Teens Wounded By Pursuing Gunman In Car Chase

By Susan Loden
Herald Staff Writer

A 19-year-old Altamonte Springs man was being held without bond today charged with two counts of attempted murder in connection with the rifle shootings of a 17-year-old Deltona girl and an 18-year-old Geneva man. The teens were shot as they fled a confrontation in a Jeep.

Darwin Glover, P.O. Box 425 Snowhill Road, Geneva, was treated and released from Florida Hospital-Altamonte for a gunshot wound to the neck. The girl, Patricia Brown, who was shot six times in her left side, was in fair condition today. One bullet had been removed and she was scheduled for surgery for removal of a second.

Seminole County sheriff's investigator Jerry Human said the other bullets may not be removed. The pair were shot as they drove from the suspect's home at 503 Peachtree St. at about 8 p.m. Tuesday, Human said.

Glover told Human he had gone to the suspect's home with six friends to confront the suspect over a necklace that belongs to Debbie Brillis, 16, of Casselberry, who was with Glover.

There was a confrontation between Glover, his friends and the suspect. When the suspect ran into his house Glover and his friends jumped back into the Jeep and started to drive off, Human said.

The suspect ran out of his home armed with a rifle and jumped into the passenger seat of a Toronado. A woman drove the Toronado in pursuit of the Jeep and as they rode for about two miles the suspect leaned out of the vehicle and shot toward the Jeep, Human said.

Ms. Brown, seated in the rear of the Jeep, started screaming after she was shot. Glover yelled for everybody to lie down in the vehicle and the gunfire continued. He was struck in the neck, Human said.

Glover drove through the Seminole Plaza Parking lot on U.S. Highway 17-92, Casselberry, to evade the gunman.

Seminole County sheriff's Sgt. Ken Starr met Glover and Ms. Brown on Seminola Boulevard near U.S. Highway 17-92, and they were transported to the hospital from there, a sheriff's report said.

Other sheriff's deputies went to 109 Doe Court, Casselberry, the home of Ms. Brillis and another occupant of the Jeep, Craig Evans, 17, to question the persons who had been in the Jeep at the time of the shootings. Also named by sheriff's deputies as having been in the Jeep were David L. Evans, 16, of 729 Laura Way, Casselberry, and

Khadafy Not Seen

Tripoli In Chaos

TRIPOLI, Libya (UPI) — Machine-gun fire broke out near Libyan leader Col. Moammar Khadafy's headquarters in the Libyan capital and soldiers poured into the streets.

Libyan radio monitored in London said Libyan air defenses "engaged" a U.S. SR-71 Blackbird reconnaissance aircraft in Libyan airspace today at 2 p.m. but the Pentagon denied the report. The radio said the high-flying plane was "prevented from achieving its aims."

"There are no American planes over Tripoli," a Navy spokesman said in Washington. "They are Libyan planes."

In Washington, Secretary of State George Shultz said early today he had no information on the whereabouts of Khadafy, who has not addressed his people or been seen in public since the U.S. air raid early Tuesday.

But Libyan Radio said Khadafy met Tuesday with the Soviet ambassador to relay a message to Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev and Libyan television showed film of Khadafy speaking with the envoy.

Coup On Way?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The former prime minister of Libya said today Libyan leader Moammar Khadafy is not liked by his countrymen and the possibility of a coup "are more than ever."

Abdel-Hamid Bakoush, former Libyan prime minister, spoke to the NBC "Today" program from Cairo, Egypt, as reports came from Tripoli, Libya, of gunfire in the streets of the capital.

He said Khadafy "has made of himself a boss of a gang (and is) controlling Libya by force, by arms, and he is not liked at all and never has been."

with Khadafy had to be canceled when shooting started inside Khadafy's headquarters' concrete compound.

About 20 terrified troops poured from Khadafy's bunker headquarters, where he lives with his family and is protected

Sanford emergency medical technicians assist Shin Sook Moon after man hit her in face with bicycle.

Couple Assaulted By Man Swinging 10-Speed Bike

A man who picked up and swung a bicycle during an assault on husband-and-wife proprietors of a Sanford sandwich shop was arrested a few blocks from the shop shortly after the incident Tuesday.

Shin Sook Moon, 30, suffered an ear laceration and her husband, Bong Gu Moon, 31, a cut on the arm, when the man reportedly picked up the bicycle and hit them with it while in front of their Moon's Sub shop, 204 S. Sanford Ave. The couple declined transportation to a hospital after receiving on-scene treatment from Sanford emergency medical technicians.

The incident reportedly began at 2:10 p.m., when the man entered the shop and hopped up and sat down on a glass counter after taking a container of ice tea from a shelf. After repeated requests to get off the counter, the man reportedly jumped down and ordered a hamburger, which he refused to pay for when it was served.

Police said he then ran from the shop with Mrs. Moon in pursuit. Outside, Mrs. Moon grabbed the hamburger from him whereupon the man reportedly punched her twice in the face and hit her on the side of the head with the bicycle.

Mr. Moon, attempting to help his wife, was cut on the arm from the swinging 10-speed bicycle, police said.

A shop patron, who witnessed the incident, called police who arrived after the man had dropped the bicycle and fled from the scene. The suspect reportedly ran across Sanford Avenue and through Larry's Market carrying one of his shoes, leaving the other in the Moon's shop.

Sanford Police Captain Charles Fagan and Sgt. T.G. Bernosky caught up with the man and arrested him at the intersection of Fifth St. and Hickory Ave.

Mercer: Walkers Overcharged At Mayfair

By Karen Talley
Herald Staff Writer

Sanford Mayor Bettye Smith will serve on the newly formed Mayfair golf course citizens advisory board, which, as one of its first tasks, will in all likelihood take up Commissioner John Mercer's latest lease violation allegation against Mayfair manager Jack Daniels.

Mercer, whose earlier charges prompted the commission's investigation, now alleges that "exorbitant" greens fees Daniels charges "walkers" at Mayfair effectively eliminate walkers. And, he charges, they are not comparable to fees paid by golfers at other courses in the area and must be according to Daniels' lease provisions.

The city, meanwhile, has determined that groundwater has not been contaminated by spillover from the cars, oil, gas and car batteries that have been dumped near a pond off the course's 13th fairway. The possibility of groundwater pollution was raised by a local resident during the city commission sponsored March 10 Mayfair public forum.

In response to the resident's concern, the city retained a private analysis firm to test the pond's water. Results of the study found that the pond contains "no detectable presence of any organic compounds tested for," according to a memo from Sanford Engineering and Planning Director Bill Simmons to City Manager Frank Falson.

Although "heavy metal compounds" were not included in the analysis, Simmons recommended no further testing of the pond "at this time," because "the list of compounds which were tested for should have included most organic compounds likely to result from uncontrolled dumping."

City commissioners and staff are continuing the investigation they began last month to determine whether Daniels has complied with provisions contained in the 67-year lease he holds for operation of the city owned Mayfair property. Commissioners have also sanctioned the formation of a Mayfair advisory board in an effort to provide opportunity for the working out of apparent tensions that exist between the club's management and its patrons.

On Monday night, Mayor Smith's agreeing to serve on the board was followed by Mercer's latest allegation. Mercer said he brought up the greens fees on Monday night to give staff and his fellow commissioners an indication "of what we're dealing with here."

According to Mercer, although Daniels said he will allow golfers to walk the course in response to patrons' complaints, he is actually preventing them from doing so by the high greens fees he is charging.

The walking fees, $14 on weekdays and $16 on weekends, are "exorbitant," Mercer said. He said the charges not only violate the lease term that mandates fees comparable to other courses, but are also being used by Daniels "to effectively eliminate walkers."

Daniels told commissioners last month he planned to adopt a new policy to allow walkers during certain hours of the day as part of his effort to make Mayfair "more public to the residents of Sanford."

He also recommended the formation of the citizen's advisory board to achieve this. In addition to Mayor Smith, named to the Mayfair board on Monday night by commissioners were attorney Jack Bridges and Barry Lock, a Sanora resident whom Mercer said has experience in the supervision of golf course operation.

Mayfair's management and the Mayfair Men's and Women's Golf Associations will also name delegates to the board.

In Capsule Poisonings

FBI Releases Sketch Of Suspect

A police sketch and a voice recording of a suspect in connection with contamination of Contac, Teldrin and Dietac capsules in Orlando has been released by the FBI.

The sketch is a composite of a person seen at Albertsons at Michigan and Orange avenues and at Publix on Curry Ford Road in that city in March. The tape recording is of a phone call to a New York City radio station, also in March, in which the caller talks about contaminating capsules with rat poison.

Contaminated capsules have been found in Orlando and Houston, according to the FBI. There are, however, no known instances of poisoning from these contaminations.

While the composite and voice recording have been released, the FBI is not releasing further physical descriptions of the individual so possible suspects will not be eliminated, said Perry Doran, supervisor in charge of the FBI's Orlando office.

Anyone who may have information or has seen the individual is urged to call the FBI at 1-800-222-3081 or in Orlando, 648-6381.

Civilian Deaths Trouble Terror Victims' Families

By Jack Warner
United Press International

Americans whose lives have been marked indelibly by terrorism had mixed reactions to the air strikes on Libya, especially with the news that civilians died in the attacks.

"Mr. Khadafy killed some of my friends, killed a brother of mine," said Mohieddin Elyazgi, who fled Libya to the United States seven years ago.

"Mr. Reagan finished the rest of them," Elyazgi said in Tulsa, Okla., he had just learned that five members of his wife's family died when a bomb leveled their home near the French Embassy in Tripoli.

He said if an attack hits "Khadafy and on his military installations, that's fine. But if it's on my friends, relatives and people, we're talking about terrorism."

Frederick H. Gage, whose son was among those killed in the December massacre at Rome's Leonardo da Vinci Airport, agreed.

"It may have been indiscriminate bombings with innocent people being affected, rather than people promulgating terrorist attacks. Some of them might be hit, but from what I saw on television, a number of civilians have been involved, and maybe even our own people," he said in Winter Park, Fla.

"I think we should have gone further to diplomatically get cooperation from our allies to get sanctions to shut down Libya," said Gage. "We did not give it too much of a try."

Others said that violence will only beget more violence.

The Rev. Thomas Kojia, 44, a Methodist minister from Wisconsin who was aboard TWA flight 840 when a bomb exploded over Greece April 2, killing four American passengers, said, "Our action will just keep the cycle of violence going."

"It may bring about immediate results of showing our strength against Libya. But it will obviously not bring about peace," he said. "When you have a lot of terrorist groups in the world like we do, it is awfully hard to point the finger at just one nation and blame them for all terrorist actions."

Warren Klug Jr. buried his mother-in-law, wife and infant daughter only Saturday. They were sucked through the hole the bomb tore in the jetliner's fuselage.

"It's about time America got together as a nation," Klug said in Annapolis, Md. "Once these

'Collectibles' On Display

A rare collection of boxes — "Collectibles" — opens for exhibit at 4:30 p.m. Thursday at the Henry Shelton Sanford Memorial Museum-Library, 501 E. First St., Sanford.

The exhibit, open to the public free of charge, features boxes from all over the world, according to curator Mildred Canty. The boxes include metal, glass, ceramic, cellulose and wood.

The display will be available for viewing during regular museum hours, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Sunday.

Jackson Heights Teacher Resigns

The second Seminole County school teacher to resign in two weeks has left the classroom, according to district Personnel Director Ann Neiswender.

She said the resignation is not connected to the suspensions of two Lake Mary High School educators, on which the school board was expected to act today. The resignation will be acted upon by the school board during their April 23 meeting, she said.

Stuart Fullerton, 48, Oviedo, a science teacher at Jackson Heights Middle School since 1978, resigned effective Monday, Neiswender said. The letter was dated and delivered Friday, and he cited "personal reasons" for quitting. Neiswender said. Fullerton could not be reached for comment today.

"This resignation is in no way connected with the two (Lake Mary High) suspensions," Mrs. Neiswender said. "All material (regarding the Fullerton resignation) was turned over to Professional Practices Services Friday," she said. Professional Practices is the investigative arm of the Florida Department of Education. "It will be Superintendent (Robert) Hughes recommendation to the board to accept the resignation," she said.

She also indicated the resignation is not connected to the resignation of Gale Berger, 48, Maitland, who resigned his job as a Science teacher at South Seminole Middle School April 2, after being charged by Hughes with misconduct in office.

Superintendent Hughes suspended Lake Mary teacher Wilson Gordon, Jr., 38, Sanford, April 3, and charged him with misconduct in office and immorality in connection with his employment. Hughes then suspended a Lake Mary assistant principal, Jay Stokes, 37, with the same charges. The school board was to act on the suspensions today.

School officials said this morning that they had not received resignations from either Gordon or Stokes, however they said it was a possibility.

Watergate-Style Prosecutor Asked In For EPA Investigation

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Justice Department is seeking a narrower, more detailed investigation of possible criminal conduct by up to 11 administration lawyers who withheld EPA files from Congress in 1982 and 1983, sources say.

The department asked a special court to appoint an independent, Watergate-style prosecutor to conduct an inquiry of narrower scope than suggested by a sweeping 1,284-page report summarizing a 2½-year House Judiciary Committee investigation of the controversy.

Since passing the report to the Justice Department last December, committee Chairman Peter Rodino, D-N.J., has pressed for appointment of such a prosecutor to take over the probe into as many as 11 former Justice Department officials and deputy White House Counsel Richard Hauser.

Attorney General Edwin Meese acknowledged last month the Justice Department was conducting "a number of preliminary investigations" into allegations raised in the Judiciary report and said he would decide this month whether to seek appointment of a special prosecutor.

Democrats Win On Contra Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House Democrats killed Republican efforts Tuesday to keep President Reagan's request for aid to the Nicaraguan rebels from being hitched to a spending bill the GOP branded a "barrel of rancid pork" certain to be vetoed.

Reagan, pressing his case for aid to the Contras, appealed to the House to promptly approve $100 million for the Nicaraguan insurgents to help stop the spread of communist subversion that he charged is being bankrolled by Libya's Moammar Khadafy.

But his request for the rebels was locked to a $1.7 billion spending bill containing such popular programs as emergency flood relief, nutrition assistance, relief for the farmers and aid to Northern Ireland. The administration opposes much of the spending called for in the bill and there have been repeated warnings Reagan would veto it.

Middle East Operations Leaked

WASHINGTON (UPI) — U.S. intelligence operations in the Middle East may have been "compromised" by leaks of classified data about Libya by administration officials, members of the Senate Intelligence Committee have told the CIA.

A committee spokesman said Republicans and Democrats on the panel told a CIA official Tuesday they were worried about the disclosures, reportedly made in the last two weeks to West German media and Newweek magazine by intelligence and diplomatic officials.

"It's a little too early to tell for sure what the impact has been," the spokesman said. "But members were concerned that we may have compromised sources and injured our intelligence capabilities."

Members of the intelligence committee learned about intercepted Libyan cables and other data only after the news articles were published, said the spokesman, who asked not to be identified.

FLORIDA IN BRIEF

Officials Won't Change State Execution Procedure

STARKE (UPI) — Officials plan no changes in the way Florida carries out executions, despite having to use seven officers to restrain Daniel Morris Thomas as he was strapped into the electric chair screaming obscenities.

Thomas was executed Tuesday for murdering a man and raping his wife as his victim lay dying.

"They carried out the procedure just as it is written," said Department of Corrections spokesman Vern Bradford after the execution. "We always knew this would happen sometime."

"As far as I can see the procedures should stand pat, but I'm sure (officials will) look at it," he said.

Seven men had to strap Thomas into Florida's "Ole Sparky" only 24 minutes after the Supreme Court refused to grant him a stay of execution. Execution story, 3A.

Doctors: No School AIDS Risk

ORLANDO (UPI) — The American Academy of Pediatrics hopes to convince parents their children are not at risk by allowing AIDS victims in the schools, because chances are nil the disease can be transmitted by casual contact.

"One thing is very clear: children are not a source of infection to other people," Dr. Robert Haggerty of New York City said Tuesday. "The risk to other children of having a child with AIDS in a school situation is, as far as we can tell at the moment, zero."

Confirmed pediatric AIDS cases have increased 25 percent since October to 274 cases. Three-quarters of the victims were found in California, New Jersey, Florida and New York, of which the latter accounted for 119 cases.

"I can appreciate parents' anxieties with a disease that has this degree of fatality," Haggerty, a member of the Physician's Advisory Panel on AIDS in New York City, said in a national update on pediatric AIDS at the academy convention.

"They're unfounded, but they're understandable," he said. "I don't want to castigate parents who have a natural worry. But we didn't know how (AIDS) was transmitted until just recently, and the anxiety and fears started before that."

More Astronaut Remains Found

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — Salvage crews apparently have recovered astronaut remains that sources said were the subject of an intense search, along with more shuttle wreckage from the crash site of Challenger's crew compartment.

The salvage vessel G.W. Pierce glided into port late Tuesday and tied up at a Navy submarine pier. Radio traffic from sea earlier in the day indicated Coast Guard divers had found human remains in the area of the cabin crash site.

NASA will not discuss any aspects of the crew module salvage operation or the identification of crew members, but an ambulance was ordered to the pier Tuesday night to meet the Pierce.

Several men unloaded what appeared to be a large, rectangular, box-shaped container and carried it on board the ship. About five minutes later, they carried it off and loaded it into the ambulance, which left the area under escort by Air Force security.

House Votes To Ban 'Doonesbury' Laws

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The ridicule swank Palm Beach earned at the hands of "Doonesbury" cartoonist Garry Trudeau has prompted a Florida House vote to ban local ordinances that require blue collar laborers to register with police and be fingerprinted.

The House gave the bill (HB 133) its preliminary approval on a voice vote on Tuesday and a final vote is set for Thursday. An identical proposal is pending in the Senate.

The Palm Beach law required most blue-collar workers — including cab drivers, janitors, domestic servants, sales clerks and all hotel or restaurant employees — to register with and be fingerprinted and photographed by city police. Workers also had to purchase and at all times carry a $4 police identification card.

The popular cartoon strip "Doonesbury" compared the law to apartheid laws practiced in South Africa. The bill's sponsors say the strips alerted them to the ordinance.

A federal judge ruled the ordinance unconstitutional in December. But the Palm Beach council is considering appealing the ruling and has begun a study of a new registration card system.

The House bill would allow local employment regulations requiring workers to show "certain skills, knowledge, or moral character" provided the law is narrowly drawn and does not unfairly discriminate against any class or individual.

In other action, the House:
● Approved a special allocation of $1.2 million for development of an AIDS ward at Dade County's Jackson Memorial Hospital.

● Gave preliminary approval to a bill extending death warrants indefinitely. Under current law, a warrant that is stayed by any court for more than one week expires and a new warrant must be signed before an execution can be carried out.

● Gave preliminary approval to the Whistleblower's Act of 1986, which would protect from retribution employees who report violations of law that create a danger to public health or safety. The House passed a similar bill last year. A Senate committee approved a version of the same bill on Tuesday.

● A House Finance and Tax subcommittee voted 5-0 for a bill that would place before voters a proposed constitutional amendment to amend the current $25,000 homestead exemption of property taxes that would leave each homeowner paying at least some tax.

The revision would exempt the first $5,000 of a home's worth, then one-half the remaining worth up to a maximum exemption of $25,000. Supporters say the measure would help small, poor counties.

Also on Tuesday, the Senate:

● Unanimously approved a pair of House bills (HB 1180 and HB 1181) that mimic last year's $232 million public school construction bill. The House approved the two Public Education Capital Outlay bills on Monday.

Budget Dispute May Be Easing

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Republican leader Robert Dole called Tuesday's deadline to pass a budget "meaningless" and indicated there may be some easing of the Senate-White House dispute that has stalled action on the spending plan.

"I see a willingness in the White House to get really serious about the budget," Dole said, adding that he thought there was some change in the administration's vehement opposition to the budget approved by the Senate Budget Committee.

Dole met with White House chief of staff Donald Reagan and budget director James Miller Monday and to discuss compromise on the fiscal 1987 budget and said he hoped to meet with them again.

A spokesman for Miller said Tuesday he could not comment on the administration's position. Reagan planned comments later in the day.

The GOP-led Senate panel approved a $1 trillion budget that slashes $25 billion from Reagan's planned military spending, raises $18.5 billion in taxes — $12 billion more than Reagan requested — and retains many social programs the president wanted to scrap.

Reagan and his aides have condemned the committee action.

The Gramm-Rudman balanced-budget law requires the current deficit of about $180 billion to be cut to $144 next fiscal year. It also set the April 15 deadline for budget passage, but congressional officials have said for at least a week that the deadline would not be met.

"I'm not unmindful of the date," Dole said, "but I'd rather have a good budget than keep a meaningless date."

Sens. Mark Hatfield, R-Ore., chairman of the Appropriations

Committee and Lawton Chiles of Florida, ranking Democrat on the Budget Committee, used the deadline to urge the Senate to act.

Eye Care Hotline Opens

The Florida Eye Care Project Helpline, a medical program to help provide eye care to the elderly, has received 2,414 calls in its first two weeks of operation according to Tully C. Patrowicz, MD, president of the Florida Society of Ophthalmology.

Of the callers, 1,508 elderly Florida residents — 38 of whom have no insurance — have been referred to volunteer ophthalmologists for eye care. Other callers have received free information about eye care.

US citizens and legal residents age 65 and older can call the toll-free Helpline — 1-800-222-EYES — if they think they have medical eye problems but do not have an eye physician. Disadvantaged elderly are eligible for medical eye care at no out-of-pocket cost, Patrowicz said.

The Florida Helpline is open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. Other states will be opening at two-week intervals until July 21, when the Helpline will be operating throughout the country.

The program — supported by voluntary donations from ophthalmologists and by contributions from corporations associated with the eye care profession — is sponsored by the Foundation of the American Academy of Ophthalmology and state ophthalmology societies across the US.

The American Academy of Ophthalmology is the world's largest association of eye physicians and surgeons, with nearly 14,000 members. Ophthalmologists provide comprehensive eye exams, prescribe corrective lenses and diagnose and treat eye disease.

Blood Givers And Receivers Increase

Despite health concerns that were feared a threat to the blood supply, donations at the Central Florida Blood Bank were up this year 5.9 percent in January and 2.4 percent in February compared to the same months last year, according to officials.

But the blood bankers say they can't rest comfortably with that increase because since the first of the year, blood usage has risen much higher than normal and continues to outpace donations.

They are in an almost daily battle to assure the community a safe and adequate supply of blood.

"Throughout our system, blood usage is surpassing collections," said Edward O. Carr, Central Florida Blood Bank's president and chief executive officer at its headquarters in Orlando. "January's usage increased 9.2 percent over the same month last year, and in February it was up 8.8 percent."

A trend like that could leave the blood bank's shelves bare in short order, Carr indicated. "We've been importing blood from other community blood banks to maintain a safe supply," he said.

"We have tremendously loyal donors," Carr said. "Right now we need them to know that if they haven't donated in the last eight weeks, we need them to come by and take the few minutes necessary to give a unit of blood."

Carr said he is not able to point to any single cause for the increased use of blood. However, in each community, there are examples of much higher demand this year. Local Branch Supervisor Jo Ann Barnett said that here in Seminole County the increased demand included bleeding ulcers and arterial dilatation that required 51 units of blood between three patients.

The process of importing blood is achieved through a cooperative network of the nation's community blood banks. The Blood Clearinghouse enables American Association of Blood Banks affiliates to move units of fresh whole blood from one community where there is a surplus to areas where there is a shortage.

"But it is an expensive measure and one we work very hard to avoid," said Carr. "First, we want to keep the cost of processing blood down. This is a not-for-profit organization designed to provide a service our community needs."

"More importantly, however, it is our belief that providing the blood supply is a responsibility each of us must assume in our own community. That is why we have branches in each community we serve," he said, "to make it convenient for local residents to be regular donors."

Barnett said the Seminole County Branch averages 55 donors per week but needs to increase that number to keep pace with usage demand. She explained that anyone over the age of 17 can give blood if they are in good health. There is no upper age restriction.

All donors receive a fully-clothed mini-physical examination that many find is a good way to regularly monitor such factors as their blood pressure and heart rate.

The Seminole County Branch, at 1302 E. Second Street in Sanford, is open Monday and Wednesday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Tuesday and Thursday 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. Barnett can be reached at 322-0822 for further information, or to make arrangements to establish a group reserve account for clubs, churches, or companies wishing to establish protection for all employees and their families.

Republican Committee Elects New Officers

Longwood resident Ray Valdes has been elected chairman of the Seminole County Republican Committee.

Valdes, president of Bravados Enterprises Inc., was chosen by committee members over Orlando attorney Barry Miller, a former Jack Kemp aide and chairman of the recent Lincoln Day Dinner.

Valdes is an active Republican party member in Seminole County and formerly in Illinois. Alice Myers, secretary and headquarters director, was elected vice-chairman and Jim Oague was elected secretary.

In the race for treasurer, Jim Lavigne, a former Casseberry councilman, defeated Dot Meadors, who had served as treasurer for 13 years.

Emphasizing party unity, candidates pledged to continue to build the local organization and involve members in the running of the executive committee.

Under the leadership of outgoing chairman Jim Weinberg, the Republican party captured the majority of voters in the county last year for the first time, spokesman Kay Bartholomew said.

New offices were won by Republicans, including the clerk of the court, and registered Democrats, including elected officials, have switched parties in 1984 and 1985, she said.

Sanford Mayor Betty Smith, Supervisor of Elections Sandy Gourd and Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce chairman Shirley Schilke have reregistered as Republicans recently, she said.

WEATHER

NATIONAL REPORT: Milder weather settled over the Plains today, giving ranchers time to begin assessing losses from a spring blizzard that killed hundreds of cows and calves. At least two people died in the storm. A new storm brewing in the Pacific brought showers and thunderstorms to parts of Washington, Oregon and Northern California today. Strong winds prompted travelers advisories for the Owens Valley in Southern California. In the East, thundershowers stretched from New York state across the Virginia into northeast Tennessee, drenching both Washington, D.C., and Harrisburg, Pa., with more than an inch of rain. The storm that blasted the Dakotas with 20 inches of snow and 90-mph winds Monday spread only light snow and rain as it moved east across the Great Lakes and Ohio Valley Tuesday night, leaving warmer weather behind in the Plains. "It's quite a bit weaker, and it's going to get weaker as time goes on over the next few days," National Weather Service meteorologist Bill Barlow said of the storm. Nevertheless, the storm threatened to dump up to

3 inches of wet snow on western Pennsylvania, where travelers advisories were posted. Dean Mellus, a Faulkton, S.D., rancher, said a break in the weather Tuesday allowed him to make a preliminary check of his herd, but it would be days before he knew how many head of cattle he lost to the snow and record cold. "I drove around checking today and there were baby calves standing on the highway all huddled up. Cows have wandered into other herds to keep warm," Mellus said Tuesday night. "We probably came out in real good shape compared to most people."

Suspected Suicidal Woman Surrenders

The Seminole County SWAT (Special Weapons and Tactics) team used tear gas to force the surrender of a possibly suicidal woman who was armed and barricaded in a bedroom of her father's Fern Park home.

At about 10 a.m. Monday the 28-year-old Longwood woman who was upset over having been served with Seminole County commitment papers under the alcohol abuse-related Myer's Act, a sheriff's report said, ransacked her own home and then went to her parents' home on Nightland Avenue.

There she locked herself in a bedroom and her father, who believed she might be suicidal, called sheriff's deputies, the report said.

The woman was armed with a .357-magnum handgun, sheriff's

'Ski Mask' Bandit Executed Tuesday

STARKE (UPI) — Daniel Morris Thomas, leader of a notorious "Ski Mask Gang" that terrorized a community, died kicking and screaming in the electric chair as a self-styled "political human sacrifice" Tuesday only minutes after the Supreme Court refused to interfere.

"Get off me, (obscenity). Get off me, or I'll kill you." Thomas shouted at prison guards as they strapped him in the electric chair.

It took seven men to restrain Thomas, who was kicking and screaming obscenities. Assistant prison superintendent Ham Mathis was kicked in the groin during the struggle.

Thomas finally was strapped into the chair at 12:07 p.m. and was pronounced dead at 12:19 p.m., 24 minutes after the Supreme Court, meeting in Washington, refused to grant a stay of execution.

Calmly to read his last statement, Thomas called himself and other death row prisoners "human sacrifices" for politicians.

"It is time and it's long overdue for the people of the state and federal government to put a stop to state politicians who use the death penalty and death row prisoners as pawns and political human sacrifices as a means to further their political careers in the state," he said.

Around a dozen anti-death penalty protesters picketed outside the prison along with three pro-death penalty pickets.

Thomas had refused a last meal of lobster and steak several hours before the execution as his attorneys appealed to the Supreme Court to halt the execution.

But the high court, with Justices Thurgood Marshall and William Brennan dissenting, refused the appeal for a stay at 11:55 a.m. EST, six minutes before the scheduled execution.

The execution was the 54th in the nation since the Supreme Court reinstated the death penalty in 1976 and the 14th in Florida, which leads the nation, with Texas second. Texas has scheduled its 12th execution since 1976 on Wednesday morning.

Thomas was convicted of shooting a homeowner and raping his wife in 1976 while the man lay dying.

The application for a stay challenged Thomas' conviction on several grounds, including that the jury was "drawn from a community saturated with inflammatory pre-trial publicity."

Pharaonic Libraries

The Lyndon Baines Johnson library on the University of Texas campus in Austin is the marble sarcophagus of a doomed presidency. It is as big as LBJ's dream for the Great Society. And within its cavernous shell, which dwarfs LBJ's black limousine, there is a haunting emptiness, the sadness of a man trapped inside a dream turned nightmare.

"Presidents don't generally read books," says one president watcher.

But they love to think everyone else is dying to read their papers. Kennedy's doodles, Nixon's hit lists, Ford's football score cards, Carter's Sunday school sermonettes, Ronald Reagan's cartoons. They're all preserved — or will be preserved — in vaults of marble and teak.

The historians of the future looking back on this era will appreciate the preservation of state documents. But they may wonder why dead presidents get vast libraries, while the Library of Congress is facing severe cuts.

There's nothing to stop presidents from saving their doodles and Chinese-cookie fortunes. But there should be a limit to what the public pays for their preservation.

Right now, the taxpayers are paying millions each year to maintain presidential libraries. In 1955, the cost of maintaining ex-presidents and their papers was $64,000. It's now hitting $25.1 million.

About a third of it goes for Secret Service protection to presidents and their families. Protection and pensions are justified. But presidential libraries get 58 percent of the $25 million — an outrageous sum.

Sen. Lawton Chiles, D-Fla., is crusading against these Pharaonic pyramids of presidential paper. We support his efforts to cut back on federal funding for the libraries. They should be maintained by private donations and foundations.

Posterity has lost the envelope on which Abraham Lincoln was said to have penned the Gettysburg Address. But we've got his words engraved in our minds.

If that's good enough for Lincoln, it should be good enough for LBJ.

A Fool's Game

Cocaine smugglers obviously are concentrating their operations on the U.S. West Coast, shipping cocaine to California like so many truckloads of flour.

More than two tons of cocaine were seized the first week of April — 2,455 pounds in a Tijuana warehouse, ready to come across the border, and another 1,700 pounds, which already had reached Anaheim in Orange County. Another 90 pounds was discovered in a sports car a smuggler was attempting to drive across the border at San Ysidro, Calif.

Authorities say these seizures account for only about 10 percent of the cocaine that enters the state. The source of the narcotic is Colombia. Smugglers bring the drug into this country through Mexico, and the volume grows day by day.

The West Coast became the prime entry point for smugglers after the United States stepped up interception efforts along the Gulf Coast states, making it too hot for smugglers and their illegal operations. The biggest seizure came when a record 3,000 pounds was discovered at Miami airport in March 1982.

Enforcement must be strengthened against smugglers, but the traffic will continue. As long as there are people willing to buy illegal drugs, suppliers will find some way to get the contraband to them, reaping billions of dollars.

It's a fool's game — and the United States seems loaded with plenty of dopers who can't resist their cocaine, no matter what the price.

How About A Set Of Talking Dinner Plates?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — It has been suggested that since we now have talking cars maybe technicians can figure out a way to provide such goodies as talking dinner plates, talking eyeglasses and talking shoes.

Such an expansion of scientific knowledge should be relatively simple to accomplish. It's only a matter of programming a few microchips. Isn't it? I do hope, however, it will be scientifically possible to make the messages a bit more upbeat.

Thus far, at least, talking cars sound a lot like back-seat drivers. The person at the wheel gets a lot of static about failures to close doors properly, to buckle seat belts and omissions like that.

Sure, such reminders can come in handy. But did you ever hear a talking car say something nice like: "Hey, Buddy, you did a fine job of swerving around that stalled truck?"

Just once, I would like to hear a talking car utter something complimentary, rather than always nag, nag, nag. But that development, apparently, must await the marketing of talking plates, glasses, shoes and similar products.

A cartoon I saw had these technologically advanced objects dealing mainly in admonitions. There were messages about eating all the food one is served (shades of World War II), about keeping one's eyes off shapely figures among other pedestrians and about walking along a sidewalk where dogs and other animal pets have been.

In short, owning talking plates, glasses or shoes is made to seem about as encouraging as living out where the buffalo roam. It doesn't have to be that way.

I'll concede that human beings are imperfect. Nevertheless, with a little help from talking appliances we could be much better than we are if the conversation became a bit more sanguine.

I would like to see verbal capacity not only extended to other commonplace items but their outlook become rosier.

Oh, it would be OK for a talking grocery cart to say, "Hey, Dummy, you forgot the butter." Or the salt or whatever was on the list that one neglected to put in the cart before getting in a checkout line. But an occasional verbal pat on the back wouldn't hurt anything either.

Who would not like to have talking plates that not only would rebuke us about the starving Ethiopians but also would commend us for sticking to our diets?

Desert plates, especially, could do good work. For example, they might say, "A little piece of pie like that couldn't hurt anyone."

Talking spectacles also could perform good and useful service not only by pointing out that curbs were coming up but by calling attention to sightworthy attractions the wearer might otherwise miss. Interesting architecture, for instance.

There might come a time, of course, when you would feel like telling your talking galoshes to "shut up" or your talking gloves to "cool it."

On such occasions, all you would have to do is disconnect the battery and blessed silence would prevail.

ROBERT WALTERS

Right Takes Aim Again

RALEIGH, N.C. (NEA) — The right-wing zealots in North Carolina once again are intent upon destroying the integrity of a politician who dares to stand in the way of their efforts to dominate the state's politics.

In earlier campaigns, the targets of the far-right fanatics were moderate to liberal Democrats, but this year the object of their scorn is a conservative Republican, Rep. James T. Broyhill, a veteran of a dozen terms in the House.

Broyhill's ideological purity has been certified by organizations ranging from Americans for Constitutional Action, a conservative group that has been rating members of Congress for almost three decades, to Congressional Quarterly, a non-partisan research organization that analyzes legislators' voting records.

ACA calculates that Broyhill has supported conservative positions in almost 87 percent of key votes during the 1970s and 1980s, while CQ says he has been a member of the "conservative coalition" 85 percent of the time.

In addition, the authoritative Almanac of American Politics characterizes Broyhill as a "calm, steady, workmanlike" legislator who is "one of the most important and hard-working Republican members of the House."

But that's not good enough for the National Congressional Club, the powerful fund-raising group founded here in 1973 by Sen. Jesse Helms, R-N.C., and his supporters.

The linchpin of Helms' political organization, the Congressional Club routinely seeks to impose mean-spirited, narrow-minded standards upon races for House and Senate seats throughout the state.

When Sen. Robert B. Morgan, D-N.C., was seeking re-election in 1980, the Congressional Club denigrated his record through a series of vicious "attack ads" on television. The discredited Morgan was defeated by Sen. John P. East, R-N.C., a Helms protege.

When Helms was seeking re-election in 1984, the Congressional Club financed an equally vitriolic — and equally successful — smear campaign against his Democratic opponent, Gov. James B. Hunt Jr.

When East was plucked from obscurity by Helms and the Congressional Club to run for Senate in 1980, he was a college professor who had never held any political office.

His term expires this year but he will not be seeking re-election because of poor health. As a replacement, the Congressional Club has plucked from obscurity David B. Funderburk, a college professor who has never held any political office.

ROBERT WAGMAN

Lobbyists Elude Control

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The lobbying by former White House aide Michael Deaver has underscored once again one of the oldest problems in Washington — the so-called revolving door of government.

While the revolving door to top-money lobby jobs has always existed, many believe the problem has worsened considerably during the last several years.

Deaver is the most visible of the former high-level Reagan administration officials who now lobby for big dollars, but there are dozens of others who are just as active.

Now two representatives, Howard Wolpe, D-Mich., and Marcy Kaptur, D-Ohio, have introduced legislation that would bar top officials from representing or advising a foreign concern or government for at least 10 years after leaving government service. The proposed legislation would subject violators of the 10-year rule to a fine of $250,000 or two years in prison.

"In essence, former high-level public servants are cashing in on knowledge and expertise obtained at taxpayer expense," says Rep. Kaptur.

"What has happened is that the American government has become a finishing school for highly paid lobbyists for foreign interests," is how Wolpe puts it. "We think it is simply wrong that former top-level American officials should be for sale to the highest foreign bidder."

Wolpe and Miss Kaptur say the new law is necessary because existing laws are written too loosely and are rarely enforced.

Yet most Capitol Hill insiders put the bill's chances of passage at somewhere between zero and none. Said one seasoned Senate staffer,

"The people making the big bucks at foreign representation are the center of the establishment from both parties. They could defeat anything, let alone a measure like this. If the rules ever change it will be to make them more lenient, not tighten them up."

The revolving door, of course, takes many forms: It might be a former military officer going to work for a defense contractor whose efforts he used to oversee. It might be a federal bank examiner who has gone to work for a bank he used to examine.

It may be a federal bureaucrat retiring and forming a consulting company to do the same work he was doing as a government employee, only for an inflated fee instead of a mere salary.

Or, it might be a high-level former federal official lobbying his friends, and even his former subordinates, on behalf of private interests or foreign governments. And Deaver, former White House deputy chief of staff, is a gold plated example. Since he left the White House less than a year ago to set up a lobbying firm, he has obtained contracts worth millions from foreign governments and private firms. By one recent account a European public relations firm has offered to buy Deaver's fledgling business for $18 million.

Currently, the General Accounting Office is investigating whether Deaver violated federal conflict-of-interest laws in his dealings with the White House on behalf of one $100,000-plus a year client, the government of Canada.

Reportedly, Deaver was instrumental in getting the Reagan administration to agree to step up efforts to bring acid rain under control — with America footing the bill.

DON GRAFF

The Gay Rights Issue...

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Should homosexuals be legally protected?

It's estimated that at least one state, 11 counties and 47 municipalities throughout the United States have passed gay-rights laws in recent times — New York City is only the latest place to do so.

In the past 10 years, Los Angeles, Philadelphia, Detroit, San Francisco and Washington, D.C., have enacted similar laws.

In 1982, Wisconsin became the first state to pass a homosexual-rights law.

The push for gay-rights laws is gaining steam. The National Gay Task Force says that such ordinances are being debated in a half-dozen major cities and in twice that many state legislatures. However, the movement also faces stiff opposition — and, in some areas, a strong backlash.

The issue has become highly political: Republicans are clearly trying to link the Democrats with gay rights. The Democratic Party has helped gays to make their biggest strides towards recognition, while the GOP refuses to recognize a gay-Republican caucus.

All of the legislative bodies that have passed gay-rights laws have had Democratic majorities, while many of the repeal and opposition groups are led by conservative Republicans who hope for political gain.

This doesn't bother many big-city Democrats, but it's a hot topic among those in the South and Midwest. Several Democratic state chairmen say the issue could be damaging to their local candidates, and they're fighting attempts to give organized gays more say in party affairs.

One Democratic party chairman — Tennessee's Richard Lodge — says that "the public perception that the party has made explicit concessions to organized gay-rights activists has hurt it, and hurt it significantly."

In New York, the City Council was recently embroiled in a debate over a homosexual-rights amendment to the city's administrative code. The council passed the bill, which forbids discrimination in employment, housing and public accommodations on the basis of sexual orientation. Mayor Ed Koch signed it into law. (Last year, Houston voters soundly defeated a similar measure.)

Gay rights has become an emotional and divisive issue — as was evident in the New York debate, which crossed all party lines and pitted one religious leader against another.

JACK ANDERSON

Army Doughnuts Play By Rules

By Jack Anderson
And Dale Van Atta

WASHINGTON — One reason the military often pays outlandish prices for coffee pots and ballpeen hammers is the rigid insistence on detailed specifications for every item purchased.

Most of the voluminously described specifications, or "specs," are necessary safeguards against shady contractors who might cut corners to save money. But some, in page after page of barely decipherable jargon, simply hamstring procurement officers who might otherwise use their common sense to find better buys on the open market.

Our associate Stewart Harris has reviewed several reams of military specs on everyday items used by the military. Here are the highlights of "A Day in the Well-Specified Life of GI Joe":

At breakfast, Joe can be confident that his doughnut, when "cut vertically or horizontally with a sharp knife, shall not be greasy over one-eighth inch in depth at any place on the cut surface," according to specs in force since 1982. Why Joe would want to slice his doughnut horizontally, like a bagel, or have to use a sharp knife to cut it vertically before dunking, the specs don't explain. They do add that frosted doughnuts must retain their glaze when "subjected to ordinary shocks of transportation."

Joe might decide to do his stomach lining a favor and choose hot chocolate instead of coffee. A safe choice: 20 pages of specifications set the standard for GI cocoa. Its "pH" — a measure of acidity/alkalinity familiar to gardeners — must register within one point of the middle on a 14-point scale. At least 14 percent of the cocoa powder must be butter fat, and it can't have big chunks of cocoa bean: "When washed with petroleum ether, not less than 98 percent by weight shall pass through a U.S. Standard No. 200 sieve." This may explain what the Army cooks were doing in those mysterious pre-dawn hours before we showed up for KP: sniffing ether-washed cocoa.

This being the New Army, Joe may decide to have a marshmallow or two in his hot chocolate.

Nine pages of specs cover the size and ingredients. If the marshmallows are colored, they must be a pastel shade; otherwise, military marshmallows will be white.

During the day, Joe may decide to relieve the tension with some GI chewing gum. It's a favorite ofurchins around the world, and no wonder: 17 pages of specs require, among other things, that the gum "impart a pleasing characteristic taste sensation" and retain at least a "residual characteristic flavor" after 20 minutes' chewing.

GI gum comes in stick or candy-coated tablet form, in peppermint, spearmint or fruit flavor. It's rated by a tasters' panel on a "hedonic scale" of one to nine. (The Hedonic philosophers in ancient Greece placed paramount importance on pleasure and gratification of natural desires — roughly the exact opposite of the soldierly Spartans.)

Joe may head for the playing field during the day. Thanks to 23 pages of specifications, he can be confident that his athletic supporter has proven capable of withstanding two hours of baking at 300 degrees without losing its stretchability.

By Paul Schaefer
Herald Staff Writer
Jackson Heights Middle School, Oviedo, is being evaluated this week by a consultant from Florida State University and the Florida Department of Education, as a result of the school's nomination for national recognition.

Cheryl Chase is conducting a site visit to the school, and will file a report with U.S. Secretary of Education William Bennett, as part of the U.S. Department of Education's Elementary Schools Recognition Program. Bennett will announce in Washington the schools selected to receive national recognition on June 27.

Jackson Heights nomination packet was sent to Washington earlier this year, where a national review panel selected the schools for site visits.

The site visit indicates that the school is being considered "as a model of excellence" according to district spokesman Karen Coleman, who said. "This is a reflection on the students, faculty, parents and leadership of the school."

Mrs. Coleman said Ms. Chase is spending time with students, teachers, administrators, parents, Superintendent of Schools Robert Hughes, as well as in Jackson Heights classrooms during the evaluation.

While Ms. Chase can't comment on her evaluation, school Principal Bob Rainey said, "She seemed to be pleased with what she has seen. She's been here from early in the day until 8:30 at night, and spent more time in the classrooms that she had planned."

"This is not a competition against numbers and schools, but the criteria for excellence," he continued. He said that of the 21 Florida schools nominated, only 11 were selected for site visits.

"We feel very fortunate to reach this point. Now we'll wait to see if we win," Rainey concluded.

The school serves the largest middle school attendance zone in the county, and is populated by 1,149 students. The nomination packet, provided by the district lists accomplishments by students and teachers.

In 1984-85, students in science won two state fair awards, three first place county awards, five second place county awards, seven third place county awards, and one honorable mention.

During the 1984-85 county math fair, students from the school won a first place award, two second place awards, and two team third place awards.

Between 1980 and 1985, the school has had 15 state award winners in Duke University's Talent Identification Program.

"Our new heat pump saves more than enough money to run the VCR and TV. Do you think FPL knew that when they helped us buy it?"

Sure we did. FPL is encouraging everybody to manage their energy efficiently because lowering peak energy demand delays the need for new power plants - an expense everyone must share.

Installing a high-efficiency central heat pump can cut your heating costs up to 40% because it's more efficient than a conventional electric heating system. In the winter, the heat pump extracts heat from the outside air (yes, there's always heat in the air) and transfers it indoors. And in the summer, it cools by removing heat and humidity from inside.

You might also want to install a heat-recovery water heating system with your new heat pump to save even more money.

To find out how to qualify for a cash incentive and to get more information on energy management, call our 24-hour toll free number, 1-800-821-7700.

WORLD IN BRIEF

Thatcher Defends British Role In U.S. Attack On Libya

LONDON (UPI) — Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher skipped dinner with the Queen to prepare for a parliamentary debate today on Britain's support role in the U.S. attack on Libya.

Thatcher's decision to allow U.S. F-111 fighter-bombers based in Britain to carry out the attacks on Libya provoked a ruckus in Parliament Tuesday and sparked protests in which at least 175 people were arrested.

But Thatcher told the House of Commons Tuesday, "It is inconceivable to me that we should refuse U.S. aircraft and U.S. pilots the ability to defend their own people."

The prime minister, noting the threat of reprisals, said government and military installations were placed on "a high level of alert" and warned the public to be on guard against indiscriminate attacks.

A Libyan diplomat, Salam Msalem, who works out of the Saudi Embassy, said in a television interview that "any country supporting the American aggression will be a target for everything."

At least 160 people were arrested in a candlelight protest by more than 1,000 demonstrators Tuesday night who blocked Whitehall, the thoroughfare where the main government ministries are located, a Scotland Yard spokesman said.

Soviets Cancel Crucial Meeting

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union, labeling the U.S. attack on Libya an "aggressive criminal action" and a violation of international law, canceled a crucial meeting called to prepare for the next U.S.-Soviet summit.

Long ambivalent in public about its relationship with Libyan leader Moammar Khadafy, the Kremlin sprang to his defense following Tuesday's U.S. bombing raid on the north African country, which receives most of its arms from the Soviet Union.

Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev said the U.S. attack was a "deliberate aggravation of Soviet-American relations" and that it "stamped out" hopes of improved superpower relations.

After an emergency meeting that diplomatic sources said was convened by Gorbachev, the Kremlin Tuesday canceled a scheduled meeting between Foreign Minister Eduard Shevardnadze and Secretary of State George Shultz.

The meeting, which had been scheduled for mid-May, was expected to result in the setting of a date for President Reagan and Gorbachev's U.S. summit meeting.

UN Condemnation Sought

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — Libya, backed by its Soviet ally, demanded that the U.N. Security Council condemn the U.S. air attack on Libya and several delegates denounced Britain for allowing the raid to be launched from U.S. bases in Britain.

A Libyan draft proposal put before the 15-nation Council Tuesday urged the panel to express "deep indignation" at the U.S. attack and "resolutely condemn the act of armed aggression against Libya by United States armed forces."

In speeches Tuesday, several delegates, including those from Libya and Cuba, accused British Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher of "complicity" for permitting the raid to be launched from bases in Britain.

Kidnappers Release Guinness

DUBLIN, Ireland (UPI) — Three kidnappers released Jennifer Guinness, a member of Ireland's wealthy beer and banking family, and surrendered to police today, eight days after abducting the woman for a $2.6 million ransom.

Police said Guinness, 48, was "safe and well" at the end of her ordeal. She was freed at daybreak after police and troops surrounded a south Dublin house where she had been held.

Troops had joined police in the siege of the three-story house in the Ballsbridge district of Dublin early today after a neighbor saw Guinness, whom he recognized from news photographs, being taken into the home, police sources said.

Olga: 'Wonderful To Be Back'

LONDON (UPI) — Saying "It's wonderful to be back," 14-year-old Olga Peters, the American-born granddaughter of Soviet dictator Joseph Stalin, returned to the West nearly 18 months after reluctantly moving to the Soviet Union with her homesick mother.

"I can't wait to go back to school and see my friends," Olga said at Heathrow Airport late Tuesday. She returned aboard a scheduled Aeroflot flight from Moscow and one of her first acts was to call her mother, Stalin's daughter, back in Moscow.

"Olga called me just a while ago," Svetlana Alliluyeva told United Press International. "I am very relieved she made it safely."

When asked if she would be joining her daughter in the West, Alliluyeva said, "It remains to be seen, but I should know something in the next few days."

FAA Praises Arrow Air

OTTAWA (UPI) — A U.S. Federal Aviation Administration inspector praised the owners of a DC-8 jet that crashed in Gander, Newfoundland, killing 248 U.S. soldiers and eight crew members, even though inspectors found the company violated federal regulations on several occasions.

Anthony Kijek, the FAA's principal operations inspector of Miami-based Arrow Air, told a Canadian Aviation Safety Board inquiry Tuesday the company's recently developed system of keeping training records was "the model of the industry."

Charges Filed Against Marcos

MANILA, Philippines (UPI) — President Corazon Aquino's government has formally charged Ferdinand Marcos and two dozen friends and relatives with bilking the Philippine treasury of at least $5 billion, officials said today.

by an elite police guard. The soldiers carried their guns out but were not firing.

In Washington, Randy Beers, director of the State Department's Libyan Task Force, said "we have no information of his whereabouts" when asked about reports Khadafy had fled to Yemen.

Cars streamed out of the capital and a woman was seen running from a new television station building where shots were heard. The windows of the building were blown out.

A gunboat fired offshore, tanks poked their barrels out through the walls of Khadafy's compound and other tanks and transport vehicles were parked inside.

Late Tuesday, anti-aircraft fire boomed in the blacked-out Libyan capital nearly a day after the massive U.S. air strike that killed an adopted daughter of Khadafy, wounded two of his sons and drew widespread condemnation.

White House and Pentagon officials denied there were any new strikes. A White House spokesman said the air attack at 2 a.m. Tuesday Tripoli time was the first — but not necessarily the last — installment of the "heavy price" Khadafy must pay for his support of terrorism.

At least 17 civilians were killed in Tripoli and about 100 wounded in the raid — the biggest U.S. air strike since the Vietnam War — which devastated residential areas of the capital and also struck the coastal city of Benghazi.

More than 18 hours later, anti-aircraft fire echoed through the capital, shrouded in a massive electrical blackout that began shortly after 8 p.m. and lasted about two hours. Cars navigated through the blacked-out streets with their headlights off.

At 1:30 a.m. today, big guns erupted again and at least three missiles were launched as unidentified planes flew over the city.

During Tuesday's raid, Khadafy's 15-month-old daughter, Hana, was killed when U.S. bombs smashed into Khadafy's headquarters at the Azizia compound on the outskirts of Tripoli. The girl, adopted by Khadafy and his wife 11 months ago, died of injuries 2 1/2 hours after the attack. Central Hospital director Mohammed Muafia said.

Two of the Libyan leader's sons — Sel el Arab, 4, and Camis, 3 — were seriously injured in the attack. They lay on their hospital beds heavily bandaged and receiving blood transfusions and oxygen.

Sources close to Khadafy said the Libyan leader was not injured in the attack, which President Reagan ordered for what the United States charged was Libyan involvement in an April 5 Berlin bombing that killed a U.S. soldier and a Turkish woman.

At Mildenhall Air Base, England, an Air Force pilot who flew on one of the tankers that accompanied the 18 F-111s on the way to Libya said: "We feel we did a great job."

"We did what we had to do. How else do you deal with a guy like Moammar Khadafy?"

But about 100 anti-nuclear protesters staged a silent vigil outside the main entrance of the closely guarded base in Britain. They lit candles and sat down in the street, holding up placards that read, "Reagan — Mad Dog of America."

Libyan radio said 20 U.S. planes had been shot down, but the Pentagon said only one of the 18 F-111s that flew the 3,200-mile, seven-hour route from Britain was missing, and all the Navy 15 A-6s and A-7s that flew from the aircraft carriers Coral Sea and America north of Libya had returned.

Libya Tuesday fired two missiles from a shore battery at a U.S. radar station on the Mediterranean island of Lampedusa, 200 miles north of Tripoli. No damage or injuries were reported and the missiles fell about 1 1/2 miles short of their target into the water.

Domestic reaction to the U.S. strike was largely supportive of Reagan's decision to attack. White House spokesman Larry Speakes said phone calls were running about 80 percent in favor of President Reagan's decision. On Capitol Hill, lawmakers, with few exceptions, backed the president's decision.

The assault on suspected "terrorist-related" targets in Tripoli and Benghazi was intended "to send a clear message that we will no longer tolerate the deaths of Americans and others," Speakes said.

"We are confident this message was heard and understood," he said.

But around the world, America's enemies and many of its allies condemned the long-rabombing mission as a violation of international law that will little affect terrorism.

Israel unequivocally supported Reagan's "self-defensive" action, and the leaders of Britain and West Germany also backed the strike. But France said it feared the retaliation would set the stage for a new "chain of violence," and Spain and Greece also disapproved.

Gorbachev canceled a planned meeting between Secretary of State George Shultz and Soviet Foreign Minister Eduard Shevardnadze that was intended to review prospects for a U.S.-Soviet summit this year in Washington.

Arab nations, including Syria and Iran, called for action against the United States and at least two terrorist groups, including one led by Abu Nidal, vowed to attack Americans. Libya sought a renewal of an oil embargo against the United States at an OPEC meeting in Geneva.

At the United Nations, Libyan delegate Rajab Azarouk called the attack "barbaric" and accused the United States of directing the raids against residential areas. "They were intended to make civilians and foreigners the victims," he said.

A tour of Tripoli revealed heavy damage to civilian areas, and doctors at Tripoli hospitals reported heavy civilian casualties. At least 15 bodies were seen at one hospital, including three young children, and at least two other bodies were seen in other areas of the city.

There was no official casualty count Tuesday.

Most of the victims in the hospital were dressed in night clothes and some were mutilated. Dr. Mohammed Muafia said as many as 100 civilians were injured.

Bombs or rockets also rained on a residential part of Tripoli where several foreign embassies are located. The French, Iranian and Romanian embassies and the Swiss ambassador's residence were all damaged.

Residents said the bombs that devastated the residential area appear to have been targeted on the Libyan central intelligence headquarters.

people realize that we are together as a nation, maybe they'll stop messing with us."

Some, however, had no doubts at all. Lisa and Lina Klinghoffer, whose wheelchair-bound father was killed by terrorists who hijacked the cruise liner Achille Lauro last year, said they were "clated with the president's actions."

"We know these actions will not bring our father back," they said in a statement issued in New York. "Terrorism is not acceptable in any guise. It is a criminal act, not a political one. We hope the other nations of this world will join with us in driving terrorists and terrorism from the face of the earth. Terrorists should have no place to run and no place to hide."

H. Ross Perot, the Texas electronics billionaire who made headlines when he engineered the escape of his employees from an Iranian prison in 1979, turned his wrath on the French.

He said the French refusal to allow U.S. F-111s to fly over France en route back to England could be blamed for the loss of one of the long-range bombers.

"If they're an ally, I would hate to meet an enemy," Perot said. "I'm absolutely disgusted, and I'm of French descent."

Rams Bounce Back To Win SAC

By Chris Piater
Herald Sports Writer

LAKE MARY — The fact that Lake Mary's Rams are ranked number one in the state (4A) and number nine in the country (USA Today poll) didn't mean diddly squat to the first four hitters in Lake Howell's lineup Tuesday afternoon.

The Hawks led off the game with four straight hits off Mike Schmit, including an RBI double by Kevin Lienard and a three-run homer off the bat of Eddie Taubensee, to take a 4-0 lead.

Schmit, though, would go on to allow just four hits the rest of the way and the Rams pounded Lake Howell ace Jim Read for 11 hits en route to a 10-6 victory in a game that clinched the Seminole Athletic Conference championship for the Rams Tuesday at Lake Mary High.

Lake Mary, 8-1 in the SAC, ran its overall record to 24-2. The Rams have a nonconference game today at home against Bishop Moore, then close out the regular season Friday with an SAC matchup at Oviedo. They have won eight in a row.

Lake Howell, which was once in contention in the SAC race, now stands at 4-5 in the league and 14-12 overall. The Hawks host Bishop Moore on Thursday and end the regular season Friday at Lyman.

The Hawks jumped all over Schmit in the top of the first as Terry Gammons and Damon Marlette hit consecutive singles and Lienard followed with a double down the left field line to score Gammons. Taubensee, a teammate of Schmit's on the Altamonte Senior League All-Star World Championship team, then stepped up and, with the count 2-1, launched a shot over the fence in right center for his fourth homer of the season and a 4-0 Lake Howell lead.

"He (Schmit) threw me a curve that hung up and I sort of guffed it out," Taubensee said. "That's the first homer I've hit off Mike and I owed him since he hit a few off me in (Altamonte) Senior League."

Baseball

Schmit, who upped his pitching record to 10-0 for the season, said he was getting the ball up and Lake Howell was taking advantage in the top of the first.

"It was mostly breaking balls that I got up," Schmit said. "I felt more comfortable after those first four hitters. It was just a matter of keeping the ball down and keeping Lake Howell from scoring so we would have a chance to come back."

Schmit got the Lake Mary comeback started in the bottom of the first. Shane Letterio drilled a double up the middle to start off the inning and, with two outs, Read hung a curve on the first pitch to Schmit and the Rams' senior leader crushed it over the fence in right center for his fifth dinger of the season.

Lake Howell picked up an unearned run in the top of the second when Dave Martin reched on an error, advanced to second on an error, and scored on a single by Marlette. The Rams got out of further trouble when Lienard hit into a 1-6-3 double play to end the inning. The twin killing was a big play for Lake Mary since Taubensee was waiting on deck.

Lake Mary got one run back in the bottom of the second to pull within 5-3. With two outs, T.J. Sutton beat out an infield single and scored when Letterio's liner to right was lost in the sun for a triple.

The Rams took control in the bottom of the third with five runs on four hits. Mike Pinckes bounced a single up the middle to lead off and, with one out, Read hung a curve inside to Ryan Lisle and Lisle deposited it over the left field fence for a two-run homer that tied the score at 5-5. It was Lisle's fourth homer of the season.

Read then walked both Brett Molle and Neal Harris and Molle scored when Kelly Hysell singled to right and Harris also scored on the play on a Lake

Howell error. With two outs, Read hung a 1-2 curveball to Letterio who ripped it back up the middle to score Hysell with the fifth run of the inning and an 8-5 Lake Mary lead.

The Rams added two more runs in the fourth as Pinckes and Schmit both walked. Pinckes scored on Lisle's base hit and Schmit scored on Harris' sacrifice fly.

After the second inning, Schmit blanked the Hawks until the top of the sixth when Marty Golloher singled, took second on an error, advanced to third on a groundout and scored on a sacrifice fly by Mark Schmittner.

Schmit came back in the top of the seventh to retire the side in order on just four pitches.

"I wasn't really worried when we got down by four early because we've scored four or more runs in just about every game this season," Lake Mary coach Allen Tuttle said. "Mike (Schmit) showed the mark of an experienced pitcher by coming back and pitching strong after the first inning."

Tribe Curtails Oviedo Thefts, But Belflower Hurls Too Much Relief

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

Oviedo's vaunted running attack, which had stolen 119 bases in 129 attempts, came to a screeching halt Tuesday. Seminole catcher Jeff Blake, standing in for an injured Roy Jensen, gunned down three runners and Tribe pitchers picked off two more.

"We looked pathetic (on the bases)," Oviedo coach Howard Mable said. "Fortunately, we had Tony Belflower. He came in and did a super job."

That he did. Belflower, with just one other inning of pitching work this spring, hurled 6½ innings of stellar relief as the Lions pulled out a 4-3 Seminole Athletic Conference victory over the Seminoles at Seminole High School.

Despite the victory, Oviedo was unable to stop Lake Mary from clinching the SAC, which the Rams did with a 10-6 victory over Lake Howell at Lake Mary Tuesday. The Rams are 8-1 in the SAC while Oviedo is 4-3. Oviedo travels to Altamonte Springs for a 7 o'clock SAC encounter with Lake Brantley's Patriots tonight.

Seminole, 11-16 and 3-6, returns to action today at 4 at home against Orlando Edgewater. Seminole closes its regular season Friday night at 8 at Lake Brantley. All children 12 and under will be admitted free at the Pats' final home game.

Oviedo jumped on Seminole starter Jimmy Lyons for one run in the first inning when Mark Merchant singled, stole second, moved to third on a wild pitch and scored on Belflower's sacrifice fly ball to center field.

Merchant, who was making his first mound start of the year, had control problems in the bottom of the first which led to his departure. The junior righthander hit leadoff hitter Alonzo Gainey with a pitch. Gainey stole second as Gary Derr whiffed. After Brian Sheffield popped out to center field, Willie Grayson walked.

Gainey and Grayson then

Baseball

pulled a key double steal with Greg Pond at the plate. Pond followed with a clutch base hit to left field to chase home both runs for a 2-1 lead. Belflower, though, came on and fanned Ron Blake to end the threat.

"I wasn't nervous," Belflower said. "I set them up with an outside fastball and then threw the curve."

Belflower retired four consecutive hitters before he walked Derr in the third. Derr swiped second. The junior third base then stole third and when catcher Jonathan Boston's throw went into left field, Derr scored for a 3-1 Seminole lead.

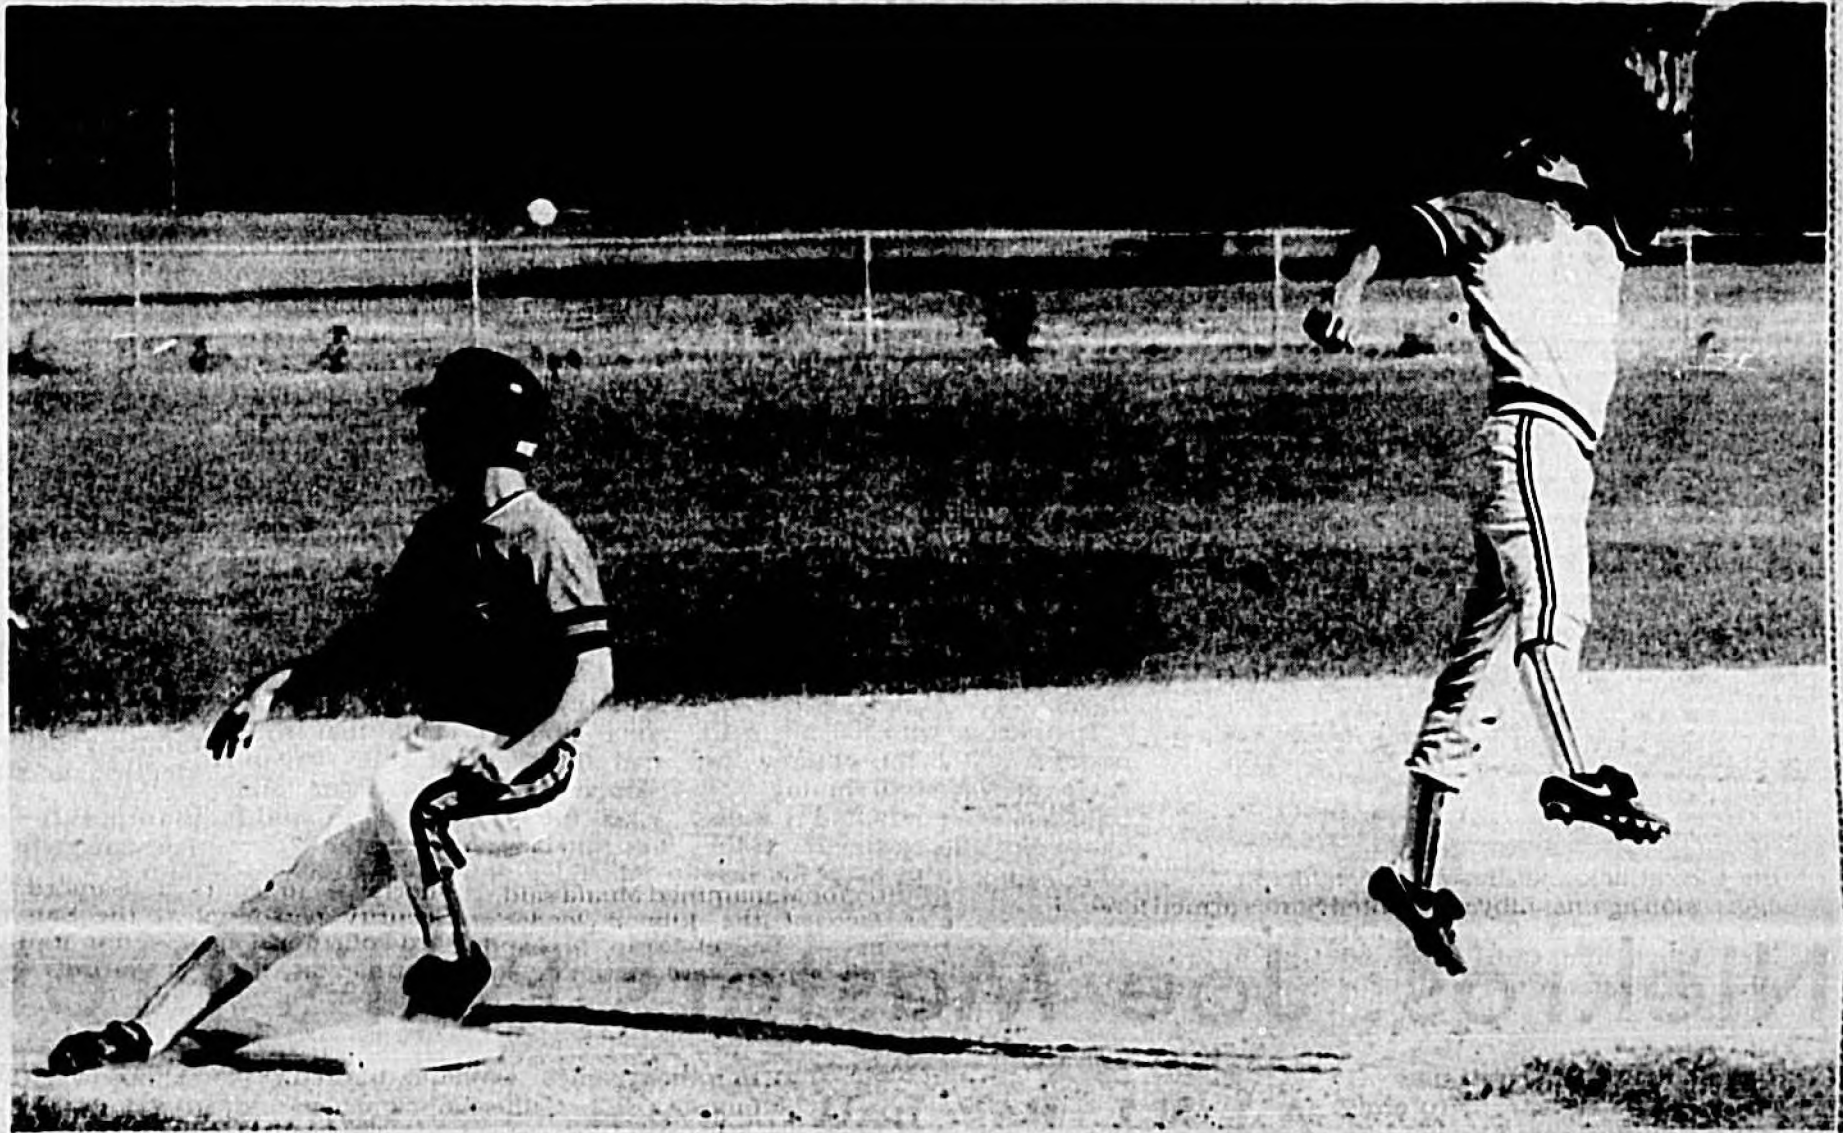

That was the extent of the 'Noies' offense, however. Belflower allowed just two hits after the third. The diminutive righthander retired eight of the last nine hitters he faced. He finished with four strikeouts.

"We just can't hit the ball," Seminole coach Mike Ferrell said about his team's measly four singles. "I thought we were out of the slump but we've been back in it the past two games."

Oviedo ran itself out of potential big innings when Jeff Blake tossed out three would-be thieves. He nailed Randy Ferguson in the second, Bobby Bradley in the third and Belflower in the fourth. Bradley and Merchant were picked off first base by reliever Mike Edwards in the fifth.

The Lions, though, tied the score in the fourth and knocked out Lyons. After Belflower was cut down, outfielder Frank Torres, who lifted his average to .426 with a productive last week, lofted a Lyons' pitch over the left field fence for a solo homer.

Lyons then walked Mike Sink before Ferrell summoned Edwards. Sink moved to second on a wild pitch before Alan Greene flied deep to center. Glenn Reichle followed with a base hit up the middle to plate Sink with the tying run.

throw. Derr stole third and scored on the errant toss but the Tribe dropped a 4-3 decision to the Lions Tuesday at home.

Urshan's 5-Hitter Puts Pats' Bats To Rest

By Scott Bander
Special To The Herald

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — Lyman Greyhound pitcher Ross Urshan did something Tuesday night that most opposing pitchers have not been able to do all year. He put the Lake Brantley Patriots bats to rest.

In his first start of the year since being called up from the junior varsity squad, held the usually explosive Patriots to just six hits and struck out 11 as the Greyhounds came away with a 7-3 Seminole Athletic Conference victory at Brantley before 77 fans.

The win put the Hounds over the .500 mark as they are 14-13 and 5-4 in the SAC. The setback drops the Pats to 11-14 and 2-6.

Brantley will resume SAC ac-

Baseball

tion tonight as its plays host to the Oviedo Lions. The game will feature the conferences two best hitters, Oviedo's Mark Merchant and Brantley's Mark Coffey. The game could decide who will win the county batting title as Coffey held a scant .004 lead going into Tuesday's action. Lyman will host Lake Howell on Friday night to conclude conference play.

"We were extremely flat tonight," said a disappointed Brantley coach Mike Smith. "We needed to win this game but we played lousy."

The Patriots dug their own graves as they committed six errors.

Lyman got the ball rolling in the top of the first inning with a run. Center fielder Darren Boyeson and first baseman Byron Overstreet both drew walks from loser lefty Zac Maddox (3-2). Right fielder Chris Radcliff reached on an infield single to load the bases. Catcher John Burton hit a grounder to third baseman Pat Lusk that scored Boyeson.

The Hounds cushioned their lead in top of the fourth frame with four important runs. Chris Brock lead off with one of five walks issued by Maddox. Shortstop John Bane then bunted, attempting to move Brock to second. The bunt went right to Maddox. Maddox, though, threw the ball over second baseman Rick Koch's head attempting to force Brock. It rolled into center field and Center fielder Mike Beams misplayed the ball allowing Brock to score. Bane took second on the double error. He took third when Maddox unleashed a wild one. Third baseman Dale Stevens proceeded to walk and steal second base.

Designated hitter Gib Lundquist followed with a solid single to left that scored Bane and Stevens. He took second when left fielder Frank Redding misplayed the ball. Marty Martin followed with a tap back to Maddox. Maddox threw the ball to third and Lusk tagged Lundquist out as Martin took

Payne Gets 'Sleeper' From Tiny Montverde

Robert Williams, who Seminole Community College basketball coach Bill Payne calls the biggest "sleeper" he's ever recruited, signed to play with the Raiders Tuesday.

Williams, a 6-5, 210-pound forward, played last season at Montverde Academy, a tiny Class 1A school and averaged 26 points and 21 rebounds per game. He wasn't eligible until the second semester after transferring from Eustis where he played his junior year.

"I didn't tell anybody about Robert," Payne said. "I was hoping no one would find out about him. He's a great athlete who is going to be a great basketball player."

Payne said when Montverde coach Monty Boyd revealed Williams' statistics at the player of the year meeting, the other coaches laughed and didn't believe him.

"Nobody had ever seen the kid play," Payne said. "But he's for real. He's the best athlete we've ever recruited. He is a physical specimen." Williams is a brother of Mike Ryals, a former SCC player who played for the Raiders in 1981. He is the second player signed by the Raiders, joining Orlando Colonial's Holly Keller and Malcolm Houston, a product of the Orlando City Recreation League.

Centers Ruland, Malone Uncertain For Playoffs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Washington Bullets and Philadelphia 76ers may have sizable holes in their lineups when they hook up in the first round of the NBA playoffs.

Despite being activated for postseason play, Washington's starting center Jeff Ruland is not expected to see any action against the 76ers, team officials said Tuesday. Meanwhile, Philadelphia center Moses Malone's status remains uncertain for the series.

The best-of-five Eastern Conference quarterfinal series opens Friday night at the Spectrum in Philadelphia.

Ruland underwent arthroscopic surgery April 1 to repair torn cartilage in his left knee and has been rehabilitating the knee since, but is not ready to play, Bullets officials said.

"He's at the point now where he has to increase the strength in his leg by another 20 pounds before he can even begin to start running. It's something we're going to be very slow with," said Washington general manager Bob Ferry.

Ruland's absence leaves Washington lacking under the boards, particularly on the offensive end.

Manute Bol, the 7-foot-6 rookie shot-blocking phenom, is still weak on the boards (6.0 rebounds per game) and, because of his limited offensive talents, is usually positioned far from the basket to draw a defender out of the play.

Ruland, 6-11 and 275 pounds, is the team's leading rebounder (10.7) and second-leading scorer (19.0) but missed 82 games this season with a variety of injuries.

He returned from an injury for the playoffs last season and battled Malone to a statistical draw in Philadelphia's 3-1 opening round victory.

Malone is still recovering from a broken orbit bone near his right eye, suffered March 28 while going for a rebound. Philadelphia officials won't say if their big man will be ready for the Washington series.

CLIPPERS MISS BAYLOR
LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Former Los Angeles Lakers great Elgin Baylor and Jerry West are at opposite ends of town and opposite ends of the NBA spectrum.

The Los Angeles Clippers, deciding their vast problems lie in the front office and not on the bench, Tuesday re-signed general manager Carl Scheer with Baylor. The team also re-signed coach Don Chaney.

Lady Seminoles, Rams Win 'Little' SAC Titles

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

Usually, you can expect a freshman or sophomore to be erratic but Seminole High girls coach Emory Blake and Lake Mary boys coach Mark McGee have the luxury of having young athletes who can be counted on week in and week out.

Tuesday night, in the Seminole Athletic Conference Freshmen-Sophomore Meet at Lyman High, Blake practically needed a calculator to keep up with his team score as the Lady Seminoles obliterated the rest of the field with 157 points. Lake Mary and Lake Howell tied for second at 64 with Lake Brantley fourth and Oviedo fifth.

"We didn't have to make any adjustments for this meet," Blake said. "We basically ran our whole team and the girls went out to concentrate on themselves and to get their times down."

Meanwhile, McGee's boys were as reliable as ever as the Rams outscored Seminole High, 110-104 1/2. Lyman finished third with 81 points followed by Lake Howell, Oviedo and Lake Brantley.

"One thing that is really enjoyable about this team is they are extremely reliable," McGee said. "The last couple of meets, when we sit down and plan it and say we can get this many points, the team almost always gets what we anticipate or more."

While Seminole's girls and Lake Mary's boys made off with the team trophies, Tuesday night was also a chance for the upcoming young athletes to take center stage. And there were some excellent individual performances turned in:

- Seminole High's Sonja Montgomery threw personal bests in taking first place in both the discus (109-4) and shot put (34-5).
- Seminole sophomore sprinter Ramona Jamison blazed to a personal best 25.9 in winning the 220 and that time is closing in on the state leaders. Jamison also won the 100 meter dash.
- Lake Howell freshman Jenny Bolt turned in an excellent distance double in winning the mile (5:46.4) and two mile (13:03.5).
- Seminole freshman Sherry Burgess ran a strong race in winning the 880 (2:35.1) and she also ran an impressive leg on the first place mile relay team.

In the 880, Burgess and teammate Viola Posley locked up in one of the closest races of the night and it was Burgess that kicked into high gear down the home stretch to take first place. Posley was a close second at 2:36.7.

Joining Burgess on the winning mile relay team, which finished in 4:18.1, were Tammy Scott, Laashonda Freeman and Viola Posley.

The Lady Tribe also won the 440 relay at 50.2 and the mile medley with a time of 4:27.9. The 440 team included Jamison, Tasha Wynn, Shun Cash and Adrian Hillman. The medley foursome consisted of Wynn, Cash, Freeman and Dorchelle Webster.

Webster, an all-state performer as a freshman last season, competed in only two field events and the medley relay Tuesday. Shownda Martin, also an all-state runner last season as a freshman, did not compete in Tuesday's meet.

Lake Mary has its share of talented young performers including sophomore Oneyke Berry who took first in the 110 high hurdles (15.9), second in the long jump (15-7) and third in the 220 dash (27.3).

Bolt was the leader for Lake Howell's Lady Silver Hawks Tuesday and she was also involved in two of the best finishes of the night. In the mile, Bolt held off the kick of Seminole's Posley (5:47.1) for first place while, in the two mile, Bolt felt the charge of Lake Brantley's Mindy Olinger (13:04.1) and put on a sudden burst of speed to pull away in the last 25 yards.

Freshman Suzanne Hughes scored nine of 12 points for Oviedo's Lady Lions including a second in the high jump (5-0) and a third place time in the 440 dash (63.6) that moved her into the sixth spot on the Seminole County honor roll.

On the boys side Tuesday night:

- Lyman's Oscar Wilder took three first places including the long jump (21-9), 100 meters (11.2) and 220 yard dash (23.0).
- Oviedo's Karl Wright sailed to first places in the 120 high (15.4) and 330 intermediate (40.2) hurdles, using his speed in the end.

- Lake Mary's Eric Petersen dominated the distance events as he won the mile (4:31.9) and two mile (10:13.4), both by wide margins.
- Petersen's first in the two mile, combined with a second place finish by Brad Smith (10:27.2) was what clinched the meet title for the Rams.
- Also taking first places for the Rams Tuesday were Cecil King in the triple jump (45-2), Richard Burkett in the 440 (52.1) and Danny Ferris in the shot put (43-2 1/4). Ferris also took second in the discus at 126-4 and he had first place in that event until Seminole's Jerod Jones unleashed a throw of 135-2 on his final attempt to take first place.
- Seminole also got first places from Walter Hopson in the high jump (6-2) and Alan Seward in the 880 (2:02.4) as well as all three relays.
- Along with Wilder's three firsts, Lyman's Greyhounds got a strong performance from multipurpose man Darren Marshall. Marshall won the pole vault (10-0), took second in the 330 hurdles (42.2), fourth in the 120 hurdles (16.2) and fourth in the high jump (5-4).

Padres Trim Dodgers In Another Squeaker

N.L. Baseball

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — In the battle of one-run games, the San Diego Padres are winning.

Garry Templeton singled home Tony Gwynn from third base with two outs in the 12th inning Tuesday night to lead the Padres to a 2-1 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers.

It was the ninth straight one-run decision for both teams, including six against each other. The major league record for one-run decisions at the start of the season is 11.

The Padres are 6-3 during the week, while Los Angeles is 3-6. San Diego leads the season series 4-2. The Padres have won all three of their extra inning outings this season, and the Dodgers have lost all four of theirs.

Templeton, who did not start because of the flu, entered the game in the sixth inning and collected three hits and a walk. Lance McCullers came on in the 10th inning to pick up his first major league win. Ken Howell, 0-1, was the loser.

Pinch-hitter Carmelo Martinez opened the 12th with a single to left. Dave Dravecky entered as a pinch-runner and, after Tony Gwynn walked, Kevin McReynolds sacrificed the runners along. Steve Garvey was walked intentionally to fill the bases.

Jerry Royster dropped a short pop-up in front of right fielder Mike Marshall, who threw out Dravecky at the plate for second out. Templeton followed with his game-winning single.

"I first felt (the flu) last night," said Templeton. "They gave me some kind of drink that runs everything out of your system. Skipper came up to me and asked me if I could go in, and I told him I felt a little better."

Manager Steve Boros said he

Rick Honeycutt went six innings, yielding four hits and striking out six.

planned to play Templeton Tuesday night, but only for three innings and mainly for defense.

Niekro: Joe Masters Phil's Protege

United Press International

Cleveland's Phil Niekro is tutoring 28-year-old starter Tom Candioti on mastering the trickiest pitch in baseball — the knuckleball. Tuesday night the Yankees' Joe Niekro mastered his brother's protege.

Joe Niekro, at 41 the younger of the two, used his brother's signature pitch to retire 19 of the first 20 Indians he faced to hurl a four-hitter over 7 1/3 innings and lead New York to a 6-2 victory. The Yankees have won five straight games.

Brett Butler's leadoff single in the fourth was Cleveland's lone hit until Joe Carter, Andre Thornton and Brook Jacoby produced consecutive singles to drive in the Indians' only run off Niekro.

"For my part, it was a good effort," said the victorious Niekro. "The 38-degree weather was a bit raw, though."

Niekro, 1-0, struck out four and walked one before Brian Fisher relieved with one out in the eighth. Fisher pitched the final 1 2/3 innings to earn his first save.

"It was an excellent performance

A.L./N.L. Baseball

by Joe," said New York manager Lou Piniella. "He had Cleveland way off stride, and (catcher) Butch Wynegar called a good game."

Candioti, 0-1, struck out six of the first 10 batters he faced before surrendering a double to Willie Randolph in the fourth. With two out, Randolph advanced to third on a wild pitch and scored on Mike Easley's single.

"I threw the knuckleball about 60 percent of the time," said Candioti, who left the game after Randolph's run-scoring single with two out in the seventh. "I wasn't tired and I didn't overwork. The Yanks just started hitting."

Joe Niekro liked what he saw of Candioti.

"Tom threw well, and our lineup was very impressed with him," he said. "He shouldn't be discouraged, but I'm sure my brother, Phil, has told him that throwing the knuckleball requires patience."

In other games, Oakland blasted Minnesota 8-2, California clobbered Seattle 9-4 and Detroit at Chicago was postponed due to snow. The game was made up Thursday.

A's 8, Twins 3

At Minneapolis, Moose Haas allowed five hits over nine innings and Alfredo Griffin went 4-for-5 to highlight a 16-hit attack as Oakland romped over Minnesota.

Mariners 9, Angels 4

At Anaheim, Calif., Danny Tartabull capped an eight-run first inning against Don Sutton with his first major-league grand slam as Seattle routed California. Matt Young, 2-0, scattered eight hits over five innings and Mike Morgan earned Seattle's first save of 1968. Sutton, 0-2, still has 295 career victories.

Astros 6, Giants 3

Phil Garner has seen Vida Blue pitch often over his 12-year career, both as a teammate and an opponent. Garner never saw him better than on Tuesday.

Garner connected for home runs in his first two at-bats off Blue and went

3-for-4 to power the Houston Astros to an 8-3 victory over the Giants, spoiling San Francisco's home opener.

"I've watched Vida over the years," said Garner, who was a teammate of Blue for three seasons in Oakland. "I know his pattern. You know he's going to throw the fastball. You just have to be able to catch up with it."

Expos 4, Cubs 3

At Montreal, Mitch Webster drew a bases-loaded walk with none out in the bottom of the 11th inning to score Dan Schatzeder and lift the Expos. Jeff Reardon, 1-0, pitched two innings of two-hit relief to earn the victory. Lee Smith, 0-2, was the loser. Tim Wallach homered for the Expos.

Reds 5, Braves 3

At Atlanta, Dave Parker hit a three-run homer in the eighth inning to lift the Reds. Parker's fourth home run made a loser of Jeff Dedmon, 0-1, who had come on in relief of Zane Smith. Cincinnati reliever Ron Robinson, 2-0, was the winner and John Franco recorded his first save. Dale Murphy and Ozzie Virgil homered for the Braves.

Dillon's 3-Run Blast Caps Federal Rally

By Chris Fister Herald Sports Writer

Mike Dillon's three-run homer with two out in the bottom of the fifth inning capped off a tremendous comeback by First Federal Tuesday as it opened the Sanford Little American League season with an 18-15 victory over D.A.V. (Disabled American Veterans) at Fort Mellon Park.

Dillon's three-run dinger put the finishing touches on a 13-run fifth-inning outburst that rallied First Federal back from a 15-5 deficit.

A three-run homer off the bat of Andrew Sipes got the inning started for First Federal and a two-run single by Keith Pritchard later tied it at 15-15. Dillon then blasted his game-winning homer.

Baseball

D.A.V. had 10 hits in the game led by Brent Deese who was 3 for 5 with an RBI double and scored three runs. Dwayne Bell and Gerard Wilson added two hits each.

Sipes, who came on in relief of Dillon in the fourth, was the winning pitcher for First Federal while Tico Livingston got the loss for D.A.V.

POPPA JAY'S WINS OPENER

Tony Taylor hit for the cycle (single, double, triple, home run) to lead a 15-hit offensive attack as Poppa Jay's opened the Little National League season with an 11-4 victory over Rinker Materials at Bay Avenue Field.

M. Dillon J. Bennett

Taylor hit a lead off double in the second, singled in the third, smacked a solo homer in the fifth and ripped an RBI triple in the sixth to complete the cycle. Billy Tinch and Darvis Beamon also homered for Poppa Jay's while Demetry Beamon and Maurice Fisher had two hits each.

Demetry Beamon went the distance on the mound for Poppa Jay's, allowing nine hits, striking out 10 and walking seven.

For Rinker, Corey Bennett was 3 for 4 while John Bennett added a pair of hits.

Ex-Oviedo Sluggers Derail Raiders, 9-7

By Chris Fister Herald Sports Writer

Former Oviedo High standouts Chris Kessinger and Eric Shogren had key hits in a five-run eighth inning as the St. John's River Community College Vikings snapped Seminole Community College's nine-game winning streak, 9-7, in Mid-Florida Conference action Tuesday at Palatka.

The loss dropped the Raiders to 26-14 overall and 13-4 in the conference, one game behind Florida Junior College. SCC hits the road for three league games the remainder of this week as it goes to Gainesville to take on Santa Fe today, plays FJC in Jacksonville on Thursday and journeys to Lake City to play the Timberswolves on Friday. St. John's now stands at 16-23 overall and 5-14 in the conference.

The score was tied at 4-4 going into the top of the eighth when SCC rallied for three runs for a 7-4 lead. Jeff Greene, another Oviedo graduate, led off the inning with a single. Jeff Morgan followed with a single and both runners advanced an extra base on the play. John Moore then singled in Greene and Rick Given roped a double to drive in Morgan and Moore.

The Vikings answered with five runs in the bottom of the eighth and it turned out to be the winning margin. Arthur Dye singled to start the inning and Richard Poole followed with a two-run homer to make it 7-6. Kessinger followed with a double and he scored on the play on a wild throw to tie it at 7-7. Kevin Weir broke the tie with a solo homer and Shogren added some insurance with a solo blast of his own.

Dan's Hands Yogurt Sour Setback, 17-16

The victory boost Dan's record across two runs in the top of the sixth inning to edge Frank's Frozen Yogurt, 17-16, in battle of unbeaten Pinto Division teams in Seminole Pony Baseball action.

The victory boost Dan's record to 6-0 while Frank's falls to 8-1 in Seminole Pony Baseball pinto division.

Matt Knox had a good offensive game for Dan's as he singled three times.

Matt Thompson made the defensive play of the game as he made a superb catch of a pop-up after it bounced off two of his teammates.

Oviedo Nips Tribe — SAC Leaders Stay Tied

By Mark Blythe
Special to the Herald

The Oviedo Lady Lions and the Lady Seminoles of Seminole battled into the final inning Tuesday afternoon at Red Bug Park before Oviedo pushed across two runs for a 6-5 Seminole Athletic Conference victory.

Oviedo improved its record to 15-7 overall and 5-4 in the SAC placing them in sole possession of third place one game ahead of Seminole. The Lady Lions now stand at 4-5 in the SAC and 8-12 overall.

"We just got the hits when we needed them and plugged away at the score for the win" Oviedo coach Jackie Miller said about the win. "We played good defense and were able to let them score in only one inning."

After a scoreless first inning, The Lady Tribe lit up the scoreboard for five runs in the second. Jackie Farr got things going with a single followed by a Marcie Tooke single. Vikki Oliver joined them with a single to load the bases. Showanda Walker then reached on an error to short scoring Farr and Niece Wheeler then singled to bring in two more runs. Lisa Hartman then reached on another error by Oviedo this one being more costly as it pushed two runs across the plate.

The Lady Lions scored on a Caroline Chavis single followed by a fielders choice putting Chavis out at second. Dee Dee Beasley then came up with her first RBI of the day singling in Kerl Gaines all the way from first. Oviedo again came up with a run in the bottom of the third as Terry Coe walked, she then was replaced when Darla Hall entered the game as a pinch-runner Cathy Bergman also walked placing runners on first and second. Jessica Bradley then singled and Mikki Eby hit a sacrifice to left scoring Hall.

Once again in the fifth Oviedo put a single run on the lights.

After a scoreless inning the teams went into the seventh with Seminole holding a slim 5-4 lead. The Lady Lions, though, turned things around with their late rally. Eby and Switzer led things off when both drew walks, Chavis then hit a single to tie the game. Gaines followed with a game-winning single to left, Chavis helped the run as she distracted the left fielder by advancing to third confusing the left fielder as she threw it helplessly to third not realizing the winning run had crossed the plate.

"Oviedo just beat us," Seminole coach Lance Abney said. "We didn't hit the ball in the holes, and we couldn't come up with the hits we wanted and needed."

HOWELL BLANKS LAKE MARY
Lake Howell's Lady Silver Hawks blanked Lake Mary, 5-0, Tuesday to remain deadlocked for first place in the Seminole Athletic Conference with Lake Brantley.

Lake Howell, 15-9 overall, struck early on a Erin Hankins' single followed by a Tammy Lewis single. Christy Tibbitts then hit into a fielders choice and the Lady Rams decided to take Hankins off the bases leaving runners on first and second. Ava Gardner added a run-scoring single.

In the fifth, Lake Howell erupted for four runs. Two of Lake Mary's eight errors opened the floodgates after which Lewis then hit a run scoring single. Tibbitts then singled up the middle scoring both Hankins and Lewis. Susan Hayden singled in Tibbitts.

Lake Howell coach Jo Luciano said, "Both games we played this week are going to be extremely important. We need to peak at districts and I believe we will. We love districts and can't wait."

BRANTLEY LEVELS LYMAN
Lake Brantley, 23-5 overall, stayed tied with Lake Howell for the SAC lead as it leveled Lyman, 14-3.

The Lady Patriots got things going in the top of the first after a Dawn

Gebhart walk and a Tracy Bergman triple to take a 1-0 lead.

Lyman came back to take the lead, though. After singles by Jodie Vega and Nikki Jarrel, Denise Stevens unloaded a thunderous home run for a 3-1 advantage.

Lake Brantley, however, came back with five big runs in the second. It began with a Mandy Matthisen single Kim Robinson then reached on a fielder's choice. Angie May then walked and Deana Jeffers hit a double scoring both Matthisen and Robinson. Sherry "Ice" Asplen singled in May and Kim Wain had added another base hit scoring Jeffers.

Brantley assistant Debbie Frank said she was "pleased with the performance after coming off the Lake Howell game, and we are looking forward districts."

The SAC softball slate ends Thursday. Lake Brantley and Seminole meet at Seminole. Lake Mary battles Oviedo at Oviedo, and Lyman takes on Lake Howell at Lake Howell.

TENNIS ANYONE?

Hopman's Influence? Worldwide

This past winter tennis lost perhaps its greatest coach ever when Harry Hopman died at his home in Largo.

The coach of the great Australian teams in the 1950's and 1960's had moved to the U.S. in the early 1970's to teach and coach.

Two days after Christmas the end came suddenly for "Hoppy." A massive heart attack struck this great man down. It was quick and quite unexpected, shocking all his friends and staff at his club near Largo.

Known in his heyday in Australia as a tennis genius, Harry Hopman has had more influence and impact on tennis than any other coach that ever lived.

In fact he probably has been the most influential person in the history of tennis. More coaches and teachers have copied his methods and emulated his style than anyone else in the game's history.

He was so good as a coach and teacher that countries from all over the world would send their coaches to Australia to learn from Hopman.

Hopman won an incredible 16 Davis Cup Championships while coaching the Australian team. This really seems incredible when you look at tennis today and see so much parity in the game.

Among the players that Hopman produced were Rod Laver, Ken Rosewall, Lew Hoad, Frank Sedgman, Ken McGregor, Roy Emerson, Fred Stolle, Mal Anderson, Neale Fraser, Ashley Cooper, Rex Hartwig, Merv Rose, John Newcombe and Tony Roche.

All of these players were champions. All, in fact, won major championships. Most tennis experts say that Laver is probably the greatest player that ever played the game.

All of these players were started and brought along by Hopman. After he moved to the U.S. his proteges included John McEnroe and Vitas Gerulaitis. He operated the Port Washington Tennis Academy before moving to Florida in the mid 1970's.

Hopman was eulogized before 250 people at a memorial service Jan. 4 at the United Methodist Church in Seminole (near St. Petersburg). Fred Stolle said: "We were his big kids. He molded our characters and taught us our values. Tennis has lost a legend and the big boys have lost a father."

Perhaps the most touching tribute came from Gerulaitis, who had worked with Hopman since he was a teenager. Vitas said: "Mr. Hopman was always there, he was a pillar of strength and yet as long as I knew Mr. Hopman he never raised his voice to me, and I can assure you that I gave him many opportunities."

"Mr. Hopman, you were my very best friend, he closed, his voice choking with emotion. "G'day mate."

Cook Of The Week

Her Recipes Are Elegant, Yet Quick And Easy, For Busy Families

By Dorothy Greene
Herald Correspondent

From her home tucked away in a quiet little corner of Lake Mary, our Cook of the Week, Margaret "Maggie" Parks, reflects on some of her most enjoyable experiences as a child, as a young woman, and as a homemaker.

Born in London, England, Mrs. Parks says, "Mother is British and my father is from Mississippi. They met during the war, and I can remember making several trips back and forth across the ocean on the Queen Mary and the Queen Elizabeth to visit my mother's family." Although her memories are vague, she laughs, "About the only thing that stands out in my mind is that my brother tossed his teddy bear overboard!" When her family settled in Sarasota, "We pretty much lived outdoors," says Mrs. Parks. The oldest of four children, Mrs. Parks and her two sisters and one brother "lived at the beaches. It was just fantastic," she says. "We built forts, played school, and did all the crazy things kids did in those days. We had more freedom to be creative. I think I owe my creativity to the freedom I had to express myself."

Mrs. Parks' creative talents are beautifully expressed in each stroke of her paint brush. A very talented artist, she recalls working her way through art schools and studying with local artists in the Sarasota area before attending Leo's College near Tampa, then FTU before it was renamed. When she met Bill Parks, she says "It was like a fairy tale. To me, he was like the handsome Prince." It was the biggest change in my life. He'd write poems to me, and he was just a super guy — and he still is." Married on Christmas Day, 1970, the Parks have two lovely little girls, Laura and Dana. While Mr. Parks is busy at his job as vice president of Real Estate Services at FTT Land Corporation, Mrs. Parks enjoys making their home comfortable and inviting.

With two young children at home, it is no wonder that Mrs. Parks takes pleasure in cooking and baking their favorite things. "If you know the English," she explains, "they're very plain cooks, so my mother didn't go in for spices or anything fancy. It was very plain. Lots of times we just had hamburger, and every Friday we had fish and chips. But, when I got married, I went the reverse — I was into everything. I experimented and wanted to dabble in all phases of cooking. I had all the cook books you can imagine, and I even invented dishes." Mrs. Parks can remember only one "disaster" which was a ham and potato casserole. "The potatoes came out half raw, and it was just awful," she laughs. "Bill never let me forget that one, and I've never fixed it since. Other than that, he says I've done just great."

The Parks' home is a lovely, 60-year-old Mediterranean-style structure with spacious rooms, well-cared-for dark woodwork and beamed ceilings, which is just the right atmosphere for Maggie to summon the inspiration for her paintings. "I'm still trying to find myself," she says. "I like realism, and I also like impressionism so I'm sort of in between. I like the color of impressionism and the freedom of realism." Mrs. Parks' fine collection of canvasses include startlingly life-like portraits, landscapes and still life. Recalling a special moment, Mrs. Parks tells of winning an art award at the age of 16 for painting her high school principal's portrait which was presented to him as a gift from the school.

Her talents do not end with her art work, and Mrs. Parks enjoys sewing a lot. "I love sewing kids' clothes," she says. "It's a lot more fun because you have a lot more variety and they're colorful." Add crocheting, crewel work and ceramics to Mrs. Parks' creative interests, and you have a busy young woman who enjoys using her spare time productively.

Mrs. Parks proudly speaks of her young daughters' talents and encourages both girls to express themselves. "Laura takes piano lessons, and has already had a recital," says Mrs. Parks. "She's very good, and I've had two teachers tell me that she is gifted. Dana loves to dance and she loves to draw, and she's good at both. Her pictures have been selected in school as being the best. I really hope they do something with their talents."

Laura, the oldest, is also a Girl Scout, and Dana is a member of the Daisies, the kindergarten-age version of Girl Scouts. "This is the first year they've had a troop in Lake Mary," says Mrs. Parks. "They have a little pinafore-type uniform and they get pins just like the Scouts. The mothers all help out and the girls get to take little trips and learn things. It's real cute. Laura has two great Scout leaders and they've already camped outside overnight. It's been a great experience for both of them."

Family vacations often mean trips to the North Carolina mountains for the Parks. "Most of the time we take a vacation. It's to get away to some place new," she says. "We love the mountains and parks of Georgia." At home, Mrs. Parks loves to read. "I enjoy art books and Agatha Christie mysteries. I love spy novels and any story that has an element of intrigue," she says.

Before the children came along, Mrs. Parks says, "We used to go out to eat once a week, like clockwork. But now we do more activities with the

EXCITING NEW COLLECTION

Citrus Council Of Girl Scouts To Host National Program Conference

Citrus Council of Girl Scouts will host a national program conference for over 500 adult Girl Scouts, both volunteer and paid staff, April 20-22, at the Holiday Inn International Drive. Representatives from approximately 47 local Girl Scout councils in seven states will attend the conference, which offers participants the opportunity to discuss new program resources, highlight successes and to explore methods for improving the delivery of Girl Scouting.

Conference highlights include the keynote address by Girl Scout National Executive Director Frances Hasselbein. Following the conference theme, "Girls Are Our Future," Mrs. Hasselbein will discuss how Girl Scouting has kept pace with the changing needs of girls throughout the movement's 74-year history.

As a special feature, approximately 50 teenage Girl Scouts will share their ideas on activities for older girls. This open communication between girls and adults provides important feedback for the organization, which continues to offer activities, opportunities and support needed by today's girls.

The Orlando conference is one of nine being held during April and May in selected cities throughout the country. National Program Conferences take place every three years as part of a triennial cycle of Girl Scout meetings.

With nearly three million members, Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. is the world's largest voluntary organization for girls. Headquarters are in New York City.

Couple's Endless Arguments Act As Bedroom Wet Blanket

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I fight and argue all the time, but we never settle anything. He clams up because he's afraid if he really got mad, he will blow up, so he tells me to drop the subject and he won't let me talk anymore. When I drop it, a lot of resentment builds up, and the next time we fight, I bring up the last one which wasn't settled.

The big problem is that this causes problems in the bedroom. I, for one, cannot get intimate and loving when things are bothering me from our last fight. I have tried to tell him this, but he says stored-up resentment has nothing to do with intimate relations.

Don't say, "Go to a counselor." We have been to two — one for three years. It hasn't helped. We can't get a divorce either, as we are bound by God's word. Besides, we have no grounds for one. We have one child. What should we do?

RESENTMENT IN OKLA

DEAR RESENTMENT: Your husband is wrong. Stored-up resentment has everything to do with intimate relations. If two counselors have failed to explain this, you need a third, because that is the root of your problem. And in order to resolve it, it's imperative that a professional counselor teach you how to settle an argument and let go of the resentment, so it doesn't surface in the bedroom.

DEAR ABBY: As a licensed hairstylist, I have been asked the same two questions at least once a day for the last 25 years, so maybe if you answer them in your column, people will quit asking.

Question No. 1: "What do you charge for just a little trim?" First of all, the client pays for the barber's expertise — not for the amount of hair that is cut off and swept up. Also, "a little trim" usually requires some styling, shaping, thinning and cutting, so the price is the same as a regular haircut.

Question No. 2: "How much do you charge for children?" For some strange reason, most people seem to think that a child's haircut should cost half as much as an adult's. Actually it should cost twice as much, because it takes twice as long to give a child a proper haircut, and it's twice as much work. (I personally feel as though I've wrestled 10 rounds with a gorilla after cutting a child's hair.)

Please print this. I'd like to frame it and hang it in my shop. JACQUES THE CLIPPER

DEAR JACQUES: Here it is, for those clients who expect you to trim (or shave) your prices.

Food for Thought

by Bill Painter

Fruit salad tastes best with fruit dressing. Buzz in the blender 1 ripe avocado, peeled and sliced, 1 cup cottage cheese, 1 tsp. sugar, 3 Tbs. lemon juice, and 1/4-cup orange juice. Isn't that easy?

"Scampi" in the Mediterranean, refers to a small member of the lobster family, also known as longoustines. In America, scampi are usually large shrimp cooked in butter or oil with garlic.

Chescoate is done when it starts to pull away from the edges of the pan. It will shrink somewhat as it cools. A too-hot oven will make chescoate puff and brown and then shrink too much.

Plastic wrap and wax paper are not interchangeable in microwave cookery. Plastic wrap seals tightly, helps tenderize. Wax paper holds in some steam, but is laid loosely on top of dish. It keeps food from spattering without making it too moist.

Just for a change, saute cucumber slices in butter, then add cream and heat until sauce thickens.

 kids, like go to Disney World or the zoo." Sometimes Maggie and Bill treat the girls to dinner out at their favorite little restaurant. "We love to barbecue outdoors," says Mrs. Parks. "We like to smoke fish, grill chicken, and my husband makes the best steaks on the barbecue. Grouper is a good fish to smoke on the grill because it's firm. I really love to barbecue." Mrs. Parks says, "because it gets you out of the kitchen and into the fresh air."

Her big, bright eyes take on a special sparkle as Mrs. Parks shares her thoughts on marriage. "I think that no matter how long a couple has been married, it's important to keep the romance alive. They should do romantic things together and keep that little fire burning. It's also important to keep the lines of communication open. So many times a marriage will slip because people keep things to themselves and it eats at them, so it's really important to communicate." Occasionally, Mrs. Parks will tuck the girls in bed early and prepare a candlelight dinner for her husband. "I want to do that more often," she says. "That's something you can do all your married life, no matter how old you are. I think dinners by candlelight are so romantic and special."

Several home economics courses in high school helped Mrs. Parks learn the basics in cooking, however, she calls herself a self-taught cook. "I can remember the home economics teacher was so prim and proper and her measurements were so exact, but I'm just the opposite," she admits. "Christmas and the holidays are my favorite times. I bake tons of different kinds of cookies. I love to make up big tins of them and give them as gifts." Mrs. Parks is the official pie maker in the family and one special favorite is a Strawberry Pie recipe given to her by her mother-in-law, Grace Parks.

With two youngsters in the house, and schoolmates and playmates visiting often, Mrs. Parks is sure to have their sweet treats on hand most of the time. Listed below are some of Mrs. Parks' favorite recipes which are quick and easy, yet elegant and tasty for young families on the go:

BEEF AND VEGETABLE STIR-FRY
 1 pound boneless round steak
 ¾ pound small, fresh mushrooms
 1 small bunch fresh broccoli
 2 tablespoons peanut or vegetable oil
 4-5 carrots, diagonally sliced
 ¼ cup soy sauce
 2 tablespoons corn starch
 ½ teaspoon sugar
 1½ cups beef broth
 Hot cooked rice
 Partially freeze steak. Cut into 3x4 inch strips. Set aside. Rinse mushrooms and remove stems. Reserve stems for use in another recipe. Set caps aside. Wash broccoli and remove flowerets. Set flowerets aside. Heat oil in preheated wok, coating sides; allow to heat at medium-high (325°) one minute. Add steak. Stir fry until browned. Add mushrooms, carrots, and soy sauce, stirring well. Cover; reduce heat to low (225°) and cook 10 minutes. Add broccoli; cover and cook 5 minutes or until crisp-tender. Combine cornstarch, sugar and beef broth, mixing well. Add to meat mixture. Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Serve over rice. Serves 6.

OVEN FRIED PARMESAN CHICKEN
 1 cup round buttery cracker crumbs
 ½ cup grated parmesan cheese
 2 tablespoons chopped fresh parsley or dry parsley flakes
 1 broiler-fryer chicken, 2½-3 pounds, cut up
 ½ cup butter or margarine, melted
 Combine first 3 ingredients; mix well. Dip chicken in butter, then dredge in crumb mixture. Place chicken in a lightly greased 13x9x2 inch baking dish. Bake uncovered, at 350° for one hour. Serves 4.

FRESH STRAWBERRY PIE
 (Grace Parks)
 1 quart strawberries
 1½ cups sugar
 1¼ cups water
 ¼ cup cornstarch
 ¼ teaspoon salt
 1 tablespoon lemon juice
 A few drops red food coloring
 One 9 inch baked pie crust, cooled
 Wash and trim strawberries
 Place sugar and ½ cup water in pan and let come to boiling point. Dissolve cornstarch in remaining water, then add gradually to syrup, mixing well. Cook slowly until thick and clear, stirring constantly. Add salt, lemon juice and coloring. Pour over berries and let cool. Pour berry mixture into cooled pie crust. Let stand in refrigerator 2 hours. Serve with whipped cream.

HEAVENLY HASH
 (Grace Parks)
 2 cups heavy whipping cream
 1 bag (10½ oz.) miniature marshmallows
 1 can (8 oz.) crushed pineapple
 1 jar (10 oz.) maraschino cherries, chopped. Reserve 5 for garnish
 1 cup coarsely chopped pecans
 In large bowl, combine marshmallows and cream. Cover tightly and store overnight in refrigerator. Next day, beat marshmallows and cream until mixture is light and fluffy. Fold in pineapple, chopped cherries and nuts. Place in serving bowl and garnish with whole cherries. Serves 6-8.

BROTHERN'S CHEESE BREAD
 2 cups sifted flour
 2 teaspoons baking powder
 1 tablespoon sugar
 ½ teaspoon salt
 ¼ cup butter or margarine, cut into 4 parts
 1 cup grated sharp cheddar cheese (¾ pound)

1 tablespoon grated onion
 1¼ teaspoon dried dill weed
 ¾ cup milk
 1 egg, slightly beaten
 Preheat oven to 350°. Lightly grease a 9x5x3 inch loaf pan. Sift flour with baking powder, sugar and salt into large bowl. With 2 knives or pastry blender, cut in butter until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Stir in cheese, onion and dill weed. Mix well. Combine milk and beaten egg. Pour into flour mixture all at once. Stir quickly with fork just to moisten mixture. Turn into prepared pan. Bake 40 to 45 minutes, or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Let cool in pan 10 minutes. Turn out on wire rack to cool or serve warm.

Microwave Magic

Vegetables Are Made Easy With A Microwave

The simple facts about microwaving vegetables are: they retain flavor and nutrients, minerals and vitamins dissolve in water, and the less you use, the more nutrients you save.

Some vegetables microwave without added moisture. Others need only a little water or fat to provide steam. Larger pieces of vegetable take longer to cook than small ones.

Microwaving time increases with the amount of food cooked. Tender ends, such as those found on asparagus or broccoli need less energy to cook, arrange them to the center of the dish. Prick or cut vegetables cooked in their skins to allow excess steam to escape. Cover the vegetables when they are cooking. Plastic wrap, vented, gives a tight cover. Salt vegetables after they are cooked. Stir or rearrange the vegetable once during the cooking time. Allow 3-5 minutes standing time for all microwaved vegetables. The degree of doneness depends on individual taste. A general rule to follow for cooking time is: 100% power 6-8 minutes per pound for fresh vegetables, 100% 8-10 minutes per pound for frozen vegetables.

Since vegetables are naturally low in calories, and exceptionally good for us, they should be an important part of our meal planning. This vegetable combination uses herbs as a flavor enhancer that adds no additional calories.

VEGETABLES SAUTE

- 4 green onions
- 2 medium tomatoes, cut in 8
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon cornstarch
- 1 teaspoon basil
- 1 teaspoon parsley
- Dash of pepper
- 3 cups chopped zucchini

Combine green onion, garlic, cornstarch, basil, parsley and pepper in a quart casserole. Mix well. Stir in zucchini. Cover with lid or plastic wrap (vented). Microwave on 100% power 5-8 minutes or until vegetables are tender, stirring once. Approx. 8 servings of 25 calories.

Vegetables can be enjoyed without the addition of sauces or other flavors, but sometimes a change is welcome.

ORANGE-GLAZED CAULIFLOWER

- 1 med. head of cauliflower, cut into flowerettes
- 2 tablespoons water
- 1 tablespoon flour
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- 1 teaspoon grated orange peel
- 1/2 cup orange juice
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Combine cauliflower and water in 1 1/2 quart casserole. Cover. Microwave on 100% power 6-8 minutes or until almost tender. Let stand covered. Combine flour, sugar, orange peel, and juice in 1 cup measure. Blend. Microwave on 100% power 1-2 minutes or until mixture boils and thickens. Stir once. Stir in butter until melted. Drain cauliflower. Pour sauce over cauliflower.

If you like sweet-sour flavors you'll enjoy this hot slaw. The left overs can be served chilled.

SWEET-SOUR CABBAGE

- 3 cups shredded cabbage
- 1 med. green pepper, chopped
- 1 small onion, chopped
- 1/4 cup vinegar
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1/4-1/2 teaspoon celery seed

Combine cabbage, green pepper and onion, in a 1 quart casserole. Cover. Microwave on 100% power 4-6 minutes or until tender crisp, stirring once. Let stand covered. Combine vinegar and sugar in 1 cup glass measure. Microwave on 100% power 1-2 minutes or until sugar is dissolved. Pour over cabbage mixture. Add celery seed. Mix well.

Celery is a vegetable usually added to recipes to lend flavor and crispness. This unique casserole has celery as the main ingredient and I have found it to be a side dish that accompanies meat, fish and poultry equally well.

CELERY CASSEROLE

- 4 cups sliced celery
- 2 tablespoons water
- 1/4 cup sliced almonds
- 1/4 cup dry bread crumbs

- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1 can sliced water chestnuts, drained
- 1 can cream of chicken soup
- 1/4 cup chopped pimento

Combine celery and water in 1 quart casserole. Cover. Microwave on 100% power 8-10 minutes or until tender. Combine bread crumbs, almonds and butter in 9-inch glass pie plate. Microwave on 100% power, uncovered 5-6 minutes or until toasted, stirring 4-5 times. Set aside.

Stir water chestnuts, soup, and pimento into celery. Top with toasted crumbs. Microwave on 100% power, uncovered, 4-5 minutes, or until heated through. Serves 6-8.

Use your microwave oven to prepare the dressing for this Hot Spinach Salad.

HOT SPINACH SALAD

- 2 slices bacon
- 1 clove garlic
- 3 tablespoons water
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 5 cups torn spinach or leaf lettuce
- 2 green onions
- 1/4 cup fresh bean sprouts
- 1/4 cup sliced, drained water chestnuts
- 2 hard cooked eggs, chopped

Microwave bacon on rack, covered with paper towel, on 100% power 2-3 minutes or until crisp. Set aside. Measure 1 tablespoon drippings into 1 cup glass measure, add garlic, vinegar, water, sugar and salt to glass measure. Set aside. Combine spinach, onions, bean sprouts, water chestnuts and eggs in salad bowl, toss. Microwave dressing ingredients, on 100% power, 1-2 minutes or until mixture boils. Remove garlic. Pour dressing over salad greens; toss lightly to coat. Crumble bacon and sprinkle on salad. Serve immediately.

SNAPPIN' TURTLE COOKIES

- (Big hit with kids and adults)
- 1/2 cup butter or margarine, softened
- 1/2 cup firmly packed brown sugar
- 1 whole egg
- 1 egg, separated
- 1/4 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 1 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
- 1/4 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 12 1/2 dozen pecan halves
- Chocolate frosting, below
- Cream butter; gradually add sugar, beating until light and fluffy. Add 1 egg, 1 egg yolk, and vanilla beating well. Combine flour, salt and baking soda. Add to creamed mixture, mixing well. Chill 1-2 hours. Arrange pecan halves in groups of 5 on ungreased cookie sheets to resemble head and legs of turtles. Shape dough into 1-inch balls and dip bottom edges into remaining egg white. Press gently onto pecans to resemble turtles. Bake at 350° for 10-12 minutes. Cool on wire racks. Spread chocolate frosting on tops of cookies. Makes 2 1/2 dozen turtles.

CHOCOLATE FROSTING
2 squares unsweetened chocolate (1 oz. each),
1/4 cup milk
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
About 1 1/2 cups sifted confectioner's sugar
Combine chocolate, milk and butter in a small saucepan. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until chocolate melts. Remove from heat. Add powdered sugar, beating until smooth. Makes about 1 cup frosting.

BLUEBERRY BUCKLE

- 2 cups blueberries, fresh or frozen and thawed
- 1 teaspoon lemon juice
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1/4 cup butter, cut in pieces
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1 egg
- 4 one-inch pieces lemon rind, grated
- 1 1/2 cups flour
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- Wash and drain blueberries. Set aside on paper towels to dry. Stir lemon juice into milk; set aside. Beat together the butter, sugar, egg and lemon rind. Add milk mixture and blend. Add flour, baking powder and salt. Mix until moistened and mixed. Add blueberries. Gently stir by hand to mix. Spread batter in greased 8-inch square pan. Bake at 350° till cake tests done, 40-45 minutes.

GLAZE

- 2 tablespoons soft butter
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- Just before cake is done, combine butter, sugar and lemon juice. Cook over low heat till smooth. Remove from heat. When cake is done, spread glaze over top. Place under broiler until glaze bubbles. Watch carefully to avoid overbrowning.

No One Knows Causes Of Major Malignancies

Dr. Gott

DEAR DR. GOTT — Two months ago the doctor found that my husband was diabetic; his sugar was about 300. After more tests they found a tumor on his pancreas...

DEAR DR. GOTT — I am 62 and was told to take 0.3 mg. of Premarin 25 days of each month and Provera (10 mg.) for 10 days...

DEAR DR. GOTT — I hear of more and more people who are having distressing reactions to foods, especially when eating out...

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby
After you have played a few thousand bridge deals, you learn that there are some contracts that just cannot be defeated. Today's is one of them. However, the challenge here is in keeping the opponents from making an overtrick. It may not mean much at rubber bridge, but in duplicate, where every trick counts, holding the declarer to his contract can be the difference between a good and a bad result.

no more defensive tricks coming unless the spade queen could score a trick. Could declarer have started with seven spades not including the 10-spot? Though unlikely, that seemed to offer the best chance. Consequently West played a low heart at trick three. East obligingly ruffed with the 10, and West had promoted his queen of trumps for a third trick.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...
YOUR BIRTHDAY APRIL 17, 1986
Your popularity will ascend sharply in the year ahead, and you will attract many new friends in the process. An exciting social calendar is about to unfold.
ARIES (March 21-April 19) Costly errors could result if you conduct an important financial matter too hastily today. Speed will cause you to overlook obvious disadvantages. Major changes are ahead for Aries in the coming year. Send for your Astro-Graph predictions today. Mail $1 to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, Box 1846, Cincinnati, OH 45201. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.
TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Today you may encounter a relative or in-law who has an old ax to grind. Don't let yourself be drawn into a debate, because it'll only make bad feelings worse.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Don't read more into the remarks of friends than they intend today. It could cause you to be disturbed over something you shouldn't be.
CANCER (June 21-July 22) Your generous, easygoing manner could make you vulnerable to a snow job today by a selfish individual. Be sensible regarding who you give money to.
LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Go slow on a project today. Without a strong foundation, it's apt to collapse later.
VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Ideas you conceive today will be good ones. Others will appreciate their merit, but the longer you dwell on them, the more doubtful you'll become.
LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Let a person you're negotiating with today know you mean business in matters that relate to your purse or career. Don't buy any empty promises.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Timing is extremely important today in furthering your personal ambitions. Setbacks are possible if you make your moves when you shouldn't.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Strive to be forgiving today instead of bearing grudges. If you do something out of spite, you'll be the one who ends up suffering the most.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) It may be wise today to avoid a social gathering with people you're not fond of. Go only where you're wanted.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Someone you know only socially will resent it if you impose upon him or her for a business favor today. Look elsewhere for assistance.
PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) To derive personal benefits today you might be tempted to take credit for something that others had a bigger hand in producing.
