FORGOTTEN ANYTHING

THE CHURCH FOR ALL
 ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

No, not a single thing! Mom always shops carefully for her family. She watches their health. She makes sure they have a clean, comfortable home. She sees that they get practically anything they want. What more can she do?

Well, how about their spiritual well-being? A family needs a religious framework in which to develop moral responsibility and steadfast faith. If Mom and Dad set a fine example of Christian love and regular church attendance, the family cannot help but be influenced. Today's young people, strengthened and inspired by Church teachings, are the leaders that our country will need tomorrow.

Remember, Mom... "Man's life consists not in the abundance of things which he possesses." Don't deprive your family or yourself of the many precious values the Church can give.

LBJ Promises Young Americans Danger, Destiny

Must Share Sacrifices

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson today called on young Americans to advance the cause of freedom by sharing fully "in the responsibilities, the dangers and the passions of your time."

The President outlined the sacrifices and rewards of the Great Society in a speech at ceremonies marking the 100th anniversary of the University of Kentucky at Lexington.

The Great Society cannot be built by government alone, he declared. "It needs your sacrifice and effort."

Johnson told his audience at the university convocation that "we cannot and will not withdraw from this world. We are too rich, too powerful and too important. And we are too concerned."

The President emphasized that he was not speaking of foreign policy, although our relations abroad presented "grave and immediate issues."

He said he was speaking of the challenges to Americans today in domestic and foreign fields.

"We care that men are hungry—not only in Appalachia, but in Asia and Africa," he asserted.

"We care that men are oppressed—not only in this country but wherever a man is unjust to man."

"We care that men should govern themselves and shape their own destinies—not only in Kentucky but in every corner of every continent."

"We care for peace—not only for ourselves, but for every country torn by conflict."

Johnson warned young Americans they would inherit a world with the greatest danger, but also with "the most promising destiny in history."

"If you wish a sheltered and uneventful life, you are living in the wrong generation," he said.

"For only those who dare to fail greatly, can achieve much."

He added that American youth "will find meaning only by sharing in the responsibilities, the dangers and the passions of your time."

The Chief Executive and Mrs. Johnson attended services Sunday at historic Christ Church (Episcopal) across the Potomac in Alexandria, (Va.) where Washington worshipped.

Johnson sat in the same pew the first president occupied when he attended services.

The Rev. William Sydney Jr., rector of the 192-year-old church, said it was traditional to invite the President to the Sunday service nearest Washington's birthday.

EDWIN HUNT was appointed today by Gov. Haydon Burns to the Board of School Trustees of Seminole County. He succeeds Donald Bales, resigned when he was appointed by the Governor to the Seminole Board of Public Instruction.

Police Ready For 'War'

Black Muslims Blamed For Assassination

NEW YORK (UPI)—Heavy police reinforcements here and in Chicago moved in today to prevent war between Black Muslims and the followers of Malcolm X, the renegade Negro Nationalist leader assassinated Sunday.

Malcolm, ousted his apartment to Black Muslim leader Elijah Muhammad, was cut down by a hail of bullets as he spoke to his faithful at a rally. Police blamed the Black Muslim movement for the execution and said they feared violent reprisals by Malcolm's associates—especially in Chicago where Muhammad lives.

Extra police by the hundreds stood guard this morning in Harlem to stem inter-racial strife among the splintered Black Nationalists.

A special command post was set up in a park department building in Mt. Morris Park with equipment for instant phone and radio communication with every policeman in the racially seething section of Manhattan.

Not since rioters roared through Harlem's streets last summer had such emergency police measures been taken. Two tow trucks, emergency trucks, communications trucks and trucks loaded with wooden street barricades stood in readiness outside the Mt. Morris nerve center.

In Chicago, heavy patrols were stationed near Muhammad's home and other security measures were put in effect as a result of reports that six of Malcolm's associates, bent on revenge, left New York in separate automobiles heading in different directions.

At least two were believed en route to Chicago.

Early today, detectives booked on homicide charges a 22-year-old Negro who, they said, fired a sawed-off shotgun at Malcolm X Sunday as he arose in a Harlem auditorium to address 500 of his followers.

Malcolm, a Muslim defector and bitter foe of Muhammad, died in a hail of shotgun and pistol shots before the terrified audience, which included his hysterically screaming wife and at least one of their four daughters.

The police source said the two Chicago-bound allies of Malcolm were young mustachioed Negroes wearing turbans. One was described as the godfather to one of Malcolm's children.

The destinations of the other four followers of Malcolm, who reportedly left New York after his slaying, were not known.

Chicago police officials considered the report of the movement of the anti-Muslim nationalists as "speculative" but ordered heavy patrols near Muhammad's home and other security measures.

Federal agents also were reportedly investigating the interstate movements of the Malcolm aides.

His physicians declined to comment on his condition or the nature of his ailment. It is recalled, however, that Senator Dirksen was recently confined to his DeBary home with a back injury.

He returned to Washington when Congress convened and had taken an active role in governmental affairs prior to his latest hospitalization.

Road Program On Calendar

The county's road program for this year will be discussed at a meeting Tuesday noon of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce long range planning committee.

LEGISLATIVE proposals in general were discussed by Mrs. Robert Petree, vice president of Orange County Young Democrats at a meeting of state and district officers of the Democratic Women's Club of Florida Saturday at Casso Ferry. Burns At Rollins: Education Funds Hike 'Must'

WINTER PARK (UPI)—Increased funds for institutions of higher education in Florida, both private and public, are a must if the state is to fulfill its obligation to its youth, Gov. Haydon Burns said here today.

Burns was here to give a special convocation address commemorating the 80th anniversary of Rollins College, the state's oldest institution of higher education.

The Governor also was presented an honorary doctor of letters degree. He was one of five persons receiving honorary degrees at the special program.

Here in Florida, financial support from all available sources, public and private, must be greatly increased," Burns said. "Our objectives can be achieved only through vigorous, sustained and united effort based upon a deeper general understanding of the purposes and aspirations of American higher education."

Burns said all Floridians should give strong support to the role of private institutions of higher education in the total educational program of the state.

"A great and unique strength of American higher education stems from the historic co-existence of strong private institutions and strong public institutions," Burns said.

The Governor said there have been encouraging signs of increased co-operation and co-ordination in recent months between public and private institutions in the state.

"There needs to be more," he said.

Burns said that enrollment in high education facilities in Florida last fall totalled 116,000 students and said that this will be almost doubled by 1970.

"Never before has Florida, nor has any other state throughout this nation, faced such pressures for funds to support higher education," Burns said.

Khanh Wants Face-Saving Measures

SAIGON (UPI)—Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh agreed today to resign as South Viet Nam's military strongman but balked at demands of the powerful Armed Forces Council that he come to Saigon and put his resignation in writing.

Khanh was reported to have agreed early today to step down in a series of telephone conversations with the group of rebellious generals that had voted him out.

But he was said to be holding out at Yung Tau, 40 miles from Saigon, until some face-saving measure had been worked out for him.

The council sent a delegation to Yung Tau to try to convince Khanh to come here and officially resign as a preliminary to his departure from South Viet Nam.

Khanh was deposed as armed forces commander-in-chief by order of Chief of State Phan Khanh Sui Sunday.

At the same time he lost this position as chairman of the Armed Forces Council, which includes all of the country's top generals.

An American Embassy spokesman denied reports of involvement of the American mission here in the disappearance of some of the 14 persons implicated in the attempted coup last Friday.

The Armed Forces Council offered rewards for the 14, dead or alive.

Lt. Gen. Tran Van Minh, a Roman Catholic known as "Little Minh," was named to succeed Khanh in the powerful post of commander-in-chief after three days of coups, counter coups and the threat of full-scale war between feuding factions in the Vietnamese army.

Lakefront Topic Of City Meeting

City Commission had two business sessions slated today, one this afternoon and one this evening.

The afternoon session was to have been given over to the lakefront development proposal.

Zoning and possible parking changes will mark tonight's agenda.

Second reading of the ordinance to change bar closing hours will be heard along with an amendment to allow apartments in C-1 areas and zone an area at 27th Street and French Avenue to R-1. Several other miscellaneous items of business also are scheduled.

Suspects Held After Gunplay

OCALA (UPI)—Two men suspected in a post office break-in at Sharpes in Brevard County took a state trooper's car at gunpoint today and roared off in an exchange of gunfire.

The black and yellow patrol car was found abandoned two hours later and shortly afterward Robert F. Quinn, 20, of Cocoa, was captured near a horse farm.

Authorities closed in on the other man, identified by the patrol as Everett Thomas Rennie, 44, of Cocoa, with bloodhounds in a wooded area. Airplanes also were used in trying to locate the suspect, who was armed with a pistol.

Military Draft To Be Continued

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The once high hopes of ending the military draft appeared to be fading fast.

Precise proposals that will result from a year-long Defense Department study of military manpower are still largely speculative.

But the Pentagon apparently will have to recommend to President Johnson soon that the draft must be continued to maintain adequate armed forces.

Exposure Death Ruled Homicide

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI)—The death of a woman by exposure was ruled a homicide today by the commonwealth attorney's office.

Detectives said Mrs. Bernice White, 55, of Richmond, was pulled into a field by her heels and left to die Saturday.

Two men were seen dragging the woman for nearly a block, part of the way by her arms and the rest of the way into the field by her feet.

The state medical examiner said Mrs. White died of exposure but the prosecutor's office ruled the case a homicide.

Exhibition Game

An exhibition game for the benefit of the Sanford Church Basketball League is scheduled between the Church All-Stars and the Forest City Men's team at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday at the Edgewater High gym, in College Park at Orlando.

Incorporation Shelved In Lake Mary

By Frances Wester
The subject of incorporation came before the Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce at the February meeting. Discussion from the floor, however, resulted in vote of the membership to again shelve the issue for the present time.

General feeling of the group is that there is a need for a committee to be appointed to study pros and cons of incorporation and to keep informed of possible future action. It is expected that the time will come when people of the community must definitely decide for or against incorporation. Preliminary and continuing study by the committee will contribute toward a wiser decision at that time.

Persons interested in volunteering to serve on this committee are being asked to contact an Chamber officer or attend the March 4 meeting in the Lake Mary Fire Hall.

Plans and plants for four beautification areas in the county were accepted this morning by the beautification committee of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

Work is expected to start as soon as the State Road Department gives its official okay.

The committee, headed by John Alexander, met with L. K. Thompson of the SRD beautification and landscaping division, who drew up the plans.

Affected at once in the program will be the lakefront, the interchange at Interstate 4 and Highway 1792, the "islands" at Highway 434 and 1792 at Casselberry.

Sanford Moose To Dedicate New Home Sunday

Dedication of the Sanford Moose Home flagpole, one of more than 300 to be presented in the state by Herb C. Romines of Ocala in the name of Loyal Order of Moose, will take place Sunday at 2:30 p. m. in conjunction with formal dedication ceremonies for the new home, 2600 South Palmetto Avenue.

Romines, a member of the Ocala Moose Lodge since 1948, is widely-known for his hobby of constructing and presenting flagpoles on behalf of the Moose to non-profit organizations, churches, state, county and city offices through the state to promote display of the American flag.

Romines received his Fellowship Degree in 1951 and in 1960 the highest honor of the order, the Pilgrim Degree, was bestowed upon him. Such honorary degrees are merits earned by outstanding humanitarian deeds for others.

Romines' first flagpole was presented to Greenville Elementary School in Ocala. His latest, one to the Salvation Army in Ocala, was dedicated Jan. 26 as a memorial to W. M. (Shorty) Davidson, developer of Silver Springs. His largest, erected at the entrance of Silver Springs, stands 100 feet high and is inscribed on top with the letters "SBA" (God Bless America).

A reward for his patriotic project came Aug. 25, 1959, when he received a citation from J. George Stewart, architect of the nation's capital, and a flag which had flown over the Capitol in Washington, D. C.

As a side project, Romines has completed 12 play parks for children, the first being constructed at the Greenville School.

In addition, preparations at this time are well underway for his third trip to Moosehead, child city of the Moose, with a truck load of oranges donated by Florida citrus growers. Accompanying him to Indiana, to make the presentation will be several cars of Moose members from Central Florida lodges.

He also, for the past 15 years, has supplied Moosehaven, city of contentment for elderly Moose members at Orange Park, with watermelons donated by growers in Marion County.

Impossible?

In 1776 the Second Continental Congress called upon George Washington to take command of the tattered, ragged American troops and whip the mighty British army. This was like telling Casey Stengel to take the New York Mets and win the pennant.

Washington carried out the assignment by doing the impossible. By doing it, he established an American tradition that has carried this country through many a tight squeak.

As we observe Washington's 233rd birthday anniversary on Feb. 22, it is well to remember not only the magnificent contributions he made to his country's welfare, but the personal sacrifices he incurred in making them.

He was a rich man. He could have lived in ease and high comfort. Instead, he chose to suffer hardships almost beyond human endurance. He was sniped at almost as much by his own people as by the British soldiers. He was subjected to treason, abuse, jealousy, personal treachery, physical discomfort, violent criticism and maddening apathy.

But he stuck it out, and won. His passion for freedom, loyalty to his country and dedication to public service were invincible.

He set a pattern for other great American leaders who were to follow. Without him and them, where would this country be?

As the first commander of the American army and the first president of the United States, George Washington earned the title of Father of His Country.

He was even more than that. He was a real American—not only one of the first, but one of the greatest.

Long Haul For Reds

It has often been pointed out that communism has many superficial resemblances to a religion, with its own holy books, dogmas and saints. It now appears that the Red Chinese are writing their own version of the Apocalypse of St. John.

Warnings of grave threats to the Communist faith of the people—lasting even unto the fifth or 10th generation—were voiced recently by Lu Ding-yi, the party's propaganda director.

"Capitalist elements" are very active and influential in many areas of Chinese life, he said, repeating an official forecast that China may not become a completely Communist society for 800 years.

Until then there will be continuous revolution against "imperialists, landlords, rich peasants and rightists of the bourgeoisie." Lu Ding-yi warned against the anti-Marx and of the hopes of the above-mentioned elements that modern revisionists like Khrushchev will appear in the third or fourth generations to restore capitalism.

This is one Communist prediction that ought to come true.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The anguish of the government goes on. This is their reason to worry about getting more money.

Only four days apart, Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown of California and Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York thumped out 1965-66 budget messages which call for a combined outlay of $7.5 billion.

This total—$4 billion in California and $3.5 billion in New York—surpasses the federal budget in three of Franklin D. Roosevelt's seven previous years. It almost matches U.S. outlays in a fourth year of that span.

Brown's message particularly has about it a somewhat plaintive, pleading quality. It seems to cry for understanding by legislators and voters, of the continuing necessity for larger money demands.

Lying behind every line of this 18-page fiscal recital is the dilemma faced not only by Brown but also by virtually all governors. The question is how to survive politically while meeting the rising burdens imposed by a spiraling population.

Brown struggled to make it all somewhat more bearable: "Making a budget in a growing, dynamic state like California... is a demanding and not always pleasant task.

"Scarce dollars are a strangely inhuman and limiting measure of human need. And tax systems, complex and distracting in their endless variations on who should pay what share of the costs of civilization, tend to obscure the fact that taxes often open the way for human opportunity and human aspiration.

"Nonetheless, it is the budget with its hard-won balance between taxes and appropriations that is democracy's most vital operating document."

One thing that emerges with fresh force from these whopping California and New York budgets: The big urbanized states are really money brokers for their cities and towns.

In California's case, two-thirds of proposed 1965-66 outlays for current operations are marked for assistance to local governments. Much of this is for school aid. The percentages in New York are virtually identical. Education is, of course, the

Dr. Max Rafferty is a patriot in the field of modern education who is stopping the sabotage of our schools. For he believes we should lead great heroes like George Washington, Nathan Hale, John Paul Jones et al. Beware of repeating the mistakes of its members are against the freedoms granted us by our U. S. Constitution!

CASE V-419: Dr. Max Rafferty is the remarkable Superintendent of Public Instruction for the state of California.

He has caused tremendous debate in educational circles by urging the history teachers to laud American patriots, such as George Washington, Patrick Henry, Benjamin Franklin et al.

In fact, he even insists that "horse sense" be used in the methods by which children are taught the basic tools of the mind, namely, reading, writing and arithmetic.

Instead of the funderal that has paraded as education for the last generation, Dr. Rafferty demands that children be taught to pronounce syllables as they learn to read.

A generation ago Dr. Rafferty would have considered the typical educational leader, but sad changes have intervened.

Starting in our colleges, a

Dr. Crane's

subtle shift occurred so that prospective teachers were urged to minimize American patriots who sacrificed their lives to give us this great Republic.

So we have seen a trend to laud England and Europe and sell America short. Thus, we have seen our children brainwashed in favor of a World Government that supersedes our own Republic.

"Patriotism makes children too nationalistic," one such history professor stated, "and thus they will not submit as readily to the wise dictates of the United Nations Council."

But let's face facts, for a change, and quit accepting such unpatriotic remarks.

When Luis Kutner, able former Yale law professor, wrote his remarkable book in 1962, entitled "World Habeas Corpus," he reports that there were then 102 nations in the UN.

"But 72 of those 102," says Prof. Kutner, "don't even grant habeas corpus to their own citizens."

Yet habeas corpus is the symbol of legal freedom in any country, for if you can't have access to a lawyer and demand freedom on bail prior to a trial, you can be struck away in a dungeon and ignored for years without even being given a chance to prove your innocence!

Doesn't it make your patriotic blood boil to think our educators have been so brainwashed regarding the United Nations as to assume that the UN should supersede the U. S. Constitution?

If 72 of those 102 members in 1962 (now there are 113) thus deprived their own citizens of habeas corpus, plus freedom from unwarranted search and seizure, as well as free speech, etc., why should we respond such sublime (and naive) faith in a despotic body where almost 75 per cent of its members subscribe to dictatorship of the Hitler variety?

George Washington would abhor the way we have let such alien doctrines be allowed in the schoolroom to brainwash our children.

Modern history books delete the immortal words of Nathan Hale, who said prior to his death:

"I only regret that I have but one life to lose for my country."

And John Paul Jones, with his ship afire and sinking, when ordered to surrender by the rival British Captain, replied:

"Sir, I have not yet begun to fight."

Then he lashed his ship to the British vessel, boarded the latter and captured the crew, but modern historians delete these patriotic stories. Why? Dr. Rafferty thinks our children should be inspired by such heroism!

Phil Newsom Says

Vo Nguyen Giap

UPI Foreign News Analyst

In the early morning moonlight of May 7, 1954, Vietnamese rebels outnumbering their French foes by five-to-one began their final assault on the mountain-rimmed fortress of Dien Bien Phu.

When Dien Bien Phu fell after 52 hours of human wave assault, it marked the end of 55 days of siege and the end of French power in Indochina.

In seven and a half years the French had lost an estimated 100,000 men and spent $5 billion. In addition, the United States had contributed $2 billion.

The author of the rebel strategy was a man named Vo Nguyen Giap, of whom few Americans ever have heard and couldn't remember his name if they had.

But upon Vo Nguyen Giap may depend the future of the struggle in Viet Nam today, whether the war is to be extended or whether there is to be a cease-fire and then a negotiated settlement.

It also provides an important historical link between Dien Bien Phu and today.

It was he who directed the strategy against the French then and who today, as Communist North Viet Nam's defense minister, directs the attack against the Americans in South Viet Nam. He also has an important political voice in the Communist drive to destroy the government of South Viet Nam.

In the war against France, Giap played heavily upon the weariness of the French people at home with the long and expensive Indochinese war. He also sought victory before the United States could intervene.

Militarily, Giap has written that "wars of liberation" such as resulted in the Communist take-over of mainland China and now being fought in South Viet Nam progress naturally from a scattered guerrilla action to attack by organized military units.

Events in South Viet Nam indicate he now believes the second phase has been reached.

Dick West's The Lighter Side

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Every one knows that folk music has been getting increasingly specialized. But I didn't realize just how specialized until the other day when I ran across an album of folk music for doctors.

These songs were written by a doctor in Springfield, Mo., and not just a general practitioner.

The composer, Dr. James

T. Brown, is a vascular specialist. Whatever that is, Dr. Brown began writing medical folk songs about seven years ago for the entertainment of his colleagues. They made such a hit, his local medical society had some of them recorded, and has been selling the albums to raise funds for its scholarship foundation. Dr. Brown's talents as a lyricist are such that he is now widely recognized in the medical profession as a sort of Hamlet of the hypodermic. Or maybe an Irving Berlin of the bedpans.

Anyway, when a physician I know mentioned the recordings to me, I ordered a set of them and on a recent evening, during the cultural hour at my house, I gave them a hearing.

In the quaint and earthy idiom of the folk artist, Dr. Brown examines some of the problems with which the poor downtrodden physician is cursed. And in some cases, FOR which he is cursed.

I particularly admired a touching little ballad called "I'll Try To Say No," better known as "The House Call Song."

Dr. Brown also wrings a lot of emotion from his hymn to the diagnostician titled "It Must Be A Virus," or "Stalling the Art of Medicine."

The layman might find some of his lyrics a bit esoteric, the terminology being rather technical. For example, when he recommended a certain type of incision "for those who think young," I didn't get the point.

But everyone can appreciate the tender sentiment of such lines as "If you think your life is void — you should have a hemorrhoid." When folk music is written from the heart, its message is universal.

Lake Mary Seeks Rights Of Way For Paving

By Frances Wester
The Road Committee of the Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce has been reactivated under the chairmanship of Donald Jackson and plans were made last week by the group to call on those individuals this week whose signatures are needed for gaining the necessary rights of way for paving Lake Mary Boulevard from Ninth Street to Interstate 4.

Other members of the committee are Richard Keogh, Jim Daughtrey, Otis Sjoblom, W. C. Hopkins, Jimmy Jones and Clarence Donaldson.

They have been furnished with an up-to-date status report with names of the residents to be contacted. The signed deeds will be turned over to the county and work can start on the paving job immediately. The money was allocated by the county for this paving last October and all that is keeping them from going ahead are the needed rights of way.

Residents are urged to consider the fact that Lake Mary is right in the middle of the nine-mile stretch of Interstate 4 that has no access which this area needs. Delay in getting the rights of way is keeping the county from getting the access since the state will do nothing until there is a paved road to the highway.

The art of making arrangements and corsages was demonstrated for members of the Bear Lake Garden Circle by Mrs. Mable Crittenden, florist, at the February meeting of the group held at the home of Mrs. Richard Ostrander in Bear Lake.

Following the demonstration, the group made final plans for its exhibit, "English Garden, 1763," at the Central Florida Fair which opens Thursday.

Named as a nominating committee to recommend a slate of officers for March elections were Mrs. Vernon Gleeves, chairman, and Mrs. C. C. Jones and Mrs. Albert Jacobs.

Guests at the meeting, other than Mrs. Crittenden, were Mrs. M. Ellis and Mrs. D. Stevenson.

Next meeting will be March 16 with location to be announced.

27 New Cardinals Nominated By Pope

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Pope Paul VI today officially nominated 27 new cardinals in the first consistory of his reign.

The historic ceremony raised membership in the college of cardinals to an all-time high of 103.

The new "princes of the church" include Archbishop Lawrence Shehan, of Baltimore, Md., and Archbishop Josef Beran—a Czechoslovak prelate who was held behind the Iron Curtain for the past 16 years.

Today's secret ceremony swept aside some of the centuries-old tradition surrounding new cardinals and several changes will be made Thursday in a public consistory in the splendor of St. Peter's Basilica. Two other rites were eliminated.

The move to de-emphasize pomp is part of the Pope's campaign to modernize the church in the spirit of the Ecumenical Council.

The Vatican announced the names of the 27 new cardinals on Jan. 25 and today's consistory was the opening ceremony in four days of rites formally elevating them.

Existing members of the college assembled in the Hall of Consistories, taking their places in red pews spread like a fan before the raised papal throne.

The pontiff, wearing white vestments, took his place on the throne and, with the traditional cry of "extra omnes" (exit ye all) by the prefect of ceremonies, all those not involved in the consistory left the room.

Wright, Aides To Tour State

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—State Industrial Commission leaders began a two-week long tour of their South Florida offices today to explain new policy for employees under the Burns administration.

Commission Chairman J. D. Wright Jr. said the visits to offices from Fort Pierce southward will be to "meet new employees and to explain in greater detail what 'company policy' is."

Wright said the group would discuss attorneys fees set in workmen's compensation cases and make sure all employees are aware of the various rules and regulations governing their conduct.

Winning Essay

Communism Defeats Self

Editors Note: Winning entry in an American Legion sponsored essay contest at South Seminole Junior High School, submitted by Larry Rodd, is reprinted here in its entirety:

MY CHALLENGE TO COMMUNISM

By Larry Rodd

In my opinion Communism is the greatest threat to our Democratic Society. Our way of life is based on people who have in the past, are presently, and shall in the future, protect and preserve it to the best of their ability, no matter what the costs. As a member of this way of life, which I love, it is my duty to protect it against this threat.

My plan of attack against this threat is three-fold: (1) Study Communism and ascertain its weaknesses; (2) Plan my approach against this threat especially at its weaknesses; (3) Carry out my plans to the best of my resources and rally my fellowmen.

Communism "is a system of social organization based on common property and equal distribution of income and wealth," says Encyclopedia Britannica. Communism is a completely theoretical situation. Proof of this is found in the well-known fact that there is a ruling class which is wealthier than the common class. Thus, the Communist idea, as all tyrannies do, defeats its own purpose.

Besides this weakness I find two main weaknesses in the structure of the Communist society.

Truly, the most imminent of these two weaknesses is that which has plagued and banished all tyrannical or unjust societies in the history of our planet—lack of spiritual basis. I quote a statement from Encyclopedia Britannica, "Marx" (founder of the Communist movement) "found the basis for the movement no longer in the religious or ethical assumptions but in the new social sciences." In my opinion, of all the necessities of mankind, spiritual needs rank first. Verification of these words is found in the Bible and world history.

The second important weakness of Communism lies in the fact that it lacks satisfaction of the physical and mental needs of a human being. Some instances of this weakness are: (1) There is no direct incentive to work. For example, if they work harder, they usually will not get a new house or more money; (2) The people of a society can't voice their opinions against such things as poor working conditions. In other words, they have little representation in their government; (3) The people live in constant fear that they may have "offended" their government and may be killed as a traitor without a fair trial (if a trial at all).

Now that I've an idea of the enemy's weaknesses, I must present my approach to the challenge of Communism:

I am: (1) I shall endeavor to keep myself morally and spiritually strong; (2) I shall be a loyal citizen to my country; (3) I shall do my best in school so as to prepare for the future when I shall be a more influential member of my country; (4) I'll keep myself informed of current events; (5) I'll keep in good physical condition, and, (6) I shall try to influence my fellowmen in the right way so that he too may join in this fight to defeat that which tries to defeat us—Communism.

Snakes are deaf, though they can receive vibrations from the ground, so the music of snake charmers doesn't affect them.

DEAR ABBY: I don't know whether you feel sorrier for ABOUT HAD IT or his wife for being married to such a milquetoast. He cries that she won't "let" him go deer hunting, although he always loved to. And you, of course, advised him to knuckle under. It is about par for the course in this female-dominated society for the woman to simmer her way to the altar while plotting how to remold her man as soon as he slips the ring on her finger. I do not hunt and I am happily married (as is my wife). And you, Dear Abby, are guilty of a bum piece of advice in this instance, which goes to the heart of something far more important than the question of deer hunting.

DEAR PARTNER: Bum advice? I certainly would hesitate to advise a man who wants to hunt, but doesn't because his wife won't "let" him, to go anyway. She might turn out to be a better shot than he is.

They were both in their late 30's and my stepmother wasn't able to have children of her own. I signed some papers, so I imagine my child was legally adopted by them. I

"I have no style sense at all and I must look well to attend my son's wedding in New York City in April. I am tall, not overweight and my brown hair is the same color as it was before it turned gray. My skin is fair, eyes brown; in fact, my skin is rather ruddy. The wedding is at noon, and a big luncheon follows at a fashionable hotel. My husband and I will fly and stay at that hotel. The girl has no family and lives with another career girl at present. — Mom."

As April is a spring month, I suggest a soft wool Chanel-type jacket suit in navy blue or soft gray wool. Select a small hat to match or harmonize with whatever color you decide to buy. All accessories should match. If you have a fur stole, be sure to bring it. New York can be chilly in April. Pearls at your throat and long gloves will complete whatever you wear. Your husband should wear a dark business suit in a color to match your suit. Also a gray tie, white shirt, highly-polished black shoes and, of course, black socks. A topcoat is quite necessary. Your son will probably send you a corsage, but tell him the color of your outfit so the corsage will "go with" it.

"I am a very active club woman and am being honored at a large luncheon in March. I am a big woman, with gray hair, and am very plain. I do not care about fashion, but I realize that a very nice outfit is what I need. The lunch is at noon, with a reception until four.—C. W."

to find a fourth trick. A brief review of the bidding will tell him that there is no chance to collect a trick in either red suit. South has bid four spades all by himself and certainly has at least six spades in his hand. He has shown up with three clubs and therefore can't hold more than four red cards and dummy has four top cards in the red suits.

Thus the only possible trick is in trumps and West can make a trump trick if he can get his partner to trump the lead of a fourth club with the king, queen or jack of spades. West must lead the last club and if East is smart enough to trump with the jack he will force South to use up one of his high honors and West's ten spot will take the setting trick.

We The Women:

A high school in the Houston, Tex., area recently designated a certain Wednesday as "Dress-up Day." Students were urged to wear their "Sunday best" — suits, white shirts and ties for the boys, pretty dresses and "heels" for the girls.

Dress-up Day was such a success that the school has decided to make it a once-a-month affair. Said one girl, "I think the purpose of all this is so everyone can see each other dressed up."

Now wouldn't it be fine if neighborhood shopping centers would take a tip from these young people and designate one day of EACH WEEK as "Dress-up Day?"

After all, the women who see each other daily at shopping centers, and nowhere else, don't have the foggiest notion of how each looks dressed like a lady.

Mrs. A usually does her shopping and marketing with the necessity of having to dress up a bit before taking off for their shopping centers shouldn't deter them.

Time was when housewives wouldn't have been caught dead looking the way most look today while out doing the family buying.

One dress-up day a week ought to make today's housewife realize how little trouble it is to dress up a bit before being seen in public.

Mrs. Bertha David Honored On 90th Birthday

In a setting surrounded by magnificent floral tributes, Mrs. Bertha V. David graciously received approximately 300 friends from far and near on the afternoon of February 18, 1965 with the charm and poise of a royal queen. A white orchid corsage pinned to her exquisite lace stole further added to her dignity and elegance as she welcomed her friends at an open house commencing her 90th birthday.

The refreshment table, overlaid with imported white lace, was centered with a six tiered all white cake adorned with white roses and white candles and topped with the figure "90" in red, with red satin ribbon forming a large bow. Surrounding the cake were lovely camellia blossoms placed at intervals on the lace surface.

A crystal punch bowl at one end of the table contained sparkling red punch. A heart-shaped ice mold of red roses. At the opposite end of table coffee was poured from antique silver service with silver appointments used to serve an assortment of dainty bon bons, mints and toasted nuts.

The credenza was centered with a splendid low arrangement of red roses in a silver container accented on either side by three branched silver candelabra holding tall crimson tapers. In addition to the many baskets of cut flowers the honoree received, other beautiful arrangements enhanced the decor of the receiving area.

Assisting the hostesses were Mrs. Raymond Herron, Mrs. T. F. McDaniel, Mrs. F. D. Hickok, Mrs. Jack Martin (great niece of Mrs. David), Mrs. Roger Harris, Mrs. Albert Jarrell and Mrs. Joe Jarrell.

Also assisting were four of the honoree's granddaughters, Mrs. Bryon Maharry, Ft. Myers; Mrs. Gaylon Culberhouse, Ft. Lauderdale; Mrs. Frank Voltoline and Miss Anna Lea Herman, Sanford.

Soft background organ music featuring songs of yesterday was furnished by Mrs. Robert Bennett during the entire afternoon.

Mrs. David is a pioneer of Seminole County and has been a life long member of the Methodist Church. She is the mother of nine children, seven still living. She has 17 grandchildren, 32 great grandchildren and three great great grandchildren.

Highlighting the afternoon was the Reverend Robert M. Jenkins, minister of the First Methodist Church, reading a letter to Mrs. David on her 90th birthday from her many church friends with the following excerpt: "Recognizing that you have been our guiding light for many years and have been an inspiration to us all, we your children, your friends and your neighbors want especially to recognize your inspiration to us all on your birthday."

"We have therefore taken the necessary steps to install a neon cross atop the dome of your church, First Methodist Church. We feel it will always be a reminder to us of the guidance you gave us and of the guide who inspired you these many years of abundance upon God's earth. It will also help the weary traveler who in the darkness can look to your church for guidance and strength."

"May we wish you a happy birthday in this special way. May it say continually that we love you, respect you and the Christ you adore."

Thus the memory of a great lady, Mrs. Bertha V. David will shine continually, not only through this monumental honor, but also through the magnitude of strength and faith she has so humbly shared with her fellow Christians all these years.

CHICAGO (UPI) — One old idea's fast becoming the newest thing around the contemporary home.

It's decorative beads made of modern materials, new permanent stringing the latest colors. Some beaded curtain materials, set to make their debut at the Russ Stonier Designs showroom in the Merchandise Mart, can be bought by the yard. Used to dress up plain shower curtains, make exotic vanity skirts, disguise storage areas or create instant art for unadorned walls.

Remove crumbs from toaster with a soft brush and wipe the crumb tray with a sudsy sponge.

MRS. BERTHA DAVID observed her 90th birthday, Thursday, February 18, 1965 with an open house reception given in her honor by her four daughters at the Mayfair home of Mrs. Harold Appleby. Shown with their mother from the left are Mrs. Richard Berry, Ft. Myers, Mrs. Appleby, Mrs. David, honoree, Mrs. Bess Herman and Mrs. J. M. Leonard.

Three Business Women Welcomed By BPW Club

The Sanford Business and Professional Women's Club recently held its February dinner meeting at the Lake Monroe Inn with a highly interesting and informative program being furnished by H. C. Echelberger and guest, Richard W. A. Davis, of Palm Beach, on "Investments."

Mr. Davis presented a film which had been shown earlier in the day to the Kiwanis Club and then with Mr. Echelberger (Sanford manager for B. C. Morton Company) conducted a forum with members participating.

The program was such a fascinating one that the hour of adjournment was much later than usual.

One of the highlights of the evening was the proud announcement that three new members have been welcomed into the club—Mrs. Doris Williams, society editor of The Sanford Herald; Mrs. Polly Jones, supervisor of the Credit Bureau of Sanford and Seminole County, and Mrs. Irene Laney, secretary for Dr. Edwin L. Lindsey.

In addition Mrs. Lorraine Graham of the Tuberculosis and Health Association has rejoined the club as a regular member.

Garden Circles

CENTRAL FLORIDA

Mrs. R. W. Turner was hostess recently at her Park Avenue home to the regular meeting of The Central Circle of the Garden Club of Sanford. Mrs. A. F. Collum assisted Mrs. Turner as co-hostess.

Mrs. G. L. Fugate and Mrs. R. C. Rhodes were welcomed as guests.

Everyone was urged to make an entry in the forthcoming flower show. It was pointed out at the meeting that if all members would read the instructions carefully, they would no doubt discover an entry in their own yards.

Members were also reminded of the Garden Club Card Party February 23 at the Woman's Club.

Simmer, don't boil, if your aim is a hard-cooked egg. Simmering promotes a firm, tender white with a smooth yolk. Rapid boiling means a mealy yolk and a tough white.

George Was Fond Of Beer, Mount Vernon Short Ribs

Some historians may have doubts about George Washington and his father's cherry tree. But they do know that he gave many parties at Mount Vernon, had a Pennsylvania Dutch cook and was very fond of beer. In fact, he had a brew house on his Potomac plantation.

To celebrate Washington's Birthday, try this Pennsylvania Dutch recipe reminiscent of meals served at Mount Vernon. Cherry pie? Why, of course. Even historians enjoy cherry pie.

SHORT RIBS MOUNT VERNON ($ or 6 servings)

- 1/2 cup flour
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1/2 tsp. pepper
- 4 pounds beef short ribs, cut in 3-inch pieces
- 2 tbsps. butter or margarine
- 2 medium onions, chopped
- 1/4 cup unsharpened molasses
- 1/4 cup ketchup
- 3 tbsps. vinegar
- 1 can (12 ounces) beer or ale
- 1/2 tsp. Tabasco
- 6 whole carrots, scraped and cut in thirds

Combine flour, salt and pepper; roll short ribs in mixture. Heat butter in Dutch oven or heavy kettle. Add ribs and brown on all sides. Remove ribs; add onion and cook until tender, but not brown. Add molasses, ketchup, vinegar, beer and Tabasco; mix well. Return short ribs. Simmer 1 1/2 to 2 hours, until short ribs are tender. Remove short ribs; skim fat from liquid. Return short ribs with carrots; cook until carrots are tender, 15 to 20 minutes.

Navy's Mission In State Told To Lawmakers

By Harry I. Johnson

What the Navy does for Florida and what Florida can do for the Navy were spelled out Friday afternoon at a top-level briefing at Sanford Naval Air Station.

Meeting at the base were state legislators and members of the Florida Chamber of Commerce military affairs committee.

They heard reports from the state's highest ranking Navy officer and then witnessed one of the most spectacular air demonstrations ever staged at the local base.

Speaking were Vice Adm. A. E. Heyward Jr., chief of naval air training at Pensacola; Rear Adm. Robert Goldthwaite, commander of Fleet Air, Jacksonville; and Rear Adm. T. A. Christopher, commander of the Key West force.

Each spelled out the duties of their respective station and told of the economic impact on the state.

Admiral Heyward explained how his officers and crew train flyers and support personnel; Admiral Goldthwaite told of his Jacksonville military complex, one which includes the local station, and Admiral Christopher told of his role at the "Gibraltar on the Gulf."

Capt. Chandler W. Swanson, commanding officer of the local station, welcomed the estimated 200 visitors and pointed to the hot RASC Vigilante as the best aircraft of its type in the world.

He also expressed warm approval of the community-Navy relations and declared it "un-surpassed anywhere."

After the briefings by the admirals, Capt. James O. Mayo, commander of Reconnaissance Attack Wing One, showed slides of a Vigilante as it approached a carrier and explained what the visitors would see when they visited the flight line.

There they watched simulated takeoffs and landings on carriers, air refueling and a demonstration of the capabilities of the aircraft, some of which were flown here from Key West, Jacksonville and Pensacola for the afternoon.

FLORIDA Legislators and members of the State Chamber of Commerce's military affairs committee are shown arriving at Sanford Naval Air Station for their briefing on the economic impact of the Navy to the state. The group arrived in several buses escorted by members of the Florida Highway Patrol and, as (lower photo) with State Rep. S. J. Davis Jr. (left) and Sen. Mack N. Cleveland Jr., listened to top Navy officers in the state.

House Number Survey Set In Lake Mary

The House Numbering Project set for Lake Mary by the Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce is now in full swing with the survey scheduled to start this Friday and continue through Sunday, by Girl Scout Troop 557 with cooperation of Boy Scout Troop 242.

Final plans for the survey were drawn up at the board of directors meeting held last week at the home of Donald Jackson, chairman, on Broadmore Drive. Jackson will meet with the Girl Scouts this week to give them further instructions.

Jimmy Jones, chairman of this special committee, has the prepared maps numbered and broken down into areas, and the survey papers with the questions to be answered. This work must be done in preparation for getting all the houses numbered. The project is needed now for giving directions and it also will be needed for future delivery of mail.

The dividing line will be the center of town at the main corner by the IGA Store with numbers starting from there going north, east, south, and west. Posters have been prepared and are on display throughout Lake Mary.

The Girl Scout Troop participating in the survey is under the leadership of Mrs. Marti Dankle, and the Boy Scout Troop which volunteered to help is directed by Scoutmaster Roy L. Howell Jr.

There are 20 stations, including sub-stations in the Florida Agricultural Experiment Station System employing a total of 372 research scientists. This year (1965) is the 75th year of operation of the Experiment Station System.

The Central Florida Experiment Station on Celery Avenue was established in 1933 for the purpose of finding the cause and developing a remedy for cracked stem disease of celery.

In 1935, two years after work was begun at the Central Florida Station farmers were successfully using 10 pounds of borax per acre for the control of cracked stem of celery.

The first experiments with DDT for the control of corn earworm were conducted at the Central Florida Experiment Station. The use of DDT for corn earworm control made the present $10.5 million a year sweet corn crop possible.

Horticulturalists working at the Central Florida Experiment Station have found that applications of chelated iron will reduce injury caused by excessive copper accumulations in old celery fields.

A new variety of cantaloupe named "Seminole" was developed at the Central Florida Experiment Station. Seminole, made available to growers in 1960, is superior to other varieties in table quality, resistance to downy and powdery mildews, and in yield of marketable melons per acre.

Field experiments initiated at the Central Florida Experiment Station resulted in the release of the "Floradrag" blackberry in 1958. This and other blackberry varieties being developed hold promise of becoming one of Central Florida's profitable small fruit crops.

Work at the Central Florida Experiment Station resulted in the release in 1962 of the "Florolou" tomato. Florolou is a high yielding disease resistant tomato having excellent table qualities.

Work conducted at the Central Florida Experiment Station first demonstrated that there are a number of plant parasitic nematodes that attack vegetable crops and reduce yields. Soil fumigation has been developed for the control of these microscopic worms called nematodes.

The control of black heart of chery by foliar spraying with soluble calcium was first developed at the Central Florida Experiment Station.

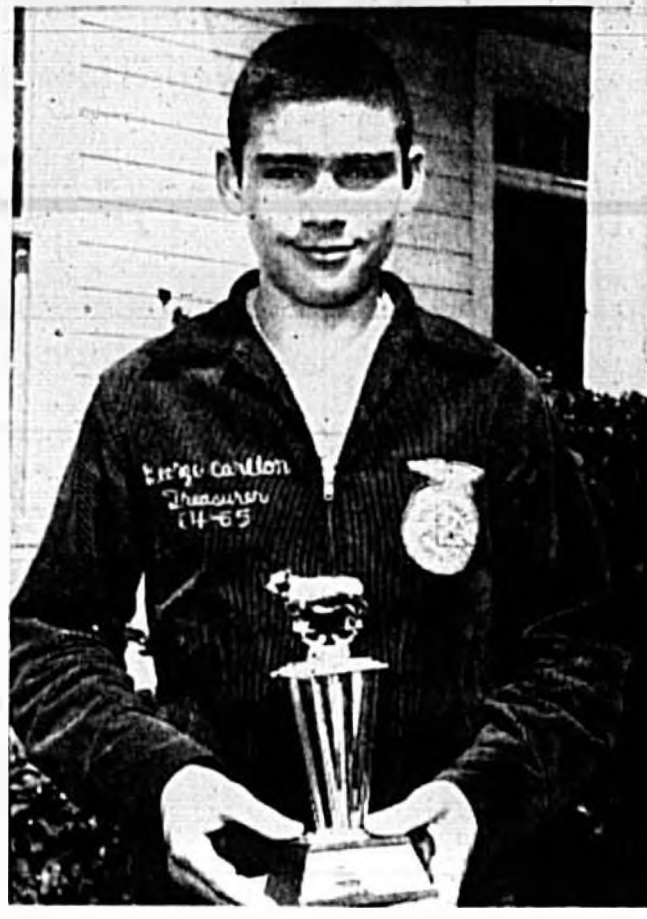

Staff members of the Central Florida Experiment Station developed improved fertilization practices for spinach resulting in 300 per cent increase in yield of fresh spinach in the Zellwood area.

Research at the Central Florida Experiment Station determined that excessive soluble salts cause undesirable physiological conditions in vegetables which can be controlled by correct use of fertilizers and irrigation water.

The investigation of promising new crops is one of the Central Florida Experiment Station's most important projects. Peach is one of these new crops receiving considerable attention at the present time. Other crops being investigated include safflower, chayote, parsnips, garbanzo beans, dahseens and willow chichory.

Research at the Central Florida Experiment Station has resulted in highly increased yields of commercial cadmium tubers as a result of weed and nematode control.

Research conducted at the Central Florida Experiment Station on varieties of soybean adapted to muck soils of Florida, methods of insect control and methods of weed control have added another very promising crop to the list farmers may grow for profit.

Certain City Bars Win Late Closings

A new city ordinance, permitting restaurants which seat more than 200 persons to remain open until 2 a. m. every night except Sunday was passed and adopted by Sanford city commissioners in regular session Monday at City Hall.

The action puts city bars on a par with establishments in the county and surrounding counties which observe the later closing hours.

Commissioners approved a request by Mrs. Doris Mason to allow her to re-open her beauty shop, denied a request for extension of time on the molition of two buildings owned by Mrs. Arzenia Constantine at 703 West Ninth Street and 212 West Fourth Street and authorized City Manager W. E. Knowles to proceed with razing.

Approved settlement of the sewer treatment plant contract and authorized a plaque to be prepared.

Set public hearings on March 8 to rezone the block between Oak Avenue and Myrtle Avenue from 25th Street to Park Drive from C-1 to C-2, also to rezone C-2 all the area presently zoned C-1 between Palmto Avenue and Laurel Avenue from 25th and 26th Street.

A motion by Commissioner Earl Higginbotham to change angle parking on First Street between Park Avenue and Oak Avenue to parallel parking and change from a 45 to a 30 degree angle from Park in Palmto died for lack of a second.

"This is the silliest thing I ever heard of and you can quote me. This is a dangerous block in there with those two traffic lights — you can hardly get through there," Commissioner Higginbotham exclaimed.

The veteran Senator experienced a stomach flarup last week and he spent Thursday night at the home of his Washington physician. He returned to work Friday and flew to Florida Saturday to join Mrs. Dirksen. She had been at their Florida vacation home in DelBary several weeks.

The Sanford Herald learned today that President Johnson ordered a Department of Defense plane here to fly Senator Dirksen to Washington. The plane set down and took off from Sanford Naval Air Station.

Supreme Court Ex-Jurist Dies

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Retired Supreme Court Justice Felix Frankfurter, the diminutive immigrant who became one of the giants of American jurisprudence, died Monday at the age of 82.

Frankfurter died at George Washington University Hospital.

He was taken there Sunday after the last of a series of heart seizures which forced his reluctant retirement from the bench Aug. 25, 1962.

The hospital said death was caused by an acute heart attack.

Space Glider Scorches Airways

Groundwork Prepared For Spaceships

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — The Air Force sent a polka-dot speckled space glider on a scorching 4,000-mile ocean recovery force today to lead the way to aerospace planes of the future.

The Delta-winged spacecraft was hurled about 20 miles high by a Thor-Delta rocket that thundered into a rainy sky.

The booster's second stage then boosted the glider over and sent it on a 1,170-mile-per-hour flight back into earth's atmosphere.

By using the lift supplied by its five-foot-wide wings, the 1,170-pound craft coasted about 2,700 miles over the Atlantic Ocean in 23 minutes.

When it reached an altitude of about five miles, a big parachute popped out and softened its landing into the sea.

"The vehicle is in the water," an Air Force spokesman announced about 40 minutes after blastoff. "The flight appeared to be normal."

Four planes carrying payloads were racing to the ocean by homing in on a radio beacon attached to the landing glider.

Two ships were in the target area and the Air Force said it would be about 12 hours before a ship was at the scene to retrieve the spacecraft and its valuable flight records.

The flight, last of six in an Air Force research program called ASSET, was designed to help lay the groundwork for future manned space-ships that will be able to glide back from space and land at airports.

Such maneuverable space planes would do away with costly ocean recovery fleets similar to the force now being readied for a two-year Project Gemini space flight late next month or in early April.

Interstate 4 Opens All Way Wednesday

The final tax projects on the $42 million Orlando Expressway will be opened to traffic at 2 p. m. Wednesday, the State Road Department said today at Tallahassee.

These two jobs, extending 12 miles from Marek Street north to Lee Road, were built at a total cost of $17,000,000.

County Eyes Historical Commission

Seminole County may soon have an official Historical Commission as a result of action taken this morning by the County Commission.

The board decided to ask existing historical groups in the county to recommend the type of commission which will best serve the county. They also will recommend the size of the commission membership.

Suitable space to house the historic valuables in the county is being sought by commissioners.
