France Is Menaced By Another Gale Within Week's Time

PARIS, Jan. 5.—Another big storm is brewing in the southwest, and weather men fear it will come to replace the gale that ended by blowing itself out Sunday, leaving a trail of disaster in every part of France except the favored Riviera. The worst consequences of the gale were the floods in Normandy. The River Vire has reached the highest mark recorded since 1852 and the city of Caen is entirely surrounded by floods. In southern Brittany the situation also is grave. The town of Pontivy is in a desperate plight, being almost entirely flooded out, while at Morlaix, the central part of the city is flooded to a depth of two feet, a sight which had not been seen for 40 years. The rivers in the northeast of France and Belgium are also very high and at many places are already over their banks. At Bruyere-Artois, the dyke burst and the river flooded the town in the middle of the night. The inhabitants were awakened by the tocsin and escaped as best they could, abandoning everything. Hundreds are now without shelter. The Lorient wireless station has received a message that the steamer Dahomey had been taken in tow and is being brought to port. The Dahomey was crippled by a storm, and yesterday was picked up by tugs from which, however, she broke loose. Last night the steamer was reported to be in dangerous shoals. She has 70 men aboard. ... Private Discussions On Debts Are Planned ... LONDON, Jan. 5.—Winston Churchill, Chancellor of the Exchequer, will carry on private discussions with various representatives at the conference of allied finance ministers in Paris Wednesday, it is understood. The cabinet which met Monday is said to have acquiesced to Mr. Churchill's suggestion that the debt problem be approached by informal discussions instead of being brought up in official sessions at its conference. Because of the desire of United States government to avoid open discussion of the subject. ... Stresmann Receives Allied Communication ... BERLIN, Jan. 5.—British, French, Italian and Japanese Ambassadors and the Belgian Minister Monday presented Chancellor Marx with the allied government note regarding the postponement of the evacuation of the Cologne Zone which was set for Jan. 10 under the Versailles Treaty.

Always look for the number of the synonym on the diagram. If horizontal, you must find a word to fit between that number and the first shaded step to the right; if vertical, you must fit your word between the number and the first shaded step below.

Fort Mellon--Sanford's Historical Center

Where fabled Coacoochee strove to thwart Mellen's Gallant Garrison in the Seminole Indian War

THE tendency of a rapidly growing community of progressive and far-sighted citizens is to be ever looking into the dim distant future endeavoring to penetrate the lining of Pandora's box for one brief glimpse of the riches stored there. It should however never become so enraptured by these captivating mirages as to lose sight of the perhaps cruder but more interesting antecedents which made them possible.

WITH this in mind it is the purpose of the developers of Fort Mellon, Sanford's newest and most exclusive subdivision, to recount in a number of advertisements which will appear in The Sanford Herald from time to time, historical features connected with Sanford in general and Fort Mellon in particular. An effort will be made to dig down deep into the experiences and files of the oldest settlers of Seminole county where it is hoped much interesting data of personal achievement and civic development may be brought to light which is sure to prove valuable information to all loyal Sanford residents.

FOR the purpose of perpetuating the historical setting and of making new some of the old features of this city, the name of Fort Mellon will remain a permanent feature in the life of Sanford and as the years come and go, new arrivals will be reminded that Fort Mellon existed and that it was the scene of many important developments in the early years of Florida's history.

THE Fort was founded as a government post early in December in 1836 and was immediately occupied by two companies of artillery, four companies of dragoons and a number of Creek Indians. It was scarcely less than a year before the famous Seminole Indian War broke out and Fort Mellon immediately became an important strategical point of attack.

THIS WAR, abounding as it does in thrilling romance of fact and fiction, brought down those daring Indian Chiefs, King Phillip and his fabled son, Coacoochee, in attack upon Fort Mellon, but they with their four hundred warriors were disastrously repulsed by the American garrison which forewarned had been reinforced on the previous day. The Americans however, during the course of the battle which lasted many hours of terrific fighting, suffered a severe loss in the death of their gallant leader, Captain Mellen.

HE and the other soldiers who died in this battle were buried with impressive military ceremony on the estate known as Villa Shooro, on Lake Monroe. Although the bodies were buried very close to the water's edge and the waves have long since washed out all traces of the graves, older Sanford residents can remember seeing them when visiting this sacred spot.

YEARS later, Major Lancy delivered a memorable address to the Grand Army then encamped in Sanford, in which he urged our citizens to mark in some suitable manner the place where occurred what may have been the fiercest battle of the Seminole War. This, the Fort Mellon developers will strive to do.

As Brisbane Sees It

Ten Million Panaceas.
Better Than Our "Bootleg."
Ford's New Factory.
A Franklin Simon Plan.
BY ARTHUR BRISBANE
(Copyright 1924)

BERLIN CELEBRATED the new year's arrival by eating 300,000 carp, favorite German fish, and 10,000,000 pannekuchen. If they were the full-grown German panaceas, 10,000,000 were many.

IN GREAT AMERICA it is the new year is welcomed with bootleg whiskey that would strip the varnish from the steel wall of a Pullman car.

EVERYWHERE IN THIS country New Year's Day was celebrated with violation of the law and contempt for the Constitution. That is not such a good way of beginning the year, but it will continue for at least a generation. Laws that men don't want, and that order them unable to change their habits, are not obeyed.

IN THIRTY YEARS, perhaps, men may do without alcohol voluntarily. If they do, and if they follow in the wake of other teetotal populations, they will deteriorate.

"No mountain without a valley," says the German proverb. "Many believe that men like landscapes, must have their ups and downs or become monotonous."

English have always drunk plenty. A handful of them central 300,000,000 total abstainers in India.

One of the greatest industrialists in America has said that, under prohibition, no great strike will ever be won by the men. "On cold water," he said, "men won't fight, but they will be glad to keep whiskey away from them."

THE NEW YEAR is under way. Soon we shall have acquired the habit of writing 1925 instead of 1924 and then the new year will be an old story.

At the end of 1925 you will easily recognize those unable to take a new year seriously. They will be before you.

How big will the Henry Ford concern be when it is full grown? Ford begins 1925 with six million feet of floor space in his building, more than he had at the end of 1924. That would mean a new factory 100 feet wide and 60,000 feet long.

The bigger he grows the better, while he continues his efforts to make the people more, and more, like him. They like to see his picture, the Henry Ford type.

MR. FORD would devote a few million feet of floor space to garage use at low rates for owners of little cars in big cities. This would help the people and the automobile industry. Car production is a broken record. The cheap garage is still to come.

MERCHANTS ALL over the country will be interested in a customer's garage plan devised by Franklin Simon, of Fifth Avenue, New York.

Mr. Simon has employees to take charge of cars that reach his store and, because of congestion and police rules, cannot be marked off by him. He provides garage services for the stores. His chauffeurs take away cars driven by owners, bringing them back to the store entrance when ordered. And the car is insured, free, against damage while in custody of the store employees.

This, the first customer's garage plan to deal with New York's problem of other cities.

THE PRESIDENT told 3,000 scientists in Washington that he feared the results of the scientist's work on the depositing of radium. He said, "The depositing of radium over some representatives of old-fashioned religion that still fear and denounce scientific discoveries."

They shuddered when Galileo around the sun. They said, "The earth stands still and the entire universe whirls around it." The Bible says, "And they would have burned Galileo for telling the truth had he not wisely got down on his knees, solemnly abjuring, denying and abetting what he knew to be the truth."

EVERYBODY NOT steeped in superstition knows that the earth, of billions of millions of years ago. Everybody knows that primitive man, with huge jaws and man, lived on this earth at least a quarter of a million years ago. And everyone knows and admits, because he denies the evidence of his senses, that animals lived for millions of millions of years before man.

They are still in the process of evolution.

IF SOCIETY and government are reconciled to science, as President Coolidge says, that is good. "Conflict Between Science and Theology" is an almost incredible record of human brutality, ignorance and superstition.

THE NATIONAL health department takes steps to prevent the spread of bubonic infection among harbor rats. It says that the harbor rat fleas that infect humans bring with the disease a killing, a few rats here or there in some "hot" water, or getting rid of mosquitoes that carry yellow fever in a few lowlands.

TAMPA TRIBUNE

It was recently announced that Cernelis Vanderbilt, Jr., would begin the publication of an illustrated Daily News at Miami, similar to other publications which he owns and operates under the name of Vanderbilt. Mr. Vanderbilt has been investigating the field in Tampa but did not find here the opportunity he expected, near Tampa on 100 feet wide and 60,000 feet long.

STETSON CAGE TEAM IS READY FOR PRACTICE

Coach McMillan's Proteges Report for Practice After Holidays; Schedule Ready

DELAND, Jan. 6.—Stetson University's basketball team reported to Coach H. R. McQuillan Monday afternoon in Cummings gymnasium for the first practice of the year following the Christmas holidays during which time the squad was badly broken up although it continued to hold daily workouts. Several of the players were away from the campus during the entire two weeks that the school was closed.

At the opening of the practice Monday, Coach McQuillan announced that the next few weeks would see the team going through some strenuous work getting in preparation for the stiff games which will be played in the next few weeks.

It was easily noticeable at the practice Monday afternoon that what progress had been made by the boys who stayed at Stetson during the holidays. They were much more adept at handling the ball on the floor and showed that the two weeks of good training had improved their basketball.

Manager Tom Smith of the team was not as yet announced the schedule for the entire year. It is probable that he will do so in the next few weeks.

There is much interest on the Stetson campus in the basketball team. It looks like the quintet will have some good support this year because of the size of the gymnasium which makes it impossible for many persons to be accommodated. It is probable that there will be a big rush for the tickets for every game.

Say Speedy Auto Drivers Gain Little For All Their Dash

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 6.—A series of tests made here by the Automobile Club of Southern California has demonstrated that the two old proverbs, "More haste, less speed," and "Haste Makes Waste," might well be given serious consideration by the modern motorist.

In making the tests scouting cars were operated on three different routes in the city of Los Angeles. Each route was first traveled at the highest speed possible and yet covered a certain distance and advantage was taken of every opportunity to make time. The same driver went over the same route a second time, observing all traffic rules of safe driving.

A summary of these trips shows that the driver who hurried saved only a total of ten minutes out of two hours driving, or five minutes to the hour. The total distance of the three routes across the city was 31.5 miles, or an average of 10.5 miles to the trip. One trip showed a saving of five minutes, another three minutes and the other two minutes.

Club officials point out that in driving to save a possible five minutes over a ten mile trip, the small amount of time saved will not compensate the average driver for the extra gasoline used, the increased wear on brake lining, the risk of arrest with fine or jail sentence and the increased liability of collision.

William Tilden Refuses To Comment On Recent Rule Of Lawn Tennis Body

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—Although the United States Lawn Tennis Association will not act until February at its annual meeting on the newly framed amateur rule, including its player-writer features, the effect of the new proposal on the playing activities of William T. Tilden, national champion, and most prominent player-writer, already has aroused considerable discussion.

Tilden himself discusses the question in a syndicated article published today but when asked by The Associated Press for a statement of his position he declined. "I do not wish to be quoted on the player-writer question or its effect upon my status this year until after the new amateur rule proposal has been acted upon by the United States Lawn Tennis Association. As a matter of fact my plans are indefinite but it is obvious that I can not outline my position until the new rule is effective."

Friends of Tilden, however, pointed out that his newspaper contract, which calls for him to provide daily on the outstanding tennis events in which he takes part, would conflict sharply with the features of the new player-writer rule which forbids a player to write for pay or for a consideration, current newspaper articles covering a tournament or match in which he is entered as a competitor.

Those intimate with Tilden represent him as not desirous at this time of reviving discussion of the

Memorial Fund Is Planned By Friends Of Newspaperman

COLUMBUS, Jan. 5.—A memorial fund, the first ever founded for a news writer, is being raised here to perpetuate the memory of the late James W. ("Jim") Faulkner, for 30 years the Ohio legislative correspondent of the Cincinnati Examiner.

The movement was started by personal friends of the correspondent, among whom are numerous prominent national statesmen. James M. Cox, Democratic presidential standard bearer in 1920 former Governor Judson Harmon, and Ambassador Myron T. Herrick, are among those approving the memorial.

Interest from the fund of $10,000 will be loaned to ambitious young men or women to defray their expenses in college. More than $8,000 of the $10,000 goal has been subscribed. The committee in charge has refused large donations, accepting small contributions from hundreds of the reporter's friends throughout the United States. Contributions have been received from London, England, and Australia. The general committee in charge of the memorial is headed by former Governor Cox.
