Governments Council Backs Lake Mary For Lab Site

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

Delegates to the Council of Local Governments in Seminole County unanimously endorsed the location of the proposed new $4 million Central Florida Crime Lab in Lake Mary at a meeting in Altamonte Springs Wednesday night.

Lake Mary Mayor Walter Sorenson asked for the endorsement, noting the two-acre Rinehart Road site owned by Lake Mary and offered to the state would be more convenient for law-enforcement units in Seminole that use the services of the lab.

County Commissioner Sandra Glenn said Sheriff John Polk and police chiefs in the county and State Attorney Douglas Cheshire are being asked to support the effort.

The Lake Mary City Council, at a 7:30 p.m. meeting today, is scheduled to approve an agreement with industrialist Jeno Paulucci to settle a court dispute over the 10-acre city-owned tract on Rinehart Road where the city wants the new crime lab located, Sorenson said.

He said he will personally be attending a meeting of county officials and Paulucci representatives with State Rep. John Mills, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, in Tallahassee Dec. 14, seeking support for locating the lab in Lake Mary.

State Rep. Robert Hattaway, D-Altamonte Springs, arranged the meeting. Mrs. Glenn said she will be in Tallahassee on that date attending a meeting of the board of directors of the state Association of County Commissioners and also will participate in the meeting with Mills.

The Legislature during its 1981 session allocated $240,000 for a site and architectural plans for the new crime lab to replace the current Sanford Crime Laboratory at the Sanford Airport. A legislative package including a site location for the new facility is to be presented to the Legislature, which convenes

Jan. 18, with a request for nearly $4 million for construction of the facility.

At this point the site most favored is a state-owned parcel on W. Robinson Street in downtown Orlando, adjacent to the Orlando Police Department complex and the state's service center.

Sorenson noted that Florida Department of Law Enforcement (FDLE) Commissioner James York formerly was police chief of Orlando and said he would be expected to prefer an Orlando site.

FDLE officials have said an Orange County site might be favored because Orange County law-enforcement agencies use the lab facilities more than any other agencies do.

In other business at the council meeting, delegates' reaction to a proposed one-cent increase in the sales tax to be used for law enforcement, transportation, education and local property-tax relief was mixed.

Sorenson, however, was firm in opposing the increase. Noting that the Legislature through various actions has cut off revenue sources to cities, he said, "God save me from any more help from Tallahassee."

"I can't support a sales tax increase," he said, adding that the proposal "is a nice way for us down here to put a tax increase to a referendum, a tax increase the holy SOB's in Tallahassee have caused us to need."

Mrs. Glenn said the state Association of County Commissioners (SACC) is supporting a one-half-cent sales-tax increase, and Casselberry Mayor Owen Sheppard said the Florida League of Cities is supporting a one-cent increase. Sheppard said the cities "don't feel they will get a fair shake," if the SACC proposal is approved.

Mrs. Glenn added she has found no support in the Seminole County legislative delegation for the tax-increase proposal.

Prisoner Found Hanged In Cell In Courthouse

By TENI YARBOROUGH
Herald Staff Writer

An autopsy is being conducted this morning by the Seminole County medical examiner's office to determine the exact cause of death of a county inmate who hanged himself in a holding cell at the courthouse Wednesday morning.

The body of Robert Putnam, 29, of Tampa was found hanging by his belt from the top bar of the holding cell at about 11:37 a.m. Wednesday, according to John Spolski, Seminole County Sheriff's Department spokesman.

Putnam's body was found by a deputy sheriff in the cell less than three hours after a circuit court judge declared him mentally competent to stand trial on charges of grand theft.

Putnam had been brought to Seminole County on Nov. 23 after receiving mental treatment at the Florida State Hospital in Chattahoochee. He was arrested in August 1980 for allegedly stealing a car from a Longwood auto-repair shop parking lot, deputies said.

At Wednesday's hearing, which began at 8:30 a.m., Circuit Court Judge Kenneth Leffler reviewed medical reports from Stewart E. Parsons, director of forensic services at the state hospital, who wrote: "The patient is considered competent to stand trial."

Based on this medical testimony, Leffler declared Putnam competent to stand trial this coming January and set bail at $5,000. Putnam then was returned to the holding cell and the only prisoner in that cell was taken to the courtroom leaving Putnam alone, Spolski said.

Spolski said that when the deputy brought the other prisoner back to the holding cell at approximately 11:37 a.m. Putnam's body was found hanging by his belt in the eight-by-eight-foot cell in the courthouse.

Spolski said it is "standard procedure" for prisoners to wear civilian clothing when they are scheduled to appear in court.

Leffler, who was presiding over a criminal trial in an adjacent courtroom, was notified of the hanging by a bailiff.

Putnam, a native of High Point, N.C., had been hospitalized at least twice for mental illness before his arrest Aug. 7, 1980. According to deputies, he was arrested for allegedly stealing a 1975 Ford Gran Torino at an auto-repair shop where the owner had left it for service, according to court records. Records also show he signed a confession saying he took the car because his feet were tired.

Jail officials said Putnam had been kept in the general-population cellblock of the county jail without incident.

Putnam's body was taken by Herndon Ambulance Service workers to the Seminole Memorial Hospital morgue after County Medical Examiner G.V. Garay pronounced him dead.

Bernice Duncan, representing the Seminole County Department of Health and Human Services, was one of 10 speakers scheduled for today's morning session of a three-day workshop on drug and alcohol abuse among students.

Drugs, Alcohol Students Tell How They Use Them

By LEE DANCY
Herald Staff Writer

Fences encompassing school campuses and snoopy teachers patrolling restrooms and other secluded areas ideal for drug use have not been enough to curb the problem among students, Seminole County school officials decided.

A unified network of concerned people formed into teams located at each school was a better answer. These four-member teams would work to prevent drug and alcohol abuse and deal with incidents when they occur, said Andrew J. Bracken, director of secondary education for Seminole schools.

Each of Seminole County's 42 schools appointed a school administrator, teacher, counselor and parent to their team. These teams are participating in a three-day workshop to learn how to combat drug abuse at their schools and establish prevention programs to minimize the incidence of discovering a drunken or doped-up student on campus, Bracken said.

The workshop is being held in Lake Mary High School's auditorium, and started Wednesday. Sessions are scheduled from 8 a.m. through the afternoon, ending Friday. The workshops are open to the public.

After encountering numerous incidents of drug use, drug dealing and alcohol abuse on school campuses, county School Superintendent Robert Hughes decided to take direct action.

Hughes formed the Committee to Combat Drug Abuse late in the 1980-81 school year. The committee worked over the summer after a survey of county students was completed to determine levels of drug and alcohol usage in the schools.

School officials distributed 1,916 surveys to students in grades 6 through 12. A total of 1,445 completed surveys were returned, representing a 75.4 percent response.

According to the survey, alcohol use is most popular among Seminole county's 11th graders. Over 78 percent of the students polled admitted to drinking to some degree.

In comparison, alcohol use among 6th graders was the lowest, with over 32 percent acknowledging alcohol consumption to some degree.

Marijuana enjoys its peak of popularity among Seminole County's 10th graders, with more than 46 percent of the respondents saying they smoke it, according to the survey. Sixth graders once again registered the lowest levels, with more than 3 percent who said they smoke pot.

The 78 percent of the 197 11th graders who completed the survey and said they drank alcohol were divided among "rare," "occasional," "frequent" and "very frequent" drinkers.

Approximately 35 percent of the 11th grade respondents said they were rare drinkers, another 35 percent drank occasionally, over 15 percent said they drank frequently and approximately 10 percent said they drank very frequently.

Among tenth graders who smoke marijuana, approximately 50 percent said they smoke on a rare basis, another 18 percent smoke pot occasionally, 16 percent frequently and 16 percent very frequently.

Statistics like these bother county school officials.

"Not many of us knew about drugs," Bracken said. "We did a not-too thorough job of educating students and trying to stop drug abuse."

"So the (school) superintendent hired Tom Roll as our chemical abuse counselor," Bracken said.

Roll had been a counselor with Seminole schools before he left to study drug abuse counseling, learning specifically how to handle drug abuse in schools, Bracken said.

The three-day workshop was organized by Roll. Nearly 200 people attending the program today listened to a range of speakers during the morning and broke into discussion groups for the afternoon.

On Friday, workshop participants will spend the morning listening to a parent's side of the drug abuse problem. To complement the parent's story, a student's problems with drug abuse will follow.

Fire Officers Filling In For Injured Firefighters

Longwood fire administrative officers are "manning the pumps" today to maintain the city's fire service in the wake of separate incidents that injured two firefighters.

Lt. Leonard Turner, 22, is listed in good condition at Florida Hospital-Altamonte today after the fuel he was using to ignite a pile of rubbish at a controlled burn site exploded, burning his arms, hands, head and neck, hospital officials said. The incident occurred at about 8:30 a.m. Wednesday at a planned controlled fire at the W.H. Roof Co., 253 E. Orange Ave.

"It's just one of those things that can happen," Fire Inspector John Richardson said. "He didn't know the fuel was diesel and gas, and when he ignited it it flashed on him."

The other accident occurred Tuesday when another Longwood firefighter suffered a dislocated shoulder and bruised arm in a hit-and-run accident while responding to an automobile collision.

Firefighter Gustave Carbonell, 35, was struck by a vehicle as he was walking away from the Fire Department's rescue vehicle parked along County Road 427 near Lyman High School at 11:40 a.m. Tuesday, Richardson said.

"Carbonell's at home, but he'll probably be out of work several weeks," Richardson said. "We don't even know how long Turner will be out, but in the meantime, the chief (Fire Chief Charles Chapman), Capt. (Alan) Brown and I will be manning the pumps to ensure residents of adequate fire protection."

Crash Pilot Belly-Lands Plane At Sanford

By BARRY DILLON
Herald Staff Writer

Robert Favreau, 36, crash-landed his Cessna 357 Skymaster at the Sanford Airport this morning after the landing gear failed during his flight from DeLand to Herndon Airport in Orlando.

Favreau, a full-time pilot for Rosie O'Grady's restaurant in Orlando, was not injured in the incident. He estimated the damage to the craft at "several thousand dollars."

Favreau discovered the mechanical trouble while he was heading for a landing at the Orlando airstrip.

"A light came on which indicated that the gears were stuck," said the calm pilot, who has 10 years of experience. "In that type of plane, you can look out the window and see the wheels are not down."

Favreau made the decision to attempt the landing in Sanford to use up fuel.

"The fuel is in the wings, so unless it cartwheeled,

The fuel is in the wings, so unless it cartwheeled, no problem, it really wasn't anything to get upset about!

no problem, it really wasn't anything to get upset about," said the pilot-mechanic.

With emergency vehicles crowding the runway around 10 a.m., the plane slowed to 56 m.p.h. and skidded about 300 feet before coming to a stop 50 feet off the runway.

"I decided when I learned to fly that I would belly-in in the grass. The plane has high wings. If it had been a low-wing plane it would be more dangerous because the fuel is near the bottom (of the craft)," Favreau said.

The DeLand native was traveling to Orlando to repair a radio for the Spruce Creek Leasing Co., owner of the plane. He estimated the cost of the craft at $30,000.

"To replace a plane like that today would cost about $200,000. The only thing that broke off was the belly pod. But it doesn't take much on a plane to run into the thousands (of dollars)," he said minutes after his first emergency landing.

Robert Favreau examines a section of the belly pod torn from the Cessna 357 this morning in a crash landing at Sanford Airport. No one was injured in Favreau's first emergency landing in 10 years of flying.

Funding Plan Fine-Tuned To Avert Second Shutdown

WASHINGTON (UPI) — With a tentative agreement in hand, administration officials and Senate leaders are fine-tuning a funding plan they hope will avert a repeat of last month's partial government shutdown. Senate Appropriations Chairman Mark Hatfield, R-Ore., said representatives of the administration and Senate leadership Wednesday reached the tentative accord that would fund the government when emergency appropriations expire Dec. 15.

Senate Nixes MX Plan

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan's interim MX missile plan — formulated following months of studies and deliberations — is suddenly in deep trouble in the Senate.

In its first vote on the MX, the Senate Wednesday put Reagan on notice that it does not like his plan to base the new MX missile in hardened missile silos in the West.

Allen Coming Back?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Richard Allen's stock at the White House seems to be rising. At least, talk is more positive about his possible return as national security adviser.

Top presidential aide Edwin Meese, in what appeared to be a turnaround, said Wednesday he expects Allen will resume his White House job if he wins a clean bill of health from the Justice Department.

Orlando Judge Busted For DUI

ORLANDO (UPI) — Circuit Court Judge Richard H. Cooper is out on bail today following his arrest on drunken driving charges after he sideswiped a police patrol car, then attempted to flee from the accident.

Cooper, 61, was also charged Wednesday with leaving the scene of an accident, attempting to flee from police officers and resisting arrest without violence. He was released from the county jail on $1,160 bond.

Orlando police Lt. Dennis Peterson said the accident occurred about 1:45 p.m. when officers were answering an unrelated complaint in the area. The officers had parked their patrol car beside the street when Cooper's late model station-wagon sideswiped the police vehicle.

After the accident, Cooper continued down the street for about five blocks until officers stopped him. When Cooper was removed from his car, he struggled with officers and had to be restrained.

Jury Says 'Death' For Altamonte Man's Killer

Robert Patrick Craig was behind bars today awaiting sentencing after a Circuit Court jury in Tampa recommended Wednesday that he be executed for one Lake County murder and be given life in prison for a second.

The same jury had found Craig guilty of two counts of first degree murder Tuesday in the July 21 deaths of rancher John S. Eubanks who lived in Altamonte Springs and ranch hand Walton Robert Farmer.

Circuit Judge C. Welborn Daniel delayed sentencing pending the outcome of the presentence investigation.

Craig, 23, was a foreman for Eubanks and he and ranch hand Robert Lawrence Schmidt were charged with shooting Eubanks and Farmer, weighting their bodies with concrete and dumping them in a sinkhole.

Action Reports

- ★ Fires
- ★ Courts
- ★ Police

Prosecutors contended Craig masterminded a cattle rustling scheme and enlisted Schmidt's help in killing Eubanks and Farmer when the plan was discovered.

Schmidt negotiated a plea bargain agreement in which he pleaded guilty and testified against Craig and was sentenced to two life terms.

Testimony during the trial revealed that only Schmidt shot Eubanks and that Craig and Schmidt both shot Farmer, so the jury recommended Craig be given the death penalty for killing Farmer and life for his involvement in the death of Eubanks.

CALCULATING CAPER

A thief broke into the Central Florida Legal Services building, 104 Park Ave., Sanford at about 5:45 p.m. Monday, and stole a calculator.

According to police, the office was locked and there was no sign of forced entry. The exact value of the calculator is undetermined. However, police said it is in excess of $100.

DOG GONE

Thieves burglarized a New Smyrna Beach man's car parked at Fern Park Station in Fern Park, at 10 p.m. Monday, and stole his dog, Seminole County sheriff's deputies said.

"Savoy," a brown, German short-haired pointer valued at $600 was taken from Richard Cormican's vehicle while it was parked in the parking lot of the lounge. Cormican, 31, resides at 2703 Patty Street.

Police said the thieves unlocked the car by reaching through a window that had been left open to provide ventilation for the dog. The thieves also rummaged through the glove compartment of the vehicle but nothing else was reported stolen, police said.

SOUTH COUNTY MAN ROBBED
A south Seminole County man was robbed at about 7:30 a.m. Monday when thieves broke into his home and stole approximately $400 of personal property.
Lloyd Nicholas, 30, 2146 Marshall Rd., Tanglewood, told sheriff's deputies the thieves stole a .22 caliber revolver, a knife and three rings from the master bedroom of his home. The total value of the stolen property is estimated to be $480. Deputies said there was no sign of forced entry.

Let 'Em Eat Cake

DENTON, Texas (UPI) — The director of food services at North Texas State University hopes parents will miss their kids enough to send them birthday cakes through the school's cafeteria.

Director of Food Services Terry Stevens this year started providing a birthday cake-making service for parents whose kids are away from home. For prices from $9 to $25, parents can surprise their child with a cake ordered and decorated especially for their birthday.

"At Oregon State it sold 200 cakes in the first year and then blossomed to 2,000 cakes in the second year," Stevens said. "We don't expect it to do quite so well here, because we're having more trouble contacting the parents."

Stevens said the food service's cake and pastry cook, Mildred Hash — "a food services name I ever heard one" — prepares the cakes.

TODAY, START PLANNING FOR SOMEDAY.

On January 1, Southeast Bank introduces a whole new series of retirement funds. We call them our Super Someday Retirement Funds.

Now, money that you'd ordinarily be paying income taxes on can go toward insuring a secure, worry free retirement, instead. Both your money and the interest you earn are tax sheltered.

Any working person is eligible, whether you're salaried or self-employed.

What's more, Southeast will give you a number of different funds to choose from, so you're sure to find one that's made to order. And, of course, each of them is backed by the FDIC, and the strength of Florida's largest bank, 80 years old and growing.

So come January 1, come on in to any Southeast banking center all across Florida. You'll find a Southeast banker ready and able to help you get started toward that Super Someday.

Deposits are insured up to $100,000 for each depositor by FDIC. Daily withdrawals require subsequent penalties.

A Cloud Over Casey

CIA Director William J. Casey apparently isn't violating a law by refusing to place his personal stock holdings in a blind trust during his tenure as the nation's chief intelligence official.

But he certainly seems to be flying in the face of government regulations that discourage federal employees from creating the "appearance of using public office for private gain."

Mr. Casey and his wife reportedly own stock valued at up to $3.4 million in 27 corporations with overseas operations. Among these investments is $250,000 worth of stock in an oil company with substantial interests in the Persian Gulf sheikdom of Abu Dhabi.

The director of central intelligence can hardly monitor developments in the Persian Gulf without reading some highly classified intelligence on Abu Dhabi's oil reserves, political stability, and other factors bearing directly on the value of his stock.

Similar inside information affecting most or all of Mr. Casey's other investments in companies with foreign operations is no doubt available to him on a routine basis.

This is not to suggest that William Casey buys and sells stock based on what he learns as head of the CIA. That would be illegal, and there is no evidence that Director Casey has used his public office for private gain.

Nevertheless, the temptation and the opportunity to do so remains, as does the appearance of a substantial conflict of interest.

Mr. Casey can remove that temptation, together with the appearance of impropriety, by doing as his most recent predecessors did; namely, place his personal investments in a blind trust administered without interference by an independent agent.

This is precisely what President Reagan, Vice President Bush, Secretary of State Haig, and Treasury Secretary Regan have done. Mr. Casey ought to hold himself to no less a standard.

Manila's Space War

Whoom. Whoom. Rata tata. Bleep bleep bleep and crunch. Video games are taking over.

There's not much to stop the games' progress on this side of the Pacific Ocean, but something's being done on the other side.

Some say there's no better government than a benevolent dictatorship. Well, we don't know how benevolent President Ferdinand Marcos of the Philippines is, but he rules with an iron hand.

And when he was appealed to recently by parents and teachers to do something about the youthful craze of playing video games, which is sweeping Manila, action was sure and swift.

Marcos decreed the game machines be banned because they are creating playing havoc. He ordered police to strictly enforce the order.

The request to remove machines from Manila fun centers was made by the Chamber of Filipino Retailers, the Village Ladies Brigade and the Association of Filipino Women.

So in Manila, it's goodbye to Pac-Man, Asteroids, Crazy and all the other electronic games that build blood pressure and eat quarters. They're being blipped into oblivion.

BERRY'S WORLD

"If I ever hear of you fooling around with any of those 'high-tech' darlings of Wall Street, we're through!"

The layoffs and impending closing of Exxon Corporation's Qwip Systems plants in Seminole County have not only hit the employees hard, but also the United Way of Seminole County.

Qwip Systems' 463 employees had pledged $12,000 to this year's United Way campaign, much of which was in the form of future payroll deductions.

Qwip's pledges had helped put the Seminole United Way drive over its goal of $305,000, with a final total of $314,128 announced at the Oct. 29 Victory Dinner.

So it was with double pleasure that 1981 Campaign Chairman Richard Fess accepted a $10,000 corporate gift from Stromberg-Carlson Corporation presented by Vice President and General Manager Ken Hoyt at a luncheon hosted by Stromberg-Carlson Tuesday.

Fess said the check would nearly make up for the loss of funds from Qwip.

Qwip and its employees had been enthusiastic participants of United Way campaigns since operations began in Altamonte Springs eight years ago.

The 2,100 employees of Stromberg-Carlson donated or pledged a total of $49,733 in addition to the corporate gift. Bruce Cox, Industrial Relations representative, headed up the firm's United Way drive.

The Salvation Army hopes to raise $20,000 through the kettle drive in addition to response from letters mailed out. Phillips said the Army will probably be called on to help over a thousand families this Christmas.

Applications are now being accepted for Christmas food baskets and toys through Dec. 11. Toy give away days will be Dec. 22 and 23. The Salvation Army community center is located at 700 W. 24th St., Sanford.

The Humane Society of Seminole County is having a "Name the Shelter Contest" to find a special appealing name for the animal shelter to be built on the site leased by Seminole County at Highway 17-92 and County Home Road. Send your suggestion along with your name, address and phone number to Joanne Prager, society president, at 2001 E. 25th St., Sanford, FL 32771.

Too Many Bucks For The Bangs

Mention arms and the situation that comes immediately to mind is the long-running competition between the two superpowers, now dominating headlines again with their rival proposals for a limited retreat from the nuclear front line in Europe.

That is, however, far from the complete world arms picture. Problem is probably the better word.

The American and Soviet military establishments are only the leaders of a parade that has plenty of followers. Most of the world's nations, in fact.

In the latest edition of "World Military and Social Expenditures," issued annually by the Washington-based Institute for World Order, the worldwide arms budget is estimated at a current annual level of $550 billion. An expenditure, the report notes, approximately equal to the annual income of the poorer half of the world's population.

The details are depressing: — Some $100 billion goes into increasing nuclear arsenals, already exceeding in destructive power the bomb that destroyed Hiroshima by a factor of a million.

— Twice as much public revenue is going into military establishments as is allocated for food-growing and five times as much as for housing.

— This is a world in which almost half a billion people suffer from hunger or malnutrition, 12 million infants do not survive a year after birth, 2 billion people lack safe water supplies and 670 million adults are illiterate.

— The highest price for the guns and jets that almost every government deems essential to its role on the world stage is paid by the poorest countries. Military forces in developing countries account for 60 percent of the men under arms throughout the world and constitute 78 percent of the world arms market, an expenditure that cripples economic and social advance.

— Worse, the weapons more often than not are turned not against external enemies but a nation's own people. The report counts 34 governments in the developing nations controlled by armed forces, and in 41 of these the generals and colonels are actively suppressing the civilian populations.

With so much being paid out, someone must be raking it in, and guess who it is. The two superpowers lead by quite a bit a small group of suppliers.

From 1961 to 1979, the Soviets funneled some $32 billion worth of lethal hardware to Third World regimes. The United States followed with $27 billion.

There is more to superpower aid than that, however. Between 1965 and 1979, by the Institute's reckoning, the Soviets trained 43,000 foreign military personnel. American know-how during a somewhat longer period — 1960 to 1980 — was made available to more than 400,000.

The two have their areas of specialization. For the Kremlin it is the middle East and Africa. For the Pentagon, it has been Latin America and the Far East. Three-quarters of the superpower trainees come from countries run by their soldiers.

JACK ANDERSON

Joint Chiefs' Report: Bleak Future

WASHINGTON — In a chilling, top-secret report, the Joint Chiefs of Staff have warned that the fuse is burning shorter on that great powderkeg called the earth.

The nuclear warhead count is up 200 percent over a decade ago, with a 30 percent boost in "explosive power." There has also been a deadly, corresponding improvement of 200 percent in "pinpoint targeting."

The Soviets have tested even more frightening weapons. Not only have they "used toxic chemical weapons in Southeast Asia and Afghanistan," but the military chiefs have detected "what we believe to be Soviet activities with deadly biological weapons."

"Even small powers like Vietnam and Pakistan appear to have chemical capabilities," the top-secret report warns, "and if the Soviets seem willing to provide lethal gas to surrogates and allies, it is not inconceivable that they might furnish them with biological agents."

The Soviet objective, declares the report, is "to become the dominant power in the world." The Kremlin expects to achieve this through brute military power.

"It has been largely through the development of military strength that the Soviets have achieved their greatest success," states the report. "In Soviet eyes, military power exists not only for the real possibility of war, but also as a principal means for supporting political objectives under conditions short of war."

The military balance, meanwhile, has tilted ominously in favor of the Russians. This "has had and is having a profound and dangerous effect on world affairs." Consider these grim facts:

— Computers have projected the outcome of a nuclear exchange between the United States and Soviet Union. The top-secret results show "that the Soviet Union will have a large advantage in the mid-1980s." Warn the Joint Chiefs: "It is clear that the United States will face a severe challenge in attempting to counter Soviet strategic forces growth in the 1980s."

— "The Soviets now possess a clear and growing advantage in the ability to kill hard targets." This increases the danger that a pre-emptive Soviet nuclear bombardment could knock out America's intercontinental missiles.

— "The Soviets also have continued to diversify and improve other elements of their strategic offensive structure." The Joint Chiefs contend. Most troublesome, the Soviets "continue to build modern nuclear-powered ballistic missile submarines more quickly than the U.S."

— "The Soviets maintain a large strategic defensive force and extensive civil defense program, both of which are far superior to their U.S. counterparts." This has been accompanied by boasting that the Soviet Union could withstand a U.S. nuclear attack. The appalling possibility is that the Kremlin is beginning to look upon nuclear warfare as acceptable.

— In theater nuclear weapons — those with short-range and medium-range capabilities — the situation is not good. Both in Europe and elsewhere in the world, "Soviet advances are shifting the TNF (theater nuclear force) balance against the United States and its allies."

— In conventional weapons, the Joint Chiefs' assessment is also gloomy. The U.S. Navy was once unchallengeable. But now: "When all types of ships are considered, the Soviet Navy outnumbered the U.S. Navy by more than 3 to 1." As for our own backyard, the report notes: "Concerns with respect to the Atlantic are particularly acute."

— Even in an area where the United States still has the edge, the Joint Chiefs are worried. "Although generally superior to Soviet airlift forces, U.S. airlift forces nevertheless fall short of needs for some potential contingencies far from the United States" — specifically, in the Persian Gulf area.

— The Joint Chiefs also call attention to the Soviets' success in getting their satellites to shoulder the Kremlin's aggressive burdens. "The role of Soviet allies in assisting Soviet power projection has increased dramatically in recent years. Cuba has been most notable in this regard..." The top-secret report also notes that North Korea "clearly enjoys a substantial numerical advantage" over South Korea.

CABOOGE DIPLOMACY: Former Secretary of State Henry Kissinger, the onetime paragon of peacetime diplomacy, has come down to earth — but he still travels in style. Union Pacific Railroad President James Evans, like Kissinger a member of the prestigious Rockefeller Brothers Fund, invited the ex-secretary and his wife on a rail trip to Mexico.

Evans commandeered a special train, and gave the Kissingers their own private car for the long journey from Seattle to Mexico City. Even though grounded by the Reagan administration, Kissinger still has clout: Mexican President Jose Lopez Portillo came aboard the train to have dinner with Kissinger and Evans.

ROBERT WALTERS

A City Of Two Views

HOUSTON (NEA) — Notwithstanding the myth widely promoted in recent weeks, this city's just-completed mayoralty election unfortunately was not a plebiscite on Sunbelt growth.

The residents of Houston and other burgeoning urban areas of the region surely need an opportunity to consider seriously the long-term ramifications of unfettered and unplanned growth.

But the highly publicized contest for the mayor's seat here clearly failed to live up to its advance billing. One national news magazine, for example, touted it as "the city's first real referendum on growth."

The winner of that race, City Controller Kathryn J. Whitmire, was portrayed in various accounts as a proponent of imposing limits on growth in the country's most rapidly expanding major city.

In fact, Mrs. Whitmire never offered herself to the voters as an advocate of no growth, controlled growth or restrained growth. Instead, her campaign rhetoric was confined almost exclusively to ill-defined references to "improved management," "systematic planning" and "administrative efficiency."

That vague approach to the city's mounting problems can be traced, in great measure, to the subtle yet powerful pressure exerted by civic and business leaders here for whom growth has become almost a religion. The concept is accepted on faith alone and its consequences are seldom examined.

"Kathy Whitmire probably isn't even going to try to resolve the problems that could run this city into the ground in the not-too-distant future," predicts one knowledgeable observer.

Sprawling across 7,000 square miles of land that once was a mosquito-infested swamp, Houston today is a city of superlatives and contradictions unlike any other metropolis in the country.

When the decennial census was conducted in April 1980, Houston's population of 1.5 million enabled it to eclipse Detroit as the nation's fifth largest city. Today that figure exceeds 1.6 million, and Houston has replaced Philadelphia as the fourth largest city, ranking behind only New York, Los Angeles and Chicago.

Although the construction and sale of homes are plummeting elsewhere, housing starts and residential sales are booming here. Throughout recent years, Houston has led the nation in the value of building permits issued annually.

Glistening new office buildings have become the city's hallmark, and Houston leads all other metropolitan areas by a wide margin in the leasing of newly constructed office space.

But Houston also ranks first in other categories that the city's promoters prefer to ignore. For example, it shares with the Dallas-Fort Worth area the dubious distinction of having the highest divorce rate of any major metropolitan area in the country.

"Amidst its general prosperity, this has become a strangely 'disconnected' city — a city in which an overwhelming sense of dislocation is pervasive," writes Frank Viviano in analyzing Houston's chaotic sprawl. "Growth has erased the past without producing any coherent vision of the future."

In the city's southeast corner, where many of its poorest Hispanics and blacks live, some municipal streets remain unpaved. On Houston's southwest side, where thousands of middle-income whites have moved into housing developments, commuting time to and from downtown offices averages one to two hours in each direction because the city's freeway system is so inadequate.

Mrs. Whitmire's own campaign literature offers this depressing catalog of decay and deterioration amid a surging economy and dynamic growth: "Too few police officers, uncontrolled crime, potholed streets and roads, worsening traffic congestion, ineffective mass transit, garbage service interruptions, burgeoning public payrolls, periodic water shortages, antiquated sewer systems (and) inadequate park space."

Learn To Handle Stress

By AL ROSSITER JR.
UPI Science Editor:

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Doctors know that too much stress can weaken the body's defenses against disease but a New York specialist says stress also can be good for you.

"Stress by itself has a potential for self-sabotage on the one hand, or growth and expansion on the other," said Dr. Herbert Spiegel of the Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons.

"Stress may offer an opportunity to apply experiences of the past to new situations and occasionally may help one see new connections in an inventive or creative way. In this sense, stress can be a desirable asset leading to growth, exhilaration and a sense of well-being."

Spiegel, one of many contributors to the American Health Foundation's authoritative new health guide called the "Book of Health" (Franklin Watts, $19.95), said you cannot avoid stress.

It is part of living, caused by every-day activities such as rushing to catch a bus, entertaining guests or Christmas shopping as well as the unusual events or crises in our lives.

"It is the inability to cope with stress — adequately and over time — that produces distress," Spiegel said.

Here are some of his prescriptions for dealing with stress:

— Try to regulate the frequency and intensity of your emotional responses to stressful events. "If you tend to hold things inside, try to talk them out. If you are easily excitable, try to think before you act. Give yourself five seconds to think over a response before you begin to react."

— "When you are faced with a situation that you expect will be stressful, rehearse your reaction to the point where you feel comfortable with the situation."

— Make sure your health habits don't affect your response to stress. Avoid cigarettes, get proper rest, avoid excessive alcohol, get proper exercise and limit caffeine intake.

— Try to adapt to situations which you cannot control. "When you find yourself stuck in a traffic jam, take a deep breath, relax your muscles and say, 'What is, is.'"

— Build your self-confidence and ego strength to make you feel more secure and less responsive to everyday stresses.

— Treat others with whom you have regular contact in such a way as to minimize the stress response.

— "Organize your life so as to provide periodic respites from your responsibilities through vacations, hobbies and diversions."

— Don't treat stress with inappropriate palliatives such as alcohol, marijuana and long-term tranquilizer use.

Spiegel said a common error that many people make is to assume that the only way to handle stress is to fight it. This, he said, only aggravates the tension and is self-defeating.

"A more effective approach to resolving the tension and its symptoms is a deceptively simple one. Accentuate the positive. That is, restructure your perspective by focusing upon what you are for rather than what you are against."

Reagans' Lavish China Readied For Christmas

TRENTON, N.J. (UPI) — Factory workers at the Lenox plant are as busy as Santa's elves rushing to fill part of Nancy Reagan's controversial order for $209,000 worth of White House china in time for Christmas.
 The 1,400 employees are "working fast and furiously," on the china set for 220 people, said Beverly Mills, Lenox sales promotion manager.
 "A little less than half will be done in time for Christmas," said Ms. Mills. "There will be enough place settings to entertain."
 The dinnerware is sure to brighten the first lady's Christmas since she designed it using her favorite color — red — although the Reagans have been criticized for the lavish purchase, spending about $1,000-a-place setting for the 4,732-piece set.
 President Reagan brides when the china is mentioned along with his budget cuts. At one time he publicly said his wife was taking "a burn rap."
 Reagan noted the Lenox plant in Pomona is making the china at cost and the Knapp Foundation, a private donor, is paying for it.
 Sheila Tate, Mrs. Reagan's press secretary, said no date has been set for the arrival, but it is expected by mid December in time for Christmas.
 "The White House has not decided whether it will release the new pattern at a small press conference, where reporters could come and look at it, or at a dinner party," Ms. Mills said. If there is a Christmas party with the china, Lenox does not know who will be invited, she added.
 "We have not been told who would be the first to eat off it," Lenox expected to know in early December when the delivery would be ready and planned to then notify the White House.
 "At this point, the whole factory is working on different parts of the service. We've also had to make some adjustments on the pattern," Ms. Mills said.
 The raised presidential seal, hand-painted on each piece did not fit on the demitasse cups, she explained.
 Lenox designed White House china for Woodrow Wilson in 1918; for Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1934 and for Harry Truman in 1951.

Merthle, Lady Seminoles Debut Tonight At Oak Ridge

The coach will be different, but the players will be the same tonight when Ron Merthle takes his Seminole High girls to Oak Ridge to open the 1981-82 basketball season. Tip-off for Beth Corso's junior varsity will be 6:15 p.m., with the varsity game following at 8 p.m.

Merthle, who had several excellent seasons with the Lakeview seventh graders, inherits three, three-year standouts.

A slimmed-down Robin Riggins will be a one forward. Riggins is an excellent shooter, rebounder and ballhandler. Talented Tony Hardy will be at the opposite forward. Hardy has blazing speed which she uses to breakaway for numerous layups.

Senior Cathy Jones handles the pivot. The 5-10 Jones is a strong rebounder.

At one guard will senior Sabrina Melton. The other guard is still questionable. If senior playmaker Johnnie Bennett gets her "paperwork" done, she'll start. If not, freshman flash Mona Benton will open in the backcourt.

"Maxine Campbell, Dierdre Hilliary and Brenda Colton will all play a lot," said Merthle Thursday morning. "We have a pretty balanced team."

'Shamus' Takes 18 Seconds

"Shamus, Shamus" the crowd was chanting as 325-pound Eric Martin took the mat for his unlimited division wrestling match Wednesday night at Seminole High School.

Although the monstrous Martin, a Sanford senior, is not a killer whale, he did kill Leesburg's Greg Johnson in 18 seconds to wrap up the Tribe's wrestling opener, 45-27.

"We had a super good effort from all the guys," said coach Scott Sherman, whose team travels to West Orange Friday for a 7 p.m. match. "We had six people who didn't wrestle come up with wins."

Freshman Eric Urena (114) pinned Paul Brown in 1:35. Tony Williams (134), Nate Woodgett (140), Mike Thorman (169) and Gary Gonterman (187) all turned in pins for Seminole.

Sanford also won the junior varsity match, 36-6. Elsewhere in the county, Skip Pletzer's Lyman Greyhounds turned back Colonial, 36-26 at Orlando.

Sophomore Juwan Lee turned in a big pin for the 'Hounds at 114 pounds which brought Lyman back for a 9-0 deficit. "Juwan got a head and an arm and that was it," said Pletzer about the 1:26 stick. "We also got super matches from Curt Schuster (147), Mike Hill (122) and Jeff Brannen (Unl)."

Schuster whipped Craig Shelton, 2-4, while Hill, who had to gain 10 pounds to make weight, pinned John Concannon in 52 seconds. Brannen stuck Jake Strine in 50 seconds. Willie Perkins also flattened Phil Tart in 1:07.

Lyman travels to Edgewater Saturday for a 7 p.m. match.

Winter Park Tames Tribe; Boone Tonight

By SAM COOK
Herald Sports Editor

If Colonial was picked by the Metro Conference basketball coaches to win the conference, Seminole High coach Bill Payne would like to know where they picked Winter Park to finish.

Payne's Fighting Seminoles ran into their second tough Metro team in successive nights Wednesday and dropped a 60-48 decision to the Wildcats in the first round of the Rotary Tip-off Classic at Winter Park.

"They're better than Colonial," surmised Payne about the Wildcats. "They shoot the ball better from the outside, although they didn't shoot that well when I saw them play DeLand Monday."

Irregardless, Winter Park disposed of the Bulldogs, 74-57, too, and is now 2-0 for the year. Sanford is 0-2 and will look for its first victory tonight at 6 against Boone, yet another Metro school.

Boone had the ball with nine seconds left, down 44-43 to highly-regarded Bishop Moore, but couldn't get off a shot as it threw the ball out of bounds with three seconds left.

Junior Andrew Hungerford led the Braves attack, while the Hornets all-stater Greg Muller paced BM with 14 points and eight rebounds.

Other games tonight match Colonial and Titusville at 7:30 along with Evans and Leesburg at 9. Winter Park and the Hornets meet Friday at 8:30 p.m.

Although Seminole lost for the second straight night, Payne wasn't too disappointed as he once again received solid play from his "Kiddie Korps."

"Vernon Law was outstanding,"

Seminole

raved Payne about his junior guard. "But we're still playing tentative. It's like we're afraid to make mistakes."

Neither squad was tentative in the first quarter, though, as Sanford hit 5-of-10 shots and the Wildcats 6-of-8 for a 12-12 deadlock.

Winter Park's 6-4 Junior Dryarm Beachum hurt Seminole inside in quarter two as the Wildcats moved to a 29-26 first half edge.

The Tribe switched to a zone defense to no avail as Beachum moved easily around the basket, hitting six points before encountering foul trouble.

Leftyhander Cecil Holt nailed four straight free throws at the end of the half, which Calvin "Kiki" Bryant offset with a jumper for the three-point difference.

"We missed Beachum in the second and third quarter," Winter Park coach Bill Clendinen said about his elusive junior. "They hurt us inside on some second shots."

Inflicting that second shot pain were sophomore Willie Mitchell and junior Torie Hendricks who added tip ins or follow up baskets to keep Sanford close, 43-36, entering the fourth period.

Sanford went cold in the fourth quarter, though, hitting just 3-of-15 field goals as the Parkers' went to 10 points up midway through the fourth.

Law, a 5-9 guard, fired in a pair of 22 footers to keep the game from turning into a rout. The Parkers' Tom Miller added six points to keep Sanford at bay late in the game and when Eric Ingram slam dunked on a breakaway, it was all over for the Tribe.

Seminole shot poorly, 18-of-50 for 36 percent for the game. Bryant, who scored early, but missed late, and Hendricks each had 10 points.

Winter Park shot well. The Wildcats connected on 25-of-46 field goals for a fine 54 percent. Seminole turned the ball over 12 times and the Wildcats, 14.

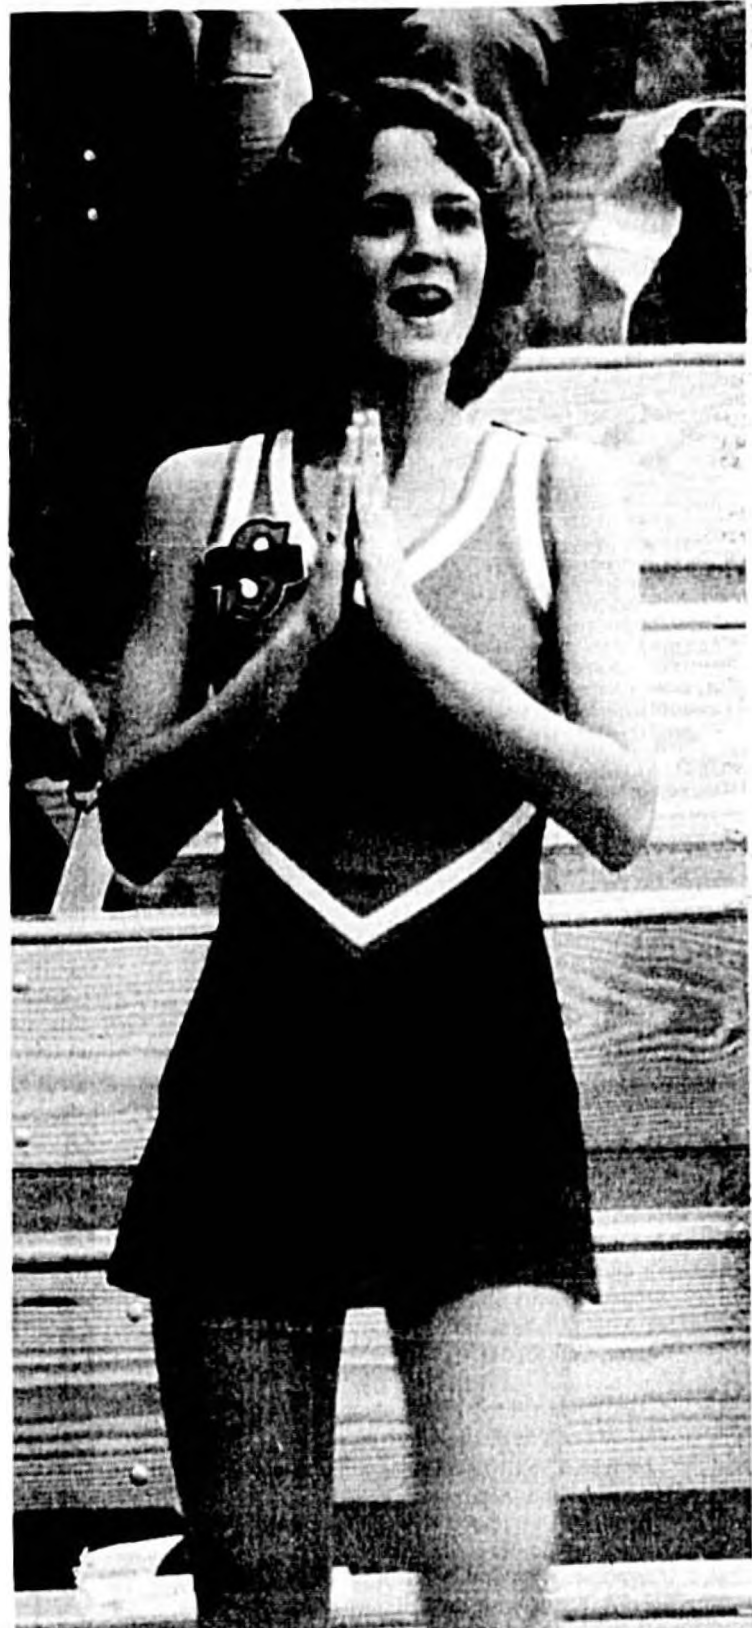

"We played well early and played well late," said Clendinen. "We won the fourth quarter (17-12) which is pretty important in a basketball game."

Raiders Rip 'Bizarre' Indian River

By JOE DESANTIS
Herald Sports Writer

Indian River's Pioneers paid a visit to Seminole Community College Wednesday night, but it was the homecourt Raiders who used an early lead and late spurt to blaze a bizarre 96-78 victory.

The win pushed SCC's season record to 6-1 while the visiting Pioneers fell to an even 3-3. The Raiders have won four straight.

The Raiders got monumental scoring efforts once again from the sophomore duo of Bruce McCray and Travis Filer. Both showed hot hands early to push the Raiders to a seemingly comfortable 44-33 halftime advantage.

McCray finished the night with 38 points while Filer canned 28, but not before the contest took several strange turns in the second half.

SCC coach Joe Sterling opted for early pressure on the ball in the game's opening minutes. The Raider's halfcourt press against Indian River paid dividends, forcing the Pioneers into eight turnovers in the first five minutes. All eight miscues were converted into Raider buckets thanks to the assist efforts of point guard Eric Ervin and wingman A.J. Jackson.

"We tried to feel them out early and mix up the defense," said Sterling of his early game plan. "It usually helps us out."

While no one in the Raider gym had any doubts about SCC's game plan, those on hand had to be wondering about the Pioneer's second half strategy.

SCC

Trailing 44-33, the Pioneers took the opening possession and promptly sat on the ball with a four-corner offense for the first three-and-a-half minutes of the second period.

The Raiders looked a little bored sitting back in a zone and the boos and catcalls from the small but vocal gathering were then rewarded with a strange technical foul against the Pioneers, who forgot to cross the front court hash mark within the required 10-second time frame.

The next time down the court Indian River was again flagged for the same violation, bringing Pioneer coach Roger Dorio off the bench. The trip earned Dorio yet another technical which set the tone for a sloppy following 10 minutes of play.

"When you're down by 10 or more it's usually not to your advantage to hold the ball," said a somewhat disbelieving Sterling of Indian River's play.

"We were just trying to make it a game," explained Dorio of his delay tactics. "Man for man there's no way we can match up with SCC. They're a very talented team, one of the best in the state."

"We didn't want our kids getting blown out so we held it for 30 seconds every time down the court. If you can do that you can cut a 40-minute game into a 20-minute game."

Dorio's psychological clock worked very well, for a while. In addition to milking the time piece, the Pioneer coach went to his second string, which managed to whittle SCC's lead from 56-39 with 14:35 to 77-70 with 4:40 left to play.

BRUCE MCCRAY
...38 points

"Sometimes a real talented team like SCC has a knack for letting down against a second string," pointed out Dorio. Sometimes it's hard to get a time out when you call for one but don't use it as Dorio found just a few seconds later.

With the margin cut to 77-70, the Pioneers signaled for a time out which they were rewarded. But Indian River never left the court, instead just setting up its defense against SCC's inbound plays.

That play confused both the Raiders, the referees and the timekeeper, who had to be nudged to reset the clock with another 20 seconds that Indian River never used during its non time out, time out.

"Sure we called the time out," offered Dorio. But we just stayed on the court and set up again...some times you can confuse the other team and grab a turnover for a quick bucket.

While the Raiders may have been a little startled at the tactic initially, they weren't fooled for long. McCray converted a three-point play, Filer wowed the crowd with some slick moves to the bucket for two more hoops and reserve guard Jesse Wood canned a trio of jumpers that sparked a late SCC surge that completed the 96-78 route.

"The technicals and the clock were a little hard to understand," admitted Dorio. "But I don't think either really made a difference in the ball game. Maybe we can keep it closer when they come over to our place next Wednesday."

With all the shenanigans going on, Sterling took the Raiders' sixth win of the year in stride.

"I thought the first half was well played and hard fought," offered a generous Sterling.

Awards

Tribe 'Nets' 6 All-Star Spots, Oviedo Dominates Orange Belt

With the closing of each sports season comes the issuance of several awards to honor the distinguished performers.

In the past week, the Seminole girls championship volleyball team was accorded Five Star Conference honors along with its coach—Donalyn Knight—being named Coach of the Year.

Seniors Tony Hardy and Dee Hogan picked up first team Five Star honors, while seniors Laura Grace, Jackie Link and Cindy Pendarvis were accorded second team honors. The sixth senior starter, Cathy Hall, was named to the honorable mention team.

Lyman's fine junior Lynn Lugering, Lake Howell senior Jane Yearick and Lake Brantley's Carolyn Maier were other first team selections.

The Greyhounds' Sybex Helms, Howell's Dianne Dumont and Julie Geesaman along with the Patriots' Dana Gebhardt were second team choices.

Turning to football, Oviedo dominated the Orange Belt Conference first team with six places. Wide receiver James Hamilton, quarterback Karl Jones, offensive tackle Darrell Tossie, kicker Kipp Sopp, halfback Lamar Smith, linebacker Todd Duncan and defensive tackle David Wilson all grabbed first team spots.

Lyman also honored its Fall athletes with an awards night this past week.

Here are a rundown of the awards; (pick up Varsity Football Scores)

Crooms Clobbers Lake Howell, 65-23

JAMES ROUSE
...leading scorer

By GEOFFREY GIORDANO
Herald Staff Writer

Crooms freshman Panthers blasted the Lake Howell Silver Hawks at Crooms Wednesday night, 65-23, in what Panther coach Chris Malette called, "The best first game of the season I have ever had since I have been at Crooms."

Crooms capped a fine defensive performance, dominating the boards by nabbing 52 rebounds, seven of which were James Rouse's. The Panthers also held the Hawks to only five points in the second half, and allowed only six in the first period.

In spite of this, Malette said that, "We made mistakes as I expected, especially on defense, which we'll have to correct. But we have a good attitude, one of the best I've seen in a while. We lack height, but we've got some jumpers and hustlers."

The game started with Crooms taking absolute control of the ball for the first two minutes. Lake Howell, however, allowed no penetration, and Crooms could not score, although its display of ball control was excellent.

The Panthers were given a chance to score after a foul by Lake Howell's Jero Evans gave Ken Gordon two free chances. Both shots were missed.

After this, Lake Howell tried to open up, but they were eaten alive by the quickness of the Panthers, who, after a Hawk field goal by Jim Daniel, ran off 14 straight points for a 14-2 lead. Three of these seven baskets come on big steals in Lake Howell territory, and the Hawks were hurting in the early going, partly due to some missed shots which should have been easily made.

Crooms continued to build upon its lead, and carried a 22-6 lead into the second period. Donald Grayson and Gordon each had six points for the Panthers in the first period.

"Grayson has a few things to learn about basketball, since this is his second year playing," said Malette. But Grayson did a good job throughout the contest, adding eight points to Crooms' total.

Lake Howell, trailing by 16 points, tried to make up for the deficit by scoring 12 second period points, but Crooms topped them, picking up 15 for a 37-18 halftime lead.

Defense was the name of the game in the third period, which saw the Panthers hold the Hawks to only three points. Crooms showed its fastbreaking speed early, rattling off six straight before a Lake Howell score.

The last period featured Crooms' bench making a good opening night performance as well. The reserves accounted for 11 of the Panthers' 20 last period points. "Some of our subs, Jo Jo (McCloud), Clifton (Campbell), Fred (Brinson), did a good job on the boards," pointed out Malette.

Crooms, 1-0, will play the Leesburg Wildcats, whom they trounced 71-44 in last year's Seminole Sunrise Kiwanis Tournament, in the wake of their championship 18-2 season. The game starts at 6:30 p.m. at Crooms.

Gophers Ground Dayton, 90-74

By United Press International

They are a team coming of age and Jim Dutcher doesn't want to blow it now.

"We were closer to being a Top 10 team tonight," the Minnesota coach said of Wednesday night's 90-74 victory over Dayton. "But it's the first part of December and you don't want to be too good too soon."

The 10th-ranked Gophers, who figure to control the Big Ten this season with Iowa and Indiana, turned to their 7-foot-3 fixture Wednesday night.

Randy Breuer, one of the country's best big men, scored a collegiate-high 31 points to back three other players in double figures.

"We came out with a much better attitude tonight," Breuer said. "Part of my game is sharing the ball and if I don't pass, I don't get it back. Our offense is built around our inside game — that's our strength."

The Gophers cracked open the Flyers' man-to-man defense and moved to a 43-31 lead. After scoring the first 5 points of the second half, Minnesota was not troubled again.

Trent Tucker, whom the Gophers must also look to this season, added 18 points and Zebedeo Howell had 14 and Darryl Mitchell 10. Roosevelt Chapman led Dayton with 20.

In a night of tuneups for Top 20 teams, it was: No. 5 Georgetown 81, Morgan State 53; No. 6 Virginia 82, Randolph-Macon 50; and No. 14 Wake Forest 73, Rollins 47.

At Washington, Georgetown, looking to regain its rhythm, turned to its prized recruits in overwhelming Morgan State. Pat Ewing and Anthony Jones scored 21 points each and Bill Martin added 15 in the one-sided affair.

"I don't think we're a good team yet, never mind a ranked team," said Hoyas coach John Thompson, whose club lost twice in the Great Alaska Shootout. "We have to become more alert mentally before we get good. Defensively, we are not reacting as fast as we have to. The team is not playing by instinct. They're trying to please me."

At Charlottesville, Va., Virginia played without injured Ralph Sampson but walk-on Kenton Edelin scored 16 points as the unbeaten Cavaliers won their fourth straight.

"It's definitely different," Virginia coach Terry Holland said of Sampson's absence. "We don't have that tremendous inside threat and we have to look more for the perimeter people."

At Winston-Salem, N.C., Wake Forest shot just 30 percent from the field and committed 28 turnovers but still blew by Rollins. Mike Helms had 13 points for Wake Forest and Joel Siser had 14 points and 9 rebounds for Rollins.

If the major powers had an easy time Wednesday night, so did unheralded Alabama State. The Hornets gave up 90 points but still rolled to a 143-90 victory over Stillman (Ala.) College.

Alabama State, which was up by 35 at the half, shot 67 percent from the floor and had seven players in double figures.

The record for most points scored by a college team is held by Nevada-Las Vegas. The Rebels beat Hawaii-Hilo 164-111 in 1976.

Frazier Out To Prove Worth Tonight

CHICAGO (UPI) — Joe Frazier isn't figuring on a drawn-out series of fights to prepare his way back to the heavyweight championship.

Frazier figures tonight's scheduled 10-round battle with journeyman Jumbo Cummings ought to be enough to prove his worth, even though Frazier is 37 and hasn't fought in five years.

"I'm not looking ahead past Jumbo Cummings fight of all, but I think one fight and I'll be ready to fight for the title," Frazier says. "I look at the heavyweight scene and see how they are damaging it and I think after one fight I'll be ready."

Frazier, who returns to the ring tonight at the Chicago International Amphitheater, last fought in a loss to George Foreman June 13, 1976.

Legislature May Kill Poor's Tax Exemptions

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Some legislators want to provide additional money to financially pinched local governments by clamping property taxes on the poor.

The Senate Finance and Tax Committee Wednesday approved a constitutional amendment that would cost thousands of low income families their property tax exemption.

The amendment requires all homeowners to pay property taxes on the first $5,000 of value, with the $25,000 homestead exemption then kicking in. Floridians over age sixty-five would be exempted.

There is a similar proposal pending in the House. If cleared by the Legislature during the 1982 session beginning in January, the amendment would go before the voters next November.

Single-Member Districts: 'Mandate Of The People'

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Responding to what one member called "the mandate of the people," the House Reapportionment Committee has approved a switch to single member districts.

The panel also voted Wednesday to relate House and Senate districts by drawing three house districts within each Senate district.

The single member district concept, approved 19-4, would replace the current mixed system in which house districts have as many as six members and Senate districts as many as three.

The lawmakers found overwhelming public support for single member districts during 21 hearings held throughout the state with the League of Women Voters, the NAACP, Florida Common Cause and numerous other groups behind it.

"It's the mandate of the people," said Rep. Carrie Meek, D-Miami.

Rep. James Ward, D-Fort Walton Beach, offered an amendment to continue the current mixture of single and multi-member districts. The amendment was defeated on a voice vote.

The committee then formally adopted a subcommittee's recommendation for single member districts. Besides Ward, others voting against it were Reps. Bob Crawford, D-Winter Haven; Bud Gardner, D-Titusville, and Barry Kutan, D-Miami. Proponents of single member districts contend they would make legislators more accountable to their constituents, increase the representation of minority groups and reduce block voting.

Opponents argue that statewide issues would become secondary to local interests under single-member districts and say constituents can often be better served by having more than one legislator representing them, even if the district is larger.

The committee also voted to keep membership the same with 120 members for the House and 40 for the Senate.

Other policies adopted for both legislative and Congressional redistricting were:

— To draw districts with identical populations "as much as practicable;"

— To avoid intentionally diluting the voting strength of any racial or language minority;

— And to attempt to utilize existing political and geographical boundaries, preserve "communities of common interests" and draw compact districts contiguous to one another.

The panel defeated seven proposed amendments from Republicans which were intended to tighten the redistricting criteria further to prevent Democrats from gerrymandering to their advantage. There are seven Republicans and 18 Democrats on the committee.

Apartments To Be Built, But The Question Is When

The Sanford City Commission will decide at a 3 p.m. meeting Friday whether construction on a proposed apartment complex must begin Jan. 1 or be delayed until May 1.

The apartment complex is to be built on a 7.8-acre tract off U.S. Highway 17-92 north of The Evening Herald building. The city of Sanford sold the property to developer-entrepreneur Tom Rucker of Altamonte Springs for $130,000.

Final payment of $97,000 was made to the city by Rucker on Tuesday to close out the sale.

The original contract with Rucker called for construction of the apartment complex to begin within 30 days of the sale's completion.

In May, when it was expected that the sale would be closed June 1, the City Commission agreed to a delay of the construction start for six months, when Rucker pointed to the high interest rates, making development difficult at the time.

The commission, at the special Friday meeting, is to decide whether that six-month delay was geared only to the June 1 date or whether it also applies to the Dec. 1 closing.

Wife Beater Deranged, Dangerous

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a very religious man. Pete (not his real name) is also possessed of a violent temper and has beaten me up several times. The first two times I took no legal action, although I did wind up in the hospital the second time. Pete cut my fingertips with a pair of scissors and hit me over the head with the telephone, causing me to have 22 stitches in my head as well as a concussion. I was in the hospital for two weeks, and when I came out he denied laying a hand on me. He said I threw myself down the stairs and he would like to see me prove I didn't!

After I filed for divorce, Pete begged me to see a marriage counselor with him, so I did. (A man.) When the counselor pointed out Pete's faults, Pete said, "Of course he'd stick up for you; he's a man and you're a woman!"

Wanting to be fair, I changed to a woman counselor, and when she said Pete was in the wrong, he said, "You women always stick together." (I can't win.)

He wants to try to make a go of our marriage, but I'm afraid he'll beat me up again if he gets a mind to. He says the Bible says I am supposed to forgive him 70 times 7, which is 490. I forgave him three times already. Does that mean I have 487 more times to go? I don't think I could live through it. Help me.

HAD IT IN ALTOONA, PA.

DEAR HAD IT: Pete is sick. "Forgive" him, but have nothing to do with him until he recovers. He's not only mentally deranged, he's dangerous. You need help, too. Call your family service association and inquire about assistance and counseling for the battered woman.

DEAR ABBY: When someone makes a donation to a charity in the name of a friend as a Christmas gift, who gets the tax deduction?

Don't pass this off so hastily. If A sends B a card saying that he has given $100 to The Little Sisters of the Poor in B's name, A has either made a gift to B, which is not tax-deductible (B being an individual, not a charity) or he has made no gift to B. If A has made a gift to The Little Sisters of the Poor for B, then B should get the tax deduction. If A has made no gift to B, but rather a gift to some charity, why should he brag to B about it? I object to such "gifts."

Dear Abby

J.C.K.

DEAR J.C.K.: The person who lays out the money for a tax-deductible gift gets the deduction, not the person in whose name the donation was made.

Read on for a letter from another reader who objects to the "gift-in-your-name" gift for yet another reason:

DEAR ABBY: I give to those causes in which I believe, and I do not want anyone to make a donation in my name to any charity without my permission.

Example: If someone made a contribution to the Equal Rights Amendment in the name of Phyllis Schlafly, I'm sure she wouldn't appreciate it.

DEAR ABBY: Is there anything wrong with a girl making out just a little to keep a fellow interested in dating her? I don't mean a great big love scene or anything like that, just a little light necking and a couple of kisses during the evening, and maybe one extra special good-night kiss? I'm keeping my virtue as a matter of principle.

DATING NOW

DEAR DATING: That's a dangerous game. The kind of "interest" you could arouse might cost you your principle.

DEAR ABBY: I'm a 15-year-old girl with a problem and I need an answer fast! I've been out with only four guys, and they were all alike. On the first date they tried to go as far as they could with me, and when they couldn't get very far, they dumped me. This is terribly depressing. I'm a nice respectable girl, and people tell me I have a good personality and I'm not too bad-looking.

I don't know why this keeps happening. All these guys I've been out with were about my age and considered nice and decent, but when they couldn't get past heavy kissing, that was the last I saw of them. Please help.

BROKEN-HEARTED FOUR TIMES

DEAR BROKEN-HEARTED: Some guys like to "test" a girl. The ones who don't give them everything they want are considered the cream of the crop. More girls have been dumped for giving too much too soon than giving too little on a first date. Don't cry too hard. They may be back. And if they aren't — who needs them?

Drama Students Rated

The drama students at Trinity Preparatory School recently participated in the International Theatrical District V competition at West Orange High School in Winter Garden.

David Hartman, a senior from Oviedo, won a superior rating for his monologue from Moliere's "The Miser" and an excerpt from a contemporary anti-war play called "Streamers." He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J.P. Hartman.

Also rated superior in duet acting were John Preston and Christopher Lightbown presenting a scene from Neil Simon's "The Odd Couple." John, a senior, is the son of Mrs. Paula Preston of Maitland. Chris, also a senior from Maitland, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lightbown.

In the pantomime category, Kathryn Baskin and Mathilde Zyderveld received excellent ratings. Katie is a sophomore from Winter Park and is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Jack Baskin. Mathilde, an eighth grader, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joost Zyderveld of Longwood.

These dramatists are eligible for state competition at the Court of Flags, Orlando, on April 1-3, 1982. Mrs. Anne Juergens, drama teacher, is preparing the students for state competition.

Balanced Diet Best For Weight Loss

DEAR DR. LAMB - I need a good diet I can use to keep my weight down that won't give me that starved, anxious feeling. I have been on fad diets at times and then I lost 60 pounds and have been successful in keeping it off, but I have to keep going to the club program and that is expensive.
