Children Who Hitler Invited To Submit His Rhineland Plan Won't Be Late

Permission Granted By Superintendent To Pupils Having Excuse Of Parents

Police To Guard Station Platform

Long Rope Will Keep Spectators 30 Feet From Special Train

School children who go to the Atlantic Coast Line railroad station next Monday morning in the hope of getting a glimpse of President Roosevelt as he passes through on his special train to Winter Park will not be marked tardy if they are not more than 30 minutes late to school, Superintendent T. W. Fawcett announced today.

The superintendent said that the schools would not be responsible for the children and therefore said it was advisable that their parents take them to the station, if possible. Other children who are not accompanied by their parents should take written excuses to school on Monday as follows:

As the schedule calls for the arrival of the President's special train in Winter Park at 9:15 A. M. Monday, it is expected that the train will pass in front of the school about 8:45 A. M.

There should be no reason why the children could not be in school by 9:30 in the superintendent's opinion.

Parents will be kept of school children many children will not get to the station on the chance they can glimpse the President.

Chief of Police Roy G. Williams was getting ready today to guard the President's special train as it passes through Sanford. He has provided a strong rope about 400 feet long, and this will be stretched along the station platform to keep the crowd back at least 30 feet from the train. Should the train stop here for a few minutes, as it is hoped, and the President steps out on the platform of his private car, the people will be able to see him from a distance of 30 feet, the chief stated.

Captain Harold C. Washburn, commanding Company D, 124th Infantry, Florida National Guard, the company designated to guard President Roosevelt while he is in Winter Park attending a special convention at Seelye College, called attention again today to members of his company that they must report at the Sanford Armory at 6:45 o'clock next Monday morning. The civilian soldiers are ordered to wear white shirts, black ties, cotton breeches, wrap leggings and service shoes, steel helmets, steel belts and pistols will be issued at the armory.

The unit will be transported to Winter Park in buses and should return to Sanford about 10 o'clock Monday afternoon.

Washburn said that the unit will leave the capital city for Winter Park, Fla., on Monday morning.

Under his new schedule, the unit will leave the capital city for Winter Park, Fla., on Monday morning.

Locarno Powers Will Consider Counter Proposal To Plan To Police Boundary

LONDON, Mar. 21.—(AP)—Official British quarters announced today they had invited Adolf Hitler to make counter proposals to the tentative plan of the four remaining Locarno members. These official sources said the Germans are free to express their point of view and make alternative suggestions for any provisions in the Locarno accord they considered objectionable.

Tempering sharpness of the peace plan announced yesterday, London sent Hitler word that the interim period during which the proposed international force would occupy the Rhine zone would be "as short as the British can make it," possibly only a few weeks.

Discord within the Council of the League of Nations was disclosed last night over provisions of the Rhineland program mapped by representatives of the four Locarno powers.

A row broke out when the document was submitted at a private session of the council.

Dr. Joseph Beck, foreign minister of Poland led an incipient revolt by angrily accusing the Locarno members—Great Britain, France, Italy and Belgium—of trying to railroad the plan through the League which, he intimated, they are attempting to dominate.

When Chile and Denmark gave evidence that they could not readily approve the proposals without digesting them, Anthony Eden, Britain's foreign secretary, said that "it is not possible to be satisfied with this plan at present."

Test Case Against Poll Tax Legality Brought In Superior Court In Georgia

ATLANTA, Ga., Mar. 21.—A court attack on the payment of poll taxes in nine Southern states as a prerequisite for registering to vote was made yesterday in a mandamus proceedings filed before Judge John Humphries, of the Fulton Superior Court.

J. Ira Harrison, attorney for Nolen R. Breedlove of Atlanta, is seeking to force T. F. Nuttles, Fulton county tax collector, to register Breedlove without the payment of $12.50 in current and past due poll taxes. Judge Humphries set Apr. 2 as a hearing on the matter.

"The fight to enfranchise all Georgia citizens, rich and poor alike, will go to the Federal Supreme Court, if necessary," Harrison said. States requiring a poll tax before citizens can be registered to vote are Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Mississippi, South Carolina, Tennessee,

Pestilence Added To Grave Horrors In Flooded Areas

Sanford Answers Plea For Aid For Flood Sufferers

Mayor Issues Appeal To Every Citizen To Give Liberally

Purse strings were loosened in Sanford today as residents and visitors contributed to the flood disaster relief fund being raised by the Red Cross. Members of Seminoles Chapter and other young women and girls were stationed at various strategic locations on the town streets, and before noon little red crosses cut out of paper adorned the coats of nearly every person seen on the streets and in the stores and offices.

Seminole County is asked by the national headquarters of the American Red Cross to contribute $50 toward relieving distress in the flood devastated regions in the northeastern states.

In issuing an appeal to every resident to contribute to the relief funds, Mayor S. O. Shinkholer today called attention to the fact that the Red Cross has helped Sanford and other Florida communities in days of adversity and that "now is the time to help others."

"Conditions in the flooded areas are deplorable, we have little conception of the terrible suffering there," he continued, "and remembering what the Red Cross has done for us in time of need, we should not hesitate for a moment in subscribing to this fund to help our unfortunate neighbors in New England and adjacent states."

Mrs. R. J. Holly Gives Conference Report

Mrs. R. J. Holly gave a report of the Thirty-fourth Annual State D. A. R. conference held in Jacksonville at the regular meeting of Sallie Harrison Chapter of the D. A. R. Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Samuel Paleston, Rose Court. Mrs. Holly and Mrs. L. P. Hagan, regent, attended the conference as delegates from the local chapter.

Mrs. Holly stated that in addition to many social activities much business was conducted at the conference. Mrs. W. C. McLean, state chairman of D. A. R. work at Morven School, gave an interesting report on work of the school and presented C. F. Evans, registrar of the school who gave a talk on its works and aims.

One afternoon of the conference was devoted to a motorcade and the placing of a "marker" at Pilot Town, Batten Island, designating the site of the first Protestant Prayer in North America.

The local regent, Mrs. Hagan, was commended by the state regent for her splendid report and for the work of the local chapter. The name of Miss Mary Wallace of Hastings High School was announced as winner in the Good Citizenship Pilgrimage Contest sponsored by the D. A. R. As a reward for good citizenship, the National Society of the D. A. R. sends one girl from each of the 48 states to Washington for three days of sightseeing and patriotic inspiration. The girls will arrive in Washington Apr. 17 and leave Apr. 21. All expenses will be borne by the sponsoring society and the girls will be ably chaperoned.

Mrs. Holly brought her report to a close by saying that Mrs. William A. Becker, president-general of the D. A. R., gave an address stressing the objectives of D. A. R. work.

At the conclusion of all reports a social period was enjoyed when refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. S. R. Dighton. Those present were: Mrs. J. B. Ray, Mrs. R. L. Dean, Mrs. Vail Lovell, Mrs. A. L. Betts, Mrs. C. R. Dawson, Mrs. R. J. Holly, Mrs. J. B. Root, Mrs. L. P. Hagan, Mrs. S. R. Dighton, Mrs. Samuel Paleston, Mrs. W. L. Henley, Miss Alice Caldwell, and Miss Nona Wylie.

Girl's Name Helps Pay Debt To Indians
COLORADO SPRINGS, Mar. 21.—(AP)—When W. T. (Buddy) Van de Graaff, Colorado college football coach, and Mrs. Van de Graaff decided to christen their infant daughter Cherokee, it was a gesture to the memory of a kindly Indian chief.

About 1800, when warring Creek Indians menaced the Alabama plantation of the coach's forbears, a Cherokee chief took the family inside his stockade while his tribe battled the Creeks. While the family was thus protected, a baby girl was born. The only reward the friendly chief would accept was the promise the girl would be named for his tribe. The name Cherokee has been given to a girl in every generation of the family since.

Hines Says Veterans Bonus Bonds Would Reach Into Moscow

WASHINGTON, Mar. 21.—If the 38,000,000 bonds to be issued in payment of veterans' bonus were placed end to end they would reach from Washington "nearly to Moscow," Brigadier General Frank T. Hines, veterans administrator, told a House subcommittee by way of illustrating the job ahead for the government.

"To give you some idea of the magnitude of it," General Hines said in the course of special hearings on the independent office bill just made public, "the number of additional employees which we will have to add will be some 2,500 and 3,000, where between 2,500 and 3,000. The interest calculations alone will run well over 8,000,000. The number of bonds to be issued will run close to 38,000,000 bonds."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"Matter" is the subject of the lesson sermon in all churches of Christ, Scientist, Mar. 22. The Golden Text is from I Cor. 13:12, "The fashion of this world passeth away."

Among the citations which illustrate the lesson sermon is the following from the Bible: "While we look not at the things which are seen, but at the things which are not seen; for the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are not seen are eternal." (II Cor. 4:18)

The lesson sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The fading forms of matter, the mortal body and material earth, are the fleeting concepts of the human mind. They have their day before the permanent facts and their perfection in Spirit appear. The crude creations of mortal thought must finally give place to the glorious forms which are timeless, held in the eternal nature of spirit and eternal. Mortals must look beyond fading, finite forms, if they would gain the true sense of things. Where shall the gaze rest but in the unsearchable realm of Mind?"

simples to other bond issues, I understand that the greatest issue of bonds heretofore has been about 1,000,000. If you just say 38,000,000 bonds, that does not mean much. But if you say to take those bonds and put them end to end they would go from New York to London, and from London nearly to Moscow."

thing we do.

In St. Louis we take the attitude that we're paid to play ball and that the fans who pay to see us are entitled to a good show.
So we do all we can to give them one. We work just as hard to win the exhibition games as any other. During the season we bear down against the Phillies just as hard as we do against the Giants.
As I say, it looks like a great season for everybody and I, for one, am anxious for the start.

Matinee Race Is Talked By Crowd At Race Friday

Twelfth week of a 90-day greyhound racing season at the Sanford Orlando Kennel Club track with two features discussed throughout the evening by a large Friday night crowd.

The first was the special matinee performance billed for Monan eight-event program will be offered. This special show is being staged as an attraction for the hundreds of persons expected in them will be fortunate enough to advance into semi-final competitions leading toward the $1,000 added Derby which will be run

Wet-Or-Dry Vote In Polk County Is Declared Void

Judge Millard B. Smith of the Ninth Judicial Circuit handed down a decision this week holding null and void Polk county's local option election of two years ago.

The ruling by Judge Smith, who is presiding in place of Judge
H. C. Petteway, now on leave, was the latest, and possibly the final step, in a long legal fight between wet and dry attorneys.

In the 1934 election, Polk county voted dry by 20 votes, but I. C.
Boucher, Lake Wales, began a fight which finally resulted in Judge Petteway's appointing a special master to conduct a recount. The master, J. J. De-Loach, found a few weeks ago in the recount that wet had won the election by four votes. Judge Petteway did not, however, rule on the report before taking his leave.

Judge Smith made his ruling after hearing arguments on the report submitted by DeLoach. In indications now are that the wet will move to hold another election as early as possible.

As Angry Rivers Leave Death And Destruction In Their Wake

FLOOD WATER LAPS AT HOUSE TOPS IN WEST VIRGINIA TOWN

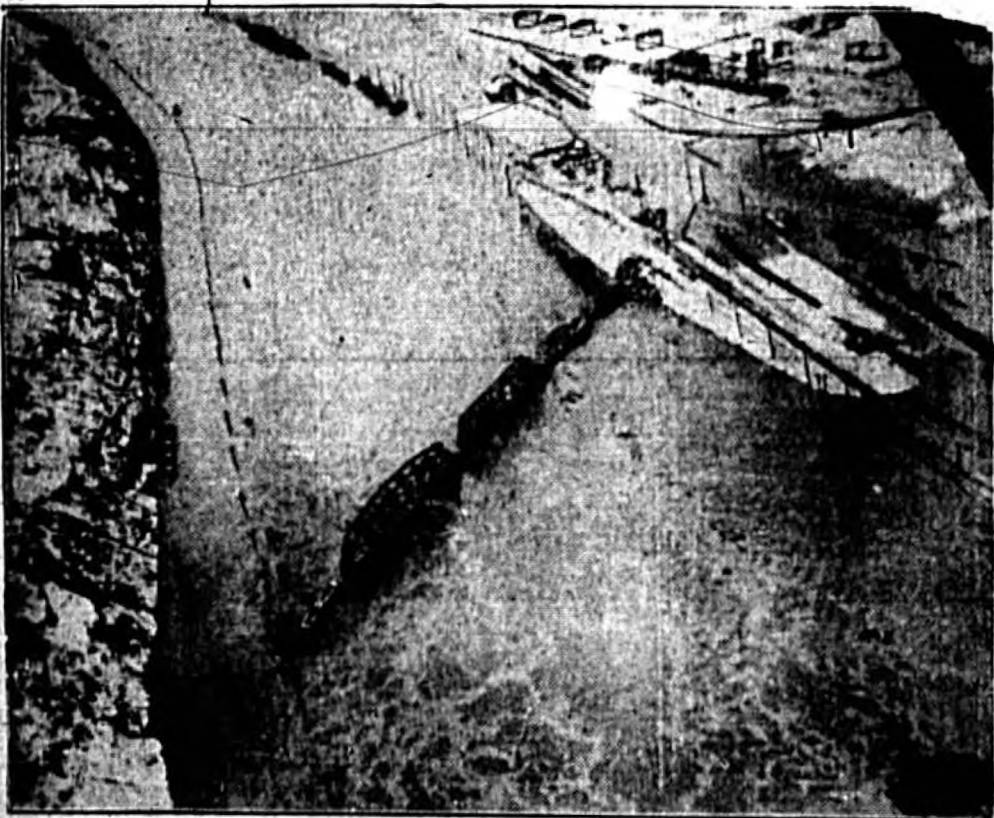

Only the house tops in Green Springs, W. Va., were in sight above flood waters when a photographer flew over and made this picture. The town was one of many swept by torrents that caused scores of deaths, drove thousands of people from their homes and wrought damages estimated at millions of dollars in eastern states. (Associated Press Photo)

EVERY STREET A RIVER AS FLOOD ROARS THROUGH JOHNSTOWN

Already devastated by the worst flood since the great disaster of 1889 in which 2,235 people were drowned, the city of Johnstown, Pa., was thrown into a panic with reports that the Quemahoning dam was weakening and threatened to lose a mountain of water on the town momentarily. This air view shows water many feet deep in principal streets. (Associated Press Photo)

RUSHING WATERS WRECK RAILROAD BRIDGE

Raging waters of the flooded Conemaugh river tore away a section of the railroad bridge at Johnstown, Pa., where memory of the 1889 disaster sent fear to its highest peak. Damage was estimated at millions of dollars and several persons were drowned as high waters flooded the eastern states. (Associated Press Photo)

RED CROSS AIDS FLOOD SUFFERERS

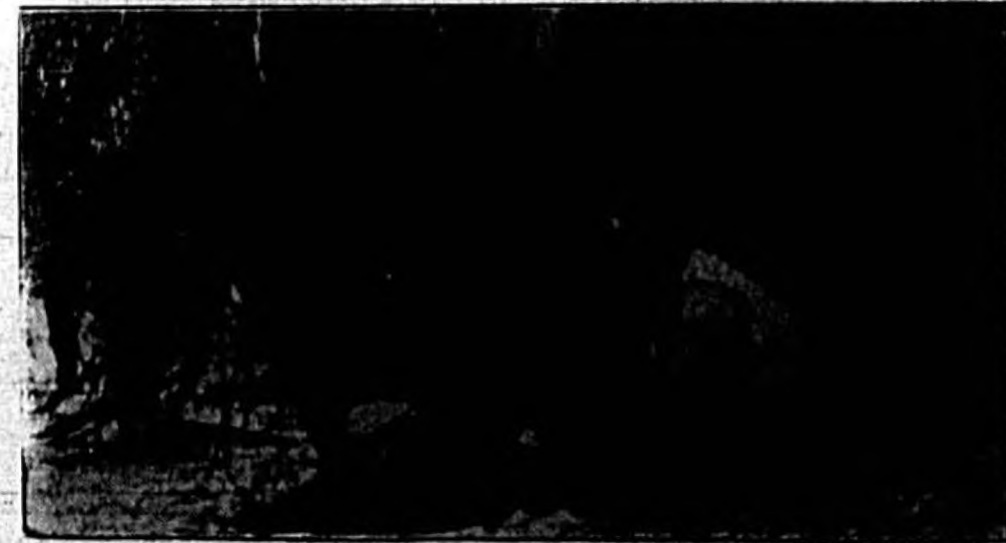

Red Cross workers are shown wading about in knee-deep water to distribute food, clothing and medicine to flood sufferers at Kingstown, Pa., during that city's second inundation within ten days by the Susquehanna river. (Associated Press Photo)

COLD INCREASES MISERY OF FLOOD VICTIMS

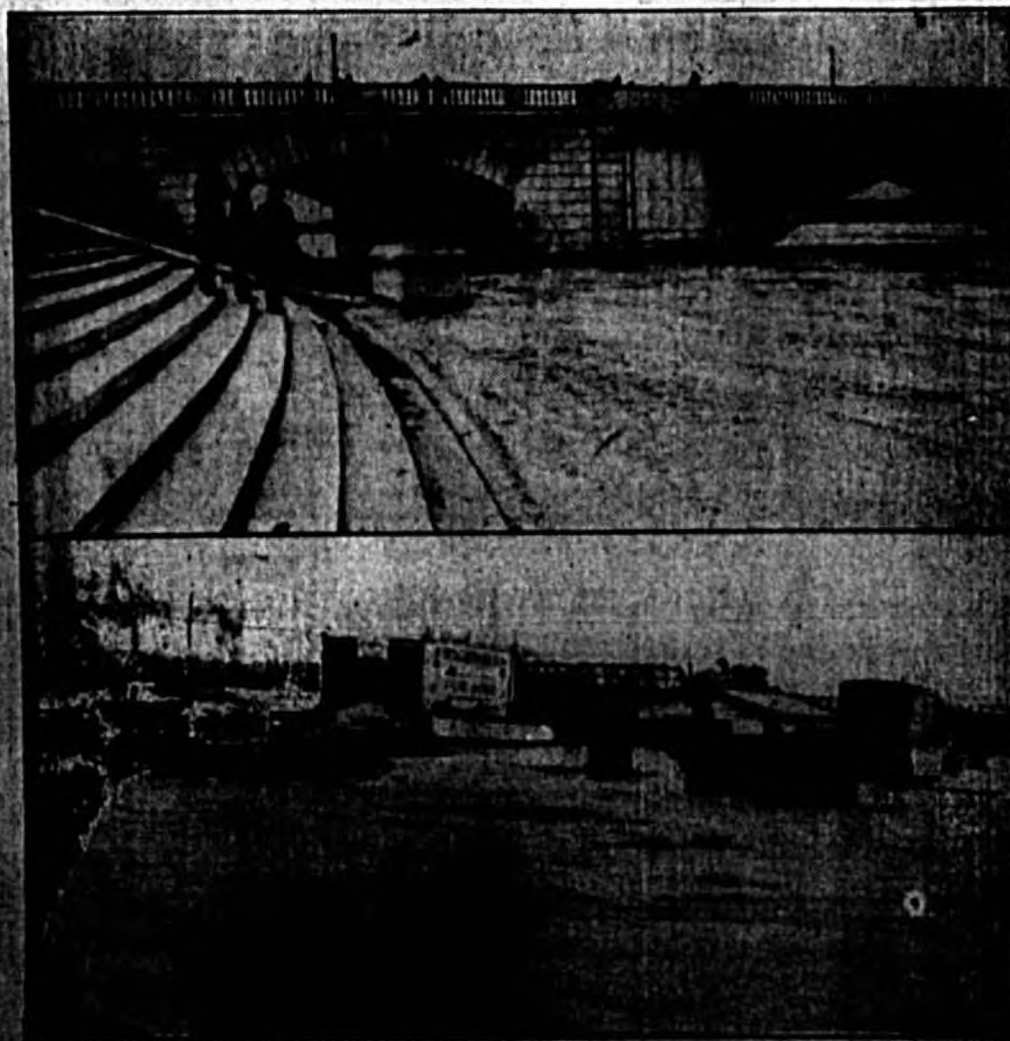

Dropping temperatures added to the misery of flood refugees in eastern states as swollen rivers claimed at least 10 lives and caused millions of dollars damage. Traffic was in a bad way at Johnstown when the Ramapo River flooded Oaklaniver swells over its banks.

AS CAMERAMAN SAW DRAMATIC FLOOD RESCUE

The cameraman was right on the job when Nelson Campbell (left), 80, swept from a bridge by flood waters at Mechanicville, N. Y., was given a helping hand by Allen Van Dezer, a school bus driver. A moment after this picture was made, both men were swept out into the raging torrent but a rescue party saved them. (Associated Press Photo)

POTOMAC CLIMBS LINCOLN MEMORIAL STEPS

For out of banks the Potomac river is shown (top) partially covering the steps of the Lincoln Memorial in Washington. The waterway and about a dozen of the steps were submerged when this picture was made. But the memorial itself was still 20 steps above the water. The flood peaked there in the week before the Washington disaster. Steps are shown (below) still completely submerged with the Potomac nearby. (Associated Press Photos)

FIRE RAGES IN PITTSBURGH FLOOD

In the midst of the worst flood in its history the city of Pittsburgh was confronted with another grave menace when a fire broke out in a corner of a building near the industrial area. The flames, driven from a storm blowing in the Associated Press photo, threatened to sweep the city. Firemen were called to the scene to battle the flames. (Associated Press Photo)

FLOOD THREATENS WASHINGTON MONUMENT

One Killed, 6 Hurt In Three Auto Wrecks

Two In Hospital Not Expected To Live, Two Others Are In Serious Condition

Victims Wait In Crowded Hospital

All Rooms Occupied, Operating Room In Use At Time

One person was killed, two others received injuries which it is feared will prove fatal, and three more were seriously hurt in two automobile wrecks in and near Sanford Sunday evening. Occupants of another wrecked car escaped injury.

The most serious wreck was that between cars driven by H. Palmer Eastwood of Sanford and Wallace S. Shaw of Orlando on the Sanford-Orlando highway near the County Home about 6 o'clock. The cars met in head-on collision and Wallace Shaw was killed.

Scotty Shaw, cousin of Wallace Shaw, and Anna Buchanan, also of Orlando, riding in the car, received such serious injuries that their deaths were momentarily expected throughout the night. No improvement in their condition was noted at noon today.

Mr. and Mrs. Eastwood were seriously injured, and it was feared by physicians that Mr. Eastwood had suffered a concussion. Mrs. Eastwood was painfully cut on the face and head, and blood was streaming from her wounds as she sat on a chair in the reception hall of the hospital last night, waiting for the room where she could receive the treatment desired. At the same time Mr. Eastwood was stretched out on a couch in the hall, as there was no vacant room in the hospital in which he could be taken.

Though Scotty Shaw and Anna Buchanan were as critically injured that their recovery was considered as extremely doubtful, there was no place in the institution in which they could be given immediate attention. The operating room was in use at that time the accident victims were taken there, and they had to wait until the operations being performed were concluded.

Before the victims of the Shaw-Eastwood crash could be cared for, two other automobile collisions victims were taken to the hospital, one with a broken neck. She is Ruby Branch, negro. The other negro woman, whose name was not obtained, was not seriously injured.

There was a fourth occupant of the Shaw car, Miss Virginia Christensen, but she escaped serious injury. Miss Christensen is a visitor from Iowa, the niece of M. Hansen of Paola who operates a shoe shop on First Street in Paola.

Every available physician and surgeon in the city responded to the call for help, and they and the hospital nurses, working under the handiwork of inadequate facilities, put in the night treating the victims, and they continued duty this morning.

The Shaw-Eastwood crash was occasioned when, according to reports of both the sheriff's office and the police department, Wallace Shaw, driving south, passed a car being driven by Paul Karling in the same direction, and met the Eastwood car, northward.

The car was driven by Paul Karling in the same direction, and met the Eastwood car, northward.

Smiles On Sanford

President Roosevelt was "not quite ready" to greet the crowd at the A. C. L. railroad station this morning, but Mrs. Roosevelt flashed her warm smile, waved her hand at the thousand school children pressing against the ropes, and expressed the "good wishes" of both the President and herself.

First Lady Says Women Who Wed Can Have Career

Famous Smile Captivates Interviewer Of Mrs. Roosevelt

By NINA OLIVER DEAN

"Mrs. Roosevelt, what does being in the White House do to a marriage?" I asked eagerly in the presence of cap and gloves notables just after the services in the Knowles Chapel at Rollins College for conferring the honorary degree of Doctor of Literature upon President Franklin Delano Roosevelt and the bestowal of the Algernon Sydney Medal on Mrs. Roosevelt.

"Why, nothing, nothing at all," my dear," Mrs. Roosevelt smiled, and I understood now why everybody speaks of her warm humaneness for each little crinkle and quirk of the Eleanor Roosevelt smile is a friendly one.

She was wearing a smart black dress and hat and her arms were full of African daisies, rose and daisy pink. Her hair is soft brown, her eyes an odd sort of misty blue, and I noticed when she

Rollins College Presents Degree To The President

WINTER PARK, Mar. 23.—(AP)—The "good neighbor" policy was credited today by President Roosevelt as developing "national understanding" among people in contrast to individual and group domination, in an address accepting an honorary degree from Rollins College.

The honorary degree of Doctor of Literature was conferred on the President, and the Algernon Sydney Sullivan Medal was given to Mrs. Roosevelt, created by Governor Sholtz, the Roosevelt donated scholastic robes to receive the honors.

Two Trade Bodies Are To Campaign For New Members

The Seminole County Chamber of Commerce is to meet in special session tomorrow evening to discuss the resignation of H. M. Papworth as its president, elect his successor, and plan for a membership campaign. But the Junior Chamber of Commerce met yesterday and held plans for a drive for new members.

The younger business men held their meeting in the home of D. D. Smith and decided to start their campaign on Apr. 1, though President H. L. Rabert declared that their drive is not going to be an "April Fool's joke." The organization now has about 100 members, but it hopes to triple that number.

Flood Roaring Through Ohio River Valley

Raging Waters Flow In Ohio, Kentucky Scores Of Villages Unchecked Through

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Probed flood waters of the Ohio River tore through a score of small communities in Kentucky and Ohio today, the last remnants of the thirteen-state disaster that took 181 lives and made thousands homeless.

In New England and Pennsylvania swollen waters gradually subsided, leaving behind the tremendous job of relief and rehabilitation. Ohio, where battling flood waters, were battering against the imminent approach of the Ohio flood crest. Hartford, Conn., sent under-stock military discipline to prevent looting. In all flood-swept cities and communities troops were on duty.

The Red Cross is raising in Ohio relief, and all residents are being incited to prevent the spread of disease.

The Ohio River was celebrating the third anniversary of its last disastrous flood. Wrightsville and Stout, west of Portsmouth, Ohio, were submerged, their 240 inhabitants isolated. Manchester, Ripley and Ironton were hit.

Across the widening stream in Kenton, Greenup moved 20 families into the courthouse which itself was on an artificial island. Ashland, Catlettsburg and Augusta were partly inundated.

Portsmouth, Ohio, mobilized its COV, WPA and American Legion forces for an emergency.

Back upstream Paducah's food and water supply was pronounced safe at last after millions of gallons of filtered drinking water were pumped into reservoirs.

The Mississippi, waiting its annual bath of melting snow, tore away a bridge in Northern West Virginia. Ice jams were ready to melt and move down.

Townsend Throws His Backing To William E. Borah

Pension Plan Author Pledges Group To G. O. P. Candidate

LONG BEACH, Calif., Mar. 23.—Dr. Francis E. Townsend, author of the plan to pay every resident over 60 years of age a pension of $200 a month, repudiated the Roosevelt Administration last night and endorsed Senator William E. Borah of Idaho, for the presidency.

He pledged himself and his organization which he boasts has 4,000,000 members, to work with untiring zeal for the nomination and election of the shaggy-haired Republican candidate. He also announced he was changing his registration from Democrat to Republican.

Although Borah has not endorsed the Townsend Old Age Pension Plan, he is the only Republican candidate who "even approaches" the standard set up by his followers, Townsend said.

He dismissed the present Democratic Administration, with a few notable exceptions, as unacceptable and unfriendly to the plan he believes would bring permanent prosperity to America.

Townsend said his organization would make no effort to endorse a slate of congressional candidates at the forthcoming primaries and general election but he emphasized that if the issue lay clearly between a pro-Townsend candidate and one strongly opposed to his plan, the former would be supported.

Bandits Rob Cafe Of $1800 In Cold Cash

ST. PETERSBURG, Mar. 23.—(AP)—Holding late diners spell-bound with a demand that "everybody keep quiet," a lone masked bandit, who lined his entrance to the cashier's desk, robbed the cashier of the Holsum cafeteria, Fourth Street and Second Avenue South, of $1,800 Sunday night.

The money, comprising receipts of both Saturday and Sunday, had been taken from a burglar-proof safe at the feet of the cashier for checkup a few minutes before the gunman entered.

Miss Nancy Thomas, in charge of the cashier's desk, obeyed the command of "Give me that money box without any bank talk," when an unidentified man, his face covered with a handkerchief, approached her with a gun after boldly entering through the front door.
