

Sanford Cardinals Down Cocoa, 5-1, For 2nd Straight Win

Redbirds Win 8th Of 12 As Ingram Takes 12th; Indians Play Here

By KENT CHETLAIN

Sanford's bustling Cardinals successfully invaded Cocoa and knocked off the Indians in their third straight win over the two top pennant contenders in as many nights.

Aside from winning their ninth game in the last 12 to reach the 500 mark in the second half, the surging Cardinals gained a completely new look as Clarence Ingram emerged from the doldrums of mediocrity to spin a sterling seven hit, one-run victory for his 12th triumph on the season.

With Ingram back in the Big Three with Ernest Ernie, Paul Miller and rookie phenom Jim Flannigan, the Cardinal baseball machine might have the energy to collapse the spell held over the Florida State League by Daytona Beach and the pressing contenders from Cocoa.

ERNEST PALMIERI ... Seeks 12th Triumph

Ernie Palmieri, who has been struggling since his return to the team after a long absence, is expected to play in the next few games. The Cardinals' success is attributed to their strong pitching and batting lineup.

ERNE PALMIERI ... Seeks 12th Triumph

After putting together a phenomenal 21 win and 90th winning streak to finish the first half a strong 10th Sanford opened the second half miserably, losing eight games while winning just two. The current victory onslaught of 9.3 has restored the Redbirds from last place to fifth, leveling their season's record at 11-11.

Sanford is now only one game out of the first division, being a frame back of fourth place Jax Beach. The Cards are just 2 1/2 games in the rear of the third standing DeLand and DeLand.

Last night's game began with a pitcher's duel between Ingram and Cocoa rookie Bob Litchworth. After Sanford pulled once in the third, the Tribe's "Burrhead" Dominguez Veliz slugged a bases empty homer to knot the count of 1-1.

On the surface the Florida State League appears to be running smoothly along toward another fairly successful season, successful from the standpoint it will not suffer any greater losses than most other minor leagues this season. . . . But like beauty, it is only skin deep and, underneath, all is not running too harmoniously.

Two of President Jack Dempsey's decisions banning Manager Les Atkins of Orlando and Chico Fundora of Leesburg for limited suspensions have left unhealed wounds in the circuit. . . . Dempsey cannot send umpires Rich and Lelp into Leesburg anymore. . . . Williamson and Tomcuff are barred from work in Orlando.

Specific from players on the Leesburg Lakers reveal discontent among the players and combination field manager and business head Red Dulaney. . . . One player was quoted as saying that under Dulaney's "McGraw" rule, any Leesburg player swinging at a ball with the count two-balls and no strikes is automatically fined 50 cents. . . .

Another player was quoted as saying that veteran hurler Ray Yochim, who has been struggling since his return to the team after a long absence, is expected to play in the next few games. The Cardinals' success is attributed to their strong pitching and batting lineup.

Reports from Lakeland indicate that Manager Chuck Aleno is seeking his right-handed ace of last year's Seminole Blues—Murray Byrd. . . . The "gopher ball" specialist, Byrd won 14 and lost 16 for Aleno and was the only Seminole Blue hurler who lasted from the opening ball until the finish in 1952 with Sanford. . . .

The Cardinals' success is attributed to their strong pitching and batting lineup. They have shown consistent performance throughout the season.

Price Westbrook May Play Again By August 1

Price Westbrook, hard hitting Sanford Cardinal first baseman who broke his ankle earlier this season, returned to Sanford this week with the cast removed from his left foot and reported he may be able to play by Aug. 1.

Westbrook was hitting a lusty .348 in pace the club when he was sidelined in a game with Daytona Beach last May. The lanky gateway custodian drew plaudits for his sparkling play around the bag and because of his long reach he was called "Stretch" by his Price Westbrook teammates.

Doctors have advised Westbrook to take it easy working into shape. Aug. 1 is the earliest Westbrook can return. He has been taking light workouts for the past two nights with the club.

Bob Skelton, fiery 19-year-old catcher who started the season with Sanford and was transferred to Albany, Ga. in May, has now joined the Cardinals in the class D League in the St. Louis farm system.

Skelton joined another Sanford Cardinal in a who started the season here—outfielder Bob Folkert—in Ardmore, Texas, where he expressed the desire to return to Sanford.

Sanford Junior Legion baseball team to a decisive 6-0 triumph over the Parkers yesterday in Winter Park. In winning, the "Baby Birds" stretched their Legion play winning streak to 10 in a row—probably the longest of sub-district record.

Thus, with only one more regular scheduled game left to play, Sanford has an extremely good chance to finish the season undefeated. Such an accomplishment heretofore only dreamed of, would be the first in Campbell-Losing Post history.

Yesterday's very well played game gives a real indication of how much the local team improved since the beginning of the year. In two early season clashes with the Parkers the "Baby Birds" just succeeded by with 1-0 and 3-0 victories. And in one of the meetings they could manage only one hit off the team's Bender Snodgrass as they batted for 10 yesterday.

But the tough Parkers, although losing more soundly yesterday, still made a hard fight of it. From the beginning, the contest looked on all the aspects of a real pitcher's duel. And so it was, as for five innings Snodgrass and Krider matched each other pitch for pitch. Going into the sixth stanza Sanford had a mere three hits and Winter Park only two.

But then in a cocky moment Snodgrass began toying with Junior Melts and the latter responded with a long triple into left field. Hubba Bibbe followed with a beautiful squeeze bunt bringing in Melts and putting himself on first. Seconds later, after stealing second and third, he scored as Krider bounced out.

With the bases empty "Pee Wee" Melts coasted Snodgrass for a walk and pilfered second. Larry Bates sacrificed him to third and Ross Harmon lashed out a two-bagger driving him home. Johnny Jones lined a one bashed in to left field driving in Harmon for the fourth and final run of the frame.

The locals picked up another pair of markers in the seventh when after Jimmy Wade had singled and Bibbe had stroked, Krider and McCall blasted back on back bingles making the score 6-0 DIAMOND DUST: After tomorrow's final game of the season, the next engagement for the "Baby Birds" will be the district tournament in Orlando. That tourney will be a round-robin affair with two losses needed for elimination.

With the district tournament the locals might conceivably make the area play-off in Waculua and State Tournament in Quincy and Jacksonville. It is noted that the Jacksonville Post 9 Legion team which captured the state title last year has recently launched a road trip covering the entire South and they also detoured through Cincinnati for the All-Star game yesterday.

Sanford Is Rated Flag Contender

By The Associated Press

When casting around for pennant contenders in the Florida State League, don't overlook those Sanford Cardinals.

Less than two weeks ago they were in the cellar, but today it's fifth place.

And if they continue playing at their present clip—they're winning of their last 12 games—they're in a clinch to keep climbing.

Tuesday night, the Carnis crew Cocoa, 5-1, tumbling the Indians from second to third place.

A four-run rally in the seventh after the first two men had been retired brought the victory. Before then it had been a pitching duel between Clarence Ingram and Bill Litchworth. Litchworth lost Tony Barone after he had him with two-strike count, then surrendered three singles and a double for the score.

The DeLand Red Hots, also winning their ninth victory in 12 games, moved into second place by pushing across three runs in the last two innings to whip Orlando, 4-3. The winning run came with two out in then in on Leroy Browning's error at third.

League-leading Daytona Beach outscored Jacksonville Beach with 13 hits, six of them for extra bases, and broke up a seventh-inning tie to win, 7-5. Manager Ed Levy led the attack with two doubles.

St. Louis Cardinals Will Watch Results Of Sanford Trout Camp

ST. LOUIS—(Special)—"I'll be watching the results of the Sanford, Fla., trout camp with great interest," Joe Mathes, director of the Cardinals' minor league farm system, said today.

"As you know," he continued, "a great many of the big league stars of tomorrow are being discovered in the trout camps of today. Our own Ed Rice, Harvey Eaddy, Al Schondienst and Wilmer Mizell, in name only four, are products of Cardinal trout camps and our farm system."

Mathes, a veteran of 43-years in professional baseball, was the originator of the trout camp system, together with Branch Rickey then also of the Cardinal organization.

"The Cardinals pioneered both the trout and farm systems in baseball," he said. "As a result of the experience we have gained in being put to work for the advantage of the ball players in our organization."

"The Red Birds have been a 'home grown' team ever since we won our first pennant and World Series in 1926. Since that time we have been a first division club 23 out of the past 27-years and our history shows our club as one bringing up our stars from our minor league ranks."

Many young players from Florida have signed Red Bird minor league contracts, the most recent being Aleno Roach from Fort Lauderdale. Roach is currently with the Hamilton

The purge follows the hooding of Lavrenty P. Beria, the former Soviet police boss, and apparently results from that act. The officials affected are those dealing with law enforcement or internal security—the task of keeping the people in line.

Near Carrabelle

CARRABELLE (AP)—The body of a man identified by papers found in his clothing as Thomas G. Hand, 29, Detroit, was found today on the beach of St. George Island near here.

Sheriff Herbert O. Marshall estimated the man had been dead about 30 days. He said Hand's father had no information on Hand except that he recently had a request from Mrs. E. W. Hand to try to locate a man by that name.

The Hidden Costs Of Schooling

"Hidden Tuitions" is what Willard Hawkins calls these unrecouped small expenses which come suddenly to the attention of the high school student, making school life much more expensive than it looks. Mr. Hawkins is principal of the Bel Air, Maryland, Junior-Senior High School. He made a year-long survey of such matters among high school principals in Maryland, and reported his findings in an article in The Nation's Schools.

An Ex-President Goes Touring

Here and there throughout the country recent citizens were startled at the sight of the man who was once their President driving his own car down the highway on a motoring vacation. Harry Truman, private citizen from Independence, Missouri, was just another driver stopping at gas stations along the way for a rest and soft drinks. He was even stopped by a patrolman who warned him to be a bit more careful.

It may be a good thing in a democracy for people to get the chance to see that the men who serve them in the highest positions of state are, after all, human beings, subject to the same problems and capable of enjoying the same pleasures as the most ordinary citizen.

Here was a man who had recommended the highest national budget in the country's history, whose speeches mentioned billions as casually as most people speak of the coins they need for parking meters. Now, freed from the responsibility of his great office, he commented to his wife that he had just bought eleven gallons of gas at $3.45. He remarked with the same obvious pleasure, so familiar to all wives whose husbands are proud of their cars, that he was getting "seventeen miles per gallon."

Where else but in the United States could it happen?

A Famous Statue Is Removed

In the city of Pilsen, Czechoslovakia, the Reds have taken down the statue of Thomas Masaryk, the first President of Czechoslovakia and the George Washington of that country. They took it down in retaliation for the recent riots in which pictures of Stalin and the late puppet President Klement Gottwald were defaced and destroyed.

There is something that the Reds should know. They will never succeed in murdering the memory of Thomas Masaryk as they succeeded in murdering his son. His place in the hearts of his countrymen rests on a foundation far more secure than the pedestal upon which any statue may stand.

Wherever Czechs raise their voices in the songs of their remembered freedom, wherever they gather to talk of better days, wherever their unarméd masses shout out defiance of the Russian despots, the spirit of Thomas Masaryk will live.

Conquerors can despoil a country's cathedrals, level its libraries, forbid the conquered to fly their flag. But no conqueror, from Alexander to Adolf Hitler, has succeeded in reaching the souls of a people and uprooting their devotion to their gods or their reverence for their heroes.

nomics classes. Some schools have an activity fee, which helps to support athletic programs. There are school newspapers and the school yearbook. These are gym suits, costumes for plays and operettas. There are school parties, growing in expense and importance with age.

Not all schools have all these costs. But some have some and others have others. These "hidden tuitions" become in many cases burdens which a parent of several children cannot support. Either the student must do money-earning work after school, or leave school for a full time job.

Nobody knows exactly what to do about these expenses. Lopping off the activity which goes with one or another has disadvantages, too. Study of them is recommended. Perhaps, in some instances, they can be cut by group effort without losing the benefit of the activity.

Mothers who hate the expense and trouble of making costumes, fathers who need to know ahead what things will cost—and there are thousands in both classes—would be glad to see something done about it.

TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE

It is no accident that about all the wealth of the world is owned by Christian nations. No one ever climbed a high mountain who has not a stout heart and true confidence. All things are yours.—1 Cor. 3:21.

As the country heads into the last half of the year, financial experts contemplating the business outlook and economic prospects are slinging a tune: "Will you love me in November as you did in May?"

The bottom hasn't dropped out of Orlando, but people in the vicinity of the city stockade may have gotten that impression when they woke up to find a hole in the ground measuring 100 feet wide and 35 feet deep. With all that new building over there, something just had to give way.

The United States has closed down the American Consulate at Gibraltar because of the need of greater economy in the overseas operations of the government. Just think, with us economizing the old rock will be left with only a picture of Prudentia painted on its face.

Seven persons were killed and 85 injured in rioting incident to the celebration July 14 of Bastille Day, one of the most memorable occasions in the life of a Frenchman, the day when liberty, equality and fraternity, came to life and the despotism of Louis the 16th was ended. Your guess is as good as ours why Frenchmen are still fighting for something they got 164 years ago.

Traditionally the apple has gotten credit for keeping the doctor away, but now dentists in the state of Washington have been told by the secretary of the Southern California Dental Association that "apples do a better job of cleaning the teeth and mouth than a toothbrush." While we take all this with a rather large grain of salt we know that among the young fry of the country no statement will find greater unanimity of agreement.

An argument over the payment of a one-cent sales tax led to the recent slaying of a mid-western police chief by a transient farm worker who apparently objected to this form of taxation. The slayer has a wife and five children ranging in ages from 20 months to 12 years, and we are moved to wonder how useless and ally it was for this man to start an argument over a penny and how senseless and tragic it was for him to kill someone over such a pointless issue. If the wheels of justice run true to form he will probably spend most of his remaining life in prison, his wife will face a difficult existence trying to keep herself and her children from starvation, and the world will be a sadder place because of one man's impetuosity, meanness and stupidity.

Husbands, Friends Are Problem

(Editor's note: Every June bride has the task of pruning her husband's old garden of friends. But how? In the following article, third in a series of four, a panel of veteran husbands tells us how to meet this marital problem safely.)

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—What is the biggest mistake June brides make in making today in the post-honey-moon adjustment that takes place in all marriages?

A panel of veteran husbands I consulted thought that one of the commonest marital errors by young wives was this:

"They try to get a husband to drop all his old friends, because they don't want to have to share their love with anybody." The wife in the panel agreed it was unfair to expect any wife to have to put up with all her hubby's old buddies, as they probably included some who were "as big a bum as he used to be before he was wed and married her." But they said it was a situation that was better corrected through time and tact, rather than direct action.

U. of F. Library Boasts Data On Lyric Theater

GAINESVILLE (AP)—Possibly the most complete collection in this country of source material on the lyric theater is being installed at the University of Florida library, where it will be available to students in the fall.

The collection includes photographs of famous dancers, festivals, stage decor, ballet and opera programs from all over the world; out-of-print books, critical reviews and magazines devoted to theater arts.

They have been collected since 1919 by Mrs. S. Yancey Belknap, retired librarian from New York City, who is now publishing the material. Her friendships with famous people in the world of music and the dance have been responsible for many gifts to the collection—a discovery of French magazine from Arturo Toscanini; photographs from Soto Olato, the American-Japanese star of "Little Clay Cart"—a biography of the famous Russian composer, Pyotr Ilyich Tchaikovsky, by Pavlova's husband, programs from Covent Garden, London, and others from Cape Town, S. A. and Lima, Peru.

Adjustment Board To Hear Requests

The Board of Adjustment meets tomorrow night at 8:00 o'clock at City Hall to hear requests for variances. If such is required for the property owned by the Central Baptist Church at the corner of Third Street and Laurel Avenue which is to be used as a youth center. The request was submitted by the Rev. S. L. Phelan, pastor.

This problem, unless she married a hermit, said one of the panelists, is to weed out his friends gradually and gracefully. If she just waits, she will find his more objectionable friends will drift away anyway, as they will find him more boring and less fun the longer he is married.

"The worst thing a bride can do is to hurry the situation—to deliberately break up all his old friendships," said a second veteran. "That will create a Chinese wall of misunderstanding between them."

"She will find she has driven her husband further from her, not brought him closer. He will retreat to keep from being swallowed. For he will realize his wife is like a lady spider, which consumes her prey."

A third husband broke in: "Boy, that was my first wife, all right—a lady spider, a barnacle with vocal chords. She managed with the dishes—and he'll require a lot of admiration for the way she did it. But after five lonely years of admiring her, I up and shucked her off, and got me a new wife."

"Oh, much better," he replied. "She says I am so housebroken by my first wife that she herself is willing to lend me a few friends to make out from under her feet at least one night a week. 'Wonderful woman!'"

The other husbands nodded gravely. Then they drew up the curtains to guide any young bride in the delicate task of pruning her husband's thorny garden of friendship:

1. "Above all—go slow."

2. "Help a hubby off his tiffiff bachelorette pals to your own girl friends you want to get rid of. What do you care if they never forgive you?"

3. "Praise your husband's worst friends to the skies. He will get sick even of hearing their names, because a man can't stand to hear him praised, even if the bum is his own brother."

4. "Convince your husband the reason the food bills are so high is that his free-loading companions are eating and drinking him into bankruptcy. Suppose he does find out later it really is your relatives that are busting him up? One problem at a time."

5. "Be careful never to offend a friend that later in life your husband may want to borrow money from."

6. "Retain one or two steady, dependable, freeloading bachelors, and make them your friends. A wife often finds a good, sound bachelorette more helpful than children for running errands, helping with the dishes—and he'll require her out at night when her husband just wants to sit at home and list to his tired dog bark."

7. "Let your husband keep at least one thoroughly objectionable friend. This will give him the sense of freedom, independence, escape and adventure every man needs in marriage."

But what about a bride who is stuck with a husband who stubbornly refuses to be weaned from his circle of disreputable pals, and spends more and more time with them?

"The only thing I can think of," said one panel member, "is for the wife to go to work, save up enough dough to buy her husband a new car—and hope he'll take her riding in it instead of his friends."

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

By RUSSELL KAY

There is a tremendous building project underway in Putnam County on a 320-acre tract bordering the St. Johns River. You won't find this operation listed under "building permits," but each individual unit is more important and more meaningful to the future of the state and the nation than any construction job being accomplished with concrete or steel.

Congress Works Hard

By SID HERLONG

Winding up a session of Congress always means extra long sessions of the House and Senate more committee meetings, efforts to get pet bills up for consideration, compromise where wide differences of opinion exist, and the like. We are starting into that period now. The House has been meeting early most of the time and running late. Under the rules of the House, committees are not supposed to meet when the House is in session without permission of the House. Any member of a committee that is meeting when the House is actually in session can make a point of order that the House is in session and force an adjournment of the committee meeting. In the rush to get bills approved, however, not many members are objecting to committee meetings when there is no vote imminent in the House. There is just no other time to do the work.

Tobacco Sales Open At State's 4 Marts

By The Associated Press

Tobacco sales opened today at Florida's four markets—Lake City, Live Oak, Jasper and High Springs—with indications price and poundage will be close to last year's.

Warehousemen say the volume may be off at the start. Many growers haven't completed curing their crop because of the early opening and late season, but production is expected to pick up within a couple of weeks.

The Florida openings were simultaneous with those in Georgia. The two states make up the Georgia-Florida fine-cured belt which produces cigarette leaf.

Florida's largest and oldest market, Live Oak expects about the same amount of tobacco as last year's—11,212,940 pounds. Last year's total there in both years was $5,814,292, an average of $51.72 a hundred pounds.

Tobacco men at Lake City look for prices to approximate 1952's average of $51.72. They say the quality is as good or better than last year although County Agent Neil Dukes estimates the yield may be off, but not more than 10 per cent.

At Jasper, some warehousemen look for six million pounds to move through there, an increase of a million.

This is the first year of operation for High Springs in Alachua County. The leaf has been coming in history for the Georgia-Florida belt, first annually in the nation to begin sales.

The belt's growers may pocket more than 75 million dollars by the season ends. Last year, farmers selling at Georgia's 19 and Florida's tobacco markets tucked away nearly $1 billion of the nation's crop.

"The only thing I can think of," said one panel member, "is for the wife to go to work, save up enough dough to buy her husband a new car—and hope he'll take her riding in it instead of his friends."

Appeal Is Filed In Citrus Mutual Case

WASHINGTON (AP)—An appeal from an examiner's ruling in the anti-trust suit against Florida Citrus Mutual has been filed with the Federal Trade Commission.

Joseph E. Sheehy, director of the anti-trust bureau of the FTC said he filed the appeal five minutes before the FTC official closed yesterday.

The hearing examiner approved June 15 a motion by mutual attorneys that the anti-trust suit against the Florida cooperative be dismissed. The suit against Mutual charges the group with price-fixing.

Yesterday was the final day for filing an appeal, which now will be considered by the entire trade commission.

wide attention among buyers and press. Designed for the average figure and priced for the average budget, this group of dresses and costumes follows the slim line of the season, but eases the straight and narrow silhouette just enough for comfort.

Typical of the easy-to-wear costumes shown is one consisting of chiffon-weight tweed dress in charcoal gray, with a coordinated jacket in lightweight nubby tweed. The jacket has a fitted line and a smooth look through the shoulders; the dress is slim, but the skirt allows ease for walking.

More extreme and definitely striking is a sheath dress embroidered all over in black sequins, trimmed with a white satin neck-line bow.

Ben Zuckerman also previewing his collection for the coming year, today, shows a distinguished collection of suits, coats and costumes featuring all variations of the jacket silhouette from the short box variety to fitted, semifitted and belted tunic styles.

He features both bulky fleeced tweeds and a lustrous satin-finish flannel that looks like broadcloth. Others showing in today's scheduled lineup included C. A. Olyn Schurrer and Uleg Cassini.

1. Be natural. Don't try to make yourself look older or more sophisticated. Your husband-to-be would like you to look like the girl he proposed to. The day before the wedding is no time to try to change your personality.

Orlando Players Take Top Bridge Honors

By WILSON LANDREY
Two Orlando players, Mrs. Ira Kiehl and Mrs. Auld Freeman, walked off with top honors in last night's duplicate bridge play at the Sanford Woman's Club. They came through with a score of 107 when average was 78.

In second place with 93½ were Mrs. E. E. Anderson and Mrs. J. R. Adams, who have been making a practice of finishing in the money during the past several weeks. Mrs. T. C. Brown and Mrs. Joe Moss were third with 91.

The hand illustrated below, which came up in last night's play, is a good illustration of the technique employed in developing entries.

South contract on the subject hand was two of three diamonds, but three optimistic Norths managed to overtake 3NT. The opening lead in all three cases was the spade jack and two declarers proceeded to make their contract by proper handling of the diamond suit.

1. Wear the cuffure with sweetest of remembrance. Don't experiment with new handsets now.
2. Choose a dress that is right for you. If it is true to read the ad, don't select a wedding dress, but select a wedding dress that will be on the mind of the sales and room maids. Take your mother or close friend with you. You will get expert advice from someone who knows you. Young girls should stick to simple, plain, rather than fancy overdone outfits.

3. Be practical about your trousseau. If you have a budget to furnish, and the income is to be small, select your garments sensibly, so that they may see service later.
4. Jewelry and accessories should be selected carefully. Long-dropping earrings, elaborate necklaces and jangling bracelets are inappropriate for a bride. If you plan to wear jewelry, select simple pieces. Pearls are traditional for brides, unless you happen to have a jewel box of diamonds in the family safe.
5. Your nails should be lovely at this time, because your hands will be up for inspection for quite a while after the ceremony. In your wedding ring is admitted. If you to find the King once, or twice, guarded in the West hand, winning the opening lead with the Queen, he leads the eight of diamonds and lets it ride to East's Jack. The declarer is now helpless, West plays the king on the first until a later lead from the South hand brings out the welcome sight of the diamond King.

The point of the hand is that declarer must postpone an intended (though unnecessary, in this case) diamond finesse until the second round of the suit, because of the absence of entries to the North hand. No other line of play will produce nine tricks, and conversely, no defense by the opponents will reduce the hand of West plays the king on the first diamond lead, declarer ducks; if West plays low and East refuses to win with his Jack, he merely sacrifices a trick.

Keeping an eye out for similar situations will sharpen your game and earn you some jury top honors.

office hot foot on a stage, producing scene. Women like realism in their humor, real life in their theatrical. Women would find it wonderfully funny if the Duchess of Windsor and Claire Boothe Luce turned up at the same time in the same imported, expensive hat. They think it's hysterical if father, on a midnight ice-berg, enjoys a dog-food sandwich.

Shirley Booth, one of the most adroit actresses of our time, has been studying reactions of audiences to humor for years, and may just have come up with a clue on the subject. Currently she's playing in a comedy, "The Time of the Cuckoo," on Broadway, and she remarked after a matinee that judged by the reactions of audiences, an entirely different play was produced for evening audiences. The difference, of course, is that matinee audiences are largely composed of women, night audiences are not.

"The matinee audience is much more down to earth," she said. "And as a performer, you want and need a fast, quick reaction. But I've decided that women are less likely to laugh at men and take their cue from them, than a little more to direct humor at men, where humor is concerned, catch it like a tossed ball and immediately throw it back as laughter. Women are much more responsive. They catch the humor, then take it to their minds where they match it up with some experience of their own. If they can relate it to something, they laugh."

Men don't need to do that relating, and apparently women don't have to either when they are with men. It may be they laugh with the man, but they don't then think it over later.

This necessity to personalize, one way or another, could explain the average woman's lack of appreciation for political jokes, and stories starting, "Did you hear the one about...?" Radio producers long ago, in soap operas, discovered the importance of attention to women because as women other women would like to be and the menaces are women other women can get up on a good personal hate for. Such a line may be followed in their humor.

Most Women Believe Implicitly That They Have Sense Of Humor

By CATHIA LOWRY, AP Newfeatures Writer
Do women have a sense of humor?

This short question, in various forms, seems to have provided fuel for masculine and feminine discussions for a long time. One man fractured his friends with the first former's daughter joke.

Through the ages, a few things relating to this subject have been made abundantly clear. Most women believe implicitly that they possess the cherished quality and, in any argument on the subject, can silence the opposition by asking pointedly how they have been able to survive in a man's world without being able to laugh things off. Also to most women it is something short of a compliment to be charged, however admiringly, with having a sense of humor "just like a man's." Finally, most women think it's pretty funny, actually, to hear a man's complaint that women can't laugh at themselves, each female has a memory of some hilarious episode when her accident was the center of an anecdotal but comical, and met a grim faced and wounded.

However, there are some indications that men and women, while they both laugh, tend to think different things are funny. Men seem to be more interested in jokes for the sake of their in-betwixt humor whether it is an

Church Circle Has Meet At Chuckley Home

The Lake Mary Circle of the Longwood Baptist Church met Tuesday at the home of Mrs. A. J. Chuckley in Lake Mary for its regular monthly business meeting. An interesting program was presented by Mrs. C. C. Holley. Mrs. A. J. Broadway Chorus Girl Found Slain In Apartment

NEW YORK (AP) — The nude, bloodied body of a lovely blonde singer, 22, was found in her West Side apartment today by police who went there after reading a man's suicide note.

The young woman, Florence Forsberg, vocalist in the chorus of the Broadway hit, "Wonderful Town," had been beaten about the head and stabbed and there were marks on her throat, police said. The death note was written by Lester Johnson, 25, who police said apparently killed himself with a rifle in his own bedroom about two miles away.

The note said: "I killed Florence Forsberg" and it gave her address, 34 West 65th Street, just off Central Park. Dr. Jerome De Crosse, of Roosevelt Hospital, said she appeared to have been dead three or four hours when police found her.

Remmie Arnold Is Elected Potentate Of Mystic Shrine

NEW YORK (AP) — Remmie L. Arnold, 59, of Petersburg, Va., today was elected the 64th imperial potentate of the Ancient Arabic Order Nobles of the Mystic Shrine for North America.

His election at an executive session later was hailed by more than 1,400 Shriner and members of their families gathered in the crowded grand ballroom of the Hotel Commodore in tribute to the leader of more than 700,000 Shriners in North America.

Arnold, who succeeds Harvey A. Boffa, of Moolah Temple, St. Louis, said he expected to spend most of the next year — starting Aug. 1 — visiting Shriners in various parts of the continent. He said his trips would include visits to 1,100 crippled children in 17 hospitals operated by the Shrine, the 16 Shrine associations, Hawaii, Cuba, the Canal Zone, Puerto Rico and Canada.

Contempt Citation Is Sought Against Stubborn Witness

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Government Operations Committee voted today to ask the Senate to cite Harvey O'Connor, a witness before Sen. McCarthy's investigations subcommittee, for contempt of Congress.

O'Connor, a writer who resides in Little Compton, R. I., refused at a hearing of the investigations unit Tuesday to say whether he was a member of the "Communist conspiracy" at the time he wrote books McCarthy said were used in the State Department's overseas libraries.

Deaths Of Father, Son Being Probed

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Police today investigated the deaths of a father and son who apparently succumbed to an overdose of sleeping pills.

Dead are William Norman Jupp, 62, director of the Palm Springs Desert Museum, and his son, Anthony J. W. Jupp, 23, former announcer for a Pittsburg, Calif., radio station.

Chief of Police J. S. Davis termed it a "possible murder and suicide or a double suicide." He ordered autopsies.

The body was in the disarrayed bedroom. Otherwise, police said, the apartment was neatly arranged.

Deputy Chief Inspector James B. Leggett said the young woman, about 25, had been stabbed in the chest and abdomen. Several hours later police said they still had not found a weapon. No motive for the slaying could be learned immediately.

The Actors Equity Association said a Florence Forsberg was born in Fort Francis, Ont., and that she entered the United States from Canada in 1946.

Novelist Dies From Fall In Fireplace

GUILDFORD, England (AP) — Ill-aimed Bello, 82, poet, novelist and historian, died today from burns received when he fell into a fireplace at his home Sunday.

Bello was one of the literary giants who dominated the decades at the turn of the century. Through two generations, beginning in 1896, Bello's facile but meticulous pen poured out a seemingly endless cascade of brilliant essays, novels, histories, poetry and light verse. Altogether he wrote 153 books.

He was born in France, but became a British citizen in 1902. Always a fervent Roman Catholic, Bello was once described as a "genially pugnacious protagonist of the Catholic faith in English literature."

Many British critics regarded Bello as one of the most polished masters of the English language.

Navy Officer's Court Martial Is Transferred To Pensacola

CHARLESTON, S. C. (AP) — The court martial of Navy Lt. Cmdr. Jeffrey F. McDaniel has been transferred to jurisdiction of the chief of naval air training at Pensacola, Fla.

No trial date has been set for McDaniel, facing three charges in connection with an allegedly lewd show at Key West, Fla., last winter.

A Sixth Naval District spokesman announced yesterday that McDaniel's request for a change of venue was granted by Rear Adm. Heber H. McLean, district commandant.

McDaniel is charged with conspiracy, willful disobedience of an order, and conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman.

McDaniel, 37, a native of Gulfport, Miss., was personal officer at the Key West Naval Air Station when a stage show was presented for Navy personnel last February. A chaplain caught the show "lewd and lascivious."

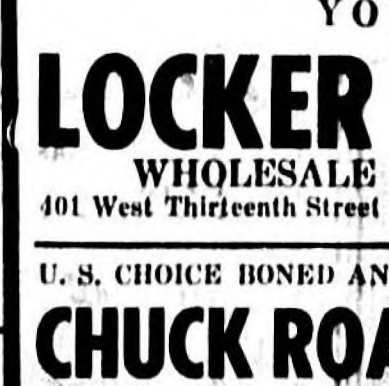

The same incident resulted in four Navy enlisted men being convicted and sentenced. Two other enlisted men are yet to be tried.

Miami To Move City Offices To Dinner Key

MIAMI (AP)—The city of Miami plans to vacate the downtown skyscraper Dade County courthouse and move its offices to the Marina at Dinner Key.

City commissioners voted 3-2 yesterday to move to the Marina, located 4 1/2 miles from downtown Miami, after the building is remodeled at a cost of $70,588.

Mayor Charles J. Scenicchia said the county commission agreed to allow the city to retain small offices for tax and license collections in the downtown building, which also will continue to house the city jail.

Mayor Scenicchia and Commissioners Robert H. Givens Jr. and H. Leslie Quigg voted for the move while Commissioners Perrine Palmer Jr. and William M. Wolfarth opposed.

Commissioners agreed that the city should look to the location of a city hall downtown or a civic center at some location outside the business area.

The Marine adjoins the sprawling Dinner Key auditorium, where many big conventions are held.

Talmadge Unhappy With Ike Thus Far

MIAMI (AP)—Georgia's Gov. Herman Talmadge says he is disappointed in President Eisenhower's first six months in office.

"A continuation of the present rate of taxation—as advocated by the President now—means, in effect, a raising of taxes," the Georgia governor declared during an interview on arrival in Miami for a brief vacation.

"If that is the case, that has been a success, then it is time to terminate it," he declared. "If it has been a failure, then it is high time we got off from it."

"Sometimes I wonder who are making the biggest loss out of our four enemies of our allies."

Kidney Slow-Down May Bring Restless Nights

When kidney function slows down, many of the body's organs, including the heart, lungs, stomach and liver, get out of sync. This can lead to a variety of health problems, including high blood pressure, heart disease, and kidney stones. It's important to get your kidneys checked regularly, especially if you have a family history of kidney disease or other health conditions.

Cocoa Beats Cards, 12-8, On Nine Unearned Runs In 4th

J. C. Dunn Blasts 14th, 15th Homers; Redbirds Play In Jax Beach Tonight

After an hour's delay and a large sprinkling can conflagration at second base, the Sanford Cardinals finally began their game here last night on a wound-up operations close to midnight, losing 12-8. It wasn't much of a game for the fans who left before the curtain dropped in the ninth, since Cocoa capitalized on four Sanford errors to parlay six enormous runs in the fourth inning.

The few die-hard among the 650 admissions last night who stayed to the bitter end at least got their money's worth and the satisfaction of seeing eight Sanford runs come in while the locals rolled up 14 hits to Cocoa's 10.

Manager J. C. Dunn ignited the Sanford spurt with a solo homer to lead off the seventh. It was Dunn's 14th circuit smasher and cut the Cocoa lead to only 12-1. Bill Harris and Bill Samuels followed with singles. Tony Barone, who was to make his hurling debut in the ninth, doubled to right-center scoring Harris.

Paul Corbett, the third Sanford groundsman, stroked to fill the hole. After Bill Batty fled to right, Ben Benedict drove a long double off the right centerfield fence scoring Samuels and Barone. Bill Silverthorne and Tommy Leonard went out to end the seventh.

While Corbett cooled off Cocoa in the eighth, Sanford cut the Cocoa huge to 12-5 in the home half on an unearned run. When Corbett walked the first batter in the ninth, limping Tony Barone took the hill and drew a large hand by firing a strike across on his first pitch. Barone then demonstrated how the game should be pitched, retiring the first three men in order.

After winning pitcher Virgil Frazier threw out Silverthorne in the ninth, Leonard finally collected his first hit, a single to right. Dunn stepped to the plate, having treated Frazier like a cousin all night, promising a homer for a 350-foot home over the left-centerfield barrier for his 18th of the year, scoring Leonard before him.

Harris doubled to the fence and tallied on Samuel's sharp bing into left. Barone walked and Ernie Palmeri popped to Domingo Velazquez and the game in a pinch hitting role for Corbett.

As the drowsy fans filed slowly out, they at least had the satisfaction of seeing Dunn take a commanding lead in the home run department. Dunn's 15th circuit drive placed him in the league lead, four more than his nearest rival—Ed Levy.

Sanford actually blew the game in the fourth. It began when Luke Fidler led off by reaching first on Samuels' throw into the ground on an infield roller for the first error. Paul Smith, starting and losing pitcher, threw a benefit for Frazier. No. 2 Gene Calloway drove in Fidler when Batty slipped trying to throw to the plate. Andy Caldwell reached first on Smith's second throwing error.

Dunn had enough and called

St. Louis Cards To Hold Tryout Camp Tomorrow

Tomorrow morning the St. Louis Cardinals will open a two-day tryout camp at the Memorial Stadium at 10:00 o'clock for boys between the ages of 17-23 in the Central Florida area.

Veteran player and St. Louis Scout Mercer Harris will conduct the tryouts with the assistance of Sanford Cardinal Manager J. C. Dunn and some of the Redbird players.

All youths are requested to report to the Memorial Stadium with their own baseball shoes, mitt and uniforms if they have them. The Cardinals will furnish the balls and bats for the workouts.

All expenses incident to attending the Sanford tryout camp will be refunded by the Cardinals to all players who are signed to Redbird minor league contracts.

St. Louis stars such as Del Rice, Harvey Haddix and Wilmer "Vinegar Bend" Mizell are products of the St. Louis Cardinal farm system discovered in similar tryout camps.

According to St. Louis Farm Director Joe Mathes, the Cardinals pioneered both the tryout and farm systems in baseball. As a result the experience they have gained is being put to work for the ball players and the Cardinal organization.

After tomorrow's session, another tryout session will be held in the Memorial Stadium at 10:00 o'clock Saturday morning.

DeLand Wins Again As Cade Takes 7th

By The Associated Press

DeLand's Red Hats continued to press their challenge for the Florida State League lead last night with unperturbed Daytona Beach kept right on winning too.

The Hats are two games off Daytona's pace, same as they were a couple of weeks ago. Since then each club has won nine of 12 games.

Orlando fell before DeLand on the strength of three unearned runs on three errors in the first inning after the Hats had nicked Wall Spruse for two of their seven base hits. The pitching decision, his eighth without a defeat, went to Jack Cade who gave up eight hits.

Everytime B. L. Perkins Sr., owner of Perkins Men's Store, goes to a baseball game he loses his shirt. . . . At least that's what he says figuratively speaking. Mr. Perkins is awarding a free sport shirt to every Sanford Cardinal player who hits a home run in the Memorial Stadium.

Just the other day Manager J. C. Dunn strode into Perkins' store and almost walked out with all the sport shirts. . . . According to Perkins, Dunn hadn't collected his prizes in nearly a week and the week's total was three homers and three flashy sport shirts.

Bill Batty's single in Cocoa Tuesday night was his 100th of the season. . . . Bill now belongs to that select circle of four Cardinals with 100 hits or more. . . . Other members are leader Tommy Leonard (131), Skipper Dunn (119) and Bill Silverthorne (106).

Bill Batty ... Skipper Dunn ... Tommy Leonard

Last year's club, playing 134 games, has had several of its records broken by the Sanford Cardinals in only 90 games so far. . . . The Blues hit only 23 triples while this year's Cards have rapped out 31. . . . Bill Batty and Manager Dunn have accounted for seven each surpassing Frank Smith's leading figure of six for 1952.

In the double department, the Blues whacked out 160 while the Redbirds have drilled 131, 29 less. However, at the present clip the 1953 Sanford edition will pass the 1952 total before the season ends.

Zany "Bootsh" Coderre To Entertain For Local Fans In Memorial Stadium

Zany antics and hilarious fun will be the keynote for tomorrow's game between the Jacksonville Beach Sea Birds and the Sanford Cardinals at the Memorial Stadium. The occasion is the arrival of Daffy "Bootsh" Coderre, rookiest clown sensation who has had them rolling in the aisles and spitting their sides with mirth all season.

While the fun is planned preceding the regular Florida State League championship game, local fans and citizenry will be able to get a sneak pre-view in the downtown streets of Sanford tomorrow afternoon.

"Bootsh", who is making quite a hit throughout the country this year in his maiden season of spreading laughs, set a single game attendance record one Sunday afternoon in Rochester, N. Y., last month.

Equipped with all the gimmicks of a baseball clown, "Bootsh" will show the pros how easy it is done by using a mitt as big as the hood of a small car. Like many other of his predecessors, he has a complete repertoire of gags and stunts.

Tickets to this special event will go on sale all day at the Cardinal downtown ticket booth on the corner of First Street and Magnolia Avenue.

The arrival of "Bootsh" will touch off "Clown Night" at the Memorial Stadium tomorrow night. Only a week from tomorrow evening, the Sanford Cardinals will play the Lakeland Pilots here on the big bargain "Merchants Night." About 4,000 free tickets will be distributed to customers of We're happy to have with us a new resident of the Sanford area...

The Rev. Bascom Jr. is superintendent of the Methodist Children's Home in Enterprise. He comes here from the Tampa Heights Methodist Church and is the same friendly type of person as the man he replaced, the Rev. Charles Thompson, who was returned to the pastorate of the St. James Methodist Church in Palatka. He is married, his wife's name is Violet, and he has eight children, who is a "happy" although his real number is Bascom Jr., and a daughter Evelyn, age four. The Rev. Carlton says a new building is soon to be started on the lakefront for boys 10 to 12 years of age, and there are additional plans for several cottages to replace the larger buildings at the home.
