

St. Pete Commissioner Says Passage Of Homestead Act Will Delay Bond Settlements

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 3.—Continuing his discussion of the proposed homestead exemption amendment, City Commissioner Henry W. Adams has turned to a study of the effect the amendment will have on the city's efforts to refund its bonded indebtedness.

On a recent article, Adams discussed the probable loss to the city in operating revenue should the proposed amendment be passed, and raised questions as to how the loss in revenue would be replaced.

"The proposed amendment," Adams said today, "will inevitably delay a definite settlement of the city's bonded indebtedness. Because it does not explain whether homesteads will be exempted from taxation to support a refunding bond issue."

Under the agreement reached between the city and the bondholders committee, refunding bonds will be issued to replace sinking bond issues in default.

"On this refunding issue is hinged by the same security as the former issues that the agreement will stand. But if the proposed bond 'rocketers,' writes Wyman, 'are also convinced that loss of operating expenses through adoption of the amendment will result in taxing officials raising tax valuations on homesteaded properties, now valued for taxing purposes at less than $5,000, so that on a $7,000 increased valuation, for instance, operating tax might be levied on the $2,000 non-exempt excess. This would result in a per capita increase in levy for debt service.'"

"As things now stand, the city's financial position with regard to its creditors has been clarified, and business conditions more or less stabilized as a result. But the proposed amendment will disrupt this clarification and stabilization."

Adams also related two other points which must be settled in the courts if the amendment passes, and which will cause considerable confusion until the courts make their first ruling.

"First," he said, "there is the question of whether bond owners who rent their homestead for even one month of the year are entitled to exemption under the proposed amendment."

"Several lawyers have voiced the opinion that a homestead, to be entitled to exemptions, must not be rented for even a day. If that is so, it's going to cut down the number of homesteads in this city to a small number."

UTAH BANKER URGES NATION HALT SPENDING

O. W. Adams Hits Rising Taxes, Sees No Substitute For Thrift

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 3.—With more than 25 percent of our national income absorbed by taxes and 37 percent expended by governmental agencies, Orval W. Adams, vice-president of the Utah State National Bank at Salt Lake City, in an article in the current issue of "The American Bankers' Association Journal," urges that the country "stop petitions for public improvement far beyond our means to afford; realize that we cannot solve our problems of governmental finance by easy expedients" and admit that nothing can replace "collective thrift."

"The government," Mr. Adams writes, "and all its political subdivisions under which we live are spending annually $14,700,000,000, which represents approximately 37 percent of our total national income. While this is far beyond our ability even to estimate or imagine, this thing we can understand: that it is far beyond our ability to meet. How and when shall we bring all our power, concentrate all our intelligence to call a halt to such wild abandon?"

"But that is only half of the picture. While we are spending $14,700,000,000 to meet the obligations of government, we are paying out of our current taxes only $7,975,000,000 annually. What of the balance? That is the legacy which we are transferring to the future generations as an impressive evidence of our solicitude for their well-being."

He says that in 1913 our tax bill was $22 per capita, in 1923 $70, and in 1932 public expenditures per capita amounted to $30, and in 1933, as compared with 1913, on per capita basis, taxes were 230 percent, government costs 300 percent and public debts 600 percent increased.

Farley declined to say in what states the Democrats expected to gain Senate seats, but predicted that Sherman Minton, Democratic nominee, would defeat Senator Robinson in Indiana.

"A joke" was the way he described the move in New York to put Col. Henry Breckenridge up as an independent candidate for the Senate, Senator Copeland, Democrat, is up for renomination. Pressed for a statement on Copeland, Farley said he was not even a delegate to the convention that would nominate the Democratic senatorial candidate.

Farley said he would support Governor Lehman for re-election in New York.

Another speaking tour was announced yesterday by Farley but the dates are indefinite. He plans, however, to leave Aug. 15 for Nashville, Tenn., and then will swing west through Little Rock, Oklahoma City, Topeka, Kan., and Denver, where he is to speak either Aug. 21 or 22 to a rural mail carriers' convention. He said he probably would stop at Des Moines enroute back, and that in September he might dedicate a post office building at St. Paul.

SILVER SHIRTS PLAN REVOLT SAYS MARINE

(Continued from Page 1) planned "capture" of the San Diego city hall by force, saying: "It was planned for early in May, when the communists were to stage a May day celebration. The Silver Shirts were ready, too. The 200 armed the Silver Shirts had orders to converge on the city from the outskirts. They counted on the communists going in before them and taking the city by storm. Then in the confusion the Silver Shirts were to overthrow the communists, their avowed enemies."

The "capture" of San Diego failed, however, Grey said, when the communist demonstration failed to materialize.

In declining to appear before the committee Dr. Gysalind displayed a $215 check to newspapermen. It was indorsed by E. W. Rehmer. "Somebody must have made a foolish confusion," he said, "as E. W. Rehmer is a lady—my personal secretary."

Hayes said that as an intelligence worker in the Marines he obtained membership in the San Diego Silver Shirts.

"I was made an instructor," Hayes testified. "The Silver Shirts were armed with rifles, pistols and shotguns, but mainly Springfield rifles bearing a United States government mark."

"I was told the rifles had been purchased from members of the military forces in San Diego. I saw 2000 pounds of ammunition and was told there was another 12,000 pounds cached in four places near San Diego. The ammunition, I was told, had been purchased from Corporals Hudde and Edelson at the North Island naval base."

The former Marine testified the offer for guns and ammunition was made by W. W. Kapp, who was described as commander of the San Diego Silver Shirts.

Hayes quoted Kemp as saying "anything the Silver Shirts did was countenanced by the San Diego sheriff's office with the exception of the under-sheriff who is a Jew."

"The Silver Shirts," Hayes quoted Kemp as saying, "will not be bothered when the time comes to act. Firearms of both the sheriff's office and the police department will be turned over to us. The under-sheriff will be liquidated."

Barnett Named Head Of Junior Commerce Body

(Continued from Page 1) posal on his past experiences, that the age limit be raised to include men through the age of 40.

This proposal had about a dozen supporters but it was defeated when 16 members approved Andrew M. Carraway's motion that persons below the age of 25 be accepted as associate members with full power to vote on any questions brought before the body of the organization but with no right to hold office.

Announcing that he would delay the appointment of standing committee heads until later this week, President Barnett proposed that as a first step, the organization stage a private dance at the Trianon Dance Club on Thursday night Aug. 16, for the purpose of acquainting members and their families with other members, enlisted or prospective, and their families.

Among the speakers at the meeting were Dewey Hooten and Bill Henry of the Orlando Junior Chamber of Commerce. They reminded their audience that the Orlando Jaycees will play host to the Sanford Jaycees at a "stag" party at Waterwitch Club south of Orlando on Thursday afternoon, and they urged a large attendance from this city.

Young men who became members last night with the payment of a portion of their semi-annual dues were: Rev. J. J. Kellaghan, Wallace Phillips, Roy Symes, Jr., Gene Adams, S. O. Shinkholer, Jr., Joseph O'Connor, Fred T. Williams, Jr., Fred Stanley, F. D. Scott, Bill DuBose, George Thurston, James A. Wright, Andrew Carraway, Gordon Barnett, Peter Schaal, Irvin L. Jackson, O. E. Goff, Clyde Ramsey, D. E. McNah, L. P. Hagan, Jr., Roy F. Mann, V. A. Williams, Maxwell Stewart, D. L. Harper, and B. H. Scott, Jr. of Fern Park.

Joe Melch, Glen Ingraham, M. E. Blankenship of Longwood, Joel S. Field, and Babe McCall also signified an intention of affiliating at once, while others attending were Dr. H. W. Rucker, B. C. Moore, J. H. Truluck, and Roy Howell and H. D. Gleason of Lake Mary.

THE STANDINGS

NORTHWEST FLORIDA LEAGUE
W.	L.	Pct.
St. Augustine	11	8	.577
Palatka	10	7	.588
Georgetown	9	7	.563
Jacksonville	9	10	.471
Daytona Beach	1	10	.111
DeLand	1	10	.111

NATIONAL LEAGUE
W.	L.	Pct.
New York	97	28	.773
Chicago	92	41	.692
St. Louis	88	44	.619
Boston	82	52	.559
Pittsburgh	69	51	.570
Brooklyn	63	58	.520
Philadelphia	62	61	.503
Cincinnati	58	67	.462

AMERICAN LEAGUE
W.	L.	Pct.
Detroit	64	21	.753
New York	58	28	.676
Cleveland	54	48	.526
Boston	54	51	.514
Washington	48	58	.448
St. Louis	44	54	.448
Philadelphia	39	69	.362
Chicago	37	65	.362

SOUTHERN ASSOCIATION (Through 24th)
W.	L.	Pct.
New Orleans	25	18	.576
Chattanooga	19	15	.559
Nashville	18	18	.500
Memphis	30	31	.492
Knoxville	17	19	.471
Atlanta	17	22	.435
Birmingham	15	20	.429
Little Rock	15	22	.409

Yesterday's Results

Fee Officers' Earnings Gain Over 1933 Mark

(Continued from Page 1) companies, and not from tax funds.

For this reason, an increase in net earnings and gross receipts is held at the Court House as a fairly accurate indication of the improvement in general economic conditions.

From their receipts the fee officers deduct the expenses of operating their departments, and from the net income they take their own pay. This pay is limited by law to $7500 a year. But the office must do a certain volume of business annually to produce the full amount. None of the officers made the maximum salary in 1933, nor will they this year unless heavy gains are reported for the last six months of this year.

Terminated for the six month period which ended June 30, 1934, the reports reveal the following facts:

CLERK DOUGLASS Fees, commissions and remunerations collected: January, $1,307.88; February, $1,225.84; March, $1,223.70; April, $1,145.84; May, $1,146.05; June, $1,176.29, total for six months, $7,145.60.

Expenses: Office supplies, etc., $242.56; salaries—Miss A. M. Weeks, $712; E. L. Burdick, $4. M. Nora Olive Lantz, $630; Miss Norva Norwood, $570; Miss Helen Douglas, $500; extra help, $220; money advanced to county, $23.65; total expenses, $2,066.61. Net earnings, $5,078.99.

SHERIFF McCLELLAND Fees and costs criminal and insanity cases, $20,483.51; fees and costs in civil cases, $200.21; attendance at all courts and county commission meetings, $622; fees for feeding prisoners, $145.80; commissions on collections, $187.91; all other fees, commissions and remunerations, $1,641.54; total receipts, $23,283.50.

Expenses: Office supplies, etc., $241.97; salaries—O. E. Bostick,

COLLECTOR JINKINS Fees remunerations and commissions collected: from State Comptroller, $1,060.75; from County Commissioner, $1,604.66; from Board of Public Instruction, $777; from State Drainage District, 10 cents; from Upper St. Johns River Navigation District, $281.31; costs on executions and sales, $192.24; tag fees, $1,115.75; total earnings, $6,921.78.

Expenses: Office supplies, etc., $49.74; salaries—T. A. Brotherson, $175; Mrs. M. K. Hall, $327; Miss Helen Jinkins, $460.75; Miss Mary Earle, $285; extra help, $96.67; paid deputies and sheriffs in Orange and Seminole counties for collecting personal property, and licenses, $128.61; paid Walter L. Cooper Agency for surety bond, $200; Maxwell Stewart, surety bond, $10; postage stamps, etc., $50.25; post office box rent $3; expenses collecting license and personal property taxes, $605.30; total expenses, $2,670.32. Net earnings, $4,251.46.

JUDGE SHARON Fees commissions and remunerations received: Court costs, insanity commission and election fees, $306.35; license fees, $560.75; probate court fees, $67.30; salary county court judge, $250; juvenile court judge, $107; total receipts, $2,284.40.

Expenses: Office expenses, etc., $50; salaries—Mrs. Cassandra Schultz, $390; E. Alex Sharon, $240; stamps and incidentals, $50; total expenses, $780. Net earnings, $1,504.40.

ASSESSOR VAUGHAN Fees, commissions and remunerations received: From the state, $566.78; from the county, $1,406.18; from Seminole County School Board, $1,035.77; total receipts, $8,008.73.

Expenses: Office supplies, etc., $63.75; salaries—S. F. Doudney, $1,458.10; Miss Mary Earle, $22.85; expenses of car, $204.90; surety bond premium, $5; total expenses, $1,751.50. Net earnings, $6,257.23.

JUSTICE ROBERTS Fees, remunerations and commissions received: Criminal cases, $423.13; civil cases, $14,550; inquests, $46.80; miscellaneous, $12; total receipts, $17,032.83.

Expenses: Office supplies, $4. Net earnings, $17,028.83.

Collector Jinkins also requested earnings totaling $1,413.28, representing receipts for commissions earned in prior years but not included in the current year. These earnings are listed as follows: Commissions on certificates redeemed as received from Clerk of Court, $1,281.37; commissions on tax certificates sale on Aug. 7, 1934, individual certificates, $131.91.

School Board Gives Bus Transportation 1934-35 Contracts

(Continued from Page One) route will be more accessible this year than last, and to more children.

Last year the route went the bus down Sanford Avenue to Geneva Avenue and then to the schools. This year the bus will come through Ft. Reed and down Melville Avenue to Geneva Avenue and on to schools.

All contracts let this morning will expire in one year. Next year bus contracts will be let on the basis of the bus being all steel construction as provided by a recent state law.

During an earlier morning meeting of the Board, J. E. Fox of Paola, trustee of that district, was given approval of plans for the erection of a garage near Wilson School.

R. D. White of Lake Mary district was named as inspector of all school buildings in the county until he had completed a survey to be made in a few days.

Upon the recommendation of Mrs. A. G. Wagner, S. F. Long, and E. T. Hamill as trustees of Chuloota School District, Mrs. Lucille B. Jacobs was appointed an intermediate teacher at Chuloota this year.

Mrs. Helen T. Morse's resignation as county book clerk was accepted by the Board, and Mrs. Helen H. Schultz was appointed as Mrs. Morse's successor at a salary of $25 per month.

Carolina Slave Gives Advice On Longevity

ROCK HILL, S. C., Aug. 3.—(AP)—Amanda Corawell, former slave who says she is 106, has a new formula for longevity. Asked how she had outlived 16 of her 16 children, the aged negro said: "I always had a good master and was always treated well. The living daughter is 72. Amanda says she also has 40 grandchildren, 50 great-grandchildren, and adds that she once tried to total up her great-grandchildren but found it too much of a task."

Dead Woman Filer In Final Airplane Hop

DAYTON, Ohio, Aug. 3.—(AP)—The well known woman speed and endurance filer, Frances Harrell Marshall, was flown back home in death yesterday. She was killed in the 50-mile featured speed race in the first national air meet for women here Sunday. Monday a cabin plane set out from New York to bear her body back to Long Island City for burial.

Italy Learns That II Duce Expects Child

ROME, Aug. 3.—(AP)—The Italian public has received enthusiastically reports that Signora Rachele Mussolini, wife of the premier, expects the birth of her sixth child about February. The reports were not confirmed but came from what was believed to be a reliable source at Florence where Signora Mussolini cared for the Dolfina children while Frau Dolfina attended the funeral of her slain husband in Vienna. Frau Dolfina also expects to become a mother soon.

California Judge Is Denied Courtrooms

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 3.—(AP)—Superior Judge Harry F. Bowell, who has been accused in an affidavit filed by presiding Judge Frank Collier of having been intoxicated on the bench, was deposed of his courtrooms Monday. Judge Collier, who also has ordered that no more cases be assigned Judge Bowell, assigned to other judges the 12 courtrooms in which Judge Bowell has been sitting.

Bandits Slay Kentuckian

LEXINGTON, Ky., Aug. 3.—(AP)—F. D. "Dixie" Knight, 31, wealthy Jessamine county farmer, landowner and horse breeder, was shot dead in his home Wednesday night by two bandits who robbed him and two persons in the residence of jewelry valued at $1,500 and $7 in cash.

From Relief From Itching Eczema

It's wonderful how quickly relief comes from the relief of itching eczema. The relief is so quick that you can be free from the itching in a few days. The relief is so quick that you can be free from the itching in a few days. The relief is so quick that you can be free from the itching in a few days.

Divorce Criticism Filed

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 3.—(AP)—Criticism by Frank C. Collier, presiding judge of the Los Angeles superior court, concerning the 43-minute divorce case of Eleanor Wilson McAdoo against United States Senator William Gibbs McAdoo, will remain on file with the papers Judge Stanley Murray ruled Monday. A motion to strike the comments from the files was made by McAdoo's attorneys.

DUCE REVIEWS FLEET

GAETA, Italy, Aug. 3.—(AP)—Premier Mussolini's squadron went on a mimic battle off Gaeta in the naval maneuvers yesterday. It was on the bridge of the 10,000-ton cruiser "Folgata" when "enemy" submarines made a "wham" attack in a desperate effort to save a retreating warship.

Let Us Frame That Picture For You Now. Wieboldt Studio.

The ACCOMMODATION SHOP Dress Making—Grip Covers—Buttons—Elastic Holes—Lingerie—FLEATING—HEMSTITCHING—Prints, Yellows and Blouses—116 W. 1st St. Mrs. Mary Brown

Lumber And Roofing Security Lumber Co. Phone 117

"Burpee's Seeds" Flower And Vegetable Now Available HENRY A. RUSSELL SEED CO. 106 S. Park Ave. Phone 613

Est At Dossey's

We Clean Anything and With Our Process it WILL NOT SHRINK Lancy Dry Cleaners Phone 105 110 E. 2nd

For Better Service—SEMINOLE DRY CLEANERS Phone 201 124 Augusta Ave.

We Want Your Abstract Business If you expect to make a Farm, or other item on your property your Abstract of Title will have to be brought up to date. We can give you prompt service, and will appreciate your business. Republic County Title and Abstract Company

RESULTS FROM WANT ADS RATES

1st Line 1 time
2d Line 3 times
3d Line 5 times
4th Line 1 month

Count less words to line. Double rate for capital or black box letters.

Minimum charge 20c

All classified advertisements should be placed for the number of times desired. The publisher of this paper will be glad to estimate the cost of any advertisement.

HAVE YOUR WATCH repaired by one who really knows how Elgin, Jeweler, Mag. Ave.

2—Lard and Found

FOUND: Pair of mules, red and black. Herbert G. Eshwin, Lake Wales.

2—Automobiles

1923 DUAL long wheel base Dodge Truck, 1928 Model A Coach 1923 Ford & Son.

2—Business Service

LET J. W. SHADON repair and adjust your lawnmower. They'll cut like new. 219 Elm Ave. Phone 719-W.

16—Houses For Rent

PARTLY FURNISHED house 5 rooms, bath, and garage. Excellent neighborhood. Cheap rent. Call Phone 223-M.

FURNISHED HOUSE for rent. Electric stove and electric refrigerator. Six rooms and bath. Reasonable. 1006 Palmetto. A. P. Cassidy and Son.

25—Miscellaneous For Sale

Want you give us an opportunity to figure with you on ANYTHING IN THE PAINT LINE? Stanley-Rogers Hardware Co.

FREDSON Tractor, Plow and Disk. Route One, South of Georgetown, T. A. Ecklin.

FREDSON tractor and disk. G. C. Sperry, Marshall Avenue.

COMPLETE sprinkling system. Two acres crab grass. H. A. McDaniel.

FOR SALE: 5 foot Served and Ketchikan electric refrigerator. $288. 25 lb. steel box. $10.00. Marshall Electric Co.

FOR RENT BICYCLES

With New Riding BALLPOON TIRES
John & Son—Days & Nights
122 Henderson
Caring Trade Headquarters

FOR RENT BICYCLES

With New Riding BALLPOON TIRES
John & Son—Days & Nights
122 Henderson
Caring Trade Headquarters

FOR RENT BICYCLES

With New Riding BALLPOON TIRES
John & Son—Days & Nights
122 Henderson
Caring Trade Headquarters

FOR RENT BICYCLES

With New Riding BALLPOON TIRES
John & Son—Days & Nights
122 Henderson
Caring Trade Headquarters

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE OF WITHDRAWAL OF EVIDENCE

I, Captain EARLE T. LOUCKE, of Sanford, Florida hereby notify the public generally that from July 25th, 1934, I will not be responsible for anything charged to me by my wife, Mrs. Maud Margaret Griffin Loucke, nor for any credit extended to her.

I am taking this notice of notification so that all parties may be fully warned.

Captain EARLE T. LOUCKE

IN THE COURT OF THE COUNTY JUDGE, SEMINOLE COUNTY, FLORIDA, AT GEORGETOWN.

In re the Estate of SAMANTHA BAKER, Deceased, in Probate.

FINAL NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned will, on the 5th day of September, A. D. 1934, present to the Honorable County Judge of Seminole County, Florida, her final return, account and vouchers in account of the Estate of SAMANTHA BAKER, deceased, and at said time, then and there, make application to the said Judge for a final settlement of her administration of said estate, and for an order discharging her as such executrix. Dated this 11th day of July, A. D. 1934.

MAR SHRAPER, As Executrix of the Estate of Samantha Baker, Deceased.

NOTICE

This certificate that Carl Humphries, who was convicted in Seminole County, June 1933 for breaching and entering, and sentenced to 30 days in prison for five years will apply for clemency (out of state) Friday of the next regular meeting of the Board.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE OF WITHDRAWAL OF EVIDENCE

I, Captain EARLE T. LOUCKE, of Sanford, Florida hereby notify the public generally that from July 25th, 1934, I will not be responsible for anything charged to me by my wife, Mrs. Maud Margaret Griffin Loucke, nor for any credit extended to her.

I am taking this notice of notification so that all parties may be fully warned.

Captain EARLE T. LOUCKE

IN THE COURT OF THE COUNTY JUDGE, SEMINOLE COUNTY, FLORIDA, AT GEORGETOWN.

In re the Estate of SAMANTHA BAKER, Deceased, in Probate.

FINAL NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned will, on the 5th day of September, A. D. 1934, present to the Honorable County Judge of Seminole County, Florida, her final return, account and vouchers in account of the Estate of SAMANTHA BAKER, deceased, and at said time, then and there, make application to the said Judge for a final settlement of her administration of said estate, and for an order discharging her as such executrix. Dated this 11th day of July, A. D. 1934.

MAR SHRAPER, As Executrix of the Estate of Samantha Baker, Deceased.

NOTICE

This certificate that Carl Humphries, who was convicted in Seminole County, June 1933 for breaching and entering, and sentenced to 30 days in prison for five years will apply for clemency (out of state) Friday of the next regular meeting of the Board.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE OF WITHDRAWAL OF EVIDENCE

I, Captain EARLE T. LOUCKE, of Sanford, Florida hereby notify the public generally that from July 25th, 1934, I will not be responsible for anything charged to me by my wife, Mrs. Maud Margaret Griffin Loucke, nor for any credit extended to her.

I am taking this notice of notification so that all parties may be fully warned.

Captain EARLE T. LOUCKE

IN THE COURT OF THE COUNTY JUDGE, SEMINOLE COUNTY, FLORIDA, AT GEORGETOWN.

In re the Estate of SAMANTHA BAKER, Deceased, in Probate.

FINAL NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned will, on the 5th day of September, A. D. 1934, present to the Honorable County Judge of Seminole County, Florida, her final return, account and vouchers in account of the Estate of SAMANTHA BAKER, deceased, and at said time, then and there, make application to the said Judge for a final settlement of her administration of said estate, and for an order discharging her as such executrix. Dated this 11th day of July, A. D. 1934.

MAR SHRAPER, As Executrix of the Estate of Samantha Baker, Deceased.

NOTICE

This certificate that Carl Humphries, who was convicted in Seminole County, June 1933 for breaching and entering, and sentenced to 30 days in prison for five years will apply for clemency (out of state) Friday of the next regular meeting of the Board.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE OF WITHDRAWAL OF EVIDENCE

I, Captain EARLE T. LOUCKE, of Sanford, Florida hereby notify the public generally that from July 25th, 1934, I will not be responsible for anything charged to me by my wife, Mrs. Maud Margaret Griffin Loucke, nor for any credit extended to her.

I am taking this notice of notification so that all parties may be fully warned.

Captain EARLE T. LOUCKE

IN THE COURT OF THE COUNTY JUDGE, SEMINOLE COUNTY, FLORIDA, AT GEORGETOWN.

In re the Estate of SAMANTHA BAKER, Deceased, in Probate.

FINAL NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned will, on the 5th day of September, A. D. 1934, present to the Honorable County Judge of Seminole County, Florida, her final return, account and vouchers in account of the Estate of SAMANTHA BAKER, deceased, and at said time, then and there, make application to the said Judge for a final settlement of her administration of said estate, and for an order discharging her as such executrix. Dated this 11th day of July, A. D. 1934.

MAR SHRAPER, As Executrix of the Estate of Samantha Baker, Deceased.

NOTICE

This certificate that Carl Humphries, who was convicted in Seminole County, June 1933 for breaching and entering, and sentenced to 30 days in prison for five years will apply for clemency (out of state) Friday of the next regular meeting of the Board.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE OF WITHDRAWAL OF EVIDENCE

I, Captain EARLE T. LOUCKE, of Sanford, Florida hereby notify the public generally that from July 25th, 1934, I will not be responsible for anything charged to me by my wife, Mrs. Maud Margaret Griffin Loucke, nor for any credit extended to her.

I am taking this notice of notification so that all parties may be fully warned.

Captain EARLE T. LOUCKE

IN THE COURT OF THE COUNTY JUDGE, SEM

Our Latin-American Trade

The World is being dominated in the present by the policy of Governor Shultz to various Latin-American countries for the purpose of promoting friendly relations with these people to the south of us and of stimulating our commerce with them. We have felt for a long time that a wonderful field of opportunity was being neglected in this regard. One of the major causes of our business difficulties was the decline of our foreign trade.

Why is it that because of the stimulation of our business in South America and Puerto Rico of the activity of our nation's business the fact remains that the popularity of the United States among the Latin-American countries has waned considerably in recent years, and our sales to these have declined to almost insignificant figures? At the same time we have bought less and less from them, until their shortage of markets here has become an outstanding cause of general social unrest.

Not that we have sold less to Latin America than we did during the war. Not since 1930 have we bought less from them. During the war years, when we were in particular need of large amounts of rubber, fertilizers, and various other commodities, our Latin-American purchases crossed the billion dollar mark. From 1917 to 1923, with two lone exceptions, we bought more than a billion dollars worth of goods a year from these countries. Needless to say such purchases played an important part in the prosperity which they enjoyed during that era.

Since 1923 our purchases have declined steadily. They were $363,000,000 in 1923; $353,000,000 in 1924; $309,000,000 in 1925; $254,000,000 in 1926; $282,000,000 in 1927; and only $228,000,000 in 1928. Because of this startling decline in their sales, our neighbors in the Southern Hemisphere have been forced to curtail their purchases here from $322,000,000 in 1927 to $192,000,000 in 1928. Because of this decline of more than a half billion dollars in our sales, thousands of men are now unemployed who used to be engaged in making the things sold to Latin America.

Not can it be said in the case of Latin America that by buying things there we would be neglecting our own manufacturers and producers. With very few exceptions most of the things which are usually imported from Latin America are things which either cannot be produced in this country at all, or not in sufficient quantities to meet normal demands. The great bulk of our Latin-American imports consist of sugar, coffee, rubber, certain lumber such as mahogany, nitrate, and fruits and nuts.

Because they no longer sell these things to us in former quantities, many Latin-American plantations are now idle, with thousands of employees unemployed, simply waiting for something to happen, or agitating against their governments. And because they cannot sell to us, they are unable to buy from us. So thousands of Americans, formerly making the things they sold to Latin America, are also unemployed, forced to accept the charity of our government.

Common sense would seem to indicate that a reasonable exchange of goods between these two great continents could be arranged for the mutual advantage of all the people. If Governor Shultz can soften the ill will which now exists, or contribute in any other way toward the revival of this dormant trade, he will have made a great contribution to our business recovery.

WHERE COMMUNISM WALKS

Backward, with Jack London with his "Iron Heel"—these and many other things in this galaxy of imaginative thinkers.

It is not the impracticability of these plans that is significant, but their economic vulnerability, and their misreading of human nature. These are obvious. State based ideas are not the result of a rational plan of liberty, Campanella, anticipating the William Greider and Stuart Chase of our day by 300 years, thought a fair-boys day would be the result.

All the plans have quiet and unobtrusive support in relation to sex or religion or crime or social habit.

The real significance of all these works is that they are the expression of that disquiet with economic inequality, that resentment of the injustice of the competitive system, that persistent protest against the wrong of property which generous men have felt throughout history. Every one of the plans abolishes private property and economic competition, as these have existed in all the world since the beginning of time. Only Marx has a Diopha without collective ownership.

All the proposed systems are childlike visionary, with one shining exception, in the midst of poverty and pain, an extraordinary German Jew, Karl Marx, wrote the one imperative outline of a reconstructed economic order, "Das Kapital," mercilessly dissects the competitive system, demonstrates its inevitable decline and predicts a co-operative economic order. Three books have altered the course of history above all others: the Bible, the "Origin of Species" and "Das Kapital."

Marx's vast achievement was accomplished indirectly. His three-volume book is one of those great works everybody talks about and nobody reads. It sits in bookshelves, belittled German in translation. It is beyond ordinary comprehension. A hundred books have been written to explain Marx and not one has done it. It is almost a comic book that a brilliant Englishman has just recently tried again, and after a year after a nation of 100,000,000 people in a bloody shambles, was forced into a system of life that was supposed to be exactly Marxian.

Marx's economic reasoning was unspurious, his theory of production inadequate, his forecast of the social order incorrect, his philosophy not even new. But he presented the first complete explanation of economic evolution, predicted with inspired analysis many of the results of a mechanized industry and offered a definite program for the complete destruction of capitalism.

WHERE COMMUNISM WALKS

Backward, with Jack London with his "Iron Heel"—these and many other things in this galaxy of imaginative thinkers.

It is not the impracticability of these plans that is significant, but their economic vulnerability, and their misreading of human nature. These are obvious. State based ideas are not the result of a rational plan of liberty, Campanella, anticipating the William Greider and Stuart Chase of our day by 300 years, thought a fair-boys day would be the result.

All the plans have quiet and unobtrusive support in relation to sex or religion or crime or social habit.

The real significance of all these works is that they are the expression of that disquiet with economic inequality, that resentment of the injustice of the competitive system, that persistent protest against the wrong of property which generous men have felt throughout history. Every one of the plans abolishes private property and economic competition, as these have existed in all the world since the beginning of time. Only Marx has a Diopha without collective ownership.

All the proposed systems are childlike visionary, with one shining exception, in the midst of poverty and pain, an extraordinary German Jew, Karl Marx, wrote the one imperative outline of a reconstructed economic order, "Das Kapital," mercilessly dissects the competitive system, demonstrates its inevitable decline and predicts a co-operative economic order. Three books have altered the course of history above all others: the Bible, the "Origin of Species" and "Das Kapital."

Marx's vast achievement was accomplished indirectly. His three-volume book is one of those great works everybody talks about and nobody reads. It sits in bookshelves, belittled German in translation. It is beyond ordinary comprehension. A hundred books have been written to explain Marx and not one has done it. It is almost a comic book that a brilliant Englishman has just recently tried again, and after a year after a nation of 100,000,000 people in a bloody shambles, was forced into a system of life that was supposed to be exactly Marxian.

Marx's economic reasoning was unspurious, his theory of production inadequate, his forecast of the social order incorrect, his philosophy not even new. But he presented the first complete explanation of economic evolution, predicted with inspired analysis many of the results of a mechanized industry and offered a definite program for the complete destruction of capitalism.

WHERE COMMUNISM WALKS

Backward, with Jack London with his "Iron Heel"—these and many other things in this galaxy of imaginative thinkers.

It is not the impracticability of these plans that is significant, but their economic vulnerability, and their misreading of human nature. These are obvious. State based ideas are not the result of a rational plan of liberty, Campanella, anticipating the William Greider and Stuart Chase of our day by 300 years, thought a fair-boys day would be the result.

All the plans have quiet and unobtrusive support in relation to sex or religion or crime or social habit.

The real significance of all these works is that they are the expression of that disquiet with economic inequality, that resentment of the injustice of the competitive system, that persistent protest against the wrong of property which generous men have felt throughout history. Every one of the plans abolishes private property and economic competition, as these have existed in all the world since the beginning of time. Only Marx has a Diopha without collective ownership.

All the proposed systems are childlike visionary, with one shining exception, in the midst of poverty and pain, an extraordinary German Jew, Karl Marx, wrote the one imperative outline of a reconstructed economic order, "Das Kapital," mercilessly dissects the competitive system, demonstrates its inevitable decline and predicts a co-operative economic order. Three books have altered the course of history above all others: the Bible, the "Origin of Species" and "Das Kapital."

Marx's vast achievement was accomplished indirectly. His three-volume book is one of those great works everybody talks about and nobody reads. It sits in bookshelves, belittled German in translation. It is beyond ordinary comprehension. A hundred books have been written to explain Marx and not one has done it. It is almost a comic book that a brilliant Englishman has just recently tried again, and after a year after a nation of 100,000,000 people in a bloody shambles, was forced into a system of life that was supposed to be exactly Marxian.

Marx's economic reasoning was unspurious, his theory of production inadequate, his forecast of the social order incorrect, his philosophy not even new. But he presented the first complete explanation of economic evolution, predicted with inspired analysis many of the results of a mechanized industry and offered a definite program for the complete destruction of capitalism.

WHERE COMMUNISM WALKS

Backward, with Jack London with his "Iron Heel"—these and many other things in this galaxy of imaginative thinkers.

It is not the impracticability of these plans that is significant, but their economic vulnerability, and their misreading of human nature. These are obvious. State based ideas are not the result of a rational plan of liberty, Campanella, anticipating the William Greider and Stuart Chase of our day by 300 years, thought a fair-boys day would be the result.

All the plans have quiet and unobtrusive support in relation to sex or religion or crime or social habit.

The real significance of all these works is that they are the expression of that disquiet with economic inequality, that resentment of the injustice of the competitive system, that persistent protest against the wrong of property which generous men have felt throughout history. Every one of the plans abolishes private property and economic competition, as these have existed in all the world since the beginning of time. Only Marx has a Diopha without collective ownership.

All the proposed systems are childlike visionary, with one shining exception, in the midst of poverty and pain, an extraordinary German Jew, Karl Marx, wrote the one imperative outline of a reconstructed economic order, "Das Kapital," mercilessly dissects the competitive system, demonstrates its inevitable decline and predicts a co-operative economic order. Three books have altered the course of history above all others: the Bible, the "Origin of Species" and "Das Kapital."

Marx's vast achievement was accomplished indirectly. His three-volume book is one of those great works everybody talks about and nobody reads. It sits in bookshelves, belittled German in translation. It is beyond ordinary comprehension. A hundred books have been written to explain Marx and not one has done it. It is almost a comic book that a brilliant Englishman has just recently tried again, and after a year after a nation of 100,000,000 people in a bloody shambles, was forced into a system of life that was supposed to be exactly Marxian.

Marx's economic reasoning was unspurious, his theory of production inadequate, his forecast of the social order incorrect, his philosophy not even new. But he presented the first complete explanation of economic evolution, predicted with inspired analysis many of the results of a mechanized industry and offered a definite program for the complete destruction of capitalism.

WHERE COMMUNISM WALKS

Backward, with Jack London with his "Iron Heel"—these and many other things in this galaxy of imaginative thinkers.

It is not the impracticability of these plans that is significant, but their economic vulnerability, and their misreading of human nature. These are obvious. State based ideas are not the result of a rational plan of liberty, Campanella, anticipating the William Greider and Stuart Chase of our day by 300 years, thought a fair-boys day would be the result.

All the plans have quiet and unobtrusive support in relation to sex or religion or crime or social habit.

The real significance of all these works is that they are the expression of that disquiet with economic inequality, that resentment of the injustice of the competitive system, that persistent protest against the wrong of property which generous men have felt throughout history. Every one of the plans abolishes private property and economic competition, as these have existed in all the world since the beginning of time. Only Marx has a Diopha without collective ownership.

All the proposed systems are childlike visionary, with one shining exception, in the midst of poverty and pain, an extraordinary German Jew, Karl Marx, wrote the one imperative outline of a reconstructed economic order, "Das Kapital," mercilessly dissects the competitive system, demonstrates its inevitable decline and predicts a co-operative economic order. Three books have altered the course of history above all others: the Bible, the "Origin of Species" and "Das Kapital."

Marx's vast achievement was accomplished indirectly. His three-volume book is one of those great works everybody talks about and nobody reads. It sits in bookshelves, belittled German in translation. It is beyond ordinary comprehension. A hundred books have been written to explain Marx and not one has done it. It is almost a comic book that a brilliant Englishman has just recently tried again, and after a year after a nation of 100,000,000 people in a bloody shambles, was forced into a system of life that was supposed to be exactly Marxian.

Marx's economic reasoning was unspurious, his theory of production inadequate, his forecast of the social order incorrect, his philosophy not even new. But he presented the first complete explanation of economic evolution, predicted with inspired analysis many of the results of a mechanized industry and offered a definite program for the complete destruction of capitalism.

WHERE COMMUNISM WALKS

Backward, with Jack London with his "Iron Heel"—these and many other things in this galaxy of imaginative thinkers.

It is not the impracticability of these plans that is significant, but their economic vulnerability, and their misreading of human nature. These are obvious. State based ideas are not the result of a rational plan of liberty, Campanella, anticipating the William Greider and Stuart Chase of our day by 300 years, thought a fair-boys day would be the result.

All the plans have quiet and unobtrusive support in relation to sex or religion or crime or social habit.

The real significance of all these works is that they are the expression of that disquiet with economic inequality, that resentment of the injustice of the competitive system, that persistent protest against the wrong of property which generous men have felt throughout history. Every one of the plans abolishes private property and economic competition, as these have existed in all the world since the beginning of time. Only Marx has a Diopha without collective ownership.

All the proposed systems are childlike visionary, with one shining exception, in the midst of poverty and pain, an extraordinary German Jew, Karl Marx, wrote the one imperative outline of a reconstructed economic order, "Das Kapital," mercilessly dissects the competitive system, demonstrates its inevitable decline and predicts a co-operative economic order. Three books have altered the course of history above all others: the Bible, the "Origin of Species" and "Das Kapital."

Marx's vast achievement was accomplished indirectly. His three-volume book is one of those great works everybody talks about and nobody reads. It sits in bookshelves, belittled German in translation. It is beyond ordinary comprehension. A hundred books have been written to explain Marx and not one has done it. It is almost a comic book that a brilliant Englishman has just recently tried again, and after a year after a nation of 100,000,000 people in a bloody shambles, was forced into a system of life that was supposed to be exactly Marxian.

Marx's economic reasoning was unspurious, his theory of production inadequate, his forecast of the social order incorrect, his philosophy not even new. But he presented the first complete explanation of economic evolution, predicted with inspired analysis many of the results of a mechanized industry and offered a definite program for the complete destruction of capitalism.

WHERE COMMUNISM WALKS

Backward, with Jack London with his "Iron Heel"—these and many other things in this galaxy of imaginative thinkers.

It is not the impracticability of these plans that is significant, but their economic vulnerability, and their misreading of human nature. These are obvious. State based ideas are not the result of a rational plan of liberty, Campanella, anticipating the William Greider and Stuart Chase of our day by 300 years, thought a fair-boys day would be the result.

All the plans have quiet and unobtrusive support in relation to sex or religion or crime or social habit.

The real significance of all these works is that they are the expression of that disquiet with economic inequality, that resentment of the injustice of the competitive system, that persistent protest against the wrong of property which generous men have felt throughout history. Every one of the plans abolishes private property and economic competition, as these have existed in all the world since the beginning of time. Only Marx has a Diopha without collective ownership.

All the proposed systems are childlike visionary, with one shining exception, in the midst of poverty and pain, an extraordinary German Jew, Karl Marx, wrote the one imperative outline of a reconstructed economic order, "Das Kapital," mercilessly dissects the competitive system, demonstrates its inevitable decline and predicts a co-operative economic order. Three books have altered the course of history above all others: the Bible, the "Origin of Species" and "Das Kapital."

Marx's vast achievement was accomplished indirectly. His three-volume book is one of those great works everybody talks about and nobody reads. It sits in bookshelves, belittled German in translation. It is beyond ordinary comprehension. A hundred books have been written to explain Marx and not one has done it. It is almost a comic book that a brilliant Englishman has just recently tried again, and after a year after a nation of 100,000,000 people in a bloody shambles, was forced into a system of life that was supposed to be exactly Marxian.

Marx's economic reasoning was unspurious, his theory of production inadequate, his forecast of the social order incorrect, his philosophy not even new. But he presented the first complete explanation of economic evolution, predicted with inspired analysis many of the results of a mechanized industry and offered a definite program for the complete destruction of capitalism.

WHERE COMMUNISM WALKS

Backward, with Jack London with his "Iron Heel"—these and many other things in this galaxy of imaginative thinkers.

It is not the impracticability of these plans that is significant, but their economic vulnerability, and their misreading of human nature. These are obvious. State based ideas are not the result of a rational plan of liberty, Campanella, anticipating the William Greider and Stuart Chase of our day by 300 years, thought a fair-boys day would be the result.

All the plans have quiet and unobtrusive support in relation to sex or religion or crime or social habit.

The real significance of all these works is that they are the expression of that disquiet with economic inequality, that resentment of the injustice of the competitive system, that persistent protest against the wrong of property which generous men have felt throughout history. Every one of the plans abolishes private property and economic competition, as these have existed in all the world since the beginning of time. Only Marx has a Diopha without collective ownership.

All the proposed systems are childlike visionary, with one shining exception, in the midst of poverty and pain, an extraordinary German Jew, Karl Marx, wrote the one imperative outline of a reconstructed economic order, "Das Kapital," mercilessly dissects the competitive system, demonstrates its inevitable decline and predicts a co-operative economic order. Three books have altered the course of history above all others: the Bible, the "Origin of Species" and "Das Kapital."

Marx's vast achievement was accomplished indirectly. His three-volume book is one of those great works everybody talks about and nobody reads. It sits in bookshelves, belittled German in translation. It is beyond ordinary comprehension. A hundred books have been written to explain Marx and not one has done it. It is almost a comic book that a brilliant Englishman has just recently tried again, and after a year after a nation of 100,000,000 people in a bloody shambles, was forced into a system of life that was supposed to be exactly Marxian.

Marx's economic reasoning was unspurious, his theory of production inadequate, his forecast of the social order incorrect, his philosophy not even new. But he presented the first complete explanation of economic evolution, predicted with inspired analysis many of the results of a mechanized industry and offered a definite program for the complete destruction of capitalism.

WHERE COMMUNISM WALKS

Backward, with Jack London with his "Iron Heel"—these and many other things in this galaxy of imaginative thinkers.

It is not the impracticability of these plans that is significant, but their economic vulnerability, and their misreading of human nature. These are obvious. State based ideas are not the result of a rational plan of liberty, Campanella, anticipating the William Greider and Stuart Chase of our day by 300 years, thought a fair-boys day would be the result.

All the plans have quiet and unobtrusive support in relation to sex or religion or crime or social habit.

The real significance of all these works is that they are the expression of that disquiet with economic inequality, that resentment of the injustice of the competitive system, that persistent protest against the wrong of property which generous men have felt throughout history. Every one of the plans abolishes private property and economic competition, as these have existed in all the world since the beginning of time. Only Marx has a Diopha without collective ownership.

All the proposed systems are childlike visionary, with one shining exception, in the midst of poverty and pain, an extraordinary German Jew, Karl Marx, wrote the one imperative outline of a reconstructed economic order, "Das Kapital," mercilessly dissects the competitive system, demonstrates its inevitable decline and predicts a co-operative economic order. Three books have altered the course of history above all others: the Bible, the "Origin of Species" and "Das Kapital."

Marx's vast achievement was accomplished indirectly. His three-volume book is one of those great works everybody talks about and nobody reads. It sits in bookshelves, belittled German in translation. It is beyond ordinary comprehension. A hundred books have been written to explain Marx and not one has done it. It is almost a comic book that a brilliant Englishman has just recently tried again, and after a year after a nation of 100,000,000 people in a bloody shambles, was forced into a system of life that was supposed to be exactly Marxian.

Marx's economic reasoning was unspurious, his theory of production inadequate, his forecast of the social order incorrect, his philosophy not even new. But he presented the first complete explanation of economic evolution, predicted with inspired analysis many of the results of a mechanized industry and offered a definite program for the complete destruction of capitalism.

The Treasury Out Of Politics

Great are the opportunities for officials in the Treasury Department of the United States, particularly those concerned with the collection of income and other forms of taxes, to exert political influence in connection with local as well as national elections. It is therefore a wholesome indication when the Secretary of the Treasury issues a series of regulations prohibiting any partisan activity on the part of his employees. The text of Secretary Morgenthau's recent regulation is as follows:

The following regulations with respect to political activity of officers and employees of the United States Treasury Department will become effective Sept. 1, 1934. From and after that date no officer or employee of the Treasury Department will be permitted:

1. To hold any other public or political office.
2. To become a candidate for a political office.
3. To be a member or officer of any official committee of a political party, or any other committee that solicits funds for political purposes.
4. To own, edit, or manage a political publication.
5. To display such obtrusive partisanship as to cause public scandal.
6. To attempt to manipulate party primaries or conventions.
7. To use his position to bring about his selection as a delegate to a convention.
8. To act as chairman of a political convention.
9. To assume the active conduct of a political campaign.
10. To use his position to interfere with an election or to affect the result thereof.
11. To make his public duties.

SANFORD TWENTY YEARS AGO

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Aug. 6.—The "Golden Era" of Sanford, Fla., is being recalled in a special issue of the "Sanford Herald" published today. The issue is devoted to the history of the town from its early days to the present. It contains many interesting facts and figures, and is a valuable contribution to the town's history.

The "Golden Era" of Sanford was a time of great prosperity and growth. The town was founded in 1888 and quickly became a major center of commerce and industry in the region. It was a time when the town was known for its beautiful scenery and its friendly people.

The "Golden Era" of Sanford was a time when the town was known for its beautiful scenery and its friendly people. It was a time when the town was known for its beautiful scenery and its friendly people. It was a time when the town was known for its beautiful scenery and its friendly people.

SUPREME COURT RULES IN FAVOR OF ALL CITIZENS

Any Man Has Right To See Public Records Says High Tribunal

TALLAHASSEE, Aug. 6.—(AP)—The Florida law giving every citizen a right to examine public records, the state supreme court yesterday ruled in favor of the law.

The court ruled in favor of the law in a case involving the records of the Tallahassee Beach city officials. The court ruled that the law is constitutional and that every citizen has a right to see public records.

The court ruled that the law is constitutional and that every citizen has a right to see public records. The court ruled that the law is constitutional and that every citizen has a right to see public records.

SUPREME COURT RULES IN FAVOR OF ALL CITIZENS

Any Man Has Right To See Public Records Says High Tribunal

TALLAHASSEE, Aug. 6.—(AP)—The Florida law giving every citizen a right to examine public records, the state supreme court yesterday ruled in favor of the law.

The court ruled in favor of the law in a case involving the records of the Tallahassee Beach city officials. The court ruled that the law is constitutional and that every citizen has a right to see public records.

The court ruled that the law is constitutional and that every citizen has a right to see public records. The court ruled that the law is constitutional and that every citizen has a right to see public records.

THE KICK BEER
On the STEVE'S PLACE

STEVE'S PLACE

SEMI-TRUCK TIRE SHO

I like the likes of you -

—looks like you like them too

They say -
that's a good reason for liking anything

the cigarette that...
the cigarette that...
the cigarette that...

St. Pete Commissioner Says Passage Of Homestead Act Will Delay Bond Settlements

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 5.—Continuing his discussion of the proposed homestead exemption amendment, City Councilman Henry W. Adams has turned to a study of the effect the amendment will have on the city's efforts to refund its bonded indebtedness.

(In a recent article, Adams discussed the probable loss to the city in operating revenue should the proposed amendment be passed, and raised questions as to how the loss in revenue would be replaced.)

"The proposed amendment," Adams said today, "will inevitably delay a definite settlement of the city's bonded indebtedness because it does not explain whether homesteads will be exempted from taxation to support a refunding bond issue."

"Under the agreement reached between the city and the bondholders committee, refunding bonds will be issued to replace former bond issues in default. If this refunding issue is held up by the amendment, the former issues then the agreement will stand. But if the proposed amendment is adopted, Adams stated, the agreement will be null and void."

"Until the courts can rule on this point neither the city nor the bondholders' committee will know how they stand. And the matter may be before the courts for years, thus defeating all our past efforts to put the bond debt service on such a basis that we know from year to year exactly what to levy for debt service."

"As things now stand, the city's financial position with regard to its bonded indebtedness is not as clear as it should be, and business conditions more or less stabilized as a result. But the proposed amendment will disrupt this clarification and stabilization."

Adams also related two other points which must be settled in the courts if the amendment passes, and which will cause considerable confusion until the courts make their final ruling.

"First," he said, "there is the question of whether home owners who rent their homestead for even one month of the year are entitled to exemption under the proposed amendment."

"Several lawyers have voiced the opinion that a homestead, must not be rented for even a day. If that is so, it's going to cut down the number of homesteads in this city to a small number."

"Second, there is the question of whether homes erected on city lots after the amendment passes, if it does, will be exempted from taxes for debt service."

"Here again, lawyers contend that such homes, if erected on lots subject to debt service levies before the proposed amendment, would not be exempt after adoption of the amendment."

"Such improvements, they say, become, as a matter of law, part of the land, and are not the subject of a separate assessment or tax."

"Under these circumstances, it appears that arguments advanced in some quarters that the amendment will stimulate a rush of northern people to the state for the purpose of building homes are pure rot."

In this connection one further point should also be noted, Adams said. That is that the amendment proposes to exempt only the "head of a family" from taxation.

"The widow," he pointed out, "with no dependents, owning her little home, is not within the exemption, because not legally the 'head of a family'; only where husband and wife, (or either, as a family head, with dependents), occupy a homestead is it exempt; but the 'head of a family,' owning perhaps a $25,000 mansion, or apartment building, escapes."

Adams finally turned to the proponents of the amendment who ask the public to back the amendment because "the interests" are opposing it.

"These alleged 'interests,'" Adams charged, are in reality backing the amendment because it will greatly increase the value of Florida municipal bonds. And they are loading up with these bonds."

ment will stand. But if the proposed amendment is adopted, Adams stated, the agreement will be null and void.

In support of his charge, Adams quoted the following paragraph from a pamphlet written by Vincent D. Wyman, mayor of Coral Gables, attacking the proposed amendment.

"The bond 'racketeers,'" writes Wyman, "are also convinced that loss of operating expenses through adoption of the amendment will result in taxing officials raising tax valuations on homesteaded properties, now valued for taxing purposes at less than $5,000, so that on a $7,000 increased valuation, for instance, operating tax might be levied on the $2,000 non-exempt excess. This would result in a pro rata increase in levy for debt service."

"The bond 'racketeers,'" writes Wyman, "are also convinced that loss of operating expenses through adoption of the amendment will result in taxing officials raising tax valuations on homesteaded properties, now valued for taxing purposes at less than $5,000, so that on a $7,000 increased valuation, for instance, operating tax might be levied on the $2,000 non-exempt excess. This would result in a pro rata increase in levy for debt service."

UTAH BANKER URGES NATION HALT SPENDING

O. W. Adams Hits Rising Taxes, Sees No Substitute For Thrift

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 5.—With more than 25 percent of our national income absorbed by taxes and 37 percent expended by governmental agencies, Orval W. Adams, vice-president of the Utah State National Bank at Salt Lake City, in an article in the current issue of "The American Bankers' Association Journal," urges that the country "stop petitions for public improvement far beyond our means to afford; realize that we cannot solve our problems of governmental finance by easy expedients" and admit that nothing can replace "collective thrift."

"The government," Mr. Adams writes, "and all its political subdivisions under which we live are spending annually $14,700,000,000, which represents approximately 37 percent of our national income. While this is far beyond our ability even to estimate or imagine, this thing we can understand: that it is far beyond our ability to meet. How and when shall we bring all our power, concentrate all our intelligence to call a halt to such wild abandon?"

"But that is only half of the picture. While we are spending $14,700,000,000 to meet the obligations of government, we are paying out of our current taxes only $7,975,000,000 annually. What of the balance? That is the legacy which we are transferring to the future generations as an impressive evidence of our solicitude for their well-being."

He says that in 1913 our tax bill was $22 per capita, in 1933 $70, and in 1935 public expenditures per capita amounted to $80, and in 1933, as compared with 1913, on a per capita basis, taxes were 220 percent, government costs 300 percent and public debts 600 percent increased.

ment will stand. But if the proposed amendment is adopted, Adams stated, the agreement will be null and void.

In support of his charge, Adams quoted the following paragraph from a pamphlet written by Vincent D. Wyman, mayor of Coral Gables, attacking the proposed amendment.

"The bond 'racketeers,'" writes Wyman, "are also convinced that loss of operating expenses through adoption of the amendment will result in taxing officials raising tax valuations on homesteaded properties, now valued for taxing purposes at less than $5,000, so that on a $7,000 increased valuation, for instance, operating tax might be levied on the $2,000 non-exempt excess. This would result in a pro rata increase in levy for debt service."

"The bond 'racketeers,'" writes Wyman, "are also convinced that loss of operating expenses through adoption of the amendment will result in taxing officials raising tax valuations on homesteaded properties, now valued for taxing purposes at less than $5,000, so that on a $7,000 increased valuation, for instance, operating tax might be levied on the $2,000 non-exempt excess. This would result in a pro rata increase in levy for debt service."

Jim Farley Believes GOP Head Is Just 'Whistling In Dark'

(Continued from Page 1)

—if you can call it an issue—that is, the attack on the President's recovery program, has fallen flat. People are satisfied that this Administration has performed a wonderful job and as a consequence the President's popularity is greater today than when he took office. The natural sequence of this is that the country will re-elect a Congress in sympathy with the President's program.

"The minority party leaders realize this is evident from the circumstances that nearly all of their congressional nominees are running largely on their record of having supported the recovery legislation. I think you will find when we pick up the lame ducks after November the majority of fatalities will be among those who opposed the President's policies and tried to hinder the emergency measures."

Farley declined to say in what states the Democrats expected to gain Senate seats, but predicted that Sherman Minton, Democratic nominee, would defeat Senator Robinson in Indiana.

"A 'joke' was the way he described the move in New York to put Col. Henry Breckenridge up as an independent candidate for the Senate. Senator Copeland, Democrat, is up for re-nomination. Pressed for a statement on Copeland, Farley said he was not even a delegate to the convention that would nominate the Democratic senatorial candidate.

Farley said he would support Governor Lehman for re-election in New York.

Another speaking tour was announced yesterday by Farley but the dates are indefinite. He plans, however, to leave Aug. 15 for Nashville, Tenn., and then will swing west through Little Rock, Oklahoma City, Topeka, Kan., and Denver, where he is to speak either Aug. 21 or 22 to a rural mail carriers' convention. He said he probably would stop at Des Moines enroute back, and that in September he might dedicate a post office building at St. Paul.

Barnett Named Head Of Junior Commerce Body

(Continued from Page 1)

posal on his past experience, that the age limit be raised to include men through the age of 40.

This proposal had about a dozen supporters but it was defeated when 16 members approved Andrew M. Carraway's motion that persons beyond the age of 35 be accepted as associate members with full power to vote on any questions brought before the body of the organization but with no right to hold office.

Announcing that he would delay the appointment of standing committee heads until later this week, President Barnett proposed that as a first step, the organization stage a private dance at the Trianon Dance Club on Thursday night Aug. 16, for the purpose of acquainting members and their families with other members, enlisted or prospective, and their families.

Among the speakers at the meeting were Dewey Hooten and Bill Henry of the Orlando Junior Chamber of Commerce. They reminded their audience that the Orlando Jaycees will play host to the Sanford Jaycees at a "stag" party at Waterswitch Club south of Orlando on Thursday afternoon, and they urged a large attendance at this city.

Young men who became members last night with the payment of a portion of their semi-annual dues were: Rev. J. J. Kellaghan, Wallace Phillips, Roy Symes, Jr., Gene Adams, S. O. Shindler, Jr., Joseph O'Connor, Fred T. Williams, Jr., Fred Stanley, F. D. Scott, Bill DuBois, George Thurston, James A. Wright, Andrew Carraway, Gordon Barnett, Peter Schaal, Irvin L. Jackson, O. K. Goff, Clyde Ramsey, D. E. McNish, L. P. Hagan, Jr., Roy F. Mann, V. A. Williams, Maxwell Stewart, D. L. Harper, and B. H. Scott, Jr., of Fern Park.

Joe Melech, Glen Ingram, M. E. Blankenship of Longwood, Joel E. Field, and Babe McCall also signified an intention of affiliating at once, while others attending were Dr. H. W. Rucker, B. C. Moore, J. H. Truluck, and Roy Howell and H. D. Gleason of Lake Mary.

SILVER SHIRTS PLAN REVOLT SAYS MARINE

(Continued from Page 1)

planned "capture" of the San Diego city hall by force, saying: "It was planned for early in May, when the communists were to stage a May day celebration. The Silver Shirts were ready, too. The 200 armed the Silver Shirts had orders to converge on the city from the outskirts. They counted on the communists going in before them to take the city by storm. Then in the confusion the Silver Shirts were to overthrow the communists, their avowed enemies."

The "capture" of San Diego failed, however, Gray said, when the communist demonstration failed to materialize.

In declining to appear before the committee Dr. Grayling displayed a $215 check on newspapermen. It was endorsed by E. W. Rehner. "Somebody must have made a fool's confusion," he said, "as E. W. Rehner is a lady—my personal secretary."

Hayes said that as an intelligence worker in the Marines he obtained membership in the 350 Silver Shirts.

"I was made an instructor," Hayes testified. "The Silver Shirts were armed with rifles, pistols and shotguns, but mainly Springfield rifles bearing a United States government mark."

"I was told the rifles had been purchased from members of the military force in San Diego."

"I saw 2000 pounds of ammunition and was told there was another 12,000 pounds cached in four places near San Diego. The ammunition, I was told, had been purchased from Corporals Hudle and Edelson at the North Island naval base."

The former Marine testified the offer for guns and ammunition was made by W. W. Kemp, who described as commander of the San Diego Silver Shirts.

Hayes quoted Kemp as saying "anything the Silver Shirts did would be countenanced by the San Diego sheriff's office with the exception of the under-sheriff who is a Jew."

"The Silver Shirts," Hayes quoted Kemp as saying, "will not be bothered when the time comes to act. Firearms of both the sheriff's office and the police department will be turned over to us. The under-sheriff will be liquidated."

COLLECTOR JINKINS

Fees, commissions and remunerations collected: from State Comptroller, $1000.72; from County Commissioners, $1694.68; from Board of Public Instruction, $777; from Slavia Drainage District, $10; from Upper St. Johns River Navigation District, $281.31; costs on executions and sales, $192.24; tag fees, $1115.75; total earnings, $5921.75.

Expenses: Office supplies, etc., $49.74; salaries—T. A. Brothers, son, $175; Mrs. M. K. Hall, $237; Miss Helen Jenkins, $460.78; Miss Mary Earle, $265; extra help $26.87; paid deputies and sheriffs in Orange and Seminole counties for collecting personal property and licenses, $128.61; paid Walter L. Cooper Agency for surty bond, $2500; Maxwell Stewart, security bond, $10; postage stamps, etc., $59.25; post office box rent $3; expenses collecting license and personal property taxes, $605.30; total expenses, $3770.32. Net earnings, $2151.43.

School Board Gives Bus Transportation 1934-'35 Contracts

(Continued from Page One)

route will be more accessible this year than last, and to more children.

Last year the route went the bus down Sanford Avenue to Geneva Avenue and then to the schools. This year the bus will come through Ft. Reed and down Melville Avenue to Geneva Avenue and on to schools.

All contracts let this morning will expire in one year. Next year bus contracts will be let on the basis of the bus being all steel construction as provided by a recent state law.

During an earlier morning meeting of the Board, J. E. Fox of Paola, trustee of that district, was given approval of plans for the erection of a garage near Wilson School.

R. D. White of Lake Mary district was named as inspector of all school buildings in the county until he had completed a survey as to termite damage.

Upon the recommendation of Mrs. A. G. Wagner, S. F. Long, and E. T. Hamill as trustees of Chulouta School District, Mrs. Lucille B. Jacobs was appointed as intermediate teacher at Chulouta this year.

Mrs. Helen T. Morse's resignation as county book clerk was accepted by the Board, and Mrs. Helen H. Schultz was appointed as Mrs. Morse's successor at a salary of $25 per month.

HEAT STARTS FIREWORKS

OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 5.—(AP)—While the thermometer registered 110, the E. K. Pauling farm had an out-of-season fireworks display. Fireworks valued at $1000 exploded in a shock on the farm, where they had been stored by an Omaha dealer. Further blamed the sun.

DIVORCE CRITICISM FILED

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 5.—(AP)—Criticism by Frank C. Collier, presiding judge of the Los Angeles superior court, concerning the 42-minute divorce case of Eleanor Wilson McAdoo against United States Senator William Gibbs McAdoo, will remain on file with the papers. Judge Stanley Murray ruled Monday. A motion to strike the comments from the files was made by McAdoo's attorney.

DUCE REVIEWS FLEET

GAETA, Italy, Aug. 5.—(AP)—Premier Mussolini's squadron won a "mimic battle" off Gaeta in the naval maneuvers yesterday. Il Duce was on the bridge of the 10,000-ton cruiser Pola when "enemy" submarines made a sham attack in a desperate effort to save a retreating warship.

Let Us Frame That Picture For You Now. Wieboldt Studio.

Lumber And Roofing Security Lumber Co.

"Burpee's Seeds" Flower And Vegetable Now Available HENRY A. RUSSELL SEED CO.

Est At Dossey's

Italy Learns That II Duce Expects Child

We Clean Anything With Our Process & Will NOT SHRINK Lucey Dry Cleaners

Eye Examined Glasses Correctly Fitted DR. HENRY McLAULIN

For Better Service—SEMINOLE DRY CLEANERS

We Want Your Abstract

RESULTS FROM WANT ADS

RATES

10c line 1 time
5c line 3 times
7c line 6 times
5c line 1 month

Count five words to line.
Double rate for capital or black face letters.

Minimum charge 30c

All classified advertisements will be charged for the number of lines ordered. No refunds of space will be given for unused lines.

Announcements

HAVE YOUR WATCH repaired by one who really knows how. Briggs, Jeweler, Mag. Ave.

Lost and Found

FOUND: Pair of mules, red and black. Herbert G. Behrens, Lake Monroe.

Automobiles

1933 DUAL long wheel base Dodge Truck, $450. 1930 Model A Coach $225. Reel & Sons.

Business Service

LET J. W. SHADON repair and sharpen your lawnmower. They'll cut like new. 819 Elm Ave. Phone 719-W.

Houses For Rent

PARTLY FURNISHED house 5 rooms, bath, and garage. Excellent neighborhood. Cheap rent. Call Phone 323-M.

FURNISHED HOUSE for rent. Electric stove and electric refrigerator. Six rooms and bath. Reasonable. 1606 Palmetto. A. P. Cjanelly and Sons.

Miscellaneous For Sale

What you give us an opportunity to figure with you on ANYTHING IN THE PAINT LINE! Stanley-Rogers Hardware Co.

FORDSON tractor. Plow and Disk. Route One, South of Glendeville. T. A. Eckles.

FORDSON tractor and disk. G. C. Sperring, Boardwalk Avenue.

COMPLETE sprinkling system. Five acres crab grass. H. A. McMichael.

FOR SALE: 5 foot Servel and Kelvinator electric refrigerators. $150. 75 lb. steel ice box, $10.00. Marshall Electric Co.

FOR RENT BICYCLES

With Easy Riding BALLOON TIRES Ladies & Men—Boys & Girls

Hill Hardware

Phone Table Headquarters

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE OF WITNESSES OF DEED

I, Captain EARLE T. LOUCKE, of Sanford, Florida hereby notify the public generally that from July 25th, 1934, I will not be responsible for anything charged to me by Mr. J. M. Stout or Ernest Griffin Loucke, nor for any credit extended to her.

I am asking this means of notification so that all parties may be fully warned.

Captain EARLE T. LOUCKE.

IN THE COURT OF THE COUNTY OF SEMINOLE, FLORIDA.

In re the Estate of SAMANTHA BADER, Deceased, is Probate.

FINAL NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned will, on the 15th day of September, A. D. 1934, present to the Honorable County Judge of Seminole County, Florida, her final return, account and vouchers as executrix of the Estate of SAMANTHA BADER, deceased, and at said time, then and there, make application to the said Judge for a final settlement of her administration of said estate, and for an order discharging her as such executrix.

Dated this 11th day of July, A. D. 1934.

MAR BIRBAEGER, As Executrix of the Estate of Samantha Bader, Deceased.

NOTICE

This certifies that Carl Humphries, who was convicted in Seminole County, June 1932 for breaking and entering, and sentenced to state's prison for five years, will apply for clemency (out of state parole) at the next regular meeting of the Pardon Board.

Are Any Of Your Magazine Subscriptions Expiring Soon? We Will Approve Your Renewal Business

MOSELEY'S MAGAZINE

Subscription Agency 200 E. First St. Sanford, Florida.

THE STANDINGS

NORTHEAST FLORIDA LEAGUE
W.	L.	Pct.
St. Augustine	10	7	.558
Palatka	10	7	.558
Jacksonville	9	7	.562
Jacksonville	9	10	.474
Daytona Beach	7	10	.412
Daytona	6	10	.382

NATIONAL LEAGUE
W.	L.	Pct.
New York	57	28	.672
Chicago	52	33	.612
St. Louis	52	33	.612
Pittsburgh	48	37	.564
Brooklyn	43	42	.506
Philadelphia	42	43	.494
Cincinnati	38	47	.447

AMERICAN LEAGUE
W.	L.	Pct.
Detroit	52	27	.657
New York	46	33	.582
Cleveland	44	35	.556
Boston	43	36	.543
Washington	41	38	.519
St. Louis	41	38	.519
Philadelphia	39	39	.500
Chicago	37	43	.462

SOUTHERN ASSOCIATION (Second Half)
W.	L.	Pct.
New Orleans	22	12	.646
Chattanooga	19	15	.558
Nashville	19	16	.543
Memphis	19	21	.474
Knoxville	17	19	.474
Atlanta	17	22	.435
Birmingham	15	20	.429
Louisville	15	23	.395

Yesterday's Results
W.	L.	Pct.
New York	6	0	1.000
Pittsburgh	4	0	.667
St. Louis	3	0	.750
Philadelphia	3	0	.750
Chicago	3	0	.750

NATIONAL LEAGUE
W.	L.	Pct.
New York	57	28	.672
Chicago	52	33	.612
St. Louis	52	33	.612
Pittsburgh	48	37	.564
Brooklyn	43	42	.506
Philadelphia	42	43	.494
Cincinnati	38	47	.447

AMERICAN LEAGUE
W.	L.	Pct.
Detroit	52	27	.657
New York	46	33	.582
Cleveland	44	35	.556
Boston	43	36	.543
Washington	41	38	.519
St. Louis	41	38	.519
Philadelphia	39	39	.500
Chicago	37	43	.462

SOUTHERN ASSOCIATION (Second Half)
W.	L.	Pct.
New Orleans	22	12	.646
Chattanooga	19	15	.558
Nashville	19	16	.543
Memphis	19	21	.474
Knoxville	17	19	.474
Atlanta	17	22	.435
Birmingham	15	20	.429
Louisville	15	23	.395

HILL Lumber YARD

LUMBER AND BUILDERS' SUPPLIES WITH "SUDDEN SERVICE"

PHONE 62 223 W. 2ND ST.

Fee Officers' Earnings Gain Over 1933 Mark

(Continued from Page 1)

For this reason, an increase in net earnings and gross receipts is held at the Court House as a fairly accurate indication of the improvement in general economic conditions.

From their receipts the fee officers deduct the expenses of operating their departments, and from the net income they take their own pay. This pay is limited by law to $7500 a year. But the office must do a certain volume of business annually to produce the full amount. None of the officers made the maximum salary in 1933, nor will they this year unless heavy gains are reported for the last six months of this year.

Itemized for the six month period which ended June 30, 1934, the reports reveal the following facts:

CLERK DOUGLASS

Fees, commissions and remunerations collected: January, $1397.88; February, $1239.85; March, $1223.70; April, $1148.94; May, $1146.05; June, $1176.20, total for six months, $7462.42.

Expenses: Office supplies, etc., $242.56; salaries—Miss A. M. Weeks, $712; E. L. Burdick, $700; Miss Olive Lettice, $630; Miss Norrene Norwood, $570; Miss Helen Douglas, $50; extra help, $530; money advanced to county, $538.85; total expenses, $4064.41. Net earnings, $3398.01.

SHERIFF McLELLAND

Fees and costs criminal and insanity cases, $3048.91; fees and costs in civil cases, $200.24; attendance at all courts and county commission meetings, $282; fees for feeding prisoners, $145.80; commissions on collections, $187.91; all other fees, commissions and remunerations, $1441.24; total receipts, $7206.92.

Expenses: Office supplies, etc., $241.97; salaries—O. E. Stridger,

California Judge, Is Denied Courtrooms

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 5.—(AP)—Superior Judge Harry F. Sewell, who has been accused in an affidavit filed by presiding Judge Frank Collier of having been intoxicated on the bench, was deposed of his courtrooms Monday.

Judge Collier, who also has ordered that no more cases be assigned Judge Sewell, assigned to other judges the two courtrooms in which Judge Sewell has been sitting.

Bandits Slay Kentuckian

LEXINGTON, Ky., Aug. 5.—(AP)—F. D. "Dixie" Knight, 65, wealthy Jessamine county farmer, landowner and horse breeder, was shot dead in his home Wednesday night by two bandits, who robbed him and two persons in the residence of jewelry valued at $1,500 and $7 in cash.

Prompt Relief From Lacking License

It is possible that the very condition which has caused the license to be suspended may be removed by the applicant in a very short time. The applicant should apply for a license as soon as possible. The license will be issued as soon as the condition is removed.

For Better Service—SEMINOLE DRY CLEANERS

We Want Your Abstract

United Lumber Co.

French & Co. Phone 223

THE WEATHER
Partly cloudy tonight and Friday with scattered thunderstorms Friday afternoon.

SILVER METAL NATIONALIZED BY ROOSEVELT

Purchase Act Of 1934 Is Invoked By President In Setting Value At 50.01 Cents An Ounce

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—(A.P.)—President Roosevelt today issued an executive order providing for the nationalization of silver at fifty cents per ounce according to the provisions of the silver purchase act of 1934.

The President's proclamation, made public by Secretary Morgenthau, said that mints would be directed to receive any and all silver in the United States.

Mints will deduct as seigniorage 61.22 percent of all silver so received and will return to the depositor, silver certificates or other coin or currency in an amount equal to the monetary value of the remainder.

The order does not affect domestic silver mined since Dec. 31, 1933, which still may be delivered to mints under the Presidential proclamation of that date.

All other silver situated in the United States today must be delivered to the mints within 90 days.

Certain classes of silver are exempted.

Provisions are made for licenses covering silver needed for commercial and industrial uses, and to fulfill outstanding contracts to deliver metals.

Also exempted are all United States silver coins, foreign coins, silver ore, or silver owned by foreign governments and foreign central banks, and silver in fabricated articles.

Farley's Support Of Hiram Johnson Frisks Californian

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Aug. 2.—(A.P.)—Carl Alexander Johnson, Democratic candidate for the U. S. Senate, has announced he has sent a telegram to the National Democratic Committee demanding that Postmaster General James A. Farley resign or be deposed as committee chairman for supporting the candidacy of Hiram Johnson.

The telegram follows: "I have been informed by your chairman, James A. Farley, that he is publicly advocating the candidacy of Hiram Johnson, a registered Republican, for United States Senator from California, which impliedly carries with it the endorsement of your committee."

"It is your province to build up the Democratic party and not to pull it down by advocating election of a pseudo Republican who in the past has well nigh wrecked the Democratic party in California and according to Woodrow Wilson should receive the same treatment."

"I request that you publicly and promptly disavow such action on your part and that you demand the resignation of Farley as chairman or that you depose him as such."

Baghdad Flies Safely Near London

LONDON, Aug. 9.—(A.P.)—The "Trail of the Caribou" landed here today after a flight of 22 hours and 53 minutes from Wasaga Beach, Ontario. The fliers, James Ayling and Leonard Reid had set out to establish a new long distance record with Baghdad as the goal. Their landing means that they covered only a little more than half of the 6,300 miles they set as an objective.

COURT ENJOINS GEORGIAN WHO DEFIES NRA CODE

Road Contractor Must Pay Help Not Less Than 40 Cents Hour

ATLANTA, Aug. 9.—(A.P.)—Indicted two weeks ago for 70 alleged violations of the NRA construction code, John Whitley of LaGrange, close personal and political friend of Governor Eugene Talmadge yesterday was temporarily enjoined in federal court from paying less than 40 cents an hour for skilled workers on the highway projects he has under way.

Irwin Geiger, of the litigation division of the National Recovery Administration, announced here yesterday that Federal Judge Bacon Deaver, of the Middle Georgia district, had signed the order Tuesday at Dublin, Aug. 17 was set as the date for a hearing before Judge E. Marvin Underwood in Atlanta to make the injunction permanent.

"This action," Geiger said, "was necessary because of Whitley's deliberate and willful violation of the law, in which he has persisted since his arrest on July 28 for 70 such violations on evidence furnished to the government by his own employees, who were the only source of the information on which the government's action was predicated."

Whitley at present has two state highway contracts under way in Lamar and Wilkes Counties. Chairman Eugene Wilburn said yesterday that the highway department holds his certified checks that work on them will be pushed to completion.

Indicted at Macon July 2, Whitley made bond of $5,000 and trial was set in federal court in Macon on Nov. 5.

Geiger said yesterday that since the time of his arrest, Whitley has continued to "under pay and over work his employees" in violation of the NRA.

Several weeks ago the NRA removed his theoretical Blue Eagle but Whitley said at the time he had never signed the code and had no Blue Eagle.

NEWMAN NAMED JUDGE

TALLAHASSEE, Aug. 9.—(A.P.)—Governor Shultz yesterday appointed Leonard B. Newman, of Titusville, as judge of Brevard county, succeeding S. J. Overstreet, deceased.

YOTE TAMPA FAIR FUND

SEBRING, Aug. 9.—The Highlands county commissioners have appropriated $600 for the county's booth at the South Florida fair at Tampa next year.

Dillinger Sprayed Daytona's Waves With Machine Gun Bullets Last Dec. 31

DAYTONA, Aug. 9.—The late John Dillinger celebrated last New Year's here by spraying the Atlantic ocean with a hail of machine gun shots.

PUBLIC BARRED FROM PROBE OF SILVER SHIRTS

Evidence Held So Poisonous That International Complications Might Result

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 9.—(A.P.)—A Congressional hearing into alleged communist activities was closed against the public here yesterday because the evidence was "so poisonous that international complications might result."

The protection of witnesses and those mentioned in testimony against possible violence also was advanced as a consideration in the decision to make the hearing an officially secret affair.

Testimony that an alleged pro-Nazi organization known as the Silver Shirts of San Diego had been plotting the overthrow of the United States government and had obtained rifles and ammunition from American military sources preceded the inquiry on communist activity.

Volney Moore, attorney for the Congressional sub-committee on un-American activities, disclosed the reason for closing the hearing as the head of the Los Angeles police department's anti-rad squad was summoned to testify.

Urging closing of the doors, Moore said the testimony "would never be made public" because of its internationally "poisonous" nature.

After debating the matter, the sub-committee, headed by Representative Kramer of California, followed Moore's recommendation.

Witnesses present at the time were Captain William F. Hayes of the Los Angeles police intelligence and Miss Margaret Kerr, secretary-manager of the Better America federation.

Miss Kerr said before she entered the hearing room her apprehensions probably would be allayed to establish the nature of general communist activities in this sub-area.

Witnesses were issued for the appearance of three communists, but all appeared voluntarily, saying they were willing and ready to testify.

Those who appeared were Meyer Baylin, educational director of the communist party in the Los Angeles district; Lawrence Ross, communist candidate for Congress and once a candidate for mayor of Los Angeles; and Pettis Perry, negro, communist candidate for lieutenant governor.

Father Who Drowned Child To Die In Chair

HOUSTON, Texas, Aug. 9.—A penalty of death in the electric chair was assessed Tuesday against Elijah Stuart, 27, for the strangling of Dortha, his 4-year-old daughter.

A jury which deliberated little more than an hour convicted the unemployed defendant of first degree murder without mercy.

National Regimentation And Bureaucracy Held By Hoover As Endangering U. S. Liberty

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—"National regimentation" and bureaucracy are endangering the entire structure of American liberty, former President Herbert Hoover will say in the book he has just completed, under the title of "The Challenge of Liberty," it was announced yesterday.

The book will represent Hoover's first significant utterance since he left the White House two years ago to make way for the Roosevelt "New Deal." It will be published late next month by Charles Scribner's Sons.

Hoover, who has worked on the manuscript during the last year, will set forth his defense of "The American System" of government. He will give critical consideration to the growth of fascism, communism and socialism.

HEAT RECORDS IN IOWA ARE BROKEN WITH MARK OF 115

(By The Associated Press) Temperatures flared as high as 115 degrees in the super-heated Mid-West yesterday as the weatherman stoked that huge oven for another baking day.

The 115-degree peak was recorded officially in Ottumwa, Iowa. It broke all Iowa heat records.

Temperatures of 108-plus were reported in Missouri, and the mercury boiled up to 109 in Topeka, Kan. One death was attributed to the intense heat there.

Other hot spots on a map of discomfort which stretched from the Alleghenies to the Rockies were Lincoln, Neb., and St. Louis, both with 109 degrees; Kansas City, where it was 105; and Des Moines, Iowa, with 102.

As the new August torrid wave struck the harassed mid-continent grain traders at Chicago heard sensational reports of the have already wrought in the nation's fields. December wheat whirled up to $1.12 1-4 a bushel, a season record. May hit $1.15 1-8 and December and May corn hit new highs of 79 2-8 cents and 84 1-4 cents respectively.

The weather bureau called drought conditions "extremely bad" from the Mississippi west to the Rockies, with crops deteriorating rapidly under persistent abnormally high temperatures.

Cooled at random by showers, the entire Midwest yesterday was an island of heat bounded by fairly cool weather on the coasts. Even in the Rocky Mountain States the mercury reached the not-so-gray nineties. Readings of 96 were recorded in Pueblo, in Sheridan, Wyo., and in Miles City, Mont.

Official and semi-official records indicate that Ottumwa's 115 degree reading made it the hottest day in Iowa in 115 years. It burned every official record from the weather bureau books. They cover 62 years. The previous mark, two degrees lower had been equaled several times during the July heat wave.

It was also the hottest August day on record in Columbia, Mo., where the mercury hit 108.4. A reading of 108 was made at Jefferson City Mo.

SENTENCED TO DEATH

HAVANA, Aug. 9.—(A.P.)—The court of sessions yesterday sentenced two former army sergeants, Joaquin F. Duque and Jose Sanchez, to death on charges of killing Col. Blas Maso several years ago. The court said it was convinced former President Machado was the master mind in the slaying.

COMMISSIONED O'RYAN ILL

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—(A.P.)—Police Commissioner O'Ryan was stricken yesterday with a serious attack of colic at his office at police headquarters and was taken to the medical center in an ambulance. His physicians said he would have to remain at the hospital for several days.

15 CENT COTTON PREDICTED AS DUE THIS FALL

Official Crop Report Sends Wave Of Jubilation Over Land, With Future Bright

ATLANTA, Aug. 9.—(A.P.)—The South last night was jubilant over a cotton crop forecast that was even smaller than dreams of proponents of the Bankhead bill, and even higher prices before the staple is picked.

"She'll hit 15 cents by fall," a state official of Alabama predicted as he watched the chief markets of the country jump $2.50 a bale to nearly 14 cents a pound as the government said the crop now stood at 9,195,000 bales.

Professional traders also looked surprised—it was several thousand bales below their most bullish estimates, and predicted that unless there is a change in the weather the next forecast will be even smaller and prices will keep on the jump.

"Western conditions are serious," said F. D. Willis of the Fenner and Beane Atlanta office, "and our reports show they have not improved since the figures for the government forecast were gathered Aug. 1. The report is at least 300,000 bales under the figure the trade discounted and if conditions do not improve the next report will be under this."

"Very bullish," came from three New Orleans brokers, T. E. Grenin of Henican Grenin and Co., said it indicated an even smaller crop eventually but he doubted if the present price levels could be maintained due to hedge selling, a had European situation and encouragement to foreign producers.

M. H. Cronheim of the J. J. Williams Co., and Henry Hellberg of Norman-Mayer and Co., both said weather conditions had been unfavorable since Aug. 1 and predicted even smaller estimates.

Hallberg agreed with Grenin about hedge selling stopping the price rise but he said when that was out of the way "I believe the smaller crop will result in much higher prices."

Protestant Church In Germany Forced Into Oath Of Fealty

BERLIN, Aug. 9.—(A.P.)—Germany's Protestant pastors and church officials will be required to take an oath of fealty to Chancellor Hitler just as Nazi Storm Troops and members of the regular army did last week.

This important step to secure for Hitler uniform support following his assumption of the powers of President was announced by Dr. August Jaeger, Nazi commissioner for Protestant churches.

Dr. Jaeger at the same time explained new rules to be imposed by the National Synod today, which will deliver the Protestant church bag and baggage into the hands of Reich-bishop Ludwig Mueller, Hitler follower and head of German Christians.

They appear designed to stamp out all independent thought and action by the clergy, considerable number of whom have strongly opposed Mueller's dictatorial steps toward achieving the Nazi program of a unified Protestant church.

Protest Against Retention of Lamb Of Sanford As Volusia FERA Auditor

DELAND, Aug. 9.—Protests against the retention by the FERA of R. F. Lamb as its auditor for Volusia county were wired to Jerome A. Connor, Jacksonville, today by M. E. Forsyth, president of the local central labor union. Forsyth gave as his reason that Lamb also was auditor for Seminole County and that he was receiving full salary charged to the Volusia county administration, though he spends half of his time in Seminole County. Forsyth requested that Lamb be replaced immediately by a Volusia county citizen.

This request of Forsyth for the removal of Lamb is a continuation of Forsyth's attacks on the

Roosevelt Calls For Further "Action" On Non-Partisan Basis

Demands Of People To Be Met, President Says In Militant Talk At Green Bay

GREEN BAY, Wis., Aug. 9.—(A.P.)—President Roosevelt today sounded a call for further "action" by the "New Deal" as he spoke on a road in a militant speech in old Wisconsin.

In his principal speech of the Congressional campaign year, Mr. Roosevelt at the Wisconsin State Tercentenary said that in 1932 the people joined us with enthusiasm. They left a hand and a voice to the common cause, irrespective of many older political traditions.

They saw the dawn of a new deal. They were on the march. They were coming back into possession of their own home land. In one year, and five months the people of the United States have received at least a partial answer to their demands for action and neither the demand nor the action has reached the end of the road.

President Roosevelt digressed from his prepared address to mention by name "Bob" La Follette and Ryan Duffy.

With Senator La Follette, Republican independent and candidate for re-election on a new party ticket and Senator Duffy, Democrat, chosen with him in 1932 sitting by his side, the President spoke of them by name in that part of his speech, thanking them for their co-operation, and referring to them as "Both old friends of mine."

The President referred to the "New Deal" as a "Square Deal" and quoted from speech "a Congress in this connection, generally attributed to Representative Rufus D. Weaver of Nebraska, who is recognized as the author of the territorial reorganization of the Governor Bryan."

Mr. Roosevelt spoke strongly about critics of the Administration's efforts, naming those "whose objectives are wholly right and wholly progressive" but who insist upon their "own methods and nobody else's."

He said the "other type" is "the individual who demands some message to the people of the United States that will restore what he calls 'confidence'."

Those who would measure confidence in this country," he emphasized, "in the future must look to the average citizen."

One Pound Baby Buried In 'Cigar Box' Casket

TEMPLE, Tex., Aug. 9.—(A.P.)—A casket no larger than a cigar box held the body of little Eva Nadine Locke, one pound daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Locke, for her burial recently.

The infant died recently, after living for 51 hours snugly wrapped in blankets in a dresser drawer.

Dr. W. M. Brooks, of Cameron, who ushered the one-pound baby into the world said she was perfect in every respect except her size.

MELLON IN SCOTLAND

SOUTHAMPTON, England, Aug. 9.—(A.P.)—Andrew W. Mellon, former secretary of the Treasury of the United States, and former ambassador to Great Britain, arrived here yesterday aboard the liner Baronaria en route to Scotland for a vacation.

LOCAL WEATHER

As reported by U. S. Station for St. Augustine, Fla., based on observations at 8:00 a.m.

July	High	Low	Rain
26	84	68	0.0
27	88	72	0.0
28	88	72	0.0
29	88	72	0.0
30	88	72	0.0
31	88	72	0.0
Avg. for July	88	72	0.0
1934	88	72	0.0
1933	87	71	0.0
1932	87	71	0.0
1931	87	71	0.0
1930	87	71	0.0
1929	87	71	0.0
1928	87	71	0.0
1927	87	71	0.0
1926	87	71	0.0
1925	87	71	0.0
1924	87	71	0.0
1923	87	71	0.0
1922	87	71	0.0
1921	87	71	0.0
1920	87	71	0.0