Senate Over-rides Presidential Veto Of Philippine Bill

66 To 26 Vote Paves Way For Island Independence After Period Of Ten Years

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—(AP)—Independence of the Philippine Islands became an accomplished fact, as far as the United States is concerned, this afternoon when the Senate, by a vote of 66 to 26, over-ruled President Hoover's veto of the Hawes-Cutting bill. A two-thirds vote was required in both the Senate and the House which had already over-ruled the President's veto.

All that remains in establishing the complete independence of the islands is for a constitution to be drawn, which must be approved by the President of the United States, and for a plebiscite to be held among the Filipinos. This election must be held within twenty-eight months.

According to other provisions of the bill, following the plebiscite, in the event the constitution is approved by the people, a period of intermediate government follows for ten years when the United States will withdraw all civil authority from the islands, but will continue to extend protection to imports from the Philippines. Filipino immigration from the islands will be limited to fifty annually.

After the ten year period has elapsed, the islands automatically gain complete independence and become subject to the same immigration and tariff restrictions as any other nation. The United States retains the right to maintain military and naval stations on the islands, even after independence is granted, and proposes to safeguard the future of the islands by securing international neutralization.

Thirteen million Filipinos are affected directly by the provisions of the bill.

Railways Reminded Of Fine Quality Of Sanford's Celery

Reminder that Seminole County celery of finest quality is now on the market, today was mailed to dining car officials of every important railroad operating in America who last year co-operated with the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce in giving this section an opportunity to prove that its celery is far and away the best that is produced.

With the reminder went the thanks of the trade body and farmers of this section for the railroads' use of the celery on their dining cars last year. It was also suggested that the celery be again included on menus this year.

SHOLTZ JOINS CHORUS ASKING AID FOR CITIES

Attention Of Florida Group In Capital Is Brought To Bankruptcy Proposals

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Gov. Dave Sholtz, the mayor of Coral Gables, other officials of municipalities and taxing districts and lawyers in Florida, in telegrams and letters received yesterday by Senator Duncan U. Fletcher, with the request that copies of their communications be furnished to the whole Florida delegation, would have the proposed new bankruptcy bill, now being considered by the House judiciary committee, amended to incorporate a provision affecting municipalities and other political subdivisions.

Rep. Ruth Bryan Owen at once submitted the suggestions to the House judiciary committee members, whose off-hand reaction raised the question of the constitutional authority of Congress to enact the proposed amendment. In his telegram Governor Sholtz said: "Suggestion made worthy of consideration, relative to broadening of proposed amendment to the bankruptcy act, accompanying President Hoover's special message so as to permit municipalities and other political subdivisions to take advantage of same. Special and limited procedure provided by proposed amendment for other corporations and individuals in the matter of special petition for composition of debts where a majority of creditors have agreed. This legislation undoubtedly designed particularly for the relief of mortgages and especially of railroad and other corporations requiring extension or adjustment of maturing debts. As a matter of fact it is the one thing which municipalities in default are in urgent need of in order to eliminate holdout minority bondholders who otherwise would block any settlement plan."

"If advisable your opinion will appreciate this being brought to the attention of entire Florida delegation. This method being used to save expense of separate telegrams which I know they will understand."

The following extracts from the letter of the mayor of Coral Gables epitomize the opinions and suggestions of the other officials, to whose communications reference has been made:

"While there are 2700 municipalities or taxing districts in default in the United States, there will be several times that number unless there is an adequate method provided for dealing with creditors by which default may be arrested and confidence restored. One hundred and seven Florida cities and towns—nearly all—are in default on their bonds. It must be agreed by every one that boom time debts and those excessive debts contracted on a basis of a much higher price structure must be scaled down by some general adjustment method unless the previous price level can be promptly restored. No reasonable person considers the latter to be within the range of the possibilities for a long period of years.

This condition of excessive debts is state-wide in Florida. It involves considerably more than half, and probably two-thirds of all the $800,000,000 debts owned by Florida cities and taxing districts.

"On the one hand bondholders' protective committees find it to be an impossibility to secure the consent of all bondholders to a settlement plan. At least 5 per cent of bonds will not be located for a period of two years. The percentage of holdouts, who can not be brought to a settlement plan after two or more years' labor, will amount to 5 per cent or more."

Sholtz's Economy Program Extended

TALLAHASSEE, Jan. 17.—(AP)—Governor Sholtz's economy program today was extended to the state forest service and live stock sanitary board. Both departments cut payrolls and current operating costs 50 percent as requested in the governor's general order that expenditures from the general revenue fund and from other funds must be cut in half within 30 days so the state can meet its current obligations without transferring funds. Sholtz said he expected all other departments "to fall in line."

SCRIP MONEY IS SEEN WORKABLE IN COMMUNITIES

Efficacy On National Scale Is Doubtful; Cities Are Trying It

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—While admitting that the issuance of scrip money as strictly community propositions might be of some benefit, leading banking authorities frowned on the increasing efforts to adopt the plan nationally, as leading to a devaluation of sound currency. Basing their views on the old economic principle that had money drives out good money, these authorities predicted chaotic financial conditions would follow any flat money scheme on a national scope.

Interest in scrip money, particularly the self-liquidating stamped type, increased steadily during 1932, and in the last two weeks the number of proposals for its adoption nationally has multiplied rapidly. Endorsement of the plan by Professor Irving Fisher, of Yale University, a short time ago gave impetus to the movement, with the result that at the present time several business "grip" economists, whose knowledge of the intricacies of currency and monetary matters is doubted by banking authorities, have given their approval to the scheme.

Originating in 1890 and more or less dormant since that time until revived in Germany until Austria about a year and a half ago, the stamped scrip idea has bounded rapidly into national prominence, and following its try-out in Hawarden, Iowa, is now being hailed as a way out of the depression.

Young Democrats To Attend Orlando Meet

With the first state convention of the Florida League of Young Democrats in the offing, members of the Sanford League will gather at the Valencia Hotel Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock for the purpose of selecting delegates to the convention which will be held in Orlando next Monday.

John Meisch, Jr., is president of the local League, with Clarence Adams, secretary, and about 50 members included on the roster. Efforts will be made to send a large delegation to Orlando, in the hope of gaining valuable publicity for this city and its branch of the League which was founded by George W. McRory some years ago.

YOUNG MAN'S DEATH PROVES BIG MYSTERY

Rich Princeton Graduate's Death Is Decried As Suicide, Murder By Doctors

PALMYRA, New Jersey, Jan. 17.—(AP)—The death of Bradley Brown, young wealthy Princeton University graduate, presented mystery after mystery to police.

Brown was found sprawled in the living room floor with bullet wounds in his lung and back. One physician said Brown was murdered while another contended it was suicide.

A neighbor, Mrs. Harold West, said she heard two shots apparently from the Brown garage and saw two men run from the place. The body, however, was found in the living room.

Brown testified at an inquest into the death three years ago of his friend, Ruth Wilson, and her son, Horace Roberts, found slain in the bedroom of the Wilson home. The verdict of the inquest was murder and suicide.

Trade Body Board Of Governors Will Meet Tonight

The Board of Governors of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce will meet at the City Hall offices of the trade body tonight at 7:30 o'clock, with H. M. Pappe, president of the organization, in charge of the meeting.

The following persons are expected to attend: H. F. Haines, L. D. Haines, W. B. Haines, of Atlantic Springs; S. E. Long, M. R. McCallister, A. G. Wagner, H. S. Chulsting, Gordon Barnett, H. S. Al Smith Comes To Aid Of Destitute Man Who Wrote "Sidewalks Of New York"

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—(AP)—The "Happy Warrior" who gaily sallied forth to political wars to the tune of "Sidewalks of New York," yesterday came to the aid of the now destitute author of the famous lyric.

When Alfred E. Smith, former governor and present Democratic presidential nominee, picked up his morning newspaper he was startled to read of the sad plight of James W. Blake, who 34 years ago wrote the words of the song that "Al" made famous to a new generation.

One of the first for a year, with a sister and a blind brother to support, Blake, now 70 was yesterday forced to give up quarters in a dollar a day hotel and take to the sidewalks of New York.

But things were not as they used to be—perhaps they never were, or the sidewalks may look different at 70 than 34.

Blake went to a newspaper office and told his story the story that "Al" Smith read with his breakfast.

Immediately Smith got into touch with the emergency work and relief bureau, and was assured Blake would be taken care of immediately and asked to be kept informed on the case.

Yesterday Blake went to see William H. Mathwa of the work and relief committee and was given money to rent an apartment, a promise of light clerical work as (Continued On Page Four)

Tuition Fees At Rollins Raised By $400 Per Year

WINTER PARK, Jan. 17.—Action of the trustees in raising the student rate at Rollins College to $1350 per annum, in accordance with a new Unit-Cost Plan which divides annual operating expenses by the estimated student enrollment, and leaves income and endowment available for scholarships, was announced at a special assembly of students last night by President Hamilton H. Holt.

The Unit-Cost Plan, which represents an increase of about $400 a year to each student, was hailed by Dr. Holt as a "simple, scientific and concrete program that is entirely new in college finance."

The following persons are expected to attend: H. F. Haines, L. D. Haines, W. B. Haines, of Atlantic Springs; S. E. Long, M. R. McCallister, A. G. Wagner, H. S. Chulsting, Gordon Barnett, H. S. BOLD MOVE IS MADE TO GET REPEAL VOT

Petition Is Filed In House Which Will Allow Vote To Bring Resolutions To Floor

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—(AP)—A bold drive to force another vote on outright repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment was undertaken today when Representative Schaefer, Republican, of Wisconsin, filed a petition in the House which if signed by 145 members would allow a vote on bringing to the floor the one beaten, repeal resolution of Speaker Garner.

Senator Smith, Democrat, of South Carolina, said President-elect Roosevelt told him he was of the domestic allotment farm relief bill to be confined to wheat and cotton.

The Far East "menace" and the "debt debacle" were named today by Miss Mary Woolley, only American woman delegate to the Geneva arms conference, as among the "many and dangerous lions" threatening the success of the conference.

The directing hand of President-elect Roosevelt appeared behind a comprehensive program of agricultural relief last night as the House voted new millions of federal credit for the farmer and prepared to protect his acreage against mortgage foreclosures.

White Roosevelt personally sought to remove snags from the Senate path of the much-discussed "domestic allotment" bill for boosting farm prices, the House under the domination of the vice president-elect Speaker Garner, passed a bill to provide $75,000,000 for 1933 crop production loans.

Already approved by the Senate, the bill was taken up and passed in speedy fashion. Only adjustment of minor differences in the Senate and House versions remain between the bill and the White House.

Senate circles buzzed with conjecture, meanwhile, as Roosevelt definitely took a hand in the legislative fate of the "domestic allotment" bill by submitting to New York for a hurried conference the ranking Democratic member of the agriculture committee, "Cotton Ed" Smith, of South Carolina, who has guardedly expressed his doubts of the measure's wisdom. Until Smith's return today, the committee agreed to defer its consideration of the bill.

The Roosevelt imprimatur was also seen in the announcement by Chairman Stengall of the House Banking committee that congressional action would be expedited on a temporary measure to relieve the farm mortgage loan situation.

Samuel Furnace Dies From Self-Poisoning

TECHNOCRACY IS ENDED, DECLARES MOTOR ENGINEER

Shows Good Sense Of U. S. Public Has Put Crimp Upon Theory

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—The national automobile chamber of commerce meeting here today said that the "technocracy" is over. "Everyone is breathing easier," the subject was dragged into the open and stripped of its mystery," said Parsons.

"Once again the innate good humor and sound common sense of the American people have been revealed. It is gratifying to note that dressed up bogey are being their powers to terrify us, and better things, but it also indicates the substitution of nerve for force."

"It is even probable that the technocrats are rendered the nation a real service by directing attention to age-old evils that have been passed over too lightly. Out of the battle of words will come a better understanding of man's money, methods and men in their relationship to each other. Technocracy, as it now appears, is a discredited philosophy because of its inaccuracies, exaggerations and unprofessional presentation. It may be subjected to a house cleaning that will make it less fantastic and more respectable. Today it stands forth as a carefully used effort to stampede discontents—to transform fear into panic hysterical utterances."

"It has failed to play fair with a sorely pressed nation of anxious people, and those who have doctrines are justly open to the charge of being propagandists instead of engineers. Their methods have aroused suspicions of plots and treachery, backed by hidden motives. The dignity of technical research is absent."

"Technocracy runs wild when it presents statements which, if carried to a logical conclusion, indicate that 100 brick makers can do the work of 35,000 and that seven flour mill employes can perform all the duties now taken care of by 27,000 men and women."

"Its philosophy falls flat when it assumes that sound conclusions can be based on fragmentary evidence; that present abnormal unemployment is the result of technological displacement; that we can predict with accuracy what human beings will think or do tomorrow; that everything was grand until the machine came along to upset life and industry; that the demand for goods will soon become stationary, and that the future can be measured by kilowatts with human nature left out of the picture.

"The truth is that after forty years of intensive mechanization in the United States, there are seventy-two workers per 1,000 of population in our manufacturing industries, whereas at the beginning of this period of four decades there were only sixty-nine."

"Unemployment was as bad in the 1870's as today, and no one can say that labor-saving devices caused the idleness."

"We were singing the blues in the 1820's, and '40's and '90's and again in 1921, but in every case some glaring faults were corrected and our people moved on ahead. The outcome of our present trouble will be the same."

"We must develop a sound plan of national industrial planning, bring the flow of credit under closer control and devise a practical plan that will permit corporations to go ahead with their work of expansion along lines that will make invested capital more quickly self liquidating. Fortunately the remedial accomplishments are rapidly taking form."

BEN CANTWELL TO PLAY IN BALL GAME ON SUNDAY

Stars Of 1932 Local Team To Meet Team Of DeLand Players

Baseball makes an early return to Sanford when next Sunday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock a team of All-Stars headed by Ben Cantwell, Jack Bentley, Staffy McCrone, Red Martin and Jack Sanford will appear in competition against a DeLand team that will include Olin Hutto, Alan Mobley, Tigie Minor, Breese Provost, and many of the DeLand players who saw service in the Central Florida Baseball League last year.

Baseball makes an early return mainly because most of the Sanford players of the 1932 league team are spending the winter here, some of them employed, most of them hoping to be within a few weeks.

Workouts will be held at Municipal Park all this week and fans are invited to be on hand to watch the athletes limber up. Practice sessions have already begun at DeLand, according to Bill Page, president of last year's DeLand club, for that team will face the Daytona Beach Islanders in a tilt on Feb. 1.

The Sanford team should have it all over DeLand, and with Cantwell, Bentley, and McCrone heading the list. Whether Cantwell takes a turn on the mound or not depends entirely upon how his arm feels after a week's workout. The same might be said of Bentley, whom the New York Giants purchased for $65,000 some years ago. McCrone, one of the hardest hitting and ablest first basemen in minor league ball today, is reported as being ready to enter play today, if necessary.

Sid Rive and Bert Chapman will handle the catching assignment, according to present plans, with Joe Barnes and McCrone to hold down first base, Jack Sanford at second, Cecil Friblee at short, John Higgins at third, Roy Harrison, Red Martin, Ben Cantwell, and Pete Schirard, in the outfield. Buddy Lake will probably be handed the starting assignment on the mound, with Cal Dennis, Cantwell, and Bentley ready for relief work.

Announcement was made today that all persons interested in becoming members of the team

Ad In Herald Jumped Business 50 Percent

Sanford people want fresh tables provided the prices are reasonable, but in order to assure the patronage of these customers they must be induced to buy through the medium of good advertising, is the opinion expressed today by J. G. Michael, owner of the Manhattan Market at Second Street and Palm Street.

Mr. Michael placed an advertisement in The Sanford Herald Friday. He said that approximately 50 percent more persons made purchases at his store last Saturday after his advertisement was published than on the previous Saturday. Mr. Michael expressed himself as being well pleased with the results obtained from advertising in this newspaper and said he plans to continue this policy.

RACING PROGRAM THROWS TAMPA AIRPORT CROWD

Fifty Planes Ranging From Big Bombers To Midgets On Hand

TAMPA, Jan. 16.—Fifty airplanes, ranging from tiny speedsters to giant army bombers and fighting ships, thrilled thousands in the Tampa airport yesterday in a program of races, stunts and other spectacular events, featuring Tampa's sixth annual air meet.

A new local speed record was established as Jimmy Wedell, of Patterson, La., flew his 525-horsepower low wing monoplane at an average of 223 miles an hour to win the 25-mile free-for-all race. The Wedell, plane similar in design to ships that hold several national records, outclassed three others entered in the day's classic. After the race, Wedell said his throttle was not opened wide and his plane, if the lead had been threatened, was capable of traveling better than 300 miles an hour. But the big crowd that watched Wedell burst his giant motorized speedster around the pylons in 90-degree banks were convinced that he was flying the fastest plane ever to touch its wheels on the Tampa airport.

The free-for-all race also gave the crowd a glimpse of the smallest and second fastest ship in the group of 37 planes participating in the Florida air tour. It was the Cessna Special, piloted by Roy Lirgett, of Wichita, Kan., that finished second to Wedell at a clocked speed of 180 miles an hour. Eldon Cessna, designer of the plane, watched the race from the sidelines. His plane is equipped with folding landing gear that

Meeting Held In Gainesville For Game Protection

GAINESVILLE, Jan. 16.—Formation of a legislative committee to study the protection of the state's game and forest resources, was the subject of a meeting held here today.

The prohibition of the sale of black bass, which members reported had assumed alarming proportions, was declared by officials of the body to be one of the major objectives.

A delayed parachute jump by Jack Raymond, of Lakeland, from the cockpit of Wesley Raymond's trim yellow low wing monoplane, was one of the most sensational events on the program. Climbing in slow spirals to an altitude of 10,000 feet, the pilot, who brought his plane from Los Angeles to the Miami air races and there joined the Florida tour signaled the jumper to leave the plane.

Six army planes, flying in two tight V-shaped combat formations, gave two exhibitions during the afternoon, the first preceding the 110-horsepower plane event, and the next just before the free-for-all. Capt. Melvin Asp, a native Floridian, commanded the pursuit plane formation. The three was not carried for any great distance by the train. Keen was rushed to Orange General hospital in a Carey hand ambulance where he was pronounced dead. A coroner's jury met at the Carey hand funeral home later in the afternoon and viewed the body. The inquest will be continued on Wednesday.

E. C. Keyes, freight agent for the railroad, said witnesses told him that the warning bell at the crossing was ringing at the time of the accident and that the red "danger" light was burning. He also said that he had been told that another car had "run the light" ahead of the Keen sedan. Keen is well known in Florida as a cattle man. He has been in the cattle business for 25 years. Only last Saturday he was helping build a 25-mile fence around his Polk county ranch near Kathleen, 12 miles north of Lakeland, according to a brother, John M. Keen, who came here after the accident yesterday.

Sanford Golfers Are Defeated By DeLand

Sanford golfers who visited DeLand yesterday afternoon to accept a challenge to matches between teams of men and teams of women, suffered decisive defeat. The women's team was defeated by the score of 19½ to 1½ while the men's team dropped the match by a score of 33 to 14½.

Mrs. T. R. Melling was captain of the women's team that included Mrs. George R. Hull, Mrs. Mary Rawlins, the Misses Helen Marenzette, Rebecca Stevens, Elizabeth Shoemaker, and Margaret Peters. John Herbat was captain of the men's team that included Joe Masters, Roy Holler, John Ludwig, Charles Dunn Sr., T. R. Melling, G. G. Herring, H. W. Rucker, Andrew Carraway, Fred Bolby and Howard Faville.

The College Arms course was the scene of play, and both DeLand teams will play a return match here within a few weeks.
