ALL MEN WITH LONELY HEARTS

(From The Step Ladder)
I love to greet an old man
Who wakens with the quail,
And calls, "Good morning" to the sun
When striding up the trail,
Who knows the deer and mountain cat
And where the gray goose flies,
Who camps and dreams by mountain streams
With the wood smoke in his eyes.

SIXTY-SIX LIVES ARE SAVED

Sixty-six lives were saved in Florida last year. Sixty-six men, women, and children, are today alive and going about their business the same as ever, who probably would have been dead and gone had it not been for the efforts which have been made to increase highway safety.

More English Ships Reported Seen Off Coast Of Finland

STOCKHOLM, Mar. 12.—(AP)—The Stockholm Aftonbladet yesterday published a dispatch from Kirkenes, Norway, that a British aircraft carrier and two British destroyers were off Petsamo, Finland's Arctic port which was seized by Russia.

The Chamber Of Commerce's Record

As the Chamber of Commerce starts its annual drive for funds with which to help carry on its work during the coming year, it is well to recall some of the outstanding accomplishments of this organization during the past twelve months.

With the insignificant sum of only $500 to spend for advertising, which had to include highway markers, sign boards, fair exhibits, pamphlets and folders, and many similar items of expense, as well as magazine, newspaper and radio advertising, the Chamber of Commerce has nevertheless established a creditable record of achievement and has adequately proved its worth as an investment for Seminole County citizens.

Outstanding in the work of the Chamber of Commerce during the past year was the location here of the Armitage Cabin Court which represents a "new industry" for our city worth many thousands of dollars.

Work was started during the middle of last summer and by Fall the cabins were open and ready for business. There was a direct investment of some $12,000 which has proved as valuable to Sanford in many other ways as the payroll of any comparable industry.

If the Chamber of Commerce had done nothing else during the year than locate this one "industry" in Sanford, it would have been well worth the limited funds on which it has to operate, but the Chamber of Commerce has done much more.

No one can reasonably expect it to do more on the less than $6,000 a year on which it has to operate. Last year it received from the County Commission $1,704.03, from the City Commission $1,200.00, and from membership dues $1,626.03, for a total income of only $4,530.06 for the year.

Sixty-six lives were saved in Florida last year. Sixty-six men, women, and children, are today alive and going about their business the same as ever, who probably would have been dead and gone had it not been for the efforts which have been made to increase highway safety.

Forty-two percent of those killed in traffic, Mr. Frank reports, were pedestrians, and 45 percent of the total were 25 years old or more. Tallahassee, Marianna, Ft. Myers, Clearwater, Leesburg, Ocala and other cities reported no fatalities, but deaths were reported from their counties.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT can win the Democratic nomination if he wants it in the opinion of 68% of the delegates who named Roosevelt and Garner in 1936. STOCKHOLM, Mar. 12.—(AP)—The Stockholm Aftonbladet yesterday published a dispatch from Kirkenes, Norway, that a British aircraft carrier and two British destroyers were off Petsamo, Finland's Arctic port which was seized by Russia.

Even if the Scandinavian countries should agree to transit of Allied troops over their territories in the event that Russian-Finnish peace negotiations fail, Petsamo would be an obvious point of attack, provided Britain decided on military measures as hinted yesterday by Prime Minister Chamberlain.

Presence of British warships in the Petsamo area was reported several weeks ago but authorities of the British sources then attributed their presence to routine procedures of the blockade against Germany. It also was believed that they were intended to deter any activity in the Arctic.

Chairman Haynes Urges Support Of C. Of C. Campaign

The County Chamber of Commerce are limited by the amount of support given it by the citizens of this county. Chairman Haynes pointed out that the Chamber of Commerce receives 1,000 memberships of $1 each from the more than 22,000 residents who benefit, it means that there will be $2,000 above the small amounts contributed by the City and the County which can be used to advertise the county, to continue efforts toward securing road improvements or in behalf of the people of the county to the east coast or for any of a hundred other worthwhile causes. If there are only 100 members, it simply means that there is only $100 to be spent for these worthwhile projects.

"No person in Sanford County should have to be asked to join the Chamber of Commerce. It is not a begging or organization any more than is a fire insurance company. Because of the need at this time, the Chamber of Commerce should be considered a part of the regular overhead for every person throughout the county benefit directly or indirectly from its activities.

Briefly the activities of the Chamber of Commerce include efforts to induce tourists to visit the county and arrangements for their entertainment after they arrive, he said. They include efforts to promote and encourage improvement of the county's transportation system by both way, rail and waterway. In the latter connection might be mentioned, particularly, the large volume of work done by the trade body toward securing the approval of the proposed St. Johns-Indian River Canal and the deepening of the St. Johns River.

DR. KATHRYN T. ABBEY, head of the department of history, geography and political science at Florida State College for Women at Tallahassee, who will address the Sanford Alumnae Club banquet at the Mayfair Hotel next Friday night. Dr. Abbey is said to be one of the most forceful and popular speakers at the state college and has appeared in virtually every section of Florida before women's clubs, civic clubs, and other groups.

She has been connected with the state college since 1920. She holds an A. B. degree, as well as a Master's and Ph. D. degree from Northwestern University.

Ever channel from Sanford to Palatka.

The Chamber of Commerce has a list of business concerns in the city and has performed a continuing service to visitors to its members, and business in the county in general which no other organization is equipped to give them," Mr. Haynes said.

"Tourists look to the Chamber of Commerce for information. Members look to the Chamber of Commerce not only for the information but also for the county better but for special services which the organization always rendered gladly when possible. Merchants also look to the Chamber of Commerce for special trade promotions," the chairman continued.

"The type of work is something which is not done by any other organization. But this is done only because they are not in the backbone of any business, including the Chamber of Commerce," he pointed out.

"I detail all the services of the Chamber of Commerce in impossible in so few words, but the reason and files of the organization as well as its annual report are always available to the public and to learn more of its activities.

The work of such an organization is necessarily continuous. The year is an absolute necessity. The Chamber of Commerce will be glad to furnish you a copy of its report if you will send it to the Chamber of Commerce, 100 N. E. 1st St., Sanford, Fla. Chairman Haynes urged in conclusion.

Unbeaten since 1934, and with 36 consecutive swimming victories to their credit, the University of Florida swimming team admittedly faces a tough assignment in its 1940 schedule. Veteran members of this year's team are shown in the layout, and at the upper left is Coach Frank Genovese, whose Florida aquatic teams have won every Southeastern Conference swimming championship held, and over the past 10 years have scored 43 triumphs in 48 starts. Manly, Ga. Tech, Tennessee, Duke, North Carolina, N. C. State, Georgia and Miami are among 1940 teams who will try to stop the Gators' brilliant winning streak.

With his umbrella right side up, Representative Sol Bloom (Dem., N. Y.), won't catch any pennies from heaven, but he is making it easier for others to find unexpected coppers. The congressman does his daily good deed by placing a shiny new penny on the sidewalk where someone may see it later and pick it up. Today's copper goes on the Capitol steps.

Not freerackers, but tracer bullets provide fireworks in spectacular photo above. Tanks of the mechanized First Cavalry are seen practicing in recent maneuvers at Fort Knox, Ky. Target obscured by brilliance of accurate fire, was an obsolete World War tank. It still repels some bullets, as shown by tracers ricocheting high in air.

Summertime frolics against a snowy background featured the Jaffrey Ouling Club's annual Winter Carnival at East Jaffrey, N. H. Racing cars, above, throw up icy spray instead of dust as they skid around turn flooded by churned up snow. There was also swimming, diving and a trotting horse race.

Ice can be bit of fun, but Seattle decided when he learned to pull his infant, Margaret Haber of Cambridge, over the Thames river, frozen for the first time since 1816.

THIS is a piece of string. String is used by storekeepers to tie up packages. It can be woven into pretty patterns. Small boys sometimes use it to trip people. Grandpa likes to collect it. Guy de Maupassant even wrote one of his most famed short stories about a piece of string. Forgetful folk tie it on a finger to jog their memories. Sometimes a bit of string isn't always handy in this bustling, mechanized world. So perhaps you'd like to stick your finger through the space indicated in the picture—to remind yourself that March 15 is the deadline for federal income tax returns.

Ideal spring outfits for the very young include a gray flannel suit, left, worn with a yellow sweater and gray beret, and navy blue muslin lined romper, right, with yellow pique collar and cuffs. Skirt and jacket of the suit are sold separately. The Easter bonnet, shown with coat, is navy blue with yellow coq feathers.

Hanging the furniture on the walls and ceiling may seem like a pretty upstaging idea, but Dan Cooper designed this "upside-down" room to give visitors to the New York Architectural League's exhibit a bird's-eye view of a modern living room. They soon have adjusted a waz waz.

City Golf Championship Advances Into Second Round During Week

The City Championship golf tournament advanced this week into the second round with some fine play being exhibited. Dr. Douglas Scott, defending champion, defeated Pete Higgins 3 and 2 in one of the best matches seen on the local course recently. Higgins struck pretty close to Dr. Scott on the first nine, but Dr. Scott's experience began to tell on the back nine and he ran the game out on the 16th hole.

Jim Spencer defeated Richard Deas 4 and 3 in a close match. Joe Masters drew a bye and advanced automatically. Fred Holly defeated F. D. Scott 2 up after a nip and tuck struggle. Bob Axt caught Dr. Rucker off his game and won rather easily 5 and 4. John Eck was able to overcome a slight lead which Tommie Jones held at the end of the first nine and finally won the match on the 16th green 3 to 1.

Claude Locke scored the real upset of the first round by defeating E. B. Smith 3 and 1. John Herbat won over Otto Caldwell by 2 and 1 in one of the best matches of the tourney. G. W. Spencer won from Elmer Toll by default. Hal Fleming automatically advanced with a bye. Andy Carraway had a tough time of it defeating Harold Herbat with the match going to the home green with Andy finally winning 2 up. H. H. Coleman won default from John Ludwig. Roy Frank Byrnes advanced with a bye. Phil Grasshopper defeated G. D. Workman 1 up in one of the tightest matches played in the tournament thus far. Roy Holler advanced with a bye. Ben Ward defeated James Ingley 5 and 2.

Pairings for the championship flight in the second round matches follow: Dr. Scott vs. Jim Spencer; Joe Masters vs. Fred Holly; Bob Axt vs. John Eck; Claude Locke vs. John Herbat; G. W. Spencer vs. Hal Fleming; Andy Carraway vs. H. H. Coleman; Phil Grasshopper vs. Roy Frank Byrnes; and Roy Holler vs. Ben Ward.

Pairings in the first flight of the defeated 16 are as follows: Pete Higgins vs. Richard Deas; F. D. Scott vs. by; Dr. Rucker vs. T. W. Jones; E. B. Smith vs. Otto Caldwell; Elmer Toll vs. by; Harold Herbat vs. John Ludwig; G. D. Workman vs. by; James Ingley vs. by.

First Workouts Held By Sanford, Nashville Squads

Florida's blazing tropical sun, so much in absence this winter, greeted members of the Sanford and Nashville squads yesterday morning as they reported at the Municipal Ball Park for their initial practice of the season.

About 15 numbers reported to manager Whitey Campbell of Sanford and like number to Manager Larry Gilbert of the Nashville team.

Most of those reporting were pitchers and catchers although one or two infield and outfield aspirants among the rookies had arrived early in order to get into the best possible shape.

Both squads worked out together yesterday, concentrating chiefly upon limbering up exercises and running with a little throwing and stick work mixed in. However, beginning today, Manager Campbell said that the Sanford team would work out in the afternoon starting at 1:00 o'clock. Gilbert said the Vols would work out daily at 10:30 A. M.

Almost all of the Sanford regulars expected back this year have arrived in camp or were already here. Ray Wertz, a classy infielder from Atlanta, is expected to arrive in a day or so as is Bill Robinson, pitcher, from South Carolina.

The public continues to send in names for the Sanford club this year. Officials of the club have offered a season's pass to the season picking the winning name. Suggestions may be mailed to the Sports Department, Sanford Herald.

Lady Max Steps Out Tonight Against Classy Distance Dogs In Ninth Race

ORLANDO, Mar. 12.—Lady Max, one of Lester Cole's two-year-olds bidding for top ranking, steps out tonight against a field that includes seven other classy distance dogs in quest of her third straight victory in top-flight competition at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club.

Lady Max, only recently elevated to toman position among the top-notch dogs, has copied a 5-10" heat in the surprisingly fast time of 32.1 and won her last race, a fatality heat, to make much ado in her bid for recognition.

The Cole speedster and the seven other distance hounds are named for the featured ninth race tonight, a 5-10" mile event. Facing with Lady Max in this evenly-matched heat will be consistent contenders, the Royal Girl, Moremoney, Iron Black and Chief Cutlet.

The other greyhound named to the race by Secretary Post Meets, and who are given outside chances of coming in the money, are Fair Speed, Sunny Boy and Happy Career.

Quinnella windows close for the first race promptly at 8:15 o'clock.

Only One Rookie Named To All-Star Contest In Tampa

By ARTHUR E. PATTERSON, New York Herald Tribune Writer. With The New York Giants.

TAMPA, Mar. 12.—When it comes to the game, the only rookie named to the All-Star contest in Tampa is Harry Old Digs Dean, the right-handed pitcher for Sanford last season and one of a few consecutive games won for the team.

Dean, who played at the Washington Senators training camp at Tampa last year, was named to the team Sunday from Sanford where he had been named to the team by the Sanford Herald.

Germans Getting Fat On Wartime Rations Of Food

Amazingly Small Degree Of Grumbling Shown By Citizens

BERLIN, Mar. 12.—(A)—Germany actually is getting fat on war-time rations. The reason is starch. There is an amazingly small amount of grumbling among the people regarding food privations.

"Streets—There is no air of wartime depression. No sand-bags. Entrances to air raid shelters are inconspicuous. There are no strips of paper pasted on shop windows as precaution against bomb concussion. You never see gas masks on the streets. Hail and hearty Germans stroll along. The only reminders of war are gray-green uniforms and thumping hub-nubbed leather boots.

Shops—Windows are filled with attractive merchandise but the trick is trying to buy it without a permit.

Coffees—You just can't get it. There isn't any.

These are some of the impressions gathered by this correspondent who spent three days in the German capital.

Germans have been complaining more about lack of coal in Germany's recent severe cold and snow which not only caused private suffering in homes but tied up communications which previously had been carefully controlled in order to balance military movements for provisioning civilian populations.

People have been standing in queues for hours in bitter cold waiting to obtain coal, often getting within sight of the office just to learn that the supply had been exhausted for the day.

Berlin is particularly dependent on the canal system to obtain Silesian coal as well as other supplies. Hotels in Berlin are packed because many persons who could afford it closed up their homes and moved in.

Opposite the Adlon hotel, where the Welles mission stayed, I saw a queue of 40 or more persons lined up before a chocolate shop, some waiting two hours or more to obtain a few pieces of chocolate which you could put in the palm of your hand.

However, authorities discourage the queues and in some instances close shops which permit queues to form. Thus one sees signs such as "no chocolate today" and "no fresh vegetables."

As a matter of fact, fresh vegetables are almost impossible to obtain. I was told there is a conscientious effort at all times to preserve equality of distribu-

Springtime Motif Should Feature Easter Dinners

By MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE
NEW YORK, Mar. 12.—(A)—Put Springtime songs into the family's Easter Sunday dinner.

Mark the advent of this joyous season by using Easter motifs in your menu. Decorations and the menu.

The children will love to make the name cards for you. Here's a way to make them:

Have egg shells for several days and dye them in different colors. Dry the shells and paste them onto yellow cardboard cut into large egg shapes. Write the names on the cards and fill the little cups with candy eggs.

Here's a streamlined table decoration that is effective and easy: Place a glass reflector or a large mirror in the center of the table. Cut it with grass and small flowers. (Go to the woods for the first violets, buttercups and Spring beauties, or buy a few daffodils, jonquills and pansies from the florist.) Scatter a few cotton ducks "swimming" on the pond.

Easter, 1940, goes very Spring-like with this refreshing appetizer for the dinner. Mould orange gelatin into individual tion of food.

Like coffee there is no real tea. Germans are drinking "tea" made out of dried apple, peppermint and strawberry leaves.

Eggs are like chunks of gold in Germany these days although theoretically each person is allowed one egg weekly.

Sometimes they don't even get that due to the shortage and the difficulties of transportation. Germans in recent weeks have been eating eggs from Turkey, Finland, Denmark, Argentina and even China.

I was on rations for the three days I was here. Every time I went into a dining room or a cafe I had to ask the waiter to bring out my packet of staplelike tickets marked "brot 25 grams" and "fleisch 50 grams."

The German, who always has been an enormous meat eater, is now allowed 500 grams—about the size of five American hamburgers—of meat weekly. There is no direct rationing of fish providing there are adequate supplies on hand but Germany has adopted a policy of not permitting free purchases of any foods in order to conserve the reserves which the Nazis say are sufficient to carry them through until summer, 1940, no matter how severe the British blockade.

By that time they expect communications to be in order for delivery of enormous war stocks from Russia.

Germany has made great strides in ersatz foods, making margarine from components of whale oil which is not bad tasting.

The country still rations butter at the rate of one-quarter pound per person weekly.

Bugs, made from beetles, is rationed at one-half pound weekly and cafes sparingly give two or three minute pieces.

There are two kinds of ration cards or tickets in Germany: the household ones and smaller travel tickets. These are perforated tickets about half the size of a postage stamp and are in various colors.

I found when I arrived in Berlin and went up to the hotel desk to ask for my ration tickets, that newspaper correspondents are rated as "heavy laborers" and therefore are allowed extra rations. Literally, however, heavy laborers are those in heavy industries, and "heavy-laborers" are armaments workers. A man sweating with a pick and shovel in the street is not necessarily a heavy laborer under the system which reckons all effort these days in relation to war objectives.

Soap shortage is one of the most trying. Each person is being rationed one two-inch square bar weekly and when you send your laundry out you must send Soap.

Coca-Cola has become a popular drink in Berlin. However there is plenty of good foamy Pilsner beer even though the strength has been cut down to two percent.

One is supposed to have a hot bath on Saturday and Sunday but one is sometimes cheated. In an apartment house for instance, unless one is up bright and early, he finds the hot water must wait until the next week-end. This is, of course, due to the shortage of coal as well as oil for heating.

I was invited to a home for tea but the coal had not arrived. I sat drinking tea—this was real—wearing an overcoat and manipulating the teacup with gloves.

Drowsy Insides Get Pleasant Awakening

This pleasant way to relieve constipation and its attendant headaches had breath combined two important features: (1) The absence of any irritating effect on the intestinal lining; (2) The new flavor, particularly especially appealing to children. Each box of Drowsy Insides contains 10 tablets.

each layer pass in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 15 to 20 minutes. Spread Pineapple Filling between layers and Bavarian Cream. Frosting a delicate yellow, on top and sides of cake. Tint 1-2 cup moist, sweetened coconut a delicate green. Arrange five small coconut nests around top of cake; fill centers with Jordan almonds or jelly beans.

PINEAPPLE FILLING

1-2 cup sugar
2 tablespoons cornstarch
1-2 teaspoon salt
1-2 cup water
1-2 cup pineapple juice
2-3 cup drained crushed pineapple
2 teaspoons lemon juice
2 teaspoons butter
1-2 cup sweetened coconut

Combine sugar, cornstarch, and salt; add water and pineapple juice, mixing thoroughly. Cook over direct heat 5 minutes, stirring constantly; add pineapple and lemon juice and cook 2 minutes longer, stirring frequently. Add butter; chill. Spread between layers of Easter Egg Cake. Makes 1 2-3 cups filling.

Registration officials throughout the state report that many people are not aware of the fact that it is no longer necessary to pay a poll tax in order to vote. The 1937 legislation provided that payment of a poll tax would no longer be a prerequisite for voting. Registration, however, is still required.

Colee, Lehmann Commend Trade Body's Efforts For Development Of County

Support Of Drive Urged

Campaign Launched With Enthusiastic "Kick Off" Dinner

President P. P. Campbell, Secretary Ralph Bagwell and the directors and membership of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce were roundly praised for the achievements of the past year by Harold Colee of Jacksonville, vice president and general manager of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce, and Karl Lehmann, secretary of the Lake County Chamber of Commerce, at the annual "kick off" dinner of the local trade body held at the Valdes Hotel last night.

An enthusiastic gathering of approximately 80 country club members heard Mr. Colee describe the accomplishments of the past year and the work of your capable secretary, my good friend Ralph Bagwell.

"The record certainly speaks well," he continued, "for the activity of officers and directors of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce and those far-sighted business men and women of Sanford and environs who 'invest' their time, money and effort in this organization. Sanford and Seminole County are still growing, still developing, still going forward. That means more and more problems will be arising. You cannot be static; you must go forward or you will go backward."

Congratulating President Campbell and Secretary Bagwell on the success of the Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Lehmann declared that one great privilege of his four years work here early in the 1930's was in knowing and working with his assistant, Mr. Bagwell, whom he described as having received good training with the Atlantic Coastline Railroad before entering Chamber of Commerce work.

"The are getting more for your Chamber of Commerce dollar here in Seminole County than they are in any other Chamber of Commerce in the state," Mr. Lehmann told the campaign driving party to go out and do a better job than ever before. "Letting your imagination in selling membership," Mr. Lehmann said.

Improvement In Business Noted, Colee Declares

Florida Wants More Industries And Capital, Speaker Says

Business in Florida today is from 10 to 100 percent better than at this same time last year despite the recent freeze, said Harold Colee, vice president and general manager of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce last night, in pointing out that Florida now has many diversified industries and cannot be injured so much by the failure of any one of them.

Calling attention to the three "strategies" who played an important part in the development of Florida—Henry Flagler, Henry Plant, and Henry Starnford—Mr. Colee remarked that Sanford has come a long way since that pioneer day in 1871 when the former minister to Belgium bought 12,000 acres of grove land at Belair.

"But the men and women of Sanford and Seminole County, the men and women of Florida, yet have so much work to do," Mr. Colee continued. "Our state is the 'backbone' of the nation. We have natural resources as yet barely tapped. We have treasures of land, sea, mine and soil that await the coming of capital and enterprise for development and creation of wealth undreamed of."

"Florida needs and wants increased population. Florida has millions of idle, untapped acres to be cultivated and brought into profitable production. Florida has slides yet to be built, roads to construct, forests to plant, waterways to develop, domestic and foreign trade to be increased. Florida has all these and many more. Florida has many perplexing problems to meet and solve. We have work—much work—to do."

"Thousands of winter vegetable farmers in Florida are severely handicapped in their marketing as a result of tariff preferences favoring Cuban-grown vegetables. These preferences are effective only during the time of our Florida production and thereby impose a doubly-onerous penalty on Florida growers.

Karl Lehmann Urges Support Of Trade Body

Kiwanians Told Manpower Is Needed To Build Cities

Encouragement of intelligent, aggressive and serviceable citizenship is one of the principal objectives of Kiwanis International during the current year and there is no better means of attaining this objective in Sanford and Seminole County than by supporting the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, Karl Lehmann, secretary of the Florida district of Kiwanis International and secretary of the Lake County Kiwanis Club at its weekly luncheon in the Valdes Hotel today.

"Follows in Kiwanis have community responsibilities," he declared, adding that one of the best ways in which to discharge community obligations is by supporting the Chamber of Commerce. "It is the one organization in which all can have a part," the speaker said.

"Services in the past you pay for the space you occupy in the community," he said. "How much better is Sanford because you have lived in it and what have you contributed to the building of the county," he asked.

Cities are built by manpower, not natural resources, he pointed out. "If natural resources built a city, Sanford would have been the greatest city in Central Florida, the speaker asserted.

Sanford has been ousted from its growth, he declared, because there are certain divergent factions which are more interested in fighting each other than in the development of a city. "Manpower and pulling together are the essentials to the building of any city," he said.

Military Group To Probe Sale Of U. S. Planes

Secretary Woodring To Be Called To Testify On Administration Policy

WASHINGTON, Mar. 12—(AP)—The house military subcommittee decided to "look into" the administration's policy on the release of military planes and munitions for sale to foreign powers, and asked Secretary Woodring to testify as the first witness tomorrow.

ICUIS Johnson, assistant Secretary of War, voiced opposition meanwhile to any sidetracking of the Army-Navy aircraft orders for those of France and Britain and told reporters no new type planes were intended for this country's armed forces should be sold abroad.

He added he knew of no Anglo-French proposals to set aside army orders to speed up delivery of planes to the Allies. He hints that the Army has a new pursuit ship which outdoes the present 490 M. P. H. fighter failed to stop congressional complaints about the sale of planes abroad.

Ministers Schedule Holy Week Services

Arrangements for services each morning at 7:30 o'clock during the holy week were completed at a meeting of the Sanford Ministerial Association on Monday.

An out-of-town minister has been obtained to speak at each of those services and a program of appropriate music has been planned in observance of the last days of Jesus on earth. Christ's triumphal entry into Jerusalem will be commemorated with special services at all of the churches on Sunday; it was pointed out.

Urging the public to attend these meetings, the ministers said that all of the services will be held in the Congregational Church.

WPA Hospital Project Gets Board's Okey

Engineer Is Authorized To Prepare Application For Modern Institution

The immediate preparation of a WPA project for the construction of a Seminole County Hospital was authorized on a motion made by Commissioner P. A. Tyson, seconded by Commissioner W. G. Kilbee and endorsed by all members of the Board of County Commissioners at a special meeting in the Court House last night.

The tentative proposal, as submitted at a joint meeting of the City and County Commissions and representatives of the Seminole County Medical Society, provides for submission to the Works Projects Administration the same plans and specifications for the local hospital included in the $127,000 project submitted by the Board over a year ago to the Public Works Administration with the exception that architectural consideration will be used in construction instead of structural brick provided under the original plan.

As proposed the County's share of the project would be financed through the $70,000 bond issue endorsed by the freeholders of Seminole County in the general election in 1934 by a four to one vote.

Last night's meeting was the first move toward securing an up-to-date and modern equipped hospital for the county since the Board authorized the bond issue and the construction of the hospital.

Such a project has been considered by the Board for some time and due consideration was given the effect of the proposal on the County's finances.

Chairman W. B. Ballard pointed out at last night's meeting that the County's finances are in good condition now and "we don't want to do anything which will embarrass our financial condition."

End Of Russo-Finnish War Seen As Indirect Defeat For Allies

LONDON, Mar. 12—(AP)—The end of the Russo-Finnish war is an indirect defeat for Britain and France.

It probably will bring into play new factors which may have a most important effect on the war between the Allies and Germany. Berlin and Moscow will consider it a major victory.

Paris and London must find some formula which will enable them to assert that it is not a catastrophe.

To conservative students of the European situation, scores of them have expressed their opinion that the Russo-Finnish war, the past few days, these conclusions stand out:

1. The Russo-Finnish settlement is a definite blow to the prestige of the Allies in Scandinavia and the Balkans.

2. The settlement should improve Germany's economic outlook and hence her chance of defeating the British-French "blockade war."

3. Russo-German collaboration is likely to be intensified as a result of the settlement. Equally important will increase Russia's will not forget the limited aid the Allies gave Finland and the major role they offered the Finns at the last moment.

4. In the Far East, some students believe, termination of the conflict either will intensify distrust between Russia and Japan or hasten German-inspired efforts to have these two Asiatic powers reach a complete accord. It has been believed here Japanese policy would swing towards the agreement which Tokyo considered as having the best chance of winning the European war. Recently Tokyo has been leaning towards London and Paris. The Japanese now may be more cautious and eventually they may swing towards Berlin and Moscow.

5. In the Mediterranean the blow to Allied prestige is likely to be reflected in Italy. Germany may be expected to redouble her efforts to arrange a Russo-Italian accord which would protect Italy's aspirations in the Balkans and help Rome to press Premier Mussolini's demands against France and Britain for share in the management of the Suez canal, control of the Byelorussian-Armenian railway, and an improved position in North Africa.

Conflict Ends On 105th Day Of Bitter War

Treaty Signed At Moscow Gives Reds More Than Asked Before War Began

Scandinavia And Allies Are Blamed

Germany Counts Armistice As Own Diplomatic Victory

By Associated Press
Pence on Russia's terms today ended the Finnish-Russian war as fighting stopped at 4:00 A. M. (EST) on the 105th day of bitter northern warfare in accordance with a treaty signed in Moscow yielding to Russia even more than she demanded before the war started Nov. 30.

Finland gave up large slices of strategic territory, and made a sweeping economic concession by pact.

The Finns blamed the capitulation on failure of Britain and France to send sufficient aid, saying they had "no faith in the promises of others," and on refusal of Norway and Sweden to permit passage of foreign troops.

Germany was jubilant, counting the armistice as their own diplomatic victory.

The gloomy Allies, fearful that the peace of Finland might free Germany to give Germany at least economic assistance, urged themselves for trouble in the Balkans or a military blow on the Western Front.

Britain's former war secretary Horne-Belisha in the House of Commons attacked the government's failure to send Finland men on a "purely technical" absence of appeal for troops.

Scandinavia, relieved that the threat of war spreading to its territory had been removed at least for the present, counted the peace to be still but not unbearable considering the hopelessness of Finland's fight alone.

Mary R. Norris Dies At Home Of Brother

Mrs. Mary R. Norris, 79, a former resident of Sanford, died at the home of her brother at Altmore, Ala. yesterday.

13 Die As Tornado Strikes Shreveport

SHREVEPORT, Mar. 12—(AP)—Thirteen persons were killed, at least 37 injured, and hundreds made homeless by tornado winds which struck hardest in Shreveport late yesterday, then moved across the border into Texas.

Estimated damage to Shreveport alone was $1,000,000. Five hundred Shreveport homes were damaged. National guardsmen were called out immediately to prevent looting of homes. They were joined by C. C. volunteers in search for victims.

LOCAL WEATHER

Mostly cloudy, probably scattered showers tonight and Thursday; slightly colder Thursday in northwest and extreme north portions.

Huge Airliner Scheduled To Arrive In City Tomorrow For Week's Stay

A huge 12-passenger bi-motor Stinson monoplane will roost over the city tomorrow at noon sharp and circle the Municipal Airport twice, then glide to a landing to inaugurate the opening of Aviation Week.

The arrival of the plane here for its week stay coincides with various efforts of the city and various trade bodies to see Sanford as an attractive site as an aviation center.

Under the direction of Frank B. Fuhr, operations manager, the big plane with its crew of five headed by Capt. Herbert E. Underhill, will carry passengers all day with some night flying will also be featured.

Model airplane enthusiasts will receive their chance to show what their miniature aircraft can do before professional fliers Sunday afternoon at the Sanford Airport beginning at 1:00 o'clock. The meet will be sponsored by the Sanford Miniature Aircraft Association. Winners of the various events will receive free rides in the luxurious airliner.
