

C & O Rail Head Forecasts Layoffs In Industry In '49

CLEVELAND, Dec. 30.—(AP)—A senior vice president of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad says the entire rail industry will experience layoffs next year. Ross Marshall, the official, said a slimmer business volume would affect both passenger and freight traffic. He made the statement yesterday as the C&O announced 3,000 additional employees would be laid off by the first of the year. The line previously had let out 2,500 workers. The New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad also announced an "extensive" reduction in personnel, but did not divulge the number involved. At Norfolk, Va., "the usual season curtailment" was announced by the Virginia Railway. No figures were released. Marshall said the main cause is a decline in business volume which began in November. Pointing out that the C&O was a coal-carrying road, he declared it loaded only 3,650 coal cars Tuesday compared with 5,000 to 5,500 daily "before the slow-down."

Air Guard

(Continued From Page One) called the air guard, "a growing concern, a proven enterprise of merit that could render a good account of itself in combat right now." The Federal Air Reserve is "a stepchild of the regular service, a paper organization with very little training of any kind," Col. Gould said. He contended federalization would substitute "the reserve idea" for the present Air National Guard, "a paper in being." "We can't see why they want to scrap a going organization for an idea that has proven a failure so far," he added.

Dutch War

(Continued From Page One) The "police actions against the Indonesian republic were geared to meet a time table. The Dutch have occupied all major republican cities in Java and have linked many of them. They have informed the United Nations Security Council they will order a cease-fire in Java midnight tomorrow. In Sumatra—the most valuable natural resources area of the Indies—they are rushing to link Dutch-held territory in the north and south. Their time table calls for a cease-fire in Sumatra two or three days after Java. The Dutch always have claimed occupation not only of places where their troops actually are but also of territory between their columns. Inasmuch as the Indonesian new line Java is appearing likely they would claim control of all the island by the deadline. The same way be true in Sumatra. A six-nation consular commission called back to activity by the Security Council to observe the Indonesian scene, held a preliminary informal meeting. A committee said the purpose was to consider "means of complying with the Council's resolution."

(Continued From Page 1) bill to the House floor for a vote. This, Sabbath, would prevent the committee from bottling up labor and civil rights bills—such as fair employment practices, anti-lynch, and anti-poll tax. One function of the rules committee is to decide which bills are to be sent to the House floor and to recommend procedure for floor consideration. Some new deal-minded legislators contend that Republicans and Southern Democrats on the group have teamed to make it a citadel and conservatism. Sabbath, alluding to that view of the committee's complexion, said he has been assured he is going to get some additional Democrats on the Rules Committee "that are going to be all right."

Catholics Act

(Continued From Page One) The action was reported to have been taken by the Sacred consistorial congregation. The decree was said to have closed all offenders in this case under "infamous" terms. The terms of the laws which would mean the crime involved was on a level with rape, heresy, and simony. Simony is illicit traffic in sacred things. The condemnation is pronounced under the canonical law specially reserved to the Apostolic See. This means that the offenders can be forgiven only by the Holy See itself. This such a condemnation ranks among the highest degrees of excommunication and expression of the church's anger. The Roman Catholic Church excommunicated all who had anything to do with the conviction and imprisonment of the head of the church in Yugoslavia, Archbishop Alojzije Stepinac, in 1946. Stepinac was sent to prison for 10 years by the Communist Yugoslav government on charges of wartime collaboration with the Germans.

"The Negro Committee is pledged to raise $1,000 and we must not fall short," said Dr. Ringling.

"It is rather peculiar," Hebert said, "that two members of the committee who have been such well known transgressors of the principles from which these rules and regulations were promulgated should appear in public as champions of the procedure."

German Trials

(Continued From Page One) sentence last Tuesday for killing her sergeant-in-chief, is appearing to the highest military government court in Germany. She will challenge military government's right to try her under German law and without a jury. The court which convicted her rejected a similar challenge. Mrs. Mary Mimna, Chicago, recently won a reversal of her two-year suspended sentence for shooting and wounding Pvt. Willie B. Mimna. The review board held she was not subject to the German law under which she was tried. Despite that ruling, German law will be invoked also in the trial of Mrs. Florence Wallace of Jacksonville, Fla. She is accused of wounding Sgt. Herman Wallace with a pistol last Oct. 14. "We are convinced that German criminal law does apply to American civilians here," said Thomas C. Laminan of Boston. A military government district attorney. "So we are invoking German law in charging Mrs. Wallace with an attempt to kill," Laminan said. Mrs. Wallace also is accused under military government law of assaulting a member of the occupying forces and unauthorized use of a live arm. But the military government code contains no laws to cover specifically such civilian crimes as murder, manslaughter, assault. That is why the military government courts fall back on German law, which they claim has been partly incorporated into the military government code.

To his people, in particular, and the world at large, the Chinese president made what seemed to be a bid for peace. It left him an opening and also a chance to blame his implacable enemies, the Communists, if no peace is forthcoming.

In a statement on the 30th anniversary of the founding of the Chinese republic, the national president said: "The military situation has entered upon an exceedingly perilous stage.

Red-Yugoslav Trade Slashed By Soviet Union

Cut Is Reported Because Of Hostility Of Premier Marshal Tito's Government

MOSCOW, Dec. 31—(AP)—Soviet Russia announced today her trade with Yugoslavia will be slashed in 1949 to one eighth this year, total because of the hostility of Premier Marshal Tito's government.

This was explained in a Russian announcement of a new trade pact signed by the Soviet Union's ministry of Foreign Trade and a visiting Yugoslav delegation Monday.

"In view of the unfriendly policy of the Yugoslav government in relations with the Soviet Union, which have made impossible the maintenance of usual economic cooperation between the USSR and Yugoslavia, the Protocol (pact) imposes a reduction in trade turnover to one-eighth as compared with 1948," the announcement said.

It was distributed by Tass, the official Soviet news agency. (The announcement did not state the value of Russian-Yugoslav trade for either 1948 or 1949. This was accused by the Russian led Communist in June of failing to follow the Communist line. He told his parliament Monday Yugoslavia will sell her goods to the West, if the Slav bloc nation, but to honor their trade agreement. Such Western trade, in fact, already exists: Britain, Italy, Sweden and Sweden deal with Yugoslavia. The U.S. State Department has expressed interest in developing a sound trade with Yugoslavia, as well as other countries.")

New Year To Be Ushered In By World Hoping For Better Days

Happy New Year to All—From Coast to Coast

NEW YEAR, 1949 will not arrive everywhere in the United States at the same time. While celebrations on the eastern seaboard will be saluting the magic hour of midnight, people in the middle west will have yet an hour to go, mountain folk will still be on their way to their year end parties and citizens of the Pacific coast will still be primping up for the big event. Three hours later, when New Year comes in the western seaboard, mountain folk will be about ready to call it a night, and watermen will be seeking their way a trade unsafely homeward and the good people of the eastern seaboard will have retired. "We hope, we hope, we hope!"

Rails' Future Is Brightened By '48 Activity

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31—(AP)—House sponsors left with the long 80th Congress today a broad bill that a "rapid expansion" will be operating in this country.

And in the morning 81st House of Representatives, the Un-American Activities Committee pleaded for continued life so it can continue to look for any activity which may have "looked through the security" with "reluctantly" with all years.

That was the gist of the committee's final report, prepared by the committee when the new Congress meets Monday. Democrats will take the group over in an announced effort to continue its work.

The committee's report was packed with fresh revelations, most of them obtained from star witnesses, Whitaker Chambers, admitted former Communist spy, and the reference was to a spy ring which the committee said operated here as late as 1946.

"We have no evidence to indicate that the operations of this spy apparatus do not continue to the present time," the report said. "The committee knows that there are Communists in government today."

During the 1948 Chamber was "running a veritable espionage production line out of the State Department and other departments of the government, the output of which was being furnished to the Soviet Union by a half-dozen transmission men."

Texas Is Out To Show Georgia They Are Not 3rd Rate Team

AP Newsfeature
MIAMI, Fla. — If the University of Texas is as long on football as its fans are on loyalty, the University of Georgia is in for a hot time New Year's Day in the 15th Orange Bowl classic.

Miamians were disappointed when the Orange Bowl committee invited the Texas Longhorns to oppose Georgia's Bulldogs in the annual grid spectacle.

And they said so. Miami Herald Sports Editor Jimmy Burns accused the Orange Bowl committee of "scrapping the bottom of the football barrel" in selecting Texas.

The word got back to Austin, Tex., and things began to happen. Burns and other columnists were flooded with letters from the Longhorn loyal. They not only defended their team, but did it in such a convincing manner that Miami now is quite pleased with the choice.

Wrote J. Norman Beard from Austin: "Your criticism may serve some good purpose. Texas will be fired up to the point of playing Georgia right off its feet. Don't be too surprised if the 'hot team of the barrel' team present you with a seat of honor at the pollsters' cross-ticking picnic."

The controversy grew so hot that a group of Miamians tried to promote a "double header" game the night following the classic in the Bowl. It died, however, when "suitable opponents" couldn't be found.

Georgia is ranked a seven point favorite over the Texans, but if the Longhorns are not any better it may be recorded as an even match by the opening whistle.

Football experts along the Pacific Coast have taken on a new glow of optimism about the California Bears' chances against Northwestern in the 25th edition of the Rose Bowl game.

The switch from platoon to a play was most noticeable about about midway the afternoon of Dec. 4 when the experts' opinion of Bear Coach Lynn Waldorf saw a great Notre Dame team scramble to gain a 14-0 victory, a vastly underrated Southern California Trojan offense.

That "moral victory" was a real one. It was the first time in the coast's college football and the next immediate reaction was that the game Notre Dame team defeated Northwestern, 12-7, and the Trojan eleven was set down by the Bears of Berkeley, 12-7.

The actual scores mean little. The main point is that a much maligned Pacific coast team was able almost to whip a powerhouse Irish outfit.

Prior to this separation, most observers agreed that California would give Northwest an exciting battle and might even whip the Wildcat. But few were prone to go quite that far, recalling as they can't forget the baffling rout of the coast conference in the two previous Rose Bowl encounters with the Big Nine. (1946, 46-14; 1947, 14-0; 1948, 48-0). It just wasn't safe to bet against the Nine team.

In its one appearance in the section, Northwestern looked exceptionally stout in the Cotton Bowl of last year. Methodists play the game.

Some of the fans made the mistake of leaving the stadium in 1947. That year they were marching out when Texas Christian had SMU down 7-0 and the Methodists backed up to their one yard line with less than two minutes to play. In came Johnson. Three passes and one run set up 99 yards and SMU got a tie with 16 seconds to go.

Nation's Football Bowl Game Roundup

JACKSONVILLE, Dec. 31 (AP) — Clemson College, undefeated and ranked in 1948 and the University of Missouri, only competitor of Southern Methodist, meet tomorrow in the fourth annual Cotton Bowl football game.

Missouri, although headed by Ohio State and Oklahoma, is rated seven and a half points better than perfect season Clemson.

Don Finney, Dynamic Missouri coach, is understandably unhappy about the favorite's odds. He points to Clemson's 19 straight wins this year and says any team that good would be the choice.

Clemson Coach Frank Howard looks the underdog role of course. He emphasizes what the odds mean, apparently used in figuring that Missouri is heavier and played tougher competition week in and week out.

About 30,000 fans will see the game and they're looking toward an offensive duel between Missouri's underdog offense and Clemson's Tailback today Gage.

Gage, the triple threat back who has paced the Purple and Orange through the year, has been confined to his hotel with a sore throat since Wednesday. Clemson officials say this is an emergency precaution to prevent the threat from getting serious and Gage will be fully ready tomorrow.

Most of the passing will be done by Gage and Eastminger. Both do plenty of running and led their teams in total offense. Both also are good defensive backs and will get a chance to show their all-around ability.

Rick, a wildcat Gage in the running game, is a member of a group of Clemson players, Wingfield, Taylor and Eastminger, who are being watched by the Football Press.

Lincoln's chief helpmates are L. Brooks, Dick Brazzel, Steve Carras and speedy little Mike Ghirony.

Missouri's first string line is higher and rates slightly better than the Clemson front wall. The midwesterners are deeper in reinforcements as far as numbers go, but Clemson reserve linemen look a little closer to the first string over all.

TAMPA, Dec. 31 (AP) — St. Thomas and Missouri valley were content with light workouts here today to keep muscles limber for the Cigar Bowl football contest tomorrow night.

Both squads were in excellent condition and ready to go after the last of their rough practice sessions yesterday.

All injuries had cleared up and St. Thomas will even have the services of Fullback Stan Martin for the first time in two years.

There was little to choose between the teams. The Missouri Valley Vikings showed their merit in the Cigar Bowl last Jan.
