Perhaps the most incisive admonition to "examine one-self" comes from the lips of the "sage of Patmos," John the Apostle in the 11th Chapter of Revelations: "Rise up and measure the temple of God and the altar, and those who worship there." In our day our churches should be measured by the steady cadence of the heavenly Father. I fear however, that many are out of step and are marching to the beat of strange drums. We can tell by measuring our altars. How far do they reach, how wide, how deep. The true spirit of Christmas prevailed in the small ploneer community of Geneva with truckloads of carolers singing throughout the area and continuing with the traditional Candlelight Christmas Eve Service at the Methodist Church and a Cantate at the Baptist Church Sunday evening.

The caroling was sponsored during principal and riddle of man is that we know thou know that we know that we know they fust that we know that we know they just that we know the prowest. The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Robert Deppen, welfare chairman, reported that the needy family aided by the class at Thanksgiving and Christmas was well provided for with each member of the family receiving special gifts and clothing as well as a large stock of groceries.

Mrs. Darwin Shea conducted the program on the New Year and all those attending wrote anonymous farewells to 1965 in prose or poetry which were later read aloud.

Those participating returned to the church for refreshments and a social period. The church was been invited by Rev. Jack Lindsay, pastor, to participate with the congression of the church was been described for the Christman of the Christman o optimistic about the activities of the tax reform commission. Created by the Legislature on my recommendation, this commission will strive to eliminate inequities in the existing tax structure not to impose new taxes. The goal of the commission is to recommend a redistribution of the tax burden so every segment of our population will assume its fair share. I am confident a fair redistribution of the tax load will offer warranted redief in the area of real estate taxes.

The cost of living goes up in proportion to the steady decrease in the purchasing power of the dollar, the sawbuck and that splendid item of currency, the grand. Citizens seem not to be aware of this grand larceny being committed against them.

The Common Man so beloved by the politicians is more loved for being a sucker on Election Day than for wit, or wisdom. It is the common man and his wife, meaning most of us, who have kept in office surance policy, his wages and his future.

Some time ago a scale of the grand larceny being committed against the common man was published by Tax Foundation Inc. of New York. If you had purchased a $1,000 U. S. bond in 1949, shrinking purchasing power would have reduced the value of that bond over the years like this: 1955, $889; 1959, $818; 1963, $778, and 1964, $770.

Those statistics should mean something to the Common Man and his missus, the most this family.

Some time ago a scale of the wage earner can hope to increase his income with some expectation of realizing his hope. The pensioner more often is stuck.

The politicians have persuaded the trusting Common Man that all he gets from Washington, D. C., is free lunch at no cost to him or to his family.
