Brainard Allows Only Four Hits In Lookouts 8-3 Win

Locals Knock Lefty Albritton From Mound In Victory

The Sanford Lookouts under the direction of Bill Rodgers came through with another Sanford win last evening when they downed the Gainesville G-Men headed by Don "Foots" McShane by a score of 8 to 3 before a gathering of 856 paid patrons at the Sanford Municipal Athletic Field.

Leading in the hitting department as well as the pitching department was big Dan Brainard who held the G-Men to four hits while the locals pounded "Lefty" Albritton and Clarence Bray for a total of 10 blows in which Brainard secured a double and a single in three official appearances at the plate.

The G-Men scored first when in the second inning Ike Livingston crossed the plate with the initial tally of the game.

The Lookouts came back in their half of the second when with one man out Big Brainard hit a double to the left field wall and scored on Clary's line single into center field which the slider let go through his legs and Clary went for three bases.

In the fourth the visitors pushed across another tally but the locals same back once more only this time to send Albritton from the hill and push across three runs to make a two run lead.

In the fifth the locals pushed across another tally when Brainard got another hit and started the ball rolling. The G-Men scored their third run in the seventh and also their last and the Lookouts clinched the tilt in the last half of the eighth when they sent three runs scurrying across the plate.

The Lookouts are in Gainesville today for a double header with the Lookouts last trip to Gainesville unless the two teams meet in the playoff.

Manager Raw Meat Rodgers is planning to use Early Wynn in the tilt this afternoon with Owen Wright on hand for any relief duty while Dazzy Mote will do the hurling tonight when either Wright or Crisfield on hand for relief work.

The Daytona Beach Buccaneers Start Practice Sept. 7

DAYTONA BEACH, Aug. 27.—The 1937 Buccaneer football bugle will blow lustily on Sept. 7, signalling the start of the grid season for more than 40 high school athletes.

This announcement was made yesterday by W. B. Treloar, supervising principal of Mainland schools, upon receipt of a letter from Coach Spike Walshinger.

Treloar said Walshinger will not attend the Florida coaching clinic at Gainesville scheduled late this week. The popular Buc pigskin tutor is laboring with the coach of the Duluth prep powerhouse, 1936 Minnesota champions, and will not migrate South until Sept. 1.

Walshinger will rely chiefly on Eddy Johns and Bill Cowan, the "touchdown twins," for his running attack this year. The forward wall is flanked with able left-overs, principally at tackles and guards.

More than 50,000 persons flew over 1,341,000 miles of Florida on regularly-scheduled flights during 1936, sets forth the Florida State Chamber.

With the 1936 census, the foreign-born population of the United States totaled more than 14,000,000.

TODAY'S SPORTING WORLD

By JULIAN STENSTRUM
Sanford Sports Editor

Our Sanford Lookouts may get into this permanent fight yet, in fact they are in it now but four games behind these Gainesville G-Men who are leading the heap but if the locals can take these two games from the G-Men today on Harris Field in Gainesville, those Sanford Lookouts won't be able to stop until they get that flag so let's wish 'em luck.

Big boy Brainard and Dazzy Mote are fighting these days, yeh... fighting to see whose going to have the pitchers best hitting average... Dan's home run over the wall in DeLand the other day and his double and his single last evening boosted his average somewhat higher.

Mote huris against Padgett tonight and he says he will get two singles off Elbert not saying anything about beating the loops best hurier at all.

George Phillips did some excellent work behind that plate last night and from what we saw and from what Skipper Rodgers says it means that George will get the catching assignment a few more times this season.

"Foots" McShane was really rased last night when he appeared on the third base coaching lines... about what?... his feet-of course... McShane takes on honor among the managers this year and that is he has the largest feet... That is something to brag about ain't it Don... Where is Crisfield's change of pace lately... we have not seen it for so long we are falling to hear the bat crack... Cris is centering his pitching these days around his curve ball which he has nearly mastered... more luck to you son.

Old Moose Fralick won his 30th victory last night and also Big Boy Brainard came through with his 19th of the season... The Locals will get two of McShane's favorites this afternoon and this evening... Andy Sierra is scheduled to twirl the first tilt while the ever-ready Elbert Padgett will tip-toe the hill in the night-cap.

According to reports in the Florida Times Union by Sam Butts, the Jacksonville sports writer says that Ken Douglas is an umpire in the Florida State Loop and making a good job of it too... We were about the umpire part of the story but part stating a good one too is just a little too much for a Sanford person to understand... New Mr. Butts says that Frosty

Swanky Gas Masks Offered Italians
ROME, Aug. 27.—(AP)—The swankiest thing in gas masks is the latest improvement offered customers of one of Italy's big insurance companies.

Smarter designed masks, differing for men and women, are displayed in a prominent shop window on central Via Trilione.

Placed on snappy models such as the more modish department stores use to exhibit rare fur, the masks are offered in a matter-of-fact way that takes the breath of American tourists.

Persons who insure with the company are offered free masks.

Wake up to new enjoyment... to the happiness and pleasure of a new way of living... for now you can have the electrical services you've always wanted... and have them for an average cost that is 24 per cent less than it was in 1933. It's startling, but true! Electric rates are lowest in history in the communities we serve. Cost of household electric service has decreased more than 24 per cent since 1933... while food and clothing, for instance, have increased an average of 30.3 per cent in Florida. Wake up! Enjoy life! ## Young Bride Reweds With Parents Consent

CAMILLA, Ga., Aug. 28.—(AP)—A 12-year-old bride and her 21-year-old husband, separated after an elopement July 3, were reunited yesterday with her parents' consent.

Mitchell County Ordinary Colpepper said he remarried the two, Christine Holland, and G. W. Flowers, a farmer, in the presence of the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Holland.

Taylor Predicts Large Increase In Florida Visitors

TALLAHASSEE, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Hotel Commissioner Taylor checked a batch of figures and telegrams and estimated today that 2,250,000 tourists will come to Florida this winter.

"These figures are from chambers of commerce, records of the state hotel commission, the hotel men's association and other sources," he said. "I confidently predict 2,250,000 tourists will be here during the winter. We had 1,750,000 last winter."

The tourist business will be better, he said, because advertising in northern centers will attract more people. He cited particularly the Great Lakes exposition at Cleveland, the Florida exhibit at Rockefeller Center in New York last year, and other appeals for tourists.

For several years Floridians have engaged in summer-time estimating of the next winter's tourist business. J. B. Sullivan, then state hotel commissioner, figured that 1,600,000 would come here in 1935-36, and he stuck to it although it meant doubling the state's population.

Florida has 1435 hotels with 70,456 rooms, 53866 apartment houses with 123,912 rooms, and 6900 rooming houses with 56,215 rooms.

The figures do not include winter homes owned by the occupants in Florida, boats which house hundreds of visitors, automobile trailers, private homes which rent only one room, and similar accommodations.

Argentine New Deal Will Get Test At Polls

Radicals, Conservatives Support Aspirants In Election

BUENOS AIRES, Aug. 28.—(AP) —Though he is not a candidate for reelection (the constitution forbids that), President Augustin P. Justo is the one big issue in the campaign leading to Argentina's presidential election on Sept. 5.

Two oldtime friends, now political foes, are the principal candidates for the six-year term: Dr. Roberto M. Ortiz, until recently finance minister in the Justo cabinet, bears the Justo banner and points to returning prosperity as reason enough for continuing the Justo "new deal" financial policies.

Dr. Marcelo T. de Alvear, Argentina's president from 1922 to 1928, charges the Justo regime with political corruption and calls for a housecleaning.

Dr. Ortiz is supported by the two parties making up the conservative-liberal coalition which has supported the Justo administration. Dr. de Alvear is the nominee of the Radical party which claims support of the Argentine masses.

The government party, supporting Dr. Ortiz, points out that when President Justo took office in 1922, Argentina was in the midst of the depression; its budget was out of gear and farm prices were down. In the succeeding six years, they continue, in contrast, the budget has been balanced, emergency taxes have been reduced, the foreign debt burden has been lowered and farm prices have risen.

To this the Radical party, supporting Dr. de Alvear, replies that the Justo regime used strong-arm methods and ballot frauds to retain control of the national congress in last year's provincial elections.

All three leading figures in the campaign—Justo, Ortiz and Alvear represented the more conservative wing of the Radicals as president of both Justo and Ortiz were in his cabinet.

Dr. Ortiz, a thick-set man of 51, who always has espoused liberal principles, has combined politics, business and the practice of law with equal success. He is moderately rich, interested in several large concerns and is a former attorney for the British-owned Great Western railway.

Dr. de Alvear, 69, is a member of an old Argentine family. His great-grandfather was a Spanish admiral who came out to Argentina in colonial days to settle a Spanish-Portuguese dispute over colonial frontiers. His 1925-28 administration called along smoothly. And he was removed from party leadership before the Radical catastrophe came with the 1930 revolution.

Camel Patrols Guard Australia's Fences

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—(AP) —Camels are so useful in the arid areas of Australia that the commonwealth government keeps its own breeding and training stations for these beasts, says Albert Richard Wetjen, the explorer.

Camel patrols maintain the two greatest fences in the world—one that bars the jack-rabbits from entering the great wheat belt of Western Australia, the other erected against wild dogs and rabbits along the border of New South Wales and South Australia.

As early as 1850, camels were used in the Australian interior by explorers. They were imported from India.

The full name of post-revolutionary Russian is "Union of Soviet Socialist Republics."

Commuting Envoy Helps Americans Stranded In China

By SIGRID ARNE, AP Feature Service Writer WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Long-distance commuting is nothing new to Nelson T. Johnson, American ambassador to China. He's been living on sleepers between Nanking and Peiping the last seven years. But right now this train trip isn't exactly a joy ride.

While shuttling between the two Chinese cities, the 40-year-old career diplomat must look out for the safety of hundreds of stranded, four-stricken Americans caught in the crossfire between China and Japan.

He must know which roads are still safe to travel, what railroads are still running, whether a city's food supply will hold out, what local banks will honor checks. And if possible he must get promises from Chinese and Japanese officers to keep random bombs out of the American embassy's backyard.

Ambassador Johnson's commuting is necessary because of a unique arrangement in China. It's the only foreign country in which the United States maintains two official embassies. Nanking is now the capital, but Peiping is the old center of negotiations. So the ambassador rushes to Peiping when he seeks some agreement among all the foreign nations represented there, and then hurries back to Nanking when he has business to do with the Chinese government.

When the Chinese Nationalist government first established its headquarters in Nanking, Johnson, then minister to China—was named the first U. S. ambassador to China two years ago—took the inconvenient arrangement with a smile. "My desire," he said, "is to keep in closest touch with government officials. I don't mind railroad travel. In fact, I rather like it, especially with as comfortable sleepers as these. It's only two nights and one day, and I work enroute. So long as the capital is Nanking and the legations remain in Peiping, I am going to be a commuter."

Johnson has spent half his life in the Far East. He was initiated into its frequent crises when at 24 he crossed into Wu-chang to observe a revolution. His work was praised by the state department, and the following year he was appointed consul at Chung-King.

He speaks Chinese fluently and makes a hobby of Chinese painting.

Six years ago he was married to Miss Jane Beck at the American consulate in Tientsin. They have a four-year-old son and a two-year-old daughter.

The University of Pavia, in Italy, was founded in 825.

Teachers Head Forsees Peace In Classrooms

Coalition Of Beliefs Insures Success, NEA Head Asserts

By LYDIA GRAY SHAW, AP Feature Service Writer CASTLETON, Vt., Aug. 28.—Susan should have an easier time at school this year. Maybe she'll have to study just as hard, but her teachers won't be arguing so much over the comparative merits of the textbooks she should read.

In fact, Susan can look forward to a peaceful era in education, if the predictions of Miss Caroline S. Woodruff, newly-elected president of the National Education association come true.

No more wrangling, she says. Progressives have become more conservative, and conservatives have taken on a progressive tinge. That brings them both to the long-awaited happy medium in education.

The Vermont woman—she heads the state teachers college at Castleton—characterizes the 1937-1938 school season thus:

- 1. Elementary and secondary schools will be less formalized—score one for the progressives.
- 2. Factual material will continue in the curriculum—score one for the conservatives.
- 3. First-hand experiences will supplement textbook dogma—it's a draw.

In addition, there'll be a great awakening among American educators, Miss Woodruff predicts. They're going to get away from petty details, like the kind of reports cards to use, and the number of fire drills to hold, and take a look at educational methods in other countries.

The National Education association will lead the way, she hopes, and eventually will incorporate into American educational methods the best elements of education abroad.

Mexico should be a starting point, Miss Woodruff feels, for there under the Cardenas administration as much money is being spent on nation-wide standardized education as on the army and navy. The aim of the government is to have every adult Mexican literate by 1940. Emphasis is also being laid on vocational courses.

China, she says, is making great strides under Gen. Juan Batista, who has trained his soldiers to assist in making rural dwellers literate.

National differences should be forgotten, while educators explore systems of countries like these, Miss Woodruff says.

Probably her background accounts for her world view. She holds the degrees of master and doctor of education, was the first woman president of the Vermont State Teachers Association, has held innumerable offices in the National Education association and is consultant on the Educational Policies commission.

The Union Jack, as applied to the flag of Great Britain, is a misnomer. "Jack" is a diminutive, on the sea, so that only a small flag is rightly termed a "jack."

16 Giant Bombers Attack Chinese Quarter Terrorizing Civilian Population

(Continued from page one) that Japanese raids on Nanking would be confined to military objectives, but tonight no reply had been received. The Japanese Embassy here was closed several days ago.

One raid was made last night while the diplomatic corps was giving a dinner to Mr. Johnson, celebrating the 30th anniversary of his entry into the diplomatic service. Sirens giving warning of the raiders' approach screamed throughout the city, but the dinner went on.

The diplomatic corps continued to express dismay over the shooting of the British ambassador, Sir Hugh M. Knatchbull-Hugessen, by Japanese airmen on the road to Shanghai Thursday.

Friday's raids on Nanking—of which there were at least four—began shortly after midnight. Bright moonlight, which has encouraged Japanese aerial activity in the lower Yangtze Valley, the past several nights again lighted the way to this city of more than 1,000,000 population.

Large numbers of incendiary bombs were dropped, spreading flames rapidly through congested quarters and trapping scores as they huddled in their hovels hoping to escape the rain of death from the skies.

The Associated Press correspondent toured the district later with an official of the United States Embassy. They found many charred bodies in crouching positions in the ruins of what had been miserable mud huts.

They could not find that the raids had gained the slightest military for the Japanese.

Goats Get Tickets For Parking Violation

HOLLAND, Mich., Aug. 28.—(AP) —For Justice John Gallen, who helped frame Holland's new ordinance prohibiting all night parking in the streets, the statute proved a loomerang.

It found tragic violation tickets dangling from the horns of his goats after someone tethered them in front of his home during the night.

Rushton Family Makes Up Hunter Baseball Outfit

HUNTER, Utah, Aug. 28.—(AP) —When the Hunter baseball team takes the field, it's "Rushton to Rushton to Rushton"—no matter where the ball is hit. Because the team includes the Rushton brothers, Sam, pitcher; Chris, pitcher or catcher; Ed, first baseman, and Ed, outfielder, and their cousin—Bill Rushton—Owen, second base; Clyde, shortstop; Lawrence, third base; Warren, outfield; and Parley, outfield. A complete family unit.

The roster also includes Randy Hoesler, Levi Evans, Claude Owsen and George Feulner.

Instant Cube Release Feature of New Refrigerator

Here are the days when tugging, chopping, twisting gymnastics are necessary to obtain ice cubes from an automatic refrigerator. Shown above is the sensationally new and efficient instant cube release featured exclusively in the 1937 Frigidaire. Developed in the research laboratories of the Frigidaire division of General Motors, the new type ice tray makes available instantly and with no effort on the part of the user from 100 to a dozen or more cubes, doing away with the necessity for holding trays under the water faucet and waiting up to twenty percent of the ice content in melting. One grasps the tray firmly with one hand, lifts the lever with a finger of the other and there are the cubes ready for use without fuss or muss.

Securing "Double" For Jean Harlow Created Difficulties

Flood Of Letters Deluged M-G-M Studios Demanding Release Of "Saratoga", Last Film Of Glamorous Personality

The release of the new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture "Saratoga," which plays Sunday and Monday at the Ritz Theater with Clark Gable and Jean Harlow in the starring roles, has one of the most unusual technical tasks ever attempted in a Hollywood studio.

When a flood of letters began pouring into the M-G-M studio demanding the release of this picture, Director Jack Conway was faced with the problem of devising a means of finishing the film unscathed.

The solution lay in rewriting these sequences to eliminate as far as possible the character she played; recasting scenes already filmed to conform with the new treatment; and the use of several technical devices.

Fortunately, the ending of the picture with Miss Harlow and Clark Gable had already been filmed. Miss Harlow was in all the scenes up to the next to last reel of the production.

'I Met Him In Paris' Has Snow Sequences

After spending seven weeks on location in the snow country of Sun Valley, Idaho, to make "I Met Him In Paris," which shows Friday at the Ritz Theater, Claudette Colbert packed her skis and skates, and headed right for her mountain cabin near Bishop, Cal., where there is snow available all year 'round.

"I suppose it sounds silly to take a snow-filled vacation after working in snow for almost two months," she explains, "but the facts are simple. I like to ski, and that's all there is to it."

Did You Know? That Lionel Barrymore went partly bald for his role of grandpa Clayton in "Saratoga"? To balance his loss, Barrymore insisted on wearing a mustache.

IN COMEDY HIT

Ann Dvorak, comedy star, demonstrates her prowess in acting and singing in the humorous "Mr. Dodd Takes the Air" which plays at the Ritz Tuesday.

"She's No Lady" Is Mystery Starring Dvorak And Trent

It's never been done before, what Ann Dvorak and John Trent do to a tight society mystery in "She's No Lady," the gay romance which plays Friday at the Ritz Theater. Together for the first time as screen romantics, these two players tear the lid off to provide a hilarious farce sparkling with gay dialogue.

Believing is the word for it. From the innocent Trent, as an apparently innocuous but handsome young man staggers into an exclusive bar blowing a toy balloon, and begins flirting with beautiful Ann Dvorak who is teasing about, whimsy and gay dialogue carry the show.

"She's No Lady" is a comedy of errors, based on the theme "thief catch thief." Miss Dvorak and Trent play roles of double mistaken identity. That's where the title comes in.

In the supporting cast are Harry Beresford, Guinn "Big Boy" Williams, Aileen Pringle and Arthur Hoyt. Charles Vidor directed the production.
