

Sanford Won
In the football game between Sanford and Kissimmee high schools at Holden Park, Friday afternoon, Sanford won, the score being 13 to 12. The stars for Kissimmee were Benter quarterback; Johnson, right end and Carlson, full back. For Sanford, Laing, full back; Pope, right half back and Washington, left half back. I. C. Hutchinson is the Sanford coach.

Prominent Oviedo Man Dead
J. E. Hunt, a pioneer resident of the Oviedo section died Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The funeral was held Monday morning, the services being conducted at the grave by the Rev. Partridge of Oviedo. Interment was in Greenwood cemetery by Undertakers Hammond & Gore. The pall bearers were Messrs. L. B. Long, F. R. Hudson, L. F. Robinson and Cornell.

Mr. Hunt was 74 years of age. He moved to Oviedo 25 or 30 years ago and has resided there since. Mrs. Hunt died three years ago. He leaves a son, John Hunt, and a daughter, Mrs. Tom Branning.

SPARKLETS
A friend of mine who passes for a very fair poet was reading the other day from his works. He came to this passage:
"For this pink of female gender Tall and shapely was, and slender, Plump of bust and neck and arms"
At this point he was interrupted by his little boy, "Say, Papa, you mustn't say 'bust,' you should say 'burst.'"

"Who is this Dean Swift they are all talking about," whispered the society lady to Lady Bulwer. "I should like to invite him to one of 'Alas, Madam, the Dean has done something that has shut him out of society."
"Dear me, what was that?"
"Well, about a hundred years ago, he died."

The Dear Girl: Ethel, how do I look in this dress?" Maud "Charming. Isn't it wonderful what a gown can do for you?"

Fernando "Angelina, will you join the league with me?" In other words, become my wife?"
Angelina "I'm sorry, Fernando, I think you had better join the Brotherhood. In other words I will be your sister."

Mr. Hoffman Howes "I saw some fellow has an article in the Forum entitled 'Have We Two Brains or One?' What do you think of that question, Miss Fligh?"
Miss F. "Well, really between you and me, I think we have only one."

Carmen, Silvia "says that you study a woman as they would a barometer, but they do not order stand till the day afterward."

Slippery Things
Mother "How came you to forget the lard, candles, butter and bacon I told you to order?"
Tommy "Well you see they were all so greasy that they slipped from my memory." American Boy

"Dinah," inquired the mistress suspiciously, "did you wash this fish carefully before you baked it?"
"Law, ma'am," said Dinah, "Wat is de use of washin' er fish dat's lived all his life in de watah?"

Too Late
Little Dorothy was finishing her prayers, "Dod bless Mudder, Dod bless farver, Dod bless dramuver, Amen."
"But, dear," said grandmother, you forgot your new little sister that came today."
"Too late," replied Dorothy. "I can't det her in now."

"Mama," queried Bobby anxiously, "is papa goin' to die and go to heaven?" "Why, Bobby?" exclaimed his mother, "of course not. What on earth ever put such an absurd idea into your head?"

The Angel Child: "Mother I've been wondering about something."
Mother: "What do you wonder, child?"

The Angel Child: "I wonder if the first parasol was made from an umbrella's rib?"
"You criticize us," said the Chinese visitor, "yet I see all your women have their feet bandaged."
"That is an epidemic," it was explained to him gently, "which broke out in 1914. Those are called spats."—Washington Post.

When Optimism Vanishes
"I believe in optimism, all right," said Backville McRutt, "and I practice it as long as I can after receiving my pay envelope, but what I want to know is how can I see anything rosy after I have given my last dollar for a tip to the waiter who is making more money than I am."—Kansas City Star.

J. W. Barrimore, in "The Dictator," at the Star Friday

SURELY "PUT FOOT IN IT"

Dog, Impaired in Bakery, Did Some Damage in His Desire to Be Released.

In Portland, Ore., there is a bakery window that usually contains a tempting array of cakes. Sponge cake, pound cake, lady fingers, puffs and, indeed, a dozen other kinds of sweetbread, served to make the mouths of the children fairly water when they go past the big window. The other day a gentleman went into the bakery to leave an order, and with him went his dog—a good-sized animal, of a frisky disposition. When that gentleman came out he shut the door behind him, forgetting that he had left his four-footed friend and follower inside the bakery.

As for the dog, he was in a great way. Seeing the door closed against him, he got into a state of mind ordinarily described as "crazy." In his eagerness to keep track of his master, he looked around for a place of exit. Now, one of the sashes in the big show window aforementioned was raised an inch or so, and the dog therefore made a dash for the window. His first leap took him on top of a fine, frosted wedding cake, and his paws sank into it just as a boy's boots break through a crust of snow.

Finding himself still in a trap, and being unable to break the plate glass the dog began to hop around, with his forepaws against the plates and his hindfeet down among the precious cakes. The more the people both with out and within shouted, the more the dog danced, and the more the rich and highly-ornamented products of the oven suffered. Talk about putting his foot in it—he put his foot through a cake at every jump. At the height of the excitement the baker, who had been away, entered. The dog saw the door fly open, and, quitting the window at a bound, he darted away. Nothing more was seen of the animal who probably did not know what havoc he had made in the unfortunate baker's window.

His Feet.
"Your friend had quite an acrobatic promotion."
"How's that?"
"Want up over a lot of other people's heads."

His Sphere of Activity
"I don't know what business is the right one for my son. He is so changeable."
"Then why not get him into the weather bureau?"

Nose Ring's Significance.
Hindu married women wear a nose ring of the value suitable to their position. Sometimes it is simply a wire of gold, sometimes it is set with valuable and brilliant diamonds. Of what ever description, the nose ring is a most hallowed thing. If you are not careful how you speak with the lady about it, or if you say, "There is no necessity for wearing such a useless thing," she will understand by that you wish her husband's death.

Premontion.
"Aren't you ever depressed by some vague sense of oppression, the dim shadow of some coming disaster?"
"Yes. I feel that way every summer before my wife comes back from the shore."—Life.

To a Christmas Pie of Florida. Pile cones of snow, wreathed, ravenous, riotous flame, flaring with members of face, place and name.
Bring forth with fragrance from Florida pine, stimulant gasiness like strength of rare smoke.
Burn up a bushel of each dead, gone year breathe only Christmaside message of cheer; Of courage and hope and joy that will last O buoyantly beautiful soul of the Past!
Give heart for the future for each month and day, Through knowledge of treasure, God gives powers.
With square in the past; rich gold-laden hours.
O fairly fierce flaring holiday fire, Bring sparkling dreams, faith in love, WW Bring sparkling dreams, faith in lifelong desire.
Make spirit leap with your sweet, sweet smoke.
Past, present, future, O Pine, wreath evoked, Riley M. Fletcher Berry, Table Talk, December 1914.

Florida Violists
Isabel Goodhue

The Mocking Bird in Spring
You sing, O South, through voice of bird, Of jasmine breath, sun fire and dew, And orange-blossoms in moonlight stirred, You sing, O South, through voice of bird, There are answers that melt when his voice is heard.
For hearts grown cold heat warm and true, You sing, O South, through voice of bird, Of jasmine breath, sun-fire and dew.
In Midsummer
"Twas sung a fetching serenade, Monsieur Mosquito, gallant gay, And I salute your misty shade, 'Twas sung a fetching serenade, My life, like yours, I'd gladly pay, 'Twas sung a fetching serenade, Monsieur Mosquito, gallant gay."
Christmas Day, Florida
Beneath a mistletoe spray, Under a live oak tree, (And not where the yule-log burns,) Beneath a mistletoe spray, Somebody's sweetheart today, Was kissed, where the bride path turns, Beneath a mistletoe spray, Under a live oak tree.

BORDER MAN HUNT NEW ARMY IS FIT

Correspondent Describes Ride With Texas Rangers.

Pursuit of Mexican Bandits Who Raided American Ranch Conducted in Businesslike Manner—"Got Five," Is Quiet Report.

By JOHN W. ROBERTS. (International News Service.)
Brownsville, Tex.—It takes more qualifications to be a Texas ranger than to be a soldier in the United States army. For one thing, you must be able to shoot 90 per cent average—very few soldiers can do that. And then, you have to be more than five feet ten inches tall. You must know how to ride like a cowpuncher and be skillful in handling the lariat. You must be a man of unqualified nerve, and be ready at all times to face danger without a flinch.

It was my good fortune to be one of a party of ten rangers who left Brownsville early one evening in pursuit of some Mexican bandits who had recently raided an American ranch in the vicinity.

I rode beside a tall, quiet, handsome boy of about twenty-two years of age. His face was as tanned as a Mexican's, but his steel-blue eyes betrayed his Anglo-Saxon nationality. We had entered that part of the country which is covered with a network of mesquite brush, ten feet in height, as thick as any African jungle ever could be.

"I started in whistling an old familiar tune. "Shut up," said my partner quietly. We came to a small clearing and halted. The waters of the Rio Grande were dotted with reflections of the stars in the bright sky. Across the river was Mexico, and her vast, silent prairie gleamed like silver in the starlight. One of the rangers dismounted and examined the ground closely.

"They have gone that way," he pointed northward.
"How does he know that it is the men we are after?" I asked of my companion.
"By the footprints," he replied. "Greasers never take the trouble to shoe their horses. An American horse is always shod, that's the difference, and the hoof prints point northward!"

There we left the road and took up a trail through the chaparral, single file. The third third of our horses' hoofs in the soft earth, and the occasional squeak of a saddle were the only sounds which broke the stillness of the night.
Suddenly, without warning, the crash of a body dashing through the dry mesquite to our left was heard. In almost the same instant ten saddles were emptied and ten big, strapping Texans had dashed into the brush like so many rabbits. The horses, but for turning curious eyes toward the brush in which their masters had disappeared, remained absolutely still.

A minute later, however, the ten men returned and remounted.
"Coyote," explained my partner, with a smile. "The damn critters are always fooling us, because they sound just like a greaser trying to get away."

We had ridden but a mile farther along this trail, when the shrill whinny of a pony broke through the stillness. It halted our small band like magic. Although no one said a word, each man knew what the other thought, and they acted together. Each ranger dismounted and took his rifle from the scabbard.
"If it them, I guess," my partner informed me. "You had better stay with the horses and keep your head under cover in case there is any shooting. We will be back in a little while."

Although every one of the ten rangers who took into the brush were big fellows, each wearing heavy boots, and when they had gone but ten paces from where I stood I could not hear a sound—not even the breaking of a dry twig.
Five minutes later the sound of a shot cracked through the air. I was in a state of feverish excitement. Never before had I been in a man hunt, and this one, staged in a still night on the prairie bordering the waters of the Rio Grande, made me doubt, even then, that it was taking place on American soil. The shot was followed by another one, then a third, then many, all at once, and in a few seconds more the air rang with the cracks of rifles. I heard an oath screamed in Spanish; a sharp-voiced command to halt, in English. Heard the plink of a body jumping into the Rio Grande; then another and another one. Someone was crashing madly through the mesquite brush to my right, then all was silence again. A few minutes later, the ten rangers returned unhurt. While I was trembling in my excitement, the men quietly put their guns back into their scabbards, mounted their horses, turned around, and started back to Brownsville again. Not a word was spoken and each man's face was as immobile as though nothing had happened.
"Did—did—did you get any of them?" I whispered to my partner.
"Five," he said quietly, without looking up.
Ten minutes passed before I nerved myself to ask the second question.
"What did you do with them?" The question seemed to amuse him.
"Greasers are like dogs," he answered. "Let them rot where they die."

French People Are Well Pleased With "Keecheenaires"

Bring a New Element into Life at the Front in France—They Sing and Whistle as They March, Say the Peasants.

By FREDERICK PALMER. (International News Service.)
British Headquarters, France.—The "Keecheenaires," as the French peasants call the new army, have joined "Tommeo Akeens," the regular, and the "Tereotoreals" at the front. Tommeo begins to feel like the oldest inhabitant. By the way, he does not like to be called "Tommy," though the world persists in a word which is as objectionable to him as "Jacky" is to the American bluejacket.

The British regular did all the fighting for the first five months of the war. He had his jokes at the expense of the Territorials, who are about the same as our National Guard, when they arrived. The Territorials thought that they were made soldiers when the war broke out; but they were drilled some more and set to digging reserve trenches behind the line. In the spring they had their turn, and the Canadians, too.
"Don't be downhearted! There are still some Boches left!" the Territorials join the regulars in saying to the new army. Beside the new army the Territorials feel like G. A. R. men.

"It's kind of you! We know that you could have killed them all off, if you had wanted to," the Kitcheners reply.
"Don't charge too fast! Wait for us to catch up!" call the regulars.
"Well wait on the Rhine!" answer the new army.
Well named is the new army. It has brought a new element into life at the front. When I heard the tramp of a company past my window the other morning I guessed they were new army men by the peculiar vigor and precision of their tread on the pavement. They bore the stamp of long route marches over English roads and of the merciless formal training of the drill ground.

If the average oldtimer of the trenches had to run five miles against the average new army man he would be blown half away and the new army man would trot past the goal an easy winner.

The other night when one heard some soldiers billeted in a barn singing one was certain without asking that they were new army men.
The British regular rarely sings in camp or on the march. Neither elated or depressed he plugs along doing his day's work. As the new army flows in he will be outnumbered but unchanged.

Those new army men were singing "God Save the King" before they lay down in the straw for the night in the land of France which was all so new and strange to them and so commonplace to the veterans. Their fresh young voices were pleasant to the ear.

"It is good. The Keecheenaires sing and whistle as they march," say the French peasants.
Everyone hopes they will keep on singing.
If there is any ornament which is obsolete at the front it is the sword. The sword is the officer's symbol of authority, the sign that he is on duty. In place of it the officer at the front wears his sword belt. His sword along with countless other awards has been checked outside the cloakroom of war along with his umbrella which no one thinks of carrying at the front. You cannot tell him from the other officers except by his eagerness and his battalion insignia.
For ten months the new army had waited for its Mecca. Its soldiers have read all about the effects of modern shell fire. They know what they are in for. Learners, they came among experts expecting to be nagged a great deal as novices by the old hands, and except for the veteran regular's little jokes at their expense they have found everybody very kind.
"We need you, and there can't be too many of you," say the oldtimers. "It's you who must finish the job which we have begun."

There are men in this new army who have incomes of ten thousand a year digging trenches beside a man who had not a shilling when he enlisted, university graduates taking their baptism of shell fire as privates who "pal up" with men who can hardly read and write.
"We like the Keecheenaires," said a Frenchman. "They are all classes shoulder to shoulder the same as in our army. Rich or poor, a man is nothing except the life he can give for his country."

THIS DOG CATCHES FISH

Water Spaniel Supplies the Needs of Owner and Neighbors in Indiana.
Aurora, Ind.—James C. Duggans, a farmer, who lives on the Laughory Creek, has a water spaniel that is noted along the stream for its method of catching fish. The dog has caught several hundred pounds during the last few months for its owner and his neighbors.
The dog dives into the water and soon appears with a fish in its mouth, and will repeat its diving for several hours at a time.

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

FOR MAYOR
I will be a candidate for the position of Mayor of Sanford, subject to the decision of the White Primary to be held in November. Having served the city two terms as Alderman and knowing the needs of our community, I believe I can be of benefit to the citizens in many ways as Chief Executive and without making any pre-election promises I will state that the laws of the city will be enforced impartially. As an Alderman for four years and according that record, I claim my claim for the suffrage of the voters of Sanford.
Respectfully,
J. D. DAVISON

For Clerk and Collector
I wish to announce to the voters and my friends that I will be a candidate for the office of Clerk and Collector, in the white primary to be held Nov. 16, 1915. I have filled this office for five years and think that I have the necessary experience and will appreciate your support.
Respectfully,
HARRY J. WILSON

To the Voters of Sanford
I am a candidate for reelection to the office of Clerk and Collector, in the primary to be held Nov. 16, 1915. I have filled this office for five years and think that I have the necessary experience and will appreciate your support.
Yours truly,
M. W. LOVELL

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING

All Local Advertisements Under This Heading THREE CENTS a Line For Each Insertion. Minimum Charge 25 Cents.

FOR SALE

For Sale—Ten acres of the best high hammock land, west side, just outside corporate limits. Half in cultivation 1 year. About 250 large pines on other half. All fenced and divided. Quarter mile of two shipping stations and First St. Per foot drainage $1450 will buy it if sold within the next 10 days. Cost $3000.00. See owner, 26 French avenue. 14-11p

For Sale—Plant, D. 100, and tools complete. John Mcintosh, 1000 Paoli's Farm. 14-11p

For Sale—A few Barron Blue Rock Pullets 5 months old, $3.00 each. D. R. Brisson, 1000 Paoli's Farm. 14-11p

For Sale—Eggs and Baby Chick of celebrated Royal White Woodcock big performance, heavy laying bird, am looking orders for same now. Also a few pullets and cockerels of same strain. F. P. Strong, 106 E. Third St., Sanford. 14-11p

For Sale—Good all round mare, buggy and harness. Call for particulars. Box 100, West 8th St. 14-11p

For Sale—Two fresh milk cows, Hand Bros. 14-11p

People read these ads. You are doing it now. Is your ad in this column? Have you something to sell? Try an ad. 14-11p

For Sale—Water delivery farm five miles southeast of Sanford. 14-11p

For Sale—Three good milk cows, Jersey. Address G. Mott, Clyde, Eureka Hammock avenue. 14-11p

FOR RENT

Nice furnished rooms at Stumon's 315 E. Fourth St. 13-5tp

Good six room house with bath and electric light for rent. A. P. Connelly. 15-11p

For Rent—Furnished room in private family. Modern conveniences. 115 French Ave. 12-8tp

For Rent—Two nice unfurnished side and front rooms, with bath and toilet. 207 French avenue. 11-11p

Wanted—Gentlemen roomers at Stumon's. 13-5tp

For Rent—Stores and rooms in Bishop block. Thatcher Realty Co. 11-11p

For Rent—Desirable rooms for gentlemen in private family. Modern. Reasonable. Phone 988. 14-11p

Furnished rooms at Stumon's, $1.25 per week and up. 315 E. Fourth St. 13-5tp

For Rent—Several nice office rooms over Yowell's. Enquire N. P. Yowell & Co. 32-11p

For Rent or Sale—House on Palmetto Ave. W. J. Thigpen. 101-11p

WANTED

For Exchange—High class Sanford lot for Ford or other moderately priced automobile, in good condition. Thatcher Realty Co., Bishop Block, Telephone 245. 10-11p

Wanted—To trade good horse, delivery wagon and harness to trade for a second hand Ford auto truck. J. L. Miller at Miller's Bakery. 14-11p

Wanted—Permanent position by first-class experienced young lady stenographer, from New York, call at Postal Telegraph Co. 104-11p

Wanted—Position by stenographer. High school graduate, court reporter, six years' experience legal work. Address Box 493, city. 14-11p

Now open Dollar Pressing Club. Six suits pressed per month for $1.00. Suits sponged and pressed 35c. Scoured and pressed 60c. Ladies' work our specialty. Satisfaction guaranteed. Telephone 324. 16-11p

Free instruction in painting continued another week at Yowell's store afternoon. Private lessons forenoons in your own home at small extra charge. Advertising in French mediums used with any oil paints for painting costumes, parasols, leather and linen articles. Can be learned in a few lessons. 12-11p

Five Dollars Reward—Lost between First street and the Heights, gold watch chain. Return same to A. P. Connelly's office. 16-11p

Lost, Strayed or Stolen—One black and white Angora cat. Finder please return to R. C. Sheaffer, 202 Edinboro avenue. 17-11p

Organ Wanted—Wanted, a good second hand organ, in answering price, make, condition and lowest cash price, and how long in service. Address 1072 West Gate Sanford Head 17-11p

SANFORD LODGES

Sanford Lodge No. 62, F. and A. M. A communication every first and third Thursday at 7:30. Visiting Lodges welcome. O. L. Taylor, Secretary. J. C. Barr, W. M.

Monroe Chapter No. 15, R. A. M. Meets every second and fourth Thursday in Masonic Hall over the Imperial Theatre. Visiting companions welcome. J. F. Karnatz, H. E. Taylor, Secretary, High Priest

Seminole Chapter 2, Order Eastern Star. Meets every first and third Tuesday each month. Everyone who has seen us start in the East are cordially invited to join the chapter. Vice F. Robbins, Sec'y

Phoenix Lodge No. 5, K. of P. Meets second and fourth Tuesdays. Nitting knights always welcome. H. McLamb, O. J. Miller, K. R. and S.

Sanford Lodge No. 27, I. O. O. F. Meets every Monday at 7:30 p. m. over Imperial Theatre. J. W. O. Singletary, J. J. D., Secretary

Gate City Camp No. 6, W. O. W. Meets second and fourth Wednesday nights in each month. F. L. Miller, J. F. Houfahan, Clerk, Council Commander

B. P. O. E. Sanford Lodge 1241. Meets first and third Wednesday night at corner of First St. and Palmetto Ave. O. L. Taylor, T. A. Neal, Secretary, Exalted Ruler

The Lake Breeze Council No. 31 Junior Order United American Mechanics. Meets every Wednesday at 7:30 P. M. in the City Hall. Visiting brothers are welcome. C. H. Smith, Rec Sec'y.

Celery City Aerle No. 1853. Meeting every Tuesday night at 8 o'clock, Pico Building. W. W. Fry, Jas. C. Roberts, Worthy President, Secretary

OJIS TRIBE NO. 61, I. O. R. M. Meets every first and third Friday nights at 7:30 in Masonic Temple. Visiting brothers welcome. W. A. Ginn, John Stomper, G. of R., Sachem

United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America. Sanford Local Union No. 1751 meets first and third Thursday night at 7 o'clock in the Eagles' Hall. T. J. Bell, C. C. Pearson, Sec. Treas., President

Heralds of Liberty. Meets at Eagles' Hall first Monday night in each month at 7:30. Wm. E. Householder, Commander, Miss Bortha Packard, Secretary

Psychological Advantage. "What kind of an auto have you?" "I got one of those cars everybody is telling jokes about. Every time I think about it I have to laugh and forget the trouble it may cause me."

ORGANIZE "Y" IN SANFORD ON TUESDAY

Y. M. C. A. PERMANENTLY ORGANIZED AT ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING AT THE IMPERIAL

The Sanford Y. M. C. A. was formed at the Imperial Theatre on Tuesday night and the movement will now take definite form...

A large audience had gathered at the Imperial on Tuesday night and the young men of the city were present...

Rev. Hyman states the object of the meeting and called for an invocation from Rev. Strong. Mayor Thrasher was called upon for an address...

A motion was then made to appoint a committee to name the officers for the first six months...

The committee then reported the following names of officers who were elected to hold office for six months...

After Rev. Strong, Prof. Ezell and Selma Mannes had explained several questions regarding the plans of the organization...

The Sanford Y. M. C. A. starts in business with a building donated by the Baptist church and this building will be equipped with the best...

The officials of the association will use economy and mature judgment in the purchase of supplies...

On the smaller cities have been the expenses of rent, fixtures, lights and a physical director or field agent with city ideas...

This great movement should receive the support of every man in Sanford, for it is undoubtedly the best for the young men of the city...

Berry is Inspector H. D. Berry, with headquarters at Winter Garden will inspect citrus shipments from Orange, Lake, Osceola and Seminole counties...

Accompanying a cut of William Washington Woodruff the following sketch appears in the Orlando Citizen:

The subject of this brief article was a pioneer of a pioneer, being the son of Elias Woodruff, a well known pioneer of Mississippi...

He was arranged before Judge Herring a few days later and given two months for petty larceny and five months for carrying concealed weapons.

Accompanying a cut of William Washington Woodruff the following sketch appears in the Orlando Citizen:

The registration book of the city of Sanford will be open at the office of the city clerk Saturday, Oct. 16 and will remain open until Saturday Nov. 13th...

Lettuce Drop Takes Profit Some lettuce fields in several trucking sections were practically ruined by lettuce drop last year...

According to Dr. C. D. Sherkhoff of the University of Florida Experiment Station, there is no efficient control of the disease...

Watch the field closely and if any plants develop the disease, pull and burn them to prevent spread to other plants...

The city council met in regular session Oct. 18th at 7:30 p. m. Present, B. W. Herndon, president...

Mr. Hansel stated that the lumber for the repair of crossings was on the ground and the repairs would be made at once...

Mr. Hansel stated that the lumber for the repair of crossings was on the ground and the repairs would be made at once...

Mr. Hansel stated that the lumber for the repair of crossings was on the ground and the repairs would be made at once...

Mr. Hansel stated that the lumber for the repair of crossings was on the ground and the repairs would be made at once...

Mr. Hansel stated that the lumber for the repair of crossings was on the ground and the repairs would be made at once...

Mr. Hansel stated that the lumber for the repair of crossings was on the ground and the repairs would be made at once...

Mr. Hansel stated that the lumber for the repair of crossings was on the ground and the repairs would be made at once...

Mr. Hansel stated that the lumber for the repair of crossings was on the ground and the repairs would be made at once...

Mr. Hansel stated that the lumber for the repair of crossings was on the ground and the repairs would be made at once...

Mr. Hansel stated that the lumber for the repair of crossings was on the ground and the repairs would be made at once...

Mr. Hansel stated that the lumber for the repair of crossings was on the ground and the repairs would be made at once...

Mr. Hansel stated that the lumber for the repair of crossings was on the ground and the repairs would be made at once...

Mr. Hansel stated that the lumber for the repair of crossings was on the ground and the repairs would be made at once...

THE DEBATING SANFORD ELKS CLUB TO MEET IN ORLANDO ON TUESDAY FOR MEETING

SANFORD DEBATING CLUB TO HOLD MEETING IN CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Plans have been perfected for the first meeting of the proposed Sanford Debating Club which will be held in the Congregational church auditorium on next Tuesday evening, October 26th.

The idea the promoters had in the back of their heads when this club was thought of was that this community should have a kind of mock parliament or congress and should differ from the ordinary debating class only in the matter of the introduction of the topic or subject for discussion...

The meeting on Tuesday night will be held at the body of the Congregational church...

The meeting on Tuesday night will be held at the body of the Congregational church...

The meeting on Tuesday night will be held at the body of the Congregational church...

The meeting on Tuesday night will be held at the body of the Congregational church...

The meeting on Tuesday night will be held at the body of the Congregational church...

The meeting on Tuesday night will be held at the body of the Congregational church...

The meeting on Tuesday night will be held at the body of the Congregational church...

The meeting on Tuesday night will be held at the body of the Congregational church...

The meeting on Tuesday night will be held at the body of the Congregational church...

The meeting on Tuesday night will be held at the body of the Congregational church...

The meeting on Tuesday night will be held at the body of the Congregational church...

The meeting on Tuesday night will be held at the body of the Congregational church...

The meeting on Tuesday night will be held at the body of the Congregational church...

The meeting on Tuesday night will be held at the body of the Congregational church...

The meeting on Tuesday night will be held at the body of the Congregational church...

SANFORD ELKS CLUB TO MEET IN ORLANDO ON TUESDAY FOR MEETING

HEADED BY THE ELKS BAND SANFORD BILLS MADE THE TRIP ABOUT 70 MILES

Between seventy and eighty members of the Sanford lodge of Elks accepted the invitation of the Orlando lodge last night to be present at their regular meeting and initiate six candidates.

With the fine new Elks band of Sanford and DeLand Elks at the head of the procession the Elks left their home on First street about 5 o'clock and marched through the streets to the depot where a special train was provided for them on the A. C. L.

Arrived at Orlando they detrained and with the band marched down Church street to Orange avenue and at the San Juan hotel the band played several pieces and the march was then resumed to the club house of the Orlando lodge.

After a cordial greeting and a brief talk to the visiting members and those of Orlando lodge adjourned to the lodge room where the Orlando officers under Exalted Ruler M. M. Smith opened the meeting.

Mr. Smith extended the glad hand to the visitors and turned the same over to Sanford lodge. His welcome was responded to by Exalted Ruler T. A. Neal of Sanford lodge.

Upon behalf of Orlando lodge W. P. Watson delivered the address of welcome and Sanford lodge responded with W. J. Shelley. Both addresses were good and by a strange coincidence both of these gentlemen are engineers and two of the oldest in service in the state.

Six candidates, E. D. Ely, W. M. Gibler, C. B. Buckley, G. H. Prather, L. R. Farmer and P. E. Morgan were taken over the hot sands of the desert and allowed to rest in the shade of a palm tree after the arduous trip.

The Sanford team delivered the goods in a manner to call for applause from those present and a candidate seemed well satisfied with the work and are almost certain today that they have been somewhere.

After the candidates had been duly declared members of Orlando lodge the entire assemblage gathered at the banquet tables arranged on the lower floor and here the members and visitors were feasted as only Orlando knows how to do.

There was chicken pilau in southern style, salads, hot pepper-worm, eye-bread and cheese and many other delectable dishes so dear to the hearts of Bills at the midnight hour.

After the luncheon Exalted Ruler Neal, acting as toast master called upon Congressman Spauls, Judge Herring, Judge Cheney and several others for a few remarks and all of them responded in a happy vein.

Calling attention to these fraternal meetings more closely cementing the counties of Osceola, Orange, Seminole and Volusia and promoting a better feeling in many ways.

The toast master intended to call upon a number during the evening but they saw him first and a general stampede for the porch broke up the speech making.

Music by the Orlando orchestra supplemented by the Elks orchestra and several solos by Walter Drennan helped to entertain the visitors until train time and they departed from Orlando with the feeling that in order to keep even with them Sanford must return here in the near future.

Baptist Church Sunday, October 24th 9:30 Bible school. Thirty-one classes. Graded on A1 Basis.

11:00 The pastor will speak on "The Fortune of Our Church." 6:30 Jr. B. Y. P. U. 6:30 Sr. B. Y. P. U.

7:30 The pastor will speak on "The Mysteries of the Kingdom of Heaven."

In the annual business meeting of the church it was agreed to take many forward steps. There are now 325 members and many more to unite soon.

Congregational Church Watch for the lithos and announcements of the great Siberian lecture by W. Blanchard Moon, at the church on Nov. 27; illustrated by 200 still and 2500 feet of moving pictures.

A matter of great importance to all the members and friends of the church is to be presented next Sunday morning. All are urged to plan to be present.

In the evening at 7 o'clock the special theme for consideration will be "Victory for the Defeated." Good music, as always, will be rendered and a cordial welcome will be accorded all.

"What Does Congregationalism Stand for?" is the theme to be presented Sunday morning, Oct. 31. The C. E. Society has a social at the home of Henry Nickel, on the west side, tonight.

All young people, not interested elsewhere are cordially welcome to the C. E. meetings on Sunday nights at 6 o'clock. Come and get inspiration from the practical subjects which are then considered.

St. Johns Presbytery Meets St. Johns Presbytery, which embraces all of Florida south of DeLand met at Plant City Tuesday night. There was a good attendance of both ministers and elders.

The following officers were elected: Moderator, F. D. Brown; stated clerk, Rev. P. H. Hensley; St. Johnsville and temporary clerk, Rev. J. F. Henderson of Bradenton.

There were interesting discussions on the subjects of "Evangelism," "The Home," "The Church," "The Family" and "The Religion." An interesting meeting of Home Missions was held Wednesday.

One Lutheran minister, who had been a Professor in the University of Pennsylvania for twenty years, was received into the Presbytery and one of the most interesting examinations of a young Cuban for licensure to preach.

He could speak no word of English and so the whole examination was conducted in Spanish through an interpreter. He was licensed and employed as assistant to Rev. E. N. Soumillan of the Ybor City Cuban Mission.

Lycium for Sanford A Lycium committee has been organized for Sanford this winter 1915-1916. Prof. B. J. Ezell superintendent of schools is president.

Mr. A. W. Honeycutt, state representative of the Redpath Lycium Association is vice president. Mr. Geo. Hyman is secretary and treasurer. Mr. R. E. Millen, Jr. is assistant to the secretary.

These gentlemen have assumed the responsibility of the Lycium for Sanford this winter, but expect the full cooperation of the citizens. The merchants and business men have already shown their interest by advertising on the program.

Messrs. Ezell and Honeycutt will have in hand the sale of season tickets on Saturday, Oct. 30th. The price will be adult season tickets $1.50. Under sixteen or student in the schools $1.00 season tickets.

The first attraction will come on Nov. 16th. The committee feels pleased over the fact that they have been able to secure the famous musicians, Miss Estelle Gray, violinist and Mr. Moritz Shevinnof of Russia, pianist.

Further notice will be given. Presenting With Jewel At the regular meeting of the Sanford lodge of Elks on Wednesday night, Messrs. Edlouth and Ralph Wight of this place and Theo. Ruff of DeLand were initiated into the mysteries of Elksdom and at the close of the meeting Past Exalted Ruler R. L. Peck was presented with a Past Exalted Ruler's jewel.

The presentation speech was made by Past Exalted Ruler Cruse Barnes, who in a most appropriate speech recorded the many good things that occurred during the term of office of Mr. Peck. The jewel is a beautiful token of the regard and esteem in which all past exalted rulers are held by the members of the lodge and this custom is a beautiful one, representing the big heart of Elksdom.

Mr. Peck is proudly exhibiting his jewel of honor to his many friends and receiving their congratulations.

On the Stork Express Among the new arrivals in the city to spend the winter months are a daughter for Mr. and Mrs. Lealie Bryan and a daughter for Mr. and Mrs. H. C. DuBois.

CARRANZA IS RECOGNIZED BY POWERS

FIRST CHIEF WILL BE ASSISTED IN RESTORATION OF PEACE IN WAR TORN MEXICO

Washington, Oct. 20.—President Wilson today declared an embargo on the shipment of arms and ammunition to Mexico.

President Wilson signed a supplementary order, however, which excepts General Carranza's government from the embargo and permits munitions to go through to him unhampered. The prohibitions apply to the factions opposed to the government which the United States has recognized.

The President's proclamation is based upon the authority conferred by congress in 1912 and follows closely the terms of President Taft's proclamation when the revolution was on against Madero.

Friends of General Venustiano Carranza today claimed that his recognition by American republics means the restoration of peace and normal conditions within the southern republic in a short time.

Elson Arredondo, personal representative here of General Carranza, today gave renewed assurances that foreigners in Mexico will be given protection, and that foreign capital will be welcomed. He expresses the belief that recognition will have the effect of giving Mexicans confidence in the new government and bringing about normal conditions.

It was virtually decided that Hon. P. Fletcher, ambassador to Chile would be made the United States' representative at Mexico City.

Roads in Orange Suffer Damage to the county highways by the floods caused by recent severe rains and the problem arising as a result were topics discussed by the board of county commissioners at a special meeting this morning.

So much damage has been reported to Chairman Overstreet that he deemed it wise to call the members together in special session so that the true extent of the damage could be learned and plans made to meet the situation immediately.

The total damage will reach a good sized sum and it cannot be very well computed in figures until the water goes down at some points. The new bridge and fill on the road to the Lake Pickett section in eastern Orange county at the crossing over Little Echohatchee creek is reported to have been completely swept away. This loss in this instance is probably about $1,500.

The break in the gouted brick road to Maitland will also be somewhat expensive to repair. Nothing can be done until the water runs down except to fix a temporary crossing over the break of planking. This will be done at once. The Apopka road while badly torn up is passable for traffic.

The commissioners went over the situation very thoroughly and decided to make temporary repairs wherever necessary to allow the passage of traffic and to then make permanent repairs when the water has subsided at the various points. Reporter-Star.

George Mason One of the real enjoyments of our stay in Jacksonville was meeting George Mason. This paper has made Mason a target of his shafts of wit—real or imaginary for some time. We did it because we thought Mason was big and broad enough to stand it. A weakling would get mad or wither under a newspaper's sarcasm. But Mason did neither. After you talk to him five minutes you know the reason why. He is a dynamo of energy, and in most cases his ideas of publicity are good, yet he admits his enthusiasm carries him over the border of feasibility and practicality. Mason believes that the way to get people to spend money is to have the band play tango music. When a city feels blue he lyses them up with some festival. "Let George do it" is a slogan in Jacksonville. It would be a winner if just a few would help George. He is overworked, that's all. Clearwater Sun.

COUNTY HAPPENINGS

A BUNCH OF INTERESTING ITEMS FROM CORRESPONDENTS—EVENTS OF SEMINOLE COUNTY—EFFICIENT REPORTERS COVER TERRITORY FOR HERALD

GENEVA ITEMS

Let me, a new correspondent first tell "Bob" Holly that he had best stay in Jacksonville all the time, for we had the best paper of the summer months last Saturday, due to some woman's work.

Miss Addie Gresham spent Saturday and Sunday with her mother.

Miss Florence Bellas spent the week end with her people at Winter Park.

Mrs. Richards is here for the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Rebhinder.

Rev. Stones held services at the Baptist church here yesterday and announced that there would be fifth Sunday meeting here now with basket dinners. Rev. Burr of Claremont Springs will be with us the coming season.

We are all in hopes that the county commissioners will make some active move about the grade between here and the "City Beautiful," (Sanford).

W. B. Raulerson is home from Okeechobee.

We are sorry to say that Miss R. Proctor leaves for Ocala the first of November to work in the Marion County Hospital there. Miss Proctor has been nursing for some time and she has some few friends here who love her and respect her very highly who will hate to see her leave indefinitely.

Mrs. J. M. Prevatt is back from Sanford, where she has been caring for her daughter, Mrs. Rivers.

Mrs. J. L. Gresham is at Paola caring for her daughter, who has an eight pound boy.

C. F. Proctor and his sister, Bessie have been sick with chills and fever. We hope for their early recovery.

Joe Smith of Currieville was in Geneva Saturday.

Mr. Paul Rebhinder, who has been ill for some time and who had a partial stroke of paralysis, is slightly improved, due to the combined forces of Mrs. Leo Rebhinder, R. N. and Miss Proctor.

The bridges on the Enoch's hatchie Creek are under water and the fill at the draw bridge is partly submerged.

Mrs. Jennie Prevatt is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Rivers at Moore's Station.

Miss Addie Gresham, one of our most popular teachers came over from Monroe to attend the closing exercises of the Geneva Mission School.

Mr. Joe Smith has rented the Rivers' cottage. Wonder what for?

Mr. Donovan, one of our farmers says don't dig ditches, dig canals.

Mr. Ed. Sutton is our deputy game warden.

Bad colds seem to be the fashion now.

Rev. Smith Hardin, presiding elder held conference on the 11th and preached an excellent sermon, but spoiled it all by knocking the Woodmen.

Mr. T. W. Geiger resigned his office of steward at Conference. Mr. Powers elected Mr. C. F. Harrison to fill the vacancy.

Mr. Clifford Smith made a pleasure trip to Kissimmee this week.

The fruit trucks have begun to arrive and the busy season will begin soon.

We hope it will quit raining soon.

Mr. F. B. Bradley made a pleasure trip up the St. Johns river last week with Messrs. Dorner and Douglass from Sanford.

Mr. Claude Coffee let a motorcycle lie down on him. Results, he is limping.

If the person who took an umbrella from Rebhinder's store will return it the owner will be pleased.

The violin has enlisted in the war department—the organ advances to the front ranks.

Messrs. Raulerson and Culpepper have succeeded in getting water on Sunshine Heights at least.

The Geneva music school closed with an excellent program, the scholars showing their appreciation of Mr. Thorpe's kind efforts in doing his best for them. After the program Mr. Thorpe made an address that showed that he could stand on his own feet.

CHULUOTA SNAPSHOTS

A very pleasant affair in our public school was the fair given by the school Friday afternoon. The exhibit the work for the first six weeks of the term. The school house was beautifully decorated with flags and cut plants and a profusion of cut flowers. The children's work in all

Kick on Brick

To the Tax Payers and Citizens of Seminole County:

It is being proven every day the good brick roads are doing for our county and state. We have a branch of the Dixie Highway running through our county and city as well. Have you ever been riding or driving over this fine road? Well and good, but the question is, have you ever walked from the old city limits for a half mile west on First street? If you have you will not fail to notice the deplorable condition of this stretch of road. We tax payers were led to believe that the first cost of such a road would be the only cost for years to come. This particular stretch of road has not been down much over a year and a half, and I venture to say that from five to ten brick in every yard is in need of replacing. Do you realize what this means to us that have to shoulder the bills? It means that thousands of brick will have to be put on this particular stretch of road, soon, or in a few months the road will have to be rebuilt entirely. Traffic on this road is especially heavy at all times of the year, now as this road is in the city limits and a part of the Dixie Highway, do the county commissioners intend to make repairs before the road is in such condition that they will have to rebuild?

The vital question in my mind is, Why did the county commissioners allow such a road to be put down in the first place? The brick were of an inferior quality, that other places would accept, and if the inspector (if there was one) did not do his duty, or if he did, he knew a brick that was suitable to be placed upon a road of this character? Assuming that the brick were all that they should be and the inspector did his duty, why did the county commissioners allow the brick to be laid that wise instead of edge wise?

As fast as a brick is broken it ought to be replaced with a good one. If this is not done the brick around the broken brick begin to crumble and in a short time there is nothing there but a lot of crushed brick and sand, and the longer the delay in repairing the larger the hole becomes and the greater the expense to us tax payers. You that ride in automobiles do not see the worm that is at work on our roads but we that walk see these things and demand that an inspection be made before it is too late.

Now, brother tax payers, there are miles of new roads being put down in our county at this writing and we have just voted bonds for roads and more roads. Are we going to sit down and cover up our eyes and allow such roads to be laid? Each of us ought to act as a committee of one to see that our money is not wasted in this way. Let us appeal to our county commissioners to watch for this very thing.

For it is a fact, if we have to be all the time replacing broken brick, would it not have been wiser in the first place to have rejected this soft brick and to have placed the brick edge wise than to be all the time replacing brick.

You may think that I am biased in my view. I can show you, or you can go and see for yourself. Brothers, if this condition is allowed to go on I predict that we will have to soon issue bonds to rebuild our fine brick roads.

I do not make any charges against any one. My aim in this article is to get the attention of the tax payers and the county commissioners, for it is their money as well as mine that is paying these bonds and the interest thereon, and if they are not blind they will see this as I do. With all due respect to all concerned, I remain,

Yours truly,

A Tax Payer.

Saved on School Books

The word "tightwad" is forever associated, in my mind, with a farmer near whom we lived when I was a lad in the country, says a correspondent. He kept his oldest boy, bright youngster, in the second grade for more than two years because he didn't want to purchase a new reader for him.

MOORE'S STATION

Rev. W. J. Bartlett of Enterprise filled his usual appointment here last Sunday, and on the previous Sunday Rev. A. S. Peck was here, accompanied by his mother and Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Smith.

Rev. and Mrs. T. B. Lawrence, accompanied by their son, arrived at their place on Boardman avenue recently.

Gencho Stenoff left here recently for New York city to sail for his native country, Bulgaria, to serve in the war.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rivers, Oct. 12 and has been given the name of Walker Lionel Justice Stringfellow, christened at the marriage of Janie Warren and Bradley Smith.

Mr. N. H. Long has been laid ill with dengue fever.

Mrs. Charles Polk has been gone all at her home in Mecca Hammock. Mr. Polk is substituting with her school work at Longwood.

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Handlin, who have been residents of Mecca Hammock for some time left Sunday for Torrington, Conn., their former home for an indefinite stay.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Vaughn were hosts to a jolly party of friends last Friday evening, the occasion being the 17th birthday of their daughter, Miss Alice. Very nice refreshments, consisting of fruit salad and several nice cakes and lemonade was served. Miss Vaughn received some very pretty gifts and many congratulations.

Beardall avenue has received a little attention from the road gang. The portion of the street most needing the work has not yet been touched.

Every one has been working over time to repair the damage caused by the big storm. It is with joy we learn a canal is talked of, a most needed improvement in the scenery delta.

Her Friend

"So they were married the first time, she met him, eh?" "Yes, but how did you know?" "I just reasoned that he could not have taken a second look."

CLOSING OUT SALE

OF ALL

WOMEN'S & CHILDREN'S SHOES BOTH HIGH AND LOW TOPS AT COST

We are closing out all Women's and Children's Shoes, and as soon as those we have on hand are disposed of we will quit handling these lines entirely in order to handle a more complete line of Men's Shoes

Sale will continue as long as there are any Women's and Children's Shoes in our Store

THIS SALE FOR CASH ONLY

SANFORD SHOE & CLOTHING CO.

FLORIDEAL Limited FERTILIZER

Potash supply has given an incentive to look more thoroughly into plant nutrition with view to utilizing products at hand to the very best purpose. The result of our efforts along this line is

Florideal Fertilizer—Equal Results—Less Potash

It is so carefully blended that where land is properly prepared we will put it against any fertilizer mixture of same ammonia and phosphoric acid content, regardless of percentage of potash. Send for particulars

Wilson & Toomer Fertilizer Co.
Jacksonville
Florida

Beginning of Vast Commerce.
Intercourse between Russia and England began in the middle of the sixteenth century by the White sea. It was a hazardous and costly voyage. The crews of two of the three ships with which Richard Chancellor made his first trip in 1553 were frozen to death. Sir Hugh Willoughby among them.

Daily Thought.
What greater thing is there for two human souls than to feel that they are joined for life, to strengthen each other in all sorrows, to minister to each other in all pain, to be with each other in silent, unspeakable memories at the moment of the last parting?—George Elliot.

Almost the Ideal.
"How are the springs on this car?" "Simply wonderful! You don't notice a child, and even when you run over a grown man, it's no discomfort at all!"—Life.

Expeditions Seldom a Loss.
It has happened in Lower California that a pearl-fishing expedition started out at an expense of over $1,000 returned with pearls not worth $1,000 in all but the mother of pearl gathered nearly pays all expenses in such cases, provided no boat has been lost.

Daily Thought.
In character, in manners, in style, in all things, the supreme excellence is simplicity.—Longfellow.

Chief Uses for Platinum
One-third of the world's supply of platinum is required in dentistry and another third for electrical purposes.

SOME OF THE THINGS WE MAKE

- Jaxon Metal Shingles.
- Jaxon Metal Ceiling.
- Eave Trough and Gutters.
- Conductor Pipe Fittings.
- Corrugated Sheets.
- Corrugated Awnings.
- Sheet Metal Roofing.
- Metal "Brick" Siding.
- Acme Movable Culverts.
- Imperial Riveted Culverts.
- Turpentine Hills and Caps.
- Sheet Metal Cornices.
- Sheet Metal Skylights.
- Dredge Pipe and Fittings.
- Coppersmiths.
- General Sheet Metal Workers.

Ask your dealer or write us for catalogue.

The FLORIDA METAL PRODUCTS CO.
2630 Evergreen Ave.
JACKSONVILLE, FLA.

A BIG NIGHT EVERY NIGHT

NEXT WEEK AT

STAR THEATRE

SAVED HIS JITNEYS

Billy Hart, who recently resigned as a National League umpire, has lived frugally in his 30 years of baseball and as close guardian of his jitneys he is said to have rivaled Sam Leever.

"Say, Bill," remarked Rigger to Hart one noonday, "the hotel is serving some fine clam chowder with a plate of toast for a dime. Try some of it."

"A dime, Charley, are you sure?" exclaimed Hart. "Surest thing you know," replied Rigger. "Just had some of it."

Hart changed his mind about the beany and returned to the hotel for his clam chowder and toast. He enjoyed it, but was handed a check for 40 cents. From that time on Hart ignored any tips handed him by Rigger.

BUSINESS CARDS

One Inch Cards Will Be Published Under This Heading At The Rate Of $7.20 Per Year.

DR. C. G. BUTT DENTIST

Office: Yowell Building SANFORD, FLORIDA

THOMAS EMMET WILSON E. FERGUSON HOUSEHOLDER

Wilson & Housholder LAWYERS

Sanford, Florida

Elton J. Moughton ARCHITECT

Office in Yowell Bldg. Sanford, Fla

GEO. A. DECOTTES. ATTORNEY AND COUNSELLOR AT LAW

Practices in State and Federal Courts 6 Cooper-Woodruff Bldg Sanford Fla

C. H. DINGEE

Plumbing and Gas Fitting

All Work Receives My Personal Attention And Best Efforts

Opposite City Hall Telephone No. 25

Dr. J. A. TROVILLION SPECIALIST

In CANCER, GOITRE and TUMORS Cure Them Without Cutting Them Out ORLANDO, FLORIDA

DR. C. W. FAIN DENTIST

WORK FOR WHITE PEOPLE ONLY PEOPLES BANK BUILDING ROOM 9

SCHELLE MAINES LAWYER

SUITE 9, COURT HOUSE PHONE 143 SANFORD, FLORIDA

HENRY McLAULIN JEWELER

MY SPECIALTIES: PICKARD'S HAND-PAINTED CHINA GORHAM'S STERLING SILVER ROGERS' PLATED WARE ELGIN AND WALTHAM WATCHES

Maxwell's

Magazines, Periodicals Soda Water Confectionery Cigars and Tobaccos

104 1st. St. Phone 182 WANT ADS PAY

AT STAR THEATRE TUESDAY

METRO PROGRAMME OCTOBER Matinee Every Day

THE PEERLESS EMOTIONAL ACTRESS

Emily Stevens

26

Next Week

In "Destiny" or "The Soul of a Woman"

"The Soul of a Woman"—the story of Mary Cadman, her supreme sacrifice, her bitter tribulation and renunciation, and the glorification of her final passing, is a picture which arouses the deepest emotions of the human heart

Matinee Prices 5 and 10 Cents

Night 5 and 15 Cents

FIVE NOBLE ACTS - DISTINCTIVE CAST - 300 SCENES

TITLE MUCH MISUSED

TERM "REVEREND" SUBJECT TO SOME ABUSE.

Fact to Be Remembered Is That It Is Never a Family Name But Is Always Applied to the Individual.

At some time in the middle ages the custom grew up of applying to clergy men the term "reverendus."

This word was a part of a speech known in Latin as a gerund, and meant "one who ought to be revered."

Gerunds could be compared like adjectives, and it seemed natural to the people of those days that, if all clergymen were reverend, a bishop should be designated by the comparative degree, "reverendior, more reverend, or right reverend, while the superlative degree, reverendissimus, most reverend, was reserved for archbishops.

As these terms referred to individuals, they were never used in connection with the family name alone, but with the Christian name which indicated the individual.

A great many people in our day are committing the unfortunate blunder of using the term "reverend" in connection with a family name. Mr. Smith is a clergyman. He is frequently spoken to as "Reverend Smith." This is wrong. Smith is a family name and does not refer to an individual. The only proper way of speaking of him is as Rev. Mr. Smith, or Rev. John Smith, or simply Mr. Smith, but never Rev. Smith.

Never Rev. and Mrs. Smith, but Rev. and Mrs. John Smith. Strictly speaking, the only possible way of speaking to him is "Mr. Smith," for the old English "Your Reverence" has died out.

One does not speak of or to a judge as Honorable Jones, but one speaks of writes of him as the Hon. Henry T. Jones, and addresses him as "Your Honor."

As concerns the use of the word "reverend" on one's business cards, it is self-evident that one who has taken a fixed.

Scholars urge us to try to preserve the use of the English language, and not be attacked by the modern disease which impels so many people to use nearly all the nouns and many of the adjectives as if they were titles.

You may find in the papers any day such expressions as Motorman Brown, Witness Green, Suspect Robinson, Official White, Pitcher Jones.

It ought to be stopped; but who will stop it? Scholars tell us that this is one of the signs that the English language is degenerating very rapidly.

Frappe.

John Manning heard a humorous story that ran like this: "If Jack Johnson, Charlie Chaplin and Billy Sunday were walking down the street, what would that suggest to you?" "Chocolate nut sundae, of course."

John went home, and he thought he had a regular dinner joke, waited until a favorable time and pulled it in this manner: "If Billy Johnson, De Wolf Hopper and Billy Sunday were walking down the street, what would you have?"

And John looked all around to see whether there had been anyone who had heard the joke before, but the faces over the soup were blank.

Well," said his father expectantly. "Frappe," said John, and burst out into a spasm of unrestrained mirth. But he stopped suddenly, for there was not a smile around the table, and it really didn't sound as funny as it did the first time.—Indianapolis News.

Wireless Station for Antarctic.

One of the objects of Sir E. Shackleton's present South polar expedition is to establish a wireless station in the Antarctic. The staff to be relieved once a year. The main purpose of the station would be to keep the civilized world acquainted with the meteorological conditions around the pole. Theoretically the power of such a station need not be very great for long distance transmission but during Captain Scott's Antarctic investigations it was discovered that the Aurora australis (the South pole equivalent of the aurora borealis in high northern latitudes), by "damping" the ether waves, somewhat counterbalanced the beamed interference of sunshine.

Patriotic to the End.

A remarkable will was made by a French lady who died recently in Marseilles. The will contains the following curious clause: "If I die before the end of the hostilities I ask that my body may be laid provisionally in the family vault, and that it shall eventually be interred in the field where the final decisive victory is gained. I also leave the whole of my fortune to the town which shall bear the name of this victory."

MINDS VARY LITTLE

SMALL DIFFERENCE OF THOSE OF MEN AND WOMEN.

President of Smith College Has Given Expression to Views That Will Be Received With More or Less Approval.

That there is very little difference between the minds of men and the minds of women, and what difference there may be is caused by personality, and not by sex, is the opinion of Dr. Marlon Le Roy Smith, president of Smith college.

The differences that still exist in the education of boys and girls are not so much due to psychological differences between them as to social conditions," declared Doctor Smith in defending this theory. "They are based on the functions that they will fulfill in the world. For instance, to date, and probably for some time to come, more men than women will do the world's work as mechanical engineers. And so there are naturally more institutions to train men for this work than there are for women."

But already the Massachusetts Institute of Technology has opened its doors to women, and I don't doubt that before long more conservative professional schools will follow suit, or they will be duplicated by similar institutions in schools for women.

In Smith college, while there has been an increase of 20 per cent in the proportion of men employed during my administration, the relative importance of women on the faculty has increased. The college now has a woman dean, a position formerly held by a man. There are sixteen women and three men in administrative positions, where there used to be six women and two men, and there are as many women heads of departments as there ever were. One significant reason why we have more women on the staff is that there are not more adequately trained women.

As to economic independence, I believe that every woman should be brought up to earn her own living, if necessary," said the college president. "But I am not willing to say that a wife and mother in a home does not earn hers. I believe that in most cases she does. The average marriage is a partnership, in which the wife does her share in keeping up the home and caring for the children. The children belong equally to the man and the woman, and are a joint responsibility.

"I certainly do want women to have all their rights. What I look forward to is the day when no woman shall be at a disadvantage, because of her sex, and when no woman shall be able to take an unfair advantage because of it. Both conditions exist today."

Recognition of a Fault.

There is one sure help toward the cure of every fault, and that is the honest recognition of it.—Harper

King Rewards His Honesty.

When the king of Siam was passing through Moscow on his European visit, a white feather fell from the plume of his helmet, and was picked up by a peasant, who hastened to restore it to the chief of police. He was greatly surprised several days later upon receiving from that official, in the name of his Siamese majesty, a basket containing a portrait of the king and a passive gold chain decorated with the Royal arms of Siam.

Daily Thought.

There are three tests of wise-work: That it must be honest, useful and cheerful.—John Ruskin.

IT'S A PLEASURE TO SERVE such bread as ours. It is so universally liked that the hostess can be proud to know how well she has entertained her guests. Those who don't know our bread cannot possibly know how good bread can be. Every day they neglect to try it they are missing one of the good things of life.

SPENCER'S BAKERY 111 Park Ave. Free Delivery

LETTUCE SEED

The very finest strains of Big Boston and Florida Special. Both fine, early headers. $1.00 lb. postpaid.

KILGORE SEED CO. PLANT CITY, FLORIDA

D. C. BROCK

MERCHANT TAILOR, CLEANER, DYER AND REPAIRER

Sanitary Steam Pressing, Hot Gasoline Dry Cleaning. Alterations of All Kinds on Short Notice. Join Our Gentlemen's Club Club $2.00 Per Month. SUITS $15.00 UPWARD.

CALL AND SEE ME ON SANFORD AVE. PHONE 174

STOMACH TROUBLE FOR FIVE YEARS

Majority of Friends Thought Mr. Hughes Would Die, But One Helped Him to Recovery.

Pomeroyton, Ky.—In Mercersville, Pa. writes as follows: "I was down with stomach trouble for five (5) years, and would have sick headaches so bad, at times, that I thought surely I would die. I tried different treatments, but they did not seem to do me any good. I got so bad, I could not eat or sleep, and all my friends, except one, thought I would die. He advised me to try Theford's Black-Draught, and quit other medicines. I decided to take his advice, although I did not have any confidence in it. I have now been taking Black-Draught for three months, and it has cured me. I haven't had those awful sick headaches since I began using it. I am so thankful for what Black-Draught has done for me." Theford's Black-Draught has been found a very valuable medicine for derangements of the stomach and liver. It is composed of pure, vegetable herbs, contains no dangerous ingredients, and acts gently, yet surely. It can be freely used by young and old, and should be kept in every family chest. Get a package today. Only a quarter

W. J. THIGPEN & COMPANY AGENTS

General Fire Insurance

Office with HOLLER REAL ESTATE Co. Sanford, Florida

NEW METHODIST CHURCH OPENS SUNDAY

The opening of the Methodist church on next Sunday will be the occasion of great joy to the members and friends of this church.

While the building is not yet complete, the arrangements and plans for the future are such that the congregation will be comfortable.

Through the courtesy and kindness of the owner of the Star Theatre, Mr. Osborn Herndon the church has been using the theatre as a place of worship for some months. The audiences have been good, members have been received constantly and the Sunday school has been interesting, large numbers have been in attendance.

In the plans for next Sunday every member of the church is included and expected to be present. The program for the day is as follows:

- 7 a. m. Sacramental service. 9:45 a. m. Sunday school at Star Theatre. 10:45 a. m. School forms a procession, marches to new church. 10:50 a. m. Baptismal service for children on arrival. Parents having children to be baptized must be present at 10:50.

11 p. m. Sermon by pastor. Subject, "The Church." 7 p. m. Sermon by pastor, subject will be "A Member's Duty to the Church."

Opportunity for reception of members at each service.

The pastor and members extend a cordial invitation to the public generally to rejoice and worship with them at all the services during the day.

THE SANFORD HERALD

R. J. HOLLY, Editor
W. M. HAYNES, Business Manager
Published Every Tuesday and Friday
THE HERALD PRINTING COMPANY
SUBSCRIPTION PRICE, IN ADVANCE
ONE YEAR $2.00
SIX MONTHS 1.25
THREE MONTHS .75

IN JACKSONVILLE

The editors who were entertained so lavishly at Jacksonville last week at the joint sessions of the various press associations of Florida have returned to their homes and as pleasant memories float through our minds of the many good times the thought arises that a slight appreciation should be shown by brief mention of the same.

The Herald force left here on Wednesday on the Clyde Line's palatial steamer, Osceola, and this delightful river trip probably the best of the kind in the south was a constant source of pleasure from the time the boat left Sanford dock until it reached Jacksonville and not a little of the pleasure was derived from the kind and courteous treatment afforded the passengers by the captain and the crew.

Arrived at Jacksonville the Mason hotel was made headquarters and this hotel deserves special mention as being one of the finest in the entire south. There are larger hotels than the Mason in the cities of the north but none finer. Geo. Mason and his right hand man, Mr. Butts, are on hand night and day to personally look after the convenience of the guests and the service is excellent.

The main object of the meetings in Jacksonville was to have all the associations gather and discuss business and the various sessions were conducive of good results along many lines but would be rather dry reading for the laymen. The social side of the meetings cannot be passed over without some report, for they consisted of a series of welcomes and addresses and good times that were a surprise even to the blase newspaper men who are accustomed to these joy rides several times during the year.

The editors were guests of the Rotary Club the first afternoon and the steamer City of Jacksonville was donated by the Clyde Line for the trip from the city to Black Point where there were some 3,000 soldiers encamped for the national rifle matches. This fine property equipped and arranged for the rifle practice was a revelation to the editors and gave them first hand knowledge of the great idea that first took root in the mind of General J. C. R. Foster, adjutant general of Florida. A new club house and other buildings are in course of construction and at the dining hall a fine luncheon was enjoyed for the guests, and they were then shown over the range where the soldier boys both regulars and state militia men of various states were endeavoring to make records. It sounded like real warfare and under the guidance of Col. Blatchford, U. S. A. who represents the government at the range the editor of the Herald and party were personally escorted over the grounds and the genial colonel and General Foster have our thanks for this privilege. Black Point is one of the best rifle ranges in the United States and should receive the encouragement and assistance of the state in every way.

Returning to the city the editors had just time to dress for the banquet given by the Chamber of Commerce in their headquarters and here the tempting spread of "Made in Jacksonville" products thoroughly satisfied the inner man supplemented by the various addresses and toasts called for by President Mann of the Board of Trade. Friday morning was all business and at noon the Builders and Traders took the delegation in charge and about 100 automobiles headed by the band assembled at the Mason and carried the visitors over the city, landing at the Ostrich Farm where at the pavilion a tempting spread was arranged, the band discoursed music, the guests danced, the varied program included vaudeville stunts by professionals, a song by General Gilchrist, addresses by newspaper men and other feats of gastronomic and oratorical strength.

At the close of this very busy day the tired ones were routed out of their rooms for the big banquet given at the Mason by the various crafts of Jacksonville allied with the printing business and over five hundred sat down to one of the most delightful banquets ever tendered an assemblage in Jacksonville. Aside from the toasts called for by Toastmaster Fred Kettle, there were various side issues in which Editor Triplett of the St. Cloud Tribune was killed by one of the prettiest "chickens" in Jacksonville and at a late hour the gay crowd sought their beds to get ready for the last day of festivities. Saturday morning was business meetings and part of the afternoon was also given over to business and addresses from men prominent in the printing business and other lines, among them being Hon. Edward W. Davis, of Orlando.

In the afternoon the party were guests of Manager Leach of the Duval Theatre and also had autos free to any part of the city, bringing to a close one of the most delightful meetings of newspaper men and printers that the state has afforded. Sunday was quietly spent by the editor and wife as guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Garrett at their cozy bungalow at Orange Park overlooking the St. Johns river, where a camp luncheon was served and the day was enjoyed as thoroughly as any of the entire session. Mr. and Mrs. Garrett are premier entertainers and their elegant home on Riverside Drive was open house to the editors and the ladies during the session.

In conclusion it would be rank injustice to the people of Jacksonville if thanks were not returned to the different trade bodies and all those who individually and collectively spent their time and money on making the visit of the newspaper men so pleasant but there were so many entertainments and banquets that our memory is rather hazy even yet and we can only mention the following with the proviso that if any are left out they will know it is not intentionally.

Horace Drew, chairman, Arthur Green, vice chairman, Arthur W. Dennis, secretary, and the members of the general program committee and the reception committee.

O. W. Renner, chairman; W. E. Arnold, secretary, and the members of the entertainment committee.

C. B. Gay, chairman; W. C. Logan, secretary, and the members of the hotel and transportation committee.

W. A. Elliott, chairman; Fred Kettle, vice chairman; C. S. Pike, secretary, and the members of the publicity committee.

Frank Cassidy, chairman, and the members of the finance committee.

S. F. Hall, Jr., chairman, and the members of the committee in charge of the publishers and crafts banquet.

The Chamber of Commerce of Jacksonville, and especially Charles H. Mann, president; H. S. Keat-hofer, secretary, and Frank Cassidy, chairman of the entertainment committee of the organization.

General J. C. R. Foster, host of the luncheon at Black Point.

The Rotary Club of Jacksonville, and E. L. Boyd, chairman of the committee on entertainment of that organization.

The Builders' and Traders' Exchange and F. C. Calkins, chairman of the entertainment committee of that organization.

The Tourist and Convention Bureau and H. H. Richardson, chairman of the committee on entertainment of that organization.

The Jacksonville Real Estate Exchange, and George E. Brown, chairman of the entertainment committee of that organization.

The general entertainment committee and Otto W. Henner, its chairman.

The Traffic Club of Jacksonville; The Mason Hotel for the use of the press and various other courtesies.

The general reception committee, of which Horace Drew was chairman, Arthur Green vice chairman, and H. B. Garrett secretary.

The ladies' reception committee of which Miss Kate C. Hall was chairman. Hon. J. E. T. Bowden, mayor, and the city of Jacksonville. The president and the special committees of the Woman's Club of Jacksonville.

QUACKS AND GEESSE

The Florida newspaper men are getting tired of listening to people outside of the profession at every gathering of editors who have something entirely foreign to the business to present and nine times out of ten are trying not only to take up the valuable time of the editors at the meetings but also obtain free advertising. Among the latest at the Jacksonville meetings might be mentioned the medical profession that is now attempting to ask the newspapers of the state to join in a movement to oust the quacks. Just where the line of demarcation for quack doctors and real doctors begins has never been satisfactorily explained. All that the editor of the Herald knows about doctors is that our own doctors here in Sanford are real doctors because they have not opened any one by mistake as yet and usually know what to do when called upon. We have the greatest respect for the medical profession and our best friends here are among the doctors, every one of them. We have our differences, for we are all human but these same doctors who want the newspapers of Florida to kill the quacks, as they are called, never give the newspapers of Florida a cent for advertising, while the same quacks are giving them yards of advertising every week and up to date the quacks are still doing business at the old stand. The ethics of the medical profession will not allow the real doctor to advertise but the quacks have no such compunctions and they fill the big papers with advertising and fill their offices with patients.

The Herald has none of this so-called quack advertising but there is no law of reciprocity that prevents our taking it and since the newspapers live from their advertising, just as the doctor lives from his patients there is no valid reason why the newspapers should assist the medical profession in any way until the doctors of the state come down from their pedestal and recognize the power of the press, not only in the advertising line but in the matter of assistance, when assistance is needed.

The newspapers of Florida are getting wise and are firm believers in reciprocity. While all of them are against the fake doctors of every sort they do not exactly see why they should bend all their efforts toward helping the real doctors when they absolutely ignore the newspapers in every way.

While Editor Bob Holly and Business Manager Walter Haynes were in Jacksonville last week the Sanford Herald was published by the Woman's Club of Sanford. To be honest about it, the women got up a much better paper than the regular editors do, and it looks as though it would be well to have frequent press association meetings so that the two gentlemen of the Herald will find it convenient to leave town. Incidentally, this is the first time that both of them ever trusted one another sufficiently to go away from home at the same time. This would not have been possible even in this instance had it not been for their good faith in the good women of Sanford.—St. Augustine Record.

The Daily Democrat of Tallahassee is the very latest thing in Florida journalism and is issued by Milton Smith and Herbert Felkel. Neither of these gentlemen need any introduction to the Florida newspapers. Mr. Smith has conducted the Tallahassee Democrat in Tallahassee for many years and Herbert Felkel has been in newspaper work since he graduated from the University of Florida many years ago, locating in Pensacola and being editor of the Pensacola News for several years. Tallahassee is the native heath of Felkel and he knows the capital and the people as no one else. The Daily Democrat is an eight page six column paper and should be the real thing in West Florida daily newspapers.

Pete Ruhl is now city editor of the Arcadia News. We just knew that old cracker could not stay out of the game any longer. The last time we saw Pete he was telling all about the beauties of the real estate game and itching right then to get back to the press gang. They cannot break away after they have been in harness for many years.

President Chris. Codrington of the Florida Press Association should learn how to take care of his night gown before he presides at the big meeting in Kissimmee next summer. Chris. lost his pink night gown somewhere on the boat or in Jacksonville and is now busy explaining just how it happened.

Rube Allen thinks Jacksonville is a great town but the plumbing in the hotels is too complicated for him, spoiling his chances of taking a nap in the day time.

COUNTY HAPPENINGS

UPSALA AND GRAPEVILLE

As there was no write up for this section last week, as all are busy, either at work or at school, we will now mention a few.

Mrs. Swanson and her son, Mr. Norman Swanson left for Washington and points in Pennsylvania on Tuesday evening on the A. C. L. for a three weeks' vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Hart, and Mrs. Powell and children were guests on Sunday at Mr. J. A. Thompson.

The Misses Edna Thompson and Etha Stedt, Mr. Walfred and Carl Peterson attended a chicken pillow at Lake Mary on Thursday evening and report an enjoyable time.

Quite a goodly number were out for prayer meeting and Mr. Ericson gives us some earnest Bible talks.

Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. Borell were in town Friday. While there Mrs. Borell visited at Mrs. Nelson's.

Mr. Tynes has been having trouble with a bruised hand for a couple of weeks.

Mrs. Clark still continues quite ill but we hope she will be better soon.

Mrs. John Lundquist has suffered lately from a wrenched arm.

Rain and the near cloud burst and the damage done is the principal subject of conversation at present. The farmers are afraid for their sweet potato crops. It was sure bad enough but it might have been worse.

Miss Etha Stedt spent last Sunday with Miss Edna Thompson, while Mr. Jesse Thompson and wife of Sanford were the guests of her parents for dinner, and the latter was a welcome visitor at Sunday school.

A number listened to an excellent sermon Tuesday night of this week which was preached by Rev. Alfred Ericson, who took as his text Mat. thev 11th, the last three verses, beginning "Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden."

There will not be much travel this way until our roads and bridges are repaired.

Communing With Oneself. It is in thy power, whenever thou shalt choose, to retire into thyself. For nowhere with more quiet or with more freedom from trouble does a man retire, particularly when he has within him such thoughts that by looking into them he is immediately to perfect tranquillity.—Marcus Aurelius.

The safe milk for your baby

Because it is just pure, fresh, sweet cow's milk evaporated to the consistency of cream, then hermetically sealed and sterilized. Carnation Milk has a delicious, natural flavor—the flavor of purity. Babies and children thrive on it—should be properly diluted. CARNATION MILK—Clean, Sweet, Pure—From Contented Cows—is economical—practically no waste. One small can is all you need to keep open at once—and that will keep sweet several days after being opened if kept in a cool, dry place. Always the same high quality. For your baby's good, order a supply of Carnation Milk from your grocer today. Ask the Pacific Coast Condensed Milk Co., Seattle, U. S. A., for the Baby Leaflet, also their new cook book "The Story of Carnation Milk."

We Want You To Know

That your account is welcome at this Bank, regardless of size.

BIG FORTUNES have SMALL BEGINNINGS. Get the habit of saving and your future welfare and prosperity are assured. Call at any time.

PEOPLES BANK OF SANFORD

WE WANT YOUR BUSINESS

H. R. STEVENS President
C. M. HAND Vice-President
SANFORD, FLORIDA
F. L. WOODRUFF Vice-President
O. L. TAYLOR Cashier
R. R. DEAS Asst. Cashier

Notice of Application for Tax Deed Under Section 873 of the General Statutes

Notice is hereby given that Mrs. Annie Miller, purchaser of Tax Certificate No. 161, dated the 2nd day of June, A. D. 1915, has filed said certificate in my office and has made application for tax deed to issue in accordance with law. Said certificate embraces the following described property situated in Seminole County, Fla. to-wit: Ely of NW 1/4 of NW 1/4 Section 11, Tp. 31 S., R. 29 E., Acres 20.

The said land being assessed at the date of the issuance of such certificate in the name of E. Miller. Unless said certificate shall be redeemed according to law, tax deed will issue thereon on the 24th day of November A. D. 1915.

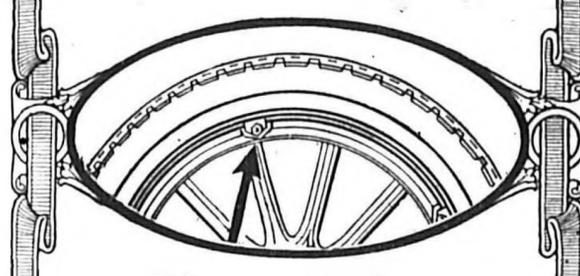

Witness my official signature and seal this 20th day of October A. D. 1915. (Seal) E. A. DOUGLASS, Clerk Circuit Court Seminole Co., Fla. By Jas. C. Roberts, D. C.

DR. A. DOLAN VETERINARIAN

OFFICE HAND BROS. STABLES

Bring in your lame and sick horses and mules. Have them treated. Have their teeth examined, sharp corners dressed down, projections cut off and decayed molars extracted.

Maxwell The "Wonder Car"

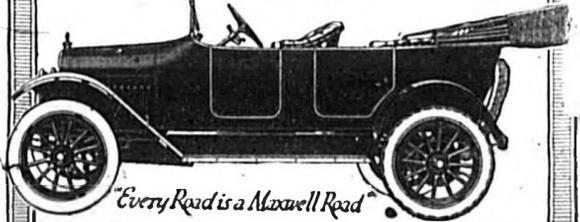

Demountable Rims

The 1916 Maxwell is equipped with demountable rims, and has the same size tire on all four wheels. Two vitally important features.

To replace a tire on the road it is only necessary to loosen five bolts; slip off the flat tire; slip on spare rim and tire; tighten three bolts, and proceed.

We are waiting to take you for a test ride in the car that has broken all low "First-Cost" records, and is breaking all low "After-Cost" records.

One Man Mohair Top $655 Electric Starter
Demountable Rims $655 Electric Lights
Rain Vision Windshield $655 Magneto Ignition
F.O.B. DETROIT

SEMINOLE COUNTY GARAGE

FREDERIC H. RAND, PRESIDENT
B. F. WHITNER, CASHIER
J. P. FORSTER, VICE PRESIDENT
A. L. BETTS, ASST. CASHIER

OUR SAFE DEPOSIT VAULT

is of the finest and most modern construction—it is absolutely burglar, fire, water and bomb proof.

You can rent an individual steel box in this Vault for the sum of $3.00 per year.

This is the PROTECTION you should give your valuables.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF SANFORD, FLORIDA

MEMBER FEDERAL RESERVE BANK

IN AND ABOUT THE CITY

Little Happenings—Mention of Matters in Brief—Personal Items of Interest

Summary of the Floating Small Talks Succinctly Arranged for Hurried Herald Readers

Beautiful Fall Goods at Yowell's Opening. 18-21c

Mrs. Charles Ryan is the guest of Mrs. Andrew Mahoney.

Attend Yowell's Opening Wednesday, Oct. 27th. 18-21c

5 or 6 doses 666 will break any case of Fever or Chills. Price 25 cents. 71-52tc

Mrs. J. H. Bruton is in Jacksonville on business.

Yowell's Annual Fall Opening, Wednesday, Oct. 27th. 18-21c

Washburn's home-made candies for sale at Irwin & Giles. 18-11

Mrs. A. B. Wallace was a guest at the Weidman-Roumillat nuptials at Port Tampa on Wednesday.

Yowell's Annual Fall Opening, Wednesday, Oct. 27th. 18-21c

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Bennett have returned from a delightful summer vacation.

Get that good Elder Springs Water again. Phone W. H. Williams at the Sanford House or the Springs.

Great displays of new goods at Yowell's Opening Wednesday, Oct. 27th. 18-21c

For that GOOD GULF GASOLINE and SUPREME AUTO OIL, phone H. B. Coney, Agt. No. 116. 14-11

Miss Elizabeth McLaughlin is visiting friends in Orlando.

New neckwear, hat pins, etc. Mrs. Grace E. Williams, First St., next to McCuller's Grocery. 17-21c

Elder Springs Water delivered to your home. Phone W. H. Williams at the Sanford House or the Springs.

Attend Yowell's Opening Wednesday, Oct. 27th. 18-21c

Mrs. W. H. Peters and Mrs. E. W. Rowland left on Wednesday for a visit of several days in Jacksonville.

Beautiful Fall Goods at Yowell's Opening. 18-21c

Clarence Carter left on Wednesday for his former home in Georgia to attend the wedding of his brother.

Drink that pure Elder Springs Water and get the benefits therefrom. Phone W. H. Williams at the Sanford House.

Great displays of new goods at Yowell's Opening Wednesday, Oct. 27th. 18-21c

We will pay you 4 cents a pound for old run out casings, sizes 20 x 3 and 30 x 3 1/2. Sanford Machine & Garage Co. 4-11

Miss Mable Bowler has returned to her home in Jacksonville after spending several weeks in this city with her many friends.

Ladies Suits and Coats at Yowell's Opening Wednesday, Oct. 27th. 18-21c

Ladies, I am receiving new goods in the MILLINERY line every week. Velvet hats from 75c up. Fine assortment auto caps. Shall be pleased to show you. Mrs. Grace E. Williams, First St., next to McCuller's Grocery. 17-21c

Ladies Suits and Coats at Yowell's Opening Wednesday, Oct. 27th. 18-21c

We came to Sanford to give it its people a square deal. Call us once and you'll call us again. Six suits pressed per month $1.00. Satisfaction guaranteed. Dollar Pressing Club. Phone 324. 18-11p

Miss Florence Frank has returned from a pleasant visit to Miss Mable Bowler in Jacksonville. Miss Frank also visited relatives in Platak and is returning home.

Notice Until further notice Munson's swimming pool will be open to the public every day from 2 to 5 p. m., except Tuesdays and Fridays. Open nights only by special arrangement to parties of ten or more. Pure fresh running water. All conditions perfectly sanitary. 12-11

Manager Herndon Pulls Big One

The smiling and congenial manager of the Star who is always there with the "big mit" when it comes to getting good pictures and selecting features that will please and satisfy the discriminating and elite patrons of the Star has, after much trouble and expense arranged with the following big manufacturing concerns to supply the Star with the entire and exclusive output of their enormous force of actors which make up armies.

Paramount pictures have been run at the Star every Monday and Friday and it is useless to go into details concerning these extraordinary features, for everybody is familiar with these works of art. They will be shown exclusively at the Star as long as patrons are satisfied on the same days as heretofore.

The most important deal in this connection is the fact that the manager has signed with the famous Metro Picture Corps for their features which will be shown on Tuesday and Thursday of each week. Too much cannot be said of these features for their cast is constituted of the greatest actors and actresses the world has ever known and it is very fortunate that a town the size of Sanford will have the opportunity to see this class of pictures which really belong to the larger cities. On next Tuesday the first of these features will be shown and fortunately the noted Emily Stevens will be seen in the stellar role in "Destiny" or the "Soul of a Woman" in five noble acts and three hundred different scenes.

On Wednesdays, in addition to the Exploits of Elaine, a special five or six reel picture will be shown. The World Film Corp. handle these and it is truly said that they are "baner productions." It might be added that this concern and the Paramount Co. are the pioneers in the motion picture business and you can rest assured that they will all be perfect in every detail. Pathé News will also be shown on this night. Saturday's program will be made up of a varied program with Pathé News, comedy and drama.

Beginning next week Wallace's orchestra will furnish music appropriate for the pictures. Everyone has either heard them play or heard their friends speak of the unusual music furnished by this aggregation of musical wonders and the people will no doubt be glad to learn that they can be heard at the Star every night.

The screen that has received so much favorable comment on account of it not hurting your eyes and being clear and distinct will be raised two feet and after this has been set the audience can sit normally and comfortably and without raising or lowering their heads can see its entire surface.

The admission will be 5 and 15 cents, but the patrons show sufficient interest in this high class entertainment that the prices will be cut to 3 and 10 cents. If the people would all come out the manager might run a free show—you can't tell what he might do.

The foregoing will be in effect the week of October 25th.

LIVING MODELS

French Millinery Shop wishes to announce that Mrs. Ayda M. Rome, representing Broadway Waist & Dress Co. will be here on Oct. 26th and 27th, and will display a beautiful line of evening gowns and street dresses, including lovely velvet gowns. Combination serge and taffeta dresses, all serge dresses and everything else in soft dresses. We cordially invite the ladies who wish to dress well to attend.

French Millinery Shop

18-11c

CANDY PURE AND FRESH

What could be better? Garetson Candy Co. make it. Irwin & Giles sell it. Have you tried it? 17-11

Seminole Co. Co-Operative Store Are now selling PURE, FRESH CANDY made by Garetson Candy Co. Try it. 17-11

Drink Elder Spring Water ANALYSIS ON EACH BOTTLE Phone 1917-3 8-Fri 11

ABOUT PEOPLE AND EVENTS...

A RESUME OF SANFORD HAPPENINGS UP TO DATE Address all Communications for this Column to "Society Editor," or Phone Mrs. R. A. Terhove, Phone No. 762.

Friday, Oct. 22:

Tonight Mr. and Mrs. Norman Toole will entertain.

Monday, Oct. 24: St. Agnes Guild at Mrs. Neal's. Mrs. C. M. Vorce's auction bridge.

Monday Night: Dancing school at Woman's Club rooms.

Tuesday, Oct. 26: Social department cabaret bazaar in the evening.

Wednesday, Oct. 27: 800 Sewing Club at Mrs. Frank Adams.

Literature department meeting.

Thursday, Oct. 28: Priscilla Club meeting.

Mrs. Margaret Barnes will entertain the Every-Week Bridge Club.

Roum'la—Wedman

The marriage of Miss Hortense Weldman to Mr. Francis Eugene Roumillat of Sanford was quietly solemnized with mass at 8:30 Wednesday morning at the Sacred Heart church in Tampa, Rev. Father De Stok officiating. The ceremony was witnessed only by the immediate relatives and intimate friends of the young couple.

The bride who is an attractive and charming young lady, looked unusually dainty and pretty in a plum colored chiffon broadcloth suit trimmed with fur, plum color hat, sailor shape and trimmed with fur and velvet roses. The groom wore a grey suit.

They returned immediately after the ceremony to the home of the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Crabtree of this city, with whom the bride made her home. Here an informal reception was held. The guests were refreshed with wine, fruit and pound cake.

As the young couple descended the stairs preparatory to leaving Mendelssohn's Wedding March was played by Mrs. R. F. Altree.

The young couple left on the 11:30 Atlantic Coast Line train amid showers of rice and good wishes for Sanford, where they will begin house-keeping.

Mrs. Roumillat who, as Mrs. Wedman has visited her aunt and uncle in this city on several occasions, and for several months past has been making her home with them, making many friends here by her charming personality, while Mr. Roumillat, who is a young man of sterling character and a prominent business man of Sanford, is to be congratulated on winning such a charming wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Roumillat were the recipients of many handsome gifts. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Donald Toffaletti, Mrs. S. Barker, Mrs. Alex. Hurvey, Mrs. A. B. Wallace of Sanford, Dr. and Mrs. R. F. Altree and children, Misses Nannie Raines, Toffaletti, Quentin, Isabel and Muriel Harvey, Messrs. Tony Toffaletti and Charlie Hogan, besides the following relatives: Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Crabtree, Dorothy W. D. and Jim Crabtree.

Dinner at Mason Hotel

Mr. F. C. Coffee, of Atlanta, who has been in the city for several days attending the meeting of the Florida Press Association was host at an informal dinner Saturday evening at 7 o'clock at the Mason Hotel. Covers were laid for seven, and the affair proved thoroughly delightful.

Among the guests were Mr. Oscar Conklin, editor of the Miami Herald, and Mrs. Conklin, Mr. R. J. Holly, editor of the Sanford Herald, and Mrs. Holly; Mr. F. E. Fitzgerald, editor of the Daytona Gazette and Miss Helen Hunt of Jacksonville, Times-Union.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Holly, who spent several days in Jacksonville, attending the meeting of the Florida Press Association left yesterday for their home in Sanford. Mr. Holly is editor of the Sanford Herald, Times-Union.

Pretty Birthday Party

In honor of the first birthday of her little granddaughter, Billy Bouchelle Wight, Mrs. Henry Wight entertained Monday afternoon. The two little ladies who received with Billy upon the occasion of her first appearance in society at the age of one month, Camilla Madge Deas and Mary Kearns Hurt, with their mothers were Miss Billy's guests and such a good time was enjoyed by the happy little gathering, for a birthday party, you know is always a great event in one's life. The three babies sat at a tiny round table upon which was the lovely birthday cake with its one pink candle. The favors were beautiful handmade Normandy caps, presented to each little guest. Scarcely less important than the guests of honor were the lasses who served, Sarah Wight, LeClairs Jones and Frances Dutton. Other guests enjoying this charming party were Mrs. Allan Jones and Miss LeMassena.

Cards for Mrs. Keel's

Mrs. W. E. Watson entertained with a charming bridge party on Monday afternoon in honor of her mother, Mrs. Keelor of Westfield, N. J. The pretty rooms were most attractive with their artistic arrangement of pink hibiscus and varicolored calladium leaves. Mrs. Geo. Bishop won the first prize, a lovely cretonne luncheon set, while the consolation, a Japanese flower basket went to Mrs. C. M. Vorce. To Mrs. Keelor, the guest of honor was presented a handsome pair of silk hose. Refreshments consisting of pineapple and pimento salad, olive sandwiches and iced tea were served. Enjoying the hospitality of their gracious young hostess were Mesdames Keelor, McLaughlin, Bishop, Newman, B. W. Herndon, Puleston, G. F. Smith, C. M. Vorce, A. P. Connelly, Lake, J. W. Dickins and D. L. Thrasher.

A Silver Tea

One of the prettiest affairs of the week which was socially and financially a complete success was the "silver tea" which was given by Mrs. Zeb Ratliff Tuesday afternoon at her attractive home on Magnolia avenue. The charming home was very lovely with great masses of fragrant roses of every color and variety and beautiful stately dabbas, the gift of Mrs. W. A. Gunn. Mantles, cabinets and tables were banked with ferns and these brilliant hued flowers. In the dining room, where refreshments were served a profusion of pink vine added its graceful beauty to the charm of the rose decorations. Upon the table a handsome lace luncheon cloth had for its centerpiece a basket of roses and fern tied with a big bow of ribbon. An enjoyable program of music and readings, completing the pleasures of the afternoon, included a piano solo by Miss Lucre Chappell, "How they Carried the Good News to Ghent," one of Mrs. R. C. Maxwell's best readings, three vocal solos, "Perfect Day," "Dearie" and the "Rosary," by Miss Charlie Sogay, accompanied by Miss Lettie Caldwell and a piano solo in conclusion by Miss Caldwell. Serving refreshments were Mrs. W. M. Hayes, Mrs. Geo. Watson, Mrs. H. B. Coney and Mrs. G. W. Spencer.

New Sewing Club Organized

That afternoon sewing clubs are a popular diversion in Sanford is proven by the number of neighborhood clubs in the various sections of the city, the latest of which was organized Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. DeWitt Hayes, composed of the lady folks in block 800, Magnolia avenue. Incidentally, this congenial little band of industrious ladies will be known as the Eight Hundred. Composing the club and enjoying the delightful hospitality of Mrs. Hayes were Mesdames Roy Symes, A. D. Zachary, James Brown, Anna Walker, Frank Adams, Sam Bradford, Tyler, Rines and Misses Agnes and Evelyn Berner. Fruit salad, olive sandwiches, nut bread, olives and hot chocolate were served at the refreshment hour.

Study Dance

In honor of Miss Le Massena of New York, the attractive house guest of Mrs. R. B. Deas, a delightfully enjoyable dance was given at the studio of Mrs. Fannie Munson on Wednesday evening. The spacious

Paramount Myrtle Stedman in the "WILD OLIVE" at the Star Monday

ROBBINS NEST HOTEL, THURSDAY, OCT. 21, TO SATURDAY 30 DR. DAVIS COMING DR. DAVIS, the Optometrist, who has been making regular visits here for number of years, will be at Robbins Nest Hotel Next Week for few days. See him for Glasses, for Headache, Weak Eyes, or Poor Vision. Work Guaranteed. Don't delay coming until to late. REFERENCES: DR. ROBSON; J. E. PACE

LETTUCE HAMPERS CRATE MATERIALS BLUE STONE INSECTICIDES GROWERS' SUPPLIES A Full Stock at All Times at Our Sanford and Beardall Warehouses CHASE & CO. SANFORD Phone 38 161 BEARDALL Phone 13

ATLANTIC COAST LINE The Standard Railroad of the South SCHEDULE EFFECTIVE APRIL 5th, 1915 THROUGH TRAINS TO NEW YORK DAILY

	No. 82	No. 86	No. 80
Ly Jacksonville	9:10 am	1:35 pm	8:10 pm
Ar Savannah	1:15 pm	5:35 pm	12:35 am
Ar Richmond	5:20 am	9:18 am	8:00 pm
Ar Washington	8:50 am	12:38 pm	11:50 pm
Ar Baltimore	10:05 am	1:50 pm	1:38 am
Ar Philadelphia	12:33 pm	4:03 pm	4:25 am
Ar New York	2:10 pm	6:20 pm	7:13 am

All-steel Equipment, Free Reclining Chair Cars to Washington, Dining Car Service on Trains 82 and 86, Sleeper to Savannah on Train 80. For Information and Reservation Phone or Write ATLANTIC COAST LINE 115 West Bay Street, Jacksonville, Fla. Phone 17 Hillsborough Hotel, Tampa, Fla. Phone 122 room was a veritable bower of beauty, with its adornment of palms and cut flowers. The reception hall and broad verandas were richly decorated with brilliant calladium leaves, potted plants and regal palms. After the heavy rains of the afternoon the evening was delightfully cool for dancing. A joyous crowd of maids and young matrons and gallant beaux responded to the invitations and a gay time was enjoyed by all. Miss Le Massena, whose charm, grace and musical talent has won for her a splendid popularity is receiving many social honors. Annual Musical October 30 The popular musicale which is given annually by Mrs. Fannie

Continued on Page 8

THE BONITA CAFE THE FINEST, COOLEST, CLEANEST CAFE IN CITY Everything served in the best way; properly cooked in a thoroughly sanitary kitchen, at moderate prices. Try it the next time you are hungry. NEW WOODRUFF BLDG. PHONE 152

Open An Account With Your Home Institution Today WE MAKE IT OUR BUSINESS TO FURNISH HELPFUL BANKING SERVICE. YOUR SMALL SAVINGS ACCOUNT WILL RECEIVE THE SAME CAREFUL ATTENTION AS THE LARGE COMMERCIAL ACCOUNT. 4% INTEREST PAID ON SAVINGS ACCOUNTS SEMINOLE COUNTY BANK (Court House Building) Forrest Lake, Pres. D. L. Thrasher, Vice-Pres. A. R. Key, Cashier

The Exploits of Elaine

A Detective Novel and a Motion Picture Drama

By ARTHUR B. REEVE
The Well-Known Novelist and the Creator of the "Craig Kennedy" Stories

Presented in Collaboration With the Pathe Players and the Eclectic Film Company
Copyright, 1914, by the Star Company. All Foreign Rights Reserved.

See the Pictures at The Star Every Wednesday. Admission 5 and 10c

SYNOPSIS.

The New York police are mystified by a series of murders and other crimes. The principal clue to the criminal in the warning letter which is sent the victims, signed with a "clutching hand." The latest victim of the mysterious assassin is Taylor Dodge, the insurance president. His daughter, Elaine, employs Craig Kennedy, the famous scientific detective, to try to unravel the mystery. What Kennedy accomplishes is told by his friend, Jameson, a newspaper man. After many fruitless attempts to put Elaine and Craig Kennedy out of the way the Clutching Hand is at last found to be none other than Perry Bennett, Elaine's lawyer and the man she is engaged to marry. Bennett flees to the den of one of his Chinese criminals. The Chinaman forces from Bennett the secret of the whereabouts of $2,000,000. Then he gives the lawyer a position which will suspend animation for months. Kennedy reaches Bennett's side just after he has lost consciousness.

TWENTY-SECOND EPISODE

THE OPIUM SMUGGLERS.

George, the Dodge chauffeur, had just returned to the garage in the rear of the house with the car and was working over it. He was so intent on locating a strange noise in the engine that he did not see the serpentine eyes of Wu as he peeped into the garage through a small window.

Wu was not alone. As always, he had been able to secure an assistant in the devilish scheme he had in mind, not a sinister, evil-faced fellow, but a neat, quiet, apparently honest-looking young mechanic.

George was bending closely over the engine as he speeded it up to see what was the cause of the rattle when the door of the garage opened quietly. On tiptoe Wu and the young mechanic, a man named Johnson, slipped in, Johnson carrying an automobile robe.

The next moment the two had leaped upon the defenseless George. Johnson threw the robe over his head while Wu wound him about with a rope. He was completely and instantly put out.

Just then, working as if by the clock for such was the precision of Wu's plans, a closed car muffled down, slipped up to the garage door. They hustled the unresisting George into the car, Johnson taking the place at the wheel and Wu sitting on guard in back with George, bound and almost suffocated.

George was loyal if anything. Threats and bribes had no effect on him, even after he had come to in Wu's secret den.

"There is paper, pen and ink," threatened Wu. "Write what I tell you."

George remained motionless, defiant.

"You will not," shrieked Wu, making his impatience behind an assumed melancholy.

Slowly he picked up a murderous dirk, which lay on the table before him, and felt the point thoughtfully. A deep, guttural order hissed from the Serpent's lips. Instantly two of the servants seized George, while the third bent his head back. As Wu raised the knife, it was more than even the iron nerves of George could stand.

He broke down.

"Take the pen," directed Wu, adding, as George took it mechanically, "Write."

Both Elaine and Aunt Josephine were much surprised at the nonappearance of George in the morning.

It was explained, apparently, when Jennings, the butler, ushered in the neat and quiet young man who politely told a story of an accident to his dear friend, George, as he handed a note to Elaine.

"I think you'll do," nodded Elaine. "Jennings, will you show Johnson how to get to the garage?"

For a long time Kennedy had been perfecting a miniature wireless telephone of his own invention, and the activities of Wu Fang now caused him to hasten his work.

It was the next morning after the capture of Long Sin that Craig got the instrument working to his satisfaction. I was delighted, for I had been much interested in following his work on it.

"You, see, Walter," Kennedy explained, setting a little black box on the laboratory table. "I've got this thing down to an irreducible minimum. It's the most compact affair imaginable. See. I open the face of the box. I lift up this miniature aerials of the inverted L type. Here is the transmitting apparatus, there the receiving, all tuned. I press this lever."

He paused. At the other end of the table stood an exact duplicate of the first instrument.

As he pressed the lever the buzzer in the other telephone sounded.

"I'm going to ask you, Walter," he went on, folding down the little aerials and shutting up the box, "to take this other instrument over to Elaine."

Out on the Atlantic, tossing over the choppy seas, a dingy old schooner was tacking her way toward New York harbor. The captain, Jake Gregor, was a respectable looking man, as were both his craft and his crew of mixed whites and Chinese.

Gregor had come out on deck and stood there gazing off at where the land ought to be. He had just finished scrawling a note on a piece of paper resting on the after cabin roof when one of the men reached down and from a small wooden cage took a struggling white carrier pigeon. They fastened the note, rolled up in a sort of quill, to the bird's leg and let the bird loose. It circled up, then, straight as an arrow darted off landward.

"They'll be glad to know we're safe and so near," nodded Gregor. "And confound any revenue men that stand between us!"

In a room in a tenement Wu Fang and several Chinamen were steated talking and smoking.

Outside a nearby window was a large box which had a small sliding door on the outside, arranged so that it fell almost at a touch, working a little signal flag on the back of the box toward the room, in which the Chinamen were seated.

Suddenly there was a flutter of wings outside. A pure white pigeon seemed to glide into the box and, as the homing bird did so, the door automatically shut. It was a cage such as is used for carrier pigeons. The little flag in the room moved, and the Chinamen crowded about the box as Wu opened it, reached in and caught the bird. Carefully he took the message from the bird's foot. As one of them placed the bird in another box and reset the trap, Wu unrolled the paper and read.

Twenty-six miles southeast of Sandy Hook, Will drop anchor off Staten Island tonight.

You will let me know if any later message comes, directed Wu to one of his men as, a moment later, the Chinese master criminal left the tenement.

Cautiously he made his way to the secret entrance to his own apartment. He had scarcely entered when a Chinaman who had evidently been waiting for him rose and bowed. It was Hop Ling, the proprietor of the opium den.

"Is there any news yet, master?" he asked.

Yes, Gregor is landing. Your opium tonight. I'll have a girl for him to take back to Shanghai with him, where she can be sold.

Kennedy had begun to get closer on the trail of Wu and, having dispatched me to Elaine with the wireless telephone, it occurred to him that he might spend a few hours profitably sleuthing about Chinatown searching for clues to the Serpent.

He donned the roughness of his old coat and turned his coat collar up, while an old shawl hat was pulled over his eyes. But it was not so far over as to dim his sight.

He paused once by an electric light pole to watch a gangster saunter past. Twice the fellow had walked up and down the street.

As the gangster slouched by, he lurched over to the electric light pole, and Kennedy felt his hand touched by that of the gangster. He was more than surprised to feel something like a piece of cardboard surreptitiously shoved into his hand, and he clutched it. The gangster passed, and as he did so, Kennedy looked at him, then bent over and read.

Capt. John Bralnard,
U. S. Secret Service.

Written underneath the engraved name was "Follow."

Slowly he followed. Bralnard entered a saloon as a side door and seated himself in a back room. A moment later Kennedy dashed in and sat down at the same table. Bralnard nodded and a fair extended his hand quietly. He looked about. They were alone.

"What brings you down here?" asked Kennedy in a low tone.

"A big shipment of opium is going to be landed tonight, and I'm trying to locate the Chinese gang back of it. Think you can help me?"

"Anything to do with that hop joint up the street?"

Bralnard nodded. Would it prove a clue possibly to Wu Fang?

"I'll help you," agreed Kennedy. For several minutes they talked, laying out a plan. Finally they paid the check and rose to go out. As they reached the side door a Chinaman passed, Kennedy drew Bralnard back.

"What's the matter?" whispered the secret service man.

"Did you see that Chinaman?" returned Kennedy. "That's Hop Ling. He runs the opium joint. I think he is worth shadowing."

Keeping discreetly in the rear of the Chinaman, Kennedy and Bralnard followed until Hop paused before a ramshackle tenement. No sooner had he disappeared inside than Craig and Bralnard advanced, careful that they in turn were not followed.

They entered and went upstairs. At last they came to a door outside which they paused to listen.

"Can you make out what they are saying?" asked Bralnard.

"Something about birds," returned Craig. "We've got them. There are only two. Let's rush the door."

Together they catapulted themselves at the door and it flew open. Instantly, before the Chinamen could recover from their surprise at the sudden attack, Craig and Bralnard were on them. One rushed for a window, smashing it with a chair and trying to get out. Craig seized him and helped corner the other, who turned out to be Hop Ling. It was the work of only a moment to snap the bracelets on the two and cover them with a gun.

"What's that?" demanded Bralnard, looking at the box in the window, as Kennedy moved over toward it.

"A pigeon trap, I suspect," Craig replied. Let's wait."

They sat there for several minutes. Evidently the Chinese had been waiting for something. Craig felt that waiting might pay.

At last he was rewarded by the sound of a flutter outside. A click followed as the little door shut, trapping the pigeon. The signal flag in the room moved.

Kennedy looked at it a moment, then carefully opened the door in the back of the trap and seized the bird. From the quill on its leg he took a tightly rolled note and read.

5 P. M.
Will be off Van Dort jetty in two hours.

What did it mean? Threats, imprecations, nothing could extract a word from the two impassive prisoners.

"Come," ordered Kennedy sharply of Hop Ling, not for a moment letting his vexation show in his face. "Walk ahead of me."

Two of the gang had been captured, but Wu seemed as far away as ever. He marched Hopalong sullenly, while Bralnard kicked the other Chinaman to his feet and followed.

They did not have far to go. Scarcely a block away stood a policeman, and Craig waved to him.

Quickly Craig produced cards of identification and they left their handcuffed prisoners with the understanding that they were to be held until full charges could be made against them.

At the first telephone pay station Craig turned in and called up the laboratory, to which I had returned.

"I think I've got the best clue yet, Walter," he called. "You remember Bralnard? Well, I want you to meet me at the Battery where a revenue cutter will be waiting. Bring along that wireless telephone, too. Don't forget."

I hung up the receiver excitedly and tucked the little black box under my arm as I hurried out.

Elaine had decided to motor down to the country home of one of her friends who lived on the shore of New Jersey, and accordingly late in the afternoon called the garage and ordered Johnson to have the car ready.

As Elaine was whirled downtown and over the ferry from New York she was deeply engrossed in her own thoughts.

How far they had gone she did not pay much attention, but she knew the roads well. They had come to a fork, and Johnson veered off to the left. Instantly Elaine knew that the right-hand road was the more direct, and she touched a little signal that summoned the driver.

"You're taking the wrong road," she called. "Go to the right."

"I think you'll find the roads better this way, Miss Elaine," persisted Johnson.

It was, however, merely a ruse on his part to gain time and give some of Wu's men an opportunity. For, as the car approached the fork, two roughnecks, hidden behind a rock in the shrubbery, had been straining their eyes down the road and at the approach of the car had drawn back closer under cover.

Johnson stopped some hundred feet or so down the wrong road past the rock in answer to Elaine's signal. It was the change the roughnecks wanted. They leaped out from their shelter. Not another car or vehicle was in sight. Quickly they slunk down the road.

As Elaine was becoming vexed at Johnson's show of stupidity, she suddenly felt strong arms circling her while a huge, very dirty hand pressed with irresistible force over her mouth. She struggled, but it was of no use.

They pinned her down to the floor of the car. Johnson drew the curtains and leaped into his seat, from which he had descended, leaving the engine running.

"To the Van Dort jetty," growled one roughneck. "They'll be there soon."

Quickly, Johnson shot the car along to the lower bay side of the island, instead of the New Jersey ferry.

It was very late in the afternoon. I did my best to get down to the Battery with the wireless telephone to meet Kennedy and Bralnard, but it was dark before I got there.

As I hurried down to the dock I saw that they had already boarded the revenue cutter and were waiting impatiently. It was a fairly sizable craft.

They hailed me aboard and we cast off. The wind blew in keenly from the bay and we spun down the harbor, keeping a sharp lookout for any suspicious craft.

Already Wu Fang and a couple of his lieutenants had gone down to the Van Dort jetty. No message had been received from Gregor, but they felt sure that he would be there with the schooner.

Finally Wu directed one of his men to set off a signal, a flashlight on the end of the jetty, while he strained his eyes through the darkness for some answering signal.

He had not reckoned wrong. Far out over the water came an answering signal from the schooner.

"Good!" exclaimed Wu with satisfaction, as he turned and picked his way back up the dock.

On he went alone until he came to one of the deserted mansions of a generation or two ago which lined the shore at that point. There, in a yard beside it, stood Elaine's car.

"Where is the white girl?" asked Wu, calling Johnson.

"In the house, master," replied the mechanic subserviently.

"Wait for me here, then," nodded Wu.

Down in a musty room in the basement of the deserted house was Elaine. She was neither bound nor gagged. In fact, there was no necessity for it. No one could hear her cries, nor could she escape, for the two roughnecks who had seized her were guarding her, besides a couple of Chinamen.

Wu Fang came in silently and moved over close to her. He said not a word, but an evil smile spread over his sinister face as she shrank from him.

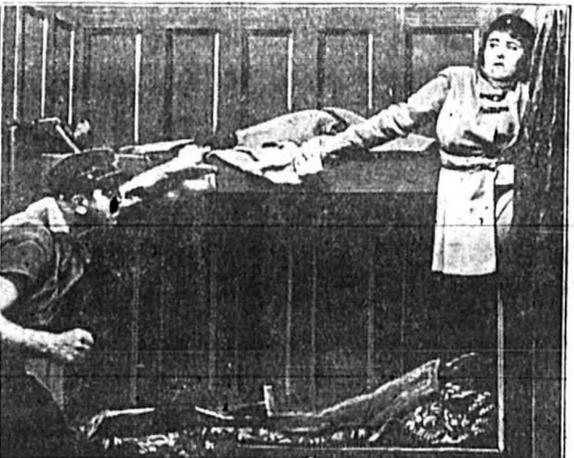

Meanwhile a yawl had put out from the schooner loaded with cans of the precious contraband drug and had pulled up at the old stone jetty and dock. Chinamen hastily unloaded it and started up to the house laden with the heavy tins.

As Wu stood before Elaine the Chinamen carrying the dope tins entered and began piling them up in an old closet in the room. At last they finished putting it away.

"All is done, master," bowed one who seemed to be the leader.

Wu nodded, then turned to Elaine. "Go!" he hissed, raising his finger and pointing to the door.

Trembling, she obeyed, and Wu Fang and the two toughs followed.

"Leave Me!" Elaine Pleaded.

You can depend absolutely on this milk

You can depend on Carnation Milk to be absolutely clean, sweet and pure. It is all of that when opened—and keeps longer than ordinary milk after opening.

CARNATION MILK

Clean—Sweet—Pure From Contented Cows

Carnation Milk is the rich, pure, sweet milk from healthy cows, evaporated to the thickness of cream—then hermetically sealed and sterilized to preserve its wholesomeness. It is secured under ideal conditions, and handled in the most sanitary way. Nothing is added—nothing taken out but water. It reaches you free from impurities—absolutely safe—thoroughly sterilized.

For baby to drink—for the whole family, Carnation Milk is highly desirable, convenient and economical. Use it for cooking, baking, whipping, sauces and at the table.

Order it from your grocer—"The Carnation Milkman"
Pacific Coast Condensed Milk Company,
Seattle, Wash., U. S. A.

Try this Oyster Stew Recipe

Melt 2 tablespoons butter; add 2 tablespoons flour. If teaspoonful salt, dash of pepper, and mix well. Add a cup of water and 1 cup Carnation Milk; cook until it thickens. Strain and season. Add a pint of oysters and heat until oysters are warmed through.

FAVORITE FERTILIZERS

Higher in Price—Sometimes Higher in Quality—Always

RESULTS TELL. Ask any customer about FAVORITE FERTILIZERS. They know and can testify as to THEIR QUALITY, THEIR SOLUBILITY, LASTING QUALITIES and GENERAL ADAPTABILITY to FLORIDA SOILS.

Special Formulas for All Florida Crops
WRITE FOR QUOTATIONS

AGRICULTURAL CHEMICALS, INSECTICIDES

INDEPENDENT FERTILIZER CO.
Jacksonville, Fla.

JITNEY BUS SCHEDULE

EFFECTIVE SEPTEMBER 13th.

CITY BUSINESS

Cars will begin 45 minutes arrival of every train on following route, making three trips: Beginning at First and French, down First to Magnolia Avenue; to Tenth Street; to Park; Park to Ninth; Ninth to Oak Avenue; down Oak to First Street; to Park; out Park and Ninth to Station. CARS WILL MEET MIDNIGHT AND EARLY MORNING TRAINS.

CROSS TOWN CAR SCHEDULE

SANFORD	MONROE	SANFORD	CAMERON CITY
Lv. 7:15 A. M.	Ar. 7:40 A. M.	Lv. 7:30 A. M.	Ar. 8:00 A. M.
Ar. 8:45 A. M.	Lv. 7:45 A. M.	Ar. 8:30 A. M.	Lv. 8:00 A. M.
Lv. 3:15 P. M.	Ar. 3:45 P. M.	Lv. 4:00 P. M.	Ar. 4:30 P. M.
Ar. 4:45 P. M.	Lv. 4:15 P. M.	Ar. 5:00 P. M.	Lv. 4:30 P. M.
Saturday Nights
Lv. 6:00 P. M.	Ar. 6:30 P. M.	Lv. 6:00 P. M.	Ar. 6:30 P. M.
Lv. 7:00 P. M.	Ar. 7:30 P. M.	Lv. 7:00 P. M.	Ar. 7:30 P. M.
Lv. 9:30 P. M.	Ar. 10:00 P. M.	Lv. 9:30 P. M.	Ar. 10:00 P. M.
Ar. 10:30 P. M.	Lv. 10:00 P. M.	Ar. 10:30 P. M.	Lv. 10:00 P. M.

FARES		FARES
City Limits	10c	Roads, City Limits	10c
Beardall Avenue	15c
Geneva Avenue	20c	Stenstrom's Corner	15c
Moore Station	25c
Cameron City	30c	Monroe	20c

Special trips out of town will be based as follows: One or two passengers 8 cents per mile each way, plus 20 cents, in radius of 6 miles; every additional passenger 5 cents per mile. Special jitney service can be had day or night by calling Phone 331, within territory bound by Commercial St. and Tenth St., Sanford and French Avenues, for 10c, to city limits 15c. PLACE YOUR CALL FOR JITNEY. PHONE 331 FOR ANY SERVICE OR TRAIN DAY OR NIGHT

HAND BROTHERS

LIVERY, SALES AND FEED STABLE

Corner Park Avenue and Second Street

CONTRACTORS FOR ALL KINDS OF HEAVY HAULING

Large supply of Horses, Mules,

Wagons and Harness always on hand For Sale or Exchange

Blacksmithing and Wagon Repairing in connection

TRY A HERALD WANT AD

SUB-TROPICAL MID-WINTER EXPOSITION

GREATEST EVENT IN THE HISTORY OF THE FIVE COUNTIES

February 15-19, 1916 Orlando, Florida

To the Citizens of Seminole, Volusia, Osceola, Lake and Orange Counties, Greeting:

Be it known to all of you that you are invited and expected to prepare suitable exhibits for display at the Great Exposition already agreed upon by the people of your several counties, engaging in a friendly competition for the exhibition of the varied products of your several sections; also the things "Made in Your Towns." Your school work, your fruits and vegetables, your farm products, your stores of house and field, your art creations and all other articles of interest, especially stock, chickens, etc.

Prepare to attend in person and with your family and friends and the strangers within your gates.

SUB-TROPICAL MID-WINTER EXPOSITION OF THE PROSPEROUS FIVE COUNTIES

The Exploits of Elaine

A Detective Novel and a Motion Picture Drama

By ARTHUR B. REEVE

The Well-Known Novelist and the Creator of the "Craig Kennedy" Stories

Presented in Collaboration With the Pathe Players and the Eclectic Film Company

Copyright, 1914, by the Star Company All Foreign Rights Reserved

"Oh, will it work—will it work?" she breathed in prayer to herself as she lifted out tenderly the little wireless telephone.

She opened it, pulled up the little aerials, and pressed the lever. "Hello—hello—Craig—hello!"

It was her last chance. Would it work? By this time we had come in the revenue cutter to the old dock that was known as the Van Dort jetty.

As we swung around to it, with Kennedy and Brainard I leaped out. We gazed about, hunting for signs of the opium smugglers. All was as still as a grave, except for the ominous lapping of the waves.

I happened to look down at the ground. There in the light of the lantern I saw one of those square-toed footprints which we had come to know as well—the print of a Chinese shoe.

The footprints led up from the dock to an old, deserted, dilapidated house. We paused a moment before it. Just then a door opened and a Chinaman appeared.

With a cry he darted back, but we were at him. There were others inside, too, but they were easily overpowered.

Prodding the reluctant Celestials, we retraced our steps to the jetty. Brainard's men carrying the opium. At the dock we loaded our prisoners and the contraband on the cutter.

It was plain that although we had captured the dope, the ship which had brought it had escaped and, worst of all, Wu had again slipped through our fingers.

Brainard gave the order, and we left the wharf. As we stood gazing from the captured opium to the prisoners, Brainard was visibly elated.

"Shake," he said laconically to Craig. Whether it was that he was disappointed at the failure to land Wu or whether he had a premonition that all was not well, somehow Kennedy did not share the elation. He extended his hand mechanically.

Just then a buzz as if a bell had rung startled us. It was so unexpected that I exclaimed although the next minute realized that it was from the wireless telephone Craig had asked me to bring from the laboratory.

Kennedy seized the box, opened it hastily and clipped the little receiver to his ear.

"Hello hello—yes, this is Craig. Where are you—what?"

Of course we could hear only one side of the conversation, but from the look of intense horror that passed over Kennedy's face I knew that some thing terrible must have happened to Elaine.

But at Craig's next words I myself gasped. "If you can get a light," he almost shouted, "thrust it out of the porthole to guide us. But we'll find you any way. Keep up your nerve."

We crowded about him. "Brainard—a pair of glasses—quick!" he cried, dashing to the bow of the cutter, "and full speed down the bay!"

Briefly, as he swept the horizon ahead, he repeated the tale of Elaine's kidnaping. We strained our eyes. "That's it—Brainard—stop ahead!" cried Craig at last.

Far off, almost out of the ocean, we could see a tiny twinkle of light slowly waving back and forth.

In her prison Elaine had talked to Craig, afraid to raise her voice too high. As she heard Kennedy's instructions, she replaced the receiver and rose quickly to her feet from beside the suitcase. She looked about there was a dingy oil lamp suspended from a beam of the deck above.

She seized it and ran to the porthole. Back and forth she waved it as far as her arms would permit.

As the schooner now slipped along, Gregor who had left the man at the wheel was gazing off, not particularly happy at the prospect of not touching a port for a long time again. Suddenly he became aware of a peculiar, though slight gleam on the water. He looked over the rail farther. Below and a bit forward of him he could catch a glimpse of a light moving along the side of the boat.

"Confound that wench!" he muttered in a sudden fury, turning and seizing up a "boathook lying on the deck.

Raising it he leaned far over the rail. Then he brought the boathook down suddenly on the lamp, smashing it into a thousand bits as they hissed into the water.

Elaine drew back in horror. In her hand was merely the handle of the lamp. It seemed as if her last hope had been blasted.

"Calm look over the stern to port!" cried one of the men on watch. He pointed and Gregor raised his glass as the rest, including the Chinaman to whom Wu had entrusted Elaine, crowded about.

There was a searchlight sweeping the water, as if a fast boat were hunting for something and were rapidly overhauling them.

"It's a revenue cutter," growled Gregor, lowering his glass after a quick scrutiny of the mysterious craft. "Crowd on your sail—start the auxiliary motor."

He volleyed forth his orders hoarsely. Instantly the deck was in an uproar. For the moment, in their anxiety to escape, they seemed to have forgotten Elaine—all except the Chinaman who had been set to guard her. Silently he drew from his blouse a knife and slipped down the companionway.

Elaine, her ears now sharpened by fear at the mysterious smashing of the light, had heard the commotion on deck. She seized a chair and propped it against the door.

She had acted not a minute too soon. Down the passageway, already, he could hear some one creeping stealthily. It was the Chinaman with his murderous knife. She heard him pause at the door as he looked again at his knife. Then the lock turned. The door creaked but she had propped the chair well, and it held.

Just then she heard a loud report outside, and an instant later another. Then followed the crash of something heavy on the deck above accompanied by a volley of vile oaths and quick footsteps, as Gregor gave hasty orders to his crew.

The Chinaman at the door redoubled his efforts. He seized a fire ax hanging near by and attacked the door with that, hacking furiously.

One after another, the table, a chest, everything movable, Elaine piled up against the door as it splintered. But it was of no use.

She moved over fearfully as far away as she could to the porthole and looked at the black water, as she leaned far out, then up at the deck only a few feet above her.

With frantic strength born of fear the heroic girl wriggled out of the porthole, as the schooner heeled over and managed just to catch the scuppers of the deck. Fear lent her strength. She succeeded in pulling herself up to the rail and then over on the deck just as the piled-up furniture tumbled over after the door gave way.

THE FIRE like other troubles, always comes when least expected. The only way to be prepared at all times is to see that your buildings are always insured in a GOOD COMPANY. A. P. CONNELLY 107 MAGNOLIA AVE.

NOVELTY PLANT MILLWORK OF ALL DESCRIPTIONS. We are prepared to figure with you on all classes of LUMBER and MILLWORK for HOUSE, STORE or BARN. Framing, flooring, ceiling, siding, windows, doors, screens, blinds, mouldings, lattice, frames, boxes. Tell Us What You Want Estimates Furnished Free Yellow Pine Lumber Co., Kissimmee, Fla.

Buy Direct and Save Money For the best quality of GRAIN, HAY, FEED and FLOUR at REASONABLE PRICES. WRITE W. A. Merryday Company Palatka, Florida

Herald Want Ads Will Bring Results

Six Years of "Making Good" by The Florida Citrus Exchange. The Florida Citrus Exchange is entering upon the seventh year of a very useful existence. No co-operative organization could hold together for six years unless it had made good for its members. Despite mistakes and vicissitudes, notwithstanding handicaps and obstacles, the Exchange has steadily increased its membership and wonderfully grown in strength. It has taught the growers the power of co-operation and shown them that by selling their own fruit they can make more money as well as control their own packing houses and marketing equipment. It has shown conclusively that there is not nearly enough citrus fruit grown in Florida to glut the markets if properly distributed, and has secured good prices whenever in control of anything like one-half or more of the production of the State. It has investigated thoroughly the latent possibilities for the consumption of Florida fruits and has found that beyond question there may be developed by proper advertising a demand for these that will take care of the production of every acre of citrus land in the State, and is proceeding to do such advertising. It has won the admiration and respect of its foes, it has gained the love and loyalty of its friends, it has established itself as a vital, progressive, aggressive factor in the business life of Florida. The ownership and management of this great organization is absolutely in the hands of its members. If you have not joined, why not carefully look into what the Florida Citrus Exchange offers you in its seventh year. See the manager of the local association, if there is one in your community; otherwise communicate with this office.

Florida Citrus Exchange, Tampa, Florida

Chinaman appeared at the hatch. A moment later his lithe body wormed itself out on deck. As he came nearer, Elaine retreated further toward Gregor. "Oh, sir," she pleaded, "save me! I have done nothing!"

Gregor, one eye on the approaching revenue cutter, the other on his ship and crew, had not seen her till then. "Get out of the way," he growled roughly, pushing her aside. "Save yourself!"

The Chinaman came a step nearer. Knife upraised. She fled along the deck. There in the shrouds was a ladder. In desperation she seized a rung, swung herself around, and started up. Her relentless pursuer followed, hand over hand, clenching the knife in his teeth. In her terror she tore off a piece of spar that had been loosened by a shot from the cutter and threw it full in his face.

Still, on he came. She drew herself up. There was no escape. A moment she trembled aloft. Then, from a cross-tree, she jumped, diving far out into the water. The Chinaman followed.

Hand over hand he churned the waves after her. We were now nearing a low, rakish craft. Though we signaled it, they paid no attention. Instead, we could hear the chug-chug of an auxiliary gas engine.

Brainard sent a shot across the schooner's bow. Still she did not stop. Instead, the topsails broke out in spite of the gale and she headed away faster.

Another shot flashed out from our gun. This time a spar was carried away as the searchlight playing on the schooner clearly showed.

We were rapidly gaining now. "Brainard—stop firing—for heaven's sake," shouted Craig from the bow. "Look!"

We followed his finger as he peered forward tensely. There in the rigging, hanging perilously, was Elaine. She was clinging there holding a Chinaman at bay.

Suddenly we saw her draw herself up and deliberately dive into the water. The Chinaman dived also. Hand over hand he went after her. We watched, speechless.

Kennedy turned and seized the rapid fire gun, whirling it around and aiming carefully. The Chinaman was a powerful swimmer and was rapidly gaining on Elaine. We could even see the gleam of the knife in the searchlight. Carefully Craig sighted the gun. The misty take of a hair's breadth meant life or death.

He fired. Not a minute too soon the shot ricocheted over the waves. The Chinaman's arms went up in mute surrender. His head sunk below the surface of the water.

Instantly, Craig and I were leaning far over the side of the cutter as, with power off, she slipped along, close to that figure swimming in the cold, black water. Neither of us paid any attention to Gregor's frantic signals of our tender as Brainard covered the schooner.

As we pulled Craig reached over and caught Elaine, lifting her bodily into our boat.

"Oh, Craig!" she gasped as Kennedy, wrapped his greatcoat about her.

"Brainard—some hot drinks—quick," he ordered as he carried her, half fainting, to the cabin.

Thank heaven for the wireless telephone, he muttered as he worked frantically to bring her around.

No, it was the doctor that did it. She murmured looking up at him, safe.

22 Sanford, the said land being assessed for the date of the issuance of such certificate in the name of Alex. Vaughn. Certificate No. 529 dated the 2nd day of June, A. D. 1912 embraces 8 1/2 of Block 12, Tier 13, Sanford, said land being assessed at the date of the issuance of such certificate in the name of Mary Taylor.

Certificate No. 532 dated the 22nd day of June, A. D. 1912 embraces Lot 4, Blk. 13, Tier 2, Sanford, said land being assessed at the date of the issuance of such certificate in the name of Geo. Y. Johnson.

Certificate No. 576 dated the 1st day of June, A. D. 1912 embraces Lot 6, Sanford's Add. Sanford, said land being assessed at the date of the issuance of such certificate in the name of A. D. Brainard Hirs.

Certificate No. 584 dated the 2nd day of June, A. D. 1912 embraces Lot 53, Blk. K, A. D. Chappell's Sub. Div., Goldsboro, said land being assessed at the date of the issuance of such certificate in the name of J. W. Hampton.

Unless said certificates shall be deemed according to law, tax Deeds will issue thereon on the 27th day of October, A. D. 1916.

Witness my official signature and seal this 22nd day of September, A. D. 1916.

E. A. DICKLANDS, Clerk Circuit Court, Seminole County, Florida.

Application for Letters Patent. Notice is hereby given that the subscribers hereto will apply to the Governor of Florida on the 1st of November, A. D. 1916, at Tallahassee, Florida, for Letters Patent on the proposed charter of the Zachary Craig & Novelty Works, which is published herewith below, this 10th day of September, A. D. 1916.

A. D. ZACHARY, W. A. ZACHARY, B. C. ZACHARY, A. K. POWERS, Charter of the Zachary Craig & Novelty Works.

We, the undersigned, do hereby associate ourselves for the purpose of becoming incorporated under the laws of Florida, to transact for profit the business below set forth, and we do adopt the following as the charter of the proposed corporation.

Article I. The name of this corporation shall be the Zachary Craig & Novelty Works, and its principal place of business shall be Sanford, Seminole county, Florida, and the head office of the corporation may establish other places of business within and without the state of Florida.

Article II. The general nature of the business to be transacted and conducted by said corporation shall be as follows to wit: To engage in and carry on the business of a general Novelty Works Plant; manufacture, buy and sell vegetable crates, barrels, boxes, of every nature and kind; to manufacture, buy and sell such doors, blinds, sashes; to buy and sell every kind of building material and merchandise that may be necessary or expedient in the conduct of such business; to borrow money and secure same by mortgages, deeds, bonds, or other obligations thereof; to own, lease and sell real estate and to improve same to build, own, maintain, and operate tram ways and other things as may be necessary or expedient to be done for the successful conduct of the business of the corporation as set forth herein, and to do all the other things that may be necessary or expedient to be done for the successful conduct of the business of the corporation as set forth herein.

Article III. The amount of capital stock of said corporation shall be Fifty Thousand Dollars, to be divided into five hundred shares of the par value of ten dollars each. All shares of said capital stock shall be fully paid for at the time of the issuance of the same.

Article IV. The corporation shall continue and exist until dissolved by the vote of the stockholders, and until dissolved shall have the same powers, rights and privileges as corporations organized and existing under the laws of the state of Florida.

Article V. The business of this corporation shall be conducted by the following officers: For a period of one year, the President, Secretary and Treasurer shall be: A. D. ZACHARY, President; W. A. ZACHARY, Secretary; B. C. ZACHARY, Treasurer; and A. K. POWERS, Cashier.

Article VI. The officers of this corporation shall be elected at the first annual meeting of the stockholders, and thereafter at the annual meetings of the stockholders, and the officers of the corporation shall be chosen by the stockholders at their annual meeting to be held on the first Monday in January of each year beginning with the year 1916. The president and other officers shall be elected at the annual meeting of the stockholders.

Article VII. The business of this corporation shall be conducted by the following officers: For a period of one year, the President, Secretary and Treasurer shall be: A. D. ZACHARY, President; W. A. ZACHARY, Secretary; B. C. ZACHARY, Treasurer; and A. K. POWERS, Cashier.

MARTIN'S SEEDS KNOWN FOR QUALITY. We carry all the leading varieties of FARM, FIELD and GARDEN SEEDS that have been tested and known to be specially adapted to Florida soil and climate. Poultry Feed, Supplies, Incubators, Etc. CONKEY & PRATT'S MEDICINES. Write for Catalogue and Weekly Price List. E. A. Martin Seed Co. 206 East Bay Street Jacksonville, Florida

LEGAL ADVERTISING. Notice of Application for Tax Deed under Section 576 of the General Statutes. Notice is hereby given that J. F. LAIRD, purchaser of Certificate No. 550, dated the 3rd day of June, A. D. 1912 and certificate Nos. 529, 532, 576 and 584 dated the 2nd day of June, A. D. 1912 has filed said certificate in my office and has made application for tax deed to issue in accordance with law. Said certificates embrace the following described property situated in Seminole County, Florida, to wit: Certificate No. 550 dated the 3rd day of June, A. D. 1912 embraces All, Blk. 13, Tier 13, Sanford, Florida.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS. In Court of the County Judge, Seminole County, State of Florida. In re Estate of Jesse Owen Morrison. To All Creditors, Legatees, Distributees and All Persons having Claims Against Said Estate: You, and each of you, are hereby notified and required to present any claims and demands which you, or either of you may have against the estate of Jesse Owen Morrison, deceased, late of Seminole County, Florida, to the undersigned administrator of said estate, within two years from the date hereof. Dated October 23rd, A. D. 1916. A. B. KEY, Administrator.

FALL OPENING

It has been our custom for years at the beginning of each season to give a few days special showing so that every one may acquaint themselves with our most wonderful stock of merchandise. We announce our Fall Opening

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 27

Store closed Tuesday preparing for opening, Wednesday morning at 8:30 o'clock

N. P. YOWELL & CO.

PEOPLE AND EVENTS

Announcements

Dancing school under the auspices of the Woman's Club conducted by Misses Anna McLaughlin and Lillian Herring, Saturday afternoons for children at the Woman's Club house and on Monday evening for adults from 7:30 to 8:30. General dancing from 8:30 to 11 p. m.

Rehearsals for "Mother Church" at the Episcopal parish house Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Cabaret Bazaar

At the Woman's club house on Tuesday evening the social department will give a cabaret bazaar that will be open to the public. Dancing and cards will be the order of the evening to which every one is invited. There will be no admission fee or charge for the privilege of dancing but refreshments will be served through out the evening. The sale of refreshments is for the purpose of raising funds to meet the payments due on the club house. The entertainments being given by the social department are unusually popular this season, with Mrs. W. P. Carter as hostess for October and Mrs. Archie Betts, chairman of the department is sufficient to insure a delightful evening. Ice cream, cake and home made candies will be on sale. Remember the date, Tuesday evening, October 26. Everyone invited. Members of the club are urged to patronize the affair and bring friends.

Weidman - Roumillat

Surrounded with very cordial interest was the marriage of Miss Hortense Edna Weidman and Mr. Eugene Francis Roumillat, which took place on Wednesday morning at the Church of the Sacred Heart in Tampa. The bride is well known in Sanford circles, having visited here a number of times. Her charming personality and friendly disposition has won for her a host of friends who will be interested in her marriage. The groom is a Sanford boy and a popular favorite everywhere. He is the eldest son of Mrs. Eugene Roumillat.

Mr. and Mrs. Roumillat will be at home after November first at 101 West Third street.

St. Agnes Guild

Monday afternoon the members of St. Agnes Guild were most pleasantly entertained by Mrs. Julius Takach at the home of her mother, Mrs. Aspinwall. The girls are busy with their fancy work for the bazaar on December 4th. The industrious little band believe in beginning early. A new member was added to the society on Monday, Miss Frances Gonzales. Other present were Misses Charlotte Hand, Sudee Williams, Frances Aspinwall, Mrs. Neal and Mrs. Braxton Perkins.

Bertha

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie T. Bexan announce the birth of a daughter on Thursday, Oct. 21st. The little girl has been named Martha Almada.

"The Wild Olive"

From the novel by Basil King. Dramatized by Oliver Morosen and Elmer Harris.

Miriam Strange, "The Wild Olive" Myrtle Stedman
 Norrie Ford Forrest Stanley
 Evie Wayne Mary Ruby
 Judge Wayne Charles Marriott
 Charles Conquest Edmund Lowe

Review: On the circumstantial evidence of the bloody dagger having been found in his bedroom, young Norrie Ford is indicted on the terrible charge of murdering his uncle, a boss and bully in an Alleghany lumber camp, and is sentenced to death.

Breaking away from his guards, Norrie escapes into the mountains where he is hidden from the pursuing posse in the cabin of a mysterious mountain girl of beauty and culture, who aids him to make his escape to Argentine, after they have vowed their love for each other.

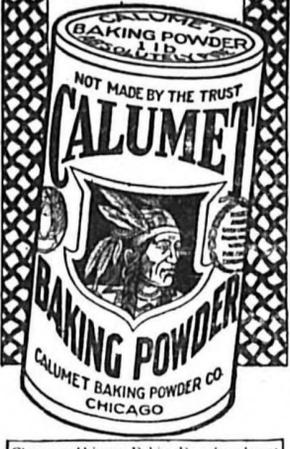

Growing a beard and changing his name, Norrie Ford soon becomes a favorite in the best circles of gay Buenos Ayres. Sending letter after letter to the mountain girl, whom he knows only as "The Wild Olive," the letters are all returned marked "No Such Name." In his endeavors to forget her he becomes engaged to a New York girl and shortly after is transferred to New York by his firm. Venturing back to the states he finds "The Wild Olive" again only to learn that she is the girl chum of his betrothed.

Meanwhile he has been seen by a detective who was one of the deputies during his trial for murder. The lash between Norrie's fiancée and "The Wild Olive," and the latter's noble sacrifice not only to the fiancée but also to an attorney suitor on condition that he clear Norrie of the murder charge, culminate in a dramatic court room scene where the identity of the real murderer is discovered and Norrie is acquitted. This is an unusual paramount feature and will be shown at the Star Monday, Oct. 25th.

"Goodies!"

—goodies that just melt in your mouth—light, fluffy, tender cakes, biscuits and doughnuts that just keep you hanging round the pantry—all made with Calumet—the safest, purest, most economical Baking Powder. Try it—drive away bake-day failures.

Cheap and big can Baking Powders do not save you money. Calumet does—it's Pure and far superior to sour milk and soda.

ORLANDO WINS A GAME

The foot ball game, yesterday at Holden Field between the Sanford and Orlando High Schools, was an immense crowd and the Sanford team had many successful plays. It boosted them royally. As soon as the two teams came upon the field it was seen that Orlando had the weight and it was almost a foregone conclusion. At the Orange capital team would walk around our boys, but the Sanford team knows no such word as give up and they tackled the big fellows with all the vim the celery gives them.

The sloppy field made poor playing one of the goals being under water and the playing of the teams was not up to the average.

Morris Spencer, Bill Pope, Paul Ezell and Harold Washburn for the home team were exceptionally bright stars and their work was cheered from the grand stand again and again.

Orlando boys also played well and their brawn was a stone wall of defense. The game was greatly enjoyed by those present and demonstrates that football is becoming popular with the fans and the other games to be played here should bring out record breaking crowds.

The official score was 12 to 0 in favor of Orlando, but the home team is confident of victory next time they meet.

Disagreeable Calomel is Yielding to Pleasant Liv-Ver-Lax

Physicians generally agree that the nauseating, unpleasant effects of calomel are due to the undesirably violent action it has on the system. For a long while various substitutes have been tried, but it was only recently that the really wonderful remedy, LIV-VER-LAX was prepared successfully by L. & Grigby.

LIV-VER-LAX has all the good, and none of the bad effects of calomel. It is a necessity in every home, always being ready to cleanse the sluggish liver and bile clogged system, with no unpleasant after effects.

LIV-VER-LAX is guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money will be immediately refunded. Insist on the original bearing the likeness of L. K. Grigby. For sale in 50c and $1 bottles at W. G. Aldridge.

WOMAN'S CLUB

Evening Bridge

The social department of the Woman's Club entertained informally at auction bridge Tuesday evening at the Woman's Club house. The club rooms were decorated for the occasion with a profusion of cut flowers, goldenrod and vines, which made the rooms look very attractive.

There were seven tables of players and after a number of interesting rubbers of auction the scores were compared and it was found that Mrs. Forrest Lake had won highest score of the ladies, and was presented with a pair of white silk hose. Mr. Forrest Lake won the gentlemen's prize, a tie and socks to match.

At 11 o'clock a delicious salad course was served, consisting of chicken salad, sandwiches and coffee.

The hostess, Mrs. W. P. Carter was assisted in serving by Mesdames Deane Turner, Geo. D. Bishop C. E. Henry and Robt. Webb.

The afternoon proved thoroughly informal and delightful and those present spent a most enjoyable evening.

Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Carter, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Betts, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Watson, Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Horndon, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Lake, Dr. and Mrs. T. A. Neal, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Newman, Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. Deane Turner, Mr. and Mrs. LaVerne Hurt, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Symes; Mesdames R. S. Keelor of Westfield, N. J.; C. E. Henry, R. Webb, George Herring, Henry Dikins of St. Petersburg, Fla.; Misses Le Messena of New York, Lillian Herring, Charlotte Hand, Mr. S. M. Lloyd.

POISONS

Retained in the body cause rheumatism, scrofula, malaria, constipation, blood poison, NUMBER 46 FOR THE BLOOD expels poisons from the body and cures blood poison in its worst form. Sold by L. R. Phillips and Co.

World's Garden Spot

New South Wales is said to contain more kinds of flowering plants than all Europe.

The kiddies are up early, ever 'on the go,' and are always hungry.

Jax Biscuits

Supply them healthful, nourishing, economical food all day long.

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

FOR MAYOR

I wish to announce for the position of Mayor of Sanford, subject to the decision of the White Primary, to be held on November 2nd. Having served the city two terms as Alderman and knowing the local conditions, I have a plan for the betterment of our community. I will not accept office without making any previous promise, but I will state that the laws of the city will be enforced impartially but a strong effort will be made to improve the city. As an Alderman for four years, according to the terms of the charter, I am qualified for the office of Mayor.

Respectfully,
 J. D. DAVISON

For Clerk and Collector

I wish to announce to the voters and my friends that I will be a candidate for the office of Clerk and Collector, in the white primary to be held Nov. 16th, subject to appointment of Mayor.

I will highly appreciate your support.

HARRY J. WILSON

To the Voters of Sanford
 I am a candidate for reelection to the office of Clerk and Collector, in the white primary to be held Nov. 16, 1915. I have filled this office for five years and think that I have the necessary experience and will appreciate your support.

Yours truly,
 M. W. LOVELL

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING

All Local Advertisements Under This Heading THREE CENTS a Line For Each Insertion. Minimum Charge 25 Cents.

FOR SALE

For Sale—Ten acres of the best high hammock land, west side, just outside corporate limits. Half in cultivation 4 years. About 250 large pines on other half. All fenced and ditched. Quarter mile of two shipping stations and First St. Perfect drainage. $1350 will buy it if sold within the next 10 days, worth $3000.00. See owner, 267 French avenue. 11-1f

For Sale—Two fresh milk cows. Hand Bros. 15-1f

Paramount—Myrtle Stedman in "WILD OLIVE" at the Star Monday

Ask Your Grocer For CHEEK-NEAL'S COFFEES Best By Every Test

For Sale—Planet Jr., stock and tools complete. John Macdonald, Pace's Farm. 16-2tp

For Sale—Eggs and Baby Chix of celebrated Royal White Wyandottes, big performance, heavy laying. I am looking orders for same now. Also a few pullets and cockerels of same strain. F. P. Strong, 106 1/2 Third St. Sanford. 16-1f

For Sale—Good all round mare, harness and harness. Cheap for cash. Box 1256 or West Side store. 15-1f

For Sale—Florida corn, sacked in 50 lb. Florida hay, baled. Cattle, or less. Best Fulghum seed 60c. $1.00 per bushel in five bushel lots. Seed Rice $2.75 per bushel. W. J. Hamilton & Dennis, Gainesville, Fla. 15-1f

People read these ads. You are doing it now. Is your ad in the column? Have you something to sell? Try an ad. 4-1f

For Sale—A very nice farm five miles southeast of Sanford, Fla. House insured for $600.00, barn, chicken houses, Artesian well. One-half mile to school and landing station. Inquire of W. W. Miller, Sanford, Florida. R. F. D. 4-1f

FOR RENT

For Rent—Two partly furnished rooms, second flight, separate entrance, gas stove, sink, water closet, fine piazza. A. L. Williams, 107 N. First St. 15-1f

For Rent—Furnished room in private family. Modern conveniences. 115 French Ave. 12-8tp

For Rent—Desirable rooms for gentlemen in private family. Moderate. Reasonable. Phone No. 80. 15-1f

For Rent—Several nice office rooms for Yowell's. Enquire N. P. Yowell & Co. 32-1f

For Rent or Sale—House on Nettie Ave. W. J. Thompson. 101-1f

For Rent—Furnished apartment for light housekeeping or bed rooms. Good location. 302 Park Ave. 8-1f

For Rent—One room suitable to depot. Enquire 123 W. Ninth St. 15-1f

WANTED

Wanted—To trade good horse, delivery wagon and harness to trade for a second hand Ford auto truck. J. L. Miller at Miller's Bakery. 4-1f

Wanted—Permanent position by first-class experienced young lady stenographer, from New York, call at Postal Telegraph, Co. 104-1f

Wanted—In modern home about four rooms suitable for light housekeeping. Will rent from about Dec. 15th to May or June. Free in family. No children. Address Rooms, c/o Herald, stating rent and location. 16-1f

Wanted—A German man would like to have a job of some kind. Address "German," c/o Herald. 15-1f

CLEAN UP BRIGHTEN UP SANFORD CITY

YARDS WILL BE CLEANED UP AND PRIZES ARE TO BE OFFERED FOR THE BEST PLACES

From November 17 to November 20 it is proposed to ask our city to take part in a general movement for cleaning up and beautifying, and the civic committee of the Woman's club is fortunate in having enlisted the interest and hearty support of the city council.

Some changes have been made in the arrangement of districts, as indicated by the following outline, and questions may be referred to the ladies who have been chosen as district chairmen.

District I. From Tenth street to city limits, south, east and west. Chairman Mrs. W. M. Haynes.

District II. From Tenth street to the lake, bounded by Elm avenue on the west and by the west side of Lake street on the east. Chairman Mrs. T. L. O'Connor.

District III. From Tenth street to the lake, bounded by Sanford avenue on the east and by the east side of Park avenue on the west. Chairman Mrs. R. M. Mason.

District IV. From Sanford avenue to city limits, east, and from the lake to city limits, south. Sub division. The part of the city known as Georgetown. Chairman Mrs. C. R. Winters.

District V. From Elm avenue to city limits, west, from the lake to city limits, north. Sub division. The part of the city known as Goldsboro. Chairman Mrs. J. K. Johnson.

Prizes will be awarded for the best appearance and repair of house, as well as grounds, putting no stress on the size and costliness of buildings, but laying the stress on their neat and cleanly appearance.

Neatness will indicate the general all the year round attention given the grounds as shown by the absence of weeds, shrubberies and "trophyed planting" is included because if Florida is ever to come to her full measure of beauty, she must utilize her many palms, and more tropical ornamentals which will distinguish her from other southern states.

Prizes will be awarded for the best appearance and repair of house, as well as grounds, putting no stress on the size and costliness of buildings, but laying the stress on their neat and cleanly appearance.

Neatness will indicate the general all the year round attention given the grounds as shown by the absence of weeds, shrubberies and "trophyed planting" is included because if Florida is ever to come to her full measure of beauty, she must utilize her many palms, and more tropical ornamentals which will distinguish her from other southern states.

Prizes will be awarded for the best appearance and repair of house, as well as grounds, putting no stress on the size and costliness of buildings, but laying the stress on their neat and cleanly appearance.

Neatness will indicate the general all the year round attention given the grounds as shown by the absence of weeds, shrubberies and "trophyed planting" is included because if Florida is ever to come to her full measure of beauty, she must utilize her many palms, and more tropical ornamentals which will distinguish her from other southern states.

Prizes will be awarded for the best appearance and repair of house, as well as grounds, putting no stress on the size and costliness of buildings, but laying the stress on their neat and cleanly appearance.

Neatness will indicate the general all the year round attention given the grounds as shown by the absence of weeds, shrubberies and "trophyed planting" is included because if Florida is ever to come to her full measure of beauty, she must utilize her many palms, and more tropical ornamentals which will distinguish her from other southern states.

Prizes will be awarded for the best appearance and repair of house, as well as grounds, putting no stress on the size and costliness of buildings, but laying the stress on their neat and cleanly appearance.

Neatness will indicate the general all the year round attention given the grounds as shown by the absence of weeds, shrubberies and "trophyed planting" is included because if Florida is ever to come to her full measure of beauty, she must utilize her many palms, and more tropical ornamentals which will distinguish her from other southern states.

Presbyterian C. E. Notes

The Presbyterian C. E. met on Friday evening, Oct. 22, with a large, enthusiastic attendance.

Rev. Strong, our district president came over for a short while before the meeting and gave a most instructive and interesting talk on the "Dixie Standard of Efficiency, and also about the district convention to be held in Kissimmee in November. Our society expects to send a big delegation.

The devotional meeting was in charge of Co. A., Mrs. Geo. Paxton leader. Subject, "Politics for God," and all the members of the Company made fine talks on different phases of the subject.

Our next meeting will be on Thursday evening of this week, instead of Friday as usual. This meeting will be in charge of Co. B., Miss Esie Purdon leader.

Ninth Street Park. In view of the fact that the park on Ninth street is the first public ground to meet the eyes of strangers arriving in the city it should be as beautiful as it can be made for "first impressions are lasting." A movement is already on foot which will result in its development and it is proposed to have it laid out and planted in as effective manner as possible.

It is suggested that it be given a name more distinctive than "Ninth Street Park," so the matter is to be left to a vote of the citizens. A box for this purpose will be placed in the Herald office and passers-by are urged to deposit their choice for a name.

Information for Kicker on Brick roads. I wish to extend to you on behalf of the board of county commissioners an invitation to meet with us next Tuesday, November 2nd, and it will be our pleasure to give you such information from our office as would likely give you better knowledge of our brick roads, assuring you that this very important matter which affects every taxpayer of Seminole county in the matter of constructing brick roads has not escaped our time and attention.

We have not accepted the present brick roads and will not in the next few days be preparing to get into a binding agreement with your contractor. Good firm bids, submitted by the brick company who furnished the brick, liable for the maintenance and replacing of any brick on the road that may go bad in five years, without cost to the county, we hope to get all of the inferior brick out and replaced with good first class brick in the time mentioned.

We will be glad to show you our records and to explain to you any information you might wish.

L. P. Hagan.

Something New Again. On Wednesday, October 27th the Presbyterian Christian Endeavor will pull off an entirely new stunt. Not an entertainment, nor another play, but a proposition by which you make money as well as the C. E. That's something new for a church society to do, is it not?

This is it! On Wednesday, Oct. 27th three or more of our young ladies of the C. E. will clerk in Mr. L. L. Taylor's "Three in One" store from eight a. m. until six p. m. Five per cent of the total sales of the store will be given to the C. E. for their Building Fund. In order to assure you of perfectly efficient service Mr. Taylor will have his assistants help in every way possible.

There will be bargain sales on different articles and to every lady who buys a pair of shoes there will be a premium given, valued at not less than one dollar.

We earnestly ask YOU to help us out on this day. No sale will be too small if you buy but a spoon of thread or a handkerchief, it will help. Nor will any sale be too large if you wish your purchase will be delivered to your home.

Appreciating and thanking you for anything you may do to help us out on this day, we are, Respectfully yours, The Presbyterian C. E.

Dixie Highwaymen Here. Messrs. Waddie and Delender of the Dixie Highway touring party were here yesterday en route to the west coast to investigate this part of the highway. These gentlemen started with the big party at Chicago and branched off at Daytona and followed this part of the route.

A NEW HOUSE BOAT WORKS, FOR MOVIES SAFE HARBOR, IN SANFORD BIG FACTORY

SANFORD HAS BEEN CHOSEN BY VETERAN SHOWMAN AS PLACE OF FUTURE RESIDENCE

After looking them over A. G. Allen, the veteran minstrel man has decided to locate in Sanford and make this city his residence. He has given the contract to George Venable for a fine building to be erected on the Hines block on First street, recently swept clean by fire and the new building will be used exclusively for movies and other attractions in the theatrical line.

The new building will be 50 feet front and 117 feet in depth and will seat 1,000 people with three doors on each side for emptying the theatre in case of fire or panic. The stage will be twenty feet wide with a thirty foot proscenium and Mr. Allen will book some of the first class attractions for the coming season and expects to give the people of Sanford the best there is in the amusement line in both movies and popular plays.

The workmen are busy on the new building, which will be of brick and fire proof construction throughout and the theatre will be open in due form about November fifteenth or earlier.

A. G. Allen was in the theatrical business for many years, having been on the road for sixteen years with Allen's Minstrels and becoming tired of the road decided to settle in some good Florida city and have a real home again. His family will arrive in a few days and they will go to housekeeping and become citizens of Sanford.

B. Y. P. U. Notes. A very interesting program was rendered by the Senior B. Y. P. U. Sunday evening. The Company of Romans was in charge, of whom Miss Lucille Rimes is Captain. Mr. Ed Malmed led the meeting and was assisted by Mr. Eugene Singleton, Mrs. City, Mr. DeCoursey, Mrs. Itess and Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler.

At the conclusion a beautiful solo, entitled "I Saw My Mother Kneeling" was sung by Mrs. Ernest Betts.

A Halloween Social will be given at the Stewart home on Union avenue Friday evening, for the benefit of the B. Y. P. U. The Boys' Band, also several good musicians and readers will furnish entertainment. Various Halloween sports will be indulged in. All friends of the B. Y. P. U. are invited.

The literature department of the Woman's Club will meet Wednesday afternoon Oct. 27th at 3 o'clock in the club rooms on Oak avenue. Good program for afternoon.

Ex-Chief Beavers Here. Mr. and Mrs. Beavers and little grandson were here on Saturday in their touring car, coming all the way from Atlanta and going south as far as Tampa. Mr. Beavers, until recently, was chief of police of Atlanta, holding the position for four years and being on the police force of Atlanta in continuous service for 22 years. He felt out with the powers that be in regard to the segregation of the red light district and other reforms and was beheaded, although the chief was standing for law and order first and politics afterward. The party will spend several months near Tampa and expect to stop off here on the way home. While here they called upon Mrs. Stephenson and daughter, Miss Hazel Stephenson on Sanford Heights, old friends for many years in Atlanta.

Sanford Debating Club. The following postal has been received by many of the citizens of Sanford and those who have not received one or a personal invitation will be just as welcome. It has simply been impossible to make a personal canvass of all the men of the city.

Dear Sir: The above club will hold its preliminary meeting in the Congregational church auditorium next Tuesday, TODAY, Oct. 26th, at 7:30 p. m. Your presence is especially requested.

Yours very truly, Reg. A. Dawson, Sec'y, Pro Tem.

High School Rules of 1915-16 as They Are. There are a number of things we would like explained by the school board. First of all, last year we were informed by the local board or their representative that they were compelled to place the seventh and eighth grades in the high school building and that room would have to be made for them. But we were also assured that this would not inconvenience us any except that we would have to put up with less room and have our building torn up for a year. Now, after everything was explained to us we conformed to this, but on coming back to school this year we find a set of primary rules laid out for us, rules stricter and more absurd than we have been accustomed to in the third and fourth grades and we are informed by the teachers that this is on account of the lower grades that are over here, that we have no more rights than they have. Now we wish to ask the local board if they are going to keep their promises.

Another thing, we have twenty minutes at noon for lunch and have been accustomed to having some way of buying lunch at the school grounds. Now one of our business men has built a lunch room across the street, north of the school house. But we are told that we cannot go over there because it is on the girls' side and off of the school grounds, but that it will be all right for the girls to go.

We are told that we are expected to act like ladies and gentlemen and still we cannot be trusted and are treated like children. We think as high school pupils we are due some rights or at least a satisfactory explanation as to why this is so. We are not trying to make this seem worse than it is, but as it appears to us.

The High School Boys. Tonight at the Star "Destiny, or The Soul of a Woman," starring Emily Stevens, the brilliant emotional actress, will be shown at the Star Theatre on Tuesday, Oct. 26th, is a powerful historical study, which will appeal strongly to every human heart. It is the latest release on the program of the Metro Pictures Corporation and was produced by the B. A. Rolfe Company from the original manuscript by Anthony P. Kelly.

Throughout all the pictures it carries a convincing and enthralling message, the treatment of the theme is most unusual, and it is notably rich in novel and striking photographic effects. Some of the most startling of these occur in the cafe scenes, whether the young novice goes to view the world. When Rum, Lust, Avarice tempt the boy, their shadows are seen to leave their bodies and go over to whisper in the lad's ear, while their bodies remain in their seats. The closing scene in which the Angel of Death descends from a painting of the Madonna and carries off the woman's soul is a piece of wonderful photography.

Continued on Page 2

NOVEMBER 25 SET ASIDE FOR THANKSGIVING

PRESIDENT WILSON ISSUES ANNUAL PROCLAMATION DESIGNATING DATE TO GIVE THANKS

Washington, D. C., Oct. 26.—President Wilson has, in a proclamation, designating Thursday, November 25, as Thanksgiving Day, called attention to the fact that the United States has been at peace while most of Europe has been at war.

"We have been able to assert our rights and the rights of mankind without breach of friendship with the great nations with whom we have to deal," said the president.

The text follows: "It has long been the honored custom of our people to turn in the fruitful autumn of the year in praise and thanksgiving to Almighty God for His many blessings and mercies to us as a nation. The year that is now drawing to a close since we last observed our day of national thanksgiving has been, while a year of discipline because of the mighty forces of war and of change, which have disturbed the world, also a year of special blessing for us.

Another year of peace has been vouchsafed us another year in which not only to take thought of our duty to ourselves and to mankind, but also to adjust ourselves to the many responsibilities thrust upon us by the war which has involved almost the whole of Europe. We have been able to assert our rights and the rights of mankind without breach of friendship and the great nations with whom we have had to deal, and while we have asserted rights, we have been able also to perform duties and exercise privileges of superior and helpfulness which should serve to demonstrate our desire to make the offices of friendship the means of truly disinterested and unselfish service.

Our ability to serve all who could avail themselves of our services in the midst of crisis has been increased by a gracious Providence, by more and more abundant crops; our ample financial resources have enabled us to steady the markets of the world and facilitate necessary movement of commerce, which the war might otherwise have rendered impossible, and our people have come more and more to a sober realization of the part they have been called upon to play in a time when all the world is shaken by unparalleled distresses and disasters.

The extraordinary circumstances of such a time have done much to quicken our national consciousness and deepen and confirm our confidence in the principle of peace and freedom by which we have always sought to be guided. Out of darkness and perplexity have come firmer counsels of policy and clearer perceptions of the essential welfare of the nation. We have prospered while other people were at war but our prosperity has been vouchsafed us, we believe, only that we might the better perform the functions which war rendered impossible for them to perform.

Now, therefore, I, Woodrow Wilson, president of the United States of America do hereby designate Thursday, the 25th day of November next, as a day of thanksgiving and prayer, and invite the people throughout the land to cease from their wonted occupations, and in their several homes and places of worship render thanks to Almighty God.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be fixed. Done at the City of Washington, this twentieth day of October in the year of our Lord one thousand, nine hundred and fifteen, and of the independence of the United States of America the one hundred and fortieth.

Woodrow Wilson. By the President: Robert Lansing, Secretary of State.

Nader. There will be the usual rehearsal for the Ladies' Chorus for "Princess Chrysantheum" at the Woman's Club rooms Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock and for the girls' chorus at three thirty.

A GLIMPSE OF THE WAR

FROM ONE INTERNED IN NEUTRAL SWITZERLAND

BY A. M. THRASHER

Bern, Switzerland, Oct. 7, 1915. Dear Mr. Holly:

You see from the caption that I am in Bern, the Swiss capital, and it occurred to me that you, as well as some of the readers of the Sanford Herald would be pleased to read a brief letter from a Florida tramp, written at the capital of the oldest republic, about Switzerland and other places and things, on this, and on that side of the Atlantic.

As you know, it is less than one-third the size of Florida. An island, surrounded by tall barbed wire fences, walls of burnished steel bayonets, and an army of about four hundred thousand soldiers trained equipped and on duty, protecting Swiss neutrality.

Think for a moment of Florida, having so many soldiers, armed in camp and on duty. It is strange but true, that on the German frontier, the Swiss are rather pro German, and the language is mostly German. On the French side they are pro-French and the language mainly French, and on the Italian side they are pro-Italian, and the language mainly Italian, and the Swiss are divided, but lean more strongly to Italy. But there is so much to write about I must cut off a whole lot of things.

I am thinking of many things and they rush through with the speed and mad hurry of an Alpine torrent, and you will discover me first on this and then on that side of the ocean, and the result will be a rambling, disjointed scrawl.

Among other things I am thinking that the ordinary American citizen, a lover of repose and peace, interested in the business affairs of life, and little time to spare, will talk to you about a few only of the great men—Moses, Noah, George Washington, Abraham Lincoln and Woodrow Wilson, and about a few notable historic events—the Creation, the flood and the civil war, and leave it to the mental vision of the listener, to see for himself and read things between the lines that separate the far apart periods of time. No time for small things, just a few of the biggest men and the biggest things.

But Mr. Bob Holly, of all the big things, this European war is the biggest since the Creation, when God said it is finished, and on the seventh day rested from His labors. There are more men, women and soldiers engaged in it. There are more guns, and of more sorts, more cannon and bigger ones, more cruisers, battleships, dreadnaughts, super dreadnaughts, submarines, torpedo boats, more hydroplanes, air craft of all sorts and sizes, including Ziplerlins, and more different kinds, and sorts of things used in the destruction of human life, on land and on sea, under the sea, and

Continued on Page 2

NOVEMBER 25 SET ASIDE FOR THANKSGIVING

PRESIDENT WILSON ISSUES ANNUAL PROCLAMATION DESIGNATING DATE TO GIVE THANKS

Washington, D. C., Oct. 26.—President Wilson has, in a proclamation, designating Thursday, November 25, as Thanksgiving Day, called attention to the fact that the United States has been at peace while most of Europe has been at war.

"We have been able to assert our rights and the rights of mankind without breach of friendship with the great nations with whom we have to deal," said the president.

The text follows: "It has long been the honored custom of our people to turn in the fruitful autumn of the year in praise and thanksgiving to Almighty God for His many blessings and mercies to us as a nation. The year that is now drawing to a close since we last observed our day of national thanksgiving has been, while a year of discipline because of the mighty forces of war and of change, which have disturbed the world, also a year of special blessing for us.

Another year of peace has been vouchsafed us another year in which not only to take thought of our duty to ourselves and to mankind, but also to adjust ourselves to the many responsibilities thrust upon us by the war which has involved almost the whole of Europe. We have been able to assert our rights and the rights of mankind without breach of friendship and the great nations with whom we have had to deal, and while we have asserted rights, we have been able also to perform duties and exercise privileges of superior and helpfulness which should serve to demonstrate our desire to make the offices of friendship the means of truly disinterested and unselfish service.

Our ability to serve all who could avail themselves of our services in the midst of crisis has been increased by a gracious Providence, by more and more abundant crops; our ample financial resources have enabled us to steady the markets of the world and facilitate necessary movement of commerce, which the war might otherwise have rendered impossible, and our people have come more and more to a sober realization of the part they have been called upon to play in a time when all the world is shaken by unparalleled distresses and disasters.

The extraordinary circumstances of such a time have done much to quicken our national consciousness and deepen and confirm our confidence in the principle of peace and freedom by which we have always sought to be guided. Out of darkness and perplexity have come firmer counsels of policy and clearer perceptions of the essential welfare of the nation. We have prospered while other people were at war but our prosperity has been vouchsafed us, we believe, only that we might the better perform the functions which war rendered impossible for them to perform.

Now, therefore, I, Woodrow Wilson, president of the United States of America do hereby designate Thursday, the 25th day of November next, as a day of thanksgiving and prayer, and invite the people throughout the land to cease from their wonted occupations, and in their several homes and places of worship render thanks to Almighty God.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be fixed. Done at the City of Washington, this twentieth day of October in the year of our Lord one thousand, nine hundred and fifteen, and of the independence of the United States of America the one hundred and fortieth.

Woodrow Wilson. By the President: Robert Lansing, Secretary of State.

Nader. There will be the usual rehearsal for the Ladies' Chorus for "Princess Chrysantheum" at the Woman's Club rooms Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock and for the girls' chorus at three thirty.