1,000 Acres Offered For University Here

Offer of 1,000 acres gratis as a site for the proposed under-graduate university for this area was announced at a joint session of the County Commission and the Chamber of Commerce long range committee on education Tuesday afternoon.

Gen. J. C. Hutchison announced that Charles Lee, Oviedo rancher and citrus grower, has offered one-half of a 2,000 acre plot—either the west half or the east half—situated east of Oviedo north of SR 419, west of SR 513 and south of Econlockhatchee Creek.

voters desire to added ad valorem taxes to repay any bond issue for purchase of the site for presentation to the state.

County Engineer William Bush was requested to contact a number of engineers who may be interested in accepting the project and to report back to the Commission in special session.

Road Jobs 'Finished'

Repairs totaling $22,806 have been completed to county roads as the result of the December freeze damage.

Road Supt. J. C. Lavender reported to the County Commission Tuesday afternoon.

He said 11 miles of road-way were repaired at a cost of $19,912 for materials and $2,864 for labor.

Lavender also reported that work will be commenced in four to six weeks for the improvement of Bear Lake Road, which has been in the planning for two years.

County To Get Tax Benefits

Tallahassee (UPI) — If it's any consolation to smokers who are likely to be paying more for their habit by the end of the 1963 Legislature, a Senate committee is doing all it can to keep their tax money close to home.

Whether it succeeds is a matter of how far the Legislature is willing to go in adding taxes in other places.

The Finance and Taxation Committee voted Tuesday to give $18 million in proposed new cigarette taxes to the counties instead of the state.

But, at the urging of Sen. John Mathews of Jacksonville, the committee withheld final action on the bill to see whether the state can afford giving up the money. There is a gap of about $200 million now between anticipated revenue and proposed spending in the coming two-year financial period and the cigarette money may have to go to the state to help close the gap.

Merchants Vote Wed. Opening

Sanford downtown merchants have voted almost unanimously to stay open on Wednesday afternoons this summer.

At a meeting held Tuesday pros and cons of the Wednesday closing were discussed with the final vote and poll showing about 90 percent of those present in favor of keeping regular hours throughout the year, instead of taking off Wednesday afternoons as has been the custom of the past.

Chairman Glenn McCall is given permission to use the Merchants Assn. monies for advertising the fact that the stores will not close, and will be open for the convenience of customers.

Individual merchants were urged to advertise their decision so that their customers would know that their services will be available.

'Hard' Cuba Drive Urged

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Paul G. Rogers, (D. Fla.), called on the United States Tuesday to begin "an intensified, hard-driving program to topple Communist Cuba."

The Florida congressman said the U. S. need no longer base its Cuban policies on "fear of jeopardizing the safety" of Americans imprisoned on the Communist island.

Tabled discussion on a traffic signal at Highway 17-92 and 27th Street.

Approved banning of parking on South Sanford Avenue to Onora Road; the city concurred on no parking within the city limits.

Police Hunt Escaped Prisoner

Police today are searching the area for a city prisoner who escaped from a work gang Tuesday.

The prisoner was identified as James McDaniel serving time here for driving while intoxicated and failure to have vehicle under control.

Vote Okayed TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Volusia, Palm Beach, Putnam, Bay and Martin counties would be allowed to vote to have their school superintendents appointed rather than elected under a measure approved by the Senate Constitutional Amendments Committee.

Teacher Salary Bill Boosted

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The Senate Appropriations Committee today added $30 million in teacher pay raises to its billion-dollar budget for the coming biennium.

The raises would provide $400 across-the-board raises for state public school teachers, $100 extra for those on continuing contract, and $30 more for those with 10 years teaching experience in Florida.

The committee also tacked $3.3 million to the $1,065,638,961 bill for a Sunland training center for mentally retarded children in Dade County.

The new appropriations will be submitted as separate committee amendments when the appropriations bill is brought to the floor for discussion and possible vote Thursday.

The pay raise amendment, which totals $30,294,000, cuts some side benefits and progressive salary raises for teachers with more experience from the Florida Education Association's $88 million request for the biennium.

The amendment, offered by Sen. Ed Price, Bradenton, passed the committee by a 9-4 vote.

Aerialists Here For Auto Show

'We Fly Through The Air' ...

By Judy Turner

One hundred feet in the air the bright white poles swayed as Fred Bergen, one of the Flying Silver Condors, the group who is putting on aerial demonstrations during the auto show at Sanford Memorial Stadium, climbed the last few steps to put on the top platform.

Down on the ground, his wife Betty, asked if she was ever scared up there, said, "No. If I were, I couldn't do it."

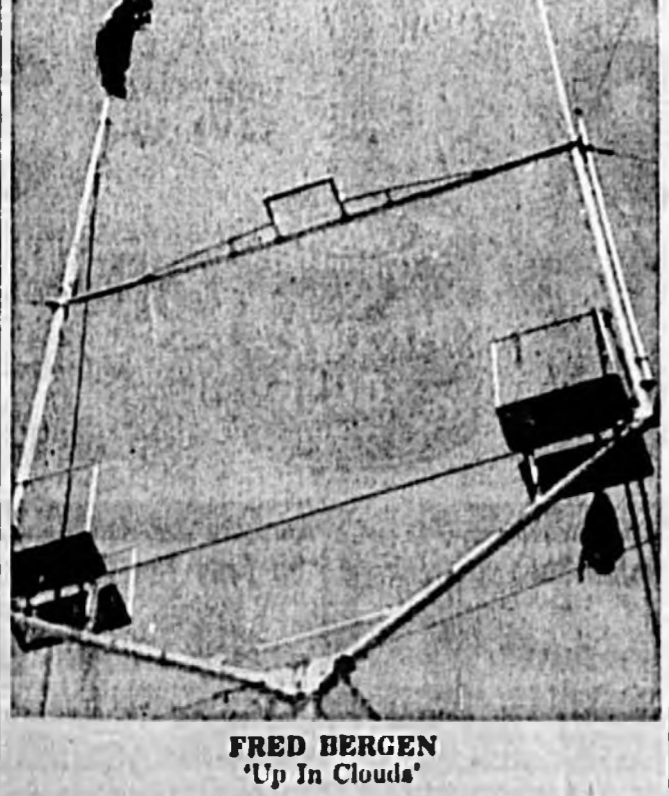

Bergen lived in a town in Germany about 20 miles from where the famous Wallides, one of whom was killed in a similar act last week, lived.

Mrs. Bergen mentioned the incident casually, as though the death was an occupational hazard such as those faced by airplane pilots or bus drivers.

The Bergens and Bob Marco, the third member of the group were setting up their equipment, a job that takes them three to four hours.

"We put up all our own equipment," Mrs. Bergen said. "After all, it's our lives."

Before each performance, Bergen checks the wires and poles, making sure they are in perfect condition.

The Flying Silver Condors have been in every country except Japan with their act. They prefer not to affiliate with any one circus or group, but to work alone or in a group that suits them at the time.

Both the Bergens' parents were in the circus. Mrs. Bergen met her husband while she was doing an elephant act and he was working on a single pole.

Bergen designed the apparatus on which they perform. A single heavy pole ascends approximately 55 feet, when it forks. At about 50 feet in height, two vertical poles 40 feet in length are attached. A platform on each side and a connecting bar are at the 60 foot point.

Acts in which balancing is the entire feature are the most dangerous, said Mrs. Bergen. Riding the bicycle and hand stands are tricky tasks and as Mrs. Bergen said, "Your mind can't be in another country."

Other acts in which the performer is holding on to something are not so dangerous. Even so, the group works without a net of any kind.

The Condors winter in Palatka where the Bergens' 15-year-old son attends school. They try not to begin their summer tours until school is out and he can join them.

Women Of The Moose Charter Is Approved

Sanford Moose Lodge Governor Ole Skjold announced this week that official approval has been received from Mooseheart on the charter for a local chapter of the Women of the Moose.

Officers of the new chapter will be appointed by the lodge which also will set an installing date.

Application for the charter was received in December of last year and was filed last month with a total of 82 signatures. Annual dues of $7 must be paid by each member by the time enrollment is set and the Chapter is instituted.

Interest in establishing a local chapter of the Women of the Moose began some months ago when a dozen or so women formed their own organization to assist with fund raising projects of the lodge and to take over as a refreshment committee for various dances, picnics and other recreational events.

Since that time the women's group has received many new members. Several rummage and bake sales have been successfully conducted and the women also have been responsible for carrying out various lodge projects for children of the area on special holiday occasions.

Any woman of the area who is qualified and who wishes to join the Women of the Moose is asked to attend the next meeting of the group. Meetings are held in the lodge headquarters in Lake Mary at 8 p. m. on the first and third Mondays of each month.

Rotary, Scouts Much Alike Exec Says

Winter Garden's Harry Smith, prominent executive in the Central Florida Boy Scout organization and past District Governor of Rotary told the local Rotary Club at their meeting Monday at the Civic Center that there was much in common in the precepts of the Boy Scouts and of Rotary.

Love of God and of country are basic teachings that serve as the foundation of relations with others who make up the respective organizations. Truly both in Boy Scouts and in Rotary each member must learn to get along with his associates, the speaker stated.

In these personal relationships, the goals of being helpful to others, of service to the community, of upholding high standards of ethics are the two groups' teachings are similar.

Smith emphasized that Rotarians as adults who should be, and are held in high regard in their city fill the additional responsibility of being models of conduct for these younger citizens. Rotary, as well as Scouting, furnishes information and inspiration, but these mean nothing until they are translated into action by each individual member.

"When a man gets into Rotary he profits immediately—by association with other business men, by subscribing to high ideals of personal and ethical conduct. But when Rotary gets into the man, the whole community profits through this individual's 'service above self' ideals," said Smith.

Gordon Bradley reminded the club of their responsibility in the Semi-Centennial celebration as they are to serve the free cold drinks, potato chips and ice cream.

President-elect Bill Hemphill announced that next week
Paul Stine, past District Governor would talk on the Rotary Foundation, student assistance program for international good will.

Spring Cold Snap Hits From Coast-To-Coast

By United Press International
A spring cold snap frosted the nation today from coast to coast.

Tornado-spawning storms that battered the Midwest Monday swept across the Atlantic Coast states today. Tornado winds hit Columbus County, N. C., damaging several homes, farm buildings and businesses. Communications were disrupted and at least one person was injured.

The storm triggered thunderstorms and high winds which blew down power lines in Dillon, S. C.

Heavy snow warnings were posted for Maine. Near or sub-freezing weather gripped North Atlantic states.

The upper Midwest was blanketed with up to 5 inches of snow Tuesday and freezing weather extended as far south as Kentucky.

Wausau, Wis., and Cadillac and Lake City, Mich., had a 6-inch snow cover. Traces of snow were recorded in Iowa and South Bend, Ind.

Thirty degree weather chilled Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit, Kansas City, Las Vegas, Nev., Minneapolis, Minn., Omaha, Neb., Portland, Maine, Spokane, Wash., and Wichita, Kan.

Reno, Nev., had a low of 19 Tuesday and Ely, Nev., shivered in 5 above zero weather. Craig, Colo., and Lander, Wyo., had lows of 15 degrees.

The mercury skidded 49 degrees in a 12-hour period Tuesday in St. Louis, Mo., hitting a low of 41, and dropping to 36 today.

Study Asked

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Spessard Holland asked the secretary of the interior Wednesday to start an immediate feasibility study of a desalination plant in the Florida Keys.

Angels, Stars Spark Saturday's Program

SIX HANDSOME AND LIVELY LOOKING Angels, the members of the world-famous Blue Angels Navy precision flying team, will perform Saturday for the Semi-Centennial Celebration. In addition, the Angels, with other members of their aggregation will make several personal appearances during their stay here. The famous fliers are shown here in a composite photo with their F11F-1 Tiger planes, from the Grumman Aircraft Engineering Company, streaking through the sky. They will be seen in their breath-taking performance Saturday at 11:15 a.m. at the Sanford Naval Air Station.

Seminole County will celebrate its Golden Anniversary with a lavish party lasting all day April 27 and promises to be spectacular from start to finish.

Focal point of all activities, with the exception of the Naval Air Station Open House, Blue Angels and Chuting Stars will be in downtown Fort Mellon Park, the waterfront and the Civic Center.

Headlining a list of stellar attractions are the Navy's Blue Angels, precision flying team, and their buddies, the "Chuting Stars", sky-diving daredevils. Renowned the world over for their spectacular skill, these naval aviators will command the airways over the Naval Air Station from 11 a.m. til 12:15 p.m. in a free show that will have an expected 40,000 necks craned upward.

Actually, the Semi-Centennial Celebration starts at 8 p.m. on Friday, April 26, when square dancers from the southeast states stage a jamboree to the "swing and go" calling of the ace of callers, Johnny Creel of New Orleans.

Saturday's festivities get under way at 9:15 a.m. with the parade that "everybody loves." Following the open house at the Naval Air Station, the "byop" (bring your own picnic) will take over Ft. Mellon Park with the host committee furnishing free Coke, Nehi, potato chips and ice cream.

Little League Baseball and the bathing suit review of 34 attractive candidates for the title of Miss Seminole County will vie for attention starting at 2:30.

A water ski show featuring three world champions will take over the yacht basin at 3:30 and will finish just in time to give the thousands of spectators a chance to get to the barbecue supper.

The Miss Seminole County finals will just be well under way at 7:30 p.m., when a 60 minute fireworks spectacular will light the sky over Lake Monroe at 8 p.m.

A highlight of the day will be the closing official dance at the Mayfair Inn where Charlie Spivak and his 11-piece orchestra will provide the tantalizing tunes.

The barbecue at $1 and the dance at $3 a couple, both considered real bargains, are the only attractions that are not free.

Methodist Men Set Elections

Officers of the Deland District Methodist Men's Club will be elected at a dinner meeting to be held at 8:30 p. m. Thursday at the Grace Methodist Church in St. Augustine.

Guest speaker for the program will be Dr. D. Stewart Patterson, noted author and traveler who presently is serving as general secretary of the Methodist Commission on Camp Activities and is a leading Methodist layman.

Recognize Exiles — Lawmakers

TALLAHASSEE (UPD) — Bills prohibiting the licensing of Cuban fishing vessels in Florida territorial waters and calling on Congress to recognize a Cuban Government in exile were introduced in the Legislature Tuesday.

Sen. John Spottswood, Key West, tossed in the proposed Memorial urging recognition of an exile Cuban Government.

Spottswood tried to bring the measure up for immediate passage but Sen. John Mathews, Jacksonville, persuaded him to agree to a committee study so the final product would be a well-thought-out resolution that represents the thinking of all of us."

A bill requiring licensing by the State Board of Conservation of Foreign Fishing vessels using Florida waters was introduced by Rep. Bruce Scott of Lee.

Ebenezer Study To Conclude

The last session of the study, "Our Mission Today" will be conducted at the Ebenezer Methodist Church at 7 p. m. today when a film entitled "The Frontiers That Call Us" will be shown.

Refreshments of pies, cakes and coffee will be served after the study.

The committee on nominations will meet at 8:30 p.m. today. Members of the committee are Gordon Meyer, Clifford Johnson, Mrs. Carl Bradbury and Mrs. George Jailed.

Benefits In County Top $290,021

Monthly old-age, survivors, and disability insurance benefits in Seminole County now top $290,021, Colonel Byron R. Patton, District Manager of social security in Orlando said today on releasing his annual county benefit data report.

presents an increase of 15.7 percent over the corresponding period last year.

"This increase can be attributed to the changes in the law in recent years, as well as to the growth of our aged population," Colonel Patton said. "This money stimulates county business; most of it is spent for food, clothing, and shelter.

"There is no longer any doubt, social security benefits are helping to stabilize the income and spending power of many residents in Seminole County." Monthly benefits first became payable in January 1910, and they have continued without interruption for 23 years, accompanied by a steady growth in the number of beneficiaries. Colonel Patton noted that as of December 31, 1967, some 4,811 Countians were collecting about $3,400,252 annually from social security.

A delicious luncheon consisting of filet mignon, stuffed potatoes, tossed salad and strawberry parfait was served. Members and guests were welcomed by the president.

Following the luncheon Mrs. Paul Lewis, social chairman, gave a resume of the sorority activities for the year. A letter from the founder of Beta Sigma Phi International Sorority tracing some of its history was read by Mrs. Bob McKee, chapter vice president.

Guests at the luncheon were Mrs. Joe Corley and

Garden Circles

JACARANDA CIRCLE
The April meeting of the Jacaranda Circle was held at the home of Mrs. M. J. Sorokowsky with Mrs. J. E. Hichens as co-hostess. Ernest Lundberg, guest speaker, presented a program on the care of gardens after the damage of the cold winter.

Mrs. Irving Pryor, circle president, presided at the meeting. Three new members were added to the membership, though only two were present. Mrs. Donald Jackson and Mrs. J. G. David were introduced and welcomed. The third, Mrs. William Wilson, was absent because of illness in the family.

Mrs. Pryor gave the report of the board meeting and also reported that flowers had been sent to Mrs. Stanley Poloski who was in Semhol Memorial Hospital for surgery. Mrs. Poloski is making a very good recovery and should be home soon.

Mrs. Alburn Hecor, president-elect, presented the program for the new year.

After the meeting adjourned, members were conducted on a tour of Mrs. Sorokowsky's new home. She was then presented with some azalea plants for her garden, as a gift from the circle. Members were reminded that their next meeting will be a picnic supper, with husbands or friends invited.

The 17 members present enjoyed delicious cake and coffee served by the hostesses.

VAH-II Wives Enjoy Bridge And Luncheon

Two recent events wrapped up the April social calendar of the Officers Wives Club of VAH-II and Detachment 8.

The first was a luncheon held at the Barbizon Restaurant in Winter Park. Hostesses for the festive occasion were Mrs. H. B. Helms and Mrs. T. S. Treanor. In addition to centerpieces of spring bouquets and Easter baskets, small flowers were placed around the edges of the tables. Following a brief business meeting regarding the Oriental Garden Party being sponsored by the Officers Wives Clubs, Mrs. L. E. Garrett was announced as winner of the door prize.

Also attending were Meses J. F. Barlow, B. W. Bartholomew, K. M. Bent, A. D. Burkett, R. D. Field, R. G. Fox Jr., J. C. Patterson, Wayne Robinson and William Winberg.

The second function was the monthly bridge, held at the Ravenna Park home of Mrs. Kermit Jamison. High scorer of the day was a guest, Mrs. William H. Smith, who accompanied her daughter-in-law, Mrs. St. Clair Smith to the morning party. Other club members playing were Meses J. F. Barlow, J. C. Patterson, R. W. Repp, Wayne Robinson, J. M. Hunsela and W. L. Wagner.

TWO MEMBERS of the Sanford Does were elected to state offices at a recent convention. Mrs. A. P. Bowersox, left, was named vice president and Mrs. B. G. Caruthers, treasurer. They will be among the state officers who will preside at the 1964 convention in Sarasota. Both ladies are past presidents of the Sanford Drove.

Navy Group Gives Farewell Party

Nearly 60 Heavy Attack Wing One Officers, wives and their guests attended a barbeque-farewell party Friday evening at Lake Golden.

The big, festive steak fry was a formal "good-by" to three Wing staff officers: Cdr. Charles R. Tucker, wing readiness officer; Cdr. James A. de Ganahl, training officer, and Chief Warrant Officer Wayne A. Shrum, administrative personnel officer. All received personalized cigarette lighters as mementos of their service with the Wing.

Shrum's sons, Bruce, 18, and Craig, 16, both students in Jacksonville, were on hand to see the presentation to their father.

Summersills Celebrate Anniversaries

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Summersill of Geneva celebrated their 61st wedding anniversary with a family picnic and trip to Silver Springs.

The anniversary was April 21 and his birthday on the 23rd, so the family arranged the celebration for Sunday.

Since the birthday honoree, known to his family and friends as "Pappy Summersill" is a retired railroad engineer, he was given special permission by the "Six Gun Territory" to ride the engine as an engineer of the train "Southern R.R." The family members were passengers in the first car behind the engine as they traveled to and from the town.

About 36 people enjoyed the festivities of the day and for many of the grandchildren and great grandchildren this was their first train ride. For the honored couple it brought back memories of their early life as much of the scenery of the famous attractions reminded them of Florida towns as they were during the early years of his railroading.

The "May Garden Party," featuring Oriental atmosphere and a big, big buffet dinner will kick off the annual Navy Relief Fund Drive at 6 p.m. May 4 in the Sanford Naval Air Station Ballroom.

The party, which is always one of the station's biggest social events of the year, is sponsored by the Officers' Wives Club of NAS Sanford. Proceeds from the attraction will go to Navy Relief.

Mrs. John Dralm, general chairman for the party, announced that tickets would be on sale until April 29 through NAS unit representatives and Wives Club committeewomen. The cost of the party includes the buffet, a chance for one of the numerous door prizes and an evening of fun and entertainment.

Public Hearing Set On Right-To-Work

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The House Labor Committee called a public hearing today for next Monday on a bill to strengthen enforcement of Florida's "right-to-work" law. Chairman Leon McDonald of Suwannee said the hearing will be held at 2 p. m. in the House chamber.

He said the hearing will be designed to determine whether the constitutional right of any person to work is being abridged or denied by reason of membership or non-membership in a labor union. "Since I have been in the House, I have heard rumors that the right-to-work provision is being ignored and violated," McDonald said. "On the other hand, I hear from leaders of organized labor that all is well in this state, that we have labor peace and there are no violations of the constitution by labor leaders." If there are no violations, he said, it would be senseless to pass additional laws in this area, but if rumors of violations are true "it is high time the legislature takes affirmative action."

Grand Ball To Spark 'Day'

Climax of the day's events for the birthday of the county, Semi-Centennial Day, Saturday, will be the Grand Ball at the Mayfair Inn's newly re-decorated and air-conditioned ballroom.

Chairman Garnett White urges ball-goers to get their tickets and make their reservations now, as the event draws near. Tickets are on sale at drugstores, banks, business houses and many other locations all over the county. Call the Jayce Office for reservation.

While the official dance of the Seminole County Semi-Centennial Celebration on Saturday will close a day filled with outstanding attractions, it will be a highlight that will find Charlie Spivak and his eleven piece orchestra taking the spotlight at the Mayfair Inn and will be one of the most popular events of the festivities.

Spivak's attractive vocalist, Candi Scott, will have a place of prominence on the bandstand. Her eye-catching beauty will be enough to earn her that spot, but she sings, too, and is a "dancers' delight."

Sowers Stresses Quality Teaching

"Quality Education's" major concern should be how well teachers are preparing children to face the future, said Dr. Ray V. Sowers, head of the teacher training department at Stetson University, Saturday.

Speaking at the Alpha Delta Kappa, honorary teachers sorority, pledge luncheon, Dr. Sowers gave four hallmarks of quality education: Intellectual honesty, an appreciation and love for beauty, an ethical sensitivity, and the ability to take account of the needs of the human spirit.

He concluded by saying that it was the duty of the teachers to see that those educational foundations are preserved.

The luncheon was held in the Gold Room of the Mayfair Hotel. Miss Ollie Reese Whitte, president of the group, introduced the speaker. New teachers pledged at the luncheon were Kathleen Lee, Arletta Coberly, Faye Gaines, Ann Echols, Margaret Reynolds, Ann Reynolds, Cindy Crain and Jennifer Kelley.

Other members present were Esther Williams, Helen Richey, Katherine Nash, Lorraine Whiting, Marie Stumpf, Belle Rumbley, Hazel Flynn, Catherine Pearce, Mary Rogers, Roberta Richards, Marjorie Nichols, Mary Grace Kosky, Mary Grooms, Ollie Reese Whitte and Edith Gull.

Political Acumen

Observers often say it is unwise to compare U. S. and British political parties because of the obvious differences between the two countries in size, population make-up, geographic variety, and the like.

Nevertheless, Dr. William Prendergast, able research director of the Republican National Committee, has just made an on-the-spot comparison of this sort and finds in Britain some fruitful materials for hopeful party builders here at home.

Though now in evidently increasing difficulties, the British Conservative party has ruled that nation for almost 12 unbroken years. For this and other reasons, Prendergast gave the Conservatives major attention.

What struck him as most meaningful for this country were those things which tended above all to infuse the Conservative party with a real sense of stability and continuity.

1. The Conservatives draw regular, reliable financial backing from some two million virtual dues-paying party members, most of whose contributions range from 50 cents to $5 a year.

2. With this solid, sure underpinning, the party is truly professionalized. Year around, election season or not, it maintains a large, efficient, permanent staff to keep the party organization vigorous, alert, continuously functioning.

For instance, the Conservatives employ some 50 regular party researchers, a gainst Prendergast's mere handful at GOP headquarters.

3. As part of this professionalization, yet deserving of an important separate note, the organization plants in every single British parliamentary constituency a "party agent"—a full time, paid party worker whose task is to collect party funds, handle countless routine organization matters, generally serve as the permanent "party presence" at the grass roots.

By contrast, our party organizations are usually thinly parchment-skinned skeletons which suddenly inflate to bulbous life in general election years. We tap the affluent fellows for big money, never sure from time to time which ones will cough up.

Our campaigns are far costlier, of course, because of heavy travel and television charges. In Britain, specified television time is free to the parties—in voting season and out.

Whatever the differences in scale, British efforts to introduce stability, continuity and professional competence into party organization may well be worth copying. We have muddled through on a "feast or famine" basis far too long.

Helen Fuller Says

New Political Tactics

WASHINGTON—Extreme political right-wingers are taking a new tack to win national importance for their movement.

The ultra-conservative John Birch Society did poorly in the 1962 elections; its members failed to nominate a candidate to the right of Richard Nixon in place of him or to elect three Congressmen they strongly supported in California, for example. Two leading right-wing agitators, resigned General Edwin M. Walker, and Evangelist Rev. Billy Hargis, drew only fair-to-middling crowds on their recent "Operation Midnight Ride" national stump-speaking tour—2,200 and 800 respectively in cities the size of St. Louis and Kansas City. The messages Walker and Hargis were peddling included the information that the United Nations controls our national policy and that the National Council of Churches is "neither Christian nor American."

Since the last election and their signal lack of success in it, the John Birch Society has quietly moved its center of operations from large-population states like California, Texas and Michigan, where the radical right has been strongest, to small-population states in the West and Southwest where the Birchers and allied groups figure they can get more bang for their political buck.

Campaign funds go farther in the sparsely settled Rocky Mountain and Great Plain states where there are fewer voters to influence and where it is easier for the right-wing to dominate the press and radio and place their sympathizers in positions of influence in the school systems.

1964 seems an ideal year, from the ultra-conservative view, to stage a series of High Noon political showdowns with Democratic liberals and moderates. Six pro-Kennedy Democrats, including Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, come up for re-election next year. And the John Birch Society and its allies have been in serious training to be ready to pick them off. Their great success to date is in Wyoming, where the right-wing radicals gained effective control of the state legislature this year by allying themselves with rural representatives against the legislators from the towns. How this coalition used its influence in the Wyoming legislature this year, Western political experts believe, provides a preview of the issues that will be used to try to defeat the pro-Kennedy candidates for the U. S. Senate next year.

Led by the Birchers, the Wyoming Legislature called for supplanting the Supreme Court as the final law of the land.

Called on Congress to take the United States out of the United Nations and put the United States out of the Disarmament Agency—do away with foreign aid.

Repositioned in the state senate to give rural areas disproportionate influence as compared to urban areas.

If the rightists succeed in defeating some Kennedy supporters in campaigns based on issues like these—Modern Republicans will grieve along with the Administration. The Republican image of enlightened conservatism that the Rockefeller wing of the GOP is striving to strengthen will be at stake too.

VICTORY IS ON THE SIDE WITH THE HEAVIEST ARTILLERY.—OR, IS IT?

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

Girls, don't feel offended because precise psychological formulas will make you fall in love. They also cause you to buy books or an automobile, life insurance, etc. Music, art and romance all operate on exact recipes. And you men might heed Prof. Yellin below, as a means of matching my 5-word formula for women, mentioned yesterday.

CASE P-421: Prof. David Yellin is a practical psychologist whom I wish to salute. Recently he offered some very specific advice to young men who want to know how to get a shy girl launched upon easy conversation.

Prof. Yellin offers a 25-word formula to men, which is a superb supplement to my 5-word formula for girls who are matched with tongue-tied males.

Here's Prof. Yellin's suggested opening for the male: "I've been watching you. Why so thoughtful?"

He says the average girl will then begin to chatter at full speed.

If she should slow down to a halt, then Prof. Yellin urges the male to employ this second part of his 25-word strategy: "Little girl, you have a problem."

Whether the man has paid attention or not to what the girl has been saying, this is supposed to inflate her ego and launch her upon a personal confession.

Even though he does not listen very attentively to her remarks, Prof. Yellin then suggests that the boy conclude with this final shot: "But you and I know, let the girl, that's not your real problem."

From this point onward, adds Prof. Yellin, "Friendship will be inevitable."

Now many poetical minded folks, especially women, will resent this precise application of psychology to romance.

Nikita Talks Peace Existence

MOSCOW (UPI)—Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev said today the Soviet Union would continue its struggle to "bride atomic maniacs" but at the same time would exist peacefully with the West.

In a brief statement marking the 93rd anniversary of V. I. Lenin's birth, Khrushchev reemphasized his policy of peaceful coexistence, which has come under bitter attack from Communist China.

Khrushchev said such a policy was in accord with the views of Lenin, the founder of Soviet communism. The premier spoke at a Kremlin reception.

Missing Congo Money Found

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Millions of dollars, missing from the Katanga national bank since secessionist officials fled the Congolese province in January have been found in Southern Rhodesia, it was disclosed Wednesday.

Authoritative sources said the currency, in Katanga francs, was worth between $1 million and $10 million, depending on which rate of exchange is used.

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—While the new United Arab Republic of Egypt, Iraq and Syria is of immediate concern to the Near East, it has a longer range interest for the whole Arab world.

The entire area from Morocco to the Persian Gulf is now in a state of ferment and growth. No one can foretell whether it will explode into many little wars or even a big one.

It might emerge more or less peacefully into a new Pan-Arab force the rest of the world will have to appraise anew.

When the phrase "Arab world" is used, it means all people who speak Arabic and are Mohammedans. There are from 80 to 85 million of them.

The new U.A.R. will have 15 million—28 million in Egypt, 12 million in Iraq, five million in Syria.

Other Arab countries east of the Suez Canal have a total population of from 12 to 15 million. Saudi Arabia has seven million, Yemen perhaps three million, Lebanon a million and a half, Jordan under a million, Kuwait 250,000.

The Federation of Southern Arabian States—Aden, Oman, Muscat and 25 other sultanates the British protectors are trying to put together—may have a total population of only 600,000. But they have a place in any redrawing of the Arab world map.

Egypt is the principal power in the Arab League and its main support. The Voice of Cairo dominates the Arab world airwaves and the transistor radio is the alarm clock that awakens the giant.

The Casablanca group, in which the King Hassan II of Morocco is prime mover for "Magreb" or western unity, includes also Algeria, Tunisia, Ghana, Guinea and Mali.

There are also larger, Inter-African and Malagasy organizations of former French and British colonies. They wrote a charter last December but are still in the negotiating stage.

The United States would like to have Britain and France play the largest possible role in the development of Africa since American aid can't do it all.

Still, U. S. aid to Arab world countries has totaled $2 billion since 1945—$100 million of it military assistance to Iraq, Jordan, Lebanon, Saudi Arabia, Morocco and Tunisia. This does not include the cost of U. S. bases in Morocco, which will be evacuated at the end of 1963.

The Kingdom of Libya, which could have the most viable economy in the Arab world, is still an uncertain quantity.

Old King Idris I, a former Arab emir whose family has ruled East Libya for 200 years, was enthroned with British help in 1951.

Egypt has long hoped that this eastern half eventually will join U.A.R. Tunisia hopes it might form a union with western Libya.

In 1953 Libya granted oil concessions to one French, two British and three American companies. They have developed rich producing fields. But Libya has not used its oil revenues wisely. It has no development plan, no drive, no leadership.

Principal American interest in Libya is Wheelus Field, where NATO pilots can train year-round in perfect flying weather. There is no pressure from the Libyans to have this field evacuated. Wheelus was the main staging area for UN operations in the Congo.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am 47 and should have more sense. I've been married 18 years to a man who doesn't drink or chase and he is good to me. We have a teen-ager who is a joy to both of us. My husband is quiet and reserved, and I am just the opposite, but we get along fine. I didn't love him when I married him but I wanted a home and family. I met a man at work recently and we were immediately attracted to each other. Before I knew it we were up to our ears in an affair. He wanted to marry me, and I became an emotional wreck trying to make up my mind. Finally I told him I couldn't hurt my husband and child, so we broke it off. Within a week he had someone else. Since then I've spent my nights regretting my decision. Was I wrong? Will time heal the scars, or must I learn to live with my mistake?

DEAR ABBY: I certainly sympathize with the lady who wrote concerning her loose-tongued minister. I've had the same experience. My confidences cropped up in two of his Sunday sermons. Now I tell it directly to the Lord.

STILL CARES

DEAR STILL: Your biggest mistake was getting involved with him in the first place. Your decision was right! When he found a replacement for your "love" in a week, you surely must have realized the shallowness of his feelings for you. That realization AND time should heal your "scars" — and soon.

DEAR LIMITED: Romance progresses a little with each meeting. The more time you spend together, the more serious the romance becomes. Your parents know more about this than you do. Take their word for it. And by the way, a 21-year-old is a MAN, not a boy.

DEAR ABBY: I am 16 and have

DEAR BUTTONGING: The shoe fit, so you wore it. But don't forget, you aren't the only one with that size foot!

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

Here is another really tough hand from the Intercollegiate tournament. North has a sound opening club bid and South is supposed to try for a slam via Blackwood. When North shows no aces South now gets a bidding par by either passing five clubs or going to five spades.

A spade lead and spade ruff defeats the five club contract right off the bat, but the directed play is against five spades and East and West must defeat this contract to gain their par for defensive play.

West is directed to open his singleton club, but actually he should make this lead without direction. He an ace also. Declarer wins the club and leads a spade and now West must hold up his ace if he wants to get his par. Then on the second spade lead East should play the nine of hearts as a signal that he holds the ace of that suit. West wins the trick and leads a heart to East, whereupon East returns the club and the hand is set.

If it looks silly to credit North and South for getting set when they could have made four spades had they stopped there, I want to remind you that people who sit on a bench never fall down, but they also never get anywhere.

We The Women: By Ruth Millett

Can a youngster make the jump from childhood to adulthood in one big leap? That's what millions of children are being asked to do when they enter junior high school.

Isn't it about time we took a good, long look at our junior highs and reduce the pressure they are putting on our children to grow up overnight?

Lipstick, Earrings, Dancing. They are popped at a child all at once in junior high. It's a big, dizzying jump.

Back in the days when schools were divided into eight years of grade school and four years of high school, the jump was made two years later.

Now with our 6-3-3 system, our children jump from the sixth grade into a setup that is in no way a continuation of what they have known, but an absurd copy of high school.

We've got junior high schools all over the country. We are stuck with the system. But why can't we, as parents, get together with the junior high faculty members in our own communities and try to make the change from elementary school to junior high a more gradual process?

It isn't wholesome to let our children be pushed into adult ways when they are actually only children. Nor is it a happy solution for a few parents to try to fight the problem alone.

The only way we can see to it that our children are allowed to enjoy childhood as long as they should is to make up our minds that we parents have to get together, take a stand and ask our junior high principals and teachers to back us up.

As parents we ought to be able to meet our children's "but all the other kids do such-and-such" with we parents have talked it over and decided. . .

Union Hits FEC Use Of Strikebreakers

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — Strike leaders accused the labor-troubled Florida East Coast Railway today of hiring "imported pistol-toting" strikebreakers to work on railroad tracks in the New Smyrna Beach-Oak Hill section.

J. H. Hadley, chairman of a committee representing 11 non-operating unions which struck the FEC 99 days ago, said four men arrived in New Smyrna last week in trucks bearing Georgia license plates.

In New Smyrna, T. D. Lyons, international representative of the Boilermakers Union, told UPI there were now six men working on FEC tracks, two white and four Negro.

"The white men are wearing guns. One has a shoulder holster and the other, a belt holster. We understand they are professional strikebreakers," Lyons said. He said a seventh man, a Negro, left the area "after some of the strikers talked to him."

Lyons said the men began working south of New Smyrna and "are working at Oak Hill today."

Hadley said in a formal statement "the importation of these gunmen is a desperate gesture on the part of Edward Ball," chairman of the FEC.

Ball told UPI, "If the FEC has hired anybody from Georgia, then I know nothing about it. It sounds like the unions are getting ready to start violence and they want to blame it on us."

The strike began Jan. 23 when 1,200 members of 11 unions walked out because the FEC refused to meet a 10.28 cents per hour pay hike demand.

Eighteen days ago, four operating (on train) unions also struck, but in a dispute over new anti-featherbedding rules.

Meanwhile, in new legal developments stemming from the strike, the Jacksonville Terminal Company and its legal counsel, Elliott Adams, said federal court had no jurisdiction in an FEC suit to have Adams and the company's president fired.

The FEC had filed suit to force the removal of President Marshall C. Jennette and Adams under terms of an agreement by the owners of the terminal company.

VOL. 53 United Press Leased Wire Established 1908 THURS., APRIL 25, 1963 SANFORD, FLORIDA NO. 698

By Larry Vershel

One of the buildings the city recently condemned collapsed yesterday and one man suffered some minor injuries . . . It was at 412 Cypress Ave.

Yes, the Woodruff Building is painted . . . now if that frozen custard sign could only be removed.

The sewage treatment plant of course won't be finished by the Semi-Centennial celebration . . . We asked City Manager W. E. Knowles if he expected it to be ready by the 100 year festivities and Pete answered . . . "I hope so."

It seems like one of our new department heads in the county has forgotten County Commission policies about using county equipment and manpower to take care of his personal property. This one had his lawn mowed the other day and will have to answer a few queries at the next county board meeting.

Don't forget coffee club meeting tomorrow at 9:30 a. m. at the NAS recreation area.

The word from Tallahassee is that people that signed the original petition for Fern Park Incorporation have written the legislative delegation asking that their names be taken off . . .

Well, it took six months, but "Lee Pride" finally belongs to George Hardin now.

Interested to know what most people in this county are writing our legislators about . . . Well, it's the pros and cons of banning the sale of beer from grocery stores.

This is National Secretary Week . . . Be nice to the girls!

Have you ever noticed the speeders on South Highway 17? . . . that is, most of them . . . bear license plates starting with 7 and 8? Not 17. You can be driving along at a peaceful and legal 60 and 65 . . . and whoosh! you think you're standing still.

Bob Bessner says to avoid the rash and not take any chances on missing out on the bar-b-q supper at Fort Mellon Park Saturday afternoon . . . you can buy your tickets now at the Chamber of Commerce, Junior Chamber of Commerce and Seminole Memorial Hospital.

"Clock" learns there will be a change of command at the Marine Barracks, NAS, next week. Present CO bound for Rhode Island.

'Big, Lavish' Are The Words For Auto Show

One of the biggest and most lavish Auto Shows ever held in Seminole County opened Wednesday afternoon as crowds surged into Municipal Stadium to see the newest stylings of 1963 autos displayed by six Sanford dealers.

The hundreds of persons who attended during the afternoon and evening saw the Flying Silver Condors in their exciting aerial act and heard the music of the Tempos band.

A snack bar on the grounds provided an opportunity to satisfy the tummys, as spectators feasted their eyes on the glittering array of new cars, trucks and wagons, watched the show and listened to the band.

"This looks like the finest show we have ever had," said the auto dealers as they welcomed the crowds in the stadium.

Tonight the Shades band will be heard and the Silver Condors will perform their daring aerial feats at 7 and 8 p. m.

Friday the band will be the Rockin' Roadrunners, the Silver Condors will perform at the same hours and at 8:30 p. m. the members of the Blue Angels precision flying team and the Chuting Stars jumping team will be on hand for a public appearance.

Admission is free and hours are from 1 p. m. to 10 p. m. through Friday.

In Geneva

Phone Probe To Continue

Geneva residents were advised Wednesday morning that investigation made this week is incomplete and that further study will be made by the Public Utilities Commission into the area telephone service being provided by the local branch of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co.

PUC Representative Williams Linhart, meeting with local business and civic leaders, told the group that he found circumstances in some cases, substantiated criticisms contained in a recent survey made by an independent technician and in the petition of complaint filed with the commission two weeks ago.

He went on to explain that complaints against equipment installed in Geneva five years ago, after being brought from South Carolina and said to be "1929 vintage," were not entirely justified since this type equipment had been manufactured as late as 1950.

He reported that required air conditioning is being used in the exchange building to keep equipment in proper working order by maintaining a constant temperature and removing dust and humidity and said that constant records are kept to determine when and how often new trunk lines should be installed.

Traffic studies just completed by the company indicate that six new ones are due. Steps also are being taken by the company to replace lines originally installed as temporary and in use longer than was intended by local Southern Bell officials, Linhart said.

Church Body Requested Restrictions

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The bill to ban the sale of beer and wine from grocery stores and service stations was killed today at a lengthy, emotion-filled meeting of the House Temperance Committee.

The vote was 73. The defeat of the controversial measure came after Rep. William Wadsworth, of Ft. Pierce, proposed and then withdrew an amendment which would have banned the sale of all alcoholic beverages from all types of stores, except state-owned liquor stores. Presently, Florida has no such state-owned stores.

Wadsworth said he would introduce the proposal to the Legislature as a bill. At that time it was estimated that the total cost would not exceed $30,000. Bonds were issued at 8 per cent; later (in 1858) the Legislature actually authorized issuance of these bonds. Unfortunately, before any work could be started, the Civil War intervened. Afterward, because of problems in connection with reconstruction, no further action was taken until 1879, when the State Legislature abandoned the project.

From time to time efforts were made to reactivate the project, but interest lagged as water tonnage gradually lessened with the completion of the railroad south of Jacksonville to Orlando, and the consolidation of small narrow gauge lines by H. L. Plant into what is now known as the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad.

Today the tremendous growth in Florida, particularly in industry which requires heavy cargoes of raw materials, as well as the phenomenal rise in recreational boating, make it imperative that we construct this missing link in the state's waterway system. Florida has grown to ninth in population in the United States, and has developed into a $10 billion market. There are some seven million boat-owners in the United States, and Florida is highest in number of boats per capita . . . approximately one boat for every seven residents, with an average investment of $1,500.

Florida has the longest coast line in the nation, besides some 30,000 inland lakes and numerous rivers. The St. Johns and Indian Rivers are the most important in the state, Sanford and Seminole County, as the terminal point in the connection of these two great rivers, would reap the highest economic benefits.

The St. Johns-Indian River Canal would permit pleasure craft to come inland via one route and return to the coast via another. A mecca for both yachts and smaller pleasure boats, it would make possible round trips through some of the most scenic portions of the state and the finest fishing waters without the need for back-tracking.

Progress, unfortunately, does not always favor everyone. It is regrettable, but sometimes a few individuals are adversely affected. However, we believe that the vast majority of the citizens of Seminole County and the State of Florida will benefit beyond description. The scope and magnitude of the effects of this canal upon our economy are such that we place it first in importance among four major projects that are essential to the orderly growth of this area. The others are: A four-year state university, a causeway crossing Lake Jessup, and, ultimately, a Sanford port with dock and terminal facilities.

We endorse the resolution passed unanimously by the House of Representatives and the Senate of the 1961 session . . . "The Legislature of the State of Florida hereby approves the Sanford-Indian River Canal as a vitally needed waterway development for the State of Florida, and as a project necessary in the comprehensive development of waterways of the State of Florida."

100 Year-Old Dream

EDITORIAL COMMENT

As the citizens of this county and surrounding areas prepare to celebrate Seminole County's Semi-Centennial, there could be no more appropriate time to mark another important milestone . . . the centennial of the inception of a canal from the St. Johns River to the East Coast, an event we believe could best be celebrated by actual construction of this vital waterway.

A canal between the St. Johns and Indian Rivers was authorized as a state project in 1856 by Chapter 1 of the Laws of the State of Florida. At that time it was estimated that the total cost would not exceed $30,000. Bonds were issued at 8 per cent; later (in 1858) the Legislature actually authorized issuance of these bonds. Unfortunately, before any work could be started, the Civil War intervened. Five Men Will Steer Area Canal District Proposed legislation creating the "St. Johns-Indian River Canal District" will be presented for study and support at a joint meeting of the county commissioners of Brevard, Orange, Seminole and Volusia Counties at a luncheon-meeting May 3 at the Mayfair Inn.

The proposal reads that "purpose of the district shall be to organize, manage, plan and control the construction of any such canal as may be deemed necessary."

Five directors, serving without pay or other remuneration and named by the Governor, will direct the affairs of the district: Two from Seminole County and one each from the other three counties. They will have no power to levy ad valorem taxes.

Each county will be requested to contribute to a fund to pay administration expenses during the period the district directors are preparing the plan for the canal.

Also invited to the May 3 session are Secretary of State Tom Adams, other state officials and the attorneys and senators from the four counties.

Special Fee
