

Come to Church Every Week

WHAT DOES IT ALL ADD UP TO?

In the well-known city where this young fellow is growing up crime has shown a steady increase for more than a decade. And many of the convicted offenders aren't old enough to vote. Rough-looking "kids" loiter on the street corners with nothing to do. Smooth-looking "kidds" flash by in cars with no place to go. The police patrol certain beats with dogs — humanity alone cannot cope with the situation. But this young fellow must grow up nevertheless. And for him . . . for the community . . . for the nation . . . tomorrow depends on how he grows up!

It all adds up to the most crying need of our time: early, continuing, determined moral and religious instruction. It demands spiritual awareness in our homes. It requires resolute, sacrificial support of our churches.

In every city, village and hamlet an awakened nation is mustering its total spiritual resources . . . seeking God's help . . . and seeking yours . . .

Sandy Anderson Developed Mart

SANDY ANDERSON

Sandy Anderson, of 810 Palmetto Avenue, credited more than any other man with the firm development of the Sanford State Farmers Market, died Saturday after a long illness. He was 80.

Sandy retired from the business some time ago due to his health and had been more or less confined to his home most of the time.

He was born on a farm in Eatonton, Ga., and had to quit school when he was 10 years of age. Even at that age, he was well-acquainted with work, having picked cotton after school. He received 20 cents for every 100 pounds he picked.

By time Sandy was 14 he was manager of a general store near his hometown.

The venerable Mr. Anderson first heard of Sanford in the early 1900s and the day before Christmas in 1910 he arrived here. By 10 a.m. that day he had a job loading vegetables on a freight car.

Later he worked for the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad and still later joined the firm of F. F. Dutton. He traveled throughout the East supervising vegetable deals.

Back in 1947 he planned to retire but death had taken Herman J. Lehman, longtime manager of the State Farmers Market, and Sandy was persuaded to take the job.

He held that post for more than a decade and during this time he saw the market grow into one of the busiest in the state, handling more commodities than any other.

Later last year, Doyle Conner, Florida agriculture commissioner, paid tribute to Sandy by awarding him a certificate of achievement.

The presentation was made at Winter Haven and was accepted in behalf of Sandy by Leo Butler, his successor at the market, when Sandy was unable to attend.

In recent months, Sandy was content to sit on his front porch when his health would permit, reminiscing over his many long, hard years of work. His friends would drop in for a few brief words and then depart, each getting a firm handshake from the rugged individual from the old school of hard knocks.

Surviving is his wife, Mrs. Alma Anderson.

Services were held at 2:30 p.m. today at First Presbyterian Church with Rev. Crowder C. Sewell officiating. Sanford Masonic Lodge conducted Masonic services at graveside in Evergreen Cemetery.

The famed singer entered the hospital last Dec. 8 for observation and tests which disclosed a malignant tumor in the lung.

Nat Cole began life in Alabama as Nathaniel Adams Cole, the son of an impoverished Baptist minister.

Mercury Drops Below 0, Snow Covers Coast

United Press International Arctic cold spilled through the Midwest today, dropping temperature below zero. A coastal storm dumped snow from Georgia to Boston.

Up to three inches fell Sunday in the New York area, where driving conditions were reported hazardous. Seven inches fell in parts of Virginia and some schools remained closed today. Four inches of snow hit Richmond, Va., during the night.

Winds up to 40 miles an hour produced blizzard conditions around Fort Collins, Colo. Sunday. Snow built up avalanche that closed roads to two ski resorts in Utah.

Rising waters flooded six state highways in Indiana and pushed the Grand River at Grand Rapids, Mich., to within a foot of flood stage. The flood water is expected to crest today and Kent County sheriff's deputies prepared to effect rescue operations. Some homes were evacuated but authorities said there was no danger of general flooding.

It was nine below at Minot, N. D., this morning. An arctic air pocket over Maine dented temperature readings there it was eight below Sunday at Caribou, Limestone and Greenville in northern Maine.

Rain fell also in Florida and the Pacific Northwest Sunday night. It triggered a mud slide on Camano Island in Puget Sound, Wash. Damage was minor. At least 4.5 of an inch of rain fell at Gainesville, Fla.

Moon Camera Goes Aloft On Wednesday

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—The United States plans to use its Saturn-1 super rocket Tuesday to orbit a satellite with "wings" 96 feet wide to examine the danger cosmic debris poses to spaceships.

The shot, eighth for America's mightiest booster, will be followed Wednesday by the launch of a Ranger television probe to produce more close-up pictures of the moon. Both firings are expected to be televised nationally.

The Saturn's satellite, called Pegasus after the winged horse of mythology, is the largest unmanned spacecraft built by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. It also will be the first scientific payload for the Saturn.

Pegasus' sole job is to detect, measure and report on bulletlike meteoroids that hit its wings as it circles earth in an orbit ranging from 310 to 465 miles high.

Its findings are expected to give scientists a better idea of the hazard meteoritic particles present to large spacecraft—particularly the three-man Apollo moonships scheduled to fly in 1967.

The 18-foot Saturn-1, scheduled for an 8:30 a. m. EST blastoff also will be carrying a dummy Apollo pilot's cabin that will be orbited separately from the Pegasus craft.

The Satellite, which will weigh 23,000 pounds with the burned out Saturn second stage still attached, will be visible from the earth without the aid of a telescope on clear nights.

Note to our sass-lety editor in re the net swim suits? You mean they're false, like those nude fronts in the girls shows at Las Vegas?
Picked up from the Holy Cross Episcopal Church bulletin: "Believe it or not, that Corning ware casserole is still on the missing list. Gals, do check and see if that casserole in your kitchen just might not be the right one. We'll keep your secret if you will exchange it for the right one through the office."
Also stolen from the Holy Cross bulletin: "The landlord of the village pub looked up as a car stopped outside. Two men came in and ordered, 'By the way,' one asked, 'has anyone herabouts got a black cat with a white ring around its neck?' 'Yes,' replied the landlord, 'there's a kitten like that up the road.' 'Perhaps then, a very big black dog with a white ring around its neck?' 'No—no black dog,' replied the landlord. 'There you are,' said the second man, 'I told you we ran over the rector!'

Have you ever thought that one of those grocery carts would make a good laundry or gardening basket? Here's your chance to get one. A supermarket has donated 100 of them to the Little Red Schoolhouse for painting and resale. They are selling them very, very cheap. Call Jim Hunt, president of the Retarded Children's Association, and put in your order.
A reporter queried Dr. A. W. Epps Sr. about the early days of Scouting here, which was sponsored by the Rotary Club of which the good dentist is a member. Asked to hark back to about 1925, Dr. Epps replied, "My, I don't even like to think back that far."
Dr. Epps' remark brings back a quote from the Lions Pause which declares—"People who look back too much are soon headed that way."
Desk Officer Estelle Jennings was on the radio the other morning alerting area officers to a stolen car which had just been reported. After getting the necessary acknowledgement, she contacted the Sheriff's Office to alert that agency. As she started to relay the information, she was interrupted by Radio Operator Lib Methvin that her deputies believed they had found the abandoned car. They had.

Navy Pilot Defies Commie Captors, Red Paper Says

MOSCOW (UPI)—A U. S. Navy pilot shot down and captured in North Viet Nam defied his Communist captors at a specially arranged news conference, Tass said today.

Tass, in a report from Dong Hoi, said Lt. Cdr. Robert H. Shumaker, of New Castle, Pa., a 31-year-old Annapolis graduate, was brought before newsmen and asked "how he viewed his participation in the U. S. provocation against the democratic republic of Viet Nam."

"Shumaker found nothing better than to repeat the Pentagon hackneyed 'retaliation' version," Tass said. "None of us noticed any remorse on his face."

Tass, however, said it saw "embarrassment" in Shumaker's face.

The news agency said Shumaker's plane crashed a half mile out to sea and sank. It described him as "a tall blond man in green coveralls" and made no mention of any injury.

He was led to the news conference, it said, by "guards with fixed bayonets."

Tass said the newsmen also saw "remnants" of another U. S. jet fighter piloted by an American identified only as "Dixon" who was shot down Feb. 7.

The Communist New China News Agency reported earlier that Communist newsmen yelled "down with U. S. imperialism" when Shumaker was brought into the room.

Space Program Criticized By U. S. Scientist

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A scientist critic of the U. S. space program said that a multi-billion-dollar search for life on Mars "could establish for ourselves the reputation of being the greatest Simple Simons of all time."

Tom, writes Dr. Philip H. Abelson, said available evidence provides "little basis for thinking that life will be found" on the red planet.

He suggested that "a few inexpensive experiments to probe the nature of the atmosphere and surface of Mars might save us from considerable eventual disappointment."

Abelson is director of the Carnegie Institution's Geophysical Laboratory and editor of "Science," weekly publication of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

He has frequently questioned the wisdom of spending billions for such things as the Apollo project to land men on them.

Today, in a "Science" editorial, Abelson addressed himself to the exploration of Mars.

The space sciences board of the National Academy of Sciences said recently that this exploration should be the principal goal of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) for the 1971-85 post-Apollo period.

The board, created to advise the government on space programs, said Mars "offers the best opportunity in our solar system for shedding light on extraterrestrial life."

Abelson commented that "a search for life on Mars is thus one of the major scientific justifications given for a program that is likely to cost as much as $100 billion during the next two decades."

Those going to English Estates Elementary include Linda Tolson, Marilyn Harn, Phyllis Wharton, and Gay Hattie and to Allamonte Elementary are Kathy Kent, Rebecca Williams, and Linda Cole.

Ruth Murray will be at Lake Monroe School.

Handicapped Need More Help, Educator Says

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—State School Supt. Thomas D. Bailey said Florida's exceptional child program is reaching less than half of the handicapped children who need help.

The school chief said 1,231 teachers in the program served 68,813 students last year.

But he estimated an additional 75,000 handicapped Florida youngsters were not receiving needed services.

"Although Florida's record is better than many other states," Bailey said, "we have been forced to limit services because of past legislative freezes on the special units of these programs."

The school leader said he plans to ask the upcoming Legislature for an increase of 150 units for the first year and an extra 225 for the second year of the coming biennium.

Man Suffers Head Injuries

A man identified as Charles Davis, of 1201 Holly Avenue, was treated at Seminole Memorial Hospital Sunday night for severe head injuries received when beaten with a hammer.

City police said Davis is alleged to have threatened a woman with a hand axe and she retaliated with the hammer. No arrests have been made.

Solon Says Need Big Office Like 'Hole In Head'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rep. H. R. Gross (R-Iowa), who once said House members needed three-room office suites like a hole in the head, moved into one. But he still isn't happy about it.

"I didn't have any alternative," Gross said of his decision to join the trek to the new $86.4 million Rayburn House office building.

"They are planning to rip out the insides of the building I'm in."

In a recent drawing for space in the new Rayburn building, Gross got suite No. 2361. It has wall-to-wall carpeting, two toilets, a kitchenette, baby blue walls, a view of the capital mall, built-in weather and windows which can be opened only with a brick or wrench.

"It's plush," said the founder, leader and current sole member of the unofficial economy bloc in the House. "But I'm not enamored of it."

Area Art Show
Slated Feb. 21
At Civic Center

Sixth annual Sanford-Seminole Art Show will be held at the Civic Center Feb. 21 from noon to 6 p.m. Mrs. Erma Smith, president, has announced Show chairman is George Dodson.

"The art association does not send written invitations to individuals," Mrs. Smith emphasized, "but the show is open to the public and each year many persons have made it a habit to attend and note the progress of our local artists. Each year attendance has increased."

"The paintings this year will be presented in three groups — amateurs, (which includes most members), professionals (a small but busy group) and juniors (which are judged separately)."

"Pictures in each group will be chosen for awards by a jury of impartial out-of-town judges. Each visitor will also be given an opportunity to vote for his favorites and ballots will be distributed at the door," Dodson pointed out.

"Since its beginning, the Sanford-Seminole Art Association has been associated with the city recreation department and has had its help and cooperation in furthering the cultural development of the community," Mrs. Smith declared.

"This year the county school system also has helped us by providing an art teacher, Mrs. Mildred Hancock, who conducts weekly classes at the Cultural Arts Center on Fifth Street. The results of these efforts will be seen at the annual art show," she noted.

"During the year the work of member artists is displayed each month at Senkank's Paint and Glass store in a corner which has been set aside by the firm for this purpose. They are also displayed at Florida State Bank, Dodson added.

The work of Mrs. Rosamond Chapman is presently on view at the bank and that of Miss Margaret Toews at Senkank's.

A progress report will be made by George Carver, managing director, and the hospital board.

The local lodge is actively supporting this major Elks project and contributes its share of the operating expenses by individual donations to the trust fund.

Legislative Meets

In as much as the legislative delegations are currently giving an ear to the matters their constituents would like done in the forthcoming meet of the Florida Legislature . . . Let us remind them of another of our pet proposals for progress. And incidentally, it's one in which we have noted considerable agreement from many quarters . . . except from members of the Legislature . . . and we wonder why . . . Or do we?

We feel that the public is not given adequate opportunity to review and consider that which is being proposed in the Legislature . . . That by the time they hear about what the Legislature is up to, it has already been done to them. As a matter of fact, we have had former members of that August body privately admit that were not exactly certain of what was happening until it was all over.

Seriously, we feel that instead of penalizing ourselves with an archaic custom of legislative meets of 60 days every two years, we should change the constitution so that the Legislature would be required to meet on two separate 30-day sessions every year . . . but that except under the most strenuous emergency conditions, no bill introduced in one session could be enacted until the second session. Thus opportunity to report all legislative proposals in detail and depth . . . Even in discussion . . . and the public would be properly provided with enough time to consider the proposals and let its opinions be known.

The idea of having the Legislature meet for a 60-day period every other year came about long ago when Tallahassee was a long, long trip for most of the people who go to the Legislature. But transportation has improved and Tallahassee is much closer. In fact, as transportation and communications go, Washington is now much closer than Tallahassee was a few years ago.

It is our opinion that the State of Florida belongs to the people and they have every right to know what's being done for them . . . or better yet . . . What's being done to them . . . long before the fact is accomplished.

If there is good and sufficient reason why the State Legislature shouldn't let the people know what they're up to, we'd like to hear it.

Meanwhile, we dare the legislators to put the matter to a vote of the people they expect to pay the bills and suffer the consequences.

Thought For Today

He who is kind to the poor lends to the Lord, and he will repay him for his deed.—Proverbs 19:17.

There cannot be a more glorious object in creation than a human being replete with benevolence, meditating in what manner he may render himself most acceptable to the Creator by doing good to his creatures.—Henry Fielding.

Dick West's

The Lighter Side

WASHINGTON (UPI) — It has frequently been pointed out that the influence of a U. S. president extends far beyond his official powers as Chief Executive.

This was never more evident than a few weeks ago when President Johnson was being treated at Bethesda Naval Hospital for what was apparently a virus infection.

All over town, people with sniffles, sore throats, coughs and wheezes were proudly identifying with the President. In other words, the common cold was "in."

But a runny nose, clogged sinus passages or other nuisances associated with the upper respiratory tract were not by themselves at the height of fashion.

To be really "in," it had to be "a common cold with tracheal and bronchial irritation."

This started me to thinking that now might be as good a time as any to review some of the "ins" and "outs" that have come about since Johnson took office.

We are all aware, of course, that ballroom dancing is "in" for the younger set, such dances as the "Watusi" and the "Frig," also are "in," but tap dancing, except in the case of the junior senator from California, is "out."

Business suits and dinner jackets are "in." White ties and tails are "out." Western hats are "in," but only when in Texas, which is definitely "in" at all times. Arizona, on the other hand, is "out."

Contact lenses are "in." Eye-glasses with heavy black frames are "out," particularly when the lenses are out, too.

Impromptu meetings with reporters are "in." Formal news conferences are "out."

Birds are "in." Cousins named Oriole are "in." Barbicue is "in" and Southwest Texas State College is "in." Military reserve officers in Congress are "out."

Long brisk walks are "out," but strolling with stops to shake hands with tourists, is "in." Indoor swimming is "in." Perle Mesta, who used to be "in," but was "out" for a few years, is back "in" again. May Craig is "in" more than ever. Sarah McClelland is "in" most of the time and will usually find a way to get "in" even when she's "out."

Vaporizers are "in." Red pajamas are "in." The telephone is "in" except when it's out of order. The Mormon Tabernacle Choir and the Pedernales River are both "in." Filing cabinets are "out."

Hifi sets, as gifts, are "out." The Bobby Baker investigation is more off and on than "in" or "out." Lights are "out."

Letters

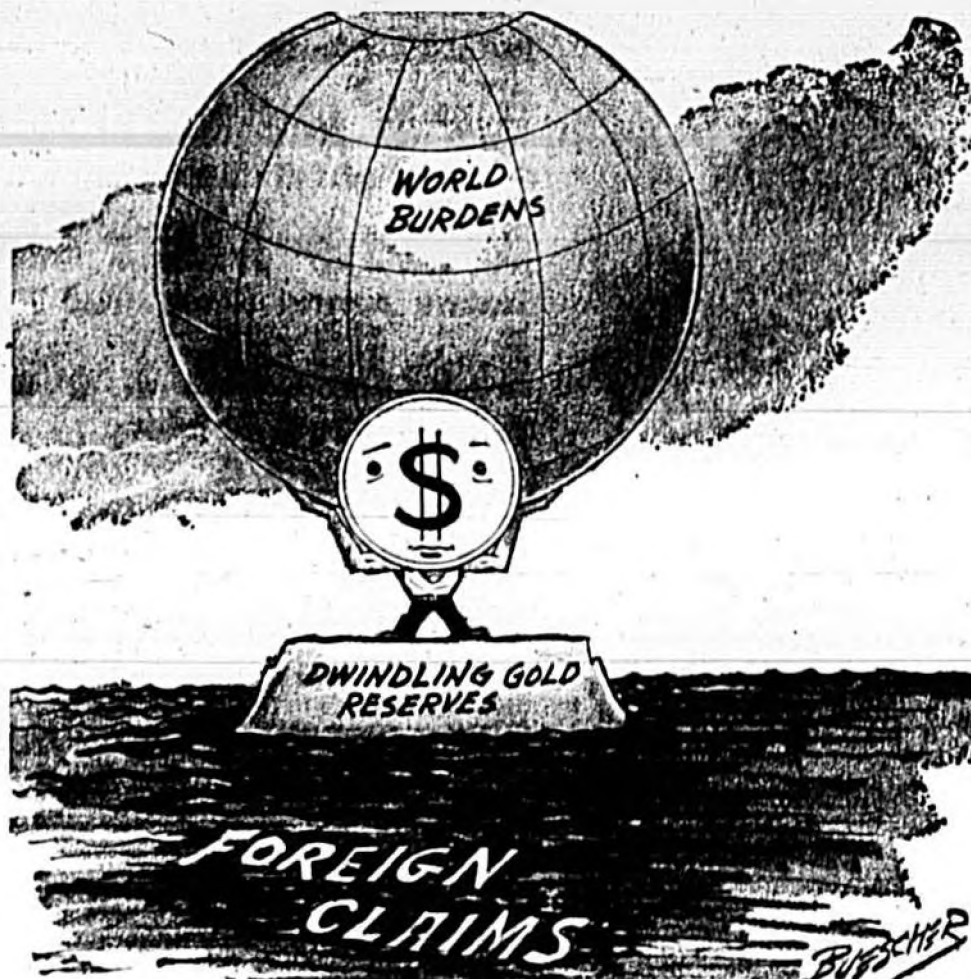

Editor, The Herald: This is to notify you that the Special Studies Program of the Regional Planning Council, in which your organization is participating, is proceeding satisfactorily. All of the consultants required have been employed by the Council and will be submitting final reports within the next 60 to 90 days.

We are, of course, very pleased that this vital program could be carried out. As you know, several studies relating to the growth potential of East Central Florida are being undertaken. These include a complete analysis of the region's economy, its highway network, airport needs, water resource problems and industrial potential, among other things. The very finest specialists in Florida and the United States have been engaged to do this work.

Our present plans call for a special meeting to be held in late February or early March in order to present the various findings and recommendations that are being developed as part of this program. You will be invited to participate in this meeting. Between now and then, special releases entitled "Council Keynotes" will be sent to you which outline various facts, guidelines, opinions and statistics designed to be of value to investors, developers and others interested in the future of East Central Florida. If you have any questions, please contact me at our new headquarters here in Titusville (207-5453).

Worry Clinic

CASE V-413: Sandy, aged 8, was our fox terrier pet.

When I would sit down to read the newspaper, Sandy would walk over and sit beside my chair.

Then she would rub against my leg and rest her head upon my hand.

Usually I would take her "halt," as it were, and pet her as I read.

But if I were to lift my hand to turn the page and then fail to drop it back down upon her head, then she would raise her head higher in an effort to reach my hand.

For she seemed to feel much happier when she was touched by my hand.

She didn't even require to be petted but would be fairly content at the mere contact with a human hand.

You readers who have pet dogs or cats have often noted this same desire of animals to feel the touch of their human masters.

For the tactile (touch) sense is of paramount importance in expressing love and affection.

That is very evident among sweethearts, but should also be true of married couples.

So analyze yourselves. If you have been married more than five years, to see if you are omitting the sense of touch.

Many a busy husband then grows so preoccupied with his business or professional worries, that he forgets the vital importance of patting his children on the back or of giving them an affectionate squeeze.

And wives are especially hungry for tactile evidence of your love.

Here in Chicago we see many honeymooners strolling down Michigan Boulevard, hand in hand.

And many engaged couples also walk about holding hands, for the sense of touch is actually the Supreme Court among our various sense organs.

Women want words especially complimentary terms.

But the ear and even the eye take second place to the organs of touch.

That's why at various Art Museums you will find this sign under the valuable paintings:

"Please do not touch!"

For when people can't believe their eyes or ears, they fall back upon the sense of touch as the SUREST form of proof.

Doubling Thomas likewise demonstrated this same desire to double check on what the other Apostles had told him concerning Christ's resurrection?

For he said he would not believe it until he could put his fingers in the nail holes in Christ's hands and place his hand in the sword wound in the side of Jesus.

Husbands, please make it a point to kiss your wives more often and grasp your arm around their shoulders, even though momentarily.

To be same for your children, for then you will reduce much subconscious apprehension. Your pets are superb tranquilizers of fears!

And send for the 200-page "Tests for Successful Husbands and Wives," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 30c Rate yourself thereon.

Political Notebook

CHICAGO — (NEA) — The political echoes here are the noise of frustration from arch-conservative Republicans seething with anger at the blows struck against their cause by hard-headed party professionals.

The frustrations seem bound to grow. Ouster of Dean Burch as GOP chairman is only the first big blow. Another, predictably, will be the dawning awareness that the arch-conservatives have no new hero to supplant Barry Goldwater as the recedes into private life.

Indeed, for these people the largest effect of the Chicago meeting may be the slowly developing shock of discovery that they not only have no new leader but also no place to direct their highly charged energies.

They are not facing up to this prospect. They are not really facing squarely anything that has happened to them since Nov. 3.

Hours after the Republican National Committee had adjourned its Chicago sessions, a tiny band of Goldwaterites, gathered in a dimly lit cocktail lounge, was heard playing postmortems on Burch's removal—as if somehow the situation "could" still be "retrieved."

A pro-Goldwater westerner was heard to say: "We'd have 50 votes right there . . ."

While the sessions were on, the corridors rang steadily with the bitter complaints of GOP right-wingers at events which were shoving them aside. Typical was California's committeewoman, Mrs. John Bowler Jr., who sounded as if she could never again bring herself to support a Republican progressive for the presidency.

Who could be a warmly welcomed candidate of these forces in 1968 is difficult for them—or anyone else—to see right now.

Sen. John Tower of Texas is under serious threat in his 1968 re-election bid. Even without that, his name seldom is heard in presidential context.

Colorado's Sen. Peter Dominick is the one individual whose name does crop up, casually but fairly often. Yet he is really little known among the conservatives themselves and has nothing approaching national status.

Now and then a hopeful right-winger suggests they would "have something" if one of their own—say actor Ronald Reagan—could win nomination and election as California's governor in 1968. But Democratic Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown, expected to seek a third term, would be a formidable adversary.

And it is quite a far stretch to say that a political novice, as Reagan would be, deserves quick consideration as leadership material.

This short rundown underlines the emptiness of the arch-conservatives' cupboard. They simply have nothing solid in sight.

They have other problems, more pressing in some ways. Fanned across the country is the army of Goldwater volunteers mustered by F. Clifton White and others. Most are young activists spilling for a new cause—right now.

Their urgent letters of appeal boil to this:

Barbs

By Walter C. Parkes
Pretty sure bet: While you are reading this, South Viet Nam will change its government again.

The Old Cynic says "Nowadays 'Honest Abe' sounds like a used car lot owner and 'Lincoln' like one of his bargains."

After a politician bragged that he understands women, he had a conference with his wife. Strangely, he now says he was misquoted.

"What do we do? When do we go?"

Many groups have speedily recast themselves in forms like the Committee for Constitutional Government or Committee for a Reapportionment Amendment (to upset the Supreme Court's one-man, one-vote ruling). In some communities there may already be four or five of these.

To some thoughtful Goldwater men, eager to keep these energies harnessed in a good conservative cause, the pressures from the volunteers spell potential danger. They voice a strong fear that many, lacking forceful direction from the top, will satisfy their appetite for militancy by joining the John Birch Society.

The circumstance may be unique in politics. Goldwater has gone back to his mountain in Arizona, which each day will seem more remote from events. "Burch" will go soon. Standard GOP conservatives are turning away, in obedience to party regularity and a future bent toward winning ways.

What remains of the Goldwater Movement is like a huge, rudderless transport ship crowded to the decks with troops. It drifts perilously in heavily traveled seas. The risk of collision or explosion is ever-present.

Film On Heart To Be Shown In Bear Lake

By Maryann Miles
Special guest of the Bear Lake Community Club Thursday will be Mrs. Elizabeth Thomas, heart educational program chairman and South Seminole Heart Sunday captain, who will show the animated film, "Why a Heart Association?"

The meeting is scheduled for 8 p.m. in the Florida Power Employees Club on Holiday Avenue, Bear Lake, with Mrs. D. O. Brooks and Mrs. Stan Bury as hostesses.

The program has been planned as one of special interest during the February "Heart Month" campaign.

Mrs. Kate Jones, association member and Bear Lake heart captain, has announced that 36 volunteer workers will be accepting contributions in the area this weekend on Heart Sunday. Of persons contacted, Mrs. Jones advised, only two refusals were given, both with good cause.

Association President Richard Ostrander has extended invitation to all interested persons in the community to attend Thursday's meeting and program.

Good Samaritan Saves Woman, Faces Charges

PARIS (UPI) — This is the sad story of a brave French soldier and a woman with a past who wanted to forget her troubles in the River Seine.

The saga began when Miss Germaine Perret, 63, took a dive in the icy river waters.

She was under investigation for an alleged $12,000 shortage reported by a firm who employed her as a bookkeeper.

Enter the gallant soldier—Jean Pierre Ravand, 20. He was walking across a bridge when Miss Perret jumped into the water.

Ravand ripped off his uniform and dove into the river to save Miss Perret.

He succeeded, but when he pulled the woman to shore, Ravand's uniform was gone.

Someone had taken it while he was saving Miss Perret.

Ravand's superiors took a dim view of the incident. He now faces charges of losing military equipment.

Miss Perret also was unhappy. She was turned over to authorities to explain the money shortage.

Students To Dive For Tree Stumps

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — A group of scuba diving Florida State University students plan to probe the sea bottom off Florida's Gulf coast looking for tree stumps.

The idea was conceived by the department of geology at FSU, which hopes to establish the northwest Florida coast line as far back as 35,000 years ago.

Old tree stumps embedded in the bottom of the gulf would indicate the area which used to be dry land, and the presence of peat and muck might show an old river channel.

Miss Deborah Glover, retired bridge teacher and past president of the American Bridge Teachers Association, will preside at Wednesday's meeting.

Heart Sunday To Climax Fund Campaign

"Out of 557 deaths in Seminole County in 1964, 283 of them, or 51 per cent, were caused by diseases of the heart and blood vessels," Dr. Luis Perez, president of the Seminole-DeBary Heart Association, said today.

"Heart disease is Seminole County's No. 1 health enemy, with local figures closely paralleling those for the entire nation as compiled by the National Bureau of Vital Statistics, which currently ascribes about 54 per cent of all deaths to diseases of the heart and circulation," Dr. Perez pointed out.

"But while heart disease continues to be the No. 1 killer in the nation, thousands of persons—children and adults alike—are surviving heart and blood vessel disorders that physicians considered hopeless only 20 years ago," he noted.

"Since the first Heart Fund campaign in 1949, there has been a decline of more than seven per cent in the cardiovascular death rate applying to American males aged 45-64," he declared.

The Heart Fund drive which climaxes this week with the door-to-door Heart Sunday campaign is no ordinary health agency campaign. The Heart Fund deserves a place at the very top of your giving-for-health gift list," Dr. Perez added.

Between you'n me

By MURRAY OLDERMAN
Sports Editor
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. — The trouble with women's golf is that they take those 170-pound tresses and put them in size 14 shorts.

I didn't say so. Beverly Hanson did. And she can afford to talk, since in 1958 she was the leading tigress of them all, the leading money winner on the women's pro golf tour with some $18,000. That sum would have placed her fifth last year. The man's top money maker in 1958 got $48,000, good enough for only ninth or tenth in '64. Which should give you an idea where the men are going and the gals are back-pedal pushing.

"The press is part of the reason," Bev said, looking me right in the eye, which she's tall enough to do. "The women don't get the coverage. Ten years ago we had Babe Zaharias, Patty Berg and Louise Suggs. There was real competition.

"Today there's only Mickey Wright, dominating the field. And very frankly she lacks color. We don't have anyone good enough to be watched who has appeal.

"When Wilfrid Smith jammed her wrists—once when she topped off a motor scooter and the second when she hit a mule on a Mississippi road in her Volkswagen—it was a real blow. Wilfrid played Huckleberry Finn perfect."

And what's wrong with today's crew? "They got their shorts on the morning, in the afternoon and at night," Bev warned up. "They sit around and play poker and have dinner sent up to their rooms."

"They can't compete with the men as players. They have to be women."

Beverly, tall and graceful and exuberant, speaks from the detachment of retirement. She is a teaching pro at Bermuda Dunes in Palm Desert, and a housewife and mother, as well. Her last full year on the tour was 1961, though she claims she's a better golfer now because "I really understand the game—brute force and determination brought me along on the tour."

"There's nothing about it I miss," she added. "Pro golf is a great postcard course for women on how to get along with people, but I don't think women are physically and mentally designed for a lifetime of competition." Except maybe at the country club dance.

The Joe on the tour, Bev pointed out, has his wife along to do the cooking, shopping, laundry, take care of the valet, make reservations

HIGH, WIDE, HANDSOME—With agility and form of a champion, Britain's Mary Rand sails through the air to win the women's long jump at Madison Square Garden in New York. Steve Groover Breaks Record For Rebounds

By David Higginbotham
Herald Sports Writer

Seminole High cagers played their best ball game of the season Saturday night when they defeated the Bishop Moore Hornets by a score of 37 to 42 and Steve Groover broke the SHS record for rebounds on a season basis with 23 to make his season total 204.

In the first quarter Groover also led the Tribe with seven points and Buddy Stumpf was second with three. Don Nicholas and Lamar Oxford made two points each and Ron Hinson added one.

Danny McNamara was high man for the Hornets in the first period with five points and Mike Taylor was second with three. Paul Miller made two points and David Isenburg and Bill Dunn each added one to put the Hornets 15 to 12 at the end of the first quarter.

Groover was again high man for the Seminoles with five points in the second period. Hinson, Oxford, Stumpf and Nicholas each added two points. Dunn made four points for the Hornets and Taylor and Miller added two each. The Tribe led 29 to 23 at the half mark.

The heated play of the third stanza brought the Seminoles nine points and the Hornets 10. Groover dumped in four more points, Nicholas three and Frank Murray two. For the Hornets, McNamara made four points and Miller made three. Steve Dornoff made two and Isenburg added one.

Going into the final frame the Seminoles held a 38 to 33 margin. Murray came to life for the Tribe with eight points and Nicholas made six. Hinson and Stumpf made a basket each and Groover added a foul shot. Dunn made four points for Bishop Moore and Taylor, Miller and Art Weibis each added two points. The Seminoles went on to win the game 57 to 42.

In the JayVee competition the Babe Seminoles lost by a score of 38 to 50, but they put up a good fight. Frank Whigham was high man for the locals with 13 points and Paul Lafoy was second with six. Greg Ganes made six and Larry Hodges added four with Larry Burnside making a basket and Wally Jernigan a foul shot.

Complicating the rebuilding job even more is the fact that Peterson only has two starting linemen returning among the 23 lettermen expected to show up for spring training.

Still another thorn in Peterson's side is a knee operation that will keep last year's number two quarterback Ed Pritchett, out of action all or nearly all of the spring drills. Pritchett underwent the operation in December.

Ex-Carpenter Captures 500

DAYTONA BEACH (UPI) — Fred Lorenzen, who quit a carpenter's job to become a stock car racer because there was more money in it, will bank another $28,000 to prove his point.

Lorenzen won the money with a first place finish in Sunday's Daytona 500, shortened to 332 miles by rain.

In 1963, the husky blond from Elmhurst, Ill., won $118,570, an all-time record for stock car drivers.

Using an economy gear ratio to save gas, Lorenzen said his car was about five miles an hour slower than the early leaders in the race, but he dived—allowed himself to be towed along in the wake of the other cars—thus both conserving his fuel and increasing his speed.

Methodists Top Nazarenes In Church League

Grace Methodist cagers bettered Lake Mary Nazarenes 58-29 in the Church Basketball League. Grace led 10-8, 23-12 and 37-20 in the first three periods.

Lake Mary was hampered by fouls as this was its first game. Four men from Grace scored in double figures with Paul Markos taking the honors with 18 points. Earl Moore was next with 13, Eddie Griffith with 11, and George Markos with 10.

Don Gorman was high for Lake Mary with 13 tallies followed by Danny Tillis with eight.

In the second game of the evening, First Methodist rallied in the third quarter to beat First Presbyterian by a score of 33-48. First Presbyterian led 10-7 in the first period and 20-21 at half time. However, the Methodists came to life in the third period with the shooting of Jim Pigott and Bill Coleman to go ahead 43-38 at the end of the third period, a lead they never relinquished.

Tom Ley took scoring honors for the Methodists with 16 points followed by Bill Coleman with 14 and Jim Pigott with 12. David Lanter again led the Presbyterians with 23 points and Buddy Burton was next with 15.

Two games are on tap for tonight with Grace Methodist going against First Methodist at 7 p.m. and First Presbyterian playing Lake Mary Nazarene at 8:15.

Oviedo Lions Storm Over Commodores

By Marshall Lange
Herald Sports Writer

The dependable Oviedo Lions stormed to a second victory Saturday night over the top-ranked Commodores of Eau Gallie High School.

Oviedo jumped out to an early lead and stayed out front throughout the contest to take the ball game by a substantial 78-61 margin.

Jimmy Courier paced the Lions to the big win by dropping in 18 markers. Rex Brooks was right behind with 17, followed by Ted Bellhorn, Charlie Miller and Ardie Ardat with 14, 13 and nine points, respectively.

Oviedo took a slight lead early in the first and held on to finish out the period with an 18-15 first quarter advantage.

The Lions expanded their lead in the second when the Commodores were allowed 11 points while the Lions chalked up 19 to move way ahead and end up with a 37-26 halftime lead.

The Commodores fell farther behind in the third when Oviedo's defensive play went into action again and allowed the Eau Gallie five nine markers while the Lions widened the margin, scoring 18.

In the fourth the Commodores made a desperate, final move dropping in 20 points. But the determined Lions also racked up 28 in the final stanza to give Oviedo its seventh straight win and the 13th of the season.

Oviedo's record now stands at 13 wins against seven losses.

The Commodores saved face in the junior varsity contest by taking a close 58-55 decision over the JV Lions.

Hounds Hit 2nd In OBC

By Jim Bacchus
Herald Sports Writer

Lyman Greyhounds ended the regular season slate of games with a 46-43 triumph over the Kissimmee Kowboys at Kissimmee Friday night.

With the use of a brilliant team effort, and a second half comeback, the Greyhounds increased their Orange Belt Conference record to 9-3.

The Hounds now are in second place in the OBC. First place Apopka and third place Deland via tonight. Should Deland beat Apopka, Lyman has a good chance of becoming the regular season champs.

Kissimmee jumped off to a 14-9 lead in the first period after taking a 10-1 lead in the first three minutes. Lyman came back steadily in the last three periods.

They trailed 24-22 at the half and were edged by the Kowboys at the beginning of the third period.

With two minutes left in the game, Kissimmee tied Lyman 41-41 but Eddie Long scored five points in the remaining minutes for the Lyman victory.

High scorer for Lyman was Dave Matis with 16 points. Joe Asher scored 18 points and Eddie Long 12. These three played a fine game and contributed team effort in victory.

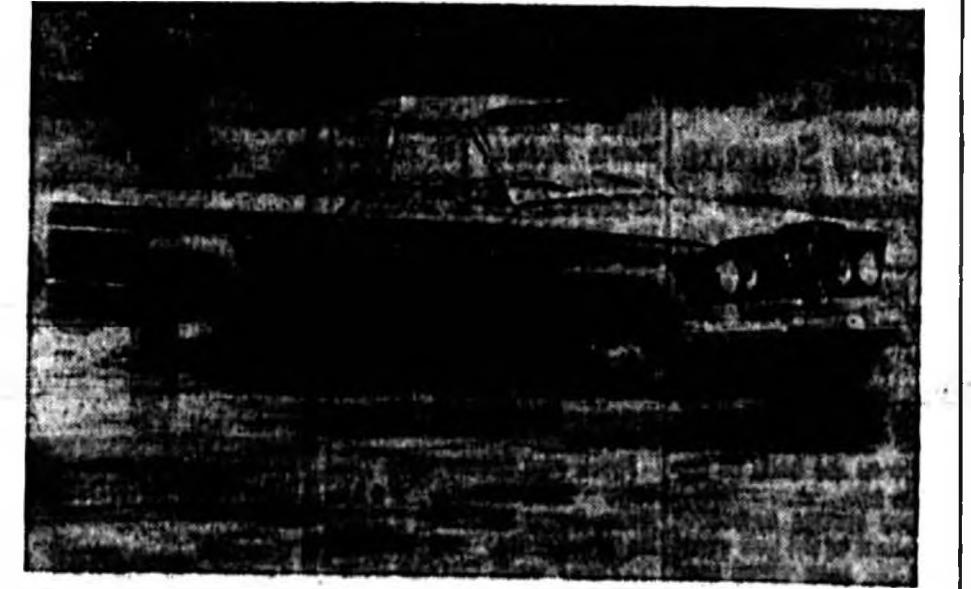

Lyman's overall record now stands at 11-9. The regular season is now completed. However they have two tournaments. This weekend the Hounds will participate in the OBC tourney to be held at Winter Garden.

Lyman's opponent will be Wildwood. The Greyhounds defeated Wildwood twice during the regular season. Lyman's chances of victory in The Jeep' Gladiator with 4-wheel drive has twice the traction of ordinary pick-up trucks.

Can you imagine a truck with 2-wheel drive handling mud this deep?

When a Jeep' Gladiator gets down on all fours, there isn't much in nature that can stand in its way. The Jeep' Gladiator with 4-wheel drive can get through stormy weather and rough terrain that would stop any conventional 2-wheel drive pick-up. That's because it has the traction. Jeep' Gladiators plow through snow, slash through mud, and get through deep ruts and give better control on ice.

And because it is built to take it, a Jeep' Gladiator is worth a mild when you get ready to sell it. It holds its value because it stays versatile. Go to your Jeep' dealer and test drive a Jeep' Gladiator. Notice its passenger car smoothness. Then find a hill. A steep one. Try it halfway in 2-wheel drive. City Directory Off The Press, Ready For Use

The city directory, like street and traffic signs, house numbers and maps, is one of the necessities of modern city life. The truth of this statement is shown by the interest which citizens hereabouts exhibited when they learned that the Sanford city directory is off the press and ready for use. It has just been distributed to subscribers by R. L. Polk & Company, of Richmond, Va.

The new edition is a substantial handy volume listing 16,431 personal and business names in Sanford, including DeBarry, with 18 continued as the listing goes. The aforementioned count considers the combined names of men and wife as only one name, the publishers explained.

The directory shows occupation or business connection, marital status and name of wife, whether head of house or roomer, names and titles of proprietors and officers of corporations, and other items of information.

Special regular features of the new directory include the designations of tenant-owned and rented homes, and telephone number listings by streets and houses.

The variety of business hereabouts is revealed by the many groups catalogued in the yellow pages of the new directory, ranging alphabetically downward for advertising to used cars. New and old classifications go "hand in hand" here. For example: Auctioneers and blood bank fruit growers and podiatrists.

As with previous editions, there will be a distribution of the new directory to replace the last directory in free-reference directory libraries in other cities, the publishers announced.

This distribution is a part of the service maintained by the members of the Association of North American Directory Publishers in connection with the publication of their directories, they said, and will help to keep outsiders acquainted with this community and its people and products.

A branch of this out-of-town directory service in this city is located at the offices of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

First and last on the new roster are AA Ball Bond Agency and William J. Zwosta. Between these two, one may find such picturesque family names as Ashvorn, Crews, Stonecipher, Carraway, Sweet, Oaks, File, Fellows, Register, Creamer, Bowling, House, Punch and Nopper.

Noisy Society (Eh?) Harmful To Humans

CHICAGO (UPI) — A psychiatry professor said today (what's that you say?) that "our technological society is apt to be a noisy one." (You'll have to speak up.) Dr. Charles E. Goshen, writing in an American Medical Association publication (what's that?), said there have been "dire warnings of harmful effects of noise on human health."

Goshen, associate professor in the West Virginia School of Medicine psychiatry department, said these warnings (did what?) generally accompany "efforts to bring about abatement of noise." (You're not coming through.) Goshen said, "Investigation of the health consequences... (would you repeat that?)... health consequences, however, reveals no significant correlation with noise."

"The issue raises a much broader one (speak up) and that is the prevailing assumption that any kind or degree of discomfort or annoyance is potentially injurious to health," Goshen said... (what's that about consequences?)

Writing in "The New Physician," a publication for medical students, (who?), Goshen said "people who spend their lives in noisy environments do not have any different types of health histories than those who live in quiet environments."

Goshen said, "discomfort is more accurately viewed as a stimulus to action and is mediated by its effect of increasing the level of alertness and attention of the brain." (Can't you please speak up?) "In particular," Goshen said, "the question of noxious sounds (you're just not coming through) which arise from the noisy technology of civilized urban living (quit honking that blasted horn!) in themselves cannot be shown to have a damaging effect on health." (Turn off that stupid music or I'll break your stupid neck!)

Goshen said "environments which are quiet and 'restful' tend to impede activity." (What's that he said? Oh, never mind, I've got work to do.)

Mariner Cameras Ready For Mars

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The space agency has pinpointed locations on a 4,000-mile long area of Mars that are to be photographed by Mariner 4 next July 14. The spacecraft's television camera will take pictures—almost simultaneously—of the Martian seasons of fall and spring as it flies past the Red Planet. This is because the target area is divided between the northern hemisphere—where it will be autumn, and the southern hemisphere—where it will be spring. The National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) announced that the exact points at which the spacecraft cameras will be aimed were determined by an analysis of Mariner's flight path by NASA engineers. NASA asked both amateur and professional astronomers to observe the areas for purposes of comparison of Mariner photographs with those taken by ground-based telescopes. If Mariner is still operating normally on July 14, it will take up to 21 television photographs and make instrumental measurements of the Martian atmosphere which may indicate whether the planet can harbor life.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Most women who have discovered a breast lump avoid medical evaluation until too late, says Dr. Mitchell A. Gold, a Columbia University psychiatrist.

Interviews with 100 victims of breast cancer revealed that 64 delayed medical attention so long the cancers could not be treated successfully. Part of the reluctance, the psychiatrist suggested, stems from a needless fear over possible mutilating effects of a diagnostic incision.

Rev. M. D. Jackson of Geneva recently supplied the pulpit at the First Baptist Church of Titusville in the absence of the pastor of the church, Dr. Hardin.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Sieg of Lake Harney have returned from a few days visiting friends and relatives in Bradenton and Sarasota.

Recent houseguests of the M. D. Jacksons were Mrs. Jackson's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lanoux from Titusville and Mr. Jackson's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Jackson of Orlando. Also visiting with the Jacksons were their daughter and her family, Rev. and Mrs. Jack Stewart and children, Mark, Catherine and Helen, from Center Hill. Rev. Stewart, a former pastor of the First Baptist Church of Geneva, has been called to Philadelphia Baptist Church which is located near Live Oak.

Miss Carolyn Lee Rice Bride Of W. G. Miller

Miss Carolyn Lee Rice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Roy Rice of Sanford, and William Guy Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Miller, also of this city, were united in holy matrimony on Sunday, February 14, 1965 at 2 o'clock in the afternoon at Oaklawn Baptist Chapel.

Rev. R. T. Barnett officiated at the impressive double ring ceremony with a profusion of potted palms serving as the altar background. The altar centered a flowered archway with pedestal baskets of white glads and mums accenting each side of the arch. Mrs. Leland Todd, pianist played the traditional nuptial hymns with Mrs. W. F. Mann, soloist, singing "O Promise Me," "To A Wild Rose," "Evening Star" and "Melody of Love."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was radiant in a white ballerina length gown of Chantilly lace. She fitted bodice featured a sabrina neckline, embellished with sequins, and long tapered sleeves.

The voluminous lace apron-effect overskirt, edged in a scalloped ruffle trimmed in dainty lace, was over a full skirt of net with appliques of lace and sequins enhancing the visible sides. Her elbow length imported silk illusion veil fell from a tiara of crystals. She carried a white Bible, a gift from the groom, which was centered with an old fashioned nosegay of red and white sweetheart roses in a heart shaped arrangement, interspersed with small red hearts.

MRS. WILLIAM GUY MILLER

Miss Patricia Rice attended her sister as maid of honor and was gowned in sky blue silk organza over satin with matching shoes, crown and veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of red carnations showered with white streamers and red hearts.

Rosell Walker served the groom as best man and ushers were Homer Miller, brother of the groom, and Raymond N. Murray Jr.

Mrs. Rice chose for her daughter's wedding an ice blue brocade dress with matching accessories and she wore a corsage of light blue carnations tipped with silver.

Mrs. Miller, mother of the groom, was attired in a coral boucle frock with beige accessories and a champagne carnation corsage.

Immediately following the wedding, a reception was held in the Educational Building of the church. The refreshment table was overlaid with an exquisite South American cloth featuring linen squares hand embroidered in white and joined with applied squares of fillet lace. Red and white mums were arranged in the white candelabra containing tall glowing tapers. The Valentine theme was carried out in the decor and the dainty wedding refreshments complimenting the traditional three tiered wedding cake.

The Bride's Book, kept by Miss Patricia Rabun, was on a table overlaid with a white cutwork linen cloth, accented with a lovely arrangement of red and white mums combined with baby's breath in a cupid container.

Others assisting at the reception were Mrs. C. M. Rabun Jr., Mrs. R. N. Murray and Mrs. J. E. Andrews. Floating hostesses were the Misses Peggy Rabun, Ebel Todd and Cheryl Murray.

For her going away outfit the bride chose an ice blue three piece ensemble with black patent accessories and she wore the corsage of roses from her bridal bouquet.

Following a wedding trip to the Florida east coast, Mr. and Mrs. Miller will be at home at 612 Park Ave.

Among the out of town wedding guests was Mrs. Anna Carhart, sister of the groom from Baltimore, Md.

Partial Schedule Outlined For Flower Show Entrants

Mrs. Gordon Brisson, horticulture chairman for "Tribute to the Twenties," the annual spring flower show of the Garden Club of Sanford, suggested today that prospective entrants start immediately to groom their plants and flowers for exhibition March 6 and 8. She added that entries are not limited to garden club members, but may be made by any resident of Seminole County or by residents of other areas by special arrangement with her.

Eighteen sections for the classification of various blooms and plants will allow for a complete range of horticulture specimens and Mrs. Brisson urged that anyone who has a worthy specimen plan to enter it between 2:00 and 4:00 P.M. March 4 or from 8:30 to 11:00 A.M. March 5.

To be eligible for exhibition, all plants, whether shown in their containers or as cut specimens, must have been owned and grown by the exhibitor for at least three months prior to the show. It is expected that all entries will be correctly labeled with both botanical and common names, although a classification committee will be available to assist when the plant is registered. Plants in pots exceeding twelve inches in diameter will be placed in a special class for large specimens and will be subdivided as to category before being judged.

Mrs. Brisson pointed out that grooming of all plants is of primary importance since evidence of insects or their damage, yellowed foliage, or dirt-encrusted pots reflect immediately the fact that the plant has not received proper care. Dust and dirt on leaves should be gently brushed away and spray residue should be removed by carefully wiping the leaves with clear or slightly soapy water. Under no condition should any oily substance be rubbed onto the foliage.

Potted plants should be watered thoroughly prior to entering them for competition. At the same time, the exhibitor should scrub the pot or container as thoroughly clean as possible. Faded or wilted flowers, dead leaves, wires or other "props" should be removed.

Mrs. Brisson also suggested that cut specimens, both blooms and branches, be cut very early in the morning of the show. Containers will be provided for all cut specimens.

The horticulture schedule indicated that cut specimens will be judged for cultural perfection which includes consideration of color, size, substance, form, foliage and/or stem, and the condition of the specimen. Entries may be made in the following sections: A. Annuals and perennials (One stem, except for bachelor button, calendula, candytuft, pinks, single and double nasturtium, pansy, pentas and sweet pea - 3 stems; violet and viola (6 stems); B. Camellia; C. Rose; D. Hibiscus; E. Bulb, corms, rhizomes, tubers; F. Flowering, fruiting or berrying shrub, tree or vine (One stem or branch not to exceed 24" in length); G. Foliage (One stem or branch not over 24" in length or 3 leaves from stemless plants, such as aspidistra); H. Cut orchids.

Container grown plants will be judged primarily for their cultural perfection and condition with floriferousness a consideration in blooming plants. These sections include: I. Bulb, corms, rhizomes, tubers; J. Cacti and succulents; K. Flowering or berrying plants; L. Ferns and allies; M. Foliage plants; N. Palma; O. Orchids; P. New, rare or exotic plants; Q. (Collections of 1) Five varieties of any one kind of plant, each in a separate container; or 2) At least three plants, alike or different, in one container not to exceed 12" x 18"; R. Plants in oversized containers (exceeding 12" in diameter.)

In all sections, the exhibitor may enter only one specimen of the same variety in each class or subclass except in Q. above.

Dear Abby:

DEAR ABBY: I need a serious answer. Times after time you advise women, who are married to men who have lost all interest in sex, to "get him to a doctor." Now tell me, Abby. Exactly what can a doctor do for him?

MARRIED TO ONE DEAR MARRIED: A doctor can tell whether his lack of interest is due to physical reasons, or psychological ones. If it's physical, the situation might possibly be remedied with proper treatment. If it's psychological, the man might need psychotherapy. If it's due to the natural aging process, and nothing can be done to restore his interest, then the wife might need some psychotherapy to help her accept it.

DEAR ABBY: Is it true that people who eat more slowly tend to eat less food? HARRIETTE: Yes, and especially if they are members of a large family.

DEAR ABBY: I know you can't print all the letters you get, but I wish you would print this one. About three years ago I wrote to tell you my troubles, which all started with a drinking problem. You told me to admit to myself that I was an alcoholic and to go to an A.A. meeting. I went, and they gave me all the help and understanding you said they would. After staying on the wagon for months, my wife took me back and I became a family man again. I am now holding down a job. It's hard work, but I'm glad I can do it. I now live according to the A.A. program and still attend meetings. I pay my bills and stay sober one day at a time. I now look at myself in the mirror and I like what I see. I go to parties where others drink, but I stick to my fruit juice. I don't think anybody could get me to take "just one" again. God bless you, Abby, and thank you for helping to give me a new life.

A.A. AND PROUD OF IT: Troubled? Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif.

SECOND WIFE: Look at it this way: If he were trying to get away with something, he'd have destroyed the "evidence."

The maxim "Silence is golden" does not mean that one should remain silent when speech is required, but merely that there is no need to open one's mouth when he has nothing to gain by opening it.

In a recent team game both South players opened with two clubs. In each instance North responded two diamonds because they were playing that bid to show a bad hand over the two club opening.

One East player could not wait to double. He had good diamonds and wanted to tell the world about it.

The diamond double did not discourage his opponents but rather helped them to reach the spade slam since North realized that his singleton diamond had to be just what his partner wanted.

It also helped South in the play. He won the first trick with the diamond ace and promptly ruffed a diamond in dummy. Then he came back to his hand with a heart and ruffed a second diamond. This time he returned with a trump and ruffed his last diamond. Eventually he had to lose a club but the slam was home.

The other East saw no reason to open his mouth. The hand belonged to his opponents and he decided to tell them nothing.

South bid his spades anyway but North had no way to know what his singleton diamond was anything special and North and South settled for a game contract.

Of course, South made the same 12 tricks but the slam bonus was noteworthy for its absence.

We The Women:

The sacred right of Italian husbands to have their breakfast served in bed is not threatened," says a news story out of Turin, Italy.

The story goes on to say that an Italian newspaper printed a letter from an indignant wife who said, although the Italian breakfast is generally just a cup of black coffee, serving it to them in bed gave husbands tyrannical habits.

The newspaper expected to be deluged with letters from wives also fed-up with serving their husbands breakfast in bed.

The avalanche of letters did come—but they were all in favor of continuing the breakfast-in-bed service.

Probably most of those wives had long ago found out that getting up and having a cup of hot coffee ready to hand their husbands when they awakened them is an easy price to pay for a husband who faces the day cheerfully, rather than with a grouch.

And if such small service makes a husband feel like a king—or even a tyrant—well, let him feel like that for a few happy moments each day. It really isn't too surprising that Italian women have voted in favor of a husband's right to have this morning coffee in bed.

The only surprising thing is that at least a few of them didn't suggest that just one day a week the Italian husband get up and make the coffee and bring it to his wife, so that on one-day a week she could feel like a queen.

That would seem to be only fair to the wife.

Too, it ought to make those other six mornings seem more special.

A service that is performed every single day without fail isn't nearly as appreciated as the service that is skipped occasionally.

It takes a bit of doing without to make doing-with feel like pure luxury.

TV Time Previews

TV Time Show of the Night: 10-11 p.m. ABC. Dinah Shore Special. Dinah's musical salute to the Peace Corps is a joyous affair what with Harry Belafonte as her only guest. Without extraneous people, Dinah and Harry do an assortment of songs that are excellent, unusual and multi-lingual. The numbers include the much publicized debut of Earl Brown's "11 Cents an Hour" detailing what is expected of the Peace Corps for practically no return, plus songs in English, Italian, Swahili, Portuguese, Tagalog, Spanish and several other tongues. Sargent Shriver of the Peace Corps makes a brief appearance and the show is played to an audience of Corps recruits on their way to foreign assignments.

8 p.m. NBC. The Man From U.N.C.L.E. "The Bow-Wow Affair" If we wanted to be funny, we might say this series is going to the dogs. That's pretty much what's happening on this show and if the ASPCA wants to protest, no one would blame them.

8:30 p.m. CBS. Andy Griffith Show. "If I Had A $ Million" Barney's a combination Marshall Dillon-Sherlock Holmes tonight. He finds a suitcase full of loot and the FBI is called in. Andy tries desperately to save Barney from becoming a hero, but the dauntless deputy makes it anyway.

9:30 p.m. CBS. The Lucy Show. "Lucy and the Countess Lose Weight" It's flash, flesh and more flesh as Lucy and the countess (Ann Sothern) go to a health farm. You'll be exposed to twisting torsos, vibrating fannies and very busy arms and legs. The girls are there as part of a plot to raise money, but all they succeed in raising is a slapstick ruckus. Even a buxom cow bulls her way into the show.

20,000 Commies Have Infiltrated South Viet Nam

SAIGON (UPI) — The Saigon government charged today that 20,000 Communist-trained officers have infiltrated South Viet Nam since 1959.

A report said the Communists were armed with weapons made in the Soviet Union and Red China.

U. S. Intelligence officials confirmed the South Vietnamese charge and added that the number of Communist infiltrators over the past six years may be closer to 24,000.

South Viet Nam delivered the report in the form of a protest note to the International Control Commission—an agency established in 1954 to police the partition of the two Viet Nams after the French Indo-China war.

North Viet Nam announced that it has asked commission members to withdraw from its territory. The Hanoi regime said it was no longer able to guarantee the safety of commission members in view of the air strikes against North Viet Nam by U. S. and South Vietnamese bombers.

The South Vietnamese report on infiltrators was an attempt to document charges that the guerrilla war in this country is directed and supplied from Hanoi.

"Before being sent south, these troops and cadres receive special training from the central committee for re-education in Hanoi, which works in close co-operation with the North Vietnamese armed forces command and the ministries concerned," the report said.

The report added that the infiltrators receive training in guerrilla warfare, political subversion and espionage. Weapons carried by the Communists included Russian-made Mosin Nagant rifles, Chinese Communist 57-millimeter bazookas and machine-guns and small arms, recoilless rifles and bomb launchers manufactured in Communist East Germany.

The South Vietnamese report said its information came from Communist prisoners of war, defectors and captured Red documents.

U. S. Intelligence sources verified most of the information. The U. S. Embassy here denied a London newspaper report that Communist Chinese soldiers had moved into North Viet Nam.

Youth Corps Shows Promise

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson believes that a pioneering neighborhood youth corps project in Newark, N. J.—the first of its kind—gives hope for a complete victory in the war on poverty.

He made the comment on a report submitted by Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz describing the first results of this phase of the anti-poverty campaign.

The Newark program, which began Jan. 4, now has 318 boys and girls working in the city's schools, hospitals, libraries, museums and other public facilities.

All the youngsters were un-employed school dropouts when they joined the project, Wirtz said.

Field reports indicate the youth corps, a Labor Department program, has encouraged youths to return to school by showing them the value of an education in gaining jobs.

Johnson said more than 180 of the 318 have enrolled in night school classes. Project directors report they have new confidence and determination to succeed.

The President said the fledgling project has encouraged everyone associated with it. He added:

"The war against poverty is, in the last analysis, the struggle for human decency and independence. This report is an early indication that we can succeed in this best of all efforts."

The Newark project eventually will cost $520,000 for 700 youngsters, of which the federal government will pay $465,000 and the city the balance.

Alumni To Fete Honor Students

The Seminole County University of Florida Alumni Club will honor outstanding 11th grade students at its annual business meeting Feb. 25 at the Capri Restaurant.

Dr. J. Wayne Reitz, university president, will speak. The meeting starts at 7:30 p.m. The UF Alumni group also will award a $250 scholarship to an area high school senior who plans to enter the university next fall. The yet unnamed student will be designated the club's first CLASP award winner in a new program begun by the Alumni Association this year.

CLASP (Co-ordinated Local Alumni Scholarship Program) allows the 49 clubs in the state and nation to select deserving students from local areas as recipients of the cash scholarships to the UF.

Election of club officers also will be held, according to Andrew Bracken, who urges a full attendance. Reservations may be made by calling 322-4362, he said.

Teresa Stebbins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Stebbins of Lake Monroe and sixth grade student at Enterprise Elementary School, was first place winner in the "Smile" contest conducted by all Volusia County schools. Her prize was a new bicycle.

Neal Lacy, third grade student selected to represent the Enterprise school, received a model car.

Trooper Cites Two Motorists

A mother and her son were treated at the Navy base dispensary Friday after the car in which they were riding flipped on its side after being clipped in the rear.

Treated for minor cuts and bruises were Mrs. Patricia Jean Dearolph and her son, Daniel, of 119 West Woodland Drive.

Highway Patrol Trooper Jerry Hawthorne said Mrs. Dearolph was driving east on Highway 46 and attempting to make a left turn at Second Avenue. A car operated by Lowanna Drosche, of 155 Country Club Drive, attempted to pass the other vehicle when the two collided.

Trooper Hawthorne charged Mrs. Dearolph with making an improper left turn and the other with driving with an expired license.

President Asks Overhaul Of Plan Of Development

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson is expected to send a special message to Congress this week urging extension of the controversial area redevelopment program but recommending that it be overhauled.

The loan-and-grant plan to help economically depressed areas has been the target of vociferous critics since it was set up about four years ago. It is due to expire June 30.

Congressional sources said that Johnson would request extension of the program and propose a $400 million appropriation to keep it in business.

He also is expected to urge reorganization of the program along lines which, some believe, partially acknowledge the validity of past criticism. The program is intended to woo job-producing industries to chronic unemployment regions by providing subsidies to build plants, public facilities, and other community improvements.

In 1961, Congress provided $451 million to finance it, but the Area Redevelopment Administration—(ARA), which administers the program, ran out of money last summer.

An attempt to replenish the ARA fund was rejected in the House the year before.

President Johnson said in his economic report to Congress last month that ARA had helped economically depressed areas, but he emphasized that "redirection of this program can benefit from the experience of the last four years."

Giant Saturn Lifts 'Duster' Into Orbit

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — A mighty Saturn-1 super rocket today orbited a bat-like "space duster" satellite with giant wings to measure the hazards tiny meteoroids pose to moonships.

The 188-foot booster, America's most powerful, thundered into the sky at 9:37 a. m. in the opener of a two-part nationally televised space spectacular to be followed Wednesday by a Ranger moonshot.

About 11 minutes after the fiery blastoff, space agency spokesmen said Saturn-1 had scored its eighth straight success by propelling the heaviest U. S. scientific satellite into orbit.

The spacecraft, named Pegasus after the winged horse of mythology, emerged from the protective cover of a dummy Apollo mooncraft three minutes later.

Its 96 feet wide wings unfolded like an expanding accordion under the watchful eye of a television camera and began its sweep for tiny bits of cosmic debris whizzing about space.

"We consider that we have the Pegasus meteoroid satellite in orbit," the spokesman said.

He said the Saturn performance was "excellent."

Pegasus so big it will look like a bright twinkling star at night, weighs 23,000 pounds with the Saturn's second stage attached for stability. Its 10,000 pound Apollo cover was kicked into a separate orbit.

By reporting every hit made by a piece of space dust, Pegasus was expected to tell scientists how much protective shielding large space ships will need — particularly Apollo moon ships.

Besides lofting its first scientific satellite, the Saturn was giving engineers further flight data that will help in the development of the larger Saturn 5 rocket that is to send three men to the moon in 1969.

The launch, eighth for the big rocket, was delayed more than an hour by ground computer trouble.

The 15 million pound thrust booster, which Russia may have passed in power with its recent three-man shot, gained momentum slowly as it roared skyward over the Atlantic ahead of a long column of red-yellow flame and smoke.

About a minute later, the Saturn streaked past the speed of sound.

A space agency spokesman said "All systems look good at this time."

Bizarre Plot

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The FBI announced the arrest today of three men and one woman in a bizarre plot to dynamite the Statue of Liberty, the Liberty Bell and the Washington Monument.

General Corp. Distribution Center Here

General Battery and Ceramic Corporation has added another spark to the growing Seminole County economy today when it announced it would locate a distribution center here.

The corporation has obtained a long-term lease on the building formerly occupied by the Chemical Corporation of America on Elm Avenue.

The 20,000 square-foot site will be the focal point for distribution of the firm's products throughout the state.

The Seminole County Chamber of Commerce industrial committee says the company will employ between 15 and 20 persons. Delivery equipment also will be set up here, according to John Krider, Chamber executive manager.

The contracts were made by Jack Feinberg, president of Chemical Corporation of America, and his brother, Irving Feinberg, vice president, with the local industrial committee.

The local division will be known as the General Battery and Spark Plug Company.

U.S. Told To 'Get Out' Russ Demands Forces Leave S. Viet Nam

MOSCOW (UPI) — Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin today demanded that the United States withdraw its forces from South Viet Nam.

The statement was reported by the Soviet news agency Tass in a message sent by Kosygin to a preparatory meeting of the Indochinese peoples conference in Phnom Penh, capital of Cambodia.

"The Soviet Union resolutely demands the withdrawal of U. S. troops and military equipment from South Viet Nam, the cessation of armed provocations against the Democratic republic of Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia and the rejection of any military interference in the internal affairs of Indochina," Kosygin's message said.

It was the second time in the past three days that the Kremlin had made such a demand.

'INHUMAN'

A communique issued Sunday after Kosygin's meeting with North Korean officials during his Asian trip termed the American air attacks on North Viet Nam "inhuman" and called on the United States to pull its troops out of Viet Nam.

The Soviet Union and Great Britain served as co-chairmen of the 1954 Geneva Conference which carved up Southeast Asia after the French Indochina war.

In a statement earlier this week, the Soviets warned the United States that American attacks against Communist North Viet Nam could lead to a world war.

A Radio Moscow broadcast said the United States should be responsible for "the dire consequences."

IMPORTANT STEP

Tass said the Phnom Penh meeting was proposed by Prince Norodom Sihanouk, Cambodia's chief of state.

Kosygin's message said the Soviet Union hoped the conference would be "an important step toward rallying the peoples of Indochina to the defense of national independence at the establishment of peace in that part of the world."

"The main obstacle to the normalization of the situation in the Indochina peninsula now is the reactionary policy of American imperialists," Kosygin said.

"The struggle of the peoples for freedom and independence is a just struggle."
