

Previous Freezes Also Put Crimp In Seminole Agriculture

The recent freeze, which was the worst since 1940 in Seminole County, brought about many comparisons to previous cold weather in this area.

Randall Chase of Chase and Co. wrote an interesting article back in July of 1947, in which he traced cold weather up to that time and its effect on the county.

Here is that article.

FREEZES
The first dependable record of severe cold in Florida dates back to 1853. References made to severe colds prior to that time mention some of DeSoto's men freezing to death—this cannot be verified. In 1853 there seems to be reasonably complete records of temperatures which at St. Augustine reached approximately 10 degrees above zero, and the St. Johns River is reported to have frozen several yards from shore.

Undoubtedly other cold waves occurred at various intervals, probably of less severity.

In the History of Orange County we find recorded the following affidavit, made by the late Captain E. M. Robinson, one of the pioneers of Orange County, (which then included what is now Seminole County) who at that time lived near Sanford at Fort Reed. The affidavit is dated Feb. 9, 1890, and reads as follows:—

"That on the night of Dec. 20, 1884, a freeze occurred in Florida by reason of which the entire crop of oranges and other fruits in the County of Orange and other counties was ruined and lost; That afterwards, to-wit, on the night of the 7th of February, 1895, a still greater freeze occurred, in fact the greatest ever known in the history of the state, the thermometer reaching as low as 18 degrees above zero, by reason of which second freeze, almost all of the orange trees in Orange and other counties were killed to the ground.

"That this affidavit is made and asked to be recorded for the information of future generations."

You will note that the first phase of this freeze occurred on December 20. Official temperatures at Jacksonville recorded 14. About 45 days later the second, or another, freeze occurred on the night of Feb. 7-8, when the temperature at Jacksonville was again recorded at 14 degrees. The weather between the December and February freezes was warm, with good rains, which caused trees to put on new growth and appear well on the road to recovery. People felt encouraged, they fertilized and cultivated their groves. When the February freeze came the trees were full of sap and in a flourishing condition, which made them very vulnerable.

Many of the big trees burst during the freeze. This disaster was a body blow to the economy of the state. Up to that time the citrus industry had developed rapidly, and Florida was the largest citrus producing state in the Union, shipping 5,035,307 boxes, compared to California's 2,200,000. The year following the freeze the shipments from the state were only 147,000 boxes, and Florida did not until 1910 produce 5,000,000 boxes.

Nearly everyone in Florida was directly or indirectly dependent on the citrus, and many businesses failed. The tourist trade had hardly started. Banks closed and people deserted or left the state by the thousands. The railroads reduced the freight rates by one half, in order to help. The county commissioners of Orange County voted a substantial relief fund in order to provide funds for orange growers and those who were thrown out of work. It is to the everlasting credit of the citizens of Orange County that not a single dime of this money was ever asked for. Those sturdy pioneers went to work with the resources they had and not only rebuilt a citrus industry but started new enterprises. It was about this time that raising celery around Sanford was started. The first plantings we can find a record of are in 1896. An early shipment consisted of 45 crates from Meltonville—which is near the site of the Mayfair Hotel.

On Dec. 13, 1902 there is a record of two small car lots of oranges being shipped from Sanford, the first car lots in eight years, or since the freeze. That gives some idea of the complete devastation which occurred. From 1895 until the season of 1945-46 California produced and shipped more citrus than Florida. For the season 1946-47 Florida again produced more citrus than California or any other state in the Union, with a total of over 100,000,000 boxes.

The winters that followed 1894-95 were severe—28 and 28 degree temperatures with heavy frosts were frequently recorded. In 1899 the lowest temperature was recorded since the Weather Bureau was established—the official temperature at Jacksonville was 10 degrees at Tallahassee. It was reported to have gone below zero. Jacksonville had considerable snow, with traces occurring as far south as Orlando. After the disastrous freeze of 1895-96, vegetable growers endeavored to find a frost-free area. In 1899 Mr. Henry M. Flager, builder of the Florida East Coast Railroad, in order to develop tonnage for that road encouraged the planting of vegetables on the Cape Sable—the southerly tip of the Florida mainland. These vegetables were to move by boat to Miami, and thence by rail to the northern markets. So far as any one knew at that time frost had never occurred there. The freeze of 1899 killed all tender vegetables in that area and frost was recorded as far south as some of the Keys.

Other cold waves, or freezes, occurred in 1903, 1904, 1906 and then skip from that date until 1917 before another very damaging cold occurred. By that date the citrus production in Florida had reached 8,370,000 boxes. In 1917-18 it dropped to 5,381,309 boxes. The next cold occurred in 1927, again in 1934, and again in 1940. Production of citrus continue to increase in Florida until in 1947 the crop was estimated to be in excess of 100,000,000 boxes. The February 1947 freeze was not severe in terms of temperature. The morning of Feb.

5, and for several morning thereafter, the temperature was near or below freezing. February had been preceded by the warmest winter on record for the prior 75 years. This warm weather put the citrus and vegetable crops in a soft, susceptible condition so they suffered severe damage. The citrus loss was estimated at 25,000,000 boxes.

When citrus trees are shocked, even though the fruit on the trees has not been ruined, the tree will sometimes draw juice from the fruit in order to revive itself. Tests have been made to prove this by injecting color matter into oranges and tapping the limbs or trunk of the tree later and find the coloring matter. Such a shock doesn't have to come from a freeze. It might follow a hurricane, severe drought or other unfavorable growing conditions.

BACKACHE & NERVE TENSION

SECONDARY TO KIDNEY IRRITATION
After 21 common kidney or bladder irritations affect you as many women as men and may make you tense and nervous from too frequent, burning or itching urination, body aches and night sweats. You may lose sleep and suffer from headache, backache and feel old, tired, depressed. In such irritation, CYSTEX usually brings fast, pleasing relief by curbing irritating germs in strong, acid urine and by analgesic pain relief. One CYSTEX at drugstore. Post better back.

Income Tax Primer:

The New Tax Form

This is the third of eight articles in the Newspaper Enterprise Assn. Income Tax Primer.

By Richard A. Mallens
The first thing you may notice about your 1962 income tax return is that the place for printing or typing your name is longer. If you look at the space next to it you will notice that the spot for your Social Security number is being emphasized by bold-faced print.

This new importance given your Social Security number is part of the preparation for the use of electronic automatic return processing. The Internal Revenue Service for '62 requires all persons with Social Security numbers to use them.

In the case of a joint return of husband and wife, in most cases only the Social Security number of the husband is required. However, if the wife has a separate income of more than $600 (or $1,200 if she is over 65, or if she has self-employment income (or most other income paid to her alone), her number must also be on the return.

For filing purposes, everyone covered or not covered by the Social Security Act, must have a Social Security number.

If an individual does not have a Social Security number and is not furnished a form to obtain a number by the Internal Revenue Service during 1962, he must apply for one. Form is available from any district director of Internal Revenue or from any district Social Security office.

Another innovation in your 1962 return is the option to have any overpayment applied to the purchase of series E United States Savings Bonds.

And do bear in mind these often-overlooked items about filing your return: SIGN IT—Now, on the long form 1040 on page 2 instead of page 1, husband and wife must both sign on joint returns. Even if you use a separate schedule for such items as rents, dividends, or interest, in preparing your return make sure you transfer the total to the applicable lines on the return itself. The Internal Revenue Service also requires for the first time that your Social Security number be entered on all attachments to your return. The penalty for failure to submit your Social Security (or other account) number on your return is $5 for each violation.

Q—Under what conditions can the short form (1040A) be filed?

A—If your gross income was less than $10,000 (including your wife if you file a joint return), and if your (and your wife's) total income (except for no more than $200) was from wages or salary on which tax was withheld by your employer.

Q—When must the long form (1040) be used?

A—If you were self-employed you must use the long form. But even if you are an employee, when you have over $10,000 total income or you have more than $200 from sources other than wages and salary subject to withholding, the long form is for you. Also, if you are claiming the status of either "Head of Household" or "Surviving Spouse."

"LET'S TALK DRY CLEANING"

By WOODROW CASH

The start of a New Year is always a time for brave new resolutions, for taking stock, for starting with a clean slate. So here's a thought from one who specializes in "clean slates."

Sort through your "holiday best" clothing. Check each piece carefully for those accidental liquid stains or that small spot left by a stray bit of cranberry sauce. Odds are that lady's party dresses, and every man's best suits, were worn much more than usual during the holidays.

Don't just tuck them back into the closet on a hanger and forget them. One good rule to remember about clothes care is that spots and stains of whatever kind shouldn't be allowed to harden and become fixed in the fabric. That makes them even more difficult to get out.

So bring in your best finery now for our expert spot cleaning, for the thorough overall cleaning we give to every garment, and the expert pressing that will take out those wrinkles and creases to make your clothes look like new. It pays to take good care of your good clothes. We pick up and deliver...

The meeting on Jan. 16 between John Krieger and the DeBary Chamber (or should it say boxing match) has been cancelled.

President Morris Hale of Orlando Junior College denied this morning that there was any truth to the rumor that Seminole College was going to pull out of North Orlando. Said it was news to him, and added, "These false rumors get going and they are hard to stop. But, we will have big news for the area shortly."

Under a new plan for the City of Longwood all thoroughfares running east and west will be designated "avenues" while those running north and south will be "streets."

Oviedo is really going to get lit in about 30 days—no, not a big celebration. Just putting in new street lights.

Longwood's City Council okayed a request to purchase a two-way radio set for use in the mayor's home at last Thursday night's meeting. Council also okayed the purchase of a new alternating red and white dome light for the fire truck.

Longwood's water tank and lower will get a new paint job . . . probably within the month.

The Seaboard Air Line RR probably doesn't know it, yet, but they owe the town of Oviedo a $3.00 fee for a building permit. They are constructing a ramp and dock for loading and unloading piggy-back trailers and haven't said a word to the town about it.

County Judge sure getting fancy. First a special sidewalk from the Sheriff's office to the office and now Vernon Mize wants an intercom system. . . He'll get it too to the tune of $145.

Sanford Atlantic Bank directors meeting today and Bill Hemphill and Scott Burns will probably be named new directors.

DeBary Retirement-Care Center Planned

The Sanford Herald

Munson Heads Up New Corporation

Plans for a half-million dollar retirement and nursing center to be built in DeBary were announced today by Dr. Leonard Munson, president of Retirement Life, Inc. The new corporation, composed of Sanford and DeBary business and professional men, is preparing to build a 92 to 112 bed home, with 88 beds in the main building and several duplex cottages, designed especially for retired couples. "This new retirement-nursing home will be unique in the state," Munson said, "and rates will be within the limits of the Blue Shield Senior plan, and also within proposed social security retirement pensions."

The new center is to be situated on a lake, near the site of the new DeBary Medical Center, and will meet accreditation standards of the American Hospital Assn., the American College of Surgeons and the American College of Physicians. It also will be built to 1962 government standards and specifications, Munson said. Munson said that Architect Jim Chapman, who is one of the members of the corporation, already has plans and drawings for the 32,000 square foot, one story building well on the way and is beginning to draw up specifications for building requirements. No date has been set for beginning construction, but the center is expected to be ready for occupancy this summer, Munson said.

The officers and executive board members of the newly formed corporation are: Munson, president; Robert Hesserer, secretary; Tom Armano, treasurer; W. G. Miller, DeBary, builder; attorneys Eugene Lefler and William Hitchcock; architect Jim Chapman and Dr. Mack Lipton, retired nose and throat specialist from DeBary. Munson, who is a fellow of the College of the American Geriatrics Assn., asserted that the retirement center and nursing home is not planned as a place to "just vegetate," but residents will be encouraged "to stay active and busy, and take part in as many social and recreational activities as they have strength and inclination. "There'll be nothing fancy, but everything will be planned along the lines of simplicity, safety, good care, and an active, enjoyable life," he said. Within the center will be facilities such as a library, music room, arts and crafts, photography lab., beauty shop, barber shop, concession center, laundry, hobby supply center and a fully landscaped recreational area out of doors, with shuffleboard, lawn bowling and other sports. Physical therapy will be available, with particular attention to the needs of arthritic residents, and they will be free to come and go and take part in the civic, religious and social affairs of the community of DeBary. Residents will be under the care and advice of their personal physicians, but routine medical checks at regular intervals will be given by the supervising medical staff. The entire facility will be air conditioned and every safety factor will be provided. Munson noted that residents will be allowed to bring their own bed and personal belongings if they so desire, and if they are safe. Semi-privacy is planned in the use of the cottage residences for couples, with as much personal freedom as is permitted by physicians, but with the security of prompt nursing care, aid and help, if needed. "We are aiming for a retirement life in which the individual keeps as physically active as possible, always mentally active, living in the present and not in the past," Munson emphasized.

Hutchison Heads County Board Again

New County Commissioners Lee Gary, District 4, and John R. Alexander, District 2, were seated officially at today's meeting of the commission.

Vice chairman James P. Avery Jr. called for the qualifications of the new commissioners and Clerk Arthur Beckwith certified their credentials were in order and the new members took their places after exchanging greetings with the retiring members, Ted Williams and Vernon F. Dunn.

Following the calling to order of the new board, Atty. Harold Johnson took the chair and conducted the election of officers which resulted in the unanimous re-election of Chairman J. C. Hutchison and Vice Chairman Avery.

Avery read greetings from the chairman, who is in Seminole Memorial Hospital, which said, in part, "I want to express my warm appreciation for the services rendered by the outgoing members, and I feel the county is richer for their service." A warm welcome was also extended to the new members.

Both Williams and Dunn in their parting remarks said it had been an honor and a pleasure to be of service to the people of the county, and Williams said he was sure the county has the service of the best qualified men available for the job.

Encephalitis Danger Cited

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — A State Health Department official warned Monday that another outbreak of encephalitis like the one that hit the Pinellas County area last summer could strike again in Florida in 1963.

Dr. Charles M. Waters, health department epidemiologist, said the number of confirmed cases of encephalitis—sleeping sickness—almost tripled in the state in 1962. "I am frightened we may have another epidemic in the coming year," he said. "We have a joint federal-state study working now in an attempt to find out the cause of the disease. But in the meantime, it could break out again anywhere."

Inquiry Asked Into Viet Nam Forces Action

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Robert L. F. Sikes, (D-Fla.), called Monday for an inquiry into the Viet Nam war as one of the first orders of business in the new Congress.

Sikes, from Crestview and third-ranking Democrat on the House Defense Appropriations subcommittee, said he was shocked by defeat of South Vietnamese forces at Ap Bay by an outnumbered force of Communists. He said "we cannot risk American lives" if the Vietnamese refuse to fight, as they were accused of doing in the battle.

"We must get some assurances that the Vietnamese will fight, and get some officers who will command," Sikes said.

Sales May Help

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Sales tax collections may help offset the effect of the mid-December freeze on Florida's overall economy, according to Comptroller Ray E. Green. Green reported Monday that the outlook for revenue income during the new year is good.

County Aide Opposed

County Commissioner John Alexander today asked the commission for serious consideration against hiring an administrative aide and voiced his objection to the need for the $15,000 appropriation.

Alexander declared that he was not convinced of the need for an aide, and he emphatically said he thought the board should give further thought to the step.

The commission included $15,000 in the new budget for the proposed aide, to include his salary, the salary of a secretary and his office expenses. Alexander's opposition came just a few minutes after Vice

Chairman Jim Avery had said in the course of another discussion that in his opinion the employment of an aide to assist in the administrative work of the commission was a necessary step for the commission to take.

Alexander also succeeded in having the next meeting of the board postponed so the new commissioners could attend the seminar for commissioners at Tallahassee. The board decided to meet Jan. 29, instead of the regular date, Jan. 21.

In other business, the repair of the Longwood-Markham road was discussed and also the grading of Little Wekiva Road from the Longwood-Markham thoroughfare to Sanlando Springs.

Wright Chairman Of School Board

J. Dan Wright today was elected County School Board chairman replacing Jim Birkenmeyer.

Mason Wharton was elected board chairman at the reorganizational meeting of the group this morning.

New members John Evans of Oviedo and Dr. A. W. Epps Jr. were seated at the meeting. Retiring members were Ed Jordan, a veteran of 27 years on the board and John Brunley, who has served 12 years.

The first action of the new board was to change the time of the school board meetings to afternoons instead of mornings, setting 1 p. m. on the second Thursday of the month as the new meeting time.

In a short meeting, the board approved the trustees report, approved the setting up of payroll accounts as proposed by the finance department, approved the superintendent's report by R. T. Milwee and set a meeting at 1 p. m. Jan. 17 to view final plans for the English Estates Elementary School.

Voicing a desire to get on with the building program for county schools, the board heard a report from Administrator Walter Teague on the present status of the six projects.

Comments from the state department on required adjustments in the preliminary plans for new construction at the South Seminole Junior High, Sanford Junior High and the Rosenwald School, were heard and the compliance approved, to be incorporated into the final plans.

Teague reported that final federal approval for financing of the English Estates school has been received, the approval of the board was given for adjusting preliminary plans to meet requirements for additions at Lyman High and Crocus Academy.

Wright commended Teague for his careful planning of school board expenditures and commented that no increase in the millage is expected for next year.

A bid for 300 gallons of hand soap at $1.60 a gallon was approved for the Atlantic Chemical Co., and Lyman School athletic department was given permission to make their selection of bids on baseball equipment.

Chairman Jim Avery had said in the course of another discussion that in his opinion the employment of an aide to assist in the administrative work of the commission was a necessary step for the commission to take.

Alexander also succeeded in having the next meeting of the board postponed so the new commissioners could attend the seminar for commissioners at Tallahassee. The board decided to meet Jan. 29, instead of the regular date, Jan. 21.

In other business, the repair of the Longwood-Markham road was discussed and also the grading of Little Wekiva Road from the Longwood-Markham thoroughfare to Sanlando Springs.

At Alexander's suggestion the matter was deferred until the new commissioners have an opportunity to inspect the roads under discussion. Engineer Hill Bush's estimate of the cost to repair the two right angle curves in the Longwood-Markham road was $5,000, which did not include drainage facilities.

A letter from Golden Gem Growers, Umatilla, urgently requested that all grove land in the county be re-evaluated for tax purposes since the big freeze, because most of the trees under 12 years of age had been heavily damaged.

The commission agreed, at Avery's suggestion, to defer the matter to the next meeting.

It was also decided to accept the bid of General Motors Corp. for the two new dump trucks needed by the road department. The accepted bid was for a complete dump truck at $5,829.94 and a cab and chassis unit to be used with a body now on hand for $3,087.88, or a total of $8,916.82.

Cuban Invasion Force Is Urged

MIAMI (UPI) — Four recently released Cuban invaders, charging that America has "acted like a second-class power" in vain efforts to overthrow Premier Fidel Castro, today urged formation of a new, "large-scale" Cuban invasion force outside the United States.

The four, who described themselves as spokesmen for a minority faction among the invasion veterans, said President Kennedy's Dec. 29 call for unity among Cuban refugees was "a smokescreen to cover up the fact that the United States really has no plan to solve the Cuban problem."

They also assailed "false leaders" of the Cuban refugees—a shift clearly aimed at Jose Miro Cardona and his Cuban Revolutionary Council.

The four are Enrique Llaça Jr., Sergio Galeano, Manuel Camargo and Enrique Rodriguez.

They say they represent 100 of the 1,113 invasion prisoners ransomed by the United States for $12 million. These 100 ex-prisoners boycotted Kennedy's Orange Bowl welcome to the freed Cubans.

The four spokesmen said they have resigned from Invasion Brigade 2506 "to prepare a new plan of action against the Castro regime."

They said the brigade should be disbanded because it was organized "for a purpose that failed."

The brigade's leaders, Manuel Artimo, Jose Perez San Roman and Eneldo Oliva, support Miro's council.

The four called on the United States "to declare whether it is willing to give Cuban refugees as much aid to free Cuba as Castro has received—from the Communist bloc—to enslave it."

They emphasized that no American or other foreign troops were wanted. They said Cuban refugees could "free Cuba through our own efforts without need of foreign intervention that would jeopardize world peace."

"The United States cannot continue participating in our liberation efforts in the same vacillating and half hearted way it has been doing so far," the group said.

"By assuming, directly or through mediocre Cuban leadership, the total responsibility for our cause, the United States has unwittingly served the interests of Soviet diplomacy."

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI) — The United States and Russia, over Cuban opposition, Monday night reached a compromise settlement of the Cuban crisis which brought the world to the brink of nuclear war less than three months ago.

The settlement did not satisfy the U. S. demand for "adequate inspection" of the removal of Soviet offensive weapons from Cuba and guarantees against their return.

Bryant To Decide On New Session

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Gov. Farris Bryant said today he expects to make a decision this week on a special session of the legislature to deal with reapportionment.

Whether he announces the decision here or at a news conference in Sarasota Saturday will depend on his success in getting telephone commitments from legislators.

The governor, who took a firm hand in negotiating with legislators this week after leaving the preliminaries to House and Senate leadership, said he has not thus far contacted enough lawmakers on which to base a definite conclusion.

Of the ones he has contacted, and he refused to tell newsmen the number, only two have turned him down, he said, and they qualified the rejection with a promise to go along if nothing better is possible.

He said he is asking for commitments for a Senate reapportionment on a formula of either the present 39 seats or an increase to 42. In the House, he is pushing for an increase from the present 85 to 144.

Meanwhile, House Speaker Mallory Horne continued to press for inclusion of federal-state relations matters in any special session called for reapportionment.

New Committees Are Postponed

The County Commission today held off appointing committees for the new year pending further study by the new board members John Alexander and Lee Gary.

The board agreed to go over the list of the proposed committees, including the board of trustees of the Law Library, medical examiners, water control, board of adjustment and zoning board.

This is the fourth of eight articles in the Newspaper Enterprise Assn. Income Tax Primer.

By Richard A. Mallico and Charles W. Schenckman

When you file your 1962 tax return, you can claim a $600 exemption for a person, though not related to you, (1) —if you furnish over half the person's support for the year (2)—if the person has less than $600 income for the year, and (3)—if the person makes his (or her) abode in your home the entire year as a household member.

You, of course, receive an exemption for members of your family, including grandchildren, step-relatives, nieces, nephews and in-laws, if you furnish over one-half support. An exemption is likewise available for any dependent of your uncle or aunt (first cousin) who received institutional care because of physical or mental disability and who was a member of your household before receiving such care.

To measure "support," compare amount of support received from you with amount the individual receives from all other sources —including what the person furnishes himself. Food, shelter, clothing and medical care are included. Fair market value is taken in account if furnished "in kind."

The amount the person furnishes himself includes Social Security benefits plus a portion, any income which would ordinarily be taxable. There is a special provision for multiple support agreements.

Scholarship grants to your child do not have to be taken into account in determining total support. The Internal Revenue Service has recently ruled that amounts spent by a state institution for the mental retardation of a child will be treated as a scholarship grant.

On the other hand, certain expenses you do incur for your child may not be for support, such as premiums for life insurance policies with the children as beneficiaries, and the cost of a car.

Taxpayer gets $600 exemption, without regard to "support" (1) for himself, (2) for being over 65, and (3) by reason of blindness. There is another exemption allowed for your spouse for her being over 65, or by reason of her blindness. Spouse's exemptions are available to her (or him) on your joint return—or on your return if you file a separate return, if she (or he) has no gross income, and if she (or he) is not another taxpayer's dependent.

Q—Who may claim the status of "Head of Household" or "Surviving Spouse"? What are the advantages?

A—First, to be "Head of Household" you must be unmarried (including divorced or legally separated), and you must furnish over one-half of the cost of maintaining a household for the entire year for at least one of your relatives. If the relative is your father or mother, he or she must be your dependent, but can live in a domicile separate from yours. If the relative is your child, grandchild, or stepchild, he (or she) must be unmarried and must live with you—but need NOT be your dependent.

Other relatives must live with you and MUST be your dependents. If you qualify, you can use a special tax rate schedule III which gives you half the benefits of a married person filing a joint return.

Second to be a "Surviving Spouse" your husband or wife must have died within the preceding two years, you must not have remarried, and you must have been eligible to file a joint return with him (or her), even though you may not have, in year of death.

You MUST have a dependent child (or stepchild) who lives with you and you must furnish over half the cost of maintaining your home.

If you qualify, you get all the benefits of a joint return and can use tax rate schedule III.

Note: you cannot claim you are "head of household" if you claim as "surviving spouse."

Rev. Grover C. Sewell Jr. of the First Presbyterian Church will officiate. Burial will be in Oaklawn Memorial Park.

Mr. Bailey came to Sanford in 1946 from Lakeland. He was a bartender by occupation and recently had operated a fish camp on the east coast.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Bobbie Maxine Bailey of Sanford; his father, Sam Bailey of Belle Haven, N. C.; two sisters, Carey of North Carolina and Mrs. Hazel Coleman of Salisbury, N. C. and a brother, Levi Bailey of Largo.

Civic League Holds Meeting

The Longwood Civic League met last Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. at the Civic League Building on Church St.

Members played games and a dessert luncheon was served. Tables were decorated with sprays of ligustrum and the officers table featured an artificial floral arrangement and candelabra.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. W. E. Schwilke, Mrs. B. C. Greene and Mrs. Edgar Pawcett.

Rip 'N Stitch Club To Meet

Members of the Rip 'N Stitch 4-H Club will meet Saturday at the Home Demonstration Center on 20th St. for their first meeting of the new year.

Those planning to attend are asked to bring their sewing for a work session scheduled from 1:30 p. m. until 3:30 p. m.

DeBary Fire Groups To Meet

By Mrs. Adam Muller Meetings of the DeBary Volunteer Firemen's Organization and of the Ladies Auxiliary have been scheduled for Thursday in the Recreation Room of the DeBary Fire Hall.

The ladies will meet at 2 p. m. and the firemen at 7 p. m.

Builders, an important factor in loan money demand, are faced with combating a glutted foreclosure market that must be overcome before vigorous housing construction gets under way, the S&L man feels. However, the inflow of new residents to the area and the energetic efforts of the real estate brokers are a combination that should overcome this "roadblock to progress."

Over $3,800,000 was loaned in the 12 months just ended, Harper said, but added that the first six months of the year showed a sharp increase over the similar half year of 1961, while in the retarded conditions of the July to December period 1962 lagged 10 percent behind 1961. Harper said that there were many indications that the present waning strength of the economy would pick up, especially toward the end of the year. He feels that there will be stronger demand for conventional loans. This will stimulate the S&L activity, which even now is furnishing 45 percent of the one to four

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: We became friendly with a couple around our age who recently moved across the street. My husband plays the piano and this lady plays the violin. For the past few months the lady has come over every Sunday and she and my husband lock themselves up in his room and practice for hours. I used to serve them lunch on trays and thought nothing of it. Then her husband asked me if I had all my marbles. He said he had had trouble with his wife when she fell for a cello player and it started the same way. He says he can't control his wife but I should keep an eye on my husband. I know my husband and am not worried. They are working up a program for Fellowship Night at the church. Should I insult them by making accusations, or should I forget it?

MUSICIAN'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Maybe the lady did fiddle around with the cello player, but if you know your husband and are not worried, don't make any accusation I would ask them to keep the door open however.

DEAR ABBY: Does a mother have the right to brag about her child because he was adopted? My sister says she can do it because the boy is not her own! She is boring in company because she brags about her son so much. How can I shut her up without putting a gag in her mouth? The boy is only two and they are talking about adopting another. I can't stand a lifetime of this.

BORED SISTER

DEAR SISTER: You can't shut her up, so don't. Adopted children should be treated exactly the same as natural children, and their parents should behave the same as natural parents. Your sister probably knows this, but can't resist the temptation to brag — so she has found an "excuse."

DEAR ABBY: I am 16 and have been engaged nine times. I don't know what's wrong with me but I can't seem to keep a guy interested in me long enough for it to develop into anything. The last one I was engaged to was 19. He said we'd be married in June, then he joined the Navy and took off and I don't even have his address. I loved him more than all the others put together. I suppose you think I'm too young to know what love is all about, but I've got wrong. I grew up fast. How can I get a guy for keeps?

DISAPPOINTED

DEAR DISAPPOINTED: If you have been "in love" enough to become engaged nine times at the age of 16 you do not know what love is all about. You might have matured early (physically) but you have a lot of growing up to do before you are equal to the responsibilities of having "a guy for keeps." Slow up, little lady.

CONFIDENTIAL TO ROZZIE: Don't you think it's time you told your musician friend he had better start making other arrangements?

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

Bobby Nall of Houston is the only member of the 1962 American team who is on the 1963 team. About a month before the trial started, Bobby broke his leg and had to play in a wheel chair. The discomfort did not hurt his game any. The strongest part of Bobby's game is his courage. Nothing scares him and he is willing to take chances any time he sees an opportunity to create a swing. In our 1962 match against Great Britain, we were a trifle behind going into the last day's play. The East-West British pair were on their way to a vulnerable slam and East had just asked for aces by bidding four no-trump when Bobby made the move that won the match for us.

Holding one queen and two jacks Bobby threw a five spade bid at them. Assuming they had a slam, Bobby could afford a seven trick set and actually it would take perfect defense to set him six tricks at his five profit assuming that East and spade bid. He would show a West could make a slam. As it was, the bid really created a swing. Instead of stopping at six hearts, the British went on to seven. North doubled and we gained 100 points on that one bid by Bobby.

We The Women: By Ruth Millott

One of America's leading industrial designers claims that houses are why people don't stay put.

It is his contention that most of the houses being sold today serve only the immediate needs of the family and, when those needs change as the family do but look for another house.

"It's the house," says William Smith, in an article in a national magazine, "that eventually drives the family from the land, its community, its best security in a constantly evolving society."

Houses may be partly to blame because, goodness knows, many of them won't house the extra hobby, much less an extra child.

But that's only part of the story. Many families are on the move today for other reasons than an outgrown house.

Consider all the families who keep on the move from one community to another because the man's job takes him from one branch office to another, or because he is in service and is constantly being moved from one military base to another.

And then think of all the families who used to buy a bigger car when the husband got a raise. They now think in terms of a bigger house or one in a "better" neighborhood, because the home has replaced the automobile as a status symbol.

And then reflect on all the people who move every few years from one neighborhood to another, just because those restless times and staying put means dullness to many couples. So we move around instead of sinking roots deep-down, for many reasons. Maybe none of them is as good for the stability of the family as seeking permanence in a home.

But that's how we live today—for better or for worse—and we can't blame it all on the building industry.

Good advice in any home, anywhere: Read Ruth Millott's booklet, "Happier Wives (hint for husbands)." Just send 25 cents to Ruth Millott Reader Service, c/o The Sanford Herald, P. O. Box 489, Dept. A, Radio City Station, New York 19, N. Y.

Officers Wives Club Plans Election Coffee, Thursday

Mrs. K. R. Hamilton, general chairman, has announced that final preparations are at most complete for the Naval Officers Wives Club election coffee to be held at the NAS Ballroom at 10 a.m. this Thursday.

"Come to vote for your new president," she says, "bring a copy of your favorite recipe, and an unusual item from your kitchen."

The ladies of VAIL-3 will be hostesses for this first social event of the New Year. Assisting Mrs. Hamilton in all arrangements is Mrs. George Govan, co-chairman. Mrs. Harry Lackey, food chairman, promises a very delicious home baked rolls and pastries. Mrs. Chester Fitzpatrick will be in charge of doorprizes.

An unusually interesting decorating theme will center around the kitchen and pantry items which club members are asked to bring for display.

"Every homemaker has in her kitchen something of interest to other homemakers," points out Mrs. John Drain, chairman of decorations, "perhaps an old-fashioned item, or the very latest gadget, or a foreign cookbook."

The recipes contributed by the club members at this coffee will furnish the basis for a cookbook planned for publication later in the season. Members are urged to bring a

A Job Well Done

Tuesday is the last day of official service for City Commissioner Earl Higginbotham, and County Commissioners Ted Williams and Vernon Dunn.

We say "official service" because these three men are all dedicated to the welfare of their city and their county, and their real service to this area will not cease just because they are leaving their respective commissions.

Earl Higginbotham has been a member of the City Commission for nine years and has distinguished himself by his consistent insistence on sound business principles being applied to the operation of the city.

Never one to leap without looking, the commissioner has prevented or counseled against hasty and sometimes rash conclusions and has never had to apologize for his action.

The Herald hopes his successor on the City Commission will grow into the maturity and distinction that has characterized Higginbotham's career of service.

Both Dunn and Williams have given unstintingly of their time and energy fulfilling their obligations to their constituents. They have stood firm for the things they believed to be right and for the best interests of the county.

Commissioner Dunn has been of great usefulness to the commission with his penchant for details, and he is probably better versed in the past business dealings of the county than any other man, and was constantly called upon for information. His files are a gold mine of information on county finances over past years. With his sense of obligation to serve he has done the job asked of him by his constituents with distinction.

Commissioner Williams has been a staunch advocate of imagination in County Government. He consistently has the forward look, and backed with all his energy those things he felt best served the people of the county and his district.

The Herald trusts that their successors will be equally diligent in their duties toward the county in these important times.

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

Donna became a female homosexual just because of psychic trauma at the age of only 11. For all homosexuals are educated to be that way. They are never "born" homosexuals. Their warped emotional outlook is usually due to "accidental" influences. So read for the sex booklet below and nip these abnormal complexes in the bud.

CASE 6-48: Donna D., aged 28, is now an English teacher in high school.

"Dr. Crane, she is a very attractive woman," her principal began.

"And she does a splendid job of teaching. But she is peculiar. In fact, we have recently learned that Donna is a homosexual."

"She shares an apartment with an athletic woman who teaches physical education in our school."

"They were roommates in college. And I think this more masculine physical education teacher has been the aggressor."

"In fact, she shows such jealousy that Donna cannot accept a dinner invitation without being followed by this other woman, who then phones her two or three times during the dinner party just to check on her."

"Why do you suppose Donna, who seems like a normal feminine type, would ever succumb to this other dominant woman?"

In childhood, many children are subjected to things that the adults hardly realize are making indelible impressions.

Yet these youngsters can receive emotional scars that will alter their entire future lives.

Donna is an example of "psychic trauma" or mental injury that was inflicted when she was only 11 years of age.

Her father was a salesman who wasn't true to his wife at all times. So he didn't come home as often as he should have.

Donna had thus overheard many bitter quarrels between her parents. And one stormy night when the telephone wires were down, her pregnant mother went into labor.

Since they lived on a farm, and no other adults were in the house, her mother screamed for Donna to help her.

So Donna prematurely served as a midwife at the birth of her little brother.

Her mother was rather neurotic by temperament, and screamed a great deal, thus scaring Donna almost out of her wits.

For Donna felt sure her mother was dying, as would be only natural for the usual child to surmise at such an event.

Although her mother survived without ill effects, Donna later went to high school and college. Donna was always cool to the advances of boys.

For she had a horror of childbirth. This was the psychic trauma that had warped her outlook.

Boy friends thus became taboo. And although Donna was a pretty girl with an attractive figure, she resisted the constant requests of boys who asked for dates.

To compensate for lack of social life, Donna became a straight "A" student. She went on to college and prepared to be an English teacher.

Meanwhile, her normal emotional hunger for love and affection was bottled up but seeking an outlet.

But she had developed an emotional "block" regarding kisses of boys, but no such blockage existed regarding her own sex. So the dominant female roommate found her receptive to affection.

Homosexuals are simply educated that way — they aren't "born" such.

So send for my booklet "Sex Problems of Young People," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20c. Use it to counteract psychic trauma and other sexual dangers.

Letters

To The Editor

Editor:

I hate to start the New Year with a gripe, but it's high time someone objected, so I'm sticking my neck out.

Recently the commission refused Mr. Carney and the Sanford Male Chorus the free use of the Civic Center for their concert.

Must be our commissioners don't appreciate good music. The Sanford Male Chorus is one of the finest musical groups in this part of the state and well worth all the backing and support that can be given them.

Just what is our Civic Center used for? It is a beautiful building but it doesn't seem to be fulfilling its full capacity of civic duty.

Most of our entertainers use the high school auditorium which is out of the way and much less accessible to the public.

Will some one please put me wise and answer these questions.

1. Who is making money on the Civic Center?

Bank Deposits Show Increase

ORLANDO (UP) — Deposits in the state's 343 banks totalled $3.8 billion at the end of the past fiscal year, an increase of 20 per cent over 1961, a Florida Bankers Association official said Saturday.

Association Vice President Floyd Call said 22 banks opened in Florida during 1962 and another 36 have received charters and are in the process of opening. This will raise the number of Florida banks to at least 360 in 1963.

A SHIP'S LEAK THAT COULD BE FATAL

Phil Newsom Says . . .

Commie Round On In Lima

Through Lima's misty and fog-shrouded streets over the weekend, Peruvian army trucks were carting scores of known and suspected Communists off to army security compounds.

The reason, to nip a plot "planned by the agents of Moscow and Havana . . . to implant a pseudo-farmer regime of the extreme left . . . align the nation with Fidelist Cuba and prepare for the Marxist revolution to subjugate the nation for Moscow."

Early targets, according to Peru's ruling military junta, were to be the American-owned Toquepala and Marcona mines and Standard Oil of New Jersey's subsidiary International Petroleum Company.

By May Day the resolution was to be complete.

Almost all Latin American nations present its special problems for the United States, but perhaps none as dramatically as Peru.

When, in August of 1961, the United States was setting up its Alliance for Progress program in a meeting of American ministers at Punta del Este, Uruguay, it was Peruvian Premier and Finance Minister Pedro Beltrán who became the chief opponent of Cuba's Che Guevara.

Peru preceded the United States in breaking relations with Castro's Cuba.

But on a chilly night last July, army tanks rumbled to the gates of Lima's presidential palace, arrested 73-year-old President Manuel Prado and established military rule.

Prado had refused military demands that he invalidate June election which gave the most votes to moderate leftist presidential candidate Hualpa de la Torre.

Under the Alliance for Progress, the United States already had allotted nearly $90 million to Peru for new roads, for water and sewage systems, and for aid in the program to open up new lands for Peru's landless Indians.

The military coup struck a blow at the foundations of the alliance, conceived in a U. S. answer to threats either from the political right or left.

President Kennedy denounced the coup and promptly suspended U. S. aid.

Rejoined Gen. Ricardo Perez Godoy, the junta's gray-haired leader.

"What Washington does not understand is that this is a Peruvian solution to the problem of preserving democracy."

On Aug. 17, the United States, convinced that the military men intended to keep their promise of free elections in 1963, lifted the aid ban and recognized the new government.

The present situation puts to the test the military junta's claim that theirs is the way to preserve democracy.

Liege, Belgium, became a center of firearms manufacture in the 16th century and royal decrees required each new gun be tested. Only flawless weapons receive the city's official hallmark today.

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON—(NEA) — Santa Claus International, alias your Uncle Sam or the United States government in disguise, may have to cut down on a lot of marginal foreign aid programs if the ideas of Gen. Lucius Clay prevail.

Clay is chairman of President Kennedy's new, high-sounding, foreign aid advisory Committee to Strengthen the Free World.

"We are not an investigating committee," says Clay after several days conferring in Washington on what his nine-man group is supposed to do.

"We will simply determine the wisdom of policies governing our (foreign aid) expenditures and attempt to make sure that these policies do limit our activities to those necessary and essential to the security of our nation and the free world."

A literal interpretation of Clay's first public statement on this subject could affect a lot of the foreign aid projects like sewers, water supply and housing developments in countries that don't have them, jet airports and international airlines for countries that don't need them, Tennessee Valley-type authorities for hydro-electric power and irrigation in countries that aren't ready for them, steel mills and atomic reactors for countries that won't have the skilled manpower to operate them for some year. All these might have to be dropped.

And it could be that the ideas of Chester Bowles will have more weight. He recommends that foreign aid be denied those countries which lack the ability to use it wisely or won't or don't reform their own governments to put their economies in order.

This will be the fourth time in the last 10 years that the government has gone through this same aid reform exercise. U. S. and free world security was the theme of the Mutual Security Administration which administered foreign aid at the end of the Truman administration. This is what it will apparently be once again if the Clay idea prevails.

When the Eisenhower administration came to town, it recruited a lot of big business executives to survey foreign aid. The result was that MSA was changed into the more business-like Foreign Operations Administration.

Then former President Herbert Hoover's Commission on Reorganization of Government surveyed foreign economic operations in 1955. FOA was changed to International Cooperation Administration. President Eisenhower then appointed another commission under Gen. William H. Draper to survey foreign aid again in 1959. It is reminiscent of the Clay committee.

But it was President Kennedy who changed ICA into Agency for International Development — AID — when he took office. And now Clay apparently is going through the motions of putting the emphasis back on "security" where it was in 1959-62.

This view is discounted in the State Department, however. There it is stressed that the appointment of former Budget Director David E. Bell as the new AID administrator means there will be continuity of operations, without another wholesale reorganization and reshuffling of personnel.

Clay's committee of former Defense Secretary Robert A. Lovett, former Treasury Secretary Robert B. Anderson, retiring World Bank President Eugene Black, Continental Oil President L. D. McCollum, former State Department legal adviser Herman Phleger, AFL-CIO President George Meany, University of Nebraska President Clifford Hardin and Harvard Prof. Edward S. Mason will hold its first meeting late in January.

It aims to file its first report with Kennedy by March 1. It will maintain liaison with Congress but not lobby for aid.

Clay has opened offices in the State Department and named William T. Dentzer Jr. executive secretary. He is a former Defense Department official who has been serving as assistant to AID Director Fowler Hamilton and Alliance for Progress Director Teodoro Moscoso. The idea is that the Clay committee will be a permanent organization, not a temporary one.

America has the highest standard of living in the world. It's too bad more Americans can't afford it.

The number of students in the average school today is about half.

Fighting Decay Problem Of All, Mayor Declares

The greatest problem of any city is the constant decline and decay of the downtown area, Mayor Haydon Burns emphasized Monday as he unfolded "The Jacksonville Story" for members of the Rotary Club and their guests at a luncheon at the Civic Center.

"You might think that this is the problem of the merchant and the owner of the building," Burns said, "but let me point out that if the merchant cannot enjoy the foot traffic and the resulting business, he cannot pay the rent, the owner cannot pay the taxes and all this just switches the tax burden to the other citizen."

"So in the long run, every one is affected by the decline of downtown business, and it is not just the property owner or the merchant, but of every person in the community," he said.

The mayor demonstrated his talk with colored slides of the "before and after" of Jacksonville, where the greatest burdens of decay was on the once-thriving waterfront, which for many years steadily deteriorated to the detriment of the whole city.

The slides illustrated how the old wharves, docks and warehouses of the unsightly muddy riverfront have been completely renovated and changed, with blocks of city owned parking lots, the new county courthouse, a new city hall and jail, and many other modern, busy, steel and concrete offices and buildings.

The new Sports Coliseum, baseball park and Municipal Auditorium also are part of the municipal growth which has seen hundreds of new industrial buildings and expansion of existing industry.

built to further enhance the progress and rehabilitation of the city.

Burns gave Rotarians a brief outline of the legal and technical work which was involved over the past 14 years in bringing about the vast changes in the waterfront job undertaken by the Jacksonville municipal government.

New sewers and sewage disposal facilities, new streets, parks, parking lots, expressways, a new library, marina, and many other facilities were shown on the slides.

"It has not been easy, or fast," Burns emphasized. "It took long-range planning, teamwork, cooperation, taxes and referendums, but we did it all without one single penny of federal aid and with no ad valorem revenue bonds."

"The Jacksonville Story is a practical story... it can be used by any city, working solely with local government and private enterprise."

"We had many discouragements and setbacks and we still have a lot of plans—more expressways and a riverfront boulevard, among other things."

Burns praised the Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce and its Committee of 100 for their continuous interest and activity in the rehabilitation and redevelopment of the city whose present city zone population of 467,000 is expected to hit 675,000 in 1970.

Raceway Road Aid Considered By Board

The Casselberry Board of Aldermen met in special continued session Monday night to grant permission for the widening and resurfacing of Seminole Blvd. by the Seminole Raceway and to consider proposed terms included in an annexation request of Seminole Plaza by Eastern Shopping Centers.

Chairman Paul Bates, who called the meeting, was unable to attend due to illness. Alderman Cliff Overman was appointed by Mayor Carl Stoddard to preside. Alderman Rohn Lady also was absent from the meeting.

Permission and agreement to assist as much as possible on the road project was given after J. D. Self and Don Willson of the Casselberry Road Board reported that they had checked into the matter and found plans and specifications agreeable.

Self reported that since Christmas he and Bates had talked with County Commissioner Jim Avery and County Road Superintendent J. C.

Lavender and that both had indicated the county would provide rock and clay for a six inch base on the widening and probably would widen the bridge.

The men also had indicated that the county would handle minor drainage problems resulting from the work, Self said, adding that the County Commission was expected to settle terms of its participation in the project at today's meeting.

Terms of the city's assistance will be agreed upon and put into contract after it is learned to what extent the county will participate and how much financial help the raceway will need.

After consideration of proposed terms included in the annexation request the matter was extended for further study on certain points and Attorney Kenneth McIntosh was instructed to notify the shopping center of the board's findings.

Terms called for (1) no ad valorem tax for a period of 20 years; (2) no charge for building permits or inspections for five years; (3) fire and police protection and peripheral lighting at no charge to the center; (4) approval of the proposed Casselberry water rate increase in order to extend proper service to the center; (5) approval of the contract between the center and Casselberry Utilities and (6) apportioning and paying $5,000 to the county for outfall drainage at Hwy. 17-92 and SH 436.

Points of exception were found by the Casselberry board to be contained in the last three items.

It was felt that the proposed water rate increase and extensions of services to the center should be separate items—the former concerning the utility company and the town and the latter concerning only the company and the center.

Any contract between the center and the company should be strictly a matter between the two parties involved and no mention had ever previously been made concerning the town paying any amount of money to the county for the drainage, the board stated.

The annexation will come up for further consideration at next Monday night's meeting when the new board takes over.

Ward Heads Council Again

Re-elected councilmen William Martin, Ben Jones and Rex Cloats were officially installed; Ben Ward was re-named chairman and Rex Cloats named vice chairman of the Ovidio Town Council Monday night.

Several matters of old business were discussed, including the Atlantic Coast Line crossing in the downtown area which the town is pressing the railroad to have repaired.

Mayor Lee Gary reported he had talked with railroad officials in Sanford and they had agreed to repair the crossing and then later referred him to the state. Discussion with state road department officials in Deland revealed the state had no responsibility in the matter and told the mayor to resume talks with the railroad, he said.

Ward reported the city had received several bills for car repairs due to the crossing's condition and the council was unanimous in carrying the matter to higher ACL officials if necessary.

Gary also reported that Tyson St. had been paved and $2,500 was due the Hubbard Construction Co. with $2,400 due in 60 days.

Fire Chief T. L. Lingo Jr. reported the fire siren switches and timer had arrived and the foundation for the tower is to be poured this week. A 30-foot steel tower is being built by a local steel fabricating company. The council also decided to donate the old warning device to Geneva for civil defense purposes.

The Sanitation Committee, Councilmen Martin and Lingo, were instructed to take measures to have the town dump cleaned up and to confer with county officials about having either the present dump included in the land fill program or taking over an abandoned clay pit near the town for the purpose.

The council meeting started with coffee and cake celebrating the birthdays of Clerk Dot Courier and Mayor Gary.

Thomas Butts Retires From Post

Thomas R. Butts of Sanford has retired after 34 years as a fruit and vegetable market news reporter for the U. S. Department of Agriculture. He has been in charge of the Federal State Market News office at Sanford in recent years and was also responsible for the seasonal Southeastern Pecan Market News Report.

He received a Certificate of Merit Award from the department in 1959 for his outstanding work in developing the pecan report.

Butts was born in Hedgesville, W. Va., served in the Navy in World War I and attended Cornell University before joining the Department of Agriculture in 1928. He has covered fruit and vegetable market news at the terminal markets at Cleveland, Philadelphia and New York City, and at most of the shipping points between New York and Florida.

He and his wife, Anna, make their home at 1412 S. Park Ave., Sanford. They are members of the parish of the Church of the Good Shepherd.

Medical Center Adds Pharmacist

New pharmacist of the Medical Center Pharmacy is A. C. "Al" Hector, who is a veteran of 40 years in the profession.

Hector, who is a graduate pharmacist from Northwestern University in Evanston, Ind., came to Florida in 1943 and has made his home in Sanford for the past 15 years.

He is a member of the Sanford Masonic Lodge, a Shriner, 32nd degree Mason, and a member of the First Methodist Church. He resides with his wife, Eileen, on the Old Orlando Hwy.

Civic Club Hears Program On Roses

The Altamonte Springs Civic Club met last week with Sue Adams as guest speaker. Her engrossing talk, primarily on the care of roses, proved of great interest to club members and guests.

Mrs. Norma Dalman won the door prize of a Scott's spreader.

Refreshment tables were resplendent with beautiful permanent floral decorations made up of yellow and orange mums set off by a green daisy cloth. Platters of party sandwiches were surrounded by vegetable floral arrangements such as tomato peel roses, turnip and radish flowers, celery curls and many others.

Hostesses for the meeting included Mrs. Bulah Kemp, Mrs. E. W. Weiss, Mrs. Frank Kollman and Mrs. Fred Rasmussen.

City Mail Delivery Okayed For Longwood

Longwood Postmaster W. K. Bryant announced today that house to house mail delivery has been approved by the Post Office Dept. for the city although no definite date for beginning the service has been set at this time.

Bryant also advised that necessary equipment and supplies for his offices to make the deliveries have been ordered.

Residents are advised that they must have house numbers prominently displayed and proper mail receptacles installed at their homes.

Pro-Am Field Of 200 Expected At Vero Beach

VERO BEACH—A field of 200 leading amateur and professional golfers will converge here this weekend for the Pro-Am, Florida's richest two-day event of its kind. They'll tee off at 8:30 a. m. Saturday and Sunday on Vero Beach Country Club's palm-studded fairways. Host pro Johnny Morgan says the "best condition ever" since summer reconstruction of the back nine.

Low Worsham, low pro here in 1963, and Dub Pagan's defending Pro-Am foursome lead the 80 pros and 180 amateurs vying for over $4000 in prizes. Rated as contenders are Willie Goggin, Wally Ulrich, Art Deering, John Barsum, J. C. Goosie, and Jim McCoy. Other top entrants include Clyde Usina, Ed Rubin, Tom Norman, Gil Cavasone, Paul Kelley, Bill Markham, Tobey Lyons and Glenn Teal.

Play in the 36-hole event will be best ball of the foursome in the pro-am half. Winning amateurs will share spoils worth $1,500. The top pros will split $1,200 in each of the pro and pro-am halves of the tourney.

McRoberts Team Goes Into Lead

McRoberts' five-man team in the Sandpiper Bowling League took three from Pierre Mig. Co's team and tumbled the Jet Inn aggregation from first place to second.

Long-time occupants of the top spot, the Jet Inn outfit didn't have the stuff in their corner, while the McRoberts team was playing the best place Pierre trio.

Welch Trio remained in third position by taking all four from Stempers' Real Keltos and St. John's Realty, playing short handed, managed to take all four from Alix of Sanford in spite of the missing leggers.

Factory Paint Outlet and Jet Inn split their match, which was enough to drop the Jet Inn one-half point behind McRoberts.

Betty Callan burned up the lanes to roll the high series for the season, a blistering 323/327, and Midge Woods' 201 high game resulted in a 918 series. Louisa Hooford also tumbled the pins handily with a 183/206 series.

Tiger Manager Predicts Fight

DETROIT (UPI)—"We'll give 'em fits."

That was the flat boast from Detroit Tiger manager Bob Schefling as he flew into town Monday and vowed the Tigers are going to make serious bid to beat out New York for the 1963 American League pennant.

Making a two-day visit to Detroit from his home in Scottsdale, Ariz., Schefling declared, "We'd have won the pennant last year if Frank Lary hadn't been injured."

Palmer Puts On His Patented Finish

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—It was the same old monotonous story today with Arnold Palmer again on top of the money heap — exactly where he was when they closed the till on golf's money register for 1962.

In his wallet was a $9,000 check, his pay for a first-place in the $50,000 Los Angeles Open which ended Monday in a typical, patented Palmer finish.

He came from three strokes off the pace to win handily with a five-under-par 66 and a four-round 874 total. It was Arnold's 20th tournament win in seven years as a pro. But it was his first victory in the Los Angeles Open — having never finished better than 10th in his hitherto five events.

"I want to thank the splendid gallery, all my friends — and everyone," said Palmer, casting a meaningful glance skyward as he pocketed the loot.

The $9,000 in his first tournament of the year put him well ahead of all. Last year he

Apopka Tonight

The Seminole High basketball team will take off for Apopka tonight to do battle with the Blue Darters, Class A Champions from last year, who have been sweeping everything before them this year.

So far undefeated, the Darters have yet to have a real tussle, but the Seminoles are ready to give them one tonight, after taking two in a row during last weekend.

Strikes . . . Spares

By John A. Spolski

Do you remember the lyrics to that "oldie" which went . . . my dreams are getting better every time?

Well, here at Jet Lanes our bowling pins are getting bigger all the time!

We had the "Big Blast" take place during the Friday evening Peterson Doubles Lg.

Ole Harry Pentecost taught us all a lesson or two as he flattened those pins with devastating BIG BOMB! He stroked nine consecutive strikes, spared and then struck again to finish with a blistering 271!

And once again he and his partner Floyd Martin combined for a 483 total and won the first game against Woody Wilson and Neal Maxwell.

But hold onto your hats! In the very next turned game, Neal and Woody turned the tables around and combined their games of 224 (Maxwell) and 231 (Wilson) for a 455! HOW ABOUT THAT! HUH!!

These scores are so good or better than those you'll start seeing again on the Professional Bowling Association's Tournaments on week-end TV which starts again the end of this month.

Oops . . . before we skip to one of the "tother hot shot leagues, Maxwell finished the night with a 597 to Pentecost's 679!!!

The Sand Spurs had some good chucking being done by Margie Kipp, who had high single for the title with a 198 and Peggy Stewart's 491 was good 'nuff for series.

Big Bad Bobbie Borsdorf continues his exceptionally fine bowling, too. Bob averaged over the 200-mark with games of 210, 222/219! Not too many pins behind, and definitely breaking out of a mild slump, is George (George-Oll) Swann, genial secretary of the league. George just missed that Charmed Circle as he checked in with a 591 set.

Don't forget that Jet Lanes will be hosting the Central Florida Monthly Classic on the last Saturday of this month. In addition, we'll be playing host to the B. P. A. Junior Traveling League on the following day, Sunday, January 27th at 2 p. m.

Plan on coming on out and either be a participant or a spectator! I know you're good enough for either category.

ternoon youngsters from DeBary, my friends of the Spars Ribbers League, the better they roll their games. And bear in mind that almost everyone in the league is at least 50 to 55 years of age!

Well anyway, Parsons of the Cracked team bowled a 244 scratch game! And buddy, whether you're 8 or 80 and you roll a 244 game . . . that's better than terrific!

Listen to some of the other scores which were rolled. . . . Ed Conley 191, Muller 173, Charley Starks and his new ball 178, C. King 182, E. Ogden 172, Meyer 150, Roach 187, Shawley 175, Orrills (Smokey) Jones 153, Walters 165, L. Moore 166 and H. Long 172.

Keep it up fellows . . . you certainly provide me with inspiration.

Joan Adams of VAIL-5 E. W. team in the Hoier Motors League took hi single and series with a 178/451 this past week. Wait a minute John! How about Joy Markley who also rolled a 178 game! Congratulations to both of these charming leggieettes.

For the second consecutive week it was Johnny Wright of the Larry's Mart team going all the way in the All Star League.

That ball of his would just have to nip the head pin and you'd automatically expect to see the pins literally bursting from the decks.

John smacked home a winning duo of 250/257 set. That's professional shooting, my boy! Mighty fine!

Big Bad Bobbie Borsdorf continues his exceptionally fine bowling, too. Bob averaged over the 200-mark with games of 210, 222/219! Approval Seen For Next Liston, Patterson Bout

NEW YORK (UPI)—Announcement of the site and date for the return Sonny Liston-Floyd Patterson heavyweight title fight is expected within 24 hours, now that the World Boxing Association has unexpectedly approved it.

Emile Brunesu of New Orleans, chairman of the WBA's World Championship Committee, announced Monday night that the WBA's ban against the return bout has been rescinded.

Ex-champion Patterson, who has the privilege of choosing the site and date under the return-bout contract, has been considering four cities: Baltimore, Miami Beach, Cleveland and Las Vegas, Nev.

In those four areas, at least one boxing commission — not identified by Patterson — had been reluctant to sanction the fight because of the WBA ban. Now that impediment has been removed.

Promoter Al Bolan of Championship Sports, Inc., has visited three of the cities and reported to Patterson on their possibilities as sites.

Brunesu stressed that the championship committee had reversed its Christmas Eve decision because the WBA Ratings Committee on Jan. 2 had boosted ex-champion Patterson from second among contenders to first.

Brunesu explained that Patterson's boost had followed automatically the dropping of top contender Eddie Machen of Portland, Ore., completely out of the rankings because of a mental illness.

Wright Leads All-Star Action

Action in the All Star League at Jet Lanes found John Wright of Larry's Mart having a hot night tumbling the pins to the tune of a 250/257 series, to establish a new season high for both game and series totals.

With games of 259, 178 and 225, Wright led the Larry's Mart trio to a three game sweep over Betty Ann's which increased their league lead to a big 16 games.

In the process of losing to Larry's Mart, the Betty Ann's also slumped from second place to third, as the result of Handy Food Store's taking three from Meadors Marine. The Handymen are now resting with a precarious one game margin in second spot.

In other action, Frayley Concrete managed to take two games from Sanford Dry Cleaners and P. Zeul and Sons got a break when Faust Drug forfeited all three games.

The week saw 10 over-200 games rolled in the loop, with Wright's 259 topping them all. John Spolski had a 223/276, Bob Borsdorf a 210-222/219, Al DePalma, 217/278, Bill Hall, 218/248, George Swann, 202-203/252 and Woody Wilson a 210/291.

Mayfair Team Defeats Eustis

Golfers of the Mayfair Country Club won their inter-city match against the team from the Pine Meadow Club at Eustis.

The score was Mayfair 80, Pine Meadows 58, and Sonny Powell of Mayfair had the low gross score, a 74.

The Winners

FORT PIERCE (UPI)—Art Fisher of Cincinnati, Ohio, and Glen Stuart of Grand Rapids, Mich., combined for a best-all score of 33-34-81 Monday to win the one-day golf tournament for club professionals.

Scholarship Handicap Is First Of Dog Track Charity Features

The Scholarship Handicap highlights the program at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club tonight in honor of the track's 14th annual scholarship night.

All profit from the ten-race cards will go to the State Board of Control for distribution to scholarship funds, primarily at the University of Florida, Florida State and Florida A and M.

The idea for scholarship night was originated by chairman of the board Jerry Collins when he was a member of the state legislature back in the late 40s. Since then, the benefits that help deserving students have skyrocketed into the millions with several hundred thousand dollars received from Florida tracks each year.

Eight top flight greyhounds will compete in the Handicap. They are Big Calhoun, Lashes, B. Bright and Re-lins, all popular here last season, and four highly recommended newcomers, Sweet Calleen, Speaker's Mask, Sawback's Choice and La Gias.

In Grade A competition here last year Big Calhoun accounted for seven wins and established a national A rating. Leaving here he finished second in inaugurals at Desert Park and Pueblo.

The first matinee of the season is on top Wednesday starting at 3 p. m.

Darold Robertson's Pretty Best, a newcomer here, Best, a newcomer here, romped over the 5/16 mile course

Tender Team Goes Into Lead

The Spare Ribbers Friday Afternoon Bowling Clubs of DeBary started the second half of the season with the Tender Team taking first place and three teams tied for second place.

The standings to date: Tender, won 4, lost 0; Bar-b-q, 3-1; Baked's 3-1; Tough, 3-1; Cracked, 2-2; Lean, 2-2; Scrap, 1-3; Never Better 1-3; Fat, 1-3; Broiled, 0-4.

Ed Parsons bowled 244, an all time high net score for the league, with three game series of 553, having seven strikes in a row. Frank Stoney had the second high series of the day with 528 and Ed Conley was third with 508.

The Gen. H. P. Newton Memorial Monthly Trophy was awarded to Ed Z. Walters for his December high score by John Spolski, donor of the trophy. Ellsworth Ogden holds the all time high three game series for the league with a 604.

Pro Grid Loop Adds Trouble

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The National Football League was faced by trouble on two fronts today with one of its stars ready to battle for his right to run a tavern and the possibility of an investigation by the Senate rackets committee.

Along with the disclosure here than an investigator when owner-coach George Hulas first made public reports last week that some of the league's players had been suspected of "undesirable associations."

"It has been and is our policy not to discuss publicly names of specific individuals mentioned in the rumors which we are investigating," said the spokesman.

Here in Washington, the Senate rackets committee, headed by Sen. John L. McClellan, (D-Ark.), would not reveal whether its investigation planned to question either Chicago Bear fullback Rick Casares or Hulas.

Casares said last Saturday that he took two lie detector tests at the league's request and was cleared of any suspicion of wrong-doing.

Stenstrom Takes Four In Bowling

Stenstrom Nealy, sparked by Libbie Whitehead's 191, took four straight from Nationwide Insurance at the last session of the 11-Nooners league play at Jet Lanes.

The CPO Wives edged their way back into second place by dropping the M and R Bar team with three wins, and Dot Button did a bit of good bowling for Mayfair Inn as he led them with a 213/571 series to a sweep over Grapeville Nursery.

Mar-Lou's Teens Armao's 182 carried the trio along to a four point win over Shoemaker Construction.

Three-way splits were converted by Carroll Connelly, who with Mary Elmore converted the 8-7-10; Etta Dorman picked up the 4-5-7 and Carolyn Sallee the 2-7-8. A 5-7 was spalled by Leitha Ward and the 3-10 fell for Frances Cross, Etta Dorman and Rhoda Meltzer.

Dot Button's three strikes in a row were a big help in her effort to roll high game and series and Etta Dorman also came through with the prized string of three.

DeBary Fishing Club To Meet

The DeBary Fishing Club will hold its meeting Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. at the Recreation Field Hall.

From the Orlando TV group, will be Don McAllister, Walter Hudson and Tom Denmark; and Sid Porter of DeLand of the St. John's River Valley Advisory Commission. There will also be pictures of fishing and hunting as part of the program.

A question and answer period will follow, with a casting reel as a prize. Refreshments will be served and a get-together will wind up the evening. The public is invited to come and hear these sportscasters speak.

Golf Clinic Set Here Wednesday

Two top women golfers will hold a clinic and take part in a nine hole demonstration round at Mayfair Country Club Wednesday.

Betsy Rawls and Judy Kimball will be here for the event, co-sponsored by the Mayfair Inn and the Wilson Sporting Goods Co.

The public is invited to attend the clinic, which will begin at 1 p. m. and no admission will be charged.

Girl Dies On Scooter; City To Tighten Law

The city plans to clamp down on motor scooter driving here after a 10-year-old Paola girl was dead on arrival at Seminole Memorial Hospital late Tuesday as a result of a scooter-car crash.

The girl was identified as Nancy Louise Cassinelli. Police said the youngster was riding with her brother, Robert Duane Werner, when the scooter collided with a car operated by James Clayton Walter, Grapeville Ave. at the intersection of First St. and French Ave.

Werner suffered a fractured pelvis and other injuries.

Tuesday night, the City Commission authorized City Attorney William Hutchison Jr. to look into the possibility of drawing up a law governing motor scooters in the city.

Services are scheduled for Nancy Louise, with Rosary to be recited Thursday at 8 p. m. at Brison Funeral Home and funeral Mass, at 11 a. m. Friday at All Souls Catholic Church, with Rev. Richard Lyons officiating. Burial will be in All Souls Cemetery.

Miss Cassinelli was born in Los Angeles, Calif., but spent most of her life in Sanford. She is survived by her mother, Mrs. Marianne W. Cassinelli of Cincinnati, Ohio; her sister, Katherine Werner, her brother, Robert Werner, both of Paola and a grand-aunt, Mrs. Catherine H. Jones, of Sanford.

Driver Jail Term Retained As County Judge's Policy

The policy adopted in April, 1962, by County Judge Vernon Mize of imposing a mandatory jail sentence in addition to the monetary fine on all persons found guilty of driving while intoxicated will be continued this year, Judge Mize indicated today.

Armed with statistics to show that the number of DWI cases dropped from 96 in 1961 to 73 in 1962, after the mandatory jail sentence warning was issued, Judge Mize pointed out that the new policy had been a deterrent factor.

Contrary to concern over the possibility of more persons going to trial, the records show that this did not happen, Judge Mize said. Nor did the percentage of convictions in jury trials, change to any significant degree.

"It will be my policy during 1963 to continue the imposition of mandatory jail sentences in all driving while intoxicated cases," Judge Mize said.

Stylish Slicker Wanted By FBI

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (UPI)—Police and FBI agents today pinned their hopes for capturing a "master criminal in a hamburger hat" on the possible anger of a beautiful woman.

The chic, "extremely well-proportioned" woman accompanied the smartly dressed confidence man on a pre-Christmas shopping spree in which he purchased $8,501 worth of merchandise with worthless checks.

Among the items bought by W. R. Garner, alias Wilson Garner, described as an handsome in his tweed coat and homburg that gals girls "looked and ached," was a mink stole, a hi-fi stereophonic set and a set of French provincial silverware.

FBI special agent Joseph Kissiah said Tuesday authorities hope that Garner's companion was a local girl who may have received some of these gifts.

Castroites Seize 32 Hospitals

MIAMI (UPI)—Premier Fidel Castro's revolutionary regime has closed 32 private hospitals and taken over 23 similar institutions, Radio Havana reported today.

The hospitals affected by the order were the last such privately-owned institutions in Cuba.

The broadcast said the Castro regime has promised employees of the hospitals which will remain open that seizure by the state will not affect their wages or working conditions.

The Castroites also have assured owners of the hospitals, as usual, that they will be compensated for the seizure of their property, the official radio said.

(No one whose property has been seized by the Castro regime has yet been paid.)
