Pardons Board to Hear Gilmore Death Plea Nov. 30

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—One week from today Gary Gilmore will press his demand to "die like a man" before a firing squad when he appears at a special meeting of the Utah Board of Pardons. Board member Thomas Harrison said Monday that the three-man panel decided to move the hearing from Dec. 6 to Nov. 30 to avoid conflict with a state law requiring that executions be carried out within 60 days of sentencing. Gilmore's 60 days will end on Dec. 7. Some officials have said they were concerned the law might be interpreted as requiring that he be released if he were not executed by then.

'Red Tape Of Year Award' Said To Belong To HRS

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—Rep. Dennis McDonald says the state ought to institute a "Red Tape of the Year" award and he has a prime candidate in mind.
McDonald said Monday that the Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services would win for its complicated 10-step procedure for processing child support payments.
The St. Petersburg Republican said the intent of the absent fathers law was being thwarted by the bureaucracy's slowness in processing the checks.

Shevin Supports Askew

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—Atty. Gen. Robert Shevin has sided with Gov. Reubin Askew in seeking a year's head start in contending a constitutional revision commission.
Shevin asked the Florida Supreme Court Monday to allow him to enter the case so he could argue that the panel should be allowed to begin its work next summer.
Shevin said he will support the governor, who last week asked the court for an advisory opinion on whether the commission could begin its work next summer.

Graham Asks For Retraction

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—Sen. Robert Graham says a comment made about him by Senate President Lew Brantley was "absolutely despicable" and should be retracted.
In a letter to Brantley, Graham said the comment was a personal slur and "should not be allowed to remain on the public record."
Graham, D-Miami, was unhappy about a remark Brantley, D-Jacksonville, made at a news conference last week after he stripped Graham of all his key committee assignments.
Brantley conceded that Graham was talented but said it was a "schizophrenic talent" which fluctuated greatly.

Fuqua Accuses Opponent

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—Rep. Don Fuqua, D-Fla., is asking the Federal Election Commission to investigate one of his Democratic primary opponents for alleged election law violations, a newspaper group reports.
The New York Times Florida Newspapers reported Monday that Fuqua, in a sworn statement, has accused Russell Blevins of violating the law by failing to submit reports on his political contributions and expenditures.

$158,000 Grant Awarded Seminole

Seminole County received notification today of a more than $158,000 federal grant to be used on public works projects in the county.
Pat Glisson, director of the Office of Management Analysis and Evaluation (OMAE), said the grant cannot be used for new projects.
Glisson said the $150,000 must be used for projects which were dropped last year as a result of trying to cut the county's budget.

Executive Assistant Roger Williams instructed county officials to try to find out the exact revenue picture for the county's landfill, which has come under heavy attack for not meeting state standards.
Last week the subsidy was reduced to $145,000. However, that reduction merely meant the county will pay $5,000 seed money toward winning proposals for use of the new

Winter Springs Plans To Lower Utility Bill Tax

The Winter Springs City Council voted Monday night to prepare a new city ordinance that would lower the tax on monthly utility bills from six cent to five percent.
Councilman John Daniels reported that the council that revenues from the utility tax, through October, are already $13,000 over the city's projected yearly income. Daniels said he felt a cut of one percent in the utility tax could thus be justified, without harming the city's fiscal budget. The council had previously lowered the tax rate from eight percent to fixed spiraling utility rate hikes. Councilman Ernest Hendrix said that the council should look into its entire tax structure, to see if it is possible to lower the utility tax further and depend more upon ad valorem taxes.

The city plans to use the added funds toward initial costs of the regional water and sewage plant. The council passed the contract agreement with the City of Orlando for the plant as first presented to them in their Nov. 11 meeting. The city will be reimbursed through a federal grant from the Environmental Protection Agency.
John Keith, Winter Springs Youth Services Officer, presented the council with an outline of his plans for a city juvenile program. He announced that he was planning the city's new recreation center, in Sunshine Park, on Tuesdays from noon to 6 p.m. and all day on Saturday. Programs scheduled for the center will include first aid courses and discussion sessions with officers from the Seminole Youth Services and Detention Center.
Keith said that he also has hopes for beginning an organized volunteer program, but has been disappointed in the lack of volunteer help from the community. Irwin Hunter, a former councilman now residing in Georgia, was on hand and said that "no matter how much money is poured into a juvenile services program, if there is no community support it is doomed to failure."
Mayor Troy Pland informed the council that it should expect a request for a raise in the rate of the H&W Refuse Service, which now holds the contract for city trash collection. Pland said that the increase is due to the county's commission decision to raise the rates at the city's landfill.
The council also passed an ordinance providing for light pole fees to be collected from area developers. Due to changes in Dec. 7 municipal codes, the city will be required to pay for street light installation but is including that in an increase to the city's electrical charges.

Children in grades 3-4 of Sanford elementary schools were invited by Sanford Postmaster James Covington to make early mailing of Christmas cards and packages via a poster contest. First prize at each school was a stamp-collecting kit. Chosen best at Midway Elementary were Stanley Fossitt (left), first; Stanley Ferguson, second place; and Sherry Carpenter, third place.

GOP Can Turn It All Around

As they pondered the results of the last presidential election, many Republicans may have thought about the renowned cable that Mark Twain sent to the Associated Press in 1897: "The reports of my death are greatly exaggerated."

Political morticians have been burying the Republican Party frequently since the 1930s. The facts and figures are familiar.

The GOP now commands the unwavering allegiance of only about one-fifth of the voters. It has controlled Congress for only four of the last 44 years. It got drubbed in the congressional elections of 1958, 1964, 1974 and 1976.

The states belong to the Democrats. Republicans are ignored by blacks and young people.

Then there's the Goldwater debacle, Watergate and Ronald Reagan's near-successful challenge to incumbent Gerald Ford. The GOP is fading away like the Whigs, in many experts' opinion.

Paradoxically, when President Ford finally did lose the election on Nov. 2, the public opinion tide turned. Even political commentators from the most liberal papers, like James Naughton of the New York Times, generally agreed with the assessment of Stuart Spencer, President Ford's chief campaign strategist, who said: "Don't write off the Republican Party. . . there are still only two political vehicles in this country."

Our suggestion is "look to your heritage." When the newly formed Republican party issued its first call for public support on March 28, 1856, it did so on an open, expansionist basis. From the beginning the GOP was a party designed to capture the broadest possible base of public support and to accommodate a wide range of differences. It was the answer to the narrowly based interest groups like the Barnburners, Conscience Whigs, Know Nothings, Free Soilers and so forth.

Within four years the new GOP won the presidency and both houses of Congress. A then-modern, pragmatic party, it also won 14 of the next 18 presidential elections and controlled both houses of Congress for 21 of the 26 subsequent elections.

If there is a single solid pillar on which the GOP can begin its reconstruction it is principle. And that has not changed in 120 years. All Republicans still stand for civil rights, constitutional principles, the maximum possible individual liberties, responsible economic stewardship, a modest government apparatus and so many of the other qualities for which Americans are obviously groping.

The problem is that Republicans have not been able to articulate these qualities adequately or translate them into the modern context. If conservatism is the proper word to describe these qualities, it is no longer a conservatism that reacts negatively to excesses or rakes over the ashes of the counter culture.

Rather than leveling the rhetorical artillery every time Democrats propose purely federal solutions for these problems, the Republicans can exhibit that the giveaway approach has been tried for 30 years. It is unimaginative and counterproductive and concurrently, the Republican party must offer constructive programs that emphasize private approaches by industry, the professions, institutions and citizens themselves.

The worst mistake that the GOP would make would be to retreat into a small ideological enclave and expect Americans to follow. The defeat of such conservatives as Senators Buckley, Brock and Taft and the loss of Texas indicates that narrow interest conservatism is passe.

The GOP must spread its tent. If it does not, the acronym will not stand for Grand Old Party, but One Old Party.

Let's Not Be So Quick To Judge

We all have perfect vision when it comes to seeing our neighbor's faults. This is as true of countries as it is of individuals.

For example, few international questions are as clear to Americans as the fact that the white minority regimes of Rhodesia and South Africa must sooner or later yield to demands for majority rule by their black populations.

Our 20-20 foresight is also enhanced by a general ignorance of the history of southern Africa, combined with a comfortable distance from the scene. Yet a simple exercise in "speculative history" would show that, but for the grace of circumstances, Americans today could easily be in the same situation as the beleaguered white of southern Africa.

There is at least one major difference between the histories of the two continents: The first Europeans in southern Africa found a relatively empty land and, expanding north, clashed with various black tribes, chiefly the Zulus, who were moving south. The first Europeans in the New World found the land already in the possession of native populations as they pressed ever westward.

But suppose that instead of a million or so Indians scattered over a vast continent, the first settlers in North America had encountered tens of millions of them. We might well have devised the strategy, long before it was adopted by South Africa, of sequestering these unassimilable natives into "bantustans."

We did, in fact, sequester the Indians on reservations — after taking the best land and the most fertile soil — and the Indians are so few. Thus the difference between the United States and South Africa, in regard to the treatment of its native population, is one of degree, not of kind.

At the same time, it is estimated that nearly two-thirds of elderly married couples who own their homes have less than desired income, and could benefit from obtaining annuities based on their home equity.

Governmental Reform Usually Ends Up Being Reformed

By JOHN VAN GIESON

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — One of the beauties of governmental reform is that in a year or two, the reform can be reformed.

One of the first orders of business for a new politician or political board is to revise the programs of the person or persons being succeeded. Now it turns out that some politicians reform their own reforms when they succeed themselves. Take House Speaker Donald Tucker, D-Tallahassee, for example.

Before Tucker took office as speaker two years ago, he said there were too many House committees. He announced that he would reduce the number to improve efficiency.

True to his word, Tucker cut the list of standing committees from the 20 that operated under his predecessor, Terrell Sessums, to 18. Of course, Tucker created three select committees, but somehow those were different.

Last week, Tucker took command of the House for a second consecutive two-year term as speaker, the first time that happened in 50 years. He created 22 standing committees — two more than the number that operated under Sessums.

There were 77 Democrats when Sessums created his committee structure, but there are 92 now. You really can't have more Indians unless you have more chiefs.

So Tucker created new committees on claims; corrections, probation and parole; and tourism and economic development. He made the select committees on veterans affairs and standards and conduct standing committees and he abolished the Growth and Energy Committee.

The speaker moved responsibility for utility regulation from the old Growth and Energy Committee to the Regulated Industries and Licensing Committee. The chairman of the latter is Rep. John Culbreath, D-Brooksville, brother of H. L. Culbreath, president of Tampa Electric Co., one of the state largest utilities.

When Tucker created the growth and energy panel two years ago, he said it would "look into the duties and responsibilities of the Florida Public Service Commission to determine if there is some way the legislature can improve the system under which they operate."

It's interesting to see what Tucker had to say about two legislators who have fallen out of favor and were dumped last week from important positions. They are former Education Chairman Richard Hodes, DTampa, and former Finance and Taxation Chairman Carl Ogden, D-Jacksonville.

Tucker said at the 1974 organizational session that Hodes "has the legislative creativity and ability to deal with such an important assignment" and is "one of this body's most knowledgeable members."

"The Committee on Finance and Taxation will be chaired by another of the most qualified members of the House, Rep. Carl Ogden," Tucker said.

He has not explained the Hodes-Ogden demotions, but the apparent reason is because they opposed the 1976-77 appropriations bill.

When the legislature convened for the organizational session last week, the House and Senate sent a delegation of lawmakers to inform Gov. Reubin Askew that they were in session.

It's a bit of protocol that had been dropped in recent organizational sessions.

Senate President Len Brantley, D-Jacksonville, revised the custom, apparently to emphasize his intention to improve Senate relations with Askew.

The only problem was that the legislature forgot to warn Askew. He was attending the Cabinet meeting in another building, and the legislative delegation couldn't find him.

Maybe the delegation wasn't so far off the mark. It's often said in the Capitol that Cresce, whose real title is budget director, really runs the state.

Busy Bee Teaches Responsibility

Busy Bee Child Care provides the transition between home and school. Marge Bledsoe's conveniently located center on Holly Avenue, just off 25th Street (a long block behind the Winn Dixie on U.S. Hwy. 17-92) specializes in pre-school care. Carmen Owen, who is certified to teach kindergarten through sixth grade, heads the teaching program. Joan Richardson assists Marge and Carmen.

The front room at Busy Bee Child Care resembles a living room; however, there is a definite distinction between play area and school area. The play area encourages role-playing.

Free time in the morning, as a planned activity, promotes social growth through sharing and encourages responsibility by requiring children to pick up toys they used during the morning.

After morning snack, children go outside for organized games and races which help develop large muscle control. Then small students line-up to go in for school time. This introduction to school rules includes saying the Pledge of Allegiance, placing dates on the calendar, noting weather, and sitting still for the lessons.

Classes are kept small enough to allow attention to each individual child.

The lessons promote reading readiness. Alphabet method is the primary source of material used for introduction of the alphabet. All activities are designed to lengthen the attention span of each individual child, with regard for age and maturity.

School time continues with finger play, which is fun, releases tension from sitting, and develops small muscle control. Dramatic play is used to encourage creative expression of well-known stories like The Three Bears. Most days also include an arts and craft activity or music — singing, marching with the rhythm band or listening.

Children also enjoy doing exercises, both creative and with the aid of Hop Palmer records.

The entire teaching program at Busy Bee Child Care is designed to promote social and intellectual growth to give a child a definite advantage upon entering kindergarten. Marge Bledsoe and Carmen Owen welcome inquiries from parents of pre-schoolers. For additional information, call 323-7570 or 322-0760.—ADV.

Mickey Adams Appointed New Referral Specialist

By JEAN PATTESON
Women's Editor

Ms. Mickey Adams has been appointed as referral specialist at the new Information and Referral Center of Seminole County, located at the Agri-Center, U.S. 17-92, south of Sanford.

The appointment was announced by the Human Services Planning Council or Orange County, Inc., the Seminole County Commission and the United Way of Seminole County.

"I'm excited about it and think it will be a challenging job — that means, a lot of hard work," said Ms. Adams. "It fills a real need in the county." She added: "There is no existing program that covers all the areas the Center will cover."

Ms. Adams said that the Orange County Information and Referral Center receives about one thousand calls each month. "Of course, we'll start out slowly in Seminole County and gradually build up," she explained.

The Seminole Center will open officially on Monday. Ms. Adams' first task will be to compile information for a directory. No Comprehensive or current directory of the many service agencies in the county exists.

"First, I need to get an accurate, in-depth picture of what services are offered," she said.

"Though my volunteer work, I've worked with a lot of agencies and got to know a lot of people in them," added Ms. Adams, "and with my background in psychology, I've always been interested in this kind of work."

Ms. Adams has a B.A. degree in psychology from Auburn University. During her 12 years of residence in Seminole County, she has been deeply involved in numerous community organizations, and has served as president of the League of Women Voters, the American Association of University Women, the Altamonte Community Church Board of Christian Education and the Lake Orienta Local School Advisory Committee.

Mickey Adams has task of setting up new information and Referral Center office in county

PTA Action

Special Programs Scheduled Tonight

PTA activities in Seminole County schools are geared to two objectives:

To bring into closer relation the home and the school, that parents and teachers may cooperate intelligently in the education of children and youth;

To develop between educators and the general public united efforts to secure for all students the highest advantages in physical, mental, social and spiritual education.

The Altamonte Elementary PTA will meet tonight at 7:30 p.m. at the school. Sherri's Deputy Beas Taylor, special advisor on safety to the County PTA, will present the film, "Child Molestering." The Helping Hand program is sponsored by the Sheriff's Department in an attempt to give qualified help to the children who feel in danger on the way to and from school. A film and discussion on awareness of strangers will also be given to the students at school preceding the PTA meeting.

Southside PTA will observe Thanksgiving at their meeting tonight at 7:30 p.m. Students will present a special program for the entertainment of parents on the Thanksgiving tradition.

Lake Orienta PTA will hold a Christmas boutique preceding the PTA meeting tonight at 6:30 p.m. at the school. The Boutique will climax several workshops in which PTA members made gift items and Holiday decorations for sale.

Mrs. Sherry O'Leary, PTA program chairman has announced that the program at the meeting will include a dance performance by students and a presentation — an Altamonte Police Department detective, who will talk to parents on the problems of juvenile delinquency.

Sterling Park PTA is today sponsoring Thanksgiving feast for 4th graders. Mrs. Fran Bladt has coordinated plans for supplying the food by the fourth grade parents. A play depicting the first Thanksgiving feast will be viewed by special guests, School Supt. William P. Layer and school board members.

All local PTAs will support a Skating Party sponsored by the Seminole County PTA Council on Friday at Skate City, Parkway.

Paraplegics Enjoy Sex As Part Of Marriage

DEAR ABBY: PUZZLED IN NEW YORK couldn't understand why a nurse he engaged to marry dropped him from the waist down. He asked, "What good can he do her as a husband?" Well, I have news for PUZZLED.

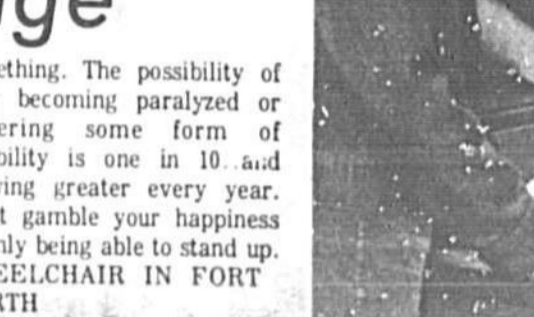

I am married to a paraplegic. His spine was severed by a bullet that rendered his legs useless, but the rest of him is just fine. He is just like any other man in all respects except he rolls instead of walks.

And anyone who thinks that sex isn't a part of our marriage is really stupid. Paralyzed people need love, and they can give it too. And for the record, we are both 22.

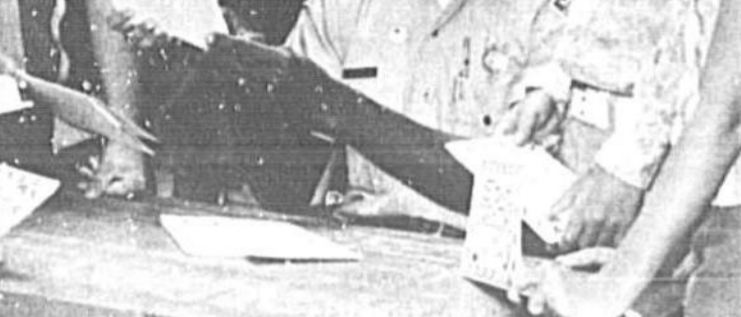

HAPPY IN ILLINOIS

DEAR HAPPY: Read on for another interesting letter from a reader who also speaks with appreciation of a wheelchair.

DEAR ABBY: May I answer PUZZLED in N.Y., the healthy husband who was engaged to a nurse, but lost her to a policeman who was paralyzed from the waist

Brantley Shot Down In Rotary; Round 2 Set Tonight At Lyman

Seminole Vs. Leesburg; L. Howell, Oviedo Meet

By CHUCK McCLUNG
Herald Correspondent

LONGWOOD—Heartbeats were louder than the cheering here Monday evening as the Lake Brantley Patriots saw their claim to victory shot down with a "pot shot" in the closing seconds of the opening round basketball battle with Wildwood in the Third Annual Rotary Bowl Tournament, 76-69.

The Patriots, taking a 69-68 lead with a 10-foot jump shot by Doug Dersheimer with seven seconds left to play, saw the visiting Wildcat's rob them of victory with a 20-foot fall-away jumper by ace Morris Hannah. Hannah received the ball from co-guard Kenny Flint at the half line with four seconds remaining, dribbled to the right side of the court and let loose the shot heard 'round the Patriot world. Hannah's shot swooshed through the nets at the sound of the buzzer as Harold Leroy waved his hands on Hannah's face.

Round two will be staged tonight at the Lyman High gym, starting with a Seminole-Leesburg matchup at 6:30, followed by Lake Howell vs. Oviedo at 8:30. Host Lyman goes into action Wednesday night against Wildwood.

"That last shot was the only thing that beat us," stated a bewildered Pats assistant coach Willie Richardson, "we really outplayed them."

"After little Doug Dersheimer made that shot, I just kinda

Hird, Bell Keys To Lions' Season

By LOUIS SAPSIS
Herald Correspondent

"We don't have any real superstars, so if we are to be better than we were last year, it will have to be a team effort."

That's the way Dale Phillips, head coach of Oviedo High's basketball team, describes his squad's chances for the 1976-77 season.

"It is hard to say who will be our starters," Phillips continues, "because football just ended and many of our boys are playing basketball for the first time in several months."

"I do know that we have around 11 boys of equal ability and we will be a running, pressing, hustling team at both ends of the court."

"Our offense will be a 1-3-1, with Gary Hird playing the low post and Hureal Bell as the point man."

"Al Noble and Rick Nash will spell Bell at point but we need a good year from Hureal to be successful."

"Hird really came on at the end of last year and now as a junior he should be one of our top players. I am moving him away from the basket a little more, so he will be able to handle the ball more often and consequently get off more shots."

"We did the same thing with Cennie Patterson in his last year here and it proved to be effective."

"Cedric Canley is back from last year and he should be one of our wings and top point producers. He is another boy who really started coming around at the end of last season and should pick up where he left off."

"Our junior varsity team last year did a good job of getting several boys ready for the varsity this season and we are counting very heavily on Randy Willis, Scott Meyer, Rick Nash and Dillard Gould."

"From our ninth grade team of last year we have a boy who really looks promising, Brad Clayton."

"We also have three boys who have made the team that didn't play ball at all last year. They are Al Noble, Frank Scott and Bobby Couch."

"Noble is a senior who had to sit out because of health reasons. Scott just never tried out before, while Couch was ineligible because of his grades."

stuck my hands in my pocket and sat back knowing that they only had a long shot," stated a grin-faced mentor Manuel "Red" Washington, "and I figured it would hit the boards and that would be it. It's really tough to lose like that."

"When there was about five minutes left in the last quarter, I put in a more of a spread out offense and then that's when they equaled our play. But before then, we had definitely outplayed them," continued Washington.

The Patriots had entered the final period holding on to a four point lead that quickly diminished at the time of the offensive change. The Wildwood visitors rallied for five unanswered points to give them the lead for only the second time in the half, 68-67. Four turnovers in the next two minutes divided by both team saw neither produce any marks, until the Brantley jumper by Dersheimer.

"Dersheimer did a real fine job coming off the bench," commented Washington. Doug entered the ball game after Eberle fouled out with 6:19 remaining in contest. "And his brother, Will, did a real fine job defensively..." he really helped us out."

Doug finished the night with the single basket, while Will went scoreless.

The Brantley bunch took early command in the initial period jumping up to a 23-19 lead at the outset of the second quarter.

Excellent shooting exhibitions by Leroy and Ricky Crawford gave the Pats the edge. Leroy had 10 for the quarter with Crawford dropping seven.

The Patriots took to the locker at the half holding a slim 39-36 edge.

Early foul trouble by three of the Brantley starters kept them caught up with the young ball club.

"We really got into some trouble at the end, having to play the bench with three starters out," said Washington of the foul situation.

Crawford, sharing the scoring load with Leroy, finished the night with 12 marks before fouling out with 3:23 left in the third stanza. Eberle was soon to follow, reaching his foul limit with 6:19 remaining in the final.

In the AFC, Baltimore is 9-2 and holds a one-game lead in the East. Cincinnati, also 9-2, has a two-game edge in the Central. The runner-up candidates — all of whom could also win titles in those two divisions — are New England, 8-3 in the East, and Pittsburgh and Cleveland, each 7-4 in the Central. Denver is out of the running for a title in the West but 7-4 is also alive for a wildcard.

In the NFC, Dallas is first in the AFC, at 7-1, holds a 1½-game edge in the West. Also holding title or runner-up hopes are St. Louis, 8-3, and Washington, 7-4, in the East and San Francisco, 8-5, in the West.

Pittsburgh's Steelers are gunning for a feat never before achieved, a third straight Super Bowl title. But to get there they have to get into the playoffs — and to do that, they have to overcome some pretty tough hurdles.

In the three remaining games, they have to overtake New England, which leads them by a game in the runner-up standings. Just being won't be enough since the Patriots beat Pittsburgh 30-27 in the teams' only meeting this year.

The first tag hurdle comes next Sunday when the Steelers play in Cincinnati. A loss would kill Pittsburgh's division title hopes. Playoff-wise, it wouldn't be fatal — unless the Patriots beat Denver, too. New England would then be two up on Pittsburgh with two games to play.

The Bengals have won only four of nine games against Pittsburgh in the teams' history, and lost 2-4 in a game that started the Steelers on their six-game winning streak this year. But as Cincinnati tight end Bob Trumpy put it, "We're not afraid of Pittsburgh."

The AFC East is almost certain to be the division with the wild-card team since St. Louis is two games ahead of the next best runner-up. But the division title is still available — and could be decided on Thanksgiving Day when the Cardinals visit Dallas. If the Cards win and Washington beats Philadelphia next Sunday, one game will separate the three teams.

In the final two weeks, Dallas plays Philadelphia and Washington; St. Louis goes against Baltimore and the New York Giants; and Washington sees the Jets and Cowboys and San Francisco. In its three final games, San Francisco plays Minnesota, San Diego and New Orleans.

NFL Playoff Berths Still Up For Grabs

NEW YORK (AP) — Two down and six to go — and there are a lot more than six still in the running.

With three weekends of play remaining in the National Football League's regular season, two division titles in the American Conference and two in the National Conference — and the wild-card spot in each — are still up for grabs in the chase for a berth in the Dec. 18-19 first round of playoffs.

The Oakland Raiders and Minnesota Vikings did their divisional titles long before anyone else. The Raiders, in the AFC West, won their fifth in a row and the Vikings, in the NFC Central, locked up their eighth in nine years.

That leaves 11 teams still in the running for the remaining playoff positions.

In the AFC, Baltimore is 9-2 and holds a one-game lead in the East. Cincinnati, also 9-2, has a two-game edge in the Central. The runner-up candidates — all of whom could also win titles in those two divisions — are New England, 8-3 in the East, and Pittsburgh and Cleveland, each 7-4 in the Central. ## SCC Seeks Second Win

TAMPA — Seminole Community College has the task of trying to avenge a Saturday night defeat tonight when it faces Florida College in basketball, but the Raiders certainly could have picked a better battlefield.

Florida College took an 84-77 victory Saturday in Sanford over Seminole, and tonight's game is in Tampa.

SCC is 1-2 and will return to action again Friday and Saturday in the Brevard Thanksgiving Tournament at Cocoa.

Cheshire On Move; Some Firings Reported

By BOB LLOYD
Herald Staff Writer

Several new prosecuting attorneys and investigators are expected to be named within a week by Seminole-Brevard State Attorney elect Douglas Cheshire for the Sanford state attorney's office.

Cheshire met for several hours Tuesday with State Atty. Abbott Herring and Seminole staffers at the office. Cheshire was accompanied by former Brevard County Solicitor Gerald Brass but declined to confirm or deny that Brass will be his chief assistant in charge of the Sanford office replacing William Slaley.

Cheshire, who defeated Herring in the November general election, said that today those persons were either unavailable or declined to comment on the reports.

One attorney said he didn't want to discuss the matter and that any announcement must come from Cheshire.

Earlier Cheshire said he'll create a new position of chief investigator for the 18th Judicial Circuit state attorney's office and that the job will go to Phillip R. Sellers, 34, who is presently an investigator and polygraph operator for Herring in Brevard County.

Tuesday Cheshire said chief investigator for Brevard will be Charles Wilson, who also is now on Herring's staff. He said Wilson and the person to be named to fill the Seminole position now held by Fulewider will report to Sellers.

Cheshire's first choice for the Seminole chief assistant state attorney, Donald Lykkebak, whom Cheshire defeated in the Democratic primary, earlier turned down the job offer.

Lykkebak said he will stay in his present job as an assistant to Orange-Osceola State Atty. Robert Egan.

Brass told reporters Tuesday while he was in Sanford with Cheshire that he couldn't comment on the reports that he'll be the new Seminole chief assistant state attorney. He said any announcements will come from Cheshire.

Cheshire said that he still has to talk with some people in Brevard concerning staff jobs and "I want to be sure they know before I release anything to the newspapers."

Herring said he plans to open a law practice in Sanford on Jan. 4 — the day Cheshire takes over as State Attorney. Herring said he's already leased office space in the Paulucci Building in downtown Sanford and has his office equipment ready to move in.

"The biggest job will be moving in my lawbooks," he said, noting that he has an extensive personal library.

South Seminole Residents May Face Utility Rate Hike

An increase in water and sewer rates for about 2,000 Seminole county residents is being recommended by the county government's utility consultant.

High Haring said today he will ask the county commission to approve the rate hikes at 8.7 p.m. public hearing next Tuesday. The meeting will be held at the courthouse in Sanford.

Haring said the average monthly bill will increase from $8.30 to $13.20.

All the customers served by the county's two utility companies — Consumer and Indian Hills — live in South Seminole.

Haring said the county needs to pick up an additional $18,000 in revenue to operate the county's utility department in the black.

The projected increases — if approved by the county commission — will produce the needed amount, according to Haring.

Haring met Tuesday with county commissioners. At a work session, he informed the board that the county has the green light to purchase a third facility — Eagle Utilities.

The state requires a 90 per cent removal of BOD (Biochemical Oxygen Demand) from effluent, and Haring said the Eagle facility is operating below minimum state standards.

Haring does not foresee any immediate danger to the public. However, if the condition persists, he said in the "long range it could affect the health of the people."

The plant dropped below state standards about two months ago, Haring said. He picked up the discrepancies while monitoring monthly reports.

Also at Tuesday's meeting, Republicans took the first step to buy septic tanks on lots smaller than one acre. The Democratic-dominated commission two weeks ago okayed a subdivision regulation that allows septic tanks on half-acre and one-third acre lots.

The three Republicans on the commission voted to set a public hearing to reverse the Democratic decision.

Commissaires Dick Williams, John Kimbrough and Bill Kirchhoff voted for a public hearing. An exact date was not set.

Earthquake Hits Eastern Turkey

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) — A major earthquake struck an area of eastern Turkey near the Soviet border today, killing hundreds and causing widespread destruction, the Turkish state radio reported.

The Kandilli Observatory in Istanbul put the magnitude at 7.6 on the Richter scale. The observatory said the quake hit at 2:25 p.m. (7:25 a.m. EST) and had its epicenter in a mountainous area of Van Province 300 miles east of Istanbul.

"It was the worst tremor (to hit Turkey) since the one that registered 7.9 in Erzincan and killed about 30,000 in 1939," the Kandilli observatory said in a statement.

A spokesman at the U.S. National Earthquake Information Center in Golden, Colo., said he thought the quake had caused "considerable" damage because the area is populated and has many older buildings.

He put the location at about 20 miles west of Yerevan in the Soviet Union.

The impact in the Soviet Union was thought to be minimal, according to initial reports from the seismic station in Tbilisi, Soviet Georgia.

The Richter scale gauges the energy released by a quake in terms of ground motion recorded on a seismograph. Quakes of magnitude 7 can cause widespread, heavy damage. The earthquake in Guatemala that took 23,000 lives early this year had readings as high as 7.5.

A Thanksgiving Story

DUNDEE (AP) — A man caught making a bologna sandwich in a church was sent to jail because the minister felt it was his Christian duty "to apprehend those involved in criminal acts."

Virgil Hughes, 52, a migrant farm worker employed on a local farm, said he was outside the Dundee Baptist church on Sunday, penniless and unable to remember the last time he had eaten. A passerby suggested he try the church kitchen, he told police.

Hughes said he walked through an open door and was fixing a sandwich when the minister, Rev. James Lockwood, found him and called police.

But the Rev. Mr. Lockwood said he caught Hughes filling a bag with groceries. "And of course I don't know what else he was going to take," he said.

Hughes was taken to police headquarters, where he told authorities his story. Ast. Polk County State Attorney Al Smith then decided that he could be charged only with trespassing, a misdemeanor. Hughes was set free.

Nonetheless, the minister filed a complaint, and Hughes was arrested on burglary charges.

The Rev. Mr. Lockwood said he would ask the state attorney if Hughes could be released on his own recognizance. He also said he's invited Hughes to join him for Thanksgiving dinner.

Said Hughes: "I will never go into another church."

Bush Quits As CIA Chief

WASHINGTON (AP) — declared at his swearing-in ceremony.

George Bush announced today he is resigning as director of the Central Intelligence Agency effective inauguration day.

Bush's announcement was issued by a CIA spokesman. The announcement said Bush "would not remain as director after Jan. 20, 1977."

It said Bush "pledged his continuing full assistance to President-elect Jimmy Carter during the transition between administrations."

"Mr. Bush informed President Ford and President-elect Carter of his decision," the announcement said.

It gave no indication of Bush's future plans.

Bush briefed Carter for nearly six hours last Friday at the president-elect's home in Plains, Ga., on the highly secret methods the CIA uses to gather intelligence around the world.

Bush told reporters in Plains that he had visited Ford before flying to Georgia and was told to give Carter full access to any information he might desire.

While he was in Plains, Bush refused to discuss his own future and declined to say whether the possibility of remaining in his job had been raised during session with Carter.

Carter has given no indication of whom he might appoint to replace Bush.

Bush took over as head of the CIA last Jan. 30 and immediately was confronted with the job of restoring public confidence in the agency, which had been the target of investigations into improper activities. "No politics, no policy bias, will color the collective judgment of the CIA," he

Kwiatkowski Ousted From Personnel Board

By ED PRICKETT
Herald Staff Writer

The Republican Chairman of the Seminole County Commission has ousted Democrat Harry Kwiatkowski from his coveted position on the county's powerful personnel board.

And Kwiatkowski didn't like it.

The Democratic commissioner Tuesday pointed to politics on the part of Republican commissioners, who he said, campaigned on promises to take the commission out of the political arena.

Kwiatkowski said he had informed newly-selected Commission Chairman Dick Williams that he hoped to retain his position on the personnel board.

Instead, Williams ignored Kwiatkowski's request and appointed two of his Republican colleagues, John Kimbrough and Bill Kirchhoff, as county commission representatives to the personnel board.

"You know how many powerful positions I was appointed to?" asked Kwiatkowski.

"Not one."

"If (the appointment) was worked out, it was already typed up," he added.

Appointments by the chairman must be approved by a majority vote. And Republicans now hold the top half of three-to-two votes after Kirchhoff defeated Democratic opponent John Alexander

The chairman is selected by a majority vote of the board. The chairmanship goes to the party in power — not to an individual. And, when the Republicans assumed the majority position, it was Williams' time to be chairman.

Kwiatkowski said when Democrats held the majority position — politics was the name of the game.

The only difference now, according to Kwiatkowski, is the Republican decisions are "worked out upstairs" before commission meetings. Democrats, he said, worked the decisions out during meetings.

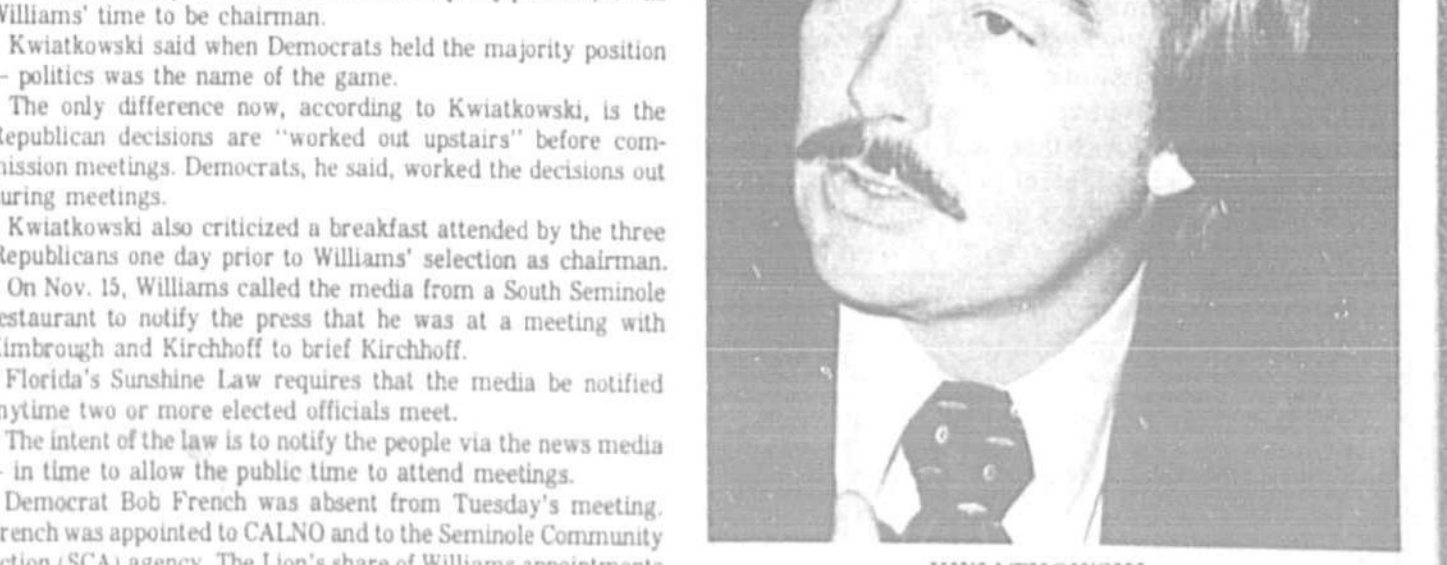

Kwiatkowski also criticized a breakfast attended by the three Republicans one day prior to Williams' selection as chairman.

On Nov. 15, Williams called the media from a South Seminole restaurant to notify the press that he was at a meeting with Kimbrough and Kirchhoff to brief Kirchhoff.

Florida's Sunshine Law requires that the media be notified anytime two or more elected officials meet.

The intent of the law is to notify the people via the news media — in time to allow the public time to attend meetings.

Democrat Bob French was absent from Tuesday's meeting. French was appointed to CALNO and to the Seminole Community Action (SCA) agency. The Lion's share of Williams appointments went to Republicans.
