would indicate it might have been Day's vehicle.

Acting on this assumption, it is possible that Day may be in a garage or in an apartment house lived in the same general area.

Day moved to Goldenrod 18 months ago with his wife, Martha, and three children, ages 25, 13 and 12.

The family came here from Evansdale, Ind., where Day retired after serving 26 years in the Air Force.

He retired with the rank of lieutenant colonel and, according to Kritz, was considered a "quiet man" who, for the most part, kept to himself.

Uncle Sam Plans Check Of Stores

By BILL NEIKIRK

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Internal Revenue Service agents will begin checking retail stores closely next week for violations of rules requiring freeze-period price ceilings to be posted prominently.

"We will vigorously enforce this statute," an IRS spokesman said. "These directions have gone out to the field."

Enforcement will be concentrated in big chain stores, those with annual sales of $100,000 or more and subject to a government regulation requiring prior approval of price increases, the spokesman said.

But he emphasized that consumers searching for the high cost possible price a store can charge on a given item can obtain that information only by asking the store's management.

What must be posted under government requirements are freeze-period prices, the legally permissible ceilings that existed on goods during the 90-day wage-price freeze from Aug. 15 to Nov. 13.

In many cases, retailers have asked and received approval from the Price Commission to boost their prices beyond this limit. As a result, the freeze-period price is intended only as a rough guide for consumers.

There's one general rule, however, that government regulators informally pass on to consumers: If the price increase on a given item exceeds 25 percent, ask the retailer for the new ceiling price.

Although 25 percent is a general target, the government has approved many price increases higher than that. The rule is that a retailer may not boost his percentage markup, and price increases must be justified by cost increases.

Consumers, however, will not get a look at all the ceiling prices that were permissible during the freeze.

A retailer with annual sales of more than $100,000 a year must post the freeze-period ceiling prices on, at most, 40 items in each department of his store. The items covered are those he sold most during the last fiscal year. Or he may post prices only on items that accounted for at least half of total dollar sales in each department.

The exception: Large retailers must post freeze-period prices on all of their food products.

For retailers with annual sales less than $100,000, the same posting rules apply, with a few exceptions. Not all food ceiling prices must be posted, only the ceiling prices on high volume goods.

The three were Larry Gene Anderson, 19, of Lakeland, serving three life terms for a 1967 escape, and Harold LeRoy Radaubaugh, 22, of Calloway, in prison for 10 years for robbery and aggravated assault.

The breaking boosted to nine the number of escapes from the heavy security prison, the state's largest, this year. Each man said Anderson's escape was the only recent one involving a convicted murderer.

The corrections official said the men fled through the window of Keene's cell, from which two bars had been sawed away. No cutting tools were found, he said.

Expected to be included with the apartment units are continuing sewage and a one-hour, according to preliminary information given on the project at the outset some two years ago.

The Herold attempted to contact the Tampa builder of the project but he was unavailable.

But he emphasized that consumers searching for the high cost possible price a store can charge on a given item can obtain that information only by asking the store's management.

3 Convicts Escape At State Pen

RAIFORD, Fla. (AP)—Three convicts—one a murderer under three life sentences—escaped through a window of a maximum security cell, scaled two fences and fled from Raiford State Prison early today.

Prison employees tracked the men with bloodhounds. They ran on foot south from Raiford, according to inmate treatment Director David Bachman in Tallahassee.

Altamonte Fire Chief Resigns In Conflict

By DONNA ESTES

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — No decision has been reached on a replacement for Fire Chief Gary Kaiser, who has resigned from the post he has held for the past three years, Mayor Lawrence Swofford said today.

The mayor continued an appointment may be expected within the week.

In the meantime, he said the city and suburban fire control district is covered with an adequate volunteer and paid department. Kaiser, 36, submitted his resignation from the office last Thursday, effective today.

In his written resignation Kaiser said, "My reason for leaving was numerous and outstanding changes in the police-Administration conflict with the police."

Jail Morals Trials Are Scheduled

By MARION REITHA

Four inmates of the county jail, charged with two counts of crime against nature in an alleged sexual assault against a fellow inmate, were arraigned today that he seeks the Democratic presidential nomination. (Page 2A)

The case of James Knight, charged in the sexual incident, however, this morning, Assistant State Attorney Newman Brock said the court the state had dropped these charges due to a Florida Supreme Court ruling last week.

The court struck down the state law in which homosexual acts and crime against nature were felonies and punishable by 30 year imprisonment. The court ruling declared the statute was unconstitutional, but still left standing a misdemeanor charge prohibiting unnatural and lascivious acts.

Three of the men, Knight, Hiloy and Todd, are now charged with aggravated assault. They were without counsel present this morning, although special public defenders have been appointed for each. Arrangements were made for a combined force of narcotics undercover agents.

Trial has been set for Feb. 7 for the four other suspects in the case of James Knight, Hiloy and Todd, are now charged with aggravated assault. They were without counsel present this morning, although special public defenders have been appointed for each. Arrangements were made for a combined force of narcotics undercover agents.

Finally, trial was set for Feb.

Florida Voters With Laurels For '71, Face '72!

There is no rest in sight for the voters of Florida who have come out of 1971 with laurels for a record turn-out when state and local contests had to be decided by ballots.

Of course this is a truism whenever a presidential election year rolls around. But the coming contests are of such a major character that only voters who are willing to take the time to inform themselves, to sift out the wheat from the chaff, will merit this same kind of laurel wreath a year from today.

There will be no lack of spurs to prick the apathetic and to lay off their seats and into action.

Here in Florida the first presidential preferential primary, to be held on March 14th (second in the nation) has become a stage on which the performers will display a variety of talents, abilities and theatrical skills which should keep voters alert.

This is, of course, all in the future. If the voting in our Sunshine State had been the stolid, apathetic affair which all too often has been the condition in the past, then the hope which many hold for voter performance in 1972 would be quite unsubstantial.

On the national level the responsible survey by Louis Harris has concluded that the "no show" voters may, by their refusal to vote, become a major factor with President Nixon being the major beneficiary.

This is a prediction which should not be allowed to become fact. Political analysts have been pointing out for years that those who are registered and do not vote do, in essence, cast impersonal ballots which could change the outcome against their own convictions.

In 1972 the unpredictable factor is the weight which the newly enfranchised 18-21 year oldsters

(youngsters) will exert. There will be an increasing drive to bring them out, to form them into blocs, to arrange alliances with one or another of the contenders for major offices.

The job is to bring not only the new voters but the old voters out of their shells and involve all in the major test which the American democracy will face at every level of government.

Here in Florida the leadership of Gov. Reubin Askew has sparked much more than a liveliness in his own Democratic party. Looking back at the 1971 record he terms "apathetic" as "the biggest loser of the year."

He was referring to the record 70 per cent of registered voters of all parties who voted on Nov. 2nd and called on the state legislature to enact a corporate income (profit) tax, changing the state constitution, which they did.

While the national elections for president, members of Congress, will get the spotlight quite properly, the state voting which will seat members in the state legislature and the county elections which will do the same thing in county government deserve prime attention by the taxpayer voter.

As 1971 wraps up its affairs and prepares to fade into the mists of history, it can well be termed one of the most dramatic, important and crucial 52 weeks that the United States — indeed, the world has experienced.

But it was preliminary. The major contests are yet to take place. To do their part in making these contests truly responsive to the wishes of the American people, there is no substitute for the votes of citizens who are qualified, informed and go to the ballot box!

New Censorship

When the national magazine Look ceased publication, a major reason given by the publishers was the drastic postal rate increase. The new postal rates, it was said, would increase Look's postal bill from $4 million to $10 million in five years.

The demise of Look magazine is a symptom of a rising threat to freedom of the press. In the case of larger publications, the danger is dramatic and apparent. The proposed 142 per cent increase in second class postal rates under which newspapers, magazines and periodicals are mailed to the public is "potentially ruinous" in the opinion of Life magazine.

Even more devastating in the long run may be the impact of postal rate increases on the thousands of smaller daily and weekly newspapers that make up the bulwark of the U.S. free press, so far as independent thought is concerned. These thousands of papers have given substance to a basic concept of Western civilization, the concept of a loyal opposition which protects the rights of the minority, giving meaning to legislative processes of self-government and as a champion of the oppressed.

No vehicle of communication can ever take the place of the press as a defender of freedom. It has survived attempted censorship in many forms and is now threatened by the economics of postal rate increases. — Huntington (W. Va.) Herald-Advertiser

Stop Smoking?

Perhaps the most painless way to stop smoking that has been invented was disclosed by a British doctor the other day, although it wasn't original with him.

Dr. C. L. Anand said he saw a "decoction" of opium being fed to opium addicts in India to help them break their habit. He tried it on a number of volunteer cigarette addicts in England, where he claimed it helped substantially.

While he refused to give the recipe, Anand said the secret is to whip up a potent mash of cats and feed it liberally to the victims of the noxious weed. Obviously, it keeps them too drunk to light up most of the time. — Montgomery (Ala.) Advertiser

COMING OUT OF THE WOODS

Domestic Commentary

Curbs On Prices And Profits

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The men who developed President Nixon's economic strategy believe Phase II will work only if they hold down prices more firmly than wages.

Only in this way, they think, can labor finally be induced to hold back on inflationary wage demands after unions get what they believe they must have to "catch up" with past inflation. This relaxation in labor's demands, they're certain, is the key to Phase II success.

Only with the heaviest hold-down on prices, these men are convinced, will consumers be willing to take their dollars out of savings and buy with sufficient vigor to get the economy moving briskly.

The strategists have a second objective. They intend to put such an intolerable squeeze on profits per item that producers will look for a loophole. One has been conveniently provided. A company's total profits can go up. They can go up greatly, despite the squeeze on profits per item, if a firm raises sales sufficiently. That puts the heaviest kind of pressure on companies to sell more.

Sharply increased sales, it should be noted, are a second essential for Phase II success. Only thus can unemployment be cut to tolerable levels and the Gross National Product boosted enough to bring in sufficient taxes to even come near balancing the budget.

Unless the budget can be balanced, the economists believe, there can be no end to inflation. As is well known, Mr. Nixon now has sweetened the increase in the dollar, aimed at making foreign goods more costly here and U. S. goods cheaper overseas. Thus the plan aims at controlling some long-term causes of our economic difficulties.

For the long run, therefore, the planners want the big manufacturers to find the second loophole in the hold-down on profits. That is, there is no restriction on profits at all, even on profits per item, if prices are not raised, or if in most cases a brand new product is developed.

To reach this happy state, manufacturers must slash overhead sharply and expand their research or their utilization of already-existing research. For unless this nation's major producers can come up with a continuing program for improving products, developing new products and reducing costs at a more rapid pace, inflation cannot be brought permanently under control and devaluation will have been in vain.

As is well known, Mr. Nixon places great hopes in a new White House office of technical applications aimed at speeding the application of new research.

Political Notebook

Labor's Halo Is Slipping

WASHINGTON — Labor has a problem. Its image has been slipping. There is a good deal less general public sympathy for its behavior than there used to be.

The dock strikes have been a real irritant this year. Strike by public service employees in some of the big cities have stirred widespread impatience. Some urban affairs experts describe these stoppages as a major contributor to the cities' financial miseries.

Pined for jobs, organized labor has abandoned its long-time advocacy of free trade in favor of restrictions on imports into the United States. Yet labor officials have not made out a persuasive case. The record indicates that exports create jobs but that imports do not cut them back severely.

To the extent that there may be an improved U. S. trade balance in 1972 and thereafter, it is expected to be the result of currency realignment — not import restrictions.

Furthermore, the channels have been alive with believable forecasts that our devaluation of the dollar, though dreamed necessary to avoid some kind of trade embargo, is strike hard at U. S. consumers. Hereafter, they will either have to pay more dollars for desired goods or get more costly but less desired domestic substitutes. It has not escaped the public's attention that labor's recent clamor against imports has largely ignored the consequences to the consumer.

Indeed, the general public has a strong impression these days that labor is long on demands and short on giving something in return.

In labor leaders' rhetoric, at least that part of it which reaches the public ear, there is little if any talk about improving the productivity of American industry. This country's rate of increase in industrial efficiency long outdid all its rivals. It doesn't any more.

The Japanese and some Western European nations are outstripping us in productivity. That, and the high quality of their products, explains more than anything why they have been selling so well in the U.S. market.

Still Opening And Learning

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail.

Baby alligators are only eight inches long when hatched. But by the time they reach maturity at six years.

Probably no metropolitan area in the world has the discipline problem of New York City. Its sanitation men on an average day pick up 25,000 tons of garbage and other debris.

An octopus with a body about the size of a football has been known to reach a length of 28 feet from armpit to armpit.

Another thing puzzling to wildlife is why dogs bark. Wild dogs don't bark — although they howl and growl, yelp and whine until put in company with domestic dogs. One possibility: the barking of dogs is a response they have developed to the sounds of the human voice.

Odd claims to fame: Edward Damareau lived 85 years on a pension, the longest of any man in history. A surveyor-general of Tasmania was put on a full pension by the East India Company at the age of 19 in 1821 because of ill health. He enjoyed it until he died in 1896 at 104.

Set 'Em Up In Ivan's Alley

Students of the "convergence theory," which holds that the United States and the Soviet Union are growing more and more alike, can cite one more piece of evidence: The first bowling alley in all the Russian cities is due to open in Moscow next July.

The bowling center, designed eventually to have 24 lanes with automatic pinsetters, is being equipped by the Brunswick Corp., which introduced bowling at a Soviet recreation exhibit in Moscow's Gorki Park in August. Some 40,000 people filed through the exhibition hall in three weeks and there was heavy television, magazine and newspaper coverage.

Since no private citizen or company exhibits or prints any thing in Russia (there is still this slight difference between us), Russian discovery of bowling reflects official Kremlin approval of the sport. The reason, says a Brunswick executive, is that the government is concerned about finding activities that youth can be interested in.

They are concerned about more than that. As a matter of fact, "for wide-awake U. S. firms in virtually every industry, the U.S.S.R. presents a new commercial frontier for sales of equipment and technology — an equal means of offsetting shrinking profits in depressed markets at home and in other Western countries."

So trumpets Business International of Geneva, Switzerland, a research, publishing and executive consulting organization serving international corporations.

BI cautions, however, that western firms competing for a share of this "booming market" must learn to operate within the framework of the U.S.S.R.'s state-trading system, which poses commercial problems different from those encountered in trade and investment between capitalist, free-market economies. This requires a different marketing strategy and different tactics, from gauging the potential market for a product to promoting demands and negotiating the final sales or licensing agreement. BI has published a guide covering all these angles, which it sells for 100 smackerels.

Letters To The Editor

Request Is Explained

Editor, Herald: For the first time in our company's 46 year history, we have petitioned the Public Service Commission for rate relief. We regret finally having to ask for an increase, but we have held the line as long as possible if we are to continue to provide adequate, reliable service for our customers.

Inflation, as everyone knows, has been running wild. And our Company has been hard hit by sharp increases in all its operating expenses.

Here are some typical examples: During the past few years, plant investment per customer jumped nearly 48 per cent; operations and maintenance climbed 180 per cent and interest on construction loans rose 83 per cent.

But even as these and other costs were going up, the average price paid per kilowatt hour by our residential customers actually dropped 26 per cent.

Meanwhile, power plants and other facilities must be built, and our earnings must be sufficient to attract investments to finance our construction program which will require about a million dollars a day for the next five years. Without the money we can't build. If we can't build, we can't supply the service our customers need and deserve.

That's why a rate adjustment is so important — not just to our Company, but to the public as well.

Scott Burns

Stopped Cold

Editor, Herald: To me Christmas is one of the most beautiful times of the year. It gives me great pleasure to ride down the streets and look at all the lovely decorations. However, there is just one thing that stops me cold: Merry "Christmas" and when I see it written Merry Xmas I want to shout to the world that without Christ there would be no Christmas at all.

I think that if we must have Christmas, let's write it like this: "Merry Christ".

Nixon, Brandt Enjoying Florida's Balmy Skies

By KENNETH J. FREED, Associated Press Writer

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — Blessed with sunny skies, balmy temperatures and a warm, diplomatic climate, President Nixon and West German Chancellor Willy Brandt today opened a summit conference expected to produce words to match the weather but no dramatic developments.

With U.S. German relations very cordial and world economic tensions eased, the Brandt-Nixon talks are said by officials from both countries to be the soft nature of the conference, general, global matters.

In addition to the Brandt-Nixon sessions this afternoon and at a private dinner tonight, Secretary of State William P. Rogers will confer with his German counterpart, Foreign Minister Walter Scheel.

The talks on all levels primarily will be exchanges of views on East-West relations. The role of the western alliance in the changing international scene and Brandt's use of the word "partnership" in his economic and financial minister, Karl Schiller.

There was no need for a high level discussion involving Schiller Monday, Secretary of State Rogers said because of the progress made in recent weeks in their areas.

This was a reference to the devaluation of the American dollar and the resolution of a major world currency announced earlier in the month when Nixon met in the Azores with French President Georges Pompidou.

The other good news in the last two weeks that took some of the Nixon-Brandt talks was the cancellation of a 10 per cent U.S. import surtax and program made by the so-called spending money more western industrial nations to ward monetary reform.

With Brandt in Florida for an extended vacation as well as the conference with the President the atmosphere was much more relaxed than in some of Nixon's international meetings. After spending Monday morning working with advisers in his study and talking by telephone to aides in Washington, Nixon went to bed in the afternoon.

'Mr. Right' Sought For Daughter, 25

MIAMI (AP) — The newspaper ad might just as well have read, "Have I got a girl for you," and Ellen Hanelis was furious. She was the girl.

The pretty school teacher learned of the advertisement when she returned home from a job hunting trip to New York. Mr. and Mrs. Lou Hanelis, of South Miami, couldn't understand their daughter's reaction. After all, they did it for Ellen's own good.

"Pretty Jewish teacher's impatient parents seeking Mr. Right 25 for daughter 25, unbeknownst to her, interested in dancing and tennis," were the published lines which flamed the girl's ire.

"I was really resentful," said Ellen. "It's not that I don't meet fellows. After all, any fellow who had anything going for him would look at this ad run by the parents and figure they have a reject on their hands."

Her father felt differently. "This way we felt we could screen them, know their background, check them out."

Hanelis, who operates baseball and basketball camps in Paulding, N. Y., Pennington, N. J. and Fort Lauderdale, said he didn't want his daughter going to bars and discotheques in search of boy friends.

After reflecting a bit, Ellen has decided her parents should be forgiven.

"My parents meant well for me," said the fetching blonde. "I'm so busy to get married, why worry puts on much pressure on a girl if at 18 or 19 she's not settled down in suburbia?"

Hanelis sees no reason to delay the wedding bells.

"There's something in this Marry and settles down. She is still at odds over the object of her dating."

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: The letter from the woman who was annoyed with her gentleman friend because he always called his food before even tasting it, reminded me of something I once read about Thomas Edison.

Edison would always invite a prospective employer to read about George, who would be soup, and the first course would be soup, and the fellow would taste his soup without tasting it first. Edison wouldn't hire him.

JOE GOLDSTEIN, SILOUX CITY, IA.

DEAR JOE: Heaven only knows how many good men Edison passed up by prejudging a man because he prejudged the soup.

DEAR ABBY: I was glad to read about George, who always seasons his food with plenty of salt and pepper before even tasting it, because I have been criticized often for this, but, Abby, I don't just "guess" that the food will need more salt. I KNOW it will.

You see, I am one of those people who can't taste any seasoning unless there is a whole lot of it. And if my food had as much salt in it as I liked, nobody else would

Horoscope Forecast

WEDNESDAY, DEC. 29, 1971

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Much nervousness, restlessness and quick fit and start in the works today and tonight along with events calling for activity. Since the past two days have been more deliberate ones, it is necessary that you do make a special point to channel your energy so you won't be dashing hither and yon without really accomplishing very much.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You have many duties of all sorts ahead of you, but you need to whip up enthusiasm early for them. Then all goes beautifully. That data can now be secured that was difficult to get before. Keep busy.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) A good day to make those real changes now that can help increase your income appreciably. Converting with a banker can bring forth the information you want. Get advice from big businessmen.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You had better plan your study today or you could certainly scatter your forces and accomplish very little. Invite some lonely friend to your home, the theater, etc. Spend a happy time together.

MOON CHILDREN (June 21 to July 21) Sit down and plan how to make the new year more successful all year by right planning. Outline your ideas in higher steps if you want the backing they can give. Fix your self well.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) If you take higher steps into your confidence as to your ambitions, you will get the support that you need. Accept that invitation, but do not make unwise remarks to some new contact. Keep your own counsel.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Take care you do not criticize others and particularly do not talk higher-ups in any way, or when South's takes his set two trumps per East must either disregard his 10 of diamonds or set up South's eight of spades as a winner.

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY: I used my good stainless steel soap pan to pop corn and some of the popcorn burned on the bottom of the pan. I tried to clean it with my scrubber and scrubbing lot nothing removed the marks. If anyone has had a similar problem, let me know how they help me. —MRS. O.

DEAR POLLY: My Pet Peeve is with dairies. I wish they would sell buttermilk in pint sized cartons as they do "half and half". Most recipes call for only one or two cups and for those who do not take to drink it, it is left with a lot in the quart container, which takes up tremendous space in the refrigerator. —CAROL.

DEAR GIRLS — Betty, my right hand helper, says that it is also one of her pet peeves. —POLLY.

DEAR POLLY—Like Mrs. R. I, too, have a flatstone slab hearth and I have found that washing the entire hearth with soapy water removes any water stains. She might try this. While standing in one spot I can select the right dose, scrub, belt and shoes. I also put rose stones in plastic bags, which are pinned with glass clothespins to the cross bars of gas hangers. —ANATASIA.

DEAR POLLY: When hemming skirts and dresses it is better to use several short lengths of thread rather than one long one. If the hem comes loose there is only a small amount to be rehemmed instead of the entire length. —LEHRH.

You will receive a dollar if Polly uses your favorite home-making idea. Put Polly's Problem in solution to a problem. Write Polly in care of this newspaper.

Rising Health Cost Hospital Stay Cut

By EDWARD NEILAN
WASHINGTON—The trauma of that great moment in American medicine known as "presenting the bill" may be reduced soon.

A trend toward shortening the length of stay of patients in hospitals and nursing homes is gaining among physicians. Their feeling seems to be: "If we don't lighten up our own backs, government will come in and try to do the job."

Some economists studying rising health care costs believe that billions of dollars in public funds and private care can be saved by adoption of cost-cutting programs that stress need for care and weed out "hospital hangers-on."

Medical groups in more than a dozen states, including Pennsylvania, Ohio, Massachusetts, Illinois and Florida, are near adoption of cost-cutting programs similar to those that already exist in Colorado, New Mexico and Georgia. The concept is under study in virtually every state.

"I believe this is one of the most important movements to have come along in American medicine," said Sen. Wallace Bennett, R-Utah, who is a chief congressional lobbyist of the concept.

Holiday Push Jams, Closes WD World

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—Traffic backed up 25 miles on Interstate 4 as post-Christmas visitors flocked to Disney World Monday.

The Magic Kingdom near here closed its gates to choke off the mob after more than 50,000 people jammed inside the huge tourist attraction. The traffic jam outside reached 15 miles east toward Orlando and five miles west toward Tampa on I-4.

"When you put it in perspective, it's not too unusual," said a Disney spokesman. "In Los Angeles, such a jam wouldn't even be reported because you have it every morning and every afternoon. You have it in any metropolitan area in the rush hours."

A similar flood of Disney-bound tourists closed the park and caused a major traffic tie-up on the day after Thanksgiving.

New Housing Plan

By CINA STAR
Orlando News Service
NEW YORK—Last spring, in this city where hardly anyone can afford to live but eight million people do anyway, various factions were screaming that if the rent vacancy control bill were passed, it would save the city or it would destroy it. Depending on the point of view.

The decontrol bill could potentially affect any of the approximately 1.45 million apartments as they became vacant.

These are units which have remained under state-city price control since the emergency measures set up during World War II.

Those in favor of the bill felt that by decontrolling vacant apartments, landlords would save the city and the poor who had lived in these places for many years in order to force them to vacate the premises.

Opponents of the bill claimed that landlords would harass the old and the poor who had lived in these places for many years in order to force them to vacate the premises.

The bill passed, the shouting died down, and nothing significant has changed. Few people are going to willingly move out of a controlled apartment.

Blast Jesuit 64-55; Play Wednesday Seminoles Take Giant Step In Tourney!

By GARY TAYLOR
Herald Sports Editor

TAMPA — Sanford's Fighting Seminoles, hampered by foul trouble early in the game, got a lead and held it throughout the game as they stopped Tampa Jesuit 64-55 in the opening round of the Tampa Catholic Holiday Invitational Basketball Tournament.

The Seminoles upped their record to 8-2 with their seventh straight win, while the Jesuit Tigers suffered their first loss in eight outings.

In other first round action, Lakeland State Fe slipped by Lake Wales 58-56, Bishop Berry overpowered Haines City 83-34 and host Tampa Catholic blasted Auburndale 79-37. The Seminoles take tonight of but resume action Wednesday night as they meet Bishop Berry in a 9 p.m. game.

In tonight's action, Auburn Dale battles Lake Wales in losers bracket play at 8:30 p.m. Haines City takes on Tampa Jesuit at 7:15 p.m. and Tampa Catholic meets Lakeland State Fe in the 9 p.m. tilt.

Seminole took the lead midway through the opening frame and held a 12-2 margin over the Tigers at the end of the first period. Things looked bad in the second period when both Clifford Martin and Pat Crimmins had to go to the bench in foul trouble. But despite having to go to the bench, the Seminoles maintained a lead and controlled the contest 50-19 as they went to the dressing rooms.

The Tigers outscored the Seminoles in the third period and cut the margin to 46-38 at the end of the third stanza. Shortly after the final period got underway the Tampa squad pulled to within three points of the Seminole quint.

But fouls had finally started to catch up with Jesuit and the Tribe was able to pull ahead once again. Seminole pulled ahead again and managed to hold the margin through the remainder of the contest.

Grant was the high point man for the Seminoles as he hit for 17 points. But his performance at the free throw line was poor as he hit on only seven of 18 tries. Frank Sloan came off the bench to score 16 points and add the needed muscle on the boards. Martin and Crimmins, though hampered by the fouls, accounted for 13 and 12 points, respectively.

The Seminoles were able to maintain the lead early only because Jesuit was unable to connect on their many free throw attempts. The Tigers finished the game with 11 charity shots in 28 attempts. The Seminoles also had a poor night at the line as they were 16 for 33. They put 10 men in the scoring column as several substitutes saw much action in the contest.

Earl Garthurs demonstrated tremendous power as he paced the Bishop Berry Barons with 28 points. He hit on a dozen field goals during the contest. Other key Bishop Berry players were Neil Sabahar who scored 16 points and Tom Bonfield who contributed 13 points.

Haines City, at a definite height advantage, was paced by Mike Bakaly with 12 points and Leonard Coleman with 11 points.

Kayven Watson stole the ball 14 seconds to go and was wide open going into the basket for the go ahead layup but was called for traveling, thus killing Lake Wales' hopes for a win against Lakeland State Fe in the opening game of the tourney. Lakeland outshot a 58-56 win in the game.

Lakeland took over the lead for the first time early in the second period and controlled the game handily until the Highlanders pulled to within a point with just under four minutes to play. With 2:50 left the Hawks scored a one point lead 51-50, but then came back with six straight points to take what looked like a comfortable lead.

With 12 seconds left the Highlanders cut the margin to 57:56 when Jo Jo Howard hit on a bucket. But the traveling called against Watson after he stole the ball killed the Lake Wales threat.

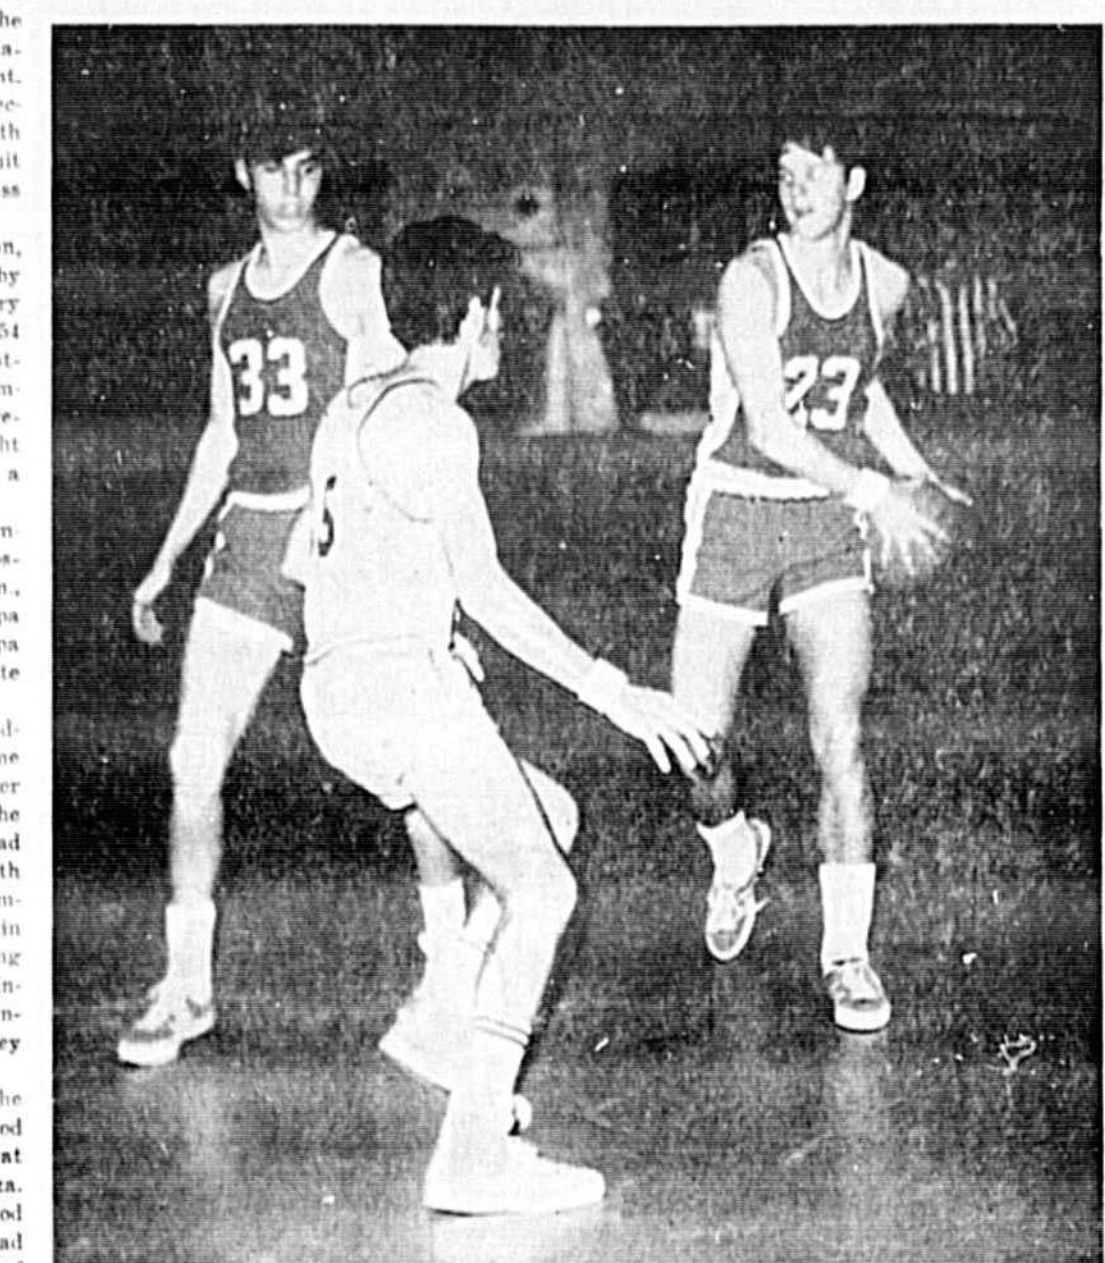

Lakeland won the game at the charity stripe as they were outscored from the floor by four field goals. Lakeland hit on 16 of 28 tries at the line while Lake Wales made six of 11 free throw tries.

Small in size and in foul trouble early, the Auburndale Bulldogs were no threat at all against the Tampa Catholic Crusaders. Coach Richard I. Foster was able to give each man on the squad considerable minutes in the game.

Peter, the head basketball coach at the Tampa School, was assistant football coach and track coach at Seminole High before taking the position with Tampa Catholic.

The Crusaders more than doubled Auburn Dale in scoring the game handily until the Highlanders pulled to within a point in the opening period and scored 20 in the contest. Catholic opened up a 31-9 first quarter lead and controlled the 51-50, but then came back with margin 48-21 at the half.

Matmen In Miami Tourney

By HERKY CUSH
Herald Sports Writer

Jerry Geigley's Florida Tech grapplers are in Miami this week but it's not for any vacation. Quite the contrary as the FTU matmen will be hard at work taking part in the annual Sunshine Open Wrestling tourney.

The tourney opens this afternoon and continues through Thursday evening. It will be the final mat action of 1971 for the youth dominated crew which has represented Tech well this far in the season.

Paul Allard, who'll compete at 118 pounds as he has all season, finished fifth overall in a field of 17 wrestlers in the Georgia Tech Invitational. Allard was a 2-0 loser to top seed Ed Rose of Auburn after which he was one and lost one. All told he won four matches in the tourney.

Tech's top 120 pounder, Walt Wilce had the misfortune to lose a close 2-2 decision in his first match at Georgia Tech. He did win one in the losers bracket before losing his second and being forced out.

Duke Olson, competing at 150 pounds in the Georgia Tech event lost his first match also but it was to the eventual champion of his weight class, Skip White of Rochester Tech. Olson won two consolation matches in the losers' bracket after his opening loss. Olson, as well as Allard and Wilce, figures to be among Tech's top entries in the Sunshine Open tourney.

There are several other FTU grapplers who have the potential in scoring a few surprises in the Sunshine Open tourney.

John Rouse, the Tech heavyweight, was the most consistent performer of last year's team and won the state college heavyweight title in last year's tourney.

Pat Murphy, the early season sensation, returns to his old stomping grounds for this tourney. Murphy trails from Arch Bishop Carter High School which he coached in Miami. The freshman grappler did not fare well in the Georgia Tech event but in an early AAU tourney at Fort Myers he won six straight matches and was named the outstanding wrestler in the tourney which gives an indication of the type of performance his is capable of.

Actually Tech recruited heavily in the Miami area this past summer and came away with several top grapplers but a few have been sidelined with injuries. Elvo Jones, a freshman 142 pounder from Miami Dade North will not see any action for a while due to a shoulder injury. And Bill James, a 177 pound freshman from Palm Beach High School in Miami is also sidelined, with a strained knee.

Backup 118 pounder Joe Gabbard may see tourney action if he can't make it to Tech from Miami Hialeah High School.

Others who may be seeing action for the Knights are Pete Leclair, 142; Jim Nickson, 159; Fred Mann, 159; Bill Hoffman, heavyweight (former Miami Dade North grappler); Ron Hiral, 177; Jim Weaver, 197; Kevin King, 134; Bob Leclair, 167; and Ted Harris, 167.

Dooleys Prepare For Duel

By F. T. MACFEELEY
Associated Press Writer

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—North Carolina Coach Bill Dooley's Tar Heels are one-to-one down underdogs to brother Vince's Georgia Bulldogs, but that doesn't take the fun out of Bill Dooley's bowl game.

"It's a great reward for a winning season," Dooley said as he put his Tar Heels through some hard practice for their Gator Bowl football meeting with Vince's Bulldogs Friday afternoon.

"I definitely like bowl games, and I haven't met many players who don't like to go to one," Bill said. "Oh, some coaches may make them drudgery as they use the bowl practice to develop young players for next season. Those teams are probably the only ones who don't like to go to a bowl."

He gave his 60-man squad a long, vigorous workout Monday after arriving from Chapel Hill but plans to let up a little the end of the week.

"We needed that work," he said. "We had to take off some of that Christmas turkey and dressing after four days away from the field. And we were in the final exam period before breaking for Christmas so that we only got in about one hour's practice a day."

The Georgia squad, a fourth-down favorite off its 10-1 season record compared to North Carolina's 9-2, arrives late this afternoon to wind up preparations. This is the first meeting of brothers at head coaches in a bowl game.

The teams have similar of offenses, hinged to strong running attacks and tough defenses.

That isn't surprising since the brothers conferred as they prepared their squads in the spring. Never dreaming they would meet in a bowl game.

"I'm not concerned about going against my brother, but I am concerned about going against his team," Bill said.

Seek To Blunt Epidemic Scientists Racing Flu

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — With an eye on the calendar as well as the microscope, scientists are working to blunt the next thrust of a worldwide influenza epidemic.

Major epidemics of the disease sweep the world about every decade, making the late 1970s the next danger period. And the danger is real. The "Asian Flu" epidemic of 1957-58 and the "Hong Kong Flu" of 1968 brought widespread sickness and death in some countries.

The government's National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases is working against the clock, "with the hope that we can get some better way of handling this better vaccine, or else some other method of handling the disease may even better drug treatments," says director Dr. Donald J. Davis.

The influenza virus, scientists face a medical quick-change artist that is unlike its viral relatives such as smallpox, measles and poliovirus. In that respect, long-term vaccines have been developed. New strains, "like popping up to slip past the immunity the body has built up against their ancestors."

When a new virus arrives, says Davis, it takes several months under current methods to isolate it and make vaccines. "So much time is taken up that the epidemic is over," he adds.

Scientists, who feel this winter to season will be a "super" one, are now following two avenues toward a more effective, more quickly generated vaccine.

The virus microbes, Davis says, have an "overcoat" of protein antigens, substances which stimulate the formation of antibodies, disease fighters within the body.

"It's our hope that by studying these antigens we might identify ones that are simpler and then recombine those."

Parental Neglect Law Is Proposed

TALLAHASSEE (AP) - Children who don't know where their parents are at night might find they've been carted off to jail—if a "parental neglect" bill filed by two state senators is adopted. The proposal, by Sens. Kenneth Plante (R-Oviedo) and Alan Trask (D-Port Meade), would make parental neglect a misdemeanor crime punishable by six months in jail or a $500 fine.

Under the bill, parents could be arrested if their under-18-year-old sons or daughters were convicted of criminal activity more than twice in any one year.

"This is mainly aimed at parents... who are out partying every night and never know where their children are or what they are up to," said Plante.

Plante, however, conceded the bill might have a built-in problem: How could parents who didn't even know their children were out to control them from a jail cell?

"That's something I've been giving a lot of thought to and will have to work out," said the lawmaker.

By JOHN A. SPOLSKI

Although we've heard it so many times in the past that it almost developed into a standing joke... that there is another big business coming into this area... we have been reliably informed that not one, but two hefty shots-in-the-arm can be expected within the next couple of weeks.

Could amount to well over 700 jobs between the two of 'em.

Be sure and read the story on Page 1C... a bill which has been signed into law by President Nixon requiring many healthy welfare mothers to work or accept job training.

Pat-on-the-back time... to our own Senator Ken Plante and the bill which he co-sponsored (details next to this column). You can blame the kids all you want, but I'm willing to concede that it's the lack of direct supervision many times on the part of the parent which causes the problem in the first place.

Not always... but, most often!

The wisest thing to do if you're in a hurry is nothing!

Did you ever think that this state would get so much publicity? I mean way back when they were first talking about Florida holding a National Primary... did you believe there would be so many reporters and TV cameramen popping in and out of the Sunshine State?

Not to mention... so many candidates?

All kinds of political deals, cooking, too-locally, statewide and nationally. Like the one about Humphrey going for Number One and Kennedy being coaxed into the second spot... with assurance that it would be his for the taking in '76.

Remember when we recently made mention of the request of DeBar's Ed Bodin to have 50 surplus helicopters placed at the Sanford Airport... to help combat the terrible traffic problems on I-4 between us and Disney World?

Well, today I find out that Bodin actually wrote to Senator Gurney with this request. (Stay tuned folks and we'll find out what happens tomorrow as crusading Ed Bodin charges Washington... and in the meantime, we'll get a political promise of a helicopter in everyone's back yard!)

THINGS I DIDN'T KNOW... this country actually did have two Presidents who donated their entire salaries to charity... and John F. Kennedy.

Mobile Home Plant Coming $100,000 Land Deal

By BILL SCOTT

The Sanford Herald has learned that negotiations are near completion for the purchase of a 27-acre tract off Grapeville Avenue, just outside Sanford, for the location of a mobile home manufacturing firm.

David Kelley, Seminole County Industrial Development Authority executive director, when questioned by The Herald, advised that Fleetwood Enterprises, Inc. of Riverside, Calif., has almost finalized the property purchase on which to construct a 150,000-square-foot facility for manufacture of mobile homes.

The firm is expected to employ some 400 workers when full production is reached, according to Kelley.

Attorney W. C. Hutcheson is handling the property sale to Fleetwood from Al Gartenberg, New York. Fleetwood said today that only documents from Mississippi and New York are needed to complete the sale.

Fleetwood has indicated a willingness to close, Hutcheson added.

The California firm is reportedly paying $100,000 cash for just over 27 acres, upon which it plans to construct a 45,000 square foot building with the remaining 65,000 square feet to be used for storage.

Robert Campbell, a Fleetwood official consulted by telephone in California, would only comment.

Expansion of Fleetwood to Sanford will bring to two the number of mobile home facilities to locate here within a year.

Tifton Corporation, of Chattanooga, four months ago bought the H. L. Hunt canning plant on Sanford Avenue in which to locate a "Flexstone" Mobile Home facility.

That plant is now nearing capacity in construction of mobile homes.

General Waterworks Company, owner of a sewage treatment plant in Winter Park, is seeking a large segment of South Seminole County, would appear to be in line for further trouble.

Indignant residents of the area, particularly Eastbrook and Casa Alma complexes, were on hand at the Tuesday meeting of the Board of County Commissioners and presented yet another set of complaints against the company for its pollution of waters in their area and for the unsanitary condition which prohibits the residents from opening the windows of their homes.

The commissioners adopted an ordinance enacted under the home rule power of the county for the purpose of providing necessary standards and regulations for drainage ditches in Seminole County in the interest of all the citizens who reside outside the boundaries of any municipality.

Dr. B. M. Sharp, representing the residents of Casa Alma, was interested in specifics of the ordinance and was told that, according to the document, it is illegal for anyone to make any deposits of refuse matter or effluent, including flaring debris, oil, acid, or other hazardous materials, in municipal, industrial, or agricultural plants, in amounts considered to be unsightly or deleterious.

No materials producing color, odor, or which would create objectionable sludge deposits would be allowed. Nor may any toxic or harmful deposits be made and no effluent from any domestic waste plant.

The residents at Casa Alma, represented by Dr. Sharp, and those of Eastbrook, represented by James Bishop, who came with a petition containing 30 signatures, were assured that an acknowledgment of this document by the Secretary of State, injunction suit can be filed against any person or company violating any part of this ordinance.

Dr. Sharp remarked, "If this ordinance is approved tomorrow, I promise you there will be suits filed the next day."

Sharp further promised to sue Langan Adair county pollution control officer to keep a tally check on the situation.

The detective stated that Day was a "good-sized" man and he believed he would not have "just sat still and let someone stab him."
