A marathon School Board meeting ended near midnight Monday with a two two vote and an abstention that failed to pass a recommendation from Supt. John Angel that Board ask voters for four mills in a June 13 millage election. Stuart Culpepper, after failing in a motion to couple the millage vote with a rescission of the Board's decision a week ago to implement the 45-15 extended year school plan, abstained on a vote to seek the extra millage to provide for air conditioning of schools as first priority and construction of a new middle school in the Eastbrook area as second priority with an expected $2,589,000 which would be realized in the 1972-73 school year, if approved.

Angel said since the Board voted to institute the 45-15 plan beginning in July, 1973, the millage needed to be levied to provide funds to air condition schools since they will now be utilized on a year-round basis.

Of the amount, $1.5 million would go to build a new middle school which the Board voted a week ago to place at Eastbrook but that decision had drawn the ire of Oviedo residents, who, at last night's session, pointed out the State Education Department survey team designated Jackson Heights as the site for the new middle school.

Oviedoans opposed the Board action in changing the site as it could mean the state would not approve expenditure of its funds on a site not chosen by its surveyors. Voting for the millage election were A.P. Buie Jr. and A. F. Keeth; opposing were Jean Bryant Culpepper, who previously had sought the

Sale Of Seminole Memorial Hospital

We oppose the sale of the Seminole Memorial Hospital. Such a move would be damaging to the health needs of this community spirit which brought this fine facility into life, nurtured it through its infancy and even now, plans wise expansion and growth.

Such a proposal would be difficult to understand at any time. But to have it made by such a responsible person as Greg Drummond chairman of the Seminole County Commission, is a development which we reare

Health care and the operation of the hospital facilities is an issue which has been in stormy waters for some time. Now - with the extraordinary high cost of even the most simple treatment in a hospital rooms fanning the breeze - it needs the most experienced hands and the wisest plots to bring it into safe harbor.

There will be, indeed already has beem an airing of the views of both Mr. Drummond and spokesmen for the hospital which portrays, once again, the difficulty of communications, as sophisticated as they are technically.

Whenever such a facility as this hospital which deals with the critical issues of healing and saving and must face the final fact of terminal sickness becomes a matter of public debate and inquiry, the time for sober and responsible thinking is more essential than ever.

It is this approach which makes it even more confusing when the subject of education and school buildings is injected. There is no question but that public school education and the facilities through which it is dispensed is an issue which is shot through with political crossfire.

And it does not take any seventh-son-of-aseventh-son vision to see that the past population explosion on the south side of the county and the impending eruption in the north shows education solutions crying for solutions.

We believe that this is something which should not be used as a lever to pry open the matter of health care, as seems to be the case in the Drummond proposal. It is plain common sense to make the matter of selling this hospital a proposal to be approached from the viewpoint

Changing Outlook For Handicapped

HERALD WRITER

This is "Know the Handicapped Week", which seeks to "focus on the person, not the handicap." The week is sponsored in Central Florida by a relatively new organization with a new concept. "Outlook Central Florida". In the past we are sorry to say many mentally and physically handicapped persons were allowed to vegetate institutionalized or hidden at home never being allowed to develop their full capabilities. In many ways today this is beginning to change to prospects of the handicapped person for a more normal, happy and productive life. Special education classes and special schools such as "Forest Park" in Orlando and "Little Red School House" in Sanford cater youngsters with unique physical or intellectual needs. Organizations such as Cerebral Palsy, Society for Crippled Children and Adults with its Camp Challenge help increase the potentials of the physically handicapped. Even handicapped children grow up with normal hopes and desires and the wish for self-supporting independent lives. If they are accepted by others many are capable of handling jobs in a regular work situation while others may find a niche at "Goodwill Industries" or "Central Florida Workshop" where they can take pride in even the simplest task and get paid for their work. These facilities and services along with many others function through government subsidy, private donations or sponsorship of church, civic and fraternal organizations. Their main purpose is to train the handicapped...and let us not forget that there are many adults suddenly find themselves in this category as the result of accidents, loss of sight, surgery or the aftermath of a stroke...to better cope with

For what they have done in these areas, these groups are certainly to be congratulated. The goals of OUTLOOK celebrating its first anniversary, however, add a new dimension. That of educating the community to a greater understanding and acceptance of those who are "different" in some way, to recognize the handicapped as persons with normal needs. The OUTLOOK training program works toward this end and trains volunteers to be able to work with the handicapped. OUTLOOK involves both so called "normal" and "handicapped" families and persons in its programs and

Persons afflicted with either mental, physical or emotional limitations have various creative, and often latent, potentialities, that if given the opportunity they would contribut substanially to the economic, spiritual, and social well-being

The area is fortunate to have Elsa and Henry Ellis who have brought with them the OUTLOOK program from Nashville where they made it a success and adapted it to Central Florida's needs and potential.

The federal government is moving to head off a recurrence of the summer 'nightmares" experienced last year by hundreds of charter airline vacation travelers stranded in Europe.

The Civil Aeronautics Board has proposed amendments to its charter reguations to make certain students and others who travel abroad on transatlantic charter flights are assured of firm commitments for a return trip

Last year hundreds of students were marooned in European countries when they couldn't get sents on chartered return flights even with prepaid tickets. Many had to wire home for funds for food and lodging while they waited for U.S.-bound flights. In some cases their tickets never were honored and they were forced to pay their return fares

This summer, the CAB notes, student visitor air traffic to Europe is expected to surpass even the thousands who went

The proposed new rules, therefore, would require that the chartering group pay in advance for return transportation and that the carrier confirm its obligation for a return flight. To schieve this, the new rules would re-

Moves to Block Democrat Reforms

BY BRUCE BIOSSAT

WASHINGTON (NEA)

Chicago's Mayor Richard Daley is trying to throw a big roadblock in the path of Democratic party reforms. National convention delegates elected, March 21 in Chicago and suburbs, and tied to Daley, have filed a state court suit in Illinois designed to stop the reforms cold. On the list of 59 delegates are Daley himself and such other top Democrats as U.S. Reps. Daniel Rostenkowski and Roman Pucinski, the 1972 party nominee for the U.S.

They were elected "uncommitted," and virtually without opposition. Soon after, a group led by Chicago Alderman William Singer and the Rev. Jesse Jackson formally challenged these delegates as not properly chosen under the McGovern-Fraser reform commission rules. The specific complaints are that the 59 do not include enough women, blacks and young people to give them "reason able" representation according to their proportionate presence in the population.

The further charge is made that the Daley delegates were illegally endorsed as a slate. Under the formal call to the 1972 Democratic convention delegates facing a challenge are required to respond within 10 days after the challenge is placed. They must give a "specific answer by paragraph, to the facts

Four days after that deadline passed, the Daley delegates had not responded. Mrs. Patricia Roberts Harris. acting chairman of the 1972 Credentials Committee, wrote letters to the 59 challenged delegates (and 31 alternates), reminding them of the rules and noting that they also

"Failure to so respond in good faith shall automatically deem the challenging party's alleged facts to be admitted as true."

Meantime, the real Daley response came on the legal front. On April 19, the challenged 59 went into the Illinois courts to seek an injunction against the Singer-Jackson challengers, to block them from proceeding further with their challenge.

The grounds cited in the suit:

alleged by the challenging party.

The 59 challenged individuals were properly chosen according to the election laws of the State of Illinois, and these supersede the McGovern-Fraser guidelines or any other Democratic party rules. This lays the gauntlet down hard, with a direct, clear court test of the alleged supremacy of the party's rules over conflicting state laws. In view of party officials, a court decision for the Daley delegates would open the door wide to defiance of Mc-Govern-Fraser guidelines in many places.

The confrontation with Daley has thrust into the shadows other challenges made under the reform guide-lines in such states as Arizona, Florida, Georgia, South Carolina and Wisconsin. The highlight in most of these is the charge, usually placed by women's caucuses, that women are not represented on delegations in proper proportion to their numbers.

Even if Daley's people lose their injunction suit, the Illinois situation will continue to hold the spotlight. More strikingly than most, it poses the question: Who takes the place of the challenged delegates if they are unseated? The reformers never got around to figuring that one out, and they concede today that it is an enormous gold week of wind, rain and other adverse weather onditions caused fishing reports to be held to a minimum. Some of the true die-hard anglers still managed to come up with respectable catches between showers.

At Marina Isle Fish Camp, Bob King, manager, had word of several good strings of bream caught on crickets. Bass ishermen have been scarce all week but Dick Mower found a few striking Wednesday and landed a limit string of good sized school bass, Bank fishing at Marina Isle produced bream and catfish all week even though the fishermen had to take shelter under the boat stalls quite often.

Lake Woodruff in the DeLand area is a "hot spot" for speckled perch right now. The specks are hitting in the bonnet pads on No-Alibi jigs and many of them are in the bragging size class. Lake Woodruff is reached by taking SR 44 west from DeLand to the Glenwood Road then turn left at Highland Park Fish Camp Sign, or from DeLeon Springs. Osteen Bridge Fish Camp, Paul Johnson, owner, reported very few people out due to the weather, but those

N. H. WILLIAMS and Wayne Pettit and their families hauled in nearly 65 bluegill, bream, shellcrackers and catfish in just 21/2 hours recently while fishing out of Hiley's Fish Camp on Lake Jessup, according to Lowell Hiley, who did try found the usual catfish and bream. Plenty of boats and anglers were seen in the Lemon Bluff section Saturday morning but the fishermen outnumbered the bass. A few scattered rallies occurred, then the rain sent most of the anglers hurrying for cover.

The Wekiva River turned up four bass up to five pounds for Dottie Hill on Saturday, Dottie (also known as MISS CAMP SEMINOLE) left her fish in the water overnight. Sunday morning she discovered that a gator had taken most of the larger bass, leaving her only the head. She tried her luck again and landed five more of about two to 21/2 pounds. Mr. Green, fishing out of the same camp, used a Devil Horse lure to outwit five bass on Saturday with four more falling to the same plug on Sunday. Another string of nine bass was reported over the weekend but the lucky person failed to George Cheney, Wekiva River Haven, said bream and catfish comprized the bulk of the catches in that area. area. Around Backwater, beds are visible but the bass apparently have left them.

A short 21/2 hour trip produced a mixed string of 65 panfish for N. H. Williams and family accompanied by Wayne Pettit and his family Sunday. The two families fished out of Hiley's Fish Camp on the south side of Lake Jessup. according to Lowell Hiley, camp operator.

Dave Bower joins the ranks of the HARD LUCK FISHERMEN this week. Dave has tried long and hard for the past year to land a bass worthy of having mounted. Sunday was "the day." About his third cast, a 10 pound HOG jumped on his Johnson Spoon and ended up on the stringer. A few minutes later he caught another smaller one and when he lifted the stringer to place that one, to his disgust, the snap on the metal stringer was open - the BIG ONE gone!! The day was not a complete bust, however, as he and his two fishing partners ended up with a total catch of 20 bass. They were casting from the shore of a small lake west of Don Smith of Seminole Sporting Goods Store had word of a nice catch of school bass on the St. Johns near the old Crowe's Camp for Herbert and Grace Geister last Tuesday. Using a Marm fly behind a top water plug, Geister landed 11 on Tuesday and nine more Thursday. Mrs. Geister filled up her stringer with bream, using crickets, while her husband was giving the bass a fit.

A visit to Dove's Taxidermy Shop revealed 45 bass in the process of being mounted. All were caught in the Central Florida area within the past four weeks and all were in the five to 121/2 pound weight range. Who says there is better fishing anywhere?

Dove also reported red fish and snook plentiful in the Captiva Island-Pine Island section of the West Coast, Reds up to 14 pounds and snook up to 20 pounds have been consistent until the recent spell of weather. A cubera snapper weighing 83 pounds is also being mounted by Dove. This is probably a new world record for this species and is being checked by the International Game Fish Association to verify it.

Willis Jones of Jones Electric Company made his first trip to Cockalrsky Bay on the West Coast and boated a 30 pound tarpon according to information received from Seminole Sporting Goods. Jones took his first snook on this trip also, both fish being landed on 12 pound test line.

With small craft warnings displayed almost every day for the past week, only two boats ventured outside at Inlet Harbor. Captain Al Kline took a party out to the reef early in the week and came up with 70 red snapper, the largest one hitting the scales at 20 pounds, 60 amberines (baby amberjacks) which weighed six to eight pounds each, and two

Another party on the charter boat "Miss Behavin" trolled strip baits and spoons for a total haul of 24 king mackerel, six bonita and a 54 pound amberjack.

River fishing in the Inlet Harbor area has been limited to air catches of ladyfish and jack crevalle with a few scattered trout appearing.

Weather reports are looking a little better for the coming week, so — LET'S GO FISHING!

The Department of The Interior, in a recent report, stated that hunters, along with fishermen, spend nearly $7 BILLION yearly in pursuit of their sport! Hunting license sales in the United States increased to a record high of almost 16 million in 1971. This, coupled with the fact that many persons, for reasons of age, military service, etc. can hunt without buying a license, pushes the total number of hunters in this country to over 17 million. For the second year in a row, license sales went over the $100 million mark. In Florida alone, hunters paid in almost a million and a half dollars to pursue their favorite sport, according to figures released by National Shooting Sports Foundation, Inc.

Small breasts give her an inferiority complex

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have this terrible complex about being small bosomed. Where did I get this complex in the first place? From my husband, that's where.

He's all the time looking at the pictures of those big bosomy girls in the magazines. And whenever a stacked girl walks by, he practically twists his neck off looking. I feel like crawling into a hole somewhere, or hitting him for making me feel so inferior. Would a small girl like me feel better if she had her bosoms surgically enlarged? It's crossed my mind a few times. How long would it take? I might want to surprise my husband. DEAR CHEATED: I don't recommend "surprising" your husband. If you're considering that type of surgery, talk it over with him first. Some men like to look, but they prefer their wives as Nature made 'em.

DEAR ABBY: Someone asked why so many people walk into a restaurant and sit at a table with dirty dishes when clean tables are available. You suggested that it might be the coziness of clutter.

You were too polite, Abby. You could have said because they feel more at home in messy surroundings. Or perhaps, they hope to snitch a tip left for the waitress by the previ-By so doing, you possibly would have shamed a few me. And I'm sure it has never occurred to others who would never consider doing such a lowdown thing. But I'll bet after this hits print, a lot of Abby readers will never again sit at a messy table in a restaurant.

DEAR ABBY: Recently, during a symphony concert there was a child in the audience who laughed, spoke loudly and behaved boisterously not once, but several times during the performance.

The parents did not have the sense, or consideration for others, to lead the child from the auditorium after the first offense, tho many in the audience were visibly irritated. Finally, the conductor himself turned on the podium and looked into the audience with disbelief!

I have had the same experience during church sermons with crying babies, despite the fact that the church provides nursery facilities. Conductors, ministers, and speakers spend hours in preparation, and such interruptions spoil the mood of the udiences completely. When will selfish parents realize that they should not bring children to affairs of a serious nature until they are old enough to be an acceptable part of the audience? IRRITATED IN CAMP HILL, PA.

POLLY'S POINTERS

She's Peeved at Guests Who Won't Use Towels By POLLY CRAMER

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY—There is nothing like a fresh paint job to renew the looks of a house but hands receive such harsh treatment from strong paint thinner or similar products used to remove enamel paint from the hands. Is there something more gentle, yet equally as effective, to use for this paint removal?

—MARY ANN

DEAR POLLY-Mary N. wanted to remove chocolate stains from her brocade sofa so I suggest that she try a little normal-strength peroxide (the kind bought at the drugstore) on the chocolate. I have used this dozens of times and find it always works on chocolate as it bleaches it out without damaging the material and is not as strong as bleach.—SUE DEAR GIRLS-When using this on brocade or any such fabric be sure to first test an inconspicuous spot. A commonly used formula for removing chocolate from silk or wool is two tablespoons peroxide to each gallon of water. If necessary leave this on for half an hour. Be sure to thoroughly rinse it out .- POLLY

DEAR POLLY-Money has to be stretched at my house so I made a crib for my tiny baby such as I learned to do when I was in nurses' training. Cribs are soon outgrown so I would like to share my idea with other girls who have to watch their pennies.

Needed for this are two straight chairs, strong cord or old nylon hose, a large sheet or blanket and large safety pins. Place the chairs with the seats facing each other and tie the legs of the two chairs together with the cord or nylons. Place a sheet or the blanket lengthwise so the center of it comes down the middle of the chair backs and over the seats. Place a firm pad, protected with waterproof material, over the seats of the chairs. This weight will hold the sheet or blanket in place. Pick up sides of sheet or blanket and bring them up and behind the chair backs, making the sides of the "crib" about 15 inches high. Pin through sides of sheet or blanket that form sides of bed and also through the layers that fall over the center of the chair backs. Tuck the hanging ends under the sheet or blanket to give the crib a neater look .- MARY P.

ATTRACTIVE NUISANCE or death trap? This dangerous situation at Magnolia Avenue construction site in Longwood was reported Saturday by residents to a councilman and police, but building trusses remained in this position over the weekend. Builder is the same one (Calbert Construction Co.) on whose construction site a child was killed by falling trusses some months ago.
