Soviet Russia Is Making Big New Bid For Nasser's Favor

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent
Soviet Russia is making a big bid this week for the favor of President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic. Nasser is flying to Moscow, at the invitation of the Soviet government, on the biggest state visit he ever has made.

Advance reports indicate the visit will be a red carpet affair and that every possible attempt will be made to impress the visitor with the industrial, political and military might of the Soviet Union.

Nasser would make the visit in response to an invitation issued two years ago, but it was not until March 22 and was confirmed officially. Cairo dispatches said that he will attend the big May Day celebration in Moscow May 1, that he will tour the country as far as Siberia—and that he may witness the launching of Russia's Sputnik No. 2.

News of the visit is pretty certain to be unwelcome in Washington. There have been indications for several months, and especially in the last few weeks, that the United States is trying to put up its relations with Egypt.

There have been indications, also, that Nasser would welcome the improvement, partly because it would be calculated to lessen his growing dependence on Russia. As part of the attempt to improve relations, Eugene Black, president of the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, has announced that the institution will help Egypt plans to increase the capacity of the Suez Canal.

It is expected this will be accompanied by big credits to Egypt. It is reported, too, that the United States may lend Nasser Army dragoons to deepen the canal. If things work out well, the United States may release the $6 million dollars in Egyptian assets which it has kept frozen since the Suez crisis of 1956 in order to protect American shipping interests in any disputes about payment of canal tolls.

Cairo dispatches reported on April 18 that Nasser had issued orders to Egyptian newspapers and radio to stop their persistent attacks on the United States. At any rate, the attacks have ceased, if only temporarily.

But Nasser's visit to the Soviet Union is likely to make it harder for the United States to make any immediate progress toward its hope of winning Nasser away from close cooperation with Russia. Nasser is a most impressive man. He banks in his chosen role of Mr. Big of the Arab world and is highly susceptible to favorable propaganda. That he will get all the favorable propaganda he can easily digest during his visit to the Soviet Union is certain.

RONALD W. PERRY
City of Sanford's new recreation director.

New Recreation Director Discusses Program With City

Sanford's newly employed year-round recreation director, Ronald W. Perry, conferred with school and city officials Friday and Saturday in preparation for the city's summer recreation program.

Perry will report to work in Sanford on June 1. However, details for the annual summer recreation program had to be worked out.

"I am certainly in favor of a year-round program that will attract everyone, from the youngest child to the adult," Perry said Saturday morning.

The summer recreation program will give men an opportunity to meet many of the folks in Sanford and to become acclimated before putting together a program to reach everyone, Perry said.

Perry is now attending Florida State University preparing for his Masters Degree.

"I am looking forward to being in Sanford in the near future with my wife and family," Perry said.

Perry pointed out that the Sanford Civic Center's youth recreation wing will lend itself to a well-rounded program of diversified recreation for various ages of children. "It is possible to have several programs going on at the same time to reach several ages of children and none will interfere with the other," he said.

"I have never enjoyed a more cooperative atmosphere," the new recreation director said, as he spoke of meeting with various school officials to work out details of the summer recreation program.

Wilkinson Named Outstanding Enlisted Man

JACKSONVILLE—Billy B. Wilkinson, aviation storekeeper first class, USN, is awarded the "Outstanding Enlisted Man of the Year Trophy" by his commanding officer, Cdr. T. R. Sedell.

Wilkinson, the son of Mrs. S. A. Wilkinson of 2476 S. Palmetto Ave., Sanford, is serving with Attack Squadron 44 at the Naval Air Station, Jacksonville.

In addition to receiving the trophy March 20, Wilkinson was awarded a Letter of Commendation for outstanding performance of duty as leading petty officer in the material division.

Before entering the Navy in March 1954, Wilkinson graduated from Seminole High School.

WASHINGTON (UP)—The United States will test major parts of an atomic rocket engine in Nevada this fall, it was disclosed.

Col. Jack L. Armstrong, deputy director of the Atomic Energy Commission Office of Aircraft Nuclear Propulsion, told the United Press the "nuclear reactor and necessary parts" of the "Rover" rocket engine will be tested at the atomic proving ground in Nevada.

The Rover, which needs no air, could be used as a light-weight long-range motor for space ships.

Simultaneously Rep. James T. Patterson (R-Conn.), a member of the Joint Congressional Atomic Energy Committee, called on the Navy to step up its development of the "Subrock" missile. He said the Subrock could, if pushed, be in operation a year before the Polaris. He said it could be fired through torpedo tubes of existing submarines, travel "many miles" under water and then fly through the air to coastal installations "many hundreds of miles away."

Patterson said in a statement "acute prototypes of nuclear propulsion engines for missiles" will be tested on the ground this year. He said airborne tests of nuclear powered missiles will be conducted within two or three years. Armstrong said this prediction might be "over-optimistic."

Ozier, Son Critically Injured In Accident

Two Sanford residents are in critical condition at the Baptist Hospital in Corbin, Ky., following an automobile accident Sunday afternoon.

At 10:15 this morning, Mr. Ozier had still not regained consciousness. Willis is reported to be rallying, although still on the critical list.

Mrs. Ozier was visiting her mother in Toledo, O., at the time. She arrived in Corbin early this morning. Her brother, Jack Herford, New Bedford, Ind., rushed to Corbin last night and will stay with Mrs. Ozier.

Extent of injuries to the two men is not yet known by Sanford investigators. Willis is a Junior at the Seminole High School.

gen, under high pressure. This would blast out through nozzles, driving the rocket or space ship much like present chemical fuels. The atom engine would not need the huge fuel supplies conventional rocket motors must carry.

Chief of Police, Roy Williams, stated this morning that Sanford police officers have doubled protection in recent weeks. Dusting for fingerprints has been made at each scene, and the department is working toward an early solution of the crimes. Chief Williams urged property owners to check their doors and windows, and to remove as much as possible any temptation for the vandals.

Cerebral Palsy Will Strike Every Fifty-Three Minutes

In the time it takes a lot of us to eat dinner, cerebral palsy will strike. Somewhere in America it strikes every fifty-three minutes, every day in the year. It cripples cruelly, but that is merely the beginning. Cerebral palsy's damage ranges far beyond the child. It may cripple the family's finances; it may cripple the family's happiness; it may cripple the family's future. And where there are other children, it can absorb their share of deep-seated affection.

Nothing known to man approaches its power to cripple infants in so many ways—in such a demoralizing variety of ways.

Their arms, legs, trachea, neck muscles, speech, their breathing apparatus, their balance, their hands.

These are some of the reasons cerebral palsy has been called our cruelest crippler.

Tragically, it strikes babies, for the most part. It results from a tiny injury to the brain, during or soon after birth. But it can strike anyone. At any time.

One of the most baffling aspects is that rugged health in the parents doesn't count at all. Cerebral palsy can strike the healthiest family.

What is being done about it? United Cerebral Palsy carries on a year-round, two pronged attack. One corps battles here, using the weapons of therapy, education, vocational training. The supporting attack, nationwide, fights unremittingly with research to the key of prevention. In eight years, United Cerebral Palsy has poured more than $3 million into research and training.

This wide ranging, stubborn crippler is our problem. It is our problem because any crushing hardship cries out with an undeniable appeal.

Cerebral palsy's burden is such an overwhelming one that it must be shared. Support the 53-Minute March on Cerebral Palsy, Tuesday, May 20. Give to the 53-Minute Marcher who calls on you.

Respect For Learning Is Low

Much of the discussion of education which goes on today is and will remain merely talk because of the fact that so many Americans read so little. There are indications that as the years of the immediate future unfold, they will read less. College professors from many parts of the country tell the same story: the students coming to them from high schools are poorly read. These professors seem to believe, also, that the majority of college students do not read enough.

Respect for learning in America remains far too low. Thousands of boys and girls are poured out of our high schools each year without having absorbed any true and enduring respect for learning and the search for truth, divorced from thought of rewards. Some of these boys and girls gain a feeling for learning in colleges and universities, but their number is far too few.

The relative lack of learning in America is one reason for some of this country's frustrations and failures abroad. To this day, many Americans believe that other countries can be propagandized and a foreign policy developed without bothering to learn much about these countries. More and more, Americans are learning to listen to television, but to little else.

The world of today and tomorrow is different from that of the past. It is highly doubtful that a great nation can retain its greatness without vastly more education than is being acquired in America today.

This nation was created out of ideas. If it declines, a major cause will be the lack of ideas.

Foreign News Commentary

By CHARLES M. MCCANN, United Press Staff Correspondent.

The chief question in the new French cabinet crisis seems to be whether a "strong man" cabinet will be formed now or later.

The political situation, confused since the end of World War II is drifting toward chaos.

Gaillard had been in office for five months and nine days. The average length of a premier's official life has been seven months.

Four possibilities seem to lie ahead:

Another patchwork coalition, whose leader will have no authority and who will be completely at the mercy of the chief coalition group.

Constitutional reform, to limit the power of the National Assembly, the controlling house of parliament, and to give the premier absolute and to give the premier absolute

Formation of a "united front" by left-wing parties, including the Communists, with the certainty that the Communists would rule or ruin it.

Formation of a "strong man" cabinet, under either a formal constitutional reform act or emergency legislation, with a man of dominant personality at its head.

A SUCCESSFUL LAUNCHING

Too Late To Classify

By Russell Kay

As you drive about the state and see the thousands of new homes, most of them fully equipped with the latest in modern living comforts, attractively landscaped and so spanking new cars in most every driveway don't you ask yourself, "Where does the money come from for such modern affluence?"

Greenery clerks and truck drivers along with the butcher, the baker and the confectioner maker are living in homes today that a few years ago a banker would have considered a castle as far as convenience, comfort and good living is concerned.

The answer is Faith. Youngsters today with nothing but faith in themselves and their ability to hold a job and meet their obligation don't hesitate to put their John Hancock on papers that obligate them to pay thousands of dollars.

Equal Faith is evidenced by the banks and financial institutions that make such transactions possible. Grandpa considers the nation's vast consumer credit today and shakes his head. He was brought up to believe that a man shouldn't pay anything he couldn't pay for with cash on the barrel head.

Since then we have learned that consumer buying power is what keeps the wheels of business and industry turning. This fact coupled with the knowledge that most folks are honest and can be depended upon to meet their obligations.

It is the American way and it has given this country the highest standard of living of any country on earth. Faith, courage, and individual effort and industry backed by inherent honesty answers your question, "Where does the money come from?"

Additional thousands, with low incomes and little or no credit rating have found it possible to acquire refrigerators, modern household equipment, furniture, radios or television sets though our small loan companies.

Last year the 506 licensed small loan companies made a total of $21,018 loans that poured $30,465,818 into the growing economy of our state. Such loans were made to persons in the 21 to 40 age bracket for the most part.

Florida's small loan industry is slowing any down-trend in the state's economy, according to Owen Eubank of Daytona Beach, president of the Florida Consumer Finance Association.

"At a time when individual buying power might be slackening and personal credit hampered by any temporary slow down, small loan volume is helping to keep things moving in the Florida economy," Eubank said.

Current small loan volume in Florida is running at an estimated rate of $10 million a year. Eubank points out that the impact of this can be best judged by the fact that the sum is equal to more than $100 per Florida family and that one out of every six families in the state is a customer of state-licensed small loan firms.

Through debt consolidation, small installment loans enable families which have over-extended their credit to meet obligations while stretching out their debt payments.

Another surprise was the information that small loan companies show a very modest earning. The Comptroller's report gives this earning at 8.86 per cent of assets used in the business before deduction of interest paid on funds by the companies to make the loans.

Debt can be a blessing or a curse depending on how it is exercised. Credit used wisely and honestly has helped many a young couple get ahead but it should be entered into cautiously and intelligently with a full knowledge of the responsibility incurred.

Commission General Manager Homer Hooks said the industry will face an unusual situation this summer with the supply low and the demand high. He suggested that before final plans for the last eight months of the fiscal year be formed, the commission should wait for the first federal crop estimates due Oct. 10.

However, the committee recommended spending $238,000 during the first four months—July 1-Oct. 31. Because of the tight supply and heavy demand, it is anticipated that the advertising budget for the next fiscal year will be well under the record one of $4,400,000 for the current fiscal year.

Russia Steps Up Trade Offensive

By JEROME W. SMOGGIN, United Press Staff Correspondent.

LONDON—Soviet people are stepping up a world-wide trade-offensive which officials here believe is hurting the West more than the Spanish success or the propaganda offer to halt nuclear tests.

Its main targets are the "under-developed" and "uncommitted" countries.

Chief among them are the United Arab Republic, India, Afghanistan and Indonesia. Western officials are convinced the Soviet's main goal is to push their political influence in those countries at the West's expense.

But Moscow's tireless carpet-bagger and aid dispenser are striving to extend it to areas which the West hitherto has regarded as its own economic preserve—including Latin America, North Africa, Ethiopia, Saudi Arabia and newly independent Ghana.

Moscow also is working unflaggingly, but with less spectacular results, to step up its trade with Western Europe.

Finland increased Exchanges in 1958 this totaled $5,340,000 or 4.1 per cent of Western Europe's total trade. Incomplete figures for 1957 show the percentage last year slipped back to 4 per cent. Only Finland and Iceland sharply increased their trade with Russia.

But 1958 may show a new upsurge, partly as a result of a new commercial pact just signed by Russia with West Germany, under which trade between the two will be almost doubled this year.

The U. S. State Department estimated last January that the Soviet bloc has handed out a total of $1,500,000,000 in the past two years in aid to under-developed countries. Most of this has been in the form of long-term credits at the extremely low interest rate of 2.5 per cent. By far the biggest chunk, 700 million dollars, went to Egypt and Syria, now the United Arab Republic.

Egypt's economic tie-up with Russia is being hailed as a landmark.

Official studies by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and various universities and health departments throughout the country show a new nutritionist's state among both rural and urban families in all income levels.

There is a lack of essential nutrients, particularly protective nutrients such as vitamins, minerals and proteins in most American diets. This lack is most alarming among school children.

It's easy to see that our kids need parental supervision at the table.

Answer: There are many causes for nutritional deficiency. One of the most common causes is picking of the nose. Picky and capricious eating habits, such as tuberculosis and rheumatic fever are also frequent causes. Certain diseases of the blood, such as leukemia and hemophilia, may also cause frequent nosebleeds.

The survey determined that 79 per cent of the families did not meet allowances recomended by the National Research Council for calcium. 59 per cent did not meet allowances for vitamin C.

From 18 to 20 per cent were below normal in iron and zinc. 18 per cent of them show signs of malnutrition, growth failure, anemia, night blindness, gum inflammation and nervous habits.

A survey of 60,000 school-age children in 10 states revealed only 13 per cent of them ate a good breakfast.

Taking Meals Together Benefits Entire Family

By JEROME W. SMOGGIN, U.S.

LIFE'S bring back the tradition of happy meals—the family dinner and the family breakfast and family lunch, too, for that matter.

With ideas running her mind up the can and her feet kicking the floor, with her eyes looking into the mirror and her hands on her hips and her hair flying off her head and her whole family does not sit down to eat together as often as it used to. Everywhere seems to race through each meal.

Chief reason

And this, I firmly believe, is one of the chief reasons why so many Americans do not get proper nourishment from their meals. We must eat our meals leisurely in a calm atmosphere.

Official studies by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and various universities and health departments throughout the country show a new nutritionist's state among both rural and urban families in all income levels.

There is a lack of essential nutrients, particularly protective nutrients such as vitamins, minerals and proteins in most American diets. This lack is most alarming among school children.

Conning The News

Frank Deane is spending two weeks in Sanford with Lorraine and the girls. Has to go back on the ship for two months, but then hopes he will be back in Sanford for duty.

Joe Dyer and Ray Compton were two of the out-of-town guests who attended the "Gay Nineties" party Friday night at the Legion Hut. This was a HATU affair, hosted by the Ordinance Department.

Favorite casseroles and salad made up the menu—another way of saying covered dish.

Gambling tables at no cost to the customer gave those who crave excitement their chance to play for big stakes. Donny Brown won the prize for the most chips. Bill Gray, guest of Anita and Bob Hadden, came off with a prize for losing the most. Naturally, it was a deck of marked cards.

Many came in costume. Virginia Shaller in leg-o-mutton sleeves on a yellow blouse, purple skirt and beads of jewelry was the winner for the girls. Rita Bauer was runner-up.

First prize for the men went to Red Savage, a bartender. Red had parted his hair in the middle, vested himself in red, and was ready to go with apron and towel.

Mrs. Hamilton Honored

Mrs. Peter (Molly) Hamilton was guest of honor at a stork feast given recently by Mrs. Elton Edridge and Mrs. Robert Hammond, at the home of Ruth Hamilton on Wildmore Avenue, Longwood.

The party rooms were decorated with spring flowers and pastel candles. Several entertaining "stork" games were played, before gifts were opened and admired. The gifts were displayed in an old fashioned wooden stork cradle. A large stork stood nearby as if delivering the gifts in person.

Refreshments of punch, coffee, cookies, cakes, nuts and mints were served to the guests present. Making this a memorable occasion were Mrs. Fred Barnett, Mrs. Betty Seidel, Mrs. Ira Wilson, Mrs. Caroline Billine, Mrs. James McGrath, Mrs. John Strong, Mrs. Fred Blanchard, Mrs. Marcella Winkle, Mrs. Paul DeWolf, Mrs. Lucille Wells, Mrs. Karl Tritschler, Mrs. Gene Bethel, Mrs. Joy Crocker and Mrs. Rayburn Milway, all of Longwood.

Mrs. D. T. Warren, Mrs. Fred Yeager, Mrs. John Hollis, Mrs. Mary Hallett, Mrs. Edith Hamer, of Fern Park.

Also Mrs. Joe Mulson, Mrs. Herman Joyce, Mrs. Mary Jane Perigo, Mrs. David Joyce, Mrs. Richard Joyce, Mrs. Margaret Barnes, Mrs. D. Perry, Mrs. Jeff Swearingen, Mrs. Jack Swearingen, Mrs. Robert Altman, and Miss Donna Barnes, all of Casselberry.

From Orlando came Mrs. Bethie Gatewood, Mrs. Robert Mout, Mrs. Thomas Morris and Mrs. Hermie Gilbert.

Vero Beach Woman Installed As Head Of Fla. Federation

ST. PETERSBURG — Mrs. C. L. Messer of Vero Beach was installed as president of the Florida Federation of Women's Clubs Thursday night.

Mrs. Messer led a new slate of officers which formally took over at the federation's annual meeting.

Earlier, the federation joined the Florida League of Women Voters and the Florida Federation of Republican Women in opposing the constitutional rewrite strongly supported by Gov. LeRoy Collins.

It also adopted resolutions asking Collins to establish a chain of authority to be used in case of invasion or disaster; opposing remodeling of the front of the national capitol; and calling for laws requiring testing of all food additives.

Other officers elected: Mrs. Art B. Wilmer, Lakeland, and Mrs. M. Lewis Hall, Coral Gables, vice president; Mrs. M. Porter Tyler, Plant City, and Mrs. S. B. Taylor, Vero Beach, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Olin T. Hamilton, West Palm Beach, treasurer.

Episcopal Church Nursery To Open

The first Sunday in May will see a new service at Holy Cross Episcopal Church. Under the direction of Mrs. T. F. Dedman, the Cradle Roll has been organized and will meet in the converted parish house kitchen.

Children from 6 weeks to 2 years will be cared for, giving parents with small children an opportunity to attend church. There will be no regular service for the babies. Mothers will be asked to help on a rotation basis.

Equipment is still needed for the Cradle Roll, including playpens, baby baskets and safe toys. Donors or donors may call Mrs. Dedman, FA 2-3905, and the pickup committee will call for the articles.

Babies on bottles will be fed, and parents are asked to bring their full bottles. Small babies should be brought in car-beds.

Holy Cross Episcopal Church has been painted recently. The new exterior adds much to the appearance of the attractive building.

S.H.S. Band Displays Uniforms And Talent At Musicales

Both new uniforms and musical skill were demonstrated last week when the Seminole High School band played for the Sanford Women's Club. The band is under the direction of Ernest Cowley.

These were followed by Henry Fillmore's "Lassus Trombone", featuring that section.

Military March", also by Fillmore, written under the name of Harold Bennett, was played by the entire band in five different ways; as a march, concert; selection waltz, jazz and last, a military march. Irma Corley on the triangle was featured during the waltz.

Story On Reynolds Seen In Magazine

A story in the April issue of Sunshine Service News, a men's magazine published by Florida Power and Light Company, is of interest to Sanford sports fans and citizens.

It was written by Louis Carlton for the trade magazine that is widely circulated throughout the country and especially in the South.

The title of the story is "What's Your Hobby?" and explained in captioned headlines "For Randy Reynolds it's most anything in athletics."

Winning trophies comes easy for Randy Reynolds, Sanford distribution helper, who is a highly talented amateur boxer. The soft-spoken and unassuming 25-year-old 156-pound lad started stacking trophies on the family mantle back in high school, where he played outstanding football.

While serving in the Army for three years, he won 18 out of 17 bouts and captured two trophies, including the important one naming him novice champion of Germany.

quite small and taught them the tricks of the trade plus the importance of keeping the guard up. Athletically inclined Randy firmly believes in keeping in trim. With a buddy, he set up a gym where they practice after work.

Spartan partners from the Navy helped him get in shape for the Golden Gloves bouts. In the morning before coming to work, it is a regular practice for this ambitious young man to do three miles of road work.

Several nights a week, he plays basketball. And in baseball season, he plays on a local semi-pro ball team in Sanford.

As to ambitions for a future in fighting, he has none. He explained it this way, "I like it as a sport but when you become a pro, it stops being fun and starts being just plain hard work."

Randy had an offer to turn pro following his latest triumph in the ring but he turned it down without a moment's hesitation. "Mom doesn't like the idea of my becoming a pro," he said and that explained a great deal.

Whatever Happened To

B. A. BOB HIGGINS
By WALTER FRANK

Bob Higgins, an all-American end at Penn State in 1918, turned to coaching and later directed the football fortunes at his alma mater for 18 seasons. His big year was 1927 when Penn State roared through an unbeaten, untied campaign and then battled Southern Methodist to a 13-13 tie in the Cotton Bowl. Higgins played pro football with the Canton, Ohio, Bulldogs before he became a coach at West Virginia Wesleyan, then at Washington University in St. Louis. He returned to Penn State as an end coach in 1938 and two years later became head coach.

Tampa's Champs Play On Sunday

Flags Will Be Flying Sunday At Darlington

DARLINGTON, S. C.—The flags will be flying at Darlington Raceway Sunday.

Cars will be on the million-dollar race track, officials will be in uniform and there will be favors for the kiddies. But, there'll be no racing at the place known from coast-to-coast for that very thing!

It will be the Second Annual Darlington Raceway "open house" for the public. After a winter-long battle with the elements, the new track surface has been laid, new building constructed and bright-new fencing installed. The public is invited to come, drive on the track, inspect the grounds, and enjoy themselves. Last year more than ten thousand vehicles took advantage of "hospitality day."

ORLANDO—Tampa's defending 1957 Florida State League champions will play all their Sunday games at Lopez Field in Tampa on Sunday afternoon, it was announced at league headquarters here today.

Starting time for the Tampa Sunday games will be 1:30 o'clock, whether for a single game or a double-header.

Orlando and St. Petersburg also will play Sunday games in the afternoon, and starting at 2:30. However, when double-headers are scheduled for those cities on Sunday, two games will be played, both over nine innings. In Orlando, the first will be at 2:30; the second at 7:30. In St. Petersburg the first at 2:30; second at 8 o'clock.

On Monday the track will be closed to the public as serious practice for the May 10 Rebel 300 mile convertible auto race will begin. But Sunday, after 1 p. m., and until dark, family horsepower will have the priority.

Official starting times around the league are:
Single week-day games: 7:30 in Orlando and St. Petersburg; 7:45 in Cocoa and Tampa; 8 o'clock in Daytona, Gainesville and Palatka.

Single Sunday games: 1:30 in Tampa; 2:30 in St. Pete and Orlando; 3:00 in Gainesville; 3:30 in Cocoa, Daytona and Palatka.

Sunday double-headers: 1:30 in Tampa; 2:00 and 7:30 in Orlando; 2:00 and 8:00 in Gainesville; 2:30 and 8:00 in St. Pete; 3:00 and 8:30 in Cocoa, Daytona and Palatka.

Giants Beat Tigers 2-1 In Rotary Play

In a well played game the scrappy Giants baseball nine scuffled the Tigers 2 to 1 in a Friday afternoon contest in the Rotary club league.

The third inning was the big one for the two clubs. With two out Johnny Threatt was walked, stole, second and scored on Steve Powell's single. That was it for the Tigers.

Fighting back in their half of the frame, the Giants put Jimmy Terwilliger on base with a walk, and he moved to third on Tommy Vansura and Wheelchel; Casube Brooks blooper single back of short. Ken Torbett was passed to load the bases, but Gene Davis upset the strategy when he crashed a single to center to score two runs for his team. The nines played errorless ball.

In limiting the Tigers to two hits, Butch Casube walked three and struck out six. Carl Vansura taking a turn at mound duty walked three and racked up one strike-out.

Folks Are Urged To Hold Dog When Postman Around

Postmaster Joel Field recalls hearing since childhood that dogs are among man's best friends. He remembers also from his years in postal service that dogs are sometimes a mailman's worst enemy.

The Sanford Post Office had four reported cases of dog bites during the twelve-month period from April 1, 1957 to April 1, 1958. Three cases needed medical attention. Twenty-four hours of job time was lost. Some bites were relatively innocuous, but others were serious.

Postmaster Field's point is that he wants to deliver everybody's mail, for delivering the mail is his business. The more complete and congenial his services can be, the more he likes it.

Armed Forces Day in the United States is always the third Saturday in May.

Over Eating Said Major Factor In Skin Troubles

CHICAGO — An American Medical Assn. report blames over eating, rather than individual dietary items, as the major factor in acne and other skin troubles.

The report by Dr. Allen L. Lorincz of the University of Chicago said "dietary factors in acne vulgaris and psoriasis are generally overstated." The article was contained in the current issue of the AMA Journal.

Lorincz said obesity stemming from overeating is "by far the most frequently encountered nutritional disturbance that causes or aggravates skin diseases."

He said obesity produces folds in the skin where heat and moisture become irritants. Overweight persons also are prone to excessive sweating, he said.

THIS BOAT WAS FOUND capsized in Lake Monroe this morning. The craft was empty and it was learned through tracing the number that it belonged to an Orlando man. Mystery Boat Found Capsized In Lake Monroe Early Today

Mystery still shrouds the discovery of a 15-foot run-about found capsized this morning near the Lake Monroe bridge, by bridge tender William D. Mays. The report was made at 8:30 a. m. The boat, which appeared to be new, was equipped with a 30 horsepower Johnson motor. Investigator from the sheriff's department went to the scene in the patrol boat and towed it to the bridge. It took a cable lowered from the bridge by Burbridge Raiff to right the boat, which was found empty. The key was gone and the ignition off. Life preservers and cushions were found beneath the boat. Through the number on the boat and engine, ownership was traced to Harry Bertine, 2036 West Amelia Drive, Orlando. Mrs. Bertine told officers that the boat was in her carport last night at 10:30 and she "had no idea how it got in Lake Monroe."

Bertine is a salesman, working in the area. His wife did not know his whereabouts, or how he could be reached. The salesman for Vicks Chemical Company left his home yesterday morning. Mrs. Bertine told The Sanford Herald this morning that she and her husband had the only two keys to the boat. Lake Monroe waters were rough and choppy between midnight and early morning, due to high winds and rain in the area. The boat trailer has not yet been found, and local and Orlando sheriff's departments are checking every available lead.

Investigating the mystery of the capsized boat were Sheriff's deputies Vern Brewster, Tommy Osteen, L. J. Kris and Jimmy Singletary.

Safety Supervisor To Address ACL Committee Tonight

The Atlantic Coastline Railroad Company's district safety committee will hold its second quarterly meeting in the assembly room of the office building, Sanford, at 7 p. m. tonight. The railroad's safety supervisor, W. F. Winstate, Wilmington, N. C., heads the list of speakers at this meeting. Others on the program are A. E. McMillan, H. J. Titshaw, J. H. Hall, F. P. Dunn and J. A. Shipman, all of Sanford.

Speaker Emphasizes Aviation Importance

Talking to the Rotary Club Monday noon at the Yacht Club, M. M. (Jack) Frost, vice president and executive assistant to the chairman of the board of Eastern Air Lines, Eddie Hickenbuscher, emphasized the importance of aviation in the economic development and defense of the country and predicted an even more spectacular advance in the next 10 years that has characterized its rapid progress in the last quarter century. The speaker said that America "has had a front row seat to watch the development of aviation" and that the prosperity of the country moves forward with the speed and safety of transportation. He added that America must always have the best and most modern aircraft in the skies.

Harking back to the early days of flying, the airline executive said that for many years great minds and fortunes had been devoted to the development of man's desire to fly. Then suddenly in the last generation aviation moved forward at a rapid pace, and now planes fly faster than the sound they create. Gen. James Doolittle, he said, remembered that in 1920 there were only 28 airplanes in the nation and they had a total seating capacity of 112 passengers. In contrast, he added, EAL alone carried 8,800,000 passengers in 1957.

Frost stressed the dramatic role airplanes play in the world, saying that they bring people together, break down barriers, are great instruments in developing international understanding and are an important factor in the defense of the great resources of this grand country.

He continued that aviation advances living standards wherever it touches a country. As an ex-colonel of the air force Frost pointed out how the defense of the country was supported by civil aviation, saying that within an hour of an alert civil planes would become a vital element of defense. He said that 274 four-engine planes could quickly form a mammoth globe-circling aircraft, with operational maintenance and plane crews, parts and servicing facilities at the disposal of the government.

With 44 cities linked together by air lines, he said that aviation is an important factor to world-wide industrial and recreational areas. In many ways the flying industry contributes to the wealth and prosperity of the country and the speaker cited as an example the

Vinson Says Changes Needed In Pentagon

WASHINGTON (UP)—Chairman Carl Vinson of the House Armed Services Committee said today the nation's military setup is basically sound but "some changes" are needed in the Pentagon.

He made the statement in launching public hearings on President Eisenhower's sweeping military reorganization plan. Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy was called as the first witness.

Vinson, who has denounced the plan as too "militaristic," pledged in an opening statement his committee would study it "seriously, objectively and in detail."

"We are all convinced that certain changes must be made in the Department of Defense," Vinson said. "The basic structure is, in my opinion, sound—but it can certainly be improved."

Public Opinion. McElroy predicted Monday, after conferring with President Eisenhower, the public opinion would appear Congress into accepting the "essential parts" of the plan. He also said he did not intend to let Vinson's committee make "miscellaneous" changes to the plan.

"I'd make a fair substantial amount of miscellaneous," he said, "and I don't think it would be very costly."

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson said there were "good things" in the President's plan and he hoped for favorable action by the Senate. He added this did not mean he would support all the President's suggestions.

The measure would arm the defense secretary with much greater authority.

Carraway To View State CofC Dinner In Washington. Andrew Carraway will represent the Seminole Chamber of Commerce Tuesday, April 29 at the State Chamber's Washington dinner.

The festivities will be held at the Mayflower Hotel at 6:30 p. m. Florida grown flowers and fruits will grace the banquet tables. Other Florida products will be in evidence.

Some 250 business leaders have reserved plates, according to Harold Cule, the organization's executive president. The state's congressional delegation and North and South American ambassadors will be honor guests.

James Melton, internationally-famed tenor, whose youthful days were spent in Florida, will sing at the dinner. The U. S. Chamber's annual convention will be in session at the same time. Cule revealed. Diners will be staged by several state chambers of commerce. "Florida's dinner last year," Cule added, "was exceeded in attendance only by Michigan. This year we hope to be first."

power over strategic planning and military operations. It would play down the command structure of the individual services.

Reaction Time. The President told Congress

when he submitted the bill last Tuesday that the nation's "safety and solvency" call for a defense revision to speed up reaction time in case of attack.

Vinson has charged the bill would set up a "Prussian" type supreme high command and open the way for a "man on horseback" to control the country—a charge Eisenhower called "nonsense."

British concern over the Yemen's recurrent feud with the British colony and protectorate of Aden arose last month when Yemen joined President Gamal Abdel Nasser's United Arab Republic last March 8.

Reports of Russian arms pouring into Yemen and an Egyptian-backed plot to incite Aden tribesmen against Britain alarmed British officials.

Britain started transferring troops from Kenya into Aden last week. The British warships are standing guard in the port of Aden.

Several hundred Russian technicians are operating in Yemen and Russia is building a new port on Yemen's Red Sea coast. Egyptian and Syrian troops also are reported to have appeared in the kingdom.

The colony of Aden proper is a tiny heat-battered pinpoint of 78 square miles at the entrance to the Red Sea. Its population is about 130,000. The colony is surrounded by a protectorate covering 112,000 square miles, divided into 20 petty Arab states with an estimated total population of some 800,000.

Aden's importance to Britain is that it is her only oil-hold in southern Arabia from which she can exercise military strength in defense of her vital oil interests in the whole Arabian and Persian Gulf area.

Morrison Resigns As Rotary Head Due To Health. Robert LaMonte has been chosen to serve as president of the Sanford Rotary Club for a one year term beginning July 1. It was announced by President Myron Reek at the club meeting Monday at the Yacht Club. He replaces Charles Morrison who has been forced to resign because of his health from the position to which he recently was elected.

Reek expressed the deep regret of the club at the circumstances that compelled Morrison to drop a post that the popular personality well deserved because of his untiring efforts for Rotary.

LaMonte is a prominent cattleman of Central Florida, who just last week was a speaker on cattle marketing at a short course at the University of Florida. He has been active in the program committee work of the club. The newly elected president is a director of several organizations whose interests relate to the cattle industry.

LaMonte and club secretary Dr. H. W. Epprecht are now in St. Petersburg attending a district assembly of club officers.

The men are patients in the Southern Kentucky Baptist Hospital, Corbin, where their conditions were reported today as "unchanged."

Their car reportedly went out of control, and plunged down a steep embankment before crashing into a tree. Both are still in critical condition.

Troops Rushed Into Aden To Head Off Border War

LONDON (UP)—Britain rushed more troops into Aden today to try to head off an Aden-Yemen border war that could lead to new conflict between Britain and Egypt.

British concern over the Yemen's recurrent feud with the British colony and protectorate of Aden arose last month when Yemen joined President Gamal Abdel Nasser's United Arab Republic last March 8.

Reports of Russian arms pouring into Yemen and an Egyptian-backed plot to incite Aden tribesmen against Britain alarmed British officials.

Russia Planning To 'Re-Educate' US To Communism

MOSCOW (UP)—Premier Nikita Khrushchev said Monday night Russia plans to "re-educate" the United States to communism.

The re-training will start after communism conquers capitalism in peaceful competition, he said. The Soviet leader addressed his off-the-cuff remarks to U. S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson at a reception in the Polish Embassy. The reception honored the 15th anniversary of the 1948 treaty of friendship and mutual aid between Russian and Poland.

An audience of some 300 diplomats, Soviet officials and newsmen listened as Khrushchev tossed off a series of jibes at the West. He appeared to be in one of the bubbling moods when he says whatever comes into his mind.

Khrushchev remarked to the Communist ambassadors that they represent "peaceful capitalists."

"Of course we will beat the capitalists," he added. "But that does not mean killing anybody."

He said the Communist Chinese are clever because they are re-educating capitalist elements in their country to accept socialism. They are turned to the American ambassador with a broad smile and said, "If our system wins, then we will help re-educate you."

Lutheran Confab To Open Tonight In Lakeland. LAKELAND (UP)—The 10th annual convention of the Florida Georgia district of the Missouri synod of the Lutheran Church opens tonight with an address by the synod president.

The four-day convention will be attended by a pastoral and a lay delegate from each congregation in the two-state district. They will give special recognition to the 10th anniversary of the founding of the district, one of 28 in the synod.

CofC Ladies Night Banquet Success; About 300 Attend. DEBARY—The DeBarry Chamber of Commerce Annual Ladies Night banquet at Stetson University was a huge success.

General Harry P. Newton, president of the Chamber, welcomed close to 300 members and guests attending after which the Rev. A. C. Summers gave the invocation. Mrs. Vassar Norton showed color pictures taken while on tour with Mrs. Norton, through Europe and Africa last year. Instrumental music was also a highlight of the evening, when Roger Casini, and the 20 piece DeBarry Concert Orchestra entertained.

The benediction was given by the Rev. A. Summers in place of Rev. W. Aldridge who is in Nassau. Arrangements for the dinner were by William C. Nagel with the help of Mrs. Nagel.

Storms, Tornadoes Rake South

By UNITED PRESS. Severe thunderstorms and tornadoes raked the South for the second straight night Monday with one of the twisters injuring at least 10 persons in Texas.

Stormy weather also invaded the Northeast, bringing rain to nearly the entire Atlantic coast. Birmingham, N. Y., was soaked by nearly an inch of rain and Burlington, Vt., reported nearly half an inch.

The Texas tornado struck south of Midlothian and raced along the ground for about 20 miles before lifting. Authorities said 10 persons were treated for injuries and one man was hospitalized. About 20 homes in the twister's path between Midlothian and Waxahachie were destroyed and other buildings were damaged. High winds and hail stones, some as thick as baseballs, ripped nearby areas.

Tornado funnels also were sighted over Oklahoma, and although some touched the ground, no major damage was reported. Locally severe thunderstorms pushed into the Southeast where Washington got nearly a .75-inch of rain and nearly half an inch fell at Savannah, Ga., and Jacksonville, Fla.

Showers and some thunderstorms also occurred over the western Great Lakes region and the lower Mississippi Valley during the night. Scattered showers and thunderstorms were expected to continue today along the Atlantic Coast and from the lower Great Lakes south across the Ohio Valley to the middle Gulf region.

Wreckage of the plane was scattered over a square mile area. Its four engines fell several hundred feet from the main mass of bodies, debris and charred personal belongings of the plane's occupants.

The jet, from nearby Nellis Air Force Base, spiraled into the ground about 6 1/2 miles away. Capt. Tom Coryell, 29, Indianapolis, Ind., the pilot-instructor, apparently tried to eject from the disabled jet, but was too late. Student-pilot Lt. Gerald Moran, 24, Rapid City, S. D. was found in the wreckage of the jet.

CAB Investigates Jet-Airliner Collision

LAS VEGAS Nev. (UP)—Civil Aeronautics investigators pieced together in the desert today the burned and twisted evidence that may tell why an Air Force jet and an airliner collided Monday morning, killing 49 persons.

In Washington, key members of Congress burned telephone lines to the Civil Aeronautics Administration with demands for increased protection for civilian airliners against the hurtling military jets which the Civil Aeronautics Board has said are involved in about one-third of all "near collisions" in flight.

The key question appeared to be whether the Air Force F100F fighter-trainer was falling out of control when it crossed the path of the United Air Lines DC7 or whether its instructor pilot simply failed to see the silver airliner during a controlled descent.

One in a Million. If the former, the accident was a "one-in-a-million freak," a CAA spokesman said. The Air Force has said it has 1,150 planes in flight at all times. The wheel of fortune stopped on death 12 miles southwest of this gambling resort Monday in a cloudless sky. The jet, carrying an instructor and a student on a blind-flying training flight, was descending from 28,000 feet when its path converged with that of the airliner, flying at 21,000 feet with 43 passengers and five crew members.
