County Commission Political Fight Over Attorney's Appointment

By LARRY NEELY

Greg Drummond, chairman of the Republican-controlled Seminole County Commission, last night proposed the Commission not renew the contract of County Attorney Harold Johnson, a Democrat, as of Oct. 1. Drummond further proposed retention of the law firm of E. Thom Rumberger, a Republican, for the post.

Drummond a Republican, said he holds the same position he held in 1969 when he presented a proposal to the Commission that a law firm would be more desirable than one man as legal counsel to the county. He said this would make legal counsel available at all times to the Commission, whereas Johnson is not available if out-of-town or busy in court.

Johnson, who has served in the capacity as county attorney for 10 years, said in reply to some of the commissioners, "I am not tendering my resignation but I serve at the pleasure of the board." He added his contract, although previously renewed on an annual basis, can be terminated by either himself or the Commission at any time during the year.

Commissioner Al Davis, a Democrat, said he considered it "interesting" that he (Drummond) had selected a firm that only recently opened offices in Sanford. Drummond said he had not selected anyone, only recommended Rumberger's law firm. Davis said he still thought it was "interesting" but added he is satisfied with Johnson and not particularly interested in replacing him.

Drummond recommended that Johnson's contract be renewed for only a month to enable him to complete projects already assigned him, while awaiting all new matters to the Rumberger firm. The Commission chairman further commended Johnson for his ability to handle matters connected with the right-of-way acquisition for State Roads 44 and 498.

Commissioner Sidney Vihlen, a Republican, noted the Commission should consider retaining Johnson to handle the park program as he is familiar with all the legal entanglements of the project.

Altamonte Hq. For Major Building Program $20 Million Construction Outlined

By DONNA ESTES
 ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — Three apartment complexes and a "character style" shopping center will be developed entirely to family needs while the second will be for "single swingers" exclusively and the third dubbed "apartment-style" exclusively for divorced persons only. Plans for these complexes, with total value of $6 million, are firm, Miller said. The executive did not reveal locations of the complexes but said they will be in South Altamonte Springs.

At the same time, Miller said, negotiations are in process to purchase a site for a "large character-style shopping center" and apartments. Units will number 300 to 400, he said.

Value of the shopping center-apt. complex is $7 million. Miller explained the shopping center will be designed with an old English theme and a character-style English tower in the center, with shops and apartments built around it. He said his company, seeing the need for homes for shop owners, will build apartments in the second story of the center.

At the same time, Foxcroft Apartments, located on Howell Branch Road near SR 436, has a $3 million addition under construction to triple the size of the complex from 120 units to the complete 360 units. The cost of the complex was $2 million, Miller said, including cost of land.

Meanwhile, the May Company

Seminole County within the next few months, according to the May Company, a $55 million holding company.

Col. (ret.) Daniel Miller, a partner in the company, told The Sanford Herald, in an exclusive interview, one of the apartment complexes will be devoted entirely to family needs while the second will be for "single swingers" exclusively and the third dubbed "apartment-style" exclusively for divorced persons only. AROUND THE CLOCK

By JOHN A. SPOLSKI

Get out your golf clubs . . . here comes another course for Seminole County.

Professional Bruce Devlin will be one of the principals involved and it will be in North Orlando . . . land is presently owned by Florida Gas Corp.

Tomorrow we'll clue you in on two local pros (they paid me to put them in that category, folks) who'll be playing in a Gator Golf Day-Celebrity Tournament in Gainesville.

No kidding about the fact they will be playing with such greats as Frank Beard, Doug Sanders, Dave Ragan, Bob Murphy, etc.

Can't hardly wait 'til tomorrow for another one of my "exclusives" . . .

Wise guys pick arguments. Intelligent people let them drop.

I'd like to have you meet some heroes . . . David Boddy and Randy Evers, employees of Herndon Ambulance Service. This happened on the 10th of this month, and was called to my attention by Bernice Gandy, sister of the principal involved.

Understand that these two men were called to 219 W. 5th Street in Sanford as a result of the collapse of Earl Gaines . . . by the time these two men arrived, Gaines had stopped breathing.

They provided oxygen and pounded on his chest while also utilizing artificial respiration . . . at his house continuing in the ambulance to the hospital, until he was finally revived.

Mrs. Gandy was most complimentary in her praise of both these men and the service offered by Herndon . . .

If you think that things aren't "tough" down at the much overcrowded Tea & Ice School, listen to Principal Bud Layser's daily prayer: "Colonial confusion will be conquered by classroom competence."

Rape Defendant's Wife Testifies For The State

By MARION BETHEA

Mrs. Peggy Bernovich, 17, dropped a surprise this morning when she was on the stand as a state witness in the rape trial of her husband, Dennis Bernovich, 26, before Circuit Judge William Akridge.

Mrs. Bernovich testified she had learned of her husband's rape of her daughter, 17, when he spoke with her. Mrs. Bernovich testified she did not know at the time but learned of her impending motherhood "a week ago." Bernovich nodded and smiled at this statement.

Mrs. Bernovich, who smiled at her husband continually, testified on direct examination that she is staying with her parents now.

Further, she identified the 1962 Falcon owned by the defendant from photos, later admitted into evidence. Continuing, she told of a trip to the laundry, which contained a rope protruding from a pocket, as she was cleaning spilled soap powder. She went to her parent's home, she said, and following examination of the jacket by her father, he called Sanford police. The witness identified the gun as belonging to the defendant, which was admitted into evidence. Herring elicited the statement that her father had not allowed her into his home since her marriage.

Alibi Established

Upon cross examination by Defense Attorney Gordon Frederick, the witness said the reason Bernovich carried the gun was due to the fact that he was in charge of a considerable sum of money at a service station at which he was employed until midnight.

She testified the police had searched the car before she had found the jacket and gun, and had discovered nothing. She established an alibi for the defendant over the objection of Herring, who argued this was outside the scope of direct, by saying the defendant had given her an explanation of the jacket and gun in the car, and he could not have committed the offense with what he is charged since he was at home with her at 12:15 a.m., after which they watched television and retired at 1:30 a.m.

On redirect, Herring asked how she felt about the defendant, to which the witness replied, "I love him."

"Enough to lie for him," asked Herring, to which she replied, "No, I wouldn't."

Anderson Williams, father of Mrs. Bernovich, testified his daughter was not living at home as she had testified and identified the jacket, gun, shoelaces, gloves, and rope found in the car as "looking like" those he saw.

However, Frederick established from the witness that the items were common to local purchases. Asked by Frederick how he felt about the defendant, Williams said, "I hate him," and admitted he had stated, "I don't know if he's guilty but he ought to be in jail."

Hair Coloring

Jerry Stone, used car salesman, said he was reasonably sure that the car in the photos was the one which he had sold to Bernovich on Dec. 18, 1970. Checking the sales slip he read the license number, which coincided with that of the car in the photos in evidence.

Requested to identify the defendant he was best-dressed, noting that when he had sold the car, Bernovich had sandy, long blond hair and was wearing blue jeans. (The victim and her family have testified that they observed blond hair over the stocking mask. Bernovich had his head completely shaved at his arraignment in July, and now has a brown crew cut.)

Stone was not shaken in his testimony that the car which he sold was blue since he said he remembered the color as unusual due to it being Chevrolet "corvette blue." Asked if he remembered anyone with the defendant when the car was sold, Stone said he thought there was a pregnant girl with him.

Sanford Redistricting Proposed By Krider

By BILL SCOTT

John Krider, member of the Sanford charter revision committee, which is charged with the study of various governmental charters before announcing recommendations for a new charter for Sanford, said today he would recommend that Sanford be divided into four districts with a City Commission member having to qualify from one of the districts.

Krider, asked if the present mode of city elections should be changed, responded that districts based on equal population basis should be set up thereby requiring politicians to qualify to run from a certain city area "and I personally will recommend this," he added.

Each City Commission candidate still will be required to run on a city-wide basis for election, Krider explained. Persons running for the mayor's spot would run "at large." Under the present system all members could live on the same street and this does not provide adequate city-wide representation, added Krider.

Krider said, "If you are thinking that this would insure a Negro representative, I can assure you it will and it is my personal opinion they are entitled to be represented on the city government."

Under the present system this is impossible, he continued, with the disclosure that 24 per cent of the city population is black and "they should have a voice."

On the charter revision, Krider said a rough draft for presentation to the City Commission has been delayed. Ju-to inability of obtaining certain technical sections from city officials. A majority of the charter group is leaning toward a council-city manager form of government plan as a replacement for Sanford's present mayor-council governing form, he added.

"We are basically following the model city charter adopted by Maitland and Winter Park," he concluded.

Eight Teachers Hired For Teague Middle

Seminole County school officials will assign eight additional teachers to the Teague Middle School to help reduce overcrowded classes in the 6-8 grade student category.

This was announced today by Supt. John Angel, who reported money to hire the additional help was transferred to a $100,000 instructional contingency account.

Those teachers will be assigned immediately due to pressing concern, the superintendent added. With the additional teachers the number of instructional staff at the Forest City facility will swell to a total of 63, with 55 teaching academic subjects and eight for special training service.

There are approximately 1,400 students at the facility, which is still being completed, after opening Sept. 7 for the first year. Angel said the additional teachers at Teague will allow for some future growth.

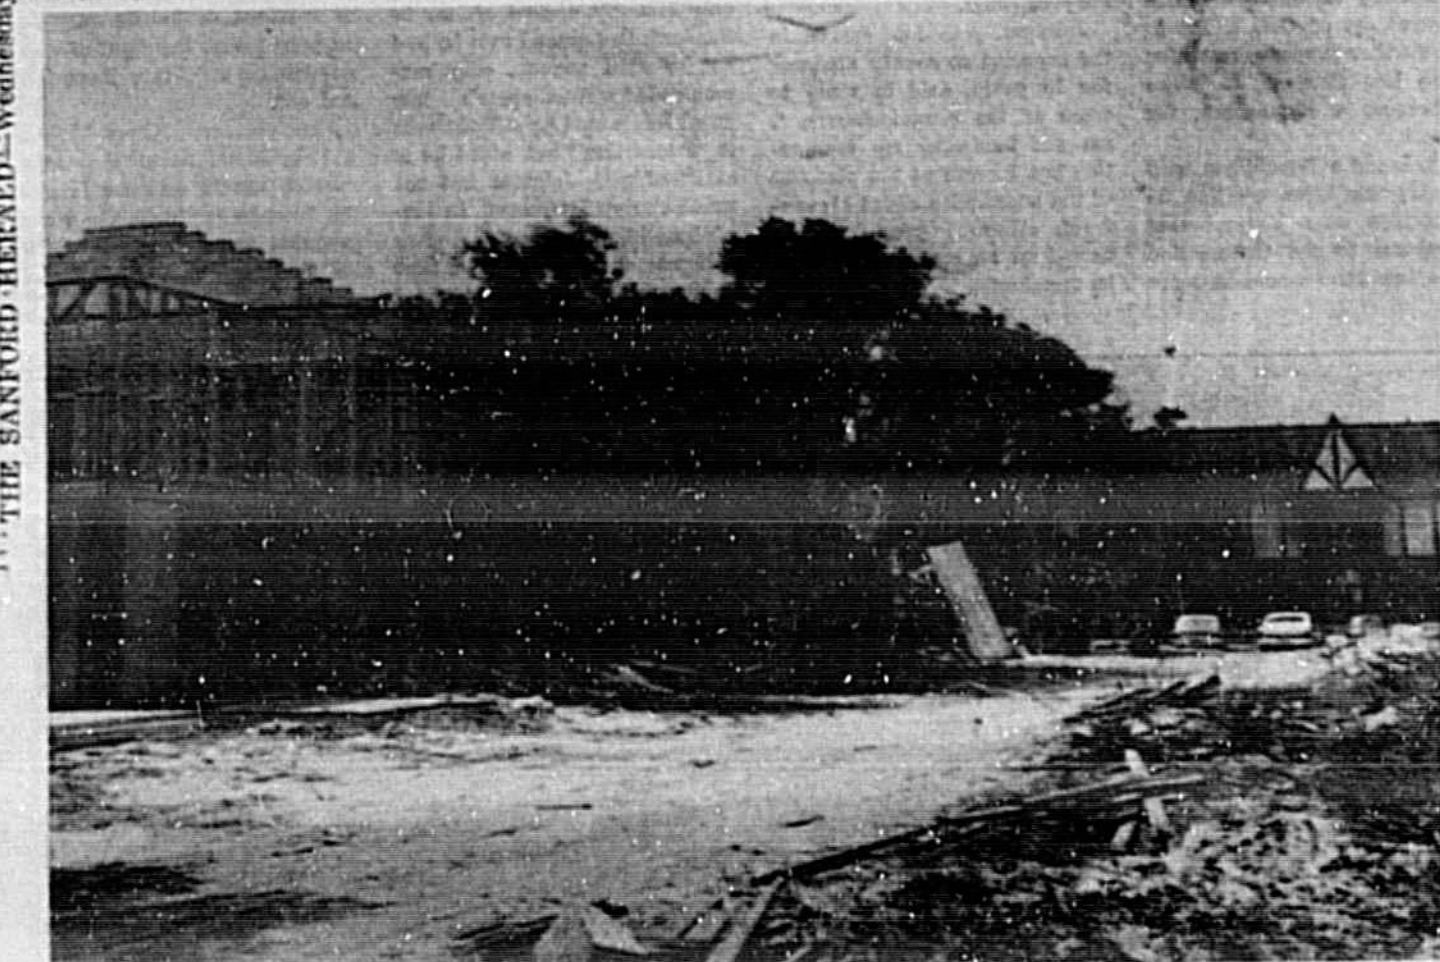

Angel advised that preliminary enrollment figures indicated that several schools need additional teachers and they will be assigned after the first monthly attendance report Oct. 1.

The School Board, in adopting the 1971-72 school budget, placed $100,000 in an account to be used to hire more teachers where growth increased more than was planned at certain schools.

County Aid Asked

OVIEDO — The City Council voted to write a letter to Seminole County asking the county take over the paving and maintenance of Mitchell Hammock Road. Council asked Fiscal Agent Dave Gumbly, of DeLand, if it could pledge the utility tax and the franchise tax for the use of a bond issue and Gumbly's answer was affirmative. A letter from Tallahassee was read to the Council relative to "REP funds which are currently being made available to municipalities with a high unemployment rate (this is a part of the president's economic recovery program and Oviedo intends to "throw its hat into the ring" for any assistance which may be forthcoming." These moneys could be used in the sidewalks program and several other projects which the council has in mind. Councilmen will meet with the County Commission relative to the proposed repaving of "Red Bug Road" Thursday. Jay Sauer, activities chairman of the Greater Oviedo Recreation Association, appeared before the Council and explained the functions of the program. Sauer explained that the program was "not too top heavy in athletics but that all types of recreational activities appealing to all ages were carried on on a volunteer basis." The program was well received in the Oviedo area and the city, and a program commensurate to a program with a budget of more than $200 was carried on for $150 this past summer at the Sweetwater Branch Park, under the direction of Dr. Jay Brophy. The association solicited the donation of $200 from City Council. Chairman C. Kirby Bucklew queried Sauer as to the workings of the recreational program and, after a satisfactory explanation, polled the Council to get a unanimous vote of granting the $200. The Council has in the past assisted Little League baseball. A new member to replace Leon Olliff on the board of administrators must be elected as Olliff was recently elected mayor of Oviedo. Chairman Bucklew commented on the "good turn-out" of the citizens of Oviedo and he remarked that he was happy to see the people there and show an interest in city matters. Bucklew further stated that when people show interest it makes a better working council.

Occupational License Law Is Near For Casselberry

By KATHY NIBLACK CASSELBERRY — The proposed occupational license ordinance is well on its way to being adopted following a lengthy work session by the City Council. Final revisions were made on the ordinance, which has been subject of Council work for many months. The purpose of this ordinance is threefold: It will "provide a method of regulating businesses within the city," it will "provide the means for licensing all such businesses" and it will "provide additional revenue for all municipal services."

County Being Plagued By Exceeding Capacity

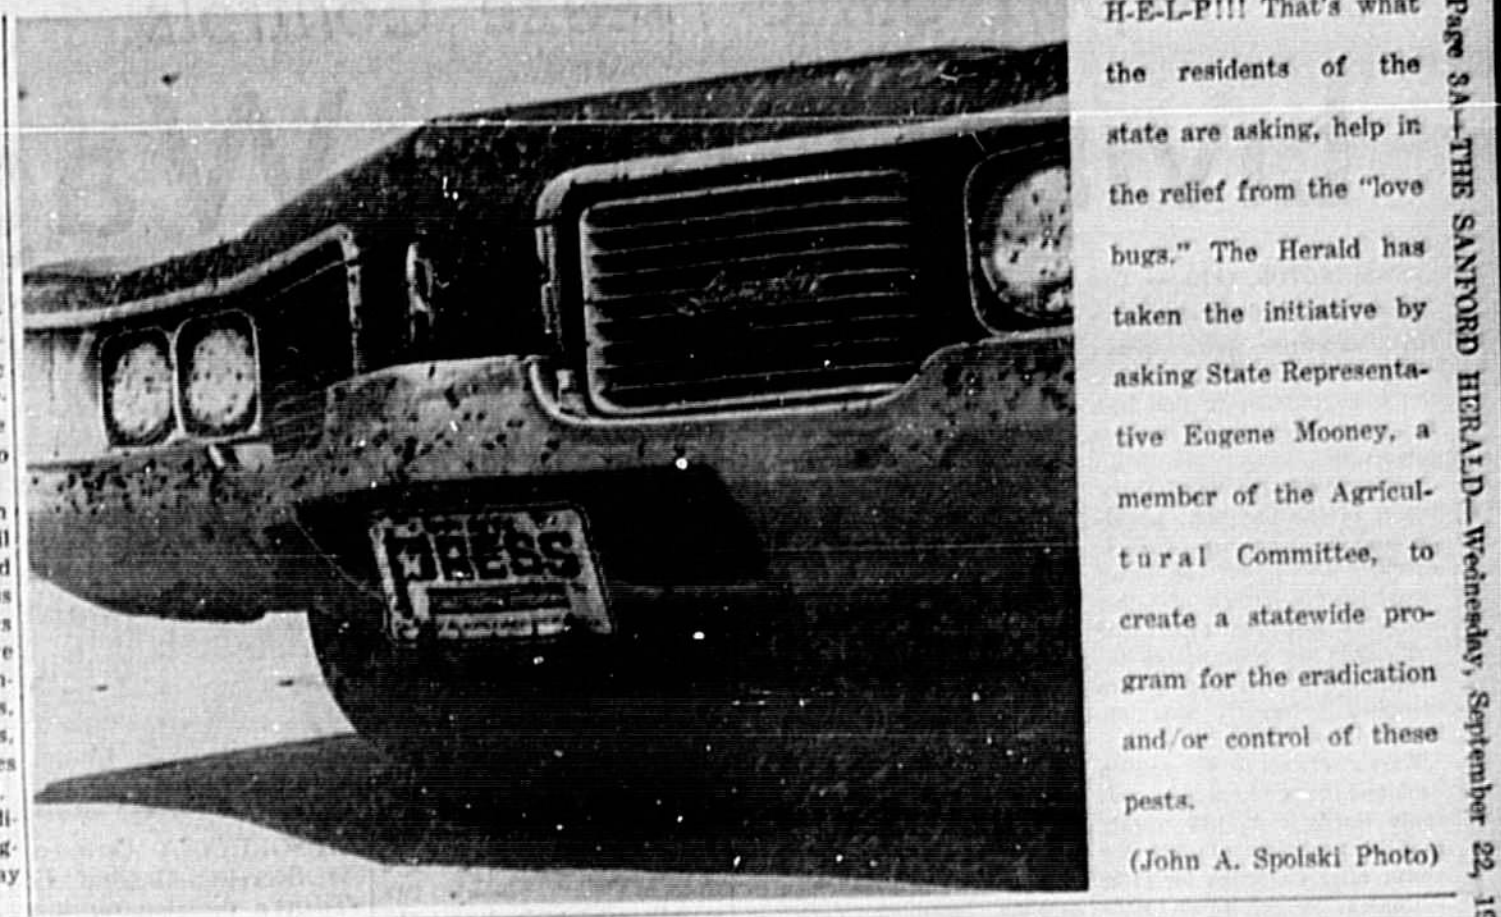

By LARRY NEELY Seminole County may have problems keeping its percentage of the capacity of the plant at the completion of the first phase of construction in mid-1972 when an additional 7 million gallons per day are generated by anticipated developments in the area which would increase the amount generated within the county to 13 million gallons per day. This will be relieved by the second expansion which will increase the county's allotted capacity to 2.5 million gallons per day, which Farr anticipates the county will exceed by mid-1973. To slow down the amount of sewage generated in the area and provide a partial solution to the problem in south-central Seminole County, the commission decided Tuesday night to establish a policy of not issuing building permits in future planted areas until approval is granted by the State Board of Health for connection to the sewerage system.

Annexation Policy Slated For Study

Establishing a policy to handle annexation requests will come before the Sanford Zoning and Planning Commission at Thursday's 7 p. m. special meeting. The existing plant capacity is 1.2 million gallons per day with Seminole County generating 5 million gallons per day. Farr said, according to the number of vacant lots in existing subdivisions and apartments and plots recently approved, the county will exceed its allotted load by mid-1971. He said this will be relieved when the first phase of plant expansion is completed. Farr continued, the county will exceed its capacity again after the completion of the first phase of construction in mid-1972 when an additional 7 million gallons per day are generated by anticipated developments in the area which would increase the amount generated within the county to 13 million gallons per day. This will be relieved by the second expansion which will increase the county's allotted capacity to 2.5 million gallons per day, which Farr anticipates the county will exceed by mid-1973. Airports Study Is Planned Sanford Airport manager J. S. Cleveland advised that members of the newly appointed Sanford Airport Authority will fly to Bartow Sept. 30 to view that airport's operation, which is directed by an authority. Arrangement also will be made to fly the Sanford group to Melbourne later, Cleveland said, to observe another authority operation that is unlike the Bartow authority. The seven authority members will leave the Sanford Airport at 8:30 a. m., utilizing two planes Cleveland added. He explained that Bartow's facility is oriented toward seeking industry while the Melbourne operation is geared for a commercial air function. The airport manager said negotiations are about completed with Seminole Cable-Vision for the leasing of an airport building in which materials used in the fabricating of cable for Altamonte Springs, Fla. will be accomplished.

First Report Since Freeze Controls Living Costs, Wages Hike In August

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government said today in its first consumer price report since President Nixon ordered the wage-price freeze that both living costs and wages rose in August.

Living costs increased three-tenths of one per cent, largely because of a sharp boost in gasoline prices, but the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics said the report did not reflect the price freeze because many of the figures were compiled before it was announced Aug. 15.

Wages of some 45 million rank-and-file workers rose two cents hourly and $1.43 weekly to $129 per week. Purchasing power after deduction for price increases was up seven-tenths of one per cent for the month and 1.1 per cent from a year earlier and was only five-tenths of one per cent under the 1968 all-time high, the report said.

The rise in living costs, slightly larger than in July, pushed the government's consumer price index up to 122.2 per cent of its 1967 base of 100. The figure means that it cost $11.22 last month for every $10 worth of typical family purchases four years ago.

On a seasonally adjusted basis, the August rise was four-tenths of one per cent, double the size of the July increase, but still well below the increase in May and June, the bureau said.

Grocery prices were unchanged in August, the first time since January there had been no increase.

In other major price categories, housing costs rose five-tenths of one per cent, transportation was up five-tenths, including a 2.7 per cent hike for gasoline, medical care increased five-tenths, and recreation rose one-tenth of one per cent.

Clothing prices declined three-tenths of one per cent but there was a rise of five-tenths of one per cent for shoes.

The bureau said future price reports during the freeze are likely to show change because some items are not frozen and others are not priced every month and will later show changes from before the freeze.

2 Charged At School In Arson

Two Sanford men have been charged with third degree arson in the aftermath of an Aug. 24 incident at Seminole High School in which a piece of cloth was inserted into a beehive used to haul portable classrooms and set afire.

Robert Wilbur Morton, 18, of 3533 El Capitan Drive, and James William Markove, 21, same address, were released Tuesday from Seminole County jail after posting $501 bond on the charges.

Rape Defendant's Wife Testifies For The State

Shore, on redirect, positively identified a photo of the defendant, which he had previously picked from among four others.

In testimony yesterday afternoon, Dr. C. F. Brooke Smith testified he had assisted Dr. John Morgan in examination of the rape victim on the early morning of May 2, and found that sperm samples were mostly immobile, although a few were motile (live).

This, he said, did not indicate that the sperm were dead, simply not moving. Asked to establish the time of copulation, Dr. Smith said this was outside his field but that the life of the sperm depended upon the condition in which they are living. The doctor said that based upon the fact that 90 per cent of the sperm were non-motile, he believed copulation had occurred one hour before the examination there should have been a higher per cent of motile sperm.

The mother said that her husband testified as to the events of the evening, identifying the gun and saying the assailant had a peculiar distinction to his eyes, which she identified, as the defendant placed the stocking mask on his head and faced her. She said on the night the rape took place she offered the intruder "money, the car, anything, only begged, leave my girls alone." As he took her daughter to a bedroom, she yelled, "Please leave her alone," to which the assailant said he'd blow my brains out.

The witness said she heard her daughter peep, "Oh, dear God, help me." Later, when she came to the room, she saw her daughter, who she said was terrified.

Frederick could not shake her testimony that she was able to recognize the eyes of the defendant because they had a peculiar slant. She said she always studied people's eyes because, like the late Sen. Everett Dirksen, she felt "eyes are the window of the soul."

The sister of the victim also testified as to the night of the attack, identifying the car as a 1963 blue-green Falcon resembling one which she owned previously. She testified that she thought the intruder had blood hair.

Nixon Against Such Expenditures U. S. Nixes School Bus $$ Bids

By TOM RAUM Associated Press Writer

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Florida counties attempting to get federal funds for buying are discovering President Nixon meant it when he spoke against such expenditures, says a state education official.

Dan Cunningham, who administers technical assistance programs for the Florida Department of Education, says it comes as "no surprise" that the U.S. Department of Education is rejecting pleas from Florida counties for emergency busing funds.

He said at least eight counties—Broward, Duval, Hendry, Putnam, Palm Beach, Pinellas, Marion and Columbia—have made such requests in applications to HEW, and have either been turned down or probably will be shortly.

In Atlanta, HEW regional Commissioner of Education C. J. Martin confirmed flatly that all such requests were being rejected.

"There's no doubt about it," he said in a telephone interview. "In view of the President's order, we are turning down all requests for transportation funds."

Nixon publicly stated he was opposed to using federal funds to help schools purchase buses to comply with court-ordered court integration plans.

The statement produced confusion in the minds of many school administrators and provoked Alabama Gov. George Wallace last month to openly defy busing orders, a tactic subsequently lost in the courts.

'Abortion Reforms Creating A Racket'

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A Belle Glade physician told a state Senate committee studying abortion reforms Tuesday that liberalized laws created a "$125 million extortion racket."

Dr. John Grady, chairman of a citizens group called the Americans for the Right to Life, testified before the Senate Judiciary Committee which held the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month at the library of the Free Will Holiness Church at 11 a.m.

Contributions are still being solicited and accepted from anyone who wishes to give.

A called meeting is scheduled for Tuesday morning at 11 a.m. in the library of the Free Will Holiness Church.

At this time, plans will be made for a benefit program whereby additional funds can be raised toward their $9,000 goal. Mrs. Mary Smith is president.

Mrs. Rutile Mae Nathan is proud to announce that her son, Ronald Nathan, has received the master's degree in music education from Indiana State University.

Ronald, a 1969 graduate of Crooms High, was the recipient of a hand scholarship at Florida A & M University, Tallahassee. This was achieved through hard work and a strong determination to excel as a member of the Crooms High Marching Panther Band.

He was one of the Marching 100 Rattler Band during his four years of undergraduate study at Florida A & M.

Ronald was elected to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. This entitled him to an assistantship at Indiana State University, where he Program" this past summer.

He is a member of Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity and is presently employed at Seminole Junior College as instructor of theory and instrumental band.

Mrs. Nathan joined to Terrence Haute to witness the graduation exercises.

Drive Opens County-Wide Participation In UF

When a South Seminoles corporation with 150 public-spirited employees rolls up a contribution of more than $6,000 for the 1971 campaign of the United Fund of Seminole County and thus becomes the "pace-setter," there can be no doubt that this is a landmark year.

We are completely in agreement with this assessment. We congratulate a newcomer to the UF effort, Robert M. Morris of Sanford who is campaign chairman, for his choice of a hard-headed, hard-working team who will be out after the $71,000 in '71 announced goal for the drive.

Yet, if the words and spirit which prompted them at the "kick-off" breakfast in Holiday Inn yesterday can be accepted as valid, and we think they can, then a $100,000 goal will be the target.

North Orlando Grants Variance To Its Zoning Ordinance

By DONNA ESTES NORTH ORLANDO — Variance to the zoning ordinance to permit operation of a beauty salon at the residence of Roy McClain on Longwood.

Construction of the subdivision is expected to be completed within the next year, Jordan said. Referring to the McClain request, he revealed a commercial building will be under construction in the village within the next few weeks.

The mayor also was asked to get in touch with the fire department to determine if it is ready to plan a city directory. Despite vigorous opposition from Mayor Brown, and a petition signed by some 25 citizens, Council on a 3-1 vote approved the promotion without increasing the salary of Scott Kenneth to sergeant of police.

With the remark, "I do not think this will hurt a soul," Brown insisted, however, that the naming of a sergeant when the department only has a full-time chief and a part-time policeman, in addition to Kenneth, would give the village a poor image.

Titusville Next Opponent Going Gets Rough For Seminoles

By GARY TAYLOR
Herald Sports Editor
The Fighting Seminoles had a good workout last Friday night. It was the season opener for the Seminoles High grid-ers, but they took it like a scrimmage game. The local teams came out on top 60-0 over cross-country rival Orlando.

I COULD HAVE DANCED ALL NIGHT
GRID BALLETT — Not really. It's real grid action during Lyman's 15-7 win over Colonial last week. On this play Colonial defensive half back Jay Shrankman (25) and Lyman's Ray Smith (80) appear headed in opposite directions but pass has already gone by both. (Herky Cosh Photo)

Many people are already beginning to think about last year. The Seminoles finished the regular season 10-0, scoring points freely, while holding their opponents to low scores. The fans are thinking the players are thinking the coaches... well, the only thing they're worried about is this season. "You just can't compare this year's team with last year's," commented head coach Tom Perrin following the game last Friday night. Maybe they can't, but many people are.

Obviously for the Seminoles Friday night. It was like a three-ring circus. The action was going on all over the field and everyone got into the act. One of the things that pleased Perrin was the fact that he had three different boys playing quarterback during the game. All three fumbled in the scoring.

On the other hand, the Seminoles lost their opener to Vero Beach, 25-23. Vero Beach, another tough class A.A.A.A. team, is also on Seminoles' schedule this season. The Seminoles game did show the Lions can pass. Orville completed seven of 12 passes with a habit of finding a winning team. Saturday night's upcoming game with Sanford Naval Academy should be a better contest to watch. The Middles have never near the strength of Sanford, but they can't be taken lightly.

Better Effort Needed Against Mainland '11'

By HERKY COSH
Herald Sports Writer
His team's lack of consistency was perhaps the most disturbing aspect of last week's game to Lyman Coach Dick Copeland who is preparing his Hounds for a rough Daytona Mainland '11 this Friday night.

"If we repeat that performance against Mainland we will not be in the game," stated Copeland after his Hounds had won a 15-7 verdict over Colonial in the season opener.

That lack of consistency was evident in both the offensive and defensive units of Lyman and it's something Copeland must work diligently on this week if his team is to have any kind of a chance against Mainland. The 25-0 victory over defending state champion Bishop Moore last Friday.

Of the two units the Lyman defense had the most consistent effort but even so it did not accomplish that consistency until they were in the shadow of their own goal. Once the Hound defenders found themselves with their backs to the wall they got tough.

Seemingly inspiring to the Hound defense was his prowess was sophomore Glenn Hill. From his defensive end position Hill broke through the Colonial line several times to spill offensive ball carriers in crucial situations, helping to avert at least two Colonial scores. While the Lyman defense was especially tough down deep in its own territory it left a lot to be desired in other sections of the field. Several times the Colonial offense was able to spring its runners loose around the end and only last ditch efforts by Lyman's defensive secondary prevented touchdowns.

For Oviedo Coach Mistakes Disappointing

By LARRY NEELY
Herald Sports Writer
Oviedo's Head Coach Ralph Stumpf was not surprised that his Lions were beaten by the Seminoles last Friday night at the Sanford Municipal Stadium.

Lack of adequate depth is certainly one problem which Stumpf has in the back of his mind. The same faces Bill Klein, the Oviedo players play both on the offense and defense. This will present problems every time Oviedo plays a team with more depth. It will not be a key factor in Saturday's game, as Sanford Naval leads depth as well, even more so that Oviedo does.

BOSTON (AP) — Owner Bob Short and his financially troubled Washington Senators are headed for the just Dallas-Fort Worth area and the nation's capital faces a lack of major league baseball for the first time since 1961.

Short who claims to have lost $2 million since he purchased the club for a reported $9.4 million in 1961, won his fight to move late Tuesday night to American League owners.

League President Joe Cronin, who as the young player-manager led Washington to its last pennant in 1923, announced the action after a marathon meeting of owners, their top aides, attorneys and baseball commissioner Bowie Kuhn.

Auburn Picked Over Vols; Gators Over Crimson Tide

By HERSHEL NISSENSON
NEW YORK (AP) — Around the University of Tennessee this week the password is "War Eagle."
This week "War Eagle" is the battle cry of the Auburn Tigers—the origin is kind of fuzzy and you can hear a number of histories—who invade Knoxville on Saturday for an early season Southeastern Conference showdown with the Volunteers.

The Tigers are fifth and the Vols ninth in The Associated Press rankings. A year ago Tennessee finished fourth and Auburn 19th, but the Tigers spoiled UT's otherwise perfect season with a 36-21 triumph on Saturday for an early season Southeastern Conference showdown with the Volunteers.

Giants, Dodgers Continue To Lose.

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
The San Francisco Giants and Los Angeles Dodgers continued their losing streaks today as the Giants lost to the Houston Astros and the Dodgers lost to the Atlanta Braves.

The Giants held onto a 3-1 lead over the Dodgers in the wild, wild West despite themselves as they lost their 12th game in the last 16, a 3-1 decision to the Houston Astros Tuesday night.

The Dodgers also continued their losing play as they dropped a 9-3 contest to the Cincinnati Reds for their fifth loss in seven games.

Magic Number Is Three

By BERT ROSENTHAL
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Baltimore Orioles were one win away from the American League's East Division title for the first straight year and their clinching number now has been reduced to three.

The Yankees on seven strikeouts and only one walk, Paul Blair's fourth-inning homer gave the Orioles an early lead.

Another top National League game was the St. Louis Cardinals' best Pittsburgh, 6-4. The Pirates failed for the second time to nail the Eastern Division pennant.

Follows Record Housing Rate

Furniture Industry Is Booming

by JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Now that new housing is rising at a record rate of more than two million units a year, the furniture industry is gearing up for a boom such as few other industries can look forward to.

Maybe the boom will never be heard; similar forecasts have been made for other industries only to be thwarted by reluctant consumers and unforeseen twists in the market. But the prospects are unusually good.

Everything considered, a number of different factors are falling into place.

The population mix, savings rate, incomes, and personal styles are important elements in the outlook. Internal changes, such as mergers and new distribution methods, are exploiting these elements.

The most important factor, as usual, is the number of housing units going up. Traditional furniture sales have shown a curve similar to housing after a lag of one to 1 1/2 years.

Now there are indications that furniture sales may rise even more than housing starts.

Among the reasons: —Should the economy be re-stabilized and inflation wrung out, the buying power of many Americans may rise even faster than incomes.

—The savings rate is at an unusually high level, better than 8 per cent of take-home pay. While consumers remain reluctant to lower that rate, they are more willing to spend the money that is—experience suggests they cannot hold out much longer.

—Compared with recent years, the rate of installment debt to income is relatively low. Just as there are savings in the bank, there is credit at the bank too.

Moreover, a study by the Chase Manhattan Bank notes: —The number of households in the 25-34 age group, the highest spenders on home furnishings, will increase by 32 per cent in the decade of the 1970s.

—The percentage of families with incomes of more than $15,000 will almost double from 22 per cent in 1970 to 38 per cent in 1980. And those are comparable—not inflated—dollars.

—The number of families in the 25-34 age group with incomes of more than $15,000 is projected to surge from 1.6 million to 6 million in 1980.

Presented with such demographic and income factors, the industry is gradually modernizing. Attempts are being made to speed deliveries which, as most purchasers know, are still common, partly because of the small size of many manufacturers.

The Chase study found 6,700 companies making carpets, beds and furniture, and three-fifths of them employed fewer than 20 workers.

New marketing methods of ready are evident in newspaper ads. Entire rooms are being sold instead of individual items. Because of their greater size, single manufacturers soon will be able to market pictures, rugs and lamps as well as the bed, dresser and nighttable.

Delays of three months or so are still common, partly because of the small size of many manufacturers.

Mystery Continuing In 'Shoebbox Fortune'

by MICHAEL ROBINSON
Associated Press Writer
SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Paul Powell is gone but the investigation into his mysterious $550,000 "shoebbox fortune" lingers on.

The political cronies who rode his coattails into the dusty poverty stricken Southern Illinois mining town and into political power wait as three grand juries sort the evidence.

So far, a former Powell business partner and two "lost soldiers" in his now crumbling army of 4,000 patronage workers have been indicted.

Yet, despite rumors that haunt the dim halls of the Statehouse, federal and state investigators who have worked on the case for months have yet to explain Powell's fortune.

When he died, Oct. 18, Powell, 48, was Illinois secretary of state and the only Democrat in the state with the nerve and skill to challenge Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley and, sometimes, win.

Two months after he was buried, the executor of his estate announced that Powell had kept a secret $500,000 cash hoard most of it crammed into shoeboxes, valises and old trunks in a closet of his suite in the St. Nicholas Hotel in Springfield. Later $30,000 more was found in a safety deposit box.

All told, it developed, Powell accumulated during 30 years in the Illinois House and six as secretary of state a fortune valued at more than $3 million. A Democrat who was well acquainted with Powell was asked how he got away with it.

"Got away with it," he sneered. "He didn't get away with it. He was just brash as hell."

In 1963 a grand jury in Springfield investigated charges that Powell, who was secretary of state was supposed to enforce trucking regulation, was allowing some truckers to skirt or ignore the rules.

At the time, it was charged that Powell and others had been operating a company that sold mud guards and French tires to truckers.

"If any state's attorney anywhere can find anything wrong," Powell drawled, "I want to know about it."

The investigation fizzled, but this year a partner in the now defunct firm, Seymour Emalfarb of Highland Park, was indicted by a federal grand jury on charges of using means of extortion to force a trucking company to buy tires from Powell.

Powell, a sponsor of numerous bills dear to the racing lobby in Chicago Downs race track. He acknowledged reaping huge dividends on the deal but added, "My only mistake was that I didn't buy more."

The latest chapter in the Powell saga came this month when 16 dog-eared boxes were found in and near the home of William Glenn, a former fee checking supervisor in the secretary of state's office.

The boxes were crammed with hundreds of uncashed checks for license plates and auto sales taxes, some dating to 1966. Glenn, 54, has been charged with tampering with state records.

Powell started his climb to 1968 as mayor of tiny Vienna in the "Little Egypt" section of Southern Illinois, known for its rolling woodlands and, in those days, bloody mine wars and vigilante violence.

Deviled Ham Bread

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Of all the specialty breads baked in our kitchen recently, Deviled Ham Bread has aroused most interest. Tasters can never figure out just what has gone into it!

Serve the bread with scrambled eggs for brunch. Or let it accompany fried chicken at dinner. It's good too, with creamed chicken or turkey.

DEVILED HAM BREAD
1 package (13 1/2 ounces) hot roll mix
1/2 cup warm water
1/2 cup wheat germ
2 cans (each 4 1/2 ounces) deviled ham
1 large egg
1/2 cup golden raisins
1 tablespoon milk
2 tablespoons light brown sugar
2 tablespoons maple syrup, if desired

In a large mixing bowl, sprinkle yeast from roll mix over warm water; stir until dissolved.

Add the flour mixture from roll mix, the wheat germ, deviled ham, egg and raisins. With a wooden spoon, work until blended; dough will be sticky.

Turn out dough on a floured smooth surface; knead until smooth—about 5 minutes. Place in a greased bowl; turn to grease top; cover and let rise in a warm draft-free place until doubled—about 1 hour.

Punch down dough. Shape into either 1 high round loaf or cut dough in half and shape into 2 flatter rounds each about 6 inches in diameter. With dull edge of kitchen knife, mark 6 equal wedges on each loaf by making grooves across top. Brush with milk and sprinkle with brown sugar. Cover and let rise as previously until doubled—about 30 minutes.

Bake in a preheated 375-degree oven until well browned—45 minutes for the large loaf, 30 to 25 minutes for the smaller loaf.

Turn out on wire racks. If maple syrup is used brush top of loaf or loaves with it with egg yolk or oil. Serve warm or reheated.

Makes 1 large or 2 small round loaves.

Streamline Eggs a la Benedict

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

DEAR CECILY: I notice that in a brunch menu you suggest serving Eggs Benedict. How do you prepare this dish?—BRUNCH BUFF

DEAR BRUNCH BUFF: Eggs Benedict is a delectable combination of toasted English muffins, ham, poached eggs and Hollandaise sauce. But we've given the classic recipe a new twist by substituting Canadian bacon for the ham. Eggs Benedict is indeed delicious for brunch or lunch; the only problem is in assembling the ingredients so they are all served hot. However, if you prepare the dish in the streamlined fashion we suggest you should have no trouble doing just that.—C.B.

EGGS BENEDICT
Hollandaise Sauce, see recipe Poached Eggs, see recipe 16 slices Canadian bacon 2 English muffins Butter

Makes Hollandaise sauce and poach eggs; keep warm as directed in recipe. Pan-fry or broil Canadian bacon according to package directions and wrap in foil to keep warm. Split English muffins by piercing them all around with fork tines and then gently pulling apart. Toast cut side of muffin in broiler; spread generously with butter; wrap loosely in foil to keep warm. To assemble each serving, place 2 muffin halves on an individual plate. Place 2 slices of bacon on a muffin half. With a large slotted spoon lift a poached egg from water and place on bacon. Spoon a generous 1/4 cup Hollandaise sauce over egg. One muffin half is served plain. Makes 8 servings.

HOLLANDAISE SAUCE
1 1/2 cups (three 1/2-pound sticks) butter
4 egg yolks
1/4 cup lemon juice
Dash of salt
Cut butter into 4 equal parts. Place egg yolks in the top of a double boiler over hot, not boiling, water; add lemon juice and salt; beat slightly with a wire whisk. Beat in 1/4th of the butter at a time. (If sauce should curdle, add 1 ice cube and stir until smooth again; reheat gently over hot water.) If sauce should become too thick, stir in 1 tablespoon hot water at a time, until desired consistency. Hollandaise Sauce may be made ahead and kept warm for about an hour; to do so place sauce in a wide-mouth vacuum bottle or hold over hot water (but not over heat) in a heavy sauce dish on a warming tray. Makes about 2 1/2 cups—enough for 8 servings.

POACHED EGGS
Pour water to a depth of about 2 inches into an electric skillet. Bring water to a boil; reduce heat to simmering. Break each egg into a sauce dish or cup and quickly slip into water at the surface. Cook 3 to 5 minutes depending on firmness desired—yolks should be at least partly runny. (Cook only 3 minutes if eggs are to be held and reheated.) To hold eggs, turn off heat and add 1 cup cool water. Cover until ready to use. To reheat eggs before serving, turn heat control to simmer just until eggs are heated.

To prepare eggs in an egg poacher, follow manufacturer's directions. To hold eggs, slip them into 2 inches of lukewarm water in an electric skillet. Cover until ready to use. To reheat before serving, turn heat control to simmer just until eggs are heated.

Admiral Becomes Gourmet
By TOM BOGE
Associated Press Writer

Adm. William Marshall has always been interested in cooking, but it took a group of Chinese nuns to bring out his true talent.

It happened 13 years ago when the admiral was commanding a flotilla of destroyers in the Pacific. The Roman Catholic nuns, bound out of China by the Communist regime, had fled to Tokyo and opened a cooking school.

A number of American Navy wives had joined the class along with one man—Adm. Marshall.

"I learned to cook a lot of Chinese dishes," recalled the admiral who still retains a military posture and salty air even though he has been retired from the Naval service for 12 years.

"The nuns taught the how to cook one particularly delicious dish," he added. "It was known as 'swed' and contained ginger, bamboo shoots, sesame oil and rice wine. I think you could duplicate the rice wine with sherry."

You needed 12 lessons to get a diploma from the nuns' school, but after 11 classes, the admiral was suddenly called away to sea.

"You know," he recalled ruefully, "those nuns never did give me a diploma."

After his retirement from the service in 1958, Marshall took more cooking lessons under famed food expert James Beard. He also became the first president of the Bourbon Institute.

As a result of these two moves, Marshall became something of an expert on food recipes. He whips them up for friends when they visit him at his historic country home in Virginia.

In fact, Marshall has become known as gourmet in his own right and the man who popularized bourbon in modern cookery. One of his favorite dishes is a rich dessert known as Bourbon on a Cloud, and he gets annoyed when other amateur chefs refuse to follow the recipe to the letter.

"Everyone has his own idea as to how to cook," he said. "But when you arbitrarily tamper with such basics as sugar or gelatin, you are liable to change the whole thing. Put in too much gelatin, and it will become like rubber. Too little makes it runny. Anyone can make it successfully, if they just stick to the recipe."

Here is the recipe as ordered by Adm. Marshall:

BOURBON ON A CLOUD

- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1 envelope unflavored gelatin
- 4 egg whites
- 1/2 cup Bourbon
- 1/2 cup chopped walnuts
- 1/2 cup heavy cream whipped
- Fresh strawberries

Combine 6 teaspoons sugar and gelatin and mix well. Beat egg whites. Gradually add Bourbon, stirring constantly. (Addition of whisky too fast tends to "cook" egg whites.) Add yolk mixture to gelatin. Cook over hot but not boiling water, stirring constantly, until mixture coats metal spoon (about 10 minutes). Beat egg whites until fluffy. Gradually add remaining 4 tablespoons sugar and continue beating until stiff and glossy. Fold in yolk mixture. Chill 20 minutes. Fold in walnuts and cream. Turn into 4 or 5 cup mold. Chill until firm. Serve garnished with strawberries. Makes 4-6 servings.

Potagerie Highly Special
By ALLEN CLAIR
NEA Food Editor

New York
NEW YORK — (NEA) —

Counterman at one of the world's newest, most "in" soup kitchens has been lading 100 gallons of a young French-style potagerie each day into bowls for Fifth Avenue regulars. In another year residents of other cities may enjoy the experience.

The soup — peach, sorrel, chrysanthemum, cream of chicken, black bean — plus an apple jelly, chocolate mousse or cheese and fresh fruit costs $2.25 and a glass of wine is extra.

"That's really not expensive when you consider I must pay $1.45 for a hot sandwich at a counter and leave a 20 cent tip," Jacques Pepin, super-soup chef for La Potagerie, stresses.

La Potagerie opens its doors to the French word for soup, "potage." It is one of many restaurants opening in this city of millions who love to eat anything. It clearly represents the future of restaurants throughout the country. La Potagerie is highly specialized.

Its owners, raising in age from 35 to 46, all have restaurant backgrounds. A principal, "La Potagerie" was built as a prototype. We spent more than ordinary." It cost $300,000-plus, in cash, for the first La Potagerie on Fifth Avenue near 42nd Street where people line up each day. "The others can be done for $200,000," he says. Industrial designer George Nelson and Co. used imported terra cotta glazed ceramic tiles, untreated wood finishes and, as a special flourish, a real, flowing waterfall.

"Our idea is to enter the future. To provide the future," says Pepin. "To provide the future of a cafeteria—all food is served from a counter on trays and taken to the table by a hostess—but do away with the outdated waiter."

Kata feels all the usual worth every $1,000.

"Unlike so many quick-food chicken or barbecue take-out joints, we don't plan to sell all things to all people. If this place starts selling hamburgers, it won't do it with us around."

Current plans he explains, are to work out La Potagerie's franchise in Manhattan near Bloomingdale's 4 p.m. to 10 p.m. store and in Wall Street, Lincoln Center, the Garment Center. These would be served by central commissary. THEN: The firm will move to major cities—Chicago, Detroit, L.A.—picking high (and hungry) consumer traffic areas.

"We would like to join with a major food company such as Campbell's or General Foods since they have marketing and financial know-how," Kata says.

"We really don't want to franchise. Airports also are good spots for our food. We have no protection for our idea."

"You can't patent a soup restaurant."

However, Kata has a "basta carta"—their chef de cuisine, Jacques Pepin.

Pepin began his gourmet career at his mother's apron. The family had a respected restaurant in Lyon, France. Today he admits his mother and former constant still out of him in the kitchen when he goes home.

From Lyon he apprenticed in the kitchens of the Plaza Athlete, La Grande Mousille and Fouquet's in Paris. The late Charles de Gaulle (and his successors) considered him a superb chef.

In 1959 Pepin came to New York without a job and worked for the late, hypercritical Henri Soule at Le Pavillon until most of the employees quit in a fit of temperance. Then Pepin started a 10-year stint with Howard Johnson's creating new food products such as beef burgundy.

"This was important. I learned the chemistry of cooking. In France, I knew when to tell someone to take something out of the oven but could not explain why. At Johns I learned about controlling bacteria business, marketing and how to get along with people."

As important Pepin is working on an advance degree at Columbia University. This would be impossible in France, he explains. "We in the kitchen worked in two shifts, 5 a.m. to 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. to 3 a.m. I never had time for school."

Longwood Mayor Resigns His Post

LONGWOOD — Mayor Robert Kalinoski, youngest chief executive in Seminole County, submitted his resignation from the post today, Kalinoski stated in his letter to members of City Council his "deep regret" in resigning from his company in Charlotte, N.C., which would make it impossible to continue as mayor.

"I have taken a position with my company in Charlotte, N.C., which would make it impossible to continue as mayor," he said. "I wish to thank all the people who elected me, and my fellow councilmen, for their support and help that I have received these past nine months. I hope in some way that I have contributed something to the city."

The resignation is to take effect Oct. 1. Since the resignation was submitted less than 90 days before the municipal election, it will not be necessary to hold a special election to fill the office.

The office of mayor and three council seats will be on the December ballot.

Kalinoski also returned today his written veto of the rezoning of the Consolidated Steel properties on SR 434 north of the main plant. The rezoning approved by the Council was from commercial to industrial. The veto is expected to be easily overridden by the Council.

The regular meeting of the City Council scheduled for tonight has been cancelled due to lack of a quorum. Councilman Agnes Weber and Sandra Thompson are on vacation and Council Chairman E. E. Williamson is ill.

3rd Man Held For Arson

A third suspect has been arrested on third degree arson charges in the aftermath of an Aug. 24 incident at Seminole High School in which attempt was made to burn a vehicle owned by an Orlando firm.

Daniel Eugene Ellington, 19, of 2333 E. Captain Drive, post-off 4801 bond, Wednesday and was released from county jail.

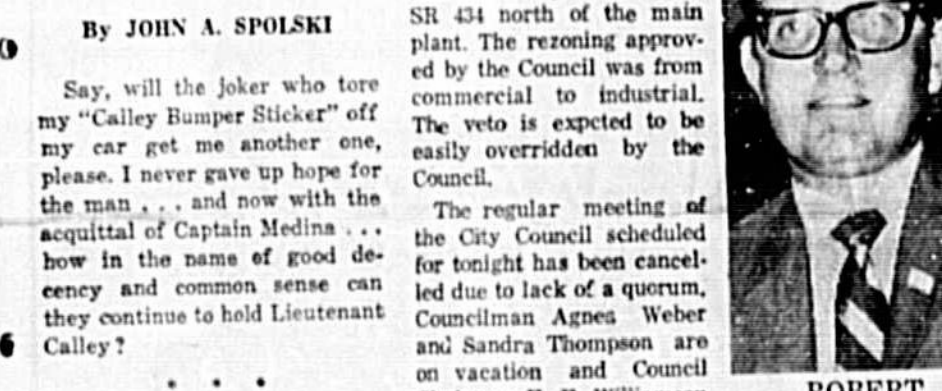

Robert William Morton, 19, and James William Markos, 21, same address as Ellington, degree arson charge, posted $501 bonds and were released.

In other county action, John George Grove, 24, a Fern Park plumber, was arrested on seven charges involving an automobile. His bond was set at total $13,200 for the following alleged offenses: Grand larceny — auto theft, reckless driving, failure to stop for a blue police light, attempting to elude police, failure to obey the order of a policeman, improper equipment and improper tag.

Grove was arrested by Deputy Constable Hal Granberry as he sat in a Caselberry bar.

County authorities are investigating the theft of $214 in plywood stolen from a building site at Trailwood Estates on SR 417 by two men who reportedly loaded the lumber onto a truck while Douglas Tompkins, contractor and lumber owner, watched at a distance.

Tompkins told Deputy Ronnie Miller he followed the truck to Wynore Road, where he drove alongside and, pointing a gun out the window, forced the pair to stop. Tompkins reported the two ran from the area leaving the truck and the plywood.

LONDON (AP) — Heathrow Airport officials went scurrying for their Bibles today when a Royal Air Force pilot brought down an Old Testament curse from the mid-Atlantic skies.

The VC10 pilot was on a planned nonstop flight from Newfoundland to London when he was asked to stop in Keflavik, Ireland, to pick up equipment.

"Deuteronomy, Chapter 27, Verse 18," the pilot read from the Bible.

Airport thunks flicked through the pages and got the message:

"Cursed be he that maketh the blind to wander out of the way."

FROM THE MAIL BAG: "Here's a little slogan for The Clock — Those love bugs sure know what airline to take... er, sicker!"

And if the power-tube are listening... from a Mr. Varner of Sanford, "I had some baby quail I was raising... fed 'em these love bugs... and they devoured the bugs with great zeal."

Maybe... just maybe this is the answer we've been looking for, eh?

Don't give me that all-outting treatment, either... all that does is attract the bugs to your car... and then you have remove 'em.

Of course, if you don't want them smashed onto your windshield, all you have to do is keep your speed under 30 miles per hour. (But, if you're driving in a 45 MPH zone, you'd better anticipate some nasty stars from those other motorists passing you not-to-mention some funny hand signals, too.)

Bernovich Testifies For Self Suspect Takes Stand

By MARION BETHA

Dennis Bernovich, 26, charged with the rape of a 19-year-old Sanford girl, took the stand in his own defense in Circuit Court this morning after the state rested its case at 5:30 p.m. yesterday.

Bernovich told of his activities on the night of May 1, saying he had spent the afternoon at the beach, came home at 5:30 p.m., lay down to rest and awakened between 8 and 8:30 p.m.

He continued he had experienced a vibration in his car while at the beach and took it to a service station on SR 434. He said that there was an attendant present whom he assisted in working on his car.

Present for details by defense attorney Gordon Frederick, he said he did not know the attendant's name nor his whereabouts. Bernovich said that he was wearing a uniform customarily worn at the service station in which he was employed, dark blue pants and light blue shirt.

He went on to say that his wife called at 9:30, saying she was with her sister-in-law and he left the station at 12 midnight, picked up his wife and went home.

Continuing, he said, they watched the late show on television and that he never left home. Bernovich identified the photos taken of his car at the same parked at his home that night.

"Not Prolific" directed the defendant's attention to a conversation with a brother-in-law of the victim when they were reading a newspaper account of the rape. Bernovich admitted he said he "could maybe handle one but not three women" as he was "not that good a man."

Bernovich explained that he meant he was not that "prolific." He further admitted he may have had a scratch on his face from athletic activities and also that his wife had given him a "kicker."

Bernovich testified he always wore glasses, having 20/300 vision in his right eye, and admitted participating in a voice lesson.

During cross examination, State Attorney Abbott Herring elicited statements from the defendant that his relatives, Gary Thomas and Kirk Riley, also participated in the voice lesson. Questioned by Herring if he had not hugged Riley and said, "You sounded just like me — the practice paid off," the defendant said he had just told Riley, "Instead of hugging me with rape they'll charge me — the practice paid off."

The defendant denied and Riley and Thomas mimicking his voice.

Slurs Spectators

In answer to a question by Herring as to surgical gloves, rope, knife and stocking mask which were removed from his car on June 6, Bernovich slurred the courtroom spectators by saying he put the items in his car because he intended to steal a top for his Corvette. Questioned by Herring as to the length of the rope cut in strips, Bernovich said he was going to tie the hinges around the door frames.

INTRIGUED by Editor John A. Spolski's one-man war on love... as perscribed by his blasts against love bugs in his "Around the Clock" column... Charlotte Donahoe came to the defense of the amorous creatures with this creation of a "Pecia Neretica" feasting on the nectar of a "mum. Mrs. Donahoe built this creation at her Sanford Flower Shop and Bill Vincent Jr. photographed the montage. Mrs. Donahoe also advises Spolski: "So you think 'Love Bugs' are bad this year? Just wait 'til next year!"

Two Commissioners Favor Redistricting

By BILL SCOTT

At least two of four Sanford city commissioners quizzed concerning their views on establishing residential districts for prospective candidates for the City Commission have indicated the arrangement would be acceptable to them.

Mayor Lee P. Moore and Commissioner W. Vincent Roberts have expressed themselves as favorable to the concept, which was first advanced by John Krider, member of the city charter revision committee, now in the process of devising a new charter to replace the present city governmental document that has been followed since 1940.

Local opposition to the change was heard from Commissioner Gordon Meyer. Commissioner J. H. Crapps did not offer a firm opinion, either way. Commissioner Julia Stenstrom was out of town and unavailable for comment.

Mayor Moore said he thought "serious thoughts" should be given to the concept. He added there is a closeness between the electorate and a commission when a person comes from geographic areas. "They feel he is their representative and bring their problems to him to solve," Moore concluded.

Roberts was "very much" in favor of the proposal, "I have been for this all along." He admitted there may be some bad sides to the districting idea, in that it would eliminate some people from running for office as they live in areas where commissioners already have been elected and would not be eligible to run in that district.

Candidates for the mayor's office could live any where in the city since they would run "at large," as provided in the Raborn Act, which was passed two years ago by the Legislature to give Sanforites the opportunity to choose their mayor by a vote of all the people.

Roberts stated that districts would give the city better representation from areas where there is not now a representative. He pointed out that as it stands now, he, Mayor Moore and Crapps would all be in the same district since all three live in the same section of the city and Moore and Crapps are close neighbors.

Meyer said he "didn't like the idea" and stated this arrangement would cut out qualified people from running for office. He said he did not feel that negroes were being eliminated from holding office under the present city election process.

Crapps said he "just didn't know at this time" what opinion he would hold on the proposal.

Krider said he would recommend that Sanford be divided into four districts when the charter revision committee finally completes its proposal for the Commission to either approve or disapprove.

If the commission approves the charter change from the present mayor-council form to a council city manager form, he will have to approve the charter in the Dec. 7 municipal election.

Speeders Given Warning

Constable Chester Boyd has announced his office will set up a visual average speed computer and recorder (VASCAR) in Oviedo, Tanglewood, Eastbrook and Chulavita as well as on Red Bug and Howell Branch Roads, Boyd said the increasing number of accidents, including injuries and fatalities, has prompted the decision to "crack down" on speed violators. He said no warning will be issued, only citations.

The VASCAR unit, first adopted by the Florida Highway Patrol, is an electronic transistorized computer which allows the police officer to measure accurately the distance between two points along a highway and to simultaneously measure the elapsed time between the two points. The speed is then electronically computed by VASCAR and appears on a digital meter.

A revolution in engineering. A revolution in quality.
