

Boy Scouts Visit Chattahoochee . . Forest

The second report has been received from Herald Reporter Jane Caselberry who is spending her vacation with Caselberry Boy Scout Troop 341 on a camping trip to the Great Smoky Mountains. Written from Jollytown recreation area in the Chattahoochee National Forest, Cornelia, Ga., and just as our Jack wrote it, it reads:

Several people have inferred I have to be a little crazy to make a trip like this with a bunch of Scouts, so you won't be surprised to hear that we are in Chattahoochee National Forest, that is!

We arrived at Cornelia late Monday afternoon and drove up into the forest where the hot and weary travelers cooled off in Lake Russell.

Later we set up camp in a beautiful forest glade at Nancytown recreation area which, since we ignored the "Read Closed for Repair" signs, we virtually had to ourselves.

There was no trouble getting to sleep as the cool air and mountain stream lulled us right off into dreamland.

Bright and early the next morning, a confirmed snake collector Billy Dempsy, whose mother has laid down the law against his bringing home any more specimens, set off on another type expedition . . . this time to hunt salamanders.

In no time at all he had a salamander hunt organized in Mt. Airy Creek with most of the boys joining in the fun.

Our camp here proved so refreshing and entertaining that Scoutmaster Ted Daniel decided we would stay over an extra day to give everyone a chance to explore the area. The creek provided a continuous source of fun for the boys and, in addition to hunting salamanders, they built dams, waded and swam. A big log forms a dam blocking the stream and the cool water cascades down and over the rocks creating natural shower baths.

Revenue agents were by during the afternoon to ask if we had seen any moonshine stills while out hiking. It seems they raided one in this vicinity only yesterday. (Was it our imagination or did they take a second look at the copper tubing running around the bus which connects the gas tank with the refrigerator? . . . ?)

Two of the "Bills" . . . Danders and Dempsy . . . entertained us Tuesday night with an impromptu skit presented around the campfire. It took the form of a press conference with Dempsy as a Russian cosmonaut and Danders as an astronaut wise-cracking answers to questions from the audience.

We plan to break camp early tomorrow (Wednesday) morning and head for the Smokies!

Estes Kefauver Honored By U. S. In Final Rites

MADISONVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — A nation's leaders and just plain mountain folk gathered in this east Tennessee hill country town today to pay their final tribute to Sen. Estes Kefauver, "friend of the little man." Funeral services were to be brief and simple.

"Just a simple service," said the widow of the Tennessee Democrat. "Estes liked simple things."

Kefauver, 60, vice-presidential candidate in 1956, strong threat for the presidential nomination four years earlier and 15-year Senate veteran, died Saturday near Washington of what doctors called a massive heart attack.

Mrs. Kefauver and their four children were to fly by presidential jet from Washington.

Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson was expected to lead the list of dignitaries.

Barnett Moves Against Negro

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI) — Gov. Ross R. Barnett has moved to block the graduation of James H. Meredith from the University of Mississippi next Sunday. Meredith termed Barnett's action "purely political."

Barnett, who personally barred Meredith from the school for a time last fall, asked the school to withhold the Negro's diploma until an investigation of certain anti-segregation statements Meredith is alleged to have made.

Meredith is scheduled to receive his bachelor's degree Saturday.

Venezuelan Ex-Dictator Awaits Extradiction For Embezzlement

MIAMI (UPI) — Marcos Perez Jimenez, who once ruled Venezuela with an iron grip, waited in a jail cell today for extradition to his homeland on charges he embezzled $13.5 million from the national treasury.

A Venezuelan plane was scheduled to arrive in Miami today with a delegation of 15 government officials to escort the one-time dictator back to his homeland and a "speedy trial."

Secretary of State Dean Rusk ended Jimenez' long fight against extradition Monday when he ordered the former strongman extradited at the request of Venezuelan President Romulo Betancourt. It was not immediately known if a paternity suit against Jimenez would delay the plane's return, but one Venezuelan official said he did not see how a state court suit could supersede the federal ruling.

Jimenez, the bespectacled major general who ruled Venezuela from 1952 until his overthrow in 1958, had to post $300,000 bond for the mother and child in the event of his extradition.

Village Firemen Set Meeting

By Mona Grimstead

North Orlando Fire Chief Bill Hahn said today that he has many subjects to be presented for discussion at Wednesday's meeting of the volunteer department to be held at 7:30 p.m. in the Community Building at the Village Recreation Area.

The fire siren will sound at 7:30 p.m. as a reminder that the meeting is taking place.

Among reports to be made will be one by Hahn pertaining to services available from the Florida Forestry Service. Hahn said that he recently contacted the rangers who advised that they do not need authorization from him to add the community in the event of fire. Any call for help will bring fire fighting equipment and men immediately, he said.

Hahn expects to have a Seminole County Ranger as guest at the September meeting to explain operations of the Florida Forestry Service.

DeBary residents, who have long advertised the fact that they live in a "retirement community," say that they have only to attend one of the summer recreation sessions being sponsored for the young people by the Civic Association to realize that this is no longer true.

As evidence of increased interest in reading among the younger set, the Altamonte Springs Library notes that 216 juvenile books were checked out during the month of July as compared to 499 a year ago.

The Town of Casselberry should get a medal for the recreation program and center it is providing for its young people. Game and play areas are being established in several locations and a lot of equipment is going in at the Overbrook Street center. What's best, most of the operation is strictly volunteer.

The Herald's Bear Lake reporter, Mrs. Shirley Wentworth, is back from vacation and ready for those calls. Contact her at TE 8-1076.

The Sheriff's Department was turned down on its order for food supplies from the state prison farm, due to the recent law passed by the Legislature. Because about one-third of the counties in the state managed to get themselves excluded from this law, Seminole County Commissioners have threatened to "take it to court" if county food orders are refused. They have been refused. Now, what?

County Road Department still sweating out getting an access road into English Estates School through all that private property. "It's a mess!" exclaimed Engineer Bill Bush at commission meeting Tuesday.

County Engineer Bill Bush today in the state where we have to try to work our way around drain tiles, when we clean the ditches. It's a 50-year-old problem that has plagued road maintenance crews since the tiled celery fields were first created. The ends of the tile irrigation pipes stick out into the ditches and it doesn't take much of a bump to break one off.

Teachers, parents and students will be dismayed to hear the latest word from the State Road Department that there "isn't any justification for putting a traffic light at that 27th Street-Hwy. 17 road intersection." That's what the man said.

Wirtz Halts Rail Pact Try

Work Rules Program Now For Congress

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The touchy railroad work rules dispute appeared today to have been dumped back in the lap of a reluctant Congress.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz announced Tuesday night the collapse of collective bargaining talks he had been holding with union and rail negotiators.

Both Senate and House Commerce committees, which had been considering President Kennedy's proposal that the work rules impasse be settled by the Interstate Commerce Commission, suspended action pending outcome of Wirtz' attempt to get the parties to settle it themselves.

Collapsing of the talks indicated pressure would be back on Congress to step into the situation.

Both the railroads and the group of five rail unions involved accused each other of failing to bargain realistically.

The situation sounded considerably like it did late last month when the railroads agreed to postpone for 30 days imposition of new work rules that would eliminate so-called "featherbedding" jobs and practices and touch off a strike.

The moratorium on work rules changes ends Aug. 29. Hearings by the committees produced bitter union reaction to the administration proposal, which the railroads had endorsed.

It was this politically explosive reaction and subsequent comment from congressmen that more collective bargaining was in order that prompted Wirtz to organize the new talks more than a week ago.

City Millage To Stay At 18.5
Revenues will increase, but the city tax millage will remain at 18.5 for the next fiscal year, it was reported this morning by City Manager W. E. Knowles.

Knowles, who said he will present the tentative budget to the City Commission by this weekend, reported the budget will be approximately $1.25 million for the year.

He said increased taxes on such items as cigarettes, alcoholic beverages, etc. added to an anticipated increase of $14,000 in ad valorem taxes, will bring about the added revenue.

The millage will be broken down to 12 for operating expenses and 6.5 for indebtedness.

County Commission members were continuing their budget studies today and Chairman J. C. Hutchison said this morning it is expected a tentative budget will be approved some time this afternoon.

Architect John Burton IV said construction work will be commenced about Sept. 1.

Union Leader Blasts Forced Arbitration

"Call the proposed law by any name you wish and it still adds up to compulsory arbitration."

This was the comment today of C. A. Peacock, Salisbury, N. C. special representative of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen (BRT), who is here to speak before the Junior Chamber of Commerce Thursday.

Peacock will present the union's side in the railroad controversy over "featherbedding" at an Atlantic Coast Line representative, Ray Bullard, presented the railroads' viewpoint to the Jaycees several weeks ago.

Peacock expressed regret that the dispute had been turned over to Congress.

"I also regret," he added, "that the circumstances which have acted to prevent a settlement. Above all, I regret that Congress is being asked to take punitive action of the kind proposed."

Peacock stated the legislation "would act to create the most drastic decline in morale every experienced by the American railroad workers," adding:

"I cannot find the words to emphasize strongly enough the havoc which could result from the action of this Congress if it were to pass this proposed legislation which is, in reality, nothing more or less than compulsory arbitration."

(Ed. note: The railroads propose to discontinue thousands of employees whose duties have been termed "unnecessary" under automation. The unions threaten to stop work if the railroads carry out this move. The question now is in a "cooling-off" period.)

Seminole County will deliver seven optional sites for the proposed East Central Florida graduate university to the State Board of Control.

County Commissioners met Tuesday afternoon with City Commissioners, Seminole County's legislative delegation and Chamber of Commerce long range committee on education members when the seven sites in this county were submitted.

County Engineer William Bush will deliver the proposed seven sites bids to the State Board before Friday, deadline for initial proposals. Brochures, detailing advantages of the sites, must be submitted by Oct. 7.

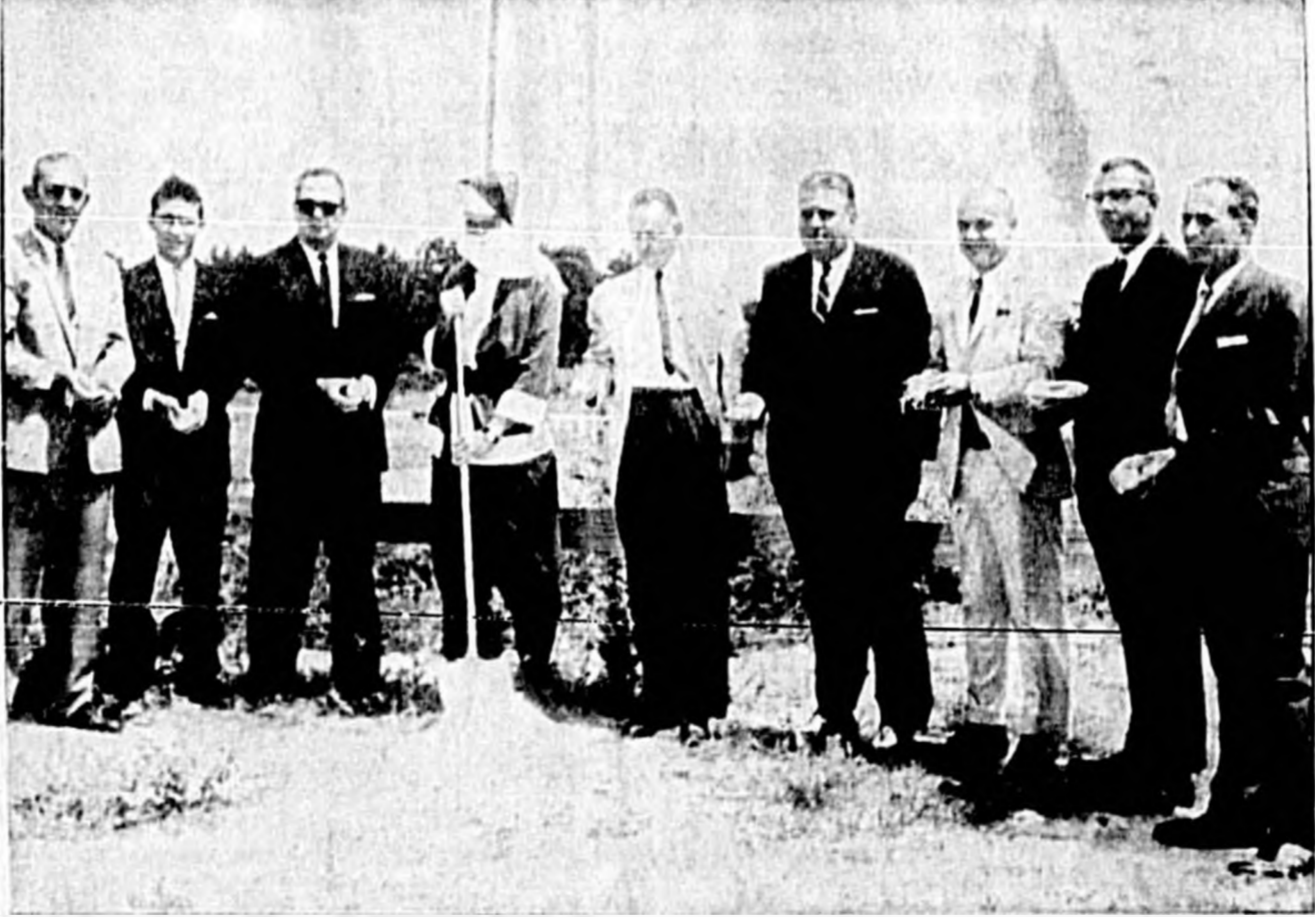

The state plans to review the brochures and select a number of desirable sites for inspection by the Control Board members before Nov. 1. Final decision will be made after the Nov. 3 statewide bond election.

Wallace Considers Presidential Race

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — Gov. George C. Wallace hinted Tuesday that he may enter some presidential primaries next year.

Speaking on a statewide television hookup and surrounded by foot-high stacks of mail, Wallace expressed his views on running in presidential primaries in Maryland and other states said: "We will consider the pos-ability of going into these states and presenting the views of our state. We will think about it seriously."

Wallace criticized the "growing centralized government" and told of his "very receptive" visit at the National Governors Conference in Miami recently.

He also commented on encouragement he said he received during a visit to Gettysburg, Ga., his appearance before the Senate Commerce Committee on the public accommodations bill and his appearance on a national television show.

He said he received more than 250,000 pieces of mail, mostly favorable to his stand against the Kennedy administration.

Friends To See Graduation, Says Meredith

OXFORD, Miss. (UPI) — James H. Meredith said today a "large number" of Negroes plan to attend graduation exercises at the University of Mississippi Sunday to see him receive a diploma.

Meredith, 30, is scheduled to receive a bachelor of arts degree in political science and become the 115-year-old university's first Negro graduate.

Meredith said his parents, who live on a central Mississippi farm, are planning to attend the exercises. He said his wife is recovering from an operation at Jackson and may not attend.

"But," he added, "a large number of my friends say they will be here."

Two developments could stand in the way of Meredith's graduation. One possibility, considered unlikely, is that he could receive a failing grade in any of his summer courses. The other is that university authorities could expel him.

Gov. Ross Barnett says Meredith has violated a university directive against making public statements likely to create disorder. The governor has called for State College Board to complete an investigation of the matter this week and determine whether "punitive action" is warranted.

Items which she listed as needed for the course include a baby bed and mattress; a baby bath; a covered diaper pail; a child's toilet; an electric hot plate for heating water; a covered large kettle or a bottle sterilizer; a small saucepan with cover; a large basin and six large and six medium sized bath towels.

VIENNA (UPI) — A Hungarian bus driver, angered by a sign showing a child pleading with motorists to "please look out for us," wrote a letter of protest last week to the Budapest newspaper Nepszava.

"As though we didn't always," his letter said. The next day, according to the newspaper, he ran over a small boy.

U. S. Testing Seen As Ammunition For China

MOSCOW (UPI)—Diplomatic observers today predicted that Red China would use the new U. S. underground nuclear test as a springboard for a flurry of attacks on Russia.

The Peking regime, deeply embroiled in an ideological quarrel with the Kremlin, has denounced the Russians for signing a partial test ban treaty with the United States and Britain. The Chinese claim Soviet agreement to the treaty is another divergence from Marxism-Leninism.

Diplomatic observers said the American low-yield test in Nevada Monday provided the Red Chinese with ammunition in its dispute with Moscow.

The Peking regime charges that the treaty, which bans tests in the atmosphere, in outer space and under water, is a "dirty fraud" that legalized underground testing.

The diplomats assumed the Chinese would point out to other Communist bloc nations and the non-aligned powers that the United States exploded its underground device only a week after the nuclear accord was signed in Moscow.

The Soviets have defended the treaty as a first step toward disarmament and proof of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's doctrine of peaceful coexistence with the West.

But the Chinese claim the treaty blocks other Communist states from improving their defenses while enabling the U. S. "imperialists" to build up their nuclear arsenal with underground experiments.

Peaceful coexistence is the root of the Moscow-Peking quarrel. Khrushchev believes communism will triumph over Western capitalism through peaceful competition, but the Peking regime advocates armed rebellion and anti-Western militancy to spread communism.

Rocky Continues Blast At 'Right'

ALBANY, N. Y. (UPI)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller continued his unofficial quest for the 1964 GOP presidential nomination Tuesday with a renewed attack on Sen. Barry Goldwater's failure to reject the support of "extreme right-wing elements."

Without mentioning the Arizona Republican by name, Rockefeller charged that the failure of responsible conservative leaders to disassociate themselves from the extremists "was a great disservice to the cause of conservatism itself."

In a letter to the New York State Young Republican Club, Rockefeller noted that on July 14 he had issued a statement repudiating the right-wing extremists' philosophy and tactics.

He said his attack last month was not against "the responsible conservative of our party. Extremists have nothing in common with responsible conservatism. They are in fact, its greatest enemies."

Goldwater is the leading conservative candidate for the GOP presidential nomination next year.

Nations Sign

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Nations of every continent and political system began signing the limited nuclear test ban treaty today and the United States expressed hope it will "lead to further and broader measures" solely needed to secure "a just and lasting peace."

Altamease P. Moore, Mr. McPherson Wed

By ROBERT R. THOMAS JR. (FA 2-5756)
A double ring candlelight ceremony united Miss Altamease P. Moore and Phillip McPherson in marriage last Sunday evening.

He is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. McPherson, Tallahassee.

The Rev. Leon Deveaux performed the double ring candlelight ceremony at the Church of God.

Earl E. Minott was organist, with Mrs. Evelyn Clark at the piano. Miss Effiea Hill sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, the daughter of Mrs. Alfreda Brown, was given in marriage by her grandfather, Coley Brown. The bride wore a gown of tulle over lace that extended in a full chapel train. The sweetheart necklines was outlined with lace applique. The applied cap held the two-tiered veil of illusion. She carried a nosegay of white carnations.

Miss Flossie Baker, Blountstown, was maid of honor. She wore a lavender taffeta dress with pleated skirt and scooped neck line bodice. A floral headpiece with circular veiling matched the dress. She carried a nosegay of pink carnations.

The brides attendants were Misses Luwanda Roberts, Barbara Andrews, Mildred Jenkins and Jeanelle Lawson of Sanford; Ethel Ardley, Tallahassee; Gwendolyn Green, Palatka. They wore dresses identical to the maid of honors but in pink and orchid with matching accessories. They carried varied colored bouquets of carnations.

Anthony Bryant was ring-bearer. Cynthia Myers, Sanford and Dalay McCarter, Palmetto, were flower girls.

Booker T. Lone, Quincy, was best man. Esthers were Willie Butler, Charles McCoy, Burnette Washington, Israel Black, Earl Myers, Joseph Wallen, Clifford Hurston, William Kirby, of Sanford, and Edward Williams, Tallahassee.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the bride's parents' home. The bride's table was covered with an exquisite rose lace table cloth. In the center was a three-tiered square wedding cake.

After a short honeymoon, the couple will reside in Palmetto where they both are employed.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. David McCarter, Palmetto; Mr. and Mrs. Otis Sims, Jacksonville; Mrs. Lola Miller, Appalacheola; James Leewood, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Brown, Tallahassee; Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Taylor, Daytona; Mr. and Mrs. John McPherson, Jacksonville, and Miss M. E. McCleary, Fort Walton Beach.

St. Paul Baptist Church was the setting for the wedding of Miss Shirley Kendrick and Stewart Baker Jr. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. B. Hodge.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Moses Brown, of Jacksonville, and the bridegroom's parents are Mrs. Isabella Baker and the late Stewart Baker Sr., of Sarasota.

Given in marriage by her stepfather, the bride wore a street length gown of organza over peau de soie, fashioned with a scooped neckline bodice, trimmed with French imported chantilly lace silhouetted under the organza. The gown had three quarter fitted sleeves. Her bridal veil was of white tulle trimmed in seed pearls. Her bouquet of white carnations was attached to a white prayer book which was a gift from her aunt.

Mrs. Katherine J. Thornton,

COLUMBIA, Pa. (UPI) — Paul Hornung, now on suspension from the National Football League for betting on his own team, can have a job with the Columbia Raiders if he wants it.

The semipro club wrote the former Green Bay star Tuesday, inviting him "to come to Columbia to discuss a contract."

of Sanford, was matron of honor and Miss Barbara Baker, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. They wore pink organza over silk taffeta street length gowns with matching accessories. Their head pieces were matching with semi-circular veils and they carried nosegay of light green carnations.

Leroy Johnson was best man and usher was Theodore Johnson.

Prior to the wedding, Miss Patricia Rae Merritt sang "O Promise Me." Earl E. Minott was organist.

Mrs. Brown, mother of the bride, was attired in a rose colored matelasse knit afternoon suit with beige accessories.

For their honeymoon, the couple will tour south Florida. Following this tour, the couple will be at home at 1019 Locust Avenue.

Mrs. Lillie Mae Harrison has returned home after spending two months with her daughter, Mrs. Erma M. Butler, of West Palm Beach. Mrs. Butler accompanied her on this trip. She will spend a few days here with her mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Brown, of Fort Myers, were recent guests of Mrs. Brown's grandmother, Mrs. Indiana Rock. Mrs. Brown is the former Mildred Rock Patterson, former teacher at Crooks High School. She is on the faculty of Dunbar Senior High School of Fort Myers.

Sgt. and Mrs. Gordon Phillips Jr. are visiting for a few days. He is stationed at Altus, Okla., with the 810th Medical Group. He is en route to medical school in Montgomery, Ala., which will convene for four months.

Rev. and Mrs. Lawrence Collins and family were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt McClain, Mrs. Collins' parents. Mrs. McClain informed me of Rev. Collins pastoring a church in Rochester, N. Y.

Doris and Bob Thomas motored to Ocala last Wednesday. They took their son, Darryl Keith, to "Six-Gun Territory" and Silver Springs. The trip to Six-Gun Territory was most exciting. Darryl enjoyed riding on the "Frontier Express" (a train, of course). Sanford Recreation Department will offer beginner's swimming lessons at Goldboro Swimming Pool Aug. 19-29.

All parents who are interested in their children receiving the free instruction must register their child at the swimming pool anytime prior to Monday.

Classes will be offered Monday through Thursday at 9, 10 and 11 a. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Perry and family of Washington, D. C. were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Cherry and family. Mrs. Perry, the former Cordell Williams, is the sister of Mrs. Cherry.

Meslames A. B. Douglas, Joie Allen, Jeanette Daniels, A. J. Hurston and Marie Gladson have returned from their Caribbean cruise aboard the S.S. Ariadne. They departed at Port Antonio, Kingston, Jamaica and Nassau. Each port was toured. They shopped where natives had wares on sale; talked with the natives about the educational system and religion; viewed the beautiful scenery and acquainted themselves with many tropical plants, one in particular, the "bread fruit" which is similar to our Irish potato and many other native fruits and plants. The accommodations aboard ship were luxurious; just like living in a fashionable hotel which made the cruise enjoyable.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford T. Sampson and children, of Chicago, are visiting their families. Both are former residents of this city.

J. D. Strickland, of Miami, is spending a few days with his mother, Mrs. Annie M. Dikie, and his sister, Mrs. Lottie Duhart. From Milton, his nephew, accompanied him.

Yours truly would like to commend Mrs. Ruth J. Allen for her efforts in conducting two beautiful weddings on Sunday afternoon.

Muller officiated at the double ring, candlelight ceremony. He used the same liturgy formerly belonging to the bride's grandfather, the late Rev. John Luxen.

The church was decorated with palms, candelabra and baskets of gladioli, mums and pom poms.

Miss Joan Wilke, organist, presented a program of nuptial music and accompanied Mrs. Richard Fejes, soloist, who sang "Because," "Dear Lord at Thy Feet We're Kneeling" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of nylon organza with Venice bodice, full skirt, matching headpiece, shoulder veil and carried a white Bible topped with carnations and pink sweet-heart roses. The Bible belonged to her great grandfather, the late August De Young.

with Eastern Air Lines. Gary Folds served his brother as best man and ushers were Arthur DeYoung, a cousin of the bride, Jack Stanley, a cousin of the groom and Randall Chase Jr. Candle lighters were Armon Rossman and David Stadler. The bride's mother, wore a two piece linen ensemble with black and white silk hood forming a draped collar, white accessories and a dendrobium orchid corsage. The groom's mother wore a turquoise linen sheath with white accessories and a corsage of peach dendrobium orchids.

MRS. WYATT HARRIS FOLDS JR.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Educational Building of the church. The refreshment table was overlaid with a lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of tea roses in a silver bowl, flanked by candles in silver holders.

Mrs. O. C. McBride presided at the punch bowl and Mrs. Merle W. Warner cut the cake. Others assisting were Mrs. Vernon Van Sickle, Mrs. Theodore Bollman, Mrs. Thomas Day and Mrs. Henry Bennett.

For traveling Mrs. Folds chose a baby blue nylon jersey sheath, with white accessories and the corsage from her Bible bouquet.

Entertain With Dinner Dance

By Neva Grinstead

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fasula entertained a group of friends with a party at their home in the North Orlando Ranch area Saturday night.

All forms of dancing, including the limbo, was enjoyed during the evening. A party atmosphere was created with crepe paper streamers, balloons and oriental lanterns.

A late supper of baked ham, chicken salad, cole slaw, baked beans, bean and potato salads, roast corn and coffee was served buffet style.

This was not an anniversary party but the Fasulas had celebrated their fourth wedding anniversary a few days prior to the party. They received several gifts from friends who knew about the anniversary.

Those enjoying the party were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sommer, of Winter Park; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sutton, Casselberry, and North Orlando neighbors and friends, Mr. and Mrs. George Sommer, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Memory, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Grinstead.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Nall, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hoge, Mrs. Glen Atchison, Fadri Fekany, Mrs. Keith Mahar and Mosa Fekany.

A teen-age girl may refuse a date but leave the way open for a later invitation. No lengthy explanations are necessary.

Civilian and Navy friends of Lt. Cdr. and Mrs. Donald Hamilton bid the couple farewell Saturday evening at a cocktail party hosted by Lt. and Mrs. William Malczowski and Lt. Cdr. and Mrs. Kenneth Sandon.

The party was held at the Malczowski home where about 40 persons called to say goodbye to the Hamiltons who will leave at the end of the month for duty in Guam.

Yellow and orange glads decorated the tables. Smoked turkey, meatballs, shrimp and other cocktail foods were served.

Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Muse, of Sanford. Maternal grandparents are the late Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Barineau.

A young man who pretends to be the last of the big spenders may find himself too broke to ask a girl for another date.

Fast Footwork Gets Boy Clear Of Tooth Pull

GASTONIA, N. C. (UPI)—Danny Brooks, 10, won a reprieve from the dentist's chair with a flashy bit of footwork.

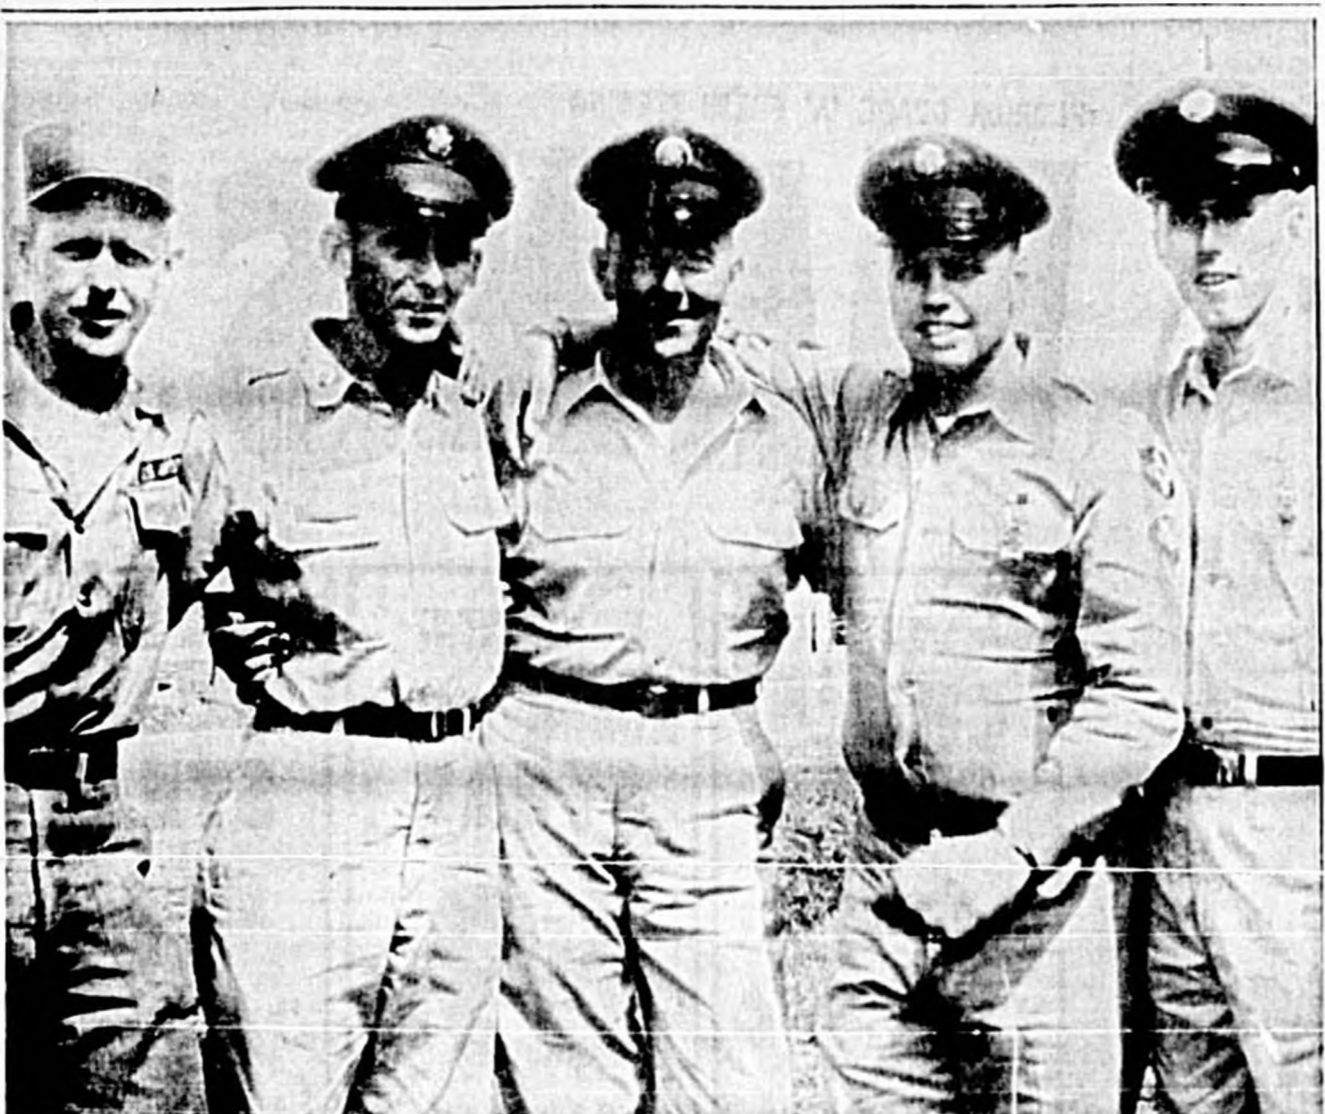

Danny, son of Kenneth Brooks, bolted from the chair after a bib was fastened around his neck Tuesday afternoon to prepare him for a tooth extraction.

The boy dashed across Interstate 85 and U.S. 29-74 into a woods and disappeared. Life saving crews were called to search for him.

A family living in the woods said the boy passed their house fairly flying.

After a 2 1/2-hour search, Danny was found crouching in the grass of the median strip between two highways. When he spotted his would-be rescuers, he lit out for the woods again but the rescue squad members proved faster on their feet.

When last seen, Danny's father was taking him home, the dentist's bib still around the boy's neck.

THESE FIRST COUSINS, all Florida residents, got together in one group for the very first time in their lives last week while in summer camp with the Florida National Guard at Fort Stewart, Ga. The five cousins, from the left, are James Jr. Kendall, 708 1/2 West Second Street; Eugene A. Kendall, Lake Wales; Hamil Haskins, 2018 Sanford Avenue; Bill Vincent Jr., Herald staff photographer; and James Vincent, Miami.

Informer For U. S. Under Close Guard

FORT MONMOUTH, N. J. (UPI) — Joseph Valachi, the underworld informer who has been detailing crime syndicate activities to federal authorities, is being held under guard at this Army installation, a spokesman said today.

Peter Hoffman, Fort Monmouth information officer, said, "... the best I can do is to simply confirm that Valachi is at Fort Monmouth under the custody of the provost marshal."

Fort Monmouth, an Army Signal Corps installation, has extensive security facilities, due to the presence of secret electronic equipment. Valachi was reported under maximum security guard.

Underworld sources reportedly have offered $100,000 to the man who slays him.

A 22-page document detailing Valachi's testimony has been turned over to New York City authorities, according to police. It supposedly describes the circumstances and gives names in 14 gangland killings there. Valachi is scheduled to testify later this month before the Senate investigations subcommittee.

Valachi, a convicted narcotics dealer and admitted killer, was imprisoned at the Atlanta federal penitentiary when he began to cooperate with authorities.

Integration Puts Atlanta Restaurant Man 'In The Middle'

By United Press International

It has become increasingly evident during this "summer of decision" on the racial front that no business or community, large or small, is safe from integration pressures.

Some have moved voluntarily to drop all racial barriers. Others resist.

Atlanta restaurant owner Stanley R. Davis, who simply wants to please his customers and stay in business, had this to say about the situation:

"When I operated my restaurants on a segregated policy, I was the target of integrationist pressure and propaganda." Davis said in a memo entitled "For Better Understanding" which he placed on the tables of his eating places.

Davis lamented that when he went along with other Atlanta restaurants and desegregated two of his places on an experimental basis, "the segregationist forces were not long in inaugurating a program of harassment."

"I find myself in the middle of a controversy for which there appears no immediate solution," he said. "I am a restaurant operator and not a social agitator. Now that the racial issue has been joined I can only solicit your sympathetic understanding."

One thing appears certain: From here on, Negroes will use one victory as a stepping stone to others.

This week the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, the nation's largest landlord, announced it will desegregate the 34,170 apartment projects it controls in the United States.

Negro leaders have now announced a move to bring about similar desegregation of facilities owned or controlled by the Prudential Insurance Company and the New York Life Insurance Company. They finance thousands of apartment projects throughout the nation.

Roy Wilkins, executive vice president of the NAACP, called the Metropolitan agreement "a major breakthrough."

He said it was part of a general move in similar firms. It obviously was also part of the fulfillment of an NAACP slogan of three years ago — "Everybody Free by Sixty-three."

A Metropolitan spokesman said the huge firm is prepared to "go down the line" on its new policy.

"If a Negro is a qualified tenant and there is a vacancy for him, he will be given an apartment whether it is in Alexandria, Va., at Parchester in The Bronx or anywhere else."

Negroes also are winning a major breakthrough in the advertising industry.

A soap products manufacturer which is one of the nation's biggest advertisers, announced recently it has asked all its agencies to produce suggestions for more effective use of Negroes and other minority groups in the firm's advertising.

The trade publication, Advertising Age, listed the firm's advertising program last year at $16 million.

The publication said the company's first television commercial to appear under the new policy likely will be an advertisement for a detergent showing a Negro housewife being interviewed about her laundry problems.

2,000 Jobs Seen For Youth Corps

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A retired submarine captain slated to head President Kennedy's proposed National Service Corps said today that without even asking he has enough projects on hand now to utilize 2,000 volunteers.

William Anderson, former captain of the nuclear submarine Nautilus, said the so-called domestic Peace Corps "is going to be like selling ice cream on a hot day. We have plenty of projects; it's just a question of finding enough volunteers."

The bill to create the domestic corps, patterned after the successful overseas Peace Corps, came up today for its second day of debate in the Senate.

Backers were confident they had the votes to turn back any crippling amendments and pass the bill although it faces formidable opposition from Republicans who call it a "boon doggle" and a Kennedy administration "publicity stunt."

The measure authorizes an initial outlay of $3 million to start the program and recruit up to 1,000 volunteers by next June 30 to help needy fellow Americans. Enrollment would grow to 5,000 in three years.

Actually, Europe is a great peninsula joined to the western part of Asia.

3 Of 4 Florida Wells Drilled In 1962 Duds

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Three of the four oil wells drilled in Florida last year turned out to be duds, the Independent Petroleum Association of America reported today.

The one producing well, located in Collier County's Sunnland Field, increased to 11 the number of Florida wells pumping out the "black gold."

The association, in its annual report on oil production in the U. S., said Florida's 11 wells produced an average of 304.5 barrels a day.

The average per barrel price of crude oil was $2.10, making the state's oil production income $278,000, the report said.

No new producing wells have been drilled in Florida this year, the association said.

The Sunnland Oil Field was discovered in 1943 and since that time $15 million in crude oil has been pumped from the state's fields.

Navy Silent On Red Trawlers

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Navy maintained silence today on reports that 50 Russian fishing trawlers had been sighted three or four miles off Cape Cod, Mass.

When told of the report, a Navy spokesman would say only: "The seas are free." He pointed out that no objection can be raised to the presence of the vessels unless there is grounds for complaint.

Job Insurance

Go west, young man — or east or north or south — just so you go to college.

Figures just released by Northwestern National Life Insurance Co. in its 28th annual employment survey of U. S. college graduating classes reveals that grads of the class of '63 did even better than those of the previous year.

Automation, which hangs like a specter over the livelihood of thousands, has created other thousands of new opportunities for college graduates. Not all are scientific or technical opportunities, for even electronic computer work requires administrative and managerial personnel.

More jobs — at higher salaries — absorbed 90 per cent of engineering job candidates, 80 per cent of business school and 70 per cent of liberal arts majors even before commencement time. Nearly all job seekers are expected to be placed by October.

An estimated 48,000 new engineers will be needed every year during this decade — 11,000 less than are currently graduated every year. Starting salaries for bachelor engineers were $600 to $610 a month.

For business graduates, salaries ranged from $475 to $500, with accountants averaging $525. Liberal arts bachelors not majoring in physical sciences settled for $460 to $485, with physical scientists (chemistry, math, etc.) averaging $550.

Stiff competition for graduates — and correspondingly inflated pay — in the missile and space fields attracted more students than there were jobs in that area.

One major area of opportunity was found by the survey to be neglected or by-passed by students — sales.

Midas Touch

Are you a millionaire? No? Then get with it boy! What do you want to be, a freak or something?

It has just been announced that America is producing millionaires at the fastest clip since the fabulous '20s and that there are now at least 100,000 of them running around loose in this country as proof that you just can't keep a good man down, and nuts to taxes and the tariff.

Now this no doubt is good for the national economy. Certainly it is nice for the millionaires involved, and it just has to be encouraging to aspiring millionaires.

But what's it going to do to the few of us laggards who still haven't made our first million? How are we going to explain to you know whom that there can be no new fall wardrobe for her because things are so tough these days that it's impossible for anyone, but anyone, to put away a dime?

Is she going to buy this with love in her heart when she knows that 100,000 other women were smart enough to pick out men who were smart enough to make it big?

What burns us nonmillionaires is that if these guys are smart enough to make a million, why aren't they smart enough to keep it to themselves instead of making a big, fat thing out of it?

You wonder how 100,000 characters with no more judgment than that can be so lucky when the real geniuses have to keep on struggling. One hundred thousand of them. Wow!

Saves On Ribbon

History was made and tradition shattered in Cleveland, Ohio, the other day.

An important new highway was opened — a long-awaited link vital to heavy traffic.

And what happened? Was the mayor on hand with un-sheathed scissors to snip a ribbon? He was not.

Did the governor herald another forward step in the march of progress? He did not, for the simple reason he was nowhere around.

Did the driver of the first car to go through receive a gold-plated driver's license? He did not.

Well, what did happen? A workman moved aside a wooden barricade and the traffic started rolling.

What will they think of next?

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

CASE Q-421: Fred Charn is a deft practical psychologist who acts as a Counselor for the Indiana State Employment Service.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "we are trying to prevent high school drop-outs."

"And we find that the best plan is to show students tangible evidence of how much money they will lose in later life if they quit school."

"A few years ago you had a newspaper article headed Case Q-389, that we cut out and mounted. We have used it to good advantage ever since."

"Can you also add any additional data to help persuade young people to stay in school till they obtain a diploma?"

"That high school diploma brings its owner $49,000 more in cash earnings than does the 8th grade certificate!"

Which means if you finish high school, your diploma will give you a beautiful new house, all paid for, plus 15 brand new automobiles!

And 15 new cars are enough to last you all through your adult life span!

Furthermore, if you continue for just one year of college, whether on the Liberal Arts campus or at a good Business College, you will earn an additional $25,000 in later life.

And $25,000 will buy you 10 more new cars, plus a speedboat!

Or it will furnish all your children a full four years of college.

So just one year of college on your part, will give four years of college to all your children, if you have an average family!

Sometimes a high school boy gets soored on school because of low grades or emotional conflicts with a teacher.

But look ahead! Don't let this temporary obstacle handicap your future wife and children.

Or, if you are now in love with a classmate and need a jalopy to take her to a Drive-In movie, beware!

For some boys then drop out to grab a quick job by which they can earn maybe $350 for that jalopy.

But in so doing, they lose the $49,000 which the high school diploma is worth.

So that $350 jalopy thus costs them a fine new house, plus 15 brand new cars!

Remember Biblical Esau? He liked sports, such as hunting. One day he came in from a deer hunt, famished.

His foxy brother Jacob had a mess of beans on the fire. Esau's stomach turned flips-flops at the delicious aroma.

So Esau begged Jacob for a mess of the pottage. But Jacob refused till they made a deal by which Esau sold out his entire future birthright!

So anybody who drops out of high school without due cause, is much like stupid Esau.

He lacks shrewd business judgment. He is deficient in "horse sense."

So send for my "Vocational Guidance Booklet," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents.

Use it to prepare for at least one year at college, and more if you can manage it.

"An investment in knowledge," said Benjamin Franklin, "always pays the best dividends."

WASHINGTON (NEA) —

All the pieces in the papers about the deficit in the U. S. balance of payments and the declining U. S. stocks of gold have a bad psychological effect on most American citizens, even though many of them haven't much notion what it's all about.

This is a pretty sophisticated subject. A short time ago it was said that the only man in the world who really understood international payments was Per Jacobson of Sweden, managing director of International Monetary Fund.

He died in May. Bankers, economists, government fiscal experts and some congressmen discuss balance of payments very emotionally. Even so, their language is almost completely unintelligible to laymen.

Back one of these authorities into a corner and ask him for a simple explanation. You'll get something like this:

"The balance of payments is an international accounting in summary form for all U. S. international financial transactions."

"It includes exports and imports of goods and services, foreign aid, the costs of keeping American military forces overseas, their spending and tourist spending abroad, dividend, interest and loan repayments and the movements of gold to balance international accounts."

An average citizen may ask, "What has all this got to do with me?"

One solid answer is that it affects U. S. jobs and taxes, due to its influence on the value and purchasing power of the dollar.

It can influence your mortgage interest rates or time payments on a new car.

This last is an intricate chain, but it can be followed. On the day President Kennedy sent his long message to Congress with recommendations to improve the U. S. balance of payments position, the Federal Reserve Board raised the interest rate on its loans to banks from 3 to 3.5 per cent.

It also authorized U. S. banks to raise to 4 per cent the interest rates they charged on short-term loans — from 90 days to a year.

The aim was to attract foreign money to the United States and to encourage U. S. corporations and others with surplus funds for investment to keep this money in this country.

This action was not intended to affect long-term interest rates on mortgages or corporate and municipal bonds. There is no agreement among all government or private industry economists, however, that long-term interest rates will not be pushed up by the authorized increases in short-term rates.

One overriding concern is that if a federal tax cut doesn't come soon to release new funds for saving and investment, a tight money supply might develop.

Higher interest rates would result and might slow up new business investment.

This would hold back economic growth and employment — a prime Kennedy objective.

We come to the interest which consumers must pay on their homes and autos.

The rates now average between 6 and 7 per cent. In a tight money market though, when interest rates are going up, the terms may be changed to make up the difference.

Down payment requirements could be increased.

Auto loans could be cut from 36 to 30 or even 24 months. Mortgages might be granted for only 25 years instead of 30. The result is larger monthly payments, which hit consumers hard.

The alternative to the complicated balance of payments adjustments could be even worse.
