

Kraze falter in the rain; Krush still unbeaten

Special to the Herald

The Central Florida Kraze went on the road to Bradenton and fought not only the Academics, but also the rain and wind as well!

The Kraze looked in good form in the opening minutes when forward Graham Zusi played a ball wide to midfielder Sergei Raad who sent a cross into the box for forward David Benn who tucked it past the Bradenton goalkeeper.

The lead would not last long as some sloppy defending in the 20th minute allowed the Academics to get the equalizer. The Kraze would take a 2-1 lead into halftime as Benn scored his second goal of the match off of a free kick from defender Danny Robertson. But the Kraze played as sloppy as the conditions in the second half and the Academics rallied for a 3-2 victory, sending the Kraze to their fourth loss.

The Kraze had traveled to North Carolina and Virginia the previous weekend and came away with a victory and a tie, which earned them four points in the league standings.

The Kraze first played the Greensboro Dynamo in a rematch of last year's National Semi-finals and the two clubs battled to a 1-1 tie after regulation and two 10-minute overtime periods.

The Kraze then traveled to Virginia to take on the Williamsburg Legacy the following day and the locals came away with a 1-0 victory on a goal by midfielder Domonic Cianciarulo 30-seconds into the second half and the steady hands of goalkeeper Ryan McIntosh preserved the shutout and win.

The team has a pair of games this weekend, hosting the Cocoa Expos at the Seminole Soccer Complex starting at 7 p.m. and then going to Palm Beach Community College to face the Palm Beach Pumas starting at 5 p.m. on Sunday.

The Kraze's sister team, the Central Florida Krush pushed their record to 6-0 with three road wins last week.

The team defeated the Richmond Kickers Destiny in Richmond 2-1 Friday night. The victory didn't come without a price however as the team captain Kim Montgomery suffered a broken wrist in the opening minutes of the match.

Danielle Fotopoulos continued her goal scoring streak taking a pass from Alicia Milyak and finding the back of the net from 10 yards out.

The Krush lost the lead 10 minutes into the second half when Richmond's Courtney Ficken converted a penalty kick in the 55th minute. Milyak, who assisted on Fotopoulos' goal earlier, took matters into her own hands when she beat two Richmond defenders and unleashed a rocket from 35 yards out that the Richmond keeper couldn't get to.

Stacey Kuhr got her first start in goal for the Krush and came through with a steady performance.

The Krush relied on three different goal scorers to defeat the Hampton Roads Piranhas 3-2 Saturday. Erin Baxter-McCorkle got the Krush on the board early when she took a pass from Milyak. After falling behind for first time this season Central Florida's Stacy Bishop found the back of the net with a 25-yard free kick, tying the game at 2-2 at the half.

As the match seemed headed for overtime, the Krush' Denise Broly took a pass from 16 year old sensation Rachel Brown and scored the game winner in the 83rd minute.

Fotopoulos gave the Central Florida Krush the only goal they would need in the 55th minute of play as they defeated the Northern Virginia Majestics. In the final game of their three-game road trip, Milyak assisted on the goal.

Central Florida hosts the Bradenton Athletics this Saturday night, June 18th, starting at 7 p.m., at Krush Stadium in the Seminole Soccer Complex, West of Sanford off SR 46.

River Rats

Arlene turned the day into a shortened single game.

The Winter Park duo of Ty Pryor and Ray Garcia put the clamps on the Sanford offense as the hosts won 2-0 on a game stopped in the bottom of the sixth because of rain.

Pryor worked the first five innings, allowing only a single to Battle, although he did walk five, and Garcia worked a perfect sixth with two strike outs.

The weather spoiled the debut of University of Alabama ace T.J. Large (0-1) for the River Rats. The big righthander allowed single runs in the first and fourth innings and allowed five hits and struck out five in five-plus innings of work.

Rain again ended any chance of playing on Sunday, but the teams returned to Winter Park High on Monday and the conditions could not have been much better.

And Sanford made the most of it as the River Rats played their best game of the early season in a 9-2 victory.

The locals slowly turned the game into a rout, scoring single runs in the first and third innings, then scoring two in the fourth and another single run in the sixth, before plating six runs in the seventh inning to make the score 9-0.

Miles had a monster game to lead a 14-hit Sanford attack.

The River Rats righthander went 4-for-5, including his first double of the season, scored two runs and drove in two.

Lozada also showed off his impressive power for the first time this season, hitting a pair of doubles in four trips to the plate, while scoring a run and driving in one.

Hunt was the only other Sanford player with two hits, going 2-for-4 with two runs scored.

Horwath only had one hit on the evening, but it was the first home run of the season for the River Rats. Seminole High's Frost also got his first extra-base hit of the season, ripping a double and driving in two runs.

Also contributing were Jon Lucroy (see below), who was 1-for-3 with a run and an RBI in his first game with the River Rats, Propst and Kemp (single and run each) and Patrick (single).

The beneficiary of the outburst was Drew Shetrone, who put on a display reminiscent of last year when he was named the Florida Collegiate Summer League Pitcher of the Year.

The righthander from Apopka had a no-hitter for the first six innings and had faced only one batter over the minimum, a walk in the third, over that time.

He gave up a lead-off single in the seventh and the Diamond Dawgs finally chased him after 6-1/3 innings. Shetrone finished allowing two earned runs on two hits and two walks, while striking out a season-high 12 Winter Park batters.

Brandon Webb and Chris Maher finished up, Webb allowing one hit and striking out two in 1-2/3 innings and Maher allowing a hit around three strike outs in the ninth, giving Sanford 17 strike outs on the evening.

RIVER RAT NAMED TO FRESHMEN A-A TEAM

Louisiana-Lafayette designated hitter Jonathan Lucroy, who joined the River Rats on Monday and is expected to be the regular catcher, was named to the 2005 Louisville Slugger Freshmen All-American Team, as chosen by Collegiate Baseball newspaper.

The Umatilla native, who may also be familiar to local fans as he was a mainstay with the Scorpions World Championship team that played several games at Historic Sanford Memorial Stadium two summers ago, led the Ragin' Cajuns with a .379 batting average, while hitting five home runs with 48 RBI to guide Louisiana-Lafayette to a 48-19 overall record and the Sun Belt Conference regular season championship.

Lucroy, who tied the school record with five hits in a game earlier this season, was a second team All-Sun Belt selection. He was also the only Cajun named to the Sun Belt All-Tournament Team.

Lucroy also became only the second player in school history named to the Freshmen All-American team.

Cities team with county to pursue sex offenders

By Steve Paradis
Herald Staff

SANFORD — Dealing with sex offenders and predators may move from the cities to a countywide initiative, so the Joint City/County Advisory Committee heard a briefing from the Sheriff's Office June 15 about monitoring offenders.

"Since Oviedo has laid down the gauntlet, we all have to do something," said Winter Springs Mayor John Bush. Bush referred to an ordinance passed by the Oviedo City Council to ban sex offenders from living in certain areas. Sanford and Winter Springs have also considered similar bans.

"It isn't where they live, it's where they go," Bush told the committee. The group decided to place the matter on its next agenda July 20 at 3 p.m.

Oviedo City Councilman Todd Russell said at the meeting that the intention of the legislation was to spark a dialog about sex offenders.

"I do not apologize for passing this legislation to start this discussion," he said.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Steve Harriett said he will enlist the support of the city chiefs of police to develop a model ordinance on monitoring sex offenders and it could include where they can live.

"It will be hopefully comprehensive in it approach," he said. He added that he has no preconceived notions about what the ordinance will look like when completed.

Harriett made a presentation to the joint committee at the invitation of county Commissioner Bob Dallari, who is not a member of the joint committee.

Dallari told the committee that he

Sanford schools average, but SHS reading pays off

By Steve Paradis
Herald Staff

SANFORD — A study of Seminole County school grades shows that despite hurricanes and more challenging criteria, 87 percent of the county's schools received a B or A grade from the state.

In fact only the Rays of Hope Charter School, an alternative middle school for at-risk students received a grade lower than a C. The school, in its first ever grade from the state, received an F.

"We're generally pleased with the scores," said David Winger, coordinator of testing for Seminole County Public Schools.

One of the weakest areas in 2004 was fourth grade writing, but that score increased this year. Winger said Seminole County fourth graders are tied for fourth place among the 67 Florida counties. That's up from sixth place last year.

"The schools really attacked that area and the writing score came back up," Winger said.

While the overall picture is rosy, Sanford schools garnered the lowest scores in the school district.

Only three of the 36 elementary schools received a C grade and all three — Hamilton, Idyllwilde, and Pine Crest — are located in Sanford. Only one middle school — Millennium in Sanford — received a C.

Other Sanford Elementary schools fared better with Bentley moving up to an A; Goldsboro maintained its B grade; Midway received a B; and Wilson Elementary kept its A grade.

For the first time, the FCAT test, on which the grades are based,

In compiling the school grades the state takes into account the performance of the lowest scoring students at a school. Schools earning enough points for a C or above must show that at least half of the

Leaders: Time has come to expand libraries

By Steve Paradis
Herald Staff

SANFORD — Showing frustration with county government, the Joint City/County Advisory Committee overwhelmingly endorsed a $50 million plan to expand Seminole County's library system.

"If we try to do this halfway, I think it shows a lack of leadership at all levels," said Winter Springs Mayor John Bush.

Seminole County Commissioner Randy Morris told the committee June 15 that the Board of County Commissioners is split on what to do with the libraries. Two endorse the same $50 million plan, two want something different proposed and one is not sure, he said.

Longwood Mayor H.G. "Butch" Bundy said the only option is the $50 million choice known as Option A.

Almost everyone at the table agreed with him. Other members include representatives from each of the cities, two county commissioners and several business representatives.

"To me A is the only solution," said Bush, after a comment that a less expensive plan may be favored by the county. He also noted that under Option A, Winter Springs would get a new regional library.

"There is no reason to slight the people of the county," Bush said. "We've lain dormant on this for 20 years."

Casselberry cook tells Martha to move over

By Lane Edixon
Herald Staff

CASSELBERRY — There is a new cook in town, Dixie Ray, of Casselberry, who has more than 30 years of practice and a new cookbook titled "Move Over Martha."

Unlike most cookbooks, Dixie's reads almost like a guidebook for the newly married. She offers advice for women (and men), with tips such as brushing their teeth before kissing their significant other in the morning.

She writes witty remarks throughout the book, and even tells readers when to take a break while cooking Thanksgiving dinner.

With complex recipes such as stuffed mushrooms, French onion soup, and entire holiday dinners, and simple recipes such as grilled cheese and scrambled eggs, any level of amateur cook will enjoy Dixie's recipes and southern twang commentary sprinkled throughout.

"It's not just a cookbook, it's got philosophy running through it; it's got commentary running through it, it's got decorating ideas running through it," Dixie said. "I tried to make it very humorous and chatty and make it sound like I'm in the kitchen with you," she said.

"Move Over Martha" tells readers when to begin cooking each thing, so that everything is finished at the same time.

Dixie is actually from up North, but she is a self-proclaimed "military brat" who spent most of her life in Florida, and somewhere along the way developed a southern accent. People began calling her Dixie and it has stuck for over 20 years, she said.

Dixie said she has always written little things but had never thought about writing a book, let alone a cookbook, until a significant health problem made her think long and hard about her life.

"They say write what you know. Well, I know a whole lot of stuff, about a whole lot of things, but the one thing I know the best is cooking," Dixie said.

Last September Dixie had major health problems that sent her blood pressure through the roof.

"They thought I was a goner," Dixie said.

She was told to stay at home and take the rest of the year off, though you wouldn't know it by her bright eyes and beaming smile. Those problems left her worried that her husband's favorite meals might be lost with her if she died.

"I thought, who's gonna cook for my husband, if I kick the bucket," Dixie said. "He's a picky eater."

She wanted to make sure, she said, that if something were to happen to her, someone would know how to make meals her husband loved.

So Dixie began writing all the recipes down, and by February she had completed her first cookbook, which is published through Author House, which is a self-publishing company for new and emerging writers.

"It went from recipes, to menus, to table," Dixie said.

"Move Over Martha" is available online at Amazon.com, BarnesandNobles.com, Bidville.com, Ebay.com and Authorhouse.com. It is also available this weekend and next weekend at FleaWorld on U.S. 17-92 in Sanford.

SEMINOLE SUMMARY

A GLANCE AROUND OUR COUNTY

Ban the BBs: Property crimes in Sanford have been increasing in recent months. Every couple of days someone is telling me about their bike or mower or tools that vanished from their yard or garage. Even former mayor Brady Lessard recently had his truck and garage burglarized.

I've been a vocal supporter of the Sanford Police Department and Chief Brian Tooley. I will continue to be, but I think it's time the police department take a different approach. Property crimes are difficult to combat. It's not impossible, however, particularly if the police start cracking down on what I call the BBs, bicycle bandits.

If you're up late at night — and lately I have been — you'll see a lot of non-vehicular traffic in Sanford's neighborhoods. There's some folks walking, but most of the traffic is guys on bikes. It's not unusual to watch a dozen or so guys peddle slowly by my front porch in an hour's time.

These aren't fitness enthusiasts. One-third in the morning is too early or too late for even the most fanatical Lance Armstrong wanna-be. They're not coming home from late-night jobs, at least not traditional ones. You'll rarely see them in a hurry. Most often these cyclists have set an easy pace, but don't be fooled by their leisurely appearance. These guys are busy scouting the neighborhood for back yards and garages to burglarize. They're looking for tools, bikes, mowers or anything else they can get away with quietly and quickly.

The Sanford Police Department would be wise to adopt the approach Rudy Giuliani took when he became mayor of New York City in the early 1990s. Giuliani made a concentrated effort to run the "squeegee men" out of the city. These guys would wash your car windows while you were stopped at a traffic light then demand that you pay them for the unwanted service. Giuliani was ridiculed when he first announced his plan. The squeegee guys weren't the most notorious criminals, critics said, why focus police efforts on them? Giuliani argued that the squeegee men's presence was a quality of life issue and allowing them to continue sent the message that a certain level of crime in the city was acceptable.

Giuliani was successful in his campaign against the squeegee men. Crime in the city dropped to records lows throughout the 1990s. Running the squeegee men out of town wasn't the sole reason for the decline in crime. A booming economy and other crime prevention campaigns were major factors. However, the squeegee man operation set the tone and changed New Yorkers attitudes about their tolerance for crime.

How does this relate to Sanford? I would argue that BBs are Sanford's squeegee men. They don't commit the worst crimes in town, but their repeated larcenies affect our quality of life. Try explaining to your 6-year-old son why he no longer has the bike he received just two weeks earlier for his birthday. My neighbor had to do that recently.

The police department should begin systematically stopping bicyclists after 10 p.m. What about probable cause? For starters, most of the BBs have no headlights or taillights on their bikes. Not only is that against the law, it's a safety hazard. Furthermore, is it not more than a little suspicious to have a brigade of bicyclists parading through the neighborhood at 2 a.m.? In an area with rising property crimes, the police would be more than justified to stop and question a late-night peddle pusher.

I'm not advocating the police become Gestapo-like in order to fight crime or that they should bend the law and professional standards. But I think Tooley and his cops should become more aggressive. In explaining his campaign against the squeegee men, Giuliani said, "You don't have to be too polite about somebody who's taking advantage and trampling on the rights of other people."

Amen, brother.

Flying high: It's been about a year since the Cartgate saga first began, and one of the principals at the center of the action, Andrew Van Gaale, has taken a new job. Van Gaale is the new vice president for special projects for the Sanford Airport Authority (SAA). Larry Dale, president and CEO of the SAA, hired Van Gaale last week. The position was created recently when Victor White resigned last month from his job as vice president.

Kirtley - Naruta

An engagement party was held on May 29 in honor of Jennifer Joyce Kirtley and Gordon Phillip Naruta Jr. The event was held at the Kirtley home on Manor Oaks Court in Sanford.

The party theme was carried out in sage and white. The beautiful centerpiece was an arrangement of sage flowers and white baby's breath arranged by Miss Kirtley's grandmother. More than 40 people with relatives and friends from Michigan, Lakeland, Stuart, Miami, Leesburg, Cape Coral and several local cities attended the catered event.

The highlight of the event was the formal announcement made by Miss Kirtley's fiancé of the engagement and upcoming wedding. A Champaign toast to the happy couple was given by Mr. Kirtley, the bride-to-be's father.

Jennifer Kirtley is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Kirtley, II of Sanford. Maternal grandparents are the late Mr. and Mrs. Francis R. MacLeay of Deltona. Paternal grandparents are Mrs. Joyce Kirtley and the late Rev. W. Wight Kirtley of Sanford.

Jennifer is a 2000 graduate of Seminole High School and a 2005 graduate of the University of Central Florida where she earned her B.S. degree in nursing. She is currently employed in the Emergency Department at a local hospital.

Gordon Naruta, Jr. is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Naruta, Sr. of Winter Springs. Maternal grandparents are Mr. Adolf Weinert and the late Bertha Weinert of Oviedo. Paternal grandparents are the late Mr. and Mrs. Michael Naruta of Port Huron, Michigan.

Gordon is a 1995 graduate of Oviedo High School, a 1997 graduate of Valencia community college, and he completed the firefighter program at Seminole Community College in 2000. He is a Firefighter/EMT with Orange County First and Rescue.

The wedding is planned for April 2006 at St. Luke's Lutheran Church in Oviedo.

Offenders

favors a holistic countywide approach in an coordinated effort with the Sheriff's Office.

Harriett said sex offenders and predators must register with either the Florida Department of Law Enforcement or the Seminole County Sheriff's Office. Of the known offenders, Harriett said 100 percent are registered with the Sheriff's Office.

The Serious Offender Response Team, or SORT, contacts offenders and predators who are under supervision at least four times each quarter. SORT is an interagency team of officers who contact the offenders as part of their daily routine.

"It's advantageous that the local deputies know where that person lives," Harriett said. He said there are currently about 211 offenders under supervision by the office. There are 326 sex offenders in total, and Harriett also told the committee there are nine sex predators monitored. There were 10 but one recently had pornography on his home computer and he was arrested.

Harriett said a monitoring bracelet is sometimes used now and will be used more in the future with the passage of the Jessica Lunsford Act by the state Legislature. Lunsford is one of three cases in the past year in Florida that has received national attention because a young girl was killed by a sexual predator.

Harriett said 58 more offenders in Seminole County will be required to wear the bracelets when the act take effect in September. These are people convicted of a sex offense on a child between 12 and 15 years of age.

Harriett added that any sex offense done to a person under 12 is already termed a sex predator and will be monitored.

Eventually law enforcement could monitor real time sex offender movements using the bracelets.

The Sheriff's Office has not collated where the offenders live in reference to places where children congregate like schools, parks, etc. At least one study by the University of Louisville has shown that sex offenders that live in Seminole County.

To determine if a particular group of sex offenders were violating the law about where they should live, researchers examined a sample of offenders who had victimized a minor and were therefore under supervision. Researches looked to see if they lived near any of the locations listed by law where children congregate.

"Twelve out of 21 such sexual offenders did live near locations where children would be expected to collect," the University of Louisville study concludes. "As such, with our sample, 50 percent of those who were legally prohibited from living near places where children would congregate were in violation of the law."

Most of the joint committee discussion, however, centered on not where the offenders lived, but monitoring where they go. Harriett said the Oviedo ordinance has turned the conversation in that direction.

"I think the ordinance in Oviedo is well intended and it's raised the awareness of the community in terms of understanding and seeing the need to monitor sex offenders in the community," Harriett said.

A history lesson

Here we go again, with another look back at the items in history that took place on these dates in the past.

Naturally, his Sunday is Father's Day. It's observed on the third Sunday each June, by Presidential Proclamation annually since 1971. As I reported in this column a year ago, it was started by Mrs. John B. Dodd of Spokane, Wash., at her church on June 19, 1910, in recognition of her late father. The idea caught on and was eventually recognized by the governor of that state, and finally President Calvin Coolidge in 1924. The Public Law was not approved for the holiday until April 1972. Father's Day is also observed in Britain. It is also labeled Universal Father's Week, to be observed worldwide.

May I suggest, in addition to honoring your father, you consider showing appreciation to a father who may have passed away by visiting a cemetery or church.

This week is considered "National Forgiveness Week". Sunday, people are asked to forgive themselves. On Monday, forgive their spouses. Children forgiveness is on Tuesday, family members on Wednesday, friends on Thursday, and enemies on Saturday. Sponsored by Positive People Partners in Maumee, Ohio, the week begins with Father's Day each year.

Nick Pfeifauf

Having nothing to do with anything, this Sunday also marks the anniversary of the first Garfield (the cat) comic strip, published in 1978. He certainly doesn't look like he's 27 years old.

It's also the birth anniversary of Moe Howard - you know... of the Three Stooges. He was born on June 19, 1898 and died in May of 1975 after a lengthy career. Although the roles of Shemp, Larry and Curly changed over the years, Moe was the only one to last the entire history of the Stooges. If you still don't remember - he was the one who slapped the others during the comedy skits.

On the tragic side - June 19, 1953 was the day when Ethel and Julius Rosenberg were executed for being spies during World War II. Their execution has been the subject of controversy ever since that time.

The Battle of the Philippine Sea started on June 19, 1944, during World War II. During the three-day battle, the U.S. Forces destroyed almost the entire Japanese fleet, plus 400 Japanese aircraft. It has been considered the greatest and most successful Naval victory in the war.

On June 20, 1893, Elizabeth "Lizzie" Borden (who, with an axe, gave her mother 40 whacks, and when she was done, gave her father 41), was found not guilty in court. Similar to the Rosenberg execution, this matter has also been in contention for years.

I hesitate to mention what happened on June 21, 1972. Hurricane Agnes hit the east coast of the U.S. (including Florida), claiming 118 lives, 116,000 homes damaged and more than 200,000 homeless. See - it can happen during the first month of the Hurricane Season.

Tuesday, June 21, Summer officially starts in the Northern Hemisphere. In the Southern Hemisphere, Tuesday is the first day of Winter. Locally, it is to be the longest day of sunshine in the entire year. In the Arctic Circle, the sunshine, or daylight will be 24 hours long.

Finally, I was exactly one year old on June 23, 1933, (my birthday, 6/23/32) when Don McNeil's Breakfast Club was presented on radio for the first time. It was on the air for 35 consecutive years. Every 15 minutes during the 2-hour morning broadcast, a "Call to Breakfast" was announced, at which time people were urged to get up and march one lap around their breakfast tables. The local connection was that when the Mackle Brothers held a celebration to inaugurate the opening of what is now Deltona, the Breakfast Club came to Central Florida (staying overnight in Sanford), and broadcast live, nationwide, from Deltona for that observance. I know for a fact that members of the cast of that radio show spent several evenings at a Sanford business establishment on the lakefront, wetting their throats. They were a happy bunch to say the least.

Questions police department promotion policy

To the Editor:

I have been a resident of Sanford for over two years now. Within this time I have had the opportunity to get to know several of the wonderful police officers in this city. These officers are dedicated to this city and the citizens within it. Many of these officers not only work 12-hour days, but also choose to give up their free time to work numerous off-duty details to protect the citizens and businesses in this community. These officers are ready to offer their services on or off duty, in or out of uniform, at any given time. They are officers 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

The officers I just described include the many veteran officers of the Sanford Police Department who have dedicated years of service to this city and the citizens within it.

Many of these veteran officers have impeccable service records, excellent reviews from their superiors, and numerous awards for their service and commitment to this city. They have often times gone above and beyond the call of duty. Many of them have been officers with the city for many years and hold seniority to their own Sergeants.

So, why haven't they been promoted? Well, it appears the Sanford Police Department does not look at years of service, experience, or job performance as a basis for promotion. Instead, this agency prefers to promote the less experienced officers because they hold one piece of paper - a degree.

They can hold a degree in anything from fashion design to marketing. Even a degree in theater can get someone promoted at the Sanford Police department. You see, it doesn't really matter to the city what is written on that piece of paper, just having one puts them on the fast track to a promotion. A rookie with this piece of paper and two years on the job is almost guaranteed to receive a promotion before a veteran police officer without this golden ticket.

This is absurd. Why should those veteran officers be punished because they spend so much time trying to protect this city they don't have time to pursue a degree. Does a degree really offer that much more knowledge in the field of Law Enforcement? I think not. How can that piece of paper prepare an officer on how to react when responding to a burglary, domestic situation, or even a traffic stop? These and other situations an officer may encounter are not textbook situations. This is something they can only learn while at the academy, on the job, or with an FTO (field training officer) when they start with an agency.

To become a Law Enforcement Officer these men and women usually attend an academy located on the campus of a community college or technical school. If Law Enforcement agencies want to require degrees then the academy should be formatted to meet the requirements for that type of program. At least the officers would have a degree in their own field.

What these men and women do is not something that you can get out of a textbook or learn in a typical classroom setting. Their abilities are only strengthened by years of service and experience in the field. No degree will ever be equivalent to the knowledge and field training these officers have acquired and continue to acquire during their years as Law Enforcement Officers. This is a field where experience and skills should be the main determining factor when considering an officer for a promotion.

Yes, I do agree that to hold certain positions in Law Enforcement a degree may be required. But, these are specialized positions such as psychological profiling and telecommunications fraud. Being promoted to a Sergeant or Lieutenant should be based on one's time with the department, service records and job performance, abilities, knowledge and leadership skills within this field. Having a degree in a non-related field is not going to help the officer gain any of this within his own field.

The City of Sanford needs to take a step back and examine the way these promotions are being handled. Instead of requiring these officers to acquire a degree, they should rely on the officer's qualifications, as well as the knowledge they exhibit on the written tests that are given for such positions.

Also, they need to implement a training program specified to these positions. The officers need to satisfactorily complete this program before being appointed to a new position. All Law Enforcement personnel should be required to take periodic refresher courses on their duties and responsibilities and the proper protocol for them.

Maybe if the Sanford Police Department were more focused on educating the officers in their own line of work, rather than requiring a degree, they would be better trained and there would be less of a chance that these officers will make critical mistakes.

For many of these men and women, law enforcement was their first and only choice as a career and are dedicated to their position within their community. It's about time the City makes a change before it loses any of these veteran officers who have served this community for so long.

To all the officers, Thank You for continuing to put your lives on the line everyday to ensure the safety of those you don't even know. In my opinion, there can never be enough respect, gratitude or pay given for what you do. Hopefully, this will open the doors of opportunity that you have been stuck behind for so long.

To the administration - you have to give respect to receive respect.

This is for all the officers that have made a difference in my life. Hopefully this will make a difference in yours.

Lynn B. Sykes, Sanford

Geneva ready for 4th

GENEVA — The annual Geneva 4th of July Parade and Festival will kick off at 10:30 a.m., followed immediately by a family festival of food and fun. The event will be held on Main Street in Geneva.

The annual event, dating back to the 1940s is steeped in historic pageantry, brims with local tasty delicacies, and overflows with button-bursting patriotic pride. It's a Normal Rockwell painting come to life.

With the theme "Geneva on the Go," attendees can expect to see horse drawn antique carriages, tractors, monster trucks, Central Florida's finest classic cars, airboats, motorcycles, wagons, and anything else you can imagine that has wheels and/or an engine. A classic aircraft flyover by the "Flight Gaggles" is a planned highlight. Parachutists will drop over the parade route and toss marshmallows. Those who find specially marked marshmallows can turn them in for a free food item.

This year, area residents are invited to compete for the coveted Stein, Sommersheim, Hochman & Peppler Fab Float Award. Anyone or group who wants to create a float that best reflects the theme can win cash prizes: $300 for first place, $200 for second place, and $100 for overall best entry.

To show a unique form of transportation or to earn bragging rights for the best float, call Rocky Harrelson at 407-349-5112 to register.

In Remembrance on Father's Day DEACON WILLIE PERRY

July 23, 1908 — January 16, 1980
Twenty five years ago... into the church we trod, saying goodbye to a man of God. Tears streamed down many a face; we all had loved this man of grace. His mission finished, his reward ahead, quietly for the last time, he bowed his head. Years will come, years will go, but never a better man will we know.

We miss you, yes Daddy, we miss you, and how could we help but cry? But if we live as you lived, we'll meet you again by and by. Daddy to us, Dea. Perry to some, Mr. Candy or Black Jack to others, is gone to that heavenly home above. Some day we long to meet him and share in God's infinite love.

We will always be thankful for how he prepared us for his transition. His prayer was to live to see his children get grown, and that request was granted. His memory shall never fade; loving thoughts shall always wander to the place where we called home.

Lovingly, The Perry Family

The Way We Were: Refreshing the memory

I had already written the following before Dan Ping corrected some of the misinformation about the two baseball stadiums last week. I'll continue with it to refresh your memory.

A Story of Two Stadiums

I cannot believe that I have to clear up — again — some misinformation about Sanford's baseball stadiums. The very same wrong information was perpetuated in the "Historic Sanford Memorial Stadium" article in the recent River Rats insert that was printed in stories about the rededication of the Memorial Stadium in late 2001. In response to this, I wrote a long column on the early history of the two stadiums which was published Nov. 14, 2001.

Grace Marie Stineciper

Listen up! Sanford has had two baseball stadiums, not one as keeps appearing in print. I attended baseball games in both stadiums so I do know this first hand.

The first one, the Municipal Stadium, was built on the corner of Celery and Mellonville Avenues, facing Mellonville, in 1926. It was in this stadium that Early Wynn, Ellis Clary, Stan Musial, Sid Hudson, Jackie Robinson, Willie Mays and Babe Ruth appeared.

In 1946, the Sanford Giants team was formed with John Krider as general manager. In 1948, the New York Giants brought 700 players here for spring training at the facilities of the deactivated Sanford Naval Air Station. Also that year, they took over the ownership of the Florida State League Sanford team. They discontinued operating the club in 1951, but continued with spring training here and ownership of the Mayfair Inn and Mayfair Country Club for a few more years.

The Municipal Stadium was condemned and demolished in 1951 and the New York Giants built the present building on that corner to house the players. It has since been used by the Sanford Naval Academy and he Seminole County School Board.

There was a baseball team here until about 1957, but the Giants had already left.

The new Memorial Stadium was completed in May 1952 at the cost of over $180,000. It was dedicated "To the memory of the men and women of Seminole County who served their country in World War I and World War II". It is this stadium that has been restored and rededicated.

Football games began being played at this Memorial Stadium in 1952, not in the 1960s as was stated in the recent article. I was a student at Seminole High then, playing in the band, so I do know this.

Remember — there have been two baseball stadiums in Sanford, each with its own history. The present stadium was not built until 1952.

I have always wondered why the present stadium is now named the "Historic Sanford Memorial Stadium," since it is only 53 years old. I am 15 years older than that, and I don't consider myself quite historic yet.

The Orange Blossom Song

In Charles Jackson's May 25th column, he asked for the title of the song that used to be sung by students at Southside School. The inquiry was originally in the Sanford Historical Society newsletter, of which I am editor, and I was the one who wrote the piece. Only the first two lines of the song were in Charles' article. Here is the entire song, which I placed in the newsletter.

I love to wake up in the morning where the orange blossoms grow.

Where the sun comes peeping into where I'm sleeping and the song birds say hello.

I love the fresh air and the sunshine; it's so good for you you know.

I'm going to make my home in Florida where the orange blossoms grow.

Karen Jacobs of the Museum of Seminole County History had found this version on the Internet quite a while ago. I, and many others, remember singing it at Southside School, but the last two lines don't sound quite right to me.

Alicia Clarke at the Sanford Museum received a few calls following Charles' article. The title seems to be either "The Orange Blossom Song" or "I Want to Wake Up in the Morning Where the Orange Blossoms Grow". The callers all agreed on the first two lines and perhaps "Peeking" instead of "Peeping" and "sing" instead of "say".

We did get three other versions of the last two lines. Toni Russi sang this to Alicia: I want to wander through the wildwood As I used to long ago.

I want to wake up in the morning Where the orange blossoms grow. Patty Williams Smith sent this version: I like the fresh air and the sunshine its So good for you you know

So I'll make my home in Florida Where the Orange Blossoms grow.

And Karen Jacobs faxed these words along with the music:

I want to wander through the orange groves where we children used to play And go drifting back to Florida where the orange blossoms grow

Perhaps you remember a different version or a different title. If so, call me at 407-322-4361. The "wildwood" one of Tony Russi's sounds the most familiar to me.

Focus on puppets

On any given day, the children of We the People Preschool and Daycare can be heard outside the building—little lightening bolts of energy that they are—laughing and talking and jumping around, but on Wednesday, June 15th at 3:10pm, all that energy was completely focused on Leslye O'Reilly — "The Puppet Lady".

O'Reilly is an Outreach specialist for the Youth Services program of the Seminole County Library. She travels all over the county getting children interested in reading through stories, dance, music and of course, puppets. Armed with a bag full of clam, lobster and shark puppets, and a truly energetic and animated personality, she had the preschoolers dancing to The Beach Boy's "Surfin' U.S.A. and learning numbers with a counting game called "Little Snail".

These "Book Talks" are provided as a free service of the library for the public and private schools in the area. Deanna Plyler, owner of We the People, was thrilled to learn about the service.

"She comes in every other month. The kids love it." Plyler said of O'Reilly's visits.

They obviously do. Fourteen children and you could hear a pin drop during the clam story.

To learn more about the many other services

Leslie O'Reilly, aka the Puppet Lady, wows the crowd at We the People Preschool and Daycare.

Stetson's Corner

Muck removal 101 — Not easy Part II

By Karen McEnany-Phillips
Herald Columnist

Welcome to Stetson's Corner, where weekly we hope to share a bit of what is good about the Village of Geneva. This column is dedicated to a man who did the same — Deputy Sheriff Gene "Stetson" Gregory, who was killed in the line of duty July 8, 1998 in the place he was sworn to protect, but which could not protect him. Geneva will never be the same because of Deputy Gregory...it will be better.

Part 2 of 2:

This is the conclusion of the presentation to the Geneva Citizens' Association by Robert King, Chairman of the Friends of Lake Jesup and Ed Hayes of the Florida Fish and Game Commission held on May 16th regarding the removal of muck from Lake Jesup and the proposal to relocate it on Site 10 in Geneva.

What will this look like? The containment facilities will look like large tanks of water, since 85 percent of the material piped in is water, and will be surrounded by something like a dike or berm.

What will it smell like? There shouldn't be an overwhelming odor but there may be a hydrogen sulfide smell during the dredging.

Is the material dangerous? According to the report, sampling of the dewatered muck has not shown any compounds reaching dangerous levels. Industrial chemicals and pesticides, heavy metals, and many other compounds were tested in addition to phosphorous, hydrogen, and carbon tested in parts per billion. Copper and cadmium were found at low levels while chemicals such as DET, agent orange, arsenic, mercury were undetected in parts per million.

What will happen to the area after the drying process is complete? The current agreement is that any disturbed wetland area must be returned to its natural state. Bob feels this will be better than some of the other options such as building a prison on the site. The land is owned by the city of Sanford, but is under the jurisdiction of the Seminole County Commission, and could be developed under its Quasi-Public Land-use designation.

It's fair to say that Geneva citizens' emotions run high regarding this project and during the meeting tempers flared on both sides of the issue. Unfortunately it comes on the heels of other "unwanted projects" proposed for rural Seminole County. For example, the proposed prison and solid waste processing facility for Site 10, the Osceola Rd landfill, and the abandoned borrow pit on State Road 46.

Skeptical residents questioned the findings of the muck analysis and were clearly unable to accept the idea that the lake material was safe given the years of toxic dumping. Common sentiments were, "You drink the water coming off the mud!"; "Spread it on your land!"; or "Why not send it down the river to the ocean?" Robert and Ed said the contractor would stop dredging immediately if toxins were found at unsafe levels. Ed Hayes offered to make the report available to anyone for review.

Similar challenges included concern about the safety of the three containment facilities in light of the recent hurricane season. Concerns were expressed that they could overflow and that the dikes might go underwater. The engineers building them "have experience with this and have factored in hurricane elements" was the answer. On the flip side, there was concern about the flammability of the muck. They admitted that the muck is flammable but also that it is very hydrated. There was a question whether the final solid product could become a viable fuel source.

Richard Creedon, President of the Geneva Citizens' Association, strongly suggested putting the muck in a location with a neoprene liner in case it is found to be harmful later. "Why take a chance? Who is going to pay the price for this years later?" What about the effect of the 3 containment cells on the Geneva bubble and surrounding artesian wells? The concern was that high water levels bring high chloride levels. Robert was also concerned about protecting the Geneva bubble and expressed, "I don't want anything to do with the Bubble." Ed added that there is a confinement layer running through this part of Site 10 that should protect it. Another resident asked if you were sick, wouldn't you want a 2nd or 3rd opinion? Bob said that they thought 3 different contractors had been used to analyze the muck and all drew the same conclusion that the muck was benign.

and suggestions. "We are neophytes in central Florida, why not consult with the folks around Lake Okeechobee who have dealt with this before?" Similar sentiment was expressed that this can't be a problem limited to our state.

An insightful question came from a woman who asked what other lakes in Florida of similar size and condition have the containment facilities and are they working? Robert and Ed shared that Lake Panasoffkee in Sumter County has a very similar facility already in progress. A suggestion was offered that the state of Florida should provide a grant for additional research to be sure the technology and engineering is the best and environmentally safe.

Another positive idea came from a woman who said that Mother Nature always finds a way to heal herself. "If we look at the problem by helping nature we may be better off."

Finally, a UCF professor concluded, "We have some time to see what other communities are doing. There are a lot of factors, economic, environmental, and political. We have to make a lifetime of choices, short, mid and long term. Maybe we should get a field trip together to Lake Panasoffkee. Ask questions, look, and fish."

This is surely not the last we will hear on this complex issue. Geneva citizens should be glad that Robert and Ed took their time to update us and to listen to us. They promised to take the comments, concerns, and suggestions back to the appropriate groups. Robert King's final point was, "I would rather see this project for 10 years and have the land go back to protected wetlands than have my children and grandchildren look at a prison for 100 years. Our decisions will certainly outlast us." You can contact Congressmen Mica and Feeney with feedback as they are familiar with this project. If you have questions or suggestions for Robert King and the friends of Lake Jesup, you may email him at rljesup@aol.com.

We need you to tell us what you know that is good about Geneva! Please share your information, ideas and comments by calling 407-221-7002, via e-mail at karenmcp@bellsouth.net, (please put "Stetson's Corner" in the subject line), or with a fax to 407-349-2800. lowest performing student made educational gains.

No one knew what impact adding the students with disabilities and limited English would have on the scores.

Seminole High School Principal Walt Griffin said that many schools dropped a grade across the state because of the extra students. Seminole, however, moved up to a C from a D.

"For our grades to increase with that new student population is very significant," Griffin said.

One reason Seminole's grade came up is the lowest performing students scored well on the FCAT. Fifty-four percent of the lowest scoring students made gains at Seminole.

"We had a lot of improvement," Griffin said Thursday. He attributes that mainly to an emphasis on reading. In his first year he added three reading teachers. The weakest readers were required to take the course.

Next year Seminole High will have 10 reading teachers because too many students have problems with reading.

"I'm a huge advocate for high school reading," Griffin said. "We're not making any excuses, we just have to catch them up. They are behind for whatever reason."

Students have said that after initially disliking the reading courses, they found out that the problems they had with reading were impacting other classes.

"It's the same feeling across the campus," Griffin said. "They know they need to be there. We're giving them information about themselves, and they are feeling the effect in their other classes."

Next year about 240 students will enroll in double block reading classes, Griffin said. That will be 90 minutes per day. The remainder, or about 760 other students, will have 45-minute reading classes.

The Florida Center for Reading Research is piloting a reading program in Seminole County. Three of the teachers will be part of that study, Griffin explained.

He also said the gains on FCAT were in more than just reading. He said students raised the bar in writing and also showed gains in math.

Griffin has emphasized reading since his time as principal at Millennium Middle School.

"I've been working on this for years," he said. "We look at every student individually. Whenever their deficit is we're making sure they get the help they need."

Lake Howell High School in Winter Park is the only Seminole County school to drop a grade because not enough of the lowest performing students made learning gains. For the second year in a row, less than 50 percent of those students at Lake Howell made learning gains.

Lake Mary and Winter Springs high schools also ended up below 50 percent. Both schools earned a B grade, but will lose a letter grade next year if they can't raise that level above 50 percent. The state allows schools to maintain their grade if that score is 50 percent or higher in either the current year or the previous year.

That means Seminole High School is set up nicely to move up to a B, which is missed by just 10 points this year.

Winger said the school district is already studying ways to help schools that finished close to the next grade.

He also said that the percentage of schools with the highest grades has slipped a bit. Winger said the district has more schools, and they are much more diverse than in the past. He even hinted that the district might be moved out as far as the percentage of schools that receive A grades.

"There was a state study done. It said diversity is just one of the things you have to overcome," Winger said. Forty-eight of the 55 Seminole County schools earned an A or a B grade. Forty-one schools received the same grade as 2004, and five schools increased at least one letter grade. Nine schools dropped at least one letter grade. Lake Brantley High School actually jumped up two letter grades from a C to an A.

"Our grades are staying very high and that is notable," Winger said. A presentation of FCAT scores and school grades will be presented to the School Board at its June 21 meeting at 3:30 p.m.

Library

Hipes initially said he could not endorse Option A because it did not specifically say where the North Branch in Sanford would be relocated. He favored a downtown location. He later voted to endorse the plan because details about relocation would be worked out later.

When the county finalizes an option, it will be given to the voters of Seminole County to decide in a ballot referendum. Tax rates will be impacted with an expansion. Morris said that vote may now have to wait until spring 2006.

County Manager Kevin Grace asked the joint committee for feedback on the options. The Board of County Commissioners has asked the cities and the committee for input.

Suzy Goldman, director of Library and Leisure Services for Seminole County, presented the committee with an overview of the four options.

Option A has been endorsed by the Library Advisory Board and the Mayors and Managers Subcommittee on Library Expansion, Goldman said.

Option A would renovate the Central Branch in Casselberry. The North Branch in Sanford would be relocated and expanded to include administrative space. Five new 40,000 square foot regional libraries would be built by relocating the East Branch in Oviedo, the North Branch, the Northwest Branch in Lake Mary, and the West Branch in Wekiva. The fifth regional library would be in Winter Springs.

This plan would raise the books per capita the most at 2.24 books per person by the year 2010. It also would provide the highest amount of total public square feet. It goes the furthest toward offering requested services.

Option A is also the most expensive at an estimated $50 million for construction and $12 million to operate.

Option B is like a smaller version of A. The biggest difference is the regional libraries would be just 32,000 square feet, and it would offer only current services. The cost lowers to $40 million “People like having that librarian to help with questions.”

Suzy Goldman, Director Library Services to build and $11 million to operate.

Option C also only offers services currently available. It would work in phases by building five new 25,000 square foot branches in phase 1. The plan would expand the buildings later to 50,000 square feet and additional parking. This was the least favored option all around.

Option D has gotten some support by the Board of County Commissioners, and was ranked the second choice of the Library Advisory Board. It would keep the existing branches as community libraries and build two new 50,000 square foot regional libraries and renovate the Central regional library in Casselberry.

Under Option D, the existing branches would be renovated, and a library support center would be built, rented or renovated from an existing county-owned building.

Option D would bring the books per person rate to 1.78. It would also cost the least at $29 million for construction and $9 million to operate. Requested services would be included, but only at the three regional libraries.

Goldman said the requested services available in other Central Florida counties include: full audiovisual collection with DVDs and music CDs; teen areas and programming; instructional computer labs; additional meeting space; study or tutoring rooms; extensive outreach to children; and homework help programs.

Seminole Community College has also requested to partner in the county's library expansion plans. Some members of the joint committee said the college's needs would differ from the public's needs, but the option was left open.

Another challenge will be what Altamonte Springs wants to do with its library, which right now is not part of the countywide system.

Business leaders on the joint committee wanted to know what would happen to the existing library branches under Option A.

County staff will come up with answers and more information for the joint committee.

Goldman said Thursday that relocations happen all the time in the library profession. The committee that developed the options did not address the future of the existing buildings if Option A were chosen.

She did say Thursday that a small 5,000 square foot library relocated in Deltona became a police substation. In New Smyrna Beach, an abandoned branch became a senior center.

Another option, she said, would be to sell the property with proceeds going to the library system. She added that she doesn't endorse any of those options.

One might think that the Internet would replace a large need for libraries, but Goldman said the opposite is true.

In the first year the county library system included Internet access, reference questions jumped substantially, Goldman said.

"People like having that librarian to help with questions like identifying authenticity of material," she said. That is what librarians do. Government agencies who deal with immigrants and even the IRS are sending clients to libraries to look up information online.

Many people are overwhelmed by how much information is out there, and they are using librarians to help them discern the best information, Goldman said.

The library expansion will be on the joint committee's next agenda for July 20 at 3 p.m.

Rain, Rats don't mix

Team to play four nights in a row at home

By Dean Smith
Sports Editor

SANFORD — Sanford fans found out Wednesday night that Rats don't like rain, especially the baseball playing River type.

The treacherous thunderstorms that moved through east Sanford around 6 p.m. denied local fans an opportunity to see the River Rats play just their second home game of the season.

But if the weather permits, locals will have plenty of chances to see the defending Florida Collegiate Summer League Champions take to the home turf as they were supposed to have opened a three-game series with the Orlando Shockers on Friday and close out the series with games at 7 p.m. today (Saturday) and 5 p.m. Sunday.

The team will then make up the rainout on Monday at 7 p.m. at Historic Sanford Memorial Stadium against the Winter Haven Wert Hogs, one of the two new teams in the league this year.

The River Rats will be very busy as they will travel Winter Haven on Tuesday and then come right back home to host the Daytona Beach Barracudas on Wednesday.

The team is scheduled to take off Thursday and then host the other new league entry, the Zephyrhills Snappers, in a single game on Friday at 7 p.m. and a doubleheader on Saturday at 4 p.m. and 7 p.m.

Sanford had climbed into a tie for first place on Tuesday as the River Rats avenged a season-opening loss to the Barracudas, 3-0, at Daytona Beach Community College's Falcon Field.

For the second straight game Sanford got outstanding pitching as the Seminole Community College duo of John Ducey and Brandon Webb combined on a four-hit shutout.

Sanford's Jimmy Miles (No. 4) was two-for-three with his second double of the season, scored a run and drove in two to back the combined four-hit shutout pitching of John Ducey and Brandon Webb as the River Rats blanked the Barracudas, 3-0, in Daytona Beach on Tuesday.

Mitryk stands alone

Lake Mary Junior named to Class 6A First Team

By Dean Smith
Herald Staff

Despite a pretty good year all-around for girls basketball in Seminole County this year, only three SAC players and one county product were mentioned when the Florida Sports Writers Association released its 2004-05 Girls All-State Basketball Teams.

Heading the list was Lake Mary junior guard Caitlyn Mitryk who was named to the Class 6A First Team after leading the extremely young Rams to a 29-2 record and the No. 1 ranking in the State Poll for most of the season.

Mitryk, who has been a three-year starter for coach Carl Brown, teamed with fellow junior Angela Guui, a transfer from Trinity Prep, to be the veteran leaders of a club whose other top four players were all freshman.

Mitryk averaged right at 10 points a game and 2.8 assists per contest for a squad that lost only to a national power in Tennessee during a Christmas trip and to the back-to-back State Champions from Miami in the State Semifinals.

Junior Caitlyn Mitryk (No. 21) was named to the Class 6A All-State First Team by the Florida Sports Writers Association after leading coach Carl Brown's extremely young Rams' squad to a No. 1 State Ranking and a 29-2 record this season.

Paul's hauls away trophy

By Dean Smith
Herald Staff

Paul's Towing showed that the regular season was no fluke as the top seeds powered through the rest of the field in the City of Sanford Recreation Department Spring Women's Slowpitch Softball League Tournament at Pinehurst Park.

Paul's Towing used a four-run fifth inning to break open a nail-biter and went on to eliminate the No. 4 seeded Sunshine Stingers, 7-1, in one semifinal, then showed off the full arsenal in romping past the Alleycats, 19-7, in five innings in the Championship Game.

The Alleycats had earned its spot in the final by easing past Aging Gracefully, 9-4, in the first semifinal.

The Alleycats took control of the game immediately as the first six batters in the top of the first inning reached safely, the first five on hits, and four runs scored before an out was recorded. All told, 13 batters came to the plate in the top of the first and the score was 5-0 before Aging Gracefully even came to the plate.

Aging Gracefully did not quit and closed to within 5-3 after two innings before the Alleycats pulled away with single runs in the third and fourth innings and two runs in the fifth.

Doing the damage for the Alleycats were Barb (double, single, run, RBI), Leslie (two singles, RBI), Tina (two singles, run), San (double, two runs, two RBI), Gina and Donna (single, run, RBI each).

Big reds bustin' loose

From Staff Reports

Wow! What a great bite on the flats of the Mosquito Lagoon. It is really hot and the big redfish are bustin' loose. I have been on the water every-day this week and we have caught big redfish on each trip.

Monday I was joined by Stan, Linda and Jason Poloski, owner's of the Seminole Flower shop. We had quite a day as we landed several big reds. I think Linda led the way with some nice reds. Stan and Jason scored a double on a couple of big redfish.

We had a perfect day to fish as the water was a mirror. We went to the fish and sure enough as the sun rose above the horizon the tails began to wave high above the surface. It was a signal from the fish of the good things that awaited our day. The school was 200 plus strong and very eager to eat our bait. We fished the school for several hours and then ended the day fishing for trout.

The trout bite was not bad as we landed 8-to-10 trout on the Rip Tide 3 inch mullet. It was a very nice day and some great memories were taken home.

Tuesday was another great day as I was joined by my seven year old son, Dylan, Mike Noland and Mark Blythe. The trip was my graduation present to Mike. Mike is a super young man who loves to fish.

Our day started with the state bird, the mosquito, trying to take us away. Mosquito Lagoon lived up to the name on Tuesday. The first stop proved to be a great one. I saw about 100 tails waving 200 yards away. I put the push pole in high gear and made a bee line for the fish. When we were about 50 yards away the stealth approach became necessary.

Mike hooked up right away and landed an 11-pound red. The next fish would be a tad larger. The fish hit Mike's line and began peeling drag. Mike thought he had hooked a train. These redfish have earned the name Indian River Express. The fish proceeded to tow the boat around for more than 20 minutes. Finally, I was able to grab the leader and land the monster 40 pound redfish.

Things were just heating up as the school began to feed. We landed a total of nine redfish between 11 and 40 pounds. Around 11 a.m. we hit the trout holes and managed a dozen or so nice trout on top water plugs and Rip Tide 3 inch Mullet and the Flats Chub jerk worm.

Now is an awesome time for big redfish and trout. July is even better. If you would like to experience this great bit call now. I have few open days in

BREVARD COUNTY HARD CLAM LICENSE SEMINAR COMING UP

The Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services (DACS) and the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC) have announced the make-up educational seminar for license year 2004-2005 and all previous years, for the Brevard County hard clam license.

Proof of attendance at one such seminar per license year is required to obtain a Brevard County Hard Clam license. Announcements for additional make-up seminars are available from David Heil at (850) 488-5471.

The number of Brevard County hard clam license holders has dropped below 400 and the fishery will be reopened until 400 licenses have been issued.

For clambers who have missed one or more of the educational seminars, or have never attended any of the seminars, the next opportunity is June 25 from 9 a.m. until 2 p.m. at the Palm Bay campus of Brevard Community College, 250 Community College Parkway. There is no charge for the seminars, but seating is limited and will be available on a first-come, first-served basis. The fees for a new Brevard County Clamming License are $100 for Brevard County residents, $400 for non residents of Brevard County, and a $400 late fee beginning August 1.

Participants should arrive at the seminar 15 minutes early for check in, and bring his or her Brevard County hard clam license (if applicable), saltwater products license, and a photo identification card, such as a driver's license.

No one will be admitted after the seminar begins.

Clammers lawfully harvesting from shellfish or aquaculture leases are not required to have the Brevard County hard clam license while harvesting from such leases.

For questions or additional information about the required educational seminars, please contact David Heil at the Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services at (850) 488-5471. For questions regarding licensing, call the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission, Commercial Saltwater Licensing Office at (850) 487-3122.

BOATERS KICK OFF STORM SEASON WITH HURRICANE PLANNING

Hurricane season is off and running and marine insurance experts say you can prepare now for the next hurricane or suffer the same fate as those unfortunate boat owners last fall who lost their boats or had serious damage.

A review of last year's hurricane boat claims by the BoatU.S. Marine Insurance Catastrophe Response Team found that only 25% of Florida boaters had made the proper storm preparations.

"These boats largely survived because time was spent early in the season to develop a basic hurricane plan which was then later implemented when disaster struck," said Carroll Robertson, vice president, BoatU.S. Marine Insurance Claims Division.

Below is an easy "to-do" list that will help boaters get their own hurricane plan organized now:

Hurricane To Do List:

- Free guide: Download from <http://www.BoatUS.com/hurricanes> or call 800-283-2883 for a free copy of the BoatU.S. Hurricane Warning preparation guide. This guide is the product of two decades of first-hand experience in handling hurricane boat losses by the BoatU.S. Hurricane Catastrophe Team.
- Make your plan: Grab a pencil and paper and use the guide to draft your own personal hurricane plan for 2005.
- Get it now: Buy supplies you will need now - lines, anchors, fenders, chafing products, tape, etc.

- Absentee options: One of the major complaints from marinas and local officials following the 2004 season was that absentee owners did not arrange any boat preparations. Designate a friend, relative or neighbor now who can implement your plan if you are out of town or unable to prepare the boat.

- Haul-out: Generally, boats stored on land fare better than those left in the water. Even those vessels on jack-stands that blew over last year were repairable while thousands of boats that sank in docks or were washed ashore were total losses. Now is the time to talk with your marina about their hurricane plan and to get on a list for haul-out. If your marina offers a "Hurricane Club" that guarantees certain precautions such as haul out priority, a tie down system for boats stored ashore or other measures, join it. One marina owner reported that every boat in his hurricane club made it through Hurricane Jeanne while every boat that was left in the water was blown ashore and damaged. A tie-down system at another marina saved 173 of the 178 boats stored ashore.

- Haul-out help: Check to see if your insurance company offers "Hurricane Haul-Out" coverage which can help cover haul-out fees, expenses to hire someone to prepare the boat at the dock or marina, or to move it to a hurricane hole prior to a NOAA-named storm. FYI - All BoatU.S. "yacht" policies include this coverage automatically.

- Hole it: If haul-outs are not possible, locate the nearest hurricane hole where your boat could be moved and secured prior to a storm. Also do a "try out" to find out how long it will take to get there by boat.

- Drawbridge diligence: Know the drawbridge schedules in your area and what their emergency lock-down times will be.

- Track changes: Expect a hurricane's forecasted track to change when monitoring weather warnings. Normal range of error is 87 miles one day before landfall. This could mean the difference between utter destruction and moderate wind damage. Also expect that storms can intensify, sometimes within hours.

BOATU.S. ONLINE CONSUMER DATABASE DEBUTS ONE-OF-A-KIND REFERENCE TOOL NOW AVAILABLE ONLINE

For nearly 20 years, the BoatU.S. Consumer Protection Bureau has maintained the only nationwide database of consumer complaints and safety information reported by boat owners, the U.S. Coast Guard, manufacturers, marine surveyors and marine technicians. Now, for the first time, this one-of-a-kind database previously only available via phone and fax is now accessible online as an exclusive reference tool available to BoatU.S. members.

"Whether you are buying a boat, trying to determine if a problem on your current boat is widespread, or just curious, we can help," said BoatU.S. Consumer Protection Bureau Director Caroline Ajotian.

The database contains thousands of specific reports about boats, marine engines, boating products, dealers, marinas and related boating services as well as information about how, or whether, the companies involved responded to each complaint. Also included are manufacturer's defect recall notices and safety alerts published by the U.S. Coast Guard and a selection of service bulletins issued by boat builders.

BoatU.S. members can search the database by boat and engine make, model, year, hull number or serial number, or by the type of problem and they can also register a new problem. The database has been used by the U.S. Coast Guard to issue defect recall notices.

To increase accuracy, BoatU.S. makes every effort to collect boat make and model information and hull and engine identification numbers. Having this data is vital because analysis often shows that problems are confined to specific models or a series of hull numbers.

Ajotian also cautioned, "We do not rate or evaluate boats, engines, marine products or services, so users should not expect to find an overall company report card. Also, boaters searching the database will most likely find reports about larger companies simply because large companies have more products on the water. Keep in mind that the presence - or absence - of reports is as much a reflection on market share, rather than the quality of a boat or lack of it."

The database is located at <http://www.BoatUS.com/consumer>. If you aren't a BoatU.S. member yet, this Web site also gives boaters the option of easily signing up at a special online rate of only $14. BoatU.S. - Boat Owners Association of The United States - is the nation's leading advocate for recreational boaters providing its 595,000 members with a wide array of consumer services.
