The Zoo

What Effect Will Swampy Terrain Have On Future Of Facility?

This monkey is one of dozens at the Central Florida Zoo.

Almost since its opening seven years techniques. ago, the Central Florida Zoo outside Sanford has been in the news because of a chronic shortage of money. But now, new attention is being given to an old problem. that may be equally as severe.

Edward Posey, states the swampy terrain on which the zoo sits is not suitable to a wide variety of exotic animals. The wet ground is home for a whole host of insect pests, parasites and bacteria which cause the zoo stock substantial discomfort, sickness and disease, the report says

Sanford And Other Areas Hit By Railroad Walkout

By DONNA ESTES Herald Staff Writer

A picket line of about 13 men, some carrying signs identifying themselves asthe Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, kept watch on the entrance road to the Seaboard Coast Line Railroad office in Sanford today:

A locomotive union member said the strike affects 100 to 150 Sanford families. The last time railroad employees in Sanford were affected by a strike was four Venes ago. Among those in the group of picketers

The men at the site off Persimmon Avenue refused to talk to the press on orders from their local union representative.

County Set To Approve $63 Million, 82-83 Budget

The final public hearing on Seminole County's $63 million budget for fiscal 1982-83 will be held Tuesday at 7 p m in the county courthouse in Sanford.

Budget Director Eleanor Anderson said approval of the budget should go smoothly: She said most of the opposition to the budget usually is heard

There are usually a lot of people who come in to talk about the assessment on their property," she said. "And there are usually some public service agencies that show up. But they were pretty well satisfied this time." About 50 people appeared at the county commission's first hearing Sept. 7. Many of them were present to discuss their tax. bill and were referred to the tax appraiser. Commissioners told them that tax bills are higher even though tax rates are lower because of increased assessments on their property Ms. Anderson said no adjustments are expected to the budget package that was discussed at the first hearing. That included recommendations from Ms. Anderson's office for making up a $1.9 million shortfall in the amount expected to be carried over from this year's budget. About $1.5 million is expected to be taken from the county's health department trust fund and adjustments to other funds are anticipated to make up for the shortfall,

But Commissioners Robert G. Bud" Feather and Barbara Christensen have expressed opposition to that plan. Feather said the money should remain in the trust fund because of the county's urgent need for new construction.

Mrs. Christensen said $2.2 million allocated for new projects should be reexamined in light of the unexpected shortfall. The other commissioners supported the recommendations.

County Administrator Roger Neiswender explained at the first hearing the constraints that state officials have placed upon the county by raising the sales tax, increasing the homestead exemption and setting rollback rates.

Because of those changes, the county will receive only $52 more in tax revenue in fiscal 1982-83 over fiscal 1981-82 despite. the increase in assessment of all property in Seminole County.

Neiswender explained that state and federal regulations also have affected county spending. Because requirements have increased, it is now necessary to spend more money to meet

He cited the county jail as an example. Five years ago the jail had 12 employees. Now there are more than 40 people who work full time at the Jail, including a dozen as cooks, Neiswender said. -MICHEAL BEHA

Home Builders Mull Over Who'll Pay For Sewer Work

By MICHEAL BEHA Herald Staff Writer

Seminole County home builders and county officials are discussing who will finance future expansion of county sewage treatment facilities.

The home builders asked at a meeting Friday afternoon for answers to questions about a proposed rate hike, how the county keeps track of its funds, how much interest is being earned on investments and connection fees.

Craig Patterson said, "We want to look at the policies here, the methodology."

Patterson said the manner in which the county handles depreciation is one reason rate hikes are necessary. The county sets aside a certain amount each year for repair and renewal of equipment. If it is not spent, the money continues to accumulate.

Patterson said by reducing the amount set aside, the burden upon consumers would decrease.

But Ken Hooper, director of Environmental Services, said the funds are allowed to accumulate to finance replacement of current facilities and equipment. In fiscal year 1981-82 $255,035 was designated for depreciation. The system took in $1.2 million in that period.

Patterson questioned the necessity of putting 25 percent of sewer system revenues into the depreciation fund, particularly when the rate study just completed by an Orlando consulting firm says the system will have a negative cash flow this year.

Patterson said the Seminole County system is the only one in the area using depreciation as a fixed cost. He said projected out over many years it could cost the consumers millions of

But Hooper said "sooner or later a pump or something is going to go out."

Budget director Eleanor Anderson told the group allocations to depreciation have actually been lower than planned because of other expenses.

The county currently has a $1.1 million reserve fund and Patterson feels money in the account which came from connection fees paid by developers and passed on to home buyers, should be kept separate from other money in the fund.

Hooper said accounting practices will be changed in the near future to tag funds in the account. Traditionally, consumers pay for operating expenses and connection fees are used to finance new growth.

But Auditor Jack Bodnik said the funding situation isn't as simple as it might seem. "Seminole County has a unique situation with connection fees. A portion of those fees is used to pay off past debts."

The new rates proposed by the county include a jump from $450 to $1,400 for connection fees. That increase would be used to fund further growth and expansion of the system and development of additional treatment capacity.

"Our concern with connection fees is not the amount, but what does the money go for?" Howard Lefkowitz said. He proposed county staff members and home builder representatives study alternatives to the Iron Bridge Regional Sewage Treatment facility, which Lefkowitz believes will never be completed.

Seminole County's plans call for use of Iron Bridge and Hooper said he must assume the facility will be built.

But Lefkowitz dangled a carrot before Hooper.

"Let's say a group of us, as private individuals, buys a piece of property, builds a treatment plant and then turns it over to the county," he said.

Lefkowitz said the home builders want to see exactly what alternatives are available and what the costs of those alternatives are.

He suggested a 90-day study period.

Hooper said 90 days is hardly enough time to study the whole problem but agreed to discuss it further. He said the $4 per gallon treatment cost projected at Iron Bridge is the most economical available.

A second meeting is scheduled Friday at 1 p.m.

Smugglers Bribe Deputies?

CHALMETTE, La. (UFI)-Drug smugglers have told federal investigators they bribed local deputies to stand watch as their illegal cargoes were unloaded, it was reported Sunday.

The New Orleans Times Picayune-The States Item quoted sources as saying the smugglers also told investigators deputies escorted vehicles carrying drugs from waterway entry points to storage areas around the parish.

Federal officials were examining these allegations, as well as claims St. Bernard deputies have been involved in the drug traffic itself. St. Bernard Parish is on the southeast Louisiana coast.

Millionaire Winter Park Builder

Suspected Drug Kingpin Tried...Again

By BRITT SMITH Herald Staff Writer

Jury selection began today in the retrial of a Winter Park millionaire and six associates, including an Altamonte Springs businessman, charged with operating a vast marijuana distribution network

A mistrial was declared last month in the case of builder Robert Govern after a prosecution witness implied that defendants in the case had arranged the murder of another

The trial is being held in U.S. District Court in Ocala. Govern, 34, was arrested in April along with Leon Mausser of Altamonte Springs, president of Govern-owned GM Builders, Inc. of Winter Park; Steven Liberatore, a Columbus, Ohio entertainment promoter; Keith Gustafson of Key West, Thomas Wilkerson of Lady Lake, Fla., Chan Ziels, a stereo salesman from Edgewater; and Gabriel Quintero of Ocala.

The men were charged with drug possession, conspiracy, racketeering and income tax violations. Three others who were indicted by a grand jury probing the case have pleaded guilty to their role in the illegal drug activity.

Govern is accused of masterminding a drug ring which imported up to 700,000 pounds of South American marijuana into the central Florida area and then shipped the drug to storehouses in four Southern states for sale between 1977 and 1981, an operation that reportedly netted more than $150

If convicted, Govern could receive up to 120 years in prison and $180,000 in fines.

Since Govern's arrest, the Internal Revenue Service has seized four farms allegedly used as storehouses for the illegal drugs, three homes owned by Govern, and an Orlando apartment complex Dovetail Villas, valued in excess of $5 million. Authorities say the properties were purchased with profits from the illegal drug-smuggling operation.

LONGWOOD MAN SENTENCED IN ABSCAM

A Longwood businessman and a New York accountant were sentenced to prison terms of 10 months to 40 months by U.S. District Judge William Bryant in Washington D.C., following their convictions in connection with the Abscam bribery investigation of former Rep. Richard Kelly

Gino Ciuzio, of Longwood, and Stanley Weisz, of Smithtown, N.Y., were both convicted Aug. 12 of being middlemen in helping arrange a bribe meant for Kelly. The two men were originally convicted along with Kelly but were granted retrials after Kelly's case was thrown out by Bryant, who accused FBI agents of violating the Florida Republican's constitutional Ciuzio and Weisz were convicted on charges of conspiracy to bribe the United States, aiding and abetting bribery and interstate travel to facilitate bribery.

Both men are free on their own recognizance pending ap-

Prosecutors charged Cuizio and Weisz with acting as middlemen in a $250,000 bribery scheme in which Kelly was to assist fictitious Arab shicks enter the United States.

Ciuzio claimed he thought of the bogus shelks' aldes as con men whom he was trying to outwit, while Weisz said he regarded the money as a legal finder's fee for introducing the alleged sheik's representative to Kelly

Saturday morning.

According to a Seminole County sheriff's report, Pam Rae Haley of 2052 Lake Howell Lane was injured about 3:20 a.m. on the unpaved portion of Lake Ann Road.

Ms. Haley's boyfriend, Charles H. Veigle, 33, same address, told deputies that the two had been to the Tropicana bar early that evening and were on their way home, arguing about personal matters.

Then, for no apparent reason, Ms. Haley opened the car door and jumped from the vehicle which was traveling 25-30 miles per hour, Veigle told deputies.

Deputies said they found no signs of a struggle inside the car. An investigation is continuing.

MOTORIST KILLED

A 25-year-old DeLand man was killed late Saturday when his car crashed on U.S. Highway 17-92 a mile east of DeLand. Howard Blaine Bohner was killed about 11:35 p.m. when his westbound vehicle hit the median at a high rate of speed and rolled over, ejecting him from the car.

Police said the accident remains under investigation. MEAT, GROCERIES GRABBED Thieves broke into a Sanford day care center and stole an undisclosed amount of meats and groceries between 6 p.m. Thursday and 6 a.m. Friday.

Police said the thieves entered the Child's World Center at 2854 Sanford Ave., after breaking a kitchen window. CHILD FOUND IN POOL OK

A two-year-old Altamonte Springs girl found at the bottom of an apartment complex swimming pool Wednesday was turned over to her mother after treatment at the Winter Park Memorial Hospital.

Deputies said Lindy Janine Johnson of 1011 W. Notre Dame Drive was treated at the hospital at about 5 p.m. Wednesday after she was pulled from the pool at the Plantation Apartments, 2100 Howell Branch Road, Maitland.

Martha Foster, 37, who was taking care of the child at her apartment, told deputies that she left the child in the care of her 15-year-old daughter after she had to leave her home early

INVESTIGATION CONTINUES

Sheriff's deputies today said they are continuing their probe into the brutal beating which eventually resulted in the death of a Longwood girl Sept. 7.

Katherine Suzanne Greco, 14, of 1685 Glenethel Court, died Sept. 9 at Orlando Regional Medical Center where she lay comatose since the beating. Hospital officials said Miss Greco had been beaten in the head with a hammer, 14 or 15 times.

While no arrests have been made, deputies said they are continuing their investigation and "have by no means, closed this case," sheriff's spokesman John Spolski said.

"When our investigators feel confident that they have enough evidence to charge someone, they will do so," Spolski said. "Until then, there will be no charges filed that we might not be able to back up in court. But we are definitely keeping this case open and it is definitely still an on-going investigation."

School Board To Consider Tuskawilla School Plans

Herald Staff Writer

Additions to the architect's plans for the new Tuskawilla Elementary School will be presented to Seminole County School Board members Wednesday, Hugh Carlton, facilities supervisor, said today. The school will be located at the intersection of Gabriella

Road and Tuskawilla Road. Carlton said the bid opening for construction of the project was postponed Friday because the state Department of Education has not approved the plans for the $3 million Carlton said several minor parts of the project were not explained in enough detail by the architect, Watson & Associates of Orlando, to satisfy DOE officials.

"They have been corrected by addendum," Carlton said. Once the board approves the addendums, a new bid opening date will be set for the building, planned for use by students the beginning of school in September 1983.

But the delay in the bid process could complicate matters for the school board. School Superintendent Robert Hughes has insisted on a 10month construction time for the building, planned to house struction will have to begin by the first of November. Robert Pierce, a representative of the architect, has told school board members a 14-month construction period will reduce costs. He said the 10-month schedule will force con-about 600 students. To be completed by September, contractors to put workers on overtime to meet deadlines. But Hughes said the costs of holding double classes at another school and providing transportation and lunches on a split schedule would make the costs about the same, Pierce included an option in the bid document for contractors to submit bids for both time periods.

'Hill Street' Wins Six Emmys

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)-The Emmy awards ended an era for some entertainment greats-Ingrid Bergman, Grace Kelly, "Lou Grant," "Barney Miller" and confirmed the emergence of a new one, "Hill Street Blues."

The late Miss Bergman won a best actress Emmy at the 34th annual ceremony Sunday night for her farewell portrayal of Israeli leader Golda Meir, a role she played while dying of cancer, using the experience to reflect the courage of a determined woman victorious over adversity.

The award was not a posthumous sympathy vote. Balloting closed 10 days before Miss Bergman's death. "Hill Street Blues" added six Emmys to its record-setting collection, including the award for best dramatic series, best lead actor and supporting actor. "Barney Miller," a portrait of life in a New York police precinct, which bowed out at the end of last season after eight years, was chosen best comedy series.

"This is the best way to go out if you have to go," said producer Jelf Stein.

FORMER ALTAMONTE MAN INDICTED

A federal grand jury has indicted a former Altamonte Springs man on 10 counts of lying on federal gun registration forms while buying handguns from Central Florida gun dealers last year.

Luis Texidor, 32, of Howey-in-the-Hills, Fla. was charged with lying abou! a prior robbery conviction on gun registration forms while purchasing guns from July to December, 1981 the grand jury said in its indictment Wednesday.

Texidor is currently being held in the Lake County jail awaiting trial there on three charges of distributing controlled drugs and one charge of impersonating a police officer.

According to a federal Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms spokesman, Texidor bought handguns and resold them to gun dealers in Seminole and Orange counties. Federal agents, who routinely monitor firearms transactions, began investigating Texidor's dealings in December after his name reportedly appeared on numerous gun registration forms, the spokesman said.

According to the indictment, Texidor was convicted of robbery in New York in 1977 and is prohibited, as a convicted felon, to own or purchase a weapon. If convicted of the federal charges, Texidor could face up to

50 years in prison and $50,000 in fines. SANFORD CAR DEALERSHIP SUED

A Sanford couple is seeking more than $5,000 in damages from a Sanford car salesman who they say sold them a stolen motor home and then suggested that they hide it from the law enforcement officers.

Harry and Anna Taylor said in their suit that James D. Lash of Blue Book Cars, 4114 S. Orlando Drive, sold them a 1970 motor home on April 24 for $3,721. The suit further states that they were told the certification of title to the vehicle, which they intended to use as their home, would be sent to them shortly.

The couple then drove to Green Bay, Wis. and on June 22 they were contacted by the Florida Highway Patrol who told them the motor home had been reported stolen from a North Carolina man, the suit states.

When the Taylors confronted Lash with the matter, demanding their money back, Lash told them that "it was their problem" and that they should hide the motor home, the suit states. The suit states that the Taylors have since made repeated requests for their money without success.

that the motor home was stolen and that he is an accessory before the fact to larceny of the vehicle. "We have retained an attorney at this point," says DeLores

The suit also claims that Lash knew or should have known Lash, wife of James Lash. "All I can say right now is that the lawsuit has been unfounded." No trial date has been set in the case.

Food stamps, valued at $70, and a set of gold wedding rings were reported stolen from the home of Marie Grant, 22, of 75

Seminole Gardens. Ms. Grant said the sheft occurred between Sunday and Thursday nights.

Okays Vacating Street The Seminole County Commission has approved a request to vacate a portion of a street in the Slavia Colony Co.'s subdivision along State Road 426 near Ovledo. Officials from Duda & Sons Inc., said the land would be used to expand a runway at their private airstrip and to provide security at the facility. The approval was granted contingent upon meeting certain drainage requirements.

Commissioners also:

-authorized a waiver of emergency water requirements for a feed storage building owned by Jimmy Wilkerson near Ovledo. The owner has built a large retention pond to provide water for fire emergencies. Included in the agreement is a clause which holds the county harmless for any damages that may result because of the waiver.

-Accepted letters of credit for Deer Run Unit 7A. $99,303.49, and Deer Run Unit 8A, $192,627.58, from Amerifirst Development Co. of Central Florida and for Amberwood, $175,000, from Continental Development Inc. The letter of credit guarantees the firms can complete their projects.

-Granted a waiver to platting requirements for a parcel owned by the Florida Land Co. near Lake Mary for construction of a La Petite Academy day care center and kindergarten.

-Authorized a $50 refund for Mickey Collins of Sanford because his application for a zoning variance was with-

By JANE CASSELBERRY

Herald Staff Writer An Advanced Life Saving Ordinance dealing with a proposed referendum for the Dec. 7 Casselberry city election may breathe new life into the fire department's proposed paramedic program cut from this year's budget by the council. The council will discuss the emergency ordinance at a work session following the regular agenda tonight. The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the new Casselberry City Hall at 95 Lake Triplet Drive.

The city's voters approved the paramedic program in a referendum on last year's ballot, and the council planned to finance the service with a special $1 per $1,000 assessed property valuation. However, the one mill tax was shot down in July when the county tax appraiser's office told the city the proposed tax rate of $2.06 per $1,000 assessed valuation (including the $1 for paramedics) had to be cut to $1.12 per $1,000.

Paramedic Program Has Second Chance

The city had mistakenly assumed that the money collected in taxes for the paramedic program was exempt from the State Legislature's required 40 percent property tax rollback tied to the 1-cent hike in the state sales tax.

Several Casselberry residents made emotional appeals to the council at last week's public hearing on the 1982-83 budget, asking for the paramedic program to be implemented.

The $3,586,207 tentative general fund and the $6,834,474 utility fund budget will come up for first reading at tonight's meeting.

Also on the agenda will be transfers of funds, acceptance of bids on revolvers being sold by the police department and acceptance of bids on utility trucks, the annual renewal of Kent Meter water meter contract, the awarding of the bid for janitorial service and the request of the city attorney to contribute funding for procurement of Code of Federal Regulations.

Also on the work session agenda will be a proposed addition to the Certified Slings building and a request by Dr. John Zacco to move a building into the city.

Arabs Develop Own Peace Plan

The Arab leaders, meeting recently in Fez, Morocco, came up with a Middle East peace-plan in response to President Reagan's call for new negotiations between Israel and the Arabs.

At Fez, 20 member-nations of the Arab League agreed on a single position. That represents progress. In the past, they have been unable to agree. But at Fez they did not agree to recognize the reality and legitimacy of the state of Israel. They moved toward recognition of Israel, but failed to go the whole way.

It is easy to understand the reluctance of the Arabs to recognize the Jewish state, which they see as an interloper in their region. Recognition of Israel means that displaced Palestinians must give up all hope of recovering their homes and their property located within the recognized boundaries of the Jewish state

When you remember how hard it is for the United States to recognize the Communist government of Cuba, which after all has not seized any U.S. property except the assets of American companies within the Cuban borders, you realize how hard it is for the Arabs to recognize the Israeli government, which occupies a portion of the land the Palestinians consider their ancestral home.

And yet there must be recognition. The permanent existence of Israel must be accepted. Reality must be faced. Life must go on, on the best terms possible. Loss must be accepted as permanent.

The moderate Arab leaders see this. They are beginning to prevail over the rejectionists. But there is still a way to go before they are ready to come to the bargaining table, and before the Israelis are willing to join them at the table. The United States has involved itself so deeply in the process of Mideast history over so many years that it is too late now for us to withdraw. We must see the peace process through, or face the prospect of continued strife, continued injustice and continued danger to world peace for the rest of this century and on into the next.

Mill Neck Laws

Talk about mad. It's enough to make you chew the soles off your best pair of Adidas.

In Mill Neck, Long Island, village trustees have lowered the boom on joggers. From now on those padding along village byways will have to run single file against traffic, stay at the shoulder of the road and wear front and back reflectors that will pick up headlights:

Mayor John Jansing says those who don't conform will face fines up to $250 and jail terms of up to 90 days. The mayor, a non-jogger himself, admits there have been no collisions, and he wants to keep it that way. Mill Neck's narrow, winding roads and lack of street lights could spell

Most joggers can see the reasoning, but they would like to see motorists take a little more of the responsibility to avoid accidents. Many drivers tend to see only other vhicles and are blind to joggers and bicyclists.

"If they want to pass laws," said one Mill-Neck resident, "why don't they write something that will protect joggers?" Why not, indeed.

BERRY'S WORLD

Before, it was always Why Johnny Can't Read Now, it's Why Johnny Can't PROGRAM.

By DONNA ESTES

Jim Stelling, a fixture of GOP organizations in the county for some time now, and active in the Greater Seminole County Chamber of Commerce at Altamonte Springs, had a memorable experience last week.

The most intriguing thing happened after Central Florida Zoo executive Director Al Rozon spoke to the group on the zoo. Then Rozon brought out a young Bengal tiger

The frisky cub got a liberal dose of petting and ear scratching as it walked around the Altamonte Springs civic center, visiting Stelling

After a time, County Commissioner Sandra Glenn, noting the cat had stayed with Stelling for some time, also noticed that Stelling's hand was in the baby's mouth.

"Jim, do you have a problem?" she asked from the podium where she had introduced Rozon earlier. "Yes," replied Stelling quietly. "Can't you get your hand out of its mouth?" she asked. "No," he answered again, quietly.

With that Mrs. Glenn walked over to Stelling and stomped her foot. The cub in surprise opened its mouth and let Jim have his hand back.

One can suppose that Stelling learned that it's not a good idea to put ones hand in a tiger's mouth even if that tiger is a baby. Rozon warned the women in the crowd when he brought the cat in not to allow it to jump at them. Rozon said its nails are sharp. Apparently its teeth are strong as well as sharp.

U.S. Sen. John Warner, R-Va., writes to tell us he has introduced a resolution in the Senate, proclaiming Oct. 16 National Newspaper Carriers Appreciation Day.

Noting he was a newspaper carrier himself in his youth, Sen. Warner said that every day nearly 1 million carriers deliver newspapers to the homes of 89 million Americans, helping to perpetuate one of the cornerstones of the democracy, a free and open press.

"I know the hardships faced by these largely unrecognized and unappreciated workers, 90 percent of whom are 18 years old or younger. For many, carrying newspapers is a first job - a training ground for their successful careers," Warner said.

The names of two of the six judges of Florida's Fifth District Court of Appeal will be on the ballot in Seminole County's Nov. 2 general election under the state's merit retention

Under the system the appellate judges will have no opponents and cannot actively campaign for their own retention in office The voters will be asked to vote "yes" or "no" on the question of whether they should be continued in office for another six year term. If a judge receives a majority of "yes" votes, he or she will continue on the bench for six more years. If the "no" votes prevail, a vacancy will be declared in that judicial office, to be filed by the constitutional appointment process. The judges up this year are Joe A. Cowart Jr.

and James C. Dauksch Jr.

ANTHONY HARRIGAN Pension

Abuses Reported

One reason the country is in economic troubles is that it has a huge class of government pensioners who enjoy automatic cost of

Every time the burden of this class of pensioners is mentioned there are outraged cries from the beneficiaries of government largesse. Nevertheless, here goes.

Jane Bryant Quinn, economics columnist for Newsweek, recently published an article entitled "Bloated Military Pensions" that should be read by every taxpayer. The article makes clear that the military retirement system should undergo drastic cuts.

Miss Quinn wrote: "The government will spend $15.1 billion this year on military pensions. That's about as much as it costs to operate the Justice Department, the Commerce Department and the Interior Department combined."

Miss Quinn added that private industry spends 7 to 8 percent of its total payroll on its retirees. "By contrast," she reports, "the Defense Department will spend 55 per cent this year, and 64 percent of it's payroll twenty years from now.

What is most shocking are the benefits under the retirement system.

A serviceman may retire on half his basic pay after 20 years and 75 per cent after 30 years or more, "Pension payments start immediately," she notes, "you don't have to wait until you are 60 or 65, as people do in private employment. The average enlisted man may start collecting lifetime retirement pay at 39 and the average officer at 42. They spend more years as pensioners than they did on active duty." This system is grossly unfair to citizens who have not made careers of the service. Certainly, service people deserve benefits, but not such generous benefits. Many service retirees also enjoy the right to buy food, liquor, clothing or whatever at cut rate prices at the local PX, plus medical and other benefits.

In addition, military retirees get annual cost of living adjustments so that the purchasing power of their pensions is guaranteed. Few private pensioners have the advantage of such adjustments. They have to make do with a fixed pension. Moreover, military pensioners, at age 65, collect full Social Security benefits. Their pensions aren't reduced by part of the Social Security benefits. There are even generous retirement plans for reservists.

All this is out of line with the retirement benefits other Americans enjoy. It is one thing to give exceptionally generous benefits to servicemen who have been in combat. Large numbers of military retirees have never heard a shot fired in anger. They may have manned a Xerox machine in the Pentagon or conducted drills for reservists on weekends.

Hug A Congressman?

WASHINGTON (UP1) - Don't be misled by and homosexual traffic between congressional pages and the lawgivers who employ them.

There may have been a certain amount of that sort of hanky-panky, but it is minimal, to

I can assure you the vast majority of the nation's legislators still cling to America's traditional values - that is, they drink booze and chase after members of the opposite sex.

It is for this reason I oppose the corrective and protective proposal of Sen. James Abdnor, R-S.D., who wants to spend several million dollars building a dormitory for

It would be cheaper, I submit, to build a dormitory for congressmen.

"We all know that to bring students aged 14 to 18 into a strange city, often their first bigcity experience, and then to leave them unsupervised at night, on weekends and during recesses is asking for trouble," Abdnor said in a letter to his colleagues.

Yes, and the lack of supervision at night and on weekends also is the reason congressmen stray from the straight and narrow. If unmarried lawgivers lived in a dormitory, complete with chaperones, signout sheets, curfews and other constraints, you would see an immediate improvement in the situation. The behavior of congressmen might not improve any, but there would be less gossip the current hullabaloo over reports of drug and other idle talk about their nonlegislative

> Possibly the best arrangement would be to equip the congressional dorm with something like the electronic roll call system now used in the House.

Each night at a reasonable hour - say 10 o'clock — there would be a roll call at which congressmen could signify they were snug in their rooms if not already safely tucked into

The results of the dorm check would be published in the next day's Congressional Record, just as roll calls in the House and Senate are preserved for posterity.

That way, constituents back home would know when their representatives or senators were out on the town, and could be guided accordingly.

The dorm also would have other rules that might or might not be more stringent than married lawgivers are obliged to observe at

Here, subject to approval by the House and Senate rules committees, is a suggested code for dormitory occupants:

-No pages of either sex permitted in dormitory rooms after "lights out."

-Lobbyists wishing to confer with dormitory residents must do so in the lobby.

-No drugs may be kept in dormitory rooms without matching prescriptions.

-No prescriptions may be kept in dormitory rooms without matching physicians.

ROBERT WAGMAN Tracking Welfare Cheats

WASHINGTON (NEA) - The Reagan administration has made the issue of welfare cheats the cornerstone of its attempt to cut federal spending, claiming that hundreds of millions of dollars could be saved annually if the cheats could be removed from the welfare

Welfare-rights organizations have scorned these charges of widespread cheating, dismissing them as knee-jerk conservatism - a case of the haves wanting not to share as much with the have-nots. But an experiment conducted by Massachussetts welfare authorities indicates that there might indeed be massive numbers of ineligible recipients on the nation's welfare rolls.

The object of the test was to determine if welfare recipients' bank deposits exceeded the maximum permitted by state law, which would make them ineligible for benefits. In Massachusetts, the maximum a welfare recipient may have in the bank varies from $250 for an individual receiving general assistance to $3,000 for a couple on Medicaid or a household receiving food stamps

Massachusetts authorities asked 23 of the state's 1.013 banks to compare their lists of depositors with the Social Security numbers of the state's 547,385 welfare recipients. The results "shocked" state authorities and have sent tremors through state welfare offices

The banks reported that 613 of those on the welfare rolls had current accounts of the maximum permitted, which disqualified them for aid under one of the state-administered programs.

And these were not simple technical violations: One woman receiving food stamps currently has $89,000 in the bank. Ten others have more than $40,000; 21 have $25,000 to $40,000: 46 have $15,000 to $25,000, and 143 have $5,000 to $15,000. The remainder have less than $5,000 but more than the law allows, making them ineligible for welfare.

Of the 613 cases of excess assets, 157 of the recipients receive food stamps, 163 Aid to Dependent Children, 149 Medicaid, 61 general assistance and 83 supplemental assistance.

State authorities have compiled "profiles" of the cheats. The "typical" ADC case was a woman with two children who had been on the welfare rolls for more than four years and had $13,400 in the bank. The "typical" foodstamp cheat was a woman of 60 who had received food stamps for more than two years and had $15,000 in the bank.

Massachusetts authorities are quick to point out that their action was a limited experiment involving only 2 percent of the state's banks. The state now will compare its welfare rolls with depositor lists not only at the remainder of the banks, but also with savings and loans and credit unions.

How Soviets Get Technological Secrets

WASHINGTON-The Reagan administration is trying to cut off the flow of technological secrets to the Soviet Union. Over the last decade, U.S. officials have watched in frustration as the Kremlin buys, borrows or steals billions of dollars' worth of American technical know-how.

When put to military use, this technology often gives the Soviets an edge that costs the United States billions to overcome.

In a secret version of Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger's annual report to Congress, the Pentagon lists 19 explicit ways the Russians acquire U.S. military and industrial secrets, both legally and illegally. My associate Dale Van Atta obtained a copy of the report.

Here are the legal ways the Soviets pick our -"Complete (turnkey) plant sales." The Russians buy one entire factory, lock, stock and assembly line, set it up in the Soviet Union and copy it piece by piece.

-"Direct investment in Eastern Europe." The Russians siphon off Western technology acquired by their European satellites.

-"Patents and licenses with extensive teaching effort." Sometimes a seemingly harmless patent application contains a wealth of technical detail the Russians can put to military use.

-"Joint ventures and joint production development" with Western firms.

the first of the state of the first of the state of the s

-"Technical data and engineering documents."

-- "Proposals, pre-sale negotiations and sales presentations." By soliciting bids from Western companies, the Russians can learn a lot without ever buying anything.

-"Commercial visits." -"Governmental and industrial equipment sales." -"Sales of products."

-"Scientific, technical and student exchanges.".. -"Open literature (for example, journals, magazines, technical papers)."

-"Science and technology conferences, trade shows and exhibits."

To understand how important this information is, it must be remembered that the Soviet Union is still technologically backward in almost every area but military equipment. Things that Americans take for granted—like a serviceable pencil with an eraser-are technical marvels to the Russians.

As for the illegal ways the Kremlin acquires Western technology, Weinberger's report lists the following:

-"Hostile intelligence service acquisitions." In simpler English, this means theft by KGB agents.

-"Recruited agents and industrial espionage." In the past decade, there have been almost a dozen significant losses of technology through American traitors, who are usually motivated by greed, not ideology.

-"Illegal arms trade." It's rare arms merchant who worries about embargoes, legal niceties or the ideology of his customers, as long as their checks don't bounce. -"Illegal trade in other commodities."

-"Third country diversions." These involve the acquisition of secrets from American allies or neutral countries that either don't know or don't care that U.S. equipment is actually destined for the Soviet Union instead of domestic users.

-"Captured in war." The Vietnam debacle left a wealth of U.S. weapons in Communist -"End-users diversions." This means the application of legally purchased American technology to military uses in violation of the purchase agreement. For example, the United States sold the Russians ball-bearing grinders capable of producting pinhead-size bearing accurate to one 25-millionth of an inch. The Soviets used them to produce ball bearings for the guidance systems of their SS-18 missiles, whose resulting accuracy was the principal reason for consideration of the multibillion-dollar mx missile system.

In another case I disclosed earlier, the Russians used an American-built truck factory at Kama River for military vehicles that carried Red Army troops into Afghanistan. The factory is also being used to make parts for the new T-80 tank.

WHO NEEDS A TEST?: With unbecoming

arrogance, the Consumer Product Safety Commission has banned a product it didn't even bother to test, thereby putting a small company virually out of business. Commission officials have added salt to the wound by lying about the matter.

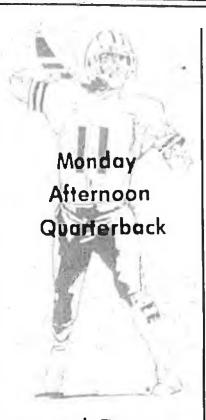

The product so cavalierly taken off the market is a foam insulation made by the C.P. Chemical Co. of White Plains, N.Y. It was one of nine foam insulations banned last February for use in homes and schools. The complaint was that it contained formaldehyde, which gives off poisonous fumes in certain conditions.

But unlike the other banned products, C.P. Chemical's foam, Tripolymer 105, contains no methylol, the substance that breaks down into formaldehyde.

The company sent samples of its product to several laboratories to test for the presence of formaldehyde, The most any lab detected. was .0001 percent, which is less formaldehyde than normally occurs in the air we breathe. The company's attorney hand-delivered a bundle of the scientific evidence to the commission, and had the information stamped with the date it was received. But a commission spokesman told my reporter

Pam Kripke the data was never received. In addition, the spokesman said a doctor doing research for C.P. Chemical Co. had said that Tripolymer 105 is made from methylol. In fact, the doctor signed an affidavit to the

Mental Errors Aid Setbacks; Easy On Helmet

Seminole's football team has lost two close games the past two Fridays and in both cases judgment errors aided the downfalls.

Against Titusville Astronaut, the 'Noles failed to call a timeout with a fourth and three situation at the Astronaut 21 and 35 seconds left in the game in the game. Quarterback Mike Futrell checked off a pass play and ran a sneak. He was considerably short and Seminole turned the ball over on downs. Astronaut ran out the clock for a 16-10 victory.

Again Friday, Seminole had a choice of giving Lake Howell a third and 22 at the 30 yard line or a fourth and seven at the 15 yard line. The 'Noles settled for the fourth and seven. Two plays later, Tito Martorell kicked a 34-yard field goal with just 1:44 left in the half. The Tribe eventually lost, 13-10, on another Martorell field goal in the fourth quarter.

With the rising cost of football equipment these days, you wouldn't think a Seminole defensive lineman would toss his most important piece his helmet - 10 yards down the sideline after the offense messed up.

If this lineman could throw opposing running backs as far as he does his helmet, he'd be an all-American. This same lineman walked down the track with his helmet under his arm after the rest of the team hustled off to the locker room at halftime.

On the brighter side, running back Tim Lawrence continues to shine. The speedy junior ran for 105 yards Friday on just five carries. Rendell Manley churned out 75 yards.

Fullback Ronald Burke, though, continues to puzzle the Seminole staff. Burke, a sensation in the spring intrasquad game, hasn't put it all together yet this fall.

"He gets the jitters," said a teammate. "He's great in practice but he gets nervous when he gets into a real-game."

Part of the problem could lie with the fact Burke didn't play football last year as a junior. This year is his first varsity exposure.

Jim McKay, local Army recruiter, did the public address for the Seminole-Lake Howell game. He has a sharp, clear voice and is enthusiastic about the game. When he becomes more familiar with the players, the Tribe will have a top-notch an-

Lake Howell, Mainland, Apopka and Spruce Creek all won their opening conference games. Really no. surprises here, although a healthy Vince Presley may have made a difference in the Lyman-Mainland game which was decided by two Presley carried once for five yards as he attempts to work himself back into shape. With his speed and power, the 6-1, 185-pounder could be a real terror once he gets back.

Most coaches feel more than one loss will eliminate you from the conference race. Lyman, Seminole, Lake Howell, Lake Brantley, Spruce Creek and Apopka have nonconference games next Friday. Mainland plays DeLand on Thursday.

The Silver Hawks-Titusville Astronaut game at Howell should be an interesting pairing. So will Lyman and Winter Park at Lyman. Seminole hosts Edgewater and Lake Brantley travels to Boone. Both are trying to secure victory number one. Boone is weak and Edgewater was 1-9 last year and doesn't appear to be much better.

Lake Mary, meanwhile, entertains Bishop Moore. This should be the beginning of an excellent rivalry. The Hornets, however, are much more physical this year. The size may be too imposing for the Rams.

Oviedo, a 21-7 loser in a crucial district and conference game with St. Cloud, has an open date.

Dolphins Struggle Past Colts, 24-20

Monday, Sept. 20, 1982-5A

MIAMI (UPI) - It all seemed so easy their opponents this fall. when they were leading 14-0, but by halftime the Miami Dolphins were struggling mightily to avoid the ultimate NFL humiliation - a loss to the Baltimore Colts.

The Dolphins eventually pulled it out, 24-20, but it was the kind of game that left both teams unhappy. The Dolphins didn't like it because it wasn't easy, and the Colts were convinced they could have

"We made some bad mental mistakes," said Baltimere Coach Frank Kush. "But I think, if you'll pardon the expression, we're getting some football character running the ball.

"I made up my mind this week that if we're going to have any kind of a football team, that's what we're going to do,"

If that's what they're going to do keep coming and keep coming and keep coming like they did Sunday — the Colts are going to cause some problems for the first half.

"To the Colts credit, they were knocking us off the ball. They ran at us and over us," said Dolphin Coach Don Shula with a touch of admiration leavening the unhappiness in his voice.

"The fact that we're 2-0 is about the only good thing that can be said after our performance," Shula said. "We started out looking like we were ready to play, but then it got to be 14-0 and we stopped

Pro Bowl nose tackle Bob Baumhower echoed his coach's feelings.

"Sure the Colts are young, but if you don't keep that mental edge, you're going to lose," Baumhower said. "Once you lose that intensity, it's hard to get it back. After all, it takes a whole week to get it

The Dolphins jumped to the 14-0 lead in the first quarter on a 1-yard dive by David Woodley and a 4-yard scoring pass from Woodley to tight end Bruce Hardy. But the Colts rallied to a 17-14 halftime

But then Miami's defense apparently found the mental edge again and stopped the Colts the rest of the way to pocket the

Perhaps the only participant who finished the game with a feeling of satisfaction is Wood, who threw his second pass in pro football for his second completion and his second touchdown "I guess I'm two for two now," said Wood, who passed to Dave Stieb for a touchdown on a planned play when he was a place kicker for St. Louis three

This time, it wasn't planned, it was a misplayed field goal attempt that Wood botch. The snap somehow eluded holder Rohn Stark, Wood picked it up and lofted the ball to Krauss in the end zone.

"He (Stark) lost track of the ball and I thought I'd better pick it up," Wood said with a delighted grin.

Williams Is All Thumbs As Bucs Fall To Redskins

By CHRIS FISTER Herald Sports Writer

TAMPA - Before Sunday's Bucs-Redskins game got underway it was announced that there were showers to the north and south of Tampa Stadium but only a 30 percent chance of rain during the game.

That figure (30 percent) must have actually meant the Buccaneers' chances of winning as the thunder roared, the rain poured and the fans snored

Four first-half fumbles and a blocked punt opened the door for the Redskins who went on to an 18-6 halftime advantage and held on for a 31-13 victory as 66,187 disgruntled fans looked on.

Tampa Bay's problems began with one of the most basic parts of football - the center snap. Doug Williams mishandled four of them in the first half when the downpour turned the stadium into a swamp, "It shouldn't happen," Bucs' coach John McKay said. "If you can't handle the snap from center, nothing happens."

Washington got on the board first after a Larry Swider punt of just 26 yards. The Skins drove 60 yards on 10 plays, the big play coming on a 19-yard pass from Joe Theismann to Charlie Brown. Another Theismann to Brown connection went for eight yards and the touchdown. Mark Moseley missed the extra point as Washington took a 6-0 lead.

The Redskins added to the lead late in the first quarter after recovering Williams' fumbled center snap on the Tampa Bay 29. The 'Skins could not break into the end zone and Moseley booted a 35-yard field goal to put Washington up, 9-0.

Tampa Bay got back in the game by Chiefs, 1-1, snapped a six-game losing scoring on the first play of the second quarter. Williams, handling the snap, hooked up with Kevin House for a 62-yard TD pass. The snap for the extra point was breaking second-half score and Danny errant and Billy Capece attempted to run White added a 24-yard touchdown pass to it in but was stopped as Tampa Bay cut Drew Pearson to lead the Cowboys, 1-1. the 'Skins lead to 9-6.

Williams' fourth fumble of the half, Ken Stabler threw a 10-yard TD pass to recovered by Neil Olkewicz on the Bucs' Larry Hardy in the first quarter and the 12-yard line, enabled the Redskins to take aroused New Orleans defense frustrated a 12-6 lead as Moseley kicked a 21-yard three Chicago quarterbacks to give the field goal.

Another Buc miscue, this time a blocked punt, led to the 'Skins second TD of the half, Swider's punt attempt was blocked by ex-Buccaneer Curtis Jordan and, after four or five players scrambled for the loose ball, Jordan recovered it in the end zone. Moseley again missed the PAT and the Washington lead was 18-6.

The rain came to a stop before the second half began and it seemed the Bucs were ready to play the way a professional team is supposed to.

After a scoreless third quarter, James Wilder went seven yards for a touchdown and Capece added the point to cut the Redskins' lead to 18-13. The drive 54 yards on seven plays with two key passes from Williams to House for gains of 17 and 19 yards.

A 19-yard Moseley field goal put Washington in control, 21-13, with less than five minutes remaining in the game. The Redskins had a third and goal on the Bucs' 2-yard line but John Riggins was stopped by Booker Reese for no gain forcing the field goal.

Pro Football

About two minutes later, Williams loaded up this cannon-arm in an attempt to get the Bucs back in the game with a long TD pass. And it worked, Williams. found House in the clear for what appeared to be a 71-yard TD, but the officials ruled that House had stepped out of bounds, then came back in to catch the pass. Any receiver who steps out of bounds before the ball is thrown is ineligible.

"I thought I had done something great," House said after the game. "I was knocked out of bounds so I thought I could come back in and catch the ball. They must have changed the rule."

When Washington regained the ball, it gave the ball to Riggins, who carried seven times for 48 yards to run out the clock. Riggins carried a total of 34 times for 136 yards to lead all rushers. Tampa Bay had only 101 total rushing yards.

Williams' four fumbles in the torrential downpour put a few nails in the Bucs' coffin before one half of the game had expired. "They were great snaps, I just mishandled them," Williams said, "The ball just slipped out of my hands. You might say it was wet and rainy, but Theismann had it wet too,"

Theismann and the Redskins went the entire game without a turnover which is indicative of the 'Skins 2-0 record while the Buc blunders led to Tampa's second straight defeat.

Steelers Drop Bengals In Overtime

United Press International You might as well bow out in style.

In what threatens to be their final game of 1982, the Pittsburgh Steelers turned to some of their former Super Bowl heroes Sunday en route to a 26-20 overtime triumph over Cincinnati, snapping a four-game losing streak to the Bengals. Veteran safety Donnie Shell provided the early spark at Three Rivers Stadium with a pair of interceptions off Ken Anderson, but it was a familiar clutch passing combination that figured in the game-winning play as Terry Bradshaw flipped a 2-yard scoring pass to John Stallworth just 68 seconds into the extra

Despite the Steelers' second straight triumph over a quality opponent, Brudshaw said his club wasn't ready to earn a shot at a fifth Super Bowl championship.

"We're a young football team and we don't need a setback like that," said Bradshaw, referring to the probability of an impending NFL strike, "We have momentum. We're not a good football team yet and we have a long way to go before we are, but we're getting better. I'd hate to see our momentum stopped when it's just starting."

A nine-member executive committee of the Players Association has scheduled a meeting for 2 p.m. EDT today in New York and the union is expected to call for a strike beginning Tuesday,

The Steelers, who upset Dallas 36-28 last Monday night, had many defensive standouts against Cincinnati, which fell to 1-1. Shell had two interceptions inside the Pittsburgh 3 and Tom Beasley blocked what might have been a gamewinning 39-yard field goal by Cincinnati's Jim Breech with five seconds left in

Knight And Day

Improved UCF Battles Southeastern Even Before Falling, 24-14

Herald Sports Editor

Like Knight and day, Better yet, like

Knight and week. Insulted and embarrassed by the Dunkel Index which had Central Florida as 25-point underdogs, coach Sam Weir's Knights battled Southeastern Louisiana to a 44-14 halftime deadlock before succumbing in the second half, 24-14, before 8,196 excited tans at the Tangerine Bowl.

"We were a completely different football team than last week against Georgia Southern (a 16-9 loss)," said a proud Weir. "I think the hometown crowd and the Thundering Herd had a lot to do with it."

More than 1,000 of the Herd clanged cowbells to the delight of the UCF faithful every time the Knights did something right. The Thundering Herd is the brainchild of former Knight running back Mike Stapp, who now works for T.G. Lee, the milk company which sponsors the Herd.

"Our kids were embarrassed and insulted by that Dunkel Index," said Weir. "We made a point to do something about

The point was well-taken by quarterback Dana Thysen. The 6-4 ex-DeLand High gunner shredded the Southeastern secondary for 168 yards on 12 of 16 completions in the first 30 minutes.

His biggest bomb covered 71 yards when he located swift wide receiver Mike Collier in the open and the Knight junior from Belle Glades raced into the end

"We knew if Mike (Collier) got the ball in the open, he would be hard to stop," said Weir about the curl pattern which cut Southeastern Louisiana's lead to 14-7.

SEL had jumped on the board late in the first quarter when Charles Hebert tossed a 42-yard touchdown pass to flashy flanker David Patterson.

"Patterson is one of the best receivers I've seen at this level," said Weir. "That combination of Hebert and Patterson is going to score touchdowns on anybody."

Friedlander of 28 yards set up Southeastern at midfield for its second opportunity. Tailback Jerry Butler eventually scored on an 11-yard run for a 14-0 lead.

UCF tied the game with just 1:05 left in the half. After David King recovered a fumble at the SEL 35, Thysen located Jeff Froehlich for 28 yards and a first and gaol at the 2. Running back Jerome Thompson dived the final two yards and Scott Ryerson sent the Thundering Herd up for grabs with the point after for a 14-14 deadlock.

In the second half, though, it was all Southeastern Louisiana. Thysen came apart with the help of some dropped passes by receivers. He completed just 2 of 15 efforts and the UCF offense never crossed midfield.

Former Lyman High linebacker Billy Giovanetti recovered a fumble by Hebert in SEL territory in the fourth period, but the Knights couldn't capitalize.

Giovanetti broke up a pass play along with his fumble recovering. He was in on 11 tackles, three of which were solos. King led UCF with three tackles and nine assists. Jeff Sacco, a defensive end, A short second-quarter punt by Doug collected four tackles and five assists.

Dana Thysen, Central Florida quarterback, scrambles to shake DeLand High, had a hot first half as the Knights battled to a 14-14 tie, loose from a Southeastern Louisiana defender in Saturday night's but cooled off in the second half as UCF lost, 24-14. game at the Tangerine Bowl. Separated Shoulder Shelves Miami's Kelly

United Press International

Heisman Trophy candidate Jim Kelly's injured shoulder was diagnosed as a separation Sunday and the senior quarterback will be lost to the Miami-Hurricanes for the rest of the season.

"I just got word that Jim did separate his shoulder and it's severe enough to have surgery," Coach Howard Schnellenberger said. "Of course, he will be lost for the rest of the season."

Schnellenberger said, "It looks like the type of injury where they can go in and repair the damage and he should have a fine pro career." Kelly had been projected as a No. 1 draft choice next

The rangy Pennsylvanian went down on his throwing shoulder after running for 20 yards in the fourth quarter of a 14-8 Miami victory at Virginia Tech Satur-

In other Florida games Saturday, Florida State lost 37-17 to No. 1-ranked Pittsburgh; Florida A&M won its second victory in two games, defeating Delaware State, 39-23; BethuneCookman (2-1) downed Howard, 19-9; and Central Florida (0-2) lost 24-14 to Southeastern Louisiana.

The 5th-ranked Florida G tors (2-0) were idle but play next week at home against Mississippi State, Florida State (1-1) is at Southern Mississippi, Florida A & M is home to Grambling, Bethune-Cookman plays at North Carolina A&T and Central Florida is at VMI.

Miami will play Michigan State, a 31-10 loser to Ohio State Saturday, in the Orange Bowl and Mark Richt will be at quarterback. The senior backup, who Schnellenberger has said could be starting for most dropback passing teams in the nation, completed two of three passes for 28 yards after Kelly was hurt Saturday.

"I feel badly for Jim," said Richt. "I've wanted to play badly for a long time, but not at his expense."

Schnellenberger said he believes the Hurricanes can keep on winning without Kelly.

"We won't change our offense. We can continue to win with the quarterbacks we have," Schnellenberger said. "Kyle Vanderwende will be our No. 2 and we'll bring up one of our freshmen for depth." As for the game itself, Schnellenberger was pleased.

"I'm very happy to come out of this thing with a victory," he said. "There were parts of the game during which our offense played extremely well and there were parts where we played terrible.

"Our defense for the most part played an exceptional game until the fourth quarter, when we had to shut them down and didn't. In all three games, we've allowed teams to move the ball in the fourth quarter."

Florida State had late-game problems too, and had gone into the second half tied with the top-ranked Panthers, 17-17. Pittsburgh's personnel and a second-half downpour were both too much for the Seminoles.

"We had to have an advantage and we just flat didn't get it," Florida State Coach Bobby Bowden said, "When the rains came, they just handled it better than we did."

Quarterback Kelly Lowrey echoed his coach's feelings.

"They just seemed to handle the wet ball and footing better," Lowrey said. "They're more veteran than we are. They were bigger, and they were able to knock us off the ball, it seemed."

Many feel Bear Bryant has his best of 38 football teams, but the cage y Alabama coach still finds room for complaint.

"I don't know how good we are," grumbled Bryant after the fourth-ranked Crimson Tide, a 45-7 winner over Georgia Tech in last week's opener, rambled to a 12-14 victory Saturday over Ole Miss. "We had too many penalties and we gave up too many yards passing."

Ole Miss Coach Steve Sloan, who quarterbacked a couple of pretty good Bryant teams in the mid 60s, says his old coach just doesn't like to admit how good Alabama is this year.

"I believe this is the best Alabama team I've ever seen," said Sloan. "It has no weaknesses. It's definitely a dominating team, a contender for the national title."

Although giving up a lot of passing yardage, Alabama allowed Ole Miss only 24 net yards on the ground and while rolling up 296 rushing yards with its wishbone, the Crimson Tide also gained 188 through the air.

The SEC winners were Auburn, which nipped Southern Mississippi 21-19 when the losers ran out of time while trying to get its field goal unit into the game; Louisiana State, which opened its season with a 45-7 romp past Oregon State; and 18th-ranked Mississippi State, which is 3-0 after trouncing Memphis State, 41-17, on Michael Haddix's four-touchdown performance.

The SEC losers were Kentucky, upended 29-8 by Oklahoma, and Vanderbilt, a 34-10 loser to 11th-ranked North Carolina after leading 10-3 in the second

Frostproof Snaps Saints' Slingshot In Second Half

Trinity Prep's slingshot held up for one half Saturday, playing number-one ranked giant Frostproof to a 0-0 stalemate, before breaking in the second half for a 12-0 loss at Trinity Prep.

"We could beat these guys on a cool night or if we had eight more players," said Saints' coach Ron Vierling whose squad numbers half of Frostproof's 36

Frostproof, which finished second in the 1A State Playoffs last year, broke the deadlock in the third quarter when quarterback Pat McDonnell hooked up with John Elyard for a 56-yard scoring bomb.

"After that long score, I could see the energy draining out of our players," said Vierling, "We had played above our heads energy-wise all game but couldn't keep it up.

The Frostproofers added the clinching touchdown in the fourth quarter when Alonza Smith, a speedy tailback, zipped in from five yards out. Trinity dominated the first half, outrushing its visitors, 97-26. Running back Brian Butler did most of the damage. He finished the day with 75 yards in 14 carries. The Saints drove to the Frostproof 35 on two occasions, but both drives were halted by interceptions. "Those interceptions killed us," said Vierling. "Our running game was going well on both occasions." Frostproof threatened twice more in the second half, but fierce goal-line stands by the Saints averted both scores. Butler, Tom Horton and Bill Samii each made a key tackle on the first drive which stopped at the 6. Butler and Andy Duda had crucial hits on the last drive, killed at the 4.

Butler and linebacker Chris Lucus had eight tackles each.

While Frostproof is the state's numberone ranked team, next Friday's opponent - St. Petersburg Shorecrest - looms just as tough.

"I've been told Shorecrest is physically bigger and stronger than Frostproof," said Vierling whose team is 1-1.

'I Love New York,' Chirp Cardinals After Sweep

United Press International

Playing the New York Mets in a pennant race is as refreshing as a cold swim on a hot summer day.

The St. Louis Cardinals could hardly be blamed if they burst into a few choruses of "I Love New York" following Sunday's 3-1 triumph over the Mets.

The Cardinals entered their series with the Mets only 112 games ahead of the Philadelphia Phillies in the National League East and left for home Sunday 412 games ahead after sweeping a fivegame series.

Philadelphia, meanwhile, lost to Pittsburgh, 8-1, to culminate a weekend in which the Phillies lost two of three games with the Pirates. The Phillies meet the Cardinals in a two-game series, beginning tonight at St. Louis.

Phillies' Manager Pat Corrales, with his team having lost six of its last eight games, kept the locker room door closed for nearly 10 minutes after Sunday's game and tried to inspire his players.

"I told them, 'If you want to come in third, just keep on playing like you've been playing," Corrales said. "If you want to finish first, then play like you can

The Cardinals, on the other hand, are playing superbly and much of their success can be traced to the pitching staff. John Stuper, a rookie righthander, was the major reason for the victory Sunday by combining with Doug Bair on a seven-hitter.

Zahn Faces Gura As Series Opens

United Press International

California has always attracted people in search of a fortune, making it a natural destination for the Kansas City Royals.

"Now we go into California and find out what this team is made of," Kansas City center fielder Amos Otis said Sunday after the Royals fell into a firstplace tie with California in the AL West by losing 94 to Minnesota.

The clubs open a three-game series in Anaheim tonight with California's Geoff Zahn, 16-8, opposing the Royals' Larry Gura, 17-10. Kansas City hosts a similar series beginning a week from tonight.

"Each game is too important to think in terms of winning a series," California Manager Gene Mauch said after the Angels moved into a tie with a 5-1 victory over the Toronto Blue Jays. "If I start thinking in terms of a series, or thinking I'd like to win two of three from K.C., then what am I going to do if I don't? Slit my throat?"

"I think when the season started," said second baseman Frank White, "we were picked for fifth place. Considering all the injuries we've had, we're in a pretty good position. It's just time to go into California and see if we can do it."

Gary Gaetti belted a grand slam to help the Twins complete a sweep of the threegame series against the Royals.

At Toronto, Bruce Kison, 9-7, tossed a four-hitter and Rod Carew tripled and scored the go-ahead run to lead the Angels.

Brewers 14, Yankees 1

At Milwaukee, Paul Molitor's threerun homer and Gorman Thomas' two-run blast highlighted a nine-run eighth that led the Brewers, the leaders in the AL. East. It was the Yankees' eighth loss in a Orioles 4, Indians 2

At Baltimore, Rich Dauer hit a two-run homer with two out in the 10th to help the Orioles keep pace with Milwaukee. Mike Flanagan, 15-12, allowed seven hits in going the distance for the triumph. Red Sox 6, Tigers 4

At Detroit, Carney Lansford hit the first grand slam of his career, with one out in the eighth, to break open a tight game and reward the 11-strikeout pitching of John Tudor, 12-10. White Sox 8, A's 3

At Chicago, Greg Luzinski drove in five runs with a pair of singles and a basesclearing double and Steve Kemp drove in three runs with a single and a two-run homer to bring the White Sox within 412 games of first place in the West. Mariners 9, Rangers 7

At Seattle, Orlando Mercado belted a grand slam for his first major-league hit to pace the Mariners. Ed Nunez, 1-1, went five innings, allowing three hits to record his first major-league victory.

Anderson Out-Duels Bresnahan In Late-Model Smyrna Final

NEW SMYRNA BEACH - Getting ready to go back on the All-Pro-American Speed Association circuits for the remaining major events of the season, Dick Anderson came out on top of a red-hot 130 mph duel with Pat Bresnahan to win the 25-lap late-model finale on Saturday night at New Smyrna Speedway.

Jerry Fitch, with the help of Walker Transmission, Hinckling Egg Farm and about ten more sponsors, drove under early leader Pete Starr going into turn three and went on to win his fifth thunder car feature in a row.

The street stock main turned out into another sizzler, with the tight five-car front pack, rubbing fenders, going three and four deep in the turns. Ron DiCandlo took the win by less than three feet over the Fords of Wild Bill Kinley and first heat winner Benny Gibson. Fourth was ageless veteran Homer Franklin who led till half-way in his powerful but poorly handling stocker. Second heat winner Timmy Todd was fifth. In four cylinder action, early leader Ike Roland bounced off the retaining wall and damaged his front suspension. A short, contact-filled three-car duel then developed, with heat winner Danny Pardus besting local service station owner Al Gray, Milo Vidic, Bob Clark and Bud Beaty for the win. Dale Clouser won the spectator races, with the crew of thunder car hot shoe Pete Starr beating the clock to win the pit stop contest. Central Florida Kart Club feature winner was Robert Ham.

For the first time ever at New Smyrna Speedway, Iona-McGregor fire chief Jerry Adema was the fastest qualifier in the late-model division and he won the fast heat. But Lady Luck then turned her back on him as he lost the flip of the coin and had to start sixth in the feature, while eventual winner Anderson was on the outside front row.

Riding on Hoosier tires, Wally "Featherfoot" Finney, a Merritt Island Speed Equipment and racing tires dealer, led the first tour. Second fastest qualifier Bresnahan then took over first place and taking advantage of lapped car traffic and a slightly faster car, held off a super-determined Anderson till the caution flag flew on lap 18.

Anderson got the best of him on the restart, but Bresnahan remained in contention and in the closing laps, he pulled a "Ken Copley move" down in the weeds in turn three and nearly made it by, but he bobbled and Anderson was long gone when he Adema finished strong third, with high point man

Joe Middletor, coming out on top of a tough battle for fourth place over Lee Faulk, Jack Cook Sr., Wally Finney and second heat winner Chris Dellarco, with Jim Ownby and Phil Dorman rounding out the top ten.

Top thunder car finishers were Fitch, Pete Starr. Joe Coupas, Jim Matthews and Tom Balmer. Heat winners were Fitch and Chuck Burkhalter. Topping the list of coming events on the brightly-lit half-mile of pavement are the 100-lap Street Stock Championship of Florida on October 2nd and

Numbers Of Latins In C. Florida Doubles

ORLANDO (UPI) - Over the past decade the Latin population of central Florida has more than doubled. and community leaders - including Latins - hope to avoid the clash of cultures that has occurred in Miami

According to the 1980 census, 25,000 Latins now live in Orange, Osceola and Seminole counties — 3.7 percent of 700,699 residents. That is a big jump from the 1970 census, which showed Latins amounting to only 1.8 percent of the area's population.

According to the Latin Chamber of Conumerce, some 500 Latin-owned businesses in the area contribute $30 million annually to the local economy. And while Latins involved in government are few — an assistant Orlando " attorney, a Seminole County medical examiner, an Orlando City Hall doctor - the influence

Over 100 Boats To Be Sold

KEY WEST (UPI) - More than 100 boats, once used to shuttle Mariel refugees to Florida and now stacked pell-mell on an overgrown plot of Navy property adjacent to Key West, go up on the auction block this

The vessels, seized during the 1980 boatlift that brought 125,000 Cubans to the United States, will be sold to the highest bidder, cash only, starting at 9 a.m. Thursday on Fleming Key. The auction will mark the largest sale of federally impounded boats ever held in

The auction will also mark the first time federal officials have attempted to sell boats impounded during the month-long boatlift, boats ranging from sleek 24-foot sailboats to bulky 175-foot freighters.

Most of the boats have been piled on top of each other on Fleming Key for nearly two years, and government officials admit that many of them have suffered from lack of care.

Travel To Cuba Down

MIAMI (UPI) - The once booming business of flying American tourists to Cuba has dried to a trickle of charter flights for exiles visiting their homeland, the result of the Reagan Administration's clampdown on travel to the communist island nation.

This year will be the most difficult time in half a decade for U.S. residents traveling to Havana. Only journalists, diplomats on official business and Cuban exiles are permitted by the State Department to fly to Cuba on charter flights still offered several days a

The charters are a steep drop-off from flights that peaked in 1980, when some 38,000 Americans flew to Cuba. Many of the visitors were businessmen and tourists, and about 60 percent of them were exiles and expatriates visiting relatives, according to the Treasury Department.

Israel Denies Knowledge Of Palestinian Massacre

United Press International

Bullet-riddled corpses lay lined up for burial in a mass grave today in west Beirut amid reports Israel may have known of the massacre of hundreds of Palestinians by its Lebanese Christian allies a day before it ended.

Israel's Ha'aretz newspaper said the massacre by right-wing Christian Phalangists at the twin Chatila-Sabra refugee camps began Thursday, not Friday as earlier reported, and the Israeli army knew of the slaughter by Friday.

Thousands of people protested throughout Israel Sunday demanding the resignation of Prime Minister Menachem Begin's government for permitting the massacre, which ended early Saturday-36 hours after

But the Israel Cabinet, after a three-hour emergency meeting that ended early today, said that Israel rejects with "contempt" any suggestions it was involved in the killing, calling all such claims "blood libel."

...Zoo, A Lot For Young And Old

acquatic plant and animal life, Bush said.

"And even if you got through DER and the SJRWMD, you might get opposition to dredging and filling that area from someone like the Audubon Society which might object to any possible damage to osprey nests or baby cypress," he said.

"The zoo could probably fill some of the present site or maybe some adjacent property without too much opposition, but not much more than that," Bush said.

Jack Brown, a fellow in the American Association of Zoological Parks and Aquariums, an instructor in Santa Fe-Community College's biological parks management program, the only course of its kind in the country, and co-director of the college's teaching zoo near Gainesville, agreed with the Posey report in every respect.

"I've been to the Central Florida Zoo several times and I'm very familiar with the problem," Brown said. "The ground there is terrible. There are very few animals that can do well in an environment like that.

"Even animals that live in swampy areas have a chance to get out of it to dry ground from time to time. If you're going to have any kind of well-rounded animal collection, you have to have dry ground for the animals to live on," he said.

Given the problems at the zoo, Brown said he thought the idea of moving the facility, a solution the zoo board is currently considering, is "a good one."

"Of course, you could make the zoo into only a reptile and bird collection as Mr. Posey suggests if you like, but that really isn't what we regard as a zoo and certainly not what the public likes to see," he said. While saying the water problem at the zoo "is obvious," Brown added that "it might not always have been so. Those who chose the site might have viewed the land during the dry season when it looked ideal "Without some sort of study of the land's past water retention history, they wouldn't have realized the problem the zoo she produced three offsprings; one was And Rozon said as far as he knows, "No such study was eversold to another zoo, one was returned to the made. I came on board in 1973 and the site was chosen in 1971 or '72. There may have been some study made before I got original owner of the female, the Florida Monkey here, but I never heard about it." Sanctuary near Venice, Fla.; and one offspring

If the present site is less than ideal and the Orlando tract doesn't, for whatever reason, work out, is there a suitable site in Seminole County on which to relocate?

"I don't know," Rozon said. "Over the years, we've been offered several sites, but they've always been unacceptable, land that developers couldn't use and tried to pawn off on us. "But there has never been to my knowledge any in-depth assessment of alternative sites in this county."

Brown's observations are backed by a Sanford veterinarian of 38 years, Dr. Raymond L. Bass, who has practiced here since 1944. Bass not only concurs with Brown, but agreed with Posey's analysis of the situation and said he could have told zoo officials before they moved onto the site that it was not suitable for animals.

"I could have told them long ago . . . it's nothing but swamp there. I lived behind it for a long time and I knew what problems they'd encounter."

As to eventually depleting the existing inventory and converting the zoo into a bird and reptile facility, Dr. Bass said that may compound the problem.

"The birds attract mosquitoes, and the mosquitoes carry diseases," he sald.

Dr. Bass isn't the only veterinarian who sees it that way. Two others, both of whom have been treating animals at the zoo for more than eight years, recognize the problems.

WESTERNAUTO HAS MOVED TO 2202 FRENCH AVE "WE DUPLICATE KEYS" ONLY 79c WITH THIS COUPON TAKE A FLORIDA BREAK

--- COUPON ----

Dr. William B. DeLaporte, a vet at the Altamonte Veterinary Hospital, who treated animals at the zoo for five years until 1979, summed it up this way:

"As I see it, the terrain certainly is rough. There are two main points to consider. One is humidity and the other high and low ground. The terrain at the zoo is swampy and that creates problems for hooved animals. We have a humidity problem throughout Florida, but whether there is higher ground with less humidity that would be better for the animals. That's the question, of course. I never thought of it before, but obviously if that's the case, then they'd be better off elsewhere. But we don't just move a zoo because of lowlands and high humidity. But as I said, I never thought of it before, they could be better off elsewhere."

Dr. J. Brennen Murphy, who has been treating the animals at the zoo for the past three years, agrees. "There's no doubt. and I guess I'll get it for what I say because this thing is half political, but in the long run, I agree that the animals would be better off at higher ground. The ground at the present site is too low. Certainly, the zoo people at this point do an excellent job of maintaining the animals, but in the long run, because of the condition, it would be very hard on the animals and the maintenance people to get them to survive. They could survive, but it would be hard."

MR. AND MRS. PAUL LEON HENDRICKS

Stacie L. Rose, P.L. Hendricks Repeat Vows

Stacie Louise Hose and Paul Leon Hendricks were married Sept. 4, at 7:30 p.m. in the Maitland Art Center. Chapel. The Rev. Erich Hamm performed the double ring ceremony

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Rose of Spencer, Ohio. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hendricks, 218 Palm Place, Sanford.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose for her yows a winte organza over taffeta gown, fashioned along the empire silhouette. The Queen Anne neckline was accented with Alencon lace and seed pearls and the full bishop sleeves ended in wide lace cuffs. The A-line skirt cascaded into a chapel train. A Juliet cap, covered in Alencon lace, secured her fingertip lace-trimmed veil of illusion. She carried an arm bouquet of Sonia roses showered with peach satin and white-face ribbons

Anne Marie Koncha attended the bride as maid of honor. She wore a peach colored gown, empire styled, featuring a softly shirred bodice with spaghetti straps and a floral print cape. She carried a wicker basket arranged with daisies, baby's breath and sonia roses with the white satin streamers.

Pam Hendricks, the bridegroom's sister from Sanford, was the bridesmaid. Her gown and flowers were identical to the honor attendant's.

John Hendrick served his brother as best man. Bryan Hose, brother of the bride, was the groomsman.

Following a reception at the art center, the newlyweds departed on a honeymoon trip to Daytona Beach. They are

Family Who Prays Together Stays Together

DEAR ABBY: I hope you will print this, as there must be others who could one day face what we are facing if they don't take precautions to prevent it. Our 16-year-old daughter is pregnant by our 15year-old adopted son. She refuses to have an abortion because she wants the baby.

We adopted the boy when he was an infant and have raised him as though he were our own flesh and blood. Both children have been raised in the church, and I never dreamed this could happen to

My husband works the night shift and I had to be away for several nights with my sister who underwent serious surgery. Meanwhile, our son and daughter slept in the same bed because she said she was afraid. He said, "Mom, I'm sorry. It just happened. I couldn't help it."

My husband ran the boy off, and he has no one to go to. My husband blames me for being so trusting and says any fool would know it could happen.

I'm so distraught I don't know where to turn or whom to ask except you, Abby. What should I do

DEAR CRUSHED: You say your children have been raised in the church. Praise the Lord-that could be your salvation! And theirs.

Welcome the boy home, and forget blame, guilt, and what you should or should not have done. The future of your daughter and son and their unbornchild are your first priorities now. See your spiritual and religious leader for family counseling. This concerns the entire family. God never gives us a heavier load than we can carry, so please do this now, and let me hear from you in three months. I

DEAR ABBY: While I was in the hospital last month, a fellow patient let me read your book, "The Best of Dear Abby." It made me laugh. It made me cry. It made me think. But best of all, it made me

I want one of my own, and I would also like to buy one for my mother, but I can't find a single copy in Great Falls, Mont. Can you help me?

DEAR R.K.: Send me your name and address and a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Every teen ager should know the truth about drugs, sex and how to be happy, for Abby's booklet, send $2 and a long, stamped (37 cents), addressed envelope to: Abby, Teen Booklet, P.O. Box 38923, Hollywood, Calif. 90038.

YOUR BIRTHDAY

If you're looking for a year that's quite different and unusual, this could be it. There will be so many changes in the times ahead that there will never be a dull moment. VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) With you in the house today, the home fires become a blast furnace of invigorating enthusiasm, ready to effect all kinds of new and interesting projects. Find out more of what lies ahead for you in the seasons following your birthday by sending for your copy of Astro-Graph, Mail $1 for each to Astro-Graph, Box 489. Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date. LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Sometimes you take an exorbitant amount of time deliberating over your concepts, but not so today. Your ideas will come, packaged and ready for market.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) There will be no dragging your feet today on anything which you feel can benefit you materially.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) You are in such control that you'll set a pace today which I doubt many will be able to keep up with. It isn't likely anyone will even attempt a challenge.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You're an excellent strategist today and know how to keep your aces so hidden that, when you reveal them, all opponents will board.

surrender without a fight. AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) A change in atmosphere is what you need today. You'll make certain to associate only with those who want the same thing, even if it means mingling with new faces. PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20)

An exhilarating day could be in store for you. You'll break away from the herd and strive for something, perhaps unconventional and daring, but quite rewarding. ARIES (March 21-April 19) The more you get involved in today, the more clever ideas you seem to be able to come TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Your ambitious urges are especially acute today. It won't take much encouragement to get you to take a flyer, so it's best to deal only with those you trust. GEMINI (May 21-June 20)

Making quick decisions is nothing new for you, but today this is accelerated to such a point one would need a computer to keep up with your deductions.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Today you are as adept with your hands as you are with your head. You have a talent for originality and the wherewithal to produce that which you envision.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You always like to have a good time, bu! today it'll be important that you do something exciting and different as well as fun. Just don't go over-

Routine Can Help To Induce Sleep

DEAR DR. LAMB - I have insomnia which I have been trying to overcome for years. I have tried numerous remedies such as cutting out sugar, then dairy products; I've tried relaxation tapes from a psychologist and I took a TM course several years ago which did help some.

I am a 34-year-old female and live a fairly contented life, cope with stress well and have an excellent diet and exercise program. I believe my problem could either be diet-related or just plain psychological. Maybe my biological clock is out of whack. Can you recommend anything else I could try? What is your opinion of hypnotherapy?

DEAR READER - I'm glad to see that your various remedies did not list sleeping pills. In general they should not be used except in unusual temporary circumstances. They can become a bad habit and cause more problems than they solve. That includes many sleeping preparations prescribed by doctors as well as those you can buy without a prescription.

I would be surprised if your diet has anything at all to do with your sleeping problems, unless you eat a lot before going to bed, which makes some people sleepy and gives others a burst of evergy at the wrong time.

Relaxation is an important element, whether you are able to relax as a routine habit or use TM or even self-hypnosis if you have learned to use it. The key is both mental and physical relaxation.

The first question is, do you really have insomnia. Many people who think they get very little sleep really get a sensation of time during sleep hours is often faulty. Then you need to know the quality of sleep; a few hours of good deep sleep is better than many hours of light sleep.

Habits make a difference. Establish a routine and stick to it. Exercise during the day and early evening and slow down before the sleep hour.

An approach to useful habits to induce sleep is discussed in more detail in The Health Letter number 10-6, Sleep and Insomnia, which I am sending you. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York,

DEAR DR. LAMB -- I have this itchy problem around my genitals. An itchy rash developed on the sides about a year-and-a-half ago. I have not seen a doctor. When I scratch it turns white and it itches. It started on my right leg in the genital area and then spread to the other side and finally around my buttocks. My penis finally started to itch. I have tried all kinds of medicine but it won't disappear. I am sending you a diagram. Please don't feel insulted, it is the only way I could explain it.

DEAR READER - You may have tinea cruris, commonly called "jock itch." If so, it is fungus. That is the most likely cause of your problem. You could have a yeast infection (Candida) and undoubtedly have a complication of irritation caused by your home remedies... You'll need to see a doctor. lot more than they think. Your Surely failure of your home treatment for a year-and-ahalf is adequate reason to do so. He will no doubt be able to give you medicines which will cure the fungus or yeast and hopefully resolve any complications your home remedies may have induced Oswald: "It doesn't take any real knowledge of value to see that nines and 10s are likely to be useful cards. It does take considerable know-how to put them to work.

Alan "Here is a hand I watched at the Cavendish

Club the other day West opened the eight of hearts South wasted no time in reaching over to dummy and playing the king East took his ace and shifted to the king of clubs. Later on South got to get one discard on the queen of hearts, but that one discard did him no good at all He played the rest of the hand slowly, but was one

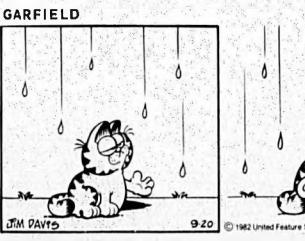

Oswald "It was a perfect example of not putting the nine and 10 of hearts to work All South had to do was to use up a little time before playing to trick one

Alan "Let's look at the correct play of the heart five East wins the first trick with the jack and can still defeat the contract if he returns a diamond. However, East is only human and undoubtedly will lead a Oswald "South takes his ace, draws trumps with three leads and plays hearts to knock out East's ace. Now he leads a second club. East is in and plays a diamond, but South wins, ruffs his last club with dummy's last trump and gets two diamond discards on the last two hearts. Eventually he loses a diamond, but that is only the third defensive trick."
