HOROSCOPE

By BERNICE BEDE OSOL For Wednesday, January 14, 1976

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Try again today to get in touch with people who have been on your mind lately, but with whom you haven't been able to make connections. TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Be alert for ways to add to your finances today. A bright, profitable idea you've overlooked may occur to you. GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You should be a good self-starter today. I'm not delay in waiting for the slowpokes to wake up.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) If you have any work of a mental nature to do today, select a quiet, secluded area to operate in. Interruptions will derail your train of thought. LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Be a good listener today. Someone will have valuable information to impart. You'll want to get the whole drift of it. VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Don't be fearful of putting your ideas to the test today. You won't know how good they are unless you try them on others. LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) This coming year you are likely to be more appreciated than before in the area of your work or career. The eyes of your current topic will see your excellent retention.

YOUR BIRTHDAY Jan. 14, 1976 LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) As far as I'm concerned, I have enjoyed my relationship with Seminole County, and I'd rather not make any comment as regards the reason for my resignation.

Blood Pressure And Cholesterol

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D. DEAR DR. LAMB — Does high blood pressure indicate more than the usual amount of cholesterol deposits in the blood vessels? Does the medicine taken to lower the high reading affect the cholesterol? DEAR READER — High blood pressure does tend to increase the amount of fatty cholesterol deposits that build up in the wall of the arteries. In that way it increases the chances of having a heart attack or stroke.

All Testimony Sought Judge Mulls Freeman Case

By BOB LLOYD Herald Staff Writer Circuit Court Judge Kenneth Leffler was reviewing testimony this afternoon in a grand jury transcript, of Sanford title company executive John Morris as efforts continued by indicted County Attorney Thomas Freeman to have a felony charge against him dismissed. Judge Leffler heard argument for an hour, this morning by Freeman's attorney, J. Cheney Mason, and Assistant State Attorney William Staley before receiving the in-chambers hearing until 2 p.m. Judge Leffler said he would review approximately 45 pages of grand jury testimony plus a 61-page deposition Morris gave Mason. Freeman is accused of requesting or soliciting Morris to charge Lester Mandell of Greater Construction Corp. $15,000 for title insurance on a 103-acre tract the county proposed to buy for $37,000 as a clay pit site and also seeking $12,400 of the price from Morris. The day the Seminole County Grand Jury returned an indictment charging Freeman with soliciting unlawful compensation Morris signed an affidavit stating the charge was "totally false." Morris was a witness before the grand jury. Staley today revealed that the state has "physical evidence and witnesses other than Morris" in the case and said that the evidence and witnesses will be disclosed today or Thursday. Staley argued that the alleged solicitation is a question for a trial jury to decide. Freeman is docketed for trial next Monday in circuit court. Mason claimed that testimony by Morris "wipes out any case against Mr. Freeman." He said any "inference" that Morris may have drawn from conversations with Freeman aren't admissible in court. "He can only testify as to what Freeman said," Mason told the court today. Mason argued that Freeman is an independent contractor furnishing services to the county commission and, according to his contract, can serve other clients. Mason argued that there is no law that says Freeman's compensation, "wene exists," he said. Mason is also seeking a rehearing on the Dec. 31 denial of dismissal of the Freeman charge by Chief Circuit Judge Virgil B. Conkling. Conkling ruled Freeman is a "public official." Mason said today he has law to the contrary and asked Judge Leffler to overrule Judge Conkling. The grand jury also indicted Freeman and County Commissioners Harry Kwiatkowski and Michael Hattaway on misdemeanor Sunshine Law violation charges. They are scheduled for trial on the misdemeanor counts in County Court on Feb. 3. But the County Court trials could be delayed at least a month if the court grants a defense motion filed for pre-judgment discovery or a motion to dismiss the indictment. The defense motion was filed for pre-judgment discovery or a motion to dismiss the indictment. The defense motion was filed for pre-judgment discovery or a motion to dismiss the indictment. Refuses To Comment On Reasons For Quitting

County Personnel Manager John Gray Resigns

By ED PRICKETT Herald Staff Writer Seminole County government's top personnel officer, John Gray, has resigned, effective Jan. 21. At his Tuesday meeting, the Board of County Commissioners unanimously approved Gray's resignation. And with only Commission Chairman Hattaway dissenting, the board okayed two weeks' vacation pay for Gray to take with him when he leaves his post. The $13,500-a-year personnel manager was with county government for 14 months. During the time Gray was responsible for implementing a job posting system, for centralizing county records and for setting up a safety program. Contacted today, Gray had little to say about the reason for his resignation. "As far as I'm concerned, I have enjoyed my relationship with Seminole County, and I'd rather not make any comment as regards the reason for my resignation." It is fact, however, that the county has been advertising for a personnel director and an assistant. It is also fact that Gray applied for the director's position. He was not accepted. On Jan. 6, Commissioner Harry Kwiatkowski announced the county is advertising for the $18,000-a-year director and for an assistant in the $13,500 range. Kwiatkowski is the board's liaison for personnel. Williams said today Gray's leaving could have something to do with his not being accepted for the position. Gray's departure is similar to the board's cutting the entire budget of former Public Safety Officer Langley Adair, a move which left Adair without a job. No one was talking then about Adair being turned out. And, no one was talking today about Gray's imminent departure.

Downtown Development Group To Pick Officers

By JEAN PATTESON Herald Staff Writer Selection of officers and dealing with pending deadlines will be primary items on the agenda at the first meeting of the new Downtown Development Corporation Thursday morning in the First Federal Community Room, Sanford. According to Sara Jacobson, executive director of the Downtown Development Council, the election of a nominating committee to produce a slate of officers will be one of the new board's first actions. She expects the election of officers to take place at the board's second meeting, Jan. 21, at the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce. Four items of concern to the Corporation have early February deadlines. First, the Corporation must request being placed on the agenda of the local legislative delegation. Thereafter, presentation will be made of a bill requesting the formation of an Improvement Authority to help finance and operate downtown development. Application must be made for Downtown Sanford to be included in the 1976 historical survey, which could produce money to help with redevelopment projects. On Dec. 1, the City of Sanford agreed to hire an architect to design the new City Hall until Feb. 1 so that the Corporation would have the opportunity to present an opinion on the location of the new City Hall. A decision is also required on whether the Corporation will operate from the offices in the Paulucci Building in which the Downtown Development Council has been housed. Once the corporation is organized and has its scope and direction clarified, it will turn its attention to staffing requirements, said Miss Jacobson. The Corporation board of directors was announced Friday by Miss Jacobson, who sat on the nominating committee with Downtown Development Council members James Springfield and Donald Knight. Other members of the new board are Cal Conklin, Gib Edmonds, Forest Foggin, Walter Gielow, Howard Hodges, Glen McCall, Tom McDonald and Fred Wilson. "The new board of directors has been chosen with a great deal of thought and sensitivity to the problems of downtown development," said Miss Jacobson. In selecting the board, she explained, the talents and personalities of each member were fitted to the anticipated needs and functions of the corporation—legislative, political, publicity, training, recruiting, fund raising, administration and engineering.

Suspect Commits Suicide

A 29-year-old Orvido man, sought in connection with a gun theft, shot and killed himself Tuesday after officers stopped an auto in which he was a passenger, Sanford police said. Crown Pawn Shop owner John Dunn Sr., called police after a blacked-out car was seen. A .38 caliber revolver and ran from the store with the gun about 11:25 a.m., saying he was going to kill someone. Minutes later police stopped a small foreign coupe driven by Ms. Thelma Taylor, of apartment 31 Seminole Gardens Apartments, Sanford, on Sanford Ave., 12 blocks from the pawn shop. Detectives said a patrolman approached the small car, Alfred White, 29, of Orvido, a passenger in the car, raised his right hand and a gunshot was heard. Ms. Taylor, who police identified as a former girl friend of White, and six small children in the car, were unharmed, officers reported. Groceries were in the rear of the auto and police weren't immediately able to determine where White got into the car. Patrolman Joe Dillard said he had been to Ms. Taylor's residence twice earlier in the morning after she complained that White had entered the apartment and later returned and damaged the windshield of her auto with a bottle. Dillard reported White had been told to leave the area and not to return. Dunn said a black man came into the pawn shop on Second St. about 10:45 a.m. and looked at pistols, saying he would come back. Dunn said 45 minutes later the man returned and said he wanted a chrome-plated .38 caliber revolver. Dunn said he took the pistol from a showcase and the man ran out of the store with it, saying he was going to kill someone. Community College To Get Remedial Language Grant

A $75,000 to $100,000 grant is scheduled to be awarded Seminole Community College (SCC) to teach remedial English to Vietnamese refugees and Spanish-speaking persons. At Tuesday's County Commission meeting, commissioners were asked to approve application for the grant, which will come from the U.S. Department of Labor. At first commissioners were leery of the program because they were told erroneously only 50 students were to enter classes. That would mean a cost of about $2,000 per student for 50 weeks of instruction. "How do we know the $2,000 is spent entirely on the student and not subtracted?" used for something else? asked Commissioner John Kimbrough. "Does the government feed the people for that kind of money?" asked Commissioner Sidney Vilen Jr. Then an SCC representative explained the school has 45 students currently enrolled in the program and will teach 150 students who and if the grant money comes through. School records indicate 117 Vietnamese and about 400 Spanish speaking persons reside in Seminole County. SCC has asked for $2,480 to administer classes for 50 weeks. Most of that sum will be used to pay salaries for instructors, school officials say.

Secretary Of Labor Dunlop Resigns Over Picket Veto

WASHINGTON (AP)—John T. Dunlop has resigned as secretary of labor, it was announced today. He quit despite a last-minute plea from President Ford to stay on the job.

The announcement at the Labor Department came one day after Dunlop informed the President of his decision at a private White House meeting.

Dunlop maintains that his position with organized labor was unworkable in the aftermath of Ford's veto of the controversial common-site picketing bill.

During the 35-minute White House session requested by Dunlop, the President tried unsuccessfully to talk him out of quitting, according to informed sources. However, Dunlop agreed to remain in the Cabinet until January 31, when he is expected to return to his teaching post at Harvard University.

Meat Criteria To Change

WASHINGTON (AP)—Beginning next month, shoppers buying "prime" and "choice" meat will be getting some meat that is less juicy and tender than Americans have been getting in those grades.

The Agriculture Department announced plans to put the new system into effect Feb. 23 after Supreme Court Justice Harry A. Blackmun last Friday denied a further bid to halt the new definitions. Initially planned for adoption last April 14, the grade changes have been delayed by months of court challenges from consumer groups and others.

The top top grades of beef commonly seen in retail stores are prime, choice and good, in their order of tenderness and juiciness. A prime steak has more marbling—flecks of fat—than choice or good.

Aid Cut-Off Predicted

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress appears likely to reject a new appeal from President Ford and to vote to cut off U.S. aid to Angola this month, House sources predict.

A House source said Tuesday no head count has been taken but that the House appears to have the votes to approve a Senate-passed measure cutting off Angola aid. A State Department official also conceded the administration faces an "uphill battle" to win House approval for continued aid to Angola.

Rep. Don Bonker, D-Wash., who signed up nearly 140 House votes against Angola aid in three hours just before Congress left town last month, says he is confident he can get the 230 votes needed to guarantee a House cutoff of the aid.

Man Confesses Murders

NORTH PLATTE, Neb. (AP)—Ernie Charles Simants confessed an hour after his arrest that he killed six members of a Nebraska family, a jury has been told.

In a taped confession played Tuesday for the jury in Simants' trial for murder, the 30-year-old accused man admitted shooting six members of the Henry Kelle family last Oct. 18 and sexually assaulting a 10-year-old girl and her grandmother, the latter after her arrest.

News reporters learned of the recorded statement prior to the trial but were barred from mentioning its existence, or several other facets of the trial, by a controversial "gag" order issued by presiding Judge Hugh Stuart. The issue of the gag order has gone to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Puzzle Unanswered

WASHINGTON (AP)—The best brains in science cannot answer the question of whether the artificial sweetener cyclamate is totally free of cancer risk, says a blue-ribbon panel that spent six months studying the problem for the government.

The committee concluded Tuesday that it could say only with 95 per cent probability that cyclamate is 50 to 90 times sweeter than sugar, does not cause cancer. The panel said there remains a nagging doubt over whether it may be a weak carcinogen.

The small degree of uncertainty seems certain to touch off a debate over what degree of safety should be required by government regulators.

Kidnap Victim Killed

GULFPORT, Miss. (AP)—When banker Charles W. Marter paid $25,000 in a desperate attempt to win freedom for his kidnaped wife, the woman may already have been dead.

"She had been dead several hours," Coroner Edgar Little said Tuesday after authorities were led to the crumpled body of the 36-year-old mother of two. She had been shot in the back of the head.

"The pickup was made this morning," Little said of the ransom paid by Marter, "and the arrest at about 3:30 this afternoon, so that's quite a time span."

Teacher Strike Idles Students

PITTSBURGH—Teachers Parent and neighborhood groups in some areas of the city have set up modified classrooms to help the pupils keep up with their math and reading.

The city school board itself has conducted classes for seniors to help them graduate in time.

Under orders issued Tuesday by Judge Donald Ziegler, board members joined negotiators for a late-night bargaining session. $16,700 a year, are asking for more money, smaller classes and other changes.

All 7,000, president of the striking Pittsburgh Federation of Teachers, said that including board members in the negotiations "may not help, but it can't hurt."

Mother Hospitalized With Leg Injury Infant 'Serious' After Three-Car Crash

By BOB LLOYD
Herald Staff Writer

A Sanford infant, injured in a three-vehicle smashup Tuesday night at Celery and Mellenville Avenues, was listed in serious condition today in the intensive care unit at Florida Hospital, Orlando, officials said.

Sanford firemen said three-month-old Isaiah Flieger stopped breathing but was revived by a passerby, Seminole High School coach Anthony Knight, by the time a fire department rescue unit arrived at the accident scene to administer oxygen and first aid.

Accident investigator D.H. Whitmore said the infant's mother, Rhonda Baker Flieger, 23, of Apt. 51, Lake Monroe Terrace, was also injured and taken to Florida Hospital with a leg injury.

Three other Flieger children, Raymond, Doris and Anthony, ages 6, 5, and 2, were treated and released at Seminole Memorial Hospital, police said.

Whitmore said the car driven by Ms. Flieger was westbound

On Celery when the accident occurred. Charges are pending further investigation, he said. Other vehicles involved in the accident were a pickup truck, driven by George Ronald, Anderson, 29, of Osteen, southbound on Mellenville, and a northbound sedan, driven by Lowell E. Ozier, 73, of 118 N. Summerlin Ave., police said.

Ozier was treated and released at Seminole Memorial Hospital, officers reported, and Donnie Anderson, 25, of Sanford Route One weren't injured.

Police said footprints and a brown corduroy jacket were found at the fire scene.

Sanford Fire Chief G. M. Harriott reported a fire, believed to be the result of arson, damaged a storage shed Tuesday afternoon at the rear of the New Mt. Calvary Baptist Church, 12th Street and Pecan Avenue.

Longwood Council Asks Opinion Demotions Questioned

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

LONGWOOD—A written opinion was requested of City Attorney Ned Julian Jr. this week by the city council on whether the city's public safety director, Douglas Keller, violated the state police bill of rights law by demoting two of the city's police officers.

Two weeks ago, officials of the Florida's Fraternal Order of Police (FOP) said that a probe is being conducted by that organization into Keller's action in which officers with city service of four and one-half years, were demoted in rank with an accompanying salary cut in what Keller called a reorganization of the department.

The motion by Councilman Gerard Connel asking for the opinion carefully deleted the word "demotion."

"I'm worried about the 'Police Bill of Rights,'" Connel said in asking for the opinion using the word "downgrading" and adding to colleagues he did not want to use the word "demotion" and throw the question into the state law.

Julian, in an "off-the-cuff" opinion, said that the city can discharge the entire police department if it chooses, an opinion in agreement with a statement made by the state FOP's Miami attorney two weeks ago.

Councilman Lawrence Goldberg, named to the council's public safety committee, insisted Keller was hired to head the police and fire departments and that if he wasn't doing his job he should be fired.

Julian said Keller's responsibilities concerning his departments are enumerated in an ordinance adopted by the city last year and he would check to determine if the state law modified the city ordinance.

"I want to know whether the city is contravening state law," Connel said. "What I do not want is a full scale investigation of the police department."

"Let's let the police bill of rights take care of its own business," Council Chairman J.R. Grant said, asking "What do we do if it is being violated, prosecute him (Keller)?"

In a dispute between the city's incorporated volunteer fire department, Grant and Goldberg were asked by council to work out differences between the corporation members and the city's firefighters, Roger Mobley, said the corporation received orders from Keller to remove all of its property including a cotton ginning machine and a pool table from the fire hall.

Mobley said that as the corporation members were removing the equipment, they were ordered by Grant to leave it there.

Mobley said the group offered to leave the items for use by the volunteers.

February 14 Is Kick-Off For Event Shad Derby Nears; Prize List Grows

By BOB ORRELL
Herald Outdoor Correspondent

Many prizes await the winners in Sanford's First Annual Shad Derby and with the "kick-off" day just a month off, the list of contributors supporting the derby continues to grow.

The Derby will be held from Feb. 14 to March 14.

The steering committee for (Related Story Page 1A-B) the contest met Tuesday evening at the Fish Camp Shop to complete plans for the derby and released an update rundown on donors who have pledged prizes.

They are: Adams Auto Parts, Army Navy Surplus Store, Automotive Speed Parts, Dale's Gulf Station, Denmark Sporting Goods, Dove's and 18 years and over gift certificates for merchandise from participating businesses.

The Sanford Police Benevolent Association will sponsor a chicken barbecue on March 20, the Saturday after the derby ends.

Winners will receive their prizes at the barbecue and additionally, a 7.5 H.P. Mercury outboard motor will be awarded as a door prize during the derby.

The steering committee combination, which will be awarded the grand prize winner to spinning rods and reels for the derby.

The grand prize, a 6 H.P. Johnson outboard motor, a Taylor fiberglass boat, and a Harding galvanized tilt bed trailer, will be on display at various shopping centers and plazas around Seminole County during the month long contest.

The Derby is sponsored by the Evening Herald and the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce. It is expected to draw thousands of contestants.

Safety on the water will be enforced by patrol boats from the Seminole County Sheriff's office and members of the derby committee will be on the river in marked private boats to assist fishermen and camp operators.

Official weigh-in stations have been announced as Osteen Bridge Fish Camp on the St. Johns River near Lake Monroe, Marina Isle Fish Camp five miles East of Sanford on S.R. 46, and Lemon Bluff Fish Camp on S.R. 415 near Osteen.

All weigh stations will be equipped with new calibrated scales.

Tickets for the barbecue will be on sale throughout the derby and the public is invited.

Court To Receive Midway Pupil Report

By JOE ASKREW
Herald Staff Writer

A report on what happened to the 60 white pupils assigned in 1970 to attend Midway Elementary School will be filed in U.S. District Court in Orlando late today or tomorrow according to Seminole County School Board Attorney Douglas Stenstrom.

Stenstrom said U.S. District Court Judge George C. Young last month reserved his ruling and requested the information after hearing a motion by the U.S. Justice Department asking the school board to develop alternative methods to desegregate the predominantly black school east of Sanford.

Burtis Dougherty, attorney for the Civil Rights Division of the Justice Department, requested and was granted the right to participate in the investigation of what happened to the original 60 white pupils assigned to the school, Stenstrom said. Dougherty approved the conversion last year of the Rosenwald Elementary School in Alamo Springs to a special education facility for the handicapped.

Stenstrom said the 60 white pupils were there, but because they didn't attend Midway, it was not because of discrimination on the part of the school board.

He said some parents of the pupils chose to have them attend private schools, some moved out of the area, and some were routinely promoted.

Stenstrom said the government now isn't insisting on a majority of white pupils in schools, but just getting more white pupils to attend Midway.

The problem appears to stem from the fact that there are only nine white pupils and approximately 300 black pupils at the Midway school, east of Sanford off S.R. 46.

The majority of the population surrounding north

Sanford elementary schools is black, Stenstrom said.

Stenstrom said he agreed with an earlier comment made by Superintendent William Layer that only massive cross-busing would achieve a majority of white pupils in these schools, which is not desired by either side.

2,400 pupils in the county now receive this service, according to Fred Taylor, county transportation director.

Layer said the board last week placed a moratorium on all future courtesy busing requests until the safety criteria is established.

Courtesy Busing To Be Discussed

By BOB ORRELL
Herald Staff Writer

Safety hazard criteria which necessitates "courtesy busing," or the transporting of pupils who live less than two miles from their respective schools, may be determined once and for all when the Seminole County School Board meets at 7:30 p.m. today.

Superintendent William P. Layer said his staff has been working on a "safety formula" for granting courtesy busing requests. He said the number of students and speed of vehicular traffic should be figured in the formula.

Courtesy busing service, for which no state funds are now provided, costs local taxpayers $68,000 a year. About

Seminole County Population Rises By Only 2,000 State's Growth Rate Slowed By Lack Of Job-Seekers

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—The drop in Florida's growth rate is a result of fewer persons moving into the state to look for jobs, state economist Jay Yelton says.

Retirees are still moving to the state, but "we believe the stream of in-migrants who are economically motivated is down to the historical rate of growth," Yelton said Tuesday after a Department of Administration report was released showing slower growth.

The department said Florida's population increased only 2.87 per cent to 4.5 million between July 1, 1974 and July 1, 1975 compared with a growth rate of 5 per cent a year for the previous four years.

Yelton said in an interview that the decline was a result of the recession, and compounded the problems for the hard-hit construction industry which was building at an unjustified rate in the boom years.

He said the House Finance and Taxation Committee later that session in Florida's economy had reached a turning point, but that economic recovery is likely to be long and slow and a new dip may hit in late 1977.

Indicators of recovery are rising employment, slight increases in single-family housing construction starting booming tourism and sales tax gains, he said.

But he said the construction industry, which lost 120,000 of its 250,000 jobs, has been slower in recovering and that factor probably will delay full recovery because of the industry's major role in the economy.

Yelton said in the interview that while single-family home construction had started recovering, some areas were so overbuilt in condominiums that it is 2 years will be required to assimilate them.

Many construction workers will have to switch to other industries or move to growing states such as Louisiana and Texas because Florida is unlikely to reach the enormous growth rate of the early 1970s again, he said.

Florida's population jumped from 6.8 million in the April 1, 1970 census to 8.25 million on July 1, 1974 and then added only 237,000 in 1974-75, the Department of Administration said.

Only two counties, Lafayette and Osceola, experienced population declines last year, but the growth in some counties particularly in Central Florida actually came to a halt.

For instance, Orange County's population jumped 78,600 in four years to 425,981 on July 1, 1974 and then grew only 975 in the next year. Seminole County grew 50,000 in the first four years of the decade and only 2,000 last year.

The Department of Administration population estimate showed these figures for county populations as of April 1, 1970, July 1, 1974 and July 1, 1975:

Alachua 104,784; 125,139; 130,838;

State's Growth Rate Slowed By Lack Of Job-Seekers

Retirees are still moving to the state, but "we believe the stream of in-migrants who are economically motivated is down to the historical rate of growth," Yelton said Tuesday after a Department of Administration report was released showing slower growth.

The department said Florida's population increased only 2.87 per cent to 4.5 million between July 1, 1974 and July 1, 1975 compared with a growth rate of 5 per cent a year for the previous four years.

Yelton said in an interview that the decline was a result of the recession, and compounded the problems for the hard-hit construction industry which was building at an unjustified rate in the boom years.

He said the House Finance and Taxation Committee later that session in Florida's economy had reached a turning point, but that economic recovery is likely to be long and slow and a new dip may hit in late 1977.

Indicators of recovery are rising employment, slight increases in single-family housing construction starting booming tourism and sales tax gains, he said.

But he said the construction industry, which lost 120,000 of its 250,000 jobs, has been slower in recovering and that factor probably will delay full recovery because of the industry's major role in the economy.

Yelton said in the interview that while single-family home construction had started recovering, some areas were so overbuilt in condominiums that it is 2 years will be required to assimilate them.

Many construction workers will have to switch to other industries or move to growing states such as Louisiana and Texas because Florida is unlikely to reach the enormous growth rate of the early 1970s again, he said.

Florida's population jumped from 6.8 million in the April 1, 1970 census to 8.25 million on July 1, 1974 and then added only 237,000 in 1974-75, the Department of Administration said.

Only two counties, Lafayette and Osceola, experienced population declines last year, but the growth in some counties particularly in Central Florida actually came to a halt.

For instance, Orange County's population jumped 78,600 in four years to 425,981 on July 1, 1974 and then grew only 975 in the next year. Seminole County grew 50,000 in the first four years of the decade and only 2,000 last year.

The Department of Administration population estimate showed these figures for county populations as of April 1, 1970, July 1, 1974 and July 1, 1975:

Foreign Policy Is Drifting

The American role in a troubled world during 1976 may be that of a paralytic, majestic in spirit but powerless to function.

The problem is not lack of leadership. We have Henry Kissinger, only recently praised as a miracle worker, at the helm of the State Department and enjoying the confidence of President Ford in his ability to steer a firm diplomatic course.

And we have 535 members of the House and Senate equally confident of their own talents in guiding foreign policy through global waters dotted with the perils of the Middle East, Angola, the Panama Canal issue, SALT and the shaky detente with the Soviet Union.

The threat to an effective foreign policy is the multiplicity of navigational charts. Congress and the White House are tugging in opposite directions.

We are a nation of economic illiterates, says Jennings, excusing nobody. Students, teachers, workers, executives, government officials — all illiterate, he says.

Because we are so ignorant, he continues, we suffer a plague of economic ailments, including inflation, strikes, a shortage of capital for expanding industry, and a variety of needless frictions and frustrations.

Particularly irksome to Jennings, who is a lawyer and consultant, is the misunderstanding of profits. No matter when he asks, he says, they seem to think profits are greater than they really are. He includes businessmen.

During the first half of 1975, he says, all manufacturing corporations earned a net profit after taxes of $11.7 billion on sales of $513.7 billion, for a return on sales of 4.4 per cent.

Recently he questioned some corporate personnel officers. Analyzing their written responses, he found they believed profit margins were 33 per cent. He wasn't shocked. Almost nobody knows the answer, he says.

He asked the same group what they considered a fair profit. They said 10 per cent. That's more than twice what manufacturers have been making, and seven times the 1.4 per cent earned by retailers.

"Nobody knows the arithmetic," said Jennings, a former mediator of union-management debates and later a corporate executive and head of John Q. Jennings Associates. In the mid-1940s he headed the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service in Michigan.

"I've never had trouble with unions," he said, adding that he has found union leaders reasonable in their demands when presented the facts. "Give them the facts and they act responsibly," he said.

But, he said, the unions often hear corporations boasting to stockholders while crying to unions. "They're not mind readers; you can't expect them to guess the facts, the truth."

If the information isn't made available to them, he asked, how can you expect workers not to feel they are being denied their share of the pie, considering the false assumptions they and others are inclined to make?

For example, he said, there is a widespread notion that workers don't share the benefits of the economy they help create. Few people know, he maintains, that employees receive 88.6 per cent of the divisible income of a corporation.

Around

The Clock

In the Thursday, Jan. 5, edition of The Evening Herald, we mentioned in this corner that Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, would personally launch his campaign in Central Florida on Saturday, Jan. 17, at 3 p.m. at the Municipal Auditorium in Orlando.

We took that information straight from a news release that came out of the Wallace Campaign Headquarters.

Since then, we've had quite a few telephone calls informing us that Wallace won't be at the Auditorium until 7:30 p.m. on Saturday.

We're happy to correct this misinformation. Wallace will also speak at the Sheraton Twin Towers in Orlando at 9:30 p.m. on Saturday.

The Florida Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services, Division of Health, and the Seminole County Health Department urge all parents to have their children immunized against dread diseases as soon after birth as possible.

The immunization series for polio, diphtheria, tetanus, whooping cough, measles, mumps and German measles are important to the safety and welfare of every youngster and should not be delayed.

Immunization to save lives and health is a project of these agencies and great emphasis is placed on it.

Don't delay. Get the facts as soon as possible.

All persons living in telephone area code 306 will be dialing a new number for tax assistance this year, according to the district office of the Internal Revenue Service.

Taxpayers within area code 306, which includes Sanford and all of Seminole County, can get this free income tax assistance by dialing direct. The number to call is 1-800-342-6200, which is a toll free number.

Charles O. DeWitt, Florida director of the Internal Revenue Service, said that the toll free number will be staffed by up to 60 persons weekdays from 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

DeWitt also encouraged taxpayers needing additional forms to use the order blank contained within the tax packages sent out earlier this month to more than 3.1 million Floridians. "Usually, persons can get forms quicker when ordering by mail as opposed to trying to obtain them by telephone," DeWitt said.

Requests for forms and publications should be sent to: Tax Forms, IRS, P.O. Box 35045, Jacksonville, Fla., 32202.

President Ford recently issued a proclamation naming January as National Volunteer Blood Donor Month.

Robert E. Daehn, chairman of the Seminole County Blood Bank, says his organization has contacted the seven mayors of the incorporated cities in Seminole County in hopes that they will issue a local proclamation.

According to Daehn, the Seminole County Blood Bank is installing much new equipment to freeze blood, which is an expensive procedure. "Under normal refrigeration," Daehn said, "whole blood can be stored for only 28 days."

We urge all who possibly can to contribute to the Seminole County Blood Bank. We know, from personal experience, what it is to be on the receiving end of that transfusion and how much it means to all concerned.

Blood supplies are always short at any blood bank and more is needed at all times. Give, that others might live.

WORLD IN BRIEF

Soviet-Backed Angolans Receive Guyana Support

MIAMI (AP) — The government of Guyana in South America has recognized the Soviet-backed faction in the Angolan civil war and is sending sugar, rice and other foodstuffs to show its support, Radio Havana says.

"We feel ourselves obligated to help the patriotic forces of Angola which are defending their independence and fight against the South African racists," Radio Havana, Minister Forbes Barnham was saying.

Forbes said Guyana "is loyal to the policy of helping the liberation movements," the station said.

Radio Havana hailed the move as "another diplomatic victory for the Popular Movement for the Liberation of Angola."

Arabs Agree On Resolution

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Arab delegates say they have agreed in principle on a resolution to put before the Security Council calling for Israeli withdrawal from all occupied Arab territory and recognition of the "inalienable national rights" of the Palestinians as the basis for an Arab-Israeli peace settlement.

High-level sources said differences remain over what to stress and assessment of the U.S. position, but a draft of the resolution is expected by the end of the week.

The sources said the United States may be amenable to a resolution promoting the "legitimate interests" of the Palestinians but will veto one that calls for Israeli withdrawal from all occupied territories.

Economic Program Criticized

ROME (AP) — Premier Aldo Moro must liberalize his tight money economic program to get the Socialist support he needs to form a new government, the Socialist party leader Francesco De Martino says.

De Martino told newsmen Tuesday night, after Moro accepted President Giovanni Leone's mandate to try to form a new cabinet, that the "central issue" in the political crisis is recognition of the industrial recovery plan now before Parliament.

"The measures of the outgoing government were absolutely unacceptable," the Socialist leader said.

Economic Illiteracy Criticized

NEW YORK (AP) — John Q. Jennings has a message for America in the year 1976, a year in which many important labor contracts will be negotiated.

We are a nation of economic illiterates, says Jennings, excusing nobody. Students, teachers, workers, executives, government officials — all illiterate, he says.

Because we are so ignorant, he continues, we suffer a plague of economic ailments, including inflation, strikes, a shortage of capital for expanding industry, and a variety of needless frictions and frustrations.

But, he said, the unions often hear corporations boasting to stockholders while crying to unions. "They're not mind readers; you can't expect them to guess the facts, the truth."

If the information isn't made available to them, he asked, how can you expect workers not to feel they are being denied their share of the pie, considering the false assumptions they and others are inclined to make?

For example, he said, there is a widespread notion that workers don't share the benefits of the economy they help create. Few people know, he maintains, that employees receive 88.6 per cent of the divisible income of a corporation.

More On Hoover's Files On People

We have established beyond reasonable doubt that the late J. Edgar Hoover kept blackmail files on prominent people, including Presidents John F. Kennedy, Lyndon B. Johnson and Richard M. Nixon.

These raw files contained gleanings from FBI offices around the country. Hoover's minions, knowing he liked derogatory information about people in power, kept him well supplied.

His agents spent a great deal of time, for example, observing and reporting on the sexual adventures of celebrities. The choice tidbits, ranging from pure gossip to vicious slanders, were swept into fattening folders.

The late FBI chief kept the most sensitive files in his personal custody. They were removed after his death, according to our sources, by his faithful factotum, Clyde Tolson.

These files could have had no possible purpose except blackmail. Their existence is disturbing evidence that Hoover had turned the FBI into a political police force whose snooping practices had become all too similar to those of Adolf Hitler's Gestapo and Joseph Stalin's KGB.

Hoover was not an over-the-hill man. His power depended for half a century on the good will of the nation's elected leaders, whose favor he courted. He, therefore, posed as their friend who wanted only to protect them from the President's enemies might spread.

By this approach, he made them aware subtly

LONDON ECONOMIST

Walker: Daley Says 'No'

CHICAGO — There was a time when the star of Daniel Walker, the "reformist" governor of Illinois, was ascending, and when he was touted (by himself, among others) as a possible Democratic presidential candidate in 1978.

Walker is not at all sure of keeping the job he already has, or indeed even of getting his own party's nomination for another go at the governorship.

The Illinois Democratic organization — the Democratic state central committee — selects the candidates it will support in about an undemocratic manner as an eastern European "democratic republic." Shamelessly dominated by Richard Daley, the mayor of Chicago, the committee holds an annual slatemaking meeting, during which it literally makes its list of candidates from among applicants who compete to demonstrate their fidelity to Daley.

There was little prospect that Walker would be selected to the party session earlier this month, as he first came to public office four years ago as an independent Democrat who defeated the organization-backed candidate.

But this time the Daley men have picked a particularly strong candidate to run against Walker in the Democratic primary election on March 16th: Michael Howlett, who has been in politics more than 30 years and is widely known throughout the state. Howlett is now secretary of state, a position which, in Illinois, controls much patronage and is much in the public eye.

Even if Walker survives the Democratic primary, he will probably face another tough challenger in the general election next November: James Thompson, Thompson, the former federal prosecutor in Chicago who has put many politicians of both parties in jail on the question of police brutality.

Latham said he was confident that his juvenile record and the Klan flap would not be a factor in his 1976 campaign.

He said he has learned in traveling the state that the people are fed up with professional politicians and are seeking candidates like him whose political backgrounds is minimal.

Latham said a number of his 1974 campaign proposals have been picked up by politicians and are gaining widespread support. He mentioned his plan to split the office of insurance commissioner from the position and put insurance regulation under a board.

Insurance Commissioner Phil Ashler has proposed splitting the office and putting insurance regulation under an official appointed by the Cabinet.

Latham said his candidacy should receive an extra boost this year because a Republican presidential candidate will be on the ballot.

Once a member of the Daley machine himself, Metcalfe had a falling out with the mayor when the police allegedly mistreated two of his friends, black dentists, and Daley refused to take up the question of police brutality.

Candidate Latham Will Try Again

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — A Cabinet candidate whose juvenile record and Ku Klux Klan friendships probably cost him election in 1974 says he'll try again this year.

Jeff Latham, 31, who runs a Davis marketing business, said he has already filed papers as a Republican candidate for state treasurer-insurance commissioner.

"I never stop running, he said, "and I'm going to win this time."

Latham ran the strongest race of any Republican Cabinet candidate in 1974, losing by 843,955 votes to 778,550 to former Treasurer-Insurance Commissioner Thomas O'Malley.

O'Malley was indicted shortly before the 1974 election, but Latham's bid for the Cabinet office suffered a probably fatal blow when O'Malley supporters tipped reporters to his juvenile record.

Latham was convicted of stealing auto parts when he was a teen-ager and served several months in a state boys school.

Latham was one of several candidates who met with Klan leader John Paul Rogers of Lake Wales during the 1974 campaign. He said he saw nothing wrong in seeking Klan support and welcomed it.

Another candidate who met with Rogers, Secretary of State Bruce Smathers, denied that he was aware of Rogers' Klan affiliation. Smathers repudiated the segregationist organization.

Primary is expected to be the occasion for bitter political disputes on the south side. Metcalfe has become a prominent member of the congressional black caucus in Washington, and some of its members will probably invade Daley's realm to campaign for him.

Charges Zoning Ordinance Violated

Altamonte Baby-Sitter Gets 'Cease' Order

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — The city has issued a letter to Mrs. Jean Bechtold ordering that baby-sitting at her residence on Applewood Avenue, Spring Oaks, cease immediately or a warrant will be issued for her arrest.

Mayor Norman Floyd reported the progress of the city's effort to stop the violation of the zoning ordinance in the residential area to a delegation of Spring Oaks residents Tuesday night.

Floyd said the issue is both a legal and an emotional matter, adding that the zoning laws of the city created to protect property owners do not permit child care in R1A residentially zoned areas.

The mayor said Mrs. Bechtold, in addition to violating the zoning ordinance, may be in violation of a city law requiring licensing of businesses and a "very stringent" state law on child care.

The residents, who indicated they wanted immediate action on the matter, were told by City Attorney Joseph Davis that the issue may not end in the city's court, but rather the possibility is that the local court's decision will be appealed. "The city may ultimately be faced with seeking an injunction and being involved in litigation," he said.

In other business, Commissioner Cal DeVoney criticized the Board of County Commissioners for authorizing the spending of $3,900 in sidewalk construction money for walks to be built on E. E. Williamson Road in county territory for the Woodlands School.

DeVoney asked why the county had refused to build walks in Altamonte Springs for the Lake Orienta school students.

"It should be brought to the county commissioners' attention that we pay taxes, too," DeVoney said.

Floyd reported that an outstanding bill of $5,000 for construction of the city hall, brought to his attention by general contractor, Sorenson and Fletcher, will be paid.

He reminded that a workshop session of the council is scheduled for 6 p.m. Thursday.

Herring also urged that each agency, subject to the law, create a reading file containing the various opinions of the attorney general and cost decisions relating to the law and that the file be made available to the citizens and officials.

"I also want you to know that I interpret said law to prohibit communications, whether by telephone, personal contact, or otherwise between two or more members of an agency subject to said law, out of sight or hearing of the public, even though it may be more convenient or expedient, and done so to transact or agree to transact public business at a future time," Herring said.

Floyd said Tuesday night that the city does keep a file on record of the decisions and opinions, concerning the "sunshine law" in both his office and the city clerk's office, he said.

"I don't think anyone has been able to define or spell out the law," Floyd said.

"There is nothing wrong with the intent of the law. The problem is having it put into layman's language," he said.

City Attorney Joseph Davis advised the city commissioners concerning aspects of the law, "If you have any doubt, don't do it."

Moore Regrets Actions

Attorney 'Sorry' For Copying Document

TALLHASSEE (AP) — The chief attorney for the Board of Business Regulation says he's sorry he copied a document intended for a House investigating committee.

But committee Chairman Dick Clark, D-Miami, charged Tuesday that the action was just one of a series of department moves intended to impede the panel's investigation of the board.

William Moore, testifying before the Select Committee on Fraudulent Mortgage Sales, said he regretted his actions and would not repeat them.

More and several other employees of the department were subpoenaed to explain why a deposition intended for the committee, but mistakenly sent to the department, was opened and copied before being forwarded.

Moore said that he felt that the deposition was a public document and could be copied.

But, he said, following the furor over his actions he realized he was wrong and should have forwarded it immediately to the committee and then requested a copy.

"I was wrong and I regret my action. I sincerely regret the discontent this has caused," he said.

Clark, however, told Moore, "You and your department have done everything to impede this investigation. Your whole behavior has shown a contemptuous attitude toward the legislature in the way that you have handled this."

The deposition was taken from a department employee who died two days after he testified. The employee had implicated Department Director Al Baker in the delay of investigation of the mortgage securities fraud, Clark said.

Moore said that he was unhappy when he learned the deposition was taken and called the court reporter involved to try to find out why it was taken so soon before the man's death.

Baker testified before the committee that the letter was taken in his office after the address was noticed in the mailroom.

He said he did not look at it and just told his secretary to forward it to Moore, who had been handling correspondence with the legislative committee.

Clark said the special committee would hold further hearings later in the month to probe the original question of what errors were made in the department's Land Sales Division that caused the long delay in investigating the mortgage fraud.

FLORIDA IN BRIEF

PERC Orders Regents Board To Hold Bargaining Election

TALLHASSEE (AP) — The Board of Regents has ordered by PERC Tuesday, but some 6,000 would be in one unit which the United Faculty of Florida (UFF) and the American Association of University Professors (AAUP) are seeking to represent.

The 6,000 employees would be split into four unions under the order approved by PERC Tuesday, but some 6,000 would be in one unit which the United Faculty of Florida (UFF) and the American Association of University Professors (AAUP) are seeking to represent.

Elliott Messer, regents attorney for collective bargaining, said the board would discuss at its meeting Friday in Tampa whether to accept the PERC order or appeal it to the 1st District Court of Appeal.

PERC rejected Messer's request for a single union for university system employees, but approved his proposal to exclude 2,500 graduate assistant instructors from the union election.

Journalists Face Charges

JACKSONVILLE (AP) — Two television newscasters have been ordered to appear at a Jan. 21 hearing to explain why they refused to divulge the name of a reported witness to a killing by a policeman.

Circuit Judge Major B. Harding ordered Ernest Mastrolanni and Marlene Schneider to appear before him and show cause why they should not be held in criminal contempt of court.

Tuesday's order came in response to the refusal of Mastrolanni, news editor of WJXTV and Miss Schneider, a reporter for the station, to disclose to a grand jury the identity of a witness who reportedly saw the Dec. 12 fatal shooting of Michael D. O'Leary.

Keys Murder Unsolved

LOWER MATECUMBE KEY (AP) — Authorities say they have no suspects in the murder of a Pittsburgh University student whose decomposed body was found tied to a bed with lengths of wire.

"We're working on a few things, but we don't expect an arrest at least for the next day or so," a sheriff's deputy said Tuesday.

Jeffrey McNeerney, 19, was beaten to death with a pick ax several days before a group of youths found his body last Saturday in a vacant shack in Lower Matecumbe Key, police said.

The youth's parents, Joseph and Elsie May McNeerney, flew to Florida to claim their son's body, police said.

Pinellas Official Sentenced

CLEARWATER (AP) — Former Pinellas County Commissioner A. Oliver McEachern, one of three officials charged in a zoning scandal, has been sentenced to a year and a day in prison for accepting five payoffs for favorable zoning votes.

McEachern was told Tuesday to report to begin his sentence Feb. 2.

He pleaded no contest in November to charges that he was paid for the zoning votes during his term as a county commissioner in 1972-73.

Two other former commissioners, George Brunfield and William Dockerty, were indicted and convicted in the scandal.

Brunfield is free on bond pending his sentencing under a plea-bargained arrangement with prosecutors. Dockerty was convicted on one count and begins serving a two-year sentence Thursday.

Bank Robbers Escape

DUNNELLON (AP) — Three armed men, disguised with wigs and false beards, have escaped in a stolen car with a large but undetermined amount of cash after robbing a bank, police say.

Officers through West-Central Florida set up roadblocks and dispatched two aircraft to search for the men after the Tuesday holdup.

The gunmen used a stolen car in the robbery of the Dunnellon State Bank, but abandoned the vehicle after making their getaway, authorities said.

Close Vote Predicted

TALLHASSEE (AP) — Many House members are predicting an extremely close vote in today's showdown between Speaker Donald Tucker and Rep. James Redman for the 1977-78 House leadership.

"He doesn't have a lead-pipe cinch, and I don't either," said Redman, D-Plant City. "It's close. I feel I've got the votes."

Tucker, D-Tallahassee, and his supporters contended, however, that he would swamp Redman with 55 to 65 of the 87 Democratic caucus votes.

NAACP Urges FCC Action

DAYTONA BEACH (AP) — The Florida NAACP, saying that its action may be unprecedented, has asked the Federal Communications Commission to revoke licenses if necessary to force all broadcast stations in the state to end job discrimination.

"We know there are stations not living up to equal-opportunity rules and regulations," state NAACP official Charles Cherry said Tuesday.

Cherry said three NAACP lawyers in Washington filed the petition with the FCC Jan. 2. No action has been taken yet, he said.

Dickinson Trial Under Way

TALLHASSEE (AP) — A federal prosecutor was expected to tell jurors today that former Congressman Fred O. "Bud" Dickinson failed to report on his 1972 income-tax returns payments from bankers he regulated.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Anthony LaSpada, in making his opening statement to a 12-member jury selected Monday, was to outline the government's case against Dickinson.

U.S. District Judge William Brewer had recessed the trial Tuesday to allow LaSpada to take the depositions of a hospitalized potential witness, attorney Charles Marchion of Jacksonville.

Less Money For Tourism Suggested Industrial Development Measure Passed

By ED PRICKETT Herald Staff Writer

At the urging of Commissioner Harry Kwiatkowski, the Seminole County Commission Tuesday passed a resolution urging the state legislature to spend more money on industrial development and less on promotion of tourism.

Kwiatkowski said his intention was to "call attention" to state legislators that "most dollars are spent promoting tourism."

Kwiatkowski indicated it was permissible to spend tax dollars to promote tourism, but he said the legislature should persevere the high rate of unemployment in the state and divert more dollars to provide for industrial development.

In Seminole County, the November unemployment rate was 12.9 per cent, with more than 7,000 workers idled.

"We do hereby express our growing alarm at the continued deterioration of the economy of our county."

The resolution says the board "strongly endorses economic development through industrial development" and calls on the State of Florida to assist in a redirection of the allocation of state tax dollars.

Though the vote was unanimous, Commissioner John Kimbrough said the legislature should apply itself to amending the corporate income tax law if the state sincerely wishes to attract industry.

Also, Kimbrough asked if the resolution was specific. The reason, he said, is that this county applies itself to a search for clean industry — not just any industry. Clean industry is development which produces little or no pollutants and does little to detract from the natural environment.

On another economic front, county officials are gearing up to participate in a tri-county study to determine the best methods of attracting industry to the Central Florida area.

Commissioners agreed Monday to appoint three Seminole County representatives to serve on the study committee. Tri-county development is being urged by the Central Florida Development Committee, an agency consisting of 150 business men.

Betty Ford's Happy With Liberty Bell

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Betty Ford says she likes the Liberty Bell's new home and thinks the moving of the bell will mean more Americans will see the famous symbol of freedom.

"It's a very handsome setting," the First Lady said Tuesday, describing the bell's new glass and steel home one block from Independence Hall.

Mrs. Ford was in town to dedicate a $175,000 sculpture at the new federal courthouse two blocks from Independence Hall.

But before the dedication, she stopped to see the bell, moved on New Year's Day from its cramped quarters at Independence Hall to the new structure.

"It will allow more people to find out what it means and what it stands for," said Mrs. Ford of the new building. "I think many people will travel a great many miles just to be in this spot."

Cox, a Harvard Law School professor, was Watergate prosecutor until 1973 when he was fired by former President Richard Nixon.

Newton-John Recuperating

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Singer Olivia Newton-John is resting at her home to recover from injuries suffered when she was thrown from a horse, a spokesman said.

The incident occurred Monday at the Malibu Riding and Tennis Club.

Her doctor said she suffered a cervical and lumbar sprain and bruises of the back. He said the full extent of her injuries will not be known for several days.

Miss Newton-John, described as an accomplished rider, was nominated Tuesday for a Grammy award as best pop vocal female performer of 1975 for her recording of "Have You Never Been Mellow."

Natural Gas Request Temporarily Delayed

By DONNA ESTES, Herald Staff Writer

LONGWOOD — A decision on a natural gas franchise requested by Florida Public Utilities has been tabled until next week's Monday night city council meeting to give council members time to discuss the matter.

Suspect Commits Suicide

Dillard said he and Sgt. William Foster and Lt. Richard Nooney were approaching the vehicle when a man in the front passenger seat raised his hand and a shot was heard.

White shot himself in the right temple with a pistol, police said, and was pronounced dead at Seminoe Memorial Hospital by Seminoe County Medical Examiner Dr. C.V. Gary.

Police brought Dunn to the shooting scene where he identified a revolver found in White's hand as the weapon stolen from the pawn shop and clothing items in the car as similar to those worn by the man who fled with the gun.

Both said, as well, that six per cent of revenues, minus franchise fees levied against the company for its facilities, would be returned to the city in franchise fees. They also said that while the franchise fees may be noted on the individual bills to users of city dwellers will not be paying any higher rate than out-of-city users.

Mehus said the company's gas lines "now sit on U.S. 17-92 at the city limits" and could be brought into the city when the franchise is approved. He refused to give an exact schedule of when service will be available, but assured that in most cases bottled gas customers will be served with natural gas before other prospective customers.

In answer to a question of whether "interruptible" gas, usually sold to large industries, could be omitted from the franchise, Pressman said that company would refuse to take that action. The six per cent

Insurance Rate Upped $50,000

Hospital Accepts Premium Rate Increase

By JOE ASKREIN, Herald Staff Writer

The new liability and malpractice insurance coverage — up $50,000 over last year's annual premium — for Seminoe Memorial Hospital was accepted Tuesday by the hospital's board of trustees who said the increase doesn't necessarily mean room rates will be raised.

The board accepted the low bid of $165,000 from Jones and Hill of Savannah, Ga., agent for Continental Insurance Co., Chicago.

Hospital Administrator Robert Bessner said the old policy cost $115,000 last year in premiums.

Trustee Allan Keen said the insurance increase doesn't mean hospital rates automatically will go up. "It depends on the operation," he said.

Vihlen Considering Congressional Race

Seminole County Commissioner Sid Vihlen Jr., today announced he is seriously considering running for United States Congress, District Five. The veteran Central Florida Commissioner promised a firm statement by mid-February.

"If we make this race," Vihlen said, "we'll go to the people in neighborhoods and on the streets. Our campaign for Congress will be a people to people campaign."

A Seminoe County Commissioner for six years, Vihlen has two years as Board Chairman. He is a native of Seminoe County and is a 14-year civic and business leader in Central Florida.

"I have been urged to run for Congress by scores of citizens in the district and after taking a hard look at potential candidates for the primary and the record of the incumbent, I am convinced there is a good chance of winning the Democratic nomination and the general election."

"Americans and Floridians are out of work and our pocket books have been hard hit. Washington politicians have not been responsive to the needs of the people. Even though government spending is soaring, solutions to fundamental problems go un-solved," Vihlen said.

"The abnormal high rate of unemployment remains a national, and, more specifically, a Florida problem — with no solution in sight. Inflation continues. And, statistics show the nation's crime rate continues to grow — even though crime has been a national issue for years. Big government gets bigger and is not responsive to the current needs of the people," Vihlen added.

The seat Vihlen is seeking is occupied by Richard Kelly, a Republican.

The Seminoe County Democrat said Floridians deserve a fresh approach to national government based on sound business principles.

Evans said overall costs have to be projected, and "it's up to the CPA and administrator" to see that the hospital meets its cash flow. He said 60 days notice would be given before any room rate increases would be instituted, which would take place at a public meeting.

Trustees Mrs. Kay Shoemaker and Jack Shubert moved and seconded, respectively, to accept the new insurance coverage.

Other agencies who bid on the coverage were Seminole Agency, Inc., of Sanford and All-Risk Underwriters of Winter Park.

In other action, the board decided to delay its election of officers and board reorganization until the regular meeting in February.

The board approved an application for a $125,000 federal matching grant to install a sprinkler system over the

With fourteen years of successful community service and business leadership, and six years in elected office dealing with legislative and administrative issues daily, Vihlen says he would like the chance to put that experience to work for citizens of the Fifth Congressional District.

"I am qualified to provide aggressive leadership that will both identify problems and find solutions and have the ability to work with people," he said.

"I have not looked to go to Congress, but the demand of good citizens and friends has prompted a close look at this Congressional seat. If we run, we'll run to win and I'll dedicate myself to the citizens within the eight counties that make up the district."

A Low Fat Diet Cuts Cholesterol

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB — I have been reading articles on high cholesterol that say that it cannot be dissolved once it's in the arteries. Is that true? The triglyceride level is normal. I have brought my weight down to 145 from 185 pounds. I would like to know if I am doing all right and what it means.

DEAR READER — In general the risk of having a heart attack or other complications from fatty-cholesterol deposits increases as the level of cholesterol increases and decreases as the level decreases. Different laboratory procedures also yield different results.

Depending on the type of test, one can have a cholesterol level as high as 220 or less, yet the level is low enough that it becomes a less important factor.

I wanted to include your letter in the column for another reason. Your case is a good example of how a low fat diet works. You can debate the value of a low fat low cholesterol diet in some instances for the general population but there is very little doubt about its value in decreasing the cholesterol levels in people who have high levels to begin with. Most physicians who have really tried this approach and who succeed in getting their patients to lose unhealthy pounds have observed such changes.

Your results sound like you are moving in the right direction and as you continue to lose extra pounds the results will probably be even better. While you are about it, gradually get rid of all your excess pounds so you don't have any significant amount of fat on your body.

Those articles you have read about not being able to dissolve the cholesterol in your arteries once it is there are completely wrong. A well planned study on monkeys put on a high-fat high-cholesterol diet and then put back on a low-calorie monkey diet showed

By BERNICE BEDE OSOL

For Thursday, January 15, 1976

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You're prone to be more considerate of those with whom you don't have emotional ties. You'll eliminate problems if you're aware of this around loved ones.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) There's no reason you shouldn't have fun today, but be careful not to live it up at the cost of your responsibilities.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Your material prospects are bright today, providing you don't base on hazy situations. Exercise prudent judgment.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Don't let self-doubts gain the upper hand today. If you think you're a winner, you are. Act like one.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You have a tendency today to paint a picture which is true, but not necessarily complete. Get all the facts out in the open.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) In your business today, don't let all the water come out of your well. Make sure that associates kick in their shares.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Muster allies today for your position. They'll be available if you make a proper approach, and show them gratitude.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Have faith in your ideas today, but don't delude yourself into thinking they'll be approved by all. However, the majority will be in your corner.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Be realistic in dealing with friends in business situations today. You're not the selfish type to live it up at the cost of your responsibilities.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) If you have to make an important decision today, think you'll choose the right path.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Want things done today? Get the ball rolling. It's fine if others want to help, but you can't depend on anyone.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Social functions you plan today should be restricted to those you know are compatible. Satisfying obligations could shake up the party.

YOUR BIRTHDAY Jan. 15, 1976

You're apt to form very valuable alliances this coming year. One will be close to the family. It could be influential in a sphere in which you are interested.

Cook Of The Week

West, East Meet In Kitchen

By JEAN PATESON
Women's Editor

Mrs. Richard (Ginger) Herndon is an eclectic of the first degree. She selects the best of the many cultures she has lived with, and makes the most unlikely combinations work in a delightful way.

In her home, collections of value's Japanese pottery and beautiful Korean screens rub Oriental shoulders with English antiques and American colonial furniture.

In her kitchen, soy sauce and kimchi are cloistered with roast beef and fresh squeezed Florida orange juice.

Ginger loves to experiment with unusual dishes and create new ones. "My children say some of the best things I make are from leftovers—when I've got to create something from nothing," she observes.

"Being able to eat and enjoy different foods helps establish cultural relationships, especially in foreign countries," Ginger explains. Adventurous where food is concerned, she is always sensitive to the more mundane tastes of others, and makes sure she has traditional fare as well as exotic when entertaining.

A native of Virginia, Ginger couldn't boil an egg when she first married. "But I had to feed us on something, and couldn't face the same thing day after day, so I learned. I find it hard to explain how I cook," she added, "because it's just a dash of this and that."

When her husband transferred to the State Department and was assigned to Tokyo, Ginger attended Japanese language classes with him. Once in Japan, she studied further the language and customs, and also learned the art of Ikebana flower arranging and attended classes in Japanese folk dancing.

Of the food she says, "We were spoiled. Living there for eight years, we got to love the real Japanese food—the raw fish and various soups. I'll never forget the beauty of a Japanese meal with the thin slices of lemon and clear soup with one perfect shrimp floating in it. The combination of colors and shapes is exquisite."

She has collected enviable sets of dinnerware from the Far East along with her taste for exotic foods, and loves to converse for hours about the Oriental lands she called home for so many years.

(Fish in Sauce)
1 white fish, 3 to 4 lbs.
1/2 cup soy sauce
2 tbs. vinegar
2 cups oil

Wash and clean fish. Slash across fish every inch on both sides. Combine soy sauce and vinegar; pour over fish and let stand 30 minutes. Fry in deep fat until done and remove to a platter.

SAUCE:
1/2 cups water
2 tbs. soy sauce
1/2 tbs. vinegar
4 tbs. sugar
2 tbs. cornstarch
1/2 cup mushrooms
1/2 cup bamboo shoots
1/2 cup carrots

Add soy sauce, vinegar and sugar to the water and heat. Mix cornstarch with a little water and add, stirring constantly until sauce thickens. Cut mushrooms, bamboo shoots and carrots in attractive pieces and add to the sauce. Cook 10 minutes over medium flame and pour over the fish.

CHINESE BEEF AND RICE
1/2 lb. sliced mushrooms
1/2 cup oil or butter

fat until done and remove to a platter.
1 stalk celery, cut into thin crosswise pieces
1 large peeled onion, diced
1 green pepper, seeded and diced
1 clove garlic, crushed
2 tbs. soy sauce
2 cups cooked rice, seasoned with salt
1/4 cups cooked beef (chicken, pork) cut into strips
1 tomato, peeled and diced
2 eggs
1/2 head lettuce, chopped

Pre-heat oven to 375 degrees. Pat chicken dry; sprinkle with salt and pepper; arrange in large baking dish. Mix juice and honey; pour over chicken. Turn pieces skin side downward and sprinkle with peppers. Bake 15 minutes.

Turn over, add kumquats, baste and cook 30 minutes longer, basting once more. Serve on platter with juices over chicken; garnish with orange or lemon slices.

Folk Singers To Visit City

SELAH, a folk duo from Miami Christian College, will be heard in concert at Sanford Alliance Church, 1401 South Park today at 7 p.m.

Mary Carroll Heacock, sophomore student from Sebring, and Brian Van Aalst, junior from Melbourne, combine their voices in a variety of sacred songs, many composed by Brian who also plays the guitar. The two young people see their musical abilities as a means of communicating their faith in God.

Traveling with SELAH during their January tour of Florida will be Mark Laurens, MCC Director of Admissions. Laurens, a teacher of speech, will speak and represent the Bible college.

Sea World Honors DeBary Woman

January 19 has been proclaimed Louella Dirksen Day at Sea World of Florida, and will serve to recognize a woman who has given enormously of her time and talents, not only to those who knew her, but to her fellow Americans everywhere.

Mrs. Dirksen, wife of the late Senator Everett McKinley

Dirksen, and a DeBary resident has been particularly strong in her continuing support of Sea World and its seniors' programs, having participated in numerous park activities since the opening in December of 1973.

The marine-life park will recognize her by holding a coffee to which prominent seniors and state representatives have been invited. Vice president and general manager George Becker will present Mrs. Dirksen with a plaque that features a huge color photograph of Louella being kissed by Shanna the Yankee Doodle Whale. Ceremonies will take place in the entrance mall, near a drake elm tree dedicated to the memory of the late Senator Dirksen by his wife in 1975.

Throughout the day, seniors (aged 55 and over) will receive a $2.00 discount on the price of their admission, regularly priced at $3.50. Mrs. Dirksen has also recently been named chairwoman of Sea World's Senior Citizens Advisory Board which is comprised of representatives of the state's senior community meeting to plan seniors' activities at the park. Sea World will be open from 9 a.m. till 6 p.m. on Louella Dirksen Day, with main gates closing at 4:30 p.m. The park is located at the intersection of Interstate 4 and the Martin Andersen Beeline Expressway, just six minutes north of Walt Disney World.

His Appetite For Topless Doesn't Suit Wife's Taste

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I don't know why that lady was upset because her husband ate lunch at a topless restaurant. What difference does it make where he gets his appetite as long as he comes home to eat? BROAD-MINDED BROAD IN YAKIMA

DEAR BROAD: Maybe she's afraid he'll work up such a hunger at the restaurant that he'll go back for dinner.

DEAR ABBY: This is my second year as a school teacher. I teach third grade in a very good public school. At the beginning of the semester I received the following letter from the mother of one of my pupils:

Dear Mrs. G: I understand that there is a full-term baby only a few minutes after learning that she was pregnant.

The newscaster said that the woman had gained 30 pounds in the last few months, but she didn't know why. But here's the payoff in case you're thinking that the woman was either uneducated or very dumb. She had been working in a doctor's office for the last 17 years!

My husband said it was probably just an attempt at humor on the part of the newscaster. I said it was not. What do you say?

DEAR CURIOUS: I say truth is stranger than fiction. It actually happened.

Your Slow Cooker Can Yield A Fine Fig Pudding

By CECILY BROWNSTONE, Associated Press Food Editor

If you have an electric slow cooker and haven't yet used it for steaming a wintertime pudding, you may be interested in the following recipe.

The notes we found the pudding's flavor much the same whether it was made with butter or margarine or suet. So if you don't want to use the traditional suet, don't feel it's a "must."

STEADED FIG PUDDING: 1/2 cup soft bread crumbs, 1/2 cup milk, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 pound figs, ground, 1/2 cup (3 ounces) ground nut or 1/2 cup softened butter or margarine, 1/2 cup dark molasses, 1/2 teaspoon grated orange rind, 2 eggs, slightly beaten, 1/2 cup flour, stir to aerate before measuring, 1/2 teaspoon baking soda, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon ground ginger.

In a large mixing bowl stir together the bread crumbs and milk. Add sugar and figs; stir well. Add suet, molasses, orange rind and eggs; stir together thoroughly. On wax paper stir together thoroughly the flour, soda, salt and ginger; add to fig mixture; beat to blend. Pour into a well-greased 1-pound coffee can or 1-quart mold.

Cover can with foil, shaping it into a tent so that there is 1/2 inch of space above the rim of the can; tie foil securely around can with string. Place a trivet in an electric slow cooker and add enough hot water to have it come up 1 inch. (To make a small trivet, punch holes in a screen lid from a coffee maker or other food; place coffee can on trivet and cover slow cooker. Steam with control set on high for 4 1/2 to 5 hours. Cool pudding on a wire rack for 10 minutes; unmold and serve with a favorite pudding sauce.

Makes 10 to 12 servings.

Among the most popular recipes we have offered is one for Caponata that came from a good Italian home cook. Thus when we found another recipe for this antipasto in a small cookbook, published about a dozen years ago and compiled with the help of Alitalia Airlines personnel, we thought cooks who use our recipes might welcome a new version of this delicious Sicilian eggplant dish. Here is our adaptation of that recipe.

CAPONATA: 1/2 cup olive oil, 2 medium eggplants (each about 1 pound) unpeeled and cubed (1/2 to 3/4-inch size) to make about 3 quarts, 2 medium onions, cut in thin strips to make about 1 1/2 cups, 3 ribs celery, diced into 1/2-inch pieces to make about 1 1/2 cups, 2 medium tomatoes, peeled and cubed (1/4-inch size) to make about 1 1/2 cups, 1/2 cup fairly thin sliced pimiento-stuffed green olives, 1 cup water, 6-ounce can tomato paste, 1/4 cup red wine vinegar, 1/4 cup pine nuts (pignolias) or 1/4-ounce package (1-3rd cup), 2 tablespoons drained capers, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1/2 teaspoon pepper.

Heat the remaining 1/4 cup oil in the skillet. Add onion and celery. Cook over medium heat, stirring often, until celery is tender- crisp—about 7 minutes. Add eggplant and the remaining ingredients. Heat to boiling, then simmer, uncovered, stirring occasionally, until eggplant is completely tender but still holds its shape—about 20 minutes.

Store, covered, in the refrigerator where it may be held for up to 2 weeks. Before serving, bring to room temperature. Makes about 2 1/2 quarts. Note: Caponata may be stored in the freezer for up to 1 month. To serve, thaw at room temperature and stir before serving.

ORIENTAL DINNER: Seafood with Marinated Cucumbers, Chicken Makio Rice, Lettuce and Tomato Salad

Fruit Sherbet Beverage: CHICKEN MAKIO: 2 tablespoons light brown sugar, packed, 1 cup Japanese-style soy sauce, 1/2 cup dry sherry, 1 clove garlic, minced

1 tablespoon minced fresh ginger root, 1/2-pound roasted chicken, cut up, In an oblong 3-quart glass baking dish (12 1/2 by 8 1/2 inches) or similar utensil stir together the sugar, soy sauce, sherry, garlic and ginger root until sugar dissolves. Arrange chicken, skin side down, in one layer in the dish. Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven for 1 1/2 hours; turn chicken skin side up and continue baking until tender—1/2 hour longer. The sauce will probably be thin; if you like you can pour it into a small saucepan and boil it until it is slightly syrupy and reduced. If you do this, first remove the chicken to a serving dish and keep warm in a low oven; spoon the reduced sauce

—it will be more concentrated in flavor—over the chicken and serve. Makes 4 to 6 servings. FRIENDS FOR LUNCH: Leah Dembo's Salad: Peach Rolls Beverage: LEAH DEMBO'S SALAD

Invention of a Cleveland host: 1/2 cup mayonnaise, Salt and pepper to taste. Toss together all the ingredients. You may want to add lemon juice and/or minced scallion. Nice served on lettuce with sliced tomato. Makes 4 servings.

1/2-ounce can chunk-style light tuna, drained, 1/2-ounce can bean sprouts, well-drained, 2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped

1/2 cup mayonnaise, Salt and pepper to taste. Toss together all the ingredients. You may want to add lemon juice and/or minced scallion. Nice served on lettuce with sliced tomato. Makes 4 servings.

Felony Charge Dismissed Leffler Frees Freeman

By BOB LLOYD, Herald Staff Writer. Circuit Court Judge Kenneth Leffler today dismissed a felony indictment charging County Attorney Thomas G. Freeman with soliciting unlawful compensation.

Assistant State Atty. William Staley immediately indicated that an appeal of the ruling is expected. "It would appear to me, if the facts presented are true," Leffler said, "that Freeman has engaged in conduct I wouldn't condone."

Still pending against Freeman in County Court are misdemeanor charges of Sunshine Law violations. Defense attorney J. Cheney Mason said he expects to file a motion Friday in County Court seeking dismissal of those charges.

The misdemeanor charges alleged that Freeman aided and abetted County Commissioners Harry Kwiatkowski and Michael Hattaway in "out of the Sunshine" non-public meetings for the restoration. As Fulenwider went through a briefcase of cassette tapes, made during investigation of a later aborted county $517,000 day pit land purchase deal and of the alleged Sunshine Law violations centered on the day pit deal, the selection of County Commissioner Sid Vihlen Jr. as commission chairman in 1975 and appointment of Thomas G. Freeman as County Attorney, he also revealed that the grand jury also heard taped statements of witnesses who additionally testified before jurors in person.

Leffler said he played for jurors taped statements by Mrs. Betty Binford and her husband Tom A. Binford. He said the tapes were made after their live testimony and contained "more information than they had remembered" after their live testimony.

The board will therefore report to the board on the feasibility of applying for Historical District status in Downtown Sanford. Advantages of being declared a historical district, Miss Jacobson said, would include being listed on the national registry of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce in the hopes of establishing a unified position with these two groups.

On Dec. 1, the City Commission agreed to delay hiring an architect for the new City Hall until February to give the corporation time to present an opinion on its location. The delay was requested at the instigation of Downtown development supporter, Jens Paulucci, who recommends incorporating the City Hall in a larger community center.

The board decided it would take a position once its representatives had reviewed material on the subject gathered by the City Commission. Representatives would also meet with the Downtown Business Association and the Bankers Committee of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce in the hopes of establishing a unified position with these two groups.

State Reveals 'Secret' Witnesses

Jack R. Fulenwider, chief investigator for State Attorney Abbott Herring, has revealed on court order that a grand jury that indicted three public officials for alleged Sunshine Law violations heard tape recorded statements of "secret" witnesses who never physically appeared before the jury. Defense attorneys for County Attorney Thomas G. Freeman and County Commissioners Michael Hattaway and Harry Kwiatkowski, obtained today a writ of habeas corpus, Wednesday afternoon, during the taking of two hours of sworn testimony from Fulenwider.

from County Court Judge Wallace Hall. Fulenwider revealed the heretofore undisclosed witnesses used in the four-week grand jury probe of alleged wrongdoing in county government.

Fulenwider testified that he played for the grand jury tape recordings of statements by Mrs. Janice Freeman, of Sanford, and Mary Grover, an Altamonte Springs waitress. Fulenwider said he also read to the grand jury a transcript of a statement by Mrs. Freeman's husband, William T. Freeman Jr. Freeman is a vice president of LeRoy Robb Construction Co., Sanford. The Freemans are not related to County Attorney Thomas G. Freeman.

Charged today in his office, William T. Freeman Jr. declined to discuss anything concerning his statement. Mrs. Grover was employed as waitress at JERRY'S restaurant parking lot on Nov. 22. It is believed that her statement pertained to a conversation that took place in the restaurant. Binford was the real estate salesman handling the 103-acre day pit purchase deal. At the time a contract was signed by the county for the land purchase Binford was associated with Laurel Realty, John Yarnitiz of Laurel also testified before the grand jury. Fulenwider said he played a taped statement by Yarnitiz for the grand jury in closed copies of official county recordings of proceedings in its county commission meetings.

Fulenwider testified that the county commission's official written minutes "don't reflect all that's on the tapes." The investigator also testified that he can't vouch for the truth and veracity of "any of these people" whose tapes he played for the grand jury.

School Board Airs Courtesy Busing Plan

Courtesy busing — transportation by school bus of pupils who live less than two miles from their assigned schools — continues to pose a tough problem to county school officials.

Seminole County School Board members Wednesday night discussed and returned to Supr. William D. Laver for revision his plan to establish courtesy busing guidelines.

Laver's plan combines three primary objective criteria, or standards, number of automobiles on a given stretch of road, speed of the vehicles, and average number of students in that area walking to school.

Those factors, in Laver's plan, would be combined to produce a point total. Above that total, the section of road in question would then be designated a "hazard area."

Students living in such an area would be eligible to receive courtesy busing.

Board Chairman Robert Feather makes a point. Feather instructed Laver and his staff to rewrite the proposal and draft a tentative policy the board could adopt in relation to the criteria. Laver's proposal is for the presentation at next Wednesday's meeting. Feather further directed Laver to establish a specific point at which courtesy busing would be implemented.

Under the plan a safety of WEDNESDAY'S HIGH 80, TODAY'S LOW 53. High Friday lower to mid 70s. Cool tonight with lows upper 40s to lower 50s. North to northeast winds 10 to 15 m.p.h. today decreasing tonight and becoming southeasterly Friday.

Graduation will be held Thursday, June 10, with each school setting the specific time.

Reynolds also recommended that Baccalaureate services be eliminated as a school function. He said that since the ceremony was scheduled for the Sunday preceding final exams, some students could receive their cap and gown and attend the ceremony, but then fail to graduate if they failed the subsequent exams.

Board members felt the ceremony should be retained for the sake of tradition. A motion to transfer school $165,075.69 from a county contingency fund to make up for a two per cent cutback in state money was approved. Board members also approved, in the four-hour meeting, the purchase of fire extinguishers, vacuum cleaners and seven-month lease extension for the storage of furniture and carpet in the 1-4 Industrial Park.

A drill team from Lyman High School was granted permission to participate in the Mardi Gras parade in New Orleans in early March.

SEAWALL ANGLING: Fishermen enjoy a respite of warm and sunny weather between winter cold spells, while fishing off the seawall along Lake Monroe. Cooler temperatures are due again tonight.

Leffler's Advice: 'Move To Russia'

By ED PRICKETT, Herald Staff Writer. A South Seminole couple is enraged over a circuit judge's letter which advises them to "take up residence in Russia, Communist China or one of the Iron Curtain countries if they wish to avoid jury duty."

Mrs. Anthony Galbo was so incensed by a letter from Circuit Judge Kenneth M. Leffler that she has complained to Florida legislators — and even wrote a letter of protest to President Gerald Ford informing him of Leffler's correspondence.

Leffler's correspondence was in reply to a letter from the Galbos asking that jury summons cease being mailed because their names were taken off the voter registration rolls in 1974. The reason, according to the Galbos, they had had names removed was that Anthony is a carpenter and receives no pay when he is summoned for jury duty.

My boss doesn't pay me," Anthony said. Since moving to Florida 10 years ago, either Anthony (Continued On Page 2-A)
