Determined Minority May Block Passage By Utilization Of Un- limited Debate Rule

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—(INS)—The administration's plan to make a $150,000,000 Christmas present to American income tax payers in the form of tax reduction faced opposition in the Senate today, after the House had enthusiastically endorsed it by an overwhelming vote.

Although Republican and Democratic leaders alike in the Senate have pledged their support to the measure, a determined minority may attempt to block it by making use of the unlimited debate rule of that body.

The tax reduction resolution was passed by the House after three hours and a half debate on the fourth day of the new session—a record even for the House where the power of leaders and the rules make possible much faster action than in the Senate.

Sen. Brookhart (R) of Iowa today appeared to be the leader of the Senate opposition, and he predicted that he would guide much progressive support. Sen. Norris (R) of Nebraska, a power among the progressives, has indicated that he would not oppose it.

The Iowa senator declared that he would fight the plan on the ground that the Treasury can not stand the cut and provide adequately for the farm board and the capitol debt plan written into the tariff bill by the Senate.

Nevertheless, Sen. Smoot (R) of Utah, chairman of the Finance Committee, was prepared to report the bill without delay, and Sen. Watson (R) of Indiana, majority leader, predicted its passage before Christmas.

Administration leaders are especially anxious to pass the bill before Jan. 1, since it applies to incomes of this year. Early passage, it is said, will greatly aid the Treasury's plan for collection of income taxes.

"I believe the tax reduction is more of a political catch than anything else," said Brookhart. "I agree strongly with the statement made in the House by Sen. Hammons of Iowa, when he pointed out that the reduction may bring about a deficit. I particularly agree with him in his statement that its passage might be used to defeat the capitol debt plan and deprive the farm board of necessary funds."

"If there is to be a tax reduction, I do not believe that $200,000,000 should be applied to the corporation tax unless the tax is graduated."

Hammer failed in his effort to arouse the House "farm bloc" against the bill. He pointed out that the capitol debt plan is estimated to cost $150,000,000 a year, and that the farm board may need $300,000,000. The Treasury, however, says that the farm board will get $200,000,000 next year, even if there is tax reduction.

Liner Rescues Crew Adrift in Atlantic

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—(INS)—Once again the sea was cheated of its prey today when the White Star liner Baltic, inward bound from Europe, duplicated the rescue enacted by the liner Republic yesterday and snatched the crew of another derelict Newfoundland schooner from seemingly certain death in mid-ocean. This time it was the crew of the fishing schooner Northern Light. According to a terse wireless message from the Baltic's master, the five were rescued in a pounding sea at 8:30 A. M. today. One of the men aboard the Northern Light lost his life by drowning.

HOOVER ENDS HIS BUSINESS MEETS AT WHITE HOUSE

Turns Job Of Keeping U. S. Prosperity Over To Business Moguls

By George H. Holmes
International News Service
Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—President Hoover turned over to big business itself today the job of keeping the country prosperous and employed during the winter.

In the most remarkable series of maneuvers in White House history, starting with the President's first group conference and culminating in yesterday's mass meeting of the business and industrial giants of the country, Mr. Hoover believes he has demonstrated the underlying soundness of the nation's business structure, and succeeded in restoring the confidence that was so badly shaken by the succession of stock market recessions.

Having accomplished this, which was all he set out to do, the President now considers his part of the job to be finished. He has put the government in the vanguard of the expansion movement, and pointed the way. Now it is up to business itself to carry on.

His parting advice to the business leaders who gathered here at his call was "Go to work. And, by inference, forget the stock market."

The assembly of some 400 of the most important business executives of the country here—the like of which Washington never saw before—revealed that the great basic industries of the country expect 1930 to be a normal, or better than normal, year.

One after another, steel, railroads, utilities, coal, construction, oil, and manufacturing leaders arose and assured the conference of their intention to proceed with billions of dollars worth of improvements and expansion during the year.

The railroads are going to spend more than $1,000,000,000 in buying equipment and extending branches, in 1930; the construction industry looks forward to an $8,000,000,000 year; the great electric and gas utility count on $2,000,000,000 worth of expansion; and so it went all down the line.

The composite picture presented by these statements and estimates took on a rosier hue by the time they had finished. As viewed by government officials, the chief value of yesterday's gathering was the mutual assurance given by independent industries that there is to be no retrenchment in 1930. Thus any uneasiness that might have been felt in the steel industry, for instance, was allayed by the assurance of construction leaders, automobile manufacturers and railroads that their requirements next year are to be normal. The lumber people, cement people, and manufacturers in many lines were similarly assured.

The hundreds of executives drawn to Washington for yesterday's epochal session were scattering to their homes today after a day of hard work.

HOT RESOLUTION PASSED

LONDON, Dec. 6.—(INS)—Arriving to an Exchange telegraph dispatch received from Riga today, Moscow and China passed resolutions protesting that the great powers were not minding their own business and declaring that the Soviets were strong enough to repulse the British shysters, the French coupon-cutters, and Italian traitors and the American bluffers.

BOND SOLUTION STILL UP IN AIR AFTER MEETING

Special Conference Of Commissioners And Financial Agents Is Minus Productivity

At a special meeting of the City Commission held yesterday morning at 10 o'clock in the City Hall, the Commissioners, together with a group of Sanford citizens, sought to come to some definite conclusion with representatives of the City's bondholders concerning the payment of Sanford's bonds in default. Two suggestions, as possible solutions of the present dilemma were offered, but neither was agreed upon.

The first proposal was offered by the representative of the bondholders, in which it was suggested that they send a man to this city to act as a "fiscal agent," in which capacity he would have authority to dictate policies to the City Commission concerning the collection of taxes and paying liens, and the distribution of the City's funds. To this suggestion the Commissioners objected. But at the same time they thought they were willing to let the bondholders to send a representative here to investigate the situation and to suggest a possible solution, and that they would assist him in every way possible, but would not consider giving him any authority in controlling the affairs of the city.

Mayor Vivian Speer suggested that a committee be appointed, consisting of three members, one named by the bondholders, the second by the City Commission, and the third to be either selected by a state official or to be named by both the Commission and the bondholders. The gentleman representing the bondholders refused to consider this proposition.

Following the rejection of both the suggestion of the visitors and the one offered by Mr. Speer, the meeting came to a close. The bondholder's committee then left the city for Orlando, it was stated.

Present at the meeting were Mayor Speer, Commissioners R. A. Newman, Frank L. Miller, S. H. Chase, and W. A. Leffer, City Clerk F. S. Lamsan, Bond Trustee H. J. Lohman, Bond Trustee Ralph Wright and Frank Woodruff.

The representatives of the bondholders were: C. T. Dehl, Kenneth M. Keefe, Albert C. Mittenhoff, and Natl. T. Wagner.

Seymour Lowman Is Sent Queer Pictures

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—(INS)—Every morning in the mail, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, Seymour Lowman, in charge of prohibition, receives a copy of a picture of Henry Virkola, killed a customs agent.

The picture depicts Virkola, in an International Falls, Minn., by his coffin. The gruesome reminder of this incident which attracted national attention is daily mailed from Brooklyn, N. Y.

At periodic intervals Lowman also receives a picture of the mother of Arthur Gordon, killed by a customs agent near Plattburgh, N. Y., kneeling at the grave of her son. Both men were suspected of having violated the customs laws and failed to stop when ordered to do so by customs agents.

Consulate Building Of U. S. Being Guarded

WARSAW, Dec. 6.—(INS)—The building housing the American consulate here was heavily guarded today following violent communist demonstrations before the consulate.

The rioting was attributed to high feeling among communists against the United States resulting from the exchange of notes between Secretary of State Stimson and acting Soviet Commissioner of Foreign Affairs Litvinoff on the Sino-Russia situation in Manchuria.

Pittsburgh To Play U.S.C. In Rose Bowl

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Dec. 6.—(INS)—Pittsburgh University will play University of Southern California in the great East-West game in the Pasadena Rose Bowl, Jan. 1, 1930. This was officially announced today. The contest became a certainty upon receipt of a telegram by Gwyn Wilson, graduate manager of the University of Pittsburgh officials—accepting the invitation that was forwarded late last night. "I am happy to name Pittsburgh as our opponent for the New Year's Day game," Wilson declared today, "for it will assure the football public of an opportunity to see one of the strongest teams in the country in action. Pittsburgh was invited after careful consideration which included such candidates as Tulane and Tennessee. We did not approach Purdue because of the western conference ruling forbidding non-conference games; while at no time was Notre Dame considered, the game a year with the Irish is enough—and this season it was one too many," he finished with a smile.

BANKER'S DEATH FROM GUN SHOT IS QUEER PUZZLE

Chauffeur States He Knows Slayer But Won't Tell Identity

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Dec. 6.—(INS)—Efforts by the authorities to penetrate the web of mystery and get behind the scenes surrounding the shooting of L. S. Parks, 65-year-old real estate dealer, were spurred on today following the death of the banker almost a week after he was wounded.

Parks presumably was shot in the intersection of two of the busiest streets in town while in his car and pedestrians. Yet no one had been found who heard the shot. Jack Pugh, 21, the banker's chauffeur, declared when he was arrested Saturday night that he did not know his employer was shot until he removed his coat after the drive through town.

Later, however, the chauffeur changed his story and declared that a man leaped upon the running board of the automobile, struck a gun into the invalid carter's side, fired and disappeared in the crowd of shoppers in the downtown district. No one else, however, has been found who saw the man.

After hours of grilling by the authorities, Pugh admitted that he knew who shot his employer but that he would not tell because it would "create a scandal."

The crime was reported by a cook in the Parks' home after she took in the Parks' home after she (Continued On Page Six)

CHINA FACING SERIOUS CRISIS IN HER AFFAIRS

Rebel Activities, Deser- tions And Looting Present Alarming State Of Things

LONDON, Dec. 6.—(INS)—With strong rebel forces closing in on Canton, with government troops engaging in wholesale massacres, and with looting by deserting troops ravaging the province, the present national government of Chiang Kai Shek today faced a serious crisis, according to dispatches from the Far East.

According to reports from Shanghai, nationalist troops rebelled against the new national government, Nanking, disarmed the local garrison and engaged in extensive looting before fleeing to Peking.

These they were reported to have joined the 20,000 troops who remained at Peking, across the Yantse River from Nanking and then fled in commotion at the fall of the Tientsin-Peking Railway.

The rebels are now reported to be concentrating to resist the divisions of nationalist troops in a part of them by China. The rebel troops, however, had expected to send south to the defense of Canton where they were in a minority.

The entire Yantse Valley army is in a state of confusion. Many of the mutineers have organized into bands, intent upon looting and are ravaging the countryside.

Nationalist forces at Peking are reported to have rebelled also. It is reported that the nation's army is doing the same on another front. It is reported that the nation's army is doing the same on another front.

The events of the past few days appear to confirm reports current at the time of the Peking mutiny that the outbreak was part of an organized plot to overthrow the national government.

Since there have been so many reported mutinies and desertions it is estimated there are at least 100,000 troops in arms against the government, including those now attempting to capture Canton.

Sanford Children May Write "Santa" In Herald Columns

With Christmas Day less than three weeks away, The Sanford Herald today invited its columns to local youngsters who wish to write to Santa Claus and tell him just what they want him to bring to their homes on the morning of that every child terms "the most important day of the year."

Beginning tomorrow, The Herald will publish each day as many of the letters received as possible. Every child in Sanford and the surrounding community is urged to send in their request to Saint Nicholas, but each must write his or her name and address to the letter so that the driver of the "reindeer team" will have no trouble in locating the little writer's home.

About this time each year in the past The Herald has received hundreds of such letters from local children, but it was only last year that it was decided to publish the letters in the paper. Upon this decision scores of letters were received, and much interest was centered in the various requests of what each little boy and girl wanted for Christmas.

The Herald hopes that every boy and girl in the community will send their letters to Saint Nicholas in care of the local office. The kind old gentleman with the long white beard, and red and white suit, will be given the letters in plenty of time before he makes his annual trip down the chimney of each house.

Messages and Papers of the Presidents.

Mrs. Knight further announced yesterday that a number of new books had been received. The following works have been added to the library list:

QUIZ CONTINUED INTO SLAYING OF BIRMINGHAM MAN

Gambler Shoots Real- tor Alleged To Have Held Up Dice Game

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Dec. 6.—(INS)—A coroner's investigation into the slaying of A. M. Seary, secretary of a local real estate association, in what police called an attempt to hold up a dice game being on in a downtown hotel, was resumed here today.

Meantime James Davis, who admitted he was a professional gambler, was held in jail pending the completion of the coroner's inquest. Police quoted the gambler as admitting that he fired the shot which killed the real estate man.

Investigation was started last night, immediately following the killing, by Coroner J. D. Ross. To-morrow showed that Seary was snatched and carried to a room, entered the hotel room, which was furnished with dice, and played dice, and then he was shot.

Davis, testifying at the inquest, said he grabbed a pistol from his pocket and gave chase to Seary just as the latter turned away from the door of the room. He overtook the man, he said, after he had run into a fire escape.

"I fired five shots at him while he was trying to get to the roof," Davis testified. Davis surrendered to police when they came upon the scene. Davis told the coroner that Seary had played dice in the room prior to yesterday.

One of the two bullets said to have been fired by Davis penetrated Seary's left side and he died enroute to a hospital.

The dice game had been going on for five or six hours prior to the hold-up, according to Davis, who also declared the dead man had "dropped $25 or $30" in a similar game Wednesday.

Four other men, who admitted being present at the game, substantiated Davis' story of the hold-up, but denied being witnesses in the actual shooting. Seary's body was identified by relatives and employers after it had had an unobscured establishment for several hours.

Chicago Apartment Is Wrecked By Blast

CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—(INS)—A four-story brick apartment building is in ruins today and 16 persons are injured, one perhaps fatally, as the result of a dynamite bomb explosion which shook Chicago's South Side last night.

Described by police as being the largest bomb exploded here thus far, the blast demolished a barber shop, a grocery and a cleaning and dyeing establishment. The bomb was the 10th set off in Chicago this year.

Frank Morello, 41, was severely injured; Daniel Cavelli, assistant state's attorney, was seriously cut by flying glass.

Beyond getting that they believed labor racketeers were responsible for the explosion, police were unable to shed any light on the blast. The damage is estimated at over $50,000.

Preston's fate was sealed last night when a jury returned a verdict of guilty in Judge William Fulton's court here after more than three hours' deliberation. The defendant's unsuccessful defense was based on the plea that he beat and strangled his companion while under the influence of poisonous liquor.

Pennsylvanian Barred Because Of Exces- sive Expenses And Graft In Election

His Campaign Cost 800,000.00 Dollars Vote Of 58 To 22 Put End To Long Battle To Be U. S. Senator

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—(INS)—After a three-year battle over charges of slush funds in his primary and ballot frauds in his election, William S. Vare, the Republican boss of Philadelphia, was finally denied a seat in the Senate today.

The Senate's verdict required Vare to private life even though he won Pennsylvania's 1928 senatorial election by an official plurality of nearly 300,000 votes.

Despite his victory at the polls he never won a senatorial vote, since the Senate barred him at the start in March, 1927, by refusing him the oath of office. His only personal appearance in the chamber, came today and Wednesday when he went upon the floor to make a personal plea for his seat—a plea permitted under a special rule of courtesy, but which was promptly ignored by the Senate. He returned today to witness his own defeat.

The Senate barred Vare on the grounds of excessive expenditures in his election, the Vare organization having been credited with $800,000 of expenses in his primary three years ago, and on the general ground of corruption in his election.

The vote was 58 to 22. Shortly after denying Vare his seat, the Senate also rejected the claims of Wm. H. Wilson to it. Wilson, who was secretary of labor in Woodrow Wilson's cabinet, was Vare's Democratic opponent in the 1928 election, and brought a contest to the Senate, claiming that fraud and corruption entailed him to victory.

The net result of the Senate's double-barreled action is to create a vacancy in the Senate from Pennsylvania, which Gov. John J. Fisher can fill by Appointment. The vote deny a Wilson was 60 to 15.

Vare sat silently on the floor of the Senate while the vote was taken. He was accompanied by his personal physician, Dr. John J. Shaw. In the gallery were his wife and his daughter.

As the Senate pronounced its doom, Vare arose slowly helped by his physician and limped painfully out of the chamber. Just as he reached the door, Senator Schell (R) of Minnesota, the 14th senator, stepped out and put his arms around the Philadelphian. Schell hugged Vare for a moment, speaking a word of encouragement and then Vare departed from the chamber in which he has fought for three years for a seat.

In another gallery overlooking the Senate, Wilson sat with his attorney and heard his fate pronounced a moment later with similar calm. When the Senate likewise barred him, Wilson just as quietly arose and walked out of the chamber.

In the vote counting Vare, 25 Republicans, 32 Democrats and one farmer-favorite voted against the Philadelphian while 22 Republicans and no Democrats supported him.

With both the Vare and Wilson cases settled, the Senate immediately took up the long pending tariff bill.

Jim Jeffries Reveals His Likes And Dislikes About Business Of Prizefighting

By Lee Lewis
International News Service
Special Correspondent
LOS ANGELES, Cal., Dec. 5.—James J. Jeffries, former world heavyweight boxing champion, has his ideas, "likes and dislikes" of this fight business, and when asked to express his opinion of present-day fighters he shoots back an answer that frequently carries as much sting as those short right-hand punches that brought him fame more than two decades ago.

In company with Frankie Campbell, 47 San Francisco, Italian-American heavyweight, the writer visited Jeff at his Burbank ranch, and during the ensuing chat gleaned many frank expressions of "the days when—"

Campbell flattened Alex Rocco at Hollywood stadium recently and as a result won for himself the prize of the former champion.

"Is Campbell too small to become a successful heavyweight?" was the question put to the fight-rancher.

"If—no," came the curt reply. "Bob Fitzsimmons was always skimpy in build, but he gave me some of my toughest battles. If he'd had 20 more pounds I really believe that he'd have knocked the devil out of me, and he's the only man that I ever felt that way about."

"Has Campbell the makings of another Dempsey?"

"That depends upon himself. Jack was great, different, though, from Fitz, Corbett and Sharkey, and I hope that he never is as foolish as I was to try that one-back racket. I did it, you know, when I met Johnson at Reno, and six years away from the game was too long."

"You many fighters today are nothing but cheap actors. They want to do a song and dance and get away with it. Campbell showed me that he is willing to get in there and take a chance just to put over a punch."

"This boy can stop any man in a can hit, and for this reason he must take hold of himself. I am not a rabid prohibitionist. I've had my drinks, but that was liquor was liquor and not containing fluid. Drinking for fighters now is like drinking to the hilt."

"This fighting game is a business in which a fellow must work in on and then get out of, according to Jeff, who says that his eyes have not been dimmed through the years.

"A fighter, if he wishes to be a prize must never take any opponent lightly. Jeff continued "They're all tough, and anyone who, even though he is the best in a division, never should let his guard down. That's why I'll never be a great prize fighter. The fellow who gets that kind of notoriety has to be around the corner, or he may be hiding out in the sticks."

TULANE TEAM IS SEEN AS ONE OF MOST VERSATILE

Green Wave Has Won Nine Straight Without Defeat Or Tie

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 5.—(Special)—The Green Wave of Tulane University, champions of the Southern Conference for 1929, were acclaimed as one of the most versatile playing machines in the history of Dixie football.

Winning nine straight games without a defeat or tie, the team of Coach Bernie Bierman employed every known method of football to crush its opponents. A running and passing attack stopped Texas A. & M., a punting attack beat Georgia Tech, straight running plays whipped Mississippi A. & M. and end runs demolished Auburn, a plunging game decided the Georgia contest, line sweeps beat Sewanee, and overhead flings crushed Louisiana State.

In every game, with the exception of the Texas A&M affair, the Wave's sways impressed the spectators as having plenty left in reserve to shoot at the opposition if the situation demanded.

This versatility may be accounted for in the analysis. Tulane boasted a great line with every man in the forward wall a star. H. Hand and Dabrymple formed a great pair of flankmen, both line in blocking and their opponents and in catching passes.

Hammack, Armstrong, Banker, Glover, Hugh Whalley, Maxwell and Hall all were capable passers and all good pass receivers. This gave the Wave a big dozen passers of the first calibre and eight pass receivers, counting the star end.

Then, for running attack, Banker, Armstrong, Sewans, Pizzano, Glover and Whalley were all star ball carriers while Hammack had the ability to catch the opposition's passes, with short line jobs.

All of these men ran with great speed and blocked well for the other. Banker, Sewans, and Pizzano also could hit the center of a line with telling effect and ran the line.

Punting brought out another class of great players, Banker, Dwyer, Glover and Maxwell all kicked the ball average well a long and a longer punter in the kicking other, Sewans, Pizzano and Maxwell specialized in the kicking.

On the defense, the Green Wave were a great team. White's football team in the first game of the season against the Texas Aggies, a pass defense, Bierman revised his pass defense entirely. When he had made that time used his team to block the ball down, he turned to a pass and a pass defense, using the "T" back 4-3 defense. The "T" back 4-3 defense is a new one. The "T" back 4-3 defense is a new one. The "T" back 4-3 defense is a new one.

JAPAN PLANS BIG CELEBRATION ON OPENING TUNNEL

Engineering Feat Has Been Ten Years Under Construction

TOKYO, Dec. 5.—(INS)—Opening of the Shimizu Tunnel, which will be the greatest of its kind in the Orient when completed, will be celebrated with elaborate ceremonies by the Government, Railway and Railway Ministry before the end of the year.

The famous tunnel, between the island of Honshu and the island of Kyushu, has been under construction for more than ten years, and is expected to be opened before the end of 1931.

The Shimizu Tunnel, about 100 miles long, will be 1,000 feet deep from both ends, and 1,000 yards have now been excavated from the northern end and 1,000 from the southern end. Only 100 yards more than 600 yards remain to be tunneled.

The tunnel's feature of the opening ceremony will be the blowing out of the first blast of earth between the two tunnels. This will be done by the Minister of Railways, Mr. Yonai, by passing a button on his back to Tokyo. The event will be the first of its kind in Japan and is being watched with much interest in the various Japanese papers.

The tunneling of this tunnel which will be between Tokyo and the northwest of Japan is expected to have a substantial effect on the price of rice produced on the great plain, several express trains, six ordinary trains and several fast freights will be run daily through the new tunnel.

The Tama Tunnel on the Tokaido line near Gotohama is the most difficult engineering feat yet attempted by Japanese railway engineers.

The length is also about five miles long, but the volcanic nature

DEDEGE WILL HAVE HOMECOMING OF OWN IN MIAMI

Magic City Youth To Return To Familiar Scenes On Saturday

By Frank S. Wright
GAINESVILLE, Dec. 5.—(INS)—Deluge, young tackle of the University of Florida, is going to have a little homecoming of his own next Saturday in Miami. At that time, as he sometimes is called, he is a Miami boy, and he has been in town since he played in a football game here, the home town folks. The news of his return to his home town will be a great opportunity to show his college tackle in his native town. He is not expected to start the game, but he will be called upon to see a big portion of the burden of halting the powerful Pacific coasters.

A. W. Jorg in Leland, Ga., on January 26, 1927, and then from the early years of his life. Some of the present day specimens of South Georgia will proudly tell you that a youngster by the name of Delege could pull more fish out of Ocean Pond, and bag more game on a weekend hunt in the Okefenokee than any lad that ever graduated from a college in the 12-gauge hot gun.

But it was in Miami, in the shadow of the great Madison Square stadium, where the "Gators" and Webfoolers fought next Saturday, where Alvin Minor Dodge first won his athletic fame.

An injury kept him from putting his football letter in 1924, but he was a basketball star the next year, playing center. He went to Riverside in 1925 and played outstanding football and basketball. Riverside defeated Sidney Lanier of Macon in the 1926 A. A. grid champion in a game, and Delege's play at tackle was a big factor in basketball, he reached peak form, being elected as All-Georgia prep center, and in the year-final game with Sidney Lanier, carrying 21 points.

At returning to Miami High in 1926 and 1927, he led the football line when he was selected as an All-Southern and All-State tackle. His final game that year—the last he played before home town victory, resulted in a 2 to 0 victory over Duval High of Jacksonville. Al went back to Riverside in 1927 and won letters in football

Liner Makes Rescued Of Crew In Atlantic

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—(INS)—News of another epic rescue of the sea was flashed through the ether from the mid-Atlantic today.

The United States liner Republic, inward bound from Europe, picked up the captain and crew of all of the Newfoundland schooner Gander. D. A. swept out to sea in the violent gale which carried more than half dozen vessels to destruction early this week.

The Gander Deat apparently was one of the Newfoundland fishing fleet which was caught in the storm soon after setting out from St. John's, Newfoundland, on Monday. Fifteen of these schooners were swept out to sea. A few of them fought their way back to port, and the crews of others were rescued by boats put out from the Newfoundland shore.

Got His Chance

BOSTON, Mass., Dec. 2.—Twenty-two years ago, P. P. McCarthy left high school and went to work in the stock exchange as a messenger. When he came to work the other day he was informed that Phillip W. Wren, head of a brokerage firm, was about to transfer to him a $10,000 seat on the Boston Exchange.

A Lesson In Geography

Time was when most grade schools confined their curricula to the three R's, reading, 'riting, and 'rithmetic. Later geography was added and for a few years formed a rather important part of the average child's school life.

For we find him late in his high school career describing a "Korean" as a spider with six legs, Dalmatia as a camel with one hump, and Sudan as an inclosed automobile.

Such mistakes as these in fact are not unusual. The Review of Reviews has recently concluded its ninth annual test of high school students throughout the country to ascertain their knowledge concerning prominent cities, nations, rivers, and mountains.

Glenn, the California banker, was identified by a Kansas boy as "a state in Cuba". Mt. Etna, he said, "is in Asia". Albania, it was frequently pointed out by New York boys, "is a city in New York near the Hudson River".

A Michigan boy answered that both Geneva and San Juan are cities in Mexico and identified the Barbados as "kings of Russia". An Indiana boy proved very cautious.

Florida Wins Again. Over here in our neighboring county of Lake, they grow 'em, not bigger and fatter, but certainly healthier than anywhere else in these United States.

Other girls who competed against this Lake county girl should give a thought to Florida's climate and environment. Or at least their parents should. People who live in the congested districts of New York where impure air is all there is to breathe, or in New England where they have seven different kinds of weather, most of them every day.

J. J. HALDEMAN IN HIS talk before the Exchange Club yesterday spoke of his faith in the future of aviation. Called to Kansas City by a group of business men there, Mr. Haldeман was given tentative plans for aircraft development that a few years ago would have sounded visionary.

UNCOMMON SENSE BY JOHN H. BAKE. In an office where I once was employed, a young man whom I then considered as able as was brilliant.

He wouldn't take back his old job when he lost his new one. "But," I said, "what could be the matter with a job that man like this?"

"You have him wrong. He isn't brilliant except superficially. All that had is a 'fritterer'." "What do you mean by a 'fritterer'?"

"A fellow who fritters his time away on this thing and that and never gets really interested in anything. This lad could make a great impression. He could talk about things, but he used other people's words, not his own."

"He dabbled in science and in politics and in whatever was new, but he never took the trouble to learn anything definite about any of them."

Prohibition And Law Enforcement

BY HERBERT HOOVER

The first duty of the president under his oath of office, is to secure the enforcement of the law. The enforcement of the law enacted by the eighteenth amendment is far from satisfactory and this is in part due to the inefficient organization of the administrative agencies of the federal government.

There should be an immediate concentration of responsibility and strengthening of administrative agencies of the federal government by transfer to the department of justice of federal functions of detection and to a considerable degree of prosecution, which are now lodged in the prohibition bureau in the treasury; and at the same time the control of the distribution of industrial alcohol and legalized beverages should remain in the treasury.

The District of Columbia should be the model of city law enforcement in the nation. While conditions here are much better than in many other cities, they are far from perfect, and this is due in part to the cooperation of criminal cases in the supreme court of the district, resulting in long delays.

Under the authority of congress I have appointed a national committee on law enforcement and administration for an exhaustive study of the entire problem of the enforcement of our laws and the improvement of our judicial system, including the special problems and abuses growing out of the prohibition laws.

Boston University Is Expecting Great Season For Hockey

BOSTON, Dec. 6.—(INS)—With all but two of the veteran team of last year returning, Boston University expected much this season from its hockey team. Only two men from last year's sextette have been lost. They were Sid Silberger, goalie, and former Capt. William Gibson, defense, who have completed their four years of varsity hockey for Boston University. Noting that the B. U. team has before it one of the best schedules in its history and one of the fastest and most experienced group of stick-handlers ever on its lineup, Head Coach Wayland P. Vaughan anticipates a championship season.

A fast forward line with Dick Lombard for center and Ben Currier and Holmes Whitmore on the flanks will compose the advance guard. The second set has Hal Barron in the center and Jacob Arkin and Leo Borodsky on the wings. Bo. Elliott on the right and Buck Bergholz on the left make up the third strong defense. Charles Sumner, and Buck West are two of the first string substitutes. Bert Grossberg will take Silberger's place in the net this year with Bob Goodale as his understudy.

Massachusetts Tech, which has been added to the B. U. schedule for December 12, tentatively completes the meetings for the season. The opener with the University Club comes on December 6 at the Avenue, and then in the order named run games with Yale, Harvard, Brown, Dartmouth, Harvard, New Hampshire, University Club, Princeton and Williams.

Extra MILES in GUM-DIPPED CORDS

THE car owner does not see the cord fabric but it is the substantial framework that carries the load and withstands the burden of all the strains that are thrust upon the tire.

Every cord in the carcass of Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires goes through liquid rubber. This process gets rubber into the cord just as a dye penetrates and covers every fiber of the cloth that is dipped into it.

The rubber in Gum-Dipped cords makes them last longer because of the reduced friction inside of the cords, themselves, and the carcass or framework of the tire will also be longer lived.

Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires have extra reasons for their ruggedness and durability. You'll be surprised at their low cost! Come in today.
