

PRINCIPAL WITNESS TODAY IN FATTY ARBUCKLE CASE WILL TESTIFY ON STAND

Delmont, Who Swore to Complaint Fatty for Murder ANNOUNCED

PRELIMINARY HEARING IN POLICE COURT BROUGHT OUT THIS CHARGE

(By The Associated Press) SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 26.—Mrs. Delmont, who swore to the complaint accusing Fatty Arbuckle in the murder of Miss Rappe, was announced as the principal witness in a preliminary hearing on that charge in police court today. The plan called for Delmont to take the witness stand after Beardslee, house physician at St. Francis, and Al Semmner, Miss Rappe's business manager.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 26.—Fatty Arbuckle, film comedian, charged with the slaying of Miss Virginia Rappe, motion picture actress, sat in a quiet Sunday in jail while the district attorney prepared a list of witnesses for examination when the police court hearing is resumed tomorrow.

The first complete story of the slaying in Arbuckle's suite in the hotel Francis on Labor Day, which was followed by the death of Miss Rappe, five days later, is expected to be told at the hearing tomorrow, when the district attorney calls Mrs. Bambina Maude Delmont, who preferred the charge against Arbuckle and Miss Alice Beardslee and Miss Zeh Prevost, who attended the party. The order in which the witnesses will be called was not announced.

The defense has not indicated how it will combat the testimony so far offered by the prosecution. The only witness who has been cross-examined, Delmont, testified only briefly, was Alfred Semmner, who yesterday, testified in the prosecution, but not as a "hostile witness," according to the police judge. The police judge is to decide whether Arbuckle is to be held to the grand jury and if so, whether on a murder charge or on the grand indictment which charges manslaughter.

The defense had made no attempt to seek the prosecution in the questioning of witnesses, taking advantage of it was said of the opportunity to turn the state's case against Arbuckle afforded by the hearing.

BILL OF RIGHTS FOR WOMEN FRAMED BY NATIONAL PARTY.

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—A woman's "bill of rights" proposed for enactment by the federal and all state governments to remove all legal discrimination against women was introduced yesterday in a statement by the National Women's Party.

The program includes a new constitutional amendment, declaring that "inequalities on account of sex or account of marriage" shall prevail, together with a bill to give women the same rights, privileges, and immunities as men.

It was announced that Senator Currier, Republican, Kansas, and Representative Fess, Republican, Ohio, would introduce the proposed constitutional amendment in congress October 1, and that copies of the new bill had been sent to all state chairmen of the woman's party except Wisconsin, which already has enacted the bill.

Other legal rights for women include: Suffrage, eligibility for all offices, freedom of contract; choice of domicile, residence or name; jury service; acquisition and control of property; control of labor earnings; eligibility for fiduciary positions; equality in awards for divorce and immunities.

MAITLAND ADOPTS NEW CITY CHARTER.

MAITLAND, Fla., Sept. 26.—By a vote of 47 to 35 the citizens of Maitland Saturday carried the charter election adopting a new and improved charter prepared by the charter board elected June 14.

Wm. H. Waterhouse, C. B. McNair, and B. A. Galloway, acted as judges of the election, which was called by the charter board.

More interest has been shown here in this election than in any previous election for many years. There were ninety-five qualified voters on the registration list, a number far in excess of the highest previous registration since the founding of the town in 1885.

The new charter which goes into effect with the election of officers at the next general municipal election on March 5, 1922, is modern in every respect and is regarded by experts as a splendid instrument of municipal authority.

The town of Maitland, or Lake Maitland, as the original corporate name appears, has been doing business under the general laws of the State of Florida since the organization of the town thirty-six years ago, but the necessities of a growing town and the desire of the citizens for progress and improvement has made the adopting of a new charter desirable.

Work will soon be started at Sarasota on the construction of a plant for the Sarasota Fruit Produce Co. and penalties for sex offenses. All common law disabilities of women will be abrogated under the legislation.

(By The Associated Press) JACKSONVILLE, Sept. 26.—The state continued to challenge members of the panel when the task of obtaining a jury for the trial of John Pope, charged with first degree murder, was resumed in the circuit court this morning. ## PENNSYLVANIA RAILWAY NOT TO APPEAR

AT HEARING BEFORE THE UNITED STATES LABOR BOARD

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 26.—The Pennsylvania Railroad Company will not present any evidence at all at the hearing granted it by the United States Labor Board in connection with the shop crafts' committee election dispute. The hearing is set for today at Chicago. The company last night made public a letter from President Samuel Ren to the board in which he states that in view of the fact that the board had declined to hear the company upon the issues of law and fact presented in its application for the hearing and had limited the hearing to three points, the company has nothing to present. The letter will be filed with the board today by a representative of the company.

Mr. Ren says the carrier "asserts and will exercise its right to deal with its own employees without the intervention of individuals or organizations whose manifest object is the denial of the fundamental right of employer and employee to deal in the first instance directly with each other respecting wages and working conditions in which they alone are directly interested."

The company on August 24 asked the board to set aside its decision calling for a new election of shop crafts' committee to arrange rules and working conditions and requested hearing and submit oral evidence. On September 19, the board granted the company's request, but limited the hearing to three points. They are: That employees, not in the active service of the carriers, such as men laid off, furloughed or absent upon leave, shall participate in the election of committees; how the representative capacity of spokesmen of unorganized employees shall be ascertained, and permitting the carriers to offer evidence of the adoption or ratification of its shop craft rules by representatives of the crafts fairly selected by a majority of the employees of that class.

Word Comes That Merchants' Gala Day Will Be Big Attraction

GUN CLUB SHOOT

WILL BRING CRACK SHOTS FROM OTHER SECTIONS OF THE STATE.

Word comes from points on the East and West coast as well as interior points that well known tournament riders of the State are practicing tournament riding every day and getting ready for the old time tournament races and pony races here next Thursday. From all reports there will be a larger entry here than ever before as the riders are coming from all the big ranches in this part of the State as well as many owners of racing ponies who think they have something fast in horse flesh.

The tournament races, pony races and the old time barbecue will bring pleasant recollections to the many old timer who will be here to swap ancient history and tell of the early times when this part of the State was a wilderness and pony races, tournaments and barbecues were much in evidence. It is conceded by everyone that Sanford's Gala Day will be more like the old time races and barbecues and general good times than any thing that has been pulled off here in some time.

Even the parades and speaking will remind one of the olden days when there was so much of this sort of stuff and that has in later years been supplemented by other amusements. The Rod and Gun Club will bring their traps and paraphernalia to the Clyde Line dock and will hold a shoot Thursday afternoon and several of the fancy shots of neighboring towns have expressed a willingness to come in and show the Sanford boys how to break 50 out of 50.

The program as outlined is a good one and will be subject to some changes but as a whole will be like that published in Saturday's Daily Herald. Thursday morning will be filled with parades, military maneuvers and speaking which will fill the day and it is hoped that the crowds will come early and stay late as there is something doing for every minute.

WANT SOME OF THAT RECLAMATION FUND SENT INTO FLORIDA.

(By The Associated Press)

WEST PALM BEACH, Sept. 24.—Acting in co-operation with the Florida Development Board, the West Palm Beach Chamber of Commerce, at a meeting of the directors, this morning, adopted and forwarded a resolution to the United States Chamber of Commerce directors enlisting that body's aid and influence in the interest of the Bankhead-Borah bill now before congress.

This bill provides for federal aid in reclamation of land by drainage as well as by irrigation and would extend to the south Atlantic and Gulf states, in contradistinction to the Smith-McNary bill, which is claimed to be in the interest of irrigation projects.

CLEWISTON TO MIAMI.

ARCADIA, Fla., Sept. 26.—Marked progress is being made toward construction of a railroad which is expected eventually will connect Miami and Clewiston, according to W. C. Wolfe, of Miami, who was here recently in connection with the Tatum interests of that city. Mr. Wolfe stated that the Tatum had purchased large areas of land bordering the Miami canal and that they were pushing construction of the roadbed for a railroad for which they have a franchise using the spoils of the west side of the canal for the purpose.

It is planned to begin work at Clewiston, at the south shore of Lake Okeechobee and build south along the canal. Completion of the railroad would provide a route across the southern part of the state from the Gulf to the Atlantic.

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., Sept. 24.—Fred Livesay, a young druggist of this city, was instantly killed while serving in a posse of almost a thousand officers and citizens searching last night for a negro named Meekins, who killed Police Officer Robert Do Korte.

Last night there were several posesses of several hundred men each beating the brush around Yorktown, Oyster Point and Halstead's Point, in search of Meekins. The negro attacked the officer with an ice pick about 8 o'clock, when the policeman entered a house near the down-town section with a warrant for his arrest.

Paid Too Much Attention to Other Women

AKRON, O., Sept. 24.—Mrs. Minnie L. Derr, 42, was in the People's hospital today suffering from a nervous collapse, following her confession last night to the throwing of acid into the face of her husband, Alvin E. Derr, Akron business man, who died from inhaling the poisonous fumes.

A charge of murder was entered against her on the police docket and Prosecutor Doyle today was preparing for her arraignment as soon as doctors permitted her to be taken from the hospital.

Mrs. Derr, arrested in her room at home, following funeral services over her husband's body yesterday, broke down under questioning last night and shrieked: "Yes, I threw it." "Oh, God! I didn't mean to kill him; I didn't want to kill him, she moaned, and then fell in a faint on the floor.

In an adjoining room her four children heard her screams which accompanied her confession. Heretofore they refused to believe their mother guilty. The fourth, Harry, aged 20, smiled grimly.

"Don't blame my mother for cutting the telephone wires and locking the door of my room," he told officers, following the confession. "I did that, but I never would have told no matter how much I might have been tortured."

A home made unhappy through her husband's attentions to other women was the cause for her act, Mrs. Derr confessed.

"We had quarreled after we returned home last Saturday night," said Mrs. Derr. "I did not sleep the rest of the night."

The acid was thrown upon Derr as he slept early Sunday morning.

NO GLOOMY WINTER AHEAD FOR BANKERS, SAYS GOV. HARDING.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Sept. 24.—Gloomy forebodings of last winter with respect to the banking situation are no longer justified and can be dismissed, Governor Harding of the Federal Reserve Board declared in an address here, at the made-in-Carolinas Exposition.

"The banking situation has greatly improved," Mr. Harding said, "and although the process of readjustment has not been completed, evidences are multiplying that the corner has been turned and that we have passed the most acute stage of the readjustment period."

Governor Harding said that in the immediate future much would depend on agricultural developments and the manner in which this year's crops were marketed.

"With proper co-operation on the part of merchants and bankers," he said, "those engaged in agriculture have opportunities and prospects which were not anticipated a few months ago and it is of vital importance that this co-operation be given."

"It should be remembered, that in order to maintain our production we must push our foreign trade. We cannot maintain our foreign trade on the basis of the gold stock of other nations and some means must be devised for extending long time credits abroad or of interesting American investors in foreign properties and securities in order that the exchange rate which now runs so heavily against other nations may be corrected," Governor Harding said.

"We must continue to buy from foreign countries those things which they can produce better or more cheaply than we can and exchange commodities with them, if we determine to do business with and for ourselves alone, it seems inevitable that we must reduce our production to meet merely American requirements," he continued.

The recent advance in the price of cotton was in no way due to any increase in the loans of federal reserve banks or to any expansion inevitable law of supply and demand. Federal reserve notes actually in circulation, he said, were about $500,000,000 less than when cotton reached its lowest point last spring.

CLAIMED SMITH ADMITS PISTOL USED WAS HIS.

LAKELAND, Sept. 24.—Officials Thursday made public a statement alleged to have been made by Henry Smith, held in the county jail at Bartow, in connection with the killing of Lovi McCullom, aged resident of this city, last month. Smith is said to have admitted ownership of the pistol which officials say was used in killing McCullom, but denies that he or Mack Myers had anything to do with the killing. Myers is also held in connection with the affair.

CHARTER BOARD FOR DAYTONA

DAYTONA, Sept. 23.—The City Commission has set November 15th, as the date for an election to select a charter board of nine members to prepare a new charter for Daytona and submit it to the electors for ratification or rejection. The local civic bodies at a joint meeting recently selected nine citizens whose names will be placed upon the ballot as candidates for membership on the board. They are Alfred H. Green, E. T. Conrad, Mrs. I. M. Mabbette, Mrs. Isabelle Chamberlin, R. D. Craig, S. C. Archibald, Dr. M. Josie Rogers, B. F. Brass and Charles Luther.

UPSALA AND GRAPEVILLE

Mrs. Westerdick spent Wednesday with Mrs. Glidewell on the west side. V. C. Collier's men will soon finish the neat little bungalow cottage he is erecting in Grapeville for his nephew, Charles Cramer.

Alfred Ericson spent a couple of days in Orlando with his brother-in-law, Emil Magnuson.

A. F. Westerdick and two grandsons, spent a day in Tavares viewing the orange grove there of his sister, Mrs. Benton. He finds they are not suffering from the drought so much as we are.

Mr. and Mrs. Barney Beck and children, Charles, Minnie and Barnwell, are spending this week at the beach. Her father, A. F. Westerdick, has also gone over for a few days.

Rev. Albertson writes us that he expects to be with us, also with Lake Mary and Paola, on the first Sunday in October, at the regular time, Providence permitting.

Annie, the beloved wife of Emil Magnuson, of Upsala, passed away at the Orlando hospital at 11 o'clock Thursday, the 22, 1921. She had been falling in health since Christmas, but she has not been well for a number of years and though all that skill and loving hearts and hands could do, was done to stay the dread disease that was sapping her life.

Wednesday, she underwent an operation for a tumor, pressing on the liver. The doctors thought if she could stand it, there was hope she might regain her health, but evidently her strength was too far gone to stand the shock. One great consolation her friends have, is that she was ready to go. "Truly to have known her was to love her," and Heaven itself if we be permitted to enter, will be a sweeter, dearer place, because she is there. The funeral was held today, Friday, at the Lutheran church of which she has been a faithful member, and interment at Lakeview cemetery under Frank Miller's charge. Our sympathy goes out to the stricken husband in this great sorrow, and to the sisters, Mrs. John Borell, Mrs. Alfred Ericson, Mrs. Adam Karr, and brother, Andrew Bertelson, coming so soon after the death of their dear mother.

Friends who met Judge Benton last winter will be sorry also to hear that his death occurred last week at his northern home near Rochester, N. Y. It will be remembered he was the brother-in-law of A. F. Westerdick, and came here for his health which has been poor, being in his 74th year. They bought a home at Maitland and another 22-acre orange grove near Tavares, but he felt the call of his profession and could not be persuaded to give it up. His family expected to come down and build this fall. Evidently he had a stroke as he fell and could not help himself and soon passed away. His loved ones will have the sympathy of many in their sorrow. George Alden Benton was a direct descendent of the Aldens, of Pilgrim days, and a few years ago, he and his wife visited the old home still standing at Plymouth.

We understand that the little son of the people from Pennsylvania, who have bought and are building a home across from the Presbyterian church, but whose name we have not yet learned, fell last week from the building breaking a bone in his arm.

Mr. and Mrs. Larson and Mr. and Mrs. Jackson, of Piedmont, came up to attend the funeral of Mrs. Magnuson.

The World Owes Me a Living

Said the fellow who did not like to work and he really thought the world should pay him without working

HE OBTAINED THE LIVING

But such a life—it was his theory about how to get a living without working. The world owes each one a living but it is up to every one to collect it. The best way to get the best living is to have your money where you can get it when you want it—in the bank

The ONLY DECENT LIVING

Is obtained by saving your money while you are making it and put it in the bank where it draws 4 per cent interest.

As the rainbow colors have been chosen by Miss Steinmeyer for her bridal motif, these were also featured in the decorations on this occasion, a profusion of garden flowers being used and garlands of crepe paper were festooned from the central chandeliers in the different rooms, to the four corners.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attired in a becoming suit of navy blue tricotine, with hat and accessories to match. The suit was beaded in jet and jade, and she wore a corsage bouquet of bride roses.

Their beauty and refinement carry them triumphantly to every part of the world, and they are a safe choice from the first to the last hat for girlhood. ### O. H. S. ELEVEN READY FOR A BATTLE WITH SANFORD.

"The little golden tornado" will start their season next Saturday when they meet the fast Sanford aggregation. The Orlando boys have been working hard the last two weeks, and by next Saturday they will be in the pink of condition.

There has been two teams working out every night under the eye of Coach Boone and Coach Branham, and the boys hope to bring home the bacon to Orlando in the first game.

There are a number of new men out this year, new to the fans of Orlando. Also nine or ten letter men back from last year. Among the new men this year who are showing form, are: H. Price, 190lbs, guard, and a new lad by the name of Richards, who is also a 190-pounder. E. Smith, who is an all state man from South Carolina, is also showing good form for tackle.

Of the letter men who are back there is good prospects. A. Link, guard; J. Grange, tackle, and B. Shute, center; also, B. Porter, who held down one end last year, is showing old time form.

All in all, Orlando should come through with a winning team this year. Marion Kincaid, who was elected captain last year, is working hard, getting a good schedule which is now about complete.

Coach Boone is going to take his huskies to Rollins College next Tuesday prior to the game with Sanford to round them into shape for the struggle October 1. All Orlando should come out to this game and they will see their money's worth. Boost for the "Golden Tornado."—Orlando Reporter-Star.

Eye Strain Dulls the Brightest Child

Defective sight is one of the greatest drawbacks to the health and development of children. It is many times responsible for backwardness in school. Perhaps your youngster's vision is faulty. It won't require much effort on your part to find out and you will certainly be better satisfied to know.

Happily, many visual defects of childhood yield readily to skilled treatment if applied in time. Now that school time is here, when the eyes will be in constant requisition, you should be doubly sure that your child is fitted for the daily tasks. The school, the clothing, the books, etc., are all cared for, of course—but most important of all—remember the eyes.

NINE LOAFERS ON THE COUNTY

Five white hoboes, arrested near New Smyrna, were sent over to the county seat Thursday and are at present confined in the county jail, having been sentenced to sixty days each on the charge of beating their way on the train. These five make a total of thirteen white men at present confined in the county jail cooling their heels at the expense of the tax payers. Nine of them have been convicted and sentenced to road work, but Captain Powell has not been able to use them for the lack of accommodations, a fool law forbidding the working of white and negro prisoners in the same gang. These thirteen men are costing the tax payers 65 cents a day each, or $7.45 for the 13, or $223.50 per month for the 13. It comes rather high on the tax payers but even the most foolish law has to be obeyed.—DeLand News.

WORLD HEARS NEWS QUICKLY

But One Hundred Years Ago the Horse Was the Only Means of "Rapid" Communication.

A few hours after Caruso died the civilized world knew of it and was in mourning. A hundred years ago Napoleon died, on May 5, 1821—and it was exactly sixty days before the world received the news, the New York Evening Post states.

Though the English were expecting his death at any moment and had made every preparation to have word transmitted from St. Helena to England with all possible dispatch, it was not until July 4, that the news reached London, having been brought there by the sailing vessel Heron. In accordance with the spirit of the times, the message was not given out on the arrival of the vessel, but was first conveyed to the colonial office, an act which required approximately two hours in itself.

July 4, 1821, fell on Wednesday. On Friday, July 6, the news reached Paris. Messengers were dispatched from Paris to Germany, where the newspapers commented on the death of "General Bonaparte" for the first time on July 12, sixty-eight days after the event had taken place. And this notice was in a paper published at Mynce, then virtually a French town.

The Vossische Zeitung, founded in 1704 and then, as now, the leading German daily, contained no notice of Napoleon's death until July 14, and then it merely copied the London Times. Private individuals living in the provinces, regardless of their station in life, received the news much later. It was not conveyed to Goethe, then living at Weimar, until the very last of July. He received it in a letter bearing a black seal.

DEVOTED TO BRITISH CROWN

People of the Island of Jersey Have for Centuries Been Proud of Their Loyalty.

There is no part of the king's dominions which has shown a more active devotion than the island of Jersey. The true Jerseyman still regards the king as the successor of the dukes of Normandy. Jersey elected to remain under the English crown in the reign of John, when the rest of Normandy reverted to France.

It supported the Royalist cause during the Civil war and harbored Charles II when he was in exile; it banished Victor Hugo because of some slighting remarks of his about Queen Victoria, and during the late war it passed its own military service act, for which there was very little need.

Moreover, not once nor twice in this tough island story has armed invasion by the French been successfully resisted. The last occasion was in 1781, when the Jerseymen, although surprised and outnumbered and deserted by their own governor, who was preparing to capitulate, defeated the enemy in a most sanguinary battle, fought in the royal square of St. Heller.—London Mail.

Plant Juice for Fish Bait

Late in the dry season, when the rivers are low in the heart of Africa, the Gwari, who inhabit the central Soudan, set out on prolonged fishing expeditions. The natives who live on the banks of the rivers are prodigious fishermen, taking great pride in their work, but the village Gwari are not very sporting in their methods. They go out for the final results rather than for the pleasure of the sport.

They pour the juice of locust tree pods into the pools, to which the streams have shrunk, and this causes the fish to leap out of the water. Wildly they leap, flopping out on the dry river, bottom as often as not, but the excited natives do not wait for the fish to catch themselves. They lean over the shallow water, and find great delight in snatching the leaping fish as they flash from the river.

This custom of using the "jump juice" seems to have been handed down from time immemorial among these strange Africans.

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

TAKE SALTS AT FIRST SIGN OF BLADDER IRRITATION OR BACKACHE

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; it neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.—Adv.

THIS IS NOT WHIMPERING TIME

Too often we hear the cry of "hard times." There isn't any such thing, acknowledging the unemployment, money tightness and the "slump." These things we always have with us, just as long as we have a country of teeming millions. If one is seeking a job as sailor on an airship the field is limited, but there are lines of endeavor seeking real workers, men who can forget the inflated wages of war times and go into actual productive work. We concede it is hard for shipyard workers and kindred pursuits to forget the opulence that has been their and get down to the scale demanded by conditions of the times, but it must be done. The cost of living is slowly going down, as it had to. Wages must meet it or all hope for future prosperity in the shape of busy factories is gone. There must be an output and a demand for the output. One depends upon the other.—Florida Grower.

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

LOOK YOUNG! BRING BACK ITS NATURAL COLOR, GLOSS AND ATTRACTIVENESS

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.—Adv.

PALATKA THE STATE CAPITAL.

PALATKA, Fla., Sept. 26.—James E. Calkins, former president of the Florida senate, and now a member of that body, told the Kiwanis Club at its luncheon here this week that capital removal is not a dead issue and that Palatka has been agreed upon by lawmakers as the logical location for the state's seat of government. Senator Calkins declared there is such a determined sentiment in South and Central Florida for removal of the capital nearer to the center of population and transportation that removal must be made or the upheaval finally will result in division of the state.

No, Holly, we stopped drinking Arbuckle coffee a long time before Fatty got into trouble and it was for personal reasons.—St. Augustine Record.

Cobb and all the rest of the baseball stars will now hold the boards, and Fatty Arbuckle and all of the other sensations will have to stay quietly in jail until we get the "World's Serious" off our hands.

This will be a busy week in Sanford. Tomorrow night, we go down to Orlando. Thursday, we play host to hundreds of visitors, and in between, there are several hundred meetings of Chamber of Commerce, the different clubs and associations.

Every Orlando business man is requested to take a Sanfordite to the banquet Tuesday night. We speak for Editor Bob Holly.—Orlando Sentinel. Thanks, old dear. If we don't feel any better tomorrow than we feel today, you will have to take us there in an ambulance.

Newspapers declare that the habit of calling a man or woman well educated just because he or she has attended college, is all wrong. A lot of folks who "go through" college, do that and nothing more, and a lot of other folks who never see a college except in pictures or as they pass by the buildings, are entitled to the classification of well-educated.—St. Petersburg Times.

"Sanford needs golf links and a country club," declares the Sanford Herald. "No city can expect to have tourists without golf links and in Sanford there has been started such an institution." The Herald urges the following up of plans for a country club and a golf course, projected some time ago but not brought quite up to the point of actual construction. There can be no question as to the attractions of a country club and a golf course. It is shown every season in Florida that towns and cities boasting links receive the most desirable class of tourists. No doubt the business people of Sanford will at no late day decide to carry on to completion the excellent plans offered some time ago.—Times-Union.

KEEP THE BOYS IN SCHOOL.

Our public schools will soon be opened and we should see to it that all of the boys are in school. We mention the boys, because they are prone to duck the school before the eighth grade is reached, while the girls usually are anxious to go this high, at least, and most of them want a high school education. We may need the children in our business, or they may be needed to keep the home fires burning or the wolf from the door, but in case they are needed, it would be better for the parents to make all the sacrifices in the world in order that the children can be sent to school and kept there until they graduate.

"In these days when unskilled labor, in some instances, is receiving high wages while many with education and training—teachers for example—are poorly paid, it is easy for a boy, with superficial thinking to conclude that it is better to go to work than to go to school.

"But the time has come, more than at any time in the past, when the abilities born of education and training are in demand and command a high price. As Frank A. Vanderlip, the well known banker, recently said: 'The mental equipment of a business man needs to be greater today than was ever before necessary.'

"In every line of life it is the men with ability—the men of brains—who are outstripping their fellows.

"Education brings not only added material blessings, but it increases the power to serve one's fellow men. It is natural and right to build up the ability to make money, but it is a serious mistake to lose sight of the fact that the unselfish service of others is one of the surest, if not the surest, means of bringing happiness and satisfaction to one's self.

"Give your boy—your children—the best education that it is within your power to give and when you shall have reached the limits of your financial ability, inspire your boy to earn his way. But be satisfied with nothing less for your children than a complete education."

THE ARBUCKLE ORGIES.

What the demand for censorship never could accomplish, because censorship is un-American and contrary to American institutions, promises to be accomplished and most thoroughly accomplished through revelations of the Arbuckle case. The wide world was shocked when the spotlight was turned upon the orgies of some of the elect in movieland that the moral reaction is bound to be sweeping.

Here we have at last a view of the atmosphere in which some of the motion pictures are produced. Here we have the fundamental reason for the demand for censorship. Here we have a fair perspective of the difficulties confronting the exhibitor, at whom the demand for censorship has been aimed so generally. And, turning from the cesspool in which at least a certain proportion of the pictures are created, one wonders less at the embarrassments of those who seek through this medium to give the people clean and wholesome amusement.

The reaction from the Arbuckle revelations already has begun. That it will reach through the whole field none can doubt. And that out of it will come a reform procurable possibly in no other way appears reasonably certain.—Gainesville News.

AN EARLY WINTER.

From hither and yon comes reports to indicate an "early winter." The fur-bearing animals are said to be more thickly clad than usual, the small, but industrious ants are laying up great stores of provisions, trees and birds and all sorts of other things are steadily giving signs of coming coldness and even the coal dealers are talking to their patrons in this section of the country and advising the stocking up with a ton or two of the fuel earlier than usual. They may all be wrong, but it is more than probable that the season may differ materially from that of the past two years and give Florida among other places, a touch of real cold weather, and start the wearing of overcoats and wraps a bit sooner than recently.

Predictions of a cold winter do not greatly distress the people living in Florida—even those who are on the extreme northern edge of the state, for they know well enough that winter will only be a matter of a few weeks, and while the mercury may get well down in the tube and stick there for two or three days, and repeat the performance two or three times during January and February, the winds of March are certain to chase away Jack Frost and the spring comes soon after St. Patrick's day if it hasn't arrived before. That we still need fires in the grate or the open fireplaces sooner than usual seems likely, but that will only make Thanksgiving day and Christmas appear natural and conforming to the books and stories.

An early winter means something different in New England, and in the West and Northwest and East; blizzards and heavy snows that stay on the ground for months, and sleet and ice and roads and streets blocked. Construction work stops when the mercury gets below the freezing point in most places, and that means idleness for more workers. It means that thousands who can travel will come South, earlier than ever before.

Florida is doing her very best at this time to provide room for all who may be coming South this season and it is safe to say that accommodations provided since last winter will be at least twenty-five per cent more. Construction work does not cease in Florida in winter—the mortar and cement and other materials do not freeze and there is hardly a day in the year, even in the severest winters, that outdoor work is not possible. The building program contemplates continuous activity and there will be work for many newcomers, regardless of the large numbers who will come.

An early winter must mean more prosperity for Florida. The crops that require only sunshine and rain will all have been harvested before the frost comes, even in the extreme upper part of the state, and the early cool weather if it comes, will help many things that grow all through the winter. An early winter and a "hard winter" mean trouble and loss to the less fortunate who must dwell amid the snows and the blizzards and suffer from interrupted traffic and a thousand other things that make a "hard winter" hard. Florida fears few of them and rejoices in the knowledge that an early winter means reasonable care for a little while.—Times-Union.

A FOOL AND HIS MONEY.

The case of Fatty Arbuckle has started the sensation seekers and furnished several texts for sermons. It is recognized as being symptomatic. The diseases which it is supposed to typify, however, are such social ills as poor prohibition enforcement, movie life, and the new freedom among women. No one seems to have noted the obvious. Fatty Arbuckle and the Arbuckle case, says the New York Globe, are really a new instance of what happens when a fool and money come together in modern America.

The old adage that a fool and his money are quickly parted. We have wiser fools and more money today than the world had when this maxim was made. The extraordinary opportunities of a new country and an age of great mechanical development have shoved thousands of men and women into incredible prosperity. Theirs are not purses filled with guineas which, once emptied, are not likely to be filled again. A continuous stream of gold pours into their pockets daily. Their difficulty seems to be, not preventing their money from leaving them, but devising ways of spending it. A few are able to resist prosperity; many it drives mad. Fatty Arbuckle is one of many. He apparently had slender resources for using the thousands coming to him weekly. At the same time there seemed to be nothing which money would not buy, whether pleasure or immunity from punishment. There was probably the constant temptation to satisfy whatever whim came to mind. The disastrous party was a natural result of bewildering power thrust upon a limited soul. Through it Fatty Arbuckle has learned that money has its limitations.

All the many newly rich of the time learn this eventually. Some are fortunate enough to get a certain wisdom without coming to prison. Some, spending with an innocent kind of folly, are never in danger of prison. But there are thousands of them with too much money for their intelligence, need, and good. Occasionally their too great prosperity ends in a sordid tragedy like the recent episode in San Francisco.—Leesburg Commercial.

"PLEASE PUBLISH JUST AS WRITTEN."

All newspapers receive communications with the request that they be published "just as written."

Any newspaper will publish a communication "just as written," provided it is worthy of publication and the author's name is attached for publication with the item.

Paid advertisements are published "just as written," as a matter of course, unless the advertiser requests that mistakes be corrected.

Communications sent to the Star Advocate as news items, without signature attached to be published with the items, will be published in accord with the style in use on the Star Advocate. This is the rule on all newspapers.

If we were to publish some communications "just as written," the authors would fee like suing the Star Advocate for damages.—Titusville Advocate.

FLOODING THE MAILS SEEKING FREE PUBLICITY.

Every mail carries to the newspaper offices of Florida column after column of "stuff" which is nothing but a propaganda of publicity for provisional propositions. One day recently brought to the office of the Gazette two columns regarding the opening of a state college; three columns of a waterway convention; something more than a column of a celebrated tire for automobiles; one column regarding the sale of stock in an automobile concern; three columns regarding complications of a health board; two columns regarding some church work that was being carried on in Chicago; several columns pertaining to a secret society; and a varied assortment of other matter about as valuable and pertinent to Florida as directions for making palm leaf fans would be to the residents of Iceland. The sheets upon which all this copy is furnished make excellent paper for the typewriter; in fact, most newspapermen utilize it that way—or make wrappers of it. Sometime big business and little business will waken to the fact that something for nothing is difficult to secure—and usually what is given free of charge is not appreciated by the recipient. Every newspaper of any prominence whatever is deluged with propositions of "here's something to fill up with"—yet few offers of that are followed by the assertion that "I'd like about a hundred copies at your regular price to mail to my friends when you can print the matter."

No man thinks for a moment of going to a lawyer and saying: "Here are a couple of cases which you can take up for me—merely to show your goodwill and to keep your office busy." No man goes to a doctor with the assertion: "I have several cases of illness in my family, and, as long as you are not extremely busy you might drive out and look after 'em—merely to keep your hand in." No one goes to a cobbler with numerous pairs of sorry-looking footwear and hands them in with the remark: "I notice that you are at rest for a little while and you might just as well fix these in proper shape for me until you have urgent work come in." But frequently does some man approach the newspaperman, blithely, smiling, and saying: "Here's a mighty fine little talk that my wife's cousin's stepuncle made before the poultry club of Coakerville, and it's so darned funny that you ought to print it. I'm not a regular subscriber, you know, but if you print it I'd like to have you give me a couple of copies so's I can send him one."

The newspaper is the most valuable adjunct of any town or city. It annually gives publicity worth many thousand dollars. It does it cheerfully. It idolizes the infant; it glowingly greets the graduate; it blesses the bride; it sympathizes with the sick; it mitigates the miseries of those who mourn; and when sorrow comes to those whose idolized inmates have passed beyond ephemeral episodes of earth the newspaper speaks only most worthy words to help stifle sorrow. The newspaper encourages enthusiasm—it boasts business—it emboldens enterprise—it pushes for progress—it urges unanimity—and countenances co-operation. The newspaper should always be morally upheld and financially appreciated.—Kissimmee Gazette.

SAYS FREIGHT RATES ARE GREAT DRAWBACK.

John P. Thomas, of Norristown, Pa., desired to come to Kissimmee to locate. He loaded his effects on a car, the agent stated the cost of placing that car in Kissimmee would be $170.40, including the warrax, and Thomas paid the bill—taking the receipt.

When he arrived in Kissimmee, and when the goods reached here, it was found that somewhere along the route there had been a change made. The classification had been incorrectly made—or the figuring had been in error—or something; and the result was that Mr. Thomas had to dig up an additional $104.57 before he could get his goods.

It is incidents of this sort which hit a city with a sorry thud. It makes the newcomer imagine that there is a fraud somewhere. Mr. Thomas, who is located at 704 Main street, feels aggrieved—and well he may. It is not the fault of the freight agent in Kissimmee—who was merely carrying out his orders—and who is ready to confer with Mr. Thomas at any time and advise him where to send the claim for adjustment—if there is need for an adjustment. If there is a wrong—if there is a blunder—the matter will be adjusted; at the same time there will remain a sore spot in the heart of the man who has to dig up the excess of $104.57.—Kissimmee Gazette.

NORTH FLORIDA CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

Quincy, Fla., Sept. 26.—The North Florida Chamber of Commerce, which embraces that part of the State west of the eastern boundary of Hamilton, Suwannee and Lafayette counties, will hold its annual meeting here on October 12. J. H. Drummond, president of the organization, has invited Columbia, Baker and Nassau counties to join, as it is desired that every county which the proposed Atlantic to Mississippi canal would traverse, be represented. Dixie county, recently created from a part of Lafayette, also has been invited to affiliate.

The two major projects which the Chamber of Commerce is now advocating are construction of the canal and the completion of State Road No. 1, from Pensacola to Jacksonville. The organization is desirous that the highway be made a sand clay road throughout.

Will Build From DeLeon Springs to Putnam County Line

DELAND, Sept. 26.—At a special meeting of the board of county commissioners here Saturday an agreement was entered into with the road department providing for the completion of the road from DeLeon Springs to the Putnam county line.

Under the terms of the agreement the county is to pay $8,333.00 a mile toward the expense of completing the road while the state will bear the remainder of the cost. The county has $200,000 available for its share of the burden. Bids for the contract were advertised and it is hoped to start the work at once. The road, a distance of about twenty miles, will be paved with either shell or rock and asphalt.

Good News in Putnam. Announcement in the above dispatch that the road between DeLeon Springs and the Putnam county line is to be completed will be good news here. This will make the connection between Palatka and DeLand complete, when the road to Crescent City is finally completed, and will then make the objective here a completion of the scenic highway between Palatka and Jacksonville by way of Green Cove Springs.

It is understood that the Clay county authorities are now negotiating for the sale of the bonds issued for the purpose of paving from Green Cove to the Putnam county line, and when this is done it will be up to the Putnam county officials to pave from Rice Creek to the Clay county line.—Palatka News.

CLYDE LINE TRIPPERS ENJOYED THE HOSPITALITY OF SANFORD CITIZENS

Dear Editor: Received your copy of Sanford Herald, but you seem to have omitted me from the list in the paper. I enjoyed my trip immensely and especially the genial "Captain of Osceola," and I was in Mrs. Calder's machine and also heard her explain the different points of interest, etc. Perhaps no one on the trip would value the press notice as much as myself.

We appreciated the hospitality of the druggist who treated us all to free ice cream on a hot day. It was a stroke of business quite worthy of a yankee for nearly every one bought something and persuaded Mrs. Calder to take her other trippers there. M. COLYER BURGESS, New York.

INSPECTION FRUITS AND VEGETABLES AT DESTINATION

Professor Wells A. Sherman, of the Bureau of Markets, United States Department of Agriculture, will speak at the Citrus Seminar, to be held at the University of Florida under the auspices of the Agricultural Extension Division, October 4-5, on the subject "Inspection of Fruits and Vegetables at Destination."

This is a subject that has received much study during the last few years, and it is one for the solution of which vast expenditures are being made by many commercial concerns, as well as state experiment stations and the United States Department of Agriculture. It is hard to know why fruit or vegetables shipped in apparently sound condition and under refrigeration, reach destination in varying degrees of decay.

Professor Sherman is in charge of this phase of the work of the Bureau of Markets. He is also in charge of the news service of this bureau. Part of his work is to standardize fruit and vegetables into the various grades. He is particularly fitted to talk to the fruit and vegetable men of Florida on the foregoing subject.

FLORIDA IS PROSPEROUS.

While business conditions are not as bad here by a great deal, we still are suffering from "reflected conditions." That is, being a far south state, we are classed in a sweeping generalization of all southern states. Notwithstanding the fact that there is no real money tightness here, no crops shortages in view, no letup in the volume of yearly visitors (they are coming earlier than ever before), northern advertisers show a wariness about the state. The fact is that there is what might be termed an "exodus" already on from the north to Florida, and northern business men are afflicted with what might be termed in common parlance, "cold feet." It might pay those who yearly do big business in Florida to come down and get warmed up a little—and incidentally view our conditions as they are in reality—which are decidedly rosy in hue at the present writing.—Florida Grower.
