Sanford Faces Utility Cost Increase

Maryana L. Cress Horald Staff Writer

People who live in Sanford may soon be paying

5 percent more for their utilities. Utility Director Paul Moore said for the average bill the increase would probably amount to no more than one or two dollars per month. Moore told commissioners in a workshop Monday the utility rate increases are needed to pay for planned water and sewage improvements.

City Planner Jay Marter, who presented the city's new comprehensive plan to the commission, briefly covered some of the planned improvements.

The utility rate increases are expected to raise an additional $220,000 over the first year. One of the projects in the city's comprehensive plan that will receive some of these funds is the innovative vacuum system that the city will use to separate sanitary and storm sewer lines in the city.

The vacuum system consists of vacuum lines. roughly 200 vacuum valves close to the homes they will serve, and vacuum sewage pumps to connect to the nearest gravity sewage line, conducting the raw sewage to the treatment plant without having to build a new line.

A recently completed engineering report demonstrated the need for the rate increase to cover bonds for the improvements required by the state Department of Environmental Regulation. The consumption charges increasing from $1 to $1.05 per 1,000 gallons (5 percent increase) and sewage flow charges increasing form $1.65 to $1.74 per 1.000 gations (5.45 percent increase)

The customer charge base would also increase by about 5 percent. Customer charges are based on water meter size. For example, for a residential customer with a three-quarter inch meter, the water customer charge would increase from $1.50 per month to $1.58 per month (5.33 percent increase). Larger size meter charges would increase accordingly. The base sewer customer charge would increase from $2 per

Report: Doctors' Incomes Up Despite Malpractice Crunch

Area Doctors Make Less, Pay More

A Sanford surgeon today disagreed with a report saying Florida doctors' incomes are up and they are passing along increased medical malpractice insurance to their patients.

The report, released Monday, said Florida doctors earned $11,500 more than the national average for physicians last year, the country despite increases in maipractice insurance premlums that drained profits. A spokesman for the Florida Barwould not comment on the income report and its possible reflection on the malpractice

Sanford's Dr. Kenneth Wing said higher incomes and passed-along costs isn't the case in Sanford, a more rural area, parently considerably less than what the report indicates. Wing said he doesn't know the validity of the report, because he is not familiar with the source or how the survey was made. The average pretax profit for Florida physicians in 1986 was $124,290, according to a recent survey in the national business magazine Medical Economics. Doctors are the highest paid changed," said Jerry Butterfield, spokesman for the Bar.

Butterfield said lawyers make significantly less income than doctors.

Key committees in both the House and Senate were scheduled to meet early today, but after that nothing is certain. Senate leaders held out some hope of passing a bill repealing the unpopular tax first through the Finance. Taxation and Claims Committee, then through the full Senate.

But on the House side, final action of any sort seemed unlikely. And no one, not legislators nor Gov. Bob Martinez, believed the tax problem would be settled before the special session ends at noon on Wednesday.

"I don't believe the future of Florida is going to be decided in 48 hours - and that's good," said House Speaker Jon Mills.

"I don't know what the best bet is," said Senate President, John Vogt, D-Cocoa Beach. "I would say the one-cent sales Vogt said, however, that while the sale tax in a possibility, he thought the public, once relieved of the service tax would be provoked by an increase in the sales tax from 5 to 6 percent. He said "a large segment of the business community is watching us nervously," fearing a hike in the corporate-income tax or gross-receipts tax.

"If you think the public is going to be thrilled when you raise the sales tax a penny to replace the service tax, you'd better think again, Vogt said.

The service tax was adopted at the urging of Martinez in April and took effect July 1. It extends the 5 percent sales tax on goods to an array of consumer services - money state leaders say is critical to Florida's future.

But recent polls indicate about 80 percent of the public opposes the tax. Now Martinez is demanding repeal, and says he will

The two-year sentence of Herman Renard Thomas, 25, of 1110 W. Ninth St. was upheld by the 5th District Court of Appeal in Daytona Beach. The opinion was released via mail Thursday.

Although court records show Thomas entered a plea in the case, at issue was whether the case should have been tossed out before Thomas was put in the position of having to enter a plea or go to trial. Thomas, an indigent, also appealed being ordered to pay the cost of his legal representation in the case.

Around 6:17 p.m., on April 10, 1986, undercover officers saw two men in a field behind Goldsboro Elementary School in Sanford. It was an area known to the officers and the site of drug

The man sitting on the passenger side, who also owned the vehicle, apparently saw the officers and quickly got out of the car. As he was walking away he was arrested. The other officer looked in the vehicle and saw drug paraphernalia. Thomyas, sitting on the driver side. stayed there until he was ordered out of the vehicle. He then was arrested.

Officers searched the vehicle and found tiny amounts of cocaine on some material on the transmission hump between the two front seats. They also found two small envelopes containing less than 20 grams of marijuana.

Thomas maintained he did not know there was cocaine in the vehicle. He said he had been walking through the field when he saw the car, with both front doors open. The driver turned out to be an old friend of his he hadn't seen in a long time. Thomas said. His friend asked him for a match and Thomas sat argued that both men in the car had equal access to the cocaine. Thus, the case by law should not go to a jury because it had not been established beyond a reasonable doubt that it could have been his cocaine. The state argued that the cocaine was initially resting between Thomas' thighs and since it was not knocked off the seat when he got out - as normally it would be he therefore had to move it to the center area to keep from knocking it off. Thus, the moving of the cocaine constituted possession and he could be guilty within reasonable doubt and the case should go to a jury.

Heed The Moral In The Message

Leave it to Bill Bennett to upset the educational establishment. During the last 30 months, the outspoken U.S. education secretary has chided teachers, administrators, grade schools, high schools, colleges, universities and teacher-training programs for their manifold shortcomings. But his favorite target still is the National Education Association, which he clobbered again the other day in a timely speech at the National Press Club.

Bennett challenged the seven Democratic presidential candidates to declare their independence from the 1.8-million member teachers' union by supporting such educational reforms as merit pay and teacher testing. He said each candidate should be asked: "On which issues will you stand with the NEA, and on which will you stand with the American people?" A fair question, given the nation's largest teacher's union also is the largest obstacle to educational reform.

The NEA opposes paying exceptional teachers salary premiums, insisting that a salary differential would be abused by arbitrary administrators and school boards. In truth, the union is terrified that merit pay would erode its authority to negotiate lock-step salary increases for the good, the bad and the apathetic. Such authority is essential, of course, for the union to justify its existence to the membership.

Although the NEA endorsed teacher-competency tests two years ago, it did so gingerly after the rival American Federation of Teachers embraced the reform. Even so, NEA President Mary Hatwood Futrell complains the tests are unfair because a disproportionate percentage of minority teachers fail them. Never mind that all children particularly minority children need to be protected against inferior teachers of all colors. Futrell would toss out minimum-competency tests.

Bennett also reminded his audience that the NEA is out of step with most of its members. Public-opinion surveys show that most teachers favor merit pay, competency tests and reforms that would make it easier to get rid of incompetent classroom instructors. Actually, exit polls disclosed that many union dissidents cast their ballots for Ronald Reagan in 1980 and 1984, despite the millions of dollars in union dues the NEA spent to defeat him.

There is a moral to Bennett's message. But we doubt that the seven Democratic dwarfs will heed it because they're too busy lusting after the NEA's endorsement and the lucre to be gained therefrom.

One Nation, Divisible By Bork; So It Goes

If I were Jimmy the Greek, instead of Chuck the American, I'd lay 3-to-2 odds that Robert H. Bork will be confirmed as Supreme Court Justice. And I predict this as surely as Carl Lewis was predicted to win the long jump in the recent World Championships of Track and

The wager doesn't surrender to wishful thinking, however, as much as it genuficets to political reality. And right now, political reality is epitomized by a national mood of serious unconcern about the next appointee to Reagan's Supreme Court.

The unresolved Iran-Contra hearings left everybody twisting in the wind. And Americans aren't about to get worked up over some nappy-haired, judicial scholar whose straggly gray beard is a Dutch uncle counterpoint to a Der Fuehrer-like arrogance.

In the waning weeks of summer, they've already mothballed that clean-cut, closed-shaved, Marine-uniformed kid-next-door. And an Ollie North hero, Robert Bork ain't. Even the propaganda battleground is different.

Last time, it was us against international communism. This time, the war of words has been pre-empted by right-wing zealots allied with treadmilled conservatives vs. a coalition of blacks, women, liberals and union leaders, who have been on the losing end of two consecutive presidential elections.

Yet 62 percent of the American people have no opinion on Bork. So no matter what the Senate decides, the nation won't be shattered.

if Bork is confirmed, the right wing, which has been rocking the national boat in an effort to convince everybody that there's a storm at sea, will be relieved. And the opposing coalition will hunker down and prepare for Armageddon.

If you watched Bork on television, you didn't change your mind. If you were for him, you're still for him: If you were against him, you're still convinced that it's a dangerous nomination. And nothing I write in this column will make a dent in the armor of your predetermination.

That Bork has written positions upholding a restaurant owner's right to refuse service to blacks, homeowners' restrictive covenants to keep neighborhoods lily white, and states' rights to legalize poll taxes doesn't make the slightest ripple in the sea of the average American's serenlty.

During the hearings. Bork had two explanations. "You can search my writings beginning to end," this pudgy little bigot snapped at Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, one of the best friends black Americans ever had, "and you'll never find a mark of racial or ethnic hostility."

True, indeed. Many of the slave owners loved their slaves so much, they even went to bed with them. You can't get any more affectionate than that.

in the past, Bork has supported the "separate but equal" doctrine, a doctrine that was used to justify a host of injustices. When Bork is challenged about his earlier affinity for the "separate but equal" doctrine, he shrugs it off as "my libertarian phase."

I call it the "Waldheim shift." Kurt Waldheim acknowledges he may have had some tangential tippy-toe contact with the Nazis, but that was his "youthful phase." Even Pope John Paul II forgave him.

WILLIAM RUSHER

Much Stained Court

The battle in the Senate over President Reagan's nomination of Judge Robert Bork for a seat on the Supreme Court is simply the latest in a series of blows that has recently damaged, perhaps irreparably, the prestige of that august institution.

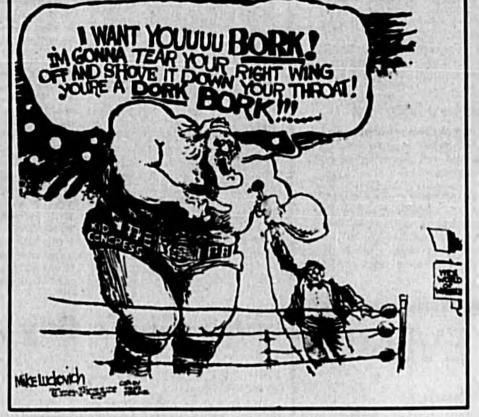

Americans are taught, from an early age, to look up to the Supreme Court as a collection of unassailably upright, scrupulously unbiased individuals. Poils indicate that Congress, collectively speaking, is held in strikingly low regard by the American people; and recently, thanks to Watergate, Jimmy Carter's various failings, and the Iran/contra affair, the presidency has also lost much of its high polish. But the Supreme Court has — until now — been held aloof from political controversy, and has therefore been spared the bruises and contusions inseparable from it.

Now, however, the court's most outspokenly liberal members have cast caution aside and waded into the political arena with their arms flailing. Recently Justice William Brehnan' took public tissue with Attorney General Edwin Meese on the hot question of "original intent" as a means of interpreting the Constitution. More recently, Justice Thurgood Marshall used a radio interview as a platform from which to denounce President Reagan's civil rights record.

Finally, when President Reagan nominated for the Supreme Court one of the ablest and most brilliant individuals in the entire federal judiciary, American liberals prepared for a battle to the death. Bork has been denounced as a fanatical right-winger far from the "mainstream" of American legal thought, although when he was confirmed several years ago for his present seat on the U.S. Court of Appeals, Sen. Joseph Biden (now one of his bitterest foes) praised him to the skies and pledged his support if Bork was ever nominated to the Supreme Court. That pledge, apparently, is now inoperative.

What has produced this remarkable change in liberal behavior on and toward the Supreme Court?

Perhaps the court was never quite so spotless as the American people imagined, but neither has filling a vacancy on it ever turned into quite such a barnyard brouhaha. Voters are not likely to forget — or forgive — those responsible for that ugly performance. That is why, even if the liberals manage to stop Bork, they may very well be the real losers in the long run. They will have only their own desperation to blame.

ROBERT WALTERS

We, The Promoters

WASHINGTON (NEA) — "Y'know, Ben, if we wanted to be remembered as truly farsighted Founding Fathers, it's not enough to just put together a Constitution with all those articles and clauses," explained Alexander Hamilton.

"We'll also have to plan for the 200th anniversary of our document — and I'm convinced commercial sponsorship is the key to success of the bicentennial."

"I fully agree, Al," replied Benjamin Franklin, "In fact, I was thinking the other day that Nabisco would make a prime corporate underwriter. They could produce Dinah Shore and O.J. Simpson and Don Meredith — all members of Team Nabisco."

"You're right, Ben, but don't stop there," added James Madison. "We could get McDonald's to print 16 million promotional tray liners and General Foods to put constitutional vignettes on 100 million cereal boxes."

"Great idea, Jim," responded George Washington, "but let's not forget licensing arrangements. There's big bucks to be made in marketing coffee mugs. T-shirts. Frisbees and other stuff with the official bicentennial logo."

What's going on here? Would the framers of the Constitution have had anything to do with a 200th anniversary celebration dominated by such commercial tie-ins and promotions?

The answer to that question almost certainly is negative — but that hasn't deterred Warren Burger, former chief justice, from shamelessly gathering bicentennial endorsements and financial backing from brokerage houses, banks, oil companies and other corporations.

Burger, who heads the federal government's official bicentennial commission, claims he wants to popularize the work of those who crafted the Constitution — but he has cheapened their legacy with gimmickry such as his now-infamous promotional trip last year to Disney World.

A recent press release from Burger's commission begins, "What do Linda Evans and Magic Johnson have in common?"

For those who can't divine a connection between the actress and the basketball star, the commission offers a clue: "Think of freedom and justice for all."

Huh?

That's typical of the mindless blather being produced by a commission that has received more than $25 million in federal funds during its first two years.

The commission's superficial programs might be tolerable if they were matched by substantive attempts to encourage the public to thoroughly appreciate the Constitution and fully exercise the rights it guarantees.

But they're not. The current issue of the ABA Journal, the American Bar Association's magazine, notes that Burger's commission has numerous marketing, licensing and fund-raising specialists on its bloated staff of 125 — but not a single historiam.

Tracking PLO In America

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Why did the State Department order the closing of the Palestine Liberation Organization's information office in Washington?

State Department insiders say the move, which was announced Sept. 15, was made to head off even harsher restrictions proposed in Congress by two leading presidential hopefuls.

Under legislation sponsored by Sen. Robert Dole, R-Kan., and Rep. Jack Kemp, R-N.Y., the PLO would be declared a terrorist organization its offices in this country would be closed, and travel by PLO members would be restricted while in the United States.

Moreover, the pending legislation would probably require the expulsion of the PLO observer mission to the United Nations. The State Department believes that would be a disaster for U.S. relations with the Arab world.

It is not coincidental that the sponsors of the anti-PLO measure are both GOP presidential hopefuls. The closing of PLO offices has been a major goal of pro-Israel groups here, and both Dole and Kemp are actively courting Jewish votes and funds.

Both candidates deny the legislation is politically motivated. They say there is overwhelming evidence that the PLO is using its information offices in this country to further terrorist aims.

Not directly cited, but reportedly a factor in the legislation, is a still-secret FBI report on U.S. activities of the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine (PFLP). It's a Marxist faction of the PLO with a long history of terrorist attacks in the Middle East and Europe.

Formed in 1967, the PFLP is among about two dozen factions represented in the Palestine Liberation Organization's parliament. It has been blamed for numerous bombings, shootings and airline hijackings, including the one that ended with the Israeli rescue at Entebbe in 1976.

The report represents the culmination of a three-year FBI investigation into the PFLP activities here. It concludes the organization is attempting to cultivate "broad-based grass-roots support" in the Arab-American community and among left-wing organizations in the United States.

Urban Construction Funds Wasted

By Jack Anderson And Joseph Spear

WASHINGTON — Those congressmen with an ingrained non-chalance about deficits are shaking the money tree again on Capitol Hill. They want to spend $16 billion to house or indirectly help the poor and roll the money over into the indefinite future.

The poor deserve a roof over their heads, but the real beneficiaries of the housing legislation will be the bureaucrats who run the program and the real estate developers who will build the housing projects.

The bill will subsidize developers and syndicators who are eager to construct more apartment complexes. Judging from past experience, these projects will be located where the housing authorities and construction people decide to build—not where the poor want to live.

The figures alone suggest there is no need for new housing in some cities the first place; surveys show that a number of localities have more rental vacancies than have been available for 20 years. The poor should have no trouble finding apartments; their problem is that they can't afford the rent.

President Reagan, therefore, wants to issue housing vouchers to help the poor pay for the rental units of their choice. This would cost the taxpayers only half as much as new construction — which means the government could aid twice as many poor people for the same money. It also makes more sense to fill the vacant apartments before government funds are spent to build new ones.

The U.S. Taxpayers Commission, meanwhile, has found waste galore in government-subsidized housing. For each dollar that was spent in a recent four-year period, the hard-up tenants got only 34 cents in benefits. In contrast, the poor who received housing vouchers in a demonstration program got 84 cents of every dollar.

Here is how some housing money appropriated in recent years has been and will be spent:

— Atlantic City has more rental vacancies than the national average. Yet the city collected $7.1 million to construct new apariments, presumably for the poor. Instead, the money was sunk into a luxury housing complex, with a creamy-white 14-story center. Two-bedroom apartments will cost as much as $800 a month.

Minneapolis will receive $5.5 million to build a Hilton Hotel, with 800 rooms.

— A $3.3 million grant went to South Haven, Mich., for a marina, boat yard, restaurant, 16 cund o m i n i u m s a n d 2 0 0 "dockominiums" at the mouth of the Black River.

 A generous $9.3 million was allocated to Wilmington, Del., for a new office tower for the Chase Manhattan Bank.

 Another $3.4 million was earmarked for St. Petersburg, Fla., to renovate a 337-room Hilton Hotel, complete with a swimming pool and tennis courts. — In Puerto Rico, San Juan was granted $2.5 million to transform an old hotel into a 190-room, art deco-period hotel with a night club, restaurants, banquet hall, conference rooms and parking spaces.

Erie, Pa., will receive $4 million to help build a 175-room hotel, with a 250-slip marina. Another $1.5 million will go to Charleroi, Pa., to renovate a melting furnace for Corning Glass. And in Lawton, Pa., $170,000 will be set aside to help build a Dunkin Donuts facility.

New York City is collecting $6 million for a complex to be called the Renaissance Center, which will include a Hilton Hotel.

Footnote: Jack Anderson is cochairman, with J. Peter Grace, of the U.S. Taxpayers Commission. It has the bipartisan backing of both liberals and conservatives, who want to stop unnecessary government spending. Its purpose is to keep the facts and arguments about government waste reverberating in the public dialogue.

Attorney Harold Tyler Jr., the review panel chairman, claborated on its split vote late Monday night, confirming for the Senate Judiciary Committee that 10 of the 15 members of the review panel concluded Bork is "well qualified" to sit on the high court by virtue of his "high intellect" and his broad legal and governmental experience. However, four ABA reviewers found Bork "not qualified" and one chose to voice his opinion as "not opposed."

Iran's Head To Plea To U.N.; Mines Found On Iranian Ship

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) - Iranian President Ali Khamenei, addressing the U.N. General Assembly today. faced a challenge from President Reagan to unequivocally accept an immediate cease-fire in Iran's war with Iraq or risk a U.S.-backed international arms embargo.

But diplomatic sources said Khamenei, the first head of the revolutionary Iranian government to come to New York since Shah Reza Pahlavi was deposed in 1979, would explain why his country cannot accept an immediate cease-fire and plead that Iran is the innocent victim of premeditated fraqi aggression.

Khamenei's address takes on added importance after the Pentagon's statement today that an American military team boarded an Iranian vessel attacked by a U.S. helicopter gunship Monday in the Persian Gulf and found four dead crew members and 10 mines aboard.

MOSCOW (UPI) - New York Gov. Mario Cuomo met with dissident Andrei Sakharov on the second day of his visit to the Soviet Union and gave a government official a list of refuseniks, requesting they be granted exit visas.

Cuomo, who arrived in Moscow Sunday for a weeklong visit that will also take him to Leningrad, had a busy day of meetings Monday with government officials and disaldents.

The Democratic governor gave Vitaly Vorotnikov, a Soviet Politburo member and chairman of the Russian Republic's Council of Ministers, a list of 72 Jewish and Christian refuseniks. Soviet citizens denied permission to emigrate, and a request they be granted exit visas.

A list of goals and community involvement submitted by the student also will be taken into consideration by scholarship judges.

He then ran that room, the best comment Monday before the 23-member out the back door of the coffee grand jury asked her to return house and circuited back to the this morning for a second day of testimony. She said she told the truth and the testimony left her exhausted.

"I'm just really drained." Hahn said. "I'm really tired. I'm being as truthful as I can. It's all the truth, that's all."

Hahn arrived Monday at the U.S. District Court in Charlotte at exactly 9 a.m. and had to push her way through a horde of 50 reporters to enter the room in which the grand jury waited. She dressed modestly in a white silk blouse, blue suit, matching shoes and a string of pearls.

Hahn was the first witness called by the grand jury and during her testimony a second figure in the scandal arrived businessman who acted as

The federal grand jury is investigating allegations the PTL raised money for one purpose and spent it for another including the possibility ministry monies were paid to Hahn to hush up her affair with Bakker.

Belli, 80, also accused members of the grand jury of being "voyeurs" interested only in finding out what happened between Hahn and Bakker when they met in a Clearwater hotel room in 1980.

Bellt said Hahn's decision to pose topless for Playboy magazine discredited her and "shows she is not as innocent as she claims.

But Hahn said the pictures go well with her story in the upcoming issue of Playboy.

Zoning Meeting Cancelled; Board In Some Lazy Days

By Richard Whittaker Herald Staff Writer

The Lake Mary Planning and Zoning Board has announced that it is cancelling its regular meeting scheduled for 7 p.m. tonight in the Lake Mary City Hall because the only item they were to consider was taken off the agenda.

The board was scheduled to look at a request to change the zoning of property owned by Peter Volchko from A-1 agricultural, R-1AA residential and a preliminary subdivision. The Volchko property is located at 369 Pine Tree Road.

Board Chairman Jim Talmadge said things are alow for the board right now, which won't have another regular meeting until Oct. 13, at 7 p.m. "We haven't had enough items to make up a complete agenda for a whole month," he said. The board did not meet during the entire month of September. Talmaidge said that was a record in his three years on the panel. "The whole time I've been involved with the board we've never gone this long without a meeting." he said.

Talmadge said there are many things that have been acted on by the board which have not been done yet. "A number of requests for buildings have come through us and they still haven't come out of the ground," he said. Talmadge suggested some of those projects still may be tied up in technical review or waiting for another agency to approve them, such as the St. Johns Water Management District.

One of the reasons Talmadge gave for the inactivity of the Board was that other developers may see what they think is an inordinate amount of time in getting a project approved and started in Lake Mary. Because of this, he said, those developers may be deciding to wait a while before approaching the board with their plans.

The board consists of Talmadge, Connie Austin, Penny Gunn, Clay Simmons and Al Wickham. The positions are non-paid and last for a period of three years. The terms of each board member are staggered, beginning and ending in

This November, Gunn and Simmins are ending their current terms. "I hope they're both reappointed," Talmadge said.

The most important challenge the board faces in the future, according to Talmadge, is continuing to enforce the city's Land Development Code. "We've been under a lot of pressure by developers to relax it," he said. "I think the LDC is a good one, and I'm proud of the kind of things being built in the city right now," he said.

Lundquist Par Gets Test With Elite Amateurs

Sanford's Bobby Lundquist, an assistant principal at Seminole High School, competed in the Mid-Florida Amateur golf tournament qualifier at Plantation Bay near Daytona Beach Sept. 12 and took second place in the tourney with a par 72.

By finishing second, Lundquist, a standout baseball, basketball and football player during his prep days at Seminole, advances to the State Mid-Florida Amateur Championships at Interlachen Country Club in Winter Park this Thursday through Sunday. Lundquist will tee off Thursday at 10 a.m.

"The first two days are medal play, which is 100 golfers,"the 37-year-old Lundquist said. "After 32 holes of medal play. they take the 16 low golfers. Those people go into match play on Saturday. I probably need a score of 147 or 148 or better. Par is 144. Three to four over par should do it.

'Looking at the people who are playing in it (three past amateur state champions), it's going to take some pretty good shooting.

Longwood's David Smith, Stuart area amateur Tom Knapp, Winter Park's Dave Boesel and Tampa's Bob Kowe are all top amateurs in the state.

Lundquist, who has been one of the top amateur golfers in Central Florida for the past 15 years, is considered a good match play performer, something he hopes he has an opportunity to prove.

If I get in the round of 16, I'd have a shot at it." Lundquist said. "I just have to keep away from having a bad hole or two. I'm hitting the ball real good. The greens are excellent. There is no excuse for not making a good score. Interlachen is in great shape. It's a course you have to think your way around. Boesel should have an advantage, though, it's his home course."

The Mid-Florida Amateur was open to golfers age 25 and older.

MAYFAIR WOMEN - Donna Dondaville played a sensational nine holes this past Wednesday in the Mayfair Women's Golf Association weekly tourney at Mayfair Country Club. In a Va-handicap, points format (eagle

8 points, birdie-4, par-1. bogey-minus 1, double bogeyminus 2). Dondaville crushed the rest of the field with 27 Second place went to Verne

SCRAMBLING - The Oldsmobile Scramble National Championship, already boasting golf's largest entry and total prize fund, has signed up more than 90,000 players this year according to the PGA of America. The finals of the fourth-annual tournament will be held Oct. 9-12 at Walt Disney World for 122 teams, each composed of a PGA professional and for amateurs.

"This compares with last year's record entry of 64,000," said PGA President James Ray Carpenter. "With $4 from each $20 local entry fee being turned over to one of our PGA Section projects, this championship is of special significance to our members.

A PGA Tour professional will Join each of the 24 teams which qualify for the final round Monday, Oct. 12, when the nonqualifiers compete in a consolation $1,000 a hole putting championship.

Under the scramble or "Captain's Choice" format, all players tee off, but only one ball is chosen from where each team members hits his second shot. This procedure is followed until the hole is completed. A player's shot may not be selected twice in succession.

Chris Gastineau Vows To Cross Picket Line

United Press International

Mark Gastineau has found a different way to stand out among NFL players.

The New York Jets defensive end. whose post-sack dances triggered an NFL rule barring excessive celebration three years ago. Monday night declared he would cross the picket line and play during the strike by the NFL Players Association.

The NFL players began a strike at 12:29 EDT, after the players' union and management failed to produce a new collective bargaining agreement.

Gastineau, in his ninth season, is coming off the worst year of his career. He suffered several injuries in 1986, the most serious being damage to knee cartilage that required surgery. He finished with just two sacks after having 19, 22 and 13 4 the previous three

"There will be other players (to cross the picket line) too." he said. "(Jets owner) Leon Hess has been good to me. I feel like playing ball. I'm getting back from this injury and I would hate to Gastineau was the lone Jet not to take part in a pre-game solidarity handshake.

Also passing up the ritual were Patriots Tony Collins, Brent Williams and Sean

Gastineau's disclosure came the same day NFLPA President Marvin Powell vowed league owners will face "an NFL player monolith."

The owners are trying to test us. trying to find out how strong we are." Powell said. "They'll see an NPL player

While Powell talked of a spirit of togetherness, New Orleans starting nose tackle Tony Elliott tried to decide whether to honor a picket line.

"There is a very good possibility I may not strike," said Elliot following Sun-day's game. "I know that won't sit well with my colleagues, but when I wake up in the morning, I got to look at myself. I have obligations to my teammates, but I also have obligations to my family, too. I know other people have families, but my family is my responsibility. Whatever decision I make will affect them, and I want to make sure I can afford to do what I do. It may get ugly."

Caught in the middle of this web of conflicting interests were the NFL's 28 coaches, who must prepare for Sunday's opponents with the knowledge they may soon be coaching substitute players.

"It isn't going to affect me," said Giants Coach Bill Parcells, whose Super Bowl champions are 0-2. "Coaches do what they are going to do. They get ready for games and they play them."

Tampa Bay Coach Ray Perkins said he expected free-agent substitutes to start filtering in Tuesday. Perkins' disillusionment over the 1982 strike influenced his decision to leave the Giants for a coaching job at the University of Alabama. Like Parcells, his replacement at New York. Perkins is prepared to conduct business as usual.

"I don't like the thought of the whole deal." Perkins said, "but circumstances are beyond my control. I'm the coach and I'm gonna coach the players. I just

NFL clubs were busy Monday trying to accumulate enough substitute players to fill out a roster. Various teams reported they were well on their way to getting a full roster ready for practice as early as

Wednesday. The Chicago Bears reported 21 new players signed, the Houston Ollers 60, the Los Angeles Raiders reportedly also had signed 60 and the Washington Redskins management said it has received verbal commitments from 40 players.

But some players had tough warnings for prospective those who plan to cross picket lines.

"They're dead men." said Buffalo Bills nose tackle Fred Smerlas, 6-3, 280 pounds. "Just look at it this way: if the truckers went on strike and they had scabs come in, how many new lily pads would there be in Lake Erie?"

In Knoxville, Tenn., former Tennesece linebacker Dale Jones said he has been contacted by 10 to 15 clubs to substitute in the event of a walkout.

'If they don't want to play, I'll play." said Jones, a 10th-round pick by the Cowboys this spring. "I couldn't care less about crossing the picket line or what the union thinks about it. It would be different if I was taking away the job of somebody who was trying to make enough money to feed their family, but

Hayden's Spike Sparks Howell

By Chris Pister Rerald Sports Writer

With one rousing spike at a critical moment, Susan Hayden may have come of age on the volleyball court Monday night. And it could not have come at a better moment for the Lake Howell High team.

Hayden's big kill kept Apopka from winning game two Monday and the Lady Silver Hawks went on to claim a 15-11, 17-15 victory in non-conference action at Lake Howell High.

Lake Howell coach Jo Luciano is hoping for more fireworks from the senior co-captain tonight as the Lady Hawks need something to neutralize another Hayden - DeLand powerhouse

"She (Susan Hayden) really put one down at a critical moment for us," Luciano said. "It's got to be a good feeling for her and I hope she will continue to come through for us at crucial moments."

Lake Howell, 4-3 overall, travels to DeLand tonight at 7 (junior varsity at 6) and the winner will take over sole possession of first place in the Seminole Athletic Conference. DeLand, 4-0 overall, is 3-0 in the league while Lake Howell is 2-0.

"I've heard from a few people that she (C.C. Hayden) has been dominating so far this year," Luciano said. "We have to play strong on offense and can't give DeLand too many free balls."

In other SAC games tonight. Seminole (1-3, 1-3) is at Oviedo (2-1, 1-1) and Lake Brantley (3-3, 1-2) hosts Lyman (0-4, 0-3). Lake Mary (2-3, 2-1) is idle.

Lake Howell used the strong serving of Carey Manuel to build a big lead in game one Monday and held on for a 15-11 victory with Tammy Lewis serving the final point.

In game two, Apopka forged an 11-5 lead behind some good hitting and blocking, but Lake Howell tied it as Heather Brann and Hayden served three points each. Apopka went on to take a 14-11 lead and twice served for the game but Lake Howell stayed alive and tied it when Manuel served three points.

Apopka got a side out and took a 15-14 lead and had another chance to serve out the second game when Hayden got a nice set from Lewis and powered a big spike past the Apopka defense to give the Lady Hawks a side out. Brann then went on to serve out the match with Hayden's block accounting for the 16th point. Brann's final serve was not returned.

"The first game was mostly serving and free balls, but both teams picked it up on offense in the second game," Luciano said. "I felt we were moving a lot better and communicating which is very important in high school volleyball.

Lake Howell's junior varsity also came through with a close victory Monday as it downed the Apopka JV, 15-13, 15-11.

Tonight, five of the six county teams return to SAC play. Seminole travels to Oviedo while Lyman journeys to Lake Brantley. In one nonconference match, Lake Mary travels to Mount Dora.

Tim Raines said Monday's ruling by arbitrator Tom Roberts of collusion by owners may open some finanacial doors for him. Raines was not in the group of '85 free agents affected by the decision, but he experienced similar tack of interest by the owners in '86. Raines finally re-signed with Montreal.

Turner Moves To Lake Mary

Tracy Turner, one of the top wrestlers in the state for Seminole High the past three years, has moved into the Lake Mary High School zone with his father and is a student at Lake Mary High.

Seminole High Principal Wayne Epps said the Turners withdrew Tracy from Seminole on the first day of school. Lake Mary wrestling coach Doug Peters said Tracy enrolled at Lake

Mary the same day. Tracy is the brother of Troy Turner who won the Class 4A state 171-pound championship last year at Seminole. Troy

Troy, who said his parents have separated, said Tracy is living with father Carl at Sunlake Apartments, Just off Lake Emma Drive, which is in the Lake Mary zone.

Tracy, who didn't play football at Seminole last year after starring for his freshman and sophomore teams, came out for football two weeks ago. coach Harry Nelson said. - Sam Cook

Roberts Finds Owners Guilty Of Conspiracy

Roberts will meet with officials representing the union and owners in coming days to discuss possible remedies. The arbitrator will then issue a separate ruling on that issue.

players' union. "We will also ask him to fashion a remedy to ensure free agency provisions be lived up to."

Among possible solutions could be awarding players salaries they would have received in an open market. awarding punitive damages and declaring the players free agents.

Barry Rona, the chief labor spokesman for the owners, said the teams would comply with whatever remedy is decided

"With all due respect to the arbitrator, we disagree with his conclusion concerning club conduct in 1985," Rona said. We will, however, comply with the decision and are prepared to deal with the remedy portion of the case."

Many players reserved hailing the ruling as significant until Roberts determines remedies.

Raines Awaits 1986 Decision

By Sam Cook Herald Sports Editor

Tim Raines said although Monday's ruling on free agency does not affect him, he can't help but wonder if a similar decision on the 1986 free agents would open some financial doors for him.

Arbitrator Thomas Roberts found in favor of the Major League Baseball Players Association Monday, which claimed owners violated the collective bargaining agreement by not offering free agents contracts, thus forcing the players to re-sign with their teams for less money.

"I kind of figured it as true anyway," Raines said about Monday's decision. "It was just a matter of the arbitrator finding out. The only thing that needed to be proven was collusion.

"It will be interesting to see what they're going do about '85. Now that the decision has been made in our favor this year, I don't see how it will now is time to see what is going to be done."

Raines, who re-signed with the Expos when he did not receive any legitimate offers from other clube, is in the first year of a three-year contract calling for $5 million.

"I just have to think they will find collusion for '86, too,' Raines, a 28-year-old seven-time All-Star outfielder, said. "There were a better group of free agents last year, and none of them got good offers."

CAVALIER? - Floyd Youmans, whose off-the field activities have been a subject of much concern for the Expos. was driving Raines' leased Corvette when he was involved in an accident recently.

Raines said Youmans attempted to pass an accident scene when he lost control of the Corvette after sliding on some spilled anti-freeze. Youmans smashed into the guardrail. causing $24,000 damage to the $49,000 Corvette. He also had three teeth knocked out. "I' went from a 'Vette to a Cavaller," Raines said. "The players really get on me about it. too. I wear a hat and keep my shades on so no one can recognize me.'

Success (43-24), Failure (Strike) Trap Jets

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. (UPI) - The New York Jets were trapped today between team success and union-management fail-

When they walked off the Giants Stadium field at 12:29 a.m. EDT, the Jets had further removed doubt that last year's late-season collapse had lingered into 1987 by improving to 20. But as the Jets and Patriots headed for the locker room following New York's 43-24 triumph, a players' strike had started that overshadows the first two weeks of the season.

During halftime of Monday night's game. Players Assoiciation chief Gene Upshaw announced that the players were striking because no collective bargaining agreement had been reached with management.

For the Jets, the strike breaks the momentum they had generated following last year's 0-5 finish. During their 0-5 swoon. Ken O'Brien went from the NFL's top passer to one that threw 12 intercep-

O'Brien has rebounded over the first two games. Monday, he completed 19 of 26 passes for 313 yards. He hit 13 straight at one point, including all seven during a 21-point third period. In that quarter, he threw a 58-yard touchdown strike to Al Toon that gave New York a 13-3 lead.

After a defensive struggle in the first half, that score ignited the Jets.

"That big play turned the game around," said cornerback Raymond Clayborn. Johnny Hector, who gained 75 yards on 17 carries, rushed for touchdowns of 5 and 9 yards in the third quarter. The only touchdown the Patriots managed over the first three quarters was produced by their defense, a 29-yard fumble return by linebacker Andre Tippett.

Players Express Delight Over Arbitrator's Ruling

United Press International

Major-league players expressed delight over Monday's ruling that owners conspired to stifle the free-agent market, but were unsure whether the decision signaled a return to the owners' free-spending days of the late 1970s and early 1980s.

Arbitrator Thomas Roberts ruled that owners violated the collective bargaining agreement by deciding together not to sign free agents, forcing the players to re-sign with their old teams for less money. Hearings will be held to determine if the affected players are due damage awards.

"I don't think we'll ever see free agency like it once was," said Philadelphia third baseman Mike Schmidt, who is eligible to become a free agent at the end of the season. "I think the days of true free agency are over for good. Maybe (the owners have) learned how to live without it."

Detroit outfleider Kirk Gibson, who re-signed with the Tigers after the 1985 season when he received no other offers, said the impact of the ruling may be very slight.

"There is no free agency at this point," Gibson said, "and you can't force a club to sign, say, three free agents a year. You just can't do that. The solution is both sides have to get together." The grievance was filed Feb. 3, 1986 by the Major League Baseball Players Association on behalf of the 1985-88 class of free agents, which included Gibson, Carlton Fisk, Phil and Joe Niekro and Donnie Moore.

Detroit pitcher Jack Morris, who was snubbed in the free-agent market before this season, was less forgiving than most players. The collusion case involving Morris and the rest of the 1986-87 class of free agents is being heard by a different arbitrator.

"We knew it was wrong when it happened," Morris said. "They kept doing it. They're crooks. The arbitrator ruled. 'Yes, they are crooks.' But now what do we do with the crooks?

"We knew it (the ruling) was going to happen. If it happened to a major corporation, they would be penalized severely. And baseball is like a major corporation."

St. Louis Cardinals first baseman Jack Clark, eligible to become a free agent at the close of this season, believes the ruling will force owners to deal differently with players.

"They're going to have to treat us like human beings," Clark said. "We're not like cattle."

Philadelphia catcher Lance Parrish. who moved from the Tigers to the Phillies as a free agent last season, was not surprised by the decision.

"They (owners) knew what they were doing," he said. "From the very

Association would win this decision. It's a shame it had to come to this, but it was the only way the situation could Boston catcher Rich Gedman, who re-signed with the Red Sox in May after receiving no other significant offers, said. "I think it's great and it's what we've been saying all along. Winning the decision certainly benefits us. But until a remedy comes about. you really don't know how it will affect you. It's certainly a step in the right direction.

Fisk, a catcher with the White Sox, said the impact of the ruling depended on the remedies that are decided.

"(The arbitrator) may just say, 'You naughty owners, don't you ever do that again, or 'You owe those players two dollars apiece' like they did in the USFL trial," Fisk said. "Who knows what will happen?

"I think we all have to wait until the remedy question is answered. There are a lot of questions about the next

Bell's 15th GW-RBI Brings Blue Jays Full Share Of First

United Press International

George Bell brought the Toronto Blue Jays a full share of first place in the American League East by finally batting well against Mike Boddicker.

Bell snapped a 2 for 35 skid against Boddicker with three hits Monday night, including the game-winner, to give Toronto a 2-1 triumph over the Baltimore Orioles and a half-game lead over Detroit. The Tigers lost to Boston, 9-4.

Bell singled in Lloyd Moseby from third base with one out in the ninth inning and finished 3 for 4 against Boddicker.

"I got three hits off him but Boddicker is a great pitcher,' Bell said. "Give him credit. He is the only guy I have had a hard time hitting the ball."

Bell has 129 RBI this season. most in the major leagues, and 15 have decided games.

"I've had great success against Bell in the past," Boddicker said. "In the ninth linning, I felt more comfortable facing him than (Ernie) Whitt. I tried to get him to chase a breaking ball or walk him, but I didn't finish it off."

Dave Stieb, winless in 13 career starts in Memorial Stadium, returned to the starting rotation after being moved to the bullpen two weeks ago and allowed two hits over seven innings. John Cerutti escaped an eighth-inning jam to improve to 11-4 and Tom Henke finished for his 31st save. "Dave pitched a good game." Cerutti said. "He did his job, George did a good job, and I did my job, which happened to be to get one out."

At Boston, Mike Greenwell triggered a four-run second inning with his 18th homer, sparking the Red Sox. Al Nipper permitted eight hits over 7 2-3 innings to improve to 10-11. Nate Snell, 1-2, took the loss. Detroit set a club record of 211 home runs in a season.

Alan Trammell became the first Detroit shortstop since Billy Rogell in 1934 to drive in 100 runs when he hit his 27th homer with two out in the fourth to make it 4-1.

Elsewhere, Cleveland tripped Oakland 6-3, Seattle dumped Kansas City 5-1 and Chicago edged California 5-3.

they did in the USFL trial," Chicago White Sox catcher Carlton Fisk said. "Who knows what will happen?

"I think we all have to wait until the remedy question is answered. There are a lot of questions about the next step."

Said Boston Red Sox catcher Rich Gedman: "I think it's great and it's what we've been saying all along. Winning the decision certainly benefits us. But until a remedy comes about, you really don't know how it will affect you. It's certainly a step in the right direction."

The grievance was filed on behalf of 63 players who became free agents after the 1985 season. The most prominent in that group were Fisk, Kirk Gibson, Phil and Joe Niekro, Butch Wynegar and Donnte Moore.

The union filed a similar grievance for the group of players who were free agents after the 1986 season. That included Morris, Gedman, Tim Raines, Andre Dawson and Willie Randolph.

A real test of the owners' willingness to comply with the ruling will come shortly. A number of top players are eligible for free agency after this season: Dale Murphy, Cal Ripken, Mike Witt, Charlie Leibrandt, Brett Butler, Jack Clark, Dave Righetti, Dave Smith and Gary Gaetti.

Despite the ruling, Rona and several players agreed there would not be a return to the free-spending days of the late 1970s and early 1980s when owners spent wildly for mediocre free agents.

"The clubs will still be faced with the financial realities of baseball," Rona said. "Therefore, I would anticipate that the clubs will continue to pursue fiscal responsibility in order to keep the game healthy and the prices reasonable for the fans."

"I don't think we'll ever see free agency like it once was," said Philadelphia third baseman Mike Schmidt. "I think the days of true free agency are over for good. Maybe (the owners have) learned how to live without it."

Johnson's Record Slam Wakes Up Listless Mets

United Press International Howard Johnson set a record and awoke the slumbering New York Mets with his career-high 36th home run of the season

Monday. Johnson set a National League mark for homers by a switchhitter by belting a two-out grand slam that sent the Mets to a 7-1 victory over the Chicago Cubs at Wrigley Field.

The Mets remained 2 1/2 games behind the National League East-leading St. Louis Cardinals, 3.1 winners over the Philadelphia Phillies Monday

Meta Manager Davey Johnson. whose team lost two of three to the Pittsburgh Pirates over the weekend, said the home run was one of his third baseman's biggest contributions this season. "We didn't play well in Pittsburgh," the manager said. "and we looked listless until that inning. That ranks right up there with the most important hit he has had for us." Howard Johnson, who earlier this month joined the 30-30 club for homers and steals, eclipsed the record set by Ripper Collins. who smacked 35 for the Cardinals in 1934. "It was as big as any I've hit,"

Howard Johnson said. "Every game from here on out is important. We have to treat them all as if they're playoff games." Dwight Gooden, 15-6, struck batter in his second straight complete game and seventh this season. Rookie Les Lancaster fell to 7-2. The game was delayed 61 minutes by rain in the third inning. Lancaster retired 14 straight before Darryl Strawberry singled with two out in the eighth.

Strawberry stole his second base of the game and 30th of the season, enabling the Mets to become the first major-league team to have two players with at least 30 homers and 30 stolen bases in the same season.

Kevin McReynolds was intentionally walked before Gary Carter reached on an infield hit to load the bases. Johnson greeted reliever Ed Lynch with a home run into the center-field bleachers to snap a 1-1 tie. The grand slam was Johnson's second of the season and fourth of his career.

Syracuse Gets First Top 20 Rank

NEW YORK (UPI) - At a time when attention usually turns to basketball at Syracuse, the football team has attained national prominence.

The Orangemen earned their first Top 20 ranking in 16 years and Oklahoma secured the No. 1 spot in college football for the third consecutive week in voting by United Press International's Board of Coaches.

The Sooners, who were idle this week, earned 45 of 50 first-place votes tallied Monday to total 743 of a possible 750 points. That figure easily outdistanced No. 2 Nebraska, which received four No. 1 votes and 684 points. Oklahoma, 2-0, also was voted No. 1 in preseason balloting.

Auburn maintained the No. 3 position while Louisiana State jumped a spot to No. 4 and Ohio State slipped one notch to No. 5. Notre Dame used a 31-8 trouncing over then-No. 18 Michigan State to leapfrog three positions to No. 6. The Fighting Irish were followed by No. 7 Miami with one first-place vote, No. 8 Florida State, No. 9 Clemson and No. 10 Arkansas.

North Korea To Undermine?

PANMUNJOM, Korea (UPI) - Communist North Korea has embarked on a "sinister and dangerous plot" to disrupt the 1988 Olympics, a U.S. military official said today, adding that such action would "brand North Korea as an outlaw regime."

"We know what you are up to, setting the stage for serious incidents you hope will undermine the 1988 Seoul Olympics," said U.S. Rear Admiral William T. Pendley, senior member of the United Nationa Command.

"The UNC, while working extra hard to ensure that tension is not increased, remains ready to defeat any acts of aggression that you may try," Pendley told his North Korean counterpart, Maj. Gen. Li Tae Ho, at Panmunjom, a truce village 35 miles north of Seoul.

Lewis Offers Tyson $10 Million

LOS ANGELES (UPI) - Boxing promoter Butch Lewis Monday night offered a $10 million challenge to Mike Tyson to "embarrass" the heavyweight champion into fighting Michael Spinks for the unified title.

Lewis said he would guarantee both fighters $10 million against a percentage of what he estimated could be a $75 million to $100 million gross.

The terms are that we are willing to guarantee to Tyson $10 million to meet Spinks for the 'Sho-nuff' undisputed championship," said Lewis, who has guided Spinks' pro creer. "We'd like to have the fight take place no later than May of 1988 and just let it be settled once and for all.

This is my first official offer," added Lewis, who accuses the Tyson camp of ducking his fighter.

"Emmitt has great vision and great balance," said Hall. "Very seldom do you get a real clear shot at him. He's very durable and he was truly a great player Saturday. He has earned the starting spot."

Smith's sensational play has restructured the emphasis of Florida's attack. Quarterback Kerwin Bell, who generated ample pre-season publicity about his chances for the Heisman Trophy, has thrown sparingly in recent weeks. Bell doesn't seem to mind his decreased role as long as the Gators keep winning.

"Give that Emmitt a crack and he's gone," said Bell after completing 8 of 17 passes for 130 yards against the Tide. "Teams will have to prepare for us differently because of the success of our running game."

Horsepower Vs. Hulls: Underwriters Can't Agree

Horsepower vs. Hulls.

Back in the early 70s, when it was fashionable for marine underwriters to be responsive and creative, the U.S. Coast Guard first required that outboard propelled vehicles carry a horsepower capacity plate. This rule applied to all vessels in excess of 20 feet in length and was effective on Oct. 31, 1972. Although a few marine underwriters went along with the manufacturers recommended horsepower limitations, some chose to fashion their own systems of arriving at so-called safe horsepower limitations for insurance purposes. As no two adopted the same formula, chaos followed.

In the absence of such a rating plate the 1976 edition of Chapman's PILOTING introduced a formula for ascertaining the safe horsepower marriage of hull to detachable engine. The product of length times the width provided a factor that, used upon the boat horsepower capacity curve, gave the maximum safe horsepower for a particular vessel.

This factor was applied taking into consideration three other variables that contributed or detracted from the safe horsepower figure. The three variables are as follows:

• Hull with remote steering and a transom freeboard of 20 inches or more.

• Hull with a flat bottom and

• Hull with motor handle steering or less than 20 inches of freeboard aft without a selfbailing cockpit or motor well providing the equivalent of a 20

5-iron to his bag.

This factoring method of arriving at sale horsepower was developed about 10 years ago and failed to take into account such influences as weight and payload, the hydrodynamics of hull modifications, skegs, whether horsepower ratings were taken from the heads or shafts, how much power had been lost to the operation of engine accessories such as alternators or pumps, and if safety was a relative of speed. the very important aspect of propping.

Because of the complexity of the formula, underwriters adopted "various rules of thumb." very unscientifically. for determining insurance rates without relating to the hull's draft, beam or weights.

Since the 70s there has been a proliferation of designs relative to hulls. THe modifications of the displacement mode shapes allowed many to reach planning configurations.

The introduction of tunnels, and alas! Mass confusion follows. cats, multihulls, cathedrals, stepped hulls and other further complicated matters, for none responded similarly to identical engines. To top it off, manufacturers themselves could not agree to a uniform method of horsepower valuation.

The detachable engine itself is subject to so many variables that they have like tires, become almost impossible to compare. Introduce the hull to this equation, along with all its variables start at improving the situation would be a uniform system of arriving at the actual horsepower delivered to the same terminal on every machine. This way the advertised horsepower would lend credence to the factors in the formula to which they would apply. As example, if an accessory drew 10 ot the advertised horsepower, it should be so noted.

NEW YORK (UPI) - Prices were sliding in active trading of New York Stock Exchange issues today after opening higher.

Early turnover amounted to about 30,326,000

Stocks finished sharply lower Monday in active trading as an inability to build on a morning a 31.82 point lose. Retail, pharmaceutical and technology issues were especially weak.

"The self-off in pharmaceutical and retail issues bordered on panic," said Eugene Peroni Jr., technical analyst at Janney Montgomery Scott Inc. in Philadelphia.

'Sharp selling of Gap Inc. and Eli Lilly indicates that investors are making a sudden reappraisal of stock prices," said Peroni. "Gap's 50 percent drop from recent highs underscores the vulnerability of companies whose earnings results disappoint Wall Street's expectations.

month to $2.10 per month (5 percent increase). Moore also recommended raising the reconnection fee from $3 to $10. Moore told the commissioners this iricrease would just cover the city's cost of reconnecting services when the utility bill has not been paid. The current $3 fee has been in effect since 1978 and no longer reflects the actual cost associated with service reconnections.

Mayor Bettye Smith expressed concern about the drastic jump in the reconnection charge.

"The people who are going to be hurt the most by the change (in the reconnection charge) are the poor," Smith said. "We need some way to inform the public about this change."

Moore said a notice of the change could be put on the back of the utility bills sent out by the city.

Changes in the utility bill procedure were also proposed by Moore. Last year's audit by Coopers and Lybrand recommended a more timely due date with a delinquent fee assessed earlier in the process. Moore proposed moving the assessment date of the delinquent fee up from approximately 38 days after billing to 21 days. The delinquent fee will remain at 84.

Moore said the last time utility rates were increased was in December, 1985. When asked what he thought public reaction would to to the rate increase. Moore said he hoped the citizens of Sanford would realize the funds are being spent

If the city approves the request for the rate Increase, City Attorney William Colbert will draw up an ordinance. The ordinance will then be considered at a city commission meeting and public hearings on the rate increase would be held. Moore said if the rate increase is adopted by the city. It would probably take effect Nov. 1.

"What the union has done is for the past two weeks they were too busy to meet with us," he said. "They refused our offer of an extension. During the union's 57-day strike in 1982. Upshaw was a Los Angeles Raiders guard and the union's president. Soon after the 1982 season, he replaced Ed Garvey as the NFLPA executive director.

The strike announcement was anticipated by the league's 28 franchises. Players braced for picket-line duty and owners have worked to assemble nonunion teams which they planned to have on the practice field by Wednesday.

Unless there is a quick settlement, this weekend's games will be canceled and games will be piayed with replacement teams Oct. 4.

"The players realize that (owners) are putting guys in there to take their job," Upshaw Donlan Monday met with owners and NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle.

'We are disappointed that the union leadership apparently is proceeding with its strike plans without responding in any way to the overtures for settlement made by Jack Donlan to Gene Upshaw late Friday," the Management Council said in a prepared statement.

Some NFL executives said the announcement Monday that an arbitrator had ruled baseball owners conspired to restrict free agency in the major leagues cemented, NFL management's opposition to unrestricted player movement.

Upshaw questioned Donlan's authority to strike a deal with the union.

"The only time we'll ever have irue negotiations is when someone with authority on the other side enters into the process." Upshaw said. "Obviously. Donlan does not have authority because, if he did, we would have had a deal months ago." He denied the official he has in mind is Rozelle.

Butterfield said the president of the Florida Bar, Ray Ferrero Jr., might have a comment on the situation but he was unavailable because he was attending the legislative special scholon on the services tax. The Bar has opposed the service tax which would apply to legal services.

Some doctors say the psychological toll of the legal system's attitude toward personal injury claims threatens their independence and their savings accounts, according to reports.

"It's become a game with these lawyers," said Dr. William Abelove. "They're fishing in a barrel.

Medical Economics said the rise in doctors' income can be linked primarily to cost increases that were passed on to their patients. "Those figures don't shock me." said Carl Hawkins, director of the state's Academic Task Force studying Florida's medical malpractice problem. "I would be prepared to accept the proposition that, all in all, doctors do pass on the inreased insurance costs, though maybe there are some shortterm dislocations."

Wing disagrees. He said, "For the most part Florida doctors work in a frozen fee structure letter from my daughter, Kathy, who is attending school in Provo. Utah. She related the following story that I found so horrifying. I want to share it with you so that you can warn others:

"A 17-year-old girl won a trip to Hawali. She wanted a really nice tan for the trip, so last week she went to a tanning parlor. She'd never been to one before, so she saked how long was the maximum time she could stay in, and they said half an hour. Well, she wanted a really dark tan, fast, so she went to seven places and spent a half-hour in each - three and a half hours total? "Well, this poor girl is now in Utah Valley Regional Medical Center. They estimate that she has about 26 days to live. She's totally blind, and they say it's as if she had 'microwaved' herself - it's basically the same principle. Anyhow, she just cooked heraelf from the inside out. And the worst part is, there's not a thing they can do for her. Not a thing! It's just tragic. Her poor

Soybean Group Vs. Palm Oil Exports

KUALA LUMPUR (UPI) - Meet the man who's trying to put you out of business.

He's a tropical fat cat clad in a white suit and matching broad-brimmed hat. With a eigar and coconut cocktail in hand, he glowers at the world from his comfortable perch on a rattan peacock chair next to a menacing black barrel of palm oil. Americans be warned. This man is evil. He's

In fact, he doesn't exist at all except in the imagination of the American Soybean Association (ASA), which is waging an all out war to steer America and the world away from edible oils from the tropics, particularly palm oil.

Malaysia, the world's biggest producer of palm oil, is incensed.

The ASA is issuing leaflets showing "Tropical Fats" as "stealing markets from U.S. soybean farmers" and as the purveyor of a possible health

The privatley funded association maintains that the consumption of palm oil and other tropical oils contribute to coronary heart disease.

Soybean lobbyists are pressing both houses of the U.S. congress to pass a labeling law to force users of tropical oils to inform consumers that their products contain saturated fats - the villain which scientific evidence indicates spurs cholestrol buildup in the arteries and increases the chance of a heart attack.

The Latest Scoop

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Here's the latest scoop

Most of the 1 billion gallons produced annually in the United States is consumed in households where the wife is between 35 and 54 years old, the National Dairy Board reports.

No need for alarm. The average scoop of vanilla ice cream contains only 160 calories - about the same as a large banana, the board says.

The board, with headquarters in Arlington, Va., tracks the sale, consumption and production of the dairy treat, and spokeswoman Judi Lewis says, "Ice cream really has a lot of nutritional value, especially with the milk and calcium.'

America's favorite flavor is vanilla, making up 32 percent of all ice cream consumed, the board reports. Chocolate finishes second at 9 percent, followed by neapolitan at 6.4 percent.

Sterilization Reversal Operation Is Possible

DEAR DR. GOTT - I had a vasectomy 10 years ago in which the surgeon removed a section from the vas deferens, folded back each end and tied it.
I can see the difficulty in reconnecting the vas, but is there any method of gaining access to the sperm for artificial insemination? I have remarried and would like to be the father of my wife's children.

DEAR READER - Through the marvels of microsurgery, a urologist trained in this method might be able to restore your fertility. Using a meticulous technique, under a microscope, such a specialist would remove the clips and scar tissue on each vas deferens (the tubes supply-ing sperm from the testicles) and reconnect the severed ends. In a high percentage of cases, the flow of sperm is re-established. The procedure is expensive and is not guaranteed; however, it would be worth your consideration.

The same microsurgical advances now make it possible for women to have tubal liga-tions reversed in some cases.

None of the reversal techniques are guaranteed, however.

36 Wernher. No one should have a sterilization operation unless they are certain that they will never want children, even, if as in your case, see a urologist for persistent pain in my penis, but I am embarrassed that I may get an erection during any examination. In the second a common problem? Could it be discussed with a doctor without him thinking I am crazy?

DEAR READER — Most physicians are experienced in ways of minimizing embar-rassment should such an event occur. I encourage you to see a urologist about your problem and feel free to discuss your concerns with him. Erections are normal, you are not weird because you have them, and the doctor will not think you are "crazy" if you talk to him about severe shock or fright?

DEAR READER — I have read of people's hair turning white within minutes after a shock. However, I can see no sound scientific rationale for this medical curiosity, because pigment is bound in the hair shaft and cannot be removed except by chemical means. The hair may grow out white after shock: Under these circumstances, compounds that circulate in the body can affect the pigment cells in the scalp, so new hair may be devoid of color. However, I think that it would be impossible for your whole thatch to turn white instantly unless you have paid a beauty-parlor operator to do it for you.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby

West's two-heart bld was a Michaels cue-bid, showing five spades and a five-card minor suit, but not too much in high cards. So East sacrificed, and South carried on to five hearts.

Declarer took East's queen of spades with his ace and played back the jack, which West cov-ered. Declarer ruffed in dummy and now played a low club from dummy. This was a test for East. If he played low, South's queen would force out the ace. Later two club ruffs would bring down the king, and the remaining club jack in dummy would provide the 11th trick. But East rose with the club king right away and played back the diamond queen to dummy's ace. West's king popping up along the way.

Declarer now ruffed a club and cashed the spade 10, throwing a diamond. He then played a heart to dummy's jack and ruffed another club with his heart ace. A second heart was played to the queen, and the jack of clubs was led from dummy. When East discarded a diamond, declarer threw a small diamond. West had to win the trick. With nothing left but spades and a club, West now had to play a card that allowed declarer to ruff with dummy's last heart while shedding his remaining diamond

This deal is from Kantar's "A New Approach to Play and Defense, Vol. 2." You can get it direct from Edwin Kantar at P.O. Box 427, Venice, CA 90291-0427, for $10.95 postpaid.

What The Day Will Bring...

By Bernice Bede Osol YOUR BIRTHDAY

SEPTEMBER 23, 1987 The year ahead will be a favorable one for you romantically. Stronger bonds will be forged with one who is already very near and dear to your heart.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23)
Flattery is not an effective tool today, so don't attempt to use it to achieve your ends. Insincerity will be readily discerned by the recipient. Major changes are ahead for Libras in the coming year. Send for your Astro-Graph predictions today. Mail $1 to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper. P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Unfortunately, there may not be anyone around to help ball you out of a sticky situation today that was self-created. It looks like you'll have to unravel it on

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Credit spending could contribute to your downfall today. Wait until you have a better cash flow before assuming any new obligations. CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) In situations that bring you before the public, be careful not to take any actions today that could reflect unfavorably on your honor or reputation.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Your first impressions might not be wholly reliable today, so be careful not to rush to judgment in a critical matter that involves others as well as yourself.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) There could be a replay today if you do business with a firm that you feel didn't treat you properly in the past. Find a company you can rely on.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) It's best not to make a commitment contrary to your own interests today just because you don't want to hurt a sensitive companion's feelings. (C)1987. NEW TAURUS (April 20-May 20) TERPRISE ASSN.

You may be a bit slow getting underway today. You are not apt to accomplish much unless you're working on a project that is a true labor of love.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) If something good has happened to you recently, don't lord it over your associates today. It could stir up jealous feelings.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Put everything back in its proper place around your house or office today. If you don't, when you go searching for something you need, you might not find it.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Be extremely careful about passing on information to others today that is not corroborated by facts. Listeners might take what you say as gospel.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Usually you're an effective. prudent manager of your resources, but today, your extravagant urges could overpower your practical judgment. Stay away from expensive shops.
