

Princess Margaret
To Visit In U. S.

LONDON, June 8—(AP)—Princess Margaret will make a "private" visit to the United States this autumn, a source close to the Royal family said today.

An official spokesman at Buckingham Palace commented: "we have nothing to say at the moment."

Private sources said the Princess would visit Washington, probably as the guest of the British ambassador, Sir Oliver Franks.

"The visit is purely private," the source said. "There is no question of Princess Margaret persuading her father whether she may go to the United States. The King has never opposed her trip there."

Congress Action

(Continued From Page One) The T-H law was a "mistake" and that it should be repealed. He also reminded the Senate's Democrats that repeal was a "central" plank of the party's campaign platform.

Rep. Taft, said Thomas has "stated frankly" that the move to repeal the T-H law "is based primarily on politics." Taft added:

"That certainly has been the approach of the (Democratic) majority of the (labor Committee."

The Ohioan recalled that the Democrats on the committee, in pushing through the Administration measure by an 8 to 5 vote, refused to consider any of the amendments proposed by the Republicans.

He said that Thomas had argued that because President Truman called for repeal of the Taft-Hartley Law in the campaign, "there is a mandate on Congress to repeal it."

Challenging that, Taft said: "They may be a mandate on the President to request repeal, but there certainly is no mandate on Congress."

Taft said that 229 of the present members of the House, or more than a majority, voted to override the President's veto of the Taft-Hartley measure in 1947.

"The voters of their districts, knowing the position they took on labor legislation, re-elected them to Congress," Taft added.

He said that in the Senate, 54 of the present members—again, more than a majority, voted to override Mr. Truman's 1947 veto.

Sen. Pepper (D-Ia.), staunch booster of the Administration's bill, in due later to fire back at Taft:

Meanwhile, David E. Lilienthal struck back at congressional critics of the Atomic Energy Commission, protesting bitterly against "smearing" individuals by Luendo."

The AEC chairman lashed out as group continued its hearings on the Senate House investigating charges by Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) of "incredible mismanagement" in AEC affairs.

Hickenlooper renewed his inquiry into a confidential FBI report on a still unidentified atomic official charged with preparing top secret commission projects. The Iowa Senator has identified him only as "case A."

Lilienthal told the investigating committee the entire file on "case A" had been in the committee's hands for eight months, and that a reading of it clearly showed there was "no basis in fact" for the "scandalous" origin.

The AEC chairman demanded the individual be given an opportunity to be heard, saying Hickenlooper's presentation of the case already had identified him to his co-workers. He should be given the opportunity to present his side, Lilienthal insisted.

"Only God knows what is in man's motives," he explained.

His fears, Lilienthal declared, are "being confirmed almost daily" over the "smearing" of AEC employees by "innuendo."

Army House armed services subcommittee approved the new military pay bill after cutting another $60,000,000 off of an already sharply sliced schedule for pay raises.

Chairman Kilday (D-Tex.) told reporters he hopes to have the new proposal on the House floor next week. The House rejected the original pay bill May 24, and sent it back to the Armed Services Committee for cutting.

Proposed increases of $8 a month for single wives knocked out a $10 a month increase allowance now drawn by officers. This allowance is given in addition to the one granted for an officer's family quarters.

Kilday estimated that the elimination of this small boost, as urged by Rep. Case (R-AD), would account for a saving of about $60,000,000. The new bill would have added approximately $164,000,000 a year to the nation's military payroll before the $8 increase was removed.

Fruit Control

Committee recommendations are subject to approval by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, which may take a few weeks.

Berlin Row

The deputies would be instructed to deal only with definite problems such as transport and communication between the western zones and the eastern sectors of Berlin. They also would study projects for increasing trade between the western and Soviet occupation zones of Germany. The West strongly desires the first, and the Russians the latter.

The chief problem involved in this is the German currency—fixing an exchange rate for the East zone mark and the West mark. The Russians say the East mark is as good as the West. The West says the East mark buys four times less.

The plan is for the commissioners to maintain contact between East and West as a means of reducing international tension. In the event of some agreement, they could refer back to the council.

The Foreign Ministers went into their 15th meeting of this session at 8:10 P. M. today, with Lord Henderson sitting in for Bevin.

Meanwhile, a further indication of the decline of this conference was seen in the reversal of the policy of William Riddell, head of the press section of the British foreign office. His functions as a briefing officer will be taken over by an assistant.

Chambers Testifies

(Continued From Page One) Hiss was a Communist and he had been a member of the underground apparatus which included certain other people whose names I also told him."

The meeting occurred in Berle's Washington home, Chambers said, and Berle took notes. Asked if he ever heard from Boyle again, Chambers replied, "I do not believe."

He repeated that in 1948 he consulted State Department security officer Ray Murphy, saying, "I told him Alger Hiss was a Communist and I discussed the enemy underground apparatus of which Hiss was a member."

When the questioning turned to Julian Wadleigh, Chambers said he was introduced to him in Washington in 1938 by a "David Carpenter."

"Known also as Zimmerman?" asked Murphy.

"Yes," Chambers replied.

Chambers said he first received documents in 1938 or 1939 and that he received original State Department documents from Wadleigh. He said he relayed the papers to "David Carpenter" or Wadleigh gave them directly to "Carpenter," who photographed them before Chambers returned.

Wadleigh went on a trip to Turkey "to negotiate a trade agreement," he believed, in February or March, 1938. Chambers said, adding that he received the last documents from him in January.

Morris Resigns

(Continued From Page One) Orlando Sentinel published an article declaring Morris had been on the payroll of the House of Representatives in both 1947 and 1949 and the Tampa Tribune had listed him among newspapermen receiving public funds in recent months.

Morris collaborated with Governor Warren in writing the pre-inaugural book "how to win in politics." When Warren reorganized the State Advertising Commission, he named Morris to the board from the northwest Florida district and personally nominated him as vice chairman.

Morris said in his letter of resignation:

"I had thought, in humility and sincerity, that I could, from my experience of 24 years in the newspaper profession be of real service by serving on the unpaid commission which supervises the public's own news service for the world to the world the story of Florida as a good place to live, work and play."

I have found, however, that good intentions and demonstrable accomplishments are not enough to satisfy a public which perhaps I have had my part in making skeptical about all government services, and consequently I resign."

Pact Is Shield Against Soviet, Bevin Declares

Foreign Secretary Calls Reds' Army World's Greatest Mobilized Power

BLACKPOOL, Eng., June 9.—(AP)—Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin described the Atlantic Pact to day as a western shield against the biggest army in the world—Russia's.

"It is the largest army, the greatest power in the world that is mobilized today," Bevin told the annual Labor Party conference. "and I want to see that brought to an end, not by war but by example, by restraining firm ourselves."

Obviously referring to the Soviet Union, the Foreign Secretary said: "There has never been a dictator in the history of this world who has not talked peace when he had been preparing for war. Do not be misled."

Bevin called the 12-nation North Atlantic Alliance "the biggest step in collective security that has been taken in the history of the world."

Bevin flew in yesterday from Paris to address the convention, billed by the party's 50th anniversary jubilee. The conference is threatening the voters in the next election, regularly scheduled for 1950.

The Foreign Secretary left the four-power council of foreign ministers meeting to come here, and is flying back later today to take part in the council's continuing discussions on Germany, now apparently deadlocked.

He told the convention "something may yet emerge" from the Big Four meeting.

"You never know what will happen before we break up," he said. He added "if we can't agree how to live, at least we may agree to live together."

Bevin's speech touched on many of the world's trouble spots—China, Greece, eastern Europe—and the overall "warred" problem of Russia" and what he called the (Continued on Page Two)

M. J. Moss Starts Realty Settlement Near Lake Howell

A new real estate development was recently started in the vicinity of Little Lake Howell by M. J. Moss, Orlando realtor and Republican candidate in the last congressional campaign.

The development is located about two miles east of Casselberry and is about one-half mile east of the Seminole Driving Park.

During the past week bulldozers and scrapers have been used to grade a road from the west end of Lake Drive southward 200 feet around the west side of Little Lake Howell and continuing about 500 feet from the south side of the lake to connect with the Tuscawilla Road.

The development covers an area of several hundred acres and will be built in two and three acre units. It is near a subdivision on Lake Tony, a project developed by Leonard L. Button, who also is instrumental in inducing the County to extend and improve Lake Drive, an extension of Seminole Drive which connects with the Orlando Highway and which leads to the race track.

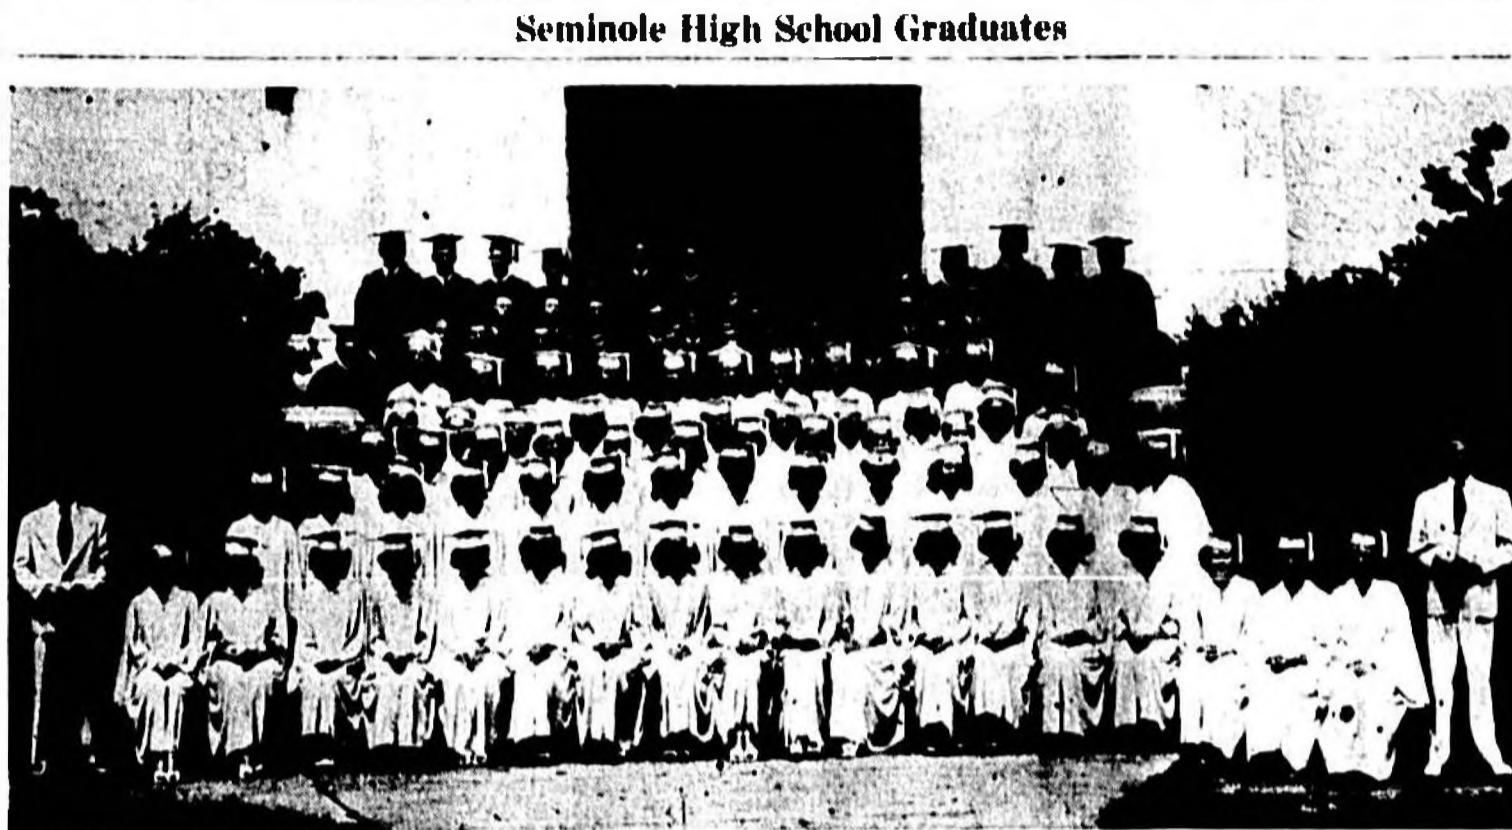

Old Herring Home Is Destroyed By Fire

Fire that swept across a wide grass area three miles south of Sanford and west of the Orlando Highway yesterday afternoon destroyed an old frame home, the remnant of the original George G. Herring estate where the late county Judge first lived when he came to this section. He later occupied the dwelling that still stands at the corner of French Avenue and Seminole Boulevard.

When the fire department arrived shortly after 2:00 o'clock on the second call of the day to the firehouse, the old home was fully consumed and Assistant Fire Chief E. T. Thomas.

SPECIAL EDITION

EVERGLADES, June 9.—(AP)—A special session of the Florida Legislature is "absolutely unnecessary" in the opinion of Rep. D. Graham Copeland of Collier County. It would cost the people and state $200,000 which they cannot afford, he said here. Present laws are sufficient to meet all the state's service needs and it is up to the State Budget Committee to trim expenditures to match them.

Report Shows Isotope Shipments Rapped By Strauss In Hearing On AEC

Document Tells Of Activities Inside Russian Embassy And Of Officials

WASHINGTON, June 9.—(AP)—A secret report read today to the Senate by Judith Coplon on espionage charges indicated that the FBI was keeping back what went on at the Soviet embassy.

The document told in detail about the activities of embassy officials and included the text of an application filed by Leonid Sosenko for a job on the Soviet information bulletin.

The same woman was no further identified in her report but it said she once lived with another woman suspected of being a Communist spy or a double agent.

No voluminous were the reports read to the just that trial observers speculated much of the information must have come from within the embassy itself.

Yesterday Miss Coplon's defense diverted attention from the direct report of the espionage trial with a report that named Frederic March and other Hollywood beauties as Communists.

The Hollywood trial also quoted unnamed sources as indicating without any clue as to how much of it the FBI believes drew ridicule and condemnation from March and the others named.

Miss Coplon, a former Justice Department political analyst, is accused of leaking secrets for the benefit of Russia. She was arrested in New York May 1 with Valentine A. Gogoljew, a Russian. The pair being brought into the case are the estranged relatives from which FBI men said they found extracts in her purse at the time of their arrest.

Two more court actions growing out of charges of Communist activity in Hollywood were these developments in New York City.

Whittaker Chambers named Wardell at the trial of Miss Hiss at the trial of Miss Hiss, who claims supplied him with government documents when he was a Soviet spy ring counsel.

Testifying at Miss's perjury trial, Chambers named them as Whittaker, Ward, Pugman, Harry Dexter White, Vincent Kehoe and Julian Wadleigh.

Chambers had previously named Whittaker at the trial of the former high State Department official.

Testimony of Appleton, Wisconsin chemist, in the trial of Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, opened the way for the trial of Julius Hiss last December. After testifying Pugman said in a statement:

"I categorically deny that I ever had any dealings with Whittaker Chambers or that I even knew the name of Whittaker Chambers."

He added, "It is only unqualifiedly deny that I have ever given to Chambers or to any other person unauthorized governmental information."

Robeson May Testify At Trial Of Reds

MOSCOW, June 9.—(AP)—Singer Paul Robeson told the Soviet Academy of Science yesterday he would return to the United States to testify at the trial of Communist Party officials in New York.

He said the men were being tried for their faithfulness to the American working class.

The Negro baritone addressed the academy at a meeting commemorating the death of writer Alexander Pushkin. Invited official government newspaper, called his address a "moving speech."

It is difficult to say how deeply I am touched and moved by the singing of Mr. Robeson, he said.

Robeson said he represented progressive Americans and millions of oppressed negroes.

Mother And Four Children Perish In Blazing Home

Father, Three Others Escape From Burning 2-Story House

NOTTINGHAM, Mich., June 9.—(AP)—A 34-year-old mother and four of her seven children perished early today in a fire that destroyed their two-story frame home.

The father and three other children, one of whom was assisted out of a window by the mother, escaped.

His wife, Mrs. Neddy Neely, 34, and three children—Shady Fay, 9; Lavelle, 7; Phyllis, 4, and Bruce, Jr., 3.

In critical condition at University Hospital in Ann Arbor is a five-year-old daughter, Zenda May, whom the mother handed from a window of the blazing home to the father, Bruce, 37, outside.

The father told Oakland county sheriff's deputies that Mrs. Neely had been sleeping in a fireproof safe in the interior of the house when all the children had been sleeping, but was forced back by the flames.

The Neely's two oldest sons, Amos, 14, and Andrew, 11, escaped uninjured after running to (Continued on Page Two)

Holtzclaw And Kiwanians Hold Song Jamboree

Club Members Are "Drafted" To Sing With Opera Star

Led by Richard Holtzclaw, bass-baritone of the New York Opera Company and former Stanford student, Kiwanians made their annual gavotte diffusion production plans here as they grouped about the WIRK microphone yesterday at the tourist center to accompany the noted singer in the Yale favorite "The Whippoorwill." Miss Hilda West gave an able accompaniment.

"Haa, haa, haa," sang the young "hot chaperone" at intervals suggested by Mr. Holtzclaw who "drafted" the following Kiwanians as choristers: J. C. Hutchinson, Frank Lawson, Judge Donald Stearns, Martin Stenographer, Rev. Dr. J. L. McKinley and Dr. H. W. Rucker. They were accompanied by J. P. Holtzclaw and Evans McWayne, two visitors.

Introduced by Edward F. Lane as a young man who only a few years ago attended Seminole School and went to the "big city" to make good, Richard Holtzclaw responded, "It is wonderful to be back again to see so many friends."

Holtzclaw greeted his colleagues singing "Without A Song" and in softer voice, "Dinner Bell," but it was his dramatic and now (Continued on Page Two)

Negro Teachers Are Accused Of Fraud

COLUMBIA, S.C., June 9.—(AP)—Sixty-three hundred negro school teachers in South Carolina are accused of cheating on examinations. Ten of them have been fired and investigations of the others are under way. Two negro men are being held under $2,000 bonds on charges of selling the answers to interrogators. The state constable hasn't released the men's names, but the state department of education says some are Negro teachers. The department maintained its belief that one-fourth of the 2,000 teachers who took the certification examinations last February did a little cheating. Certification examinations are used in South Carolina as one of three bases for determining teacher salaries. The other two are experience and formal preparation.

"Desk Admiral" Bosses European Fleet Operation

Ships Of Four Nations To Maneuver Under Single Head

By GODFREY ANDERSON
FONTAINEBLEAU, June 9.—(P)—A landlocked admiral, seated at his desk 125 miles from the sea, has nominal command of the first western Europe fleet maneuvers in the English Channel this month.

For the first time in naval history, British, French, Dutch and Belgian ships-of-war are sailing for one week under a single command. They aim to show that on sea as on land in the air, the forces of Western Europe are capable of fulfilling their war time tasks as a unit, should the need arise.

As nominal commander of the combined armada Vice Admiral Robert Jaujard has his biggest and most responsible duty since his appointment as admiral, Western Europe, in October last year.

Admiral Jaujard at present has only a small staff of coordinating officers working with him. In the wake of Napoleon's retreat at Fontainebleau, like a kind of chairman of a board, he must check and coordinate the various plans and information submitted by the national admiralties, ironing out rough spots, soothing any ruffled sensibilities, trying to forge a unified weapon to protect the western nations on the sea.

Jaujard himself knows what it is to sail his ship under foreign orders.

Soon after his promotion to admiral in 1944, he took command

Lush Wartime Mart For Peanuts Said To Be Vanished

ATLANTA, June 9.—(P)—The lush wartime market for peanuts has vanished. Domestic consumption continues to decline. Growers are trying to curb their peanut crops to conform to overproduction.

That is the picture painted to-day by the Sixth District Federal Reserve Bank in its review of business conditions in the district for May. The article made these observations:

During the war, peanuts were a handy substitute. They plucked for such scarce items as creamery butter, cashew and Brazil nuts and chocolate.

But those commodities have found their way back to growers' shelves and peanuts and their by-products are being pushed aside.

Through Mar. 31 of the current season, manufacturers used 288,000,000 pounds of shelled, edible peanuts. That was 18,000,000 pounds shy of the same period last year.

Up to Mar. 31 total consumption of the three principal products—peanut butter, candy and salted peanuts—was about 25 per cent lower than for the like period in 1946-47.

Bandit Returned To Jail After Escape

BURNS, Ore., June 9.—(P)—A notorious southwest killer and bandit was behind prison bars again today after 11 months of freedom.

George Kimes, who held a top spot among Oklahoma outlaws back in the 1920's, surrendered without an argument to Sheriff Elton Sits and his deputy. He had been working in this southwest Oregon area on ranches and in lumber camps since last fall.

He walked away from the Oklahoma State Prison 11 months ago when sent to the prison kennels to feed dogs.

Kimes was serving a 50-year term for bank robbery. He previously had completed a term for murder.

State arrested Kimes on a tip from a fellow worker.

NOT WAR MATERIAL

FRANKFURT, Germany, June 9.—(P)—A U. S. military government court ruled today that uranium in its natural state is not necessarily a war material, and acquitted nine Germans on charges of possessing a 2800-gram block of it (about 81 ounces). Uranium in its processed form is used in making atomic bombs.

If New Automobile Loses Shiny Finish Blame The Weather

BY DAVID J. WILKIE
Associated Press Automotive Editor

FRENCH LICK, Ind., June 9.—(P)—If your new automobile loses its shiny finish in a hurry don't blame the manufacturer, and don't blame yourself too much. The Society of Automotive Engineers was told today that a large part of the blame rests in the region where the car owner lives and where the vehicle is used.

P. L. LeQuie and E. J. Hergenrother, of the International Nickel Co., said corrosion in the form of rusting is to be expected. They said tests have shown that quick drying and air circulation help prevent corrosion after a vehicle has been wet. Exposure to the sun and wind, they said, also help retard corrosion.

They recommended frequent washing and careful drying as corrosion preventatives.

The humidity of the atmosphere where a car is kept or parked is a more important factor than salt treatment of roads in determining the extent of corrosion of automobile underbodies, the two research engineers reported.

They added that the post war undercarrying jobs offered new car buyers are effective for corrosion protection when properly applied. "In the extent that they greatly reduce the areas subject to corrosive attack," the speakers said. "They are very useful in prolonging the life of a car."

Last night the engineers heard aircraft experts assert that planes flying 10,000 miles or more can have as many as 100 miles of unusal.

The research scientists are doctors David Barker, C. M. Lucht and John B. Kasper, all specializing in the science of crystallography.

Complexities of the coupling process and greatly increased weight, they said, were among the handicaps yet to be overcome.

Rancher Is Killed By Escaped Convict

SONOMA, Calif., June 9.—(P)—Paul Zimmerman, prominent Valley of the Moon rancher was shot and killed, and his wife was bludgeoned with a pistol late last night.

Early today a sheriff's posse of 100 men captured an escaped convict near the scene of the slaying.

Deputy Sheriff John O'Brien identified the convict as Randolph Wright, 19, a negro who escaped from a ward for incorrigibles at the Sonoma State Hospital yesterday.

Wright was booked at the county jail at Santa Rosa on a holding charge.

O'Brien said the Zimmerman's were abducted last night in Zimmerman's car by a pistol-wielding negro. He said the negro left Mrs. Zimmerman out at another neighbor's house for medical aid after gashing her head with a blow from one of the guns.

O'Brien said Bowman, escaped at the same time and was fired at four times. The body of Zimmerman, about 65, was found near the Bowman home.

Paul Wagner Named To Head Rollins

WINTER PARK, June 9.—(P)—Rollins College Tuesday announced the appointment of Paul A. Wagner, a Chicago educator-business man, as its president.

He will be the youngest president of an accredited liberal arts college in the country when he succeeds 78-year-old Hamilton Holt on Sept. 1.

Wagner comes to Rollins from Bell and Howell, manufacturers of precision photographic equipment. As a member of the top-management team, he has been the right-hand man of Charles Percy, 29, one of the youngest university presidents in the U. S.

A graduate of the University, he described the choice of Wagner as a student under Chancellor Maynard Hutchins. Hutchins, once a "boy" president himself, described the choice of Gagner as "inspirational".

Wagner taught at the University of Chicago at the age of 20. He left to study under a Carnegie Fellowship at Yale, receiving his master's degree in a year. He has served on the faculties of several colleges, including Teachers College, Columbia University.

Matter Structure Laws Are Upset By Strange Molecules

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., June 9.—(P)—The strangest molecule in chemical history has been found at the General Electric Company. It is a combination of hydrogen and boron known as decaborane.

This substance is not new, but its molecules display the following loss of chemistry, and that is why it is so strange.

Chemical intricacies have been done largely by use of the law that each kind of atom is able to attach itself to only a fixed number of other atoms.

These attachments are called bonds. They are like spider's webs, except they are electrical attractions instead of material.

Hydrogen is able to form only three attachment bonds, boron only

Citrus Shipping Controls Needed, Mutual Declares

BY ROBERT F. GEIGER
Associated Press Farm Bureau Director

Compulsory regulations must be developed equitably

JACKSONVILLE, June 9.—(P)—Some control of citrus shipping volume is needed in the state, declared the Florida Citrus Mutual yesterday at their board meeting.

But the directors did not commit themselves definitely that such control would be needed next season.

The directors also emphasized that any compulsory volume control on fresh fruit must be developed on an equitable basis, but they did not put themselves down to the statement that such control would be necessary in the 1949-50 season.

Mutual, the local association of citrus producers, called for a

for the 1949-50 season.

But, leaving out the controversy over the details of a program, many housewives and other city people have asked why farmers need any government help at all.

Why not let farm food prices reflect our own level and reduce the cost of living for city people?

These are the basic reasons some of the farm program are needed.
