At Least 3 Drown In Boating Accident

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Three persons are missing and presumed dead today in a pleasure boating accident in which three other persons drowned.

The victims, a friend and five members of a family celebrating the seventeenth birthday of the son of the only known survivor, were in two motor boats that toppled over the Dashields Lock and Dam on the Rain-swollen Ohio River at nearby Edgeworth Saturday.

Coast guard and Crescent Township police and fire crews unsuccessfully searched for survivors Saturday and Sunday.

Melissa Andrews, 33, of Houston, was the only known survivor of the accident which claimed the lives of her husband, Leo, 34, his sister-in-law, Karen Andrews, 32, of Eustis, Fla., and his niece, Carla Spiker, 18, of Chartiers, Washington County.

No Job For Reagan's Son?

NEW YORK (UPI) — Ron Reagan, President Reagan's youngest son, may be out of his $90-a-week job next year if his ballet company is unable to recoup funds lost because of his father's budget cuts, it was reported.

But the president's daughter, Patti Davis, told Newsweek magazine her father's election "was a break" in her acting career.

"I was tired of working as a waitress, and going out on cattle-call auditions for ridiculous little parts," Miss Davis, 28, said. "On the other hand, I'm probably going to be judged more harshly. But that's a good problem to have, because before they didn't even know who I was."

As for the career of older son Michael, 35 — who made headlines last month when it was revealed he used his father's name to solicit government contracts for the aerospace firm he worked for — he's getting advice from the White House on finding a job to replace the sales position he resigned from.

Thief Caused Oil Spill

FORT COLLINS, Colo. (UPI) — Authorities believe an oil spill in which 12,000 gallons of crude oil flowed into a reservoir may have been caused by a thief intent on stealing fuel from a storage tank.

Authorities initially believed the unlocked valve might have been opened by cattle, but Sunday they decided the spill was probably intentional and might have been caused by someone who stole or tried to steal some of the oil.

Crews using booms, vacuum trucks and absorbent material mopped up about 12,000 gallons of crude oil that spilled from the tank northeast of Fort Collins and flowed via irrigation ditches to the Black Hollow Reservoir in neighboring Weld County.

Reagan News Conference Set

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan, fully recuperated from the attempt on his life, will meet reporters Tuesday at his first news conference in more than three months.

The last presidential news conference was held March 6.

Reagan was shot and seriously wounded on March 30 and plans for a once-a-month news conference were shelved during his convalescence.

Reporters have been pressing the White House for a question-and-answer session with the president for weeks.

Officials acknowledged the news conference would be held Tuesday afternoon.

A Letter From Begin

NEW YORK (UPI) — A letter from Prime Minister Menachem Begin turned an annual "Salute to Israel" parade into a bid for American support in the expected U.N. vote on sanctions against Israel for its destruction of a Iraqi nuclear installation.

Cheers were raised when Israeli ambassador to the U.S., Ephraim Evron, read the personal letter Sunday from Begin to the 50,000 spectators lining a 2 1/2-block stretch of Manhattan's Fifth Avenue.

The letter was addressed to "my American friends, Christians and Jews alike."

FLORIDA IN BRIEF

Coast Guard Helicopter Locates Eight Survivors

MIAMI (UPI) — A Coast Guard helicopter took off at dawn today from Kingston, Jamaica and located eight survivors of a 78-foot fishing vessel that was aground on a reef along an island off the coast of Jamaica.

A spokesman at Coast Guard district headquarters in Miami said the helicopter would attempt to pickup the survivors.

The vessel, called the "Serious Business" ship caught fire Sunday and the eight Americans aboard abandoned it and took refuge in a life raft, a spokesman for the Coast Guard Search and Rescue Headquarters in Miami said.

Another Cocaine Seizure

LAKE WALES, Fla. (UPI) — U.S. Customs spotter planes followed the light plane from the Bahamas to a sparsely populated subdivision in central Florida, then tailed the car that took the plane's cargo and zigzagged away through an orange grove.

The result was the second largest cocaine seizure ever — 520 pounds, worth an estimated $133 million on the streets, Customs spokesman Jim Dingfelder said in Miami. The largest was 616 pounds seized in Dade County in March.

One man was arrested by Polk County Sheriff's deputies called to the plane by the customs spotters, and police early today were on the lookout for "anybody suspicious" who might be the one or two men who ran after the coke-laden car got stuck in the grove.

The arrested man was identified as Donald Crumer Peterson, 56, of Irvine, Calif.

Variable Interest Rate In Works?

Insurance Policy Borrowing Up To Great Depression Levels

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Seeking low-interest loans in today's tight money market, Americans are borrowing on their life insurance policies at Great Depression levels.

Industry figures show consumers had borrowed $42.6 billion against their policies by February — an amount equal to 8.8 percent of the industry's assets. The figure is the highest since 1935, when borrowing reached 15.3 percent of assets.

The lure is loans that may be obtained at rates as low as 5 percent at a time when banks are charging as much as 16 percent.

Some policyholders are simply pulling their money out to invest in certificates of deposit or other high-interest devices.

The break on interest rates is increasingly being limited to current policyholders.

Figures made available by the American Council on Life Insurance showed that eight states have now enacted laws that allow interest rates for loans on newly written policies to be tied to a bond market index now in the 13 to 14 percent range.

The interest rate for borrowing against those policies as a result will vary year by year.

Existing policies — which have borrowing rates of from 5 to 8 percent — cannot be changed and would not be affected by the new laws.

The eight states that have approved the industry-backed legislation are Arkansas, Connecticut, Indiana, Maine, Nebraska, Utah, Virginia and Washington. Similar legislation is under consideration in other states.

A council spokesman said the industry will have to wait until similar laws are passed in a large number of states before it will be possible to start writing policies with the higher borrowing rates.

Generally speaking, it is possible to borrow against the cash value of a whole life insurance policy and pay back the amount borrowed on any schedule desired. The minimum a borrower has to pay back each year is the interest on the loan.

The National Insurance Consumer Organization, a group set up by Ralph Nader to study the industry, says it does not oppose variable loan rates for policies that pay dividends — so-called participating policies — since assets and investments help determine dividends. Thus, it says, policyholders who don't borrow are protected against erosion of dividends.

But the group said it opposes variable rates for "non-participating" policies — those paying no dividend. James Hunt, former Vermont insurance commissioner who works for the group, said variable loan rates for "non-par" policies would "rebound to the benefit of the issuing companies, not to policyholders. We see this fact as inherently unfair."

Mayors Endorse Reaganomics

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — The nation's Republican mayors are backing President Reagan's economic program and say their Democratic opponents are sore losers who haven't gotten over Reagan's election.

Several dozen GOP mayors at the annual U.S. Conference of Mayors met

Sunday behind closed doors and later reported they had unanimously adopted by voice vote a resolution supporting Reagan's economic plan calling for a companion package of budget and tax cuts.

"We are convinced that the president is on the right track," said Kansas City, Mo., Mayor Richard L. Berkley.

The mayors, whose five-day meeting ends Wednesday, were scheduled to hear from Rep. Jim Jones, D-Okla., chairman of the House Budget Committee, at a session today on Reagan's proposed spending cuts.

Altamonte lost to Orlando 16-14 when a six-run ninth-inning rally fell short.

RAINES RETURNS

The major leagues had one baseball player in uniform Sunday. Tim Raines, right, returned to Sanford Memorial Stadium from Montreal to steal five bases for the Sanford All Stars. The five give the swift former Seminole 55 for the season, but Wes Rinker doubts whether the National League will recognize the feat.

Fehr, Grebey Ready To Bargain Now

Negotiators Not Predicting When Issues 'Catch' On

NEW YORK (UPI) — Despite the loud silence of that first weekend without major league baseball, negotiators refused to predict when they would resume playing catch with the issues. Don Fehr, an attorney for the Players Association, said his side would be ready this afternoon and was waiting for federal mediator Kenneth Moffett to contact management. Ray Grebey, chief negotiator for the owners, said his side was ready to bargain at any time.

Moffett, who said last week the sides would meet Monday or Tuesday, was unavailable late Sunday to issue a time or date for a meeting. So there they were, as divided as ever, while the nation turned renewed attention to picnics, pro soccer and minor league baseball. The White House said President Reagan plans no intervention in the strike as suggested by Baltimore Orioles' owner

Edward Bennett Williams. "The president has no intention of getting involved in the dispute," White House spokesman Robert Gray said Sunday. "There were also suggestions that he get involved in the coal strike, but he didn't. The president hopes (the players' strike) can be settled without his action." Negotiators were wondering how it could be settled without the participation of Marvin Miller. The executive director of the Players Association absented himself from the most recent talks but Fehr denied Miller purposely was impeding the discussions. "Not now nor has it ever been Marvin making the decisions," Fehr said. "It's always been the players. They're not scattered to the four winds like they were during the season. Part of the reason Marvin stepped out was because a significant number of player reps had been told the reason we didn't have a settlement was Marvin. "If the players on the negotiating committee want to consult with him, he's available. He has no further plans to attend any of the negotiations." Fehr discounted a newspaper report that the strike would be settled in time to allow the All-Star Game scheduled for July 14 in Cleveland to be played. Under the existing agreement, if the game is not held due to a player action, owners need not make a payment of about $2 million to the players' pension fund. "The players lose $4 million a week in salary," said Fehr. "The All-Star Game contribution is under $2 million. If that was crucial, we wouldn't have struck in the first place. Whether the owners make a payment to the pension fund, that's not going to resolve anything." The 650 major-league players began their strike June 12 over the unresolved issue of compensation for free agents who sign with new teams. Forty games already have been canceled by the strike, the third in major league history but the first to begin after the start of the season. A source in the negotiations refused to predict how long the strike will last, but the 26 club owners appear to be in better shape than the players if the walkout lasts more than several days. Whereas the owners have $50 million in strike insurance, which begins June 24, and another $10 to $15 million in emergency strike funds, the players' union is paying no benefits to its members. Fehr said the players stand to lose considerable sums. "We don't pay any benefits to the players," the attorney said. "We couldn't possibly do it. Even if we tried to fund it 25 percent, that would be $1 million a week. The players know that the strike was coming, and they have taken that into consideration and have been husbanding their funds." While both sides agree on some level of compensation, the players feel compensation for a quality free agent should not come from a club's 25-man, regular-season roster. The players have proposed that a team signing a free agent place its 37th, 38th, 39th and 40th best players in a "pool." Then, the team losing the free agent could select a player from that compensation pool. Owners want teams losing free agents to be compensated with the signing club's 16th or 19th best player. The owners also want to require compensation for about 50 percent of the total number of free agents in a given year. The players say only the top 3 percent — statistical leaders in performance categories — should require a signing team to make compensation.

Two Junior League Games Close Sanford Regular Season

The regular season in the Sanford Youth Baseball Association program comes to a close today with a pair of games in the Sanford Junior League. With the regular season ending, no time will be wasted in beginning post-season competition. First Federal, winner of the Sanford Little National League, and Atlantic Bank, champ in the Sanford Little American League, meet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at Fort Mellon Park in the first game of a best of three series for the city championship. First Federal, 16-2, is coached by Sid Griffin, while Edward Korgan Jr. is the coach of Atlantic Bank, which brings a 15-3 record into the tournament. The second game is scheduled for Wednesday night and the third game, if needed, will be played Friday night. In today's action in the Sanford Junior League, Masters Cove Apartments plays Kiwanis at 5 p.m. at Chase Park, while Rotary and Moose meet at 7 p.m.

West Virginia Jams Americans

Orlando Americans' quarterback Jerry Golsteyn jammed his thumb and West Virginia jammed up the Americans' offense to produce a 31-13 American Football Association victory Saturday night at Charleston before 5000 fans. The Rockets improved to 3-0 in the league, while Orlando dropped to 1-2. Shreveport invades the Tangerine Bowl Saturday night. Golsteyn produced the first score of the contest when he hit tight end Ron Enclave with a 7-yard touchdown toss. West Virginia, though, struck back with an 85-yard kick return and a 6-yard interception return to take a 22-7 halftime bulge. The interception came on the last play of the half. Mark Hutsell took over the controls for the injured Golsteyn, but could not generate much of a second-half attack. The lone score came on a 9-yard pass to Kenny Payne. The Rockets haven't lost at home in 15 years dating back to their Continental football days. "They say it's awful hard to win on the road in this league," said Golsteyn last week. Saturday night proved no different.

Stetson Inks SCC's McCullough

DELAND — Bob McCullough, a shortstop out of Seminole Community College has become one of the newest members of the Stetson University's baseball team, Pete Dunn, head baseball coach announced. During the 1981 season, McCullough had a batting average of .324 with 22 RBI's. He was also awarded the Seminole team leader award, and he was a player for the All-Division II team. "We're extremely happy to have Bob with us," said Dunn. "He was a tremendous player at Seminole and will add strength to our team both offensively and defensively. He has very 'sure' hands and arm and makes consistent contact at the plate," Dunn added. The 20 year-old player is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E.R. McCullough of Cambridge, Ontario, Canada. McCullough is the second player to sign with Stetson during the current recruiting season. Previously announced was Dan Hayes, a Winter Park first baseman. The Hatters had a record 36-20 season this year.

Knights of Columbus runner Theron Liggons slides safely into second base on a steal attempt as Kiwanis second baseman Brian Debose struggles to handle the low throw.

Mayors Say Baseball Strike Bothers Economy In Metropolitan Areas

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — Mayors say the baseball players' strike is having a negative economic impact on metropolitan areas with ball clubs, but the mayor of Seattle says maybe the break will do some good for the Mariners — struggling in sixth place in their league. Mayor Charles Royer at the annual U.S. Conference of Mayors meeting Sunday said the strike "could help the Mariners" — sixth in the American League West Division when the strike halted play Friday.

HOROSCOPE

By BERNICE BEDE OSOL

For Tuesday, June 16, 1981

YOUR BIRTHDAY
June 16, 1981
Bonds will be greatly strengthened this year with someone extremely important to you. Before your next birthday, the two of you will be functioning as one.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
Your powers of persuasion are exceptionally good today and you should be very adroit at turning companions around to your way of thinking. Romance, travel, luck, resources, possible pitfalls and career for the coming months are all discussed in your Astro-Graph which begins with your birthday. Mail $1 for each to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)
This is a good day to attend to a serious matter which you have been side-stepping. Get down to brass tacks. Finish it once and for all.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
You have fine organizational abilities today, but you must be careful not to be heavy-handed in executing matters. Use a light touch.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
This could be a very profitable day, provided you are materially motivated. If your desire is to accumulate, you could do so from two sources.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23)
Your possibilities for advancing your self-interests are a bit better than usual today. Without being unduly selfish, push for what's im-

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)
Take a hard look at your finances and material affairs today. You might be able to find better ways to put everything in balance.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21)
Don't judge someone in advance today based upon the comments of others. These persons may be difficult for certain pals to get along with, but not you.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
You're likely to function better today in a supporting role, rather than being the front guy. Taking bows isn't as important as accomplishing your purpose.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19)
Today you're apt to learn more from observing successful associates than you can learn from any book. Pay heed to one whose style you can imitate.

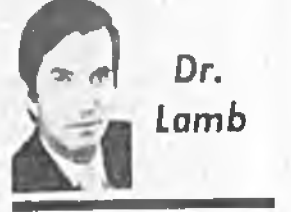

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20)
Assume a more active role today than you've been taking in things important to you and your mate. Be the one who sets the goals and timetable.

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
Allow yourself ample time before making important decisions today. Your judgment is very sound once you weight all the pros and cons.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
Tasks requiring considerable concentration are the ones you are likely to perform the best today. You should also be skillful at updating systems or methods.

Diabetes, Impotence Not Uncommon Duo

DEAR DR. LAMB — Can you give me some information about impotence in the diabetic? I have read your Health Letter on impotence and wondered if impotence is total and permanent. Can "real" impotence come on gradually and also go, or is that psychological?

Don't be discouraged. If it is physical, there are devices that can be used to aid you and your urologist should be familiar with these. They include implanting flexible rods, or inserting cylinders that can be inflated and deflated to induce an erection at will.

Sometimes obtain a partial erection but usually not sufficient to have intercourse. I am only 34 years old and have been on insulin for 10 years. I have been having this problem for eight years but it has become much worse the past four years. Is this problem very common in male diabetics? What help can I get, if any? My wife and I would go to a counselor if we knew what kind to go to. We feel desperate.

DEAR READER — Frequently when impotence is from diabetes the condition may be partial at first and then gradually get worse. That does not mean yours is psychological. In fact, often psychological impotence can be sudden — related to one episode of sexual failure and a panic reaction to the failure.

Of course a diabetic can have impotence from psychological factors just as a nondiabetic can. To sort out the difference it is important to have a good evaluation. Why don't you consult a urology specialist?

One technique in separating the psychological from the physical is to monitor the penis during sleep. Normally the male has an erection during sleep when the brain wave activity is in the REM stage. That may not mean much to you but this phase occurs about four times a night and just before waking. The penis is placed in an inflatable cuff and when the erection occurs the response is measured on a graph. If erections do not occur during this phase of sleep, it is most likely that the problem is physical.

Yes, diabetic males are frequently afflicted with impotence. According to my mail so are many others. Those who want more information on this problem can send for The Health Letter number 3-12, Impotence. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB — What determines when hot or cold compresses are applied — as heat to arthritis and cold to fractures?

DEAR READER — Cold applications are used in the first day or perhaps two after an acute injury. The idea is to slow the circulation and help to prevent swelling. You can even use cold over the jaw after a dental extraction.

Cold, such as ice applications or coolant sprays, is used over muscle spasms before stretching the muscles to relieve the spasm. This is something the doctor does in most instances if it is used.

Heat is used after the second day of an injury to speed up the circulation so it can pick up the excess fluid that has caused the swelling and to relax the muscles that may be moderately contracted. Relaxation of muscles in a sore joint from arthritis often helps to relieve pain.

that less than half the declarers managed to make the overtrick?"

Oswald: "Not at all. It is one of the oldest 'book' hands used by writers since the days of Work and Lenz. Unfortunately, most average players haven't read those old books and the play is too elementary for modern books."

Alan: "I didn't know it was a book hand. It just struck me as common sense play. South has 13 club tricks and his only chance for 13 is either to sneak through a heart, which won't happen, or to set up the queen of clubs for a heart discard."

Oswald: "He needs to find the king of clubs guarded only twice and to find three entries to dummy. Two to set up the club queen and one more to get back to cash it. He draws trumps, discarding two hearts from dummy. Then ace of diamonds, jack of diamonds overtaken by dummy's queen, club ruff, nine of diamonds to dummy's king, club ruff and the king falls. Finally, three of diamonds to dummy's four and the overtrick has been scored."

Alan: "All that was necessary was to retain the three of diamonds for the final entry to dummy."
