2 face arraignment

SANFORD - Formal criminal charges against two men arrested in December for rape and extortion may be filed by the State Attorney's office within 10 days depending upon the results of labortory tests being conducted by the Florida Department of Law Enforcement.

Asarstan state attorney Stewart Stone, who is handling the cases of Lewis Billups and Gregory Calloway said formal charges. If any, will be made before the next scheduled arraignment of the two men March 9. The men were scheduled for arraignment Tuesday but a state motion for continuance was granted pending filing of the information or charges against them.

"I am moving slowly and very deliberately," Stone said, concerning his investigation. "We want to be sure we can prove the charges." before filing the informations.

Billups, a former professional football player with the Cincinnati Bengals and Calloway, an Orlando library worker, were arrested in December after a woman claimed she was drugged, raped and videotaped after accepting an invitation to lunch at Billups' Alaqua home on Nov. 30. Further, the woman claimed the men threated to show the video to her husband if she did not pay them $7,500. Later, she claimed they wanted $20,000 not to send the tape to her husband.

Priest accused of misconduct

FORT MYERS (AP) - A pricet at St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church was relieved of duty following a complaint of sexual misconduct from a 13-year-old girl.

On Tuesday, officials would not name the priest, one of five at the church.

"If and when there are any formal charges. then his name would be made public. But it would simply be inappropriate at this time," said Gall M. McGrath, spokeswoman for the Diocese of Venice.

Friday afternoon, the girl and a grandparent went to the church to discuss the problem. Shortly afterward, and according to policy, the priest was relieved of duty and asked to leave the parish, McGrath said. The allegations were reported to the state Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services.

SANFORD - The gathering of those who will select the new textbooks for the high school social studies classes is expected to be a dull one, a school district official said.

From time to time, the Seminole County school district reviews the instructional materials that are used in the classroom.

Each year, a subject area at a particular grade level is reviewed to see if the texts and other materials need to be replaced or updated. Subject areas are reviewed on a five year cycle.

This year teachers representing each high school, administrators and parents who serve on the Social Studies Instructional Materials Selection Committee will be taking a look at the socall studies materials for high schools.

Jetliner lost power; landed safely

FORT LAUDERDALE — A Delta Air Lines twin-engine jetliner lost power in one engine about 20 minutes after takeoff and blew four tires when the plane returned to Fort Lauderdale, officials said.

A brake fire broke out Tuesday when the Boeing 757 carrying 182 passengers and crew landed at Fort Lauderdale-Hollywood International Airport on its interrupted flight to Atlanta, said Federal Aviation Administration spokeswoman Anne Eldridge in Atlanta.

Firefighters sprayed the brakes to cool them off with the passengers still aboard, and no injuries were reported. Passengers got off when a stairway was wheeled onto the runway, and three buses carried them to the terminal.

The pilot shut down the right engine when it backfired and lost power with the jet at an altitude of about 25,000 feet about 15 miles west of Palm Beach, said Delta spokesman Clay McConnell.

Cougars roam free in test

OSCEOLA NATIONAL FOREST - Ten Texas cougars are roaming free in the wilds of North Florida in a three-year test to see if the area will be suitable for eventual releases of endangered Florida panthers.

"They were cautious about coming out of the pens," Henry Cabbage, a spokesman for the Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission, said Tuesday of the early Monday release of the big cats.

Venison was first placed outside the fenced enclosures where they have been housed since early this month. When the cages were opened, the largest cat, a 155-pound male, grabbed a side of venison and headed off into the wooded swamp.

Within 30 minutes, all had ventured out and slipped away. Cabbage said there were no immediate problems with the cougars or their transmitter collars, which researchers will use to track them over the next three years.

Deputy killed suspect; placed on leave

LAKE PARK — A Palm Beach County sheriff's deputy was placed on administrative leave after shooting and killing a burglary suspect who rammed the deputy's cruiser with his pickup.

Deputy Vincent Tuzeo, 27, was placed on administrative leave with pay Monday hours after he shot William Dawson in the back of the head, sheriff's spokesman Bob Ferrell said.

Tuzeo will remain off active duty until sheriff's detectives and internal affairs investigators determine whether the shooting was justified and whether Tuzeo violated departmental rules.

Tuzeo and two other deputies answered a burglar alarm at a supermarket, where they found Dawson in his pickup in the parking lot. Dawson spoke briefly with the deputies, then sped off, according to the deputies' reports of the incident. Tuzeo was out of his car, and had begun firing, Ferrell said. He fired 16 rounds, emptying his 9mm pistol.

PANAMA CITY - The son of a former medical examiner whose wife mysteriously died in 1991 killed himself at the family's summer home in Wisconsin, authorities said.

Timothy J. Sybers. 27, was on the telephone with a girlfriend Sunday when he put a 12-gauge shotgun in his mouth and pulled the trigger, said Door County sheriff's Detective Gary Blas.

The son of former Bay County Medical Examiner William Sybers told his girlfriend his father had killed his mother and he could no longer live with that knowledge, according to Hillsborough State Attorney Harry Lee Coe III.

Coe was assigned recently to investigate the death of Kay Sybers, which occurred nearly two years ago.

William Sybers, then the local medical examiner, had ordered her body embalmed without an autopsy. Investigators later discovered that Sybers had injected his wife with a syringe the morning of her death and that he had been having an affair.

Timothy Sybers, with his younger sister, Jennifer, had found his mother's body at their home May 30, 1991.

A day later, investigators from the Florida Department of Law Enforcement entered the case and ordered an autopsy, but the cause of death could not be determined because Mrs. Sybers' body had been embalmed.

Since then, Timothy Sybers had attended law school at San Diego State University in California, but had left school for a semester.

He died in a $340,000 condominium in Sister Bay, Wis., a summer resort that is sparsely populated in the winter. The woman he was talking to notified detectives. who found his body.

He said Tim Sybers talked to his father about an hour before shooting himself. FDLE agents traveled Monday to Wisconsin to review the scene.

William Sybers talked to investigators from his home in Panama City before he and family members left for Fort Dodge, Iowa. Tim Sybers will be buried there, next to his mother, a native of the area.

William Sybers' attorney, Harry Harper, declined to discuss the son's death. "It would not be appropriate for me to discusa his relationship with his father," he said.

Earlier this year, Gov. Lawton Chiles assigned Coe to investigate the circumstances surrounding Mrs. Sybers' death and the way the original investigation was handled by North Florida State Attorney Jim Appleman.

Firefighters' complaint dismissed

By J. MARK BARFIELD Herald Senior Staff Writer

SANFORD — An unfair labor practice complaint filed against Seminole County commissioners by the county firemen's union has been dismissed by the Public Employees Relations Commission.

PERC accepted the Aug. 10 recommendation of a state bearing officer to dismiss the complaint. PERC ruled last week firefighters failed to prove their complaint.

Tim Hickman, president of Seminole County Professional Fire Fighters Association, Local 3254, said Tuesday he was unaware of the decision. Hickman said he doubted the union would appeal the decision to the Fifth District Court of Appeals. "I guess we'll have to be more careful to prove our case next time," said Hickman. The allegation stemmed from the county's decision in October 1991 to stop allowing lieutenants to act as temporary battalion chiefs. Hickman said the union's contract was still under negotiation and the union found the policy change to be unfair. Although the county and union subscquently agreed upon a stand-in policy, the union filed a complaint with PERC in April 1992.

Yet to be concluded is a management rights clause in the contract. The county had sought the right to merge, consolidate or otherwise change fire station operations and the union later objected after the county ratified the union contract in January.

German Romero, director of the Employee Relations Division, said county negotiators have met with union negotiators twice and may have a tentative agreement to include wording in the contract that such changes will be made only when budgetary or operations reasons exist.

Hickman said the new wording "looked pretty good" but he would not have a response until he meets with union negotiators later this week.

ORLANDO — The nation's first federal carjacking trial wound down with testimony from the survivor of what was intended to be a triple execution-style slaying.

tion-style slaying. Closing arguments were expected to begin today. On Tuesday, Michael Rentas, 20, detailed the shootings of his two best friends.

"I heard a gun click," he said in steady voice. "Then I heard a shot from the left where Anthony Clifton lay. Then I heard footsteps coming toward me. "Then I heard him say.

'You're next.' Then I was shot. I was laying there with my head between my hands. I felt a numbress in my hand. It felt like my thumb was shot off. I just lay there. I was scared.''

"I thought maybe they had shot everyone in the hand for fun. My car was still ringing. Then I heard another gunshot to my right."

The victims had been ordered to lie with their hands behind their heads. Rentas played dead and escaped with a wounded hand.

Clifton, 20, and Anthony Faiella, 17, died.

"I picked them up in my arms." Rentas said. "I didn't want to believe it — I'll put it that way."

On trial are Gerard Booker, 22, Jermaine Foster, 19, and Alf Catholic, 21, all of Polk County. They are charged with taking two vehicles at gunpoint in late November in Polk and Osceola counties and face up to life in Attorneys for the three contend that what happened weren't carjackings but auto thefts, committed as afterthoughts in armed robberies.

The trio also still faces a state trial. If convicted of first-degree murder, they could face death in the electric chair. A fourth defendant. Leondra Henderson. has become a government witness to avoid the death penalty. Rentas. Clifton, Faiella and Clifton's girlfriend. Tammy George, 25, were abducted at gunpoint Nov. 29 outside a bar on the outskirts of St. Cloud.

on the outskirts of St. Cloud. George was released unharmed because the attackers didn't want to hurt a fellow black, according to testimony. "Our biggest problem here is an image problem." said Commerce Secretary Greg Farmer. "We have to make sure we are getting the right word out."

One way his agency has proposed to do that is through an intensified public relations campaign in Canada and northern states.

Task force members, who will meet again next Tuesday, agreed that reports of crimes against tourists have been exaggerated but made numerous recommendations on ways to improve safety.

Moore urged tourism industry officials to help lobby the Legislature for Chiles' Safe Streets bill. It would raise cigarette taxes 25 cents a pack to add 21,000 beds to Florida's overcrowded prison system during the next five years.

His agency also wants legislation to improve crime preven-development of tourism crime offender and victim profiles, expansion of Dada, County's' 24-hour prosecutor program to other counties, security training for all hotel cmployces, electronic locks and peepholes in room doors, and better road signs to prevent tourists from getting lost.

When I was a boy in the Bronx in the 1940s my father (now 93) brought the Post home every evening, along with The New York Times and a Yiddish paper. I would grab the Post from him, flop down on the floor, and consume it, cover to cover, sports first, then the gossipers, the news' and the great columnists.

Il wanted to be like Brooklyn Dodger centerfielder Pete Reiser when I grew up. Later, I wanted to be like the Post's Jimmy Cannon, the . York's public supreme sports-writer of the time. Now I appear in the Post, on the op-ed page, but even there it is an honor.)

The Post is known for its screaming and poetic front-page headlines: "Headless Body in Topless Bar" and "Best Sex I Ever Had" (Maria Maples on Donald Trump). But its uniqueness is found on the editorial and op-ed pages.

and Americans, who have made a similar political journey.

Being a conservative paper in a liberal media town means, for example, supporting the citizen revolt to oust Joseph Fernandez. the chancellor of New schools. Fernandez bought the politically correct proposition that first-graders deserve books pushed by the gay lobby, with titles like "Heather Has Two Mommics.' "Daddy's Room-

The other papers supported Fernandez. But he is now history, dumped by affronted parents.

Being a conservative paper in a liberal media town means voicing outrage and pushing the story of a black activist boycott of a Korean store, and winning awards for it. It means being the only paper to support the non-liberal 49 percent loser in the 1989 mayoralty race (Rudolph Giuliani, a likely winner in 1993).

Since 1950, while the population of the U.S. grew by about 40 percent, the number of daily newspapers declined by 12 percent. Many big cities have lost their alternative voice. Los Angeles is now a one-paper town; so is Dallas, St. Louis, Buffalo, San Antonio, New Orleans, Cleveland, Austin, Oakland and Miami, just for starters. These communities can offer, in print, only a one-way vision of what's going on.

New York may be the most parochial-insulated-liberal spot in America. Alas, it is also home for the three big television networks, whose outlook is inevitably shaped by what appears in the papers. If it became a one viewpoint city, Americans everywhere would sense it in their living rooms.

BIA housing does not help those who need it most

WASHINGTON - In the Bureau of Indian Affairs' housing program, scarce federal dollars often line the pockets of those who need them least.

A recent Inspector General audit of the BIA's four California offices, a draft copy of which we reported on last November, outlines a housing program where the needlest routinely go without basic home repairs. while taxpayer dollars are frittered away by corrupt contractors and ineligible aid recipients.

The final report describes the BIA as "highly vulnerable to fraud, waste and abuse," and says the agency's housing

Crime: Drastic solution

Hey there, Sanford Mayor Bettye Smith, listen up. I've got a question for you. Do you "really" want to drastically reduce major (and minor) crime in our communities or do you just simply want to talk about it? Oh! You do! You really do?

Since you've committed yourself, I'll give you a three-step solution to the horrendous crime problem that plagues us all - black, white and everybody in between that I absolutely guarantee will drastically reduce the occurrences and severity of crime - within six months - "If" and only "If" we can get it passed into law.

Three simple steps and absolutely "no" exceptions to any of the steps.

1. When a person is accused of a crime, he/she will be tried in the county where the alleged criminal act took place. No exceptions.

2. If he/she is found guilty of a major felony crime where death is the penalty, he/she "will" die in the same manner that he/she killed the victim. No exceptions.

3. All sentences, major and minor, will be carried out within 365 days of the "date of conviction." No exceptions.

Well now, Madam Mayor, there you have it. Drastic action to a drastic condition? Absolutely. Will it be effective? Absolutely - but only if we that's you, me, and many millions more voters get it passed into law.

Don't count on any acceptance of this "radical" solution with one "helluva" fight. Why? I'll tell you.

There are absolutely astronomical amounts of "legal" money made off the "illegal" activities of the alleged criminal element by a highly vocal vast majority — of our present jurisprudence system — as applied in our society today. And they are not about to give up the goose that lays all those golden eggs. Who? Aw, come on now - you know who.

Thanks for coverage

On behalf of 10 very excited Cub Scouts, their proud families and Pack 237 of Altamonte Springs. we would like to thank Ms. Debra Yingling and the Sanford Herald for the coverage provided on our Blue and Gold Banquet held Saturday night, Feb. 13.

As previously stated to Ms. Yingling, our motivation for requesting the coverage was purely to get deserved recognition for the boys. It is not every day that boys earn Cub Scouts' highest award - The Arrow of Light award.

From the first conversation with Ms. Yingling. she was enthusiastic about the article. She pursued the details for the article beyond our expectations. She was straightforward in explaining what would and did happen. Having prior experience, with other papers, in trying to get coverage for the boys, we can assure you this experience was "a breath of fresh air." In our opinion, Ms. Yingling should be congratulated for going out of her way to do such an outstanding job.

Again, thanks to the Sanford Herald staff for its time and effort. Ms. Yingling's article will no doubt become a treasured piece of these young men's lives.

BOSTON - What a difference a year makes. Remember the rap on Candidate Bill Clinton? That he wanted to be all things to all people? That he couldn't make hard decisions? That he was afraid of alienating anyone?

ELLEN GOODMAN

One one of those endless talk shows - some candidate-on-the-couch hour - he was asked how his childhood with an alcoholic and sometimes abusive stepfather had formed his psyche. He answered, "It made me dislike conflict. I tend to be a people-pleaser."

Well, the man who went to Congress Wednesday night was no feel-good Willie by any stretch of imagination. For the first time in years, a president delivered a speech without reaching into that small generic stash of heroes to sweeten the message. There were no pretty phrases in his hour-long economic lecture, no mornings in America, no eloquence to stir the blood and raise the goosebumps

Not once did Bill Clinton bite his little-boy lip. Nor was his program designed to make everybody whistle while they went to work.

If there were promises in the economic plan there were also enough taxes to displease every one of the people some of the time. Or, as the man who dislikes conflict said succinctly. "If the package is picked apart, there'll be something that will anger each of us and won't please anybody."

Does this mark some turnabout in Clinton's character - a deliberate bolt from crowd pleaser to chief combatant? Not exactly.

I never did think that Clinton's style was just ingratiating. If I needed a label, I'd call it a style of mediating.

If we must go back to psycho-roots, that son of a semifunctional family assumed the role of holding the family together. As a politician he was a good listener, a decent synthesizer. He was most skilled at keeping all the parties at the table until they had made what some called, disparagingly, a compromise. Others of course called it resolving conflicts.

The man has shown a remarkable ability to make and keep connections. Not just between individuals but between constituencies and even ideas. In computer terms, he reminds me of a X TREE. In human terms he can keep all the political pupples in the basket.

There are leaders who are most comfortable working in concert than dominating. It's most true for women, at home or at work. But it's also true for the new president.

Some people think "either-or"; Clinton thinks "and." You can hear it in his language. Rights and responsibilites. You can hear it in his policies. Jobs and deficit reduction.

Listening to the sober outlines of his program as he takes the show on the road, what I hear is a man who's trying to design an economic peace treaty, not a war plan. A treaty for a society that's already in conflict.

Such a plan of economic togetherness is altogether in charcter for this mediator. Indeed, the one Clinton delivered with real emotion was: "The test of this plan cannot be 'what is in it for me'; it has new president can, as he put it, "scale the walls of people's skepticism." Those walls run pretty high. Skepticism about government. Skepticism about everything from the ability to reach the underclass to the ability to improve the environment. Skepticism about progress itself.

Nor do I know if his program can turn around the economy. Our economy is as dependent on the people who run GM and IBM as on the people who run the government. What happens in Europe and Asia may have as much impact on American jobs as what happens in Washington.

But the man who came to Congress Wednesday night had the sound of a leader who believes that resolving conflicts is worth a fight. What a difference a year makes.

Morongo Reservation. Investigators later found that $127,000, or half the money, was unnecessarily spent. For example, the Bureau paid $3,900 to refinish kitchen cabinets that should have cost $500, $2,600 went to extermination services that should have cost $900, and $430 was spent on an $80 screen door. -- In Northern California, a $48,000 grant to improve three houses was spent on, among other things, $4,400 for $150 worth of electrical work, and $3,900 for plumbing work that should have cost about $400. While contractors were getting rich and poor families were going without basic repairs, lax oversight led to several families getting federal help they really didn't need: - In fiscal year 1991, the Southern California Agency paid about $20,000 for home improvements to a family where the husband had an annual income of $38,000 to support his wife and himself. Another Southern Californian got $20,000 for home repairs despite his annual income of $12,000 and investments in excess of $75,000. In all, investigators estimate that about $1.2 million was paid between 1989 and 1991 to families that didn't need the help.

By the end of the year, Florida law enforcement officials will be able to check records in at least 11 other states to see if suspects there match blood, semen, hair, saliva or skin found at a crime scene.

SANFORD - Sometimes records can be deceiving. Cocoa High School entered Tuesday night's Class 3A-Region III championship game with a 22-3 record and the No. 5 ranking in this week's state poll. Seminole, on the other hand, had won 21 games, but its 11 losses did not serve it well with state pollsters, who gave the Tribe just four votes.

On Tuesday, Seminole showed what polls are worth, racing to leads of as many as 18 points before settling for a 76.65 victory over Cocoa at Bill Fleming Memorial Gymnaslum.

The victory advances the Tribe into Saturday night's Section II title game against defending state champion St. Cloud. The Bulldogs advanced to the final eight with a 79-40 trouncing of Stuart-South Fork. The game will be played in St.

With the rest of the Lake Mary starting lineup struggling in the early going. Ducker calmly tossed down four baskets during a 14-3 run early in the second quarter that left the Rams firmly in control of the contest.

Apopka would get no closer than 12 points the rest of the game.

"At the beginning, we were really tight." said Lake Mary coach Anna Van Landingham. "Jennifer was the only one who wasn't. She was

WEST ORANGE - When you're not scoring a lot of runs, then you need to play near-perfect defense in support of strong pitching to convert those few runs into wins. In the West Orange Invitational

Tuesday afternoon, the Seminole High School baseball team did just that, pulling out a 3-2 win in eight innings over the Evans Trojans at West Orange High School.

Seminole (3-0) will play the winner of this afternoon's Lake Mary-Boone game at 7 p.m. Thursday.

"It's nice to win these close games, but I'd rather see us win some blowouts," said Seminole coach Mike Powers. "We're just not hitting the ball right now. But we are playing good defense and getting good pitching."

Right fielder Cory Gochee delivered the Seminoles twice Tuesday. driving in the game-winning run and making the game-saving defensive play as well.

In the bottom of the eight, Evans' Jim Porter drew a one-out walk from Semtnole's Rob Morgan. An out later, Kevin Hoyt singled Porter to second. Sean Mclivenna followed with a single off his fists that found the right field foul line.

Porter tried to score from second but Gochee's three-hop throw to Freeman, the Seminole catcher, cut down Porter.

Seminole took a 1-0 lead in the second inning. Freeman led off with a single and was replaced on the basepath by courtesy runner Jamie

FT. PIERCE - Bobby Dall's sacrifice fly in the bottom of the ninth inning scored Ricky Gonzalez with the winning run as Indian River Community College withstood Seminole Community College 6-5 in a junior college baseball contest Tuesday afternoon.

The Pioneers had taken a quick 5-0 lead, only to have the Raiders rally to the the game at 5.5 heading into the ninth. Gonzalez reached on a fielder's choice, went to third on a single by Rob Gladwin and scored on Dall's fly to left to raise Indian River's record to 8-5.

SCC fell to 6.5 with the loss and will stay on the road to play a Mid-Florida Conference game in Orlando against Valencia Community College starting at 2:30 p.m. Thursday. The game will be played at Valencia's West Campus on Kirkman Road.

The Pioneers jumped on Raider starting pitcher David Blanton for five runs on seven hits in the bottom of the first inning. The big blow was a three-run homer by former Lake Mary High School star Netl James. It was the second home run this year against SCC for the ex-Ram.

But freshman Julio Linares came on in relief for the Raiders to shut down Indian River as the SCC offense started to peck away at the lead.

The Raiders picked up three runs in the second. Ray Hagar led off the inning with a double to right. advanced to third on a sacrifice by Sanford's Rick Eckstein and scored on Pete Cestaro's single.

After Randy Hagar was hit by a pitch, Oviedo's Erie Jordan singled to score Cestaro and Randy Hagar scored on Chris Callahan's fielder's choice grounder.

Roach tops Anderson in Late Model duel

By PAUL MARSEGLIA Special to the Herald

ORLANDO - Orlando's Ronnie Roach went green flag to checkers to win the FASCAR (Florida Association of Stock Car Automobile Racing) sanctioned 25-lap Late Model feature last Friday night, Feb. 19, at Orlando Speedworld.

On several occasions, Roach was presaured by Wayne Anderson for the No. 1 spot, but was able to fight off each challenge.

A lap-nine caution flag - brought out when Bruc Everett blew an engine and hit the wall - bunched the field for a restart. Roach again charged to the head of the field and led the rest of the way.

Following Roach and Anderson to the stripe were Mike McCrary Jr., Jeff Burkett, and Dave McCabe.

Timmy Todd cruised to an easy win in the Limited Late Model division over Gary Schlichter, Jacob Warren, Jason Burkett, and George Murphy.

Bentley Mead scored his first career Modified win, holding off a late race charge from Kenny Heckle, to become the class's 10th different winner in 10 races. Finishing third through fifth were Ted Head, Skip Honaker, and Bobby Owens.

Gene Van Alatine led every circuit in the Mini Stocks as he out-raced Bobby Sears. Kelly Jarrett, J.D. Duncan, and Richard Newton to the finish line.

Michael Williams took top honors in the Sportsman division with Bill Loomis. Barbara Pierce, Roger Favreau, and Chuck Roberts in tow.

Glen Castro notched his third Bomber win of the season with Wallace Barber nailing down the Run-About main event.

Rogers finally gets first Late Model win of 1993 campaign

By PAUL MARSEGLIA Special to the Herald

SAMSULA - Orlando's David Rogers, aboard his TM Ranch Pontlac Firebird, claimed his first victory of the season by winning the 25-lap Late Model feature last Saturday night, Feb. 20, at New Smyrna Speedway.

Rogers, who assumed the lead on the lap four, raced unchallenged to victory lane despite two caution periods that bunched up the field for restarts.

Crossing the stripe eight car lengths behind Rogers was Wayne Anderson. Trailing Anderson to victory lane were Jeff Burkett, Richard Duecker, and Tank Tucker.

"It has a new body and a new paint job, but this is the same car we wrecked during the Governor's Cup," said Rogers, the winningest Late Model driver at New Smyrna Speedway. "We had a few problems with it the last time out because some of the stuff we bent, we didn't catch.

"I think we have it all sorted out now, but we'll know better next week in the 50-lap race when Pete (Orr) and some of the other boys come out. Pete's been in a class of his own for a while now, so that race will be a good test for us."

John Kennedy took the early lead, only to relinquish it to Rogers on lap four. Kennedy rode in second place until he tangled with Longwood's Jeff Burkett coming out of turn three. The restart put Kennedy at the back of the field while Burkett and Anderson duelled for the No. 2 spot.

Anderson got the advantage and held on to claim runner-up nonors. Kennedy worked his way through the field to finish in sixth place.

Despite a late race challenge by Jerry Smith, Dale Howard went wire-to-wire in the Sportsman division to notch his fifth main event win of the season. Howard took the checkers a half a car length ahead of Smith, who was followed by Mike Kubanek, Richard Haninson, and Robbie Hager.

Jacob Warren, the recently crowned World Series of Asphalt Limited Late Model champion, raced uncontested to score his sixth Limited Late Model win of the season.

Warren took the lead from carly race leader Jason Burkett on lap six. Once on the point, Warren pulled away to a six-car advantage over the rest of the field which he never relinquished.

Rounding out the top five, respectively, were Tommie Elliott. Mike Kubanek, Burkett. and Doug Pilla.

Jerry Symons, driving the Park Avenue Auto Parts Pinto, picked up his eighth Mini Stock win of the season. Symons was followed to the line by Bobby Sears, Conrad Grenter, J.D. Duncan, and Richard Newton.

Mike Fitch, driving the G and W Racing Cavalier, went wire-to-wire in winning his fourth Modified feature of the 1993 season. Following Fitch were Marc Kinley, Lewis Beldock, Dana Darveau, and Ted Head.

Wally Semrow was the winner of the Bomber feature event. Run-About honors were claimed by Tony Lagano.

Youngest Andretti coming back at 234-plus mph 233.8 by Rick Mears at Michigan Interna-By MICHAEL GRACZYK

Associated Press Writer

COLLEGE STATION, Texas - The long and painful road back to indianapolis is getting faster for Jeff Andretti.

Andretti, the youngest son of Mario and the younger brother of Michael Andretti, set an unofficial world closed-course Indy-car speed record Tuesday when he zipped around the 2-mile Texas World Speedway at 234.5 mph.

The achievement is all the more impressive considering Andretti can barely walk as he continues to mend from serious injuries sustained in a frightening crash during last May's Indianapolis 500.

"The car kept getting better and better," Andretti said after his fast tour of the high-banked Texas oval. "If I can run that at the (Indianapolis) Speedway, I'll be real happy."

Andretti, testing in preparation for the May 30th 500, bettered the Texas track mark of 233.17 net last year by older brother Michael and topped the recognized mark of tional Speedway.

Andretti's run finished two days of testing and marked the first time he had climbed into an Indy car since his crash nine months

"It's coming back pretty quickly," he said after consistently turning laps over 230 mph. "I'm just getting some miles on me, getting used to the car and to me. So far. every change has been positive. My goal now is to just get into Indy.'

Getting into the race car literally may be more of a problem than getting into the race.

Andretti, 28, the 1991 rookie of the year at Indianapolis, hit the wall nearly head-on in last year's race when a hub broke in his right rear wheel. The crash left his ankles dislocated, both heels crushed, and left foot and toes broken along with the fibulas in both lower legs. He was hospitalized for three weeks and in a wheelchair for months. He still undergoes therapy three times a week and walks with a stiff hobble.

"Every day it feels better and better,"

Andretti said. "As far as driving, my feet are 100 percent. As far as walking, they're not 100 percent. But all I have to do is walk from my transporter to the car.

"There is pain only when I walk. When I'm in a race car, it doesn't hurt."

Andretti is driving for a new team, Pagan Racing, owned by Corpus Christi auto dealer Jack Pagan. The incord run Tuesday came in his backup car, a Buick Lola that Jim Crawford unofficially piloted around Indianapolis last year at 234 mph. His primary ride is the car Roberto Guerrero put on the pole for last year's 500, but spun out unexpectedly in a bizarre crash on a parade lap.

Andretti has no apprehension squeezing back into the cockpit because he remembers nothing about the accident.

"It happened so fast ..." he said. "It's one of those things as a driver you put behind you."

Even though his cars are a year old, Andretti doesn't believe that puts him at a competitive disadvantage.

hadn't missed so many layups, this game could have been a blowout. But I'll take a two-point win at this stage of the scason."

The game was extremely close in the first half, with neither team able to grab the upper hand. But, despite serious foul trouble, the Tribe was able to hold a alim advantage, leading 14-13 after one period and 34-30 at halftime.

"Because of the foul problems. we couldn't get anything going." said McNamara. "I wasn't able to put the starting group on the floor together for most of the first and second period."

Seminole put its problems behind it in the third period and took over the game, outscoring the Tigers 24-11, to take a 56-41 advantage into the final eight minutes. Niki Washington, who missed her first six shots and was held to eight points in the first half, exploded for 13 points in the period.

The Tribe kept up the pressure in the fourth quarter, expanding the lead to as many as 18, 69-51, with 4:50 remaining and appeared ready to turn the game into a rout.

But Cocoa's star senior, Latasha McMillan, decided to take over the Tigers offense. scoring 12 consecutive points, including nine on three 3pointers, over the next 2:30 to cut the lead to 10, 73-63, with 2:19 remaining.

That was as close as Cocoa would get as Seminole's Shay Brown hit one of two free throws and Tennishia Eason scored on an offensive rebound to keep the Tigers at bay.

Washington and Eason scored 28 points each as the Tribe won their fifth straight game. Wash-ington also had 13 rebounds. nine assists and seven blocked shots, while Eason added six rebounds and five assists.

Also contributing for Seminole were Brown (seven points). Lahoma Fayson (six points). Mindee Hampton (five points, six rebounds) and Belinder Morgan (five steals). McMillan led the way for the Tigers by tying for game-high scoring honors with 28. Roshonda Wilson chipped in with 25 points.

"Our inexperience showed in spots tonight." said McNamara. When the young girls get the ball and there is no one between them and the basket, they put their heads down and go for the basket instead of pulling the ball back out. But then again, I don't know if I want them to slow down.

"If we are going to beat St. Cloud Saturday night, we are going to have to play our best and stay out of foul trouble. steals), Boone (two points, seven They haven't seen this lineup together the first two times we played, but we have to watch the fouls. "That's what's great about this team. We get contributions from lots of players. We never have to depend on just one player to get the job done. Together, they're an excellent team."

Lake Mary (26-5, which is a school record for wins in a season) will host Palm Bay in the 4A-Section III contest this Saturday night at 7:30 p.m. Palm Bay defeated West Palm Beach-Palm Beach Lakes 51-50 in the 4A-Region VI game Tuesday.

The Rama struggled their way to a 11-6 first quarter lead over Apopka, making just four of their first 22 shots from the floor. Led by Ducker. Lake Mary pulled away to a 25-9 advantage midway through the second quarter before taking a 27-13 lead into halftime.

Apopka's efforts were hampered considerably when Dondria Copeland, the Blue Darters' leading player, picked up three fouls early in the Jordan, a bunt single by Calianan, a double steal and a passed ball.

The tying run came in the eighth inning as Ray Hagar walked, went to second on a wild pitch and scored on Eckstein's double to left.

Linares (1-1) suffered the loss despite allowing just the one run. In his eight innings of work the freshman from Panama scattered six hits, walked five and struck out five. Gonzalez in the ninth inning was the first runner to get past second against Linares.

Dall was a thorn in SCC's side all day, coming up with three singles and the sacrifice fly in five at bats. Jim Hart and Gladwin added two hits each for the Pinocers.

Eckstein led the Raiders' offense, going two-for-three, with a double, a sacrifice and an RBI, while Jordan was two-for-four, with a run scored and an RBI.

LaShawn Merrick, Diane Duber, and Karen Morris dominated the second half for the Rams. leading a 16-3 sprint over the first 3:16 of the third quarter that turned the game into a walkover.

It got so bad. Lake Mary eventually abandoned its press and man-to-man defense for a zone defense in order to keep things from really getting out of hand.

Duber led Lake Mary with 20 points and 13 rebounds. Morris added 12 points, seven rebounds, four steals, and three assists before fouling out. Merrick collected 12 points (including two three-point field goals). five rebounds, five assists, and five steals while forcing numerous turnovers.

Ducker and Dawna Ferguson each contributed eight points. Ferguson also had 10 rebounds. Karely Beitel came off the bench to had out four assists while Ducker also had three assists.

Freeman led Seminole's seven-hit attack with a pair of singles. Scott Fergerson, David Eckstein. Gochee, and Lugering each had one single each.

For Morgan. It was his second win in as many outings, both in relief. He struck out three. walked two, and allowed two hits. Braden also struck out three and walked three, giving up two runs (both carned) on four hits Porter doubled for Evans.

access to the bathroom DEAR ABBY: My child, who is in the third grade at a public school, came home the other day ADVICE because he had wet his pants. After questioning him, I learned that "Bobby's" teacher allows each child to go to the restroom only twice a day. Bobby had to go a third time, and was refused permission. This is not an isolated case.

Another child I know (from a different school) was told by his first-grade teacher that his team would lose "points" if they used the restroom. Being so young. this seemed very important, so the child defecated in his clothing.

In a classroom where I was a teacher's aide (in another city), a child asked to use the restroom and the teacher refused. When I asked why, I was told. "If they really have to go, they'll keep asking."

As a child, I would have been afraid to question the authority of my teacher by asking more than once.

Abby, please warn teachers that if a child is abusing restroom privileges, his parents (or guardian) should be consulted. And if the problem persists, the child should be seen by a physician. No child should ever have to soil him- or herself because of some arbitrary classroom rules. I'm signing my name, but please don't use it as my child has several years of school left and I don't want him to have any problems.

OUTRAGED MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: I, too, was concerned after reading your letter. So I consulted the director of pediatric urology at Children's Hospital in Philadelphia, John W. Duckett Jr., M.D. Here's what he had to say:

"I agree that children under the age of 8 should be given free and unquestionable access to the bathroom, but they should also be carefully monitored.

"About 5 percent of children at age 7 years have a medical problem called 'voiding dysfunction.' These children need medical attention. since they urinate either too frequently or not frequently enough. If teachers notice any particular child who needs to visit the bathroom more than two or three times a day, that child's parents should be alerted to a potential problem.

"Most children should and do learn that recess and lunchtime are appropriate times to go to the bathroom without being singled out as different or having special needs. (However, many children refuse to use the school bathrooms because they are dirty, without soap or tollet paper, or fail to provide them with sufficient privacy.)

"In a study involving four continents and 2,000 children, children were asked to rate the 20 most stressful events listed for them. The top three were: losing a parent, going blind, and wetting their pants in class. Children are, indeed, embarassed by wetting and/or soiling themselves by 7 years of age. However teachers are certainly attuned to the needs of children. And allowing children beyond 8 years of age to randomly go to the bathroom without medical reason would only create a chaotic classroom."

Balding heads are linked to heart disease

By BRENDA C. COLEMAN Associated Press Writer

CHICAGO - Balding heads may mean vulnerable hearts

A report published today says 21- to 55-yearold men who were severely bald on top were three times more likely to suffer heart attacks than those with full heads of hair. Men with moderate baldness had a 11/2 times greater risk.

Men with receding hairlines - even severely receding ones - but no baldness on top faced no increased risk.

The report on 665 heart-attack victims and 772 men who had suffered no heart attacks appears in The Journal of the American Medical Association. The study was paid for by the Upjohn Co., maker of the hair-growth drug Rogaine.

The hypothesis that baldness may predict heart disease goes back more than 25 years, said the researchers, led by author Dr. Samuel M. Lesko of Boston University School of Medicine's School of Public Health.

The reason for the apparent link is still unknown, they said. They speculated that a certain male hormone necessary for baldness to develop, may have a role in suppressing "good" cholesterol, which protects the heart.

Eight previous studies have explored whether the association truly exists. Researchers who reviewed all eight concluded in 1990 that "a small risk of coronary disease due to baldness may exist, but this risk is smaller than that of well-known risk factors such as smoking and hypertension," said an editorial in JAMA.

The editorial's authors, Drs. Peter W.F. Wilson and William B. Kannel of the Framingham Heart Study, said some bald men may want to take extra precautions, such as rigorously watching their cholesterol and blood pressure and quitting smoking.

Dr. Richard J. Carroll, a cardiologist at Loyola University Medical Center, said men who are losing their hair on top should view it "more as a marker for a potential problem rather than as a potential problem itself."

Such men should be especially sure to get themselves screened for high cholesterol, high blood pressure and other traits that might increase their risk of heart disease, he said.

Authors of the study controlled statistically for the possible effects of smoking and high blood pressure, as well as age, family history, drinking habits, exercise habits and other factors that affect heart risk.

Lesko said it is unknown whether the results are applicable to men over 55 or to racial minorities, who made up only about 5 percent of the subjects.

Treating the effects of a brain tumor

DEAR DR. GOTT: I'm an enthusiastic reader of your column and have often benefited from your discussion of various aspects of human aliments. My father underwent brain surgery twice in the last three years as treatment for meningioma. Within six months, a CT scan revealed regrowth.

The neurosurgeons are unwilling to do further surgery and advise us to let him live as comfortably as possible without further treatment. His neurosurgeon has given him dexamethasone intramuscularly and prednisolone orally. The latter will continue for about 50 davs.

His condition appears to be improving; however, the physician thinks this is primarily due to the effects of the steroid on edema. Is it possible that meningiomas do have receptors for steroids which may then act directly to reduce the tumor?

DEAR READER: Brain tumors (and the treatment for them) often cause brain swelling or edema. This swelling can worsen symptoms, such as headache and weakness.

Cortisone (and other steroid medications, such as prednisolone) will effectively reduce edema. Therefore, these medications are routinely prescribed in situations like that affecting your father, if specific therapy (such as surgery) is no longer feasible.

I am not aware of steroid receptors in brain tumors. Rather, the steroids appear to work by relieving brain swelling in tissue around the tumors. Also, steroids often contribute to a feeling of well-being, thereby making sick people feel less sick. From the information you provide, your father appears to be receiving appropriate care.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I have very thick toenails and cannot cut them with ordinary clippers. is

YOUR BIRTHDAY Feb. 25, 1993

Friends could play key roles in your affairs in the year ahead. This may even be true of two good pais who presently reside at a considerable distance from you.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Do not butter up people today whom you think can help you in material concerns. This could be an exercise in futility, because once you're out of sight, you'll be out of mind. Trying to patch up a broken romance? The Astro-Graph Matchmaker can help you to understand what to do to make the relationship work. Mail $2 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Matchmaker, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You'll do things well today, but only up to a point. Instead of going all out and doing a project perfectly, you are likely to settle for something far less thorough. TAURUS (April 20-May 20)

Decision-making isn't apt to in timidate you today. Problems might arise from a last-minute others today, but, by the same change that is instigated by impulse, rather than logic.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) If you are involved in a social activity with friends today, try to go along with the majority instead of attempting to impose your will on them.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) In matters that affect your career and reputation, do not let others make decisions for you' today. What serves their best interests might be detrimental to your own.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) The spirit could be willing, but the flesh might be weak today. There are indications that you may start projects and give up on them quickly if they turn out to be too challenging.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Usually you are pretty sharp at spotting good buys and bargains. Today, however, your purchasing canniness might be fuzzy and cause you to make poor choices.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Don't be tightfisted toward token, don't go to extremes. The gesture is much more significant. than its size.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) In order to spare someone's feelings today, you might not be as truthful with this person as you should be. This is a kind approach, but it might not be constructive.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Financial conditions are a bit difficult to interpret today. It looks like you could lose something you felt sure you had tied down. Don't make unrealistic assumptions.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You might not be too receptive to advice offered you by others today, and this is unfortunate. Later in the afternoon, you could regret your indifference.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Even though it might be tempting, it is best not to disseminate gossip to others today until you've had a chance to check out the facts.
